

DRAFT STATUS IS NOT AFFECTED BY WORKING WIVES

Mobilization Committee Sees Obstacle To Recruitment Overcome

"If a wife is physically able to work and there is work to be done, the fact that she is or is not working will have no bearing on the husband's deferment from military service. It is a wholly mistaken idea that simply because a wife is not working, the husband's induction will be delayed."

This assurance was given this week by Col. E. N. Bloomer, State Director of Selective Service. Members of the recruitment committees in Essex, Hudson, and Union Counties of the Community Manpower Mobilization Committee heaved sighs of relief in unison when this interpretation of the Selective Service regulations was made public.

The workers in the war job headquarters throughout the Newark industrial area were likewise jubilant for, while they knew of the regulations, they lacked an official interpretation with which to answer the chief complaint from women applicants for war jobs.

"It is not pleasant to think that the lives of our fighting men may be sacrificed because of pure selfishness and a 'let George do it' attitude on the part of married women, who, after all, have the most to lose. Our military forces can advance only as fast as the needed supplies are received by them."

The manpower situation today is such that it may be said that women who can work but don't are prolonging the war. Women, through working in essential industries, can help shorten the war and thereby save the lives of our fighting men. Can one think of more patriotic service?"

"The problem of manpower shortage is so very serious as to cause our keenest interest in the efforts of the Community Manpower Mobilization committee for the recruitment of war workers for the industries of the Newark area and it is to be hoped that the results will fully meet the industrial needs of the area and prove a tribute to the patriotism of the women of that area."

It is to be hoped too that the response will be with the kind of spirit that will act as an incentive to the women of the other communities of the state to do what has to be done that victory be assured within the shortest time possible. As I have said before, the smarter, more provident, and patriotic women who are able are already working or are in training in industries essential to the war."

A progress report was made Tuesday by the child care committee of the community war services division of the Defense council to the board of education, which has under consideration sponsorship of a child care so that federal funds for it may be obtained.

Mrs. Morris Rochlin heads the child care committee which made its report of the survey which has just been completed to Charles Gebhardt, of the board of education. The figures resulting from the tabulation of questionnaires which were filled in by 135 Belleville residents between September 9 and 14 have not been made public. The committee, along with its report, has sent a request to the board of education for an appointment to meet with that body.

Children in the elementary schools and St. Peter's school received these questionnaires to deliver to their parents. In addition Belleville health nurses have agreed to put a form in the hands of each mother of pre-school age children. Their returns have not been made as the nurses take a month to complete round of all their clients. Additional forms are available at the office of the Community Service bureau, the office of the superintendent of schools in school No. 8, the community manpower mobilization committee at 136 Washington avenue and The Times office.

Several such surveys have been conducted by the committee for its own information, for the town and for the manufacturers who have at various times shown interest in the plan. Last year's report, made with the cooperation of industries, netted 300 returns. The committee is in its second year of effort to establish a full time nursery which would give pre-school children all-day care while their mothers work and provide outside-of-school hours supervision for older children up to 14.

Turn-about For Officer Finn, Up On Speeding Charge

Defended By Town Counsel Before Recorder, He Was Arranged By Own Defendant

A situation worthy of a Thorne Smith yarn developed in Police court last night when on-lookers were treated to the unusual experience of seeing Police Officer William Finn, defended by Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan, appear before Recorder Everett Smith on a charge of speeding.

The irate complainant perpetrating this state of affairs was Albert Doe of Neptune, who, tagged by the officer patrolling Washington avenue on September 11 for doing 45 miles an hour, did a turn-about and clocked the law enforcer at 48.

Finn, who has been mulling over the strange twists of fate since he was informed of the charge made against him a week ago, stood up well under the "gruelling" by the Judge and, with the aid of counsel, demonstrated that he was acting in the "line of duty." Business was heavy that day, and he had started chase after another offender when Doe's clocking was going on, he said.

The Judge, sifting the facts in orderly fashion, questioned the complainant on the condition of his speedometer, the streets between which he clocked the officer, and other pertinent information.

Doe, defendant a week ago, who had turned over $10 as a fine on Finn's charges, maintained that he had kept a constant speed between Hancox avenue and Greylock parkway, when the speedometer registered between 48 and 49 miles an hour. A thorough man, he testified further upon questioning, that since he was unable to have his speedometer checked properly at a service station, he had, at various times, checked his indicator with those of his friends. He had found a variation of no more than a mile or so.

Apparently unaware of the possibility of receiving a second ticket for violating the speed laws in his chase after Finn, the complainant was still complaining when the Judge ordered, "case dismissed."

BUILDERS APPLY FOR ZONE CHANGE

Delayed Action Will Be Presented To Commissioners On Tuesday Night

John F. Coogan, real estate consultant, will ask for an amendment to the zoning ordinance changing seven and a half acres of the Volkening tract from Residence B to C zone at Tuesday night's commission meeting. Retained by the Volkening estate, he will take action on behalf of Greylock Gardens incorporated, a building concern headed by Col. A. A. La Fountain of Teaneck, well-known and reputable contractor, who proposes to build a 108 unit garden-type apartment there.

Coogan, appearing at the last commission meeting, encountered opposition from Robert Gruhin, attorney, who resides in the Greylock section at 125 Bremond street, and who said he represented the residents of the area. Gruhin, not waiting for the formal presentation which Coogan at that time requested be laid over for two weeks, declared that Greylock Gardens is "trying by devious methods to infiltrate" and said that a first reading "should not be allowed."

After some discussion in which Commissioners King and Noll declared the matter, which had been voted down once before because of vigorous protests from residents in the area, should be settled that night, the board unanimously decided to allow a second presentation.

At the time the original project was voted down, a revised plan submitted by the builders to allay protests from residents, was not read. The present proposal for the tract which is situated on Washington avenue at Greylock parkway, would change only seven and a half acres of the 20 acre tract and none of the surrounding land would be altered in zone designation. The blind streets, Floyd and Beech, would remain undisturbed and a new street to be called Hillside avenue, would be contained within the development itself.

A full page of illustrations showing the project as it would look upon completion, the plot layout, the size of the rooms and pertinent facts of construction are contained in this issue on Page 4. Another page written by Coogan as consultant, presents more facts and answers objections which have been raised. This appears on page 5.

KIDS TAKE OVER SALVAGE, MAN TOWN TRUCKS

Whirlwind Collection Will Start Early Saturday; Cooperation Asked

An efficient, teen-age volunteer crew of high school boys, all Scouts, will swarm over the streets of town on Saturday in a whirlwind salvage collection led by four town trucks.

The kids offered their services early in the month when James Waters, road superintendent, declared that the manpower shortage had hit the Public Works department. Left with only enough men to drive the trucks, he appealed to Salvage Chairman Robert Sutherland who, obtained his helpers through the cooperation of Bart Johnson, high school principal, and John S. Charlton, Boy Scout Commissioner.

The kids are guaranteeing a whirlwind job, since they have been promised that the rounds will be finished in time for the opening football game of the season which begins at 2:30. They will gather at the town garage, William and Cortlandt streets Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, where they will man the trucks. By special arrangement with the O.C.I., they will be covered by insurance although some are under 14 years of age.

