2 Bond Sale Rallies Here During Week; Radio Stars Appear

Two giant war bond rallies will be held here during the next week in hope of putting Belleville high among the municipalities in the state for the purchase of war bonds and stamps. To draw a crowd and drum up business, movie and radio stars will attend both and help to promote the bond sale.

On Saturday afternoon, the Craftsman's club will sponsor a war bond rally at the municipal stadium with the price of admission being a war stamp of 25-cent denomination or greater. The feature will be a softball game between the Craftsman's club and the local post of the American Legion.

Next Thursday afternoon the Manufacturers' association will stage a rally at Clearman field with the war bond wagon and Harry James and his orchestra, one of the nation's top favorites, as the chief attractions. The sale of at least $100,000 worth of bonds will be the goal for this affair.

Recorder Everett B. Smith, who is also defense council chairman, will be the master of ceremonies at Saturday afternoon's event which is scheduled to start at 2:30 p.m. Last night the committee which is headed by Harry Winfield, Craftsman president, was unable to name celebrities who are expected to appear, but arrangements are being completed, it was said.

To Start At 5 P. M.

The war bond wagon, which is making appearances at rallies in this vicinity, is sponsored by Station WPAT in Paterson. The rally which will start at 5 p.m. will be broadcast for one hour over WPAT, with Martin F. Tiersan, president of the Manufacturers' association and Mayor William Sullivan, who is also the head of Wallace & Tiersan company, is also the chairman of the industrial division of Essex county of the war bond and stamp sales committee.

Professional girl models from the Conover and John Powers agency will pass through the crowd offering war bonds for sale, while a representative of the state war bond committee will be on hand to accept pledges from others who do not pay for their bonds at the rally. They will later pick up their bonds at their bank or savings and loan association.

While it could not be definitely announced, the committee also hopes to have Glenn Miller appear at the rally. He will be making a personal appearance in Passaic all of next week. Barry Wood, popular Hit Parade singer, may also be secured.

The program has been arranged in cooperation with the local war savings committee headed by Philip Dettelbach. Handling the details for the manufacturers is John P. Dailey, personnel manager of Wallace & Tiersan company. Both the Rotary and Lions club have promised to support the affair and Harry J. Sullivan, defense coordinator, has agreed to have a number of auxiliary police on hand to assist the regular force.

Arrangements for the appearance of Harry James and his band were made with Frank Dailey of the Meadowbrook where the popular orchestra leader is now appearing. The bond wagon is actually a huge vehicle with a platform on which the performers appear. It contains the radio control room and other mechanism for handling the remote control broadcast of the program.

Transporting Grid Players Athletic Council Problem

Although the high school football team will play only two games away from home this fall, the athletic council is still faced with the problem of transporting players to and from the games.

The ODT has ruled that bus companies can not carry chartered parties, contending that buses must be used on regular routes and for needed services.

Although several plans were discussed, no decision was reached. The council voted to name Harold Dufford of the high school teaching staff as faculty manager, replacing A. K. McBride, who is on a year's leave of absence. William Champan, also of the high school teaching staff, was again hired as assistant football coach.

WAR-COMMUNITY CHEST GOAL TO BE $35 000

USO, Navy Relief Will Get Help From Drive In October

The Belleville Community-War Chest announced yesterday that its goal would be $35,000 in its campaign which will be conducted the last two weeks in October. This is more than double the amount which was sought and received in last year's drive.

The addition of two war agencies to the list of campaign beneficiaries has brought about the increase. Both the USO and the Navy Relief society will share in the receipts of the drive.

Hugh D. Kittle, who will again serve as the drive's campaign manager, said last night that none of the organizations which annually participate in the campaign will receive more money than they did last year.

Organizations which annually participate in the chest are the Community Service Bureau, Boy and Girl Scouts, Visiting Nurses' association and the Silver Lake Community House.

Teachers In Charge

Formation of the big organization which will solicit funds has already been started. As was done last year, the house-to-house canvass will be in charge of the school teachers, assisted by a number of other volunteer workers.

Harold Dufford of the high school faculty, who is also president of the Belleville Teachers' association, has agreed to serve as the chairman of the house-to-house division.

The teachers held their first meeting to plan the campaign on Tuesday afternoon at the high school. Kittle hopes to augment the force of 200 from the school staff with a number of volunteers from organizations. He also said that the aid of parents of men who are serving in some branch of the armed forces would be welcomed.

"There are more than 1,200 young men from Belleville who are in service," Kittle said. "If the parents of all of these youths would get behind this campaign and help us put it across, then we would know that it would be a success."

"Our burden has been increased because of the demand being made by the service agencies. Boys and families we know may benefit from the USO or the Navy Relief society. It is our duty to put this drive over the top even though it is twice what we sought last year."

There will be no other drive for funds in town by the USO or the Navy Relief society, Kittle said. He had been assured. The only known drive scheduled in addition to that of the Community-War Chest is that of the American Red Cross.

The campaign is scheduled to open on Monday, October 17, and continue through Monday, October 31.

Those interested in volunteering to help in the house-to-house canvass may register with Dufford by calling the high school or at his home on Franklin avenue. During the next week it is hoped to complete the selection of chairmen and committees which will cover the business houses, manufacturers and the lodges.

One of the features of the drive will be stressing the need to maintain the agencies at the home front at a high standard even though there is a greater demand being made upon the public for funds by such groups as the USO.

Club Buys War Bond

The S. S. club, of which the Misses Rita Marino, Rose Guarino, Filomena Loreto, Stella Guarnello and Marie and Josephine Corino are members, recently invested part of their club funds in a $50 war bond.

MAYOR MAY ASK CONGRESS RACE VOTE RECOUNT

Clean Government Undecided As Hartley Squeezes Through By 87 Votes

Whether the congressional G. O. P. primary contest between Mayor William H. Williams and Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., is at an end was still up in the air last night. Officially, Hartley was the winner, squeezing through by an 87-vote margin, but Williams and his backers have yet to concede anything and there were still good prospects that a recount would be started.

The question of a retabulation apparently centered about the expense of it for the cost exceeds $25 per district. W. Stanley Naughtright, Essex Clean Government leader, indicated yesterday that a re-check was unlikely, but late in the afternoon it was reliably stated that a recount would be started with the Newark districts, where voting machines were used, the first to be checked. However, last night it appeared that no definite decision had been made, but the possibility that there would be a recheck of votes has not been entirely ruled out.

At midnight Tuesday, before the final result was known, the ballot boxes in Kearny, where paper ballots are still used, were impounded on the order of Superintendent of Elections Sewell on the request of Williams.

Kearny police guarded the boxes at the town hall while both Williams and Hartley workers kept a close watch to see that nothing went wrong.

DEFENSE ZONE 1 TESTS TONIGHT

Council Pleased With High Percentage Attendance Of ARP Personnel

The fourth of the zone incident tests will be held tonight when the civilian defense volunteers in Zone 1 will work out under the watchful eyes of judges drawn from ARP chiefs in other sections of town.

