PLANT QUOTAS FOR INCREASED BOND SALES

Plan Starts In Local Industries At Time Of 3rd War Loan

In conjunction with the Third War Loan drive which opens on September 9 with a state quota of $585,000,000, increased voluntary payroll deductions for war bond purchases are being sought. Each plant employing more than 100 workers is now in the process of receiving an increased monthly quota from the United States Treasury department, based on plant payrolls.

The industrial committee for the payroll deduction plan in local industries, headed by Douglas Clark of Clark and Hammer incorporated has been in existence for more than a year—since the original plan was introduced. It now has been enlarged by Clark, to provide a committee member as a special treasury department representative for each local plant falling into the designated category.

By the time the drive which is under the chairmanship of Phillip Dettelbach, opens for its house-to-house canvass on September 9, industrial committee members will have visited all the local plants employing more than 100 workers, to acquaint them with the need for increased voluntary deductions.

Plan Rallies
Rallies conducted by a special treasury department representative, will have been held in all the plants affected. Three have already been held, at the A and P laundry plant, Rowe Products company and L. Sonneborn Sons, Incorporated. One is arranged for Bart Laboratories tomorrow afternoon, and tentative plans have been made for two more rallies next week.

Members of Clark's committee are Henry DePhillips, Elmer Kantwell, Harry Sullivan, Ray Yerg, Edward Pearles, Frank Chambers, Stephen Weir, William Vanstort, Elwood Russell, Larry Lommerlin, George Hiss, J. E. Woodall, Harry Specht, Frank Mack Fadden, Larry Keenan, S. G. Bart, Albert Luscombe, Roland Brunner and George Wright.

Reason for the plant quotas which roughly represent a 50 percent increase over present war bond deductions, is, according to the treasury department, to help finance and speed the war, to help ward off disastrous inflation and to provide a backlog of savings for the post-war period. It is estimated that there will be over 45 billions in the hands of the American people over and above the amount of consumers' goods available to them, during 1945, since more members of many families are now employed. And although 26 million are now saving 400 million dollars monthly in war bonds, this is still not enough to curb inflation, the treasury department argues. Even though expenses and taxes are higher, there is still extra money available.

President Roosevelt in a letter to the secretary of the Treasury states, "I am proud of the fact that so many patriotic Americans are regularly investing to help pay the cost of the war. And since all of this money comes from wages and salaries—nearly 90 percent from people earning less than $5,000, and the bulk of it from those working in war plants—I do not hesitate to say that the payroll savings plan is the greatest single factor we now have in protecting ourselves against inflationary spending."

Although the plan is being inaugurated with the beginning of the Third War Loan drive which has a quota throughout the country of 15 billions, the increased deductions voluntarily signed by each plant worker will be permanent and not merely for the length of the drive.

Industrial committee members acting as special treasury representatives in each plant, will request the management to appoint a team captain for every 10 workers. The captains will distribute a booklet to each employee in which he can figure for himself, total living costs for the family against their total earnings. The remainder is the amount the Treasury department wishes to see invested in war bonds through the payroll deduction plan. The plant payroll deductions will be submitted to Clark as committee chairman each month, for a check Treasury T flags will be available to the plants that consistently get their quotas.

Certain High School Students Are Asked To Register At Once

In order to save time and inconvenience during the first week of school, Burt Powers Johnson, new acting principal at the High School, requests certain students to enroll and receive their schedules at the High School office as soon as possible, and not later than September 3. The office is open Mondays through Fridays from 9 to 12 noon and 1 to 4 p.m.

Those students asked to appear fall in three categories. They are: Any student who has moved into Belleville during the summer and expects to enroll in the 9th, 10th, 11th or 12th grades in September.

Any student who dropped out or left school during the past school year and expects to re-enter in September.

Any student who has decided to change his or her program of studies since the registration period last spring.

Defense Council Chairman Everett B. Smith said last night that Sullivan has done an excellent job. "Sorry as we are to lose him we are pleased to see his advancement," the chairman stated. "What is Belleville's loss will be the area's gain for he has been largely responsible for the measure of success which the defense council has attained."

Sullivan reached for comment last night, said, "I sincerely wish to thank all those who assisted me during my term of office. I am purposely refraining from naming them so that I may not overlook any who have cooperated so consistently." He stated that in assuming the new post "the people of Belleville can take the credit for my advancement for without their splendid backing, the achievements of the defense council would not be possible."

As deputy area administrator, Sullivan will be a Trenton representative for the State Office of Civilian Defense. The Newark area is considered one of the most important posts, embracing as it does, the well populated counties of Essex, Union, Somerset, part of Middlesex and the towns of Lyndhurst, North Arlington, Kearny, Harrison and East Newark.

Sullivan was appointed coordinator of civilian defense for the local council on May 26, 1942, and has served in that capacity since that time. He was previously employed in the town engineering department under Commissioner Patrick A. Waters and was released for full time duty as coordinator. A life long resident of Belleville, he is married and resides at 2 DeWitt avenue.

EXCHANGE B AND C GAS COUPONS
Ration Board Open Monday Night; Deadline Is September 1

Motorists possessing currently valid old style B and C gasoline coupons were urged today by Ration Board Chairman Herbert C. Schmutz to exchange them for new books before September 1. The Belleville war price and ration board office located at 444 Washington avenue, Belleville, will be open, Schmutz announced, on Monday evening between 7 and 9:30 o'clock, to handle the exchange of these books exclusively. The office will also be open on Tuesday evening, he stated.

The old stamps, distinguishable by the phrase "Permits Delivery of One Unit of Gasoline" printed on the face, become invalid for use by consumers on September 1. It was emphasized that only old stamps which are still valid will be accepted in exchange for the new type coupons. The new coupons bear the imprint "Mileage Ration," and have a large letter "B" or "C," depending upon the class of ration. Detached stamps or pages of stamps, and books without covers will not be accepted for exchange.

Immediately upon receiving the new coupons, motorists are required to enter in ink on the face of each stamp the motor vehicle registration number and the (Continued on Page Seven)

Avalanche of Baubles Pours In For Island Natives

Contributions From Industries Include Pipes From Male Enthusiasts

With the Go-Ahead signal still lighting in New York headquarters of Baubles For Buddies To Barter, a fresh avalanche of sparkling costume jewelry poured into The Times office this week. Sent by the personnel of National Oil Products company of Harrison through Miss Alice Miller of Newark, who read of the campaign here, and Miss Helen Biene of the New Jersey Bell Telephone company in Montclair, whose sister works in the Harrison plant, the new collection numbers over 1,000 pieces. Fetching bracelets, ropes of gaily colored beads, varicolored rings and pins, in the form of flowers of every description and birds and fishes, are ready for handouts to the natives.

