INCIDENT TEST HELD TONIGHT FOR ZONE 3

First Aiders, Ambulance Corps Credited With Success Of Last Test

Tonight's incident test will be staged in Zone 3. This is the zone bounded by the North side of Jorammon street, the Bloomfield line, the Nutley line and the West side of Washington avenue from Jorammon Street North.

All defense personnel of the Zone are requested to be on their posts at 7:15 p.m. with the incidents starting at 7:30 p.m. Casualty station no. 3, located in school no. 5, will be the point of operations for the ambulance personnel and the first aiders of that station will be assisted by the workers from the Bloomfield and Baptist churches. School no. 5 is also the zone center for this zone.

The evacuation trucks will work from Rausser's garage. The decontamination crew will work from the Public Works garage and the demolition and repair crews will operate from the Wilber street depot as well as from the zone center.

The fire apparatus will be stationed at school no. 5. The Police Reserve will also work from the Zone center. Wardens are again cautioned to be certain that their tanks are filled and ready for action. The usual procedure, that in the event of rain the test will be postponed and the postponement be indicated by the sounding of the Signal 14 at 7 p.m., if such a condition should arise, will be followed.

Last Test Good

Last week's test in Zone 5 went off rather smoothly and the wardens turned out in good numbers and did a fine job. All other services seemed to show the benefits of the recent incidents tests in their prompt response which followed the warden's phone call.

Special credit was given to the first aiders and the ambulance personnel of Zone 4 who served as victims. The response to the call for victims has been overwhelming and those who have served deserve special mention, since their assistance makes for realism when the ambulance arrives and finds a patient waiting to be treated and transported.

It is hoped that the ambulance corp stationed at School No. 3, many of whom reside in Zone 3, will be on deck to serve tonight in this capacity. Next week's test will be held in Zone 4 and casualty station 4, at School No. 10, will serve as the ambulance base. The first aiders at that station being assisted by the personnel of the station located in Montgomery Chapel and School No. 7.

ASK EVACUATION PLAN BE SET UP

Would Care For 2,817 Evacuees Providing Shelter, Food, and Clothing

At the Defense Council meeting Monday night discussion centered around the plans which will be made in the case of an hysterical evacuation, in accordance with a request from the State Civilian Defense Director, Dreyfuss, that evacuation committees be set up immediately providing such care.

Belleville was informed by the state that it would be responsible for the evacuation of 2,817 persons. The defense council did not make any definite plans at its meeting but expects to do so at a meeting to be held on May 31. A report from Deputy State Director J. J. Spurr, state evacuation officer, was read stating the necessary personnel and equipment which each defense council would be expected to furnish.

It was suggested at the meeting that the schools would be the first avenue of shelter in case of evacuation and homes may later be used. Under the plan drawn up by Spurr, the Red Cross would be responsible for the emergency feeding, housing and clothing of the evacuees would be based on the evacuees would be based on many various situations pertinent to the defense council.

Spurr stressed the fact that first the defense council and other agencies working together would appoint an evacuation officer and a chief of emergency welfare, both of whom could be combined under one person who would serve under the jurisdiction of the defense commander. The appointment of the chairman for the evacuation service would be arranged after consultation with the Mayor, police and fire chiefs, the Red Cross, the welfare committee chairman, the war services committee and the emergency medical service.

The chairman of this committee will then base the handling of evacuees on the number of evacuees coming within the town limits, in this case, 2,817. The chairman must also see that a reception center where assignment of shelter is made, will be established. The establishment for shelters, the schools in this case and billets homes of those who are already in the community.

Sears Shares Its Profits

EMPLOYEES of the local Sears, Roebuck and company store located on Washington avenue received from Manager Schuyler S. Eldridge yesterday, statements of the savings and profit sharing pension fund for the fiscal year 1942. They participated in the $7,716,836 which the company contributed to the fund as a result of its operation during 1942. Manager Eldridge is shown above, presenting a profit sharing certificate to Raymond F. DePuy on behalf of the employees.

Sears Employees Get Slice Of Profit Sharing Fund

Receive Annual Certificates In Company's Saving and Pension Plan

S. S. Eldridge, manager of the Sears, Roebuck and company store on Washington avenue announced yesterday in presenting profit sharing certificates that local employees had shared in the $7,716,836 which the company contributed to the profit sharing fund as a result of the company's operation during 1942.

Eight of the employees of the local store own 131 shares of stock in the company which on April had a market value of $9,170.

In addition to the shares of stock held in the profit sharing plan of Sears, each employee member also has to his credit a certain sum of money in cash. The total cash held by the fund nationally over and above the shares of stock amounts to $12,356,914.

Eldridge said that he had recently received information showing that Sears employees everywhere own 13.5 per cent of the total outstanding shares of the Company making the profit sharing fund the company's largest single stockholder with 735,179 shares as of January 31, 1943. In the middle Atlantic region alone Sears fund members own a total of 135,700 shares of Sears stock.

Sears, Roebuck and company employee's profit sharing fund was founded in 1916 which was exactly 20 years before social security plans were adopted. Under the plan the company contributes to the profit sharing fund five per cent of its profit before taxes and before dividends. Employees contribute five per cent of their salaries, but no person may contribute more than $250 in a year, which limits the amount of stock which may be acquired each year by the higher-salaried employees.

The company's 1942 contribution to the profit sharing accounts for Sears employee-members of the fund was made on a pro-rata deposit basis according to the length of service. For fund members who have been with the firm for less than five years, the company contributed $1.03 for every dollar deposited by the employee during 1942. For those who have served

SCHOOLS TOP JEEP TOTAL

Purchase Nearly One-Fourth Of State's Quota For Jeeps; Rotarians Report Sales

Belleville Schools single handedly, purchased nearly one quarter of the amount of jeeps allotted to the State of New Jersey as a whole. The quota for the state was 410 and Belleville schools were able to purchase 97 of those. This was an outstanding job, considering the comparative size of Belleville and other New Jersey towns.

