Scrap Piles Rust On Lots While Mills Go Hungry

The speeding of scrap iron and other badly needed metals to steel and iron mills to be converted into war materials struck a snag this week. Not only locally, but at least throughout this section of the state many salvage committees are now faced with the task of finding a means for the disposition of the huge mountains of scrap which have been piled up by patriotic householders.

State and municipal salvage chieftains now find that the hauling of the scrap to disposal centers is the bottleneck of their program. There are a limited number of junk dealers who have the equipment to cart away the scrap which has been piled up in municipalities, and fewer still have the yards in which to dump it for sorting and baling.

With the collection of Newark's scrap as the first task for most of the better known dealers in this region, most are reluctant to make promises to any other municipalities as to the date when the junk will be hauled away.

Bids In Newark Today

Bids from dealers to send Newark's scrap on the way to steel mills are due to be opened today. Municipal chairmen were holding out hope that once the Newark contract has been awarded, some of the dealers may be able to take on the job in other communities.

The local salvage committee, headed by Robert G. Sutherland, anxious to have the piles removed had considered using volunteers and donated trucks to haul the junk to some nearby dealer's yard. A number of trucks had been offered to the committee by local industries and trucking firms. However, the question of liability on the part of the town if some person was injured working on the scrap piles prompted the committee to abandon the plan.

Chairman Sutherland indicated last night that there was little for the local group to do but sit and wait until some dealer could be obtained.

"The committee does not like to see the scrap piled up about town," Sutherland said, "when we know that the mills are demanding the metal and we realize the effort that many people made to make the drive a success."

Estimates vary as to how much scrap Belleville has actually collected. The public works department claims that its trucks hauled more than 200 loads to the various depots. Taking an average estimate of a half-ton for each trip, this means that the bureau trucks alone collected 100 tons.

The salvage group is conferring with the board of education officials on plans for a scrap drive among the school youngsters. The educators of America in cooperation with the government have designated this month as one for children throughout the nation to collect scrap. Chairman Sutherland urged youngsters to start making plans for a check of their neighborhoods in the search for scrap.

The salvagers also reminded housewives and others who are collecting tin cans that the next collection day for tin will be on Thursday, October 29.

IMPORTANT BILLS BEFORE BOARD TUESDAY NIGHT

$158,000 Improvement Plan, Police, Fire Dept. Boosts Due For Vote

Three important bills will come before the town commission for adoption at the meeting next Tuesday night. Bonding and improvement measures calling for the expenditure of $168,000 and an ordinance to increase the number in the police and fire departments will be voted upon by the board.

An ordinance for the repair and re-surfacing of Main street, from Nutley town line, provides for the expenditure of $110,000. However, the town is to receive $69,000 from the state highway aid fund to help write off the 10 and 15-year bonds which will be issued for the improvement.

To eliminate a flood condition in the Second river from the Bloomfield line east to the National Grain Yeast company plant it is proposed to erect a concrete wall estimated to cost $58,000. Thirty-year improvement bonds would be issued for the work.

Increase In Ranks

Promotions in both branches would also be permitted under the amendment. In the fire department, Clark would be able to name an additional battalion chief and a fourth lieutenant. In the police department, a captain, a lieutenant, and a sergeant could be added.

Have We Got The Spirit? War Chest Challenge

A community, or the spirit of a community, is determined by the people in it—the things they do, the way they act, especially in times like these. It has been said that we in Belleville—the people who live here—lack the proper spirit.

It is being proved that that is not so. That proper spirit showed itself last fall when for the first time in years Belleville's Community Chest reached its goal.

This year, the response in the war bond drive, the all-out beginnings of the scrap campaign, and the efforts of Belleville citizens in war work, are driving that statement right into the ground.

Right now, there is another chance, another demand for spiking that rumor once and for all. The Belleville war chest drive gives all of us an opportunity to prove that we are for Belleville 100 per cent; that we are for its 1,200 boys and girls who have left to fight for us; that we are for those agencies that work in Belleville in peace and in war.

If you are for Belleville and what any real community stands for, join your neighbor. Together you will go to the elementary school nearest your home—the one where you send your children. Go there on Wednesday evening, October 16. Better still, call the principal of that school and say ahead of time that you will be there.

At any rate join those principals, your neighbors, your fellow workers, the parents of Belleville's service men, the teachers of your children, in the concerted effort to put this war drive over the top. That evening, you will be given the names of a few of your neighbors who couldn't be there. Then, when you've asked them for their contribution to the war chest, and when you've added yours, we can tell you all on October 31 that you've reached the goal.

Then, everyone will know as you know that Belleville does its share at home and abroad in these troublous times.

Graduates

Lieut. Walter Rajca

The only son of the Mill street couple, who conduct a tavern at that address, he enlisted in the army in April. After being stationed at Fort Dix for a short time, he was sent to Camp Lee. Shortly afterward he was promoted to corporal and early in June was admitted to the officer candidate school.