Mrs. A. A. Buckley of Tiona avenue, who sponsored the campaign here, receives a contribution or notice of one every few days. A collection from a group of Prudential Insurance company workers is also expected. Gustave Trenkler of Cedar Hill avenue tirelessly sorts and rearranges the jewelry on exhibit in The Times office and packs the cartons which are sent to the Twelfth Night club in New York.

Trenkler, grandson of a jeweler, has voluntarily handled the collection here since Mrs. Buckley started it in June. Mrs. Buckley frequently repairs items and re-strings broken beads.

Much publicity has been given the drive, which is nation-wide, and at last report three tons of jewelry had been shipped under Army supervision to Pacific island battle areas. Not to be out of the National Oil Products plant donated 24 pieces. According to one publicity release on the "baubles," natives, who will perform all sorts of laborious tasks for a selection of glittering bangles, will trade a wife for a pipe. This intriguing little myth caused the gentlemen to sacrifice their pipes to soldiers who, we presume, will be obliged to find something with which to fill them and teach the natives what they are for. At least two coronations, if the natives have them, will be made possible by Belleville's collection which have so far contained two tiaras, one of heavy pearls and one of braided gold strands and green beads.

A 50 pound carton of jewelry will be taken to New York this week by a trucker for the Wallace and Tiernan Company, incorporated. A sizeable box of trinkets in this lot was contributed by that firm which started a collection several months ago.

Named To Ration Board Post
Herbert C. Schmutz, chairman of the Belleville war price and ration board has announced the appointment of Mrs. George Kimmerle of Belleville to the ration board office as clerk.

Something New To Struggle Over
FORM 1040—ES
Treasury Department
Bureau of Internal Revenue

Declaration of Estimated Income and Victory Tax by Individuals FOR CALENDAR YEAR 1943 or fiscal year beginning 1943 and ending 1943
(See accompanying INSTRUCTIONS)

SOMETHING NEW TO STRUGGLE OVER is the estimated income and victory tax declaration form for 1943. Reproduced above is the condensation of the four page instruction and work sheet distributed this week throughout the area by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. A copy of this form 1040 must be used in filing the declaration with the collector. Those who are required to file on or before September 15 are (1) those whose wages exceed $2,700 a year if single, (2) $3,500 if married, (3) those whose income from sources other than salaries or wages was in excess of $100 a year and their income from all sources exceeded the personal exemption or (4) if their income exceeded such amounts in the previous year. A representative of the Bureau of Internal Revenue will be at the First National Bank from August 30 to September 3 inclusive and at the Peoples National Bank and Trust company from September 6 to September 15 inclusive, to assist the public in making declarations.

Declarations Will Make Tax Payments Current
Guy T. Helvering, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, recently announced that forms and printed instructions for the filing of estimated income and victory tax declarations on or before next September 15, as required by the new Current Tax Payment Act, are now being distributed to individual taxpayers by the Collectors of Internal Revenue.

Filing of the declarations will be the second major step under the Current Tax Payment Act in converting the Federal individual income tax from the old delayed payment method to a "pay-as-you-go" basis. The first step was the inauguration July 1 of the new withholding plan, under which the Victory tax, normal income tax and first bracket surtax are paid by millions of persons through deductions from their wages and salaries.

The purpose of the declarations is to make current in their tax payments all those individuals whose income and victory tax liability will not be fully covered by collection through withholding and other credits.

SCRAPE BOTTOM TO FILL SEPTEMBER DRAFT QUOTA

Board Postpones Reclassifying Fathers; Gives New Rule On 18 Year-Olds

Scrapping the bottom of their lists of those available for induction, the local draft board is however, filling its September quota in sending a group to Newark next Wednesday for physical examinations.

This draft contingent includes the last of the fathers of children born after September 15, 1942, uses up the available 18 year olds and those being released from industry through the Manning table, leaving few for the October call. Those passing their physicals for the Army, will receive a three week furlough. Those assigned to the Navy, Marines and Coast Guard will report within a shorter period, when called.

Draft board members, hesitant to draft fathers of children born before September, 1942, have not yet started reclassification of this group. Unless Congressional action revokes the order, this group will be put into 1A and inducted by order number, beginning October 1, with the exception of those in essential occupations and those whose families would suffer extreme hardship. These will be placed in 3D. The board is now determining a uniform policy in defining extreme hardship so that all families will be considered on the same basis.

Boys 18 and 19 years of age, attending high schools or similar institutions this fall and winter are affected by the recent amendment to the Selective Service Act. It states that any registrant 18 or 19 years of age who, while pursuing a course of instruction at a high school or similar institution, is ordered to report for induction during the last half of one of his academic years, may, upon his request, have his induction postponed until the end of that academic year or until he finishes that course, whichever is earlier.

Defense Academic Year
The term academic year need no longer be construed as extending from September until June. In some schools the academic year begins in February and runs through the following December or January. In other schools, due to an accelerated course, students may be taking the first half work during the summer months, and enter on the second half of the academic year in the fall. Therefore, the term "last half of the academic year" is not to be construed as bearing any relation to the calendar year, but depends on the circumstances in effect at the institution.

In order that false requests may be eliminated and the work of the local boards in checking these cases minimized, a registrant requesting a postponement of induction under this amendment is required to present to the local board a letter, signed by the principal or head master. It must state that the registrant is pursuing a course of instruction at the institution.

Supervisor REPLACES KITTLE AT HIGH SCHOOL

Well Qualified, Burt P. Johnson Comes From Port Jervis, N. Y.

Burt Powers Johnson

Here since August 1, familiarizing himself with the high school curriculum and routine, Burt Powers Johnson will greet high school students as new acting principal when classes resume on September 8.

Given a one-year contract at $5,000 in April by the board of education, Johnson was designated as a general supervisor, subject to assignments from Supervising Principal Wayne R. Farmer. Farmer has named him acting high school principal, replacing former principal, Hugh D. Kittle, U. S. N., now on leave. Kittle's salary was $4,500 per year. Harold C. Dufford, commercial teacher who was acting principal last year after Kittle's entrance into the Navy, in November, will resume his teaching post in September.

Johnson, in announcing those pupils who should enroll and receive their schedule before the opening of school, also stated yesterday that the high school cafeteria will be open and functioning on September 8. Well equipped for his new post, Johnson holds a general supervisor's certificate from the New Jersey State Board of Education which qualified him for elementary and a secondary school principalship, for a supervisory capacity, for a supervising principalship and a superintendent's post.

