

Extend Chest Drive To Nov. 15th; Only 43% Quota Raised

With less than 43 percent of its $35,000 quota raised, the Community-War Chest leaders extended the campaign until Sunday, November 15, last night after it appeared that returns were far below needs and a number of divisions had failed to turn in any reports at all.

Campaign Manager Hugh D. Kittle, with last night's receipts up until midnight included, announced that $14,902.62 had been collected in cash and pledges.

While the house-to-house division has nearly doubled the amount which was raised last year, the industrial section has yet failed to come through with the response which had been anticipated. Drive leaders were frankly disappointed at the failure of management and labor to respond with the financial strength which had been looked for based on what has been done by this branch of contributors in past years.

Of the total amount of $16,213.70, the industrial section in 1941 contributed $7,904.25. No reports have been received from the lodge commercial, post office, isolation or municipal employee groups. In sharp contrast, the school teachers and principals, who have played a major role in raising the money in the house division, have contributed an average of better than $5 per person in contributing $1,006. Other school employees, including janitors and maintenance men, have given $77. The lone $75 reported in the municipal employee column is from one worker.

Counted On Heavily
The industrial division, reporting $6,056.79, is counted on heavily to help pull the drive toward its goal although based on present indications even the most optimistic of chest chieftains is hopeful of reaching the $35,000 mark.

The situation locally is different from that in either Bloomfield or Montclair where both communities have raised between 90 and 95 per cent of the funds sought in their chest drives. In Newark, where it also appears hopeful that the campaign will go over the top, organized labor has promised to make up the difference between the amount which is raised and the goal which had previously been set.

Campaign Manager Hugh D. Kittle pointed out that in several instances where returns have been received from industrial plants, the contribution based on the number of employees amounted to less than 25 cents per worker. The majority of the school youngsters are doing better than that, Kittle remarked. Elwood Russell, who is the industrial chairman, is spurring his efforts to rouse greater enthusiasm and response among the industries this week.

With a report of $5,634.46 collected to date, the house division is well ahead of last year and Kittle is confident that they will double the 1941 returns when $3,128.13 was raised.

Following is the campaign report by divisions:

Industrial, $6,056.79; special gifts, $758.50; out-of-town $730; churches and organizations $96; clubs and veterans, $155.25; professional, $293.50; municipal employees, $75; teachers, $1,006; school employees, $77; school pupils, $15.12; and parent-teacher associations, $5.

No reports have been received from the lodges, commercial division or the post office or isolation hospital employees.

The breakdown in the house-to-house returns is as follows:

School No. 1, $343.80; School No. 2, $117.35; School No. 3, $1,854.60; School No. 4, $250.52; School No. 5, $844.34; School No. 7, $859.04; School No. 8, $767.48; School No. 9, $216.91; and School No. 10, $641.42.

GET 240 TONS IN SCRAP DRIVE

The town's first scrap drive resulted in a total collection of 240 tons, according to Andrew Salkeld, who had charge of the weighing in of the junk collected by Frank Resciniti, salvage dealer. In addition, it was reported that six autos were hauled away.

The salvage committee will receive approximately $1,800 for the scrap.

Work May Start Shortly On Main Street Paving

Work may start on the paving of Main street from Joramelo street to the Nutley town line before winter sets in. The state highway department yesterday authorized the awarding of a contract for the construction to Thomas Gallo of Irvington at $110,099.

The paving, which will be a six-inch concrete base on a three-inch bituminous surface with a paved and graded width of 40 feet.

The state's share of the expense, which will be approximately half, will be paid out of state aid funds.

WAR DEPENDENTS CAN GET HELP

Red Cross Will Assist In Filling Out Forms For Claims

The Red Cross chapter is prepared to assist soldiers and their dependents in preparing the official application form under the servicemen's dependent allowance act, it was announced yesterday. Information may be obtained from Frank Chambers, chapter chairman.

The war department has supplied the Red Cross, which is co-operating in the work throughout the country, with booklets explaining the provisions of the law and the forms which must be filled out. The application should be made by the soldier in every case where practicable. In certain circumstances, the application may be made by dependents or relatives. Soldiers on duty overseas may obtain application forms from their commanding officers. Relatives or dependents may obtain application forms from the nearest army office or from their local Red Cross chapter.

Allowed Six Months
If the application is made by a person other than the serviceman, documentary evidence must accompany the application. If the soldier himself makes the application, he is allowed six months to furnish documentary proof to the war department. Field directors will assist soldiers and chapters will aid departments in furnishing this evidence.

Pending the granting of allowances to servicemen's dependents, Red Cross chapters in nearly 4,000 communities are prepared to aid families who otherwise might suffer hardship because of the soldiers' military service.

Announce ARP Promotions Of Two Zone 2 Men

ARP promotions in Zone 2 were announced this week by Chief Air Raid Warden Edward J. Cantwell. William T. Hart of Section W of Sector 7 has been made assistant zone warden for the area. James Sorhagen, who was section warden of Section W, has been moved up to fill the vacancy caused by Hart's rise.

The promotions were prompted by good service, Cantwell said.

More Than Fines In Store For Speeding Drivers

A plan to inflict penalties more serious than fining is being worked out between the local war price and ration board and the police department, according to Norman D. Lauterette, local chairman of vital war transportation, who claims that the plan has been tried elsewhere.

The names of those found guilty of speeding will be turned over to the ration board and the violation will be given consideration when the guilty drivers apply for gasoline or tires.

Girl Scout Troops Show First Aid Work At Stores

Two Girl Scout troops, both directed by Miss Edna Baum, are sponsoring first aid displays in two Washington avenue stores this week. At the Federal Radio Shop at 302 Washington avenue, Troop 9 has an exhibit, while Troop 19's study of the subject is on view at the Kent Cleaners' store at 103 Washington avenue.

HAWKES GETS 60% IN G. O. P. SWEEP OF THE TOWN

Hartley Also Holds Up Well Locally; 6,573 Went To The Polls

Belleville was in step with the Republican sweep in Tuesday's election which was reflected throughout the state and nation as Albert W. Hawkes, Montclair industrial leader, led the G. O. P. ticket by receiving more than 60 per cent of the total vote cast.

Although he trailed slightly behind the rest of the Republican ticket, Belleville helped to place the plurality which boosted Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr. back into office over his Democratic opponent, Frederic Bigelow. Receiving 54 percent of the total vote of 6,573 cast, Hartley polled one percent less of the total vote than he did in the 1940 election when he led the town with W. Warren Barbour.

Topped by Hartley in only four of the town's 19 voting districts, Hawkes polled 3,982 votes to 2,028 for his Democratic opponent, William H. Smathers, the incumbent senator.

Making his best showing in the strongly Republican third ward, although he trailed Hawkes by nearly 300 there, Congressman Hartley polled 3,530 votes to 2,602 for Bigelow, who carried only two districts, the second in the first ward and the second in the fourth ward.

Democrats Quiet
In sharp contrast to the strong Republican force which was at all, the activity in Democratic circles, except for the effort to put across Bigelow, was quiet. The local party group held no mass meetings during the campaign at which candidates spoke and seemingly contented itself with bringing out the vote in nominally Democratic strongholds. The Republican drive hit its peak late last week under the direction of Town Leader Harry (Stoney) Machette and Commissioners King and Noll, and Raymond E. Mertz.

The King association, headed by Charles Nutt, held a mass meeting at its Washington avenue headquarters on Saturday night at which both Hawkes and Hartley appeared. The local organization concentrated its drive on pulling out the vote for Hawkes and Hartley and successfully carried the remainder of the G. O. P. ticket along with the two top candidates.

From early Tuesday morning until late afternoon, a squad of women were on the telephone calling voters and asking them to be sure and vote. It was estimated by Machette that more than 4,000 telephone calls were made.

The vote was light during the early hours but starting at about

MORE ACTIVITIES FOR BOY SCOUTS

Program Would Encourage Greater Participation In Defense Work

A program to promote greater activity by the Boy Scouts in civilian defense work and to build healthier boys was outlined at a meeting held Tuesday night in the Grace Baptist church under the direction of the town's new district executive, Robert D. Smith.

Attending the meeting were representatives of the 13 local troops including junior assistant scoutmasters, senior patrol leaders, patrol leaders and their assistants.

Impending new responsibilities and demands which will be made upon the scout organization were explained by Smith with emphasis on civilian defense activities such as the messenger service, the distribution of literature from house to house and participation in salvage drives.

Smith also outlined plans for more hikes, campaign trips and other outdoor events to strengthen the boys and make them healthier. So that the public will be better acquainted with the boys who are scouts, the new executive urged that uniforms be worn more frequently. To make it easier for some boys to get uniforms, a special trading post for exchanging outworn uniforms and insignia is being considered.

Assisting Smith at the meeting were Scoutmasters William Park, Robert Bartholomew and Bernard Holzman; Neighborhood Commissioner Robert G. Sutherland and Frank Parachini. A special report on programs which might be inaugurated was made by representatives of the various troops including Al Walker, Ed Munch, Allen Rosenberg, Charles Rame, Ed Denner, Bob France, Louis Zuehmer and Harry Boch.

Truck Owners Must Secure War Necessity Permits

Truck owners were reminded this week that all commercial vehicles must have secured their certificate of war necessity by November 15 to be eligible to operate after that date.

The warning was issued by Norman D. Lauterette, local conservation of vital war transportation, who pointed out that they must have the certification to secure gasoline ration coupons and be eligible for new or retrofitted tires.

All owners should have received an application for the certificate from the ODT central office in Detroit, Mich. If anyone has not, the ODT branch office at 1060 Broad street, Newark, should be contacted immediately to secure the form. Truck owners needing help may get in touch with Lauterette at the National Grain Yeast plant.

WILL REGISTER CARS NEXT WEEK

Ration Board Doesn't Have Details On Mileage Ration Program

The OPA today released the information that the registration of all passenger cars under the mileage rationing program will take place next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 12, 13 and 14. The announcement was made by James Keeney, Jr., state price administrator, as the first step in mileage rationing which becomes effective on November 22.

Ruel E. Daniels, ration board chairman, said last night that the local board had not yet received complete details on the latest registration plan and that no arrangements could be announced as yet. Because of the use of schools for the fuel oil consumer registration next week, Daniels said it would be difficult to announce plans at this time, until further information is received.

Passenger car owners Kerney said, will be asked to call for the registration forms at designated school houses in each community on those dates, fill in the required information and mail the forms to the war price and rationing board.

The registration form (R-534) was described by rationing officials as very simple, merely requiring the entry of information from the motor vehicle registration card, plus the serial numbers of the five tires permitted each passenger vehicle, and the serial numbers and dates of issue of all gasoline ration books in the possession of the applicant.

Rationing boards will then return to each applicant by mail the tire inspection record part of the registration form. Each passenger car owner is required to keep this tire inspection record in his possession at all times, and to present it when having his tires inspected by official OPA tire inspection stations.

A and D gasoline ration book holders are required to have tires

John Lawlor, Jr. Is One Of Youngest Non-Coms

High Street Youth, Well-Known In Basketball And Baseball Circles Commissioned At 20 In Air Corps; Is Stationed In Florida

Becoming a sergeant in the Army Air Forces when only 20 years of age is the record of John J. Lawlor, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lawlor of 11 High street, Belleville, New Jersey.

Sergeant Lawlor said he enlisted because he foresaw the entry of the U. S. into the war, and since he was interested in anything connected with air planes, he chose the branch of service that he was most qualified for. Since entering active service in January 1941, he has risen rapidly in the ranks of non-commissioned officers. He was promoted to private first class in January, 1942; to corporal in May, 1942 and to his present rank in August of this year.

Having successfully graduated from Casey Jones School of Aeronautics, and the advanced airplane mechanics school at Scott Field, one of the air forces' numerous technical training schools, Sergeant Lawlor is on duty here at the air forces proving ground command as the crew chief of one of Uncle Sam's fighting planes.

Lawlor was formerly employed by the Hanlon and Goodman Co. of Belleville.

The tremendous increase in army personnel has given a great opportunity to those men of 18 and 19 years of age who can prove

TOWN 'GUINEA PIG' FOR NEW TIN CAN COLLECTION PLAN

Beverage Stores Will Act As Agencies For Taking Tin From Residents

Belleville will be used as a "guinea pig" in a salvage sense, according to an announcement made yesterday by Sidney A. Browne, chairman of the tin collection division, following a conference with Joseph Scarry, county salvage chairman, and representatives of the beverage industry.

Anxious to do its part in the nation-wide salvage drive, the beverage concerns, including the breweries and soda water dispensers, have presented a plan for the collection of tin which they believe more workable than the present system.

Browne said that Belleville would be used as an "example" town and if the plan proved a success here it would be put to use universally throughout the state. Cans are now collected from householders by the scavenger once each month. Under the new arrangement householders will be able to take their prepared tin cans to any store which deals in beverages, whether it is a liquor store or tavern or a confectionery.

