BELLEVILLE, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, AUGUST 5, 1943

PRICE FIVE CENTS

WILL RECLASSIFY FATHERS INTO 1A IMMEDIATELY

Draft Board, Short Of Others, Goes To Work To Fill October Call

The local draft board will begin reclassifying fathers from 3A to 1A at once, Miss Sadie Slusser, draft board clerk, said yesterday, in compliance with Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt's announcement on Tuesday that the ban on drafting fathers will be lifted on October 1.

McNutt's surprise announcement, coming on the heels of active agitation in Congress against drafting fathers at all, was issued simultaneously with a directive from State Selective Service headquarters. It stated in part: "The director of Selective Service directs local boards to reclassify 3A's in sequence of their order numbers, classifying them anew without reference to their eligibility for 3A deferment, and to proceed with such reclassification at which such a rate as is necessary to fill calls."

It is understood however, that fathers in essential occupations or farming, will not be called. Congressional opposition has hinted that fathers might not be called until the first of the year, and that not all, if the casualty lists are light. Based on McNutt's figures and the requirements of the armed services which have set 625,000 men as quotas for the last three months of the year, about 300,000 3A's will have to enter service. The remainder will be made up of 18 year-olds and reclassified 4F's and those terminating occupational deferments.

However, the local board is proceeding with the classification of 3A's since it estimates that the September call will exhaust the present eligibles, leaving only fathers to fill the majority of the quotas for the rest of the year.

38 Year-Olds Not Released

Another ruling from state headquarters states that men over 38 years of age who have not made application for release from the armed forces before July 1 will be retained in service for the duration. The draft board has also been instructed to check those who have already been released, on their present occupation. If they are found to be working in a non-essential industry, they are subject to recall by the board, for active duty.

Formerly, men over 38 were released upon application to their commanding officer, on the basis of their being in a job in an essential industry. Since April 1, however, those over 38 applying, have been released but have been put in the enlisted reserves, and are subject to recall. The new ruling, effective as of July 1 has now rescinded the release privilege and those reaching their 38th birthdays are now in service for the duration.

Monday's draft contingent was composed of two third-year married men without children and three with children born after September 15, 1942. Some of these were released from industries through the Manning table which is a systematic replacement process employed by most local concerns. The remainder of the group was made up of 18 year-olds.

Those who passed their physical exams Monday are being assigned to all branches of the service and men slated for the army will receive a three week furlough while those in the other services will await call which is usually within a week or two.

Red Cross Production Group Turns Out Snappy Uniforms

Members of the production committee of Belleville Chapter, American Red Cross, have supplemented their regular production work by making summer uniforms for the members of the Motor Corps. Mrs. Harvey Thompson, chairman of the production committee appealed for volunteers to do this sewing.

Mrs. Walter Martin of 13 Campbell avenue and Mrs. Martin J. Fox of 185 Malone avenue took charge of this group of volunteer sewers. They include Mrs. George Kelsall, 70 Preston street, Mrs. F. E. Dodd, 86 Division avenue, Mrs. J. F. Wischusen, 298 Union avenue, Mrs. George Warwick, 177 Malone avenue, Mrs. E. E. Dixon, 341 Union avenue, Mrs. J. W. Harworth, 56 High street, Mrs. Homer Zink, 26 Rossmore place, Mrs. D. L. Boyd, 16 Essex street, Mrs. Maude Miller, 196 Holmes street, Mrs. D. Lemell, 68 Berkeley avenue and Mrs. E. L. Whigham, 42 Tappan avenue.

Since no quota has been received by Belleville Chapter for surgical dressings, bandage rolling will be discontinued for the month of August in the Recreation House, St. Peter's hall and the Woman's club. Mrs. Frank Brown is chairman of surgical dressings.

Gardeners Must Be Using Crops; Tin Collection Stays at 10 Tons

Victory Gardeners must be enjoying their home-grown produce this month and saving their rationed canned foods, for the tin salvage collection last week remained at slightly over 10 tons, Salvage Chairman Robert Sutherland has reported.

This is only a shade better than June's total, which suffered a drastic drop from the previous 20 tons of cans saved for conversion into vital war materials. Seven town trucks conveyed by James Waters took the load to Sewaren the next day however, for the detinning process which will separate the tin from the alloy, so that both products may be put back to use.

Five pounds of tin is vital to the engine of every airplane, and the ratio of tin to the alloy contained in the cans is small. There is no let up, rather an acceleration of the plane production program, and it is the hope of the salvage committee that each can used, will be saved to aid production.

TOWN WILL HAVE REC SURVEY

Commissioners Vote $1,000 For Work; Montgomery Presbyterian Adds Softball Field

First step toward a town-wide recreation program was taken by the board of commissioners last week when they passed a resolution having recreation facilities, is already clearing the field east of the church for a temporary baseball diamond. The work was started early in the summer by Couzzo Brothers, local scavenger concern, but has been delayed because of shortage of help.

However, after an application of calcium chloride to hold the surface dust, the Rev. Mr. Chapin believes that the field will be ready in another week or two for use by the adult softball teams in operation at school No. 2 as part of the summer program. The clearing of the field has been made possible by contributions from industry. Although he is awaiting final recommendations from the survey, the Rev. Mr. Chapin said yesterday that it is expected the town will fill in the back section of the lot so that a permanent diamond for adults may be constructed there, next spring. The recreation committee has also discussed placing a skating rink there, in addition to marble pits and swings, it is understood. Plans include as well the possibility of clearing the town-owned land on the west side of the church for children's playground, although that will also await survey recommendations.