Will Be Recommended To Athletic Council On Thursday
Members of the Athletic council will meet next Thursday night at School No. 8 to consider the recommendation of Bill Chapman as football coach for the coming year, to replace Larry Gates who has entered the service.

This was announced last night by Athletic council president, Herbert C. Schmutz who has conferred with the council's vice-president, Charles Gebhardt, on Gates' successor. The new coach will have two assistants, Schmutz said, and they will probably also be named at the Thursday night meeting.

Chapman formed the freshman league composed of teams from surrounding schools, but which was abandoned a couple of years ago when the State Board of Education recommended that freshman teams be dropped on the theory that the exercise was too strenuous. He has been on the athletic staff here for a number of years.

Because it is expected that football material will be scarce this year, it is not probable that there will be a javayee team. In addition, the position of physical education instructor in the high school remains unfilled since the recent cancellation of a new contract by Thomas McHale who had been chosen for the post.

Herman (Jitty) Wische will continue as basketball coach, and baseball which was dropped last year, will not resume, Schmutz said.

696 Belleville Women Will Be Needed In Industry By Jan. 1
Figures released this week by the Community Manpower Mobilization committee of which William J. Orchard of Wallace and Tiernan is chairman, set 396 as the number of Belleville women who will be needed in industry by January 1, 1944. This is a breakdown of 40,000 rounded estimate to be needed to fill 39,437 jobs which are expected to be given to women in the area up to the first of the year.

Based on the 1940 census figures and allowing expansion of population at 7.7 percent the estimated rate of expansion, it deals with the available women over 14 years of age who are not now in industry.

Recruitment of these women will be the next step in the voluntary plan in the Newark area, after the adoption of the 48 hour week which went into effect Monday, which has been set up to avoid becoming designated as a critical area because of labor shortages and an accompanying low rate of production of vital war products.

PLAN CONFERENCE DAY NURSERY EQUIPMENT

Estimates Submitted As Dreyfuss Urges Prompt Action

Coinciding with a request by OGD Director Leonard Dreyfuss that all child care committees of Defense councils particularly in industrial areas redouble their efforts and be "thinking very definitely of expanding their programs," the local child care committee headed by Mrs. Morris Rochlin has submitted to the board of education an outline of the minimum requirements in equipment that would be needed in establishing a day nursery in School No. 1.

Schmutz said last night that the estimate for equipping the nursery as submitted by the child care committee amounts to $1,471.31. This, it is understood is based on equipment used in the Montclair nurseries and provides that some of the furniture be built by volunteers. Some of the prices will have to be checked, he said, since there are wide fluctuations in the present market.

Walter Gilby, chairman of the building and grounds committee of the board of education reported at its meeting on Monday night that an estimated cost to the board of $1,089 would be necessary to install necessary equipment in School No. 1 for the project. This sum would include an electric refrigerator, a gas range and water heater in addition to the necessary plumbing.

Herbert C. Schmutz, school board chairman, stated at the meeting that arrangements would be made for a joint meeting of the board and the child care sub-committee on Wednesday night at School 8. He said that Mayor Williams, revenue and finance director and Defense Council Chairman Everett B. Smith would be asked to sit in on the conference.

The Defense Council's child care committee has requested the sponsorship of the board of education whether or not funds will be available under the Lanham act. It has suggested that the board apply however, for the funds and that the town bear the expense of the project in the meantime, with the added suggestion that if Lanham funds are not available, the town underwrite the complete project.

CHAPMAN MAY BE FOOTBALL COACH
Will Be Recommended To Athletic Council On Thursday

Members of the Athletic council will meet next Thursday night at School No. 8 to consider the recommendation of Bill Chapman as football coach for the coming year, to replace Larry Gates who has entered the service.

WATERS STRIPPED OF ONLY ONE BUREAU

Noll Asks For Buildings; Gets Them With 3 To 1 Vote

Revising his former declaration that he would introduce resolutions stripping Commissioner Waters of jurisdiction over both public buildings and engineering, Commissioner Noll introduced the resolution on buildings only, at Tuesday night's commission meeting, which was passed by a three to one vote.

Originally declared as an "economy move," the action on the engineering department was held in abeyance, some reliable sources say, because Noll could not gather a majority vote. However, jurisdiction over public buildings passed to his department of Parks and Public Property when his move was seconded by Commissioner King and concurred in by Commissioner Mertz.

Mayor Williams who originally said "no vote," changed his to a negative. Waters did not vote. The town hall, the fire houses and the town garage are involved in the change which will become effective December 1. Miss Ada Donnelly, telephone operator and Mrs. Mary Welsh and John Sullivan, custodians, are the personnel affected.

Mayor Williams in the pre-commission conference declared, when the resolution was presented by Noll, that matters of policy affecting the board should be discussed in full conference when constructive criticisms would be acted upon. There was no further comment by any of the commissioners either then or when he repeated his statement in commission meeting. The Mayor suggested at the commission meeting, however, that the change be made January 1, when budgets are prepared. This was also greeted by silence. It has since been pointed out however, that department personnel are reappointed on or about the date specified for the transfer.

All members of the board remained silent on the action when asked for comment. It will be remembered that shortly after coming into office in 1938, Noll was relieved of jurisdiction over public buildings through the action of the board when orders of funds in his budget, he ordered all town hall telephones disconnected when he could not meet the bill.

SCHOOL BOARD WILL COOPERATE

Will Conform Schedule To Industry's Needs, If Necessary

The board of education, carrying on its meeting interrupted by Monday night's blackout, discussed the problem last night, of providing a high school class schedule for boys 16 to 18 years of age who have found jobs in war production.

Herbert C. Schmutz, board president, stated that several calls have been received from industries, asking the school board's cooperation in allowing some boys to continue at their jobs while they are finishing their high school education.

"We will be glad to conform our schedule for these boys to the needs of industry," the school board president declared, adding that "it is not only the patriotic thing to do but we want to do everything in our power to keep them in school until they graduate."

Definite plans cannot be formulated however, he pointed out, until the enrollment is checked after the opening of school. If it is necessary, they will arrange early or late schedules to dovetail with the hours of employment.

"We do ask," Schmutz said, "that those boys who wish to continue working after school open come to the high school to talk over their plans, so that we can get a program arranged." The board wishes to be prepared to arrange a schedule as quickly as possible so that a minimum of time will be lost if the plan is found to be necessary. The same will be true in Newark a week or two ago, when they adopted there, it is understood.

Price Control Discussed At Rotary Luncheon Meeting
Henry J. Stevens, Jr., enforcement attorney for the Office of Price Administration, addressed the Rotary club at its luncheon meeting yesterday at Forest Hill Field club.