Pick Up Each Week

Each week trucks from the beverage companies will pick up the tin cans and give the store a receipt for the number which have been picked up. Browne emphasized that the cans collected by the industry would all go directly into the war effort and would not be diverted for any special benefit of the beverage firms.

For those persons who are not able to reach any store, Browne said that town trucks would be available "to pick up the cans on the last Thursday of each month. Residents may call the town hall, the tin leader said.

Browne explained that a plan is now under consideration for a tin can depot on every block to be located at the home of the air raid warden for that street. He said that arrangements are being worked out with the ARP heads and that an announcement could be expected shortly.

He said that he believed the new plan worked out with the beverage industry would be workable, pointing out that one of the chief complaints of residents is that under the past system, in which collections were made every two months or once a month, they have not had the room to store the cans.

All storekeepers and managers are having the plan explained to them by representatives of the companies this week, Browne said, and he anticipated that by the weekend some of the places would be accepting the cans with all in operation within another week.

He reported that 12 tons of tin cans were collected in last Thursday's drive, still far short of the quota of 2 1/2 tons per month set by the WPB.

May Fill Board Vacancy Tuesday Or Throw Issue Into Lengthy Deadlock

Draft Board Again Assails Anonymous Letter Writers

The members of the draft board yesterday again assailed those who send to them anonymous letters concerning the status of registrants. Explaining that there is a reason for every classification which is not known to those who pen unsigned letters, the board requested that they be signed, assuring that the identity of the writer would not be disclosed.

The complete statement by the board follows:

"On various occasions the selective service draft board has received anonymous communications with relation to the classification of certain registrants. The board has on previous occasions in public print requested that such communications be signed, and show the address of the sender. There is a reason for every classification which is not known by the writers of anonymous letters. These things could be very easily adjusted if the board could only contact the sender of the letter."

"The board welcomes any information which a citizen may be able to supply if it is known to be authentic and correct. If any of the senders of anonymous letters in the past will communicate with the local board they are assured that their identity will not be disclosed. They will be given courteous treatment and the information satisfactorily. Such information is naturally welcomed by the board."

ALTER DEFENSE COUNCIL SETUP

John Hewitt Leads Consolidated Group; Dr. Irwin New Medical Leader

Appointment of two new defense council chairmen was announced this week. John J. Hewitt, welfare director and overseer of the poor, has been named chairman of the local war services committee, and Dr. James R. Irwin will head the emergency medical service division.

Replacing Dr. Edward A. Flynn who was forced to resign. The action, headed by Hewitt marks a sweeping change in the defense council organization as planned by the state defense boards. The efforts of Col. Leonard B. Dreyfuss, state civilian defense chairman, and his staff have been directed toward dividing local defense councils into two branches—emergency and economic.

Hewitt will have charge of the so-called economic or non-protective sections. He will have charge of the following sub-committees: salvage and child care, with particular emphasis on the care of children who are employed in war industries, health, general welfare, consumer interests, education, recreation and housing and evacuation.

Other Members
Other members of the committee which will work with Hewitt in charge of the divisions named above include: Edward Lister, recreation; Wayne R. Pomeroy, education; Dr. Morris Boehlin, housing and evacuation; R. G. Sutherland, salvage; Mrs. Julia O. Reiser, welfare; and Ralph A. Lave, consumer interests.

Dreyfuss has informed the local board that in cases where it is found advisable several regional committees may be combined into one committee.

The emergency medical service section has charge of the operation of first aid and casualty stations with its personnel made up of physicians, registered nurses, first aid workers and stretcher bearers working in cooperation with the ambulance corps and the Red Cross.

School No. 7 Pupils Swap Rubbers And Galoshes

Children are bringing to School No. 7 for the purpose of exchange at the rubbers and galoshes that they have outgrown, but which are in good wearable condition. These are exchanged for pairs in like condition, that fit them.

New Manager

Schuyler S. Eldridge

The appointment of Schuyler S. Eldridge as manager of the Sears, Roebuck and company store at 165 Washington avenue became effective Monday. Eldridge lives in Union. He has been with the company 15 years and has gained wide experience in merchandising and store operation.

HONOR WAR DEAD ON WEDNESDAY

Judge Hartshorne Will Speak At Armistice Day Program In High School

The general public will join with the members of the town's veteran organizations in paying tribute to World War I dead at an observance to be held in the high school next Wednesday night at 8 p. m.

The principal speakers will be Common Pleas Judge Richard D. Hartshorne and Mayor Williams. George H. Weston, chairman of the veterans' committee which has arranged the program, will be master of ceremonies. Plans for the tribute have been made by representatives of the local post of the American Legion and George F. Younginger post of the V. F. W.

Members of all patriotic organizations, police and fire reserve, and other defense volunteers are invited. Gold Star mothers of the past war and the present one, who could be contacted, have also been asked to be present. The Boy Scouts will act as ushers while Girl Scouts will distribute handbills throughout town notifying residents of the meeting.

Several Soloists

Music will be furnished by the high school orchestra directed by Mrs. Alice Wagner, and several soloists including Miss Josephine Rossi, Miss Alice Green and Charles Christell will sing. They will be accompanied by Miss Palma DeNoia and Arthur Ackerman. Community singing will be led by Charles Watson.

Memorial services will be held on Sunday night at the Congregation A. A. with Rabbi Rubin R. Do in preaching. Members of the veterans organizations will attend.

On Wednesday morning memorial services will be held for those who died in the first world war and the present one with the placing of wreaths at monuments in front of the town hall and at St. Peter's cemetery and in front of the V. F. W. hall in Belleville avenue. School children and Boy and Girl Scouts are invited to attend the brief services which will be held in front of the town hall at 11 a. m.

Number of Local Youths Sent to Missouri Camp

A number of local youths who were inducted in the last draft all have been shipped to the signal corps replacement training center at Camp Crowder, Mo., according to a letter from Pvt. Joseph Cernero who is assigned to the 114th signal radio intelligence company there.

In camp with him are Jerry Longo, Ray Tenpenny, Robert Angel, Don Burns, Martin Byrnes, Johnny Challela, Dorphie Paul, Pat Costello, "Hoot" Lyman and George Butler.

High in the Ozarks, near Neosho, Mo., Cernero writes that the boys like the camp although it is very windy there.

More Housewives Saving Fats And Greases Now

Summarizing the activity of the salvage committee during October, Chairman Robert G. Sutherland reported last night that 187 tons of scrap metal and other junk had been collected. Housewives have turned in a total of 862 pounds of fats and greases, an increase of about 20 percent over September. Twelve tons of tin cans were taken in last Thursday's drive.

A new commissioner may be named at next Tuesday's meeting of the town commission, or the session may be the spark which will touch off a long, drawn-out deadlock.

Two members of the board, Commissioners Noll and King have already publicly declared for Raymond E. Mertz, who was the sixth man in the May commission election. Mayor Williams and Commissioner Waters have thus far maintained tight-lipped silence on the question of filling the vacancy caused by the death of Commissioner William D. Clark, public safety director. Commissioner Waters stated shortly after Clark's passing that he would not consider a successor for 30 days and Williams went along with him on the thought.

There has been no conference of the commissioners held on the question of filling the vacancy and the scheduling of one between now and Tuesday has not been announced. It is expected that either King or Noll will introduce a resolution with the other seconding it for the appointment of Mertz.

Mertz himself has had nothing to say publicly. It is known that he has written to each of the commissioners putting his case before them and the reasons why he believes that he should be named to the board. However, while he has been publicly silent, some of his supporters have not. They have been bent on winning support for their man and were overjoyed at the public statements by King and Noll.

Mertz At Luncheon

Observers were attempting to weave a pre-election incident into the pattern of what will happen. Last week a luncheon was held at the Wallace & Tiernan plant which was attended by a number of executives from local firms as well as outside of town. Among those present were Mayor Williams and Commissioners Noll and King, and Mertz, in addition to Charles Noll, a close political associate of Mertz. The presence of Mertz at the affair was a surprise in circles where the luncheon, which was held in the interest of U. S. Senator-elect Albert W. Hawkes, was told. Mertz has not been among the active leaders in Republican circles of recent date.

Noll and King have both stated "speakably" during the past week that they will not alter their position and the naming of Mertz under any circumstances. In the statements which they have made, both directors have emphasized that they believe the vote given Mertz by the people in the May election should be the guiding factor in the naming of a successor to Clark. However, such has not been the case in past Belleville campaigns. The sixth man has never been named to fill a vacancy, but in 1926 when the late John B. DeGraw resigned from the board several months after the election, Commissioner Waters, who was the seventh man, was named to fill the unexpired term and he has been on the commission ever since.

Other suggestions for the vacancy are few. The name of Harry J. Sullivan, defense coordinator, continues to be mentioned. A few still insist that Mertz is the only logical choice and defense council chairman will be persuaded to accept the post. Smith, who is a member of the Newark law firm of Reed, Reynolds and Smith has emphatically insisted that he is not interested in being a commissioner and that he would not take the job if it were offered.

It is expected that there will be a large turnout for Tuesday's meeting which is scheduled to start at 8 p. m.

Citizens' Handbook Being Distributed By Council

The defense council has obtained from the United States office of civilian defense a number of booklets entitled "What Can I Do?" It is a citizens' handbook designed to acquaint them with the numerous ways in which they can participate in the civilian war effort, listing specific duties for men, women and boys and girls.

Copies may be obtained on the first floor of the town hall at the office of Harry J. Sullivan, defense coordinator.

inspected every four months, while B and C and supplemental D book holders must submit tires for inspection every two months. The first inspection must be made between November 22 and January 31, 1943.

State OPA headquarters emphasized that the new mileage program, which extends tire eligibility to all passenger vehicles for essential driving, in no way "lets down the bars" in the matter of rationing tires. The new program, they said, is designed to supply rubber for only the minimum essential miles each passenger vehicle must travel in order to perform only the most vital business.

All Must Cooperate

The full potential of the program, it was emphasized, cannot be realized unless each driver cooperates to the fullest extent in selling to the government all passenger tires in excess of five, strictly observing the 35-mile an hour speed limit, and complying with the periodic tire inspection requirement.

The mileage rationing program combines gasoline and tire rationing in one plan in accordance with recommendations by the Baruch committee. While no drastic changes have been made in gasoline rationing, tire rationing has been broadened to provide eligibility for tires for essential driving by all vehicles. Retreading service and various grades of new tires and retreads and used tires will be made available, within quota limitations, for all essential driving on the following basis:

1. Applicants who hold A or A and B ration books (560 miles a month and less), and who meet excessive or insufficient and will adjust the ration accordingly.

6. Upon notification of approval from the board the applicant will call for his tire purchase certificate which he will sign and, take to a tire dealer or recapper and secure the tires or recapping services designated by the purchase certificate.

Dec. 12 is Deadline

7. All passenger car applicants for tires or gas will be required to sell to the government before December 12 all passenger tires in excess of those mounted on running wheels plus one spare tire vehicle. All other persons, except dealers, manufacturers, and government agencies, will also be required to sell their excess passenger type tires to the government.

8. No car owner guilty of tire abuse is eligible for tires or retreading. Tire abuse includes failure to comply with the regulation requiring periodic tire inspection, and driving over 35 miles an hour.

Commercial vehicles such as trucks, buses, vehicles for hire or rental, must have their tires inspected every two months or every 5,000 miles, whichever comes first.

Tires for commercial vehicles holding certificates of war necessity will be issued by the rationing board strictly on the basis of need, eligibility and quota. The certificate by itself does not require that tire purchase certificates must be granted by a rationing board. Tire eligibility for commercial vehicles will remain limited to most of the classes now eligible under the present tire rationing regulations.

It was pointed out that one of the chief changes in gasoline rationing made under the new program would be in the method of handling applications for supplemental gasoline rations. On and after November 22, all industrial plants, power generators or transmission facilities, public utilities, transportation or communication facilities, and agricultural, extractive, military or naval establishments employing 100 or more workers must establish an employer-employee transportation committee to which all employees must make application for supplemental gasoline rations.

All other applications for supplemental gasoline rations will be handled by an advisory transportation panel connected with each rationing board. The panels will be formed by boards throughout the state within the next two weeks.

HAWKES

4 p.m. the people began flocking to the polls, especially in the third ward and sections of the fourth ward. The voting in the first ward and the Silver Lake section was light throughout the day. The two Silver Lake districts polled one of the lightest votes in recent years. Workers reported that the number of voters employed in war plants both during the day and night hampered getting the vote out in some districts. Calls to be driven to the polls were as few as most residents patriotically walked.

Hawkes ran ahead of the ticket, receiving 446 votes in the first ward, 1,077 in the second, 1,572 in the third and 868 in the fourth. Smathers polled 317 in the first, 611 in the second, 588 in the third and 512 in the fourth.

Assemblyman Dominic A. Cavichia, Clean Government Assembly ticket leader, paced the remainder of the slate with 3,808 votes to 2,059 for James V. Gartland, who was the Democratic Assembly No. 1 man.

