

LOCAL PLANTS WAR AGAINST ABSENTEEISM

All Taking Steps To Combat
Problem Though Individual
Percentages Are Low

The nationwide drive against negligent absenteeism which threatens to disable much of our vital production, applies directly to many of the local concerns. Almost every production plant in the country has become aware of the increasing problem of absenteeism and is doing its best to overcome the high percentage of production minutes lost due to absent workers.

Suggestions have been made in every direction for the curbing of the problem and the one to receive greatest thought to date, is that of having employers report chronic absentees to the draft board. This in itself is a drastic measure and even the suggestion of it seems to have had a successful bearing on those directly concerned.

Local concerns view the situation with the hope that it will grow better with the campaigns they are waging against it. In the local Walter Kidde plants absenteeism holds the low average of 3 percent for single departments, with all women departments nearly double that figure, due to the greater physical handicaps of women and the fact that many of them are necessarily tied up with home affairs. But women as a whole make up for their 6 percent average of absent minutes. Since they are able to produce twice as fast, on machines to which they are accustomed, thereby outdistancing the men. Women in the Kidde plant are nearly on equal footing

BELLBOYS SLIDE BY WILY EAST ORANGE OPPONENT

With A Close 46-44 Finish
Belleville Courtsters Enter
County Championship

In a thrill-packed game that awed an overflowing crowd of 1,300 people the Belleville speedsters defeated the East Orange elongated team in an overtime game by a 46-44 score at Bloomfield gym last Friday night. It was the superior team play and the speed of Belleville versus the tremendous height and reserve power of East Orange, with the all-around game of the home team finally spelling defeat for the suburbanites.

Belleville jumped to an early lead which was tied no less than eight times but calm and collected at all times the Bellboys relentlessly kept driving until victory was finally accomplished.

Outstanding individual performances of the game was Bernie McManus' clever dribbling and shooting which netted him two goals in the extra period and allowed him to finish with 16 of the team's total points. George Bender of the Panthers was McManus' worthy opponent and grabbed off 12 points for his own team. Both of these boys ended the first half with three personal fouls hanging over their heads, but they managed to continue the game without exceeding the quota.

Although Belleville's dribbling team work and constant passing was superior to that of the Panthers, the losers had such an overwhelming height advantage that they managed to tap in many goals. Bender, who is 6 feet 3 inches tall, and Joe Dyer, one inch shorter, both kept their fingers on the leather constantly and both of their hurried shots could have found their mark if there had been less pressure behind them.

Jim Shanahan, who played one of his best defensive games for the Bellboys harried both of the tall men and much credit goes to him for keeping the losers down.

Finn Nets 13 Points
Bellboy Neal Finn found his range after the first period and proceeded to net 13 points for the boys until Belleville was ahead 38 to 36. Again as in previous

H. S. COACH LEAVES FOR THE NAVY AS LIEUTENANT

Students, Faculty And Athletic Association Present Gates
With Awards

C. Lawrence Gates, head baseball and football coach of the High School, left Sunday for Dartmouth college, where he will take up his new duties with the Navy as a Lieutenant j.g.

At a student assembly on Friday, awards were presented to Gates by the student body members of the home rooms, by Russell Flynn on behalf of the football squad, and by Judge Smith for the Athletic council in place of Herbert C. Schmutz, who was unavoidably absent.

Gates came to Belleville from Maine three years ago where he had coached four schools and earned for himself the name of "miracle man of scholastic football" due to the showings which his teams made. Gates' first assignment in coaching was at Guilford High where he turned out an undefeated eleven. The following year he reported at Kennebunk High. From there he went to Coburn Classical Prep, at Waterville, Me., and then to Westbrook High where he coached for six years.

He also made an illustrious baseball record during his coaching, turning out a county champion at Guilford and bringing Kennebunk in second. Coburn had a record of 23 wins to six losses while Westbrook won the league championship.

Has Own System
Gates' system of coaching was based on his own observations of other methods. He had attended coaching schools at Michigan, Albion, Texas, Colby, Ohio State, Lafayette, and Northwestern. His own boys' camp which he operated during the summer months is one of things he expects to miss most while in the service.