Another Belleville high school graduate, who was graduated in the officers class with Rajca but does not reside here now, was Joseph W. Gannon of Brooklyn. A former resident of Hewitt avenue, he was a member of the June 1937, class at the high school.

This week 27-year-old Samuel Godino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Godino of 16 No. 9th street reached the goal of a long-time ambition. At the Harlingen army gunnery school in Texas, Sam had a pair of silver gunner's wings, the insignia of the combat air crew of the army air corps, pinned on his breast.

Automatically with the receipt of his diploma as an aerial dealer of death for the Japs and Nazis, Sam became a sergeant.

As far back as his family can remember, Sam wanted to fly. He read every book on aviation which he could grab, and even though he was unable to graduate from high school he attended night school to learn more about flying.

From the day that war broke out, Sam wanted to join the air corps, but family responsibilities held off the urge until four months ago when he enlisted in the air forces. He did not have the qualifications to be a pilot, but he took the next best thing—a chance to be the trigger man at the guns on one of the big bombers.

Can Use All Guns
A barber before he entered the service, Sgt. Godino is now set to clip the Axis as an expert combat member of the air forces famous "four Flying Horsemen" fighting combination—gunner, bombardier, navigator and pilot. In the five weeks of intensive training through which he has passed, the local youth has been taught the use of every kind of gun from a BB to a .50 calibre Browning.

Sgt. Godino has two other brothers in the service, Carmel, 25, recently enlisted in the marines and is in training at Parris Island, S. C. He attended the local high school and vocational school. Drafted three months ago for the army was Tommy, who is 21. He is a private stationed at Camp Edwards, Mass. with an anti-aircraft unit.

NEED FOR MORE WORKERS PLEA IN CHEST DRIVE

Campaign For $35,000 Starts Oct. 16; House Division Meets Wednesday

With the inspirational slogan "if a soldier can give everything, you can give something," as the keynote, the leaders of the community-war chest campaign speeded plans for the opening of the $35,000 drive next week, starting on October 16.

Mobilization of a volunteer army to visit every home in the town will be the chief work to be done during the next week under the direction of Hugh D. Kittle, campaign manager, and Harold Dufford, chairman of the house-to-house division.

To divide the town into districts for the drive, each elementary school has been designated as section headquarters. Since the teachers have agreed to lead the house-to-house campaigning, as they did last year, the principal of each school has been selected as the captain of the solicitation crews to work in each district.

More Workers Required
Campaign Manager Kittle said yesterday that the staff of 200 school employees is not sufficient to cover the town during the two-week drive. He has asked that volunteers from organizations and individuals help with raising the funds. A particular appeal has been made to the parents of servicemen who will indirectly benefit from the drive since nearly $14,000 of the quota is scheduled to go to the USO and the Navy Relief society.

Next Wednesday night meetings will be held in each of the elementary schools for the workers who will canvass the districts. The school principal will be in charge and will instruct workers. All volunteers are urged to attend this meeting, or if impossible to contact Dufford or one of the principals listed below to let them know that they will be willing to work in the drive.

School No. 1, Miss Alice L. McDavitt, Be. 2-1773, Cortland and Rutgers streets; School No. 2, Henry Minasian, Be. 2-2071, Mill street; School No. 3, W. F. Richards, Be. 2-1580, Jerusalem street and Union avenue; School No. 4, J. S. Shawyer, Be. 2-1419, Magnolia avenue; School No. 5, R. N. Hayes, Be. 2-1709, Greylock avenue; School No. 7, Mrs. Catherine Hardwicke, Be. 2-1672, Passaic avenue and Jerusalem street; School No. 8, Miss Viola S. Broadbent, Be. 2-4407, Union avenue and Holmes street; School No. 9, Thomas Gryczka, Be. 2-3379, East Overlook avenue; School No. 10, Henry Minasian, Be. 2-4409, Belleville and Franklin avenues.

Under the supervision of Edward Russell, the details of raising funds for the chest among the town's industries are nearing completion. A number of the town's leading manufacturers, including the Walter Kidde company, Wallace & Tiernan, Isolantite, Sonneborn, Federal Leather and Eastwood-Nealley, have promised the cooperation not only of the employees but of the firm. The excellent return from the industries last year enabled the chest to meet its goal of $16,000.

During the next week posters advertising the campaign will be distributed about town and displays of community-war chest activities will be placed in a number of windows.

Employer, Workers Fined For Smoking In Plant
The state labor department clamped down this week on a local firm for violation of a ruling providing for posting of a "no smoking" sign in the plant.

Six employees who were fined $10 each for smoking in the plant included:

Encouraging Spirit That's Needed

The high school football team has gotten to an auspicious start. They have played two games, and they haven't lost, and neither have they won. However, they played two strong opponents who in more cases than not have had their own way when it came to playing Belleville.

Currently, there is more of the spirit that should be displayed in the high school than has been seen in some time. It is the sort of stuff that we want to see in our young people today and which should be encouraged. If seeing their football team win — or at least not losing — is what will do it then we are all-out for football teams.