The recreation building east of the church is already a community center for it houses four bowling alleys, a gymnasium, a game room and a small auditorium with a stage. The gym will be used this winter for the first time in years, in the present recreation program of intra-mural (Continued on Page Four)

Rails Enlist For War Production

IRON JAWED PINNERS yanking the trolley rails from their concrete bed are shown above, familiar scene on Washington avenue this week, as salvage work proceeds under the auspices of the Metal Reserves corporation. The federally sponsored project was inaugurated more than year ago, to retrieve badly needed steel for war industries, 60,000 tons of which are estimated to be available in New Jersey, alone. Finished with freeing the rails of surface stone, the crews turned about at the northern town line to tackle the second set on Monday. The rail remover shown in entirety in the insert, which is said to pull 3,000 feet a day, has the cement pourers close on its heels. Filling the trenches to within one and one half inches of the surface, the concrete will have a bituminous covering. The work is under supervision of the state highway department and the rate at which it is being accomplished far outdistances a similar project undertaken a year or so ago in Newark, under WPA sponsorship.

Walker Gains International Laurels For Nereid Club

Wins Quarter-Mile Dash In Canadian Henley To Add To Honors In National Regatta

Al Walker, lone standard bearer for Nereid boat club in the international rowing competition staged during the Canadian Henley regatta last weekend has, during the last three weeks, copped the first national and international championships in the club's long history.

In the three day card, he placed Nereid fifth among competing clubs in points garnered and repeated his triumph as national champ at Philadelphia's National regatta, by copping international honors in the same one-fourth mile dash for the 145 pound singles. This brings his season's record to five wins and provides enviable trophies for Nereid.

Although both American and Canadian clubs have suffered this year by draft board calls, and transportation difficulties the 61st Henley had all scheduled events filled, in spite of predictions that cancellations would be inevitable.

The historic races on the old Welland canal which are spaced a distance similar to the older English course, have been held at Port Dalhousie in Ontario for the past forty years. Said to be the largest regatta of its type in the world, it drew 450 oarsmen before the war, with 38 entries in the eighties; 57 in the fours and a corresponding number of singles and doubles hopefuls. Although entries dropped off badly this year, officials declared that the clubs were well matched in calibre for all classes of sculling and sweep-oarsmanship.

Walker, a yeoman in the Navy stationed in New York City, was granted a seven day leave to enter the events, and arrived at Port Dalhousie last Monday. He put in two days of practice in a shell belonging to Glenn Murphy of St. Catherine's R. C., who is now in the Canadian forces. He raced in the borrowed shell, as have the senior fours entered in '41 and '42, which however, failed to win an event. The Canadian course is a mile and five-sixteenths, as compared to the American nationals run of a mile and a quarter.

A Close Victory

Nereid's oarsman clocked the one-fourth-mile dash which gave him international honors in 1:28, on Thursday the opening day. The sprint was a close one with just two feet separating him from Toronto's Argonaut, Ted Chilcott. He also placed third in the quarter-mile open which was won by Bill Reid of the same club.

Entering the Association singles event the following day, to qualify for the championship event, he collapsed at the finish of the gruelling stretch in which he placed second, three feet behind Russell Reynolds of the Ecorse, Mich., rowers. Reynolds who came in second in the Henley association singles last year, is about 50 pounds heavier than Walker, a telling advantage.

The mile and five-sixteenths event for the 145 pound singles was his last contest, which Walker forfeited by two feet, when his opponent sprinted in a burst of power in the last 15 strokes that the Nereid oarsman couldn't match.

Early season victories chalked up by Walker were the Decoration Day regatta on the Harlem river where he took the Metropolitan singles championship in the heavyweight class and the People's Regatta in Philadelphia where he won the mile and a quarter National regatta also staged at Philadelphia's three weeks ago, he copped the national honors in the mile and a quarter race in addition to the quarter mile dash which this weekend gave him the international championship.

POLICE RESERVES ARE NEEDED

Chief Spatz Asks For Volunteers To Raise Strength To 200 Men

A plea to raise the present strength of 130 Police Reserves to 200 has been made by Police Chief Spatz, head of the reserve unit for the defense council. Those who are physically fit and not otherwise engaged in civilian defense, are asked to enroll as a protection to the homes and town of Belleville.

It is understood that Mayor Williams has also expressed the hope that the present organization of police reserves can be continued after the war is over to augment the regular Police Department in any emergency which might arise and also on special occasions where extra policemen are required.

For the past several months, members of the police reserves have been patrolling the streets, principally the main thoroughfares of town, practically every evening. These men have not been taking their night-sticks out for a walk, but they have been performing valuable police work for the citizens of Belleville in keeping the streets safe.

During this patrol duty, reserve police officers have, as example, stopped speeding automobiles without lights, made the owners of improperly parked cars such as cars parked in bus stops and in front of fire hydrants, move their automobiles. They have also escorted to their homes, women who reported annoyances to them, and they have broken up crap games on the streets.

No police department is normally manned for the additional requirements thrust upon it by a war. Most of the work done by the police reserves, like that of the regular police, is of a preventive rather than a corrective nature.

In recent months, the membership of the police reserves has gone down as men have gone into military service or become otherwise unavailable for duty. More volunteers are required to fill these vacancies. Former soldiers, sailors and marines, and men who have had other military or naval training, are especially desirable. Next to active duty in the field, it is the best service that can be usefully given to the country and to Belleville.

The reserves meet every Wednesday night for drill and instructions either at the High school or at Clearman field. During the summer months, most meetings are held outdoors at Clearman Field. However, when the weather is inclement, the meetings are held at the High School gymnasium.

Man Thrown From Car In Bridge Street Collision

William Plenefish of 72 Fern avenue, Irvington, was in collision with John Relleri of 19 Oak street on Saturday when Relleri going north on Bridge street at Mill street, is alleged to have struck the Plenefish car. A passenger, in the Plenefish car, William Jeebe of 85 Carnegie avenue, East Orange, was said to be thrown from the car by the impact. Officer Booth and Fireman George Ketterer took him to St. Mary's hospital for treatment in the town ambulance.

LEGION CARNIVAL IS CHASED OUT OF TOWN

Were Setting Up Equipment Without Permit; Board Votes Against It

The carnival sought by the American Legion post had a brief stay here yesterday morning when it was discovered that the show run by Heller brothers of Newark, was setting up equipment on the area adjacent to the roller rink, on Washington avenue, without a permit either from the town or the owner of the property.