The Gates live at 61 Prospect street and their first child, Lawrence Gates III, was born December 5, at Mountaineer hospital. The three years Gates spent in Belleville from 1940 to '43 showed the development of the football team from no wins to one of the best seasons the team had ever had. The team remained undefeated in the first five games of the season and outplayed the State champions, Bloomfield high, even though it was a scoreless game.

Eight of the sixteen lettermen who remained for next year's season have been drafted so that the team will not have the power it would otherwise have had. Gates said on leaving, "I regret the fact that I can't continue next season with the veterans, and I look forward to coming back to Belleville to coach more and better teams."

Gates, who is originally from Abington, Mass., also taught history in the high school. He was graduated from Bates college and received his M. A. degree from Columbia University in 1939. He plans to make his next stop for the Navy at Princeton leaving there as a physical instructor for the Navy.

COMMISSIONERS SUGGEST FLYNN

Eighth Try Results In Flynn's
Nomination By Waters,
Williams

A new twist was added to the eighth consecutive discussion of a fifth commissioner at the town meeting Tuesday night. Under the guise of new business Public Works Commissioner Waters introduced the name of Michael J. Flynn for appointment as the fifth commissioner. The nomination was made by Waters and seconded by Mayor Williams. A vote was quickly taken at which Commissioner Noy and King voted a unanimous no. Mayor Williams then stated that he would like to go on record as saying that Flynn had been a respected man on the Police Force and that his ability to handle the department so well, made him a logical choice for fifth commissioner. Williams also stated that the other commissioners should take this into consideration in regarding this choice.

Close on the heels of this surprise nomination Commissioner Noy nominated Raymond E. Mertz to fill the vacancy and his nomination was seconded as usual by Commissioner King. The vote brought the eighth "nay" from Waters and Williams, with two persons now possible for the fifth seat.

Flynn, who lives at 24 Van Rensselaer street, was with the police force for 27 years, from 1907 to 1936. He started as a policeman with the force and was retired as Chief of Police in 1936. Town attorney Keenan suggested a later amendment to the adopted closing hour ordinance in regard to the sale of alcoholic beverages, at the meeting and so said that he had looked into the matter and found that it must be largely and clearly marked and stamped in shops that sold it whether they were butcher shops or restaurants.

Mock Blackout Too Confusing

Few Were Caught Off The Job
But Householders Believed
All-Clear

"The blackout in Belleville could not have gone much better even if it were an unexpected test," according to Harry Sullivan, Civilian Defense head. Although many of the wardens had gone to bed on Tuesday night by the time the signal had come through, and many of the civilian defense personnel were scattered around at various spots nevertheless they managed to dress quickly and get to their posts. The true blue signal came through at 10:23, the red at 10:30 and the blue at 10:39, with the all clear at 10:44. The local control room was well manned even though it did not seem that there would be a test. There were a few minor violations but the wardens showed that they were getting used to listening to the radio for the all clear since they heard it when the false signal came through.

The reason for the delay was due to the fact that the signals for the test had previously come through Trenton while this time they came through the Army Central Control center. While the defense council of all blame in the lateness of signals they have not accepted the blame themselves, Sullivan stated.

The signals as a whole, seemed to be clearer and more definite in character than they have previously been.

There was one weak moment when a call was received from the neighborhood of Ralph and Holmes streets that announced that the all clear must have been received since the lights in a neighborhood factory were on. But this turned out to be only a fire in North Arlington and when the fire whistle blew it was expected that some of the wardens would accept it as the first blue signal but all of them remained at their posts.

Wallace & Tiernan which expected a demonstration of its own when the air raid was announced, was caught short, having decided that the test was over and having held their own test they were at a loss when the true signal came.

The unforeseen character of the test led civilian defense heads to the conclusion that the test was of greater value than it would otherwise have been, from the standpoint of the civilian defense personnel but from the standpoint of the man in the house it was a complete failure since the signals and notifications were completely mixed up and hard to understand.

Ration Board Holds Scheduled Hearings

Although local ration boards had received memoranda Saturday morning from Chief OPA Attorney Jacobs that all hearings in pleasure driving cases should cease, the local board continued with its hearing Monday night of six drivers who had been summoned to appear before the board, since cases already initiated were allowed to start.