With the talk that is being heard about the curtailment or the cancellation of sports activities for the duration, it is natural that there should be agitation for closing down on interscholastic athletics.

Who Should Be Damned?

The other night we sat in the movies watching the newsreel and heard ourselves damned by a seven-day wonder from Washington. Everything that's gone wrong with the war to date is our fault. We're losing the war — and that's our fault, too.

Of course, there's nothing new about Washington damning the public because they've been doing that ever since the war started. But, we'd like to ask who is to blame because there is a certain apathy, a state of confusion or a complete blank about what is going on?

If there is any place where they have succeeded in brewing up a good mess of apathy or confusion it has been in Washington. And it has not been as Mr. Roosevelt tried to infer on the return from his journey into nowhere (but, apparently everywhere), the radio commentators, the newspapers and their columnists who have done it.

It has been some, if not most of, the experts who have been placed in charge of certain branches of our war-time government. Almost daily they have attempted to

A New Kind Of Problem

The story that salvage heads find themselves with a new problem on their hands in disposing of the scrap which has been piled up in municipalities is something like the yarn about the man who built a boat in his cellar and then discovered that half of the house had to be ripped down to get it out.

The situation is not so humorous when it is considered that the nation's mills are screaming for metal to feed the blast furnaces and for the past month newspapers and the radio have been brow-beating the public into a patriotic lather to give all that they could to the scrap campaign.

It is not our job or that of a municipal salvage chairman, but surely somebody should have taken time out to think about where all the scrap would be hauled and whether or not there would be a sufficient

For some years there has been an element afoot which has attempted to talk down and discourage competition between schools. Educators will go a long while before they will find a better morale builder than competitive sports — and games between schools such as Bloomfield and Belleville or Belleville and Kearny — are the best type of builders that we have yet seen.

To destroy that yearning and desire for competition would seem one of the quickest ways to kill youthful spirit which we should be making every effort to keep alive and to encourage today.

It is not alone the eleven players on a football team who gain through competition with others but it is the enjoyment and enthusiasm which it promotes among those young people who have the opportunity to back those teams.

outdo each other in counter claims and statements. Added to this are censorship restrictions which have at times bordered on the exaggerated.