Residents are asked to cooperate with the salvage brigade by having their contributions on the curb not later than 8 o'clock Saturday morning. The volunteers are William Nutter, 71 Bremond street; Robert Hoff, 205 Main street; James Hollander, 159 Main street; Richard Peterson, 260 New street; Francis Plumeau, 79 Bridge street; Samuel Amosetta, 82 Columbus avenue; Maurice Street, Shepherd place; Nutley, who volunteered to accompany a Belleville pal; Walter Geppner, 86 Bridge street; Walter Medema, 20 De Witt avenue; Richard Meyer, 52 Columbus avenue, and Robert Seiler, 73 Liberty avenue.

September Contingent Leaves For Army Training

The September contingent of Army draftees left for Fort Dix yesterday morning after brief ceremonies in the high school auditorium, in which Edward Lister and Arthur E. Mayer, Lions club members, presented each of the boys with plastic identification tag holders as gifts of the club. The American Legion color guard was also in attendance to lend a patriotic air.

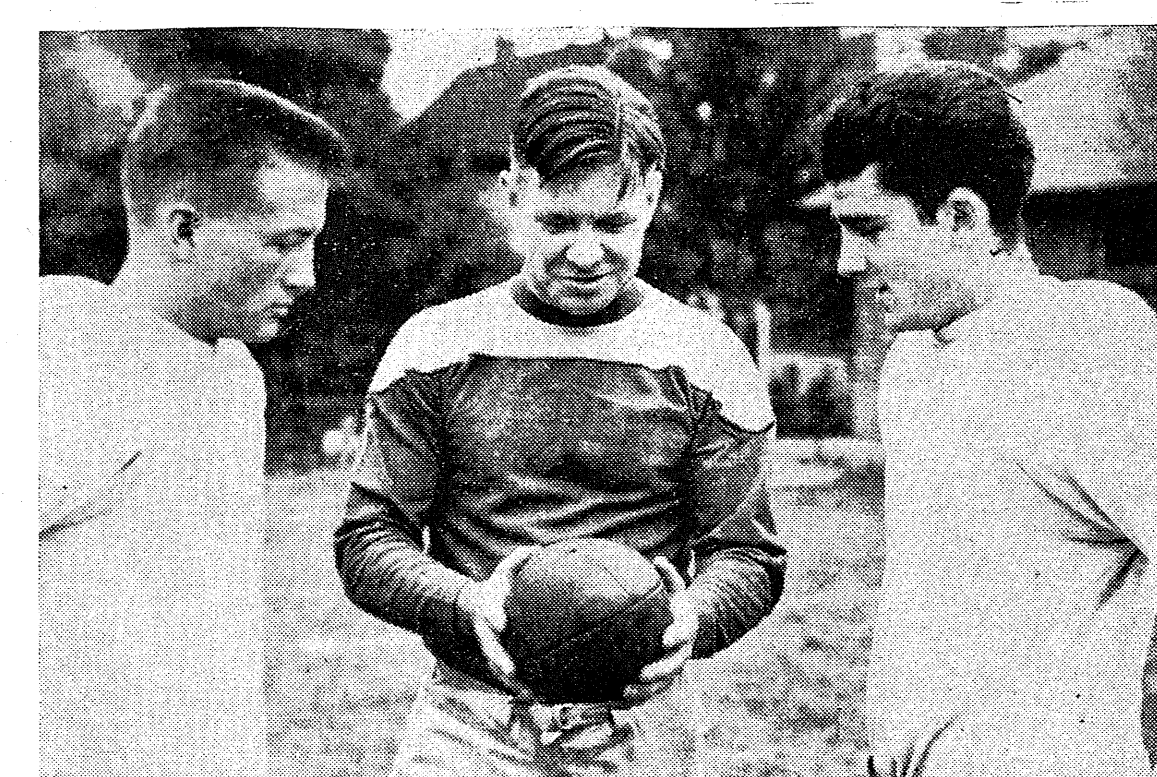

C. Henry Rabb, First National Cashier, Recuperating

After a nine-day stay in St. Elizabeth hospital, Elizabeth C. Henry Rabb, cashier of the First National Bank, is recuperating at his home in Union from complications following X-ray treatment for a spleen condition. His doctor thinks he will be able to return to work next Monday.

"I enjoyed last week's issue of 'The Times'," writes Mr. Rabb, "and read every letter from the service men acknowledging receipt of the publication, 'Belleville Today.' Evidently the boys are most anxious to see familiar scenes and faces from their home town."

Third War Loan Hits Stride With Over $550,000 Purchased In Second Week

"Abracadabra, Abracadabra!"

NO CRYSTAL BALL, the pigskin at which the trio above, is gazing, will hold however, the brunt of the Bellboy fortunes this season. They invade Clearman Field on Saturday in the opening clash with Barringer High of Newark. Jim Dunleavy, quarterback, to the right of Coach Bill Chapman, center, is the only returning first string varsity player in a squad of jayvee alumni. Walt Heinrich, left, a letterman will be at left end.

Bellboy Fortunes Hard To Foretell In Mixed Up Year

One First String Varsity Man 'Nucleus' For Barringer Opener

The traditional season for coon coats, laprobes and double jointed cheer leaders will be upset at Clearman Field this year as it will on all high school gridirons throughout the country. The pigskin clubs will be surprise packages with pre-season dopesters stymied on usual predictions.

Natural result of the draft, patriotic enlistments and war jobs, the outcome should be highly interesting. This should be particularly so for Bellboy rooters since Jim Dunleavy, quarterback is the only member of last year's varsity starting string in the "line-up" for the opening clash with Barringer at Clearman field at 2:30 on Saturday.

Coach Bill Chapman, successor to Larry Gates, has been putting his former Jayvee squad through daily workouts since Labor Day. Praising their fine spirit on the field, he said yesterday, that since the number of first stringmen returning to other grid teams on the Bellboy schedule is an unknown quantity, local fortune is hard to foresee.

With a medium weight line, Chapman has hopes for a fast backfield. They have received a setback however, with the loss of Tom DeFilippis, fullback, a veteran of the varsity squad who was injured in scrimmage a week ago and who will be out of play for the entire season. DeFilippis was under study for Jim Findlay, a quarterback on last year's eleven.

Chapman with his assistants, Frank Spotts and Herman Wische, is using the same system employed by Gates and has put the team through scrimmage with both Central High of Newark and North Arlington.

Joe Paganelli will replace DeFilippis at fullback in the back field, with Dunleavy at quarterback; Vic Jasquariello, a letter man at right half and Jim Petro, left half.

Friday morning assembly in the high school will be devoted to a football rally in preparation for the game. A rousing musical program by the band, directed by Robert Parker will be augmented with cheer practice. Captain of the cheer leaders is Bud Speyer. His crew consists of Donald Rochlin, Eddie King, Shirley Carpenter, Grace McConnell, Doris Dickerson, Marjorie Ramage and Betty Rae Brown. Miss Brown is assistant captain. Drum major is Ruth VanHorn and majorettes are Betty Rivoli, Ann Georgianna and Mary Ruist.

JR. ACHIEVEMENT SPONSORS MEET

Dinner Will Be Followed By Training Course At Kidde Plant

With the preliminary organization of Junior Achievement for Belleville completed, the central committee for the project will meet with chairman, Edgar S. Peierls, president of Resistoflex corporation, at Forest Hill Field club next Thursday evening, September 30.

A dinner meeting there will be followed by a training course for committee members and adult advisors of the proposed "junior companies" at the Walter Kidde plant. The rudiments of the entire mechanics by which the junior companies operate, sponsored and constantly advised by Belleville businessmen will be illustrated in this demonstration.