Stevens, whose headquarters are in Newark, spoke especially about duties and asked Rotary members to use their influence in seeing that citizens observe the consumer's pledge. He pointed out that it is as much the duty of the merchant to refrain from asking the customer to refrain from asking for a price increase as it is the duty of the consumer to refrain from asking for a price decrease.

Yule Gifts For Service Folks Abroad Should Be Planned Now

It's surely now too early to plan those Christmas packages for the servicemen. Postal specifications have not altered; a package must not exceed 36 inches in length and girth combined, and must not weigh more than five pounds. No foodstuffs or other perishable material will be permitted. Mailing must take place between September 15 and October 15.

Considerable ingenuity is necessary to conform to these regulations and still create a worthwhile and attractive gift package. So Post Offices and shops urge that planning begin now. There is some comfort in the thought that Americans in distant places will be pleased by gifts that may seem a bit trite here. Selections should not be delayed and should be useful. Something that signifies "home" should be included and early standees in the Post Office after September 15, are requested.

Bicycle Club Holds Run

Last Sunday morning the Belleville Bicycle club held a club run to Denville, and on the return journey ran off a 15 mile race on the highways back to West Caldwell.

This is the first race in a series of four to decide the road champions in junior and senior divisions. Ed Litig and Bob Schenkenburger crossed the line together in the senior division, and Litig won the race-off. Bob Arnot got third.

George Ward, newest member, took the junior division race from Russ Wille. Next Sunday morning the club is riding to Nyack, and will again hold a race on the return journey.

Belleville Soldiers Show 'Em Teamwork At Crowder

Diamond Enthusiasts Bat It Out For Army Championship

Softball teamwork works as well at Camp Crowder, Mo. as it does in Belleville according to results of the 2nd Army Softball championship which was won two weeks ago by the 114th Signal Radio Intelligence company there. Five members of the team were Belleville men: Pvt. Sam Cifrodella, T 5 John Pico, Pfc. Don Picoline, Pvt. Thomas Burns, Pvt. Adolph Faul and Pfc. Marty Burns. A cup was presented to the squad, whose other members are men from Indiana, Connecticut, Illinois, California and an East Orange man, by Col. Coe, whose comments gave recognition to the significance of the teamwork employed.

An account in a Missouri newspaper points out that the 114th and their opponents, the 17th Signal Operation battalion, were hot in the fourth game of the play-off series. The third game, which should have decided the championship, was called for darkness after ten scoreless innings. The final game was won in the first half of the seventh inning. Pfc. Burns and Cifrodella were cited for batting in the first game when the former made two singles in two times and the latter two out of four.

Pvt. Cifrodella writes that the team was further handicapped by being on maneuvers when the league started. They had to play every other night for a time to catch up. They won ten games and lost one previous to the play-offs. Besides the players, 25 other Belleville men are stationed at the camp.

Last fall, Pfc. Paul Byrnes, Picoline and Burns and Technicians fifth grade Pico and Engel were members of the 114th's successful basketball team.

BUY UNITED STATES WAR SAVINGS BONDS OR STAMPS

Against Socialized Medicine

A bill which, if enacted into law, would destroy the private practice of medicine in the United States, is one introduced last June by Senator Wagner of New York and Senator Murray of Montana. It provides for a sum of over $3,000,000,000 raised in taxation mostly on workers earning less than $5,000 a year to be controlled and disbursed by one man—the Surgeon General, to dispense medical care by the government.

He would have the power and authority to hire doctors and establish rates of pay, possibly for all doctors. He would establish fee schedules for services and qualifications for specialists. He would determine the number of individuals for whom any physician may provide service. He would determine arbitrarily what hospitals or clinics may provide service for patients for an estimated 110,000,000 people.

This bill, called Senate Bill 1161 provides for placing in the hands of one man—the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service—a sum three times the amount of the normal non-war expenditure of Japan and approximately equal to the pre-war expenditure of the government of the French Republic.

Under the American system, American medicine—American doctors—have developed the most effective and most widely distributed medical care that has ever been provided for any comparable number of people anywhere at any time. Under the proposed plan doctors would be paid by the government and presumably would work on an eight hour day instead of the round-the-clock — schedule established by so many. There would be little incentive for the doctor to become skilled in medical practice since his advancement would more often than not, depend on his influence with politicians rather than on his skill or the character of his work.

State medicine and political control of medical service always have and always will develop doctors who are politically amenable, who cater to the ward committeeman or to the precinct captain rather than to the needs of human beings who are their patients. For the doctor, political control of medical care means the forfeiture of self-respect and professional deterioration.

It is understood that if the medical profession is regimented, it will represent a decisive step forward toward establishing centralized federal control of all the professions and of all industry. The processes proposed and the mechanisms indicated are designed to act as the catalyst in transforming a rapidly expanding Federal bureaucracy into an all powerful totalitarian state control. War time fervor and preoccupation and war time confusion are being used to obscure the true meaning of the moves. The issue is being forced. The settlement will be final. Doctors and the public—informed, understanding—unified—must be the decisive factor in defeating this measure.

Stand Up And Holler

Just as little business has the advantage of larger enterprise in its greater flexibility and ability to keep its trigger finger on the controls at all times, the taxpayer also wields the greatest influence in his own municipality.

The more remote administration becomes, as in state and national government, the less chance the individual has of being considered or even heeded, even though he, through his vote, helped put those officials in office.

Example in New Jersey is the fact that budget-makers in more than 560 municipalities trimmed local government costs for this year to a point where they register a reduction of more than $9,000,000. What happened in the counties? Costs rose over $1,000,000 for the same period.

Economy like charity, has to begin at home. But it doesn't follow that it has to stay there. The same principals of watchful spending that prompt the townspeople to attend commission meetings and probe into expenditures during budget time can be carried through public curiosity, into county, state and national expenditures.

Naturally, individual voices will be lost in the far reaches of state and national control, but the demands of alert organizations can and must be heeded. The taxpayer has a two-fold job which doesn't stop with his contribution to tax collecting coffers. It is equally his job to act in an organized way to make certain that his money is not wasted on government frills and extravagances.

Committees on public spending are being formed throughout the state under the auspices of the New Jersey Taxpayers association, to study local and county budgets and provide information on spending policies in all levels of government. Properly handled, they could do much to arouse a keener interest in government and awaken the individual to the realization that it is more imperative now than ever, that he shoulder his responsibility in making Democracy function.

LETTERS

Resident Gives Reasons For Relaxing School Entrance Age

From Louis Sussman
232 Division Avenue

To the Editor of The Times:

I solicit the use of your columns to appeal to the board of education of our school district concerning a matter of current importance and to appeal also to all parents of children who shall each the age of five between January 1st and June of next year, or the year after.