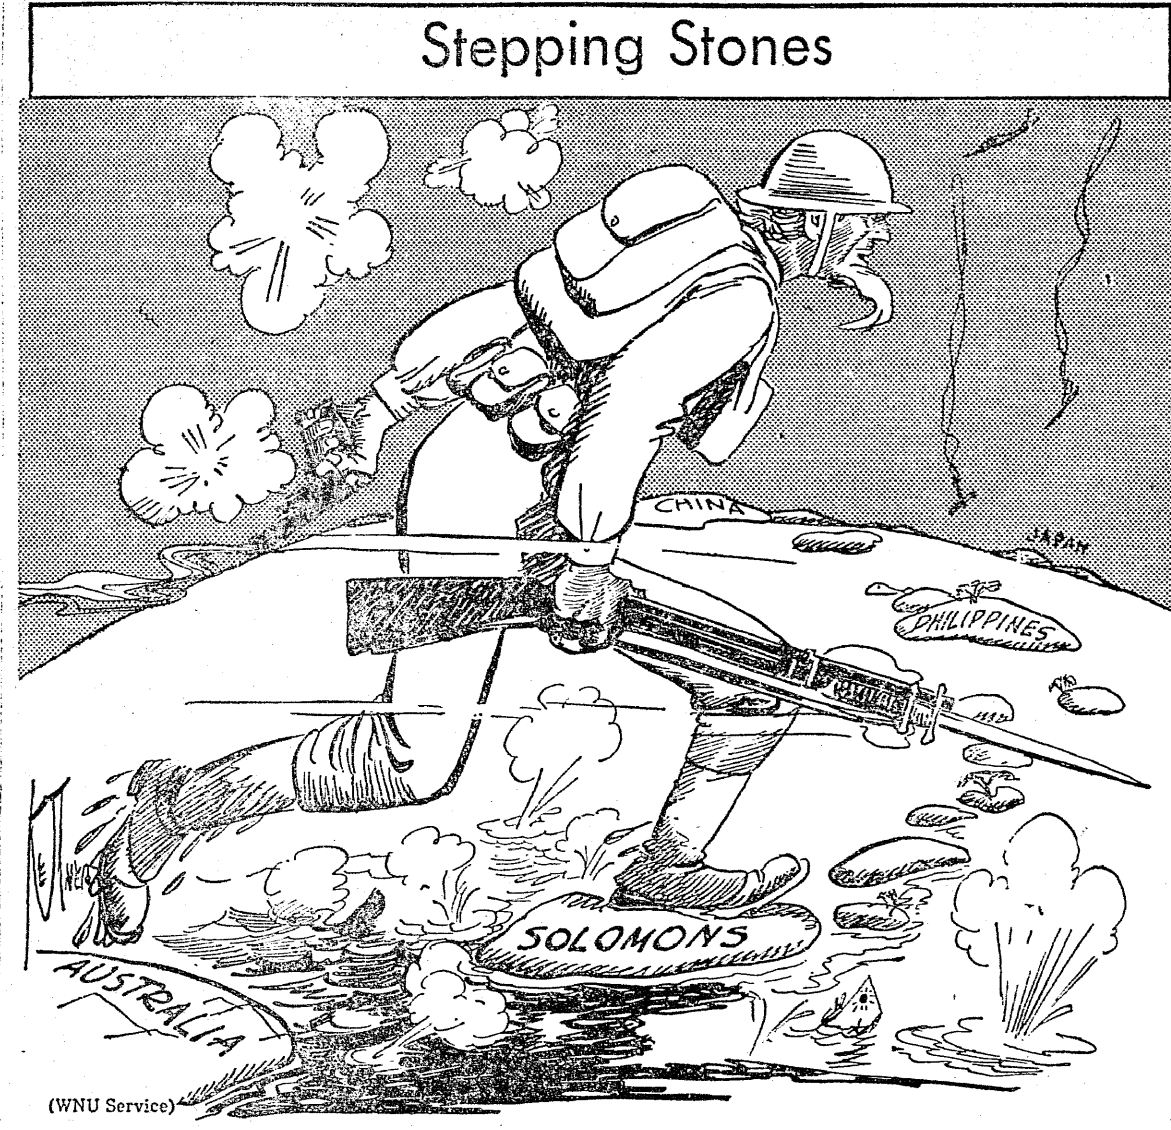

If the public has acquired delusions of grandeur to the effect that we've just about won the war, it is principally because they have not been told the truth about some of the bad things which have taken place and because some of the minor accomplishments have been blown up into major achievements or victories which they were not.

Back from his secretive jaunt about the countryside, Mr. Roosevelt announces that he finds public morale good and that everybody, as far as he could see, is going all-out to win the war. The President then proceeded to kick some of the Washington boys, including his personal choices, around a bit. This does not seem to be quite cricket for some of these subordinates are right under the President's thumb. Likewise, some of the confusion which has befogged the public's mind has had its start in the President's indefinite statements which sound beautiful but say little.

amount of equipment and manpower to do the job. Now, the scrap dealers inform some of the municipal chairmen that it will be many weeks before they will be able to get around to picking up the scrap in their towns.

The danger of leaving scrap laying around for weeks to come is that the public will adopt the "what's the use" attitude and become convinced that whipping up enthusiasm is just another one of the phony fervors that is thought up in Washington.

But, we know that this is only the beginning of an almost continuous salvage operation. Nothing should be done to permit groups to start spreading false rumors or for misconceptions of the real purpose to foment in the public's mind.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville Times.

by Meador Wright

Republican strategists in New Jersey are in the peculiar position where they fear the very thing that promises to produce large party gains in congress from the nation at large. National Republican success is predicated upon the premise that a general lack of interest will permit a return of normal Republican majorities in those states which Republicans controlled prior to Roosevelt and the New Deal. But in New Jersey the efficiency of the Hague machine threatens not only to counteract this general trend but actually to turn it to Democratic advantage. For the smaller the general vote the larger, relatively, will be the inevitable Hague majority in Hudson.

Actually, it is this mathematical aspect of the situation that makes the Albert W. Hawkes managers anxious. Otherwise, they would consider the election all but won. William H. Smathers was never popular in most sections of the state, and this former lack of popularity has given way to a positive unpopularity. But Smathers' unpopularity in Essex, for instance, will be cut in half if the vote is cut in half. Hague is certain to roll up a majority of 125,000 in Hudson. This can only be counteracted by an equivalent majority elsewhere. Thus, the Republicans are concentrating everywhere on getting out the vote. If this vote comes out they figure to win. If it doesn't, Hague's Hudson majority — it may go as high as 150,000 — is almost certain to be decisive.

Hague's personal foe, Governor Edison, is slipping badly politically as the unfortunate appointment of Charles P. Gilen would indicate, and this year's majority will be directed as much against him as for Smathers.

Some have raised the question whether even Hague can get out such a majority this year. The information I have is that he will get it out. Every potential voter in Hudson county has been catalogued for a long time. A few new residents have moved in due to the vast amount of defense work in the vicinity of Jersey City, but the general pressure to get everyone to vote will be so strong that these residents will go to the polls like the older inhabitants. Being labor-minded, a large majority would vote for Smathers anyway. This natural sentiment plus community pressure should give Hague near his normal ratio of more than five to one.

Women For Hawkes

Hawkes has one asset, however, that promises to stay with him. In his primary campaign women voters were among his most ardent followers. Women are expected to cast more than half the votes on November 3. Also, the Montclair man had the support of some strong little machines in various parts of the state. His managers dare not let these organizations get out of control, or, collectively, they can supply the best antidote to Hague's giant Hudson machine.