The plan was presented by Richard Boyd, state director of Junior Achievement, last spring to the committee whose members are Dr. Earl W. Seibert, vocational guidance director of Belleville schools; Robert W. Edgar, Jr. of Walter Kidde Co., Inc.; Seigfried Bart of Bart Laboratories; Rev. Oliver W. Chapin, pastor of Montgomery Presbyterian Church; Rev. Benedetto Pascale of Italian Baptist Church; Joan F. Coogan, Jr., real estate (Continued on Page Seven)

Belleville citizens and industries are getting into stride in the current U. S. Treasury appeal during this "Buy and Extra War Bond" month with a total of $550,000 already subscribed. Philip Dettelbach, local chairman, announced yesterday. This represents cash transactions, it is understood, for the amount pledged is far in excess of this figure.

Defense Coordinator Ronald Brunner who is receiving daily reports at central headquarters in town hall said that the half-million figure represents the payroll deductions not yet offset through the efforts of the industrial committee, over-the-counter sales of the issuing agents, the Peoples and First National Banks, the Post office and the savings and loan associations, the activities of the local life insurance agents and the house-to-house canvass. Wholesale liquor distributors are also soliciting subscriptions from local taverns and package stores and are turning in their pledges to the central office.

Brunner praised the work of the air raid precautions group of the Defense council which is taking the house-to-house canvass. "The wardens are doing a splendid job," he declared, "and although they are not quite half finished with their canvass, indications are that they are getting unusually good response on most calls. There are some refusals of course, but these are legitimate, for many individuals have pledged an extra bond at their place of employment or had already purchased it before the warden's call."

Want Daily Reports

He emphasized however, that in order to keep records current, post wardens are requested to turn their subscriptions over to their sector wardens as they obtain them. In this way the sector wardens may make almost daily reports and thus keep the drive from piling up arrears.

Organizations are beginning to report their own efforts in the drive. One of the first is the S.S. (Continued on Page Seven)

PRANKISHNESS HAS ITS LIMITS

Opinion Of School Board With $500 Bill To Replace Stadium Flashings

School kids, tired of breaking windows, have chosen for their latest venture in "prankishness" the looting of the copper flashing on the Municipal Stadium roof, Business Manager Rud E. Daniels reported to the school board at its meeting on Monday night.

Estimated roughly at being $500 worth of damage, Daniels stated that the copper is irreplaceable as presently attached to the wall above the roof level and will have to be rebuilt. The "project" was discovered last Saturday, he said, by a school employee who seeing the activity on the roof from a distance, estimated that the workers were elementary school youngsters. Although they had disappeared by the time he got to the scene, half of the flashing had been carted off and the other half, Daniels said, appeared ready to be spirited away.

The upper end of the flashing was in the upright wall above the roof, which necessitated pulling it free from the bricks at the upper end in order to dislodge it.

School Board President, Herbert C. Schmutz declared that this was a matter for a special assembly in all the schools, at which the principals should be asked to point out the fact that far from being fun, this destructive act is most unpatriotic. He expressed the hope that those who had been involved would be apprehended.

No portent of juvenile delinquency, Daniels observed however, that this is far more ominous than the usual story of windows and window shades damaged by rocks as well as baseballs, or the preference for the slate shingles on the field house at the stadium to other objects for shoving across the stadium grounds. He stated that barbed wire is now an obstacle and a threat to young shingle puffers but was not optimistic about its effectiveness.

Belleville is no worse than other towns however, he said yesterday, nor has there been an increase here recently in the amount of damage done, with the exception of course, of this latest enterprise.

Who Said They're Oldsters?

Jim Mills and Henry Stricker

"Are you going to quit now, Jim?" asks 82-year-old "Pop" Stricker.

"Not on your life, Pop," answers 77-year-old Jim Mills. "Not while there's a war to be won. How about you—are you going to stop working?"

"I can't stop now," says "Pop." "I tried the Army, Navy, Coast Guard and Marines, but they all claim I am just over their age limit. I'm only 82 and I can't understand their attitude."

So ran the conversation last Saturday when Henry Stricker congratulated James Mills on his 77th birthday. The scene took place at Wallace and Tiernan company.

"Jimmy," as he is known to all his fellow workers, has been with the company for 22 years, starting there on May 24, 1922. His sunny disposition is the envy of everyone who meets him. When the Army-Navy "E" was awarded to Wallace and Tiernan the production employees selected Mills to accept the award on their behalf. Stricker, or "Pop" as he is called by everyone, is now in his 20th year of service to Wallace and Tiernan, having started on February 18, 1924. Despite his age,

"Pop's" workmanship is of the highest grade and come rain or shine, heat or cold, he is always on time and can be relied upon to give an honest day's work, company officials maintain.

Mills lives at 78 North Park street, East Orange, and Stricker at 217 Nesbitt terrace, Irvington.

Good Response To Alert Although One Siren Failed To Wail

Although reports from sector and unit personnel were slow in coming in yesterday, Defense Coordinator Ronald Brunner declared that a quick survey showed a good percentage at their posts in the first surprise air raid alert the state has had since May 12.

Key members of the defense council were notified by telephone at 9:41 when the yellow was received over the teletype. The control room in police headquarters was fully manned and zone headquarters were reported covered when the blue or first audible signal wailed over the sirens at 9:52. Wardens patrolling their posts were alert to stop all traffic when the red or danger signal was sounded by a warbly wail 18 minutes later. No incidents were reported during its 10 minutes duration or until the all clear sounded at 10:26.

This was the first test the schools have had under the new system and a cursory check showed that the youngsters responded promptly and in good order to their instructions as they were led to previously designated spots in the school buildings.

Only flaw in the procedure as far as Belleville is concerned, Brunner said yesterday, was the failure of the siren at the National Grain Yeast company to sound the alarms. A check with the firm disclosed the fact that the siren was being changed from the oil furnace to a coal boiler yesterday. The change-over was to have been completed last night, however,

Repertory Company Makes Inspired Debut at Rotary

Original Play Heralds Valuable Addition To Town's Dramatic Attainments

The debut of the Wheel Repertory company, inspired invention of the Belleville Rotary club, was greeted with a dignified reception at the weekly luncheon meeting held yesterday at the Forest Hill Field club.

Composed of member artists headed by Lawrence Keenan, impresario and director, the theme of the six scene one-act play was prompted by the celebration of the birthday of one of its oldest members—George Gerard.

The thespians who took part in the production were in addition to Keenan, Schuyler Eldridge, Ray Yerk, Herbert Bersey and Sam Wasserman. Keenan experienced the difficulties of all true playwright, happily overcame a temperamental cancellation of contract by pinch-hitting for Don Brown, said to have suffered a relapse a few days before the one-time performance.

Gerard, it is reported, glowed happily as a reenactment of his part in the public life of Belleville unfolded before him. Keenan with his intimate knowledge of the background of the former long-time superintendent of schools and public safety director, in rapid fire sequence, depicted the highlights in his career.

The members of the cast showed the results of the grueling rehearsals to which they had been subjected by displaying a kind of talent rarely seen on the Broadway stage. The play showed particular regard for facts in the fourth scene in which Gerard, as superintendent, delivered some sage advice to brief but talented pupil, Dixie Davis.

However, it is reported that both Gerard and the audience, to say nothing of the playwright chose the sixth scene as their favorite.

