

Mayor--Stewart Fight Livens Board Election

Over 25,000 Sign Up For Ration Books; No Delays Here

More than 25,000 Bellevilleites have been registered in the first three days of the consumer sugar registration, according to figures given out at the local rationing board offices last night.

With the final registration scheduled for today from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., board officials anticipate that the figure will go over the estimated figure of 30,000 residents. The biggest number signed up to date at the elementary schools was on Monday when 8,589 applications were filed and 8,518 war ration books were issued.

While the board and school employees under the direction of Superintendent of Schools Farmer were busy handling the sugar signing up, the rationing authorities were making plans for the registration next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for gasoline rationing.

The registration will take place in the public schools with the school teachers again acting as registrars under the rationing board's direction, but no time has been set as yet for the schools to be open. Ruel E. Daniels, rationing board secretary, said last night that he did not expect that official word on the hours would be received from state headquarters until some time today. Daniels declared that he did not believe that the hours would be as long as they have been for sugar registration.

Don't Go To Board
Automobile owners, all of whom must register, are urged to sign up during the three days at one of the schools. They are requested not to wait until later and register at the ration board office. With the added work that is being heaped on the office each week, it is impossible for that office to handle registrants and keep up with the work that is already waiting to be done.

No trouble was reported at any of the schools during the first three days of the sugar registering. With the schools closed all day, authorities believe that they eliminated long waits which have been reported in some places where schools were open only during the afternoon and evening. Most of the registration for the family was done by the womenfolk and most of them reported to the schools during the day. Following Monday's record enrollment, 7,799 applications were filed and 7,707 books were issued on Tuesday. Yesterday, 8,113 books were applied for and 8,055 were granted.

Stewart Trailer Novel Campaign Addition

The most novel touch of the campaign yet to come will be added today by Candidate George E. Stewart, Jr., when he brings out his trailer which he intends to use as a mobile campaign headquarters.

Stewart, who has owned the trailer for more than a year, intends to park it on certain street corners and meet his friends and solicit votes. He said last night that he even planned to park it near the town hall. The trailer bears on the sides and the rear of it big signs reading, "For Free Speech in Town Hall—Elect George E. Stewart, Jr."

LOCAL SOLDIER DIES IN CRASH AT NUTLEY

Teacher Also Killed; Car Driven By Localite; Another Badly Hurt

A 24-year-old local youth was killed and another, 19 years old, was seriously injured in an early Sunday morning automobile accident in Nutley in which a school teacher there was also killed. The car was driven by a 20-year-old Belleville, Carl Maiorana of 570 Union avenue.

Funeral services were held Tuesday night at the Irvine Funeral home, 276 Washington avenue, for Pvt. Stanley E. Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Reynolds, who presently reside in Hopewell, Va. Reynolds had resided at 207 Malone avenue. He had been in the army two months and was stationed at Fort Belvoir, Va. He was home on furlough at the time of the accident.

Reported as "in improved condition" at St. Mary's hospital, Passaic, last night was Carl Zetterstrom of 34 Division avenue. He was riding in the car with Reynolds which was driven by Maiorana. The trio had been long-time friends, according to police reports. Also killed in the car crash was Miss Florence Bickell, 22, who was a teacher in Washington school, Nutley. Services for Miss Bickell were held yesterday afternoon. She is a sister-in-law of Mrs. George Bickell, daughter of Dr. Edward Flynn of Washington avenue, whose husband is a lieutenant in the air corps and is stationed in Hawaii.

Two Girls Escape Injury
Another girl who was riding in the car at the time of the crash, Miss Jane Glendinning, 17, of Nutley, was thrown clear of the car and suffered only bruises and scratches. Miss Ann Hatch, also 17, of Nutley, was let out of the car at her home a few minutes before the fatal crash.

According to the testimony that Maiorana gave to Nutley police, the couples were at the Fountain, local night spot from 10:30 p.m. to 2 a.m. dancing. The driver admitted that he had three glasses of beer.

After dropping Miss Hatch off at her home, he related to the police, that they then proceeded to

New Police Radio Station Ready For Operation

Town Awaits Official Licensing From FCC; Fire Chief's Car, Ambulance Also Equipped; Will Permit Complete Coverage In Emergency

The latest word in police radio equipment is ready to be put into operation at police headquarters as soon as the federal communications commission grants the town a license to officially operate.

Installation of the new three-way frequency modulated system was completed this week. In addition to the main transmitter at town hall, each police car, the ambulance and the fire chief's car have been equipped with not only receiving sets but transmitters which will permit the men in the cars to talk back not only to headquarters but to the other cars.

After inspecting the equipment on Monday morning, Commissioner Clark, who for more than two years has advocated the addition of police radio to the department, termed it as the finest that he has ever seen.

Although there had been considerable talk of purchasing it, nothing was done until after war was declared. The town commission passed an emergency measure which provided for the purchase of the equipment. Belleville is the last municipality in Essex County to install police radio. However, all of the communities do not have the three-way type which permits the most complete coverage of the town at all times.

Men To Be Licensed
All of the men who will operate the equipment, either at headquarters or in the cars, must be licensed by the federal communications commission. Some of them have already gone to New York to take the required examination while others will shortly do so. Eventually, it is hoped that every man in both the fire and police department will be licensed.

With police radio it is believed that emergency aid can be rushed to any section of Belleville in under two minutes. Police cars operating with radio, will be on constant patrol in town, cruising through certain districts. A call from police headquarters will send them to any section on a moment's notice. Both the ambulance and fire chief's car have been equipped so that if they should be on a call or routine business they may also be summoned in an emergency.

Permission to put the station and the car equipment into operation is expected to be received from Washington shortly. The cost of the equipment and installation was $4,500.

STEWART BLASTS LIQUOR STORE

Says Mayor Voted For It When Wife Owned Land; News Report Differs

A Washington avenue liquor store became the basis today for the latest charge hurled at Mayor William H. Williams by his persistent political assailant, Commission Candidate George E. Stewart Jr.

Stewart revived an issue which caused a heated battle before the town commission in July, 1940. It involved the granting of a package liquor store license for the Bell Liquor store at 163 Washington avenue while the property was in the name of the mayor's wife, Lucille J. Williams.

In a biting statement appearing elsewhere in this issue as a paid advertisement, Stewart charges that Williams voted the license while the property was in the name of his wife.

Quoting from the Essex county warranty deed book, Stewart claims that the mayor transferred his property to Muriel Joseph on June 12, 1940, and recorded it on December 16, 1940. The warranty deed was then transferred, he alleges, from Muriel Joseph to Lucille J. Williams and on January 20, 1941, Lucille J. Williams transferred the property to Orbell Realty corporation.

"The town hall minutes, July 30, 1940, roll call on vote of liquor license * * Williams: Aye," is the charge made by Stewart. "You voted for the license when you knew the property was so held," the candidate accuses the mayor.

Two Opposed It
The granting of the license for the store was opposed by the Byrne's Liquor store and Barney Miller's Washington Wine and Liquor store. They were represented by Herman Silverstein of Jersey City who tangled with the mayor at the meeting.

At one point the lawyer questioned Williams at the meeting concerning the ownership of the property at 163 Washington avenue. "Are you interested in that property?" Silverstein asked. "No," replied the mayor. "Is your wife interested in it?" "You are getting entirely too personal," Williams replied. "It is none of your business."

"Isn't it true," Silverstein asked, "that the property is owned by L. J. Williams, your wife?"

"You are distinctly out of order and grossly insulting," the mayor replied heatedly.

News Report Differs
The records of The Belleville News files reporting on the meeting showed that Mayor Williams did not vote on the application for the Bell Liquor store, but Commissioners Waters and Clark did. Williams did vote the same night on the granting of a license for a package store to Harry P. Simon for 547 Washington avenue. Commissioners King and Noll, according to the newspaper report of the meeting,

Have Your Pail Ready And Get Your Sand

If you want to be on the safe side, in case there should be an incendiary bomb air raid, you should have a bucket of some kind on hand Saturday and Sunday so that you can get a pailful of sand. The defense council voted at its Monday night meeting to purchase $100 worth of sand which will be distributed to residents who want it. Town trucks will tour the town and each resident will get a pailful if he has a bucket ready.

EDISON Praised In Noll Speech

Commissioner Discusses Business Man In Politics At Newark Luncheon

Governor Edison was cited as the best example of a business man in politics by Commissioner Louis A. Noll yesterday in speaking before the weekly luncheon of the Newark Chapter of the American Business club held at Bamberger's restaurant.

Speaking on the topic, "A Business Man in Politics," the commissioner, who is seeking re-election, commended Edison as one who "is not a politician but a successful business man. He pointed to Edison's appointment of men to office as an example of his leadership."

Specifically, the commissioner cited the naming of John F. Coogan Jr., who withdrew from the town commission race last week to accept Edison's appointment to the Essex County tax board.

"His appointment," Noll said, "was not made through the political channels but solely upon the ability of John Coogan, who is one of the outstanding tax men of our state."

The commissioner in reviewing his own career stated he entered into business in Belleville in 1925 and through the years took a leading part in civic and improvement associations. He played a role in the formation of local improvement associations and assisted in

Early Dawn Edition Tuesday

The Times will publish an election dawn edition early Tuesday morning giving the voters a last-minute review of pre-election happenings so that they will be able to go to the polls knowing all that has been said by the 12 candidates who are seeking election to the board of commissioners.

In addition to pictures and brief biographical sketches of all candidates, the edition will carry final statements from all candidates and stories of what takes place on the political front over the coming weekend.

All candidates will be notified that advertising will be accepted for this edition, but The Times reserves the right to reject all or part of any advertisement submitted or to edit it if it believes that it is an unfair, last-minute attack on any candidate. Letters to the editor, which will be accepted at The Times office, 328 Washington avenue, up until Sunday night at 7 p.m., come under the same rules.

For the final and complete news on the election as the public goes to the polls read Tuesday's early dawn edition of The Times.

ANSWER QUERIES ON BLOOD BANK

Many People Interested In What It Is And What They Can Do

The Red Cross chapter's appeal for contributions to its nation-wide blood bank has brought many inquiries to the headquarters. Many civilians, who are willing to do their bit to possibly save the lives of American soldiers, sailors and marines injured in action, are anxious to learn the details of how the blood bank works. In an effort to answer these questions, Frank Chambers, local chapter chairman, yesterday gave the answers to questions which are most frequently asked.

1. How is the blood obtained?
The donor lies down on a cot, the arm at the elbow is cleansed with alcohol and iodine, and a drop of novacaine is injected to prevent any pain. The doctor introduces a hollow needle into the vein and through the small tube attached the blood flows into a bottle. At the end of the donation a sterile dressing is applied and the donor rests for ten minutes.

2. How long does it take?
About 45 minutes in all.

3. How much blood is taken?
One pint.

4. How do I prepare for it?
Live as usual but do not eat fatty foods such as cream, butter or other fats for four hours previously.

5. Is this safe?
Yes, the donor is safeguarded. The blood is drawn under the direction of competent physicians. Thousands of donors have given their blood without harm.

6. What happens after the blood is drawn?
The donor is given nourishment by the Red Cross Canteen service, rests for a few minutes and can then resume his usual activities.

7. What is done with the blood?
It is sent to a laboratory where it is processed into dried plasma, made ready for use as a transfusion and delivered to the army and navy for distribution.

8. Is this method new?
Yes. It is a great medical advance and has never been used on so large a scale anywhere before.

9. Is it as good as the usual blood transfusions?
Yes. It's better in many cases. No blood typing is necessary, the plasma keeps for years and can be administered almost immediately.

10. How often can blood donations be made?
Every eight weeks. The blood is fully replaced in less time and 6, 8 and 10 donations have been given without harm by numerous people.

11. Are there any personal benefits?
Yes. As a service to the donor, the blood is typed, and the donor informed of his or her blood group. This information may be of great value to the donor in some future emergency involving his own life or a friend's.

12. Who can be a voluntary blood donor?
Any healthy man or woman between the ages of 21 and 60.

13. How can I be a donor?
Make an appointment with the Red Cross blood donor service by calling Miss Esther Adams of the chapter at Be. 2-2111 or Be. 2-1843.

Major Edward Burns, serving with the U. S. army at a post in Massachusetts, is still not too far away from Belleville to enter into the political scene for his say on the local campaign. Up until a few months ago when he re-entered the service, Burns was one of the most persistent of town hall critics and frequently entered into verbal tiffs with Mayor Williams.

Writing from Massachusetts this week, Burns says in part: "I as a property owner and taxpayer resent implications contained in the policemen's and firemen's articles where they have dragged down below decency the police and fire departments. This so-called committee of the policemen and firemen does not represent and speak for the department and being a self-appointed committee, it has embarrassed the right thinking people of Belleville that a policeman and fireman must engage in partisan politics to protect their jobs. They have taken a very ill-advised and unwise course."

"They attempt to smear and attack the integrity and the right of a noble citizen who had the courage and conviction to expose the deplorable conditions of the town finances and in general the conditions of the town hall. The individual they attacked has done the citizens of Belleville a great service. There is only one answer to be made to the disclosures. The mayor should present his arguments and figures and facts to refute the allegations made. These facts should be disclosed so they can be understood by the average citizen, not a complicated set of mathematical figures which are deceiving rather than enlightening. They cannot dispute or deny facts legitimately; therefore a resort to unethical political tactics to throw out a smoke screen to confuse the public on the facts and issues placed before them," Burns added.

"The employees of the town have no right to engage in direct political activities, openly under our system of free government. Such activities are demoralizing to both forces and to other employees. History shows that the European dictators initially obtained their strength and support through small municipal and town employees and moved on to greater power by taking control of government converted from the free country to a country of totalitarian form of government. Hitler has built up such a machine and used it to expand his power until such time as the people were all subdued to a Hitler psychology of government and moved on to subdue other governments and countries by his gangster ideas of the 20th century, which war we now confront to defend our free form of government."

"I am of the opinion after reading this advertisement carefully that the police and fire departments of our town have been Hitlerized and they are responding to the call of their leaders now occupying the town hall, particularly Williams, Clark and Waters."

Physical Fitness Frolic At School 9 Wednesday

A physical fitness frolic will be presented at School No. 9 next Wednesday afternoon. It has been arranged by classroom teachers assisted by Albert K. McBride, Mrs. Agnes Rittenhouse, Miss Margaret Leahy and Wilho Winoka, physical training instructors.

The tumbling team and boxing group were taught by Winoka. He will referee the matches which will be two rounds, each two minutes in length. The boys in the eighth grade built the boxing ring.

The school's annual art exhibit will be on display on the second floor.

Mrs. Rudolph Luhrs of Forest street accompanied her daughter, Miss Gloria Luhrs Thursday evening to the mother and daughter banquet of Jersey City State Teachers college at that institution. Miss Luhrs is a junior student. She will attend the freshman prom Friday evening when her escort will be Ernest Smith of Jersey City.

Even Candidates Quiet At Lone Town Rally

Teacher-Sponsored Affair Fails To Draw Large Crowd; Stewart Gets Most Applause; Mayer Wants An Elective School Board

A political campaign without a rally would be a rarity, but it looked for a time as though Belleville would get through this one without all of the candidates having the opportunity to speak their bit from one platform in the same evening.

It remained for the Belleville Teachers' association to save the day and Tuesday night, all of the contestants for the five vacancies on the town commission had their say and took their bows amidst the applause. There were no boos. The chairman, Rev. O. Bell Close, Fawcett Presbyterian church pastor, ruled that out before the meeting started.

But as political rallies go, at least as they used to go, it rated a half-star. Everybody pulled their punches and the crowd was down around the 200 mark, a far cry from the days when halls were jammed to the doorsills with voters eager to catch every word of the fellows who wanted them to cast a few votes their way.

