V-Christmas Card Sent Petreans By Member

Something new in yuletide greetings was received by the Petrean club this week. It was a V-Christmas card from Lieut. William McCabe, Jr., who is stationed in London. McCabe, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William McCabe of Newark, was a member of the Petrean club before he entered the service a year and a half ago. An active member since the start of the organization, he was a member of the foreign relations committee.

The card which bears the caption, "I'm dreaming of a white Christmas, just like the one we used to know," shows a soldier standing in a fox hole and dreaming of a blazing fireplace with stockings hung in front and a Christmas tree.

40-YEAR PHONE VET HONORED

R. E. Dixon Is Presented With Service Emblem By Company

R. E. Dixon of 341 Union avenue, rounded the 40 year mark in his career as a telephone man in northern New Jersey on Tuesday. He was guest of honor and recipient of the company's gold service emblem yesterday at a luncheon given by his associates in the business at Robert Treat hotel.

The emblem was presented for the New Jersey Bell Telephone company, third telephone company to operate in this section during the four decades of Dixon's career, by F. M. Oliver, division equipment superintendent.

The century was two years on its way when Dixon joined the old New York and New Jersey Telephone company in Newark as a clerk. Handrank service for Newark's 5,000 telephones had given the year before to one of the earliest common battery telephone systems in the country, enabling users to reach the operator simply by lifting the receiver. Earlier in 1902, floodwaters of the Passaic river had ruined Belleville's tiny telephone exchange, and the 46 telephones in the community were being served from a Newark exchange. In the industry, national attention was focussed on successful completion of the first "long distance" underground cable, extending ten miles between Newark and New York.

Dixon, who is a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America, has been engaged in installation and other equipment work throughout his career as clerk, installer and installation foreman, equipment engineer and field dispatcher among other positions. One of his titles along the way was "special inspector of trouble." He is now a member of the installation forces at the company's headquarters in Newark.

Treasurer Sargeant Heads State Finance Officers

Town Treasurer T. Russell Sargeant was elected president of the Municipal Finance Officers' Association of New Jersey at a recent meeting held in New York in conjunction with the yearly session of the Municipal Finance Officers' Association.

Sargeant, who is town treasurer, had previously served as the association vice-president. He succeeds Joseph F. Clark of Wildwood, who was named a member of the executive board. Howard M. Down of Vineland was elected vice-president and Clyde Struble of Ocean City was elected treasurer. Philip Stainton of Little Falls continues as secretary.

Over 7 Tons Of Tin Cans Collected On Monday

It is estimated that more than seven tons of tin cans were turned in Monday in the monthly tin can collection drive. Four public works department trucks covered the town from dawn until dusk. The cans were taken to the salvage depot which has been established at Cortlandt and Little streets.

Cans will be accepted daily by beverage stores in various parts of town where they will be picked up by trucks operated by companies in liquor and soft drink business. They will be credited to the town in the state-wide drive.

STATE MEN FIND LOCAL DEFENSE SETUP OKAY

Spurr, McEnroe High In Praise Of Units; Two 'Fires' Are Highlights

Defense council leaders were pleased with the report made by the state civilian defense leaders, J. J. Spurr and William J. H. McEnroe, here Tuesday night following their inspection of local volunteers in five "incident" tests.

Both Spurr and McEnroe expressed themselves as satisfied and said that they found very little with which to find fault. Their principal criticism was that the control room at police headquarters was cramped for space, something which has been known locally for many months.

They were particularly pleased with the message forms used in reporting incidents, liked the phone setup and the completeness of the master map.

Groups which came in for special commendation were the police and fire reserves, first aiders, the water department and the transportation and evacuation group which was directed by Joseph Kasser.

Five incidents were staged for observed the control room in operation during the first three and visited the field in the final two. Imaginary fires at the Essex apartments and the National Grain Yeast plants were the highlights, featuring work by the reserves, water department crew and the first aid and ambulance volunteers.

The fire department's aerial ladder truck was used while a life net was used to rescue one of the "victims" trapped at the yeast company "fire."

Drive For 100% Enrollment In Regular Purchase Of Stamps, Bonds

Speeding up their part in the schools at war program, the high school students are campaigning to increase the percentage of those who are regularly buying war bonds and stamps.

In three days, all students in more than 75 per cent of the home rooms signed pledges agreeing to buy regularly. A special effort is being made in those rooms where all students have not enrolled.

Married Men Won't Go Until After Christmas

Draft Board Makes Good Desire Not To Break Up Families Before Holidays; Induct Large Group At Newark Armory On Saturday

The draft board has kept its word not to send married men into the army before Christmas. In filling its quota for this month, the board had feared that it would have to draw from the ranks of those who were married before Pearl Harbor or induction was imminent, but who do not have any children.

In its determination not to break up families before the holiday season, the board took its case directly to state selective service headquarters in Trenton. At the draft office this week, it was stated that the quota would be filled or nearly filled. Any shortage in men inducted this month will be made up in January, it was stated.

Those in the group listed below, one of the largest to be sent from town, will be inducted into service at the Newark armory on Saturday morning. Those who pass the physical test and who wish it will be given an eight-day furlough before reporting to Fort Dix for service. Because Sunday falls on the eighth day, they will not be shipped until Monday, December 14.

Call Them After Holiday

The board warns that married men without child dependents should not take it for granted that the board's failure to call them before Christmas will prolong the calling of them for service for many months.

The first of the 18-19 year old youths is scheduled to go in January, but the ranks of this last group to be registered for military duty is rapidly being whittled down as the young men enlist in the various branches of the armed forces.

While married men are not being called before Christmas, it is a safe prediction that some without children will be in the January contingent.

Pontiac Dealer In List

A number of men well-known about town are included in the December group. Many have been taken from families which already have members in the armed forces. One of the best known scheduled for induction is Stanley E. Tracey of 138 Birchwood drive, head of the Tracey Motors, Pontiac dealers, at 320 Washington avenue. Two high school stars of the past in the group include Emmet J. (Fuzzy) Ryder of 133 Union avenue and George H. Tietze of 24 Tremont avenue. Former Blue and Gold grid star and for the past two years one of the standouts for the Iron Dukes. Other popular about town

DRESSINGS READY FOR SHIPMENT

Red Cross Wants More Women To Help With Bigger December Quota

Doing one of the most necessary jobs being performed by local women on the civilian defense front, the production committee of the Red Cross chapter this week completed for shipment the first full quota of surgical dressings.

They will be shipped today to a Red Cross center for use in the war as they are needed at the far-flung fronts maintained by the organization throughout the world.