Entitled "A Beautiful Dream," it depicted Gerard, an intimate friend of F. D. R., admiring his "forensic logic" as the President rehearsed a radio address. Perfect illustration of the mutual regard between the Rotarian and the First Couple in the White House was aptly drawn with the entrance of Elinor, who with the familiarity of old acquaintance, called him "Georgie." Piece de resistance was the finale however, in which the three executives of a kind of minstrel while Elinor and Frankie sang birthday greetings to their "friend of long standing."

"Head Hunter" Promoted In New Guinea Outfit

Sgt. Raymond J. McMahon, stationed in New Guinea with the veteran "Head Hunter" outfit has recently been promoted to Technical Sergeant. T-Sgt. McMahon is Inspector of armament and has been with his outfit during its entire period of operations in the Southwest Pacific.

T-Sgt. McMahon's mother, Mrs. Mary McMahon resides at 150 Academy street.

Sgt. Paulsen, Missing in Raid, Is Believed To Be Safe

His Wife Receives Assurance From Squadron Member That Crew Escaped

Mrs. Walter Paulsen, teacher at School No. 3 received word recently from the War Department in Washington that her husband, a Technical Sergeant, and, radio operator on the Flying Fortress, "Picklepuss," has been missing in action since August 17.

Paulsen has been stationed just outside of London since June 1 and has been active in many raids on the Axis. It is believed that the mission of the raid in which he took part on August 17 was to knock out the Messerschmidt factory at Regensburg, Germany. Because of the strong anti-aircraft fire during the latter part of August, losses among Fortresses were heavy.

Mrs. Paulsen's expectations are optimistic, however, because of a letter which was sent her from Mrs. Robert M. Knox of West Philadelphia, wife of Captain Knox, pilot of the "Picklepuss," informing her that the crew of Knox's plane was seen parachuting to safety. Mrs. Knox's letter from Buckle, Eton, of another plane in the same group of fortresses, describes the parachuting from Knox's and Paulsen's plane in this manner.

"You've no doubt been notified that Bob is 'missing in action.' Well, he is missing, but he and his entire crew parachuted out safely. I know that's the news you've been waiting for if you haven't already heard."

All 'Chutes Opened

"Our squadron went on 17 raids without a loss, but August 17, we lost Lt. Curtis Biddick and his crew. His ship exploded and a few chutes opened. Bob got hit in the No. 1 engine and just calmly waved and pulled out of the formation. Six pursuits went after him, but his top turret man knocked three of them down. He then opened the bomb-bay doors and we counted 10 men jumping — every chute opened — so we are convinced that all are safe and sound.

"The worst that could happen is just being a prisoner of war, and he's a damned sight safer there

The observation in last week's Times that only two Belleville girls went to members of the SPAIRS brought a correction from Mrs. Fred Burfeind of 206 Belleville avenue whose daughter, Miss Mildred Burfeind, joined that branch of women's military service on August 26. The is undergoing her basic training at Palm Beach, Fla. Miss Burfeind, who was employed by Isolantite, Inc. was a Belleville high school graduate and had been a Girl Scout for ten years. She was formerly leader of Troops 2 and 11 here.

An Aviation Student George Maginness, formerly in training with the rank of Private First Class at Seymour Johnson Field, N. C., in an Aircraft Mechanics division, was recently transferred to Michigan State college, East Lansing, Mich. where he is now enrolled for Air cadet training. A graduate of the local high school last June, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Maginness of 21 Linden avenue. Maginness, football, basketball and track player here, is still in athletic trim and has played basketball and baseball on servicemen's teams.

Aviation Cadet Robert J. Zander, now in the pre-flight school for pilots at Maxwell Field, Ala., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zander of 10 Belmoor street. He entered the air force in February and was classified for pilot training in Nashville, Tenn. He went to Maxwell Field late last month and will undergo nine weeks training there. Formerly with Prudential Insurance company of Newark, Cadet Zander is 19 and was graduated from West Side high school in that city where his family then resided.

Shortened Schedule Denied For Farmer, War Worker, Teacher

Farmer, war worker and teacher, David Falcemer, apparently besieged by patriotic energy, appeared before the board of education at its meeting on Monday night, to request excuse from the last hour of classes in the high school, where he is an instructor in commercial subjects.

He presented a letter from Hyatt Roller Bearings division of General Motors corporation of Harrison which asked that he be freed from the 3:30 shift, where he has been employed as a process inspector for the last year. The board members were unanimous in declaring that he must spend full time at his teaching job and observed that an average of six hours sleep nightly is not conducive to efficiency in the class room.

Falcemer who lives in North Plainfield where he farms in his spare time was granted several short leaves of absence from the last afternoon class last year for temporary war work.

These Are The Vitamins That Build Health and Energy

Vitamin A is the anti-infective and growth-promoting vitamin. Its lack results in susceptibility to colds and other ailments. . . its insufficiency in children results in scrawiness and stunted growth. Principal source, halibut liver oil.

Vitamin B is "the spark plug of the human system" . . . it tones the nervous and digestive systems, promoting growth, appetite and energy. It also helps to remove lactic acid from the blood stream, thus eliminating the feeling of fatigue. Principal sources, yeast and wheat-germ.

Vitamin C protects and feeds the capillaries under the skin; it helps to heal wounds, and prevents scurvy. Modern diet is usually lacking in this vitamin because it is easily destroyed by cooking. Principal sources, tomatoes and oranges when freshly picked.

Vitamin D is the "sunshine" vitamin. Tests show that it remedies the disorders caused by the deficiency of ultra violet in this climate's sunshine. Without it, normal formation of blood and bone ceases, resulting in rickets, sagging muscles and decay of the teeth. Principal source, cod liver oil.

Vitamin E is the "anti-sterility" vitamin. It has additional important uses in that it promotes mental vigor and tones the muscles. Principal source, wheat-germ.

Vitamin G is the riboflavin factor of the B vitamin that improves stomach tone, remedies skin eruptions and loss of red blood corpuscles. Principles sources yeast and liver.

TO THE CITIZENS OF BELLEVILLE, N. J.

The proposal of our company to construct a garden type apartment in Belleville as above set forth is based upon the result of statistical survey by the Federal Housing Administration, which shows the critical need of housing in this area.

It seems to be reasonable we would not proceed with a project of this type unless we were satisfied it would be financially successful.

Despite comment to the contrary, by objectors, The U. S.

Government, through its agencies—report the need of housing in this area.

The contention by objectors that we will have undesirable tenants is hardly logical.

The surest way for our firm to suffer a severe financial loss on this project would be in permitting such a condition to occur. A development of this nature calls for expenditures of very substantial sums of money.

The quality—beauty and desirability of our development planned for Belleville should be obvious to all concerned. Similar developments have been readily accepted by many other suburban municipalities.

We could—under the present "B" Zone proceed now to build two family dwellings to be sold to individual ownership. Such a development of this tract—far less ornate or attractive would offer NO assurance of maintained standards of ownership—occupants and values of surrounding properties. We prefer to construct—what is recognized as a higher type of real estate development better for us as developers—better for you as neighboring owners. We trust our efforts in this purpose will meet with official approval.

COL. A. A. LA FOUNTAIN

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS AND THE CITIZENS OF BELLEVILLE — CONCERNING.

