SCHOOLS CLOSE TO SAVE FUEL; CAN'T CONVERT

Pupils, Teachers, Get
Unscheduled Vacations
As Shortage Grows

Oil shortages all along the Eastern coast and in certain states have forced Belleville schools to close in an effort to conserve fuel. Nearly 1,500 high school students and 54 teachers will get an unscheduled three-week vacation from tomorrow afternoon until March 1.

The High school cannot convert to coal and since they have only enough coupons left for a month's supply of oil, they must close until it is warmer. Between 5,000 and 6,000 gallons of oil are still available for the rest of the winter season. Herbert C. Schmutz, president of the Board of Education, stated that 9,000 gallons were used last February. Even though all evening and weekend use of the building has been cut out, there is still doubt that the remaining oil would stretch over the rest of the season.

According to the local draft board, the continuance of the school year for a longer period would not have any effect on high school students' deferments. All students who are deferred until they finish the semester will still be deferred, regardless of the length of the school year.

The elementary schools, heated by coal, will be shut down at the close of school on February 11 and will reopen February 23. This early closing will simply eliminate the spring vacation for all schools and postpone summer closing of the high school from June 22 to June 30. The elementary schools will still have 186 days to their school year while the high school will have only 183. The lack of storage space for coal is the factor which determined the closing of the elementary schools.

Authority to close the schools if necessary was voted to Schmutz by other board members after a report had been made that it was "virtually impossible" to convert from oil to coal in the high school. The estimated change would have cost between $8,000 and $9,000 and would have been only a temporary arrangement.

Ambulance Corps Holds Second Lecture Tonight

Twelve people attended the first lecture in a series given by the Ambulance Corps last Thursday night, at School No. 8. Mayor Williams and Harry Sullivan were speakers at the meeting, outlining the Civilian Defense organization and its duties and explaining the control center and the new air raid warnings respectively. These lectures will be held every Thursday night until March 25 and following that an extra lecture will be added at which time Mayor Williams and Harry Sullivan will repeat their topics of the first lecture.

When Dr. James Irwin became chief of the emergency medical service, one of the first things he noted, was the lack of organization among the different units and the need of a uniform procedure throughout the entire service; in casualty stations, first aid stations, and in the field. To remedy this lack of organization a set of rules and regulations governing each group and all the phases of their duties was drawn up by L. B. McCloskey, chief of the Ambulance Corps, and E. J. Vogel, assistant chief. This set of rules dealt directly with the duties of each group for which it was intended. The first draft was completed by McCloskey, revised with a few suggestions from Dr. Irwin, Dr. Kadin, Sullivan, and others, and was then approved by Dr. Irwin.

Physicians, dentists, nurses, officers, first aiders, and the ambulance corps all received complete copies of the regulations while ambulance drivers, first aiders, and casualty and first aid stations, received the parts pertaining to their duties. With definite rules and regulations to guide them, the entire personnel of the ambulance and first aid units have become more efficient.

At the second meeting of the ambulance corps tonight, Judge Everett B. Smith will speak on the legal responsibilities of the Civilian Defense officer. Anyone connected with Civilian Defense work is invited to attend this series of lectures.

Is Confined To Home

Anthony A. Florentine, proprietor of Abbot's two drug stores at 531 and 120 Washington avenue, is confined to his home with a triple fracture of the right leg sustained Friday night when the druggist was delivering an emergency prescription on Union avenue. Mr. Florentine lives at 64 Beech street. He will be replaced by both stores by a reliable registered pharmacist.

Times Requests Items Be Given By 'Phone

In an effort to assist the war effort by freeing telephone lines as much as possible, it has been decided that The Belleville Times will no longer solicit social items by that method. However, this is not to be interpreted as an indication that we no longer wish to hear from our many contributors.

Anyone desiring to have an item published should call this office, Belleville 2-3200, on Friday, Saturday morning or Monday. We will be glad to accept items of a social nature and especially glad to publish those pertaining to members of a family who are in service or to social activities motivated by charitable and patriotic reasons.