Representative Fred A. Hartley finds himself the center of interest in the general election campaign as he did in the primary, and for the same reason. His opponents believe they have the best chance of beating him. Fred Bigelow, Democratic nominee, is a man of good reputation. Vice-chancellor Bigelow is his brother, and he comes of a good Newark family. But he is little known throughout his district. Hartley has the same advantage against him that he had against William H. Williams in the primary: he has worked for years in the 10th district. The Newark News, however, is expected to endorse Bigelow and Hartley faces a grim night. At this stage of the campaign, though, Hartley looks like the winner.

Judge Joseph Siegler is making a hard fight against Robert W. Kean in the 12th district, but short of an unexpected Democratic sweep the latter's election is considered certain.

In the 11th district, William Freiday is expected to run well against Frank L. Sundstrom. I have heard local Republicans predict that Freiday will carry both South Orange where he lives and Orange where he grew up. Even so, the odds are on Sundstrom.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bergmuller of DeWitt avenue will leave Saturday for a short vacation with relatives in Long Island.

Tradition Wasn't Broken Saturday, But Re-Check Shows Zebras Scored 2 Points on Bengals

Grid System Just So Much Hokum If A Coach Doesn't Have Material To Put It To Practice

Tradition wasn't broken Saturday. The Bellboys did not cross Bloomfield's goal line—and for another year at least the Indian sign the Bengals have over our lads holds good. Since last week's piece which went back in history to 1839 (and not to 1939 as the proofreaders would have you believe), the phone's been jangling with inquiries whether we are sure or not about this point.

The original check of the record in our files on the Bloomfield-Belleville series which started in 1929 showed that the Blue and Gold had never scored a point on Bloomfield. Well, we were 90 per cent right. Like Mayor Williams, some of the Belleville grid followers demanded a recount. Belleville has never crossed Bloomfield's goal line, but—

In 1932, Belleville scored two points on Bloomfield in a game that the Foleymen won 6-2. So now the score between the two elevens according to our reckoning stands 166 for Bloomfield to 2 for Belleville. Those scoreless battles between the two clubs must be some sort of a record in the annals of schoolboy rivalries. In the 14 clashes between the two, there have been four goose egg battles—1937, 1938, 1940 and this year.

Ought To Return Home Unscarred

The Blue and Gold won't return to their home lot until Saturday, October 24, when they will meet their old friends (?) Irvington. They should get back without any marks of defeat to mar their complexions. Remember, they're twice tied, but still unbeaten. Saturday afternoon they will make a northern invasion to Teaneck which is the farthest from home that the boys will stray this season. The following week they will paddle across the Passaic hoping to bring home the Golden Bears of Lyndhurst wrapped up in the sack.

Teaneck, according to reports dribbling southward from the Bergen hills, is not as strong as last year's club which manhandled the Bellboys here last year, and Lyndhurst which tripped them in a 6-0 opener last season looks like a weak sister.

The Zebras will have to come back charged up with the victory bug for they will then stack up against three tough customers in a row—Irrvington, Hillside and Kearny. Garfield was able to overwhelm the Camptowners 13-7 only by taking to the air. Hillside, which has a big club, with a load of backfield passing and running dynamite, simply could not get going against an under-rated Kearny eleven which in a week's time unearthed a lot of football strength. After being walloped by Columbia High 19-0, the Hudson Redmen upset the dope and Hillside lost last week 6-0.

Hitting The Nail On The Head

Every year about this time the sports pages go into raves about some new grid system. Somebody's come up with a team that's rocketed through four or five opponents and rolled up tremendous scores while the other blokes have stood there and taken it. It's all because of the new Double Q-X system which Coach Blotz has perfected.

This week in one of the national magazines Benny Friedman, a veteran player and coach, pricks this blown-up theory. A system is just as good as the material a coach has at hand, Friedman says. If he hasn't got the material it doesn't make any difference whether it's the single or double wing, the Rockne, the T-formation or the snake eyes' doubt shift. This sort of an assertion has been a long time coming, and it's a blessing in disguise to many coaches who have been hounded by a victory-hungry alumni or fans to change the system.

Getting close to home, there are several good examples of the truth of Friedman's claims. For several years at Bloomfield, Bill Foley had unbeatable elevens that the opposition could not touch. Depending on power plus speed, the Bengals used the T-formation. Everybody went crazy about the T-formation. That was the secret of Foley's success. Tommyrot. Those Bengals would have won—double or single wing—or just pick up the ball and run.

Once Foley ran out of his wealth of grid bruisers he was back on the same level as most of the other schools in this section—and still using the much praised T-formation. Last year, Kearny's Coach Harold Rebholz, turned to the T-formation, hoping that it would be the solution to the Cardinals' none too happy grid existence. For the best part of the season, the Kards looked like a bunch of lost sheep trying to figure out what the devil was going on. They simply just didn't have the stuff in them.

For a couple of years Montclair was kicking around with a variation of the single wing grid style. They were belted plenty by Bloomfield, East Orange and Nutley to mention a few. Last year, Clary Anderson had veteran material and the Mounties went places—and with the same system they'd always been using. They can talk systems until they're blue in the face, but if a coach will really be honest about it, it's material that is the real key to winning.