Since September 1, an estimated 285 workers have spent 4,244 hours making 39,000 sponges and 22,500 combination pads. Two workrooms have been maintained for the work. Mrs. Edward McLaughlin has been in charge at St. Peter's school, while Mrs. Leslie Vreeland has directed at the Recreation house. Both women are registered instructors.

More women are needed to help with the work. Mrs. Frank H. Brown, chairman of the surgical dressings committee, pointed out yesterday that the chapter's new quota has been considerably increased. So more help is needed immediately. By the end of December, it is expected that another shipment of 48,000 sponges and 22,500 combination pads will be ready.

Help Wanted At All Times
The rooms at both St. Peter's and Recreation house are open to the public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Any woman who wishes to help will be welcome. The Recreation building is also open on the first and second Mondays of the month from 7:30 to 10 p.m. under the supervision of the Red Cross motor corps with Mrs. John J. Cort as chairman. On the third Monday, the World Wide guild directed by Miss Elizabeth Brown is in charge. Volunteers will be welcomed on either of these. On the fourth Monday, the work is handled exclusively by the members of the American Legion auxiliary with Mrs. William La-baugh in charge.

DEC. 7 MEMORABLE DATE IN CIVILIAN DEFENSE ANNALS

Pearl Harbor Anniversary Marks Year's Growth; Defense Head, Mayor Review It

Next Monday the first anniversary of Pearl Harbor will be marked in Belleville and communities throughout the nation it marks the day on which civilians sprung into action and placed themselves ready for duty on the civilian defense front.

Although it had been organized in previous months, it was not until the first flash of the news of the Japanese treachery at Pearl Harbor that the defense council assumed its real role—the protection of local lives and property.

Under the leadership of Recorder Everett B. Smith, defense council chairman, and Mayor William H. Williams, the first month or so was spent unraveling the confusion which existed through conflicting orders and regulations, and attempting to weave the hundreds of willing volunteers into a smooth-working unified organization.

The response to the appeal for volunteers was immediate, and before Christmas more than 1,000 had been enrolled. Today, it is estimated that more than 2,000 are organized and trained in the various protective and nonprotective units.

Red Cross Big Help

Organizing a prominent part in the planning and training of various groups was the American Red Cross chapter, which put at the disposal of the town its already prepared emergency facilities and trained personnel.

Principal aid offered by the Red Cross has been in the training of first aid people. The work has been directed by Mrs. Louis A. Noll and a staff of qualified Red Cross instructors. It is estimated that now more than 1,500 residents and employees in local industrial plants hold Red Cross first aid certificates for having completed their training. Another 40 have completed work in the OGD short first aid course and more than 250 have completed the advanced course. Through their training, 325 have qualified for membership in the defense council's first aid section.

Appointed to a full-time position last May to co-ordinate and direct the various civilian defense activities was Harry J. Sullivan. In statements issued yesterday, accomplished in the year since war was declared expressed pleasure at the cooperation which has been given by the public.

In Statement, Smith said:

"The anniversary of Pearl Harbor brings to mind the many headaches, heartaches and sacrifices in the interest of civilian defense since December 7, 1941. The defense council had organized its first aid section."

Urging that every resident who can, buy seals, Berry explained that present war-time conditions lend themselves to aiding the spread of the disease. "History of past war and the post-war period has shown that it contributes to a spread of the disease. People are working hard and putting many hours over time. They aren't getting their proper rest, and in the effort to get some enjoyment in the few spare hours which they have, they are burning the candle at both ends. Another housing conditions offers another possible outlet for the disease, and with the number of adults, who are regularly employed, there are bound to be a number of cases in which children are not receiving proper food and care which may make them easy victims for T. B."

Need Greater Than Ever

"There is no time in history," Berry commented yesterday, "when there was a greater need for a constant watch against the dreaded tuberculosis disease. We must take every precaution to prevent its outbreak, and where it does gain a hold we must fight to stamp it out and prevent it from spreading."

Begin Registration Monday Of Children For Nursery

Child Care Committee Head Announces Plans Now Complete For Use of Main Street House For Nursery; Open For Duration

Starting Monday, registration of children by war-working mothers will be accepted for the Belleville day nursery. Under consideration and planning for nearly a year, Mrs. Morris Rochlin, chairman of the child care committee of the civilian defense council, announced yesterday that arrangements had been completed for the use of a building at 221 Main street.

The negotiations which have made the building available for the nursery's use were made by the town commission. The house is said to be the oldest in Belleville and is believed to be one of the oldest, if not the oldest, still standing and in use in the county.

Mrs. Rochlin said that the new child care center, which will be open for the duration, would be available for the care of children between two and five years of age. Speaking of the new nursery plan, Mrs. Rochlin commented, "This announcement is the result of months of work on the part of the committee, and we are particularly thankful to Mayor Williams who has shown unusual insight into the needs of Belleville children in securing this property for use as a day nursery and in planning to have it remodelled to meet the social needs of young children."

Get Volunteer Help

Remodelling the structure presents one of the problems. Mayor Williams recently told his fellow commissioners at a conference that he was hopeful that much of the work would be supplied by volunteer help as a patriotic contribution by labor local to the local war effort. He said that several Belleville firms had already agreed to donate supplies.

39 Tire Inspectors For 2 Towns Named By Ration Board

Red Cross Wants Needles For Servicemen's Kits

The Red Cross is ready to ship kits to men in the armed forces, but there is one item missing which is delaying it—a lack of sewing needles.

An appeal has been issued for large needles. The chapter has been unable to get an order filled by wholesalers, so they've turned to women who may have some extra ones in their sewing baskets or machines.

Those who have any to give should send them to the chapter headquarters at 51 Rossmore place or to Mrs. George Kallen, committee chairman, 235 Malone avenue.

$2,500 SOUGHT IN SEAL SALE

More Than 5,000 Letters Mailed Out; Berry Emphasizes Need

The Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis association has opened its drive to raise $5,000 through the sale of Christmas seals so that its work can be carried on during the coming year. Thousands of letters containing the seals have been distributed to residents about town.

In each town, the association hopes to raise $2,500. Eugene H. Berry is acting as the local seal sale chairman while Health Officer Richard V. Fellers is in charge in Nutley.

More than 5,000 residents have received letters containing the sales and a plea from Berry that they be purchased to help the fight against tuberculosis. Checks should be made payable to Wilfred Yudin, association treasurer, and mailed to the town hall. Additional seals may be obtained at the health department office.

Receipts here last year amounted to $2,118.

In Nutley, Fellers reported that letters containing seals were mailed to 4,421 residents. There was $2,050.75 collected in Nutley last year.

