

STATE RELAXES DIMOUT ORDER ON LIGHTING

Revised Instructions Say That Lights Can Be Used If Well Shaded

Defense Council Chairman Everett B. Smith last night released a revised order pertaining to the dimming of lights which had been received from the state defense council.

The order is of principal concern to merchants and other businesses which have been forced to extinguish all exterior lights in compliance with the orders of the defense council. The change in the regulations permits the lighting of certain exterior lights and window lights previously banned, provided that proper shading is used so that a horizontal ray of light is not created.

The detailed orders from the state council are as follows: Exterior signs, such as neon signs, unless they can be shaded completely to prevent their direct rays from shining at an angle above the horizontal, should be turned out. Lighted billboards that have the reflector type of lighting which does not throw the direct rays above the horizontal, are permissible, provided they are not on top of a building more than three stories in height.

All neon signs and illuminated advertising signs attached to the show window, or hanging within the show windows of any building, tavern, or mercantile establishment must be extinguished for the duration of the war from sunset to sunrise unless the light from such sign is shaded so that the direct rays do not shine above the horizontal. Any awning or canopy may possibly provide a practical shade for such interior signs.

Show windows may be lighted and lighting therein may be so shaded and darkened that the direct rays therefrom do not shine above the horizontal. It is possible that an awning or canopy over the window may provide practical shade, but particular care must be given to the lighting at the lower part of the window.

Amusement parks, baseball parks, carnivals, golf courses and flood light shows, will have to reduce their illumination to a minimum. These will require a state inspection for approval.

The air raid wardens have been notified of these revisions.

WOMAN'S CLUB MAKES PLEDGE

Resolves To Buy Sparingly; Cares For Present Possessions

Members of the Belleville Woman's club collectively pledged themselves at their business meeting Monday to the specifications of the National Consumer-Retailer council whereby consumers are urged to make voluntary sacrifices now in order to prevent strenuous government rationing of commodities later on. The broad terms of the pledge specify that members will refrain from buying anything—food, clothing, household furnishings—in excess of their current needs; and that they will care for the things they now possess in such manner that they will last as long as possible.

Further resolutions are to carry packages whenever possible making use of a shopping bag; to refrain from requesting emergency deliveries and to return merchandise only when absolutely necessary.

Members of the American home department were reminded that their trip to Flemington has been cancelled. The final meeting of the garden department, Thursday, May 21, at 2 o'clock will be devoted by members to work on the grounds surrounding the clubhouse.

Mrs. John Denike, Mrs. Henry Squier, Mrs. William Allen, Jr., Mrs. Daniel T. O'Connor, Mrs. Matthew Atkinson, Mrs. William P. Adams, Mrs. James Lynch and Mrs. Arthur Mayer will attend the annual convention of the State Federation of Women's clubs at Atlantic City from May 19 to 22. They will travel by train in a special car assigned to clubwomen from the Newark area.

Mrs. Edgar M. Compton, chairman of the Newark Stadium concert ticket committee, announced that Mrs. George Kaden and Mrs. Morris Rochlin lead the captains in the sale of tickets. Those whose quotas exceed $50 will be the guests of Mrs. Parker Griffith at luncheon May 26.

DIAMONDS, WATCHES, JEWELRY, at prices always in line with the quality of the merchandise offered. Victor Hart, Jeweler, 457 Washington avenue, Belleville, N. J.

ROAD MATERIAL 'FREEZE' ORDER

Town Notified That Repair Work Must Be Curtailed; Priority Needed

Probable curtailment of street maintenance and repair work was indicated this week in instructions received by the public works department from the state highway department.

Hugh Welsh, deputy to Commissioner Waters, said that based on the orders from the state, all materials have been placed on priority and a municipality must make application before any can be obtained for repair work.

Welsh said he believed that the state would view applications on the basis of the importance of the street as a thoroughfare, a connecting link to main roads or to industrial plants.

"It virtually means," Welsh explained, "that repairs to streets in residential areas will be out for the present, or at least we will not be able to do the amount of work or keep them in the condition which we have in the past."

Already on a priority basis is the securing of materials for new paving work. Mayor Williams announced last week that the town was ready to apply to the state for a high rating so that materials could be obtained for the construction of the new road in Main street between Jerusalem street and the Nutley town line. The state has earmarked $60,000 in funds for the job with the town scheduled to contribute only $6,000. It was explained that because it is a thorough route and there are a number of war industries fronting on it, a high rating would probably be given to Belleville.