Whirlaway In The Dukes' Stable

Whirlaway Johnny Walker may be the Iron Dukes' answer to a prayer for somebody to take galloping Frankie Cardinale's place in the backfield and as a thrill provider for the spectators who eat up spectacular runs. Cardinale is scheduled to go in the army in two weeks and has decided not to play any games with the Ironmen, fearful that he might receive some injury that would interfere with his engagement with Uncle Sam.

Coach Joe Vollmer was stumped about a replacement for Cardinale. While Walker had shown that he could cover ground fast, Vollmer wasn't sold on his chances against heavy opposition. The Duke mentor stuck the local lad in midway in the second period against Boonton Sunday and Walker landed on his sitdown spot before he got going. The blocking of the linemen was poor and charging Boonton forwards were through and smothering Walker quickly.

The third period was a different story. The locals' blocking was better and Walker in a few minutes showed that given a chance to get started he'll outrun the best of them.

Dukes Tackle Hudson Champs Sunday

Bayonne Pirates Rate Tough Foe; Cardinale Back With Ironmen

The Dukes are biting off a tough grid opponent for their second game on Sunday afternoon at the municipal stadium when they will tackle the Bayonne Pirates, who copped last year's Hudson county football championship.

Studded with stars of past elevens at Dickinson, Henry Snyder and James Ferris high schools in Jersey City and Bayonne high, the visitors have a line which averages 195 pounds and a backfield tipping the scales at close to a 190-pound average.

The Dukes were cheered this week by the news that Frankie Cardinale, line-plunging and broken field star of last year's team, would be back in uniform on Sunday afternoon. Cardinale did not play in Sunday's game with Boonton, but decided to take another crack at football this week and was on hand for practice Tuesday night.

Rated as the top man of the invading Pirates is Adam Sadow, who played last year with the Jersey City Giants of the American Football association. When the Giants folded this season, he tossed his lot with the next strongest club which could be found in the Hudson pro ranks. In past years, the Pirates have had strong elevens. Last year they played a scoreless tie with the Plainfield Saracens, members of the North Jersey grid loop this season. The Saracens showed Sunday that they are to be reckoned with in the circuit by holding the Camptowners 10-7.

Coach Joe Vollmer, particularly pleased with the performance of Johnny Walker in last Sunday's game, is expected to start him with Cardinale, George Tietze and Feraco to give the Dukes their strongest possible combination against the Pirates. Feraco had little chance to show his prowess as a passer on Sunday but did get away for several long end runs.

While he did not play for long against the Panthers, the Dukes have acquired another passer in Larry Kennedy, who was with last year's Bloomfield White Horses. Others in the supporting backfield to the No. 1 quartet are Nick Zuzio, who did most of the punting Sunday, Johnny Harrison, dusky grinder from Nutley high, and Charlie Burgi and Walt Butchko, blocking backs.

Vollmer was pleased with the showing that both Ken Cosgrove and Kippy Weston made at the end positions. Cosgrove played the wing post at Middlebury college for three years while Weston is another acquisition from the now defunct Bloomfield White Horses.

'Rec' Loops To Start Season November 1

Senior, Industrial And Church Leaders Meet Monday Night

Despite the loss of a number of players who have entered the service, the four basketball leagues which have been a feature of the recreation department's annual winter activities are planning to start their seasons shortly.

Representatives of the industrial, senior and church league teams are invited to attend a meeting which has been called by Recreation Director Edward Lister and his assistant, Ted Close, for Monday night at the recreation house in Joralemon street and Garden avenue. Those interested in the intermediate circuit, boys up to 19, are asked to meet at the recreation house next Thursday night.

Missing from the ranks of the senior, industrial and church circuits will be many who have been stars of teams in the past Whole teams have disappeared because of the entrance of men into the service, but the recreation department stresses that even though this has taken place they are bent on continuing the leagues this year, and individual players, even if they do not have a team, are asked to let Lister or Close know that they want to play. If a sufficient number of these players can be found, it may be possible that a sponsor for the team can be uncovered by the recreation department staff.

Wallace & Tiernan, Walter Kilde and the Rowe Manufacturing are definite candidates for this season's factory loop with Viking Tool, Federal Leather and Eastern Tool as possibilities. Nothing has been heard as yet from Eastwood Nealley which was one of the big-wigs in last year's league.

Teams already signed for the senior circuit include the Eagles and a club which will be led by Red VanDemark, well-known local basketballer. Still to be heard from are such teams as those which have represented the Rosery, Haffner's and Baldwin Brush in the past.

It is tentatively planned to start the leagues the first week in November. The intermediate league, if a number of quintets equal to that which played last year are signed will play at the high school and the Silver Lake Friendly House court.

Recent light fiction books at the library are: Sea Magic, Bassett; All Sails Set, Holton; Soft as Silk, Randall; Let's Pretend, Wright; Girl from Nowhere, Greig; Grimson Mountain, Hill; If This Be Destiny, Robins; Breath of Life, Baldwin; Wings for Juliet, Blizard; Volunteer Nurse, Duffield; Nurse, Logan; Problem Wife, Holmes. Sixteen $18.75 Bonds will pay for one PARACHUTE. Thousands of American airmen will live to fly again, thanks to parachutes paid for by those at home through War Bonds and Stamps.

