

Expect State To Soon Iron Out Wrinkles In Defense Setup

Many of the conflicting orders and instructions and the overlapping of duties which have confused defense volunteers and the public alike will be clarified shortly. It was learned that the state council in conjunction with local councils and district offices throughout the state is working on the preparation of new instructions, rules and regulations which it is believed will clarify many situations and iron out the wrinkles which have crept into many defense units.

As in many other municipalities bent on building a well-trained civilian defense organization, Belleville has found that by following state orders and instructions there have been conflicts and groups have worked at cross purposes. As will happen in the best of families—even the biggest of them—desires to do everything possible to help have re-acted and jealousies have cropped up within separate units or with other units.

The appointment of a paid coordinator, which was done last week at the request of defense council leaders, is hoped will help to iron out many of the problems. Even the most hard working of the volunteer inspectors has found that it is impossible to keep pace with the many duties and problems that evolve in the operation of an organization of more than 1,500, especially when it is important that the organization be kept on its toes at all times and ready to move into operation at a moment's notice.

Confers With Officials Although Harry Sullivan, the newly named coordinator, is not scheduled to be at his town hall desk until Saturday morning, he has already started on the job that is ahead of him. Sullivan this week conferred with civilian defense officials outside of Belleville including William McEnroe, former Newark police court judge, who several months ago was named defense coordinator for this region by Leonard Dreyfuss, state civilian defense director.

With the view of ironing out some of the local problems, Sullivan has sought McEnroe's aid and assistance. He learned this week that the state will shortly release its latest bulletins on various problems to local defense councils throughout the state. Councils at the present time are operating under rules and regulations which were issued in booklet form shortly before the bombing of Pearl Harbor and the declaration of war last December.

In addition to a general booklet explaining the setup of the defense council itself booklets containing rules and regulations for organization and operation were also issued for the various divisions of the council. The rapidly expanding activities and demands upon the council have already forced councils in most communities to enlarge their membership beyond that intended in the original plan as outlined by the state.

In the case of individual units such as the police and fire re-molition, rescue and repair units, decontamination and other emergency service groups, it has been found that regulations and instructions given to each conflict and in some cases overlap.

This has been proven in tests, notably in the two recent blackouts. While there has been no open clash over the problems and it is unlikely that it would happen, defense leaders realize that it is important to establish a smooth-running organization that each division should know its own job and it should not conflict with the work of any group. One of Sullivan's first tasks will be to iron out many of these wrinkles. In cases where he may be individually unable to settle a problem, he will turn to the defense council for assistance.

NEWARK WOMAN DRAFT CLERK

She Succeeds Edward Reed In Local Office; Began Work Monday

A Newark woman, Miss Sadie Slusser, was this week named clerk of the local draft board. She succeeds Edward Reed, who resigned his post to accept a position in a Newark industrial plant. Miss Slusser formerly was employed at Local Board No. 33 in Newark. Her name was taken from the list of Civil Service eligibles certified to the members of the Belleville board. She began work on Monday morning. Her assistant will be Miss Mae O'Brien of William street, who has been employed in the local office for some time. Reed was named secretary of the board in October, 1940, shortly before the first draft registration when boards were organized,

BLACKOUT TEST WENT OFF WELL

Few Violations; Will Get Detailed Reports On Monday Night

Although no detailed reports will be received of its success until Monday night when the defense council convenes, local officials were for the most part pleased with the town's participation in last Monday night's "surprise" test blackout.

As was the case in most places, there were a few minor violations, but for the most part Belleville was hidden in inky blackness in less than two minutes after the first wail of the air raid sirens.

The first notice of the impending test came to Belleville over the teletype machine at police headquarters between 30 and 45 minutes before the sirens sounded at approximately 10:10.

Although neither the general public nor the vast number of more than 1,500 defense volunteers were notified, the chairmen of the various divisions were summoned to police headquarters and to their other posts scattered about town.

Within a few minutes after the blackout officially started, reports started to come into police headquarters from air raid wardens and others reporting violations here and there. Some complained because factories, particularly those in the valley section, did not turn out their lights. It was explained to them that plants engaged in war production work have been ordered not to shut down.

A few reports also came in of motorists refusing to dim their lights or pull over to the side of the road. In cases where autoists persisted in not heeding the warning of wardens and police reserves, license numbers were recorded and turned over to the police for further investigation.

Sea Of Blackness

On Washington avenue, the street from one end to the other was a sea of blackness, within a minute after the sirens sounded. Buses pulled over to the side of the road as did motorists and extinguished their lights. The only trucks seen driving were those of the public works department reporting to their emergency stations. With lights dimmed and shielded so they were scarcely visible, they presented an eerie sight moving through the misty rain up the avenue.

One violation was noted in a house on Washington avenue between William street and Belleville avenue. When the air raid warden knocked at the door, he found no one home so he went inside and extinguished the lights. One of the few lights on in buildings on the Avenue was the vault light at the First National bank which clearly shone out into the night. It was also reported as a violation in the first practice blackout.

Defense chiefs sat in police headquarters, which was darkened with blind shades, waiting for the "all-clear" signal to be flashed over the teletype machine. Guesses were made as to whether the test would last 30 or 45 minutes or an hour. At 10:40 p.m., the teletype began banging out a message. Eager eyes watched as each letter was knocked out on the sheet of paper until the word "white" meaning "all clear" in the signal parlance of the defense council was flashed.

Draftees To Leave Early Tomorrow Morning

There will be no send-off ceremony for the draft contingent which will leave tomorrow morning. One of the largest to be called yet, and the first which is drawing men in the 20-44 age group, the men will leave from the high school at 6:30 a. m. They will be taken by bus to the Newark armory where they will be given final physical examinations preparatory to induction in the service. Those who fail to pass will be sent home, while the remainder will be shipped immediately to Fort Dix for induction on the same day. A number of those included in the group are married men.

Harry Fredericks, Jr., First Local Serviceman To Die

Montgomery Place Youth Lost On Ship Torpedoed By U-Boat; Was in Charge Of Gun Crew; Has Two Brothers Also In The Service

Twenty-six year old Harry Fredericks, Jr., a coxwain in the navy's armed guard service, this week became the town's first service fatality of World War 2. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fredericks of 33 Montgomery place were notified of his death by the navy department last Thursday.

It was reported that Fredericks, who was in charge of a gun crew aboard a United States merchantman, went down with the ship when it was sunk in the Gulf of Mexico by a Nazi submarine on May 19.

Another Jerseyman, also a member of the gun crew, who was also lost, was Joannes Pelech, 30, of Carteret.

Reports indicated that Fredericks was among the 20 members of the ship's crew who were lost after the ship had been sunk. Reports stated that as the ship sank bow first, the stern smokestack struck the captain's lifeboat and pushed it under. Only one of the 20 in the lifeboat survived.

Another member of the gun crew, Woodrow Wilson Harrison, 17-year-old Augusta, Ga., youth, gave his life for one last shot at the U-boat after orders had been given to abandon ship. His shot was said to have been the first fired against a submarine from any of the 10 vessels which had been reported sunk in the Gulf of Mexico since the U-boat campaign started there early in May.

Brothers In Army

Two of Fredericks' brothers are also in the service. They are Sgt. William Fredericks of the army air corps and Sgt. Clifford Fredericks of the engineering corps. The youth's father is a naval veteran of the first world war.

Harry first joined the navy four years ago and was discharged from service in December, 1940. After war was declared he re-enlisted, having been employed for some months at the Federal Shipyard in Kearny. He was assigned to the armed service and had not been home since he reported for duty.

Born in Belleville, the young man attended local schools and the Bloomfield Vocational school. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Louis Long and Miss Barbara Fredericks, and another brother, Forrest, all of this town.

NO NEW DIMOUT INSTRUCTIONS

Sullivan Says State Has Not Received Army Orders Yet

No instructions have been received locally on new dimout regulations for the metropolitan area issued by the war department which were given publicity in the press and over the radio earlier in the week. This was the report of Harry Sullivan, defense council coordinator, yesterday after he had checked with the regional office of the state defense council.

No official notice of the proposed clamping down on the use of exterior lights has been sent to the state as yet, Sullivan said. "All they know," he continued, "is what has been said in the papers and I can not see how we can advise merchants to make any changes until we have had something official."