Inability to get delivery on materials used in road construction work is the main reason for the "freeze," Welsh explained that much of the basic materials used in the making of bituminous paving comes from the Caribbean area and there is difficulty in getting shipments of it to this country now.

Enlisted Grandfather Trains At Great Lakes Station

Matthew J. Smith of New street, 45, is stationed at Great Lakes naval training station after enlisting in the navy last month. He has worked for the local water department for the past 12 years. He belonged to the navy in the last war and spent 15 months laying mines.

Father of two sons, John Smith and Matthew Smith, Jr., of this town, and three grandchildren, his relatives believe he is the first grandfather enlisted from Belleville.

SOLDIER WRITES FROM AUSTRALIA

Pvt. Norman Walker Says Aussies Really Like Americans

The Australian people really like the American soldiers, according to Pvt. Norman Walker in a letter which was received here this week by his father, Harry G. Walker of 112 Ralph street.

It is believed to be the first word received from a Belleville youth now stationed in Australia. The letter was mailed on April 12 but where Walker is stationed in Australia or from where it was mailed was not revealed. All mail to be sent to him must be addressed to the postmaster at San Francisco.

"Arrived safe and sound here in Australia," he wrote. "We had a nice trip, and believe it or not, I did not get seasick although my head felt a little light for the first couple of days."

"I had quite a time keeping track of the days because they all seemed alike to me. We had to put the clocks back about an hour every day, and one day we skipped a whole day when we passed over the date line."

"These Australian people really like the soldiers and I was surprised to see how nice they are. I am having quite a time trying to get used to the money, but I guess I'll catch on after a while."

"Well, that is all I have for now so I will say so long, hoping you and the family are in the best of health and happiness."

Walker has another brother, Herbert Jr., in the service.

MAJORITY GET CARDS FOR GAS

Many Problems Arise During Registration; Today Is Last Day

More than two-thirds of Belleville's estimated 8,300 automobile owners have already received their gasoline rationing cards, according to those in charge of the registration which moves into its final day today at the elementary schools.

Motorists will be able to register today from 2 to 9 p. m. If for any reason a person is unable to get there today, they may apply to the rationing board at its School No. 8 headquarters. However, residents are asked not to take advantage of this.

As has been the case in most other areas, there were more "B" than "A" cards issued during the first two days of the registration. Many problems arose which remain unanswered and it was predicted that the rationing board would be swamped during the next few days with requests for additional amounts of gasoline.

MEMORIAL DAY PLANS MADE

Parade Is Scheduled For May 30; Services On May 24

The Memorial day committee announced last night that in addition to the customary parade on Memorial day, May 30, a special service will be held at St. Peter's church on Sunday evening, May 24, to honor the war dead.

An invitation was extended to the members of the town commission to take part in the program and parade. Following brief ceremonies at the town hall before the Victory monument, the parade will follow its usual route with stops at St. Peter's church, Christ Episcopal and Belleville Reformed church cemeteries. Rev. Joseph Kelly, St. Peter's pastor, Rev. Peter Deckenbach, Christ Episcopal rector, and Rev. John Struyk of the Reformed church have all been asked to participate.

The parade will wind up at the Rutgers street bridge where the Ladies of the G.A.R. will launch a flower float on the river in tribute to the naval dead.

FIREMEN HALT SERIOUS FIRE

One-Story Structure At N. J. Spray Company Goes Up In Flames

Fast work by the fire department yesterday morning prevented a serious blaze from spreading to other buildings at the New Jersey Spray Products company at 243 Cortlandt street.

The blaze, which produced heavy clouds of smoke that could be seen for some distance, started in a one-story frame building where glass is precessed. Thirty-five employees, including eight women, escaped without injury. It took firemen more than 45 minutes to bring the fire under control. Probable serious damage and a possible explosion was prevented by both firemen and employees who removed a number of large tins of lacquer from the burning building.

A spokesman for James Dempster, the company head, said that the blaze had been confined to the storage room. No estimate was made on the damage. It was believed that the fire had started from a gas stove and had ignited paper nearby.

Alretta Strauss, 11 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Strauss of Linden avenue, will receive a merit award Sunday afternoon from the Griffith Music Foundation at the Mosque theatre. Awards will be made at 3:30 to the winners of an audition recently held there for northern New Jersey children. The little girl has studied piano three years.