The jeep campaign in the schools from April 1 to May 15, brought, according to Wayne R. Parmer, superintendent, $101,874.45. In the addition to this bond and stamp total in St. Peter's school was $1,413.00 bringing the total for Belleville schools to $103,287.45. These sales topped the sales of the previous six weeks by an amount sufficient to purchase the 97 jeeps.

A report made at Rotary meeting on May 5 to Mr. Parmer, who is president, for bond sales during the month of April in that organization, showed that 49 members were working on the sales, which totaled $535,725 or $10,933.06 average for each member.

Over Five Tons of Metal Collected in Salvage Drive

The salvage committee has announced that over five tons of metal was collected during the first two days, Monday and Tuesday, of Clean-up week. Town trucks which have been collecting the metal during refuse collection time, have been depositing the metal on the new salvage lot on Williams street between Washington avenue and the Erie railroad. The old lot at Cortlandt and Little streets is being abandoned, although it is not entirely cleared up yet.

This drive of the salvage committee was only for metal and town trucks are collecting it along with the refuse. Although five tons have been collected this far, it is hoped that other residents who have not yet disposed of their waste metal will do so at once, so that it may be collected on the collection day and Belleville will meet its quota.

Metal is urgently needed by the Salvage committee which will accept almost anything as is proven by the car turned in by Bert Appleton of Little street and two pianos, one turned in by Raymond Weyer of Cortlandt street and one by Mrs. Henry Mason of Cambell avenue.

CAMP CARRAGLER GOES TO SCOUTS

Comm. Noll Designates Camp As Scout Retreat For Summer Activities

Commissioner Louis A. Noll, in conjunction with the local Boy Scouts, has designated the site known as Camp Carragher, as an official Boy Scout Retreat. Formerly a town play ground this was done in an effort to provide the Boy Scouts with more recreational facilities, to build up the Scout movement, and to aid in wiping out juvenile delinquency. An attempt is being made to have sanitation, running water, and sewerage provided for the site. This will render the camp suitable for overnight camping or recreation of any kind on the part of any town's adolescents. The camp will not be limited to Boy Scouts though a permit in their case must be obtained through the Scout council, if they wish to use the land. A gate and key are provided for the site and application must be made for its use.

The camp was opened to the Scouts so at they might take likes there and stay overnight. (Continued on Page 3.)

Parmer said that last month's attendance was the poorest in his memory causing a high substitute payroll which reached the total of $1,162.51 for April according to James M. Lynch, finance chairman. Measles took highest toll of the High school which had 99 cases out of a 233 total for the month.

Art Has Its Place in the Army

NOW A PARA-TROOPER, experienced in the sensation of depending on a rip cord to break his ground-ward tumbles, Staff Sgt. Lewis E. Rinker of Hornblower avenue, displays above, the crest he designed for a tank destroyer division to which he formerly belonged. A cartoonist, he has had a wealth of subjects in the army and his products attest to the several prizes he won in art school.

Para-Trooper On Leave, Tells Of His Experiences

Sgt. Lewis Rinker, Cartoonist, Describes Concentrated Training Methods

Staff Sgt. Lewis E. Rinker, son of Mrs. Wilfred Meslar of 2 Hornblower avenue, is after action, and that is what he is getting. In the army three years, he is now 22, has been stationed in four states, and returned Tuesday after a 9 day furlough to Ft. Benning, Ga., where he is a para-troop instructor. Sgt. Rinker was first stationed in the State of Washington with the Field Artillery and later in Louisiana with the tank destroyer division finally landing in North Carolina as a demolition instructor.

According to the sergeant, the first three weeks of army life are the hardest when one is trying to get into physical shape and stay that way, while studying to capacity at the same time. During the fourth week as a para-trooper, jumping begins. This is the exciting part of a para-trooper's life, and he says, the first jump is the best because later on all the various training received comes to the fore and one must remember lots of other things, while floating to the ground. Landing is the most important phase of the art and most injuries are sustained from the landing rather than from falling out. Para-troopers are taught to land on the balls of their feet with their knees slightly bent so that they will break the shock.

Jumping Maneuvers

The last man out of a ship is always the first to land since when he jumps he is nearer the ground from a diving plane. There is a set formation or "etiquette" for the jumpers; Sergeants always leave the plane first and corporals follow. There are usually 12 men to a squadron and two squadrons to a plane. One must jump successfully five times in a qualifying test to be considered a worthy para-trooper. Veteran para-troopers continue their jumping in mass formation, which usually includes three plane loads or more. The para-troopers are taught to count slowly by thousands until they reach 10,000 by which time the chute is supposed to have opened. All troopers are equipped with two chutes, one strapped to his back and one to his chest. The one on the back is generally used while the one on his chest is for emergency purposes. Equipped with saddles the men are strapped in with chest and leg straps. How to get out of this harness when (Continued on Page 3.)

SCARCITY OF MEN FOR DRAFT QUOTA

Married Are Included in May Contingent as Supply of Single Men Dwindle

In filling the small May quota, the draft board was forced to take some married men, since there was a shortage of available single men. High school boys are fast getting vital jobs, and others are not yet draft age so that the single man shortage is growing.

Some factories, according to the board, are sending lists of men who are no longer in their employ and lists of those recently employed for an essential position, so that the board can readily ascertain the status of certain individuals. The board has been greatly helped by this procedure and would like more factories to make such listings. Below follow the names of those men who reported for induction and were accepted for various branches of the service last week.