Maj. Gen. Thomas A. Terry, commander of the Second Corps area, stated on Tuesday that amusement places, merchants, business houses and private residences would all have to adhere more strictly to the new regulations.

Tells Wattage In his remarks, Terry prescribed the exact wattage that should be permitted. He set one-quarter watt per square foot as the maximum for exterior lights in all open areas and one-half watt per square foot for display windows or open lobbies.

FIRST AID PRIZE WON BY SCOUTS

Troop 333 Boys Lead 19 Troops In Demonstration

Ability to handle both war and peacetime casualty emergencies, and to lend doctors and nurses a hand when they develop, was proven last week by the first aid crew of Boy Scout Troop 333. The troop is sponsored by the local Wallace and Tiernan company. In a contest for all troops in the Robert Treat council, which includes Newark, Irvington and Belleville, the crew won first place over 22 competitors. No other Belleville troop was entered. Second place went to Troop 46 of Newark and third to Troop 26 of that city. Newark Troop 42, member of the National Emergency Service corps, was a contestant.

The first of its kind ever held in the council, the contest was staged in St. Benedict's high school, Newark. Each crew was given three casualty "problems," applied treatment to a "victim" and was judged by 35 Red Cross instructors and Newark board of health officials 15 minutes later. That the boys went at it in earnest was demonstrated by a later comment of Scout Allan Lundy, 16, "victim" for the local troop.

"Which," said he, "that was something! They put loins all over me and even made me take aromatic sprays of ammonia." A typical problem: "Victim" has just been removed from a gas-filled house. He is unconscious and both wrists are bleeding slowly. Treat him and prepare him for transportation to hospital."

Members of the crew are Herbert Bock, 15, 135 Sylvan place, the captain; Gus Avazier, 16, 74 Little street; Raymond Gresham, 14, 320 Stephens street, and Robert Mazza, 14, Washington avenue. They were trained by Scoutmaster Paul Habace. Prizes for the victory were a first aid kit in canvas bag for the crew, and individual belt kits for each member.

The scoutmaster, troop committeemen and other officials of No. 333 are officials or employees of Wallace and Tiernan. The troop was the first in New Jersey to be sponsored by an industrial concern, it is claimed.

Belleville Gets Praise From Tin Converters

Salvage Committee In Turn Thanks Boy And Girl For Their Work; Troop 3 Prepares 1,000 Cans

Belleville's first tin can collection has an outstanding success. It brought forth the praise of the Vulcan Detinning company of Sewaren, who detinned the cans, from standpoint of large quantity of cans collected and because of the fine condition in which they were prepared. J. Butfield, assistant to the president of the Vulcan Detinning company, wrote the Belleville Salvage committee on May 29 as follows: "We are pleased to advise you that a load of 9,900 pounds of used cans were today delivered to us. These cans were in most excellent condition—100 percent prepared—and as fine, if not finer, than any delivered so far.

"We congratulate you, your committee and all of Belleville. Incidentally, your cans are at the moment being processed for recovery of the vital tin and steel scrap urgently now needed."

WAR PRODUCTION RALLY TUESDAY AT KIDDE PLANT

Gov. Edison Heads List Of Distinguished Visitors; Expect 5,000

Governor Charles Edison will head a list of dignitaries who will attend the war production rally to be staged on Tuesday afternoon at Walter Kidde and company plant in Main street. Others invited in addition to state and municipal officials are a number of army and navy dignitaries who will make addresses.

Also among the speakers will be Walter Kidde, founder and president of the company, and M. V. Lundergan, chairman of the labor-management committee of the company, which is arranging the affair.

The rally will take place at the parking area in front of the company's main or No. 3 plant. Among the interesting features listed for the program will be demonstrations of the company's products as actually used by the armed forces of the U. S. Men in service, some of them former employees of the company, who have flown planes or manned warships equipped with Kidde devices, will explain how they work and how they have saved the lives of soldiers and sailors.

To Start At 3:30 P. M.

The rally is scheduled to start at 3:30 p. m. rain or shine. Two or three bands will be on hand at 2:30 p. m. to entertain the thousands who are expected. The demonstration will be open to all employees of Walter Kidde and company, their families and friends. A crowd of more than 5,000 is expected.

Governor Edison and other visitors will make a tour of the main plant preceding the ceremonies. The entire program will be broadcast over the plant loudspeaker system to the night shift employees who cannot attend because of war production work.

TO EXPLAIN FAIR RENT RULINGS

OPA Official Will Speak June 11; Realtors, Others Invited

Announcement was made yesterday by Paul deHagara, chairman of the fair rents committee of the defense council that a mass meeting will be held Thursday evening, June 11 in town hall when a member of the legal department of the office of price administration will address all real estate groups, renting agents or individual property owners who care to attend. The purpose of the address is to point out to landlords and tenants the status of renting agreements under the federal control which will be established on July 1.

The chief item, the freezing of rents at the March 1 figure, has tentatively been in effect under jurisdiction of the individual fair rent committees of various municipalities. After July 1 it will be enforced by the federal agency. The mass meeting will be held on the recommendation of Edwin C. Clark, executive secretary of the fair rents committee of the New Jersey defense council who advises everyone connected with the renting of houses and apartments to be present to become informed of the exact requirements.

Evict From Rents

Governor Edison, in a recent statement, commended the volunteer committees which have served in the interest of fair rents and which will cease to function on July 1. The governor further cautioned landlords that the eviction of present tenants in order to get higher rents is "morally indefensible and economically unwise." The local committee has maintained this stand right along and warned landlords against the practice. Tenants who have had to pay increases above the March 1 rental will be allowed to deduct them from future rents according to the new ruling.

Coogan Moves Realty Office To Bigger Quarters

John F. Coogan, real estate broker, has moved his office from 136 Washington avenue to larger premises at 140 Washington avenue. The new office was opened yesterday. The realtor said that he would be able to offer more complete service in the new quarters and that it would provide adequate room for his rapidly expanding office force. Now associated with him are Mrs. Theresa K. Sheehan and Elmer J. Bennington as selling and rental agents and Miss Mary Devaney, office manager.

The Coogan office, in addition to realty sales, rentals and appraisals, handles mortgage loans and a complete insurance service.

State OPA Speeding Plan To Consolidate Two Ration Boards

The plan of the state OPA to consolidate the Belleville and Nutley rationing boards in line with the re-organization plan throughout the state, which was revealed by The Times last week, is meeting with sterner opposition from local sources.

Members of the ration board at their meeting Tuesday night openly stated that they believed the move was an insult to the patriotic effort and sacrifice which they have been making since the boards were formed four months ago and that no better service could be given to the people of Belleville by a board which would be combined with Nutley.

In the neighboring town, where opposition has also been fomented to the proposed merger, Mayor Charles A. Sherwood voiced the general opinion of ration officials and others. If economy is one of the primary considerations, he does not believe it will work pointing out that Nutley has given the board free rent, the free services of two people in his department and has received practically all necessary equipment from the town.

The first and only official statement that has been made on the proposed state-wide consolidation of offices was made yesterday by James Kerney, Jr., state director, at his offices in Trenton. The reorganization, he said is necessitated by the fact that the state rationing and OPA organizations and the local rationing boards must now assume the functions of price control, enforcement, and other OPA activities in addition to rationing tires, automobiles, sugar, typewriters, gasoline and other commodities which are expected to be added to the rationed list.

Kerney stated that in order to meet the increasing demands of the rationing and price control programs it would be necessary to have centralized rationing board offices which are open for business on an all-day basis to serve the public.

Praises Volunteers

"The reorganization," he said, "will not affect the volunteer basis upon which the rationing program was established. The success and efficiency with which the rationing program has been carried on in New Jersey have been impossible of attainment without the splendid and unselfish work of the thousands of volunteers on the local rationing boards. They have done, and are doing a difficult and demanding job with patience, wisdom and high patriotism. The fine spirit shown by these volunteer workers will continue to be the foundation of the people's rationing program in New Jersey."

While definite details of the reorganization have not yet been perfected, Kerney stated, the broad plan requires the consolidation of rationing boards in each county to form efficient units in continuous operation. The volunteer members of these boards will be augmented by trained, paid personnel, "as it would be obviously unfair to make further demands upon volunteers who are already contributing so generously of their time and energies."