5 COMMISSIONERS BREAK PRECEDENT IN RE-ELECTION

Williams' Vote Drop Real Surprise; Clark Sets A Record

The five members of the town commission in being re-elected to office in Tuesday's election broke a precedent—no entire board in the years since the town has been governed by the present type of government has been re-elected.

Only two of the board polled more votes than they did in 1938. Commissioner Clark, who finished third with 4,800 votes, was almost 700 votes ahead of his previous mark, while Commissioner Noll, who landed in fifth place, was nearly 300 votes ahead of the mark he set in 1938 when he finished in fourth place and Clark was fifth.

While many were jubilant over the rise of Commissioner Waters to high man on the commission, there was just as much surprise over the drop of Mayor Williams, who in 1934 and 1938 was high man. From the high mark of 7,179 votes which he set in 1938, Williams has 2,265 votes whittled this time.

In 1938, the mayor received about 66 per cent of all of the votes cast while this time he was credited with about 52 per cent. Waters' total gave him about 57 per cent of all the votes cast.

It was not an election in which the outcome was decided on the first five or six districts which reported. It was any man's race as far as Williams, Clark, King and Noll were concerned, with Raymond E. Mertz, who finished sixth, figuring in the picture until about the final three districts reported. It was also one of the closest finishes in a municipal election. Less than 700 votes stood between the first place man, Waters, and Noll who was in the fifth spot.

Mertz trailed Noll by 207 votes, followed by persistent Elmer S. Hyde, candidate for the fourth straight time, who wound up in seventh place with 3,952 votes.

Third Ward Helps

Williams' salvation was the third ward, his home area, where he polled 1,656 votes, his highest ward total, compared with the 2,234 which he received in 1938. The mayor made his poorest showing in the fourth ward, which embraces Silver Lake. One of the districts there gave him only 101 votes and at the same time handed Waters 280 votes and Noll 339.

Both Noll and Waters vied for top honors in the fourth ward, with Waters coming out on top 1,473 to 1,466. Noll, however, was high man in the two Silver Lake districts which in pre-election estimates had been generally conceded to Waters for the No. 1 choice.

The showing made by Noll was viewed as a surprise in many places. In numerous political camps he had been counted out of the first five several weeks before election. He was a minority (Continued on Page 4)

1941 TOWN AUDIT IS RECEIVED

Mayor Says It's Available For Public Study; Hart Gets Job Again

Mayor Williams announced at last night's commission meeting that the 1941 audit had been received on Monday from Alphonse Hart, who is the municipal auditor. Williams said that copies of the audit are now on file with the town clerk and that any person interested may study it.

The mayor said that he would shortly make a report to the town board on it as he has done in past years.

At the same time, the board, acting on a resolution introduced by Williams, voted to retain Hart to audit the town's finances for 1942.

During the campaign which has just ended, Candidate George E. Stewart Jr. complained that the audit was not available for the public to study. He argued that the entire audit and not merely a summary of it should be published in the paper.

'Happy About Whole Thing' Is Tully Expression

"I am happy about the whole thing," was the expression yesterday of James J. Tully, 25-year-old candidate for the town commission who finished in eighth place with 3,656 votes.

"It would have been nice to win," Tully said, "but I am satisfied. I went out of the campaign with twice as many friends as when I entered it." The candidate extended his appreciation to his workers and supporters and to the many residents who voted for him.

Thanks From King

Commissioner King in a statement issued last night said: "I wish to express my sincerest thanks to my campaign manager, Charles M. Nutt, and to the many workers whose faithful and diligent work made the campaign a success. I also want to thank the many citizens who by their vote indicated their continued faith in my service to them."

"I will try to do the best that I can as I have tried to do in the past and I will endeavor to cooperate with my fellow board members," King said.

Between now and next Tuesday noon when they will be sworn in for another four year term, it is expected that the five commissioners who were returned to office in Tuesday's election will confer to decide who will be mayor and assign departments.

Last night there was only one point clear — Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, who is the high man, was definitely and determinedly after the mayoralty post. The veteran public works director frankly and bluntly let his ambition be known and indicated that nothing would budge him from his decision to go "all the way out" in his effort to gain the post which is now held by Mayor Williams.

Other commissioners were non-committal, but it was no secret that Director Louis A. Noll had pledged his support to Waters for the mayoralty. Williams has made no statement on his position but it was generally believed that he would like to be retained as mayor.