DRAFTEES NOW CHOOSE BRANCH

Board Quotas Are Increased;
Ask H. S. Students To Write For Deferment

The local draft board will have an exceptionally large call on March 1 due to the amended quotas which they have received since the joint system for drafting men for the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard has gone into effect. Men who were formerly designated for the army alone are now able to prefer another branch of the service.

Selectees may volunteer for the branch of the service they prefer when they reach the induction center. Each branch of the service puts in its quota for the number of men it wishes and that quota is filled by the number of men who request it. If the quota is not filled by such preferences, it is made up of the army draftees.

Selectees who designate a desire for another branch of the service are turned over to Navy men at the induction center after they have passed the preliminary examination. Such men are then given a secondary examination by the Navy and if they pass the secondary examination they are designated to the branch of the Naval service they prefer. For instance, if the Army asked for 80,000 men and the Navy asked for 20,000 but only 80,000, or four-fifths of the total, met the requirements, the army would be assigned to 64,000 and the Navy 16,000.

Registrants under the draft may continue to apply for induction ahead of the time they would normally be called and may indicate the branch of the service they prefer. Selective service states that selectees will be assigned to the preferred service "in so far as they are qualified and vacancies exist" but local draft boards cannot give any man positive assurance that he will be inducted into preferred service.

The local board is requesting that all high school students who have passed their eighteenth birthday make a written request to complete the present semester. They are advised not to wait until they are called to make the request because it takes twice as long for the deferment to go through.

As soon as teen age inductees have been sufficiently trained to take over certain posts, men over 38 will be released as fast as possible. The released men over 38 must be re-regulated according to the War Department in order to prevent disruption of trained units. This means that a large number of trained men cannot be released at one time. There are approximately 300,000 enlisted men of 38 and over, many of them skilled technicians, who volunteered to fill urgent posts and their release at one time would cause too great a gap in certain vital posts.

Evacuee Will Be Guest Speaker Before P.T.A.

The Parent-Teacher association of Greylock school, observing Founder's day Tuesday with an afternoon program, will be addressed by Mrs. Leonard G. Allen of Montclair. Mrs. Allen, with her three children who are seven, six and three years of age, was evacuated from Rangoon last January. Her husband, with whom she spent four years in Burma, is now in Chungking where he broadcasts news features and morale programs for the Chinese government. He made his way there driving a lorry over the Burma road, a trip which took eight months.

The meeting will open at 3:30 to the public and those who wish to hear Mrs. Allen's talk will be welcomed. A tea at 2:45 will precede the lecture. Mrs. Charles Speed, vice-president of the association, has made arrangements for the program.

An executive meeting of the Greylock Parent-Teacher association will be held at the school this afternoon at 3:30.

Randy's Masquerade Ends

Randy, Alias "Major"

SAFE AT HOME after a month of masquerading in the Passaic Police department, Randy, canine adjunct of the T. H. Van Horn family of 364 Little street, reclines in his favorite spot before the fireplace. It is understood that he is enjoying home life again, after his more vigorous "duties" with the law enforcers.

Dog Gone a Month, Traced Through Nutleyite In West

Randy, Four-Year-Old Police Dog, Enjoyed Life
With Passaic Cops; Glad To Be Home, However

A copy of a Nutley paper, casually passed along by a Nutleyite to her neighbor, was the means of restoring Randy, handsome, big police dog, to his owners, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Van Horn of 364 Little street, on Sunday.

Actually separated from their pet by only a few miles for the past month the Van Horns had no idea that he was masquerading under the name of "Major" and that he had attached himself to the Passaic police department. The Californian who identified Randy after reading his description in the Lost column of the newspaper was Mrs. Frank Van Orden of Passaic, a relative of Passaic Police Handschuh of the Passaic police department. Mrs. William Ohlandt of Nutley, vacationing in Huntington Park, Calif., often passes her copies of the paper along to Mrs. Van Orden.