Easier Than In 1935

Although this election was the one in which he had the most formidable and determined opposition during the 14 years which he has spent in congress, Hartley by comparison did much better here than he did in the 1936 election when he beat Lindsay H. Rudd and survived the Roosevelt landslide of that year. In Belleville at that time Hartley squeezed through 4,953 to 4,052. It was the third ward which saved the day for him here, giving the representative 2,022 votes to 990 for the Democrat. Hartley had an easier time in 1938 when he trimmed Rudd in town 5,062 to 2,689.

Both Hartley and W. Warren Barbour, seeking re-election as U. S. Senator, polled more votes in the 1940 election than did Wendell Wilkie, the ticket leader. Hartley received 6,403 votes to 4,322 for William Holmwood, while Barbour edged James Cromwell 6,492 to 4,134. Hartley received 55 percent of the total vote of 11,595 out of a registration of 12,731, and Barbour was given 56 percent. There were 12,401 people eligible to vote on Tuesday.

There was minor activity among some Republicans who would not vote for Hartley because of his non-interventionist record prior to Pearl Harbor. It was reflected in the voting since the representative trailed the rest of the ticket between 200 and 300 votes for the town. He was 452 votes behind Hawkes whereas two years ago he trailed Barbour by only 89 votes.

Mayor Cave Bigelow Edge. In a roundup of opinions from suburban political leaders on Monday, Mayor Williams, who was Hartley's opponent in the September G.O.P. primaries, was quoted as stating that the election would be reasonably close "with the odds favoring Bigelow." Edward Aberson, local attorney, who was associated with Williams in his campaign predicted that Bigelow would be elected in the same story by a close margin, but stated that Hawkes would be named as senator.

Commenting on the results in Tuesday's election yesterday, Chairman Machette said: "On behalf of the Belleville Republican county committee I would like to take this opportunity to thank the voters of the town and also the men and women who volunteered their services so generously to help Belleville in giving the Republican candidates the usual majority."

SALVAGE

lished and what is planned, Browne said:

"I wish to report on my findings of the tin can collection of October 29. The total collection was approximately 12 tons, which means that our average collection is about six tons a month. The quota that has been set for Belleville by the Essex County Tin Salvage is 26½ tons per month. You can readily see that we are far from meeting the quota."

"To insure that the collection was being properly handled, and most efficiently, I personally followed the truck through 35 miles of streets in Belleville and I wish to state that the job done by our garbage contractor, Charles Cuzzo, should be commended."

No Cans At All

I was very much surprised to see that a large percentage of homes had no cans at all. I was also surprised to see many of the cans were not properly prepared, or the cans mixed up with articles of other types of scrap. In many cases, I brought it to the attention of the householder and I feel that their cooperation will be given at the next collection.

"In order that Belleville can fulfill its quota, and it must fill that quota, your salvage committee has completely reorganized the collection of tin cans and hereafter collections will be made monthly instead of every other month, on the last Thursday of each month."

"The plan we now have is this: All stores handling any kind of beverages will act as a depot for the tin can collection, which means that your neighborhood candy, delicatessen, grocery, butcher, liquor store, etc. will be a tin can collection depot and you may deposit your tin cans there at any time. This is made possible through the beverage industry which will assume the responsibility of advertising, collecting and recording said collections from each store and then make its returns to the town. It should be understood here that the tin collected will go 100 per cent for the war effort and not for any benefit for the beverage industry itself."

Further, for those persons who do not shop personally or feel that they cannot carry the cans to the stores, the town's trucks will collect the cans either from house to house, or from a central depot at each block, namely, your air warden's home. This collection will be made in each district of Belleville simultaneously. Hence, the collection will be made in a much shorter time than the past collections.

Now that your salvage committee has done everything to make it the most convenient for you to save tin cans, do not throw any cans away, but deposit them wherever it is most convenient for you. In this way, I know we can reach our quota."

active in local basketball, baseball and football circles. Although he did not play with the high school teams, he was a member of the Fals, a well-known semi-pro club.

Officer Candidate

Candidate Wallace R. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Shaw of 128 Forest street, entered the army administration officer candidate school at Mississippi State college Stockville, Miss. two weeks ago. Formerly stationed at Fort Belvoir, Va., Candidate Shaw has been in the army since May. He was graduated from Belleville high school and Rutgers university and was employed by the Prudential Insurance Company.

Second Lieut. Avery C. Kelsall was a surprise visitor last week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kelsall of Preston street. Graduating on Saturday, October 24th from the air technical school at Chanute field, Rantoul, Ill., he received his commission and was ordered to report to Washington, D. C. Thursday evening and await his next assignment.

On the way east, he stopped off at Wilson college, Chambersburg, Pa. to see his sister, Miss Ann L. Kelsall. He enlisted last January in Louisville, Ky. where he was employed by the Louisville Gas and Electric company. He started his course as an aviation cadet in ground engineering on June 2.

He was accompanied by his classmate, Second Lieut. James C. Oliver of Wichita Falls, Tex. The two young men spent Wednesday in New York sight seeing.

Charrier Promoted

Sgt. Charles H. Charrier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Charrier of 154 Academy street, was among the 22 enlisted men promoted this week in headquarters detachment, station complement, at Fort Jackson, S. C.

The local men stepped up from staff sergeant to technical sergeant.

Lieutenant in Marines Edward Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Klein of 152 Ralph street, was recently commissioned first lieutenant in the marine corps. He is stationed with the quartermaster division in Washington, D. C. Previously a traveling machinist with the army for three years, Lt. Klein was graduated from Belleville high school and was with the Crucible Steel company of Harrison and the Wright Aeronautical company's Paterson plant.

Two More In Navy

Recent enlistees in the navy are Donald Bowden, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bowden of 239 Greylock parkway and Raymond Banks, son of Mrs. Charlotte Banks of 78 Beech street. The former, who was graduated from Belleville high school in 1941 and was employed by the Fireman's Insurance company of Newark, has reported to Bainbridge, Md. for training. Banks is stationed at the Great Lakes naval training station. He was with the Resistoflex corporation and was graduated from the local high school last June.

James W. Burns of 56 Essex street, who enlisted in the navy several weeks ago, was called to active service yesterday. He is the son of Mrs. Ruth Burns and has been with L. Bamberger and company for the past five years. He was graduated from Belleville high school.

Mrs. Burns was hostess at a surprise farewell party for her son Sunday night. Friends arranged a second party for him at the Elks' club Monday night and on Tuesday evening Burns was guest of honor at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rafter of Rossmore place.

William V. Natale of 156 Joram street, apprentice seaman, is stationed at the naval training station in Newport, R. I. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Natale. Two brothers, Thomas and James Natale, are in the army.

Army Chapel to Be Scene Of Cataldo-Yaksik Wedding

Miss Mildred Yaksik of Elizabeth and 2nd Lt. Henry Cataldo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cataldo of 81 Charles street, will be married Sunday afternoon in the post chapel at Fort Monmouth. Miss Yaksik is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Yaksik of West Virginia.

Lt. Cataldo, who was commissioned in April, has served in the army for 18 months. He was graduated from Belleville high school in 1934 and from Newark College of Engineering in 1938. He was formerly an engineer in government employ in Montana.

HOLD HALLOWEEN PARTY FOR SON

William Rosses Entertain;
Stitch And Chatter
Club Meets

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Ross of Prospect street gave a Halloween supper party for their son, Robert Allen, on Friday night. Karen Brown, Craig Brown, Billy Crover, Philip Slusser, Eugene Bisher, Beverly Spotts and Tommy Ruge were guests.

The Rosses also held a christening for their youngest daughter, Sally Andrews Ross, in October at the Wesley Methodist church. Rev. Edgar M. Compton officiated at the ceremony at which Sally's godparents, Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Andrews Ross of Palmetto, Pa., and her grand uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Bittner were present.

An afternoon Halloween party was held Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sooy of Howard street. Their son, E. Joseph Sooy, was host to his classmates, Carol Runtterfund, Arlene McDonnell, Georgetta Baumgartel, Regina Meehan, Patricia Ann Flynn, Beverly Shaw and Joseph Andrews, James Leonard, Joseph Jeffers, Edward and John Shaw, Ernest Hahn, Michael and James Flynn and Frank Carragher 3rd.

James David Price, freshman at Lehigh university, spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Lillian S. Price of DeWitt avenue. He was graduated from Belleville high school in June.

George M. Baurhenn, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Baurhenn of 301 Union avenue, has recently been appointed circulation manager of the Student Weekly, campus newspaper of Franklin and Marshall college at Lancaster, Penna.

Baurhenn, a sophomore, is a graduate of the Belleville high school.

Miss Katherine Kondreck of this town was graduated last Thursday evening from the nursing school of Newark Memorial hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kondreck of 143 Ralph street. Miss Kondreck was graduated from the local high school in 1939.

Pianist Schnabel Is Pleased In Return As Recitalist

Small, wiry, white-haired, Arthur Schnabel, opened the Fifth Anniversary Season of the Griffith Music Foundation on Sunday afternoon at the Mosque.

Mr. Schnabel returned to the stage after a year's absence spent in composing. He still showed all the verve and subtlety that he previously exhibited. Considered the greatest living interpreter of Beethoven, Schnabel nevertheless applied himself solely to Mozart and Schubert. The nuances exhibited in the passages of the Schubert were extremely moving. His finger dexterity is something to be marveled at, while his devotion to the mood of each movement is equally pleasurable. One could almost dance to the Mozart minuet, be lulled to drowsiness by an allegro of Schubert's and then be suddenly and rudely thrust back to attention by the force and vigor of a scherzo. Schnabel executes his arpeggios in a peculiarly different style, turning his palm and part of the hand inward so that arpeggio progress fluidly and with utmost clarity.

Schnabel is aware of the audience until he plays the first note and then he is absolutely lost in the music. Two eccentricities which distinguish him from other pianists are the fact that he plays one bar before every selection while waiting for the audience to quiet down and he also insists on using a high backed damask covered chair. The reason for the use of the chair lies in the fact that he once had an accident with a piano stool which broke during a concert and has since carried his own chair with him.

Schnabel was born in Austria and was an accomplished pianist at the age of seven and at fifteen had made his concert debut. After his first American tour he returned to Europe to gain a similar reputation as a teacher to that which he enjoyed as an artist.

The audience was hearty in its approval but Schnabel merely bowed and refused a Beethoven encore for which every one was waiting.

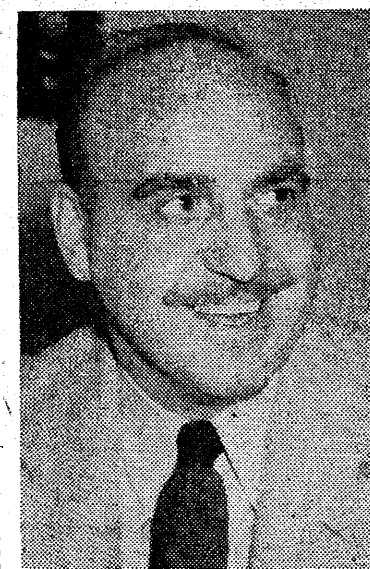

Sgt. MacDonald's Marriage To Long Island Girl Told

Sergt. Roderick J. MacDonald, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. MacDonald of Schuyler street was married two weeks ago Sunday to Vivian G. Hawkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Hawkins of East Setauket, L. I. in the Church of the Infant Jesus with Rev. Rex, presiding.

Mrs. John Osborn of Jamaica, L. I. attended the bride as matron of honor and Miss Marion Gaynor of Port Jefferson and Miss Caroline Hawkins, the bride's cousin, were bridesmaids. James A. MacDonald of Belleville, brother of the bridegroom was the best man and ushers were Sergt. Robert Noonan of Boston, and Sergt. Harry Burke of Newark.

Mr. MacDonald was graduated from St. Peter's and Belleville High School and formerly worked in Onahoe. Miss Hawkins was graduated from Setauket High School and worked for the N. Y. Telephone Co. before her marriage.

One of the features will be a cafeteria which will be operated on all three nights in charge of Mrs. Smith. The basement of the church building in which the bazaar is to be held will be decorated in patriotic colors.

START LECTURES FOR ARP GROUPS

Fire, Gas Training Begins Monday Night For New Wardens

A series of instructive lectures for air raid wardens who have joined the force since the classes were last held during the spring will be started next week in the five zones under the direction of Harry J. Sullivan, defense coordinator. Those interested in joining the ARP are invited to enroll in the classes.

The one-night lectures in gas and fire defense will be given by Sidney Kauffer, Washington avenue druggist, and Fire Lieut. William Gilchrist.

The first class for wardens in Zone 5, covering Silver Lake, will be held in School No. 4 on Monday night. At the Recreation house next Thursday night, those in Zone 4 will meet. The Zone 3 group will meet on Monday night, November 16. No dates have been set for lectures in Zones 1 and 2.

