"I'll say goodbye, now . . . I don't want to tie up my line too long"

It's important these days to avoid long sessions on the telephone. The telephone system serving you is carrying a heavy and increasing wartime burden. It cannot be enlarged because necessary materials must go to make weapons and other supplies for our fighting forces.

If you share a party-line with other families, please make a special effort to answer calls promptly . . . keep conversations reasonably short . . . call only when necessary . . . and avoid a succession of calls that tie up the line a long time.

What You Should Know About Dimout Regulations

This is the third in a series of articles designed to assist the citizens in the dimout area in meeting the requirements of the army as set forth in the dimout rules and regulations. They have been prepared with the advice and assistance of lighting specialists, loaned to the office of civilian defense director, and the members of the technical advisory committee.

Open Areas

Under the dimout rules and regulations issued by the army all exterior lights used for illumination of open areas, parking lots, gasoline filling stations, playgrounds, places of amusement or entertainment, sidewalk cafes, marquees, open air gardens, terraces, shall be permanently shielded in such a manner that no source of light will be visible from an angle less than 45 degrees below horizontal. Such lighting shall be further limited as follows:

"A.—In no case shall the lighting, as measured on the open area, exceed one foot candle at any point.

"B.—In no case shall the total wattage used exceed the following limits:

"For incandescent bulbs—one-eighth watt per square foot of lighted area.

"For fluorescent tubes—one-sixteenth watt per square foot of lighted area."

This rule means that a limited amount of light is permitted in such open areas, but whatever light is used must be pointed directly downward. It means that all floor lights, reflectors, etc., must have the light shine downward in a confined zone. Likewise each light must be shielded.

The other restriction included in the rule is that such lighting cannot exceed one-eighth of a watt for each square foot of lighted area if ordinary electric bulbs are used, and only one-sixteenth of a watt per square foot of lighted area if fluorescent tubes are used.

Considered Area Covered

In the case of marquees and similar applications, the lighted area referred to in the rule is considered to be the area covered by the marquee.

For instance if a parking lot is 100 feet long and 60 feet wide thereby containing 6,000 feet, the owner is permitted to have only 750 watts of illumination for the entire area if ordinary electric bulbs are used. If the same area is lighted by fluorescent tubes only 375 watts will be permitted.

In all cases, however, the light must be shielded and shine downward, so that the source of light is not visible at an angle less than 45 degrees below the horizontal. By the source of light is meant the bulb and fixture.

Homes And Offices

When lighting in the homes was included in the new dimout regulations, the domestic habits of every citizen in the dimout area were affected. Heretofore when night approached the average citizen would turn on his lights and not bother to pull down the window shades. Hence the lights from bright kitchens and living rooms would stream out on pavements and porches, etc., from which surfaces it would immediately be reflected upward. This upward light combined with the light escaping from thousands of other homes built up a considerable skyglow.

"What must I do to comply with this army order," the householder will ask. The answer is easy. Whenever you turn on a light inside the house during dimout hours, you must be sure that the window shades are drawn down to the sill. If venetian blinds are used they should be closed as tightly as possible with the inside edge of the slat turned upward. These simple rules will take care of the major part of the home dimout.

Must Shield Outside Lights

There are two other points which should be mentioned; the first concerns the light on porches. If porch lights are used they should be provided with a shield that conceals, not only the bulb, but the fixture including the globe. The other point deals with residential garages. If garage lights are used, the windows should be shaded the same as in the home. Also if an exterior light is used over the door of the garage it should have the same treatment as a porch light.

The homes and offices "where lights are visible from the sea" (along the Atlantic coast line) the windows must be blacked out during the dimout hours. By blacking out is meant drawing a curtain, through which no light is visible, down to the sill.

Are Directly Affected

The operators and occupants of office buildings, both large and small, are directly affected by the new dimout regulations. If the thousands of windows in these buildings were left unshielded during the dimout hours, the escape of light would make a considerable contribution to skyglow. To prevent this the dimout order contains a paragraph which states that in these buildings the source of light which means, not only the bulb, but the fixture including the globe, must be shielded or otherwise controlled, so that it is not directly visible at any point outside of the building. This means that if lights are used in the offices during the dimout hours, the shades should be drawn all the way down to the bottom of the window. If venetian blinds are used they should be lowered to the sill with the slats closed tightly with the inside edge turned upward.

Lontka-Small Troth

Troop 388 Is Carrying On Waste Fat Collection

The third collection of waste fat by the members of Boy Scout Troop No. 388 of Christ Episcopal church is being carried on this week in an area stretching from Main street to Union avenue and bounded by Joralemon and Little streets. Begun as an experiment in November, the boys have made their rounds during the final week of each month and secured 100 pounds of fat in November and 150 pounds in December. Collections are usually made after school hours.

The fat has been sold through the meat department of the Acme market on Washington avenue and proceeds placed in the scouts' treasury. Robert Bartholomew is master of the troop which meets Wednesday evenings in Christ church parish house.