Need Greater Than Ever

"There is no time in history," Berry commented yesterday, "when there was a greater need for a constant watch against the dreaded tuberculosis disease. We must take every precaution to prevent its outbreak, and where it does gain a hold we must fight to stamp it out and prevent it from spreading."

The Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis association this week named Mrs. Ernest W. Whynall of 108 Chestnut street, Nutley, as nurse to succeed Miss Elizabeth F. Smith of DeWitt avenue who has resigned to take a place on the staff in one of the local war plants.

LOOKS LIKE 2-2 AGAIN TUESDAY

Town Has Been Without Fifth Commissioner For Nearly Two Months

Nearly two months have passed since the town commission had its full membership of five members and the board does not appear to be near a decision on picking a successor to the late Commissioner William D. Clark, public safety director.

The next meeting of the commission is scheduled for next Tuesday night, but there has been no intimation as yet that an agreement will then be reached on a candidate to fill the vacancy. At the past two meetings Commissioners King and Noll have proposed the name of Raymond Mertz, who was sixth man in the commission election last May, and Mayor Williams and Commissioner Waters have countered by voting against the man.

As yet there has been no concerted public drive by any of the Mertz followers to boost him for the position although there have been reports that they were planning action unless the commissioners reached a decision shortly.

Mertz has maintained absolute silence, except for a brief statement several weeks ago in which he expressed his appreciation of the confidence of Commissioners King and Noll in endorsing and voting for him to fill the vacancy.

High School Courtsters In Giant-Killer Roles With Tough Schedule For Season
Tie With Bloomfield Was Best Of Games
Gridders Played It Now Seems
Draw By Services On Men Rules Out Pro Games For The Duration Of War

With football tucked away in mothballs for at least another year, dyed-in-the-wool sport lovers turn to basketball. They won't have to look far to find something which will blind their eyes, for the high school youngsters will have a court schedule which will probably be the toughest played by any schoolboy quintet in the state.

In his second year as the Blue and Gold mentor, "Jitty" Wische, some pumpkins as a basketball player himself a few years back, is marching his club right into the lion's den. The season is due to open on December 12 and before the new year has rolled around the Bellboys will have tangled with the Panzer college and Montclair State Teacher freshmen fives and will try to take the measure of the annually powerful St. Benedict's prep team. That's a full holiday menu of basketball. While never setting the world ablaze with their superiority in any other field of sport, Panzer and Montclair do turn out good court teams. Coached by Professor Ernest Blood of Passaic wonder team fame back in the early 20's, St. Benedict's is one of the best drilled quintets.

Wische took over the basketball reins after Belleville, once proud of the position it held in the school basketball world, kicked around in the cellar spot for several years. The Blue and Gold went through two disastrous seasons before "Jitty" took hold. In 1940, they won only four out of 17 games and in '41 had only eight wins in 18 starts.

Performed Well Last Year

Last year, after a slow start, the Zebras, with many new faces in the ranks, won 13 games and lost five. They were good enough to get in the state tournament but had the ill-luck to draw the strong Bayonne quintet in the first round. Still, the Hudsonites were lucky to get a 36-34 victory.

It's too early for predictions, but don't be surprised if Belleville holds the headlines this winter in basketball.

If the high school eleven had turned back South Side on Thanksgiving, they would have wound up with the best record for a Belleville team since 1935. As it is, they have won four, lost three and tied two. Dogged for two years by hard luck plus inexperienced boys, Coach Larry Gates was able to get over on the bright side of the ledger this season.

Off to a great start at the opening of the season, the Zebras' hopes for an unbeaten season tumbled when they were routed 25-0 by Hillside. What happened that day is one of the things that will go into the books unexplained. It took the boys two weeks to recover during which they were humbled by a mediocre Kearny club that on previous performance should have been taken into camp easily.

Bloomfield Tie Was Highlight

The lightning-like first quarter victory over Irvington stands out for some as the season's highlight, but to us the scoreless deadlock in which the boys almost upset the dope and the traditional jinx of never having beaten the Bloomfield Bengals rates the No. 1 spot. Remember, that today Bloomfield is at the top of the state football heap with East Orange. Some want to rate the Foleymen No. 1 but the tie with Belleville is a blot on the record which cannot be erased and which Bloomfield can't explain away.

The knowledge that Belleville kept Bloomfield from a perfect season should be salve for the wounds of the Zebras.

As the season rolled along, it developed that the tie with Barringer was no mean feat. Newark's big blue eleven copped the city championship and crowned one of their most successful campaigns by tying vaunted East Orange in their Thanksgiving classic. Their only loss was a 7-6 defeat handed them by unbeaten Phillipsburg.

Last Until War's Over

The Iron Dukes were decidedly off form on Sunday when they wallowed around in the mud at Newark schools stadium to lose the North Jersey league play-off game to the Camptowners 19-7. Played under bad weather conditions, the heavier Campers proved to be better mudders than the Dukes.

It was probably the last that football fans will see of the Dukes or the Campers for the duration of the war. What the army did to the Boonton Panthers several weeks ago is proof of what is happening to the North Jersey circuit. Both the Dukes and Campers have lost first rate players to the services and many more will be in uniform within the next few months. There won't be any young players coming up to replace them with the army now taking those of high school age.

W. & T. Kidde Fives Win By High Scores

St. Peter's Registers Upset In Church Loop, Beating Fewsmith 22-15

Both Wallace and Tiernan and Walter Kidde chalked up high-scoring victories in the week's play in the industrial basketball circuit as the W. & T. quintet took undisputed possession of first place.

The Rowe Manufacturing five fell prey to Wallace and Tiernan as the Main Streeters with Handley's 26 points leading the way rolled up 57 points to Rowe's 20. Some were surprised as the Kidde-men went on a rampage against the Eastwoods to win 52-32.

Eastern Tool needed England's 14 points to hurdle Isolantite 36-38. St. Peter's pulled the week's surprise in the church circuit by trouncing the favored Fewsmith Presbyterian club 22-15. Montgomery Presbyterian topped Wesley Methodist 33-26 and Grace Baptist took the edge of Silver Lake Baptist 22-17.

Unknowns Victors
Another high-scoring tilt was seen in the senior league where the Unknowns walloped the Belleville Laundry boys 50-27. In a low-scoring clash, the Pals topped the West Ends 18-15, while the O. M. C. needed Crandall's 10 points to get by the Eagles 38-34. The Eagles beat the Comets 38-30 and the Imperials trimmed the Penguins 24-18 in the intermediate loop.

