

SCHOOL BUDGET LATE BOOST SEEMS LIKELY

Proposed Budget Calls For $25,000 In Amount
Raised By Taxes

The taxpayers will be asked to vote on a school budget for 1943-44 on February which provides for an estimated increase of between eight and nine points in this year's tax rate, should all other local budget requirements be the same as they were in 1942.

A reduction in anticipated receipts from state sources, the inclusion of $20,000 for pay increases for teachers and the carry over from the current budget of a smaller balance than last year have been the main contributing factors in the rise.

The total budget for school needs is up $18,866.06 over 1942-43 to $704,726.65. It is proposed to raise $539,457.68 through local taxes as compared with $514,860.59 last year. Anticipated revenues from state sources are estimated at $135,205. Last year, the system was paid $136,000. There was a $36,000 cash balance from the previous year included in the 1942-43 budget while this year only $33,063.57 is available for transfer.

The voters will be asked to vote on four items at the election which will be held at the high school from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, February 9. It will include $554,545 for current expenses; $3,000, library; $16,075, manual training; $25,000, maintenance; also scheduled for payment this year is a debt service item of $106,106.25 which is not voted upon at the polls.

Division Not Explained
Although $20,000 has been placed in the budget for pay raises, it was not indicated by the board how the increases would be given. It was understood that all teachers would not benefit from the pay jumps which would go into effect next September. Most teachers received a $100 salary increase last September and were given a five per cent cost-of-living bonus by the school board shortly before Christmas.

The action at which the voters will be asked to vote on the budget, although in past years only a few of the total eligible voters have gone to the polls, will be held at the high school from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, February 9. Four residents have been selected to take charge of the election. Rev. Peter Deekenbach, rector of Christ Episcopal church, will be the board chairman. Others appointed are Mrs. W. J. Zahn, Frank McCadden and Luther Van Pelt.

PLEA FOR MORE HOUSE IRE

Teacher Ass'n Salary Spokesman
Asks For $200 More;
Two Blast It

A request by a representative of the salary committee of the Belleville Teachers' association for a $200 wage increase for all teachers to start next September drew sharp rebuke from several members of the board of education when it was read at Friday night's meeting.

The letter, copies of which were sent to each of the five school trustees, were signed by Herbert Bitterman for the salary committee of the association.

After opening the letter with an expression of thanks for the granting of a bonus to the teachers, paid shortly before Christmas, the letter launched into a plea for the $200 increment and an argument to substantiate its necessity. Last September, the teachers were voted a $100 raise by the board.

"I am much amazed," commented School Board President Herbert C. Schmutz. Pointing out that he had received many letters of thanks from teachers, he added: "I don't believe that this letter was sent to us with the knowledge of the majority of teachers in our system."

"The board realized that salaries should be raised," stated James M. Lynch, "and we pioneered for giving more money," claiming that Belleville was the first board of education in this region to indicate that employees would receive a cost-of-living bonus.

"We moved heaven and earth so they would get their money before Christmas," added Schmutz.

Two Brothers Went Down On The Juneau

Two Delaware brothers who formerly resided here were among the navy men who went down with the cruiser Juneau. They were William Weeks, 23, and his brother, Harold, 21. They were the sons of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Weeks.

The family moved there several years ago after residing at 17 Jefferson street for a number of years. Both boys attended School No. 7. Inseparable from early childhood they grew up together working at the same jobs and then enlisted in the navy.

In addition to their parents, they are survived by a younger brother, Bobby, who will shortly be called into the army, and a sister, Mary.

NEXT THURSDAY COLLECTION DAY FOR TIN CANS

Salvage Group Hopes To Top 10-Ton Total
For December

Topping last month's 10-ton collection will be the goal of the salvage committee next Thursday which is the monthly day for picking up tin cans. If householders even equal last month's mark, they will be contributing to sending 40 more B-19 bombers winging on their way to wreak havoc among the Japs and the Nazis.

Of the tremendous weight of 164,000 pounds of each plane, only five pounds of it is tin, but it is used in a vital part of the plane's engines. It takes 500 pounds of tin cans to make five pounds of the type of tin which is required. Collections are still spotty in some sections so a careful check will be made by the committee next week so that plans can be made to conduct an educational program in areas where the tin can return is poor.

Put Out Wednesday Night

Arthur Bloemee, chairman of the tin section, urges that residents put their cans on the curb on Wednesday night since the public works department trucks supervised by James Waters, road superintendent, will be out on the street early on Thursday morning.

Householders were urged to properly prepare cans for collection. They should be washed, labels removed and the top and bottom cut off and inserted inside of the can which should then be flattened.

TO PICK CHIEFS OF BLOCK PLAN

Meet Tomorrow To Select Zone, Sector Heads;
Purpose Outlined

Appointment of zone and sector chiefs for the new block leader plan of the defense council will be made at a meeting to be held tomorrow night. It has been called by George H. Weston, newly named chairman of the division, and John Hewitt, chairman of the community service and war section of the defense organization of which the block leader group is a part.

The block plan is a program of organization established to assure total coverage of all households for civilian war services. It is principally an educational program designed as a personal follow-up on the explanations of the many home front activities as outlined in the newspapers and over the radio.

Locally, the plan will be organized in singular fashion to the air raid precaution service; Weston said. The town will be divided into five zones with a chief of each zone working directly under Weston's leadership. There will be a total of 44 sectors with each sector broken down into blocks with a leader for each one. Weston estimates, based on the number serving in the ARP, that the organization will total more than 1,100 people when it has been fully organized so that there will be coverage of every home in town assured.

Want New People

Zone and sector leaders will be chosen, he said, from lists submitted by defense units, civic groups and churches. After these people have become thoroughly acquainted with the program which they are to direct, the campaign will be opened to enroll the hundreds of volunteers who will serve as the block leaders. Special emphasis will be placed not only on securing those who are well known and respected in their neighborhood, but also in enrolling those who are not well connected with some other civilian defense service.

SCHOOL CLOSING TO SAVE FUEL MIGHT COME

Conserving H. S. Oil Reason; Would Take Place Of
Easter Vacation

Should the critical fuel oil shortage become more acute, it may be necessary to move the annual spring closing of the schools up until next month to conserve oil in the high school.

The board of education has granted permission to Herbert C. Schmutz, president of the board of education, and Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Farmer to take such action if it is deemed necessary. Although the high school building is the only one in the system which is heated with fuel oil, Schmutz said that if a shutdown is decided upon, all of the public schools would be closed at the same time.

"Even though we now have plenty," the president said, "to shut down the schools would help to conserve coal."

The possibility of converting the heating system in the high school was aired at Friday night's meeting of the board of education. Speaking both as chairman of the rationing board and as president, Schmutz said that the problem is a serious one and there is no telling at this time what the board may be ordered to do by the war production board.