Must Cut Expenses

Because of the expense involved in placing paid assistants in each of the local boards, Kerney pointed out, it would be impossible to have as many boards in operation as there are at present. In the process of consolidation, he said, every care will be taken to locate the local rationing boards as conveniently as possible for the greatest number of people. The more efficient service the boards will be able to render on an all-day, all-week basis will more offset the initial inconvenience that some people and communities may suffer.

Kerney said he hoped to be able to give a complete and detailed report on the reorganization plans within two weeks. As in Nutley, Kerney's statement drew the ire of local officials who have already communicated their opposition to the plan to both state and county headquarters. It was pointed out that not only has the town provided funds to pay the salary of one clerk and also for telephone service, but that the board of education has provided office space and much of the time of Rud E. Daniels, its business manager, who is also rationing board secretary and Miss Mary Bolter, who is Daniels' secretary. The expense and time of a man to transport the many forms connected with the rationing of gasoline, sugar and tires from the Newark headquarters to Belleville has also been borne by the school board.

Officials were in general agreement that the proposed merger is a reflection or a lack of appreciation of the work which has been accomplished since the war was organized.

Giving ration board further cause for their opposition was the fact that the board had been organized.

RESERVES WILL GET UNIFORMS

Expect Funds Will Come From Manufacturing Firms

While names of contributors were not revealed, it was understood yesterday that funds would be provided to purchase uniforms for the members of the police reserve corps. It was understood that several of the local manufacturing firms would advance the funds.

A committee, representing the police reserves, approached Defense Council Chairman Everett L. Smith two weeks ago and asked if the council would furnish the clothes.

Smith took the matter up with council members at a meeting a week ago but the general feeling seemed to be that the dollars which the group has to spend could be better spent, and that uniforms were furnished to the police reserves by the council, it could open the door for all other civilian defense groups to make similar demands.

The reserves' contention is that police units in neighboring communities have been provided with uniforms, and that to have men so dressed would lend greater authority to them when they are on duty. Nutley, Verona and Montclair are among those which have uniformed corps. Members of the Nutley group paid for their own outfits, which consist of tan-colored shirts and pants and visored hats. It is understood that it would cost about $1,600 to uniform the group.

Hold Resident For Drunken Driving In Clifton

A Parkway avenue resident, Henry J. Mische, 41, was arrested for drunken driving Saturday night by Clifton police after his car collided with another at Kingsland road and Washington avenue, Delaware, just over the Nutley town line.

Mische was taken into custody by Clifton police after his car collided with one driven by George D. Scudder, 42, of 590 Washington avenue. Mische was pronounced under the influence of liquor and unfit to drive by Dr. Egildo Calligaro of Clifton.

Police were told by Scudder that Mische swerved wide in turning from Washington avenue into Kingsland road, wrecking his car. A passenger in Scudder's car, Miss Lorna Sherman, 25, of 63 North Broad street, Newark, suffered possible fracture of several ribs and leg injuries. Two other passengers in the car escaped injury.

SEEK VOLUNTEER NURSES' AIDES

Must Be Relieved From Duties During Emergency; 20 Needed

At a recent meeting of the nursing committee of the defense council a plan was adopted for the organization of a volunteer unit to relieve Belleville's professional nurses of home duties during emergencies so that their services will be at the disposal of the medical units of the defense council.

Miss William Herb, Mrs. B. S. Failing, Miss Elizabeth Miller, Miss Ethel Alkersten and Miss Mary Metley met with Mrs. Louis A. Noll who replaced Miss Ella Hasenjaeger, chairman of the committee. Miss Hasenjaeger is out of town. Since the number of available nurses has been rapidly depleted it is the aim of the committee to make it possible for every registered nurse in the town to contribute her services in the event of an emergency.

The present type of warfare demands that the nursing personnel be expanded as much as possible and prepared to alleviate the public health hazards.

About 50 nurses are available locally including the health and school nurses. Of these, 20 or more must be relieved of home duties, mainly the care of young children. Volunteers are needed to assume these duties after the all-clear signal has been sounded. This point is particularly called to the attention of women who have not been able to serve in other defense measures. They will merely be required to go to the home of professional nurses immediately at the conclusion of an air raid or any other emergency and fulfill her duties there while she is needed at some medical center in the town.

Those desirous of serving should call Be. 2-3600, the Isolation hospital, and ask that their names be registered with Miss Metley.

RATION BOARD

thoughts was the report that under the new setup boards would be named by Kerney and not by the mayors in the municipalities as was originally done.

To Drop Many Boards

It is planned to have the new local OPA boards control not only rationing but price control and its enforcement. They will have the title of war and price rationing boards. It is estimated that when consolidation is complete there will be between 140 and 160 boards in the state as compared with the present number of 563.

The state plan contemplates breaking up the various local boards into panels with each panel handling a single or a group of rationed items.

Boards will be made up of three member panels. Panel chairmen will be members of the general rationing board. At the head of the board will be a general chairman who will supervise all work.

In small communities boards will have an executive secretary at $1,800 per year and a clerk-stenographer at $1,260. In larger places, boards will have a secretary who may be paid up to $3,200 and an office staff ranging in size with salaries from $1,260 to $1,400 for stenographers and clerks. It is planned to have each board remain open for business 12 hours daily.

TIN CANS

Credit also goes to the Boy Scouts under Douglas Clark for distributing throughout town leaflets describing proper tin can preparation. Charles Cuzzo co-operated with the Salvage committee by making his trucking and personnel facilities available for the collecting of the tin cans and the hauling of them to Seawaren. Sidney Browne, 45, Van Houten place, heads the tin can division of the local Salvage committee. Residents are urged to remember that tin can collections will be made periodically and they should continue to prepare and save the containers.

Nereids Take First, Second In New York Regatta

The Nereid Boat club oarsmen copped a first and second place in the New York Rowing association's regatta on the Harlem river on Saturday. The locals placed first in the junior four-gig event while Al Walker and Homer Zink finished second to oarsmen from the Fairmount club of Philadelphia in the senior double shell competition.

COLLEGE TRAINED YOUTHS WANTED

Rutgers Professor Tells H. S. Students That Education Is Still Essential

The United States today is looking to the high school senior to continue his education in college to insure for the armed forces a future source of qualified officer candidates, Professor Walter R. Peabody of the economics department of Rutgers university told high school seniors Monday afternoon.

Speaking at a special seminar in the town of "The High School Senior and the War," he quoted from a joint release of the war and navy departments to the effect that "the army and navy recognize that it is imperative to the success of the war effort that here continue to flow not merely into industry but also into the armed forces numbers of men having the requisite educational background for rapid assimilation into certain increasingly important and increasingly technical fields of industrial and military service."

May Enroll In Reserve

He explained that a unit of the army enlisted reserve corps has been established at Rutgers university into which all qualified high school graduates in New Jersey may enroll. Enlistment in the corps guarantees at least two years of college work without regard to selective service requirements, and opens the way for advanced training leading to commissions, not only in the army, but in the navy and the marines as well.

They may select the signal corps, a unit which has recently been established at Rutgers, or apply for training in the marines or in the naval reserve, including naval aviation.

Students desiring to enlist in the army air force enlisted reserve may do so provided they have the proper qualifications, he added.

The speaker discussed the question of industrial employment, where unusual opportunities exist at the present time, but suggested that, while the high school graduate might earn considerable money during the duration of the war, he would find himself handicapped at the war's end due to the lack of any special skill and an adequate technical training.

He announced that a pamphlet entitled, "How Rutgers Can Help You Serve Your Country," is available to all persons interested and may be secured by addressing the registrar, Rutgers university.

BONDING ISSUES UP FOR VOTE

Board To Decide Tuesday On Tax Machine, Wall For Storage Yard

Two ordinances providing for the issuance of bonds will be considered for adoption by the board of commissioners at its meeting in town hall on Tuesday night.

The public works department proposes to construct a permanent wall around the municipal storage yard in William and Cortlandt streets and acquire some additional land for storage purposes. It is estimated that the total improvement will cost $3,500. With a down payment of $200 for the improvement in this year's budget, bonds for $3,300 will be issued for the expense.

Another measure would provide for the issuance of bonds amounting to $2,000 for the purchase of a Burroughs tax accounting machine for the revenue and finance department. It is estimated that the total cost of the machine will be $2,125.