CHILD CARE SEES NO ACTION ON FUND PROBLEM

All Available Sources Exhausted Committee Discloses No Solution

In a futile effort again to get action on day nurseries, the Child Care committee of the community war service division of the Defense Council met Tuesday morning for discussion. Harry G. Speech chairman of the Belleville Foundation and representative of the Manufacturers association closed the meeting to reporters.

Judge Everett B. Smith, defense council chairman, said that the only decision made at the meeting concerned a conference to take place short between himself and State Civilian Defense Director Dreyfuss concerning funds, and a meeting of the Child Care committee with the board of education, appointed by Board President Herbert C. Schmutz, take place at a later date. The latter meeting was suggested with a hope that sponsorship of the Child Care project might be arranged so that Federal funds under the Lanham act could be obtained.

The first move of the Child Care committee when it was organized a year and a half ago was to appeal to the board of education for backing. At the time the board offered a room in a school building which was not deemed suitable for a nursery and the plan was dropped. The board was again appealed to last summer and again had no answer to the problem. Later the committee was offered a town-owned house for a nursery site by Mayor Williams, but funds for remodeling of the house could not be obtained and so the committee was again stymied.

At a later meeting Judge Smith suggested that the manufacturers be appealed to for funds, since it was felt that the problem was partly in the hands of the manufacturers. Mr. Speech cooperated by circulating questionnaires throughout various concerned members of the Manufacturers association. The results of his meetings with the committee were not made public. By means of three surveys, the Community Service Bureau has endeavored to tabulate the number of working mothers in Belleville, the number of young children who would therefore be eligible for day care, and the number who would subscribe for such care if it were available.

Questionnaires were submitted through the factories, through this newspaper, and through other methods. Although the returns were disappointing, many mothers are employed out of town and were therefore not aware of the survey while others did not answer at all, possibly through lack of knowledge.

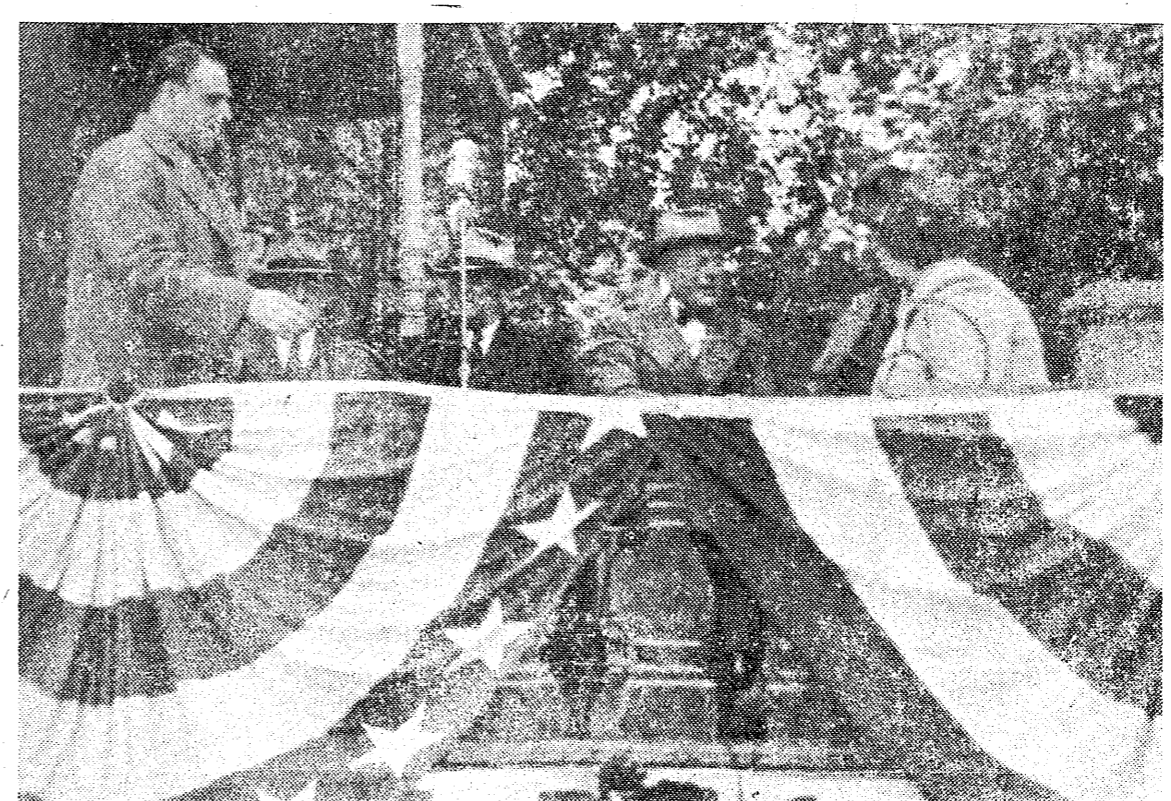

Belleville has already been declared a war need area for child care centers by the State Defense Council. Recently the committee attempted a meeting with the local recreation department in an effort to arrange for supervised playground facilities for children above nursery care. The Child Care committee feels that such children of working mother need supervision after school hours and during vacations.

The WPA nursery, recently discontinued, housed an average of 25 children during the day. A temporary day nursery was operated in the town last fall by the Parent Teacher Association of school no. 7 and was well attended until the mothers found other quarters for children with relatives. Private day care is now being given throughout the town and the State department of Health, has already taken the precaution of asking newspapers not to advertise such care unless the prospective guardians are licensed. Other municipalities in New Jersey are operating successful day care nurseries, on funds obtained through the community chest. Belleville's Child Care committee has exhausted this avenue since the budget for the maintenance of its own staff, has been reduced to the present year. Money through the Lanham act may be available if the application for Federal funds is backed by the board of education.