It is my understanding that the board of education of our district takes the position with reference to such children, that they shall not be admitted to a public school until the following Fall term. While the board of education is empowered by state law to make this decision, it is nevertheless unique among the cities and towns in this vicinity.

I do not question the wisdom of the board of education in excluding from school all children whose birthdays fall one or more days after December 31. My suggestion is that these are difficult times, requiring many changes in the status quo; and one such change is to admit children into the public schools as soon as they reach their fifth birthday. This can be a temporary measure, but I believe it would help considerably in the solution of many existing problems. I list below some of the arguments in favor of this policy.

Reasons Are Listed

1. There are many mothers who would be able to obtain and do work in local war-plants if they knew their children were at school rather than at home. The local area has a critical shortage of manpower, resulting in diminished war production. If additional women were released, it would be a great help to the local war production program.

2. The state law intended that all children start their schooling at the age of five. The reason for making a deadline, (December 31) for their entrance date was to avoid school admissions at all times during the year. In my opinion, these admissions at various times should be permitted in the first class; with the pupil's right to promotion at the end of the school year based upon an aptitude test of each individual pupil.

3. Other communities, large and small, invite the attendance in the kindergarten class, of children as young as four years. This is not permitted here, to my understanding. I believe the school systems of our neighboring cities, and their products are at least equally as good as our own—and that therefore we would not be amiss in following their policy in this respect.

There are many other reasons, equally strong and urgent, why it would be advisable at this time to lower, at least temporarily, the admitting time of children to their fifth birthday, regardless of the day it falls upon; or even earlier. These reasons are too voluminous to list in this letter.

There is also the matter of fairness. I know of one mother whose child was refused admission because he was so unfortunate as to be born a day or two after the December 31 deadline. That child had to wait until the following September.

I urge the members of the board of education of our district to reflect upon this matter. I also invite the letters of all parents who agree with me that this situation could stand some betterment, so that together we may discuss the entire subject with the board of education, with a view to changing its mind and its policy in the direction suggested.

Labor Shortage Big Problem For Laundry Establishments

After a brief vacation let-down, according to the American Institute of Laundering, the resumption of school and other business and activities will cause a tremendous pile-up of soiled clothing throughout the nation. The labor shortage will have to be remedied before the problem can be solved, since this is the acute need of the laundry operator.

The Belleville Laundry here, in spite of its elimination of all extra services such as the hand finishing of women's and children's dresses and suits and laundering curtains, was forced to close the plant for a week's mechanical repairs and much needed vacations this summer. Established here for 21 years, the plant is operated by John R. Carrough, president and treasurer, George A. Taylor is vice-president and secretary. It is located at 137 Ralph street.

An exodus of employees, of course, of the tie-up. Only men's shirts, slacks and a limited number of uniforms are completely finished in the laundry. All pieces that cannot be mangled are sent home unironed.

Last statistics of the laundering institute showed that 650 establishments have been forced to close throughout the nation. The government has declared in many areas that laundries are locally needed and the industry has proposed that workers be recruited for them by the United States Employment Service.

Broad Expanse of Work In Health Department

It Tabulates Among Other Things, Results Of Child Health Program

The health department report for 1942 released this week by Health Officer Eugene Berry, shows the broad expanse of its work which includes tabulation of births, deaths, marriages, communicable diseases, milk supply and other related statistics. But not the least by any means is the report of the child hygiene program accomplished by five registered nurses working under the state department of health.

These public health nurses in the interests of infant care and training, have made approximately 13,400 home visits during 1942, in addition to being in attendance at the four weekly baby clinics.
They have taken part in the examination of 22,181 school youngsters including the annual physicals those tracing down suspected contagious and check-ups. They have given 125 demonstrations on baby care to Mothers. This program has grown to its present size in the last 18 years after the board of health adopted in 1924, a resolution establishing a child hygiene program which was instituted at that time with the services of two nurses.

The baby clinics are held in four locations weekly. There is one at town hall and another at School
No. 3 on Thursday afternoons; the Silver Lake Community house has one on Wednesdays and School
No. 2 on Tuesdays. In all, 1,368 babies were examined during the year. The nurses are the Misses Ethel Akerston, Angele Chapman, Helen Gelsenan, Mary Miller, all of town and Esther Olson of Newark, new this year.

Adults are visited by representatives of the Visiting Nurse association of Newark. Further, aid is given High school students by Miss Alice MacKenzie and the Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis association employs a nurse, Mrs.
Ernest Whyall of Nutley. Mrs.
Whyall has replaced Miss Elizabeth Smith, who had served in that capacity for 11 years and who resigned last March because of ill health.

Death Rate Up Slightly

Getting into statistics, the death rate for 1942 was determined at 7.54 per 1,000 population on an estimated population of 29,845 with total deaths for the year reported at 225. This is a slight in-

High Mass Of Requiem Said For Joseph G. Breen

ville avenue died Friday in St.

spector. Mr. Breen was born in Newark. His brother, the late John Breen, was an undertaker here for many years.
Survivors are his wife, Mrs.
Winifred Quigley Breen; a daughter, Miss Catherine R. Breen, both of the Belleville avenue address; and two sons, Pfc. Joseph A. Breen, stationed in Texas and Sgt. John F. Breen, overseas. A solemn high mass of requiem was offered Monday morning in St.
Peter's church and interment was made in St. Peter's cemetery.
The funeral was arranged by the Kiernan Funeral home.

Services For Orlando D'Amadio

Orlando D'Amadio of 35 Harrison street, who died Saturday after a five year illness, was buried in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Bloomfield yesterday. A solemn high mass of requiem was offered in St. Anthony's Church.
Mr. D'Amadio was 56. He came to this country from Italy 30 years ago and had lived here, where he operated a grocery business, for 15 years. Previous to that he resided in Bloomfield.
A veteran of World War I during which he served with the 77th division, he was a member of Bloomfield Post, American Legion.
Mr. D'Amadio is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emilia D'Amadio, two sons, Oswald and Olindo D'Amadio, and a daughter, Miss Olga D'Amadio, all of this town.

Union Cafe Withdraws Proposal; Laterza Move Gets Nod

Settlement of the objections read at the last commission meeting to moving the location of the Union Cafe Inc., 538 Union avenue and the Laterza tavern, 575

Belleville avenue was affected on Tuesday night by the owners of the properties involved.

James Debonis of 67 Little street, proprietor of the Union Cafe who had sought permission to move his tavern across the street to 545 Union avenue, informed Town Clerk Florence Morey he had abandoned his proposal due to the 25 objections by residents in the area and the statement by the commissioners that his request would not be granted.