These Are The Vitamins That Build Health and Energy

Vitamin A is the anti-infective and growth-promoting vitamin. Its lack results in susceptibility to colds and other ailments... its insufficiency in children results in scrawnyness and stunted growth. Principal source, halibut liver oil.

Vitamin B is "the spark plug of the human system"... it tones the nervous and digestive systems, promoting growth, appetite and energy. It also helps to remove lactic acid from the blood stream, thus eliminating the feeling of fatigue. Principal sources, yeast and wheat-germ.

Vitamin C protects and feeds the capillaries under the skin; it helps to heal wounds, and prevents scurvy. Modern diet is usually lacking in this vitamin because it is easily destroyed by cooking. Principal sources, tomatoes and oranges when freshly picked.

Vitamin D is the "sunshine" vitamin. Tests show that it remedies the disorders caused by the deficiency of ultra violet in this climate's sunshine. Without it, normal formation of blood and bone ceases, resulting in rickets, sagging muscles and decay of the teeth. Principal source, cod liver oil.

Vitamin E is the "anti-sterility" vitamin. It has additional important uses in that it promotes mental vigor and tones the muscles. Principal source, wheat-germ.

Vitamin G is the riboflavin factor of the B vitamin that improves stomach tone, remedies skin eruptions and loss of red blood corpuscles. Principal sources yeast and liver.

Vitamin Capsules With Liver and Iron contain all the vitamins you need (A, B, C, D, E and G) plus liver extract and iron. Two of these tiny tasteless capsules each day will make a new person of you. Box of 80, 1.89.

Halibut Liver Oil Capsules—Each capsule contains as much Vitamin A as 4½ teaspoons of cod liver oil, protects you against coughs and colds. Box of 50, 69c. Box of 100, 1.14.

Vitamin A and D Tablets—The modern, easy way to take cod liver oil; children like the candy-flavored tablets. Each tablet contains as much Vitamins A and D as a teaspoon of cod liver oil. Bottle of 100, 89c.

Halibut Liver Oil and Viosterol Capsules—Each capsule equals 4½ teaspoons of cod liver oil in Vitamin A, plus 3 teaspoons in Vitamin D. Box of 25 for 59c. Box of 100 for 1.69.

A-B-D-G Vitamin Capsules—The original "all-vitamin" capsule, each one as good as 4½ teaspoons of cod liver oil in Vitamin A, 3 teaspoons in Vitamin D, 2 cakes of yeast in Vitamin B, and a half-cake in Vitamin G. Take two a day for a healthy winter. Box of 25, 63c. Box of 100, 1.84.

High-Potency A-B-C-D-G Capsules—Biologically standardized so that each capsule contains the recommended daily adult requirement of the five important vitamins. Just one a day for health and vigor. Box of 25 for 98c. Box of 100, 2.57.

High-Potency Vitamin B Complex Capsules—Contain all five factors of the B vitamin. You'll soon feel amazing energy and robust health when you start taking this almost-magic formula. Bottle of 50, 98c. 100 for 1.79.

It's The Same Old Story, Zebras 0, Bloomfield 0

Findlay Leads Bellboy Drives; Penetrate Deep Into Bengal Territory Three Times; Touchdown By Bloomfield Canceled By Offside

Last Saturday at Foley Field, Bloomfield, 6,000 excited grid fans sat on the edge of their seats as a warm autumn sun beat down while watching Belleville high and the Bloomfield Bengals battle it out on the gridiron in a game which ended in a scoreless tie. For the 14th consecutive year the Bellboys have failed to push the pigskin across the Bengals' goal line.

Early in the game, the locals headed for pay dirt as Jim Findlay grabbed Bob Piefke's kickoff on his own 15-yard line and stroked up the field to the Bengal 45. A series of center plunges and end sweeps by Findlay, Bill Hunkle and Bob Melody netted three first downs, but the Blue and Gold was finally stopped by a 15-yard holding penalty.

A pass from Hunkle to Findlay picked up 15 yards and another to Ray Barna failed to give them the break they needed. The Bengals took the ball on their own 18-yard stripe.

Bloomfield stands went wild late in the third period as Frank Muehlheuser broke through center and bowled over the Belleville secondary as he raced 80 yards for a touchdown. Bill Chapman, Belleville assistant coach, pinch-hitting for one of the officials who failed to show up, called the play back because of offside.

Findlay Is Leader

Playing 11-minute quarters, Findlay seemed to be the Bellboys' main spearhead, repeatedly crashing through center with the able assistance from the line. Bob Cantaldi and Jim Caruso played exceptionally well on the line, both rushing in and breaking up Bloomfield plays many times.

In the second quarter the Zebras began a second march down the field with the combination of Findlay, Hunkle and Melody picking up most of the yardage on line plunges and end sweeps.