Ambulance Corps Participates In Training Course At Stadium

The first in a series of training programs for the Ambulance Corps was held Tuesday night at the stadium when instruction in roadside repairs was given. The training periods will be held every third Tuesday of the month at 7:30 p.m. during the month of May. The outline for this training plan was organized by a committee consisting of one member from each casualty station and headed by Louis Lempert. Five units work in the stadium at the same time, during each training period. Each unit is under the direction of its own leader but all follow the same general routine. Since the course is uniformly planned, five ambulances, one for each group, are used during the course of instruction.

ASK EVACUATION

ty of housing evacuees will also be included in this plan. The defense council has at hand a list of names of those who have stated that they would provide shelter and this list broken down to the type of persons most suitable to those homes, will be used by the council in the case of billeting. Cots and beds will be provided by the Council for households in this instance.

Under this plan, food stations must also be designated and staffed while arrangements are made for mass shelters provided with adequate sanitary facilities, and the method of issuing supplemental supplies for private homes. Medical treatment and emergency hospitalization, financial assistance through the public welfare aid, and provision for storage of personal valuables is also made under this plan.

This is an immense job in itself but it is not all with which the evacuation committee will have to cope. Transportation and direction of excess evacuees over the town quota must also be provided for, in the case of contending with evacuees from another town or more than were designated, due to an unforeseen emergency. Excess evacuees will be cared for by shipment to another town designated by the State.

Incidental problems for consideration by this committee on evacuation will include the provision of emergency clothing, sanitary facilities, in cooperation with the health officer and the chief of the emergency medical service and the care, supervision, and recreation of small children using other evacuees as aids.

All these plans will be worked out with the general welfare committee as the planning and coordinating committee for the development of them, making them available to the evacuation officer and the emergency welfare services. The council has as yet appointed no officers or committee but expects to do so at the next meeting.

An Invitation To The Women Of Belleville

You are invited to attend a series of lectures and demonstrations designed to advance nutrition information to families of Belleville.

The lectures, strictly non-commercial, will not be a cooking school, nor will any brand of food or equipment be mentioned.

Dates - Tuesday, 2:00 P. M. - May 25th.

Tuesday, 2:00 P. M. - June 1st.

Tuesday, 2:00 P. M. - June 8th.

Location - School No. 8 Auditorium, Union Avenue.

No expense is involved in attending the lectures and demonstrations, which have been planned through cooperation of the Belleville Defense Council Nutrition Committee, Red Cross, Belleville Manufacturers Association, Board of Education and the Home Economics Department of the Public Service Gas and Electric Company.

Rationing of foods requires keen consideration of proper food selection. Utmost nutrition is vital to every user of food products. Ways and means of preparing foods as well as suggestions on retaining food values will be demonstrated by Miss Della Cordery, Home Food Consultant.

The attendance of housewives is urged at each of these meetings.

J. H. Kienast
Mayor.

60 WOMEN ATTEND FOOD LECTURE

Ask Larger Attendance for Next Meeting on Food For Fitness Program

At the first meeting of the Food For Fitness program at school no. 8 Tuesday afternoon, 60 persons were present to see the free demonstration lecture on the correct and thrifty way of preparing meals for the men and women on the production line. Rationed foods were discussed and important tips on alternate foods were included.

The sessions are being conducted by Miss Della Cordery, home consultant of the public service. The first session on Tuesday was opened by Mayor Williams and representative members of various groups attended. The lecture covered "Foods That Help You Work and Play." The demonstration included a discussion of practical nutrition rules, meal planning to include all essential foods every day, and cooking to retain vitamins.

Each of these sessions begin at 1:15 p.m. and last about an hour. Miss Cordery demonstrated Tuesday and will continue to do so, the attractive ways of preparing food and serving it to stimulate appetites. Literature on nutrition and recipes were distributed at this meeting.

Aside from being shown a way to help keep up physical stamina and build morale for our working men and women, several of the women who attend these lecture-demonstrations received the food prepared and one war bond, given each week by various concerns, is donated to the lucky person.

At the meeting on Tuesday Mrs. John Massarano was recipient of the chicken dinner, Mrs. Joseph King received the vegetable platter, Mrs. John Charleston got the market basket, Miss Agnes Calkin, the lunch, and Mrs. Elizabeth Keim, received strawberry shortcake.

Miss Joyce Sloan, grammar school student received the $25 war bond offered at this week's meeting. The meetings are open to any women in Belleville and three more lectures are scheduled, the next to be a school no. 8 next Tuesday. All the women and the men in town who can, are requested to attend the meetings.

Circulars describing the demonstrations and giving the dates and time of them, have been distributed to every household or by the Block leaders, and through the school children. Anyone who has not yet received a copy of the circular should see his block leader for one.

SEARS EMPLOYEES

(Continued from Page One) the company makes its contribution. Company management has no hand in the administration of the fund. The fund is managed entirely by a board of trustees who employ an executive director and confer with an advisory council of employees elected by Fund members.

Those in Service Share "Sears has 11,000 employees who are on a military leave of absence. Of these approximately 7,000 belonged to the profit sharing fund before entering the service," Eldridge said. "They retain their membership while in military service, the company making deposits as though they continued working for the company every day. These men and women in the armed services of our country participated in all benefits of the fund for all of 1942. 52,497 shares are held in the accounts of members now in military service. As of April 1 the value of these shares was $3,674,790," he observed.