However, at the public hearing held after the commission meeting, for the Laterza company which proposed to move to 380 Belleville avenue, a petition from 28 residents in the immediate vicinity was submitted which stated that they had no objection to the new location. Since no objectors were present in spite of the fact that Mrs. Morey had sent them letters informing them of their right to appear in protest at the hearing, the board unanimously approved the move.

W & T GIVES TWO-FOLD SERVICE

Remembers Armed Forces, Installs Aids For Present Workers

Detailed plans for remembering Wallace and Tiernan employees now in service and a variety of services available to present employees to facilitate handling of household matters and thereby cut down on absenteeism have been worked out by the W & T war efforts committee.

In addition to the recent contributions to the local American Legion record drive and the Bauls for Buddies to Barter, the war efforts committee has functioned since the drafting of men began. By means of a voluntary 10 cent a week income from employees there the committee is able to keep in constant touch with former employees in service who now number 410. Together with a monthly printed bulletin, which gives each man in service the latest news and reprints from the letters of fellow servicemen, the committee mails a package whose contents vary from cookies and writing paper to toothpaste and shaving essentials. Recently blackout pencils were sent them and out of the enormous number shipped only five packages have failed to reach their destination. Where mailing restrictions are so great that only a tiny package can reach the soldier or sailor the value of the article is put aside in war stamp purchases in his name.

Letters are continually pouring in to the plant and are first posted in the department where the writer formerly worked with a notation to the present employees to get letters off to him. The letters are then posted on the main bulletin board. A continual file of changing addresses is kept so that workers have no excuse for neglecting to write a man in service.

Has 70 Members

The war efforts committee has 70 members and thereby one representative to each 15 persons employed by the firm. It works not only for the servicemen but for Wallace and Tiernan company employees themselves. A check service is maintained for them whereby they can leave with the personnel department money with which they wish to pay household bills and other items which, if paid in person, cause time to be wasted from work and contribute to absenteeism. Under this service employees may, conveniently leave deposits for their banks with company clerks. A nearby gas station cooperates on repairs to employees cars during their working hours. A representative spends an hour at the plant every day to receive instructions from owners who need their cars serviced and repaired and then drives them to the station where the work is done.

The committee stimulates War bond and stamp sales and high production activity among the workers so that the Army and Navy E pennant and the Minute Man flag for bond purchases both earned by the plant may be kept flying. Elwood P. Russell represents all employees other than union workers on the committee and Marty Walker, union employee.

PAW Declares Conversion At High School Not Necessary

Good news, putting "in abeyance" the Petroleum Administration's order to convert the high school from fuel oil to coal heating was announced at Monday night's board of education meeting by school board president, Herbert C. Schmutz. The conversion which had cost $16,000 Schmutz said.

The letter from J. F. Downey, PAW representative, gave authorization for the Belleville war price and rationing board to issue fuel oil coupons for the institution. Instrumental in obtaining the assurance that the high school would not be obliged to convert at least for this year, was the set of photographs of the elaborate oil heating system which was sent to the PAW with the application for waiving conversion requirements, Schmutz stated.

Only school to be heated by fuel oil, the elementary schools were also closed for a 12 day period last February, because of lack of adequate storage space for coal, the supply of which was scarce at that time. The closings merely took the place of the usual Spring vacation, however.

EXCHANGE B & C

State of registration. This, it was explained, is to prevent the unauthorized use of a lost or stolen ration book.

"B" and "C" book holders who are on a vacation which will keep them away from home beyond September 1 may go to the local board immediately upon return and exchange their currently valid "B" and "C" coupons for the new type. It was pointed out that such persons will not be using occupational "B" and "C" coupons for vacation driving, and will not need the new coupons until they return to resume occupational driving.

Persons away from home on business between August 23 and September 1 may go to the nearest local board and make the exchange of coupons upon satisfying the board that they cannot make the exchange at their home board before September 1.

Possessors of currently valid bulk coupons must take them to the local board before September 1. The board will issue in exchange a gasoline deposit certificate or other gasoline ration coupons of appropriate gallonage.

DAY NURSERY

Dreyfuss made his appeal this week after Dr. Ellen Potter, chairman of the state child care committee had made a report to him and Mrs. Richard S. Bethell, Deputy Director in charge of Community War Services. Dr. Potter said in her report that "unless radical changes take place in the Selective Service program for the next several months, there is every reason to believe that large numbers of fathers of young children will be drafted into the Armed services."

Allotments Insufficient

"In the industrial centers this will leave mothers with young children and the allotment from the government and from the soldier-husband will not be sufficient to maintain them as the cost of living and rents spiral upward."

Many of these young mothers will seek employment to maintain themselves and their children."

Dr. Potter also pointed out that another responsibility that should rest upon both the child care committee locally and the Parent-Teacher associations, is to encourage adolescents to go back to school this fall. She pointed out that young people 16 years old and younger have been gainfully employed this summer and are now unwilling to forego the income they have been receiving to return to their desks in school rooms.

"Failure to profit by educational opportunities now will certainly handicap these young people," Dreyfuss said. "To gain a comparatively few dollars now will not compensate for the loss they will suffer in the years to come through the lack of a basic education. All the education they can get now will be needed to meet the opportunities that lie ahead in the great industrial development of this country which certainly will take place when this war is over."

Dreyfuss said the child care committees have a "real responsibility and duty" to see to it that every provision is made for caring for the children of working mothers, particularly the pre-school children. With the opening of schools, he pointed out school children will be looked after by teachers during the school hours. Programs for the care of the children of pre-school and age for the care of the school children after school hours should be made as soon as possible.

He pointed out that the child care unit of the Office of Civilian Defense Director is ready to give detailed advice and counsel on these matters and also to give every assistance in setting up the centers.

Dr. Potter reported that word has been received from Washington that the Federal Works agency has approved the child care program for Bayonne and has allocated $16,818 in funds for the project. The Ashbury Park program with an allocation of $5,380 for six months has also been approved, Dr. Potter said.

COMMUNICATIONS ARE VITAL IN WAR

F. T. R. Shows How, At Exhibit To Interest Women In Work

A colorful picture of the vital part communications equipment is playing in the fighting of the war was the background for the stage of the Victory Theatre, Military Park, Newark, on Monday, where women workers of Federal Telephone and Radio corporation, manufacturing associate of International Telephone and Telegraph corporation, produced radio receiving, telephone and cable equipment.

Federal, with plants throughout Newark and vicinity, is presenting the show in cooperation with the War Manpower Commission for the purpose of interesting women in war industries. Men are welcome, too.