Since the school uses more than 10,000 gallons of oil annually, the handling of its case comes under the jurisdiction of the WPB and not of the local rationing board.

A heating expert has already examined the system and a report has been filed with WPB that to change to a heating plant that would be costly.

Schmutz estimated that the minimum cost to convert would be between $7,000 and $8,000. There has already been a sharp reduction in the amount of fuel oil used in the high school. The average temperature throughout the school day, according to Ruel E. Daniels, business manager of the board of education, is 67 degrees.

A 45 per cent cut in fuel oil consumption has been made, he said. The furnaces are shut down at noon each day and are not opened again until early the next morning before the opening of school, Daniels explained. No heat will be furnished for any activities which are conducted during the evening in the future, he said. This applies to all school basketball games, civilian defense units and other groups which use the building.

"We have been forced to take this course," Daniels said, "to assure that there would be sufficient fuel oil to heat the school building for the rest of the winter."

Supply Never Low

At no time, he said, has the supply of oil for the building been low. He attributed this to the fact that the board has always purchased its oil from the same dealer.

It was emphasized at Friday night's meeting of the school board that cancellation of all evening activities which require the use of heat had been decided for the remainder of the winter. Basketball games are continuing being played under much cooler temperatures than is usual.

TAKE BLOOD AGAIN ON MARCH 5TH

Mobile Unit Will Make
Third Visit Here;
Want Volunteers

The mobile unit of the American Red Cross blood donor service will make its third visit here under the sponsorship of the local chapter on March 2. An appeal has been made by the chapter for more volunteers to offer to give a pint of blood to the service. Those willing should register with Miss Esther Adams at the Red Cross headquarters in the Woman's club, Rossmore place. The telephone number is Belleville 2-2111.

The blood taken from each volunteer is processed in New York into dry plasma and shipped to hospital outposts throughout the world and used to help save lives of fighting men who have been wounded. Mixed with distilled water, the plasma is just as effective as pure blood.

Those Who Still Can Get War Ration Book No. 1

January 15 was the deadline for applying for War Ration Book No. 1. Those who may still apply at the Belleville War Price and Ration Board, 476 Washington avenue, Belleville, are persons who were out of the country during the period, members of the armed forces no longer eating in organized messes, those discharged since January 15 from hospitals and institutions, and new born babies. Application within the last two categories must be made within a month.

Re-Named

James M. Lynch

James M. Lynch of 175 Tappan avenue was re-appointed to the board of education this week. Notification of the re-naming was given to the board in a letter from Mayor Williams read at Friday night's meeting of the trustees.

Lynch's term will be for five years, ending in January, 1948. He has served as finance chairman of the board and is an official of the Prudential Insurance company. He has been active in a number of civic activities, including the Community Chest and the Welfare Federation. He is local representative for the United Service Organizations.

RATION BANKING OPENS WEDNESDAY AT PEOPLES BANK

Wholesalers, Retailers Must Deposit Coupons; Draw
Ration Checks.

Participation in the ration banking program being inaugurated throughout the nation by the office of price administration was announced yesterday by the Peoples Bank and Trust company. The program will become effective nationally next Wednesday.

The plan whereby stamps and coupons taken in by storekeepers, wholesalers and other sellers of rationed commodities will flow back to primary suppliers through the commercial banks, was established by the OPA in cooperation with representative bankers, including a committee appointed by the American Bankers' association and federal and state banking supervisory agencies.

One of the numerous war services which banks have been called upon by the government to perform, this program provides that wholesalers and other large retailers will be required by the OPA to open ration bank accounts. Into these accounts wholesalers and retailers will deposit the ration coupons received from customers against which they will draw special ration checks, when ordering new supplies.

All Over $5,000 Must
All retailers whose food sales exceeded $5,000 in December, 1942, will be required to use the plan. Below is the list of users who are required under OPA order to join the ration banking movement:

1. All retailers of rationed foods (sugar and coffee initially, and processed fruits and vegetables when these programs go into effect) whose December, 1942, sales of all food merchandise were $5,000 or more. (Food retailers whose December sales were less than $5,000 are left free to open ration bank accounts if they want.)

2. Chain stores.

3. All food wholesalers and other food distributors back of the retail level.

4. All gasoline wholesalers and other distributors of gasoline, except gasoline retailers who are not permitted to open ration bank accounts.

The plan will not apply to fuel oil under present arrangements.

It was emphasized by bank officials that consumers such as housewives, motorists and other individuals who purchase rationed commodities will not be affected by the new ration system. They will continue to obtain their coupons from ration boards and to use them in making purchases as they have done in the past. The banks will have nothing to do with the fixing of ration allowances or allowances or with the issuing of ration coupons. This work will continue to be performed by the local war price and rationing board.

Ration banking, it was explained, will in no way affect the regular money or check accounts of the public. The new plan will have new accounts for the handling of ration coupons only and will be entirely separate from (Continued On Page 6)

Three More Are Graduated As Airplane Mechanics

Trio Members Of Class At Gulfport, Miss. Field; Aviation Cadet Herman Doell Is Assigned To Primary School; Dimeo In Naval School

The army air forces technical training command center at Gulfport field, Miss. this week graduated three local youths who have been trained as airplane mechanics. They will be assigned to bases where giant American bombers are stationed in this country or in the foreign service.

The trio of graduates were Pvt. Michael Pugliese, William Jinks and Peter J. Iacullo. Iacullo, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmine Iacullo of 126 Brighton avenue, was formerly employed as a machinist by the Crocker-Wheeler company in Newark.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Donato Pugliese of 223 Belleville avenue, Pvt. Pugliese was formerly a centerless grinder with the Centerless Products in Newark.

Jim is the son of Mrs. Mary W. Jinks of 27 Bayard street. He was a machinist with the Viking Tool & Machine company. Among the 131 aviation cadets leaving the San Antonio aviation cadet center in Texas for primary schools this week was cadet Herman M. Doell of 169 Linden avenue. He is the son of Mrs. Clara E. Doell.

Seymour Johnson Graduate
Pvt. Albert J. Wille, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wille of 137 Carpenter street, was graduated this week from Seymour Johnson field in North Carolina. He was graduated from the high school and was inducted into the army. He was formerly employed by the Fidelity Union Trust company in Newark.

In training at the naval school for machinists in Lawrence, Kan. is Ralph Dimeo. He is the 19-year-old son of Mrs. Florence Dimeo of 558 Washington avenue.

AMBULANCE CORPS LECTURES START

First Of Nine Will Be Held Thursday; Want
More Members

Future accomplishment of a three-point program was outlined this week by Lawrence B. McCloskey, chief of the ambulance corps of the defense council, in announcing that a series of nine lectures would be held weekly for corps members starting next Thursday night.

Although intended for ambulance workers, the sessions will be open to all civilian defense volunteers and of special interest to those who drive motor vehicles in their work with units. All meetings will be held in School No. 8. The admission ticket for those civilian volunteers wishing to attend will be an armband and an identification card.