The commissioners will also consider for adoption an ordinance to increase the number of lieutenants in the paid fire department from three to four. It was sponsored by Commissioner Clark at the last meeting of the "old" board of commissioners before it officially went out of office on Tuesday, May 19.

Gilchrist Slated

Clark two weeks ago named Fireman Harry White a lieutenant and he is now stationed at the Silver Lake fire station. It is understood that if the ordinance is adopted, the most likely appointee for the post will be Fireman William "Becky" Gilchrist, who has been active for many months in training volunteer defense groups in the handling of incendiary bombs and other fire prevention methods.

The board is also scheduled to take off of the books an old ordinance adopted in May, 1938, in which four members of the board voted themselves salary increases, but later decided not to accept the money. The measure proposed that Mayor Williams' pay should be raised from $2,250 to $2,700 and that of each of the commissioners from $1,800 to $2,250. Commissioner Noll was the only board member who opposed it.

Application has also been made to the board by Santa Nappa of 52 Belmont avenue for the transfer of the liquor license for premises at 14 Belmont avenue to him. Nappa proposes to buy the license which is now held by an estate of which Enrico Core of 341 Watessing avenue, Bloomfield, and James Margo of 129 Chestnut street, East Orange, are the executors for the late Florence Core.

Gets Transfer

Paul J. DuMont of 20 Hornblower avenue, safety engineer for the Grace Steamship lines, has been transferred from New York to New Orleans. Mr. DuMont, the son of Xavier F. DuMont, is a lieutenant in the naval reserve.

Rams Beat Cards

The Rams, junior baseball champs of two years standing, defeated the Cardinals Thursday 6-2 after previously piling up a 16-2 victory over the Carragher brothers youngsters.

The Rams were undefeated last year and have four out of seven games to their credit this season. David Martin is captain of the team whose members range up to 15 years. David Reynolds, Robert Dow, Francis Vertre, Jack Baldwin, Leroy Gelok, Curtis Gilmore, Robert Techer, Victor Cook, George Moyes, Charles Dries and Domenick Zaccaro are the other players. The boys will play at Jamesburg late this month.

Dehydrated vegetables have only about one-fifth the weight of fresh vegetables and for that reason can be shipped more easily under war conditions.

Washington Snapshots

By James Preston

America has won the first round in the battle of production. That's what Washington officials are saying. The statement of General Brehon B. Somervell, chief of the army's services of supply, that "American industrial concerns are winning the war on the production front" is typical of comment here.

This does not mean, however, that danger is past. Officials are quick to point out that even though manufacturers have more than done their part to date, they must be prepared to make even greater contributions to victory. The war is by no means won.

That industrial leaders recognize this is shown by the fact that they have by no means relaxed their efforts to turn out more and still more of the materials needed to lick the Axis. Current production figures indicate that they are ahead of schedule on their output of many weapons and are continuing to break their past records in this respect.

WPB Chief Nelson's statement that one tank or airplane this summer is worth a dozen in 1944 indicates the stress that is being put on current production. Nelson has said that from now on this nation's industrial plant will make nothing but war goods. There is to be an absolute maximum of production in combat weapons.

This means that during the war no new plants will be built — building them takes critical raw materials and labor away from armament manufacturers. In place of new plants, existing facilities will be used to the utmost, and civilian manufacturing will be further curtailed to enable the consumer industries to turn more completely to war work.

In connection with the current discussions about wage control and inflation, it has been pointed out here that wages in manufacturing industries have increased more than the cost of living has risen during the past year. Figures issued by the bureau of labor statistics show that from March, 1941, to mid-March, 1942, average hourly earnings increased 16.1 per cent in all manufacturing industries. Average hourly earnings of workers rose to 80.1 cents.

During the same period, however, the cost of living increased 12.89 per cent.

In the opinion of officials who are familiar with all angles of the situation, such figures indicate the need for keeping wages from getting out of hand and contributing to an inflationary trend that would raise the cost of winning the war and play havoc with the national economy.

The senate patents committee is continuing its work on a new patent bill providing for sweeping changes in the present patent system. The new bill is intended as a substitute for two other measures on which the committee has been holding public hearings for two months.

Present indications are that this bill will not have the approval of the U. S. patent office. Commissioner P. C. Goetz has not been given an opportunity to testify before the committee, but in previous testimony before the senate appropriations committee he made it clear that he was not in accord with attempts to give a drastic overhauling to the patent system or to destroy the incentive for invention that has given America world leadership in producing new products to raise the general standard of living.

The commissioner said he feared that the attitude of the department of justice and the courts had given many inventors the impression that there was less security and value to be obtained from a patent than formerly was the case.

Make This Your Answer!

Join the Pay-Roll Savings Plan—Make Every Pay Day "Bond Day"

Winning this war is going to take the mightiest effort America has ever made—in men, in materials, and in money. An important part of the billions needed to produce planes and guns and tanks must come from the sale of Defense Bonds. Only by regular, week-by-week purchase of these bonds by all America can this be done. This is the American way to win—the volunteer way. Are you helping?

ter piano series in 1938 and again in 1940, but this is their first appearance at the stadium concerts of the Essex County Symphony society. Dimitri Mitropoulos, Greek director of the Minneapolis symphony orchestra, will conduct. The popularity of these pianists, now in their sixth American season, has increased steadily since their unheralded arrival in 1937.

Both pianists were born in Russia—Vitya Vronsky in Kiev and Victor Babin in Moscow. They met as fellow-students in Berlin where both were studying with Artur Schnabel. With their marriage they renounced separate careers to create an art of their own.

Victor Babin is a composer as well as a pianist. He has published a pianoforte concerto, works for one and two pianos and a number of songs. Vronsky and Babin will play the Mozart Concerto in E flat for two pianos and orchestra and in addition Mr. Mitropoulos and the orchestra will be heard in the Mahler 1st Symphony and the overture to the Magic Flute by Mozart.

Joseph Di Leo In Training At Air Corps School

First Lieut. Joseph David Di Leo, son of Mrs. Paul Di Leo of 197 William street, is one of the hundreds of executives of specialized businesses and industries now being trained at the new air corps officer training school, Miami Beach, Fla., to direct administrative and supply operations of the rapidly expanding army air corps ground forces. Di Leo has been an attorney for 13 years.

In a six weeks course of military instruction and physical conditioning, Lieutenant Di Leo and other specialists commissioned directly from civilian life will be prepared to take over executive duties in air corps maintenance that parallel the responsible positions they held in commerce and industry.

The air corps officer training school was established specifically for the purpose of enlisting the services, as commissioned officer, of civilian specialists. Its training program will provide army flyers with expertly directed ground support and relieve air corps pilot officers of non-flying duties that have kept them grounded.

NO NOTIFICATION ON BUS PROTEST

Park Commission Protests Use of Mill Street By No. 37 Line

No official notification has been received here as yet on the Essex County Park commission's protest against the continued use of Mill street through the Branch Brook park extension by the No. 37 bus line. Commissioner Noll, who has charge of local transportation, said that he did not contemplate taking any action until he was officially notified of the park board's opposition by the public utilities board.

It is understood that through its counsel, J. Henry Harrison, the commission has protested the line's operation to the utilities board. The bus line operates from West Belleville to Silver Lake via Washington avenue. It turns from Washington avenue into Mill street, and enters the parkway after it has crossed Union avenue. It leaves the park at Franklin avenue opposite the Andrew Jergens plant.

The park commission has a regulation which prohibits the use of parkways under its control by commercial vehicles.

Commissioner Noll expressed the thought yesterday that the town still retained the rights which it held on Mill street before it abandoned the old route. He said that the route now used by the Public Service would be the only direct one which would be of value to the greatest number of residents in the Silver Lake section.

15.7% RESIDENTS FOREIGN BORN

Statistics Based On 1940 Census; More Women Than Men

Of Belleville's total population, 15.7 per cent are foreign born whites, according to figures released in a folder this week by the Metropolitan Insurance company and received locally by Manager William F. Bunting. Based on the 1940 U. S. census figures, there are 4,428 alien born whites. The record lists 857 Negroes and seven of other races.

The greatest number of the foreign born are Italians. The complete breakdown of the figures is as follows:

Italy, 1,844; Germany, 462; Scotland, 412; England, 404; Ireland, 330; Poland, 153; Russia, 137; Canada, 127; Austria, 95; Hungary, 59; Sweden, 59; Netherlands, 47; France, 40; Czechoslovakia, 33; Norway, 29; Lithuania, 25; Denmark, 24; Switzerland, 23; Finland, 16; Central and South America, 15.