"Pearl Gray Gloves" The real highlight of the evening was the speech by Candidate George E. Stewart, Jr., who has been providing most of the fire and brimstone that has been given by the campaign to date. Reading his speech and stating that he had come to the meeting and would observe drawing room manners and wear my "pearl gray gloves," Stewart labeled as "deliberate falsehoods" statements made by Mayor Williams in a Newark newspaper concerning him.

The one new angle that was injected into the campaign was made by Arthur E. Mayer, Washington avenue real estate man, who advocated that the present system of the board of education be abolished and instead, as is done in a number of communities in this area, have the public elect all of the members of the school board.

"All of the 12 seeking office appeared and sat at the platform from the beginning of the evening until the last speaker had said his final word. The rally was opened by the singing of patriotic songs led by Arthur Ackerman and was followed by the advancing of the colors by members of the Boy Scouts' service corps while Scout Ernest Reock played "To the Colors" on the bugle.

Dr. Close was presented by Miss Frances Williamson, president of the teachers' association. "The town should be proud of its teachers," Dr. Close said, "for they stand as a power in the vanguard of progress."

The names of all of the candidates were placed in a box and they drew for the order in which they were to speak. Elmer S. Hyde drew first position followed by James J. Tully, Commissioner Louis A. Noll, Mayor Williams, Gerald Ferrara, Arthur E. Mayer, Edward G. Smith, Stewart, Commissioner William D. Clark, Commissioner Joseph King, Raymond Mertz and Commissioner Patrick A. Waters.

Get The Gavel Each candidate would be allowed eight minutes to present his case and Dan Spillane, Jr., acting as timekeeper, rapped the gavel on those who went the limit. The town should be proud of its teachers," Dr. Close said, "for they stand as a power in the vanguard of progress."

"Deliberate Falsehood" Stewart wasted little time in getting at Mayor Williams. "The mayor states," the candidate said, "that I congratulated him eight weeks ago for getting the Walker-Kidde company to come to Belleville and not using the $350,000 surplus to decrease the tax rate for an election year. This is a deliberate falsehood. I saw the mayor the other evening for the first time in four years. I offered my hand, he refused to shake it and told me to go to hell. He says I am disturbed because he refused to introduce me to the purchasing agents or cafeteria managers of the larger industrial plants. This is also a deliberate falsehood. My business operates under the Patman act. We cannot sell retailers. Cafeterias are so classified. We sell car lots and ship lots."

One of Stewart's remarks that brought a good round of applause was his claim that if elected "the boys will have their baseball." Rapping the criticism which has been leveled against the expenditure of $9,100 for recreation, he said that it meant that it cost $1.40 to provide play facilities for each of the town's 6,500 children.

Criticizing the expenditure of $1,500 to maintain the municipal stadium, he characterized it as the "boogie bog" stadium where even a ghost would feel lonely.

Hyde's remarks were the shortest of the evening. Congratulating the teachers on holding the rally and stating that as a family man he personally knows what they have done for the children of Belleville, the candidate told the audience that if they picked at random from the 12 men five candidates, the public would get good government.

Jim Was Nervous The youthful Tully, a first-timer at political rallies, was a little nervous at the start and had trouble getting into his speech.

"I'm very nervous," he blushing remarked, "but play with me for a minute and I'll go right along."

He said he had wanted to visit every voter during the campaign but had found that it was too big a job. He said that he believed a young man could be an asset to a town and pointed out that he felt that he was able, honest and ambitious and that he could do a good job if elected.

"With rationing coming," Commissioner Noll said, "bus lines will come in handy." He reviewed the work that he had done in transportation during the past four years, informing his audience that four new bus lines had been started which serve Belleville people during his administration.

Four new playgrounds have been added in congested areas as part of the recreation program. The library has been improved so that now it is a credit to the town, he declared.

First Full-Time Mayor

"I have been and am the first full-time mayor and finance director that Belleville has ever had," Mayor Williams commented.

The voters he said should be interested in seeing that no unsound philosophies on municipal management are put into operation. Belleville operates under the cash basis act as provided by state law.

"At all public meetings," the mayor said, "I have maintained the dignity that you expect, and I would appreciate re-election by a most substantial vote."

"I'm not a politician," Gerald Ferrara declared, "but I realize what youth needs."

He is making no promises, but believes that he has the modern ideas that would help to make him a good commissioner.

In addition to his advocacy of an elective board of education, Arthur Mayer contended that the tax rate should be lower. In 1936, he said, the people were told that the town enjoyed the lowest tax rate in 17 years. At that time, he continued, $17,500 has been expended to attract business to the town.

Citing ratable increases through industrial development, he argued that there should have been a substantial reduction in the tax rate. Reviewing his biographical background, including a college education and four years' experience as a teacher, Edward G. Smith, said that he had no grievance against any other candidate and that he had not said or would not say a word against any one of them.

Commissioner William D. Clark, head of the public safety department, devoted himself to a biographical sketch of himself and the years that he had served the town in office starting in 1926.

Says Town Spent $60,000

A denial that $300,000 had been thrown away at the stadium was made by Commissioner Joseph King. He said that the town spent only $60,000 and that if the men had not been employed there they would have been on relief and it would have cost the town more money.

"There has been no scandal in Belleville in the eight years that I have been in office," King said. "I believe that an exceptionally good, honest job has been done at town hall or I would have been the first to come out against it. The town is a $30,000,000 corporation and it requires men with experience to run it."

Candidate Raymond E. Mertz devoted most of his talk to a review of his background and the years that he has spent in town. If elected, the Union avenue real estate man said that he would strive to make the town commission a group where all would work together with the cooperation of all of the people in the community.

Brought Back MacArthur

Admitting that he was 66 years old, Commissioner Patrick A. Waters said he did not see anything wrong with that.

"Remember," he reminded his listeners, they brought Mas Arthur back at 62. I don't think the taxpayers would be fooled by me for 16 years.

"I do not think," Waters continued, "that any town is better off financially and otherwise in the state than is Belleville."

Defending the expenditure of funds for the stadium, he stated that if the men had not been employed there, the town would have had to keep them.

"It gave 500 men work for two years and it gave to them the right to work for a living," Waters said.

"I am proud," he commented, "that there's a $350,000 surplus laid aside for the days to come. If we were politicians why shouldn't we have pulled down the rate in an election year—and we didn't."

MORE MEN NEED CLARK SAYS

Public Safety Head Reviews Past Improvements And Future Needs

Aiming for his fifth consecutive term as a member of the board of commissioners, Public Safety Director William D. Clark this week reviewed several thoughts which he has for the further improvement of the police and fire departments.

The personnel in both departments must be increased, the director said, so that Belleville will continue to rate high in the efficiency of its protective forces throughout the state and will be able to meet the growing needs of the community.

The existing fire alarm should be extended to provide the necessary protection for all parts of town, Clark said. He pointed to the ever-increasing building and industrial development as the cause for it.

When the 65-foot aerial ladder truck, which was ordered last August, arrives, the commissioner declared that a valuable and most necessary piece of equipment will have been added to the department. However, more equipment is still needed.

As soon as the ambulance fund of $1,300 now on deposit at the First National bank reaches $5,000, Clark said a new ambulance will be purchased and the present one, which has seen a number of years of service, will be maintained as a reserve car.

Police Alarm Improved

In review of his past administration, Clark pointed to the improvements that have been made in the police alarm system which makes it possible for the headquarters to keep in almost constant touch with the men on the beat and permits good protection for all of the town.

Originally, the police telephone system consisted of nine phones on poles throughout the town. There was no way of contacting the men on the beat between their regular duty calls. As a result, Clark installed the recall system consisting of 23 telephones located at strategic points throughout the town and maintained by it.

The system has not only resulted in a financial saving, the commissioner said, but increased department efficiency.

Through a system of flashing lights, patrolmen walking or in cars can be contacted quickly as soon as the light flashes. They proceed to the nearest call box and telephone headquarters for information.

The saving in policemen through the installation of progressive traffic lights was also cited by Clark as indicative of the effort he has made for the good of the department and the community.

Seven patrolmen have been relieved of traffic duty for other assignments. Many traffic hazards have been eliminated and cars have moved through town better through this system and the addition of a traffic squad with its white police car.

Plan the three meals of the day as a whole. The lunch box should be considered in relation to the other meals of the day. It will supply the energy for the afternoon (or morning if he is on the night shift) and should contain one third of the day's food. Lunch box meals must be complete and satisfying, appetizing, and easy to eat. Care should be taken in choosing the food and in packing it in an attractive manner.

Called Brave

Arthur W. Weber

Arthur W. Weber, an installer for the New Jersey Bell Telephone company in the suburban division has been awarded the Vail medal for "outstanding public service" by the telephone company.

Weber was cited for an incident which occurred on July 5, 1941, when he applied artificial respiration to a five-year-old youngster who had been rescued unconscious from Lake Hopatcong. A summer resident there, he was one of the first on the scene after the drowning child had been rescued from the lake and applied artificial respiration. After one and one-half hours work unaided during which he was nearly exhausted, a first aid squad and a physician arrived and took charge after the child was out of danger.

435 COMPLETE FIRST AID

Defense Units Are Included In Group; Home Nursing Course Draws

Red Cross first aid courses are going full speed ahead with a total of 435 who have recently completed the course to date, according to Mrs. Louis A. Noll, local Red Cross first aid chairman.

Those who have taken the course are 140 members of the police and fire reserves, rescue and repair crews; 175 air raid wardens and 120 women. They have been instructed at fire headquarters and the Lutheran church by Paul Baxter. In addition, 45 women have finished the Red Cross home nursing course given under the direction of Miss Ella Hasenjaeger, superintendent of nurses at isolation hospital. Completing with requests, another home nursing course will start around June 15.

Of other courses getting under way is one in advanced first aid which will begin on next Thursday at fire headquarters, with L. B. McCloskey as instructor. Those wishing to enroll may do so at the first session. A class in a new standard course has been organized for Monday evenings and another for Wednesday evenings.

Pack-a-Lunch Suggestions

Plan Nourishing, Balanced Lunch Box Meals for the Husband or Son in the Factory

WHAT you feed that worker in your family is important. Good energy-producing food that contains vitamins and minerals is essential. It will result in steady nerves, alertness and accuracy and will aid in more man-hours in production.

Plan the three meals of the day as a whole. The lunch box should be considered in relation to the other meals of the day. To Our Citizens:

TO ALL CITIZENS SINCERELY INTERESTED IN MAINTAINING SOUND FINANCIAL POLICIES—

YOU ARE RESPECTFULLY REQUESTED TO REVIEW TWO VERY IMPORTANT ANALYSES RELATIVE TO THE FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT OF OUR TOWN.

So each Citizen may obtain correct and officially certified information on Belleville finances, the following is submitted as the sources of the Cash position of our Town.

Belleville never issued any bonds to improve its cash position. The New Jersey State Bond Act prevents any official board from doing that, even if anyone desired to do so.

The State of New Jersey Sinking Fund Commission sold $250,000.00 of Belleville bonds to a Newark bank. The State Sinking Fund Commission goes out of existence in 1950, and is selling in the public bond market all municipal bonds maturing after 1950. You, as Taxpayers, are pleased that investing banks preferred Belleville Bonds to the bonds of other Towns.

This following detail, official certification of Town Treasurer T. Russell Sargeant, attached hereto, covers the sources of the present cash of Belleville:—

Surplus Cash—January 1st, 1941	$295,057.00	1941 Current Taxes	77,839.15
Less Surplus Cash used as Credit for 1941 Budget	140,000.00	1941 Current year and previous years' Net receipts of Water Department	36,803.63
Balance of Surplus Cash carried over to 1942	155,057.00	1941 Receipts of Licenses—fees—permits from 14 Miscellaneous Accounts	8,715.81
To the balance carried over to 1942 the following amounts accrued during 1942:		1941 Bank Interest	1,500.00
1940-1941 Department Budget Balances	3,637.78	1941 Stadium Operation Receipts	704.00
1941 Town-owned Property Sales	63,892.95	1941 Soho Hospital Payment to Town	1,042.76
1941 Unanticipated Assessment Collections	27,518.83	1941 Miscellaneous Cash Receipts	2,960.37
1941 Receipts of 1938-1939-1940-1941 Gross Receipt and Franchise after 3½ years of Court delays	114,851.19	1941 December 31st Total of Balance of 1941 and receipts added during 1941	565,712.55
1941 Unanticipated Tax Title Lien Collections	43,395.86	January 1, 1942—Less cash used as credit for 1942 Budget	195,593.55
1941 Receipts of Delinquent Taxes over Anticipated Amount	27,793.22	Cash Surplus after using $195,593.55 to reduce the 1942 Budget	350,000.00

Mr. Sargeant's Certification of data—

"Mayor Wm. H. Williams: The Surplus Cash balances of January 1, 1941—Amounts used for Anticipated Revenue for 1941 Budget—Amounts accrued to Cash Surplus during 1941—Amount used for Anticipated Revenue for 1942 Budget and Cash Surplus balance after adoption of 1942 Budget, as stated herein are a true copy of records of the Town of Belleville.

T. R. SARGEANT, Town Treasurer."

Having used $195,593.55 to decrease the 1942 Budget, the same amount must be on hand January 1, 1943 or an equal sum must be added to the amount to be raised by taxes in 1943.

The 1942 Budget is made up of the following amounts:—

$ 195,593.55—10.7% from Cash Surplus
256,000.00—14.0% from Miscellaneous Receipts
$1,383,336.60—75.3% from Taxes—the total 100% being $1,834,929.15

Without a Cash Surplus on January 1st, 1943, the 1943 Budget would require 86% of the Budget to come from Taxes, causing a substantial tax rate increase.

No Town can stay on a Cash Basis without a Cash Surplus.

I am confident you Citizens approve the keeping of Cash Surplus for the same reason every family wants cash on hand for the day the head of the family brings in less dollars.

Our Town will surely need cash on hand when the present payments of taxes drop downwards. Any decrease in payments of current or delinquent taxes will require use of cash surplus or additional amounts in the Budget.

I believe you will be interested in the following facts on the total valuations of the Town. Our tax rate is based on the total cost of running the Town and Schools divided by the total valuations. $33,442,000.00 was the Total Valuations 10 years ago. $31,131,000.00 is the Total Valuations Today.

$ 2,311,000.00 Less Total Valuations exist today than 10 years ago.

The new Valuations of the Walter Kidde Company and Isolantite Company plants will appear as added taxes as per law Governor Edison recently signed and will appear in the 1943 Valuations.

$31,131,000.00 is Total Valuations of Today.
$29,680,808.00 was the Total Valuations of 1941.
$ 1,450,192.00 is the increase in Total Valuations of 1942 over 1941.

$ 1,450,192.00 represents in actual taxes the sum of $64,388.52.

$ 64,388.00 income benefits from new valuations cannot be considered increase in Net Income to Town.

A—$ 30,000.00 more is being paid on Town Debt in 1942 (in addition $20,119.00 of cash was used to pay off improvement bonds instead of funding same by paying small payments annually with interest charges).

B—$ 28,102.00 more dollars are in 1942 School Budget than in 1941 School Budget.

C—$ 7,000.00 is in the 1942 Budget as Town share for new Main Street. State is contributing $60,000.00 to this improvement.

D—$ 24,500.00 Less credit from delinquent taxes is used in the 1942 Budget than in the 1941 Budget. ($100,000.00 less taxes were delinquent on January 1, 1942 than on January 1, 1941.)

E—$ 12,098.00 more County taxes are estimated for 1942 than Essex County charged Belleville in 1941.