Belleville Bikers Dump Long Island Wheelmen

The Belleville Bicycle club scored one of the most impressive victories in its history recently when the visiting Long Island Wheelmen association peddlers were turned back 6 to 1 in the one-mile event and bowed 2 to 1 in the pursuit race, both held on rollers.

Ed Littig of the BBC was the final winner in the mile race while Al Frankowski rolled down the opposition in the pursuit grind.

The summaries: One-mile heats — Al Kremler, LIWA, defeated Al Frankowski, BBC; Bud Wille, BBC, defeated John Schmidt, LIWA; Ed Littig, BBC, defeated Mike Steppelo, LIWA; Frank Miserindino, BBC, defeated Bill Englebosch, LIWA.

Knights Continue Drive For New Members

The Belleville Council No. 835, Knights of Columbus, is continuing its drive for new members and is reinstating any old members. Anyone interested should get in touch with Grand Knight E. J. Kelley of Springer street, Be 2-1815W or with John Baney of Hornblower avenue, Be 2-1524.

The Supreme Council of Connecticut sent the chapter an honor roll which will be hung in the meeting room as soon as the names of members in the armed forces have been placed on it.

The proceeds from the recent war bond program of the Knights went towards Christmas gifts for members serving in the war. Lecturer Thomas Dowd is planning coming social events and cooperation in putting them across is needed. The next regular meeting will be held Monday night in St. Peter's hall. Refreshments will be served.

"Of course, the boys in the band went for the candy in a big way and asked me to convey their thanks also. If being in the navy

Seconds Count In BHS Losing To South Side

Miss Tying Score On Last Play By 5 Yards; Winners Tally In Second

Although they gave a hometown Thanksgiving day crowd to an estimated 5,000 something to shout about in the final period, the Bellboys bowed to Newark South Side 6-0 in their annual contest played on Thursday morning at Clearman field.

With Capt. Gene Stempier, veteran player, leading the parade, the Sunnysiders drove 60 yards for the lone tally in the second period.

It was the sixth meeting between the two schools, Belleville has yet to win a game. The teams clashed for the first time on Tuesday in 1937 when the Newarkers were 6-0 winners. In 1938 and 1941, they battled to scoreless deadlocks and in 1939 played a 6-6 tie. The Sunnysiders humbled the locals 31-0 in their 1939 meeting.

The Blue and Gold tried to pull out of the depths of defeat in the last quarter. Belleville fans cheered for what they believed the tying touchdown when Jim Findlay took Dan Williams' kick on his own 40 and veered his way back through South Side men 60 yards to score. The play was called back by the officials and Belleville was penalized 15 yards for roughing the kicker.

One Man Halts Wheeler

The final play of the game was a spectacular one which fell short of giving the home team a tie. On a play from midfield, Vic Pasquariello tossed a long pass to George Wheeler who legged it downfield to the South Side 5. There he was stopped by Williams the only man between him and the goal line. A second later the ball game ended.

Stempier was the big gun in South Side's drive for its game-winning score. He accounted for nearly 50 of the 60 yards gained in the march, legging it 30 yards around end on one play. He went over center from the four-yard line to score but failed to kick the extra point on the placement try.

In Variety Show

Several local men and women, employees of the Crucible Steel company of Harrison, will be presented in a benefit variety show at the Mosque theatre December 7 and 8 at 8:15. The cast is composed of 125 employees of the company who will perform for the benefit of the U. S. O. and the United producer are Will A. Flaherty, general foreman of inspectors, and Charles J. Sweeney of the British division of the company.

Play College Frosh In First Two Games; Card St. Benedict's

Facing one of the toughest schedules in ocal court history, the high school basketball quintet will open its 17-game season on Tuesday, December 15, playing host to the Panzer college freshmen five.

For more than a month, Coach Herman "Jitty" Wische has been drilling the cage aspirants almost daily in the high school gym. Stepping out of their class in three of the first four games which they will play, the Blue and Gold courtmen will have to play a schedule that will have no equal in high school ranks. Although a number of the players, who were members of last year's club which won 13 games and lost five in Wische's first season as basketball mentor, will be missing, there will be six returning veterans.

Among last year's players scheduled to be back in action are the high-scoring Nick Calichio, George Ferro, Neil Finn, James Shanahan, Bernard McManus and Vic Pasquariello. Newcomers expected to be a big help to the team are Arthur Ehresman, Russ Stout, James Higgins, James Byrnes, John DeMunter and Bob Meschio.

Wische had counted on Jim Findlay and George Wheeler, backfield luminaries on the football eleven, to play again this season but both have obtained after-school jobs. Missing from the team will be such key men as McGinnis, Racioppi and Johnny Higgins.

Meet Montclair Teachers

Following the opener against the strong Panzer frosh, the Blue and Gold will tackle another first-year college quintet on three days later when they will meet the Montclair State Teachers' freshman five. Both schools annually turn out good basketball teams.

After meeting Hillside in the third game, the Zebras will face the strong St. Benedict's prep quintet. Perennial leaders in the prep school court ranks, the Gray

Bees, coached by Professor Ernest Blood, have many times won the state championship.

While admitting that he is priming his charges for the giant-killer role, Wische views the two opening games as giving him an opportunity for a good appraisal of the strength of his club. While the boys will be a little short on height as most basketball teams go, Wische feels that his boys will overcome this handicap through the amazing speed which they have been displaying with regularity in practice sessions.

Nine games, all listed for the evening, will be played at home. St. Benedict's, Hillside, Kearny, West Orange, Orange and Lynbrook have been carded for home-and-home games. The only afternoon game is with West Orange which has been scheduled for 3:30 p.m. on February 2.

Had Two Bad Seasons

Wische took over the coaching reigns at the school following two disastrous seasons for the Blue and Gold court men. In 1940, the team won only four out of 17 games, while losing 10 out of 18 in 1941. Last year the quintet reached the first round of the state tournament, bowing to Bayonne 36-34.

The nickel which went into the 1941 output of nickel-plated tableware would have supplied all the nickel needed in the production of 43 heavy tanks. A standard nonportable typewriter contains enough aluminum crossing at the Mississippi.

Belleville, N. J.,

Dear Friend:

Increased business activity, especially in war industries, has resulted in an increased volume of work for banks. We consider it one of our vital contributions to the war effort to take care of this business, a large part of which is cashing pay-checks of war workers. Our own employees are helping out by reporting for work before and after regular banking hours on Friday in an effort to take care of one of the larger pay-rolls, but this does not suffice to take care of all. Thursday and Friday noon-hours, between 11 and 1 o'clock, are extremely busy hours during which our tellers work steadily (with little or no time out for lunch) cashing pay-checks.