Zone 1, covering the area in the southeast section of town, is east of Union avenue and south of Joralemon street to the Newark line. A number of incidents have been arranged. Defense Coordinator Harry J. Sullivan said, will be called between 7:30 and 9 p.m.

Serving as observers of the work of the volunteers will be zone wardens from other sections and members of the ARP committee. They not only judge the incidents but also assist in placing them.

Defense council officials are particularly pleased with the turnout of air raid wardens during the tests which have been held to date. In all areas, the attendance has been slightly below the 100 per cent mark, and in check-marks on the absentees it has been learned that they were kept from their posts either because of illness or work.

Only 6 Posts Uncovered

In Zone 4, where last Thursday's test was held, 115 posts were covered out of 121. There were 160 wardens on duty.

Coordinator Sullivan said he was exceptionally pleased with the cooperation that had been demonstrated between the ambulance corps and the first aid workers working out of the casualty station at School No. 10.

In tonight's test, the casualty center will be at School No. 1 with first aid stations in operation at St. Peter's school hall, the town garage, high school and the exempt firemen's hall.

GOLD STAR MOTHER GIVES TO DRIVE

Mrs. H. C. Fredericks Urges Others To Do Bit To Help Win War

Mrs. Harry C. Fredericks of Montgomery place has a good reason to hope that the salvage drive goes over the top so that scrap materials can be fed to war plants producing weapons and bullets to beat the axis.

She is the town's first gold star mother of this war. Her son, Harry C. Fredericks Jr., was lost at sea last May when the ship on which he was doing duty was torpedoed in the Caribbean by a Nazi U-boat. Young Fredericks was in the navy and was assigned to duty with a gun crew on a merchant vessel carrying supplies to the United Nations.

"I am glad to do my bit to add to the scrap pile," Mrs. Fredericks said, "for the more we give the more materials we will have to make tanks, guns, ships and ammunition to help our boys on the fighting front. They're depending on us and I hope there won't be a single family in Belleville that does not look for and find some scrap to help win this terrible war as soon as we can."

Town Goes All-Out Giving Scrap To Blast Axis; Big Push Starts Saturday

VFW CANNON GOES INTO SCRAP PILE

Salvage Group Reports Folks Sacrificing Hobbies, Other Treasures To Drive

Another cannon joined the parade of weapons to the town's salvage pile to be turned into new guns which will fight another war. George Younginger Post V. F. W., notified the salvage committee this week that they are contributing the cannon which has stood in front of their Belleville avenue headquarters for a number of years.

This is typical of the sacrifice of long treasured mementos and articles by residents. Charles Nutt, salvage group member, said yesterday. One man has turned in a large quantity of brass and aluminum castings and special metal pieces which he has been saving for years as part of his hobby of model railroad building. Another turned up with an old barber's chair which has been lying in his cellar. Many are turning in old kitchen stoves and ranges which have been stored away in cellars and garages for a number of years. Lawn mowers, old bicycles, old beds, springs and many children's worn toys have also been added to the pile.

Special emphasis on the drive is being made by Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Farmer to the school children. Several hundred pounds of scrap metal has been found in the school system and has been contributed.

The biggest part of the work of collecting the heavy articles which residents dig up is being done by James Waters of the public works department and the men and trucks in his road bureau. Daily this force is being called upon to pick up scrap which they then leave at one of the 22 salvage depots.

Here's Where To Dump That Scrap You Have

Pixies Busy Doping Out Fire Dept. Appointments

According to Ordinance Dept. Can Have 24 Men; Have That Many Now; They're Gabbing in the Hall About What Will Be Done About It

The town hall pixies were at work yesterday. Of course, they're at work every day, but nobody ever seems to see anything that they've done—good or bad—but somehow it always seems to get done.

But, yesterday was a particularly big day what with the congressional race—and the pixies busy carrying the inside "dope" that the boys around the first floor were handing out to anybody who wanted to listen. But, the pixies were digging into another matter—one that looked like good stuff and which gave promise of giving them quite a few days' work.

This week Public Safety Director Clark named three new firemen—Daniel Spillane Jr., James Murray and Daniel C. Kelly. They are scheduled to report for work on October 1. It is understood that Clark plans further appointments.

At the last counting of noses, the fire department had 24 men. This includes Fireman Joseph Oldham who recently was inducted into the army. With the new man, it would make a total of 27.

What The Law Says

It seems, though, (and here's where the pixies come in) that there is an ordinance on the town books governing the fire department which states to wit:

Section 10—The fire department shall be maintained in the Town of Belleville which department may consist of a total membership of not more than one man for each twelve hundred citizens and major fraction thereof in the municipality.

Commissioner Clark could not be reached at his home last night for a comment on this section of the ordinance.

But, the pixies were busy. They had out their pencils and were figuring out "1,200 guzzinta this and that." According to the last official census figures, Belleville is entitled to have 23 firemen based on the clause in the ordinance which states that there shall be one fireman for every 1,200 citizens.

If this be so, and here come the pixies again, then they say the three firemen can't be appointed without having the ordinance amended.

Here's the $64 question—(all

Red Cross Set To Start New First Aid Classes

The first aid division of the American Red Cross is ready to resume class for those wanting to take the course, Mrs. Louis A. Noll, chairman, announced yesterday.

Those wishing to enroll in classes should call Re. 2-2601 during the day or Mrs. Noll at her home, Re. 2-2277.

Mountains of scrap for the nation's war plants to be turned into guns, bombs and other war weapons to smash the Japs and Nazis were rising all over Belleville this week in vacant lots set aside as salvage depots by the committee in charge.

The tons of every kind of metal and iron-made articles were only a prelude to that which is expected to come during the coming week when the town goes all-out to put the campaign over the top.

With all civilian defense groups, organizations and hundreds of individuals joining hands, the one-week drive to rout every available bit of scrap from homes, factories, back yards and vacant lots officially starts Saturday.

At spots in every corner of town are 22 lots which have been designated as salvage depots. Residents should take all of the scrap metal, rubber and rags which they can carry to one of these spots. If objects are too heavy, they should be left at the curb for collection by the town truck on the day the truck will be on their street during the drive. Should a householder find that he has something to contribute which is too heavy for him to move, a call to town hall or to a member of the salvage committee will bring the men to see that it is moved.

The Washington avenue depots were being rapidly piled high with every imaginable bit of scrap metal, rubber and rags. Residents should take all of the scrap metal, rubber and rags which they can carry to one of these spots. If objects are too heavy, they should be left at the curb for collection by the town truck on the day the truck will be on their street during the drive. Should a householder find that he has something to contribute which is too heavy for him to move, a call to town hall or to a member of the salvage committee will bring the men to see that it is moved.

Wardens To Help

Air raid wardens, under the direction of Ronald Brunner and James Lampman, will distribute cards to every home telling residents what day of the week the salvage collection truck will call in their section so they can put their contributions on the curb. It is suggested that the scrap be placed at the curb the night before. Police Chief George Spatz has arranged for members of the police reserves to patrol the streets on the watch for junk pickers.