F—$ 2,038.00 more State Taxes are estimated for 1942 than in the 1941 Budget. Items A to F total $103,738.00.

$103,738.00 represents increase in payment of Town Debt—increase in School Budget—Town share of Main Street—decrease in delinquent tax anticipations—Increase in County and State taxes.

This $103,738.00 would be represented in a higher tax rate than the 1942 tax rate if we did not have the new valuations. This proves that NEW VALUATIONS ALONE DO NOT GUARANTEE REDUCTIONS in tax rates.

All of above figures are true records of your Treasurer's books, and are shown in the Belleville News of February 12, 1942 in the official printing of the 1942 Budget. I know facts are of interest to you, and will appreciate your study of above.

Your vote for my re-election on next Tuesday, May 12th, will be appreciated.

Gains In Transportation Now Important, Says Noll

The true value of the gains that have been made in public transportation in the past four years in Belleville will be increasingly realized, Commissioner Noll said in a statement issued today.

The commissioner has been in charge of the transportation under the present administration and has had sole control over the issuance of local franchises for the operation of bus lines.

"For years we have all realized," the commissioner said, "that Belleville was in need of better bus transportation facilities. While buses ran on the main streets there was no way for people to get from one end of town to the other or to the business center. It retarded our progress and it was a hardship on those residents in sections such as the Valley, West Belleville, Soho and Silver Lake."

In reviewing the efforts which he had made to persuade bus companies to apply for franchises for local lines, Noll pointed out that it was not an easy task. The line that one company would want to run was opposed by another. He mentioned that Garden State line operating from Nutley to North Newark through the Greylock and third ward sections.

Barred Garden State

Garden State's application for a permit before the public utilities commission was opposed by the Public Service company which has a line operating on Union avenue. The utilities board upheld the Public Service and Garden State was not allowed to pick up or discharge passengers.

"Yet," Noll said, "the people in West Belleville wanted and needed that bus whether they were going to Newark or another part of town. I was determined that if I possibly could they would get a bus line.

"The same is true of the Valley residents," he continued. "For years it has been a hardship for them to walk up hills to get to Washington avenue for buses to Newark or to the business section around town hall. Employees working in plants in that section also were put to a hardship. That condition has been eliminated today. They have a bus, and I have received many commendations from the residents of that area because of it."

Two months ago the Public Service started an extension of its McCarter highway line from Pennsylvania station. It winds its way through Washington avenue and the Valley section to Main street and the Nutley town line.

Noll has also granted the Public Service a local permit to operate a line from Silver Lake to West Belleville via Washington avenue.

"We should get word shortly that the public utilities board will grant the permit for the operation of the line from Silver Lake to West Belleville," he said. "I do not think that there will be a delay much longer on this route for which we have been fighting for a long time."

"Today, there is a shortage of tires and gasoline will soon be rationed," he continued. "We will realize more each day how important it is that we should have good bus transportation. With inter-connecting lines people who find it impossible or impracticable to run their cars will not be put to too much of a hardship."

Be a Gracious Hostess

Plan Party Refreshments That Are Quick and Easy to Prepare and Simple to Serve

SOME are noted for the ease and confidence with which they entertain guests and handle the refreshment problem. It isn't really a difficult feat, but it does require planning.

Select simple recipes that are easy to prepare. Do as much of the work as possible the day before the party. Here are a few well-chosen recipes that will win you renown as a smart hostess. They are as easy as 2 + 2 = 4.

Homemade Cold Cuts

1 lb. smoked ham, ground
1 lb. pork, 1 egg, beaten ground
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Form firmly into a roll 3" in diameter. Wrap in cheesecloth and submerge in boiling water. Simmer for 3 hours. Place in refrigerator. Do not serve for 24 hours. Slice and serve as a cold cut. This is a delicious cold cut to keep in your refrigerator and slice as desired to serve.

Creamy Waffles

2 tbsp. sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cups cream
or top milk
2 eggs

2 cups sifted flour
3 tsp. baking powder
4 tbsp. butter, melted

Put the sugar, salt, and cream in a bowl and beat until smooth. Separate the eggs, beat the whites until stiff, add the yolks to the milk and beat until creamy. Beat in the sifted flour and baking powder, fold in the beaten egg whites and last add the melted butter. Preheat the waffle iron, pour in the batter to cover center of iron, close and bake until the waffle stops steaming.

Cole Slaw With White Grapes

1 medium head cabbage, coarsely chopped
2 cups white grapes
1 cup shredded blanched almonds
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. dry mustard
2 tsp. vinegar
2 tsp. grated onion
1 cup stiff mayonnaise

Put cabbage, grapes and almonds into mixing bowl. Make a paste of salt, sugar, mustard, vinegar, and onion and add to mayonnaise. Pour on cabbage mixture and toss well.

Skillet Spaghetti

2 tsp. shortening
1/2 lb. meat, ground
1 small onion, finely chopped
1 tsp. salt
1 cup spaghetti, broken in 1" pieces (uncooked)
1 cup catsup
1 1/2 cups strained tomatoes

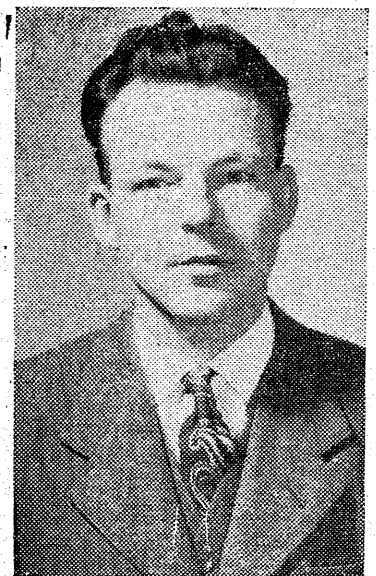

Melt shortening in skillet, add ground meat and onion, then spread evenly over the bottom. When this is browned on one side, turn and cook on the other. Add salt, pepper, uncooked spaghetti, catsup and tomatoes. Place lid on skillet. Cook on full heat until the steam escapes freely, turn to low simmer and cook for 45 minutes. Do not take cover off until time is up.

Lobster A La Newburg

2 cups lobster meat
2 tsp. sherry
Juice of 1/4 lemon
3 tbsp. butter
1 cup cream
3 egg yolks
Paprika
Nutmeg

Cut the lobster into small pieces. Sprinkle half the sherry and the lemon juice over it. Let stand half an hour in a cool place. Then melt the butter and put in the lobster meat. Cook, closely covered, for 6 minutes. Pour on the remainder of the sherry and cover again for a few minutes. Heat the cream over hot water. Beat egg yolks slightly and stir into the cream. When it begins to thicken, remove from heat and add very slowly to the lobster mixture. Do not allow to boil or it will curdle. Remove from heat as soon as well combined. Sprinkle on a little paprika and grated nutmeg. Serve immediately on hot crisp waffles.

President

Charles F. Braun

Charles F. Braun of 126 Malone avenue will be installed as president of the Kappa Upsilon fraternity of Rutgers university tomorrow night at the club's annual dinner in the Newark Athletic club.

Braun, who was recently elected to the office, is also president of the glee club, one of the editors of the glee club and biographer for the student and alumni association. At the Rutgers award dinner held last month, he was presented with a Rutgers key in recognition of outstanding extra-curricular work.

LOCAL SOLDIER

ward Montclair for hamburgers. They drove west on High street, Nutley, at a speed which the driver claims was 45 miles per hour.

At Rhoda avenue where High street curves to the left, the tire marks left by the car, show that the car short-circuited on the inside of the curve, careened to the opposite curve and jumped onto the curb with the right front wheel. The driver stated, "I seemed to lose control at Mapes avenue," which is a block east of Rhoda avenue.

After hitting the curb, as police reconstructed the accident, the car swerved back into the street, went about 100 feet west and swooped onto the curb again. The road is straight at this point and there are no banks. The car careened crazily across front lawns for about 60 feet further, and finally crashed into a thick-trunked tree that is about five feet in from the curb.

Right Side Damaged

The front of the car was not badly damaged, but from the middle door of the right side, the body was torn open and chewed up into a crumbled mass. The bark was torn off of the tree up to a height of six feet.

The driver, Maiorana, who escaped from the crackup with scratches and bruises, struggled from the car and ran to a house on the corner to summon the police ambulance. Three of the victims, Miss Bickell, Zetterstrom and Reynolds were unconscious when they were picked up and rushed to St. Mary's.

Miss Bickell was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital by Dr. Alice Keckjian. Reynolds, with a depressed fracture of the skull and compound fracture of the right leg, died at 8:30 a.m. Sunday morning.

Zetterstrom is suffering from a fractured jaw in four places, concussion of the brain and shock, and possible hip injuries. Miss Clendinning, who is a cousin of Miss Bickell, was treated at headquarters by a physician for cuts and bruises, as was Maiorana.

No check was made on Maiorana's physical fitness to drive, nor was there any mention of it in Nutley police records. He was held until morning when he was released under $2,000 property bail posted by Lena and John Furnari of 24 Washington avenue. The hearing on the charge of causing death by auto lodged against him by Nutley police was postponed yesterday morning.

Reynolds lived in Belleville 12 years and was graduated from the local high school. Previous to entering the army he was employed by Columbia Gas and Electric company of New York. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Reynolds, who re-could, therefore, not go back on the people of Belleville who elected me to that office. Accordingly, the other commissioners maintained their old salaries at a saving of $10,000."

Should Be Active

Commissioner Noll concluded that professional and business men should take an active part in municipal affairs and aspire for public office because at the conclusion of this war effort government will have to be controlled by men—experienced men—who will give of their time, effort and experience in the business world to the maintenance of our democracy.

The meeting, held in the presence of 60 members, was presided over by the club president, Anthony Guiliano, Newark attorney.

Gayety and Color Marks Woman's Club Dance

Gayety and informality marked the annual Woman's club dance on Saturday night in spite of the women in vari-colored evening finery and tuxedoed gentlemen. The Crestmont Country club in West Orange was jammed by more than 300 dancers, most of them local residents.

The affair had a real touch of the season with the latest in spring styles being displayed by the womenfolk.

The dance was not without its share of the political touch which has taken in the town during recent weeks for prominently seen among the crowd minglers and dancers were Commissioner Louis A. Noll, and Candidates Raymond Mertz, James J. Tully and Elmer S. Hyde.

Annually a highlight of Belleville's social season, the dance proved to be one of the club's most successful. It was conducted under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Louis A. Noll.

Numerous cocktail parties and pre-dance get-togethers preceded the affair.

Health Dept. Gains Cited By King In Vote Appeal

Public Affairs Head After Third Term Points To Child Hygiene Expansion At No Increased Cost To Public

Public Affairs Director King in a statement today pointed to accomplishments in the health department in asking Belleville voters to return him to the town commission for a third term. King praised Health Officer Eugene T. Berry and the staff of town nurses for the advances they have made in the health program here in recent years.

King is particularly proud of the child hygiene work which has been expanded at no additional cost to the taxpayers until it is now considered a model throughout the state. Every mother in Belleville received pre-natal care and advice from the corps of five nurses. One of these nurses is provided by the state at no direct cost to Belleville. And every baby is welcome to the supervision of these nurses in the keepwell stations throughout the town.

Through a plan put into effect by King persons not altogether eligible for relief are now provided hospital care if their incomes are not sufficient to pay. These hospital cases previously had to go without care or assume burdensome obligations which did not help their mental attitude while recuperating from serious illness. Health Director King's guidance and help, concentrating on pre-school children, vaccination clinics have been re-established after having been discontinued in 1932. This work has been instrumental in maintaining Belleville's enviable record of no smallpox for the last 18 years. Diphtheria immunization clinics also have been re-established, again concentrating on pre-school children. This work has made diphtheria the forgotten disease.

Among the other accomplishments carried out by Commissioner King's health department is the elimination of all public dumping grounds in Belleville. This program has included a drive to eliminate all odors, smoke nuisances, and rodent breeding places. The town has established a yearly anti-rodent program to cope with the rat menace.

Honored Thrice

Paul B. Thompson of 185 Hornblower avenue was accorded three outstanding honors at Colgate university as the institution's 123rd school year came to a close this week.

Thompson was elected business manager of the student newspaper and Kappa Delta Rho representative on the student senate and tapped for membership in Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary collegiate journalism fraternity. He was assistant business manager of the student paper this year.

To Those Who Forget How Voting Machine Works

Although voting machines have been used here in elections for some years, there are still a number of voters who do not know how to operate one properly or do not remember from one election to another.

To vote the red handle should be grasped and moved all the way to the right.

Before voting you will find that all the pointers are in an upward position.

To vote pull the pointers down over the names of the candidates of your choice. Be sure to leave the pointers down.

If you have pulled down the wrong pointer and wish to correct it, you merely push it up to its original position and turn down the pointer over the name of the candidate of your choice.

To record your vote, as selective, you again grasp the red handle, but this time move it all the way to the left.

E. S. HYDE SPIKES TIE-UP RUMORS

Independent, He Says; Made No Commitments To Any Candidate

Candidate Elmer S. Hyde last night spiked reports that he was linked with any other candidate or group of candidates. The Rossmore place resident, who for the fourth consecutive time is aspiring to be elected to the town board, stated emphatically that he had entered the race as an independent candidate and that he wanted to finish that way.

"Reports have come to me," Hyde said, "that my name has been linked in combinations with other candidates. I cannot prevent people from speaking in my behalf and also for that of other candidates. Five men are to be elected and the democratic way is for all voters to select five candidates. However, I have made no commitments or promises of support to any candidate."

"I sincerely believe that I will be elected. I want to gain that office on my own merits and the opinion of the voters of Belleville of my qualifications."

A veteran of the first world war, Hyde has been a resident of Belleville for more than 20 years. He is well known in civic organizations and is the father of seven children. He ran seventh in the 1938 campaign, trailing the fifth place man, Commissioner Clark, by less than 300 votes.

Hyde is in the surety bond business in New York, operating in the Wall street district a firm which he organized more than 20 years ago and has since headed.

Manager Confident

"Our latest check," Bert Woodhall, Hyde's campaign manager, said yesterday, "makes us confident that Mr. Hyde will be elected. From all sections of town we are getting reports of good support for him and I am confident that the people next Tuesday will select a man who has had the business experience and possesses the qualifications to serve as a commissioner of Belleville. We are at war and this is a serious time for every municipality. We need conservative, right-thinking business men in town hall and I believe that Elmer Hyde should be one of the five men, and I think that a majority of the voters will feel that way, too."

ELECT ARTHUR E. MAYER

I should like to recall to you the year of 1936. It was then that the people of Belleville were told that our town enjoyed the lowest tax rate in 17 years, and that we received more Public Service for less tax dollars.

Since the year 1936, Belleville spent $17,500 to attract new interests to Belleville. The industrial activity was reported in the press as the largest building program since the 1929 boom. Construction permits for private homes and manufacturing plants in 1940 alone amounted to $1,700,582. And how have the people of our town benefited by all this? We have been told that the tax rate for 1942 is estimated at $4.44—64 POINTS ABOVE 1936. We have also been told that a substantial surplus exists. In view of these conditions I believe we should have a very substantial reduction in our tax bills.

We have been told that no unsound theories should be introduced into the use of the present surplus nor any sum be used for a temporary tax rate advantage. I am in complete accord with that. The rate adjustment should not be temporary. If it is an unsound theory to reduce the tax rate now, when our citizens need these savings to purchase war bonds and pay the increased taxes of our national war effort, I wonder what theory brought about the policy of 1936. Certainly, our sources of revenue today are more assured than ever before.

Ladies and Gentlemen, we will NOT have any difficulties if you and I—ALL OF US—pay our taxes. Those who DO NOT PAY will increase the tax bills of those who do, in the following year.