John Robertson Reports For Navy Duty At Newport

John Robertson of 46 Crescent terrace, who enlisted in the U. S. naval reserve in September, reported Saturday for training at Norfolk, Va., where he is with the Sea Bees, navy construction battalion. His rating is 2nd class petty officer.

Robertson, who was born in Scotland, came to this country from Canada in 1923 and went into construction work with his brother-in-law, James L. Davidson. Twelve years ago they began operation of the service station at 414 Washington avenue. Mrs. Robertson is the former Miss Beatrice Reynolds who was born and has always lived in Belleville.

Robertson was in the munitions service in Canada during the last war. He instructed members of the present local Red Cross motor corps in mechanics courses last year. Dr. and Mrs. James Irwin of Clearman place were hosts at a dinner in his honor last Wednesday evening.

Robert Bangert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bangert of Cedar Hill avenue is expected home this week-end from Syracuse university where he is a senior. Robert is pledging Theta Chi this year and is also a member of Scabbard and Blade, honorary R. O. T. C. society. He is a cadet captain in the R. O. T. C. and his major is forestry.

St. Peter's Halloween Party

The eighth grade of St. Peter's school had a Halloween party on Friday night. Chairmen for the party were: Rita Carragher, refreshment committee; Patricia Dempsey, game committee; William Donnelly, decorative committee; Bartholomew Raccoburton, clean-up committee.

All the decorations were original with a center piece constructed as the home of the "Halloween witch", planned by the decoration committee under the leadership of William Donnelly. The children were in masquerade and prizes were given for the most original costume. Invitations were extended to the lower grades, the faculty, and Father Kelly. Halloween games were played during the party.

Genevieve Tice Betrothed To Army Lieutenant

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tice of Smallwood avenue have announced the engagement of their daughter, Genevieve F. Tice, to Lt. C. Donald Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carlson of Seattle, Washington.

Miss Tice attended Montclair and Bloomfield schools. Lt. Carlson, is a graduate of the University of Washington and is now stationed at Gowen Field, Boise, Idaho.

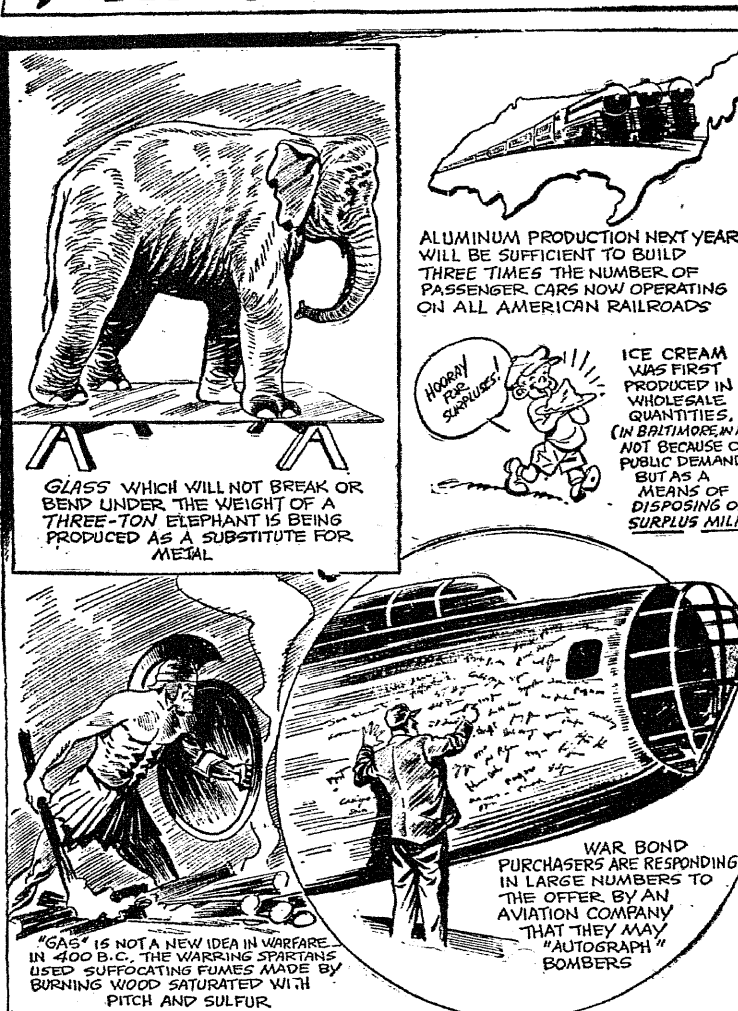

Marie J. Tortoriello, 82, Dies At Daughter's Home

Mrs. Marie Josephine Tortoriello, formerly of Newark, died Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Marie Zuzzo of 20 Springer street. Mrs. Tortoriello's 82nd birthday would have been celebrated tomorrow. She was born in Italy and had lived in Newark 50 years. She was ill for three months.

Survivors are Mrs. Zuzzo; another daughter, Mrs. Rose Masino of Scotch Plains; two sons, Carmen of this town and Angelo Tortoriello of Newark; nine grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. Anthony Zuzzo, a soldier at Fort Devins, Mass., and Albert Zuzzo, stationed with the army in Indianapolis, grandsons, are expected to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Tortoriello will be buried this morning in Holy Sepulchre cemetery, East Orange after a solemn high mass of requiem in St. Peter's church at 10.

The sudden collapse of the high school football team is just one of those unexplainable things that makes football the game that it is. There wasn't a Bellevilleite in the stands at 2:30 p.m. who believed that Hillside could beat them down by a 25-0 score. In fact, probably everybody except the most loyal Hillside rooter thought that the Bell-boys would add another one to their victory string.

A combination of Blue and Gold butterfingers plus the Comets' alertness and drive changed all of this by half-time when the visitors were 13 points up on the local lads.

When they carried Jim Findlay, the youngster who really has the drive in the Zebra backfield, off the field in the first period, they figuratively carried the Belleville team off with him.

Belleville was a victim of the same thing that Irvington suffered from the previous week. The Camptowners were scored on by the Blue and Gold and they never recovered from it or were able to hit their stride. Saturday, Hillside pushed over a touchdown and after that it was easy stuff, for the home club just couldn't get rolling to even the score.

Somewhere on this page last week, it was pointed out that Bob Bloom was something of a passer and quite a runner, too. Belleville saw more Bloom Saturday afternoon than they want to for a long time.

Well, we now turn over a new page in the book. Even with the loss, it's been a great season. A much better one for Larry Gates than last year's. The old rivals, Kearny, comes to Clearman on Saturday and anything can happen. You can't figure it out on season's performance. Kearny trimmed Hillside 6-0, but lost to Irvington last week 18-7.

The Iron Duke bosses were batting their heads up against the stadium concrete around 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon when the sun broke out in all of its glory and the dark clouds were chased away. Crowds started to pour into the field, but the game with the Camptowners had been called off at 12:30 p.m. when it was pouring. The boys will try again this Sunday and it should be just as good a game despite the postponement.

Over to the right a couple of columns is a picture which should bring back memories to some of the old-timers—and we mean old. It's from a collection of pictures which belonged to Mike Flynn, retired police chief.

The Woodstocks, back in the 80's and 90's, were one of the classiest ball clubs in this section. The highlight of the season was a trip to Newton to play with the Newton B. B. C. over Fourth of July weekend. The team would stay the better part of the week, playing each day.

The games were under the sponsorship of the Newton Trotting association and were played on a diamond which was surrounded by the track for the trotting races.

When the team played at home, games were played on The Commons which was located where Belleville and Union avenues now intersect. Home plate was where the Kiernan Funeral home now stands. Centerfield was where William street now crosses Union avenue.

Chief Flynn did not play on the team which is shown in the picture, but he was with the Woodstocks two years later. From his collections of the past, he brought out this week a list of the lineup of the team when he played with them at Newton.

Pitching was Nick Comesky. Frank Haggerty played second base, Dennie O'Neill, shortstop; Jim Newman, catcher; Jim Comesky, rightfield; Jim Jordan, first base; Ed Powers, leftfield; Chief Flynn, centerfield, and Mike Leonard, third base. That was the lineup for the game with Newton on July 5, 1890.

In addition to the chief, there are only three others of the team still living. Dennie O'Neill lives in Dow street, Jim Comesky in Smith street and Mike Leonard in Newark. Comesky and the chief, keeping up a lifelong friendship, frequently get together in the afternoon for a game of euchre.

Speaking of euchre, the chief and his euchre-playing friend claim some sort of an official championship and are willing to take on all comers. The pair they'd like to really corner for a game are Police Sergeant Charles Pearl and Leo Jackson. Are they willing?

This One Goes Back A Bit

DEWITT SAVINGS JOINS LEAGUE

The DeWitt Savings and Loan association was admitted this week to membership in the United States Savings and Loan league, 54-year old national business organization of the savings, building and loan associations with headquarters in Chicago.

It joins a group of 3,700 other institutions of its type in as many localities which cooperate through the league to advance the general interests of thrift and home financing institutions.

The local association will participate in the league's far flung program which is now chiefly concerned with war efforts of the institutions, including the stimulation of war bond sales and the financing of war housing in areas where privately financed, permanent housing is needed. It will also have part in the league's peace time concerns which include continuous modernization of statutes governing and affecting savings and loan operation, meeting the challenge of public housing by putting home-owner credit on a sounder and more practical basis, and progressive elevation of the standards for appraisal of residential real estate.

At a recent meeting of the Cornell radio guild of Cornell University at Ithaca, N. Y. eight associate members were elected. Among those elected were Miss Tina L. Berliess, daughter of Mrs. Hannah Berliess of Beech street, who is a sophomore in the college of engineering. The guild broadcasts plays, musical programs and other regular features over station WHCU at Ithaca, N. Y.

Kardinal Tilt Will Be Battle Of Old Rivals

Kearny Hasn't Beaten Zebras Since '37; Locals Hope To Rally

The annual grid battle between Belleville and Kearny high schools, which is always a humdinger regardless of the season's records of the two clubs, takes place at Clearman field on Saturday afternoon.

Neither club has anything to lose and everything to gain for both have been definitely removed as contenders for any championship recognition. The Cardinals have taken three beatings and won two games, while the Blue and Gold was knocked out of the undefeated ranks last Saturday when they were stunningly surprised 25-0 by Hillside's Comets.

One of the big problems facing Coach Larry Gates and his staff this week was putting together the pieces of the Zebra grid machine which were scattered in last Saturday's downfall. Re-charging the boys with enthusiasm to win is just as difficult as teaching them the opposition's plays. The fact that they will play an old rival, Kearny, is an aid to Gates in re-kindling the victory spirit.

Of all the teams which Belleville plays annually, they have fared better against Kearny than any other in recent campaigns. The Hudson county pigskinners have not won a game from the boys in blue since 1937 when they crushed the locals 20-0. In 1938, BHS won 13-6 and the following year the two schools battled to a scoreless tie. Belleville was on top again in 1940 when they won 20-13 and last year they shut out the Kards 13-0.

On paper, the Cardinals should be taken into camp by the home club. The only yardstick which can be used is the games both schools played with Irvington. Two weeks ago the Blue and Gold set back the Campers 13-0 and last week Irvington bounced back by bolting Kearny 18-7. However, early in the season, Kearny nipped Hillside 6-0 the week after the Union county club had rolled over Perth Arboy 34-7.

Just Couldn't Score

The Kearny victory over Hillside does not give a true picture of the game. Most of the tilt was played in Kardinal territory with Hillside rolling along as it pleased but always getting a bad break or bogging down when in the shadow of the goal line. Kearny pushed over its lone score after blocking a kick on the Hillside 15-yard line.

While Belleville has lost only one game, Kearny has dropped three. In addition to losing to Irvington, the Hudsonites have been turned back by Montclair 31-0 and Columbia 19-0. Besides nipping Hillside, they trimmed West Orange 13-0. They've been on the sea-saw all season long. They opened by losing to Columbia, then beat Hillside, lost to Montclair, beat West Orange and then lost to Irvington. On past performance, this should be the week for them to be on the rebound.

Starting for the Kards Saturday will be only three boys who saw action against the Bellboys last week. Line starters will be Lee Davis and Ray Binetti while Johnnie Metcalf will be in the backfield. Binetti and Bob Winder, big center, are the heavyweights on the forward wall. While Belleville's line will probably outweigh the visitors, the two backfields will be about even. Scheduled starters for the Kards in the rear flank are Ed Ford, Adam Lewis, Dick Heggan and Metcalf or Ed Gray.

This season the Kards are using a variation of the Notre Dame system, which differs somewhat from the T-formation that Coach Harold Rebbold tried with the Cardinals last year.

While he was out for most of last Saturday's game after having been badly shaken up, Jim Findlay is expected to be in shape to face Kearny.

Correction

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Floeken of 30 Essex street were incorrectly referred to in the last issue of The Times as Mr. and Mrs. Sloss. The item reported the arrival at the U. S. naval training station in Newport, R. I. of their son, Fred, who recently joined the navy.