The three-fold purpose of the sessions will be to regain or sustain the interest of present members of the ambulance corps, to launch a drive for recruits, especially men, and to round out the training of the corps.

Speakers for the first meeting will be Mayor Williams, who is also the defense council commander who will outline the setup of the local defense organization, while coordinator Harry J. Sullivan will explain the operation of the control center. A representative of the state motor vehicle department will lecture on drive testing equipment and illustrate its operation.

Other Speakers
Speakers for succeeding lectures and their topics are as follows:

February 4—Everett B. Smith, defense council chairman, "Legal Responsibilities of the Civilian Defense Drivers."

February 11—A representative of the safety education division of the state department of motor vehicles will explain motor vehicle rules and regulations, advanced driving skills and accident prevention.

February 18—A second speaker from the motor vehicle department will outline emergency driving rules and discuss blackout and convoy driving.

February 25—F. Kenneth Schultze, general manager of the New Jersey Automobile club, map reading.

March 4—Sidney Kauffer, chairman of the decontamination section of the defense council, "War Gas Detection and Protection."

March 11—Red Cross first aid instructors will outline and demonstrate first aid and transportation of injury victims.

March 18—F. Kenneth Schultze, "Preventive Maintenance and Road Side Repairs."

March 25—H. Sherman Beatty, mileage rationing representative of the state office of price administration, conservation of gasoline and tires, cooperative transportation and highlights of gasoline and tire rationing regulations.

All lectures are scheduled to start at 8:30 p.m.

Real Basketball Lover
Leonard Spivak, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Spivak of 78 Tappan avenue, is such an ardent basketball fan that he walked to the recent Kearny-Belleville game at Kearny high school, stood up during the game and walked home. Leonard is in the sixth grade at School No. 3.

Draft Classification Cards Must Be Carried

The draft board warned all registrants this week that they must carry their draft classification cards at all times. This is in addition to the original registration cards issued to them which they have always been required to have in their possession.

Those who have lost or mislaid their cards have been given now and February 1 to obtain a new one from the draft board at its office in the town hall. After that date, a drive will be made by various enforcement agencies to run down those who are violating the selective service regulation.

Violation of the ruling carries a $10,000 fine or five years' imprisonment or both. The order is principally aimed at those who failed to register or those who deliberately gave the wrong address.

After February 1, registrants will be required to display their classification cards on request to law enforcement agents, representatives of the secretary of state, secretary of treasury, attorney general's office, national headquarters of the selective service, state selective service headquarters, members of the local draft board or appeal board or to government appeal agents.

$24,000 QUOTA SET FOR DRIVE BY RED CROSS

Campaign Will Be Held In March; More Than Double '42 Goal

The largest quota in its history has been set for the American Red Cross by the national organization in its war fund drive. Raymond E. Mertz, campaign chairman, announced last night that Belleville is expected to contribute $24,000 toward building a national fund of $125,000,000. The drive will be held in March.

Although the figure is more than double the quota of $12,000 set last year, Mertz pointed out that last year the goal of $10,000 was topped by several thousands of dollars, between $12,000 and $13,000 being raised.

Not only the national organization but every local chapter is faced with increased expenses because of the demands being made on the local organization through inquiries by families of local men in the service, its canteen corps, first aid division, nurses' aides and home nursing and blood donor services.

To Open Drive Headquarters

Plans are under way for the establishment of a drive headquarters and members of a planning committee will be announced shortly. B. Thomas Aitken, chapter chairman, and Mertz have appealed to all volunteers to assist for the work in the house-to-house drive. They may sign up by calling Miss Esther Adams at the Red Cross headquarters in the Woman's club, Be. 2-2111.

Walker Gittord, president of the A. T. & T. will be chairman of the drive, and the goal is based upon estimates which study shows are actually needed to meet the heavy war-time obligations and responsibilities of the Red Cross. This sum covers local national and international wartime needs of the organization for one year, barring unforeseen emergencies after the central committee examined the budgets of the national organization and its 3,750 chapters. More than 65 per cent of the amount required by the national organization has been budgeted for direct service to the armed forces.

Registration Starts Feb. 1 For Newark Adult School

Registration for the Newark Adult school will be held February 1 and 2 and the curriculum includes courses ranging over defense, college and business subjects and hobby courses.

Any adult, regardless of his residence, can receive for any course upon payment of the required fee. The courses cover three periods: from 8 to 9, from 9:15 to 10:15, and from 10:15 to 11:15. The classes start on February 8. Applications are accepted in order of their receipt. It is suggested that applicants register immediately so that they can enter the classes they wish.

All branches of civilian defense are covered in the courses as are photography, stenography, dancing, gym, rummy, languages and sports. Books for certain courses may be borrowed from the North End branch of the Newark public library which is open on school nights.

Applications may be made by mail and a bulletin, describing the courses, may be had by writing the school at Summer avenue and Grafton avenue in Newark.

Debaters Give Varied Views On Constitution Question

Mortimer Eisner Tells Republican Women That Century-Old Document Won't Meet Today's Needs; Requires Amending Only, Says Evans

"The constitution of New Jersey, made in 1844, is not equal to the present day complex problems of New Jersey citizens," according to Mortimer Eisner, speaker for the revision of the constitution in a debate at the last meeting of the Woman's Republican club, held on Thursday at the Woman's club in Rossmore place.

According to Eisner, secretary to the New Jersey Constitution Foundation, the constitution must be revised because it was originally made for a much smaller group of people than the number that it now serves. As the constitution stands now the governor has no power to veto, the legislature cannot do its job well because its members are reelected every year and they have a minimum of funds at their disposal, he continued.

If the constitution were revised, the governor would have absolute power of veto under proposed legislation and the head of every agency would be directly responsible to the governor. The legislature could do a good job because its members would be in power for two years and their salaries would be raised to permit them more leeway. As the constitution now stands, the judicial system is outmoded because the judges have many other tasks to perform besides their court duties, and the taxpayers are wasting money by paying 16 judges for work. Only seven of the jurists are required to be lawyers.

Eisner contends that in a revised constitution, there would be faster and better court legislation, because the new constitution would provide for only one supreme court with seven judges and one appellate court for all other matters. This would cut the budget and give the judges a better opportunity to do their job.

Must Be Changed

The trouble with amending the constitution now, as Eisner sees it, is that a special election must be held to amend it and it must be submitted to two legislatures. If it could be amended by submission to one legislature, instead of two, and by a general election instead of a special one, the problem would be solved. Eisner feels that in the interest of a simplified and better government, and for economical reasons, our constitution must be changed, rapidly and radically.

According to Evans, the population governed by the constitution may be larger now, but the people are the same, and the constitution which was provided for them in 1844 is still good today. Amending the constitution would not cost either. Evans believes that an assembly job should never be for money-making purposes and when the day comes that there are no more candidates for the jobs, then, and only then, should the constitution be amended. Men who have private incomes are perhaps better fitted to do a public job than those who need the salary.