Three of the cases were held before the board Monday night for pleasure driving were dismissed on the new ruling of the OPA, but the cases would have been dropped regardless of the ruling, according to Herbert C. Schmutz, chairman of the local board, since all three were within the regulations when they were picked up. The three drivers whose cases were dismissed were L. Clark of 27 Harrison street, Emma M. Pincus of 138 Cedar Hill avenue, and Max Vott of 425 Greyclark parkway.

The case of the fourth driver Glenn Meyerstein, of 306 Washington avenue, was postponed for further hearing since he had no ration book with him and was not driving his own car.

One of the cases to be heard, on a bus driver speeding with a T ration card, was referred elsewhere since it does not come under the jurisdiction of the local board.

The case on which the board took definite action was that of John Pink of 21 Edgewood avenue. Nutley, a salesman who neglected to appear at the hearing and whose R book was revoked by the board. Pink was held on the charge of an OPA inspector that he drove to New York on Washington's birthday because he could not get a train. He was stopped at the Holland tunnel. Schmutz stated that until further rules are issued to the local boards, all hearings on pleasure driving cases will cease.

LOCAL MOTHERS IN INDUSTRY GET QUESTIONNAIRE

Child Care Committee Begins
Survey In Cooperation With Town Manufacturers

Still engrossed in its campaign to establish an adequate child care center in Belleville the local child care committee under the Belleville defense council this week started circulation of a questionnaire to working mothers in all Belleville industries. Through the cooperation of the manufacturers and other local agencies it is hoped that a speedy and exact tabulation of the family status of married women in the industries will be reached.

Judge Everett Smith suggested this program at a meeting of the committee three weeks ago. Mrs. Morris Rochlin heads the group which is representative of the social, industrial and religious life of the community. It has conducted previous surveys through social service agencies and with the help of the personnel directors of some of the factories; but no such sweeping investigation as the present one. The questionnaire is reproduced in this issue for the benefit of those mothers who work outside of Belleville.

Tentative plans for a nursery include the use of a house at 221 Main street, which was placed at the disposal of the committee by Mayor Williams last summer, where trained nursery workers and volunteer workers would operate a full time center. A nominal fee, approximately 50 cents per day, would be charged and children would be accommodated from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m. to coincide with the hours spent in the factories by most women.

Belleville was last week declared a war need area with respect to such a center in a state-wide survey under the auspices of the civilian defense authority. Federal aid under the Lanham act has been considered but may not be applied for by the committee until all local sources for funds have been exhausted.

Results of the new survey will be made known in three weeks if plans of the committee and the industrialists materialize as expected.

BOARD IS BUSY RECLASSIFYING

Second Group Of Draftees Join
Some Branch Of Service

The local draft board along with several hundred thousand others throughout the country is in a complete fuddle concerning the new reclassification of men in 4H or those 3B and over. Originally most of the men in 4H at the local board were in either class 3A or 3B. Now that the reclassification of men over thirty-eight is being requested by selective service the local board is stumped since they have not yet received any authoritative ruling from the National Board. The new reclassification means more work for the boards and the remaining few went to the men out of the 4H class and put them back into their original class or reclassified them in a different status than that they held before.

The group of boys who left last Monday fell into the three branches of the service. Nearly three-quarters of the total number were taken by the army while one-quarter were taken by the Navy and the remaining few went to the Marines. This was the second group of draftees to be divided among the three branches of the service.

The engineer of the gas-electric train which hit the boy, Andrew W. Smith of West Orange, was held for the grand jury last week by Recorder Everett B. Smith on a technical charge of manslaughter preferred by Police Chief George Spatz.

Thirteen Tuesdays At Monastery

The annual Thirteen Tuesdays before the Feast of St. Anthony will commence at the Franciscan Monastery church in Paterson on Tuesday. The special intention of the Novena this year will be the Novena this year will be the speedy victory of our country, the safe return of relatives and friends in the armed forces, the happy repose of those who have died in the service and a just and lasting peace to follow the war.