Up To Majority

Appraised of Waters' stand shortly after the election results were known, Williams stated: "Whatever the majority of the elected officials decide is in the best interests of the town should be done."

Water declared that he not only wished to be mayor but wanted to retain control of the public works department as it has been organized for the past four years. On Tuesday night when the returns were in, the commissioner commented to his workers:

"You all realize that being high man doesn't necessarily mean a man becomes mayor. However, I believe my colleagues respect me and I think that I have earned the honor. I'm going to do my best to become mayor. If I'm elected by the board I'll do my best to be as good as my brother (the late Mayor John H. Waters), who was the best mayor Belleville ever had."

Brother Was Mayor

The public works head's late brother was Belleville's first mayor under the commission form of government, being elected in 1918 and serving continuously until his death in 1923.

What about A&P LOW PRICES now that everybody is talking about CEILING PRICES?

- Now, and after May 18th (when ceiling prices become effective), all A&P Super Markets and A&P Food Stores will continue to give you real low prices on fine foods every day, just as they have been doing.
- The new "ceiling price" regulation will not alter in any way A&P's low price policy. This means that every day at A&P you will continue to get the best foods the markets afford at our lowest possible prices.
- And here is another important fact to remember. FOOD PRICES WILL NOT BE IDENTICAL IN ALL FOOD STORES on and after May 18th. Prices will continue to differ in food stores on the same articles—just as they have heretofore.

OUR CUSTOMERS SAVE MONEY

A&P, during the last eight years, has made big reductions in its operating costs. These savings have been passed along to our customers, so that today they have 9c more of every food dollar to spend than they did in 1933.

It is A&P's policy to continue to conduct its business as economically as possible, thus to give you the utmost for every food dollar you spend at A&P Stores.

Fine Performance In Glee Club Concert

The spring concert of the Belleville Glee club and the Glee Club of Nutley was conducted last Wednesday evening in Vincent Methodist church, Nutley, by Arthur E. Jacobus, Mrs. Ruth Dautel Burnett, assistant director, accompanied them. Soloist was Earle Spicer, New York baritone and an outstanding ballad singer who has previously captivated local audiences. His accompanist was Freeman Koberstein.

The combined glee clubs exhibited fine total work in the various groups of songs which made up their program and which included an arrangement of college songs. One group was arranged for the men by Frank H. Scherer, former conductor of the Belleville club. The program included "The Four Winds," A. W. Noll; "The Long Day Closes," Sir Arthur Sullivan, and "Adelaide," Beethoven.

Mr. Spicer's usual informal manner of introducing his selections charmed the audience throughout the groups of folk songs and old melodies which composed his solo program. Among them were "Cornish Dance," Ross; "Lord Lovel," Sharp; "Old Paint" by Fox and "Arkansas Traveler" by Freeland. The singer satisfied his audience's desire for several encores. The program was concluded with the traditional selection "Prayer of Thanksgiving" in which the audience joined.

TRACKSTERS TOP LYNDBURST '5'

The high school track team under the leadership of Coach Wilbur Winkla evened the year's standing by winning from Lyndhurst high school 50-36. It was Belleville high all the way, taking seven firsts.

Jack Mason won the mile in a breeze, making it in 4:41. In the half-mile George Baldwin won by five lengths. John Walker was the high man of the day, making 11 points in three events, first in the broad jump, and taking second in the 100-yard and quarter-mile. Mugs Maginness took the low hurdles, and John Higgins did his part by copping the high jump. In the shot-put, Ken Smith took first with 48 feet 4 inches.

With Walker, Mason, Baldwin and Maginness, Coach Winkla should have few worries in the coming meets.

SAVE YOUR VISION

SAVE YOUR CHARM

An old prejudice has met its Waterloo! No longer are spectacles considered a bar to a woman's appearance and her charm. On the contrary—lovely modern eyewear "tailored" to one's features have real cosmetic value. They improve one's good looks . . . and charm. Certainly to be preferred to the frowns and squints and crowsfeet which utterly destroy a woman's good looks, charm and poise!

A & P ANNOUNCES FRESH FOOD DRIVE

Will Hold Nationwide Campaign For Increased Use of Farm Products

Tin priorities and the curtailed use of cans for food should present no immediate problem for New Jersey housewives as fresh fruits and vegetables are being made available in steadily increasing quantity and variety, E. L. Reynolds, vice-president for the A&P Food stores in the area declared today.