BELLEVILLE'S Housing Shortage - and - The PROPOSED GARDEN APARTMENTS

by JOHN F. COOGAN JR. - Real Estate Consultant

TYPES OF TENANTS

On the opposite page are set forth the physical features of a Garden Apartment which is proposed to be constructed on a portion of "The Volkering Tract," vacant land, north of the dead end streets, Floyd Street and Beech Street. This land was formerly used as an amusement park, known as Hillside Park and later as Riviera Park. (See diagram — opposite page)

This type of development as set forth is one of the few types of residential construction which is approved by the Federal Housing Administration and for which the Office of Price Administration will release required materials. This type is the highest type of residential construction that is available today.

The full detail as to the land plot plan — the aspect of the development, apartment plan, sizes of rooms, and the features and facilities of each apartment — is set forth so that all can see the entire project to consider — and determine whether or not they wish to object to the construction of this Garden Apartment.

It is a matter of fact that this same type of apartment has been approved and accepted by many of our neighboring communities, such as Nutley, Orange, Clifton, Irvington, Kearny, the Arlingtons, and others. Belleville has such a development — Corbin Garden Apartments, located on Carpenter Street, which provides modern apartments for 96 families in 3- and 4-room apartments.

This type — the Garden Apartment — takes the place of the older type apartment of which we have several in Belleville — the types that are 4 or 6 stories high.

The proposed Garden Apartments, as pictured on the opposite page, are 2½ stories high, with 3- and 4-room apartments on the first and second floor. The buildings are arranged in the fashion of an attractive Colonial Village, with plenty of open lawn space, landscaping, and parking areas. The plan provides for 108 individual apartments, heat furnished, with 3-room and bath apartments renting for $45.00 and 4-room and bath apartments renting for $55.00.

A petition has been circulated among neighbors adjacent to the land of the proposed development and objection has been made to The Belleville Board of Commissioners to prevent their approval of the project.

The detailed diagram and architect's picture of the proposed Garden Apartments are set forth on the opposite page and the following facts and statistics are set forth so that all may clearly see and consider the desirability and need — both present and future — for housing in Belleville.

Following, in general, are the objections offered, which I am setting forth and, following each, I submit my offered answers to the objections.

Objection

- No. 1 Citizens of the area object to continuation of dead end streets because of additional auto traffic this would produce:

Answer

- No. 1 Under the new plan submitted (See opposite page), the dead end features of streets will not be disturbed. The streets will remain "as is" — unchanged — dead end streets.

Objection

- No. 2 It is stated that the proposed apartments would be tenanted by undesirable people, and that there would be too many children in the apartments:

Answer

- No. 2 This type of apartment must not be confused with another type of apartment, such as Stephan Crane, and others that are limited to people below a certain wage level and which projects are city-owned and managed.

The proposed type is similar to the Corbin Garden Apartments and is financed by private capital and is owned privately as income property. They are supervised under construction and management by the Federal Housing Administration. The story of the undesirable tenants has been most unfair and unfounded — it has been exploited by unfair or ill-advised objectors.

The proposed Garden Apartments are designed and intended to house the same type of tenant as now occupies Corbin Garden Apartments. I personally rented those 96 apartments and I emphatically assure you that, collectively, they are a splendid group of people and that I have no apology to make for them. I am submitting the list of tenants I rented to, among which will be recognized many names of established and prominent Belleville families.

Out of the 96 apartments rented, there were 47 tenants who had no children, of the remaining 49 tenants, there were 52 children.

Of the 96 tenants, 32, or 1/3, of them were people who previously lived in Belleville. Many other tenants were Belleville businessmen and people employed in Belleville. Other tenants included persons with professional standing, such as attorneys, school teachers, military officers, officials, and technical men employed in industry.

Ten of the tenants came from the Greylock Manor Section, and I had many more applications from people of the Greylock Manor Section, but there were not enough apartments to accommodate all desirable applicants.

May I submit, that a careful study of the above names and facts should establish that such people are not and should not be classified as undesirable neighbors. Facts based upon experience should be given credence over someone's very loose statement that the proposed apartments will be filled by undesirables.

Objection

- No. 3 That when the war is over, industrial employment will drop off to such a degree that the new apartments will become vacant — neglected — to become a "Ghost Development":

Answer

- No. 3 That theoretical mental hazard has no merit whatsoever if one is familiar with available facts: 13,500 people are employed in Belleville industry. Only 2,600, or 1/5, of them are now living in Belleville. Many of that 2,600 are housewives and retired men who will return to their normal activities when war effort is not needed of them. These facts should eliminate the theory that Belleville will be evacuated after the war! In addition, The Federal Telegraph & Radio Company, a subsidiary of I. T. & T., is now constructing an extensive plant at the Nutley-Clifton line, just two miles from the location of the proposed apartment site. This plant is being built for production in the post-war period.

Also for consideration: our Belleville High School graduates about 250—280 young men and women each year. Four or five years later, these young people arrive at the marrying age. Belleville issued 300 marriage certificates in 1942. Many Belleville High School graduates, now married, are living as tenants in the Corbin Garden Apartments.

Also consider, please, that 2,700 of Belleville's young men are now out of town in the military service of our country. Many of these were married before they left — many will be married while they are away — many more will be married upon their return to Belleville.

Our young people, whether now in school or in military service, were educated and brought up in Belleville. They are of good stock and the type of people, because of their education and upbringing, who can, as citizens of our town, contribute to its progress and to the quality of civic life we are to have in Belleville.

These young people cannot buy their own home when they start married life. If we want them to be able to live in Belleville, we must provide suitable housing at rentals they can afford to pay. If we are not to proceed as other towns are by providing housing such as the proposed apartments, where do we propose to have these people live?

The present housing shortage is not alone caused by increased industrial activity; part is due to the fact that normal residential building activity has been nullified for the past two years.

A full page of letters from servicemen was published in last week's Belleville Times by Eastwood-Nealley, Inc. Their thoughts are of Belleville and their families and friends in Belleville. The following is one of those letters:

TUNISIA

A. P. O. 751, c/o Postmaster, New York, N. Y.
July 21, 1943

"...I've been from one end of North Africa to the other and outside of our 'Stars and Stripes,' 'Belleville Today' is the best piece of news I've seen so far; hope I keep getting it. I intend to make Belleville my home with my wife, who is living there at present, when this war business is over. Regards to you all, Father Kelly, and all my friends."

(Signed) Edward Garbarini

Belleville needs housing now! Time will prove we will need more before and after this war is over! If this tract cannot be used to provide this housing, then what tract of land can be used for that purpose?

As to the objectors to the proposed apartments — in my opinion, there are various classifications. There are sincere neighbors, who have felt their property values and residential comfort would be hurt. Among this group are people whom I regard as close personal friends of many years' standing. I respect their right to object, and the information and data submitted are designed for the purpose of their having all facts before them so that, if they have been influenced in their opinions by some of the fantastic and theoretical stories that have been advanced, they will have the opportunity to compare facts with fiction.

Another type of objection to the apartments comes from persons — more selfish and less sincere — who, in private, will admit that the apartments are a fine development, but who, in public, condemn it with fantastic threats of the terrible things to come if the apartments are built.

Dramatic oratory, hypothetical theories, and indulging in personalities and animosities are of no value in determining this question! Facts are wanted: only facts should be considered!

The important thing is: Is Belleville in need of housing? Is this Garden Apartment a good thing for the people of Belleville, or is it not?

The display on the opposite page showing what the apartments are to be and my statements as to their use and need — the type of tenant who occupies the apartments, the future outlook for the need of such housing quarters — provide an opportunity for proper consideration by all. This also provides plenty of time for the opposition to record specific objections as well as an opportunity to challenge any statements I have made.