Although usually giving three per cent of profits before taxes and dividends, Sears, in 1942 contributed seven and a half per cent or an additional $2,555,899 to bring the grand total to the $7,716,936 mentioned above. This was the fourth consecutive year that an additional sum of money over the normal five per cent has been contributed to employees profit sharing by the company. With the profit sharing statements distributed to the employees of the Sears store here today came some statistical information regarding the company's profit sharing, reported to be one of the oldest profit sharing and pension plans in the country. In the 27 years it has been in existence, the company has contributed a total of $52,840,969 to the fund, to which has been added the employees deposits and the increase acquired through dividends and other earnings.

Total withdrawals by employees who died, retired or otherwise left the company or used a part of their profit sharing are $75,480,742 in cash or stock, the price of the stock being taken at the market price on date of withdrawal. Of this amount $20,525,058 had been saved by the employees-members. The balance of $54,955,684 represents profit to members.

CAMP CARRAGHER

(Continued from Page One) Practice, under adult supervision, will be conducted there for merit badges and other Scout activities. The camp is not intended as a weekend camp but only as a place for accomplishing Scout work. All Scouts attending Camp Carragher and all others, must be under responsible adult leadership.

Already the Scouts have begun to renovate the cabin and grounds on the camp site. The Scouts are requesting donations of any materials to be used in buildings such as roofing, tarpaper, tools, hammers, rakes, hoes and wire. A piano, victrola, and stove are also being requested to furnish the cabin. Anyone who has such material and would like to donate it to the cause is asked to call John Charleston at Be 22266M or the Times Office.

Some of the needed material has already been obtained by the Scouts and work on the site is progressing. Camp Carragher was formerly a camp for underprivileged children run by the town and is now under jurisdiction of the Scout council.

Bade and Sullivan Will Attend Chemical Warfare School

Harold Bade, assistant to senior Gas Officer Sid Kauffer, and Defense Coordinator Harry J. Sullivan, are attending the War Department's Chemical Warfare School at Amhurst college next week.

The school is exclusively for New Jersey residents this week, the arrangement having been worked out by Professor Herbert N. Alvea, State Gas Officer, in connection with the War Department.

This is the first time that any arrangement has been made whereby an individual State was permitted to run a session exclusively. It is Professor's Alvea's idea that when these men return, he will select from their numbers approximately 12 instructors who will, with the assistance of the War Department, stage schools throughout New Jersey where the local personnel will be given an opportunity, over a weekend, to get much of the instruction now only being taught at Amhurst. The local men leave Sunday morning and are due back on Saturday.

In The Interest Of Traffic Accident Prevention

The New Jersey Traffic Law requires pedestrians to observe the following traffic rules and provides a penalty up to $50.00 for illegal walking.

1. Cross at crosswalks.
2. Obey traffic signals.

Your cooperation in observing these two rules will help keep you safe and set a good example for other citizens.

Facts Everyone Should Know About Walking In Traffic

1. Pedestrian fatalities have increased in Essex County since the war.
2. The traffic law requires drivers to give pedestrians the right of way at crosswalks — that's why one should always go to a crosswalk to cross.
3. War necessity demands less light outside at night — that's why it is about 3 times more dangerous to walk in traffic after dark than before the war.
4. It is urgent that everyone who walks in traffic — remember:

Cross at crosswalks.

Help drivers to see you at night.

Obey traffic lights.

Lives and health are more precious now than ever before.

We appeal to car drivers and pedestrians for cooperation in the prevention of accidents.

GEORGE SPATZ—Chief of Police

WM. H. WILLIAMS, Mayor.

MEET AN American!

The village blacksmith, prudent and cautious, like many other small business men, saves what he can from his limited earnings and reinvests most of it in his little shop so that his production in quantity and quality may be improved. He risks his capital that his operations may expand—creating more work for others.

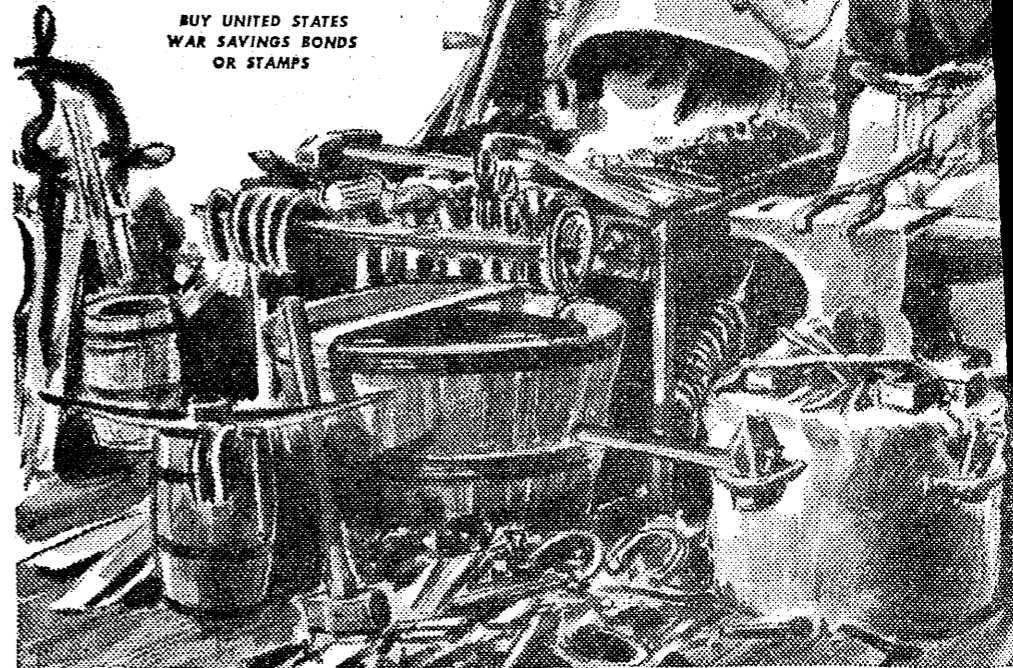

This is the essence of the American system of Free Enterprise. Through its application over the years hundreds of small shops have expanded into giant factories producing the stuff needed to win this war.