Randy disappeared from his Little street home December 22 and eased his way into Passaic police headquarters two days later. His method of negotiating the trip remains a mystery although it was reported to his owners that such a dog was seen riding in a truck at that time. "Major" was the name that seemed to fit when the Passaic patrolmen tried it out on the majestic dog and he responded to it during his stay with them.

A favorite with all of them, he often spent the night or week-end at one of their homes. Patrolman Mandschuh's family were particularly attached to him and it was their enthusiastic description written to Mrs. Van Orden in California which led to his identification.

NEED VOLUNTEERS FOR BLOOD BANK

Increased Demands For Plasma
By Army And Navy Require
Large Registration

Recruits for blood donations must be increased by the local Red Cross chapter's blood donor committee if Belleville is to do its share in meeting the greater demands for blood plasma by the Army and Navy.

Three times the amount of last year's collection has been requested. The efficacy of plasma in treating shock, burns and wounds is being proved greater each day and the facilities for processing it are also much increased, according to reports from Red Cross national headquarters. Only the patriotic response of the public is needed to make possible an immense saving of lives and decrease in suffering among the casualties of this war.

A mobile unit will visit the high school on March 2 between 2 and 7 p.m. At least 180 volunteers are necessary in order to insure obtaining the quota of 150 which can be accommodated on that day.

Volunteers may contact Miss Esther Adams, secretary of the local chapter, at the Woman's club or call Be. 2-2111. They may also sign up with John Charlton, 125 Bell street, chairman of the blood donor committee, or by calling the office of this newspaper at Be. 2-3200.

Requirements are simple. The donor must be between the ages of 18 and 60 in good health. Only those with malaria or tuberculosis histories will not be accepted. Provision has been made for those blood but a special form to be signed by parent or guardian must be filled out by them. Such forms may be obtained from Miss Adams.

EMERGENCY GROUP GETS UNDER WAY

Ask All O.C.D. Personnel Be
Fingerprinted; Irwin Reports
On Measures

The Belleville Defense council Voted Monday night to lift the restriction on retail sale of stirrup pumps in local stores. Previously prospective purchasers were required to obtain a permit from the council. Assurance that the 1,470 hand pumps recently received from the State O.C.D. would give proper protection throughout the town, prompted the lifting of the order.

Distribution of hand pumps and helmets loaned to the Belleville Defense council by the O.C.D. has been started by Defense Coordinator Harry J. Sullivan. A total of 1,496 pumps will be divided among post air raid wardens and placed in apartment houses, churches, schools and other public buildings and at fire houses.

The ARP will receive 800 of the 1,160 helmets. Casualty stations will get 150 of the remainder; zone headquarters, police reserves, messengers and demolition, rescue and repair squads 100; town garage 40; and fire reserves 50. All the helmets and tanks for Zone 2, have been distributed.

Sullivan is requesting that all members and civilian volunteers of the civilian defense council be fingerprinted, if they have not already done so. No one is a certified member of the State or National Defense Corps unless he has been fingerprinted. Miss Ella Hasenjaeger Deputy county chairman for volunteer nurses has stressed the fact that all nurses must also be fingerprinted. Fingerprinting is now going on at the police station from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Although it took a lot of persuasion in the beginning to get the fingerprinting started it has been worth it, according to Sullivan, because Belleville is approximating the request of the state and national defense councils that all civilian volunteers be fingerprinted and that three prints be taken for each person.

Agitation for fingerprinting of school children was started in the town last Spring and legislation finally became effective whereby all other persons in defense were also fingerprinted.

Prints of pre-school children were attempted but it was found that the ridges of their fingers were so soft that only a blur and not a clear print was made. But it is not strictly necessary for pre-school children to be printed, since the danger in their case is minimized because they are close to parents or home.

