DRIVERS CATCH UP ON NEWLY IMPOSED RULES

Campaign For Defense Driving Put Into Effect By Legionnaires

The local chapter of the American Legion in cooperation with the State department which includes 30,000 Legionnaires in New Jersey is starting a five point campaign to conserve gasoline, tires and automobile mileage. The general public will be asked to join in this campaign. The campaign which is nation-wide in scope has been planned in full accord with the conservation objectives of the Office of Defense Transportation, the OPA and the Office of Civilian Defense.

The first point will be the organization of "4-in-1 war clubs" under the auspices of the local Legion post, which will have for its purpose the pledging of Legionnaires and the general public to share and swap rides so as to carry as many people as possible in autos, observing the 35 mile an hour war speed limit, the elimination of all unnecessary driving and the keeping of autos and tires in good condition. Club stickers will be given to those pledging to observe the rules.

Project number two will be a poster campaign, both for outdoor advertising and for window displays, in an effort to reduce traffic accidents. The posters are the work of an outstanding American artist and will be in full colors.

As the third point the campaign will promote the training of high school pupils in safe driving practices. One result is expected to be the education of young men awaiting induction into the armed forces in handling automotive equipment of the Army.

The fourth point in the program asks Legion posts to support uniform traffic laws and regulations to the end that a well-coordinated system of driving rules will expedite traffic control. Under the fifth point, Legionnaires will be called upon to deliver war transportation conservation talks before local groups in their respective communities.

Dog Owners Must Obtain Licenses

Police Chief Spatz has requested that all dog owners who have not yet obtained licenses for their dogs, do so at the first opportunity. Thirty days after the first of the year is the deadline for obtaining dog licenses but there are many people who have not yet registered their dogs. Spatz reminds all dog owners that unless their dogs are licensed there is a possibility that they may be picked up in the stray dog collection which is in operation at present to relieve the town of strays.

Half a dozen people have registered with Mayor Williams' dog placement service for homeless dogs so far. Owners who retrieve unlicensed dogs must pay $2 for the cost of collection and 50 cents for their board per day.

TOP PREVIOUS TIN HAULS

Householders Prepare Tins In Correct Way, Help To Better Other Collections

Not satisfied with breaking the record in fat salvage, Belleville hit a new high in its tin can collection when it managed to pile up 14 tons last Thursday to beat all previous totals. Although part of this collection was left over from January's incomplete collection the total is still better than average.

Robert G. Sutherland, head of the salvage committee, commended householders for preparing the cans better than they had previously been doing and stated that "Public understanding of the problem has increased since the beginning of the drive." Less superfluous material, such as pots and pans, was noted in the collection this time, according to Sutherland.

The peak for tin collection in December was 10 tons with a mere 4 tons in January. Although it is realized that householders are buying less canned goods, inspection of garbage disposal shows that many cans are still being discarded as garbage instead of being retained for vital use.

Gets Recognition

Eldon Kunze

Eldon Clarke Kunze, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kunze of 125 Cedar Hill avenue, was honored by two recognition organizations within the past two weeks at the University of Alabama where he is a senior in the school of commerce and business administration.

He was selected by Beta Gamma Sigma, national honorary scholastic commerce fraternity, as one of those seniors showing promise of graduating in the upper ten per cent of the class. Selections are made once a year. Mr. Kunze and 19 others are chosen.

When election of officers took place two weeks ago in the Alabama chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary military organization for advanced R. O. T. C. students, Kunze was elected commander for the remaining months. The chapter is sponsoring a movement to encourage more participation of male students in military activities until the probable selection of all advanced R. O. T. C. reservists in May or June.

Kunze is vice-president of Alabama chapter of Delta Sigma Pi, international commerce professional fraternity, and a member of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary scholastic fraternity. He was graduated from Belleville high school in 1940 when he was treasurer of that class and manager of the track team.

WPA NURSERY CLOSES AS NEED IS INCREASED

Child Care Group Is Advised That 1,748 More Local Women Will Be Employed

The Child Care committee of the Belleville Defense Council has been informed that the WPA Nursery School will be closed on March 12 as a result of the termination of that program. This leaves Belleville temporarily without facilities for the day care of children whose mothers are employed in war plants.

At the same time the committee has been advised by the War Manpower Commission that Belleville is included in the area of need for Child Care planning because 2,583 local women were employed in war industries in January of this year. It is anticipated that another 1,748 workers, for the most part women, will be employed in essential work by July. Estimates based on previous surveys indicate that at least 25 per cent of the employed women are mothers of children from 2 to 15 years of age.

The committee, of which Mrs. Morris Rochlin is chairman, has been working actively in attempting to plan good care for children and is now seeking local support for a day nursery which would operate full time, six days a week. The Community Service bureau in co-operation with the committee has been offering an information and consultation service to mothers who are working or considering taking employment.

Would Welcome Program

In recent talks with 50 working mothers who have pre-school children it was learned that more than half would welcome and use a good day nursery program. The committee deplores the fact that 16 children under two years of age are left with others while the mothers work and strongly urges that mothers devote themselves to caring for very young children. Services offered by the Community Service bureau help mothers to consider where their efforts are most important and to make sound plans for their children before taking employment.

Mrs. Rochlin, speaking for the committee, said, "We are well aware that the home is the normal place to bring up children, but when this war emergency calls women away from their natural responsibilities it is up to us as community representatives to see that children are safeguarded and to secure the best substitutes for home care which will help children to grow normally without damage."

Budget Stands Accepted On Four Minute Reading

In a brief four-minute session at the Town Hall Monday night, when not a single discussion on the part of the commissioners nor any taxpayer appearance by any taxpayer, was forthcoming, the town commission unanimously agreed to let the budget stand as read. This is the thirteenth consecutive year that the budget has passed without dispute.

An increase over last year's rate of $4.45 prevented by a $2,093,000 jump in rates with $1,396,583 to be raised by taxation, an increase of $77,343.50 over last year's sum. The total budget cost was estimated at $2,108,284, an increase of $92,033.70 over last year.

The Public Works department took the largest increase, jumping from $51,575.42 to $111,078.58. Mayor Williams explained that the $104,084.63 increase in non-controllable items prevented any rate reduction.

LIAISON MINISTER AT FEWSMITH

Rev. Cockburn, British Representative Will Speak Before Men's Club

British Government liaison officer between Protestant churches in Great Britain and those of the United States, the Rev. Harold A. Cockburn, will speak at Fewsmith Presbyterian Church Men's Club regular meeting Tuesday evening at 8:15. Mr. Cockburn is a native of Scotland where he is known as a popular preacher and amateur sportsman, respected as a fighting man, for he served through the First World War in the ranks of the Royal Field Artillery, and in the present war is an officiating chaplain to the Royal Air Force. His subject will be "Britain's Views of a Just and Durable Peace."