This policy pursued by Americans has made this country great! How else could we be so well prepared to handle the tremendous jobs for war work? How else could we be at peak production seventeen months after Pearl Harbor?

This system of Free Enterprise—or Capitalism—call it what you will—is not ready for the discard. It is the only system that can rebuild this world, come Victory.

child health centers. one lands, is part of a para-trooper's early training.

The course for para-troopers according to Sgt. Rinker has been cut from six to three weeks. Men are seldom transferred from this service unless they have received injuries. Any old injuries show up in the basic physical training, so that some men are not physically able to continue. The most common fear in the para-trooper service is a fear of landing. They call it getting "ground-shy" and a man is liable to sustain any injury when this happens, because he stiffens up instead of relaxing as he meets the ground.

Sgt. Rinker is a cartoonist and has sketched many camp foibles on his pastebord. Always interested in drawing, he attended Arts High in Newark where he won several prizes. While in the State of Washington, Rinker did some illustrating for the tank corps and later while he was with a Tank Destroyer division in North Carolina, he designed a crest for the division. It was not accepted for use by the war department however because he had designed the branch of service in it by a tank simile, a practice which is no longer used. Another crest was designed, and that one was accepted by the War department for use by that division. Rinker is, in a manner of speaking, a protégé of Lute Pease who is interested in his work and offered him several jobs to do, many of which he was too busy to accept.

Since he has been an instructor, Rinker has gained much knowledge about the type of man whom he teaches. Stating that instructing "becomes boring after awhile" Rinker said, "I would rather learn than be teaching." He said that the new men coming into the army, the raw recruits, seemed to be getting younger every day and were harder to get along with than veterans. "Give a recruit an inch and he will take a mile" said Rinker. "They have to be taught how to take commands," he said.

Rinker who was several times commended for this high grades, was offered a chance at Officer's Candidate school but he turned it down. "I would rather be a staff Sergeant than a lieutenant any day," he said. "Looseys are only Staff Sgt.'s anyway, and you have more fun as a Sarge," he said. "I don't want to be any 90 day wonder. I just want a chance to get in the fighting."

Tall and nervous, Rinker has brown eyes and a brown complexion. He has one married sister. His mother is married to Pfc. Wilfred Meslar who has been stationed with the anti-tank division in Africa for one year.

YOUR VICTORY GARDEN

Sowing Lima Beans; Thinning Plants; Watch For The Cutworm.
By Dr. Charles H. Connors,
N. J. College of Agriculture

Lima Beans Warm Season Crop

Lima beans are a warm season crop, so the seeds should not be sown until the soil warms up. Sometimes, if there are excessive rains, the seeds will not germinate and the gardener may have to resow.

With the bush type, there are several ways to sow them. One method is to open up a furrow about 1 inch deep and place the seeds singly about 4 inches apart. Later the plants are thinned to stand 8 to 10 inches apart. The best way to plant them is with the eye down. However, the farmer does not use as much care as this, and they do almost as well planted on the side. Another method of sowing lima beans is to make the furrow wide enough so that the seeds may be placed side by side 2 inches apart, spacing the pairs 8 to 10 inches apart, later removing the extra plants. Pole limas require a little only to produce than do the bush type, but they continue to yield until frost. The poles, which need to be about 8 feet above the ground, may be set about 2 feet apart in the row. Plant 4 seeds around each pole and when the plants are 6 inches high, allow only 2 to each pole, removing the remainder.

Thinning the Plants

For the new gardener, some advice on thinning is always necessary. There is an old saying that the successful farmer is one who can make two blades of grass grow where one grew before. There is a limit to this, however. The soil can support only so many plants. If more are left in, it is more trouble to care for them and the yields will be no greater and will often be less. For instance, it has already been recommended that lima beans stand 8 to 10 inches apart. At this distance, there will probably be a greater yield than if twice as many plants were allowed to remain, due to the greater demands of the extra plants for soil, water and nutrients. With the wider spacing, it is easier to get between the plants with a hoe to kill weeds; while with close spacing, the weeding will have to be done by hand.

In the case of root crops, like onions, carrots and beets, thinning out the plants at the proper time will permit those that are left to grow better and the roots will be more uniformly developed and of better shape. If left too close, they will be small and flattened and otherwise misshapen.

Watch for the Cutworm

Gardeners should continue to look for cutworms and keep up soil cultivation about their cabbage to control the maggot.

The larva of the cutworm was hatched in the previous fall and wintered in that stage. When spring comes, it wakes up hungry. Where grass or weeds are present, it has plenty of food, but if the soil is dug, only the plants we set out are there to eat so it goes for them. The cutworm works at night, cutting the plant off at the base, and then hides in the soil during the day. If a plant is cut off, the insect can usually be found coiled up by stirring the soil about the injured plant.

Collars of heavy paper, that extend 2 or 3 inches up the stem of the plants, and an inch into the ground, are placed loosely about the plants as they are set out and offer protection from the cutworm.

Another control for the cutworm is to use poison bran bait. To make this insecticide, mix 2 tablespoonsful of calcium arsenate in 5 pounds of bran, then add 1½ pints of water and ½ pint of molasses and mix thoroughly. Apply the poison bran mash in the late afternoon or evening about the base of the plants. Fresh bran should be placed each day.