In past years many hundreds have participated in this special preparation for the Feast of St. Anthony at the local shrine. This year because of the circumstances brought about by the war, it is expected that many more will avail themselves of the opportunity of presenting their petitions to the Saint who is known as the Wonder Worker of Padua. The devotions are held at 3:30, 6:15, 7:15, 8:15. The Monastery is conveniently reached by the Governor Street Bus No. 52.

Life Belt For Sea-Going Troops

A NEW DEVICE designed to guard the lives of U. S. troops aboard ocean transports is an inflatable life belt worn by the soldiers night and day and capable of keeping the heaviest soldier afloat indefinitely. Only slightly larger than a polo belt in collapsed form, the new A.E.F. life-saver can be instantly transformed into a life preserver by means of an ingenious inflating device designed by engineers of Walter Kidde and company. Buoyancy is supplied by two small bullets of compressed liquid carbon dioxide similar to the cartridges used to charge home syphon bottles in peacetime. When released by a quick squeeze of a valve lever, the liquid expands 450 times its stored volume, and would—for comparison's sake—inflate two balloons eight inches in diameter.

games in 1940, he upped that extremely modest record the next year by two wins and one tie out of a schedule of 10 contests. Last year's record, which is just about the best the Bellboys have hung up since 1935, showed four well-remembered victories, two ties and only three losses.

Building up from a completely new lineup in his first year, Gates grouped his 1941 team around three lettermen and would have come through for next season, had the war not intervened, with a bunch of 16 oldtimers who would undoubtedly have made a lasting dent.

They have, since the advent of war, enlarged their activities to include many services to the defense council. No small part of their war effort has been their participation in the salvage drive, distribution of defense literature, the selling of war stamps. These girls and the leaders who year after year, contribute so much time to their direction, should be commended and encouraged in the furtherance of this program which can keep young American ideals intact during a world at war.

Police Reserves Have Spent 15 Months In Training

Comprehensive Course Has Prepared Them For Variety Of Duties In Air Raid Emergency; Have Also Assisted Regular Force

Quietly and without fanfare of any kind, the two companies of Belleville police reserves, each consisting of two platoons, an important part of the local civilian defense, have been in training and have received a thorough course of instructions in police work for the past 15 months.

The weekly training periods and various courses of instruction have been under the direction of Lt. Kenneth Smith of the Police Department as chief instructor. Lt. Smith has been assisted by Officer James Lee and by Reserve Lt. Dr. E. A. Jacobson who is the aide and adjutant to the chief instructor of Reserves.

This course has consisted of training and actual experience in police methods and procedure, the performance of police duties, making reports, court procedure, accident investigation, motor vehicle and parking violations, detective work, first aid and resuscitation, traffic control, patrol and guard duty, combating of sabotage, incendiary bombs and gas attacks, protecting vulnerable points, highway patrol, cooperation with the Fire Department and Fire Reserves in case of fires and conflagrations, etc., as well as in the protection of property.

All members of the police reserves also gained much valuable information and experience, which should greatly aid them in the performance of their duties during any emergency, by accompanying the regular police officers and observing for themselves how the regulars functioned and performed their duties in practically any kind of situation or emergency call. The superior officers of the reserves have also had much actual practice and experience at police headquarters with the regular desk sergeants, also in communications via light system.

Superior police officers and instructors from both the Jersey City and Newark police departments, also the local police department, have delivered lectures to the reservists on police matters of all kinds and staged demonstrations in the art of handling unruly prisoners.

Real Experience

The Reserves have had experience in directing and rerouting traffic during incident tests and blackouts. They also assisted in the fingerprinting of all Belleville school children. Last fall they guarded the various scrap metal heaps all over town. During the holiday rush shopping period in December, Washington avenue was patrolled by police reservists every evening. They have also cooperated with the chancemen in preserving order several evenings a week in both gymnasiums at the high school during the basketball season at all games, and they have taken complete charge of preserving order at the ration board two evenings a week since last fall.