The booklet also shows that there was a population increase of 4.4 per cent between 1930 and 1940. There were 28,974 residents listed in 1930 and 28,167 the last time that noses were counted. Local estimates are that this figure has topped the 30,000 mark in the past year because of the influx of workers employed in defense industries in town and nearby communities.

At the last counting, the women held the upper hand. There were 14,210 females and 13,957 males. The statistics show that there were 976 males under five years of age as compared with 908 females under five years; 2,370 males under 14 and above five as compared with 2,293 females; 2,533 males, 15-24 and 2,677 females; 2,365 males 25-34 and 2,581 females; 2,199 males 35-44 and 2,186 females; 1,773 males 45-54 and 1,654 females; 1,058 males 55-64 and 1,067 females. There were 683 males and 844 females over 65 years of age in the town.

Stratton Pupils To Give Piano Recital June 14

Amy G. Stratton will present her pupils in their annual piano recital at her studio, 335 Union avenue, on Sunday, June 14, at 3:30. Compositions by Beethoven, Bach, Mozart, Schumann, Dacquin, Krogman, LaVallee and MacLachlan will be played by the young students.

Those who will be heard in duets, two-piano ensembles and

A prize will be awarded to the student who put forth the most effort during the

Picnic Without Cars Held By Petreans

No one can accuse the Petrean club members of not getting into the spirit of the times—cutting down on the use of automobiles. A number of them held a picnic at Crystal lake on Sunday. They did not use cars, but got there by bus and the use of their feet from the foot of Eagle Rock. The club's softball team will hold its first practice on Sunday afternoon.

"The Navy Takes Care of Its Own"

It has been the boast of the men in the Navy since the Navy Relief Society was founded in 1820 that "The Navy Takes Care of Its Own."

In order that the job might be done adequately, the officers and men formed the Navy Relief Society to meet emergency needs of Navy men and their families. They also provided that the Society be administered by Navy personnel and their wives—people who would understand the problems of Navy men's families.

The present war has brought more casualties to the Navy than has been incurred in the entire history of the Nation. So, today the general public is being asked for the first time in Navy Relief Society's history to contribute $5,000,000 to the Society through the National Citizens Committee.

"Women and children first" has always been a rule of the men of the sea. Thus it is natural that the Navy Relief Society should make the children of Navy men, Marines and Coast Guardsmen one of their first concerns.

Ronald R. and his sister Georgia L. with their mother (upper left) were living happily with their father at one of the navy bases when the war broke. The father was ordered to another base thousands of miles away. There was not sufficient money in the home to transport the family. So Mrs. S. appealed to Navy Relief. She relates the story this way: "It would have been the first time that we had been separated since the children came. I explained the situation to the Chaplain and asked for a loan. In 15 minutes I had the money and we left with daddy for his new post. When we arrived another representative of the Society met us and helped us to settle in. Only then did we discuss arrangements for repaying the loan—and there was no interest charge either. Sure the children can smile—they are happy here."

Veronica Ann (lower left) is the daughter of a CPO in the U. S. Navy, who with her mother, was caught at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7 along with hundreds of others. Of course the families were evacuated immediately, but they were not prepared for the winter weather which greeted them at a Pacific coast port. Nor did they know where they were going or how they would get there.

Navy Relief took care of that. The necessary clothing was provided, money was made available where needed, and arrangements made to send the families to suitable living quarters. And Veronica Ann found herself 9,000 miles from Pearl Harbor when she was settled.

Norine and Michael (upper right) are two happy youngsters. They like to look at a picture of the Navy unit to which their father is attached. They won't tell you the name, for as Norine says, "We got to be careful of spies." To which Michael adds, "Daddy's out on the ocean now looking for them. We haven't heard from him in a long time. He's busy."

Each time their mother was awaiting the doctor's visit, her husband was in a distant port and she was deprived of his comfort and presence. But Navy Relief stepped in and arranged hospitalization and obstetrical care.

But Caroline E. (lower right) is really a navy baby, for her mother was seized with a serious illness while awaiting Caroline's birth. "The doctors said the baby would have to be born prematurely if I wanted to live and if I wanted the baby to have a chance to live," she relates. "That was done. She was awfully delicate, but Navy doctors and Navy Relief saved us both."

Make This Cake Without Sugar

Learn to Use Sugar Substitutes in Desserts for the Duration of the War

HERE is a beautiful cake that looks like a pre-war cake, tastes like one, yet it is made entirely without sugar. The glistening icing on the cake is made with corn syrup and is sweet and delicious.

Clip the recipe for your file and use it for a birthday cake, a party cake, or a treat for the week-end

Sugarless Cake

2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
2 1/2 tsp. double-acting baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup butter or other shortening

2 tsp. grated orange rind
1 cup light corn syrup
2 eggs, unbeaten
1/2 tsp. milk
1/2 tsp. vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening with orange rind; add syrup gradually, beating well after each addition. Add 1/4 of the flour and beat until smooth and well blended. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add remaining flour in thirds, alternately with milk in halves, beating very well after each addition. For best results, beat cake very well at each stage of mixing. Add vanilla. Bake in two greased 8 inch layer pans in moderate oven, 375 degrees, 30 minutes, or until done. Cover with Sugarless Icing.

Sugarless Icing

1/4 tsp. salt
1 egg white
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1/4 tsp. almond flavoring

Add salt to egg white and beat until stiff but not dry. Gradually add corn syrup, beating constantly. Add flavorings and continue to beat until icing holds a peak well. Spread on cake. Note: Use 1/4 cup light corn syrup and 1/4 cup honey, if you so desire.

Butter Cakes and Cookies

Honey—Replace half the sugar with honey. Reduce the liquid 1/4 cup for each cup of honey used. Example: In recipe calling for 1 cup sugar use 1/2 cup sugar and 1/2 cup honey.

Corn Syrup—Replace half the sugar with corn syrup and reduce the liquid 1/4 cup for each cup of syrup used. Cakes made with syrup are heavier than sugar cakes and usually stay moist longer.

Pie Fillings

All sugar may be replaced with corn syrup or honey. Reduce liquid or increase flour to thicken as desired. (Honey gives a definite honey flavor to fillings.)

Desserts

Sugar may be omitted entirely in shortcakes and cobbles if berries

Keep electric appliances in good repair. Take worn or broken parts to your dealer. He will sell you a replacement part.

to be used with them are sweetened. In custards, rice puddings, etc., light corn syrup may be substituted for sugar.

SWIM CAMPAIGN POOLS CHANGED

Silver Lake Community Tank To Accommodate Many Youngsters

Belleville children, who outnumbered all others last year in the annual learn-to-swim campaign, will be given instruction at two points this year, the Silver Lake community pool and the Montclair Y. M. C. A. pool.

This was made necessary because of the inability of the general committee to provide for private transportation to and from other swimming centers because of the gasoline and fire situations. As many Belleville children as took part last year can be accommodated at the two centers, however.

The campaign will be held over a five-day period this year, beginning on June 22 and June 27. Children will be notified through the school system which pools are their individual instruction centers. Colored children will all be taught at the Washington street branch Y. M. C. A. pool in Montclair.

Entry blanks for the campaign are now being distributed throughout the schools. Children who wish to take part in the drive are to have the blanks filled in by their parents and then return them to the schools.

All children between the ages of 10 and 17 who are unable to swim are eligible to compete. There is no charge for the instruction and competent swimming teachers are to be provided at each instruction center. The swim campaign is conducted annually by the Montclair Y. M. C. A. and several cooperating agencies.

Purpose of the drive is to help reduce the annual toll of death by drowning and to prepare children for fuller enjoyment of the vacation period by teaching them how to swim and providing for them the physical benefits and recreational values of a knowledge of swimming technique.

CARSONS TAKE LOOP LEAD

Newark Wiremen Also Gain Top Spot; Federals On The Slide

The Federal Leather softballers were ousted from their first place spot in the American circuit of the industrial softball leagues this week with the twice victorious Carson-Newton team moving into the leadership.