I wish to state that some people who signed the petition opposed to the development did so on the basis of information contrary to facts as I have outlined.

The original application denied was for a change of zone extending west to Bell Street.

The present application concerns only an area which will be 600 feet distant from the westerly side of Bell Street.

The original application included areas north of Floyd Street, Beech Street, Linden Avenue, Bremond Street.

The new application is only for the area north of Floyd Street and Beech Street. It does not include the areas north of Bremond Street and Linden Avenue.

The zone change requested will effect a change in a specific portion of The Volkering Tract. It will not effect a zone change of any other property.

The developers will assume the total cost of all public utilities required — including street paving, curbing, sidewalks, storm sewer, sanitary sewer, and all connections thereto. A 50-foot street, running west from Washington Avenue will be located 150 feet north of the southerly line of the property. All buildings will be at least 25 feet off the southerly line of the property.

With both sides of this matter having now been presented, the decision rests with our Board of Commissioners, who will, I am confident, make their decision on what in their opinion will be —

"THE GREATER GOOD FOR THE GREATER NUMBER OF PEOPLE."

Anyone can without the slightest hesitation call upon our organization in time of bereavement and know that we are equipped to handle any type of service.

"Reality is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, in all Christian Science Churches and Societies."

The Golden Text is: "Since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him."

Among the Lesson-Sermon citations is the following from the Bible: "But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God."

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Minds—Life, Truth, and Love," and demonstrates the divine sense, giving the spiritual proof of the universe in Christian Science.

Turn In Stamp Books

First National Bank officers feel that there are many filled and partially filled war savings stamp books in the homes of Belleville, and they have announced that for the rest of the month of September, the bank will accept stamps in partial payment of War Bond purchases.

They urge those who have books, either filled or partially filled, to bring them to the bank with whatever additional funds are necessary to make up the amount of the purchase price of a bond, so that their subscription can be included in the Third War Loan drive totals.

Ordinarily, the conversion of stamps is handled by the Belleville Post office but the First National feels that it would be more convenient for many of their customers and it would encourage them to convert their stamps if they were accepted by the local bank.

High school youngsters, with the thoroughness for which they are noted, had yesterday, with all returns not yet in, exceeded their $1,000 goal four times, for a total of $4,016.80. Mrs. Emek's home room, 103 lead the drive with sales amounting to $1,156.70, where student war stamp representatives are Vilma del Priore and Teresa Dunn.

Some other student salesmen whose efforts made the third war loan drive in the high school successful are Lois Adams, Catherine Anderson, Frank Arena, Barbara Armstrong, Irene Baldwin, William Baldernan, Joe Bucci, Concetta Cacco, Dagmar Carlson, Don Capanace, Jane Cory, Mary Daily, Teresa Dunn, Josephine Forte, Anne Gerino, Janis Hickols, Ruth Hodess, June Jimmerson, Helen Kaehne, Dorothy Koebler, Jean Lane, Mildred Marino, Mary Mathes, Angelina Misuraca, Bertie Mueller, Ruth Nees, Jacqueline Nelson, Vilma de Priore,

Give Them Business Sense

The foremost aim of Junior Achievement is to provide young people with an opportunity to understand the American business system by the actual operation of miniature concerns producing useful articles within their scope, marketing them and dividing the profits by a bona fide distribution of dividends, bonuses or allotments for business expansion at the end of a year. Participants learn the problems of labor and management, the need for capital, the costs and problems of business by functioning in each capacity. They learn the manual operations required to turn out the product which they will market.

By founding such juvenile concerns now a definite contribution to the war effort may be made and, at the same time, the foundation laid which will enable the rising generation to grasp full the needs of American industry in gearing itself to peace production. Boys and girls from 14 to 21, of whom 2,000,000 are thrust upon the American scene each year with no knowledge of American enterprise, according to Junior Achievement authorities, will be included in the training programs.

Five complete Junior Achievement enterprises have been arranged in Belleville. Each will have a sponsor among the firms of Walter Kidde company, Wallace and Tiernan, Eastwood-Neal corporation, Resistoflex corporation and a joint sponsorship by Bart laboratories and Viking Tool and Machine company. For adult advisors will work with each company.

Work-School Schedule Has Drop In Popularity

The popularity of the work-school schedule arranged for boys and girls wishing to retain their war jobs while completing their education, has waned somewhat, Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer announced at the meeting of the board of education on Monday night.

Although there is still fluctuation in the number taking a full schedule either in the morning or afternoon, only 41 instead of the original 60 are now taking advantage of the arrangements. The others have returned to the regular full day schedule, Parmer stated, and he observed that it is gratifying to see that the teen-agers are recognizing the importance of finishing their high school work.

Note to a Young Lady:

This medal was won by a boy from your home town

To WIN IT, he crossed thousands of miles of water—took his chance of being blown to bits by waiting submarines on the way—waded ashore under a hail of bullets—went without food and water for long stretches—pushed ahead to wipe out an enemy machine gun nest, and did it—at the cost of his life.

He left a lot of his buddies behind to carry on. They can only carry on with your help.

Are you giving it—in the one way it really matters? By helping build for them the equipment they need?

There is an immediate need for more women workers to make vitally needed radio tubes.

Yet people who could help are holding back, sitting at home, hoping "somebody else" will do it.

Not for a medal, but for the boy who won that medal and will never wear it, won't you report for important war work?

The RCA plant in Harrison needs workers. It needs you. It has established pleasant working conditions, music while you work, good food, recreation, dances, free medical attention, sick benefits, group life insurance, even a swimming pool to attract your services.

It needs you urgently to help build the radio equipment being called for around the world today. Won't you report tomorrow?

Part-time work is available on the following schedule:

7 a.m. to 11 a.m. — 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Community Service Bureau Gives Three Month Report

Family Problems Discussed, Children Sent To Camp During Period

A report of the last three months' activities of the Community Service Bureau was given by Mrs. Julia O. Reiner, executive secretary when Dr. Earl Seibert, president, presided at the regular monthly meeting of the board of trustees of the Bureau on Tuesday evening.

During this period 48 applications were received of which 40 were accepted. Including cases carried forward from preceding months 87 different situations were handled. In 20 instances financial assistance was given, amounting to $430. In addition $258 was spent for camp work. Types of problems coming to the Bureau in this period were classified as follows: family and domestic difficulties six, desertion three, personal maladjustments three, problem children four, camp applications nine, illness five, neglect of children three. One war widow and two war brides consulted about their current problems. Four young people sought vocational guidance. There were four requests for day care of children of working mothers, two foster home applications and two situations referred by Selective Service.

34 Went To Camp

Thirty-four children attended camps for periods ranging from two weeks to the entire summer. Camp work involves considerable details and there were many transportation difficulties to be surmounted this season. Reports received indicate that all but one of the children attending camp made excellent records and were enthusiastic about their vacation experiences.

The resignation of Miss Mildred Pressler as case worker was accepted by the board. The appointment of Miss Marie Gunn as senior case worker, effective October 1, was approved. Miss Gunn worked previously at North Jersey Training school and the New Jersey State hospital. She is a recent graduate of the Smith College School of Social Work.

ABANDON SIGHT CONSERVATION

Lack Of Instructor Necessitates Sending Students To Montclair

Because the sight conservation class has been abandoned due to inability to find an instructor, the board of education approved a solution for continuing the work suggested by Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Farmer at the board meeting on Monday night.