Local Woman Wins Sewing Honors In Children's Group

Emily A. Schnetter, 68 Prospect street, tied for first prize in the children's clothing group of the Northeastern Regional Sewing contest, conducted by Marian Young, who is WOR's Martha Deane.

Judging was held last Wednesday at the Hotel Plaza, New York City, and prize-winning entries were selected by an imposing list of judges—Dorothy Shaver, Lord and Taylor vice-president and a well-known fashion authority; Mary Brooks Picken, author of "Modern Dressmaking Made Easy," and Helen Cookman, Fira Benenson and Claire McArdle, three outstanding American designers.

Mrs. Schnetter submitted a handsomely tailored five-in-one outfit for a small boy. Coat, hat and one pair of shorts are of navy blue flannel. And the blouse and an extra pair of shorts are of white cotton broadcloth.

The award was based on workmanship, style, suitability of fabric, neatness and attractiveness. The prize was a $100 War Bond. The suit will be described on the Martha Deane program on WOR from 2 to 2:30 p.m.

I've been looking at a car that wasn't there

I WENT window shopping again yesterday. I stared into a big, empty automobile showroom downtown—and pretty soon I saw a car.

She was kind of different from the bus I'm driving now. She was long, sleek and powerful-looking. The windshield sort of went clear around her, so that everybody inside could see out everywhere. There were no gears to shift. The cooling system was sealed—you never touched it from one year to another.

She had synthetic rubber tires you couldn't puncture—and that wear like iron. And fast? Man! The motor was only half as big as they are today—but how it would take the old girl along! And on one gallon of that new high-octane gas to every three my car uses now.

So—I made up my mind to buy her, then and there. And I will, too. One of these days, after the war's been over for a while, I'll walk in and drive her home. And I'll slap the money for her right down on the counter.

You see, I'm in the Payroll Savings Plan. Been in it ever since it started in my plant. Every single payday, I'm tucking away all I can in War Bonds.

That money's going to come back to me in ten years—and bring more money with it. Four dollars for every three.

I get a real kick out of thinking how that money's piling up for me. Money that's going to let me have some of the things I've always wanted to have—do some of the things I've always wanted to do.

Chances are, you're already in the Payroll Savings Plan—buying War Bonds—doing your bit. But don't stop there. Raise your sights! Do your best!

How millions of Americans have done their bit—and how they can do better:

Of the 34 million Americans on plant payrolls, nearly 30 million of them have joined the Payroll Savings Plan. (If you aren't in yet—sign up tomorrow!)

Those Americans who have joined the Plan are investing, on the average, 10% of their earnings in War Bonds. (If you haven't reached 10% yet—keep trying!)

BUT.....

America's income this year will be the highest in history: about 125 BILLION dollars! In spite of all taxes and price rises, the average worker will have more money than last year—more than ever before!

That's why Uncle Sam has a right to ask us, individually, to invest more money in War Bonds, through the Payroll Savings Plan. He asks us to invest not 10% or 15% or 20%, but all we can!

YOU'VE DONE YOUR BIT --- NOW DO YOUR BEST!

Time To Plan Post-War Projects

The time for merely speculative post-war planning has passed, according to Major General Fleming, Federal Works Administrator, and the time for realistic planning is here. He estimates that an annual expenditure of 15 billion dollars will be necessary for public and private building to do its share in providing full employment of American workers.

Jumping the speculative hurdle of how big the government's share may be in the annual construction bill, he does point out that business encouraged by the promise of full employment, will hurry up reconversion to cash in on the resulting pay rolls. The reasons that in the process, private enterprise will reabsorb more of the unemployed so that there will be corresponding less for government itself to do.

The administrator estimates that two and a half million of the 15 million workers who may be released from the armed services, the government, transportation and industry, at the end of the war, can be absorbed in construction alone. Five million older workers and younger persons may drop out of the labor market, he says, and the remainder of the 15 million will probably be absorbed by agriculture, trade and other activities.

The public works project aimed at avoiding the old wasteful cycle of doles, made-work and relief projects, is already under way in New Jersey and in the hands of the State Planning Board. The State, in addition to its master plan of parkways and other projects, is asking the cooperation of each municipality in mapping its own post-war work. Projects which must of necessity be postponed for lack of materials and others which have been relegated to the future can be earmarked now for the coordinated planning ahead. Those municipalities which have wisely and thoughtfully worked out their own plan will naturally be the first to benefit when the program is inaugurated. It's time that Belleville got started.

65,000 Nurses Needed in June

Coordinated with the Red Cross appeal for nurse recruits is the government's announcement that 65,000 trainees are needed throughout the country in June, to release graduates for war duty. While many more than 65,000 new nurses are needed almost immediately, this is the maximum number that can be trained at any one time, according to figures made available to the subcommittee on nursing of the Office of Defense Health and Welfare Services.

Recruiting of student nurses assumed campaign proportions in many areas last year. Despite this the 1942 goal of 55,000 new students failed to be realized by 11 per cent. To offset the shortage of training facilities and help meet the war need, many of the country's leading schools have shortened their courses so that thousands of young women enrolling this year will be full-fledged graduate nurses in from 24 to 32 months. Heretofore, courses have required three full years of training.

It's Been A Long Time

Route S-3, that proposed highway express between New Jersey towns and the towers of Manhattan has received only sporadic attention since the war and priorities have diverted the state highway department. Long promised as a sort of magic carpet for west of the river commuters to New York, Nutleyites on their round-about journey through the "meadows" have seen little perceptible movement of the huge span of earth as it has inched its way from either end of the swamp land.

Welcome news comes from State Highway Commissioner Spencer Miller this week however, with the announcement that the link between Routes 3 and 2 will be completed this year. That should mean at least a ten minute top-off on morning and night trips, whether they are accomplished by share-a-ride or bus travel.