We are glad to make this additional effort, but we feel that unless this condition is known, it may result in inconvenience to our other depositors. We are, of course, glad to serve you at any time, but feel that your chances for quick and efficient service are best if you can possibly avoid the hours mentioned.

We ask your cooperation in our effort both to meet the demands of war industries and at the same time to maintain our standard of service to all depositors.

Very truly yours,

F. J. McFADDEN,
Cashier.

SHOP EARLY and SHOP IN BELLEVILLE

It's a war-time Christmas — a Christmas fraught with anxiety and care for a loved one somewhere "Out There."

It's a different Christmas, too, except in Spirit, too, for we've all got to curtail our Christmas spending for lots of Christmas merchandise just "isn't here any more."

Too, we must bear in mind during this Holiday Season that Conservation is very important. Conservation, for instance, of the mileage you usually put on the Family Car during the hectic days of normal Christmas shopping.

This year it is important that you do shop where you can avoid useless traveling. Belleville's merchants are ready for this Holiday Season with as complete a line of Christmas merchandise as the war effort will permit.

Shop their stores first! The chances are that you'll find what you want at a price commensurate with the quality desired. Remember this fact! The more patronage you give to your local merchant the better able he will be to carry more extensive stocks. He deserves your support.

Housewives Headaches Nil Compared To Stores

If you housewives think you are having trouble wracking your brains attempting to overcome high prices, scarcity of certain foods, meatless Tuesdays and the rationing of coffee and sugar, think what a headache it means to restaurants, diners and luncheonettes which must serve hundreds daily.

In almost all cases, increases in the cost of such commodities as meat and eggs have forced local eating places to raise their prices slightly. The rationing of coffee has forced them to forego their age-worn traditional policy of giving a customer the second cup of coffee on "the house." Many won't give it to him even if he's willing to pay twice the price which has been asked.

On meatless Tuesdays, although local restaurants and diners have official notice about it, most of them are voluntarily cooperating. And what will the menu offer? Tuesdays at your favorite eating spot? Well, take Haffner's, one of Washington avenue's best-known places to lunch, for an example.

Replacing meat dishes will be such substitutes as omelets, vegetable steaks, spaghetti dishes, turkey and chicken. Salads will be plentiful in some spots for those who want them, but there won't be many where tuna fish will be on the bill of fare.

'Burgers Go Up

As old as the dining car or lunch wagon itself is the saying "hamburger and a cup of coffee." But, not today. Most places have raised the price of hamburgers five cents. They're giving the customer a break. With the price of hamburger meat being raised from five to 10 cents per pound, they had a choice of cutting down on the size of the 'burgers or raising the price. Most places said they had observed that the customer would rather pay more and still get what he used to buy for a dime.

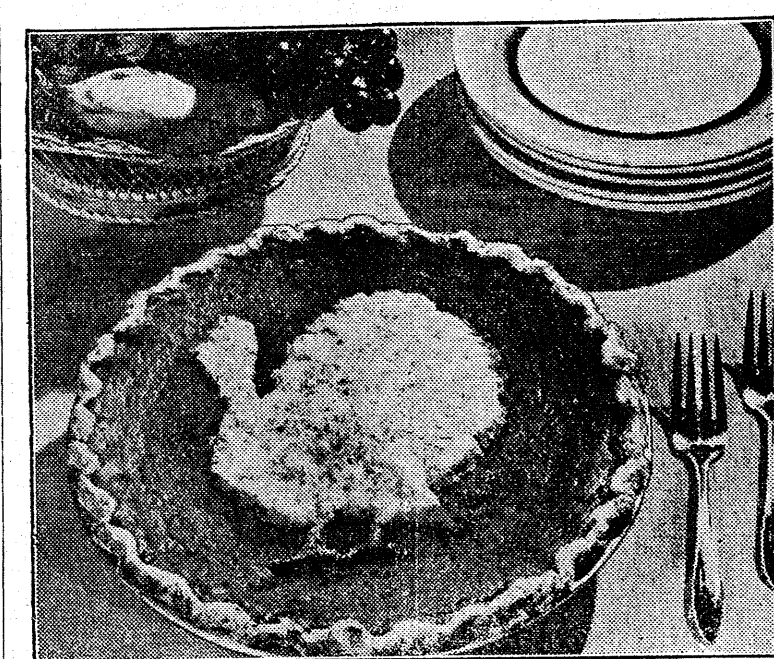

At Harry Byrne's diner it was admitted that they are deducting a bit from each batch of coffee to make it last longer, but the customers patriotically don't seem to object. However, unlike some places, the diner does not limit coffee drinking to certain hours nor has a one-cup limit been set as yet. The price of hamburgers has been upped a nickel.

Haffner's hamburgers are at the 15-cent mark. Coffee is served at all hours, but only one cup to a customer. At Carrigan's, on Washington avenue at Overlook, they're serving coffee until it is gone, but attempt to hold most of it for defense workers going on night shifts. They've raised the hamburger price, and offer the opinion that it will be hard to deal with the meatless Tuesday problems since they cater to a group of meat eaters who don't like substitutes. However, they'll attempt to satisfy their appetites with egg, fish and other assorted dishes.

Still holding out with hamburgers at the old 10-cent price and coffee at all hours is Rutger's luncheonette, but Jack's at Union avenue and Joralemon street limits the customers to one cup and won't serve any after 2 p.m. They've held hamburgers at 10 cents, although their margin of profit has been cut down by the increased price of the meat. Their patrons are accepting the meatless Tuesday plan, being content to eat chicken chop mein, meatless steaks and liver.

It's Still A Good Pie

Lots of substitutes are necessary nowadays but let us hope that most menu planners will be able to serve traditional holiday dishes. The pumpkin pie shown above may be made with honey instead of sugar, in equal quantity. And if a shortage of spices has hit your leader you will find pumpkin pie spices on the shelves of most stores. Each can contains a pleasing mixture of the spices ordinarily used in pumpkin filling and an enormous saving of precious spices results from this method of packaging.

Plain Pie Crust

1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons shortening
About 2 1/2 tablespoons water
Mix flour and salt and work in the shortening with the tips of the fingers; when "grainy" add water slowly and use no more than absolutely necessary to make a very stiff dough. Roll out a bit more than half the dough on a lightly floured board and line a pie pan. A deep pan with smaller circumference than usual is best for pumpkin pie. Leave a generous turnover around the rim and prick the crust thoroughly with a fork. Bake until golden brown in a 400 degree oven (about 10 minutes). Roll out the rest of the pastry and cut out turkey silhouette from an outline which you have traced on white paper. Bake on cookie sheet for 10 minutes.