Both the Boy and Girl Scouts will have a part in drumming up enthusiasm. W. Douglas Clark and Frank Parachini have arranged for several boys to be stationed at each salvage collection center to answer questions. The girls, under the leadership of Mrs. May Holden, will parade the streets with banners and signs which they have made, boosting the campaign.

Giving the effort a bit of a martial flair, members of the high school band have offered to play and toot the scrap out of homes and yards by playing at each of the salvage spots. Six or seven will gather at each place.

Frank Chambers, Red Cross head, has appealed to his organization to lend its support. Heads of all churches in town have announced the drive and have promised to make another plea at Sunday services.

Pointing to the all-out cooperation which has been given by every group in town, Robert G. Sutherland, salvage group chairman, commented last night:

"The response and enthusiasm has been wonderful. The members of the defense council were most sympathetic and made possible the first steps necessary to organize such a drive. The public works department has loaned trucks and personnel, which is a continuation of good work they have been doing for the salvage committee since the early part of the year. On two occasions the police extended to us their facilities, using the patrol wagon to transport large signs to salvage lots. The police will also patrol the streets and lots during the drive and have offered the use of the sound car. The good work of the air raid wardens, Boy and Girl Scouts, police reserves and other groups, including the school system, is certainly encouraging. It is the type of spirit that motivates Belleville is going to do a big housecleaning job and make its quota of 50 tons."

both Hudson and Essex counties tabulated, Hartley polled 14,108 votes to 14,021 for Williams.

Kearny Against Hartley. The mayor whittled Hartley down in his own home town, Kearny. The congressman came out of Essex county with a lead of 688 votes. He picked up 116 more in Harrison but lost by a 15 to 10 count in East Newark. Williams topped the representative in Kearny by 730 votes. With all returns in by the soldiers' vote from Hudson county, Hartley had a lead of 47 votes and his supporters were on an anxious seat.

However, the army, navy and marines came through for him, giving the congressman a majority of 40 votes.

In the circles of both candidates, the same story was heard yesterday that was echoed throughout the state—workers could not get out the votes. Clean Government, usually a good vote puller in suburban Essex, was unable to produce for Williams the majority which it expected. Hartley forces countered with the statement that they met the same trouble, claiming that they would have whipped Williams by a much bigger margin had they been able to get out their votes.

Williams could easily point his finger at his own town and say that his defeat was due to the failure of the local organization to produce. The mayor led Hartley by only 388 votes, and this margin could be credited to nominally Democratic districts which turned out a number of one-day Republican votes.

In sections where the Democratic organization, guided by Commissioner Waters, usually holds sway, Williams in some districts topped Hartley by a two-to-one margin and better.

Home Ward Flips. However, in the third ward, Mayor Williams' home sector and the area generally credited as a Clean Government stronghold, the mayor did not pile up a commanding lead over Hartley, dropping some districts by only one and two votes.

The big push for the mayor here started shortly after 4 p.m. While some employees of the revenue and finance department were seen in and out of districts during the day, it was not until late afternoon that certain of the town hall forces turned out to

EASTWOODS TAKE FACTORY CROWN

Wiremen Win 'Rubber' Game From Walter Kidde Team 8-4

The Eastwood-Nealley softball team won the Industrial League championship this week by trimming the Walter Kidde club in two contests out of a three-game series.

The wiremen, who had won the first tilt 5-4 and then lost the second 7-2, unleashed a hitting attack Thursday night at Terry field to win easily 8-4.

Perry, on the hill for the winners, limited the Kidde team to six well scattered hits. Led by Don Natale with three hits and his brother, Joe, and Hickey and Simeone with two each, the Eastwoods had a total of 11 hits.

see what they could do to help bring out the votes in their home districts. Mingled among those from the hall were some of the school system employees.

Hartley made his real bid for the Belleville vote in the fourth ward, which includes the Silver Lake districts. He trailed the mayor there by only 30 votes.

This is not the first recount in which Hartley has been involved. In 1928, he started the one in the general election which resulted in his being put into congress for his first term. Paper ballots were used throughout the district at that time. In 1936, when he was opposed by Lindsay Rudd of Bloomfield, the Democratic nominee, Hartley squeaked through by a narrow margin and Rudd demanded a recount. After a partial retabulation was made in Kearny, Rudd gave up when Hartley picked up votes instead of losing them.

Hawkes Surprises

While the Hartley-Williams contest held sway, one of the surprises was the strength which the opposition to Gill Robb Wilson would top Albert W. Hawkes senatorial candidate, was able to muster. It was anticipated that with Williams on the ticket, Wilson would top Albert W. Hawkes by a good majority, but those supporting the Montclair resident were able to whittle the Wilson lead through the town down to 190 votes. Wilson polled 1,045 and Hawkes 855.

There were only 3,772 votes cast out of a total of 12,305 registered voters. Of this number, there were 3,233 Republican votes. In the contest here between the mayor and Hartley here is how they ran:

In a statement last night claiming victory, Hartley credited it to the soldier vote and the "plain people of the district who know me."

"That our soldiers, sailors and marines decided I was good enough for them to be a source of deep satisfaction to me. Their preference for me over my opponent exactly matches the margin by which I was renominated."

"They and the 'plain people,'" he said, "formed a combination which party bosses and outside elements could not overcome."

Stating that he hoped past differences would be forgotten, Hartley urged unity between now and the November election.

"I carry no ill-will over from the hot primary fight and I offer my wholehearted, energetic support toward complete Republican victory in November. In this I welcome harmonious cooperation from all."

No statement was forthcoming from the Williams camp which is naturally saying nothing one way or the other until it sees how the recount decision will turn out.

Gardella of Parkside drive. The latter two are juniors and Miss DeNoia is starting her senior year.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Belleville high school, is president of Chi chapter, Delta Epsilon sorority. She is employed by E. I. Dupont de Nemours and company of Arlington. Her fiancé, a graduate of Kearny high school, enlisted in the naval reserve last January and is stationed at Newport, R. I.

The girls made their initial appearance last Thursday, Friday they were among the entertainers at the Stage Door canteen in that city.

Miss Fogarty attended Belleville high school and studied dancing with Miss Margaret Sheehan of this town and Vide Bluden of Bloomfield.

Special Musical Service Planned For Sunday At Grace Church

On Sunday evening at 8, a special musical service will be held in the Grace Baptist church. The choir, under the direction of William Akers, will sing numerous selections. This will be the last appearance of Akers, who leaves soon for study in Oberlin, O.

At the close of the service, refreshments will be served, and a reception held informally for Mr. Akers and Mrs. Elizabeth Buckley, who is returning to occupy the position of church organist and choir director.

Jeanette MacDonald Opens Griffith Concert Season

Jeanette MacDonald, titian-haired sweetheart of the American stage, screen and radio, will inaugurate the fifth anniversary season of star-studded concerts to be presented by the Griffith Music foundation, when she sings at the Mosque theatre on Saturday evening, October 10. This concert will be the first in Miss MacDonald's nationwide fall tour, and the only one she will give in the Metropolitan area.