Amendments Favored

Evans thinks that the best way to fix the constitution is by simple amendments and not by entire revision. He contended that the constitution means nothing to the man in the street and that the average man is happy with it as it is. Eisner stated that one of the greatest problems is to bring a simple idea of the constitution and how it serves him directly in the path of the man in the street, so that he can judge for himself whether a revised constitution is the answer for him and his way of living.

Garden Section To Play Host To Woman's Club

On Monday at 2 p.m., the garden department of the Woman's club under the chairmanship of Mrs. Norman H. Cooper, will act as hostess to club members and guests at the clubhouse. Mrs. Dwight Streeter, one of the members of the department, will give an illustrated lecture on "How My Garden Grows." Refreshments will be served.

Fred B. Mases Celebrate Their 56th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Mase of 358 Joramelon street entertained at a family dinner Tuesday evening to celebrate their 56th wedding anniversary. Guests present were Dr. and Mrs. F. Kenneth Mase and their son, Frederic, Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Kintzing, and daughters, Joan and Sally, and Mr. and Mrs. George A. Shafer of Millburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Mase were married on January 19, 1887, at Green Pond. Mrs. Mase is the former Viola Ward and belongs to the Aren chapter of O. E. S. and the Woman's club. Mr. Mase is a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge of Dover, the Belleville Lodge 108, F. & A. M., and the Craftsmen's club. The couple have lived in Belleville for 40 years.

Americans who are now spending $227,000,000 a day on the war have provided, through their government, over $13,000,000,000 for new war plants and are working more than 50 hours a week longer in their factories and are being paid on the average of 85 cents an hour.

CUBS TELL STORY IN 5 STORES

Mothers Will Dress Windows With Displays During Scout Week

To further inform the public on the Cub Scout movement, Pack No. 350 during the observance of Boy Scout week from February 6 to 12 will have displays in five store windows.

The window in the Rossmore Pharmacy at 338 Washington avenue will be dressed by Mrs. Leonard Frescia and Mrs. Armando De Arajo. At Jack's Stationery store at Union avenue and Joramelon street, the window will be trimmed by Mrs. A. W. VanDusen and Mrs. Luther VanPelt. Mrs. William Armstrong and Mrs. John Stoddard will decorate the window in Michael's Barber shop at Union and Division avenues. The display at Stein's Stationery at 548 Union avenue will be made by Mrs. Walter Newton and Mrs. Martin Bress.

Mrs. Joseph Calenda will dress the window at Petoia's shoe repair store in Union avenue near Joramelon street.

To Attend Service

On Sunday afternoon 15 Cubs with parents and friends will attend the Boy Scout services to be held at 3 p.m. on Sunday afternoon in St. Patrick's Cathedral, Newark.

The pack will hold a regular meeting at the Pewsith Presbyterian church on Thursday night, February 4. New Cubs who will take the Bob Cat ceremony are James Cavanaugh, Robert Miller, Allen Nelson, Harry Reynolds, Wayne Chisholm, Edwin Donaldson and David Kames.

James Dutton and Donald Bell will be graduated to scouting. There are now 80 Cubs registered in the pack.

Margaret Jones Bride Of East Orange Man

Miss Margaret Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Jones of Tiona avenue, was married last Thursday in Pewsith Memorial Presbyterian church to Lieut. Donald M. Pruden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pruden of Hollywood avenue, East Orange. Rev. C. Bell Case performed the ceremony, which took place at 5 o'clock. A reception followed at the Old Nancy inn, Nutley.

Mrs. Clarence Sandberg of Montclair was matron of honor with Miss Doris Hansen of North Arlington, the bride's cousin, and Miss Rita Stager of Nutley as bridesmaids. The bridegroom's father was his best man. Gordon Mitchell, of East Orange, the bridegroom's cousin, and Charles Babcock of Newark were ushers.

The bride's gown was of white satin with a fingertip veil falling from a crown of seed pearls. She carried a gardenia cluster with a camellia in the center. The honor attendant wore royal blue taffeta gown and matching blue velvet bows in her hair. She carried a mixed bouquet of maroon Polygion carnations, yellow roses, and acacias. The bridesmaids were dressed in American Beauty taffeta gowns with matching bows in their hair. Their bouquets were of purple anemones, yellow roses and acacias.

The couple attended Rutgers university extension course. The bride is a graduate of Belleville High school and Berkeley Secretarial school. Lieut. Pruden was graduated from East Orange High school and Colgate university. He is now stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C.

80 Tables Were In Play At School No. 3 P-T. A.

Mrs. William Armstrong, chairman of the card party held by the School No. 3 P-T. A. last night, in which 80 tables participated, throughout 45 local homes, wishes to express her appreciation on behalf of the P-T. A. to the faculty, principal, children and classroom mothers who helped to make the party a success.

The association sold many more tickets than had been expected and feels that the novel idea of having a continuous party scattered throughout different homes provided a maximum of entertainment with a minimum of effort for transportation. The hostess at each house was also responsible for her own individual refreshments, thus saving time and energy which must be expended when such a large group is brought together in one place.

D. Of A. Met Tuesday

The Good American Council 102, Daughters of America met in the Veterans' hall Tuesday evening when the state councilor, Grace Taylor, made her official visit. District Deputy Fannie Keller and Deputy Helen Atfro were also honored.

Mrs. Marnie Kimble presided at the meeting and appointed committees for the next month. Mrs. Marie Vaughn reviewed her report on Christmas packages sent to boys in the service by members of the local council.

At Pre-Wedding Party

Miss Doris Waters, of 61 Prospect place, attended a pre-wedding party at Zimmerman's in New York last Wednesday given in honor of Miss Florence Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Price of 43 Prospect place, who was married January 15 in Jacksonville, Fla., to Edward M. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of 66 Greylock parkway.

Mr. Johnson has been in the navy a year. Miss Price was graduated from Belleville High school and formerly worked for the Central railroad in Jersey City.

Kitchen Commandos Batter Axis With Aircraft Shells

December Record Month For Fat And Grease Collection To Provide Anti-Aircraft Guns With Big Supply; Hope To Double Return

Belleville's kitchen commandos—the housewives with an apron for a uniform—made their biggest gain against the Axis in December when they salvaged enough waste fats and greases to make nearly 6,300 anti-aircraft shells. It takes only one of these to badly damage or bring down an enemy plane.

Waste fats saved by every kitchen commando and sold to the butcher will help American soldiers to bring down the Jap hordes in the Pacific or the Nazi Messerschmitts raiding North African fortifications.

According to reports from 19 markets, compiled by Mrs. Mae Holden, chairman of the fat collection section of the salvage committee, 1,574 pounds of fat were turned in during December.