Mr. Cockburn is no stranger to the United States for he studied at Union Theological seminary where he received the degree of Master of Sacred Theology.

WOUNDED MARINE GIVEN HELP BY FIELD SERVICE

Service Which Extends Over Whole Globe Asks Funds For Continuation

"Mother, help the Red Cross whatever you do!" the plea of Pvt. Merle L. Quimby, wounded Hill street marine who is now recuperating in the Mare Island hospital, California, from wounds sustained in action in Guadalcanal, demonstrated a real and effective service of the American Red Cross field and Home services.

Quimby, who had been in services one year, landed with the invasion forces on Guadalcanal on August 7 and saw constant action until November 2, when he was sprayed with machine gun bullets and received eight wounds in his chest, shoulders and arms. Quimby's parents were notified of this through the Red Cross field service in December and Quimby himself was sustained during his illness by transfusions given by the men of the Medical Navy corps on the long journey which finally brought him to the Mare Island hospital early in January.

Telegrams sent through the Red Cross field service, served to reassure his family during his trip, that he was well. They also served to stimulate his own morale while he was ill.

Quimby suffered from malaria and pleurisy in addition to his wounds and his weight dropped from 170 to 120 pounds. Doctors at the Mare Island hospital have expressed confidence in his ability to recover safely after operation which have been performed on him, to remove a decayed bone and collapse one lung. Quimby, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Quimby has had his mother at his side since January 23. He and his mother celebrated his twenty-eighth birthday in the hospital on February 22, and Quimby expressed the hope that he could restate himself in the service when his health permits. Quimby and a brother Richard of Nutley, and a sister, Mrs. Jessi Booth of Westfield who is a nurse's aide.

Consumers, Grocers Favor Point Rationing Plan In First Tests

Herbert C. Schmutz, chairman of the ration board, has announced that 50,000 people registered for their War Ration book 2 from Belleville and Nutley. According to Schmutz relatively few people neglected to register, but those who did not, may do so by appearing in person at the ration board after March 8. Total registration was based on an estimated 55,000 population for both towns and non-registrants may include out-of-town workers and boys in the armed services.

James Kerney Jr., state director of the OPA, commended the registration as "the smoothest and most efficient consumer registration in our rationing experience." Kerney gave full credit to all the school teacher registrars and other volunteers who helped, and stressed the fact that all housewives should spend their points carefully in order to make their rations last out the month.

It has been emphasized that stocks of canned goods on hand at home for which ration stamps were taken during registration, are as much a part of the nation's supply of canned foods as those on the shelves of the stores. Housewives are advised to keep within the 48-point limit per person per month even when they are using excess home stocks.

It is suggested that consumers use unrationed fresh fruits and vegetables as frequently as possible. The recently imposed ceiling prices on many fresh vegetables will prevent any further rise in prices of these commodities.

STUDENTS JOIN VICTORY CORPS

Commando Training Fits Boys For After School Place In The Army

In accordance with the Army-Navy physical training program, Belleville high school students, under the supervision of their gym teachers will go through physical fitness programs set up for them during the last semester of the current year.

Herman Wische, physical training instructor for the boys, has set up and is now putting into operation a rigid Commando training, which will fit high school boys for the necessary requirements of the armed services. Twenty-five percent of all high school boys examined for their ability to take part in this program were deficient in some way, and letters have been sent home to the parents of those boys so that they may consult their family doctors and remedy the situation as soon as possible.

The full commando program is based on three measures: those of health education, safety, and physical hygiene. Since boys who enter the armed services are ofentimes too unfamiliar with their circumstances and become easily discouraged, the program is being laid on discipline so that when boys enter the army it will be no drastic change for them.

An obstacle course has been laid out in the school for preliminary training for the boys. An outside course may be available when the weather permits, according to Wische. All boys are required to run half a mile in order to develop their endurance and rope climbing and other exercises to develop the higher extremities are included in the program. Endurance and combative work are two phases stressed most in the Army-Navy plan which is being followed as closely as possible by the physical training instructors.

Local Food Markets Agree To Budget Their Points

Local food markets are in agreement that customers are to effort to budget their points. Since many customers do not yet understand the system clearly, local grocers are acting as advisers to their customers. The local A&P on Washington avenue has instructed employees on the systems so that they can explain point rationing and answer any questions of dubious customers.

According to Harry Schurman, A&P manager, "the customers as a whole understand point rationing better than they did sugar or coffee rationing." The A&P salesmen that on the first day of sales under point rationing, they people used their entire book on soup and peas. People seem to be afraid of using their ration stamps, however, until they saw others doing so. A cursory checkup revealed that out of eight baskets of customers willing to be tallied, only one mentioned item out of all eight included in the goods. The trouble, according to the grocers, is the fact that people choose rationing, they thought weren't rationing, and then had to return them since they did not have their ration books with them.

Schurman feels that "even though we have lost a privilege (that of buying quantities of food) it is worthwhile since it assures equal distribution." He believes that it will take six months to get the system into smooth working condition so that any flaws which appear may be ironed out satisfactorily.

CAR REGISTERING LIGHT, SO FAR

Motorists Have Until March 31 To Obtain Four Inch "Plates" For '43

On Monday the local license agency of William Abramson at 500 Washington avenue was opened for renewal of drivers' licenses for the 1943 year and for motor vehicle registration. Abramson reports that registration this year is falling below last year's. Most of the people who have registered so far are from out of state, mostly New York and Pennsylvania, where they did not register before the deadline in those states. Jerseyites who have until March 31 to register are taking their time about it.

War priorities have made necessary the continued use of the 1942 plates on all registered vehicles, in addition to which there will be issued with each renewal a four inch metal tab containing the figures "43". This tab will be attached to the lower right side of the plate. Both the 1942 plates and the "43" tab must be displayed on vehicles at all times, the absence of either constituting an improperly registered vehicle. The deadline for displaying 1943 plates without the "43" tab is midnight, March 31, and all violations are subject to a fine not exceeding $100.

The "43" tabs can be attached to the present plates any time after March 1. Regardless of the time renewal is made, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Magee cautions motorists against discarding their 1942 plates. He warns they must be retained until such time as application is made for the 1943 registration.

After a year of use and exposure...