Emergency Group Reports

Dr. Irwin, who is chairman of the Emergency Council made a report to the Defense Council Monday night. The first aid kits and the first aid stations are under the consideration of Sullivan, and the casualty stations are now fully equipped. The base hospital from which to work in emergency and a general hospital and treatment center for fractures, surgery, or burns. The treatment and staff for that kind of emergency would

Snowstorm Costs Town $504.25 For Clearance

The snowstorm last Thursday cost the town $504.25. Eight trucks and a crew of men worked from 1 p.m. on Thursday until 4 p.m. on Friday clearing roads and carting snow away. There were no casualties with the exception of buried cars, tin cans, and other objects which were snowed under before it was possible to get them out.

Fire Chief Reid arranged with H. A. Dufford, the principal of the high school, for 25 high school students to clear walks up and down Washington avenue at 50 cents an hour. The total cost was about $90 for the walk clearing job.

Sleet-battered faces, wet feet, and late arrivals completed the damage.

CONTINUE NAMING ZONE HEADS IN BLOCK PLAN

Weston Appoints Mrs. Labaugh
In Zone 1 As He Emphasizes
Call For Volunteers

The appointment of Mrs. William I. Labaugh of 62 Lloyd place as the block leader for zone 1 has been announced by G. H. Weston, head of the block leader organization. Mrs. Labaugh, who has been active in many local affairs, is president of the American Legion Auxiliary. Her appointment, along with those of Mrs. Sven Gelin, Zone 2; Rev. Willard H. Borchers, pastor of Bethany Lutheran Church, Zone 4; and Mrs. Martha Heikins, director of the Silver Lake Community house, Zone 5; leaves one appointment, for Zone 3, yet to come.

The block leader plan which has been organized along the lines of the A.R.P., provides for an out voluntary mobilization of every resident to do a little job. If he has a big one, or to a big one, he can lead a team. The block leaders will help to back up the home front for those on the fighting front. By personal contact with their neighbors, each member of the block plan will be able to bring to his fellow citizens the importance of unity on the home front by a knowledge of all the essential information which will be circulated by the government and the Civilian Defense councils on the work of the home front to keep things moving.

Each leader and member of the plan must be thoroughly conversant with the methods and aims of his government and local councils, concerning salvage, war savings plans, rationing and price control, conservation, and any other war time problems. By doing this, every citizen of the town, will be able to face new regulations and campaigns with a thorough and understanding knowledge of how his community and the government are working together.

Speed Up Registration
George H. Weston has asked his own leaders to accelerate the program of registration for block leaders, in a belief that coming regulations will have to be brought before everyone who is connected with any part of the civilian program.

Registrations are being accepted now by the Auxiliary of the American Legion in the Capitol theatre at its war savings booth or at the defense council office of Harry Sullivan on the first floor of the town hall. A drive for 1,100 volunteers has started and calls are going out for more people who have their own jobs to do and think they could do nothing, can work in their own neighborhoods at times most convenient to them. Housewives are the largest group from which volunteers could be selected since they are free and could work in their own neighborhoods.

The first thing the present block leaders will be asked to do is to explain the new system of point rationing and the meat sharing program. The meat sharing program was the first program to be explained but since point rationing is coming so fast and many people are still ignorant of its full merit, it also is to be included in the literature which the leaders will distribute. All leaders will be provided with leaflets describing both point rationing and meat sharing to which they can refer in explaining the set-up.

Hartley Will Be Radio Speaker For Tax Plan

Representative Fred A. Hartley Jr. will deliver a nation-wide broadcast over WEAF Friday night, at 10:30, on the new federal pay-as-you-go tax plan to meet our war costs. He will speak for 15 minutes.

Representative Hartley, who favors the pay as you go plan, in his discussion will present his subject in clear, simple terms, eliminating complex technicalities, in order to make the plan understandable to all. For years a lecturer and acknowledged expert on the subject of federal taxation, Congressman Hartley has devoted considerable study to the Ruml plan to pay our war costs as we fight the conflict.