He has announced the inauguration of a nationwide advertising and production campaign to feature fresh fruits and vegetables designed to provide vitamin and mineral-bearing fresh produce at reasonable cost and in greater quantity.

"There are four main purposes behind this campaign," Reynolds said. "First, the A&P has pledged its cooperation in the government's nutrition drive—the program which calls for 100 per cent increase in the national consumption of fruits and leafy green vegetables and a 70 per cent greater use of citrus fruits and tomatoes for the sake of the nation's wartime health.

"Second, because the huge increases in production demand greater efficiency in distribution, the A&P is increasing its effort under its long-standing policy of giving support to growers in marketing heavy crops at seasonal peaks.

"Third, we believe that in the present crisis, it is doubly essential that American housewives should be given every aid in setting a 'good table'—and that one essential is a good supply of the health-maintaining fresh foods. "And fourth, if she is to maintain the proper dietary balance for her family, the housewife must be able to get these foods at lowest possible costs. In order that this be done we are moving fresh produce from farm to retail store by the most direct routes, in shorter time and with fewer handlings and less cost than by any other commercially employed methods."

Several media will be used during the promotion and advertising campaign, E. L. Reynolds said, but, as in the past, greatest reliance will be placed on newspaper advertising. Stress will be laid during the campaign on home canning programs being sponsored by the government as part of the nutrition drive, the food chain executive said. Not only will it bring a wide variety of perishables before the consumer but will emphasize commodities in a category production periods and thus aid the grower in moving his crop and giving the housewife the advantage of favorable buying.

New Jersey's use of the Telephone IN BLACKOUT TESTS

More than 4 million New Jersey people have now participated in blackout tests throughout the State. Here is how they responded to the New Jersey Defense Council's rule, "Do not telephone, unless urgent, during an air raid alarm and for some time after the 'all clear.'"

In each test, telephone calling during the blackout period itself was well below normal. The situation was very different, however, immediately after the "all clear." In the first blackout test, telephone calling in some places skyrocketed after the "all clear" to more than four times normal. In the other tests, the calling after the "all clear" was from 1½ to 2½ times normal.

It is just as important to avoid making unnecessary calls for a considerable time after the "all clear" sounds as during the alarm or blackout. In the after period, the same telephone system you use every day must be kept free to put calls through swiftly for the military and civilian defense units, for police, doctors, ambulances, fire-fighters and others who carry on the work of rescue and restoration.

'Barber of Seville' Will Open Newark Stadium Series

"The Barber of Seville" sung by famous Metropolitan opera stars and conducted by Sir Thomas Beecham will open the Newark Stadium Series by the symphony society at the city stadium, Newark. Desire Defrere of the Metropolitan will stage the production which is the first opera to be presented by the symphony society at the stadium. The chorus of the original Metropolitan performance will also be used. The cast will include: Bruno Landi as the Count of Almaviva; Salvatore Baccaloni as Dr. Bartolo; Josephine Antoine as Rosina; Robert Weede as Figaro, the barber; Nicolo Moscona as Don Basilio; Wilfred Engelman as Florello; Edwina Eustis as Berta.

Salvatore Baccaloni, 300-pound basso buffo, is famous for his comic opera roles and is at his best in "The Barber of Seville."

Edwina Eustis, the American mezzo-soprano, was so versatile as a student that she was forced to choose between a fellowship for voice and one for piano. She could not continue to study both, for piano-playing involves a tension of muscles which in singing must be relaxed. Edwina chose to become a singer because her father had long fostered this ambition.

Robert Weede, who plays Figaro, the barber, is also an American. He grew up on a farm near Baltimore and ushered at a theatre until winning a competition led to an engagement with a Baltimore opera company. The Caruso Foundation Memorial Award of $2,000 was given Weede in 1929, and this enabled him to study in Italy. For six years after his return to this country Weede was leading baritone for the Radio City music hall presentations and broadcasts. He made his Metropolitan debut in 1937.

Let's Be Real Americans About It

Gasoline registration is disturbing many people. They are grumbling about it and complaining that it will be impossible for them to get along on the amount which they have been allowed under the rationing regulations.

We have been placed on a war basis along the Eastern seaboard because the government says that it is impossible to supply this region with the amount of fuel that it needs for everyday life and activities. All of us must do our part by accepting the fact and making the best of it.