Four Violators Summoned

Four drivers have already been ordered to appear before the 1-4 ration board for either or all of the violations of this program which includes exceeding the 35 mile speed limit, pleasure driving, or carrying loose ration coupons. The campaign against pleasure driving which was started on Sunday will continue unabated and all residents of Belleville or Nutley, no matter where they are apprehended will be ordered to appear before their local boards for hearing, according to Herbert C. Schmutz, chairman of the local board. Many of those now being stopped drive cars bearing out of state license plates. These people will be referred directly to their own state boards. Schmutz has stated that the board will not take any cognizance of anonymous complaints which are constantly being made.

OPA GIVES DATA FOR INSTITUTIONS

These Users Register For Point Rationing During March 1, 2 and 3

Institutional users serving meals were advised Wednesday by OPA headquarters of Newark that they will be required to include dry beans, peas, lentils, and dried and dehydrated soup mixtures on their registration forms when they register with the Belleville war price and rationing board for processed food allotments during March 1, 2 and 3. The office will be open on Monday and Wednesday from 10 to 1 p. m. and on Tuesday from 11 to 3 p. m.

These commodities were recently added to the processed food ration order, it was explained, and must be included in inventory reports and other computations in connection with the registration procedure.

At the same time they register for the processed food allotments, these users will also apply for March-April sugar and coffee rations. All the food programs affecting institutional users, it was pointed out, have been combined under one registration procedure and will use the one registration form.

Registration forms for these users, rationing officials said, are expected to be available at the Belleville war price and ration board office at 486 Washington avenue, Belleville about February 28. These forms will include complete instructions for entering required information and will give other pertinent data.

(2) Find the ration order is defined by the ration order in these words: "You are an Institutional User if you use a rationed food in the preparation of food which you serve, or in the service of food to an average of seven or more persons a day in addition to the persons who maintain the household members of their families, employees, and servants."

Junior Woman's Club Holds President's Night

The Junior Woman's club met last Tuesday night at the clubhouse when they held a President's night, with Miss Patricia Hannon, chairman of the American Home department, in charge of the meeting. Miss Elsie Kane of the George Jensen Silver Co. was speaker for the evening. Her topic was "The Lunning Collection of Silver, China and Crystal."

Presidents from the Junior Contemporary of Newark, the Junior Woman's club of Nutley, and the Arlington Junior Woman's club, attended the meeting. The guest of honor was Mrs. J. Russell Ward of East Orange, northern vice-chairman of the Juniors. Hostesses were Mrs. Irving Butler, Mrs. Scott Mathews, Miss Janet Moyer, and Mrs. Roy Kievit. The decorations were in red, white and blue.

Over 150 Donors To Blood Bank On Third Visit

Many Give Plasma For Armed Forces For Third Time; Twenty-three Members Of Fire Reserves First Defense Council Group To Volunteer In Body

Of the two hundred people who volunteered to donate their blood to the Red Cross on their third trip to Belleville, 152 were acceptable and donated their blood.

Twenty-four people among the group had donated their blood three previous times when the unit was previously here. One donor, Everett C. Hunting of Plainfield, had donated his blood six previous times, once in Belleville. Another donor, Paul Brandman, has given four times, three of them in Belleville, as has Mrs. Edward McQuoid who gave two times in Belleville and two times in New York.

The following donors all gave three times in Belleville and include Mrs. Anna Mueller, Helen P. Jones, Mrs. Sydney Brown, Mrs. Shirley McElroy, Mrs. LeRoy Long, Mrs. Freda Tilk, Mrs. Alice Flynn, Mrs. Winifred Fitzsimmons, Miss Ruth Maier, Mrs. Mary E. McCloskey, Mrs. Hilda Gibson, Mrs. Mary V. Sheldon, Mrs. Theresa Hunkeler, Mrs. Rhoda Strange, Mrs. Agnes N. ## A. M. Sexton Dies February 22

Alan M. Sexton of 20 Baldwin street, Bloomfield, who died on Washington's birthday, was buried last Thursday from Sacred Heart Church, Bloomfield. He was well known to members of the Belleville Lions Club of which he was a member. Mr. Sexton conducted an insurance office at 1 Clinton street, Newark. He was 45 and died after a short illness. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mildred T. Sexton, and four children, Richard, Allen, Joan Marie and Barbara Ann.

Helped Norwegians

Before coming to the United States, he did much to help the Norwegians who managed to escape from their country to settle in Scotland, and was one of the founders of the Scottish-Norwegian Society which was formed to further friendly relations between these two nations.

After his service in the last war, Mr. Cockburn studied for the ministry and in 1931 became minister of St. Michael's church, Dumfries, Scotland. This church was the one attended by Robert Burns, the Scottish poet, during his lifetime, and his remains are buried in St. Michael's churchyard. Mr. Cockburn arrived in this country in November last.

Mr. Cockburn is only one of many outstanding leaders of public thought which the Men's club has brought to the community. Notable among its past speakers are Christian Skau and G. W. Nelson. The meeting is open to the public.

BELLBOYS SLASHED IN FINAL EFFORT

Too Interested In State Tournament To Mete Justice To Rival

Pairings in the state tournament have been announced with Belleville high school meeting East Orange high Friday night at Bloomfield high school gymnasium.

Reversing the order St. Benedict's avenged an earlier defeat at the hand of the Bellboys to win 54-21 last Thursday night at Shanley gym. The deadly accuracy of Lakos and Lieberman were the deciding factors in the defeat of the Yellow Jackets. Hampered by colds and with an eye on the State tournament, the Bellboys were decidedly off form and not once showed the gallantry which they have exhibited all season.

Inventories in Points

In reporting inventories, or usage figures for the month of December, institutional users must reduce inventories to point values. Instructions for doing this are given as follows:

(1) Find the total number of pounds of each of the three classes of processed foods - canned, frozen, and dried. (2) Multiply the total number of pounds of each class by the point value per pound fixed for that class, as follows:

Eleven points for canned soups, fruits and vegetables; fruit and vegetable juices in containers of one gallon or less. Dry beans, peas, and lentils must be included under this category. Thirteen points for frozen fruits and vegetables in containers of ten pounds or less. Eighteen points for dried or dehydrated fruits, dried and dehydrated...

At Feldman's Dept. Store

115 Washington Ave., Belleville. If the holder of Sales Check No. 23, dated Feb. 17, will phone 2-1111 they will receive information.

Information To Customers

The employees of the local Safeway store are also cooperating with the customers in the plan by wearing badges which show the customers that they may obtain information from them. Safeway would like to have a woman from the state OPA come and explain the system and answer questions of the customers in order to further their knowledge of the new plan.