I sincerely hope that the next board of commissioners will function with FULL departmental commissions for each man. That they will exert their energies to constructive debate, be mindful of the economies which we all must observe today—to the end that our municipality will compare favorably in all respects with our sister communities.

There is one more subject on which I should like to declare myself. This matter I had hoped would be changed long before now. Today our Mayor-Elect is empowered to appoint members to the Board of Education. I am not in favor of this procedure. The members of the Board of Education—as in our neighboring communities—should, in my belief, be elected rather than appointed, so that YOU who are THE MOST VITALLY concerned in education of your youngsters may have a voice in the selection of the proper man or woman.

May I urge you to continue buying war saving bonds. If and when your tax savings dollars are realized—and this depends entirely on you—invest those also in war bonds. You will be helping yourself, your government, and help prevent inflation.

HANDCUFF WEDDING

King Extends Clean-Up Week To Aid Residents

Because of the interest that local residents have given to Clean-up Week, Commissioner King, director of the health department, announced yesterday that the drive would be extended one week and would conclude on May 15.

King has urged residents "to clean up cellars and attics to help clean up the Japs". All refuse which may be good for salvage can be placed at the curb by residents on regular collection days to be picked up by the scavenger or may be turned over to any one of the numerous agencies that are collecting scrap materials.

High School Track Team Whips Hillside 57-42

The high school track team defeated the highly rated Hillside squad Monday at Brookdale park in the second meet of the season. Hillside suffered its first defeat in three seasons with a score of 42 against Belleville's 57. The Bell-boys took first place in all events except the quarter mile and shot put in which they made second and third places.

High scorer was John Walker with three firsts; Maginness and Higgins followed. Birger Johnson, local freshman, placed third in the 100- and 220-yard dashes while George Baldwin and Jack Mason made firsts in two events.

Students of the special home teaching class conducted by Mrs. C. D. Van Sickle who have been placed on the honor roll are Peggy Adams and William O'Neil, 8th grade; John Citterella, 5th grade; Frances Coulther and Carolyn Tautte, 3rd grade, and Nancy Rahler, 1st grade.

Won't Attempt To Keep Up With Inaccuracies—Mayor

Williams Confident People Want To Maintain Good Government; Says No One Has Proved Inability, Incompetence To Do Duty

Mayor Williams, who has borne the brunt of the criticism of outside candidates, principally George E. Stewart, Jr., last night indicated that he did not intend to try to keep up with the attacks, reports and rumors which have been leveled against his office.

"Trying to keep pace with non-constructive and inaccurate takes unlimited time. I am confident that the citizens are interested in maintaining the present good management of public affairs in Belleville which has gained for the municipality commendation throughout the state."

Launch Four Destroyers

Four new destroyers for the United States navy were launched Sunday at the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company, Kearny, in an impressive display of the growing sea power of the nation.

Governor Charles Edison, a former secretary of the navy, was the principal speaker.

The parade of destroyers down the ways was begun with the launching of the U.S.S. Fletcher at 11:40 a.m., followed 15 minutes later by the U.S.S. Radford. The U.S.S. Quick slid into the Hackensack river at 12:15 p.m., followed by the U.S.S. Mervine at 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Frank Friday Fletcher, of New York, sponsored the destroyer named in honor of her husband, the late Rear Admiral Frank Friday Fletcher, U.S.N.

The Radford was sponsored by Mrs. Francis E. Matthes of Washington, D. C., granddaughter of the late Rear Admiral William Radford, U.S.N.

Mrs. William T. Roy, of Washington, D. C., sponsored the Quick, named for her uncle, the late Sergeant Major John Henry Quick, U.S.M.C.

The Mervine was sponsored by Miss Mildred R. Mervine, of Washington, D. C., great-granddaughter of the late Rear Admiral William Mervine, U.S.N.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Michelson of Union avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bennet of Newark and Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Maloney of Nutley were guests at a cocktail party of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Findlay of Newark preceding the Woman's club dance at the Crestmont Golf club on Saturday night.

These charts and bombs were made by WPA for the New Jersey State Defense Council. They will be used in classes conducted by the council throughout the State to educate non-combatants on what to do in air raids and form but one of many WPA war activities, State Administrator Robert W. Allan said.

Air raid wardens and other New Jersey non-combatants are learning through WPA charts how to protect themselves in case of an emergency. More than 1100 charts relating to chemical warfare and other war menaces have been supplied to the New Jersey Defense Council, according to State WPA Administrator Robert W. Allan.

"These charts and the replicas of the incendiary bombs that WPA has made are being used by the defense council in classes it is conducting throughout the state," Allan said. "Through the use of the charts the lectures for the defense council are able to give a visible demonstration of

THIS WEEK OF WAR

Last week a tired, bewildered despot called together his stooge Reichstag in Berlin and had himself made super-dictator. The Third Reich, he warned, was nearing the hour of its destiny. For westward across the Atlantic the Fuehrer heard the first faint rumblings of the greatest, most far-reaching steps ever taken to organize the total economy of this nation for war.

Adolph Hitler heard Uncle Sam "rolling up" his sleeves. He heard the President of his greatest adversary — the U. S. — which had once before crushed a tyrannical Germany — call upon 132 million loyal Americans to change their way of life so that victory would come quicker and easier.

World War I Inflation Easier

Uncle Sam paid 31 billion dollars in World War I to crush German Imperialism, and drove another would-be dictator into exile. Yet thirteen and one-half billions of that was wasted on swollen prices — dollars and man-hours of production that never went to hold a battleline. Just inflation — old style. New Jersey's share was well up in the millions just because prices and rents went uncontrolled.

And already in this World War II, advancing prices have padded the total bill to the American people by 35 billion dollars — more than the total cost of the last one, although we have been fighting only since Pearl Harbor, December 7th. Each passing month without a firm price control was gouging the U. S. taxpayer to the tune of two and one-half billions just because of inflation.

What Inflation Cost in Weapons

Planes, tanks and weapons of war cost a pretty penny. These two and one-half billions of dollars lost by inflation would have bought for our armed forces 25,000 pursuit planes, 35,000 medium tanks or 1,500,000 heavy machine guns that could shorten Hitler's infamous career.

Most important for every man, woman and child in the country and in New Jersey, was the fact that the cost of living had attained a swift, vicious spiral—dollars were buying less. Accordingly Leon Henderson, federal price administrator, in accordance with the powers voted him by congress in the price control bill, issued the federal maximum price regulation, throwing virtually all prices and rents — with specified exceptions — under a ceiling for the duration of the war.

Price Ceiling Facts

Beginning May 18, retail prices, with a few exceptions, must not exceed the highest levels which each individual seller charged during March, 1942. For hundreds of items, purchasers will henceforth pay less.

Beginning May 11, manufacturer and wholesaler prices and the prices for wholesale and industrial services must not exceed the highest March levels for each seller. That helps ease the burden on your retailer.

Beginning July 1, no one may charge more for services sold at retail in connection with a commodity than he charged during March.

And effective immediately, all of the retailers, wholesalers, manufacturers and sellers of services in New Jersey, must preserve existing records of sales made during March for maximum pricing purposes when the ceiling goes in to effect.

The price regulation is expected to mobilize our economic resources for victory just as the selective service act mobilized our manpower. Just as you could count the violators of military service on one hand, so OPA officials expect very few citizens to violate the price act. But just in case — penalties for willful violation include fines up to $5,000, one year in prison, or both. And consumers who are overcharged after July 1 can sue such violators for triple damages and cause the seller to lose his license for a year.

OPA Fixes Rents Too

Price control would only be half effective without regulation of rents during these war days to halt inflation. We Jerseymen along with the rest of our countrymen spend one-fourth of our total income for rent. Thus the OPA rent order controlling rents in 301 "defense areas" throughout the U. S. will also affect the rent burdens of millions of our fellow citizens in this state. Seventeen out of the 21 New Jersey counties have been designated as defense rental areas, wherein rents must be stabilized within 60 days at recommended ceilings.

In some sections of the country the maximum rent date is April 1, 1941. In New Jersey defense rentals areas, the maximum rent date is March 1, 1942. "It will be our policy to study situations carefully and to recommend the date be moved back to a suitable level — if necessary as to Washington, where inequalities far back as April 1, 1941," A. E. Casgrain, chief rent executive, Region 2, rent division, OPA, said.

How New Restrictions on Telephone Service

TO SAVE WAR MATERIAL

may affect you

CERTAIN government restrictions on telephone service and equipment are now in effect. The reason for them is simple and complete — to save materials needed to fight the war.

Where telephones are now in service, they mean no change except that you might in some places and under some circumstances have to have another party on your line. And you can't get an extension telephone in your home if you haven't one already.

For people who have no telephones and want them, we shall supply them wherever there are now enough lines and switchboards, but generally, where new construction would be necessary, we shall not be able to provide service.

This will mean inconvenience and perhaps hardship to a few people now and to more people as time goes on, but we ask your fullest cooperation in this important step to save the maximum of materials for the war. Besides the great savings in materials already made by substitution and wartime engineering, the new restrictions will mean that more lead, iron, steel, zinc, copper and rubber will now go into arms.

While telephone service may not be available to all who want it, we believe we can keep the service up to a high standard. At any rate, we shall do our level best. Neither the government nor the telephone companies is responsible for these service difficulties. They are part of the price of winning the war.

Group Riding

Gasoline rationing will come to the Eastern seaboard May 15. Tires, except in isolated cases, cannot be had. These omens ought to impress all of us with the seriousness of the transportation problem. That some advance has been made toward conservation is apparent from the increased volume of train, trolley and bus traffic. Yet evidence abounds that riding habits are too much as they were when all we needed to get a new set of tires was the price. The 40-mile speed limit remains for the most part a pleasant fiction. Only a pass has been made at staggering working or school hours. Cars with single occupants still flash by on streets and highways.

These evidences of indifference to a critical situation disturb the Office of Defense Transportation. Director Eastman appeals to Governors, mayors and municipal authorities to organize a war transportation program for the nation. He asks for staggered hours, for neighborhood group riding and for improved traffic control to facilitate vehicular travel. Of these, group riding can be easily effectuated and without government supervision. All that is required is a spirit of neighborliness, a more or less common destination and a desire to increase the life of tires and gasoline mileage.

Our Role

"America has been an indifferent spectator of the rights and wrongs of the world," declared the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Fulton J. Sheen in his notable lecture in Newark last week. He added that "we have been forced in on the side of good," and observed that, "we are fighting for a nobler cause than we know, for a nobler cause than we deserve."

This is clear and forceful, but not uncharitable appraisal of our war role.

We were not sufficiently responsive to the currents of good and evil throughout the world that brought on this world war. Had we played a moral and diplomatic role in proportion to our potential influence in the world, we could easily have stayed the forces of totalitarianism before they were able to plunge the world into a war.

Our isolation was both sordid and stupid. Now, we have been "forced in on the side of good" by the stupidity of our enemies. We are preparing our war offensive, but they cannot succeed unless they are based upon the offensive of a militant moral sense. Our weapons must be aimed by a deeper purpose than return to the moral somnolence of isolationism.

When we awake to the nobility of our cause and resolve never again to be "an indifferent spectator of the rights and wrongs of the world," we will have aroused the resolute, sustained enthusiasm of our own people and the confidence of the people of good-will in the enemy countries. America must repudiate its moral isolationism forever.

On Being a Journalist

What a curious profession is journalism! It is the only profession whose dead are never buried. The doctor's mistakes never rise from the tomb to mock him! The teacher's failures submerge in the anonymous shortcomings of society. The lawyer's material errors mount the gallows or chafe behind the bars. They cannot follow him to hoot at his weakness. No ghosts come back to laugh at the preacher's futile homilies. But the editor carries in his files the embalmed copies of yesterday's blunders. They grin at him sardonically across the years. They haunt his visions and stay his hands when he tries to touch the stars.

More than that, in a thousand hearts and faces around him, the editor sees the shadows of his dead follies. Men know him for the fool he was. So we trudge on burdened forever with our sins; sins that once seemed so reasonable, so sane; Could Job have held his faith against "Elephaz, the Tananite, Bildad, the Shuhite, and Zophar, the Naamathite," who came "to mourn with him and to comfort him," if they had brought unicorn tablets with them setting forth all the brash sayings of his youth? In the face of that nonsense would Job not have turned his face to the wall, have cursed God and died?

The Water Tastes Different

In the past few days husbands have been looking accusingly across the table at housewives — the little woman is slipping. Restaurant and confectionery store operators have been berated and harassed. Coffee has tasted awful. Tea has had a different flavor. Yesterday you took a shower or bath — and the chances are that the water had a strange smell to it.

Water is one of the things that we take as a common, everyday fact. We never do think of anything happening to it, and we do not anticipate that anything will. While we may not think about it, water is pretty important. Few of us get along for a day without drinking at least one glass. When our meals are cooked — water is important. If we drink tea or coffee, we must have water.

While we accept it all as a matter of course, water is vital to every one of us. When something happens to it, we suddenly realize it.

This week Nutley's water started to taste peculiar. First, we thought about the taste of the water if we were drinking tea or coffee. It was a Jap or Axis plot? While we may have been mulling that over, the truth is that the taste was there and there was nothing that local authorities could do about it. Nutley does not have an independent water supply. It is one of the many municipalities which purchases its supply from a large user.

Ordinarily, we think of water as a most common commodity. We never think of how difficult it would be to get along without it. We need it to quench our thirst, for our food and many other daily activities which we generally regard as commonplace. When something goes wrong with the water we know what it is to an army of soldiers that does not have any water. We can understand what the British must have experienced at Singapore when they realized that the Japanese had cut off their water supply.

We seldom think of water as a vital commodity, but when something happens to it we become most annoyed.

—Nutley Sun.

These Leaks In Our Ceilings

Since last year this time cost of most things we consumers buy has risen ten percent or more. Food bought for a dollar today would have cost only 84 cents a year ago. And so it goes with other products and services that we need.

Food is an isolated example, but it indicates a trend that is dangerous to the security of every one of us. For these price rises are the straws in the wind of inflation, and that wind is steadily growing stronger. In almost every field prices have crept upward and upward — a few cents here, a dime there. In spite of the efforts of the office of price administration to control that trend, we consumers have been constantly giving ground in our battle to keep the cost of living down.

It's going to be a tough battle to win, but we can win it if we're willing to do what must be done. That much is certain. At the beginning of the war the Canadians were faced with problems of inflation that were pretty much like ours, and they won. By placing an over-all ceiling on all wages, salaries, services, rents and virtually everything that has to do with the life of the nation, they found the solution that has halted the price rise in their country. The prices and wages that now prevail in Canada were established by sellers and buyers themselves, and by employers and employees. They have not gone up in several months.

At the present time we here in this country have price ceilings, but the trouble with ours is that there are a great many leaks in them. We are trying to keep prices down by preventing a relatively few commodities from going above a certain figure. Wages, farm prices and the costs of most products, however, are not controlled. These keep edging higher, and, as they rise, they pull the cost of living up with them. Since the Canadians have found the answers to that situation, it might be well for congress to study their plan with the idea of applying it in this country.

Edison Move Locally, Tip On His Leadership Plan

Coogan Appointment Indicative Of Governor's Effort To Build New County Organization; Waters' Endorsement Is Significant

The Democratic party picture in Essex county is expected to change considerably during the next few months for it now seems apparent that Governor Edison intends to make a bid to take over party control in Newark and the suburbs.

Except for the vote given to Edison himself when he ran for governor, the activity of the Democrats in the county has been most passive. Those in power have taken their direction from Mayor Frank Hague in Jersey City. Appointments have been few and most of the spoils that have been tossed the Essex way have been kept in the control of a few.