"A" Company of the reserves, of which John J. Kelg is captain, is assigned to duty during blackout and incident tests and other emergencies east of Union avenue in Zones 1 and 2. Lt. Ernest Alder is in charge of reserves in Zone 1 headquarters and Lt. Norbert Bertl is in charge at Zone 2 headquarters.

"B" Company, of which Richard D. Shannon is captain, covers the territory west of Union avenue in Zones 3, 4 and 5. Lt. J. E. Williamson is in charge at Zone 3 headquarters and Lt. Otto T. Breunlich is in charge at Zone 4 headquarters. Zone 5 headquarters is in charge of Sgt. William D. Maser and William Hunt.

Each of the five zone headquarters also has assigned to it several desk and duty sergeants as well as corporals and squads of reserve officers.

Many With Wide Experience

Chief of Police George R. Spatz, who is also reserve commander, has just reason to feel proud of his organization of reserve officers. Many of these men have had previous military experience in the U. S. Army, Navy and Marines. They have already volunteered thousands of hours of police work for the town and have given valuable assistance in augmenting the regular police department.

Reserve Lt. Clifton J. Smith is Reserve Aid and Adjutant to the Commander of the Reserves. Lt. Smith is assigned to the control center, police headquarters, Town Hall, J. G. Pinkston is first sergeant of Company "B" of the Charles Feuerstein is first sergeant of Company "A" of the reserves. Sgt. A. J. Dutton is company clerk of "A" company and Sgt. William D. Maser is company clerk of Company "B".

It was also learned recently that Recreation Director Edward Lister, now that his duties about three evenings a week at the High School in connection with the heavy basketball schedule all winter will soon come to a close, will again be available as drill master, or in any other capacity his services might be required by the police reserves. Lister for nearly a year was captain of reserve company "B" and is a member of the police committee of the defense council.

At the weekly meeting of the Police Reserve last Wednesday in the high school, Dr. Henry De Phillips of the local Coating Material Laboratories spoke on the "Use and Identification of Gases." Lantern slides were exhibited by DePhillips to illustrate his talk. After the meeting several of the members were allowed to inhale some of the best known gases to give an idea of what they smelled like and how they reacted. Owing to the interesting subject matter of DePhillips, the Reserves have requested his return at a future date.

with the men since they can also make up a one day's absence by faster production on certain machines due to their finger dexterity. If a man worked seven days and was absent one day, he might find himself falling behind a woman who worked six days and was there every day. Or if she was absent one day, she would make it up with faster production.

Charts Displayed

Although such a figure (three percent) is fairly low, the problem is still present and in order to remedy it, bulletins and posters are placed in conspicuous places so that the guilty workers will improve their ways. Charts which are hung, indicate the relationship of each department in regard to other departments and in regard to factories as a whole. Chronic cases are also listed so that the worst offenders are publicized and others know those in their own departments who are slowing up production.

Wallace and Tiernan do not have absentee figures by department but figures for the entire plant run approximately around 6 per cent, which is not exceptionally high for combined departments. They also run poster campaigns in an attempt to lower that figure but as yet no definite measures have been taken in regard to chronic cases.

Weekend dissipation takes great toll of production minutes although the government and even plants themselves are loathe to admit that fact. Viking Tool reports that most of their absenteeism is on Mondays. Lateness is also included in absentee figures and those who do not report absenteeism for a legitimate reason are included in the figures of wilful absenteeism.

In this plant poster campaigns are waged against individual absentees. Posters with the number of man hours lost due to absenteeism and lateness are distributed reproaching those who made the figure rise. Here also the foreman talks with each chronic absentee individually and tries to straighten out his problem so that he can remain on the job all the time.

Prohibitive Measures

In many plants, and a procedure followed at Viking Tool also, the time and a half usually paid for Saturdays is no longer given a man if he has been absent during the week. Hence, a man who is absent, finds himself losing all his overtime, and finds himself short a paycheck.

Eastwood-Neely reports that absenteeism is a small problem yet but that steps will be taken to remedy the situation when it arises.

One of the original upsets which caused the attention to center on absenteeism was the fact that a plant in upper New Jersey averaged as many hours lost in absenteeism as they did for their total production figures for the whole year.