Two pupils will be sent to the class maintained by the Montclair board of education to continue their studies and disposition of a third is pending recommendations by the State Sight conservation commission. North Arlington and Lyndhurst schools which had sent pupils to the Belleville classes have been notified of their discontinuance.

Farmer explained that since the state will pay for half the tuition and transportation costs, sending the two pupils to Montclair will amount to $390 for tuition and $140 for transportation. Arrangements have been made through the Montclair school to have the students transported by taxi.

Provision for Braille books and a reader may be made for the third youngster. However, Farmer has been given authority by the board to weigh the recommendations of the state commission, which has examined the child, in making arrangements for his schooling.

Newark University Adds to War Training Program

Seven new courses have been added to the fall program of the tuition-free management war training program at the University of Newark. New evening courses listed in the program which is scheduled to begin September 13 are: advanced personnel and industrial relations; advanced accounting; payroll taxes and accounting; practice of labor relations; industrial import and export fundamentals; statistics for quality control; and industrial plant protection.

All of the new courses are designed for those now employed in war industries for the purpose of increasing their efficiency and enabling them to accept greater responsibility. W. Layton Hall, director of War Training at the University, said, "All additions to the War Training Program have been made to keep pace with the training needs of industry and the armed forces."

The total war training program at the University of Newark includes courses in accounting, personnel administration, procurement and stores, statistics, traffic management, and industrial management. The minimum requirements for admission is graduation from high school and some of the advanced work requires additional training and employment in war production.

RENEW "A" GAS BOOKS NOW AT RATION BOARD

OPA Gives Instruction On Filing Applications Blanks, Tire Inspections

Plans concluded by the Rationing Division of the OPA District Office in Newark in cooperation with automobile dealers' trade association representatives provide that application forms for the renewal of "A" gasoline ration books are available for motorists as the Belleville war price and rationing board, 444 Washington avenue, Belleville.

Present "A" gasoline ration books, it was pointed out, will not be good after November 21, when No. 6 stamps expire. It is estimated that there are approximately 630,000 "A" book holders in the seven northern counties.

The plan of distributing the application forms through automobile dealers was adopted in preference to distribution through gasoline stations as suggested by Washington, it was explained, because the limited quantity of application forms precluded giving every gasoline station a supply. Consequently, it was felt by both rationing officials and gasoline dealer trade representatives, that inadvertent discrimination might result if certain gasoline dealers were given supplies of the forms, and other gasoline stations excluded.

The present plan, which will be used by all three OPA districts in New Jersey, will make use of the approximately 500 automobile dealers in the State, and the 155 local rationing boards. William L. Mallon, president of the Newark Automobile Trade Association, and Secretary of the New Jersey Automobile Trade Association has sent a bulletin to all State dealers requesting their cooperation and outlining details of the plan. They are instructed to go to rationing boards for supplies of the form and to make them available at their showrooms beginning September 15.

Rationing officials, in outlining the program for renewal of "A" gasoline ration books, emphasized that motorists will pick up the application forms at automobile dealers showrooms and local rationing boards, will fill in the required information, and will then mail or take the form to the local rationing board beginning September 23, together with the back cover of the present "A" book and the Tire Inspection Record. Most boards will then mail the new books to eligible applicants;

Application forms like this are now available at automobile dealers and local rationing boards throughout northern New Jersey. Get one and fill it out as shown above, and mail it to your rationing board. Also send the back cover of your present "A" book, and your present Tire Inspection Record. Rationing boards will begin distributing the new "A" gasoline ration books September 23. Newark District OPA officials estimate that distribution of the books to approximately 630,000 registered passenger car owners will be completed by the latter part of October.

a few will ask applicants to call ed that distribution of the book for them in person. It is expected will be completed by the latter part of October.

Instructions

Full instructions for filling out and filing the application form were outlined as follows: Any person who now has an "A" which was officially issued to him is eligible to apply for renewal of his "A" ration.

An application form for the renewal of the "A" book can be procured by the motorist at an automobile dealer's establishment or at the local rationing board. Each applicant fills in the information required on the application form in accordance with instructions listed below, and mails or takes it to the local rationing board together with: The back cover of the present "A" gasoline book. The name of the registered owner must be signed on the back cover in the space provided for signatures.

If the back cover of the applicant's "A" book has been lost or destroyed he must establish to the satisfaction of the board that he is the registered owner or person entitled to the use of a vehicle; that the vehicle is currently registered and in operation; that he has not previously applied for or received a renewal of his "A" book, and that an application is not pending at any other board. He also must show that he has complied with the Tire Inspection requirements. He must also present the motor vehicle registration certificate for the vehicle. The Tire Inspection Record showing that he has had at least one inspection of his tires made.

Tire Inspection Record

If the present Tire Inspection Record has been lost or destroyed it may be replaced by application to the local board. The applicant must then have his tires inspected and approved on the new form before a new "A" book will be issued.

Most rationing boards will mail to each eligible applicant who meets all requirements, a new "A" gasoline ration book and a new Tire Inspection Record. Some boards will ask applicants to call in person for the books.

How to fill out the application form for renewal of "A" gasoline ration books: In the box in the upper right hand corner of the form print the name of the registered owner of the vehicle. On the second and third lines fill in the address. On the fourth line check whether the book is to be sent to the registered owner or to the applicant. If the latter, print applicant's name and address on fifth and sixth lines. If the applicant and the registered owner are identical, write "same" on the fifth and sixth lines.

To the left of the box you have just completed check "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether the enclosed back cover of "A" ration book was issued for the vehicle described on the application.

Also check "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether the vehicle is in use and operating under currently valid license plates. Below these questions is a space for your signature. Do not fail to sign here, and to enter the date. A box in the center of the form requires the entry of vehicle license number, State of registration, year, model, make, and body type. You will also enter the serial numbers of the tires last inspected. This information must be entered again directly below the first entry. This is necessary because the form is divided into two parts (A and B) which will be separated by the board, one part remaining in the boards files, and the other going back to the applicant to be used as a Tire Inspection Record. In the box at the lower left hand corner of the form print plainly the name and address to which the board should mail the new "A" ration book.

Junior Red Cross Faculty Council Plans Activities

Production, Christmas Boxes And First Aid Program Are Discussed

The faculty council of the Junior Red Cross held an enthusiastic meeting on Monday afternoon with all members present, when Mrs. William H. Williams, chairman, told of the quota assigned to Belleville by the area office. The quota was accepted and suggestions for workable plans were made. Mrs. Williams also spoke on the forthcoming roll call drive.

Mrs. Harvey B. Thompson, production chairman, showed samples of production items which she thought the Juniors could make—bedside bags, utility bags, ice bag covers, etc. Mrs. Walter Marting will have charge of Junior production work.

Christmas boxes will be filled by the school children for shipment to other countries. Menu cards, candy, cups and favors will be made for the Navy and Veterans' Hospitals.

First Aid Program

Paul P. Baxter, chairman of first aid and accident prevention, said the committee is promoting through the sponsorship of the Junior Red Cross, a program of first aid which will be brought to every school child from the seventh grade up. This program will be an adjunct to the safety program now being presented in the school system. Four teachers who currently hold instructor's cards are Miss Frances Williamson, School No. 1; Mrs. Doris Kirschner, School No. 3; Miss Kathryn Conklin, School No. 9; Mrs. Margaret Leahy, High School.