Deterioration in party interest has been particularly noticeable in the suburbs where the Republicans under Clean Government leadership have had a field day every time the voters went to the polls.

In several towns, the Democratic leadership has disintegrated or certainly lost interest because of the lack of encouragement and support from headquarters. While the WPA was in existence, leaders were able to keep many votes in line, but with its disappearance they lost a hold on one of the strong units on which they leaned heavily to roll the votes in on election day.

Edison and his advisers have no thought that his political career will go into the archives when he ends his present term as governor. For them, it is just beginning and they are bent on establishing a type of leadership that will improve the party position and lure votes from the Republican ranks.

Aren't They Fine Patriots?

Too many times during the past week we have heard business men complaining because they have been forced to shut off all exterior lights and cut down on those in their store windows because of the dim-out orders from the war department.

How would any ship at sea suffer by the light which their sign throws into the sky? No one has singled out their light as the specific one that has been courting danger to the men and materials on our ships plying the seas close to the coast line. It is the lights combined in this region that the army is trying the experiment that would result in the least hardship to attempt to overcome the condition.

Those who whine must remember that there could be blackouts, and whether they would like it or not, they would be forced

Clean-Up Week Important

This week is Clean-Up Week in Belleville. In past years we have appealed to residents simply because we desired to see the town kept in as clean a condition as possible and believed that every resident was anxious to perform his part in the work.

This year the importance of Clean-Up Week is far greater than the mere cleaning out of cellars, attics, and backyards. This is salvage time. The time when all residents should turn un-needed scrap articles over to junk dealers for conversion for the war effort.

This is one time that all of us can play a part. There is no resident who does not have secreted away in some nook or cranny articles for which he no longer has any use.

While many of us may still be blind to it, we are in the midst of an all out war effort and we must all do our part to make it successful. Every bit of scrap that we have stored away will be of some help. Put it out on the curb for the regular salvage collection or make arrangements for it to be collected by some agency such as the Salvation Army, Volunteers of America or the Good Will Home and Rescue Mission which will see that it is sent to the proper place for disposal.

There is no better time than the clean-up period for us all to do our job. In the attics there will be a number of things dis-

Carefully Selecting Assistance

The registration of civilians for rationing or for possible service under selective service legislation becomes more important each week. To date, we have had three draft registrations which have taken in all men between the ages of 20 and 65.

This week all residents will be required to register for sugar rationing. While it may not seem necessary to you, the government nevertheless feels that you should state the age, height and weight not only of yourself but of every individual in the family for whom you are registering. In other words, vital statistics will be just as important to the registrar as the fact that you should receive a sugar rationing book. While the school teachers have been to blackout their places of business if they intended to remain open in the evenings. This is war—and everybody must do what he is told without questioning the reasonability or the advisability of the move.

To whimper over a few dollars that may be lost because a few possible customers may pass up the place since it does not immediately hit their eye is pretty cheap and un-American when lives are at stake.

Even with a dimout order, there are still some who try to sneak on just a bit more light than the fellow down the street. How patriotic! What's good for one in this war is good for all—and those who persist in having their own way or violating the regulations should not only be publicly condemned but should be severely punished.

covered, which were long ago discarded, and you never believed they were still there. There will be old electric toasters, electric copper wire and cords, irons, heaters, keys, locks, iron springs, odd knives, rubbers, overshoes, raincoats, bathing caps, old water bottles, lamps and lighting fixtures, broken radio sets, toys made of metal and vacuum cleaners which have been discarded. You think that many of these articles will not be found in the attic — well just take a look and see.

In the cellar will be found old coal stoves, fireplace equipment, old furnace parts, faucets, sinks, radiators and old tools. All of them can be turned into some useful means to help defeat the Axis nations.

If you finally get around to the back yard, you will find that there will be old auto parts, chains, license plates, old tires and tubes, lawn mowers, broken garden tools, wire and odds and ends which will be most welcomed on any salvage junk pile.

This review shows why Clean-Up Week this year should mean more to us than it usually does. If we have had any community pride in the past, we have done our part during the period. Today, if we have pride in our nation, in our fighting forces, the industries that are waging a fight for the utmost in production and a desire to win the war we will do our share.

drafted into service for this work, they cannot do it alone. They must depend on volunteer assistance. Likewise, the draft board is frequently required to call upon outside help for aid in performing its work.

The point that we wish to make is that many of the facts which are revealed either through rationing or draft questions which the applicants are required to answer are definitely of a personal and secret nature. They are not to be bantered about as neighborhood gossip. While not accusing any person of having violated this principle, we believe that the rationing and draft boards should exercise the utmost care in selecting the persons whom they will call upon for assistance in emergencies.

To Those Who Forget How Voting Machine Works

Although voting machines have been used here in elections for some years, there are still a number of voters who do not know how to operate one properly or do not remember from one election to another.

To vote the red handle should be grasped and moved all the way to the right.

Before voting you will find that all the pointers are in an upward position.

To vote pull the pointers down over the names of the candidates of your choice. Be sure to leave the pointers down.

If you have pulled down the wrong pointer and wish to correct it, you merely push it up to its original position and turn down the pointer over the name of the candidate of your choice.

To record your vote, as selective, you again grasp the red handle, but this time move it all the way to the left.

This action clears the machine, registers your vote, and then opens the curtain.

for a flag to be purchased for display at the meetings of the Jessie Armstrong branch of the New Jersey Sunshine society. Last Friday evening the group held a public card party in the Recreation house to raise funds to purchase a wheel chair.

Isabel F. Rochau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Rochau of Fairview place, celebrated her thirteenth birthday Saturday afternoon.

Tuesday, Doris Oswald, two-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Oswald of Main street, marked her second birthday as guest of honor at a family dinner party.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Fred Singer of Liberty avenue celebrated Mr. Singer's birthday when they were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. John Judson of Liberty avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Suydam of Wilber street returned home Sunday from an eight-day vacation which they spent with their son, George, who is stationed at Camp Croft, S. C. With them was Miss Ethel Downing of Bloomfield.

Hostess this evening for the Woman's auxiliary is to be Mrs. George N. Bennett of Wilber street. Mrs. Oliver W. Chapin of Eleana place will be the speaker.

War Training Course For Women At Newark College

Special training for women, to enable them to enter directly into the war production program in local industry, will begin about May 20 at the Newark College of Engineering.

The course, "Introduction to Electrical Communications", will prepare trainees for jobs assisting the technical and administrative staffs in plants making radio and telephone equipment for the armed forces. There will be no tuition fee, as the course is offered as a part of the engineering, science and management defense training program under the auspices of the U. S. office of education.

Students must have had two years of mathematics and two years of science as a minimum in high school, and must have graduated from a full four-year course. It is expected that many college women will apply for training and they will be given preference.

The subjects studied in the three-months day course will include mathematics, drawing and computing, electricity, and industrial practices.

Candidates should forward their applications to Engineering Defense Training, Newark College of Engineering, 367 High street, Newark. They will be asked to appear for interview, and will be advised of schedules, supplied needed and registration procedures. Classes will require 27 hours per week for 12 weeks.

Mother's Day Observance Sunday At Synagogue

Mother's day will be observed at 10 a.m. Sunday in the social hall of the synagogue by the children of the Religious School of Congregation Ahavas Achim, 317 Washington avenue, with an elaborate celebration, according to an announcement of Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, in charge of the school.

Among the outstanding numbers will be: "I Love My Mother Because . . ." in which the children will express their love and respect for mother, and the flower salute, in which every child will receive a flower for presentation to his mother.

Also included will be recitations and declamations by the children, a song-fest, featuring special Mother's day songs, and other numbers. The celebration will be closed with the planting of a tree in honor of Belleville parents on the Synagogue terrace.

The Sisterhood is cooperating with Rabbi Dobin in making arrangements. Helping with the program are Mrs. Robert Gruhin, Mrs. Ida Lempert, Mrs. Edward J. Abramson and Mrs. Rose Cherin.

To the Mothers and Fathers: This Is The True Story Of My Accomplishments During Four Years As Director of Recreation

The dollars we have spent for recreation have paid a far greater dividend than any other investment in Belleville—for what is more important than the safety, welfare and upbringing of our children?

Recreation has cost Belleville mothers and fathers less than $22 per day for the last four years. Isn't that a small sum to spend on 6,000 children?

The four years that I have been Director of Parks and Property my every effort has been bent toward a constant improvement of our recreation program—sincerely believing that it is a vital part of community life.

The money allotted for the entire recreation—less than $22 per day—has not been sufficient to enable me to present the most desirable play program for your child and mine. With proper cooperation from other municipal governing officials who have persistently curbed my fight for the children of Belleville, it could have been accomplished.

Bridge Street Sliders

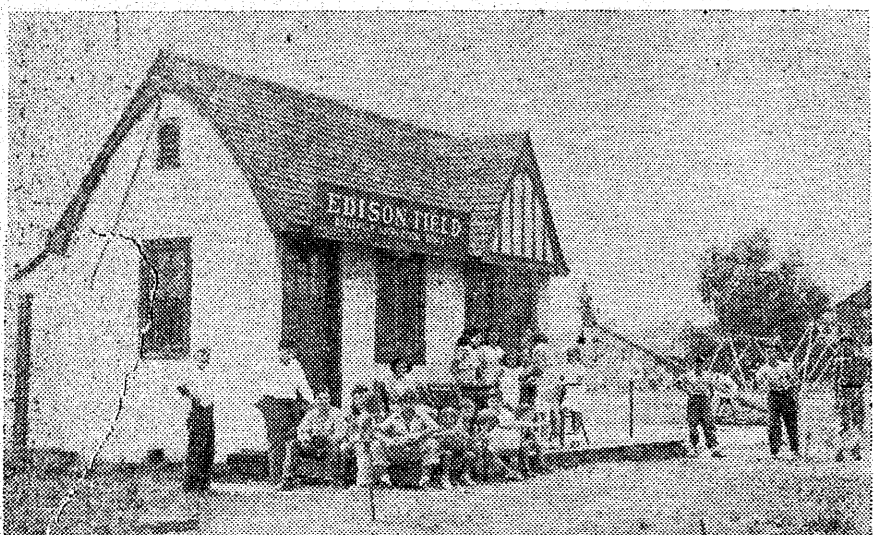

From early spring until late in the fall this slide is well-worn by the youngsters in the Bridge street section who find the slippery boards and the swings and bars loads of fun.

Making Something With Hands

A feature of the summer program at each play centre is handicraft—teaching every youngster to make something. Putting things on display as they did in this picture is the climax of the season.

Where Silver Lake Plays

Helping to keep many youngsters off of busy streets is the Edison Field in Silver Lake—one of the play areas opened by this administration.

What We Have Done On Less Than $22.00 A Day

Four playgrounds in areas that previously were barren of any recreation facilities have been opened—Bridge street playground—Edison field—Valley playground—Soho playground. Attendance figures at four of these playgrounds for last summer totalled nearly 72,000, and figures for previous years under my supervision were correspondingly good.

Interest in the softball and basketball leagues reached unexpected heights in the number of players participating and the spectators who watched. Among the additions to our activities of which I am most proud are the Church leagues in softball and basketball. With the cooperation of all members of the local clergy, the recreation department has developed a competitive program among the young men of our churches which has been praised and commended by many.

Active young people must be kept busy during the long summer months and all of our playgrounds have been a mecca for hundreds of youngsters from early morning until nightfall. We have endeavored to promote competitive spirit, to teach children to play with others, develop leadership and teach them clean sportsmanship.

Playing With A Champ

"The Children of Today Are the Citizens of Tomorrow—Assure Them Their Freedom Through Recreation"

"The Children of Today Are the Citizens of Tomorrow—Assure Them Their Freedom Through Recreation"

Biggest rivalry on the playgrounds is among the marble players. Here Commissioner Noll is getting a few tips from the 1941 town champ, 13-year old Richard Oxley of School No. 1, during one of the director's many daily visits to one of the playgrounds.

Salaries And Rentals Eat Heavily Into Recreation Budget

Popular The Year Round

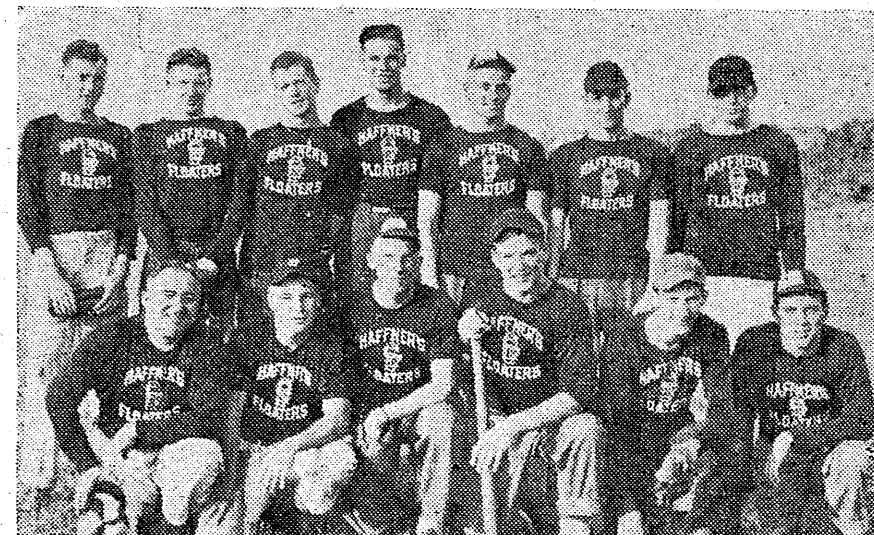

In demand as a play area and as an indoor activity centre is the Recreation House and its grounds. These are a few of the youngsters who spend many hours there. Annually, thousands have used the Recreation House in Jerusalem Street for their indoor activities. Last year attendance was nearly 13,000.

Dolls—Big And Small

Joy of many girls in the summer is showing off their dolls in their finest at the doll shows held at each of the playgrounds.

Clean Fun For Many

Several hundred young men and boys compete annually in the department sponsored softball leagues. In addition to the four leading circuits, each playground has its teams.

Bloomer Tells Manufacturers That Army Has Priority; Put In Older Men

Manufacturers here and throughout the state were notified this week by E. N. Bloomer, acting state director of selective service for New Jersey, that it is mandatory that employers replace eligible men for selective service at the earliest practicable date.

Selective service, Bloomer pointed out in his statement, has two primary missions—to provide the men needed by the armed forces and to cause the deferment of men necessary to maintain war production at its present level and to do nothing which will prevent increasing production as demanded by President Roosevelt and other high government officials.

The demand of the armed forces for men, however, must have priority, Bloomer said. "It is recognized," he continued, "that men necessary to production and in the expansion thereof must be deferred until replacements are available."

"Local boards have been informed," he continued, "of the continuing necessity for the deferment of men necessary to activities, the maintenance of which is essential to the war production program and to the national health, safety and interest. This recognizes the necessity for the continued deferment of such men during this period of transition from a time in which the emphasis was placed upon the employment of men with little or no regard for possible service with the armed forces, to a time when women, older men and physically handicapped persons will be re-trained and employed as replacements."

Examine Every Job

"It is most earnestly suggested," Bloomer added, "that each employer examine every job or position in his organization with a view to revision of sex and age specifications to the end that women, older men and physically handicapped persons may be utilized to the greatest possible extent. Young, physically capable men should be specified only when it is manifestly impossible to utilize any other person. The possibilities of job dilution should be thoroughly explored.
As an example: Older men should be selected to run the heavy work in the machines, women to perform the actual operation.