This store differs from other local markets by having a cashier ring up both the amount of rationed food which the customer has bought and the total amount of food he has purchased so that he holds a receipt for his expended ration points and will be better able to budget his food. Louis Koehne, manager of the store, feels that "this system will prevent long runs on food," citing as an example canned tomatoes which are now to be had in retail quantities whereas they were becoming very scarce before rationing went into effect. The local Safeway store sells everything by the pound so that small families will avoid the necessity of overbuying. Safeway advises that all customers, if possible, use their largest number stamps first, saving the smaller denominations until last so that they will not have to waste any. According to Koehne, the greatest problem of customer reaction comes from the fact that customers too often neglect to have their ration book when they approach the cashier thus causing a sad run on the check run by the store.

Lt. Martling was born in Belleville, attended local schools and was with the Prudential Insurance company's engineering department. In 1940 he joined the National Guard's 165th field artillery unit in Newark which was conscripted for regular army service in September of that year.

Pvt. Harold Lovett of the Signal Radio Intelligence company at Camp Crowder, Mo., will arrive in Belleville Sunday for a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lovett of 72 Overlook avenue. In the army four months, he was formerly employed by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company of Newark.

Darryl Zink, Student, Leaves For Air Corps

Darryl Zink of Rossmore place left Belleville Sunday for active army service. He is the son of State Comptroller and Mrs. Homer C. Zink. Young Zink enlisted in the air corps reserve last summer. He recently resigned from Princeton university after completing his junior year under the accelerated plan. He was a member of the Reserve Officers training corps of the university for two years.

Harry, Not George

It was stated in the Times last week that George Yanz of 715 Belleville avenue had obtained marksmanship honors in sharpshooting. This was incorrect. It was Harry Yanz who attained the honors. He has been in the army only six weeks and formerly worked for the Goss Laboratories in Newark. George is his older brother.

It was also stated in the Times last week that six million dollars had been appropriated by the Red Cross for the armed services out of their total budget for the year. This is incorrect. The sum appropriated for the armed forces is sixty-six million.

finds he does not have his book with him.
A. A. Lehmann, local retail grocer of 384 Washington avenue, helps his customers by giving them instructions on point rationing and small envelopes in which to carry their books. He has noticed that packaged vegetables are being purchased more frequently than they were before rationing. Lehmann, who has been operating his store in Belleville for the past two years, feels that "point rationing should have started long ago, and the government should have stepped in."
The local Food Fair market, managed by Herman Sigel, tries to help the customers by explaining what they should buy with their stamps and how to conserve them. Sigel stressed the fact that purchasers should know the exact amount of stamps they have before they buy rationed food so that they will not go over their allotments. In buying at the Food Fair, customers are requested to place their rationed purchases in the bottom basket and keep their other food in the top basket to avoid confusion when they approach the cashier. The local stores are not trying to take all the coupons at once; according to Sigel, they would rather help people to conserve the stamps for future use.

Use Large Stamps First

The local Acme market has set up an advisory service for the customers and urges them to use their largest stamps first, saving the smaller ones for the end of the month. "If the customers cooperate with the storekeepers," said Fred Pugliese, manager of the store, "there will be no rush on any one particular item." Price ceilings do not worry the store since they are fixed by the company and followed by the various branch stores.

Points of all rationed articles are marked below the food so that customers can judge exactly how much they can buy. The Acme cashier does not ring up any sale, according to Pugliese, until she is sure that the customer has his stamps with him. The sales of fresh vegetables and fresh fruits show a noticeable incline at the Acme store, but anyone wishing to do so, can use his entire amount of points at one time with no interference from the salesman. Pugliese stated that "all grocers will be helped immensely, if customers will buy rationed foods during the first part of the week and do their other shopping towards the end of the week.

Point rationing from the householder's viewpoint is a simple matter to understand and helps any housewife do her shopping although she may have to be a little more ingenious about planning well balanced meals than she had previously been. Point rationing will force many housewives to forget their art in welding a can-opener, but from the viewpoint of the grocer, she will be amply rewarded.

Defense Council Holds Talks, Demonstrations

A trial session in the use of OCD tank fire extinguishers was held Monday by Sectors 9 and 10 of Zone 5. Joseph DeFabbio, assisted by Mrs. Francis Petzel of Sector 9 and John Lindeger, assisted by Samuel Pica of Sector 10, watched the demonstration which was staged under the direction of Samuel DiGiovanni, assistant warden of Zone 5.

Michael Richardella, chief warden of Zone 5, and his deputy, Michael Caponear, along with Chief Air Raid Warden Edward P. Cantwell and Defense Co-Ordinator Harry J. Sullivan, also observed the demonstration, in which fires were set and extinguished by hand pumps. A first aid station was also set up at the scene to protect spectators.

Fifty members of the first aid unit of Zone 1 under the direction of Dr. Ernest Roek, were fingerprinted and sworn in Monday night at the Recreation house by Thomas D'Avella.

The Defense council has also appointed a committee to study the problem of starting incident tests for defense volunteers. A series of incident tests were staged last year, according to Sullivan, but none have as yet been arranged for this year. The committee includes Ronald Brunner, L. B. Mcloskey, James H. Campbell and Harry J. Sullivan.

The health and first aid committee of the Defense Council, maintaining that defense membership is deficient in certain branches, is recruiting volunteers for other services, defense plants, and home duties.

Tonight in School No. 8, Sidney Kauffer will speak on gases before the members of the ambulance corps. A representative of the Public Service corporation will also deliver a lecture on the problems and dangers arising from damages caused by Public Service equipment before the demolition group of the Defense council tonight at 8 p. m. Movies will be shown.

On Monday at School No. 4 a meeting of the wardens of Zone 5 will be held, headed by Charles Speed. Sidney Kauffer will again lecture on gases assisted by Harold Bode. Lt. William Gilchrist will deliver a talk on fire bombs.

Belleville Youth At College

Eli Schanes of 579 Belleville avenue, a junior at Montclair State Teachers college, was among the sixty men saluted by the college on February 26, with a variety show "Farewell to the Boys," as they were leaving within the week to join the army. Schanes was noted for his work on student publications before he was called to the Army Air Force in which he had enlisted several months ago.