If by using less gasoline we will help this nation to win the war, then we should all be willing to do our part. Naturally, everybody will feel the pinch of it, but that is no reason for some of us to attempt to dodge the regulations so that we will be able to secure more gasoline than we legally deserve. This is a display of Americanism of the poorest kind. If by not driving or less of it, we will beat the Japs and the Nazis, then every one of us should be glad to do his part.

Replacing Young With The Old

State selective service headquarters in straightforward language told the manufacturers in New Jersey that they must immediately make an effort to replace their young, draft eligible employees with older men and women.

There has been much talk in recent months about doing this, but there has been little or nothing done about it. Many firms have haggled and argued with draft boards bent on calling workers into the service. But now, these companies have been warned. They know that they must make an effort to replace all employees who they possibly can. We won't win this war by talk or merely thinking about it. It takes men and the government says that 10,000,000 of them will be needed. Production in our factories is important, but every attempt must be made to secure older men to do the work so that the younger ones can be trained to fight.

Long-Lasting Blooms

Belleville has never been so beautiful" is a remark we've heard over and over again during the past couple of weeks. And it's true.

With its super-abundance of trees forming archways over many streets, the town has a cool, restful look even when the thermometer is sizzling around the boiling point. But the flowering trees and shrubs which so quickly lose their brilliance for a wealth of green, have this year, kept their pastel tints much longer than usual. The forsythia is just beginning to pale, but the dogwood remains at its peak. Popular opinion seems to be that lack of the usual rainfall accounts for it. The delicate wisteria blooms, usually rain battered by this time, can still be seen in perfection.

Lack of rain has had far-reaching effects—this is about the only advantage we can enjoy.

Keeping Things Going For Summer

They say that you never know how important something is to you until you do not have it any longer. For years the automobile has been the most important thing in many American families. Everything the family has done from the weekly shopping to the summer trip has revolved around the car.

Now, along comes the government and informs us that there will be gasoline rationing. The order carries with it the impending threat that most of us will be required to get along on six gallons or less a week. That does not last very long when you think of going places in an automobile, unless you are fortunate enough to own one of those bantam-sized creations which travels miles on a cupful of gasoline.

One day during the past week we put six gallons in the car and before we knew it, the tank was empty again. We really did not go any place and it made us realize what life would really be like when we got down to weekly rationing of six gallons or less.

It means that there will be lots of readjustments in the lives of families along the Eastern seaboard. As if to make sure that we will stay in our own backyards until the war is over, the government also hints that there will be a rationing of travel, meaning that if you do not have a good reason for going some place you won't get a ticket.

We cannot expect to sit home and twiddle our thumbs until it is all over. We must have something to do in our spare hours. Ordinarily, Belleville, like most suburban communities, in this section, folds up its general run of activities about this time of the year and goes to sleep for the summer months. It appears to us as though most of us will be around here this summer. Trips for a week or even for weekends will be out. The shore resorts, because of regulations now in force and possibly impending, may not have their usual attractiveness. In other words, instead of closing up shop on all of the regular activities that keep us busy during the fall, winter and spring, it might be a wise thing to keep right on rolling through the summer months.

Belleville can be an awfully quiet place during the summer, and it will be bore-some if all we have to do is look at the next door neighbor's backyard or cut the lawn.

Revamping The Male

Styles are changing in both men's and women's clothes because the government believes that corners must be cut here and there on material to add to the amount which must be turned over for the manufacture of garments for men in uniform. In addition, it is hoped that many workers can be released from the clothing industry for defense work.

The menfolk going to buy suits today find that they are getting pants without cuffs. While it looks quite peculiar the first time, it is not so bad after one gets used to it—and after all it is the patriotic thing.

But the government is still bent on saving more material, and word is getting around from some of the men shoppers that vests are fast disappearing as accepted parts to suits. Men being the staid creatures of habit that they are, have, during the past, gone long years without a drastic change in style. It may be that patriotic conservation of materials for the war effort will be the wedge for more functional, eye-filling costumes after the duration.

"Over The Hump"

Donald M. Nelson has informed the country we are "over the hump" in our war production.

That is a pleasant fact to hear amid so many sorry statements, but it is one of Mr. Nelson's attributes that he usually does have something pleasant to tell us.