At a special conference held in Town hall on Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock, the board of commissioners agreed to block attempts of the local American Legion post to hold a carnival within the town limits by re-introducing an old ordinance containing insurmountable specifications, at Tuesday night's meeting.

As a result of this action, Public Safety Director King instructed Police Chief Spatz and his department to order the show off the site, after show officials stated that they believed the Legion had secured the necessary permits.

Spatz attending the Tuesday conference, declared that his department is opposed to bringing a carnival to town because of the unruly conduct which usually accompanies it. He based his opinion on the experience, the department had several years ago, when a similar show was held here. He was supported by Raymond Mertz, newly appointed to the board, who recommended that the old ordinance be re-introduced, to prohibit future applications for permits.

It specifies a sum of $1,000 payable to the town as a daily license fee for the duration of the show, and that a $50,000 bond be posted before the opening, as insurance against accidents.

Commissioner Noll declared, he would stand "behind the recommendations of the police department and the board of health" in the matter, and vote against it. The carnival, declared a health menace because of the non-existence of facilities, was also voted against by Commissioners King and Waters. Mayor Williams, absent, was understood to be out of town.

William Konrad, senior vice-commander of the local post, appeared at the pre-commission meeting for the show which was scheduled for August 4, through August 14, probably at old Hillside park, near the roller rink. (Continued on Page Four)

Private In North Africa Gives Vivid Description of Battle

Harry Schwartz Declares El Guettar Maneuvers Well Done In Spite Of Reports

A censored account of his experiences in North Africa came to Harry Schwartz to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schwartz of 82 Little street, in response to a request for "real battle news."

Twenty-three years old, he was shipped to North Ireland last September and moved into the war zone in November, with the first invasion forces. His letter follows:

"My battery was sent on a special mission and was attached to another combat team namely the infantry who were defending an important pass. We arrived at this position which was all prepared and dug. We just replaced the other outfit which left. Little did we know at first that we were to be a sacrificed outfit. Our orders were to advance about 10 miles to fire about 600 to 800 rounds which would slow the enemy's advance. We would then fall back to our prepared positions and hold the enemy at all costs, to fight to the last man if need be.

"This whole plan was in the supposition that the enemy would attack here in order to make a major break through of our line and thereby alter our own pre-arranged plans. This supposed plan never materialized as we were here for two weeks. Nothing happened with the exception of some air activity. Five enemy Me's 109 were shot down near our locale. Actually we saw two of them shot down near our position. Our battery commander captured the pilot of one of these. The other pilot had perished—a mangled remains of a once youthful blue-eyed, blonde mis-guided German.

"Our hottest battle was at the vicinity of El Guettar. After digging in our position all night as we opened up at dawn. At noon it was decided to move closer to the enemy as he was then out of our range. Under heavy artillery fire from the enemy's famous 88's we advanced three miles and dug in. We fired thousands of rounds in the 12 days that we were here. I am sure that our fire played havoc with the enemy as we were left commended. These hills could

Noll Would Strip Waters of Control of Two Department

Commissioner Noll in "economy move" which claims Commissioners King and Mertz sanction, will introduce a resolution at Tuesday night's commission meeting, stripping Commissioner Waters of jurisdiction over engineering department and public buildings.

Coming as a surprise Waters at the close of a special conference in town hall on Tuesday, Waters retorted, "Go ahead and take them. You have their votes." Noll announced his intentions at the meeting when he learned that Waters was leaving this week for a two week vacation. "I felt it was proper to give him an opportunity of making choice of being present at the meeting," Noll said yesterday.

RECORD DRIVE WILL CONTINUE

Legion, Reaching Half-Way Mark In Quota, Extends Campaign

The campaign to ferret out old and unused recordings in the American Legion's second national drive for "Records for our Fighting Men" has reached the half-way mark in its goal of 5,000 discs, according to William Konrad, senior vice-commander of the local post.

Although the campaign ended officially the last of July, the record committee determined at a meeting on Monday night to continue through August in an attempt to reach the quota. Bulk of the offerings which include old favorites, both classical and jazz, have been left at the firehouses throughout town, Konrad said, in announcing that the fire stations would continue to be receiving centers for the platters.

Largest haul to date has come from former band leader, Chester Smith of 232 Franklin avenue, who has sorted out his large library of recordings for the cause. Confident that there are many more potential contributors in town, Konrad declared that only 2,000 discs were collected last year, and these, in addition to this year's pile are considered a small percentage of the available platters. Broken discs are also acceptable, since all records are turned in, for new.

"REPLACE FUSES YOURSELF"

Says Reddy Kilowatt

If you're the type of woman that never could fix a thing around the house, it's time to change your ways. If the handy man has gone off to the wars, then be a brave little woman and fend for yourself.

"Don't call for help when a fuse blows out. We can no longer rush out to help you. Rubber, gas conservation and lack of manpower prevent our old-time courtesies. Know where the fuse panels are; keep extra fuses on hand. See that they are the correct amperage. The wrong size fuse is a menace to your wiring and likely to do damage to your electric appliances. Most branch circuits require 15 ampere fuses, main circuit a 30 ampere fuse."

Waters, high man in the last election, seconded Noll's resolution at the last meeting which placed King in the Public Safety post and gave Mertz Public Affairs. The Mayor, it will be remembered, announced that he would break the deadlock by naming Mertz as Public Safety director. His resolution failed for lack of a second, and Noll's resolution named Mertz to the board, and the switch of departments that followed.

Waters was not present at an afternoon meeting held in King's office. Attended by Mertz and Noll, it was called, they said, to discuss action on allowing the carnival proposed by the American Legion into the town.

All three commissioners stated that the meeting was brief and that no word was mentioned then, of Noll's subsequent action in forming Waters at the 5 o'clock conference, of his decision to retrieve control of public buildings and the engineering department in addition. Mayor Williams was absent from both meetings and could not be reached for comment yesterday. It is understood that he is out of town.

basketball games. The Rev. Mr. Chubb said that activities will be broadened for the winter program, and although not yet formulated, they may include community plays. The recreation facilities will be available to all denominations in the vicinity.