The Whys And Wherefores Of Point Rationing

Most Americans know by now that canned and frozen fruits and vegetables and dried fruits are going to be divided up among everyone by point rationing. The Department of Agriculture and the Office of War Information have given out this information in advance so that everyone would have time to learn first, why it is necessary for the Government to determine a fair share, and secondly, how the system will work.

About a fourth of America's food this year will go for military purposes. This is not so bad as it looks at first glance. Farmers are producing at such a rate that civilians will still have as much to eat as they had in the plentiful times. But money is more plentiful now and the average standard of American food consumption has risen proportionately. As a result everyone would buy a proportionate amount of the scarcer foods, as long as the supply lasted. Then there would be a shortage. Rationing prevents this.

Because canned fruits and vegetables are in the scarce class and canned and dried fruits are valuable for shipment we must eat more fresh fruit and divide up the rest by point rationing. Point rationing covers a whole group of foods, some a scarcer than others, but all the foods in the group are under control because they represent a supply of interchangeable things and everyone must get his fair share. If only one vegetable were rationed a man on another would be precipitated and hence that one would be scarce also. So all foods in the same group must be rationed together so that everyone will have a freedom of choice.

The OPA has issued a statement explaining the main points of Book No. 2, like

SNOW STOPPED TIN CAN CREW

Householders Asked To Save
Tins For Collection On February 28

Due to the unforeseen jests of nature the tin can collection was halted last Thursday when the heavy snowfall made it impossible to continue. The complete crew of men and trucks were on the job that day with the idea of making their rounds. By 10:30 a.m., however, four inches of the flaky stuff had fallen and it was impossible for the crew to go on without the aid of snow plows. A collection of four and a half tons was made but it represented only about one-tenth of the total. Since it is impossible for the men to continue the collection until the snow disappears, those whose cans were not collected are asked to take them back and save them for the next collection which will be on February 29, the last (Continued on Page 3)

NEW RAID SIGNAL EFFECTIVE FEB. 17

Long Shelter Stays Cut;
All-Clear Signal Yet
To Be Disclosed

On February 17 the new air raid signal system will go into effect on the Eastern shore. The first signal known as the blue will be a steady blast for two minutes and will denote that enemy aircraft have been sighted and are approaching. At that signal all dwellings and other buildings except war plants will blackout, but pedestrians may continue to walk and drivers may continue to operate their vehicles subject to dimming regulations. At night all outside lights will be turned off except street lights and traffic lights.

The blue alert may last indefinitely or it may be followed by the red, designated by intermittent warbling. While the blue is on pedestrians are warned to be seeking shelter because following that the red signal when given, indicates that all the streets must be cleared. The red signal denotes that planes are directly overhead. When immediate danger has been passed, and the blue is again sounded, the community reverts to its first blue status.

No "All Clear" Yet
Since no uniform "all clear" was provided for by the Army in setting up a new system, all communities have been asked by State Civilian Defense Director Leonard Dreyfuss, that they do nothing about an "all clear" until one is provided. Dreyfuss recalled, in speaking about the separate all clear's which were originally scheduled by the communities, that confusion was created by different methods of sounding an all clear when it was tried in surrounding communities a year ago.

The office of the committee under the direction of Miss Etchell F. A. will continue to be operating out of its clubhouse on the first aid headquarters of the Home Service, newly headed by A. Within a few days, Red Cross headquarters will be opened at 260 Washington avenue in that part of building formerly occupied by a confectionery store known as The Milky. The location is opposite Elk's club. It will fulfill fast-increasing need site centrally located on main thoroughfare and accessible to buses. In announcing acquisition of site several days

Thomas Aitken, chairman, executive committee, pointed out that it would house primary administrators of the annual for funds, which will begin March 1, and a recruiting station for registered nurses, urgently needed by the Army and Navy. Some production work carried on there and can be increased as the emergency needs are met. Workrooms located at the Recreation and in St. Peter's Hall are of interest to many; but some bandages and surgical dress can be done in the new quarters and will afford opportunity many women who can walk or use busses.