Getting over the hump in production means simply that we are on our way, and a dispassionate appraisal of the news would justify our people in thinking that we have not only passed that particular milestone in production, but that, despite Burma, it is being duplicated in the military news also.

Over the hump in the war doesn't mean we have won it, but it should elevate our spirits as we see how our production, added to that of our allies, is beginning to have its telling effects upon our enemies. One doesn't have to see spectacular accomplishments to sense that the war is slowly turning against the Axis, notwithstanding the taking of Lashio which has enabled the Japanese to baste the entrance to the Burma Road to China. There are other factors that would seem to indicate the awful grip Germany has had on her conquered peoples is relaxing as the spirit of revolt moves them to more daring deeds.

The situation in the Balkans is one indication, and nobody would be surprised if, before long, this broke into a more aggravated movement and would be harrying the Germans even more. The Balkans have often been the cause of starting European conflicts. What a great thing if now these small nations lying in Europe and close to the Axis should be the cause of ending history's greatest war! We know the Serbians have gone so far as actually to organize themselves into a guerrilla army and have proved a thorn in the side of the Germans, dynamiting bridges and otherwise interrupting troop movements toward Salonika. Also in Rumania there has arisen a great sentiment against the whole war, and though Rumania is ostensibly an Axis partner the terrific losses of Rumanian soldiers on the Russian front have set the people strongly against their unwholesome alliance. Two hundred thousand Rumanians are said to have suffered casualties and the anger at this huge loss very likely has been greatly augmented by the fact that so few Hungarians have been sent up to do their share of the fighting. Gradually the people in these countries are beginning to understand that German interest in them rests principally on how they may be used to help Germany and any new order for them simply means risking their necks in a cause which no longer stirs their hearts.

At the other end of the continent of Europe, in France, and to a lesser degree perhaps though just as important, in Belgium, Holland, and Norway, the people show greater courage and show it more frequently against their invaders.

The placing of Laval back in power in France has been greatly resented and his elevation has been the spark to fire the people to greater revolt, shooting of hostages not seeming to abate the internal fires in their desire for revenge.

Over the hump in production, says Mr. Nelson and over the hump on our way to victory says the news. That should cheer us.

Don't Waste Time And Labor

One point being emphasized from time to time by the Department of Agriculture is that home gardeners should not waste seed, materials, or labor. Perhaps the worst waste among gardeners in the past has resulted from neglect and abandonment of gardens planted in a flush of enthusiasm but without adequate means or will to carry each crop through to harvest.

This is the time for gardeners to show a good-neighbor policy. Whatever is needed today is needed with desperate urgency. There is too little time for any of it to be wasted. Many gardeners, according to experts of the Ferry-Morse seed company, waste seed by sowing too thickly and too deeply. The smaller the seeds the shallower they should be sown. Every crop planted should be properly sown at the right time, tended to harvest, then harvested at the proper stage of development, and utilized without waste. Unless the product is actually consumed by those who need it, there is no point in spending seeds, fertilizer, and energy growing it.

Too many gardeners, in attempts to get larger growth and yield, delay harvest beyond the stage of best quality. No vegetable should be allowed to become tough, coarse, overgrown, and unpalatable before being harvested. Quantity is important, but so is quality. Large size in a product is, of itself, of little value.

Most people cook vegetables too long; this destroys much of the vitamin content. Too much water is also used to cook vegetables. This, too, destroys vitamin content.

National health as well as personal well-being demands that we learn more about what vegetables we need and then make special efforts to use those vegetables effectively.

War In Terms Of Men

In the American army today are two million men, another million in the navy, a half million in the air force. That adds up to a large total compared to a peacetime force of 150,000. But the men still to be transferred into combat services seem bound to add up to a staggering number. Freely is it predicted that ere long the fighting forces and their support units will have 10 to 12 million men. Such a great force cannot help but have a tremendous effect on the normal life of the nation.

Obviously we must plan a vast military machine even though it may not actually see service. It may be a long war. It may be necessary to invade axis countries. We cannot count on the early collapse of Germany and Japan. It would be folly to expect it. The plan must be to do the job hard, long way. What will be the effect of so great a demand for manpower?

First—it can be stated categorically that every man under forty without dependents and without a vital war job, will be inducted, inducted soon. Men, physically unfit to fight, will be taken for non-combat service.

Second—Congress probably will pass a measure providing government support for men's dependents. It will bring much debate, principally concerning how much money shall be provided. But a law will be passed resulting in millions of men in the 3-A group being taken into service.