The Eastwood-Nealey boys pulled the Federals down to their second place level by soundly thumping the leathermen 11-4. Van Demark, Picoline, Zoppa and Simeone each poked out two hits to lead the winners, while Cove on the mound limited the Federals to six hits.

Carson-Newton gained the top spot by tripping the cellar dwelling Walter Kidde club 11-3, and then smothered the Viking Tool boys 15-1. DeOrio with four hits and Brienza with three led the Carons in their second win, while Pitcher Leonard held the Vikings to four hits.

Wallace and Tiernan continued to battle it out for the cellar spot with Walter Kidde, succumbing to the Vikings 10-6. Place led the winners with three hits.

Wiremen Gain Tie

In the national league, the Newark Wire boys moved into a first place tie with Walter Kidde. While the wiremen were pasting Resistoflex 10-5, the Kidde club was suffering its first defeat, being surprised 11-5 by Lloyd Engineering. The Sonneborn boys shook off defeat and pulled themselves up out of the cellar and into the .500 class with two wins. They turned back the Bart Lab team 14-5 and topped the Resistoflex in a 12-10 free-hitting slugfest. By losing two this week, the Resistoflex boys sewed up the bottom spot in the league to date with four losses and no victories.

STEWART REPLIES TO HOMER ZINK

Chides State Official For Defense Of Mayor; Offers To Debate

From George E. Stewart Jr. 125 Smallwood avenue.

To the Editor of The Times:

The following is in answer to the statement made by Homer Zink, which appeared in your paper last week:

Once again, after a profound silence during the campaign, our mayor-financier, through Zink, steps out into the public stage, through a "letter" to the Times. Evidently, Homer thinks Candidate Stewart has gone to sleep. He is mistaken. Candidate Stewart is still Taxpayer Stewart, and he will never rest for one minute until the full truth, in figures, is riveted into the consciousness of every other taxpayer in Belleville.

But Homer now tells us that he is "one of those very trustees" of the sinking fund commission of the State of New Jersey which sold the $250,000 of Belleville bonds just prior to the campaign! Odd, isn't it? He liked them so well he sold them! A pity this "careful, zealous guardian of public funds" is so careless that he doesn't consult authorities, such as Moody's, Pears, Fitch, Standard Statistics, before he invests public funds or gets out of office. A pity he doesn't notice that the Belleville debt is twice the legal limit!

Better Keep Still

Homer Zink is one man that had better keep still. Taxpayers may yet put him straight on the spot! Neither a defeated nor a successful candidate can change the rating of Belleville bonds. Our credit will be improved only when we sweep from public office the people who rolled up that monumental debt, and pay off half of it. That enormous debt will prove the shroud of the political hacks who would try to hide it. Let me warn Homer Zink that the truth will come out, in full detail, and the less he says, the less he will have to swallow later.

Now, Homer, any time you want to publicly debate with facts and figures the precise state of Belleville's debt, and the actual price of its bonds, you can name the time and place, and we will invite the taxpayers to listen. Intelligent trustees don't "throw overboard" any bonds on rumors, but you did throw overboard on the eve of that election $250,000 of Belleville bonds, if the mayor-financier is to be believed, (and before Candidate Stewart opened fire, too) and then you crept back into the woodwork and waited until 8:45 on election eve, when the mayor-financier quoted you over the radio. Come on, Homer, I'll take you on, any time, any place, before the taxpayers of Belleville, and show you up. Do I hear you say "yes"?

Eight secrets you may not know — and should ... about vegetables

There's nothing elaborate or fanciful about the modern methods of preparing and cooking vegetables. On the contrary, the new way is much simpler — (as you'll discover when you read these Safeway Homemakers' Bureau hints).

1. To start, always buy the freshest, finest vegetables available. The older they are, the less attractive they become, and they lose some of their vitamins, too. Buy and use greens the same day, if possible.

2. When you get your vegetables home, wash them quickly — but don't let them soak in water, or you'll wash away minerals and vitamins. Put greens in a covered container, wrap other vegetables closely in waxed paper; and store in the refrigerator until ready to use.

3. Don't pare, cut or shell fresh vegetables until just time to cook or serve, because vitamins escape once cut surfaces are exposed to air.

4. Cook vegetables quickly, as short a time as possible, using as little water as possible. Use cooking water when it is palatable.

Quick cooking means less vitamin loss, less color change. To speed the cooking, add vegetables to rapidly boiling water; and cook covered.

5. Green vegetables (to keep their color and strong-flavored vegetables (to modify their flavor) should be cooked uncovered, in slightly more water than others.

6. Add a little vinegar, lemon juice, or tart apple to keep the color in red vegetables (like beets and red cabbage) during or after cooking. But don't add these acids to green vegetables until just serving time, or the green will turn dingy brown.

Don't add soda to preserve color in green vegetables. Soda kills vitamins.

7. Serve vegetables as soon as possible. Over-cooking lessens attractiveness, sacrifices vitamins and minerals, and may cause unpleasant color changes.

8. When you cook vegetables in a small amount of water, it's easy to serve the condensed cooking water with the vegetable itself. Save any leftover liquid to flavor soups and gravies — unless, of course, it is unpalatable.

More about cooking vegetables

In this week's issue of Family Circle Magazine is an interesting article on the modern methods of vegetable cookery, and nutrition. Issued every Thursday, free at Safeway.

Consolidation Of Ration Boards

Belleville and Nutley apparently see eye to eye on the question of the consolidation of the rationing boards which is planned by the state office of price administration. While officials in both towns have hesitated to condemn the plan too much, they have indicated that they do not favor it.

Until yesterday, there had been no statement by either a state or county official on the proposed consolidation and what it aimed to achieve. James Kerney Jr., New Jersey OPA director, declared that the merger of boards is planned because of the many additional duties which rationing boards must now assume, but the only one he named which the local board has not as yet taken up is that of price control. To meet the demands of the program, he explained that board offices must be open for businesses on an all-day basis to serve the public.

While it may be true in some places that offices are not now operating on a full-time basis, it is not the case in either Belleville or Nutley. Boards are open during the day and in the evening.

To consolidate the boards would not be more economical in several respects for the governing bodies in both communities have appropriated funds for a full-time office staff and have the volunteer assistance of board members and others who have been willing to devote long hours of their time

Last Warning On Dimout

The army over the weekend issued a detailed statement concerning its observation of the dimout efforts which have been made in the metropolitan area. There was little in it for the cities to feel proud about. While the officials did not say it in so many words, there were intimations that if there should be a continued lack of cooperation, a complete blackout for the war's duration would be ordered.

Those who are presently violating the regulations or attempting to circumvent them through some means would be the first to howl should it be ordered. The majority of business people are endeavoring to cooperate with the orders, but the minority who selfishly persist in violating the rules are making it difficult for the rest of the people.

Violators have hidden behind the fact that there has been no clear-cut definition of what amount of lighting constitutes compliance with the dimout rules. However, this week the army command issued definite in-

"Will Be Over By December"

Last week it was dropped here and there—this week, like a popular song, it was repeated and re-predicted in too many places—"the war will be over by December."

Whether this is another seed which was first planted in the public mouths by some clever Axis propagandist or over-confidence built up by reports in the press of American and allied successes, we do not know. Even the president saw the danger of the growth of such a general feeling last week when he told his press conference that while he firmly believes that the united nations will eventually win out, there's a long, hard fight ahead.

By nature, we are an optimistic people. Sometimes we permit it to run away with us, much to our later regret. The danger of over-confidence is immeasurable. The nation in a few short months has built up to a tremendous task in production, in the arming of men and public cooperation in every walk of life. The worst thing that can happen to us now is to walk about with our heads up in the clouds exuding false optimism that there is nothing to winning this war.

Nations have been battling in this conflict for nearly three years. All of the gains have been on the side of the axis countries. A few naval victories, advances of armies or bombings from the air will not turn the tables in a minute.

The reported American victories in the Coral sea battle with the Japs, the bombing of Japan by air forces led by Brig. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle, the aerial onslaughts on the Reich by the RAF and the Red army's gains on the Kharkov front were all morsels that were sweet to all of us.

Unfair To Honest Dealers

The rumors that motorists can obtain all of the gasoline they want without the formality of a ration card if they go to the "right" gasoline stations are just what should have been expected. Nothing has ever been established in the way of regulations that some part of the public did not find a way to get around—honest or not.