The men, former members of the enlisted reserves, which were called upon during the past week, joined in community singing, as Dr. Charles E. Hadley, associate professor of biology, wielded the baton and Dr. Howard K. Fohr, associate professor of mathematics, played the piano accompaniment. Frederick Kolb, an alumnus of the college, and instructor of social studies at Hathorne High School, then presented some of the feats of magic for which he is well known at Montclair. Musical selections were offered by Emil L. Kahn, conductor of the college orchestra, who presented several musical novelties at the piano, by Miss Pfutner, college freshman, singing selections from light operas, and by Dr. Edwin S. Fulcomer, head of the department of English, in an original satire on integration titled, "Won't You Integrate With Me". The College Dance club, under the direction of Miss Margaret A. Sherwin, assistant professor of Physical Education, offered a comedy dance especially devised for the occasion and setting the keynote of the program. Rounding out the program was a brief message from Dr. Harry A. Sprague, president of the college, representing the entire college.

William L. Allen of DeWitt avenue, James D. Hyde of Rossmore place and Miss Audrey Hyde of the same address were among those attending the annual winter prom in the Alumni gymnasium on February 27 at the Peddie school, Hightstown. The McFarland Twins and their orchestra played for the dance.

Miss Lorna Zink, '43, of 26 Rossmore place is among 158 New Jersey college for Women students enrolled for the second semester in war service courses for which no academic credit is given.

Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Homer I. Zink and an English major, Miss Zink is taking the training in engineering drawing, a two-term course, preparing seniors for specialized jobs in war plants. Miss Zink has also had training in first aid along with Miss Frances Sheldon, '43 of 221 Jorammon street, who was also enrolled in the first aid course last year.

The new food czar, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, urges greatly expanded production and warns that more concentration may be necessary on the most urgently needed foods.

FRANCES FOGARTY RECOVERING

Dancer Will Rest For Few Months; D'Angelos Have Weekend Guests

Miss Frances Fogarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fogarty of 58 Lightham street, is recuperating from an appendicitis operation and will be at home for several months. Fran, a Roxette and a professional dancer, had been working in Washington previous to coming home. She said that she liked the city of Washington very much. She has also worked in Philadelphia. The next stop for Fran was Jacksonville, Fla., where she was to have been captain of a line had her illness not forced her to discontinue dancing for a few months. She has three other sisters who are also dancers and said that she plans to go back to dancing as soon as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis D'Angelo of Belmont street had as weekend guests their nieces, Rosalie and Amelia Buffardi, Mr. and Mrs. John D'Angelo and Miss Sue D'Angelo, sister of Louis D'Angelo, to celebrate Louis D'Angelo's birthday.

A daughter, Adeline Mary, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schroeder of 207 Belleville avenue on February 22, Washington's birthday. She was born in American Legion hospital, Newark, and is the couple's first child. Mrs. Schroeder is the former Miss Mary Costa of this town.

Daughter To Palmas

Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Palma, Jr., of Bloomfield, are the proud parents of a baby girl, their first, born last Wednesday evening, at Columbus hospital, Newark. The baby weighed six pounds at birth. Mrs. Palma was the former Miss Josephine Bocchino, of this town. The baby will be christened Viola Ann.

A birthday party was held on Sunday afternoon for Dolores Ann Ferrara, one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ferrara, of Lake street. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Grande, and daughter, Geraldine, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Giordano, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Grande, and sons, Robert and Ronald; Mr. and Mrs. James Grande, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Di Giacomo and sons, Sam, Frank and John; Mrs. John J. Scritella and her daughter, Theodora, Miss Geraldine Soprano, Miss Mary Valente and brother Frank. A supper was served and the center piece was a huge birthday cake which when cut played the tune of happy birthday.

School No. 9 P.-T. A. Meeting

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of School No. 9 will be held in the school auditorium Tuesday afternoon at 3:30. A short business meeting will be followed by a social and a penny auction. Mothers of the third grade students will be hostesses.

A Local Example Of Red Cross Work

Jean was having a baby in February, her husband was in the armed forces — anxious, naturally, and worried. He was given leave when the baby was expected, but it looked as if he would have to return to camp before the event. He telephoned the Red Cross which took the matter up with his Commander, and the leave was extended. The baby just arrived; the mother is on the way to recovery, and her husband has returned to camp with an easier mind.

This is just one example of a service which the Red Cross renders in bridging the distance between the service man and his family.

Make your contribution worthy of the cause. When the Red Cross worker calls at your door, give generously; or mail your check to the local Red Cross Chapter.

He's on the Job

He's there, one hundred per cent there. Physically strong, mentally alert, he works with a sure and steady rhythm. Without dawdling, without the rush that too often spoils work and slows production, he's at his job day after day. The absentee list never carries his name. His sound health is an asset—to him and to his company.

NUTRITION IS ALL IMPORTANT...

He must have food that sustains him. Hunger can be satisfied by a meal, but unless the meal contains food that refreshes and restores his vitality, it's the wrong kind of meal for him. He requires a balanced diet and meals he can work on.

Resigned To Inconveniences

Telephone "party line," reminiscent of the "party line" of the grand old era, has reappeared in the homes in large numbers, during the past year. Chances are that it is here to stay for the duration. Reputed as a source of information for the listener, it has also been the occasion for heated feuds, begun when an impatient click-click has interrupted "important" conversations.

The recurrence of that habit should prevail now, however, if the public has any heed of the phone company's publicity campaign urging that all unnecessary telephoning be curtailed in favor of messages on the business of war for the duration. The New Jersey Bell Telephone company, in its annual report published this week, has explained that because of the greatly increased demand for service from war industries, the specialized needs of nine large new military centers and equipment at scores of other locations used by the armed forces, capacity has been greatly taxed.

This is because, they explain, that war shortages of essential materials have sharply reduced the amount available for telephone use. Added to this, the War Production Board early in the year restricted expansion to essential uses defined by the WPB, in an effort to direct critical raw materials to war production. In many instances, new telephones in residential areas have had to be deferred—a departure from the phone company's usually prompt service. Unnecessary long-distance calls have been eliminated as anyone knows who tried to send through messages during the holidays, and conversational calls that are apt to delay war industry communication of importance have been frowned upon.

The phone company, however, is pleased with the public cooperation thus far, saying that it is apparent that telephone users realize the importance of curtailment. When their calls, particularly in war-busy centers, have been delayed because of circuit congestion, they have been understanding and tolerant. Criticisms, the company says, have been fewer than in any previous year—concrete evidence that a heretofore demanding public largely is becoming more and more resigned to the inconveniences of total war.

Streamlined Motor Vehicle Rules

Streamlining of state motor vehicle rules has been announced by Commissioner Magee, with the inauguration of the month-long registration which began here on Monday. The average driver who annually has the job of sweating over the unscrewing of rusty bolts to remove his year-old license plates may this year happily attach his four-inch metal tab to the old plates, and let it go at that.