The problem must be faced but there is also the question of how it is possible to get more work out of the already conscientious workers who work all hours every day and never miss a day. A movement has been advocated for periodic vacations as a reward to those who have been steadily on the job day in and day out.

Reasons for absenteeism range over a varied and diverse ground. Transportation, weather, inadequate housing, necessary and personal business duties, illness and fatigue are included among the reasons, according to Ralph A.

Work No Object
Higher wages tend to give workers the feeling that they don't have to work consistently and a false optimism that the war will be over in a short time and it won't matter whether a few are absent or not also leads to absences. "But in attacking the problem, care must be taken not to injure those who really want to work but can't for some reason," Bard stated. Chronic offenders must be separated from those who can't really work for some reason so that the necessary absences are laid on the true offenders.

Belleville concerns as a whole have an exceedingly low average and if they persist with their campaigns they may well set a new low for absenteeism.

World Day Of Prayer At Reformed Church

World day of prayer will be observed tomorrow afternoon at 2 in Belleville Reformed church when the program will be led by Mrs. Walter Price. Representatives of all Protestant churches in Belleville will participate and the public is invited to attend. Christ Episcopal, Grace Baptist, First Presbyterian, Montgomery Presbyterian, Bethany Lutheran, Wesley Methodist, Colored Methodist and Colored Baptist churches will send delegations. Mothers of men in the armed services are invited to attend as special guests.

As the war needs of the nation expand, the home front begins to feel the pinch, and Congressional fires flare in various quarters.

NO MAN'S LAND IN TUNISIA

TELEPHOTO — Big German drive against American forces has turned the war spotlight on this mountainous area in central Tunisia. U. S. troops and tanks based on Tebessa, Algeria, had as their main objectives the Nazi-held ports of Sousse, Sfax and Gabes, but the German counter attack threw back allied advances on the Faid-Maknassy front.

PRESIDENT REVIEWING OUR ARMORED MIGHT IN MOROCCO

CASABLANCA, MOROCCO—In an army jeep driven by Sergeant Oran Lass of Kansas City, Missouri, President Roosevelt is shown passing along a line of our light tanks in a surprise review in North Africa. These tanks are the new M-5's, the model now produced for quite some months by the Massey-Harris Farm Implement Company. Their lightning-like speed and hitting power are being used in battling the Nazi forces in North Africa.

"Goodnight, Bill Brady..."

Hello, Bill Brady, 'way out there...

I guess the mailman must be mad at us because he hasn't brought a letter since the day you went away. And if he doesn't ring the doorbell soon, I think my heart will break.

There isn't much to tell, tonight, except—since all my letters seem to go astray, I've found another way to say 'I love you.'

Last night I joined the Red Cross.

I'm not anybody there. Just one more woman—cutting dressings, rolling bandages, packing Red Cross kits—hoping the men we love will never need them, but hoping more that they aren't past the need.

I'll be a Staff Assistant before long, Bill. In a very military uniform. I can hear you chuckle, my darling.

I don't mind the extra hours. To me, time isn't measured by the ticking of a clock—it lags or races with the beating of my heart. So time at work is short, because I know that you would have me very busy. I can hear you say "Chin up, and get on with the job."

Good night, Bill Brady. Out there... somewhere.

The Red Cross is shoulder-to-shoulder with our fighting men from training camp to the front lines.

All over the world, wherever it can reach, it is carrying relief supplies, clothing and medicines to war victims.

In this second year of War, the needs increase. You can help with time and money. March is the War Fund month. Give more this year.

Pushing rubber conservation to the 4th degree, an aviation firm now has its planes wear wooden "shoes" while rolling through the assembly line for final testing. When the plane is ready for flight testing, regulation rubber- tized landing wheels are sub- stituted.

A Blackout for Shivers

Come blackout or fuel shortage, this young woman is prepared. Taking a tip from a government fuel conservation expert, she has insulated her windows to keep in the heat. Two panels of insulating board, which slide on a wooden track, do the trick. This treatment cuts heat loss through windows by about 70 per cent, saves a gallon of oil per season for each square foot covered. Comfort and fuel saving are the chief objectives. The blackout is a plus.