Capt. Piefke ended the threat by intercepting one of Hunkle's passes and romped 40 yards before being brought down on the Belleville 25. Moose Muehlheuser faded back to chuck a pass but finding no receiver, skirted five yards around right end. Findlay was a bit shaken up on the play and was replaced by Frank Andrews as the half ended.

At the beginning of the second half, Jim Caruso's kickoff bounded to the Bengal 30. See-sawing back and forth, the Bengals' T-formation being very effective, Muehlheuser dropped back to kick from his own 40, but the kick was blocked by the Zebra chargers. In return Hunkle sailed one to the Bloomfield 12.

The fourth quarter saw Findlay running the ends and crashing through center for two first downs.

Walker Leads Duke 7-0 Win Over Boonton

BHS Speedboy Sets Pace In Third Quarter Uprising

For more than two periods, the 1,500 or more grid fans who turned out to watch the Belleville Iron Dukes on Sunday afternoon wondered if this season's eleven would come close to equalling the fine record established by last year's spectacular football edition.

It took a sudden, third period uprising to convince the folks that this season's club has the stuff which can win football games and put on the sort of football show that the spectators want. For two quarters, the Dukes and the Boonton Panthers puffed and phewed up and down the municipal stadium turf Sunday afternoon in a scoreless deadlock with neither showing anything that would make the spectators think that they were earnest about winning a football game.

It was not until this period when Coach Joe Vollmer sprung wing-footed Johnny Walker from the bench that the Dukes uncorked the offensive strength that carried them to a touchdown and a 7-0 triumph over the stubborn visitors from Boonton.

In his high school days with Belleville high Johnny did plenty of pigskin legging, but never more hurriedly or spectacularly than he did with the Iron men on Sunday afternoon.

Blocking Improves Early in the third period the Dukes grabbed the ball on the Boonton 45. In the first two periods, the blocking by the Duke line had been pretty sad, but suddenly the forward wall sprung into action and started to bow the Panther defenders with considerable ease.

On his first ball-carrying effort Johnny romped 12 yards around right end. The next play he came right back again to skirt wide around left end, aided by good blocking, to the Boonton 16-yard marker and a first down. Walt Butenko bored his way through the center of the Panther line for three more yards. Bounding back again, Walker romped wide around left end to the four-yard line.

Twice the Boonton boys held on the four-yard line, but on the third play they were sucked in on a rake punge with Jimmie Orisini taking the ball from Walker on a delayed reverse and scampering wide to the left over the goal line untouched. Sureshot Johnny Reilly made the score 7-0 with a perfect boot between the uprights.

That offensive spirit was the ball game. Late in the second period the Dukes gave the fans something to cheer about when Frank Rusignuolo, an end, blocked one of Bob Mitchell's punts on the Boonton 28. Willie Feraco tried three passes which failed to get the locals any place so Reilly tried a field goal from the 20-yard stripe which was blocked.

Boonton never seriously threatened the Dukes' goal line until in the fourth period when they penetrated the Ironmen's territory to their first real threat.

Harrison Intercepts Taking over on the homesteaders' 34-yard mark, they started pegging passes but Johnny Harrison ended it quickly by intercepting a heave on the Duke 20 and speeding back to midfield before he was downed.

The first period opened with both teams feeling each other out and showing no offensive power. Although he had little opportunity to display his wares, Willie Feraco, ace passer at Nutley high last year, showed several times that given support and blocking he can accurately heave the ball. On several occasions, he also got away for long end sweeps. On the line Frank Rusignuolo, Herky Heimrich, George Zoppa and Johnny Reilly showed up as the best men.

Saturday Tilt A Breather?

TEANECK CLUB AN UNKNOWN

Bellboys Travel Saturday; Know Little About Bergen Eleven

The next two weeks on the high school football schedule appears from the distance as though it should be a breathing period for the Bellboys. After two tough tussles against Barringer and Bloomfield, the Zebras reason that nothing could be any tougher.

Saturday afternoon the Blue and Gold will make its longest trek of the season to Teaneck to return a visit the Bergenites made here last year. Next week they will meet Lyndhurst high.

Teaneck is an unknown quantity. The team did not play last week. The eleven it fielded last year was one of the best in its section and had little trouble in setting down last year's Belleville gridmen.

However, based on the showing which they have made in the past two weeks, the Bellboys are a much better club than they were last year. In both games, they have been victory bound only to be stymied at the last minute. Coach Larry Gates thinks that his boys should break out into a real scoring spree one of these days soon and Saturday may be the day.

All of the boys came through the tough tilt with Bloomfield in good shape and should be ready for Saturday's game. Jim Findlay bids to be the team's backfield standout on the basis of the ground gaining which he has done in the past two weeks while no single ace can be singled out on the line which has performed well in all games.

much opposition for the Zebras. Beaten by Rutherford 14-0 in their opener, they scored two touchdowns to beat a weak St. Mary's Parochial team of Rutherford 14-0 last Saturday.

The Blue and Gold return to Clearman field on Saturday, October 24, when they will meet an old rival, Irvington.