This was well ahead of the November return of 1,266 pounds and almost double the October collection of 891 pounds. Only 660 pounds were taken in September.

Challenging housewives to double the amount which was turned in during December and claiming that it can be done, Mrs. Holden commented:

Should Strain Fats

"Housewives are getting more conscious of the part they can play in the home front effort. Household fats and greases are important as a source of glycerine for explosives. It speeds up the process if housewives will be extra careful, however, in straining the fats and greases. The fats should be poured into wide top tin cans or glass jars, not in narrow neck jars, for it is then difficult to remove the grease."

Those who are turning over fats and greases to the Boy Scouts should give them full cans of one pound or more for they are having difficulty turning in less than one one pound quantities to the meat dealers.

An independent meat market reported a greater fat collection than any of the chain stores which had previously led the field. The Garden market at 166 Garden avenue received 200 pounds from housewives. The A & P market in Washington avenue near town hall was second with 198 pounds and the Acme super market, also in Washington avenue, was third with 176 pounds. Other returns were as follows:

Eldershaw, 35 lbs.; Buseini, 3; Essex, 50; Schneider, 128; S. & S., 155; Food Pair, 45; Joe's Food market, 27; Eddie's market, 95; Strumulo, 20; Clapp, 110; Overlook, 60; Rosen, 6; Westhoff's, 46; Biondi, 24; Safeway, 116; Big Bear, 80.

It is estimated that two billion pounds of fat are thrown away by American housewives each year. Only one-fourth of this amount, salvage leaders point out, would be sufficient to amply fill the nation's present war needs. The war production board claims that if as little as four ounces were saved weekly by every housewife, it would produce the glycerine required to make 13,000,000 pounds of gunpowder.

Modern dehydration can reduce 80 pounds of peas to 15 pounds in less than ten hours.

One 25¢ stamp will pay for one month's feed for one carrier pigeon. A carrier pigeon eats about a pound of grain a week. His message capsule costs the Army about 12½¢.

One Who Always Helps

and time in less than six months residents will be asked to contribute as much to a town-wide campaign as did last year. It was announced yesterday that the local quota of the Red Cross in its war fund drive held in March would be more than what it was in 1942.

The Community Chest goal for this year is to double the sum which had been collected the previous year. It fell short of expectations, but the response came from the average resident more than it had been in the campaign.

No single organization which is able to comfort and help the suffering wounded than the American Red Cross stands at their side with a ready to assist in any way possible. Whether it is on the home front or some far-flung battlefield, the American Red Cross stands ready to help in every way possible—whether it be a suffering and starving civilian or a wounded soldier or sailor. During the past year we have had a demonstration of the many ways in which the Red Cross in our own town has been of valuable service to the civilian defense organization in training its workers. Hundreds have received first aid instruction. Assistance has been given to the ambulance corps and the nutrition and canteen units have cooperatively developed their programs.

Families worried about the whereabouts of some member of their family in the service turn to the Red Cross as their only means of obtaining some word. More often than not, the chapter's representative brings them word that cheers them and helps to buoy them during many lonely hours.

An organization which performs such a multitude of duties daily is deserving of the support of everyone who can spare the money. There is no year in which there has been a greater need for financial support by the public. Townspeople who are fully appreciative of the real value of the Red Cross and of the importance of continuing and expanding its work will readily give so that it can carry on.

Auto License Fees

The fees collected for automobile licenses and car registration provided much of the revenue for the maintenance of highways and the construction of new roads.

Even though the fees charged seemed to some motorists, there was a general inclination to pay the charge without any grumbling. But now, with driving banned for the most essential uses, automobiles will spend most of the year in the garage.

This brings up the question of whether the motorist still should be charged the same amount of money for his license and registration for the car which will not be used. Highway maintenance, because of a shortage of materials, has been at a minimum. Construction of new roads except in cases where there is a need, is out for the duration of the war. Building up a revenue for highway building is necessary.

They claim that with little highway maintenance work being done at present, the amount which will have to be performed after the war when materials are available will be far in excess of normal times and will require an expenditure of a much larger sum of money.

However, the position of the average motorist must be given consideration. The meagre use which he may get from his automobile is costing much more by comparison than it did in normal times. Increased income taxes and other federal levies are drawing heavily from the pocketbook of all. The position of many motorists is that they would rather save a few dollars from automobile fees now and worry about paying more for highways after the war has ended.

In comparison with many states, the amount charged for motor vehicle licenses in New Jersey is heavy. Paying a big fee for a car that can't be used at all—or at least very seldom—seems a little bit out of line with the idea of stretching every dollar as far as is possible.

No. 3 coupon in "A" coupon books. No. 4 coupon becomes valid January 22. Temporary "T" coupons will be issued directly by rationing boards. Beginning February 1, "T" rationing will be issued on the basis of ODT Certificates of War Necessity. Tires Stoves All coal-fired and oil-burning stoves are subject to rationing. Certificates for the purchase of these two items are available for eligible persons at the local rationing boards. Typewriters Rentals of non-portables are banned on machines manufactured after 1934. Beginning February 1, non-portables made between 1927 and 1934 may be rented to civilians who obtain certificates from their local rationing boards.

What About That Income Tax?

Form Of Return

Persons subject to the federal income tax must report their income to the government on forms, or blanks, prescribed by regulations. These forms are obtainable from any collector of internal revenue, and generally from any bank. Special forms are designated for corporations, for partnerships, for trusts and fiduciaries, and for nonresident aliens. Farmers who keep no books of account on the accrual method must attach a special schedule to their return (Form 1040F). For individuals, two forms are used, depending upon the amount and source of income to be reported. Form 1040. This form is intended for general use of individuals who are citizens of the United States, or residents in this country, whether citizens or not. It contains spaces to show the amount of income from various sources, deductions allowable, exemptions and credits, and computation of tax liability. As most of the items require some explanation in order to be allowable, the form also contains appropriate schedules to show in more detail how the income or the deductions are determined.

Form 1040A. This is a simplified report, which may, at the option of the taxpayer who makes his return on the cash basis, be filed instead of form 1040 by citizens and residents whose gross income was $3,000 or less during 1942. provided all this income consists wholly of one or more of the following: salary, wages, dividends, interest, or annuities. In using this form it is necessary only to enter the amount of gross income as shown, deduct the credit allowable for dependents, and insert the appropriate amount of tax in accordance with one's personal exemption status, as shown by the table on the reverse of the form. This form has no entries for deductions allowable, since the taxes indicated in the table on the back of the form are computed after taking into account what have been considered average deductions for persons of this income class. A taxpayer should, therefore, consider carefully which form would be appropriate for his purpose. Whichever form is employed, all the information called for in the spaces should be inserted so far as applicable to the taxpayer, in order to avoid the expense to the government, and the possible inconvenience to the taxpayer, of subsequent check and inquiry. With each return form is a set of accompanying instructions, and these instructions should be carefully read by the taxpayer before making his return. Returns for the calendar year 1942 must be filed not later than March 15, 1943. They may be filed by mailing to the collector of internal revenue of the appropriate district in which is located the legal residence or principal place of business of the taxpayer. If the return is filed by mailing, it should be posted in ample time to reach the collector's office on or before March 15, 1943. Returns received later than the due date are subject to a penalty variable according to the lateness in filing. Multiple Real Estate Listing Shows Three Year High

The sales volume of homes, under the multiple listing plan of the Board of Realtors of Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley and Belleville, totaled $1,212,855 during the last 12 months, a record high since the plan was inaugurated in this area three years ago.