Local Gridders Bent On Ending Visitors' 3-Year Win Record

HILLSIDE ROMP OVER BELLBOYS MAJOR UPSET

Favored Zebras Collapse As Comets Capitalize On Fumbles 25-0

A crowd of 2,500 grid fans went bug-eye last Saturday as they watched a previously unbeaten but tied Blue and Gold eleven crushed by an underdog Hillside grid team 25-0.

From the start the Hillsideers, equalling the locals in the weight department, gave indication that they meant business and that the Bell-boys were soon to lose the victory confidence with which they had charged themselves.

After Jim Caruso kicked off for the Zebras, Hillside pounded out a first down. Failing to gain, they kicked and Gene Melody took the punt on the 20, but slipped before he got started. Two runs around opposite ends by Melody and George Wheeler fell short of a first down and the locals kicked.

A few moments later Red Wille was substituted for Melody and fumbled on the first play on his own 28. Big Bob Bloom recovered for Hillside. Bloom's pass to Tom Callendrillo moved the ball down to the 16. Another touchdown pass to Callendrillo was batted down by Wheeler.

On the last down, Al Dill attempted a field goal but it was blocked by Russ Flynn. But luck was with Hillside. Tackle Nelson Kelly recovered for the visitors on the Belleville 15 as the first quarter ended. Penalized five yards for offense, Bloom faded and tossed a pass to Charlie Riekhuis in the end zone. The placement try by Dill was blocked.

Findlay Hurt

Belleville suffered when Jim Findlay was hurt and was taken from the game, being replaced by Frank Andrews. After an exchange of kicks, Melody fumbled on his own 20-yard line and Bill Heffner recovered for the Union county club. Bloom passed to Heffner on the five-yard line and the wingman evaded two Bellboy backs to tally the second touchdown with Dill booting the placement.

Hillside was on the way to its third score a few moments after the second half started. Bloom and Joe Dill alternated in a 63-yard drive on the ground to tally. The Bellboys gave the Comets their fourth scoring chance midway in the third quarter when Wille again fumbled on the 22-yard mark with Callendrillo recovering for Hillside.

Bloom moved down to the 15 through center and then passed to Heffner to put the ball on the five-yard line. John Gill bulled through the Belleville forward wall to the two but an offside penalty put the ball back on the yardage on a try at center and the locals took over. On the next play, George Wheeler fumbled a poor pass from center and Heffner fell on the ball over the goal line for Hillside's fourth and final score, making it 25-0.

Belleville regained confidence in the fourth period and started a belated drive. Jack LaFale moved the ball from their own 20 to the Hillside 40 in two plays. Wheeler scooted around end and over the goal but a clipping pen-

Beaten by Old Man Weather last week in their determination to trim the Camptowners, the Iron Dukes will try to turn the trick on Sunday afternoon when the two pro grid clubs are scheduled to tangle at the municipal stadium.

The week's layoff has given Coach Joe Volmer a better chance to perfect his offensive and defensive plans for the tussle with the heavy. Campers who turned the Dukes back 13-7 three weeks ago after the locals had led by a 7-6 score for most of the game.

If the Dukes are able to down the Newark pigskinners, it will be the first time since October, 1939, that the Campers have been beaten. They were then trimmed 7-0 by the Kearny Toreadors, who have since disbanded. Since they were organized in 1937, the Camptowners have won 54 games, lost three and tied seven.

Frankie Cardinale of the Ironmen and Bob Forfar, the Newarkers' passing ace, will give the engagement an added flavor. Forfar and Cardinale have been posing each other since high school days. The former Kearny high triple threat performer was Cardinale's ace, two years in a row. Cardinale had the better of it each time. Both of them made the All-State and All-Metropolitan teams the same year. Last year Forfar was with the Newark Woodslides and Cardinale was the big gun in the Dukes, knocking them off 21-0.

The Campers will have the edge on the home club in weight, both on the line and in the backfield, but Coach Volmer is counting on the Ironmen's superior speed to offset it. Frankie Cardinale, Johnnie Walker, Red Ayres and Charlie Burgi will be the backfield starters with George Tietze, and Kippy Weston at the ends, John Reilly and Joe Collins at tackles, Fred Weinberger and Don Jackson as guard starters and George Zoppa at center.

The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 p.m.

The Just and The Unjust, Cozens. The scene is a county seat during a murder trial and portrays the close proximity of the law and the life of the community.

alty on the 25 took the ball back to the 40 where the threat petered out. Later in the same period LaFale traveled 50 yards to the Hillside one-yard stripe where he was nabbed by Jack Tregor and fumbled the ball, which rolled over the goal line, giving Hillside a touchdown.

Two R.A.F. Members Enjoy Big Weekend In Town

Two members of the romantic and fascinating branch of the service known as the R.A.F. were in Belleville from last Saturday until Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Sheard of 83 Floyd street. The boys, Sgt. Walter Midgley and Corp. Arthur Rose were well winned and dined by interested friends and returned some of the Belleville hospitality in their own, inimitable style.

Sgt. Midgley is a life-long friend of the Sheards, since he and they were members of the same church in England. The men have been stationed in Canada for 13 months and received a four-day furlough before their return to England where they are to be commissioned pilots. Both are married and anxious to get back to their home in Yorkshire, England. During their stay, Mr. and Mrs. John Cowburn of Malone avenue also entertained them.

Miss Florence Blauvelt of Greylock parkway, entertained at a Monday night bridge. Mrs. Henry Meyer, Mrs. Andrew Ewing, and Mrs. Alfred O. Anderson were guests.

Gilbert Bloemke, son of Mrs. Florence Bloemke of Courtlandt street spent Friday evening with his mother. He is from Sayville, L. I.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rainie of Tappan avenue spent the weekend in Scranton, Pa., visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Scheuer.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace B. Knox of DeWitt avenue are entertaining Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Jasper N. Knox of Portland, this weekend.

The Tuesday club gave a party for one of its departing members, Mrs. George Plummer, two weeks ago. Mrs. Plummer is moving to Mendon. The party was given at Mrs. Reynold Thompson's home in Nutley. Those who attended were Mrs. John Dolan of Nutley, Mrs. Jack Robertson, Mrs. Everett Smith, Mrs. Joseph D'Angelo, Mrs. Alan Crisp, Mrs. George Lee, Mrs. Alfred Dusen. The club meets tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Joseph D'Angelo.

A baby boy, Joseph John, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Walski of Beech street on Saturday at St. Mary's hospital in Passaic.

Mrs. John Pole of Mertz avenue entertains the Hobby Club tonight at her home. Members are Mrs. H. Lester Hamilton, Mrs. Otto Ness, of Nutley, Mrs. Otto Breunich, Mrs. George Cameron, and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell.

Mrs. Pole is also hostess to Group B of the W. S. C. S. with Mrs. Cameron and Mrs. H. L. Hamilton as co-hostesses, on Tuesday night.

Sunday Hostess
Mrs. Raymond Just entertained Sunday at her home on Union avenue for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spiegel of Bayonne. The Justs also entertained Kila Campbell, a Seattle, for the weekend. He belongs to the L. C. Campbell's of Forrest Hill who left him with the Justs while they went away.

Mrs. John F. DeGroat of Greylock parkway also entertained a Tuesday afternoon bridge club at her home. Mrs. Edward Clegg, Mrs. Victor Brostrom, Mrs. J. M. Garabrandt, Mrs. John Manger, Mrs. Harry Hutchinson, and Mrs. Harvey Shepherd were the members who attended.

Miss Nancy Freid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Freid of Elena place, gave a Halloween party Friday night at her home. Guests were: the Misses Josephine Forte, Carol LaFauti, Norma Rinaldi, Lois Hudson, Mary Lou Cahill, Charlotte Mercurio, and Roy Meyer, George Carter, Donald Hazas, Kenneth Green, Anthony Pellechio, and Ray Fogel.

Connie Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lester Hamilton of Holmes street, has been elected president of the Home Economics club and Class Historian at Sullins Junior College in Virginia where she is a senior.

Mrs. Harold W. Ford of Smallwood avenue entertained her family at luncheon, Monday. Mrs. John Harrison of Union, and Mrs. Leonard Keller of Newark, two sisters; Mrs. August Zegeler, sister-in-law; and Mrs. Al Wendt, a niece, were guests.

The Women's Auxiliary held a card party Wednesday night at the Elks Hall. There were 25 tables of bridge, with Mrs. Norman Lauterette in charge and Mrs. Fred Foster assisting. The party was held for the benefit of the Crippled Kiddies Fund.

Mrs. Frank Giraud entertained the Tuesday bridge club at her home. Mrs. Albert Borman, Mrs. Ernest Hodgson, Mrs. William Hunt, Mrs. William Robinson, Mrs. Carl Strubbe, Mrs. Lathrop Van Orden of Nutley, Mrs. Harold Kenwell and Mrs. Roy Casney were members present. Mrs. Harold Kenwell of Union avenue is entertaining the club members and their husbands, Saturday night at her home.

These Are The Vitamins That Build Health and Energy
Vitamin A is the anti-infective and growth-promoting vitamin. Its lack results in susceptibility to colds and other ailments... its insufficiency in children results in scrawiness and stunted growth. Principal source, halibut liver oil.
Vitamin B is "the spark plug of the human system"... it tones the nervous and digestive systems, promoting growth, appetite and energy. It also helps to remove lactic acid from the blood stream, thus eliminating the feeling of fatigue. Principal sources, yeast and wheat-germ.
Vitamin C protects and feeds the capillaries under the skin; it helps to heal wounds, and prevents scurvy. Modern diet is usually lacking in this vitamin because it is easily destroyed by cooking. Principal sources, tomatoes and oranges when freshly picked.
Vitamin D is the "sunshine" vitamin. Tests show that it remedies the disorders caused by the deficiency of ultra violet in this climate's sunshine. Without it, normal formation of blood and bone ceases, resulting in rickets, sagging muscles and decay of the teeth. Principal source, cod liver oil.
Vitamin E is the "anti-sterility" vitamin. It has additional important uses in that it promotes mental vigor and tones the muscles. Principal source, wheat-germ.
Vitamin G is the riboflavin factor of the B vitamin that improves stomach tone, remedies skin eruptions and loss of red blood corpuscles. Principal sources yeast and liver.
Vitamin Capsules With Liver and Iron contain all the vitamins you need (A, B, C, D, E and G) plus liver extract and iron. Two of these tiny tasteless capsules each day will make a new person of you. Box of 80, 1.89.
Halibut Liver Oil Capsules—Each capsule contains as much Vitamin A as 4½ teaspoons of cod liver oil, protects you against coughs and colds. Box of 50, 69c. Box of 100, 1.14.
Vitamin A and D Tablets—The modern, easy way to take cod liver oil; children like the candy-flavored tablets. Each tablet contains as much Vitamins A and D as a teaspoon of cod liver oil. Bottle of 100, 89c.
Halibut Liver Oil and Viosterol Capsules—Each capsule equals 4½ teaspoons of cod liver oil in Vitamin A, plus 3 teaspoons in Vitamin D. Box of 25 for 59c. Box of 100 for 1.69.
A-B-D-G Vitamin Capsules—The original "all-vitamin" capsule, each one as good as 4½ teaspoons of cod liver oil in Vitamin A, 3 teaspoons in Vitamin D, 2 cakes of yeast in Vitamin B, and a half-cake in Vitamin G. Take two a day for a healthy winter. Box of 25, 63c. Box of 100, 1.84.
High-Potency A-B-C-D-G Capsules—Biologically standardized so that each capsule contains the recommended daily adult requirement of the five important vitamins. Just one a day for health and vigor. Box of 25 for 98c. Box of 100, 2.57.
High-Potency Vitamin B Complex Capsules—Contain all five factors of the B vitamin. You'll soon feel amazing energy and robust health when you start taking this almost-magic formula. Bottle of 50, 98c. 100 for 1.79.

The WAAC's Loss Is Gain For Army Staff Sergeant

Miss Carmen Evangelista Weds Recruiting Officer She Met When Bent On Joining Women's Army; Ceremony Performed At St. Mary's Church

It was a case of love at first sight for Miss Carmen Andrea Evangelista, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Evangelista of 425 Washington avenue. Miss Evangelista recently met a staff sergeant who was interviewing girls interested in the WAACS. She did not make the WAACS but she intrigued the recruiting sergeant so much that they were soon engaged and married on Saturday at St. Mary's church in Nutley.