Cutting down the number of trips to inspection stations is a sane and timely measure when the majority of cars that are on the road have been drastically cut in mileage allotments anyway. Although previous inspections during the year gave a leeway in the period in which they were due, to allow motorists to combine the inspection with other business in that "neighborhood," we somehow always found the stations to be off our usual path.

The present ruling of one inspection a year should be no hardship and, as Magee emphasizes, it should be gladly adhered to. In addition to preventing possible unnecessary and premature wear of tires and vital parts, it is claimed that the inspection program has effectively cut down the hazards of traffic fatalities over its five-year enforcement.

"Commando" training under the Victory program should be a welcome hardening-up process for high school youths who can reasonably expect to become a part of the armed forces shortly after their graduation. Reports from those already in various branches show that intensive training is required. Any conditioning that can be given before its full brunt is experienced, is an advantage for which many Belleville youths will be grateful.

The response of Bellevilleites to the third Red Cross blood bank which was here on Tuesday, will be, as the donors well know, the means of saving many a life on the battlefronts. We had an opportunity to hear a young veteran discharged because of wounds received at Pearl Harbor, make a plea for as frequent individual contributions as possible. He attributed his life to the five plasma transfusions he received, two shortly after his injuries. This is the first time that plasma has been obtainable, and at the scene of battle. Donations are a vital way in which civilians can directly save some lives among our fighting men.

with the high standards which they must expect when they enter the armed forces.

The girls are also going into the victory program in a modified form, following a Federal government bulletin on the part they can play in physical fitness. Calisthenics are stressed most strongly in the girls' programs and most girls are Victory Volunteers, which means that they follow the best routine for health that is possible; one of getting eight hours' sleep each night, eating the right foods, and getting their necessary exercise.

They are continuing their intermural teams and try to get more girls interested in them and learn how to do their best at any given sport. Their program also includes incidental teaching in personal hygiene.

All physical training instructors stress the idea that in order to get the most out of high school jobs, both boys and girls should be physically able to withstand the pressure of a war job or a place in the armed forces.

hydrated soups must be included under this category.

(3) Add the total number of points together and the result is the point value of your inventory (known as your Point Inventory). The registration form for institutional users is divided into three parts, one for each of the three groups of institutional users. Instructions for each group are given as follows:

Under Three Groups

Group One is the Pooled Book Group which includes boarding houses, fraternity houses, summer camps, boarding schools and others which will use the ration books of residents to purchase processed foods, sugar and coffee. This group must give a point inventory of the rationed processed foods (including dry beans, lentils, dried and dehydrated soups) on hand.

Group Two consists of institutions of involuntary confinement such as jails and insane asylums.

The third group is a large general group consisting of restaurants, hotels, lunch rooms, and other public eating places not included in the other two groups. This group is required to list the number of persons served during December, 1942, and also the gross dollar revenue from service of food and non-alcoholic beverages during the same period. In addition this group is required to list the point value of the quantities of a specified list of foods used during December.

CAR REGISTERING

ure to weather, many 1942 plates are beginning to fade and show signs of wear. To combat this deterioration and to insure their usability until steel priorities are lifted, the State has arranged, at no cost to the owner, to refurbish the plates with an application of lacquer. The refurbishing will be done at the inspection stations when the cars are presented for the 1943 safety inspection.

Since there will be but one inspection annually while restricted rationing regulations are in effect, owners can serve a dual purpose by calling at the inspection stations early. Magee points out that not only will plate deterioration be halted but inspection requirements met in time to spot possible defects which, if continued uncorrected, might result in unnecessary and premature wear of tires and vital parts. Continuing, Commissioner Magee said:

Inspections Safeguard

"There is nothing unique about safety inspections under governmental auspices. For many years inspections have been made of elevators, steam boilers, steamboats, fire escapes, tenement houses and hazardous industrial machinery. No one questions the salutary effects of these inspections but they are completely overshadowed by the results of motor vehicle inspections in New Jersey.

"During the past five years of inspections, there have been 1,632 fewer lives lost in traffic accidents than in the five-year period prior to the inspection program. Most significant is the fact that many vehicles were on the road and much more gasoline was used in the latter period than during the five years before inspections.

"Having a vehicle inspected once a year is a very small contribution toward the continuance of life, limb, man-power, tires, parts and vehicles. No other fifty-cent investment pays as much dividend."

LETTERS

Somewhere in North Africa February, 1943.

From Sgt. Raymond Fratella

Somewhere in North Africa.

To the Editor of The Times:

We are taking advantage of our leisure time and want to inform you that we both enjoy your paper. We receive The Times weekly and always want to read and find out how our town is progressing and its doings.

We, namely Sgt. Raymond Fratella of 137 each street, and Cpl. Frank Federico of 60 Brighton avenue, have been together 14 months including six months of overseas service. At present we are both in North Africa and are proud of doing our share to help secure peace and freedom.

We are both technicians as we have passed special examinations and studies which the army requires. I, Fratella, am an Artillery Mechanic, while I, Federico, am a Motor Transportation mechanic.

We both attended Belleville high school and are pleased with the many victories in its sports schedule. We hope that it keeps up its splendid work and we wish the students, teachers and Mr. Kittle the best of luck in doing so.

We would appreciate if you would print the above paragraphs in your next issue. Thank you and your staff for publishing a swell paper.

From Cpl. Frank Peci, Mgr.

West Point Basketball Team

To the Editor of The Times:

I'm writing this letter to you to inform you about a soldier who is stationed at West Point and playing basketball for me. His name is Pat Tortorelli and he is making a name for himself in the West Point League. On February 19 he broke the scoring record by making 26 points in a single game. In 15 games he has made 183 points. At present the Field Artillery

That "Avenger"—new U. S. Navy torpedo bomber—is a fine product of "All American" teamwork. The plane, assembled and launched in New Jersey, uses parts obtained from more than 200 sub-contractors in New York, Michigan, Ohio, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and the telephone has a lot to do with building and bringing these parts together quickly—for action. Thousands of calls go into the making of a torpedo bomber... other thousands into the production of tanks, ships, guns and shells—calls that rely on the same telephone facilities that serve civilian needs. More room for war messages must be made on lines and switchboards that can't be enlarged because materials are unobtainable. That's why we ask you to make only really necessary long distance calls—especially to centers of war activity.