"It is realized that all of this cannot be accomplished overnight," Bloomer concluded, "and that some workers must be deferred from selective service until it can be done, in order that producers of essential materials complete their contracts on time or ahead of time. In order that this may be accomplished to the best interests of all concerned,
it is suggested that DSS Form 42-A, 'Affidavit to Support Claim for Occupational Deferment,' for necessary employees be submitted to the local board at the time that the worker receives his selective service questionnaire. This will materially assist local boards who are giving so much of their time and thought, without remuneration, to the problems of selective service classification. In fairness to these local board members, we cannot continue to request deferment or postponement of induction after the man has been classified and ordered for induction into the armed forces."

Special Mother's Day Program
Planned By Sisterhood

A special mother's day program will be given before the Sisterhood of Congregation A.A.A. at its meeting Tuesday evening, according to an announcement by Mrs. Benjamin Jacobson, president. The meeting will take place in the social hall of the Congregation, 317 Washington avenue.

The program is under the supervision of Mrs. Rubin E. Dobin, program chairman, who will have as her guest speaker, Mrs. Rachel Vixman, executive director of the women's division of the American Jewish congress. Mrs. Vixman is one of the foremost leaders of Jewish women in America and has made many nation-wide tours on behalf of Jewish causes. Included on this program will be other patriotic and timely numbers, including with the observance. After the event, a special hostess committee will serve refreshments.

Candidate Smith Back
On Job After Illness

Candidate Edward G. Smith, who has the number one position on the ballot, resumed campaigning this week after more than a month's illness. While he was in the hospital Smith announced that he would depend on the support of his friends to secure votes for him. He said yesterday that during the coming week he would endeavor to visit the support of those residents who believed that he was the candidate for the job.
Born in Pennsylvania, he is a college graduate and a former school teacher. A world war veteran, he has been in business for himself for more than 20 years.

Elementary School Art On Exhibition At Library

An exhibition of elementary art produced by students of Belle-ville's grade schools under the direction of Miss Helen Simpson, art supervisor, will start Monday in the public library. The material will be displayed on the main floor of the library in the adult reference section for two weeks concluding on May 23.
Pictures, handicraft and clay modeling will be included in the work, part of which represents free and imaginative expressions of art by the students. The remainder is illustrative art which has been done by the children in conjunction with their classroom projects.

Predict Good Local Record
In Jewish Appeal Drive

An outstanding record for Belleville was predicted this week by local volunteer workers in the United Jewish Appeal drive for Essex county. Workers met Monday night at the home of Abram Atkins of 35 Essex street.
Edward Engel, Belleville chairman, promised "singular and determined efforts to contact every possible subscriber before the campaign closes."
Giving his support to the drive, Governor Edison this week asserted that the drive "furnishes a practical medium whereby the fruits of our American way of life can be shared by people in dire need of aid."

Two Young Artists Feature
Audition Awards Program

Two talented young guest artists will appear at the presentation-of-awards program Sunday afternoon, May 17, in The Mosque theatre, Newark, when winners in the Griffith Music foundation's annual auditions will receive merit medals. They are Rudolf Firkus-ney, young Czech pianist, and Arnold Belnick, 17-year-old violinist.
There will be no admission charge for the program and invitations are available to the public. They can be secured from the Griffith Music foundation, 605 Broad street, Newark.

1,000 DOORBELLS
TULLY CLAIM

Young Candidate Has Put Personal Touch To Campaign Efforts

If ringing doorbells means anything James J. Tully, 25 year old candidate for the town commission will be elected. Jim claims that during the campaign he has rung more than 1,000 doorbells and has talked to at least one person in each home.

"I had hoped," he said yesterday, "that I could ring the door-bells of every resident in Belleville but I find that this is a pretty big job."

Tully has been assisted in his appeal by his brother William who is his campaign manager and numerous other young people who believe that his election to the town commission would do them good.

As president of the high school alumni association, which he organized, Tully has promoted an after-graduation spirit among the alumni. From this club he is also drawing the support on which he is counting heavily in this campaign.
"Based on the response which I have received from the people to whom I have talked," Tully said,
"I believe that Belleville wants a young man elected commissioner.
Youth has a part to play in town government and I believe that I have the qualifications and the background to hold the job."

Noted Critic At Closing

Mrs. Lloyd R. Reeves, and the newly elected officers will be installed by Mrs. Robert Banta, member of the Essex County council of Parent-Teacher associations.
In observance of hobby night children of the school will discuss and display their handiwork. A pupil-made film will be shown by Miss Anne Pruden, kindergarten teacher. Subjects of the movie, which is entitled "Community Helpers", are the members of her class. Mrs. Gustave Klauing will lead community singing to conclude the program.

Williams,

For eight years, they have worked together to lift Belleville out of the financial depths, and have raised it high among municipalities of New Jersey. They have done a good job in this respect, as is recognized throughout this State. The next four years will be most critical. We shall need tested officials here, as elsewhere in America.

TIME CHANGES CAMPAIGNING

Parades, Beer Parties, Rallies
Passe; Buttons, Stickers
Are Scarce

The ways of political campaigning have changed with the times. There was a day when every candidate had a headquarters, every kid in town wore a sailor cap with "Vote for Joe Doakes" and sucked on a lollipop from the last political vote-getter they had been able to grab one from. Beer parties were a dime a dozen. Candidates after the women's votes arranged parties and furnished the ice cream and the cake. Torchlight parades were a definite must. Hundreds of cars were plastered with a variety of stickers, bumper signs, banners and tire covers imploring voters to give a vote to Joe so-and-so. Everybody passed out pencils and cigars with their names on them, buttons, matches, balloons and odds and ends of other stuff that were supposed to be sure-pop ways of gaining the votes.

A lot of that has disappeared today along with the old time political rallies. Buttons are few. Only a handful of candidates are distributing match covers. Stickers are still used but they are pretty scarce. Window display cards are taboo and only Commissioners Noll and King, Candidates Hyde, Tully and Mertz have headquarters. And they're not headquarters as the old timers knew them when every night they were teeming with people listening to the candidate in a smoke-filled room that hung heavy with the smell of beer and strong cigars.

Some candidates have an organization of followers polling the neighborhood for votes. Others have none. Methods of campaigning vary widely. Candidate George E. Stewart Jr., Mayor Williams' sharpest critic, says he hasn't budged out of his living room to ask for a vote. He's done his vote soliciting over the telephone, but has depended most heavily on newspaper advertising. Going to the other extreme is youthful James J. Tully who claims that during the campaign he has rung more than 1,000 doorbells making a bid for votes. Hundreds more have been urged to vote for Tully by Tully associates who are eager to see him elected.

COLLECT TIN ON MAY 28

Housewives Urged To Save
Tin Cans By Salvage
Committee

The salvage committee of the defense council has set May 28 for the collection of tin cans which housewives have been asked to save for salvaging. This was announced today by Robert Sutherland, committee chairman. Sidney Brown is in charge of arrangements.

Charles Cuzzo, proprietor of the Belleville scavenger concern which has the town's refuse removal contract, has volunteered the services of his trucks for the collection.

Girl Scouts will set up demonstration booths in several of the town's stores to illustrate preparation of the cans for salvaging. The two principal deterring concerns in New Jersey have stressed the importance of properly preparing cans for reclaiming.

As a reminder to householders, the salvage committee repeats the few simple rules set forth by the War Production Board:

Cans to save include most of those which contained foods, solid or liquid, coffee or tobacco. Flat end beer cans are acceptable.

Do not save cans which contained lubricating oils, paint, varnish or condensed milk, or the small-necked beer cans.

All cans should be thoroughly cleaned, both ends cut off, and labels removed. Flatten the body of the can by stepping on it but do not squash so thoroughly that the surfaces are tightly pressed together.

Place the flattened cans and the ends in any container which may be set out at the curb on the collection day.

URGES WOMEN TO JOIN SCOUTS

Mrs. Elmer S. Hyde Makes
Appeal At Girls' Rally; 300
Badges Awarded

Addressing a large group of relatives and friends of Girl Scouts at Saturday night's rally in the high school, Mrs. Elmer Hyde, commissioner, called upon the women of the town to join the work as leaders, badge consultants or committee members.

Mrs. William P. Adams, who has been active in local Girl Scout work for 15 years, was presented with a service pin. Each Girl Scout and Brownie troop made her a gift of red roses. A 10-year service pin went to Miss Mildred Burfield, leader, whose troop also presented her with a floral tribute.

Nearly 300 awards and badges were given the Scouts by Mrs. Burton Whidden, awards chairman, and 35 first aid badges were awarded by George Hahn of the Red Cross. These tributes of merit covered work completed in clothing, cooking, music, interior decoration, cycling, rock finding, star finding, troop dramas and many others. First class, the highest rank in Girl Scouting, went to Margaret Mermet, Donna Wiest and Kathleen Lawson of Troop 3; Ruth Curtin and Muriel Alger of Troop 9; Eleanor Bossett, Ruth Plumeau of Troop 19. Five-year service pins were also awarded to members of Troop 19, Catherine Broadhurst, Joan Nelson, Ruth Plumeau and Eleanor Bossett, and to council members, Ernest Alden, Mrs. Whidden and Mrs. George R. Gerard.

Red, white and blue costumed Brownies in formation outlined a map of the United States on the high school auditorium stage with in which the musical presentations of various Girl Scout troops were next given. Scenes were enacted and songs sung which were representative of each war from the Revolution to World War I. The national anthem, sung by the entire chorus, and taps concluded the program.

Wesley Men's Club Plans Annual Banquet, May 25

At a meeting Monday evening of Wesley Men's club executive committee, plans were formulated for the club's annual banquet which will be held on May 25.

The meeting was held at the home of James Bunting, vice-president. Robert Conklin, president, appointed the following men to head committees for the affair: Charles H. Thompson, general chairman; William Rome, speakers; Francis Plumeau and Fred Hauffer, entertainment; and Howard Virtue and Leroy VanBlarcom, tickets. Gilbert Henris will be in charge of publicity.

Charlotte Harris Presents Pleasing Piano Recital

Members and guests of the Musicians' club of Belleville enjoyed a pleasing recital when Charlotte Harris, pianist, was presented last Saturday evening at the Eleanor Bacon-Peck studios.

Opening her program with so-called "harpsichord" compositions, Miss Harris also displayed her command of the romantic and modern schools of piano music. Good style, clean-cut technique and a sincerity of interpretation characterized all of Miss Harris' work. Two encores were added, Levitski's "Valse Arabesque" and Chasin's "Platination in a Chinese Garden."

Adell Sutherland, president of the club, welcomed guests, and Francena Harris, hospitality chairman, presided following the program.

G.O.P. Women Elect, Onstall New Officers, May 14

The annual election and installation of officers and chairmen of the Belleville Woman's Republican club will be held Thursday, May 14, at 51 Rossmore place at 2. Following the business meeting the organization will celebrate its ninth birthday, also recognized as founders' day. Special refreshments will be served.

An executive board meeting will precede the elections at 1:30.

Adelphi Players To Present Mother's Day Play

Members of the Adelphi players will observe Mother's day in a dramatic presentation, "Great Mothers of the Bible," to be given at the Grace Baptist church on Sunday evening at 8 p.m.

A series of narratives will be illustrated with living pictures of such characters as the mother of Moses, the mother of Samuel, the mother of Jesus and others. Rev. Marshall J. Whitehead has prepared and will present the narratives.

Those taking part include Violet Lifton, Lillian Warke, Naomi Miller, Naomi Stempel, Allene Schenck, Ruth Hogan, Edna Hogan and Donald Clark.

Special lighting has been arranged by Harry Tice.

Is The Police and Firemen Ad A Forgery?

You Asked For This, Mr. Mayor--- Now Stand Up and Take It!!

Last week you sank to a new low—Courtesy, Civility and Candor were thrown overboard. You refuse to STAND ON YOUR OWN FEET, SPEAK OUT OF YOUR OWN MOUTH, SIGN YOUR OWN FALSE EDITORIALS AND FORGED AND FAKE ADS. You hide behind anything, anybody, everything, everybody. You snipe under cover of the respectability of others. D. H. Lehman and James Hill never WROTE that "Citizens of Belleville" ad, and NO POLICE OR FIREMEN wrote the faked "Reply Ad." Both were written by the same penman. Both stem from the same source. But you won't get away with it now—you might as well look around now and choose your exit. You write your own fiction and are the hero of all your own adventures. You wallow in self-pity and self-praise and make

The Williams Eye-Wash

written by him and laid on the doorstep of nine uniformed men: (Belleville Times, April 30, 1942)

"Our police and fire members resent being used as instruments of attack on the Mayor, his wife, and particularly on her mother, the widow of a distinguished minister and author. Such campaign work based on falsehoods is repugnant to decent thinking people and WE join with many citizens in expressing OUR CONTEMPT for men who dare to do such things. WE deem it OUR duty to state the true and full data, in simple justice to the Mayor, his family, and Dr. Flynn."

What would be the result of a grand jury probe into the above facts and fancies? No matter whose head fell into the basket, what could these two defenseless women and nine men, under oath, say was the base in fact of the eye-wash "true and full data," "resent being used as instruments," "our contempt for men who dare do such things," "simple Justice to the Mayor," and "campaign based on falsehoods?"—which are your own condemnation of your own deeds.

You got enough rope this time, and you have hanged yourself. YOU put the liquor store in the name of your womenfolk—

CANDIDATE STEWART

I am 45 years old. I was born here in Essex County. My mother was born here and is now part of our soil. My father was born here, and his father, and his father's father back to and even before Revolutionary days. We Stewarts tilled the soil, replenished it, lived from it, died and went to rest in it. We belong here. I attended the public schools of Jersey City and Newark, and the high school of Jersey City. At fourteen I went to work, and have been self-supporting ever since. I came up the hard way, right here under your eyes; there are no black pages—just a trail of hard, lustreless detail and work, up to now.

I am no "big shot"—no wizard, no miracle-man, no boy-wonder. I stand unflinching for what I believe to be right, and will take on all comers, no matter what size, whittle them down to my ability to lick, and lick them. I love my friends, and am proud of my enemies.

SELF-GOVERNMENT THRU BALLOTS

Men have gone down battered and bleeding for the right we will exercise on May 12th to cast a free ballot. A machine has been devised to eliminate FEAR by making it impossible to check your vote after you register it. You must prove your right to ENTER THE BOOTH, by proper registered and numbered ballots. On election day, you go through the routine of IDENTIFICATION by numbers, to get your ballot, which you drop into a box BEFORE YOU VOTE.

CLASSES OF VOTERS

While human nature is what it is, there will always be a small corrupt vote—that is, paid for in cash, sometimes as little as $1 or $2 for peddling leaflets, "ringing door-bells," promises of jobs. These people never fail to vote!

Next comes the vote of self-interest—jobs to save, favors for work done, payoffs, pressure-groups who have only their own axe to grind, ones dominated by fear. THEY NEVER MISS VOTING. This group is larger, and their moral reaction to civic responsibility a wee bit blunt. They are not to be feared.