St. Peter's Roman Catholic church also has recreation facilities in the Petrean clubhouse in addition to the Bridge street playground, and the Friendly House in Silver Lake provides the most elaborate facilities of all. Other churches are hampered in developing their own centers because of lack of ground, it is understood, and this situation is one of the things now under discussion by the recreation committee of the foundation.

bombed and strafed heavily, although the Luftwaffe paid dearly for this. Our casualties (my outfit) were practically nil. Many were shaken, including myself but our morale never wavered. One evening our anti-aircraft battery attached to us, received credit for shooting down eight out of nine attacking aircraft. One evening Jerry's bombers ran smack into a patrol of 12 of our Spitfires overhead. The result was 14 Jerry's downed to one Spitfire lost and I saw him make a successful forced landing. I really had a swell ring-side seat while watching these aerial duels. This battle was the beginning of the end for Herman in Tunisia as we joined hands with the—by virtue of this success.

"We later gave Herman another kick in the pants when we jobbed up again in the Sedjanane sector where we surprised him with our power and outmaneuvered him too finally taking Bizerte, thereby ending Hitler's dream of having Africa and joining hands with the Slant Eyes."

RECORD DRIVE

facturers salvage the shellac content for new discs, and as a result of last year's campaign, 279,000 new records were distributed to American fighting men around the world. This year, because of the increased numbers in the armed forces, 2,000,000 more are needed.

It has been determined that men in foreign countries value phonograph records more than radio for the reason that radio cannot be used in many places. An investigating committee has also found that even where radio is available, it runs second in popularity to phonograph recordings.

The stacks of discs to be donated may be left at all the fire stations which are located at the corner of Division and Washington avenues, at William street and on Franklin avenue. A record box has also been placed in the office of the Empire Laundry at 514 Washington avenue.

Legion committee members who will pick up records from those unable to leave them at the stations are Frank Bangert at Be. 2-2051; Alonzo Hartley at Be. 2-2153 and Ernest Brown at Be. 2-1228-M.

Confident early in the week that permission would be granted, Konrad estimated that enough money could be realized by the Legion on this enterprise for a down payment on land to be used for the future home of veterans from World Wars I and II.

Now meeting in the Recreation house the Legionnaires have long planned erecting a building of their own which would also be headquarters for servicemen returning from the present conflict. With the land purchased, they could continue raising money through various projects he said, until building materials are again available for construction.

STORK LEADS IN VITAL STATISTICS

Outdoes Grim Reaper And Cupid In Activity For First Six Months

That long-legged friend bearing bundles swathed in three-corner pants outdid his partners in the vital statistics during the first six months of 1943, and bettered his own record for the same period in 1942, by a big margin.

Conditions may be chalked up to either the war or taxes, but figures compiled by Miss Jane Donnelly for Health Officer Eugene Berry, show a rise of 44 in the birth rate this year, while 90 less marriage ties have been knotted. Among the new arrivals Joes and Johnnies outnumbered Janes and Susies, running true to Old Man Stork's usual deliveries in time of war.

The drop in altar-wedding processions may indicate that the clamor for wedding bells has been lessened for those who neglected last year's rush because most eligible males are ununiformed and scattered far from the local source of interest. However, this may not be the true picture since knotting is becoming increasingly popular at training camps and these marriages are not necessarily reported for town records.