Pumpkin Filling

1 1/2 cups cooked pumpkin
1 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1/4 teaspoon mace
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
2 tablespoons butter
Heat the pumpkin, milk, sugar, spices and salt in a double boiler; add beaten eggs and mix well. Pour the hot filling into baked shell and bake in a 350 degree oven about 30 minutes or until a silver knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Place the turkey silhouette on top of the pie.

P.T.A. In Drive To Enroll Women For War Industries

Block Mothers Make House-To-House Check To Find Women Who Can Enroll In Free Training Courses; Some Have Signed Up

The parent-teacher association's house-to-house canvass under the sponsorship of the block mothers is interesting women who feel that they can afford to go into industry without disrupting either themselves or their households. The survey is being made to learn the number of women who are able to volunteer for war work and help to avoid conscription of women for industry.

Almost 25 block mothers in town have received illustrated booklets explaining where and how women can receive training for specialized and higher paying jobs in industry. All block mothers are finding women within their immediate neighborhood who can and wish to give up house-keeping duties to make themselves more helpful in production.

The P.T.A. does not wish to take any women away from small children or to draw women who are working already. They do wish to impress on others who have no certain skills and who could afford to work, where and how they can receive training. Some block mothers are already so enthused with the idea that they have enrolled in courses. All participating in the distribution of the booklets, hold themselves ready to speak at meetings and before individual women to show them the merit of the idea.

Many Courses Offered

Courses open include aircraft riveting, aircraft sheet metalwork, machine tool and drill press operation, mechanical and radio inspection, acetylene welding, air craft inspection, detailing and tracing, soldering and power sewing machine operation. Stenography and typing, and calculation machine operation are also offered. The courses are all given at the Essex County vocational schools and technical high schools. Trained counsellors are always available at the vocational schools and are glad to talk to applicants. So far, only about 10 women from Belleville have enrolled in the courses.

Any woman 17 years and 10 months of age or older may enroll. There is no charge regardless of where a person lives. Any one who has the desire to avail themselves of such an opportu-

Just What Have You Done?

Nearly a year has passed since this country entered the world war, and it is a good time for each of us to make a personal appraisal. What have you done? This nation is making its greatest fight in history for the preservation of freedom and liberty for which our forefathers fought and died. It is battling to break the yoke of enslavement which today rules in many corners of the world.

Men are fighting to assure that we may live, think, speak and write freely and without fear. What have you done to help? Naturally, you are using less of some things, but only because the government insisted that you should. Let us say that you have been "forced" to forego some of the luxuries and pleasures which were once commonplace.

But, voluntarily what have you done? Have you taken your place in the gigantic army which is necessary to a constant and watchful home front? Many are still standing blandly by, unconcerned and insisting that there is no place in this fight for them, either because they haven't attempted to find out what they could do or because they just don't give a d—n.

When civilian defense became the all-important matter of the hour, did you respond? Did you enroll as an air raid warden, a police or fire reserve or a first aid worker? True, there are lots of people who enlisted, but there is still room for more. Is salvage one of those things that you think is silly and aren't interested in doing anything about? Are you saving tin cans and fats and greases? Did you give some of that old junk in the cellar to the scrap drive?

How about the car? Are you earnestly endeavoring to conserve wear and tear on it and save on tires and gasoline? Are you one of those who has become panicky about available foods and grabbed everything in sight instead of taking what you need when you need it, so there would be enough to go around for everybody?

What about bonds? Have you bought any or is a part of your weekly earnings going toward the purchase of them? And then there's the Red Cross. They don't want money at the moment, but they do need all of the volunteers, particularly women, whom they can get. Have you helped the U.S.O. and other service agencies which are attempting to make life more pleasant for our fighting men?

You say there's no place for you in this war? Well, there is for every last person, and unless you do your part, the war may be lengthened or even lost. These questions should not be necessary. The tragic memory of the men, women and children who died at Pearl Harbor should be so closely etched in your mind that vengeance for that treachery and loss of American lives should forever instill you with the zeal to do all that you can.

A Present For The Post Office

Regular post office visitors know that for the past year the number of customers who must be waited upon daily, and the amount of mail which passes through the office have increased tremendously. The force has been able to keep pace with the rise despite the loss of veteran employees to the service and the addition of some inexperienced but willing new workers.

Getting the mail to your doorstep every day and assuring that the letters and packages which you send get to their destination speedily may not seem like a big job to you, but it is an involved task which requires now as never before the utmost in public cooperation.

The busiest part of the year is at hand for the postal department. Here in Belleville we have an office which with the increase in the number and the business transacted by war plants, has been taxed far beyond its peace-time work. Christmas mail flowing in and out of the office will probably more than double in the coming weeks.

Everybody must help. Residents want their yuletide gifts and their holiday greetings to get to destinations safely and quickly. The post office promises that it can be done if the senders will respect the mailing dates which have been established by the department. They appear elsewhere in this issue. Be sure to check them so that your cards and packages are mailed before it is too late for delivery before Christmas.

Those sending packages should be certain that they are safely and securely wrapped and properly addressed. If you are not sure that you are doing the right thing, then inquire at the post office where a copy of the instructions will be given to you.

The biggest and best present which you can give to the postal employees is to mail early. Won't you do it?

A Telegram From Washington

When Western Union called to inform that there was a 125-word telegram from Washington waiting for us at the office, we were filled with immediate curiosity, and even some worry. From F. D. R.? Maybe he didn't like some of those editorials? What did we do wrong on that income tax return last March? It might even be selective service getting a jump-ahead of the local board?

Here is what we got:

The government is asking the American farmer to dedicate the remaining weeks of 1942 to an intensified scrap hunt. Steel mills need more heavy scrap and the farms are one of the best sources of this type of metal. We need your further help in this farm drive, and in aiding our salvage committees to continue this effort throughout the next few weeks. Mats and other material to help you are being prepared and will be mailed soon. All salvage committees are being instructed to continue to make available to the farmer all their transportation facilities and manpower, and to cooperate with you in every possible way. The nation is looking to the American farmer. I am sure, with your help, he will come through.

Donald M. Nelson, Chairman.

To hear from Mr. Nelson is some sort of a honor of which we should be humbly proud. To receive a telegram should rouse to unequalled patriotic fervor. Unfortunately, it doesn't.

Mr. Nelson is apparently unfamiliar with Belleville and its surroundings. Finding the American farmer hereabouts is like searching for the proverbial needle in the haystack. The lone one we can boast of is Gus Enge and his truck farm. While there may

Very Little Bit Will Help

The meagre amount which a housewife may be able to save from fat and grease shippings may seem like a futile gesture in the collection of waste fats to go into the tional boiling pot to help make war materials. But, the war production board claims that if every housewife in the country saved only four ounces of waste fat each week it would produce the glycerine which is required to make 13,000,000 pounds of gunpowder.