The screen star recently completed a month's concert tour for the benefit of army emergency relief, and has sung for 100,000 service men since her own husband, Gene Raymond, entered the fighting forces. He is now a Lieutenant, on overseas duty with the air force combat command. This fact and her own innate patriotism have led Miss MacDonald to say that here on the home front, "Our job is to work and give in our united effort to keep America free, prosperous and happy, glorying in her freedom."

The Griffith Music Foundation will pursue this policy in planning its fifth season in the face of innumerable war-time obstacles, according to Mrs. Parker O. Griffith, founder and president.

Cubs Scouts To Do Bit In Town Salvage Drive

Doing their part to aid the salvage drive are the youngsters in Cub Pack No. 350. More than 60 of them will be knocking at doors throughout the town on Saturday morning collecting old scrap to be left at one of the many salvage depots which have been established.

On Saturday afternoon, the boys will play a team from Pack No. 218 in a softball game at the municipal stadium. It is scheduled to start at 3:30 p.m.

Fifty-five acts have been scheduled for the Cub circus to be held Friday evening, September 25, at First Presbyterian church. More than 100 tickets have already been sold. As an added feature, there will be a war savings stamp booth with the youngsters trying to boost the sale of stamps in addition to selling popcorn and soda pop.

P.S. Cuts Auto, Truck Use By Over 35%

Consolidation of many services that occasioned the extensive use of the large fleet of automobiles and trucks of Public Service Electric and Gas company will bring about a reduction of approximately 350,000 miles per year, (or 35 per cent.) in the use of these vehicles, the company announces. This estimate is based upon figures compiled since the company instituted its gasoline and tire conservation plans some months ago in cooperation with the government.

With the institution of strict rubber and gasoline rationing by the government, Public Service officials in all branches of the company, immediately revamped plans and schedules for the operation of motor vehicles.

Public means of transportation have supplanted the use of company cars by meter readers, testers, repairmen and inspectors where practicable. In some of the outlying districts, four or five men are transported to a central point by automobile where their work is laid out so that, at the conclusion, they are within close proximity of buses and trolley cars.

Customers' requests for disconnections, reconnections and wiring inspections are being grouped and, instead of being handled upon receipt of the call, they are answered as soon as several calls are received from the same area.

Grace George Plays Lead In Mosque's 'Kind Lady'

"Kind Lady," starring Grace George, begins a week's engagement at the Mosque theatre, Newark, on Tuesday night. The play will remain at the Mosque till Sunday night, playing four matinees on Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. "Kind Lady" was adapted by Edward Chodorov from Hugh Walpole's "The Silver Mask." When it was first presented on Broadway with Miss George in the title role it scored an immediate success. It is a story told with mounting horror which concerns the plight of a soft-hearted maiden lady living quietly in London, who invites a poor, vagrant in for a cup of tea on Christmas eve.

Chooses Ration Representative To Help Nutley ODT Board

Ruel E. Daniels, war price and rationing board chairman, announced yesterday that he had appointed Charles Sherwood, a member representing Nutley, as the board's representative to confer with them on problems.

The committee working on conserving automobiles and trucks has requested that some ration board member be designated to confer with them on problems.

Daniels said that no word of the appointment of two new Nutley men to the board has been received from Trenton as yet, although the chairman said that he had backed the recommendations made by Mayor Charles A. Sherwood. The Nutley mayor recommended Pasquale Baldino, to fill the vacancy caused when William P. Hurley Jr. was drafted into the army, and Arthur Junker when William Schenck, chairman of the old Nutley board, died early this month.

BUS RE-ROUTING

The company is faced with a serious problem, he said, in obtaining parts for buses which must be repaired, he explained. Hill predicted that shortly many buses will have twice as many seats with passengers riding half standing and half sitting. Such a plan is now being tried out on buses in Washington.

The No. 37 crosstown line runs from Washington avenue up Joralemon street to Linden avenue, to Greylock parkway, to Forest street, to Emmett street, to Pascaic avenue, to Joralemon street. It is proposed to re-route every other bus so that it would continue all the way up Joralemon street during the hours that the No. 92 line is not in service. The women who protested said they were agreeable to this plan or any other so long as they had bus service. Commissioner Noll, who some time ago suggested a similar system to ease the situation but had it rebuked by Public Service, urged Hill to lose no time in bringing action on the possible change. The No. 92 line, which runs in Washington avenue and Joralemon street, operates from North Newark station to the Belleville-Nutley line at Franklin avenue and Hilton street. It runs on a 30 and 15-minute headway from 6:05 to 8:45 a. m. and from 4:30 to 7:45 p. m.

P.T. A. Group To Meet

A meeting of the executive board of the Parent and Teacher association of School No. 5 will be held this afternoon at 3:15 at the school. A. officers and the faculty of the school will be the guests of honor. Mrs. William Riker will be in charge of the program. A short business session, conducted by Mrs. Charles Stewart, president of the association, will be followed by community singing. Mrs. Gustaf Klaunig is music chairman and will direct the musical portion of the program. Two playlets will be enacted by a group of mothers. Mrs. Victor Hart, author of the short dramas, is chairman of classroom mothers. The plays are entitled "Calamity of Calcium" and "Watch Your Weight". Harry Sullivan, defense coordinator, will address the group on "The Defense Council and the Home Front". Refreshments will be served by the mothers of eighth grade students. Mrs. L. R. Reeves and Mrs. R. W. Hayes will pour. Urgently requested to be present.

Child Care Head

Mrs. Morris Rochlin, chairman of the child care committee, a sub-division of the defense council, announced yesterday that the first fall meeting of the group is tentatively scheduled for next week, probably Wednesday. Mrs. Rochlin succeeds Mrs. Helen Lunsford as the committee chairman. The latter has moved out of town with her family. Mrs. Frank Ackerman is the vice-chairman. The committee aims to counsel and offer advisory service to mothers concerning the day care of their children and to arrange out of school programs for children with working mothers. Other members of the committee are Mrs. John Denike, Miss Angele Champan, Mrs. Madeline Mathews, Miss Filomena Pomponio, Miss Minnie Ackerman, Mrs. Mary T. Holden, Mrs. Mary E. CHRISTMAS GIFTS TO SERVICEMEN MUST GO EARLY