If the reports are true—and there's indication that it is more fact than fiction in most cases—then the dealers and motorists who violate the regulations are not only selfishly hampering a part of the war effort, but are committing an injustice to every motorist and dealer who is honestly endeavoring to meet the requirements and the standards which have been set by the

to assure that the best possible job would be performed. By combining the offices it would mean that quarters would have to be obtained, and we doubt if it could be done without paying rent. Office space for the ration board here is provided at no cost since the board of education has made available a part of its business office in School No. 8. In Nutley, the board has the use of rooms in the town hall.

A combination of the two boards would mean an inconvenience to residents of both towns regardless of where the office would be located. Mr. Kerney has stated the principal reasons why it is proposed to change the setup. Strictly speaking, we do not believe that the arguments used apply to either Nutley or Belleville. He stresses the need for a trained, paid personnel. We figured that they would get around to that somewhere in the rationing setup. Since there are already paid, full-time workers in both towns, that argument is out. The offices are open all day and there is no rental expense.

Each board in itself has a big task in handling the inquiries and needs of residents in both towns. We fail to see how there could be greater efficiency by combining the two boards and making one staff do the work which two staffs working on full time now find a pretty big job.

structions to be followed by all, and it is incumbent upon municipal defense officials to see that those in their area meet the requirements.

The dimout effort is made for only one reason—to save the lives of men and to assure that ships laden with war cargoes will not be sent to the bottom. Ship sinkings off our metropolitan shoreline at night are continuing at a high and costly rate. It is tragic that some people should place personal greed and benefit ahead of the lives of others, and an important phase in the successful accomplishment of the war effort.

Warnings have been repeated. The army has asked for voluntary cooperation. It has not been heeded. Municipalities should bear down on those who persist in violating the rules. Somehow we personally believe that it won't work and that blackouts along the eastern seaboard are inevitable because appealing to the public seems to be something which gets nowhere fast in many instances.

But—one naval battle won't win the war. There have been many of them. One bombing of Japan won't force that nation down on its knees. As spectacular and daring as our airmen's effort may have been, it should be remembered that the RAF and the Luftwaffe have been dropping bombs on each other's territories for a couple of years and both are still a long way from surrendering or total destruction.

All of the gains made on the Russian front have not been marked down in favor of the Reds. They still have not taken Kharkov. We have been led to believe that thousands of our soldiers are now in Ireland. We think that these men have been sent there as an invasion force, but remember that ready to defend against this attempt are axis armies which are counted in millions, not thousands.

With our armies reaching out to every corner of the world, we must keep open constantly long supply lines to get to them food, munitions and other supplies. It is a tremendous job. Although our shipbuilding program has increased in leaps and bounds, and vessels of every type are sliding down the ways daily, we can't forget those that are being sent to the bottom every day by axis torpedoes.

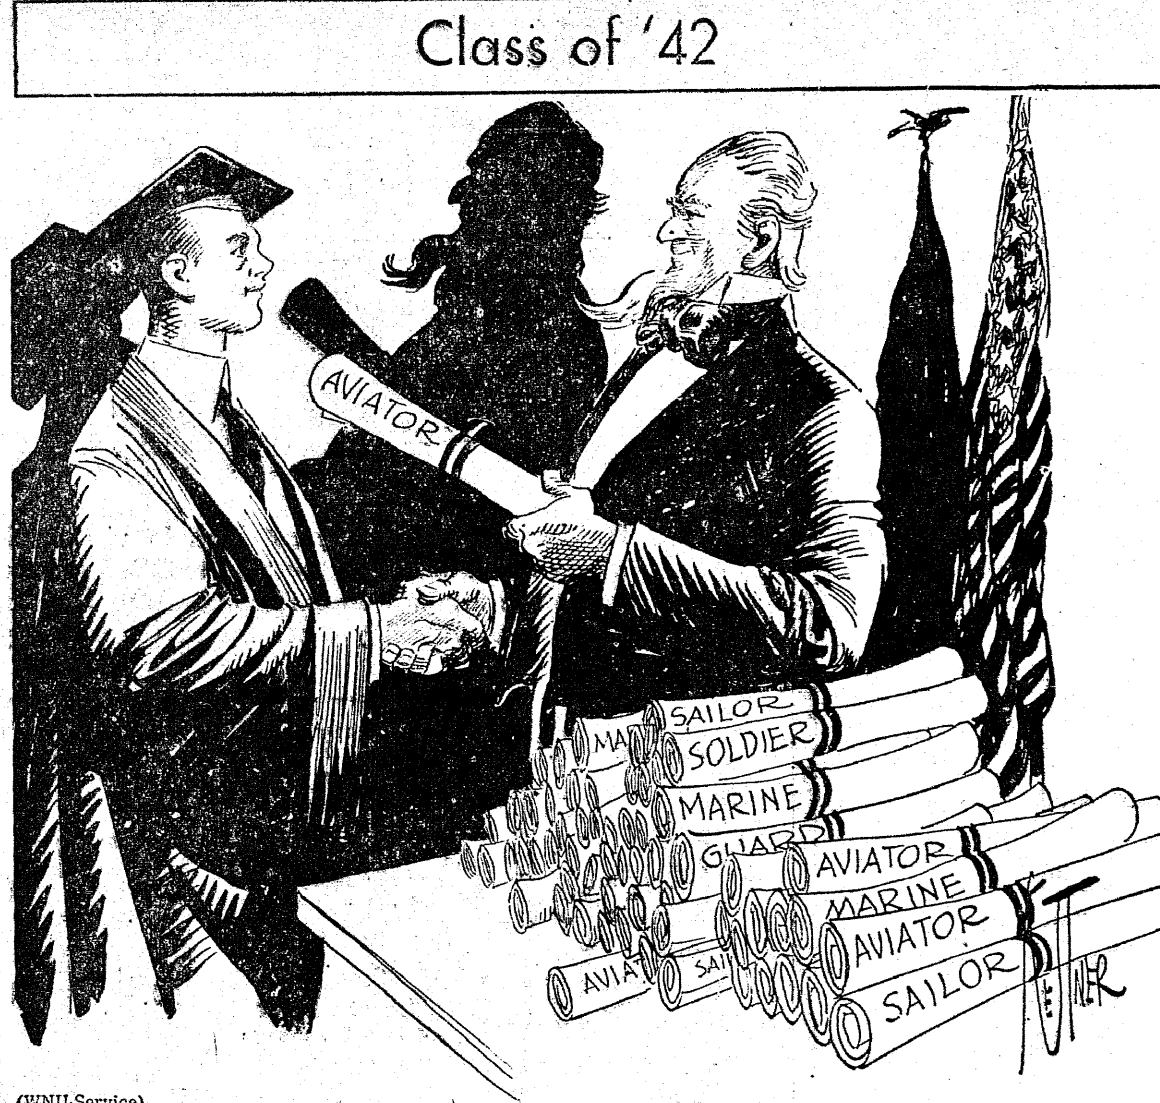

Our navy has taken its toll among Nazi raiders, but Hitler has not stopped building submarines. They have sneaked into the mouth of the St. Lawrence river, that of the Mississippi and daily are dealing out destruction in lives and much needed supplies off our own Jersey coast.

Too pessimistic? No. We believe that victory is inevitable, but over-confidence must be deflated for it is one of the most helpful weapons to an enemy in a battle.

And Motorists

The honest may outnumber the dishonest but it is disappointing and unfair to those who are sincere to know that somewhere along the way are others who are getting away with it.

The government has announced that the big leak in the dike—the fact that there is nothing to compel a dealer to punch a ration card if he does not wish to—will be plugged starting July 1. Motorists will be issued ration books similar to those given for sugar rationing, and gasoline dealers will be compelled to show a number of stamps equivalent to the amount of gas which they have pumped out of their tanks.

Women In Slacks

We heartily endorse the wearing of slacks by the women of Madison.

They provide a sensible and convenient form of attire for the borough's busy women as they hurry about town on bicycles in order to conserve their tires and gasoline, or as they undertake various civilian defense tasks such as airplane spotting or the many duties assumed by the American Red Cross and the American Women's Voluntary Services.

There is a tremendous amount of work on the home front for the women of Madison in this war, and they can't complete it only if they get down to brass tacks and work hard. Few dresses are adapted to the many strenuous tasks now being asked of our women in wartime, and therefore it is not only expedient but is almost essential for the borough's women to don slacks in order to efficiently handle many of the important jobs now being assigned to them.