Other Boy Scout troops may soon conduct fat salvaging campaigns in which case advance notice will be given to the householders in their areas. Most important is the caution that grease must be strained and that the cans must be completely filled. If half cans or less are donated the collectors must be melted and poured into other partly filled cans. The scouts do not have the facilities for this operation.

Two Grads In Reserves

The story last week about the graduates of Newark College of Engineering neglected to state that two of the graduates, Robert L. Banta Jr., of 47 Campbell avenue and Stephen P. Adelaide street, have rolled in the naval reserves and call as midshipmen school.

To Owners Of Dogs

Chapter 151, Public Law of 1941, State of New Jersey, for uniform control and licensing of dogs, places on the Chief of Police of each municipality the duty of taking into his custody stray dogs or unlicensed dogs.

The above law provides that dogs taken into custody shall be held for a period of seven days if not reclaimed by owner, and if not reclaimed within seven days such dogs shall be destroyed.

The law provides that fifty cents (.50c) per day shall be allowed for keep of dogs awaiting reclaiming by owner, or fifty cents per day for seven days if dogs are not reclaimed, said fee for seven days to be paid by the municipality for keep of dog.

The State Law places definite responsibility on the Chief of Police and on the owners of dogs.

The Police Department is responsible for the proper collection of stray dogs, for bringing charges against dog-owners who fail to license their dogs or who fail to restrict their dogs as required by law.

The Health Department is responsible for the removal of all dead animals.

Arrangements have been made with the Animal Hospital, corner Washington Avenue and Mill Street, Belleville, for collecting stray dogs, for their care and board until claimed by owner, or until the seven-day boarding period as required by law for unclaimed dogs has elapsed.

Owners reclaiming licensed dogs will pay Two Dollars ($2.00) costs for collection plus fifty cents (.50c) per day for board, and owners of unlicensed dogs must also obtain license from Tax Collector before obtaining delivery of dog.

Each dog not reclaimed by an owner will cost the taxpayers $5.50 (Two dollars for collection fee and fifty cents per day for board for seven days as required by law). Recent survey by State Board of Health officials indicates over 2,000 dogs are in Town. Number of licensed dogs totals 1,600. In addition to the danger to persons and the damage created by stray dogs, an unwarranted financial expense is placed on the Town through the carelessness or disregard of rights of others by a minority number of dog owners.

The Animal Hospital, owned and personally supervised by registered Veterinarians, will daily advise the Police Department the number of dogs collected, description, and license tag number if tag is available.

Dog owners are assured every reasonable precaution will be taken to humanely care for each dog collected until returned to owner or until seven-day maintenance period ends.

We, who own dogs, must assume our responsibility under the law, and our citizens who do not own dogs must be assured person and property shall not be endangered by stray dogs.

On behalf of Police Chief Spatz, I appeal to all dog owners to cooperate with our Police Department in promptly licensing dogs in preventing dogs from straying and creating hazards or nuisances and aiding in the enforcement of the State Dog Control Law.

Chief Spatz and I will appreciate constructive suggestion to the end that dog owners may have the fullest pleasure of dogship, that those who do not own dogs will not have their property disturbed, and that all of us will work toward the elimination of rabies.

Respectfully,

J. H. H.

P. S. Saves 22 Million Tire-Miles In Year

Upwards of twenty-two million tire-miles are being saved annually by Public Service transportation companies in cooperation with the office of defense transportation's program for the conservation of rubber and gasoline. This saving has been effected since January 1, 1942, notwithstanding a tremendous increase in riding, including the transportation of thousands of workers daily to and from New Jersey's great war industries.

Elimination of certain bus routes in residential areas, curtailing of other service where possible, shortening of some routes and readjustment of schedules contributed to the saving of eighteen million tire-miles on the regular lines of Public Service.

In addition, approximately 4-200,000 tire-miles are saved yearly by the discontinuance of special and chartered bus service.

Absenteeism in war plants was the subject of recent surveys conducted through the offices of commission won praise from the New York regional director, Mrs.

First National To Have Internal Revenue Man Here

The First National bank announced Monday that arrangements had been made with John E. Manning, collector of internal revenue, to have one of his deputies assigned to the bank in order to assist Belleville residents and business men in preparing their income tax returns. This representative will be at the bank during regular business hours from March 1 to March 5.
The bank states that there is no charge for this service which was made in compliance with their request for a tax specialist, as a public service. Since the new tax bill presents so many complications and is not readily understood, all taxpayers are free to take advantage of the service.

Any taxpayer may use the service whether he is a bank depositor or not. Adequate facilities have been provided in the bank so that any citizen may consult with the tax representative in private.
An income tax return is required this year if you are single and had a gross income in 1942 over $500, or if married, your income was $1,200 or over. All returns must be filed with the Collector of Internal Revenue, Post Office building, Newark, not later than March 15th.
Deductions, additions, remittances, etc., can be explained by the tax representative in the First National bank. He will be available at any time during banking hours to help you complete your return.