Detailed Instructions Given By P.O.; Nov. 1 Final Mailing Deadline
If you are bent on making Christmas a happy one for some man serving in the armed forces abroad, it is time that you started thinking about what you intend to send. The post office department, to avoid last-minute confusion, this week issued detailed instructions which should be followed. All Christmas parcels and cards, in order to assure delivery by Christmas, should be mailed between October 1 and November 1. Appealing to the public to voluntarily restrict the size of Christmas parcels to that of an ordinary shoe box and the weight of six pounds, the P. O. announced that the weight of packages must not exceed the maximum of 11 pounds in weight, 18 inches in length or 42 inches in length and girth combined. Food and clothing should not be included in gift parcels, the army and navy departments pointed out that men in service are amply provided with both. Not more than one yuletide parcel or package can be accepted for mailing in any one week when sent by the same person or concern to one individual. No Perishable Goods. No perishable matter can be included in any package and among the articles which are prohibited are intoxicants, inflammable materials, such as matches and lighter fluids, and poisons or compositions which may kill or injure another or may damage the mails. The following instructions are given for the preparation, addressing and postage for parcels: "All articles must be securely packed in substantial boxes or containers; covered with wrap of sufficient strength to meet the requirements of the long passage abroad. Parcels are subject to censorship and should be so wrapped as to permit ready inspection of the contents. Combination packages containing miscellaneous toilet articles, hard candies, soap, etc., should be tightly packed to prevent shifting in container and damage to contents or wrapper. Candles in thin glass or wood boxes should be enclosed in wood, metal or corrugated pasteboard. Sharp pointed or edged instruments, such as razors, knives, etc., must have their points or edges protected to prevent damage to other mail or injury to postal employees. Address must be legible. In addition to name and address of the sender, must bear the name, rank, army serial number, branch of service, organization, A. P. O. number and the post office through which the parcels are to be routed. Parcels for naval personnel must show the naval unit or ship to which he is assigned besides post office through which parcels are to be routed. "Postage must be fully prepaid, the rate on parcel post being the zone rate applicable from the post office where mailed to the post office in care of which the parcels are addressed."

Plan Benefit To Purchase Gifts For Servicemen

A committee, representing Silas Lake and Soho families, has been formed to raise funds to send Christmas packages to the boys from that area who are in service. Headed by Miss Marie A. Merrittella with Miss Frances Alpertine as co-chairman, the group will hold a fashion show on Saturday afternoon, October 17, at 3:30 p.m.

The affair will be held at the home of Mrs. Merrittella, 46 Magnolia street, by calling Belleville 2-1891-J. It is estimated that there are more than 200 men from the area serving in some branch of the service. Workers have been assigned to each block in the district. In addition to the committee members listed below, mothers of all young men in the service are invited to join the group.

Committee members are: Miss Marianne Boechetto, Mrs. Conata Domenick and Mrs. Carl Salzano representing Franklin street; Mrs. Anthony Pascheria, Mrs. Louise Diglio and Miss Connie Seritella, representing Eugene street and Heckel street; Misses Milie and Victoria Uzzolina, Magnolia street; Mrs. Lydia Viola, Watchung street; Mrs. Alice and Josephine, Misses Theresa Sotrisano, Frederick street; Mrs. Mary Ugliarino, Florence avenue; Mrs. Sam Raimondi, Salter place; Mrs. Carmela Carvella, Mrs. Lena Grasso and Miss Mary Ruvo, representing Belmont and Bloomfield avenues. The Misses Jolly Goglia and Mary A. Pauline will represent the Soho section.

Bureau Reports On Work Done During Summer

The first full meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Community Service Bureau was held in the office on Tuesday evening, September 15, with Mrs. Ernest George, Peterson, president, conducting the meeting with Mrs. George Peterson, Mrs. Allen Turner, Nicholas Colaninno, Dr. Morris Rochman, Earl Seibert and Rev. Marshall Whitehead present.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Robert Lunsford, one of its most active members, who has left town.

Mrs. Julia O. Reiner, executive secretary, gave a summarized report for the work of the bureau from June through August. Of the 49 applications for service made to the bureau since June, 38 were accepted for continued service. Four hundred and 70 interviews were conducted by the staff and an average of 63 cases were covered in each of the three months. Sixty-five cases are being handled as of September 1. Out of a total expenditure of $520 over the summer months, $176 was used for camp work. Thirty-three children were given the benefit of periods in the camps best suited to their individual needs. It was noted that in many instances parents defrayed a large part of the expense.

New applications were divided as follows: 25 percent were specific requests for day care of children with which the bureau has been able to be of minimum assistance as no facilities are yet ready to meet this need. Twenty-five percent were difficulties in family relationships—trouble between husband and wife or parent and child. The other 50 percent were made up of requests as follows: for medical care, camp placements, housing, employment consultations, old age problems and boarding home applications. Mrs. Reiner noted that the bureau is interested in increasing its list of women who are willing and able to board children, either full time or to give day care and announced that the office would welcome further applicants. It was further noted that the housing situation is acute at this point. There is such a shortage of homes and apartments, at any price, that when for any reason a family must move it is almost impossible to find other quarters.

Dukes Have Speedy Backs For Sept. 27 Opener

Coach Vollmer Says Club's As Good As Last Year's; Johnny Walker From Last Year's BHS Eleven Signed To Play

The Belleville Iron Dukes, getting ready for their North Jersey Football league opener at the municipal stadium on Sunday, September 27, against the Bonton Panthers, are rapidly rounding into shape for the grid inaugural.

Coach Joe Vollmer, who directed the Ironmen last year when they topped the league with the Campdowners, optimistically reported after a workout Tuesday night that this fall's team would be equally as good as last year's which rolled up some boxcar figures meeting the best pro elevens in the state.

While the war has taken its toll, depriving the club of some strong men, Vollmer is particularly pleased with the prospect of having a faster backfield than the eleven had last year.

Two Speed Men Back
Returning for another season will be Frankie Cardinale, line crushing all-star from Nutley. Slow to round into form last season, Cardinale was the main cog in the Dukes' offense from mid-season on and was one of their big defensive aids with his fine punting. Another of the veteran backs in the fold once more is the veteran George Tietze, a favorite with local fans because of his fancy broken field running.

A product of Belleville high, Tietze was the property of the Campdowners before he joined the local club's ranks.

Belleville high students who remember Johnny Walker as one of the fastest backs in last year's Blue and Gold backfield will have the chance to see him in action with the Dukes. After watching the speedy youngster, who was also a trackman at BHS, workout, Vollmer commented that he felt that Walker was the man needed to round out the backfield quartet. At the blocking back position will be Walt Butchko, who was there last season. Giving Cardinale a run for his money as a starter is Nick Zuzzio of Panzer college. Also fast as foot, Zuzzio is a good line bucker.

George Zoppa To Play
The forward wall will be greatly strengthened with the addition of George Zoppa at the center position. One of Belleville high's former stars and well-known to local football followers, Zoppa played three years for the Campdowners and was picked as the all-league center every year. Two of the guards, Frederick Weinberger from town and Joe Cullari of Nutley, are back again as are Joe Collins and big John Reilly for the tackle spots.

Ralph DeLibro, the 210-pound tackle who played with Nutley high last year, has been added to the line starters with Herky Heimrick, a Belleville high product, a likely choice for a guard. Weakest spot on the line is at the ends. The only sure starter is Frank "Rusty" Kusignuolo, undersized star from Panzer college and Nutley high. Of last year's wingmen, dusky Bob Shade and Ed Slavin in the navy. Harry Shum has hung up his football shoes for all time.

The Dukes will play in a four-team league this year with clubs playing home-and-home games. Other clubs in the circuit besides the Bonton Panthers are the Campdowners and the Plainfield Saracens, one of Central Jersey's strongest pro clubs.