Pedestrian Fatalities

Problem of making the pedestrian safety traffic rules will loom larger as war progresses, according to Commissioner Arthur W. ... that more and more people ... to their destinations, pedestrians are beginning to supplant ... by auto collisions in the ...

With the decrease in deaths due to accidents during the last year hit ... vest total in 17 years, the commis- ... has pointed out in his summary that decrease is due only to reduced traffic ... and not to any improvement in safety habits of the public. In Decem- ... for instance, the decrease in collision ... deaths was more than four times as great ... the reduction in pedestrian fatalities. ... and even with this decrease, the stag- ... total of 771 people met their deaths ... early, through either auto or pedes- ... fatalities. Of these, one-sixth were ... workers. This loss of man power when ... services of every able-bodied man and ... are needed for the war effort would ... that more safety education is ... and needed promptly.

Although we all know that we should cross streets only at corners and then only when we have the light with us, how many of us strictly adhere to this basic rule? Not many. The greatest hazard is night-time "jay walking," particularly with the new dimout regulations. Motorists now have the double handicap of blackened lenses and low-beamed headlights. The war-time 35-mile speed is a somewhat compensating factor, but the proposal to further dim street lights will more or less cancel out that safety factor. And the motorist will be at a greater disadvantage than ever, in detecting what is ahead of him.

In the last analysis, the pedestrian is, under these conditions, completely responsible for his own safety. It seems to us that his safety would be more assured, however, if everyone walking at night were required to wear something white and luminous—perhaps armbands. Something of this nature, it would seem, would not only be an aid to the motorist, but would also be a constant reminder to the pedestrian of his own responsibility in observing traffic rules.

Point Rationing Looms

It won't be long before the process of rationing provisions for the table will be completed by the point rationing system which everyone has heard about but few so far understand. The computations involved will probably be no trouble to those orderly-minded individuals who are always able to balance their check books and keep an itemized budget.

But the problem of stretching 48 points per person over a variety of products in a given period will, we are sure, find some in a dilemma that will require all of the powers of a Philadelphia lawyer to solve.

Although we are now accustomed to a different set of coupons for sugar, gas and fuel oil, keeping track of them has been pure kindergarten stuff. Instead of asking for one or two coupons' worth of a given commodity, the provisioner will have to be crafty about her buying, to come out even. A few units over, at the end of the period, and she won't match a purchasable article, will result in forfeiture of the units. A wise suggestion has been that housewives begin now, to list all of the canned and processed foods they are buying, so that they will have a basis on which to gauge their purchases when the point rationing system starts.

It should be remembered also, that the price of either canned foods or meat which will be rationed out of the same War Ration Book II later on, has no bearing on the number of points placed by the government on each commodity. More points will naturally be surrendered for scarcer commodities than for those that are more plentiful. For that is the purpose of the point system.

It is designed to give everyone an equal share of foodstuffs while the country is under the strain of supplying food to the armed forces and civilians of allied countries under the lend-lease agreement. It is, however, entirely up to the individual buyer to juggle the points so that the greatest variety of commodities can be obtained.

What You Should Know About Dimout Regulations

This is the last in a series of articles designed to assist the citizens in the dimout area of New Jersey in meeting the requirements of the army as set forth in the dimout rules and regulations. They have been prepared with the advice and assistance of lighting specialists, loaned to the office of civilian defense director, and the members of the technical advisory committee.

Certificates Of Compliance

The civilian defense director of New Jersey has made available to local defense councils certificates that can be issued to stores, service stations, theaters, and others who comply with the United States army dimout regulations.

Under the direction of the local defense chairman, groups of inspectors are being prepared to check commercial establishments for compliance with U. S. army dimout regulations.

The types of lighting principally affected are show window lighting, interior lighting of stores and other commercial buildings, and exterior lighting for filling stations, parking lots, theatre marquees, etc.