Then we come to the free American citizenry, who listen to both sides, weigh all the reliable evidence they can get, judge as best they can, and vote for the persons they honestly believe to be clean and honest. On this vote depends the election always. This year we lose the votes of over 1,000 of our best citizens who are in our armed forces. This only places the greater responsibility on ALL PEOPLE AT HOME to go to the polls. Whatever you do, don't let down the yourself the victim of your own acts—which you admit are contemptible. You and you alone are responsible for the faked "reply" of April 30, 1942, printed in the "BELLEVILLE TIMES." No nine men SIGNED that statement, and NONE WILL DO IT TO SAVE YOUR HIDE NOW. Your own advisers pleaded with you NOT TO WRITE THAT AD, but you seemed so sure and safe behind cover. Five statements in these ads will be eaten by you, even if you choke. "IN SIMPLE JUSTICE" to our uniformed men, who will be free of your lash in a few days, thank God, I cite just ONE CHUNK you are now to have to swallow. In this one, you put on the spot your wife, your mother-in-law, and the nine uniformed men, your innocent pawns, in a cheap farce in which you PLAYED BOTH PARTS, and knew the truth and laid it aside for the occasion. Now read, author:

The Official Public Record Concerning Williams' Property On Washington Avenue:

(1) Essex County, Warranty deed, Book T-97, page 198, WILLIAM H. WILLIAMS to Muriel Joseph, dated June 12, 1940, recorded December 6, 1940.

(2) Warranty deed, Book T-79, page 200, Muriel Joseph to Lucile J. Williams.

(3) Deed January 20, 1941, Lucile J. WILLIAMS to Orbell Realty Corporation, Book R-97, page 570.

(4) TOWN HALL minutes July 30, 1940, roll-call on vote of liquor license  Williams: "Aye" —

YOU voted the license when you knew the property was so held—YOU wrote the eye-wash and faked the words into the mouths of others—

YOU put them all in direct range of legal fire—YOU knew the truth—and YOU played the ham-actor role, gardenia, pose, script in hand, smile—the HERO, setting his womenfolk out on the firing line. Brave NAPOLEON MILQUETOAST! He'd hide behind a baby carriage if he saw danger coming. The cry-baby act!

I know figures, and learned always to look under captions, and to find out what is under strings of digits behind $-signs. The same cardinal laws apply to Town Finance as to our own pocketbooks—first, buy essentials, the best is the cheapest, pay cash and get your money's worth; second, avoid debt like you would smallpox. And don't try to fool anyone.

I assume everyone is decent until he proves to me otherwise. I believe YOUR WORKS speak louder than your WORDS, and much truer. And the might of GENTLENESS is the greatest force in the world. Now, let's move on. I am a candidate. I introduce myself to you because I am asking you to trust me with public office. I must "rate" myself now. Later on, when you test it by my works, you will do it yourself.

You prove your right, then SHED ALL IDENTIFICATION, enter the booth, pull down the levers for the men of your choice, and the machine makes little holes, something like a piano-player roll. No human being can check up later HOW you voted, or HOW any human being voted. You cast a SECRET ballot, free from domination, free from fear, and only your own conscience can ever accuse you.

THE DANGER COMES FROM INERTIA—the people too busy about this or that to take the time to go to the polls. All I ask and pray of you is that you go to the polls and vote. The ballot is secret. Only you and God are present, and no one can check up on you. You are free. And the government will never be cleaner or better, NO MATTER HOW MANY DIE FOR IT, than the man in the street casting his ballot says it must be. Yours is the POWER and the Glory.

I entered the first war to fight for your right to vote as your conscience dictates. I ask you now to vote that way. And I will be satisfied with the result, no matter whether for or against me. I had my right of free speech; I used it; I tried to get Belleville's issues clearly before you, and I believe I did. The power passes to you, and RESPONSIBILITY with it. Exercise it to the best of your ability, and God be with you!

THE LAST-MINUTE BROADCAST at the Eleventh Hour

Very early you were told the Mayor would run true to form—whistle out of every-one's mouth but his own, then deliver a foul blow the last minute—the bag of feathers in the high wind. I'LL LAY A WAGER that this will happen. But radio broadcasts come under federal laws, and like postal laws, he MUST ANSWER FOR UNTRUTHS. He won't be using innocent pawns then—and I'll be watching. WATCH FOR THE FOUL in the last minute of the LAST ROUND—WATCH FOR IT! It's coming—HE COULDN'T STOP IT IF HE TRIED—HE'S BUILT THAT WAY.

George E. Stewart, Jr.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

The announcement of Highway Commissioner Spencer Miller Jr., that he intended to keep Chief Engineer Logan and Chief Counsel Van Tyne for the time being was characteristic but none the less disappointing. Miller has always worked that way. He did it in South Orange when he became Village President. It is stated from all sides that no advance pledges were made that Logan would be retained. But the skeptical in politics have their doubts. Naturally Miller did not make any promises to the senators direct. But there is no assurance that Miller didn't talk to Logan. He might have told Logan that he would consider his case without prejudice, and Logan may have thought this good enough to justify a nod to his senate friends that he would take his chance with confirmation.

Earlier word from Governor Edison's office was that Logan was to go no matter how much rumpus might be raised. Logan and Van Tyne were the real culprits.

of the Hinds' report, according to all information reaching me about the report. Why it has not been made public is a real mystery. Some $50,000 of good state money was spent for the investigation. Just to bury this information seems queer. What was it about open covenants openly arrived at? The man who coined that world shaking slogan was once Governor of New Jersey.

This column would like to suggest that Governor Edison spend a few hours reading some of Woodrow Wilson's speeches. He was a great prose stylist, and the Governor's time would be justified on that score alone. What he would learn about the philosophy of government would be pure velvet. Also, those citizens of New Jersey interested in good government might band together to insure Miller's life. He is about all that stands between good government and the erstwhile racket that has haunted the state for years. Sure, Messrs Logan and Van Tyne will behave now. They will be as good as a certain young gentleman was on the day before Christmas. But what about the day after? They stand condemned by the very solicitude of their friends in the Senate.

The episode can be paraphrased by a famous cartoon of the 1934 Presidential Campaign. In this the Republican elephant was chanting to a then familiar tune: "I ain't going to steal no more, no more, I ain't going to steal no more."

To which the Democratic donkey replied: "How in the 'ell can the country tell, he ain't going to steal no more."

We refer this cartoon to Mr. Miller as we refer Wilson's speeches to Governor Edison. A teapot dome is a Teapot Dome, whether moved along by wheelbarrow or in an army truck.

Senatorial Battle Quiet

The senatorial campaign will probably be quiet for three or four weeks yet, except for the periodical statements of Mr. Joseph A. Bower. Dr. Lester H. Clee and Albert W. Hawkes who are reported to have agreed to disagree for another month. Neither wants are being estimated elsewhere, but certain by-products of the campaign can be noted here. Mayor Williams will probably be re-elected, although there are doubts about his being high man as during the past two campaigns. But his standing with Clean Government has been distinctly lowered. He will hardly be the candidate for Congress to oppose Fred A. Hartley.

The Orange election is more decorous, but sharply contested nevertheless. Mayor Ovid C. Bianchi, Ralph E. Giordano and William Howe Davis are rated almost sure to win. There are five other candidates so evenly bunched for the remaining two places that an accurate prediction is impossible. They are present Commissioner Maurice H. Caldwell, former Commissioners John J. Condon and Walter B. Savage, Frank A. Palmieri and Martin J. McHugh. Some observers place Joseph L. Magrino, Orange Republican chairman, in the favored group. Other candidates are Justin W. Seymour, son of a former mayor, William M. Fischer, Dr. R. Allen McCoy, Lawrence W. Burns and Wilbur J. Bernard. Fischer and Seymour have many friends and are working hard, but few expect them to make the select company.

Elks Club Charity Ball Set For Saturday Night

The local Elks lodge will hold a charity ball Saturday night at its clubhouse in Washington Avenue and Van Houten place to raise funds for its contribution to the national organization's war chest.

Because of the political campaign in which the town is now involved it is expected that all of the local candidates in addition to a number of other prominent people in the state will attend.

Fewsmith Men To Hear
Norwegian Newspaperman
Hans Christian Skau, Norwegian journalist, will address the Few-smith Presbyterian Men's Club at their regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening. The meeting will start at 8.

Mr. Skau for twelve years prior to the German invasion of Norway was connected with a leading Oslo newspaper. He, like the vast majority of Norwegians, found himself in total disagreement with all that the German occupation signified. He began to plan his escape from the country which he accomplished last September in company with Mrs. Skau by sailing a small boat across the North Sea from the coast of Norway to England.
He was in England until late December when he came to New York where he has since been associated with the Norwegian Bureau of Information in Rockefeller Plaza.

Mr. Skau will discuss the military and political aspects of the German invasion and occupation with special emphasis on the lessons it holds for America. All members of the club and their friends are urged to attend.

King Points To Saving As Building Inspector

Commissioner Joseph King, public affairs director and candidate for re-election, pointed out to the voters in a statement today that during the eight years that he had served as a commissioner he had saved the public more than $25,000.

Because of his long experience as a builder, King has been able to serve as a municipal building inspector. He estimated that he had saved the taxpayers the annual $3,000 of a regular inspector.
To qualify as a building inspector one must be either a civil engineer or thoroughly experienced in building construction. Commissioner King has had more than 20 years experience as a builder and served a term on the Board of Freeholders during which he supervised the construction of the

to the Essex Mountain sanatorium and several buildings at the Over-

District Committee To Meet
Monday; To Be Held
June 6-7

A meeting of the district executive committee has been called by Hugh Kittle, district chairman, for Monday night at the high school.
Reports from the various committees will be submitted. The district camporee scheduled for June 6 and 7 will be discussed.

The installation of a new troop at the Montgomery Presbyterian church will be held on Friday evening, May 15, at the church at 8 p.m. It will be conducted by Rev. and Mrs. McMaster, organization member; District Commissioner Clark and Arnold C. Sorenson, scout executive. The scoutmaster of the new troop is William Pirk and the chairman of the committee is Robert Lloyd.

Applications are now being received for Camp Mohican, the council summer camp at Blairstown.
Serving on the staff from town will be Joseph W. O'Farrell, camp director, and John S. Charlton, program and craft director.
The camp opens on Sunday, July 5.

Why Patrick A. Waters Should Be Re-Elected "ON HIS RECORD"

Because of his record as an experienced, able administrator of the Department of Public Works.

Efficient administration has been his sole desire.

Careful planning has resulted in lower costs.

Actions and deeds of Patrick A. Waters are public record.

Utility—The water system, under his direction, has proved a source of profit to the Town.

Sincerity of his actions are his greatest attribute.

Every citizen should consider Patrick A. Waters for re-election on his record.

All of the people of Belleville are at least intimately acquainted with one of the candidates or Commissioners. If you are not personally acquainted with Pat Waters
I would suggest that you ask any candidate—he will tell you that this man possesses unusual virtues; his given word is taken by everyone as a proof of his honesty, sincerity and purpose of action; he has consistently afforded the opportunity for tax reduction by operating his department at a minimum of cost—reducing his budget as services required—the reduction for 1942 alone being $13,872.84, representing four tax points; his direction as an experienced, able administrator has brought the Department

Work Will Start May 13 If Elected, Says Mertz

Administration Of Service His Aim If He's Elected; Aides Confident Of Election Based On Reports
From Many Voting Places

"My work starts May 13th, if the people choose me," stated Ray Mertz, at a meeting of ward leaders and executive committee of the Ray Mertz campaign organization held this week. "I have planned my entire campaign for May 13th, not for May 12th," he continued.

"I don't aim just to be elected," said Mertz. "My aim, as an independent candidate, has been to give my fellow citizens an administration that will be of service to the town. That shall always be my goal."

"I am confident, after reviewing our town survey, that the people of Belleville are expressing, through their indication to vote for me, their real hope for practical politics, brought down to business terms they can fully understand."

Reports from district workers and ward leaders continued to flow into the campaign headquarters this week, and a tabulation of a complete town survey indicated a universal acceptance by representative people in all parts of town, Mertz aides said.

Eugene F. Donnelly, second ward leader, said "the people appreciate the independent business campaign Mr. Mertz has been conducting. They like his honesty and his sincerity. It seems evident they want this kind of man for their commissioner and are willing to support him."

Fred Ochsen, heading up the third ward, stated "I like to campaign for a man like Ray Mertz. The voters believe in him and have confidence he will be an honest, business-like commissioner devoted to the service of his town. We're way over the top of our estimated quota in the third ward."

The leader from the fourth ward, Thomas C. D'Avella, commented "The people of the fourth ward want a sincere fellow with business ability. They have him in Ray Mertz. Group after group have expressed to me their satisfaction with Mr. Mertz."

Max Schwartz, tallying up the first ward predictions, said "The people of the first ward evidently feel that Ray Mertz is the right man for the job. The support behind Mertz indicates a big vote on May 12th."

Politics On Business Basis
His Goal, Mertz States

In a last pre-election statement, Ray Mertz, one of the 12 candidates for Commissioner, declared that politics on a business basis has been the whole goal of his campaign.

In a release for the press, Mertz was quoted "Whatever else may have been accomplished by my entrance into the race for commissioner, I believe the people of Belleville will appreciate the growing need for popularizing town issues. I have always felt that if political affairs are made

Pvt. Scala Graduates From School At Canal Zone

Pvt. Louis Scala, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Scala, was one of 65 Panama canal department soldiers who made up the first class to graduate from the new department motor maintenance school, according to information received from department headquarters at Quarry Heights, Canal Zone.

Pvt. Scala and his classmates were carefully selected from among a large number of applicants to take the intensive 32-day course given at the motor maintenance depot at the post of Corozal.

Scala from the moment he arrived at the school until he received his certificate of efficiency spent almost every minute learning the number of things which can go wrong with a vehicle and how to "keep 'em rolling."

He was issued working clothes and a set of tools on his first day at the school and was assigned to his new barracks. The second day he was given a placement examination to determine his ability and to show how much more training he would need to be a good soldier mechanic. On the third day he attended lectures on tools and problems of maintenance and supply and was taken on a tour of the shops and warehouses of the Depot.

The following day classes began. The students spent eight days each studying motors, heavy units and carburation and ignition, five days on vehicle assembly, two days on allied trades and one day on wrecking procedure and motorcycles. Scala and his classmates spent 12 hours a day attending lectures, watching explanatory motion pictures, working in the shops and studying. Pvt. Scala turned in a report at the end of each day telling what he had done that day, how he did it, what he had learned from it and what suggestions he had for the improvement of the school. Those reports were graded by the officers in charge of the school and made up part of his final grade.

Scala also passed an examination after completing each part of the course and a general examination at the end of the school term. Lieut. Col. Oscar G. Fegan, department automotive officer, who planned the course, pointed out that only intelligent, well-trained men could have completed the course successfully as Pvt. Scala did.

Army Life Adds Pounds Pvt. Ray Fratella Finds

Pvt. Ray Fratella, known to many local residents as Ray Frate, is one soldier that is enjoying the army life. From Camp Stewart in Georgia where he is serving in the communications division, he writes that during the four has gained 17 pounds. The food is good, according to Ray.