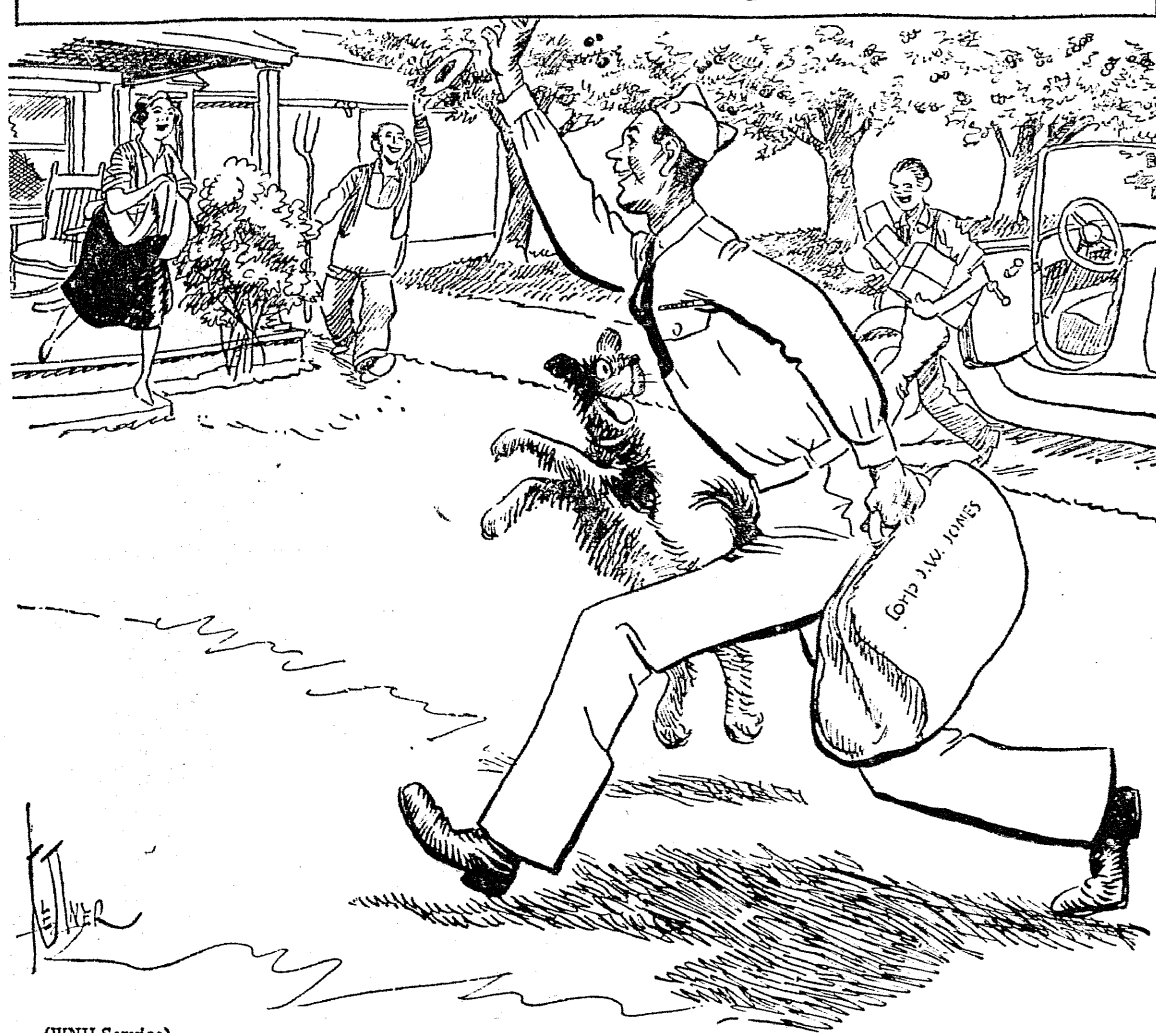

The bearded chap with the sickle hasn't been as active this year, for he has decreased his toll for the first six months by 11, to bring it down to 108. How the work of the trio will wind up the balance sheet at the end of the year is yet to be determined. However, at the present date, the population seems to have been increased during the first half, by 55.

Blood Specialist Rotary Speaker; Long Attendance Record Cited

The speaker at yesterday's, the 1170th, meeting of the Belleville Rotary club was Dr. Phillip Levine, eminent blood specialist and member of the staff of Beth Israel hospital, Newark, who explained the composition of blood and the modern application of that knowledge both in war and in peace.

Only in recent years, according to Dr. Levine since 1900, have scientists discovered the four distinct types of blood so that in transfusions by using the same type of blood that of the recipient is practically no fatality. Patient losses were formerly high. Also since the heredity of blood types has been established the paternity of children can and has been established in courts and fraudulent claims disproved. This knowledge is now also used to establish the claims of rightful heirs to estates and proves the theory of evolution in so far as the higher types of the Simian race have the same blood constituents as the human race while the lower types do not.

Forty members and a guest list of ten were present at the noon meeting of the Belleville Rotary club last week at Forest Hill Field club. Most interesting among the annual reports read was that of the secretary, William A. Van-story, which listed five club members, who have maintained unusually long attendance records. Lawrence Keenan has not been absent from a Rotary meeting in ten years; Willard Sawyer and George Kaden, 13 years and Harvey Thompson, 19 years. To illustrate the span covered by such attendance, it has been calculated that if Thompson continues without absence until September, he will have been present at 1000 consecutive meetings.

Phillip Dettelbach, a charter member, completed his 21st year of perfect attendance last April.

Joseph Zink, Aviation Cadet, Training At Maxwell Field, Ala.

Aviation Cadet Joseph Darrell Zink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Zink of 26 Rossmore place, is enrolled in the Army Air Force Pre-Flight school for pilots at Maxwell Field, Ala. He arrived there early in July from Nashville, Tenn. Cadet Zink resigned from Princeton University in February after completing his junior year in academic studies there under the accelerated program. He spent two and a half years at Princeton and was a member of the Reserve Officer's Training corps for two years. He received his basic Air corps training in Atlantic City and later at College Training detachment at Oswego, N. Y. State Teachers College, he received ten hours dual flight instruction.

Cadet Zink was graduated from Belleville high school and has been a very active member of the Nereid Boat club for four years. He was entered in numerous singles and crew races by that club and won a number of them. He rowed at Princeton and was captain of the light weight crew there when he left to enter the Air Corps.

"Petrean Pastimes" A Popular Publication With Servicemen

More than a year and a half old is the publication "Petrean Pastimes" compiled and printed by members of the Petrean club of St. Peter's church. This dramatic and social organization mails 150 copies a month of the informative pamphlet to their members in service.

Plans for it were originated at a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Maguire and Miss Mae Watson was chosen to head the publication group. Mr. and Mrs. James Monahan, the Misses Virginia Mernet, Rita Dunn and Claire Maguire and Fred Fisher and Edward Byron make up the staff.

The booklet, which carries an editorial by Rev. Joseph M. Kelly and a message from the club president, furnishes the men with a resume of club activities, excerpts from fellow servicemen's letters, town doing and changes of the men's addresses. Pastimes has, of course, reached foreign shores and is read in North Africa, Alaska, Newfoundland, Iceland, England, the islands of the Pacific and other allied territories.

Ration Dates

Processed Food and Canned Goods

Blue stamps, N, P, and Q expire at midnight August 7. Blue stamps R, S, and T remain good through September 20.

Meat, Butter, Cheese, Fats, and Canned Milk

Red stamp T is now good through August. Other red stamps become valid according to the following schedule: stamp U on August 1; stamp V on August 8; stamp W on August 15; stamp X on August 22; and stamp Y on August 29.

Sugar

Stamp 13 in War Ration Book One is good for five pounds through August 15.

Sugar for home canning may be purchased directly from your dealer in exchange for stamps number 15 and 16 each of which is good for five pounds of sugar through October 30.

Fuel Oil

The following coupons are now valid for use:

(1) Old Period Five coupons (10 gallons per unit) left over from last season's allotment. These expire September 30.

(2) New Period One coupons (10 gallons per unit) good until January 4, 1944. Note that each coupon is worth more than one unit.

3. Old fixed-gallonage coupons left over from last season's ration, good to September 30.

4. New fixed-gallonage coupons, good to September 30.

Gasoline

No. 6 stamps in "A" books now good for three gallons of gasoline through November 21.