In the near future such establishments will be visited by a lighting inspector from the local defense council who may issue a compliance certificate where the lighting and the screening equipment are found to be in compliance with army requirements.

Made In Triplicate

These certificates will be made out in triplicate by the lighting inspector. The original copy of the certificate will be left with the owner or manager of the establishment, if all army requirements are satisfied. Copies of the compliance certificates will be retained by the Defense Councils for future checking.

Attention is called to the fact that any certificates issued must be posted in a prominent place on the premises inspected. Also, it must be noted that no changes may be made in the inspected lighting without the approval of the local defense council.

Communication lines operated by our army forces are vital to every military battlefront. They must be in action at all times.

lines can't be provided because the materials and equipment are needed on the battle fronts. The only way to make room on the wires at home for the growing number of war messages is for everyone to avoid "unnecessary" calls.

Especially make it a rule not to call Washington, D. C. and other war-active areas unless absolutely necessary. This help will do much to speed the victory.

"SHARE-A-CAR"

KIDDE MOTTO

Aid Benefits Workers And Keeps Production Level High

Difficulties in transportation have always been a stumbling block to manufacturing concerns which must have workers at the job on time. The Walter Kidde plant on Main street has helped to solve the difficulty with a car-sharing plan which is available to every worker in the plant.

The plant worked out a plan to start with, whereby as many workers as possible could get transportation either through a direct bus line or by sharing a car with someone else. In furthering this plan the personnel of Walter Kidde issued first, a bus route map which showed the most convenient lines serving the Walter Kidde plant. This may be made available to every worker.

Secondly the company worked out a system of car-sharing which keeps most cars, going to and from the plant, constantly filled. In certain conspicuous parts of the plant and on many of the bulletin boards there appeared a map of surrounding sections with colored pins designating either rides that were available to workers or workers who wanted rides. By watching this map, anyone who was looking for a ride need only look for a colored pin which showed him someone near his home who was seeking a rider. Along with this, a zoning book was issued supplying a list of the employees according to districts.

The plan to date has worked to best advantage for everyone although there are still many problems and many different sets of workers to be considered. For those who worked on definite or regular shifts the car-sharing plan was acceptable. But there were many workers, such as foremen, who came half an hour early and stayed half an hour later than their shift required who could not easily manage a ride.

Some Irregular Shifts

There were 44 percent of the workers who were not on any definite shift at all and a different type of transportation had to be provided for them. This was the group that used the bus and the special Walter Kidde bus which runs directly from Penn station to the plant. Names of workers with off shifts were posted so that others who had the same shifts could contact them.

The company is interested in having all possible cars used for transportation and consequently they sign many applications for supplemental gas whenever possible. Before signing such a coupon, however, the company made sure that the driver had three good excuses for not having three. If he didn't have three riders, he didn't get more gas. Wherever it was found that the car was not filled to capacity, the owner was requested to accept more riders, who were contacted for him.

The personnel of the company still find difficulty in keeping all the cars filled because of the rapid expansion in the plant and the continuing transfers and changes in shifts. For instance, it was found that many women who worked on a night shift, going off the job about 3 a.m., had no way of getting to their homes except by long bus rides which robbed them of their sleep. In this case, the company arranged for a bus to stop at their plant and go directly to the homes of the workers, or rides were otherwise provided for them.

The whole aim of such a plan was to have workers who would be competent at their jobs, and who would be there on time. The plan, though not yet complete, has worked out to great advantage. The remaining part of the plan calls for car sharer emblems which may be attached above the car's license plate. These are made of plexiglass and help Kidde workers recognize other fellow workers so that they can thumb a ride, if necessary.

LEGAL NOTICE

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY To Galton Talarico, and his heirs, devisees and personal representatives.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a certain certificate of tax sale made by Wm. C. The said premises are on Franklin Street in the Town of Belleville, County of Essex and State of New Jersey, and have a frontage of 47.32 feet on Franklin Street, and begin at a point on Franklin Street 60.76 feet from the intersection of Franklin Street with the northern line of the right-of-way of the Erie Railroad Company.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR MEAT GO FURTHER

Nutrition authorities say that Mrs. American Housewife's job of feeding her family is one of the most important in the war effort. For nourishing food is going a long way toward building strength and morale on the home front.