A feature of the week's presentation is a display of the new all-in-one marine radio unit, a cabinet housing radio equipment, which is being installed in the Maritime Commission's Liberty Fleet ships. For initiating, proposing and developing the idea of a single unit for a ship's radio room, Federal Telephone and Radio corporation, was awarded the Maritime Commission's "M" Pennant and Victory Fleet Flag last December. Recently, the commission recognized Federal's continued outstanding production achievement by awarding the corporation its first gold star to be added to the "M" Pennants now flying over FTR plants.

Convertible Telephone

Also on display is the new convertible telephone as developed by Federal's telephone division for export, particularly for Latin America. Instruments of this type have been designed for rural use, making possible the installation of attractive sets in place of the old wooden type of set which long has been used in rural telephone service. The telephone division has, in addition, a dual purpose telephone set that may be used either on desk or wall merely by setting the set's cradle in proper position.

The contribution of FTR's selenium rectifier division to the show is a display of its product. By means of selenium Rectifiers, alternating current is converted into direct current.

Actual production is taking place in the Victory Theatre during the week of FTR's occupancy. Girls assemble, wire and solder decibel switches that function in the measurement of sound on radio receivers designed for war use. Other girls show the assembly of a resistor and condenser board which is another important unit of radio receivers designed for war use.

FTR's intelin division, which produces cables and wires for radio and telephone equipment, has moved a braiding machine into the theatre. Using hair-like copper wire, this machine braids the wire into insulated cables. Another operation shows how cables are formed on long, especially designed forms.

At noon, Friday, FTR workers will be on the air. In a special broadcast at noon over Station WAAT originating at the theatre, they will be interviewed regarding their present jobs and the type of work they did before they went into the production of war materials in FTR plants.

ESTIMATED INCOME

debut in 1942. The computations and entries which this simplified declaration method requires should be matters of about five minutes for a large portion of the taxpayers by whom declarations will have to be submitted, the officials said. For those who desire to make a more precise computation, or who have an income of more than $10,000, detailed worksheets may be secured from the Collector upon request.

Persons required to file the declarations are generally: 1. The recipients this year or last year of gross incomes from wages subject to withholding in excess of $2,700 for single persons or $3,500 for married couples; 2. Those who have incomes this year, or had incomes last year, requiring the filing of a return, with more than $100 of these incomes derived from sources other than wages subject to withholding; 3. Those required to file an income tax return on 1942 incomes and whose wages subject to withholding for 1943 are reasonably expected to be less than their similar wages for 1942.

Credits Taken

Where the declarations show an estimated tax liability for 1943 in excess of credits, half of the excess is to be sent to the Collector of Internal Revenue along with the declaration, and the other half remitted on or before December 15. Credits to be taken on the declaration include withholdings and the payments, if any, made to Collectors on March 15 and June 15 this year on account of 1942 income taxes. The withholdings to be credited include those, if any, made by employers of the Victory Tax for the first half of the year, before the new withholding system went into effect, plus those made since July 1 under the new system.

Treasury statisticians have calculated that about 15,000,000 persons with tax liability for 1943 will be required to file the declaration.

Many of the people who must file declarations will be professional workers, such as lawyers and doctors. Many more will be persons operating their own business establishments. Another large class of people who must file the declaration are those with earnings on which there is a liability reaching into the upper surtax brackets, and therefore not fully covered by withholding. There will be many also from persons with combination income, such as wages, on which taxes are withheld, plus interest, dividends or rents, to which withholding does not apply.

File Amendment

If correction of the September 15 estimate of any taxpayer becomes necessary, an amended declaration may be filed on or before December 15, and the proper adjustment in adjustment in payments made. Declarations are to be sent by September 15 to the Collector of Internal Revenue in whose district the taxpayer expects to file his final income tax return for 1943 next year.

In the case of taxpayers deriving 80 percent or more of their gross income from farming, filing of declarations is not required until December 15, at which time the full unpaid balance of the estimated tax must be paid. They may, however, file on September 15 if they wish and pay their estimated tax in two installments—September 15 and December 15.

The Current Tax Payment Act provides a penalty for a substantial understatement of the tax due. However, it was pointed out by the Treasury, no one who makes his estimate carefully need incur this penalty. The privilege of filing an amended declaration on or before December 15 is a safeguard of this score.

Eventually, operation of the withholding system plus the declaration system will make all individual income taxpayers substantially current. That is to say each individual income taxpayer will pay his taxes during the year in which the income is received. Under the old income tax law, payment of an individual's tax for any given year's income was delayed to the year following.

Thousands of men and women at the Kearny Works of Western Electric are answering this call. Their Army-Navy E Flag shows they have served their country well.

But more and more of our men are joining the armed forces each week. They must be replaced—by women.

Ways To Can Tomatoes

Everyone realizes the high nutritive value of tomatoes, and fortunately they are so easily canned that every pantry shelf can be well-stocked with them this winter. If there should be a shortage of fruits commonly eaten as a source of vitamin C, the faithful tomato will take care of that requirement in the daily diet.

In order to provide a supply of tomatoes and tomato juice ample enough to serve either one or the other three times a week, you will need to plan on canning 20 quarts for each member of the family. One bushel of tomatoes, weighing 56 pounds, will fill about 15 quarts.

Select only sound, firm, but thoroughly ripened tomatoes for canning. It is better to use spotted or decayed fruits on the table immediately than to risk spoiling a whole jar of food. If you want to can whole tomatoes, select medium-sized ones that will slide through the jar opening easily.

Tomatoes may be canned either by the hot-pack or the cold-pack method, but in each instance the fruit must be washed and scalded to loosen the skin. Place eight or 10 tomatoes in a shallow wire basket or in a large square of cheesecloth by which they can be lowered into boiling water for a minute or less—depending upon the ripeness of the fruit. Then plunge them quickly into cold water, drain, peel, and core them, being careful to remove every bit of the core.

Cold-packed Tomatoes

The greatest amount of vitamin C is retained by this method, because all of the cooking is done within the jar in the absence of air. On the other hand, to allow for the shrinkage of the food as it is processed, the cold tomatoes should be packed very tightly. Pressing each tomato down firmly into the jar with a spoon will leave only a few spaces to be filled with hot tomato juice. Add one teaspoon of salt to each quart. Remove bubbles of air by running a knife down the inside of the jar and see that the jars are filled to within one-half inch of the top.

Seal the jars according to the manufacturer's instructions and process them for 35 minutes in a hot water bath. Or process them in a heat-regulated oven set at 250 degrees Fahrenheit for 60 minutes.