Rationing regulations require holders of gasoline ration books to mark the vehicle license number and state of registration on the face of all gasoline ration coupons in their possession. This is to prevent their use in the black market if the book is lost.

Tires

All "A" book holders must have tires inspected every six months; "B" book holders every four months; "C" book holders every three months.

Shoes

Stamp 18 in War Ration Book One is now good for the purchase of a pair of shoes. Loose stamps may not be used; the stamp must be torn from the book in the presence of the dealer or clerk when the purchase is made.

Will Continue Jewelry Drive With Army Cooperating

With three tons of fighting baubles already shipped, according to Mrs. Mary Greaza, chairman of the Baubles For Buddies campaign of the Twelfth Night Club, Inc. in New York City, the drive to round up old costume jewelry will continue as long as the Army continues to ship it to Pacific outposts. The collection started on the West coast when a relative of Mrs. Greaza's there heard from an Army officer what effective co-operation soldiers received from island natives to whom they had engaging baubles to offer.

The now familiar story of fox-holes dug, munitions carried and wounded transported by natives, with whom our men cannot converse and who have no use for money, has brought response from many parts of the country. Publicity from New York headquarters brought contributions from many states typical of which was a barrel of gleaming gadgets from Pennsylvania.

The public campaign, stated here by Mrs. A. A. Buckley of Tiona avenue, has netted several cartons of costume jewelry which have been transported to New York by the American Women's Voluntary Services of Orange, also making a collection.

Members of the Petrean Club of St. Peter's Church have installed a box in their clubrooms and a sizeable collection has already been made by employees of Wallace & Tiernan Company, Inc.

Browsing Corner Opens At Library For Parents

Last week's Library News carried the notice that Mrs. Shattuck, Librarian, intended to create a new idea for parents of the children who patronize the juvenile department, by opening a Browsing Corner for parents. She has completed her original idea and it is now ready for the mothers and fathers to visit, and avail themselves of some very fine literature dealing with the problems of children of today.

A small table in the Juvenile department is decorated in the national colors and books have been placed there to interest the children while parents are browsing.

STEPHEN STREET KIDS HAVE PICNIC

Other Playgrounds Are Busy With Doll Shows, Costume Parades, Contests

Kids attending the Stephen street playground had a treat this week when mothers supplied lemonade and orangeade to go with their packed lunches. Twenty-three attended the feast under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth B. Hahn, playground director. They have also competed in Jack, checkers and horseshoe contests this week and their sandbox has a new, large leather covering supplied by Federal Leather.

The Recreation house grounds were busy this week with a doll contest, costume parade and checkers tournament. Marilyn Boyce 5 years old, of 5 Crescent terrace received the prize for the prettiest doll; Adell Geinzman, 10, of 168 Garden avenue, most original; and Jack Cross, 10, of 40 Crescent terrace, funniest.

Encounter Bad Weekend With Two Game Losses

The Belleville Nationals (formerly the Hillsdale Park Nationals) lost two games over the weekend. Both were lost by three run decisions. Saturday, the Nationals traveled to East Orange and were defeated by Blessed Sacrament, of the C. Y. O. League, 5-2. The Nats were shut out until the 9th inning, when De Munter batted in the only two National runs of the day with a double. Jack Meier pitched good ball for the losers, "running" 15 along the way, but his mates could not get to Gierczak, the Sacrament hurler.

Sunday, the Nationals played host to the Vallisburg Ramblers and went down to defeat 6-3. A ninth inning rally was halted when the Rambler infield executed a game ending double play.

A three game winning streak was halted July 24, when the Nats went to East Orange and were defeated 6-3 by the Blessed Sacrament team of that town. Although the Nats out-hit the winners 6-4, poor fielding by them, enabled the home team to overcome a Belleville rally.

For the Nationals, Jack De Munter pitched the entire game and gave up but four hits. Jim Slattery and "Stet" Tortello took care of the mound duties for Sacrament. The former was credited with the win. Outstanding at bat for the Nats were Gray and McMahon who had two hits apiece.

Gets Telephone Award

Norma Serman operator at the Belleville exchange of the New Jersey Bell Telephone company, is shown receiving from Miss Caroline Johnson, chief operator, the new Bell System emblem which identifies them as workers in essential wartime telephone service.

Due to the need to keep the switchboard fully manned to carry a steadily mounting load of wartime telephone traffic, which has increased from an average of 16,700 calls daily in 1940 to 25,500 a day now in Belleville, the emblems are being presented individually rather than in a general ceremony.

The emblem shows a telephone superimposed on a tri-color red, white and blue background. The presentation note, which accompanies it, carries the following quotation from a recent statement to the telephone women of the nation by Major General Dawson Olmstead:

"Whether you work at a commercial counter, a switchboard, a desk or a typewriter, you are an essential part of America's communication system and are rendering a vital service to your country in wartime. The jobs you do are all vital, for the telephone system—like the Army—needs many different skills to keep its complex organization running smoothly and efficiently. The responsibility of keeping open the lines of communication rests with each of you... we count on you to meet it."

EYE CARE . . .

Our examining, diagnosing and prescribing will give you efficient, healthy and comfortable eyes. For appointment, phone Nutley 2-2485.

CYCLISTS PLACE IN CHAMP RACES

Schnekenburger And Littig
Finish In Finals At Brookdale Park

Bob Schnekenburger and Ed Littig of the Belleville Bicycle club finished second and third with 14 and 13 points respectively a week ago, at the New Jersey state senior cycling championships in Brookdale Park, Bloomfield. Ray Bryan of the local club tied for fourth with five points. Chuck Wille, junior member of the Belleville club finished second in the junior title races with five points.

Furman Kugler of Plainfield, who finished third in a previous start of the title races, came in first in the finals with 16 points. Last week, he won both the five-mile test and the 10-mile point race to overcome the big lead piled up previously by Schnekenburger and Littig.