The quota of 8,000 pounds per month which the government has set for Nutley sewives is a big one, more than four times greater than the amount which is being turned in to local butcher shops today. We know that the quota won't be met only 50 percent or even 75 percent of the men do their part. It will mean a little more work on the part of all. Does that really count when we know that what we doing will help hasten the day when Axis forces will be brought to their knees?

What do you do with your fats? According to general figures, between one and two billion pounds of valuable waste fats and oils go down the drain and into the garbage cans of America each year. Every time that you let a pound of fat and grease go to waste, you are depriving your country of the material which will fire four anti-aircraft shells.

Fats and oils are the raw materials from which glycerine is produced, and glycerine is a basic and indispensable ingredient in the majority of our modern war explosives. Prior to this country's entrance into the war, more than 60 percent of the fats used was imported from the Far East. The loss of this normal source of supply has been further aggravated by the increased demand for the use of fats in the manufacture of explosives.

Make your kitchen an arsenal. Instead of putting your fats down the sink, save them to help sink Hitler and his pals.

PITCH 'EM IN!

Bill Jones Is Dead

(The following article, entitled "Bill Jones Is Dead," appeared in Roe Fulkerson's "My Personal Page" in a recent issue of the Keweenaw Magazine. Appreciation is extended to the publishers of the Keweenaw publications for permission to reprint it.—Ed Note.)

Bill Jones is dead. Bill Jones had just graduated from agricultural college. He was ambitious to put into action all he had learned about conservation of soil, better breeding of cattle, rotating crops because his dad's farm was in pretty bad shape. When war came, Bill enlisted in the Army.

Bill went to the Philippines and the little town where he was billeted was overrun by a horde of Japs. Bill fought as long as he could and then, under orders, surrendered. They tied his hands behind him and a Jap soldier started to rape a white woman. He had torn her blouse off when Bill kicked him in the belly, and three Japs waiting their turn rammed their bayonets into Bill's guts.

This happened about the time you were telling the folks at your house that it was all darned nonsense to ration sugar because cake and candy were certainly no diet for soldiers.

Bill Jones is dead. He was a soda jerk in a small town, and when the bands blared and the flags fluttered, he signed up for the Navy. They put him on a torpedo boat. He learned to wear his hat on the corner of his head, and when he walked, then his boat got into a scrap down in the South Seas. Bill stood by his gun and laughed as he fired it, but a shell hit the deck beside him. When he tried to pull himself to his feet, he saw that his right arm was in the scuppers five feet away. He reached for his gun with his left hand, and then things went black. The list of the ship rolled a dead sailor into the scuppers where his dismembered arm lay. Its extended thumb touched the tip of his nose, so that in death as in life, Bill was thumbing his nose at the Jap ship that got him.

This was just the same day that you were raising hell because they were rationing gasoline, and for fear you couldn't drive up to the lake to go fishing every weekend this summer, you hid four cans of gasoline in your garage.

Bill Jones is dead. Bill's dad had a lot of money, and when Bill wanted his own plane, dad bought it for him. Bill was a wild devil, driving a car out of all reason and flying a plane the same way, and getting drunk too often. But he was the first man in his town to respond to the Air Corps' call for fliers.

Bill got into a dog fight over the English Channel. There were German planes, but with a "Tallyho!" He dove into the bunch of them. He got two before a third one sent a burst of bullets into his back that also cut him in half, but he held on to the stick until he rammed the fourth plane and went down with it locked in the flaming embrace of death.

This happened about the time you were bellyaching and feeling abused because of the outrageous treatment given you by the fire rationing board which would not allow you recaps for your pleasure car.

Bill Jones is dead. Bill was a boy who had inclinations for the ministry, but when the call came, Bill laid aside his Bible and joined the Marine Corps. Bill wasn't much fun around the blanket where they were shooting craps, and he wasn't so hot at the beer-drinking contests in the jukes, but he earned his sergeant's stripes before they sent his gang ashore in one of those new boats which land through the surf.

The first full of fighting fools charged a machine gun nest, and Bill had just taken careful aim and let go with a hand grenade when another machine caught him. Four bullets hit his head, but a Marine has four speeds forward and no reverse, and Bill fell toward the enemy.

That was the afternoon when you were sitting at the golf club with a highball in your hand, telling the other three fellows in your foursome that if income taxes were not reduced, they were going to kill initiative in this country.

Bill Jones is dead. Bill was a football player who had good prospects as professional coach at a good small college. Then came Pearl Harbor. Bill used some football language and headed for town to sign up with the parachute troops. He did all right.

Bill got action in an air raid in enemy country. He hit the ground with a dozen of his pals and raced to where their machine guns and grenades had landed near them. Fully equipped, they made for a nearby farm house from which bullets were spraying like water out of a garden hose.

Six of those machine gun bullets fairly cut Bill's legs off, but he lay on his belly in the mud and get two Heinies. Bill's last words were, "Of all the damn fool luck!"

That was the time you were telling the boys at the poker game that the union racketeers and the munition manufacturers were making fortunes out of this war, when we had no business getting into it in the first place.

Bill Jones is dead. Bill was an uneducated clam digger on the New England coast but he knew about boats. He had only one eye and the uniformed rinks would not take him so he shipped on a tanker. His ship was bringing oil up the coast when a German pig boat came up out of the slime and sent a torpedo into the hull amidships. The fighter burst into flames and Bill went over the side into the burning oil.

When he came to the surface, a machine gun was practicing on the bobbing heads. When the bullets hit Bill's head, it burst open like a dropped egg. His charred bullet-riddled body sank beneath the surface.

That was the night you were telling the folks at your party that this war is being run by a lot of old women in Washington, the most mismanaged mess you ever heard of.

Bill Jones is dead. When God in His infinite kindness meets Bill Jones at Heaven's gate, He is going to say "Well done, thou good and faithful servant!"

What He is going to say to you God alone knows.

Draft Chairman Makes Plea For Public Cooperation

From John P. Dailey, Chairman, Local Board No. 9, Selective Service System, Town Hall.

To the Editor of The Times:

November 24, 1942
The members of Local Board No. 9 wish to express to you and the Belleville Times their appreciation for the editorial that appeared in last week's edition. We are very pleased to know that at least someone appreciates and realizes the great amount of pressure and work that fall upon the Local Draft Board. Of course when we were appointed to this job we realized that it was not a pleasant one, and have tried to do our best to carry out the Act as it was intended when written by Congress.