Civilian Defense Is Feature Of Adult School Courses

Leading off with a generous variety of courses for "civilian defense workers and prospective service men" the North Newark Adult school will accept registrations next Monday and Tuesday and again on Thursday, October 1, for the fall term which opens on October 5. Most important, perhaps, is the course in civilian protection for war times which includes lectures and demonstrations on all forms of protection against war gases, bombs, and fires. Lecturers are members of the Newark Defense council, a department of public safety and others exceptionally qualified.

Standard and advanced first aid courses and motor corps instruction leading to standard Red Cross certificates will be given as well as a home nursing course arranged for by the Newark chapter, American Red Cross. Other courses designed to prepare women for emergency service in the home are nutrition and home mechanics. Men will be particularly interested in the instruction in blue print reading, map reading and radio code and theory. Physical fitness is the title of another series calculated

One unusual series of lectures will be devoted to life and living in the air age with discussions on the effects of aviation in social and industrial life and international relations. The courses are given on 10 consecutive Monday evenings in one- or two-hour periods at the Elliott Street school, Summer and Grafton avenues, Newark.

Two more local men have completed their basic training at the Newport, R. I., naval training station. After a seven-day furlough, Dominick M. Cassidy, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cassidy of 118 Cartland street will return to Newport for assignment.

Arlotta is scheduled to be sent to one of the navy's trade or technical schools for special instruction, while Cassidy will go to one of the schools for motor machinist mates.

Teachers And The War Effort

Schools have re-opened for another year, one which will undoubtedly witness more changes in the curriculum and subject matter than any in the memory of most educators. Some of the richer and more intellectual things of a peaceful existence may have to be forsaken so that the public educational program will be closely allied with the nation's effort toward both war and production.

The teacher will be more important than the book to the pupil than ever before. No other group has the opportunity to influence and develop young minds as have the school teachers. It is horrible to think that our high schools must now become preparatory schools for war, but we are in a battle for our very existence today and what was once regarded as an impossibility today must be recognized as a fact.

Superintendent of Schools Parmer told the teachers at their pre-school opening meeting last week that they must meet a double challenge. It is worth while repeating: so that parents may know the chief duty that teachers are expected to perform in instructing their children this year.

"To help the young people, for whom we are responsible, to build for themselves the highest qualities of American citizenship—a citizenship which has the highest respect for the 'American Way' and the American institutions. If teachers fail to do this we may be assured that for most of our young people it will not be done. No greater failure could be conceived. We shall meet this challenge only through the sincerity of every single teacher.

"There probably never was a time when tolerance was so threatened or when straight thinking was so much at a premium. Our teachers must lead the way, not only in the preservation of these values, but also in the conscious development of them. This war, with all of its ugliness, will end, let us hope, before our young people become mature citizens. How will those for whom we have been responsible in a great measure compare with the men and women of today in these important qualities?"

So, geared for war, the schools become not merely a place to fill students with book knowledge but to develop in them qualities, beliefs and habits which will make them good Americans to carry on the battle for freedom and tolerance.

Haven't Scratched The Surface

It is evident that this country has not yet scratched the surface in its mobilization of manpower to fight this war. Speaking before the state convention of the American Legion on Sunday, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director, told the veterans that this nation would mobilize an army of between 10,000,000 and 13,000,000.

While statistics have not been given out, it is safe to say that we are well below that number at present. Gen. Hershey was talking about men for service on the battlefronts; he was not referring to men in war production plants. This means many millions more.

The selective service director bluntly stated that such a mobilization would mean taking men with dependents. If we stop and analyze the situation locally, we will readily realize that this is inevitable. Hundreds of young men have already left town. The succeeding months will see many more off to the war front.

It must still be admitted that many of us have unconcernedly disregarded the prospect that we might be put into the service or that we would be drafted for work in a defense industry because of the unimportance to the war of our present non-essential employment. But, when figures are quoted such as those given out by Gen. Hershey, it is easy to realize that we have seen nothing yet and that many are unable to or do not want to comprehend what the future holds for them.

This nation has been in the war less than a year. Our army has not yet engaged in a major battle. When all of these things are taken into consideration, it should be a warning to be prepared for the unpredictable future.

More Waste In Washington

The president has several times appealed and pleaded with the public to cut their expenditures to the bone, to economize wherever possible. His statement has been reiterated by every majordomo in Washington, but we still find that many of the agencies which clutter up the Capitol are failing to do likewise.

The mailman's daily visits bring an untold amount of absolute junk which has little or nothing to do with the war effort or which is the only excuse for the existence of the agency.

One of the most pertinent comments on this practice comes from the Citizens Emergency Committee on Non-Defense Expenditures. Remarking the federal publicity often borders on the ridiculous, the committee reported that four days before Pearl Harbor, the navy department released to the nation the favorite recipes of navy officers' wives. One recipe was for "Niu Moa Ai," a Hawaiian concoction of cocoanut and chicken. Another was for "Rumble-Bumble Pudding." Nearly five months after Pearl Harbor, the committee continued, the department of agriculture released for the edification of the taxpayers, "Fashion predictions in sundaes, ice creams and sherberts—Royal Apricot, Stanwick Nectarine, Passion Fruit and Klondike Strawberry."

Being very versatile in its offering, the agricultural department has also offered such masterpieces as "War Places New Burden on Eastern Russian Agriculture." For the more historically minded, it provides a bibliography on agriculture of American Indians.

And they want the public to pare everything down to the bone.

Your Curiosity May Prove Fatal

Few are the people who do not like to chase fire engines. The thought that they may see some other fellow's house burning up has some kind of an intrigue. Playing follow-the-leader with the fire engine has continued in spite of pleas from public safety officials that it is a dangerous practice. Curiosity seems to have the upper hand.

However, there is no pleading or asking about the regulations which every person must observe in an air raid alarm. The most outstanding feature, or better said, failure of it was the most evident lack of cooperation by the public. It was not only in Belleville, but everywhere in general.

Their curiosity, here, even as they tumbled out of bed at 2:30 in the morning, got the best of them. Although they knew that it was an air raid alarm, and if they know nothing else about what to do, they know the basic law that all lights should be kept off, the first thing they did was turn on the lights. Next, they rushed for the telephone to call police or fire headquarters, some friend down the street or Aunt Minnie over on the other side of town.

The result was that telephone lines were so badly jammed that it was impossible for the utility company to put through calls to emergency services. It created confusion and resulted in the failure of important functions as they should in an

There are three things which the public has been told time and again and they should know them by now.

When the air raid alarm is sounded—Stay inside and mind your own business. If there is danger or you are wanted, the air raid warden will summon you.