A Trick to Meat Rationing

Brush up on cuts of meat and you've mastered the big trick of coping with meat rationing. Mrs. Kiene explains that with the exception of loin end, short loin, rib, and ground round which may be cooked with dry heat, that is broiling or roasting, all other cuts of meat require moist heat which means simmering, stewing and braising.

"This little piggy stayed home" isn't quite true these days. More than 941 million pounds of pork—canned, cured and frozen—were sent to the Allied nations last year.

Cub Scouts Obtain Plots;
Start Gardening For Victory

Cub pack 350 is going all out for victory gardens—with the pos- sibility of outdistancing all other group gardeners. The cub pack will work a 50 x 100 plot granted by Mrs. Paul Troeder of 384 Joramelon street, whose home adjoins the land.

The cubs have planned to grow string beans and may raise toma- toes and potatoe plants later on. They have purchased their seeds and are already clearing the ground preparatory to planting.

The Mayor's office has also granted the pack a plot of land by the Municipal Stadium, where they will raise potatoes exclusiv- ly. All these gardens are group gardens with eight or ten cubs working each one. The crops which the boys produce will be dis- tributed among their parents. The ground to be used was chosen be- cause it was mostly clear ground which did not need too much prepa- ration and because it's proximity to homes assures the gardens of safe keeping. If these first gar- dens of the pack work out suc- cessfully more land may later be obtained.

At the pack meeting last Thurs- day night, it was announced that Donald McEligot, Leonard Spivak, and Joseph Tresaw would gradu- ate to scouting. Seven cubs: David Haight, Pearson Crisp Jr., William Aierstok, Ronald Newton, Fred Zeiss, Charles Gray and Herbert Wankmuller, received one year service stripes the same night. It was also announced at the meeting that a contest on "handbook knowledge" would be conducted between Dens.

The pack has entered a team in the Robert Treat council Softball league with Irvington packs 201 and 218, and Newark packs, 26 and 49, as possible contenders.

Miss Teresa Ilaria

A reception followed at the bride's home.

The bride was attended by her sister, Celeste Bagnoly as matron of honor and the bridesmaid by Anthony Bruno of Newark, as best man. The bride wore a satin gown with a fingertip illusion veil and carried a bouquet of roses and orchids. The matron of honor was dressed in blue crepe and carried a train.

The couple, both graduates of Belleville High school, are now re- siding at 24 Franklin avenue. Mrs. Kieferdorf worked for the Pruden- tial Insurance company before she was married and her husband was employed by the Jergens Company before he entered the service four months ago. He is now stationed at Camp Crowder, Mo.

"Matter" is the lesson-sermon subject for Sunday in all Christian Science churches and societies.
 The Golden text is "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing."
 Among the lesson-sermon citations is the following from the Bible: "Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God."
 The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Material sense does not unfold the facts of existence; but spiritual sense lifts human consciousness into eternal Truth."

Tears won't help them . . . dollars will!

TEARs are not enough. Pity will not soothe whimpering orphans, nor shepherd them to safety from the blasted rubble of their home.

Long-range sighs won't feed and clothe the sick and hungry victims of this war.

But your Red Cross dollars will!

Transformed into relief supplies, medicines and trained supervisors, your dollars will follow in the wake of battle, taking with them aid and comfort.

Thanks to your contributions and many others like them, twenty millions of war victims have been helped by the American Red Cross in Europe, Africa and Asia, since the war began... To the bombed-out Britons, to Russian war orphans and wounded homeless, as to the stricken Chinese, the wretched Greeks and Poles wandering throughout the Middle East, the Red Cross has been their symbol of life and hope.

Think how many lives your dollars have already saved—and how much still depends on you! What a splendid satisfaction is yours, to be relieving the distress of friendless people engulfed by gigantic forces which they are too weak to resist!

Now opportunity is offered again. This is the most critical year your Red Cross has ever faced. On every hand, needs rise with the swelling thunder of the guns.

Will Red Cross funds be sufficient to help every soldier and sailor—every stunned and bewildered war sufferer? That depends on you—and your generosity.

March is Red Cross War Fund month. Give more this year—give double if you can.

Your Dollars help make possible the