Third—The registration of older men will show the reservoir of manpower which can be called upon for non-combat use—on the farms, in the shops—releasing younger men for the fighting forces.

What will be left for civilian production, civilian life?

Clear as a bell is the answer—the barest minimum of what is needed. Let the war last long enough and there will be a drain here like in the axis countries. We will learn then that there is to be no business as usual. This war is "for keeps". For victory is needed all the wealth of the nation, both human and material.

—Irvington Herald.

Silver Bullets

"Save and serve for victory!"—that is the battle cry in plants and factories all over the country today. Industry is not only concentrating on turning out the weapons of war but is also waging an all-out effort to promote the sale of war bonds.

Already more than 80 percent of the 8,000 firms representing the membership of the National Association of Manufacturers have payroll savings plans in operation. The majority of officers and employees have invested heavily and are now being asked to invest as much more than 10 percent of their incomes as they possibly can.

We all have to do our part in winning this war. Hoarding money keeps weapons from our fighting men. Our efforts to arm them must know no waste, no squandering of assets. In this struggle the idle dollar is like a soldier asleep at his post.

A war bond is an investment for the future. Ten percent of a yearly income is a small loan to the maintenance of our glorious traditions and to our effort to see that these traditions and our American way of life shall continue. Our contribution toward such a cause transcends obligation and sacrifice. It is not only our duty to respond to our nation's cry in time of need; it is also our privilege—a privilege to share in the attainment of the victory to which we are pledged.

Winning this war is going to take the mightiest effort America has ever made—in men, in materials, and in money! Every dime is a silver bullet, every dollar the wings of our planes, to be turned against the foe.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

The naming of Thomas Meaney federal judge by President Roosevelt has precipitated one of the hardest fights ever seen in New Jersey. For once the Republican party is hopping mad. More than $1,500 was raised last week to pay for a half-page advertisement in the New York Times. Called the Citizens Committee for Good Government, the group is headed by George D. Hofe of South Orange. Also working are Mayor William E. Speers and Bayard H. Faulkner of Montclair and Spencer Miller Jr. of South Orange.

Representatives of the committee appeared before the Senate Judiciary Committee in Washington Wednesday to oppose confirmation. Actually, there is not much hope held out for blocking Meaney, but party strategists see an unusually good opening for the coming Senatorial battle. Senator Smathers cannot keep on making mistakes and not have the chickens coming home to roost. He voted for pensions for congressmen, he tried unsuccessfully to keep Nocky Johnson out of jail and now he has lined up 100 percent with Frank Hague to get the support of the Hudson machine. With the solid vote of the Hudson machine plus the labor support his allegiance with President Roosevelt is expected to bring him, Smathers figures he cannot lose.

Depends On War

But there are likely to be many slips between cup and lip before November rolls around. Military strategists are almost united in their predictions that the World War will be decided before the votes are cast in the congressional elections. They don't expect the war to be over, but they do expect to know how much more fighting will be necessary to bring victory. Upon how successful this decisive summer will have been may depend the war votes are cast in November.

If there are overwhelming victories the Democrats will profit, if the summer is considered unsatisfactory, many anti-administration votes may be cast. The Republican candidate who opposes Smathers—in all probability Dr. Clee—will just have to face this chance. But Smathers has laid himself open to a fine attack and those who know Dr. Clee know he will take advantage of every opening that is presented.

Not much interest is being raised by the city manager referendum in Newark, and this very fact has thoughtful citizens worried. The Russo-German cam-

"I am an American." You're free to say it whether your forebears came over on the Mayflower, or you got your citizenship papers last week. "I am an American." You're free to say it whatever Church you attend. "I am an American." Say that and anything else that comes under your guarantee of free speech and a free press. But now of all times, let us balance our freedoms with a full measure of recognition of the great responsibility also implied by the words—"I am an American."

Today it means that from the moment you wake to the moment each day is done—all your effort, capacity and will is directed to doing as much as you can to help bring about final Victory for the United Nations. Have a Look at It

It can't bake waffles if the cord is broken or the plug worn out. Have it repaired NOW. Look over your toaster and your coffee maker too and any other appliances you have. Maybe they would do better work if some minor repairs were made. Certainly they would give you longer service. War production has stopped the manufacture of most electric appliances. Be patriotic and make your old ones last.