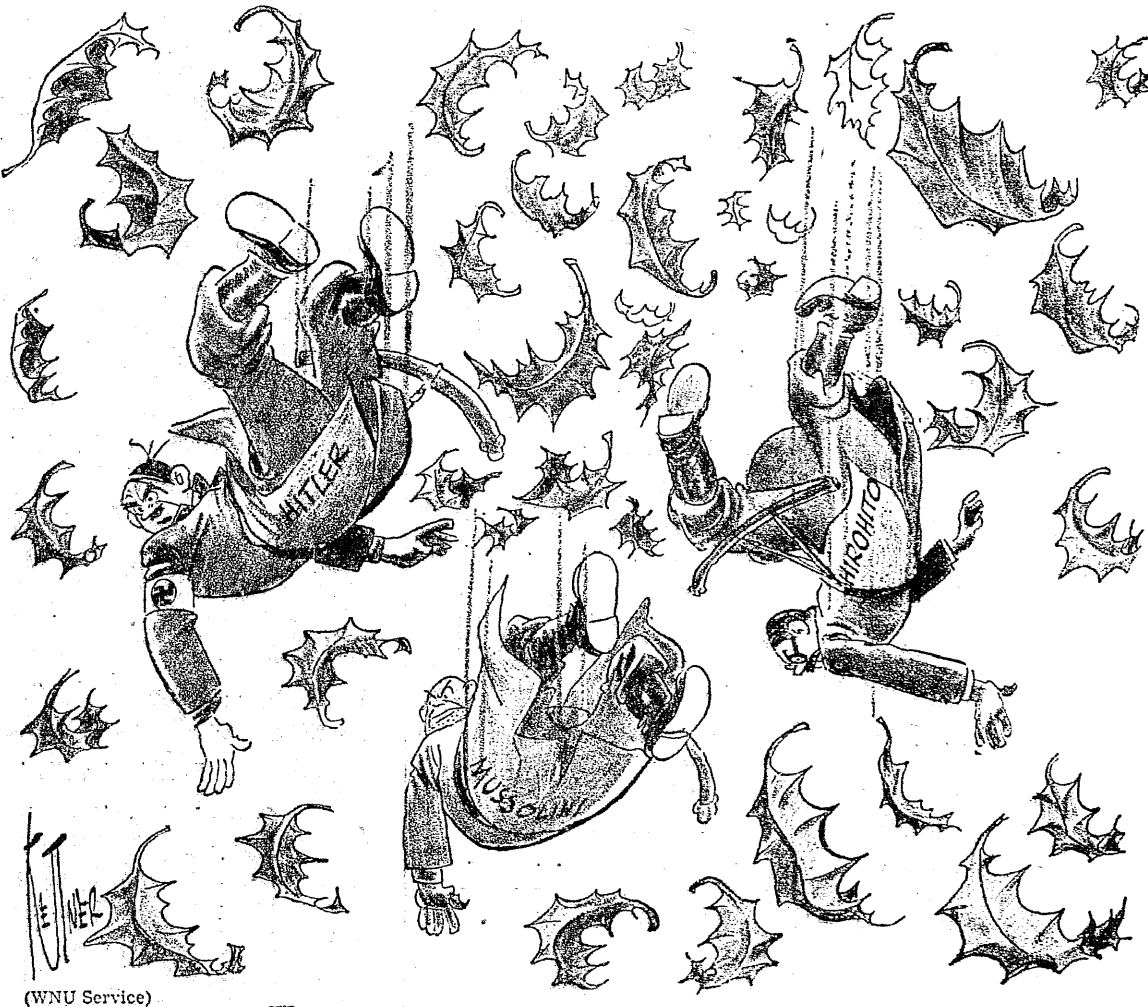

Don't turn on the lights. You may turn on the radio to listen for instructions but be sure that the pilot light is shielded so that it cannot be seen from the outside of the house.

Stay away from the telephone. Don't waste time calling anybody because they do not know any more than you do.

Maybe it is not clear yet, but for the edification of those who still do not understand, the police, firemen, civilian defense officials and any others whom you may think of do not know when the warning signal is received at headquarters whether it is an actual raid or a test. They don't know whether there are one or 100 planes coming. They don't know where those planes are or where they are going.

They only know that when the raid warning comes, it is their job to warn the public and to put their organization into action. They are following orders—doing their part for your safety—you do the same. Remember, curiosity and failure to obey the regulations may kill you, your family or many of your friends.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

by Meador Wright

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville Times.

Repercussions from Tuesday's primaries are varied. There is no one outstanding conclusion to be drawn. The best the political analyst can do is to draw a series of minor conclusions, hoping thereby to suggest whatever significance there is in it, or may develop from the election. As far as the Democrats are concerned there is no significance because, strictly speaking, there was no primary. William H. Smathers came out of Frank Hague's vest pocket, and with him were most of the other candidates. So far as I have been able to ascertain, there was no major Democratic challenge to Hudson in the entire state. The Democratic primary wasn't even a ratification of Hague's candidates because no ratification was needed or desired. To repeat, it just wasn't a primary.

But there WAS a Republican primary and, while most candidates can be said to have won by default, there may be some far-reaching effects. Considering his handicaps, Albert W. Hawkes of Montclair made a surprising run. Starting almost from scratch, Hawkes built up a following big enough to win over the combined strength of the most powerful Republican organizations in the state. This introduces a new figure in New Jersey politics.

What he may wish or be able to do with his new power and prestige, remains to be seen. But his presence is a new factor that must be reckoned with when new political power equations are drawn. If this prestige is to stay with him, Hawkes must also win the general election in November. My own belief is that this will not be too difficult. I do not expect Senator Smathers to be re-elected unless there should be a general Democratic landslide, and I don't expect that.

What then can be expected from Hawkes? In the first place his victory adds to the prestige and power of Dr. Lester H. Clee who, next to Albert Lowett, had the most part in his victory. Clee set out to do two things: first, to nominate Hawkes; second, to prove that Clean Government in Essex is not as strong when he is opposing it as when he is supporting it. Both of these objectives were reached. They were both likely preliminary to a larger objective, namely for Clee to be nominated and elected Governor next year. But whether they will actually contribute to this major objective is another matter.

Clee undoubtedly hopes for active support next year from Hawkes, and my guess is that he will get it. Hawkes must naturally be grateful to the man who made it possible for him to be senator, first by dropping out of the race and second by throwing all of his support and influence—not forgetting Al Lowett—behind him. Hawkes is not a man to forget such a favor and in any list of those to whom he is grateful, Clee's name will lead all the others. Hawkes is wealthy and if elected to the senate will have the prestige of that office also bestowed on Clee. A new and fairly powerful duumvirate may be in the process of being born.

Such a duumvirate would face opposition from many sources, but the greatest would come from Arthur T. Vanderbilt in Essex. Vanderbilt is committed by the etiquette of politics to help in Hawkes' election this November. But he can be depended upon to do everything in his power to block later objectives of a Clee-Hawkes combination. He could do this by joining Clee himself and doing all in his power to make Clee governor. But my guess is that he will do just the opposite and try to prevent it. There are a number of ways that this could be done. There was some talk during the campaign of running Gill Robb Wilson for governor in the event he was defeated, but his vote-getting ability was proved too poor. The logical thing for Vanderbilt to do to stop Clee—assuming that he will want to—is to dig up another Essex man who can match the combined strength of Clee and Hawkes. In this capacity I would advise the readers of this column to keep an eye on Spencer Miller of South Orange.