Rev. James J. Owens officiated at the ceremony at which Miss Evangelista was married to Staff Sgt. John Everett Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy E. Russell of Leeds, N. D. Miss Evangelista was dressed in a du-loune velvet with a matching hat and a corsage of white orchids. She was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Josephine Evangelista, who wore a similar costume of royal blue and a matching hat, with a bouquet of baby chrysanthemums ranging in color from yellow to deep wine. The bridegroom's best man was Sgt. Francis O'Brien, a reception to family and friends followed the ceremony at the bride's home. Miss Evangelista was graduated from Mount deChantal in Weehawken, N. J., and is now employed by the Prudential Insurance company. Sgt. Russell was graduated from York high school, York, N. D. He has been with the Northern New Jersey recruiting district for the past five years and is stationed in Newark. The bride's sister, Miss Mary Jo Evangelista has been home on leave from Hawaii where she is a yeoman in the Navy. She is leaving for Hawaii tonight and expects to be married when she reaches there.

Mrs. John E. Russell

Mrs. John B. English of Tiona avenue gave a stork shower at her home Friday afternoon for Mrs. Carlton Kelley of Hempstead, L. I. The decorations were in yellow and white with chrysanthemums. Those who attended were Mrs. Carlton Burdett of Nutley, Mrs. George Harrison, Mrs. Earl Smallage, Mrs. Michael Gorman, Mrs. Frederick Ochser, Mrs. Arthur Cross, Mrs. Anthony Beaker and Mrs. Clarence Connor of Little Falls.

Miss Doris Danielson will be hostess tomorrow evening to guests from this town, Montclair, Caldwell, Bloomfield, Arlington and South Orange at a surprise shower for Miss Ethel Erickson who will be married on November 14 to Joseph Doebel of South Orange. Miss Danielson will be Miss Erickson's maid of honor.

Miss Danielson attended the Columbia-Cornell football game Saturday afternoon at Baker field.

Elizabeth Axtell of Hornblower avenue has returned to Ohio State for another year. She is majoring in music. She was graduated from Mansfield high school, Mansfield, Ohio, and spends vacations with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Lancaster of town.

VET COMMITTEES ARE APPOINTED

Lieut. Comm. Van Voorhis, Former Post Head, Visits Legion Meeting

Appointment of a number of mittee chairmen was announced at the Monday night meeting of the American Legion held at the Recreation house. Commander Alonzo A. Hartley announced that he had named the following:

William Konrad, membership; Sheldon Henry, ways and means; John McShane, Americanism; Arthur A. MacCreedy, publicity;

Harry Kibbe, refreshments; Edward P. Cantwell, civilian defense; W. Ray Gibbs, color guard; Otto Breunich, go-to-church week; Edward Lister, Legion friend; Lawrence Keenan, legislation; Arthur Ackerman, naval recruiting and child welfare work.

A visitor at the meeting was Lieut. Comm. Roberto A. Van Voorhis, past commander, who told of his experiences in this war to date. Commander Hartley announced that Legion national headquarters had informed the post that honorable discharges from the army, navy, marine corps or coast guard are now authorized to be accepted in lieu of a birth certificate in defense and war work unless it shows on its face that the bearer was an alien at the time of issuance of the certificate. He said that the act providing for such use of an honorable discharge certificate had become law on June 22.

The post will participate in the Armistice memorial services at the Congregation A. A. on Sunday night and the Armistice day program to be held at the high school next Wednesday night.

The post color guard took part in the dedication of a service flag at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company plant in Newark where several Legion members are employed.

MORE MEMBERS KNIGHTS' GOAL

K. Of C. Hopes To Secure 50 To Take Degree Monday Night

The Belleville Council of the Knights of Columbus No. 835, has started a membership drive to obtain 50 or more new members for a First and Second Degree which will be held at St. Peter's Hall on William street on Monday evening.

Some Bellevillites who will take the degrees on this night are: Rev. Titian Mcneegs, Charles Tedesco, Corwin F. Stickney, Frank Carragher, Richard F. Lukowski, James A. McGuire, James E. Mays, John Nowakowski, George Hawley, Michale Zakutney, Earl Meys, Thomas Mullen, Nicholas Candura, Charles Gardella.

The exemplification of the degrees will be given by State Deputy George Leary. All Catholics are urged to become a Knight of Columbus and take part in and enjoy the various activities. Meetings are held on the second and fourth Monday of each month at St. Peter's hall.

Any one interested may contact Grand Knight E. J. Kelly, 10 Springer street, Be. 2-1815-W or John Bailey, 21 Hornblower avenue, Be. 2-1524. Any lapsed member may be reinstated.

A drawing for a Defense Bond was held at the last meeting, proceeds of which will go to buy Christmas presents for members in the Armed Forces. Winner was James Flynn, 215 Ralph street.

KIDS BUSY LITTLE SCRAP COLLECTORS

Piles Mounting In School Yards; Matinee Saturday At Capitol

On elementary school grounds throughout town this week scrap heaps are piling up in the clean-out of cellars, attics and backyards being conducted by the smaller youngsters as their part in the war effort.

Salvage Chairman Robert G. Sutherin said yesterday that while no estimate could be made as yet he was confident that the youngsters would give a good accounting of themselves.

It is expected that the Capitol theatre will be jammed to the doors Saturday morning when a special "scrap" matinee will be held by the management for all youngsters who during the week have brought 10 pounds or more of scrap to school. Their teachers will give them buttons which will entitle them to admission to the theatre.

DEFENSE TEST SET FOR DEC. 1

State Men Will Watch Local Volunteers In Action Then

Defense Coordinator Harry J. Sullivan announced last night that the state inspection of the town's civilian defense forces would be held on Tuesday night, December 1. He said that he had been informed by William J. H. McEnroe, deputy coordinator for the Newark area, that that would be the first date that he and J. J. Spurr of the state council would have an opportunity to get to Belleville.

The test originally scheduled for two weeks ago was postponed because of bad weather. It is expected that the state representatives will observe the control room force in action at police headquarters during three incidents and then move into the field to watch volunteers at work in two more incidents.

READ WHY SAFEWAY SELLS PRODUCE BY WEIGHT

Safeway sells Fresh Fruits and Vegetables by the pound because it is the only method that can assure you FULL VALUE every time you buy.

Safeway removes the guess-work from produce buying. A pound is always a pound — You know exactly the amount you are paying for — you select just the size and amount you want and pay ONLY for what you get.

For example: Lettuce heads vary in size—and by head-pricing, to get your money's worth, you may have to take a bigger head than you want — or else pay the same price for a smaller head. The smaller head weighs less — by our method you pay less!

NEW QUARTERS FOR GIRL SCOUTS

New Centre Is Opened At 400 Washington Ave.; Hear Guidance Director

New Girl Scout headquarters have been established at 400 Washington avenue and the girls have adopted a new slogan—"Join the 400". The opening meeting was held there recently when leaders heard methods demonstrated by Earl Seibert, vocational guidance director of the high school, for "grading" different age groups of children with stress on girl scouts from the ages of 10 to 14.

Present were Mrs. Elmer Hyde, local Girl Scout commissioner; Mrs. C. L. Cox, leader of Troop 3; Mrs. Vivien Card, Troop 8; Miss Mildred Burfeind, Troop 11; Mrs. John Staudt, Brownie Troop 24; Mrs. Peter Johnson and Mrs. B. A. Pirk, Brownie Troop 26; Mrs. D. A. O'Brien, Brownie Troop 25 and Mrs. May T. Holden, director, Miss Edna Baum, Troop 9 and 19.

Monday evening at 7:30 a class in first aid for Girl Scouts of 12 years and over was inaugurated at headquarters with George Hahn, Jr. of Irvington as instructor. The group is also open to adult members of a Girl Scout's family.

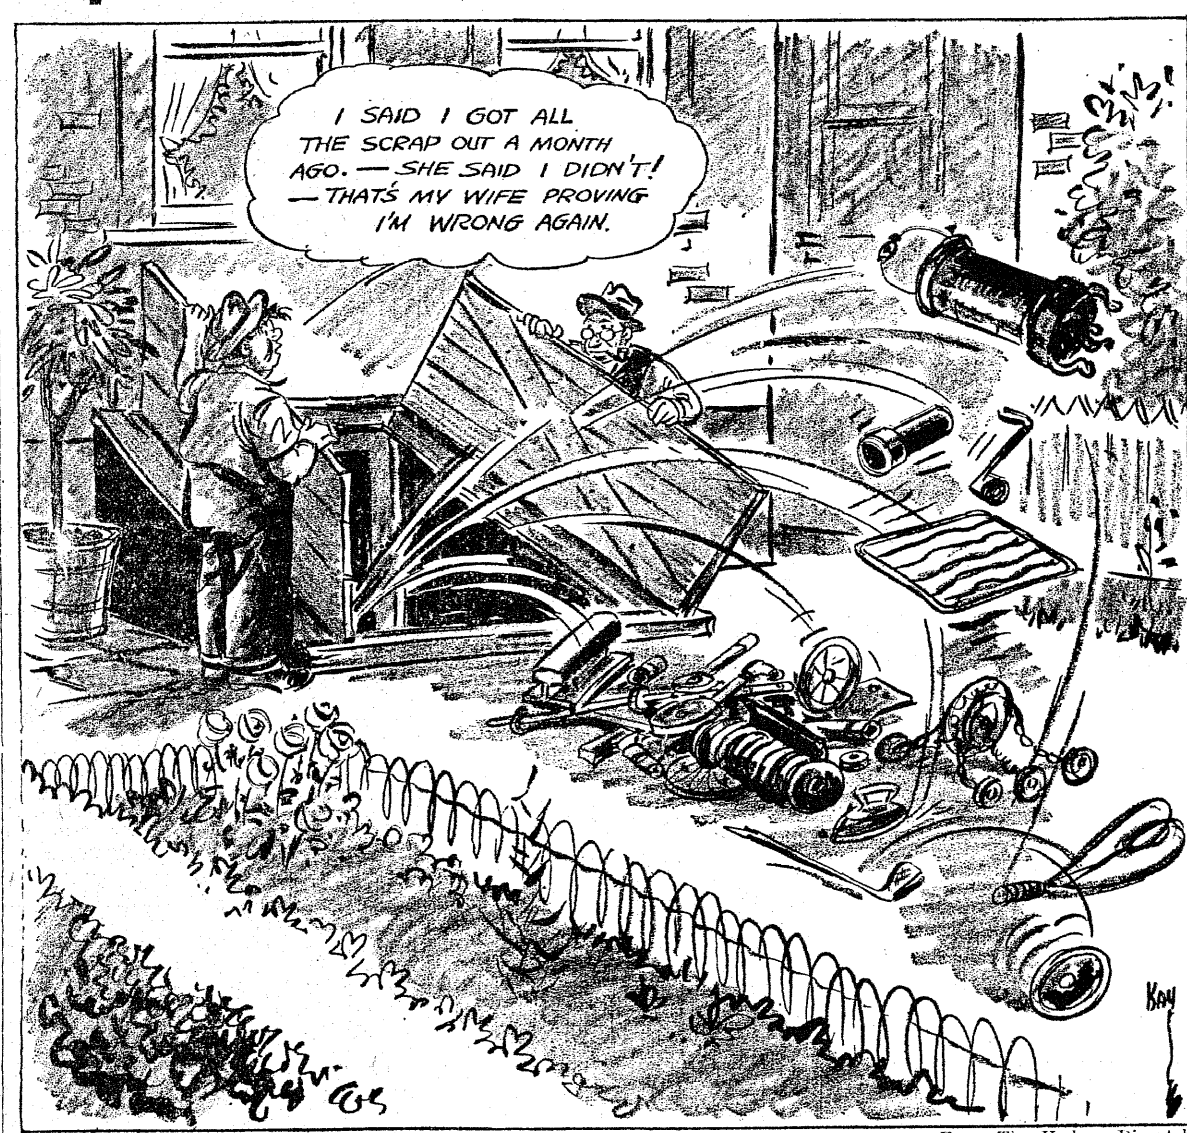

Lectures On Pet Care

Dr. Cecil Gates, veterinarian, lectured last week on the care of pets in war emergencies. He demonstrated, with a dog as victim, the application of an emergency muzzle with gauze bandage, the tourniquet for bleeding and splints for broken bones. Dr. Gates also demonstrated the various methods of calming frightened pets such as wrapping a cat in a warm blanket. He explained the effect of the present meat rationing on the diet of animals and suggested the substitution of horse meat and cod liver oil to supply the elements lacking in prepared foods.

Mrs. Burton C. Whidden met this week with members of a committee to plan classes on foods, a badge requirement for girl scouts. A schedule will be announced in the near future.

Regular openings of the new headquarters for the use of scouts have been announced on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 1:30 to 5:30 and Monday evenings from 7:15 to 9:15. Troops may arrange to use the rooms for special programs at any other time.

A 400-pound collection of keys is housed there and is still being added to as Girl Scouts turn in the red and blue key "kang" which were installed in local stores and schools. Keys collected in the schools total as follows: School No. 1, 1,367 keys; School No. 3, 4,955 keys; School No. 4, 2,846 keys; School No. 5, 3,951 keys; School No. 7, 1,342 keys; School No. 8, 3,119 keys and School No. 9, 700 keys.