Moreover, we think that our borough's women, for the most part, present a trim and neat appearance in their slacks. We realize, of course, that a few women unfortunately appear at a distinct disadvantage in these garments. But, we leave that part of the question to the discretion of the women themselves, with their own mirrors serving as the best judges of whether or not they are able to wear slacks.

We have no fear that slacks on our women will jeopardize the all-important position of the male in society. While the men are engaged in the wartime duty of fighting and protecting our way of life, the women must take over all of the tasks back home. If the women can handle these jobs better and more efficiently by wearing slacks, why we say, "more power to them."

The Patent Laws

A time-honored summary of the patent laws by the United States patent office was accepted by the public until recent years. This summary declared that a patent grant gave the inventor the right to exclude all others from making, using or selling his invention for 17 years. The assurance in the summary that a patent grant by the government was a monopoly to be respected was never questioned.

But recent prosecutions brought through the office of Assistant Attorney-General Arnold and decisions of the U. S. supreme court confuse this public understanding.

The layman is disturbed by these contradictory declarations of principle, and the new definitions by Mr. Arnold and the courts, which are destroying confidence in patents. Apparently the new policy of the government is to grant the holder of a patent only a "limited monopoly."

Many years ago the leading automobile manufacturers made voluntary agreements to exchange the use of their patents—and that is why valuable mechanical changes that were successful and popular on a new automobile came into use in a short time on other cars; as for instance, the wheel-gear shift.

In the year 1900, and in the year 1800, the holder of a patent had an undisputed monopoly and the exclusive right to make and use and sell his invention. Under this system there were huge investments of capital and tremendous factories were built. Mass production followed, because protection was guaranteed by the patent laws. Now the government turns prosecutor, which upsets the accepted spirit of the patent laws.

In order to meet the situation congress is trying to find a way to protect inventors and restore manufacturing to its old prestige. The patent law must protect the inventor if progress is to continue to march on.

Taxes For Victory

Heavy taxes are necessary in time of war. But who should pay them, and how much should they pay? These questions will have an important effect on the war. Taxes are a small price to give for freedom, but they must not be so heavy that they interfere with victory.

The National Association of Manufacturers recently received answers to a tax questionnaire from over 3,000 corporations, indicating that corporate income available for taxes, dividends, and repayment of debt will amount to $18 billion in 1942.

The NAM has proposed tax rates that would leave business only enough money to survive and carry on its war job with complete efficiency. According to these tax schedules, the government would receive $12 billion, leaving only $6 billion for paying dividends to 11 million stockholders, meeting debt obligations, expanding plant facilities and providing for a second financial future.

Tax rates proposed by the house ways and means committee would leave even less money to cover these obligations. For that reason, the House schedules, if enacted into law, might seriously hamper war production by not permitting companies to retain enough money from their earnings to carry on their business.

The problem of meeting obligations incurred before the war is a serious one now, and it will probably become more serious in the future. The NAM studies indicate that many companies will not have sufficient earnings left after payment of taxes to stay in business.

Every person—every company—must pay heavy taxes now. But in formulating a new tax law care must be taken that taxes do not hinder the war effort by draining business of funds it must have to continue its vigorous battle of production.

Responsibility

The need for stripping all nonwar spending by government—local, state and, by all means, federal—should be self-evident. To have to argue the point insults the intelligent and ridicules the fortitude of the American people, their legislative bodies and their public servants.

That government—federal, state and local—must reflect curtailments, priorities and sacrifices being made by the people it represents is a premise of such simplicity that Americans have been blinded to the shocking contradiction that actually exists in this nation at war: that government, even at this late date has not enlisted itself, along with its people, in the sacrifice for victory; that it alone, among all elements in American life, continues on a business as usual basis—continues to spend for nonwar purposes at a pre-war level.

Americans have been blinded to the burlesque and ridiculous picture of citizens having to argue the need for an obligation of government to strip every single nonessential in this time of dire emergency instead of having it accepted as the most obvious and vital necessity. They have failed to see that if, by some chance, they do get definite acceptance of this most fundamental of democratic principles, they are too often sidetracked into argument as to whether it can be done—instead of knowing, in their plain American sanity, that of course it can be done. They haven't recognized that when it has been admitted that of course it can be done, they are waylaid by argument and discussion as to where curtailments and savings can or should be made—just as if that were their responsibility and not one of the most primary obligations and responsibilities of executive public office.

The plain fact of this matter, which is vital not only to victory but to the continuation and strengthening of democracy after victory, is that the responsibility for curtailments and sacrifices and savings by government is not the job of the citizen. The plain fact is that government—federal, state and local—must save. The plain fact is that of course it can save just as can every one of its people, every one of its business enterprises. Simple common sense dictates that the 170,000 units of government could, with comparable sacrifice, save several billions a year and do it without destroying any one of its fundamental services or any part of its basic progress toward a better life for all. The plain fact is that the carrying out of such a course is not only the duty but the responsibility and the job of the chief executives of every one of the 170,000 units of government in the country.

The only job and responsibility of the American people in this matter is to demand that government and public officers accept their responsibility. The American people had better wake up and demand an accounting, action and concrete results if they want not only to win victory but also to afford after victory the luxury and glory of democracy—the thing for which they now fight.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

The Republican organization in Essex is using the strategy of deliberate delay in the matter of putting a ticket into the field.

Actually, the ticket has been selected for all practical purposes. Freeholders Gray and Burnett will be endorsed for renomination, as will Supervisor Ernest A. Reed. Likewise, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Harris will be endorsed. The decision on Mrs. Harris is said to be definite, and Mrs. Harris has been so informed.

There was some talk a few weeks back of substituting Mrs. Olive Sanford of Nutley for Mrs. Harris. But this plan never got beyond the blueprint stage, if even that far. It was Arthur T. Vanderbilt, himself, who decided that Mrs. Harris should go back. "There is too much trouble in the world for us to add more by reviving an old fight," he is reported to have said. That settled it. Most of his subordinates agreed. Precedent decreed that some woman should be on the ticket.

Whether it has Mrs. Harris or Mrs. Sanford didn't matter much to the rank and file of party leader. There would be no patronage change in either event. The only factor was public opinion of Republican women. This opinion was so wrapped up in war work that there was little room for politics. A cry of persecution, however, might have started a rumpus. Hence the decision to let sleeping dogs lie.

The Assembly slate will be very similar to that of last year. Oliver Randolph will succeed the late Dr. Hargraves of Orange as the Negro representative. A few shifts may take place as the war drama affects individuals. Basically, however, it will be the same slate.

The congressional slate is far from settled, however. Dr. Lester H. Clee will almost certainly be the candidate for Senator. Likewise Robert W. Kean will get the endorsement in the 12th District. But from that point on the decision is very much in the air. Clean Government so far has not been able to locate a man who can battle Fred A. Hartley of the 10th District on even terms. I hear more and more predictions that Clean Government will adopt a hands-off policy with regard to Hartley. It doesn't want to sponsor Hartley, but at the same time doesn't want to be a party to a losing fight against him. A dummy Clean Government nominating petition is on file for a congressional candidate in the 10th District as well as for the 11th and 12th. But these petitions can be used or not used as strategy dictates.

To Announce Candidacy

Word from Dr. Clee's office is that he will announce his candidacy within a few days. But I would not be surprised if this announcement is deferred until near the first of July. Every week that elapses makes Clee's relative position just that much stronger. He stumped the state in 1937, both for the primary and the general election. In the latter he received over 700,000 votes, a record for a losing candidate in an off year. Many of the contacts he made then are still fresh. He can renew them much more quickly than a rival candidate can make new ones. Hence, time is on Clee's side as regards Albert W. Hawkes or any other candidate without previous experience. The fact that Hawkes permits Clee to play this game lends me to doubt that he is seriously in the race. The next few weeks, however, will tell the story.

A rather perfunctory meeting of the Democratic executive committee left one cloud on Chairman James J. McMahon's horizon. Mrs. Eileen Brady, East Orange vice-chairman, opposed a resolution endorsing McMahon for reelection as county chairman. True she based her opposition on the technical grounds that this committee should not speak for the new committee which will be chosen in the coming primary. But Mrs. Brady usually speaks