At the same time, women are being called upon to conserve food as a wartime necessity. This means they must use every ingenuity to eliminate waste and get the most out of the food they buy.

How to make their meat go further seems to be a subject of especial interest, since building meals around this food is an American tradition. So home economics experts have come to the rescue with all sorts of ideas and recipes designed to extend the meat purchase as far as possible.

Here are a few of many practical ideas along this line.

BEEF BRISKET

First meal. Brisket cooked with beans is a delicious dish for the first serving. The beans are soaked over night and brown sugar, onion and seasonings added, then placed in a covered kettle with brisket on top. Brisket and beans should be covered with water and cooked in a moderate oven for about three hours.

Second meal. Broiled toastwiches suggested for the second meal, are prepared by slicing left-over brisket and making into sandwiches. The sandwiches are dipped in beaten egg and milk and broiled until brown.

Third meal. The left-over meat from the brisket may be ground and combined with boiled rice and seasonings to make a stuffing for green peppers. These are baked in a hot oven until done—about 45 minutes.

BLADE END OF PORK LOIN

First meal. Blade end of the pork loin is excellent for a roast. The end cut is lower in price than the center cut. Roasting is easy when a few simple rules are followed. The roast should not be covered and no water added. A low temperature saves both meat and fuel. A bread dressing, shaped in balls and placed around the roast half an hour before it is done, will extend the servings. This roast requires 30 minutes per pound.

Second meal. The cold slices of roast pork are delicious heated in barbecue sauce.

Third meal. The trimmings from the roast make a surprise supper dish when combined with cream sauce and served between layers and over the top of biscuits as Pork Short Cake.

LAMB SHOULDER

First meal. A stuffed lamb shoulder is a thrifty roast. The bones may be used to season vegetables or to make soup stock. A tasty stuffing is made for it by combining whole kernel corn, cracker crumbs, seasonings and minced green pepper. The roast is placed on a rack in an open pan and about 40 minutes per pound allowed in a slow oven.

Second meal. For the next night's main dish, combine cubes of cold roast with left-over vegetables and enough gravy to hold together. Place mounds of the mixture on squares of pastry and fold over to make a triangle. Pinch the edges together. Brown in a hot oven. These are called Pasties.

Third meal. The remaining lamb "bits" may be ground and mixed with cooked oatmeal, an egg and seasonings to make Scotch Pancakes for supper or for breakfast.

Correction

In a short article in last week's Times noting recognition received by Mrs. Leonora Willette of Stephens street from Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, New York regional director of the War Manpower Commission, Mrs. Rosenberg was incorrectly referred to as Mrs. Goldberg.

District Scouts Meet

In conjunction with Boy Scout week, the annual meeting of the Belleville district of the Robert Treat council, Boy Scouts of America will meet next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Fawcett Presbyterian church.

Election of district officers, report of the commissioner staff on activities within the district during 1942, and the showing of a color and sound film about Scouting will be included in the program. All scouts and their friends are invited to attend the meeting.

Tea For Nereid Women

Mrs. Herbert V. Hardman will be hostess at tea tomorrow afternoon to members of the Nereid Boat club auxiliary. Arrangements will be made then to send gifts to Nereid men serving in the armed forces. The auxiliary provided the men with holiday packages.

Smokers

Smokers, called "Happy Hours"

are part of the regular recreation program at the U. S. navy pre-flight school, Athens, Ga. These hours of diversion feature boxing and wrestling bouts, cadet acts and skits, and music by the school's 14-piece orchestra.

Favorite Hymn

The favorite hymn of the cadets at the U. S. naval pre-flight school, Athens, Ga., is "Rock of Ages."