WINAN-SCHOLTZ NUTIALS HELD

Fewsmith Church Was Scene Of Local Girl's Marriage To North Arlington Man

The marriage of Miss Irene Scholtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antoine G. H. Scholtz of 364 De Witt avenue, to Ivar Winan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Winan of North Arlington, took place February 20, at 8:30 p. m. in the Fewsmith Memorial church with Dr. O. Bell Close officiating at the ceremony.

The matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Janet D. Wood and the best man was Seaman 1st class, George Winan, the bridegroom's twin brother. Ushers were Edwin Wood of town, and Charles Harris of East Orange. Vincent Antonucci, tenor soloist of St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York, sang at the wedding.

The bride wore an ivory satin gown with a petal neckline of seed pearls and an ivory illusion veil held in place by a headpiece of matching seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and sweet peas. The matron of honor wore a coral pink taffeta gown with a shirred overskirt and carried pink carnations and snapdragons. The bride's mother was dressed in blue silk brocade and carried a corsage of roses, as did the mother of the bridegroom who was attired in tailored blue crepe.

Mrs. Amy G. Stratton and Harry Stratton were guest artists at the reception following the ceremony in the church hall.

The couple will spend their honeymoon at Lake Placid, New York, and will live at the River View gardens in North Arlington upon their return.

Miss Scholtz attended Belleville schools and was graduated from the Berkley school in East Orange. She is employed by the Chase National bank in New York. Her husband is employed as a tool-maker in North Arlington.

MISS CARLSON BRIDE SUNDAY Marriage To Cpl. Kenneth Bedford Will Take Place In Lutheran Church

Miss Charlotte Esther Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius B. Carlson of 221 Malone avenue and Cpl. Kenneth Henry Bedford, son of Mrs. Emile Julian of 33 Perry street, will be married Saturday afternoon in Bethany Lutheran church. Rev. Willard H. Borchers, the pastor, will officiate at the ceremony.

Miss Charlotte Carlson
the ceremony at 4. Miss Barbara Ewell will sing and Mrs. Stanley Whetstone will be at the organ. A reception will be held at the bride's home.

Gowned in traditional white satin the bride will be escorted by her father. Orange blossoms and lace will form the headpiece from which her three-tiered veil will be draped. She will carry white roses and bouquet. Two sisters will be members of the bridal party, Miss Astrid Carlson, maid of honor, and Miss Dagmar Carlson, a junior bridesmaid. The bridesmaids will be the Misses Lily and Florence Nelson, cousins of the bride-elect and a second junior bridesmaid will be Miss Jeanette Julian, Cpl. Bedford's sister.

The spring-like costumes of the bridal attendants will be made of taffeta and net in yellow for the maid of honor, who will carry a bouquet of mixed tulips, and sky blue for the other attendants. They will carry yellow tulips. Mrs. Carlson will wear a navy ensemble with a corsage of talisman roses. Also in navy, Mrs. Julian will wear red roses.

Pfc. John Donnelly will be Cpl. Bedford's best man and the ushers will be other servicemen. The couple was graduated from Belleville high school. Miss Carlson is with the Prudential Insurance company of Newark. Cpl. Bedford was employed by the Cosgrove Wire Cloth company of this town before he entered the army more than two years ago. He is stationed in Long Island.

Miss Margaret Mohr Marries In Florida

Mrs. Leo P. Blanchfield, the former Miss Margaret Mohr of 119 Bremond street, returned to Belleville Sunday after spending two weeks in Pensacola, Fla., where she was married on February 16 to Leo P. Blanchfield of the Naval reserve. A resident of Belleville for several years, Mrs. Blanchfield is with the Westinghouse company. She is the daughter of Mrs. Harry Simmons of Troy, N. Y.

The couple were married at the Naval Base chapel, Our Lady of Loretto, by Capt. Harkins, chaplain. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. William Sortir of Pensacola. Mr. Blanchfield is the son of Thomas Blanchfield of Paterson.

Greylock P. - T.A. Plans Course In Home Making

Mrs. Victor Hart will be hostess this afternoon at her home on Crest drive to the classroom mothers of the Parent Teacher association of the Greylock school. Mrs. Hart will entertain the group at a tea when the women will be informed of a course of study which will be inaugurated in the school library Thursday morning, March 18. On that day, and on the three following Thursdays, from 10 until 11:30 Mrs. Margaret Shepard and Mrs. Sally Splain Serbell, Essex County home demonstration agents, will lecture and offer demonstrations on home subjects directly related to the war effort.

Mrs. Shepard will present the first three discussions which are entitled, Contribute to Victory—Use Your Money Wisely; Take Care of the Tools of Your Trade; and Why and How to Save Time in the Kitchen. Mrs. Serbell will present the concluding lesson which is called the Three R's in Clothing—Repairing, Renovating and Remodeling.

Members of the PTA are anxious to share these discussions with others and the meetings will be opened to the public. Anyone who cares to do so may attend. The school is located at Greylock Parkway and Forest street.

On Tuesday a short executive meeting of the Greylock PTA will be held in the school at 3. Registrations for the regular meeting will begin at 3 and the program under the direction of Mrs. Benson Herr, safety and health chairman, will start at 3:30. John H. Elliott of the National Conference of Christians and Jews will speak and present a sound film on the subject of the World We Want to Live In.

Planning Guide For Victory Gardens

Important is the fourth, article in the series by R. G. County agricultural agent, its use and application are discussed. It will be the last in the series. It is just as true to say "Plant Food Will Help You Win Victory in Your Vegetable Garden."

It requires about as much seed, spray materials and labor with a heavy crop yield. Food will help produce more results from the seed and spray materials you use and their wise use is a conservation measure. A time while not considered a food, does furnish calcium, which most vegetables need. It also assists in making fertilizer and natural plant food in the soil more available to plants. Practically all vegetables ask for a non-acid soil. You can have your soil tested for lime needs. A handful is all that is needed, but it should be a representative sample. Without a test one should use two pounds per 100 square feet for each year lime has not been applied. Half should be applied before spading and the balance after spading. Limestone is probably the best form to use although hydrated lime may also be used. Fertilizer should be used about as follows: Spade under two pounds per 100 square feet, apply 1 or 2 pounds before the final raking and plan to use one pound as a side dressing to the crops during the growing season.