This was announced today by William Schumacher, of Bloomfield, retiring president, in his annual report to the board. Of 309 homes "multiple listed" during the year, 224 were sold, according to Schumacher. He pointed out that this represents a turnover of 73 per cent and said real estate men consider this a very high percentage of sales.

Under the plan, a home owner, desiring to dispose of his property, lists it with a realtor in this area and in turn the terms and description are broadcast to all members of the board. In this manner a property is put on the widest market possible with the least effort on the part of the seller.

Membership in the board increased in the last year from 46 to 51, Schumacher also reported. This number includes 37 active and 14 associate members, with Philip S. Vitola of Nutley being admitted this week.

Arthur E. Mayer of Belleville assumed office at the meeting to serve as president for 1943. Other officers who began their duties are: Nugent A. Freeman, secretary; Arthur E. Marsden, treasurer; Andrew E. Bloxson, vice-president for Nutley; Sylvester Frazer for Belleville and Henry Weber for Bloomfield.

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville Times.

The telegrams sent Arthur T. Vanderbilt and Anthony P. Miele by George E. Stringfellow this week marked the opening skirmish in the coming battle of Essex. Stringfellow protested the dual office holding of Assemblyman Lester Mahr who is also counsel for the Board of Elections at a salary of $3,500 a year.

The Stringfellow telegrams landed on the front page of the Newark Evening News as was intended, and stayed there a second day when Miele answered them by declaring there was no similarity between the case of Assemblyman Mahr and Senator George H. Stanger. But the timing of the Stringfellow telegrams was noted by all. They came just as the Court of Errors and Appeals was being called together by Chancellor Campbell to hear the charge that Senator Stanger had improperly been counsel to the Milk commission which he had helped create as a senator, and hence should lose his seat in the senate.

With Stringfellow's telegrams there went to the press a detailed statement of the legislation leading up to the creation of the joint office of Superintendent of Elections and Commissioner of Registration and Mahr's part in it. Those familiar with legislative history immediately recognized the fine Italian hand of Senator Assemblyman Paul Williams of Manalapan who has now broken with Clean Government. The story goes that Williams spent most of last Sunday afternoon with Stringfellow where the record was compiled and the telegrams prepared.

The adherence of Paul Williams to the Anti-Vanderbilt camp in Essex has more than passing significance. Williams has long been recognized as one of the outstanding political tacticians in the Clean Government camp. Except for a brief period in 1938 when he supported Joe Giuliano for sheriff against Henry Young who was the Clean Government candidate, Williams has been a staunch Vanderbilt subordinate. His alliance with Stringfellow could seem to indicate that the Giuliano family will also oppose Vanderbilt this year.

Rumor even has it that former Assemblyman James Giuliano will be on the freeholder ticket which will oppose the one backed by Vanderbilt. Stringfellow has said nothing so far about the composition of such a ticket but some of those around him have mentioned the names of E. Morgan Barry of South Orange and Mrs. Patrick Henry Adams of Maplewood as likely candidates on a second ticket if one materializes.

Most strategists feel that a second ticket must have the back-

Brothers Meet In Pacific

A letter received last week by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Salmon of 36 West 1st avenue brought them news that their sons, James and William who have served in the Marine corps a year, met in the south Pacific area and spent two days together immediately after Christmas. William, who was with the original invasion force at Guadalcanal, was on leave from that continent.

Donald White, seaman 2nd class, who is stationed with the Sea Bees at Davisville, R. I., arrived in Belleville Sunday to spend a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester White of 184 Garden avenue. He entered the navy in November.

George and Joseph Manning of 193 William street are spending a joint furlough with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Naamen Manning. George is enjoying his first leave since entering the army air forces six months ago. He is presently stationed at Pueblo, Colo. Joseph, who has been with the coast guard for 15 months, is stationed at a Massachusetts patrol station. The Mannings' third son, Edwin, with the army engineer forces has served overseas since June.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Suydam of Wilbur street will spend the weekend in Edgewood, Mr. visiting their son, Candidate George W. Suydam, who is attached to the chemical warfare school there. Candidate Suydam has been in the army since last March and came to Maryland from Camp Gordon, Ga. He attended Belleville high school and Barringer high school and was with Lehn & Fink in Bloomfield before entering the army.

The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

The war, contrary to most expectations, does not seem to be changing college youth much. College students, even though many of the boys are now enrolled in the reserves and many of the girls are doing war work, seem still to reside in an ivory tower.

Perhaps it is because college students have not yet been to war and still consider themselves a little outside the ordinary realm of living. They still have time to spare and time to loaf, and many of them do not yet feel called upon to make the sacrifices of those who are engaged in other modes of living. Aside from being given only one cup of coffee in the dining hall or having to take a little less sugar and not eating as many desserts, they feel the hardships of war only slightly.

In referring to the undemocratic college youth, we mean specifically that portion of students which has not only ignored the training groups stationed on their campus but have also taken a definite belligerent attitude towards those who seem to be poaching on hallowed ground. The Smith college girls are a particular instance. Their attitude towards the Waves stationed at Smith was a bad example for one of the most forward-looking of Eastern colleges, and it caused a lot of unhappiness on the part of the Waves who were among the most patriotic of Uncle Sam's girls. The feeling of being unwanted has often led to many less workers than would ordinarily volunteer with a purpose in mind.

The attitude at a girls' college is bad enough but it is equally bad in many co-ed schools. Girls at a girls' school resent having strange girls suddenly brought into their midst, with expectations of being accepted as "Smith" girls, by "Smith" girls. Privileged girls want to stay that way. They want to be able to look slightly aloof and pity girls who have not had their advantages. When suddenly they are forced to treat as equals, girls who have never had their privileges, they are quite at a loss. And yet co-ed schools are equally to be condemned.

Going To Pieces

The girls at a co-ed institution are angry because there are not many eligible boys left to compete with, to date, or to pine for. That is, there are few campus smoothies left. And so the girls wait that the college is going to pieces. They, of course, have absolutely no regard for the government boys who have suddenly taken over a dormitory or two. After all, these boys are only training for Uncle Sam and they don't know very much about the latest dance step or the college slang, and most of them haven't the remotest idea what a fraternity is. The college is just going to pieces!