Hot-packed Tomatoes

Jars of tomatoes canned by this method are always well-filled, because the tomatoes are boiled three minutes before they are packed into the sterile jars. Fill the jars with the hot tomatoes whole or quartered, and add one teaspoon of cooking salt per quart. Remove air bubbles. Seal the jars according to the type closure and process in a hot water bath five minutes or in a heat-controlled oven set at 250 degrees Fahrenheit for 15 minutes.

This method is similar to open kettle canning, with the addition of the short processing period which takes care of any micro-organisms spooned into the jar.

Tomato Juice

Tomatoes to be used for juice should be washed well, but the skins should be left on. Cut the tomatoes into quarters or eighths, removing all the green core. Simmer slowly (at 170 to 180 degrees Fahrenheit) until softened. Work with only one or two gallons of tomatoes at a time, to prevent any fruit or juice from being exposed to the air for long periods.

Some cooks like to add herbs (a crumbled bay leaf, a pinch of thyme or marjoram, some celery seed) to the tomatoes in the first cooking period if the juice is to be used as an appetizer. Spices, however, should not be added until the juice is served, because they discolor it and change the flavor undesirably.

Rub the softened tomatoes through a sieve or food mill. Re-heat the juice at once to 190 degrees Fahrenheit, which is just below boiling. A candy thermometer will help you to determine this temperature accurately.

Bottles, jars, covers, and bottle caps should be sterilized for 10 minutes before they are filled. Put one teaspoon of salt in each quart container and fill it to the very top. Seal the bottles or jars immediately and process for five minutes in a hot water bath, or for 15 minutes in a heat-regulated oven set at 250 degrees Fahrenheit.

Vitamin-Rich Meatless Dish

Plentiful in the market now are green peppers and, when they are tastily stuffed, they will appeal to your family as the stuff of meatless meals. The stuffing which follows calls for no meat and is yet substantial.

Rice Stuffed Green Peppers

6 green peppers
3 tablespoons bacon fat
2 tablespoons minced onion
3 cups cooked rice
1 cup tomato juice
1 teaspoon salt
few drops tabasco sauce
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1/4 cup buttered crumbs
1/4 cup grated cheese
Paprika

Wash and hollow out peppers; parboil in slightly salted water for three minutes. Invert to drain. Heat fat, add onion and cook slowly until tender, about 5 minutes. Stir in rice, and add tomato juice, seasonings and parsley. Fill peppers. Combine crumbs and cheese and sprinkle over tops. Dust with paprika and bake in a greased pan in moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 25 minutes or until nicely browned.

Cover Crops

By Dr. Charles H. Connors,
N. J. College of Agriculture

Plans and preparations for next year's Victory Garden should now be under way. You should be saving compost and also be on the lookout for a supply of stable manure. Crops on those soils which were amply supplied with organic matter have not suffered as much during the drought through which we have just passed as those on soils deficient in organic matter.

One conservation measure that every gardener can follow is to use a winter cover crop. This practice has many advantages. A winter cover crop will take up and hold fertilizer elements that might be lost through leaching. These would be conserved and returned to use when the cover crop is turned under and decays. If a cover crop is used that is of the pea family, as vetch or clover, it will add materially to the nitrogen supply of the soil because these plants are able, through the assistance of bacteria in the root roots, to take nitrogen from the air and fix it in their tissue, to be added to the soil upon decay. There is an advantage to having something growing upon the soil in winter as this crop will prevent soil erosion either by wind or by water. A cover crop will also add to the organic content in the soil.

How much organic matter it will add depends upon the kind of crop grown, when it was planted (as this governs the total growth), and when it is turned under. For instance, if rye is sown in early September, it will make a good growth before winter sets in, while if planted in October, the growth will not be so great. Of course, such crops will develop a little during mild spells in winter. In the spring, growth will be rapid. If it must be turned under for a crop to be planted by April 1, it will not attain the size, nor supply as much organic matter as if it were left to grow two or three weeks longer. However, turning under a cover crop six or eight inches high will have an appreciable effect upon the soil composition because most garden soils are deficient in organic matter.

What to Use

The kind of crop to sow requires some consideration. Most gardeners pin their faith on rye or wheat. However, if sowing can be done in September, hairy vetch can be mixed with the rye or wheat to good advantage. The vetch will add nitrogen to the soil and often the bulk of green matter to turn under will be greater than for rye or wheat alone. If hairy vetch has not been grown on the soil before it will be necessary to inoculate the seeds, before sowing, with the suitable bacteria. The inoculant can be purchased from most seedsmen.

If rye or wheat alone is used, the quantity required will be two quarts for a garden 25 by 50 feet or 1,250 square feet. If a mixture of rye or hairy vetch is to be used, sow one quart of rye and one-half pound of previously inoculated hairy vetch on the 1,250 square feet.

Ryegrass, either domestic or Italian, is an excellent cover crop as it develops a deep root system and a tough sod. If ryegrass is used, the rate of sowing is three pounds to 1,250 square feet.

When to Sow

There comes a time in late summer when the only reason for cultivating in the garden is to keep the soil loose. On farms it is often the practice to sow a cover crop in corn at the last cultivation, or, as they say in the South, when the corn is "laid by." So in the vegetable garden, the cover crop may be broadcast and "cultivated in" almost any time after August, and the earlier in September it can be sown the more growth will be made. However, it is not wise to use it or nicotine dust, if used faithfully, will control them. The tomato horn worm can be picked off and stepped on. He is big enough to make a nice "squash." The Mexican bean beetle is still out in force. Rotenone as a spray or dust is the best control.

Newark Defeated By 5-2
Score By E. Orange On Thursday

Newark of the Suburban League, formerly the Pittsburgh Minor League, were defeated 5-2 by East Orange last Thursday evening at Soverel Field. With this loss went all chance for the Minors to participate in the playoffs. Sunday Newark, with all five of its best players absent, dropped an 8-3 decision to Brooklyn at Poley Field, that city. Newark still holds in fifth place.

The two runs in Thursday's game with East Orange were accounted for by hits made by Leo O'Reilly and Paul Drexler. East Orange scored freely as a result of John Young's pitching. With one homer recorded till Thursday, O'Reilly and Drexler's hits almost made a record.

Newark's players, who appeared in the All-star game, John Bingle, pitcher, Ray Gregory, catcher, Ken DeVito, infielder and Bill Lister, outfielder, decided not to appear Sunday with the result that Newark struggled to an 8-3 loss. Newark has one more league game scheduled and will then play outside ball next month. The Millburn B. C. and Vaux Hall Colored Stars have been engaged in preseason games.

The "Minors" received V mail letters of greeting last week from Cpl. Mel Bekney and Lt. Bill Harbough in Sicily, Lt. James Lynch, a censor in North Africa; Jack Hardell in New Caledonia and Paul Merck in London. All are former players.