Rights of way to sections of the whole route are in process of being secured according to Miller, who has pointed out that the continuation of the highway from Passaic avenue to Valley road in Great Notch has largely been secured and graded. When finally completed as a post-war project, it will be a "limited access express highway" from the Lincoln tunnel to Great Notch where it will join Route 6 coming from the George Washington bridge and run west through Singac. "Limited access" should guarantee a free flow of traffic that will not be hampered by frequent inter-section crossings and stop lights.

Knowing the highway commissioner's goal of a system of scenic parkways throughout the state, with a ban on roadside billboards, hot dog stands and various other enterprises that make travel through New Jersey reminiscent of Coney Island, it is hoped that landscaping will be included in the S-3 program to give us an agreeable sample of the post-war projects.

LETTERS

From Pfc. John T. Klump, J. S. M. C. Pacific Area
To the Editor of The Times:
I received your paper from today the other day. I can't tell you how much I enjoyed reading it way out here in the South Pacific. At least 100 fellows must have read the paper. When I got it back it looked like the print was worn off. So you see even a little news is better than no news out here.
There is not much to write about except to tell you that things look pretty bright and good out here at present.
Editor's Note: Pfc. Klump's letter is dated April 26.

Olympic Park Will Open To Summer Crowd Next Saturday

One week in advance of the conventional Memorial Day date for the event, Olympic Park, Irvington-Maplewood, will open for the season at 9 o'clock next Saturday morning. Henry A. Guenther, the president, advanced the date in expectation of an early summer. The 4,000,000-gallon swimming pool, largest in the east, the twice-daily free circus, several new rides and concessions, and a welcome for men and women in the uniforms of the army, navy, marines, coast guard, or merchant marine await old customers and new. Joseph Basile's Madison Square Garden Band will play concerts twice each day and for the circus at 4 o'clock and 9:30 o'clock.

Olympic Park is within reach, by a short walk, a five-cent bus ride, or an A card drive of 1,000, 000 residents of Essex, Union, and Morris counties. A dozen bus lines pass the park gates, or have stations within a couple of blocks.

BUDDY POPPY SALE STARTS SATURDAY

22nd Annual Event By Local V. F. W. Post Will Aid Worthy Causes

Proceeds of the 22nd annual Buddy Poppy sale by George A. Younginger Post 275, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be used exclusively for the betterment of conditions among all men in active service as well as ex-service men and their dependents, regardless of color, creed, nationality or political affiliation, according to Commander Robert Smith. The post will conduct the 22nd annual distribution of V. F. W. Buddy Poppies in Belleville, Saturday through May 30.

This year the proceeds of the Buddy Poppy sale will be devoted in part to welfare activities among soldiers, sailors and marines now fighting in defense of this country, Commander Smith explained, as well as for those who have served the colors in previous wars.

For Welfare Fund

As in years past, the local unit of the V. F. W. also looks to the proceeds of the annual drive for the maintenance of its relief and welfare fund, he said. All Buddy Poppy proceeds are expended only for disabled and needy ex-service men, the dependents or widows and orphans of veterans, or members of the present Armed Forces.

One cent from each Buddy Poppy sold by the Post will be contributed to the maintenance of the V.F.W. National Home, Eaton Rapids, Mich. This home provides a refuge for the orphans of deceased or totally disabled veterans. Here the children are reared in "family units" under the supervision of a home mother. When possible, mothers and children are enabled to live together. Clothes, education and vocations to enable them to earn their own livings when they become of age, are among the advantages provided the orphaned children of America's war dead by the V. F. W. National Home.

More than ever, unnecessary calls should be kept off the long distance telephone lines so that the rapidly rising volume of war calls can have clear passage.

This man was taught not to drink water

WATER... just plain drinking water... is a mighty scarce item to American soldiers now in the North African deserts. And what little water they can find, often isn't fit to drink.

So before our soldiers were landed in Africa, they were put through a stiff course of training to wean them away from drinking water! They were taught to dip water from streams in cups, and add a dash of iodine before drinking. This served the double purpose of disinfecting the water, and of making it taste pretty terrible.

Each time, a heavier dash of iodine was added (but never enough to be dangerous), until finally the soldiers lost all desire for drinking water except in prepared drinks.

An American soldier's favorite drink

The favorite prepared drink of the American soldier is good, old-fashioned lemonade! But how were our boys to carry lemonade around with them?

The Desert Warfare Board found the answer to that one... in what they call Field Ration K. This provides three meals for one man, each in a separate box, with a total weight of 33 ounces, and a total value of 3,700 calories.

Field Ration K provides meat three times a day... veal luncheon meat for breakfast, pork luncheon meat for dinner at noon, and cervelat sausage at supper time. It provides coffee for breakfast, bouillon for dinner, and a package of lemon juice powder to make lemonade for supper. Ration K also included malted milk tablets, biscuits, a bar of chocolate, and three sticks of chewing gum.

Sounds like "good eatin'" for those American boys in Africa, doesn't it? Makes you feel mighty good to know they're so well cared for! We'll all agree that the best of everything is none too good for our boys!

The things our fighting men need and deserve, cost money. They cost so much money that if we are to provide them, it will mean that each of us will have to invest at least 10 percent of his or her income in War Bonds and Stamps.

Perhaps you are already putting 10 percent of your pay in War Bonds every payday. But can't you boost that 10 percent... just a little? You can if you'll try... and you'll try all right, if you'll just stop and think how badly that money is needed!

Think, too, about what a swell investment War Bonds are. Safest investment in the world... and, for every $3 you invest in War Bonds today, you get back $4 ten years from now!

SAVE WITH U.S. WAR BONDS
EVERYBODY...EVERY PAYDAY...