The nomination of Fred A. Hartley for an eighth term in congress was also a setback for the Clean Government organization. Hartley's margin of less than a hundred votes may be upset by a recount, but the chances are against this. Nor is he likely to lose the general election. The vote he got in Glen Ridge for example, was 648 to 822 for Williams—indicates that there will be no widespread revolt six weeks hence. The county organization will have to support him no matter how much certain individuals may dislike to do so.

His Democratic opponent, Fred Bigelow, is not considered strong enough politically to give Hartley even as hard a fight as did Mayor Williams of Belleville—and that wasn't quite hard enough to win. Hartley's record in congress did get a rebuke, however. The race was somewhat closer than I expected.

From W. J. Donahue
84 Continental Avenue
To the Editor of The Times:
To help our nation in this scrap drive in Belleville, here are a few suggestions.

1. Old steel structure and tracks at Mill street and Franklin Avenue.
2. Steel girders in yard of Riviera Park skating rink.
3. Steel fences at golf course at Franklin and Belleville avenues. They can be replaced with wooden fence.
4. Jergens can donate steel fence as it is not a defense plant. A wooden fence will save the grass just as well.

We, the people, will do our part so why not get after the big estates in town to give their fences, etc.

Hits Chicken Raising
To the Editor of The Times:
Readers no doubt were pleased at the passing of recent police ordinance regarding rowdism. Here is one more that should be passed on. It deals with chicken raising on what is supposed to be residential property. I wonder how many readers are familiar with lack of control over these chicken raisers.

Here are the facts which the writer has found. The only thing necessary is that the coops be 30 feet from dwellings; no permits are needed to build chicken coops; there is no limit to the amount of chickens kept. The cleaning of these coops is left entirely to the discretion of the chicken raiser; nobody inspects them. Any person who has ever been as close as 30 feet from a chicken coop certainly got an odor from it.

Your next-door neighbor may decide at any time to start chicken raising in the back of his home and there is nothing you can do about it. He can sell his product from his backyard chickens as he pleases, and remember, this can and does happen here in Belleville on what is supposedly residential property. The chicken coops can be built from anything, any size or shape that the owner decides. The writer would like to hear the views of others on this subject.

Sunday Closing Of Realtors To Start This Week

Extension of the Sunday closing plan to include the offices of all members in Nutley and Belleville is expected to become effective on September 20, in accordance with a decision reached this week by the Board of Realtors of Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley, and Belleville.

Realtors in the first two named municipalities have not had their offices open on Sunday for several years, but in Nutley and Belleville this custom had not been adopted heretofore. The question was debated at various group meetings during the summer and was submitted to the entire membership for a vote this week. The vote for closing on Sundays was approved unanimously by those attending the meeting.

President William Schumacher has appointed a Nominating Committee to recommend the slate of new officers of the Board for 1943. The committee, which includes Max Swift of Bloomfield, chairman, William H. Martin of Bloomfield, Nugent A.

Freeman and George T. Bowes of Nutley and Sylvester Frazer of Belleville will report at the October meeting.

Correction

Pvt. Robert D. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Johnson of Smallwood avenue, was incorrectly referred to in last week's Times as Pvt. Arthur Johnson. Pvt. Johnson is stationed at Stewart field, West Point, N. Y. with the air corps.

YOM KIPPUR THIS WEEKEND

Special Services Are Arranged
By Congregation A.A. For Sunday, Monday

Jewry all over the world will gather in their synagogues and temples Sunday night to usher in the holiest of Jewish holy days. Yom Kippur, the Jewish day of atonement, which will also be observed all day Monday, falls on the tenth day of the Hebrew month Tishre. It marks the close of the ten days of penitence which began on Rosh Hashonah, observed last weekend.

Yom Kippur is also called Yom Hadin, the day of judgment, for on this day is the final judgment made in heaven and the books of life are sealed for another year.

The significance of this day, which is more sacred than even the Rosh Hashonah observance, arouses a religious sentiment in every Jewish heart. When the touching prayers of Yom Kippur are recited a feeling of retrospection comes over every Jew. He seeks to evaluate the success or failure of the year just passed, and thus prepare to receive the judgment of the coming new year. The profound influence of his deeds upon the world are made clear to him, and he is reminded of his obligations to his fellowmen.

The time-honored "Kol Nidre" will be chanted at the Sunday night service promptly at 6:30 p.m. This prayer which brings to mind the persecutions of the Maranos during the Spanish inquisition of the 14th and 15th centuries, is one of the most important parts of the Yom Kippur service. The example of the Spanish Jews who suffered all persecution and hardship while still clinging steadfastly to their faith is a timely one.

All-Day Service

Yom Kippur is observed by attending the synagogue service all day, and spending it in fast, prayer and meditation. The Yiskor memorial service is recited in the morning. At the afternoon "Mincha" service the Book of Jonah is chanted. Many scholars maintain that the Book of Jonah is an allegorical presentation depicting the development and life of Israel.

Towards the close of the day the devotional "Neilah" service is held. The meaning of the Hebrew word "Neilah" is "fastening." According to ancient teachings the "Gates of Heaven" begin to close at this time and are fastened for another year. This prayer is the most serious of all, and many worshippers remain standing for its entirety. After the service one long blast of the Shofar announces that the end of Yom Kippur has arrived and a New Year is well along its way.

Holiday services will be held in the synagogue of Congregation Ahavas Achim at 317 Washington avenue with Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin officiating at all the services assisted by Morris Rosen as reader.

The time-honored Kol Nidre service will take place on Sunday night and will begin at 6:30. Rabbi Dobin will preach on the topic "The Jewish Position—5703."

Services on Yom Kippur day will start at 8 a.m. The Yiskor memorial service will be recited at 10:30. Rabbi Dobin will preach before the memorial service on the topic, "Happiness in an Unhappy World." A special memorial prayer will be given for the soldiers who have died in the armies of all the united nations. A memorial will also be given for the massacred Jews of the occupied lands.

All uniformed members of our armed forces are invited to worship with the congregation as its guests.

Services For William Ramkowski River Drowning Victim

A requiem mass was held Monday morning at 10 a.m. in St. Peter's church for William Ramkowski, 62, of 293 Main street, who was drowned in the Passaic river last week. Services were held from the Irvine Funeral home at 276 Washington avenue. Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery.

Mr. Ramkowski was reported missing to the police by his family on Wednesday. He was last seen that day in a small boat in the river gathering driftwood. His body was found floating near the North Arlington shoreline on Friday by two boys who reported it to police. The boat drifted ashore some time before he was found.

A resident of Belleville for the past 25 years, he had been employed by the Worthington Pump & Machinery corporation of Harrison for 17 years. Surviving him in addition to his wife, Nellie, are three sons, William, August and John of this town and a brother, Stanley of Newark. Four grandchildren also survive.

Magnolia Street Residents Raise Service Flag

Magnolia street residents raised a service flag on Saturday afternoon in honor of 16 young men from the block who are in the armed forces. With a big "V" in its center, the flag bears the words "Unity, God Speed and Peace."

Four of the young men from the block are reported to be overseas. The Misses Millie Uzzolina and Geraldine Serrilla made a house-to-house canvass of the residents to raise funds to purchase the flag.