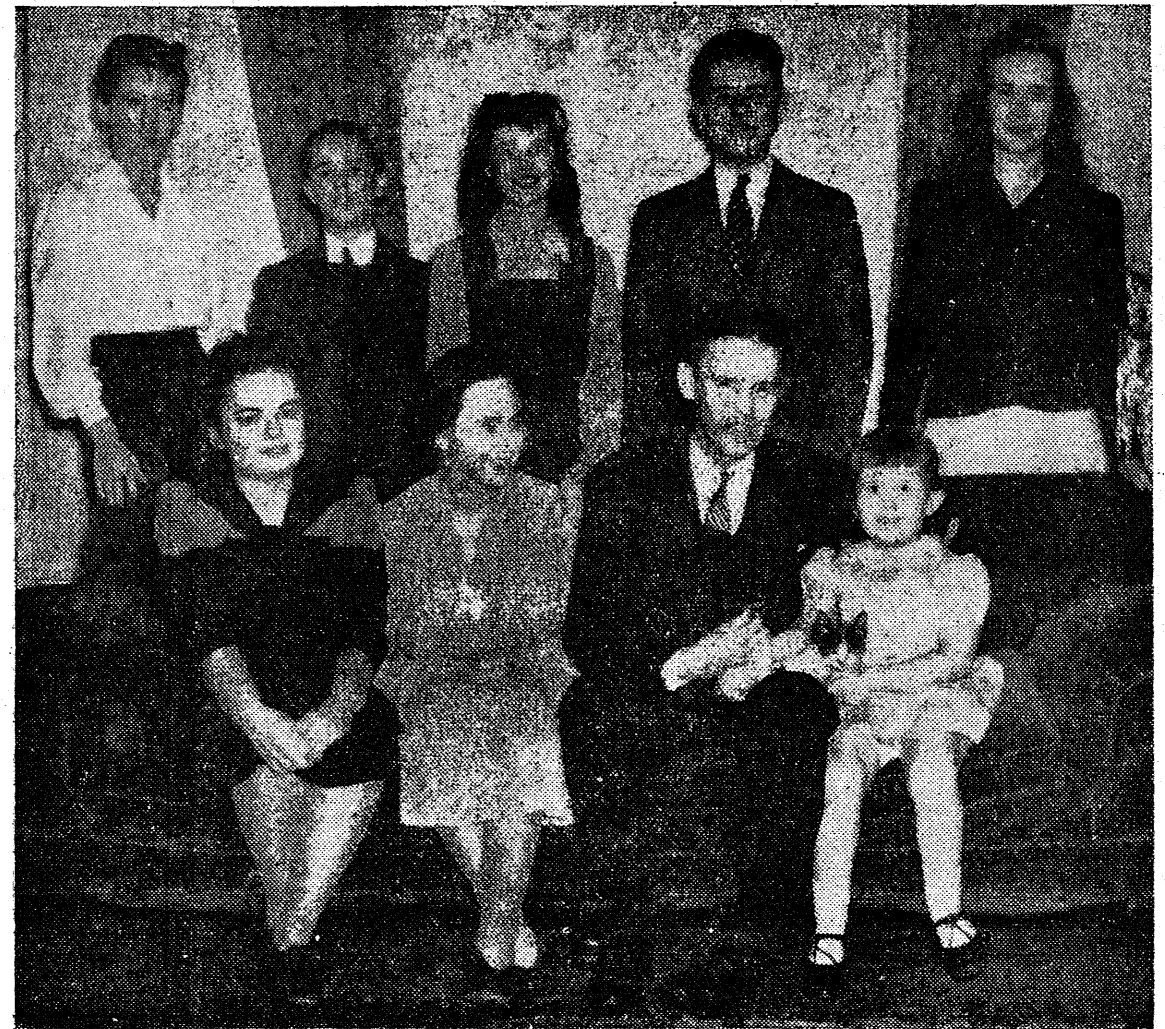

Under the name of Frate, he raced for several years as a member of the Belleville Bicycle club. Last July, he broke a 24-year old road cycling record for 20 miles when he pedaled from the town hall here to George Washington bridge in 49 minutes and eight seconds, clipping 17 seconds off of the old record.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Fratella of 137 Beech street.

WIN WITH SMITH

In officially announcing his candidacy for commissioner in the forthcoming election there is represented in EDWARD G. SMITH a formidable contender. From his home, 232 Ralph Street, the 17-year residence of this candidate and his family of three children, comes the clarion challenge that this town is in urgent need of another "business man of proven merit and integrity" and that he will prove the gains possible by sound business administration, if the thinking voters of this fast-growing town will vest their faith in him on election day. He is not inclined to seek notoriety by ballyhoo or flamboyant promises awaredly impossible to fulfill.

His unblemished past is a noteworthy one and one that should and will give Belleville voters pause, upon serious contemplation. His personality is likened unto that of a quietly serious general and in this contest the generalship that has governed his well-ordered life will contrast pleasingly with the mundane ordinary. Reflection upon his qualifications can but inspire the voting public that his assets can and will be their assets as well.

MR. SMITH, a taxpayer of Belleville for over 17 years and one who keeps his ear close to the ground in matters business constitutes attributes that cannot but aid him in anticipating the taxpayers' needs and the cures for municipal ills. A commendable asset is that his sole interest is to do his best at all times and if he can make your town a better one in which to live, the accompanying glory of such fruit of effort he would consider appropriate remuneration, in a spirit of altruism readily recognizable by all who know him.

MR. SMITH has no political affiliations and is running independently. Therein, again, voters are assured of sincere representation.

His continuous banking affiliation for the past twenty-one years has been the First National Bank of Belleville, a valuable recommendation in itself.

For those of us who need mental refreshing of MR. SMITH'S excellent qualifications for the post in mention we need but to observe the following:

Born on May 10th, 1894 at St. Mary's, Pa. Attended country schools. Then walked to and from High School six miles daily and graduated with honors. Graduated from Ridgeway Teachers Normal School. Graduated in pedagogy at Penn State College. Subsequently taught school for four years and carried mail at the St. Marys Post Office during vacations.

Then came the World War. MR. SMITH offered his services and enlisted in the U. S. Regular Army. His promotion was rapid; became Sergeant First Class in a few months and entered Officers' Training Camp and would have been Commissioned Lieutenant within a few weeks had hostilities not ceased on that memorable November 11th. Tacitful and diplomatic, but aggressive and forceful when occasion demanded, Sergeant Smith always had the courage of his convictions which gained for him the respect and confidence of every officer and enlisted man in the camp. He is a member of Belleville Post 105, American Legion.

Twenty-one years of successfully conducting his own business since then, can but inspire the thinking voter into a realization that such is the timber of which town leaders should be cut. SMITH, however, reminds one of flawless granite, for unflinching staunchness, by comparison.

MR. SMITH appeals to you, the taxpayers and voters of Belleville, to read and study carefully the qualifications of each of the candidates. You may choose five. Vote for those whom you honestly believe are capable and businesslike enough to guide the destinies of your thriving community during the ensuing four years.

If elected, he will perform whatever duties assigned him, whether it's with the majority or the minority, diligently, conscientiously and honestly. He will be a yes man for no one. Everything legitimate will have his sanction but in anything showing an iota of intolerance or hindrance to public welfare, he will fight for the common good and betterment of all Belleville.

MR. SMITH makes only two promises, viz.: (1) No one now employed by the town (in his department, if elected) shall lose his or her job as long as it is performed efficiently and honestly. (2) To perform his duties as Commissioner honestly, sincerely and conscientiously.

Comm. Clark Is Commended For Ambulance Service

Clarence D. Van Sickle, local oil dealer, of 31 Preston street, sent the following commendatory letter to Comm. Clark this week:

"Through you, as the originator of the town ambulance service, I want to thank the police and fire departments for the splendid service rendered to the people of Belleville when they are in need of quick ambulance transportation."

"In my own home, within the past five years, I have had to call upon the town ambulance service for hospital transportation for my own and my wife's parents. The drivers and assistant drivers were most courteous and helpful. They showed an intelligent knowledge in the handling of patients and were most considerate of our feelings."

"Commissioner Clark, you showed forethought for the comfort of Belleville people when you brought into existence this fine service."

Petrean Club Dedicates 32-Star Service Flag

Gold Star Placed On Flag In Memory of Member Who Died In Service; It Was Made By Woman and Girls' Committee

Members of the Petrean club who are in service were honored by their fellow club members on Monday night when they dedicated a service flag at special exercises held in St. Peter's school hall.

The flag, bearing 32 stars, will be hung in the club rooms. It is a hand made one, sewed by Mrs. Cornelius McGonigle, assisted by girl members of the club's conscription committee.

One gold star was placed on the flag in memory of Pvt. John F. Farley of Newark, a club member, who died at sea. His mother, Mrs. John Farley, was present at the ceremony.

Speakers included Rev. Joseph Kelly, pastor of St. Peter's church; Gilbert E. Howley, James Leonard, Chester Davis, Thomas Dowd, Petrean president, and Miss Mernett. George Aschenbach sang "The White Cliffs of Dover" and the recently organized glee club under the direction of Ambrose Culklin offered "Remember Pearl Harbor."

Club members already in service honored by having stars placed for them on the flag were:

LETTERS

Fourth Ward Leader Urges Election of Hyde, Waters

From Henry D. Riepe
84 Wilber street
To the Editor of The Times:

I have noticed with increased interest the energy put into the election for commissioners of Belleville. Although there is not the interest shown this year that was shown in previous elections, I sincerely believe that there will be a lot of pep put into the last week of the campaign.

I have seen with a great deal of pride that Jack Coogan has been rewarded for his service to Belleville by receiving a promotion to a position with the state of New Jersey. I am positive that Governor Edison will never regret his appointment of Jack Coogan to his new position and the writer, who has known Mr. Coogan for a great many years, sincerely hopes that this will be only a stepping stone, and that he will rise to greater positions.

Having been interested in politics ever since I have been old enough to vote and having been a Republican leader in the 4th ward, 4th district, which is the largest district in Belleville, for approximately seven years, I have had the opportunity to look over the field of candidates and have been able to judge them accordingly. Now that Mr. Coogan has resigned as a candidate for the board of commissioners, I am throwing my full support toward the candidacy of Elmer S. Hyde, who is known and liked by a large number of people in the town.

Believing that Mr. Hyde is entitled to all the support he can receive, I have been a supporter of his and of Patrick A. Waters for the past 12 years and will do all in my power to help both candidates.

I sincerely hope and trust that all of the other supporters of Jack Coogan, now that they have been released, will throw their entire wholehearted support for Elmer S. Hyde and Patrick A. Waters and try to insure the election of Mr. Hyde, which now appears to be in the bag.

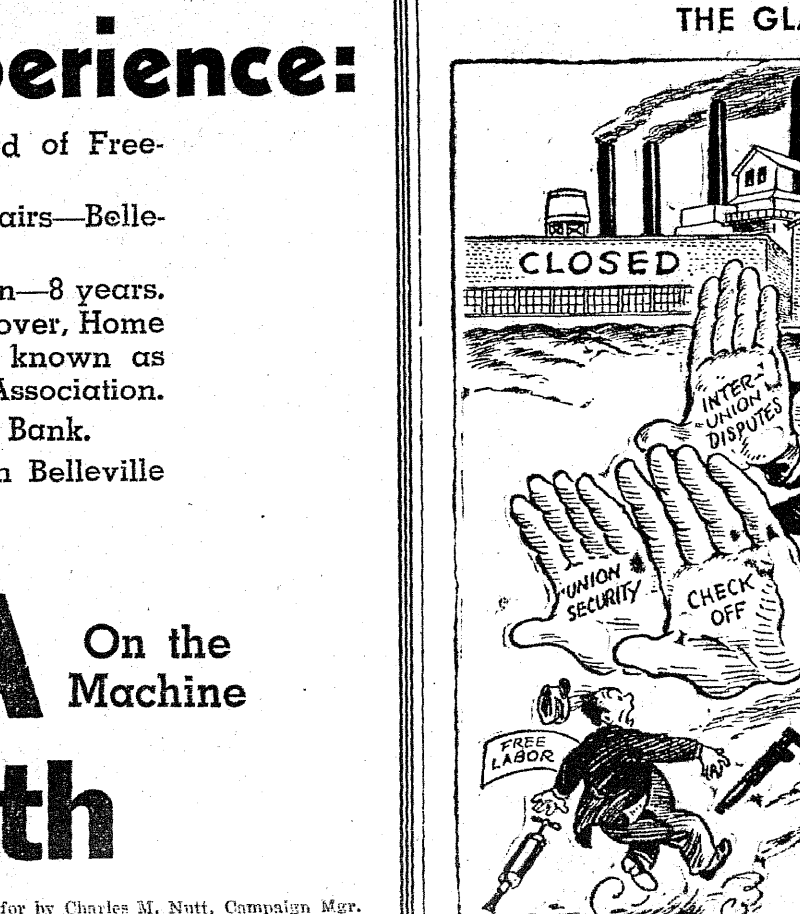

The West Belleville Civic association also endorses the candidacy of Mr. Hyde and every voter is urged to go along with us and give Elmer S. Hyde one vote. If every voter votes, and gives Elmer Hyde one vote, there is no reason why he cannot be high man.

Thinks Stewart Would Be Good Hall 'Watchdog'

From E. W. Petrie
242 Belleville avenue
To the Editor of The Times:

The time for another election of five men to run our town for another four years is at hand. The question that each one of us must ask ourselves is: "Shall We Turn the Ins out or Elect Them For Another Four Years?"

Some of them ask us to elect them on their record. Let us look at the record; it adds up to this. Is it a fact that we are paying a quarter of a million dollars each year for debt service? If we are, that is a terrible indictment and

CHAMBER LUNCH DRAWS INTEREST

"Victor and Vanquished" Affair Plans Complete; Reservations Close Saturday

Built around the 47 commission candidates in four Essex municipalities, including William H. Williams, Patrick A. Waters, Joseph King, William D. Clark, Louis A. Noll, Raymond E. Mertz, James J. Tully, Edward G. Smith, Elmer Hyde, Arthur Mayer, Gerard J. Ferrara and George E. Stewart, Jr., the "Victor and Vanquished" luncheon to be staged Wednesday at the Montclair Golf club is arousing considerable interest in political and civic circles.

The luncheon, to be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Civic of the Oranges and Maplewood, was designed to show to the public that aspirants for local municipal offices "can forget the competitive aspects of their respective campaigns and get together in a spirit of community unity—win, lose or draw."

Cooperating in the unusual event are the Irvington Chamber of Commerce, the Belleville and Orange Merchants associations and the West Orange Community council.

Carroll Dunham Smith, Oranges' Chamber vice-president for Civics, asserted today that while the candidates are busy with political activity in the closing stages of Tuesday's elections, several of them had taken time out to endorse the idea in making their reservations.

Smith emphasized that the deadline for making reservations by candidates was Saturday noon. They can be made either at the Oranges Chamber or with the presidents of the organizations participating in the luncheon. They include Harry Amsterdam, Orange Merchants association; Eugene C. Reed, West Orange Community council; Frederic Stoddard, Irvington Chamber of Commerce, and Wilfred Yudin, Belleville Merchants association.

The luncheon will be the inaugural public event held by the chamber since the election of E. Morgan Barradale of South Orange as president. Barradale will preside over the affair and speak on community planning for the post-war era.

Final Lowell League Meeting For Noll Sunday Afternoon

A final meeting of the Lowell League of Belleville, a young people's group working for the election of Commissioner Louis A. Noll, will be held at the candidate's headquarters, 74 Washington avenue, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m.

The organization, composed of more than 50 young women, is headed by Miss Grete Kimmally. The group has been holding weekly meetings for the past seven weeks in the interest of Noll's candidacy and have done much of the vote solicitation work in urging his re-election.

not a record to be proud of; for they are all responsible and that in view of the fact that we have increased our ratables. I may add, in order not to be too hard on them, that the school board increased its budget for this year by $2800; perhaps that too comes under the head of debt service.

If a group of men are returned to office time after time they either are good servants or they have collected a lot of barnacles which makes for popularity. We must have men in office today who realize the critical times ahead and act accordingly by exercising the strictest economy.

Citizens of Belleville we must reduce our debt and we must elect to office men who are just and fair to those who have to bear the brunt of it. It other words, we must stop borrowing until we reduce our debt drastically. We need someone to fight for us; someone with courage to tell us the truth and I honestly think George Stewart would be the answer to that. We haven't had a good watch dog in Belleville since the days of Carragher, and we need one badly as we will not fight for ourselves. For to me this question of local government is one that is crying to Heaven for reform.

I often wonder why the pulpits of Belleville do not take up this challenge. We may pray and ask Heaven for favors and yet do nothing about a condition like this. Remember, God has no use for those who will not help themselves.