In the home stretch of the five-mile test Schnekenburger was leading the field, but began to fade rapidly. Bryan, seeing this, jumped the field with a terrific sprint attempting to catch the other riders napping, and win the race for the local club. He succeeded with the exception of Kugler, who pulled right out after him. Bryan couldn't keep up the rapid pace and Kugler passed him to take the lead and finish there.

Bryan faltered rapidly and finished behind Carl Anderson of the Triangle Cycling club and Schnekenburger, who finished second and third respectively.

Bob started out very well in the 10-mile point race by taking the first sprint. Then he tired rapidly and finished third twice and fourth twice in the next four sprints. Kugler won the last three sprints to gain the championship.

Chuck Wille garnered all of his five points in the junior races. He was unable to compete this week because he accidentally split his knee-cap while working in his victory garden. Vincent Menci of Plainfield was also tied for second with five points, but gave it to Wille in a fine showing of sportsmanship.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Coppola of Franklin street celebrated the first birthday of their son, Gerard, yesterday. Afternoon guests at a children's party were Phyllis and Paul Citroco, Marlene Naffia, Joseph and Patsy Grasso, Elvira Coppola, Michael Sena, Joseph and John Mongello of this town, Dolores and Josette Foselli of Bloomfield, Patsy and Judy Coppola and Virginia Di Primo of Newark. Also present were their mothers and Mrs. Anna Grant and Mrs. Rachel Carbone of this town.

YOUR VICTORY GARDEN

Sowing Fall Crops;
Deep Sowing; Water Seeds In.
By Dr. Charles H. Connor,
N. J. College of Agriculture

The time has arrived for the final sowings in the garden. In the northern part of New Jersey these plantings should be completed promptly. In the central part of the state about August 15 would be the last date, while in the southern part a week or 10 days later than that will allow sufficient time for growth to maturity of a few crops.

Looseleaf lettuce, head lettuce, spinach, kale, endive (both curly and broadleaved) and winter radishes are the latest sown crops. There are certain precautions worth observing when sowing seeds at this season of the year as the weather is hot and the soil is apt to be dry.

Most of the summer sowings will be made in places from which crops have been removed, that is, they will follow peas, early beans, spinach and so on. Such soil should be dug, and, since it is apt to be dry, pains must be taken to break it up well and reduce it to the fineness necessary for a seed bed.

There are several methods of treatment that may be recommended. If you are going to depend upon existing conditions without using some special means of protection, the best method to use is to sow the seeds a little deeper than spring sowing if the soil is dry then cover them with soil and tamp it down. Moisture is necessary for the germination of seeds and with this simple method it would be advisable to cover the planted row with straw, grass clippings or some other mulching material in order to hold what moisture is present and to encourage movement upward of the soil moisture.

Water Seeds In

A second method is to water the seeds in, either with plain water, or, preferably, with a starter solution made by putting a teaspoonful of Victory Garden fertilizer in 12 quarts of water. Open up the furrow or drill to the appropriate depth for the size of the seeds to be sown, sow the seeds, and then carefully water over the seeds with the starter solution.

using about a teaspoonful to a foot of drill. After this has soaked in to the soil, draw in dry soil to fill the drill. If the soil is drawn in while water is still standing a crust will form on the surface on drying and seedlings will have a difficult time to emerge. Even with this method at this season, mulching material over the drill will assist the processes required for germination.

Careful watch should be kept, and as soon as the first seedlings emerge, the mulching material should be removed in order that the seedlings will not be "drawn up," as in this stage they may be killed by the sun or by drying winds.

Spot Seeding

Another method of seeding that can be practiced to good advantage with plants that have to be spaced several inches apart is what may be called spot seeding. Kale plants, for instance, should stand 16 inches apart in the row. Instead of sowing a continuous stream of seeds to be thinned later, two or three seeds are sown at the thumb and forefinger and placed at intervals of 16 inches. Lettuce may be spotted in the same way 12 inches apart. This can be done in the furrow or drill, or if the soil is well prepared, using a garden line as a guide, the seeds can be placed at the appropriate depth by thrusting the holding into the loose soil, covering upon removal and giving gentle pressure.

When the seeds have germinated and reached a suitable size, the excess plants should be removed. This method not only assures proper spacing but is also an economical use of seeds.

Watering the Garden

Watering the garden has not been mentioned very often in these articles because there have been fair amounts of rainfall and in such circumstances applying water with a hose or watering can usually is not necessary, except when transplanting. Tillage and mulching do much to conserve soil moisture. A person who seldom does a good job of watering with the hose held in the hand because to do a really good job requires time. Sprinkling the soil is harmful in that it moistens only the upper layer of the soil. This moisture soon dries out but the feeding roots will grow toward the moisture and will be injured when the soil does dry. There is no harm in syringing the tops of plants late in the day when it is hot to wash off dust and refresh the plants. Even this must be done cautiously when the nights are cold as the moisture on the leaves may make conditions favorable for the development of mildew.

If you must water, soak the soil to a depth of six inches or so. A good way to do this is to place a board upon the soil and allow the delivery end of the hose to lie on this. Contact with the board spreads the water without splashing.

GIRL SCOUTS HAVE UNITED NATIONS

Five Towns Were Represented In Program Given At Reservation

High point of activities last week at the Belleville Girl Scout cabin in South Mountain reservation, where the fifth week of camping is under way, was a United Nations day program held on Wednesday to which each cabin contributed a stunt. Get acquainted games started the festivities at the Reservation center near the Belleville cabin at 4 o'clock. Millburn, Orange, Maplewood, Nutley and Bloomfield girls, encamped in their respective cabins, were gathered there.

The Union of South Africa was represented by Belleville and a Zulu lullaby was chosen to acquaint the audience with that people's dialect. Jane Corey and Jane Charlton as mother and baby presented the song. After the exchange of presents representing all the United Nations the scouts had a picnic dinner. An international campfire, when each troop placed a faggot as tribute to the nation it typified, followed. Songs and a Good Night circle concluded the evenings. Taps were sounded by the Nutley girls with an echo from the Millburn group.