The boys at a co-ed school come in for their share of reprimands too. Girls aren't the only snobs. Many boys who have not been able to make the reserves or who are far advanced in their studies, feel that they can not afford to associate with the government boys, that on the contrary, they must look down on them. Because their careers, opinion, trainees have had no education and they have come to the campus specifically to disturb the placid students and to wreck college life as the remaining students knew it. Boys and girls are to be equally blamed.

But we can blame the educators also. They are doing a good job of trying to impress college students with the idea that they are the ones who will have the ability after the war. But they have stressed the idea too strongly and have not given students a working basis for that idea. College students feel a little exalted because they think that their further knowledge absolves them of taking part in the war effort now. The main reason for the students' dislike and unfair attitude towards trainees on their campuses stems wholly from the fact that their job is to prepare themselves for the future instead of the present.

Yes, that is their job, but to be able to do it well, they have to understand and participate in the effort now, and not prepare themselves for the future instead of the present.

Must Have Experience

Students forget sometimes, that in order to make their knowledge valuable they have to have a living basis in experience. They have to know the sort of people for whom they are going to make the peace and they have to be, not only aware of the activities which brought us to an end where peace could be made, but also why the plans were made and how.

We suggest that getting to know the men and women stationed on their campus and trying to learn a little of the work they are doing, would better prepare students for using their knowledge, than their tendency to stick together and ignore the work that the rest of the world is doing. With the responsibility that rests on their shoulders, they can no longer afford to reside in the ivory tower. They must climb, even if it be slowly, down the rope, that leads out of the tower. Only by so doing, can they hope to carry to a fitting end that problem which they and their teachers hope they will be competent and able to solve.

Miss Virginia M. Ackerman

The engagement of Miss Virginia M. Ackerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Ackerman of 191 Linden avenue, was announced during the holidays to Robert H. Breen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Breen of 382 Stephens street.

The couple was graduated from Belleville High school. Miss Breen attended business school in Newark and is employed at present by the Congoleum-Nairn company of Kearny. Mr. Breen is employed by the John B. Greulich company of town. He has enlisted in the air forces and is waiting call for cadet training.

Former Resident Is Bride Of Army Lieutenant

Miss Maureen Ursula Lockwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Lockwood, of 230 Lexington avenue, Jersey City, was married Sunday, January 10, to Lieut. Stephen Bloom, son of Stephen Bloom of that city. The Lockwoods formerly resided on DeWitt avenue. Mrs. Bloom is the granddaughter of Mrs. Grace Lockwood who also previously resided here. Rev. John A. Costello performed the ceremony in St. Mary's church at 4:30.

The bride was escorted by her father and groomed in white slipper satin. Her long tulle veil was decorated with orange blossoms and draped from a tiara of flowers and pearls. She carried white orchids and bouquet. Miss Jean Moran, a cousin, and Mrs. Chris Lane, sister of the bridegroom, attended the bride. They wore identical white gowns and Miss Moran's red headband was matched by a sheaf of American Beauty roses while Mrs. Lane wore a blue headdress and carried corn flowers.

Lieut. William Wilcott of Jersey City was best man. Ushers were Lester J. Lockwood, Jr., brother of the bride, and Bernard Bloom, Lieut. Bloom's brother. Lieut. Raymond Paradiso of Philadelphia led the wedding procession. Mrs. Lockwood, mother of the bride, wore a gold-sequined purple gown and corsage of white orchids. A reception was held at the Plaza hotel after which the couple left for a short wedding trip. They will live in Missouri where Lieut. Bloom is stationed.

SYNAGOGUE MARKS ARBOR DAY

Jewish Festival Date Today
Will Be Celebrated
On Sunday

A festival celebration will be held by the religious school of Congregation Ahavas Achim on Sunday at 10 a.m. to mark the annual observance of Chamisho Osor B'Shevat, the Jewish Arbor day which is today. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, school principal, will be in charge. All pupils, friends and parents are invited.

Chamisho Osor B'Shevat is also known as "Rosh Hashannah Lallanos," the new year for trees, because it is at this time that the trees begin to flower at Palestine. The holiday also marks the beginning of the spring planting there. The significance of the holiday brings before the Jews all over the world the importance of trees to the development of Palestine, and the custom of planting trees in one's name is observed on this day.

All these significances will mark the observance Sunday morning. There will be recitations by the children and a song, featuring Palestinian songs. Taking part in the program will be Beverly Garson, Sylvia Haft, Sheppie Zuckerman and Sandra Hoch.

After the program all the children attending will receive candies and fruits of Palestine, which will be distributed by the Sisterhood of the congregation. Mrs. Dorothy Steinhauer, Mrs. Ida Lampert, Mrs. Sylvia Hoch, Mrs. Sofia Haft and Mrs. Ida Glassman will be in charge.

Bible Class Will Hold Card Party Next Friday

The Everyman's Bible class will hold a card party and game night at the Masonic temple in Joralemon street, near Washington avenue, on Friday evening, January 29.

Frank Spotts, first vice-president, is the general chairman. There will be refreshments and awards. The party will start at 8:30 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased from any of the officers or at the door. Max Seiler is the chairman of the ticket committee, George Newman, refreshments; Arthur Vickers awards; Kenneth DuBois and James Bunting, tables; Robert Kidney and Harry Burnett, hosts; Henry C. Lambert, tallies and other arrangements.

K. Of C. Planning Card Party To Be Held February 15

Belleville Council No. 835 of the Knights of Columbus will hold a card party in St. Peter's school hall on Monday night, February 15. It is the first time in many years that the organization has sponsored such an affair.

Albert Howley is the general chairman assisted by Michael Dacey, tickets; Gene Kelly, Thomas Dowd and Nicholas Candura, prizes, and George Kiernan, treasurer.

Members of the general committee are Joseph Harter, James Leonard, Hugh Nixon, Oliver Brown, Thomas Gallagher, Michael Zakutney, John Nowakowski, James Flynn and James and John Baney.

There will be awards for players and non-players.

To Name Committees

The Henry Vreeland Woman's Relief Corps 32 meets next Tuesday in the Montgomery church hall. Mrs. Pauline Fuss, president, will preside and appoint committees for the year. The members of the corps are participating with the national organization to raise $25,000 for a blood donor's bank in honor of the G. A. R. The past presidents' club will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Christine Whitleman.

Use of Shields on Lighting Fixtures

What You Should Know About Dimout Regulations

(This is the second in a series of articles designed to assist the citizens in the dim-out area of New Jersey in meeting the requirements of the army as set forth in the dim-out rules and regulations. They have been prepared with the advice and assistance of lighting specialists, loaned to the office of civilian defense director, and the members of the technical advisory committee.)

STORES AND SHOW WINDOWS

The army rule governing stores and show windows reads as follows:

"Interior lighting of buildings used for commercial purposes shall be shaded or otherwise controlled either at the source of light or at the openings of such buildings in such a manner that the source of light shall not be directly visible from any point outside of said buildings."