Troop 8 Girl Scouts Mark Go-To-Church Day

Observing Go-to-church day of girl scout week, Troop 8 attended services last Sunday with their leader, Mrs. Vivien Card. This troop, currently holding a first aid and nutrition display in the window of Elizabeth's Beauty shop, will sponsor a mothers' tea this week at Grace Baptist church. They will camp at South Mountain reservation during the Thanksgiving holiday.

Hold Fly-Up Ceremony

Brownie Troop No. 24 held a fly-up ceremony Monday for Patricia Scully of Holmes street who was invested in Girl Scout Troop 3 of which Mrs. C. L. Cox is leader. Mrs. John Staudt presented little Miss Scully with the wings, insignia of her promotion. Brownie Troop No. 8 was also present.

Carl Torrieri Is Elected Head Of Soho Group

Officers were elected at a meeting last Wednesday night of the Soho Civic association at the home of Mrs. Millie D'Amadio of Harrison street. Carl Torrieri is president; Frank Zarro, Jr., vice-president; Miss Olga D'Amadio, secretary and Mrs. D'Amadio, treasurer. The organization will meet on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

On Sunday, October 18, they held ceremonies at Harrison and Mill streets when a service flag and honor roll were dedicated by them to the men in service. The men listed on the plaque are represented by 72 stars in a flag. A gold star in the flag commemorates the death of Harry Fredericks, Jr., first Belleville fatality of the war. His mother, Mrs. Ruth Fredericks, unveiled the tablet. An estimated 1,100 persons participated in the parade preceding the ceremony and addresses by Mayor William H. Williams, Commissioners Patrick Waters and Joseph King and defense coordinator Harry Sullivan were heard. Frank Zarro, Jr. was master of ceremonies.

Junior Music Group Holds Annual Masquerade

Many original costumes were worn Saturday afternoon at the annual Halloween masquerade of the Junior Music club, held in the studio of Mrs. John F. Doyle of Wilber street.

Alice Seiler was presented with a reward card, having completed her first year of piano study. A chapter on the beginning of the romantic period was read and the life of Franz Schubert discussed.

Those present were Suzanne and Alice Seiler, Dolores Bjorkner, Christine Wilkinson, Phyllis White, Betty Fulton, Joan Sorge and Jack Doyle.

Hold Entertainment

The pupils of Mrs. Dorothy Huber's first grade class at School No. 7 planned and presented an entertainment and party for their parents on Friday.

The work was done as part of a unit on Halloween with room decorations and costumes to suit the occasion. All pupils participated in a program of songs and recitations, after which refreshments donated by parents were served by the children.

The Nazis have ordered Germans who picked fruits and vegetables to supplement their meager diets to turn this food in at collection depots.

Janet Jolley Is Betrothed To Arlington Man

Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Jolley of 242 Washington avenue have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Janet Frances Jolley, to Michael Avalone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Avalone of Newark. The Jolleys came to Belleville from Arlington a year ago.

Miss Jolley was graduated from Our Lady Queen of Peace high school in North Arlington and is with the Grosset and Dunlap Publishing company of New York. Mr. Avalone is employed by the Jensen Machine company of Bloomfield.

School No. 1 P.-T. A. Will Sponsor Education Week

On Monday the School No. 1 classrooms will be open for visitors from 1 to 3:15 p. m. in observance of national education week. Parents are urged to visit and see their children's work.

At 3:15 there will be a meeting of the P.-T.A. in the auditorium with Mrs. Earl Lewis presiding. The speaker will be Dr. James S. Plant, director of the Essex County juvenile clinic. All visitors are invited.

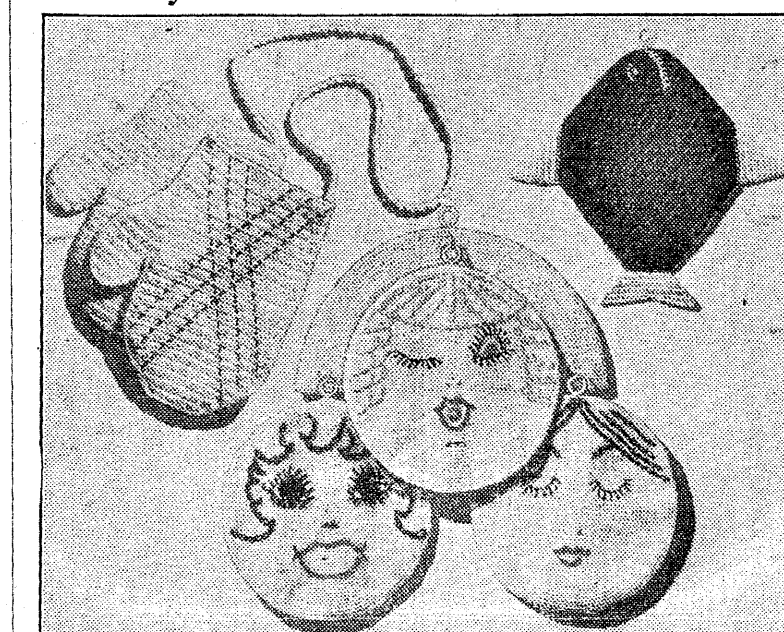

School No. 10 P.-T. A. Will Plan Future Luncheon

An executive meeting of the School No. 10 Parent-Teacher association will be held at the school this afternoon at 3. Plans for a luncheon will be discussed.

Mrs. George Stickle, Mrs. George Lynch, Mrs. William Rich, Mrs. John Havas and Mrs. Edward J. O'Connor attended the convention of the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers of which sessions were held last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in the Hotel New Yorker, New York City. The School No. 10 association voted to make a contribution to the congress for the purchase of an ambulance which will be presented to military authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Bloemke of Celia Terrace gave a Halloween party for their daughter Lois, who is six, on Saturday night. Those who attended the party were: Claudette Lyola, Rhoda Lyola, Mary Lou and Leona Salandra, Grace Abbott, Joan Vanderheydt, Eileen Pendergast, Robert Bolia, and Robert Boyce.

Gay Potholders are Useful Gifts

ORIGINAL and amusing potholders which are easy and inexpensive to crochet, make splendid Christmas gift choices. The "Three Little Maids" will add a gay, frivolous note to any kitchen, yet serve a more practical role when necessary. The pair of mittens is designed to keep hands "cool"—and the fish will help keep the cook out of "hot water." One ball of lustrous mercerized crocheted cotton will make any two potholders. Directions for crocheting these potholders may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper, specifying design No. 526.

Arlington Camera Expert Speaks To Club Monday

The Monday evening meeting of the Belleville Camera club in the Recreation house will be addressed by Charles R. Gifford of Arlington an amateur photographer and winner of numerous prizes in salon competition. Formerly of the Newark Camera club, he recently joined the Belleville group. Gifford's subject will be print quality. The public is invited.

P. S. Reports On Output

Output of electricity by Public Service Electric and Gas company for the week ended October 29 was 87,463,032 kilowatt hours compared with 81,110,606 kilowatt hours in the corresponding week a year ago, an increase of 6,352,426 or 7.83 per cent.

The Boy Who Cried Wolf

The rumor-mongers who for some unknown reason feel that they must spread false information about supposed blackouts would do well to recall the Aesop's fable about the boy who cried wolf. Remember that one?

The boy took care of the sheep, and for his own amusement cried to the villagers that the wolves were coming, and then when they arrived laughed over their excitement because there really were no wolves. That happened several times. Finally the wolves did come and the boy cried. The villagers, because of the number of times that he had fooled them, paid his cries no heed and he was killed.

In a much bigger sense, the public could be fooled about blackouts. The repeated spreading of stories about blackouts that never happen will not only cause the general public, but civilian defense volunteers as well, to have little regard for warnings and instructions with the result that when the real thing does come, they will not be prepared.

Manufacturing false blackout stories is just as serious an offense against the government as deliberately giving information to the enemy. If those who originate such fabrications would stop and think that they are tampering with something which affects thousands of lives, we don't think they would do it.

There have been repeated warnings against this practice and if it does not cease there should be a heavy penalty established to be imposed upon those who are caught.

Every person should remember one thing—no one knows when there will be a blackout, a test or the real thing. Do not be influenced by those who whisper to you that they have some inside information. There is no such thing. If you are loyal to your country and to your community, you will turn in to the defense council the name of any person who spreads such false propaganda. They should be classed with saboteurs of the worst kind.

Telephone Gabfesting Must Stop

To ask some people to get along without using the telephone would be like striking a death blow—especially at their social life. Without the telephone they would be lost. Being unable to hold gossip gabfests would be a calamity.

Every family which is financially able should have a telephone, for it is one of the great inventions that can speed immediate assistance in a time of emergency or need.

Today the telephone company is presented with a vastly more important job than serving thousands of families. War has taxed its facilities and forces to the maximum. New equipment and materials are difficult to secure, but still the job must go on of serving war industries and assuring that communications lines between vital production and military centres will be kept open at all times.

We reside in a war area. Thousands of calls must be handled hourly by the telephone exchanges, not only to distant parts of the country but many locally. Time is essential. Minutes wasted in putting through calls may mean the loss of thousands of dollars in money and an equal number in man-hours, and perhaps even the taking of lives because messages could not be quickly placed.

The telephone company has repeatedly pleaded for voluntary cooperation. It now becomes a necessity. Remember this when you decide to pick up the telephone to hash over with Mrs. Doakes what went on at yesterday's bridge or when you are simply "dying" to give Aunt Mary a blow-by-blow description of Cousin Susie's wedding. It is important that you make your essential calls as brief as possible, and that you make a patriotic effort to call—locally or long distance—before 9 a.m. or in the evening after 7 p.m.

Still A Long Way To Go

Several weeks ago in an effort to spur on the tin can salvage drive, a story in this newspaper stated that the failure of householders to do their part was keeping a big bomber from flying. Some people belittled it as a lot of mushy propaganda which we were stirring up at the behest of the salvage committee.

It is admitted that the idea was not exactly an original one. It took some of the salvage technicians in Washington to figure out that 500 pounds of your tin cans will, when re-melted, provide the much-needed five pounds of tin which goes into the motor of a typical sky giant which this nation is turning out in the battle to crush the Axis.

The salvage committee did not have to implore us to do anything. We're glad to be the drum-beater for any kind of a salvage drive and we will use any kind of an angle to do it if we believe that it will hit enough people between the eyes to make them get busy and do something about it.

There are hundreds who are doing their patriotic bit by preparing their tin cans to be turned over to the committee, but there are hundreds more who have lazily neglected to do it. These are the people to whom we are now talking and on whom we trust that an impression will be made. Last week 10 tons of tin cans were collected in town. The quota was 26.5 tons, which shows that were still a long way from the goal.

According to the WPB, the average family uses about eight pounds of tin cans monthly. There are more than 7,000 families in town and if all of them would do their part, Belleville would have no trouble making its quota. Won't you help? It really does not take long to prepare the cans, and under new arrangements made by the salvage committee, you don't have to have the cans kicking around the house for a month or two. All stores which handle beverages of any kind have agreed to act as depots and you can leave them there any time you wish.

Appeal Board Action Opens Door

For many months public safety officials have been pleading with draft officials to defer policemen and firemen as essential employees whose departure for the service would seriously hamper the work of the departments. Draft boards and their superior appeal bodies have turned a deaf ear to the pleas, but this week for the first time the suburban appeal board harkened to Irvington commissioners in deferring a police captain.

The length of the deferment has not been stated, but public safety heads in other communities can be expected to leap on the action as one which should apply to all cases. National selective service headquarters has released a list of a number of essential occupations in which draft boards are advised to give serious consideration to deferring men so employed.

Still, there are many industries which have suffered severely through the loss of experienced and veteran skilled employees who were not included in these groups. Whether the case of a police or fire department merits more consideration than these enterprises is a moot point. The appeal board has opened the way for lots of argument if it was the intention of its decision in the Irvington case that the deferment should be considered permanent.

Delving further into the circumstances surrounding the calling of policemen and firemen is the question whether a superior officer—such as a chief, captain, lieutenant or sergeant, should be reckoned with differently than a patrolman or a fireman with no superior ranking.

War-Time Songs That Last

This war has not yet produced some of the great songs of the last world war which have endeared themselves to the nation and have had everlasting popularity. Marching men still sing the great American song of World War I, George M. Cohan's "Over There."