Not Near Roots

Avoid putting concentration of fertilizer near the seed or near the roots of young plants. The usual fertilizers recommended for vegetables are not available to non-farmers because of a shortage of inorganic nitrogen materials. However, a special Victory Garden fertilizer analyzing 3-8-7 is being made to sell for use on vegetables. It will be unpatriotic, in fact, illegal, to sell or use this fertilizer for lawns, flowers and other purposes. You will recall that the fertilizer formulae figures represent from left to right, nitrogen, phosphorus and potash, respectively. In this Victory Garden formula, the 3 per cent nitrogen, the remaining 2.5 per cent coming from organic materials such as tankage, bone-meal and blood meal.

The organic materials are not as quickly available and part of it should be spaded under in the spring even though vegetables may not be planted on some part of the garden until two months later. Then the seasonal side dressings should be made a bit earlier than usual. Otherwise, this war fertilizer will do very well. Then, too, there will be plenty of organic fertilizer available for all garden purposes such as dehydrated and pulverized manures.

Edward Meeker, 13, Struck By Train

Thirteen-year-old Edward Meeker of 140 Stephens street was struck by a westbound Erie Railroad train as he crossed the tracks at Rutgers and Valley streets about sixty feet north of Rutgers street, Monday afternoon. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital in the town ambulance where he was treated by Dr. Pariser of St. Mary's for a fractured skull and lacerations of the head. He was reported to be in a critical condition.

C. E. Westervelt was conductor of the Erie train which struck the boy and Edward Smith was the engineer.

Girl Scouts Helped Swell March Of Dimes Fund

Girl Scouts of all Belleville troops have conducted a week's drive at the Central theatre for the collection of dimes which will be used to swell the funds for infantile paralysis victims of which the local chairman was Fred B. Handlon. Girl scouts had the job of distributing folders to house-holders when the drive was conducted in January. Unfortunately many of these were mailed with contributions directly to the White House in Washington so that they escaped tabulation here. The Girl Scouts and Mrs. Handlon have appealed to anyone who has not yet made his return to send it instead to Mr. Handlon at Town Hall.

A display of black bordered newspapers at the Girl Scout Bureau of Service, 400 Washington avenue, in honor of Lincoln's birthday caused considerable comment and curiosity. The newspapers were original editions printed at the time of Lincoln's assassination.

A collection of old silk stockings is being made at the bureau. They will be used for defense purposes. Stockings may be left at the bureau or handed to any girl scout.

Two weeks ago on Thursday a group of girl scouts belonging to Troop No. 8 attended a broadcast in New York of the Radio Boy Scouts program at Station WOR. They heard a discussion by Bernard and Hunter College teachers on the trends of education in training for war and life after war. The girls were put "on the air" for questions about their own plans for the future. They were accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Vivien Ca and Mrs. Mae T. Holden.

PHONE COMPANY MEETS DEMANDS

Report Shows Increased Usage Due To War Gave All-Time High

Telephone service in New Jersey stood up well to the test of war in 1942. George W. McRae, vice-president and general manager of the New Jersey Bell Telephone company, says in the company's annual report made public today.

Belleville's average daily outgoing calls increased 13.2 per cent during the year. A. A. Vanosty related yesterday. The gain of 749 installations helped to up the average to 21,348 calls per day, based on a weekly computation.

War needs were cared for promptly on an ad hoc basis, and the service in general was well maintained despite war shortages of materials normally available for building more telephone lines and equipment.

Telephone calls reached a new high average of more than 3,715,000 daily, with a one-day peak of more than 5,070,000 calls late in December. Toll messages averaged over 600,000 a month more than in 1941, and calls to the more distant points carried over the long lines increased more than one-third. Telephones in service totaled 874,348 at the end of the year, an increase of 47,914.

The company's revenues and expenses were higher than in any previous year, and earnings amounted to a return of 2.83 per cent on the average assets of the company compared with 3.58 per cent in 1941.

Total income was $33,866,852 compared with $33,043,188 in 1941; total expense, including taxes, plus miscellaneous deductions from income was $37,030,524 compared with $40,729,284. Taxes were $12,415,123 compared with $10,981,380 the previous year. Income available for interest and dividends was $6,836,328 compared with $8,313,404 in 1941. The amount available for dividends was equal to $4.63 per share of $100 par value common stock compared with $5.85 per share in 1941, and dividends of $4.50 per share were paid.

Back To Party Lines

With new telephone construction restricted to devote critical raw materials to war production, the speed-up of the nation's war program caused an increasing load upon existing telephone facilities, frequently to the point of congestion. Spare plant became depleted, and new residential service in sections of some localities had to be restricted to party lines to care for the telephone needs of as many people as possible.

The prompt handling of calls relating directly to the war effort became more difficult with lines and switchboards already crowded, and telephone users were asked to avoid making unnecessary calls, particularly long distance, in order to provide more room on the wires for essential messages. "The response to this appeal, while difficult of measurement, is unquestionably helping to make the service meet war needs effectively, and the company is appreciative of this cooperation," Vice-President McRae reports.

The company completed cable and switchboard systems for nine large new military centers, installed additional equipment at most of the older camps and depots, and provided special equipment at scores of other locations used by the armed forces. "These installations in most instances were needed in a hurry and were completed on schedules sometimes telescoped to a fraction of the time normally required," the report states.

Equipment to make telephone service for the personal use of soldiers and sailors prompt and convenient was provided wherever possible, including some 600 coin-box telephones at points accessible primarily to them, and operator-attended public telephone stations in the principal camps.

Eight hundred members of the company's organization, including 10 women, were in military service, compared with 123 at the start of the year. The men represent more than 17 percent of the male telephone personnel. The organization numbered 14,161 employees at the end of the year exclusive of those on leave of absence.

"I'm worried about Ma..."

This boy is a casualty.

A few days ago, he was a hardened fighting man — with a glint in his eye and a set to his mouth that boded ill for his Axis foes.

Topright he's just a bewildered lad. Bad news from home has hit him — and put him out of action — as effectively as an enemy bullet. Desperately he has tried to solve a problem back home; his mother ill, lonely, helpless — and apparently nothing he can do about it.

Tortured by doubt and uncertainty, he's come to the Red Cross Field Director for help.

He'll get it.

It is the job of Red Cross Field Men to unravel human snarls. Across their desks, sometimes no better than battered crates, more than 1,500,000 men in the past year have poured their troubles — have asked for and received counsel and assistance. Daily and nightly, with our armed forces from Africa to India, from Iceland to New Guinea, they are keeping up the morale our fighting men must have.

Not only to the fighting men but to War's victims wherever they can be reached the Red Cross is carrying relief supplies, clothing, medicines. The cost is tremendous and ever-increasing.

The Second War Fund is greater than the First, but no greater than the increased needs.

Give more this year — give double if you can.