If we could only secure the cooperation of the citizens at large when reporting to us over their signature cases that they thought were improperly classified, we would be in a position to at least reply to them and in nine cases out of ten prove that they had been misinformed. Of the anonymous letters we receive perhaps 90 percent of them, when checking up, we find have been rejected by the doctors for some physical irregularity. The registrants themselves do not wish to have this known so they make all types of excuses as to why they are not in service, and of course the friends and neighbors lay the blame to the board. Another cause for some of the misunderstanding of classifications is the rapid change in regulations. A man classified today may come under a certain classification, while tomorrow a new regulation would put a man in similar circumstances in another classification and it may be a week or a month or two before we are able to reclassify the original registrant.

However, please accept our thanks for your editorial and understanding of our problem.

Defends King Against Crack At Recent Board Meeting

J. Alden De Ronde
195 Holmes Street
To the Editor of The Times:

Perhaps this will indicate to the people of Belleville how highly their judgement is esteemed by certain of their publicly elected officials.

Commissioner King was challenged at a recent meeting of our commissioners to mention one (or more) constructive things he had done for Belleville since holding office—just as if such questions had a rightful place on the agenda.

Isn't this a matter for the voters to decide — and didn't they give evidence of their decision when they re-elected Mr. King to office?

Isn't it a direct slap at the intelligence of the voters to infer that they elected and re-elected a man to office who had never done any thing to warrant such public confidence?

Recent developments should have taught the questioner that the public is apt to recall such slaps, at crucial moments.

Didn't Go To Head

Probably one of the reasons why Mr. King was re-elected was because authority didn't go to his head, but the chief reason was that the type of service he had rendered was evidently satisfactory to the citizens of our town.

Mr. King probably feels in no need of help from me, but as a reminder to him that there is no justification for his subservient attitude in the presence of more arrogant commissioners, he was not defeated when running for office in a broader field of activities—as was the case with the gentleman who started this ruckus. And now that we are quoting a few truths, let's consider another which emanated from the mouth of a very astute member of our local governing body.

When asked for his opinion on a certain subject his answer was—"I'll talk in my own good time, and I may have a candidate of my own."

Could there be a more revealing example of integrity and veracity — especially when the last part of that statement is analyzed? Who his candidate might be we don't know, but the commissioner's attitude indicates that he favors the wrong one.

Too great an effort to hide the truth some times reveals it.

BIGGEST TASK EVER FACING POST OFFICE

Public Must Mail Early, Says Sinnott; Shortage in Help, Facilities

No Christmas season in history has placed upon the post office department the tremendous task which faces it during this month. A myriad of problems and handicaps confront the service in speeding Christmas mail and packages to their destination and still maintaining a steady flow of vital wartime correspondence to industries and the military branches.

Coupled with the curtailment of transportation facilities, both rail and motor, which are now taxed to capacity, the P. O. is also faced with a labor shortage. Annually, thousands of temporary workers have been added to the regular personnel to handle the mail during the regular holiday season. In the past year, hundreds of post office employees have been drafted into the service, and with the number of people who have entered the industries, securing part-time help has become a serious problem.

No post office in the nation faces a greater task than the New York office, of which Belleville is a branch. In addition to being one of the country's most heavily populated areas and traditionally a Christmas-giving and card-sending region, it is in the center of one of the most vital war production zones and transportation crossroads of the nation.

Should Warn Patrons

Postmaster John F. Sinnott of Newark this week issued an order to all postal subordinates to sternly warn patrons that they must mail Christmas gifts and packages early this season.

Sinnott assured that the order was not just a customary gesture, annually issued by the department at this season, but one which the public must heed if it is expected that packages and cards will reach their destination before Christmas.

In the list of dates given below as the last possible time for mailing parcels and cards to different sections of the country, it will be noted that an earlier mailing date has been scheduled than in past years. To make certain of delivery in all parts of this state, it is requested that Christmas articles and greetings be mailed by December 12.

It was emphasized by Sinnott that these dates apply whether parcels are to be distributed within the immediate vicinity or at distant points. In other words, the person who waits until December 12 or 23 to send cards out to relatives and friends in town and elsewhere in this area will probably be too late for Christmas delivery.

The entrance of thousands of men into the service has added to the duties of the department both in mail which is weekly shipped to them by families and friends, plus their replies which daily come from military outposts throughout the world.

In the list below, the last possible date on which parcels should be mailed at the office here or in Newark to reach their destination in the states named before Christmas is given.

Can't Guarantee Delivery

"Parcels mailed later than the dates listed," Sinnott said, "cannot be guaranteed delivery by Christmas unless they are mailed special delivery."

December 3—Twin, Kansas, Minnesota.

HOLD CHANUKAH
OBSERVANCE

Traditional Festival To Open Tonight; Religious School Program Sunday

The annual observance of Chanukah, the Jewish festival of lights, will begin tonight and continue to December 10. The holiday festivals in the Jewish calendar because its observance is not mentioned in the Bible.

Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, of Congregation Ahavas Achim in explaining the meaning and customs of the holiday said that according to the Jewish calendar, Chanukah falls on the 25th day of Kislev. It is celebrated in commemoration of the courageous campaign waged by the Maccabees of old against the overwhelming hordes of Antiochus Epiphanes when he sought to conquer Palestine in the year 165 B. C. The holiday is also known as the feast of dedication to remind Jews of the purification and rededication of the holy temple in Jerusalem three years after it was defiled by the Syrian general and king.

It is observed eight days because of the miracle wrought when a flask of holy oil for the temple, which under ordinary circumstances should last but one day, burned for eight days until new oil could be obtained.

Candlelighting Ceremony

Chanukah is principally observed in the home and synagogue by the lighting of Chanukah candles set in an eight-branched Menorah, with an additional holder for the "Shammoss" or the servant candle. The custom is to light one candle the first night, two the second night and so on. The lighting is preceded by the chanting of appropriate blessings and the singing of the popular hymns, "Haneros Hailalu," and "Mooz Tsur."

Interesting customs are observed during the holiday. The children receive Chanukah gifts, they play a game, "dreidel," a teetotum, with Hebrew lettering on its sides. It is a tradition to eat "latkes," small potato pancakes on the evening of the holiday.

Among the observances planned by the local Jewish community is a Chanukah service to be held tomorrow night at 8:15. Rabbi Dobin will officiate and preach on "Pagans in our Temple." The various club groups who meet in the synagogue will hold Chanukah programs. The main event in the holiday observance will be the annual Chanukah festival given by the pupils of the religious school on Sunday afternoon at 2. It will be held in the social hall of the congregation in Washington avenue.