"Interior lighting of stores, show windows, restaurants, bars, commercial and industrial establishments... shall be dimmed, shielded or otherwise controlled in such a manner as to prevent the escape of light from such buildings in excess of two foot candles as measured by a photonic cell (light meter) held at any point three feet from any window, door or other opening of such building or establishment."

After reading these rules the merchant will probably first ask the question, "How much light can I have in my show window?" and then "What can I do to come within the regulation?"

First: The store owner cannot permit any "source of light" to be visible from the outside of the store or show window. By "source of light" is meant not only the light bulb but also the fixture, including the globe.

Second: He cannot permit the light shining outside the show window, three feet away to exceed two foot candles as measured by a light meter.

Several Ways To Do It

There are several ways to accomplish the dim-out of stores and show windows. First, by installing a valance of lightproof material, or paint, on all glass or openings extending from approximately 66 inches above the sidewalk as shown in the sketch. Lightproof material can be heavy cloth, plywood, paperboard, etc., anything that light will not shine through. Such a valance will shield the "light sources" from exterior view.

Second, by hanging a fine mesh curtain inside the show window which will dim the light passing through the window to the street. Fine mesh curtain is not lightproof, therefore, where such curtain is used the "source of light" must be shielded. This means that a valance or shield must be used with the fine mesh curtain, so that not only the light bulb but also the fixture is not visible from the outside of the store or show window. This is also shown in a sketch.

Third, by reducing the amount of wattage in the show window to not more than 10 watts per linear foot of show window when ordinary electric light bulbs are used or not more than five watts per linear foot when fluorescent tubes are used. It must be remembered, however, that even these bulbs, fixtures, including the globe, must be shielded so that they are not visible from outside.

The final test is not more than two foot candles three feet from the window.

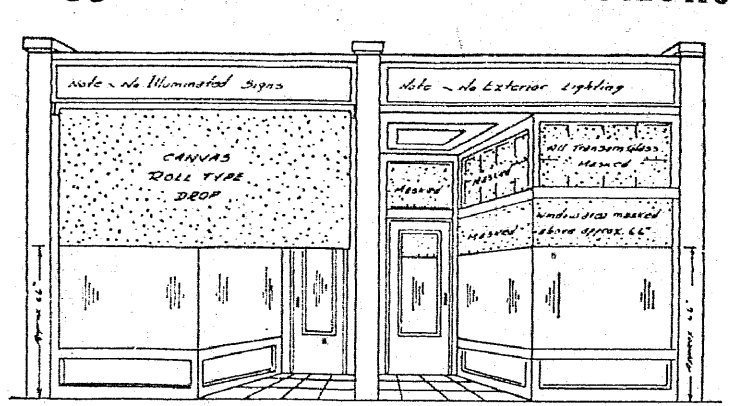

When the merchant has taken care of his show windows he must concern himself with the "store lights" themselves.

To properly consider this problem, the stores may be divided into three general groups; first, those where there is no light visible from the outside because of closed back show windows and opaque doors; second, those with lights visible through the doors and transoms; third, those that have many lights visible from the outside such as cafeterias with large windows through which the entire interior may be seen.

Those stores in the first group require no treatment as long as the door is kept closed. Opening and closing the door for customers is not a violation, but the door should not be permitted to remain open thus allowing the light to escape.

Store owners in the second group will generally comply with the dim-out if they will use on their glass doors a shield, baffle, or curtain which will conceal the light source, which means the bulb and fixture, including the globe, from the outside. An alternate

Use of Light Proof Shields

Suggested Dimout of Show Windows

Use of Fine Mesh Curtains

method is to leave the door as it is and shield each light source that is visible from the outside.

Deep Valance Better

Stores in the third group require more study. To put a shield on each fixture that can be seen from the outside would not be a simple solution in most cases. An easier and more satisfactory method is to use a deep valance in the window, so that the lighting fixtures cannot be seen from the outside. In the case of a deep store, a valance may not suffice and in such cases a curtain, which can be completely drawn, is the solution.

Although the average citizen may think that all this discussion applies only to stores on the ground floor, the fact is that regulations are applicable to stores located on the second floor or higher. The latter must also have their light sources concealed from the outside view. This applies as well to offices and homes.

Merchants should also remember that no lighted advertising signs of any nature are permitted outside the store during the dim-out hours. Nor are interior signs permitted where the light source is visible from the outside.

It must be explained that in certain areas in the dim-out area "where lights are visible from the sea" they must be entirely blacked out so that no light is visible on the shore line. This applies to stores, show windows, homes, offices, etc. According to the army interpretation this means not only those lights that can be seen from

Mid-Year Commencement
For College

Seven Belleville youths were among the 166 graduates who received their diplomas from the Newark College of Engineering at the first mid-year commencement exercises of the college last Friday evening at the Mutual Benefit auditorium in Newark.

Dean Thorndike Saville of the New York University College of Engineering spoke to the graduates on "The Young Engineer in a Post-War World."

Local graduates are George E.
Akers of 441 Union avenue, Robert Banta, Jr. of 47 Campbell avenue, Wilber T. Buck of 477
Franklin avenue, Stephen Petro Jr. of 245 Adelaide street, Donald H.
Peterson of 17 Van Houten place,
Louis E. Rau of 136 New street and Warren A. Russell of 115 Ma-signs in the USNR, and are awaiting assignment to further training.

Catholic College Group Hears Telephone Co. Man Tonight

The Catholic Women's College club will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight in the Helen Mac-Hugh studio, 37 Washington street, Newark. Miss Elizabeth N.
Kennedy will preside at the business session.

Hostesses will be the Misses Madeline and Marian Bisson. The hostesses have asked a committee to serve refreshments.

Miss Marian E. McLaughlin, program chairman, will introduce a speaker, S. D. Page, special representative of the New Jersey Bell Telephone company. His talk on New Jersey will include little known but interesting facts of the past and present of the state and will be illustrated by colored slides showing scenic beauties, recreational facilities and other points of interest. Page will also present the sound film, "New Jersey Shows the Way."

Mrs. Raymond A. Peck of 76
Floyd street has become a member of the surgical dressing group which meets Thursday evenings.

Make Your Own Home Baked Beans

BAKED BEANS—EASTERN STYLE
1 qt. MICHIGAN Navy Beans
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups mustard
1 1/2 cups ketchup
1 1/2 cups tomato juice
1 1/2 cups molasses
2 tablespoons onions (minced)
2 teaspoons brown sugar
Soak beans over night in water to cover. Wash again and parboil with the soda in boiling water until they are barely tender.
Rinse again, put in bean pot or casserole, mix in all the seasonings and bury the pork at the bottom. Cover with boiling water, put on lid and cook very slowly for 6 hours. Renew water as needed (important). During the last two hours draw the pork to the surface, score it and let it brown.