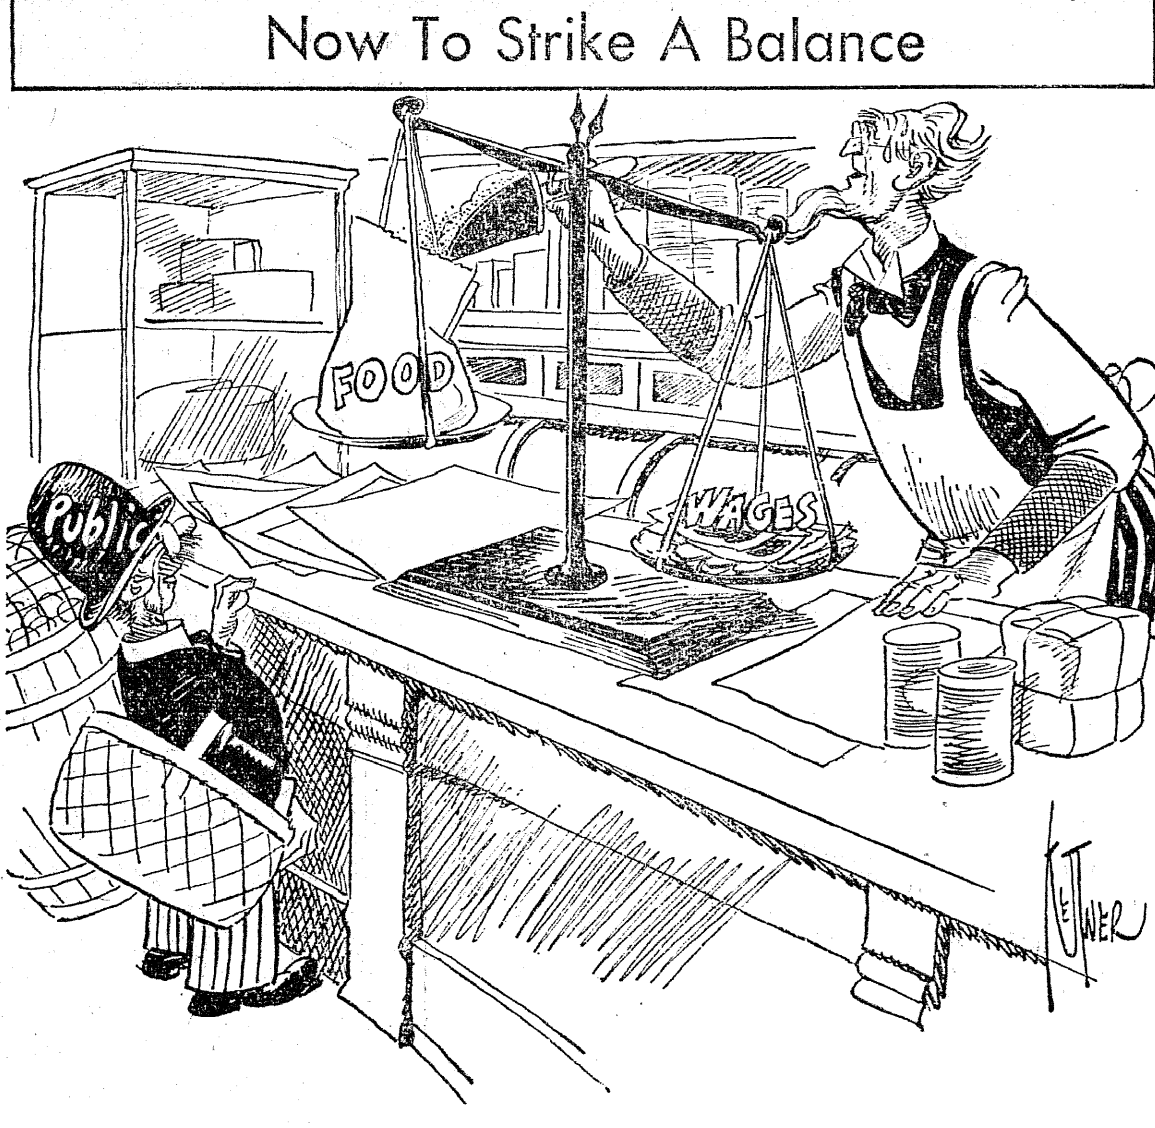

Sung and heard with equal frequency are such memorable tunes as "Hinkey-Dinkey Parlez Vous," "It's a Long, Long Way To Tipperary," "My Buddy" and "Pack Up Your Troubles In Your Old Kit Bag."

Bidding to become one of the popular songs—certainly the most discussed of this war—"Praise the Lord and Pass the Amen." Whether Chaplain Maguire said it at Pearl Harbor will continue to be a moot point, but meanwhile it is on the radio and on records the country over. With a rhythm that resembles some of the Southern spirituals, it has a catching quality that may give it everlasting life.

Once the memory of Pearl Harbor was overshadowed by later events, the tune "Remember Pearl Harbor" began to fade. Irving Berlin, composer of some of our greatest songs, has yet to turn out a generally popular one in this war. His "Stage Door Canteen" number has been a hit but could not be ranked with those of the last war. Although it has become sort of a second national anthem, "God Bless America" by Berlin is not a song of the war.

While it may be humorous, how many can sing that "Der Fuehrer's Face"? About all we remember is the part with the Bronx cheer.

Thumbing Files Of The Past

One Year Ago

The policemen and firemen conferred in the town hall about a pay increase for the coming year. The board was to confer the following week to discuss a raise.

Work on a million dollar expansion and renovation project for Insalante plant was expected to be completed by Spring on money which was loaned to the company by the Defense Plants corporation in Washington.

Less than 40 per cent of the town's registered voters went to the polls on Tuesday as the favored Republican candidates won one and a half to one.

Mrs. Joseph Santos entertained at her home on Summer avenue in celebration of her birthday.

LETTERS

P. T. A. Officer Asks Question About Use of Schools

From Mrs. William C. Smith School No. 1 P. T. A. Treasurer To the Editor of The Times:

I would like to have our Ruel Daniels of the board of education explain this situation if possible. School No. 1 P. T. A. asked its principal, Mrs. McDavit, if it could have its first meeting in the evening. This I am told was refused due to the coal shortage, by Mr. Daniels. On the following Monday night, School No. 5 P. T. A. had its meeting at night. Mrs. McDavit says that we should not care about a little thing like this, but that we are at least patriotic. However, is this patriotism or favoritism?

Backs Protest About Streets

From I. O. A. To the Editor of The Times:

More power to Mrs. A. G. for her letter of protest about the litter in our streets, sidewalks and vacant lots. One needs only to stand at any bus station to be dismayed at the carelessness of our townspeople and the visitors and workers who come here. Take for instance the bus station opposite the hospital on Belleville avenue and the adjacent stores. Let Belleville's civic pride include cleanliness. A few well placed receptacles would help. And while we are at it, why not have the owners of vacant lots, both private and town-owned, made responsible for cutting down their weeds. Also "curb your dog" signs are needed.

Asks Why War Plant Flies American Flag at Night

From William C. Smith 284 Cortlandt Street To the Editor of The Times:

It is my understanding that the American flag does not customarily fly at night.

If this is true then what is wrong with the Insalante corporation? Their flag has been up continuously since the erection of their new building.

Since this corporation is under government contract, I should certainly think that they would particularly be respectful toward our flag.

Washington Snapshots

By James Preston

Within thirty days the Director of Stabilization will take action that will affect the every day lives of all Americans. Attacking the inflation threat on seven broad fronts, his acts will admittedly cause many hardships, readjustments, and changes in business practices.

The director intends to establish controls over salaries, wages, savings, prices, and supplies. The program involves: establishing a system of compulsory savings and other measures to control excess spending power; developing entirely new machinery for controlling farm prices; expanding the rationing program to conserve all scarce commodities and at the same time curtail excessive spending; establishing an overall subsidy program to keep prices down and assure an adequate return to producers of essential commodities; setting up special machinery for handling those wage increase demands which would disturb price ceilings; coordinating military, lend-lease, and civilian requirements so that they can be matched intelligently with available supply.

Congress is pleased with the way Director Byrnes is going ahead with the stabilization job. There is, however, much dissatisfaction with the coordination of the armed forces. There are moves under way to effect a unified command of the armed forces comparable to that now functioning so positively on the economic front under Directors Byrnes and Nelson.

Representative Maas, a flying Colonel in the Marine Corps and ranking minority member of the House Naval Affairs Committee, has served notice that he will introduce legislation to set up a unified command at an early date. He would abolish the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps, merging them into one department represented by a single cabinet officer. The positive recommendations

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville Times.

by Meador Wright

In politics as in philosophy there is nothing new under the sun. Had a reader suffering from just enough amnesia to make him forget names picked up a newspaper for this day in November, 1938, he would be just about as well informed as though he had got this year's newspaper. New Jersey went Republican to just about the same degree and in the same way. In the nation at large the GOP sweep was a little more pronounced. Thomas E. Dewey, for example, was defeated for Governor of New York that year whereas he won by 625,000 Tuesday. But this is explained by the fact that the American Labor Party was supporting Governor Lehman in 1938 while this year it had its own candidate. Add the Labor Party vote to that given John J. Bennett, Jr., and the results for the two years are remarkably similar. In Congress the Republican delegation will be larger, but in 1938 there were a great many more Democrats to be defeated due to the 1936 landslide. Actual gain in seats was larger that year.

In New Jersey, W. Warren Barbour carried all but two counties in 1938. Tuesday, Albert W. Hawkes lost four counties, one of them, Warren, which went to William H. Smathers by a majority of only 49 votes. Only in Camden was there a switch in public opinion. Barbour carried it by approximately 10,000 while Hawkes lost it this year by around 8,500. Following is a table of the vote by counties for the two years. It will merit careful study.

One of the first things I heard Wednesday morning from a

Hawkes lieutenant was the statement that Mayor Hague, knowing that Hawkes would be elected had purposely thrown in 25,000 or 30,000 extra votes for Smathers. He had dared to this my informant explained because he knew there would be no Republican investigation. Maybe he did. But then he must have done exactly the same thing and for the same reasons in 1938. That year the Hudson majority for William J. Ely was 128,000 to 117,000 for Smathers this year. Considering the smaller total vote, Hague's capacity either for efficiency or thievery must be remarkably consistent.

It seems to me that this would be a good year to have a recount in Hudson and settle once and for all just how many votes are habitually stolen there in elections. Hague would have considerable trouble blocking such a recount with a hostile governor in Trenton. Likewise, signatures on the poll books should be made open to the public and representative pages published in the newspapers. Then citizens so incited could get out their magnifying glasses and see for themselves just how well they matched. As a modest beginning I will pledge $25 towards a fund to provide for such a recount of votes and recheck of signatures. This alleged tombstone vote has of Representative Maas, who has just returned from the Pacific war theater are having a profound effect here. The colonel is positive in his recommendations against a separate air force, contending that the lessons of the war in the Pacific point to one conclusion—that a closely knit, highly cooperative amphibious force is required for effective operation against the Japanese forces. A demand is developing in Congress and among the younger and enterprising leaders in and out of the armed forces for a single striking arm—an American force.

Movement to suspend the 40-hour work week for the duration is rapidly gaining ground. Voluntary agreements between labor unions and management for work up to a 56-hour week at "straight time" would be permitted under a proposed amendment to the fair labor standards act sponsored by Representative Ramspeck of Georgia, one of the outstanding supporters of organized labor in Congress and ranking member of the House Labor Committee.

me worried. I want to know just now many gravestones there actually are in Hudson. How do the readers feel?

The victory of Fred A. Hartley was a great personal triumph. His majority was cut down, but to win at all with such a hostile press as he had is an achievement of the first order. If the Republicans should get control of the House of Representatives, Hartley would be head of the powerful committee on post offices.

Services For Otto Groner, Long-Time Grocery Man
Funeral services were held at the Irvine Funeral home on Saturday at 2 p. m. for Otto Groner, a retired grocer and butcher who died Thursday at his home 104 Division avenue. Mr. Groner, 64, kept a store at 135 Washington avenue for more than 40 years and retired about a year ago. He was a member of the former Valley Hose company and belonged to the present Belleville Exempt Firemen's association.

Mr. Groner leaves three sons, Otto, of Newark, Herbert of town, and Walter of Scotch Plains, and a daughter, Mrs. E. S. Wood of Belleville.
Rev. Edgar M. Compton of the Wesley Methodist church officiated at the services and interment was in Glendale cemetery.

James MacDonald, 83
A funeral was held at 8 p. m. Sunday from the Irvine Funeral home for James MacDonald, 83, of 44 Essex street who died Thursday. Mr. MacDonald was born in Scotland and lived in this country 60 years, most of the time in Philadelphia and the last four years in Belleville. He was retired from the elevator construction business 14 years ago.

Mr. MacDonald leaves five daughters, Mrs. Peter McConachie and Mrs. Margaret Smith of Newark, Mrs. John Gavin of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. Robert Bennett of Belleville, eight grandchildren and six great grandchildren.
Rev. Bell O. Close officiated at the services and interment was at Mount Mariak in West Philadelphia.

A standard nonportable typewriter contains enough aluminum crossing at the Mississippi. The nickel which went into the 1941 output of nickel-plated tableware would have supplied all the nickel needed in the production of 43 heavy tanks.

Tiny lead seals for the covers of meter boxes were saved by meter repairmen in Fairmont, W. Va., who turned in 42 pounds of precious lead scrap.