A contest, which was started in late June, to name the Belleville cabin concluded this week when council members announced the winning name, Kin-Ly-Spec. Two scouts, Jane Corey and Carol Manley, submitted the name the first syllable of which is derived from the name of Commissioner King in recognition of his long-time interest in Girl Scouting. The name of the late Mrs. Benjamin Manley, mother of Carol, who was instrumental in building the Belleville cabin six years ago is next commemorated and the final letters are taken from the name of Harry G. Specht, present sponsor of improvements which have been made this year to establish the cabin as a permanent summer camp.

Prize to Winners

A prize of $5 was offered by Mr. Specht and will be awarded to the winners. The girls now camping there are at work on rustic name plates for the front of the cabin, the rear and over the interior fireplace. The Kin-Ly-Spec will be burned into natural finished pine slabs, a smaller sign bearing the words, "Belleville, N. J." will be suspended from the main entrance sign.

Also under way this week is the wooden cover for the camp log which will have the cabin's new

Summertime Dessert Par Excellence

To serve with iced coffee or tea as between meal refreshment or for a light dessert, there are tasty little spice cakes which can be made with a minimum of shortening and sugar.

Little Spice Cakes

2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves

1/4 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 cup molasses
1/4 cup buttermilk or sour milk

Mix and sift dry ingredients except sugar. Cream shortening and sugar until fluffy. Stir in egg and molasses. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Bake in tart or muffin pans 25 minutes in a moderate (350 degree) oven. Serve hot or cold. Makes about 2 dozen.

From Garden To Shelf

Lining Up The Limas

Shelled snap beans, limas, and soy beans harvested during these late summer months are easily canned, frozen, dried, or brined. Although the shelling is tedious and time-consuming, the best plan is to aim to preserve the beans on the day they are picked. If your bushes or vines are so prolific that you can pick a bushel of beans at a time, you will be able to can or freeze 16 to 20 pints. You can estimate the yield, too, by figuring that each pound of shelled beans will fill one pint. It is recommended that all shelled beans be canned in pint jars in order to be certain that the cooking during processing will be thorough.

Soy beans shell more readily when the pods have been boiled from two to five minutes.

Hot-packed Beans

Wash the shelled beans and grade them for size, canning only the youngest and most tender ones. Cover the beans with boiling water and boil them for five minutes. Fill hot pint jars up to within one inch of the top, with beans and the liquid in which they were name burned in. The girls will select an original design from linoleum blocks which they have made to stencil curtains for the cabins shelves. They have also as reminders of this week's camping, pocketbook and pill box hats made of remnants and laced with white shoe laces. Orange, Millburn and Belleville cabins participated in a songfest last Tuesday night.

cooked. Add 1/2 teaspoon of cooking salt to each pint. Carefully remove any air bubbles remaining in the jar. Completely seal self-sealing jars or partially seal all other types before processing.

Processing in the pressure cooker is by far the safest method of effecting thorough sterilization. Lima beans are processed at 10 pounds pressure for 30 minutes, but soy and shelled snap beans are processed for 80 minutes.

Rather than allow any surplus to go to waste for lack of a pressure cooker, plan to can and process all types of beans in a boiling hot water bath for 180 minutes. Be sure the boiling water covers the jar tops by one inch. Begin counting the time when the water boils again after adding the jars. All jars of beans processed by this method must be boiled for 10 minutes before they are tasted or served.

Frozen Limas

The several varieties of lima beans suitable for freezing are Fordhook, New Improved Bush, Challenger, and King of the Garden. Freshness is as important a factor in assuring a high quality frozen product as is canning. Plan to freeze only tender, green beans.

As usual, the beans must be blanched either in steam or in a large quantity of boiling water to inactivate the enzymes present and kill some of the micro-organisms adhering to the food. Tiny beans are boiled for one minute, medium ones for 1 1/2 minutes, and the larger ones for two minutes. Blanching in steam requires once and half as long as blanching in boiling water. Begin counting the time when the water boils again after adding the vegetables, which have been placed in a large square of cheesecloth or a fine-meshed wire rack.

After boiling them, plunge the beans quickly into the ice water, leaving them there until their temperature reaches 60 to 70 degrees Fahrenheit.

Fill moisture-vapor-proof containers with the beans, seal, and freeze immediately at minus 10 degrees Fahrenheit either in your home freezing unit or at a locker plant.

Dried and Brined Limas

Both immature and fully mature beans may be dried. The white, mature limas may be left on the plant until they are thoroughly dry, but directions for drying the young green ones should be obtained from the circular "Food Preservation by Drying," which is available at your County Extension Service office.

Additional tender lima beans left in the pods may be preserved in a strong brine solution. Full directions are given in "Salting and Brining," another circular available at the Extension Service office.

Jay F. Epting Marks 25th Year Of Service With Western Electric

Many friends of Jay F. Epting of 32 Elena place, paid tribute to him last week on his twenty-fifth anniversary with the Western Electric company.

Epting was guest at a luncheon at the Hotel Plaza, Jersey City, and was also honored at a dinner given at the Schweisguth Grove, Clifton. A gold wrist watch was given to him as a memento of the occasion. Among the guests at the dinner were many former friends in the installation forces who have been transferred with him to the Kearny Works.

Mr. Epting arrived at the Kearny Works from Louisville, Ky. about four months ago. A native of Athens, Ga., he attended the University of Georgia. He holds membership in the Forest Hill Field club, and the H. B. Thayer chapter of the Telephone Pioneers.

"ONE WEEK LATER and the boss told me I was doing a swell job. Thrilled! I'll tell the world! I know now what it means to have responsibility and meet it. When I finish a job, I know I've also done something to help finish this war."

"AT PARTIES NOW, I can talk with any of 'em without feeling shy—for I know I'm doing something big, too. For the first time in my life, I feel important! (Of course, that cute hat I bought out of my first Weston pay check helped a lot, too!)"