Wayne R. Parmer, Superintendent of Schools congratulated the teachers on the work being done by the Junior Red Cross under their leadership. Its value, from an educational standpoint, is, he said, that pupils are learning to be of service to others. He hopes that they will also learn to give rather than expect to receive.

The executive secretary, Miss Esther Adams and the following faculty members were present at the meeting: Miss Gregoria Condon, High School; Miss Maude Miller, School No. 2; Mrs. Stacy Yaskell, School No. 8; Miss Louise Bergman, School No. 9; Mrs. Eileen L. Corcoran, School No. 5; Miss Mary J. Burke, School No. 5; Miss Lillian P. Becker, School No. 1; Miss Evelyn M. Pozzo, School No. 4; Miss Phyllis G. Cupparo, School No. 7; Mrs. Vera W. Eskholm, School No. 3; Miss Marvaret Patton, School No. 10.

Catholic Women's College Club

The Catholic Women's College club will hold the first meeting of its tenth season, tonight, at the Helen MacHugh Studio, 97 Washington street, Newark. Miss Mary Elizabeth Jackson, recently elected president, will preside at the business session.

The vice-president and program chairman Miss Marian E. McLaughlin, has announced that following the annual custom, no formal program has been planned but motion pictures of the members and club activities will be shown.

Miss Kathryn G. Sugrue, chairman of the scholarship committee, has announced that a club scholarship has been awarded to Miss Mary Elizabeth Mulcahy. The winner may select the college she wishes to attend and Miss Mulcahy plans to enter the College of Saint Elizabeth.

X-Ray Students For Patch Test

Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer announced at the meeting of the board of education on Monday night that arrangements have been made for the annual X-raying of all students and new teachers for symptoms of tuberculosis on November 22. This is part of the Patch test which is conducted in all the schools in New Jersey to prevent the spread of the disease. Teachers must be tested also, every three years. Dr. Byron Harmon, superintendent of the Essex Mountain Sanatorium will conduct the X-rays.

Al Walker, the trophy-gettingest member that Nereid has ever had, came through again at the Harlem river rowing events on Sunday, to snag his sixth title for the season.

International and national champion in addition to several other titles, his performance Sunday, gave Nereid the metropolitan rowing title. He took the quarter mile and mile races, both by a half length.

Because of the "manpower shortage," no point score nor times were kept. Walker however, took two out of the six event program.

An Appeal From The Secretary Of The Treasury . . . And Our Reply

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

Washington

September 15, 1943

TO THE BANKS OF THE UNITED STATES:

From the beginning of the Defense Program, your officers and employees have played a decisive role in the financing of the war. Through cooperation with the War Finance Committees, your leadership has been indispensable. You have been our main support in issuing bonds. You have, I know, given freely of your time and resources without thought of compensation beyond the satisfaction that comes from serving your country.

During the 3rd War Loan Drive, which opened September 9, we shall probably have to issue in the neighborhood of fifty million bonds to individuals. A large part of this burden will fall upon the banks. I am confident that you will do this job as you have many others with efficiency and dispatch.

Your State and local War Finance Committees must of necessity lean heavily on bankers for expert assistance and moral support. I bespeak for them your customary wholehearted response.

Sincerely,
(Signed) H. Morgenthau, Jr.,
Secretary of the Treasury.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK of Belleville BELLEVILLE, N. J.

September 17, 1943

Mr. H. Morgenthau, Jr.,
Secretary of the Treasury,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

Thank you for the thoughts expressed in your letter. Every member of our staff is proud of the part that we are privileged to play in the war financing program. Your letter encourages us to continue our efforts to insure success of the Third War Loan Drive in Belleville.

Our local committee is well organized for the Drive which is being actively supported by local groups of every type. However, regardless of organization, the results of the Third War Loan Drive, in the last analysis, will depend entirely upon the attitude of the citizens of every community in the country.

Here in Belleville, we are not worried about the response of our people. The need for personal sacrifice in times of national emergency is not new to us. The community which is now Belleville was originally settled more than two hundred years ago. Many generations have provided Belleville men to fight the wars of America, and their families and friends who were left at home have always met their responsibilities squarely, enduring privation where necessary to support their fighting men.

Today, as in the past, Belleville is making its contribution; there are Belleville men in every branch of the Service in all parts of the world. We would like to have them home again, and soon—as soon as complete victory can be won. Our Belleville people know that their investment in War Bonds will hasten that day, and we are confident that their eagerness to see the job finished will produce results that will exceed your expectations.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) F. J. McFadden
Vice President.

Lions Change Dinner Date To Hear Lyman Orchestra

The Civic Activities Fund Committee of the Belleville Lions club, headed by genial chairman, George Mead, has hit a ten strike in advancing the proposed supper-dance date at Frank Dailey's Terrace Room, Mosque Theatre building, Newark, Wednesday, November 17.

When the committee learned Abe Lyman and his versatile orchestra has been booked during the week of Nov. 15, they immediately arranged for the Wednesday date since in their opinion a more appropriate orchestra could not be obtained. Most folks remember Lyman on the "Phillips" radio program with Frank Munn and know "Abe" can blow either hot or cold—music for those enjoying swing or the slow scintillating music for those having passed through the jitterbug age. Definitely Lyman has a style of music not hard to remember.

In addition to the music and entertainment furnished by this prominent orchestra, Frank Dailey has pledged his co-operation in aiding the entertainment committee and is hoping to be able to introduce a famous personage or two from either screen or radio. Dailey has a way of doing things beyond his promise and the Lions agree this event will far surpass anything they have ever attempted.

Tickets are modestly priced and incidentally the lower floor has been reserved by the Lions for this evening, thus assuring all attending a clear, unobstructed view of all that is going on.

Harry Ziegler, ticket committee chairman reports some inquiries at this early date, apparently from those having previously attended other Lion functions.

Two More Schoolmates Meet 'Somewhere in North Africa'

Were Standing Side By Side, Viewing Training Film When Lights Went On

A training film was completed somewhere in North Africa, lights went up and two soldiers, who had been standing quietly side by side, turning to leave, suddenly faced each other. It had happened again and two men, neighborhood pals and schoolmates, were reunited where they least expected it.

They were Sgt. Bernard Ings, whose sisters live at 467 Franklin avenue here and Cpl. Valentine DeLuca, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmine DeLuca of 36 Meecham avenue. The meeting took place less than a month ago and was described by the two lads as "like meeting my own brother" and "like Christmas." They even exchanged gifts as Sgt. Ings had access to American candy, cigarettes and chewing gum which Cpl. DeLuca had learned to go without in his two years overseas.

The latter, with a Coast Artillery unit, was encamped in Ireland before going into action in North Africa. Sgt. Ings, who had his signal corps training at Port Monmouth, went to North Africa less than a year ago. He was with the National Grain Yeast corporation here in civilian life. Previous to his departure from this country, Mr. and Mrs. Knowles of Upper Montclair announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Edythe Knowles, to Sgt. Ings.

Miss Knowles, keeping her fingers crossed for his safety, nevertheless cannot refrain from enthusing over the exotic and beautiful gifts she has received from her fiancé. Hand woven and dyed rugs and a blanket, perfumes and intricately designed jewelry are among them. But she rejoices particularly over one gift which she has not yet received. Sgt. Ings purchased a pocket, automatic revolver, was forced to land and the crew camped on a temporary site. Prowling German snipers attacked the men and, other firearms not being handy at the moment, the Sergeant barged his "Jerry" with the souvenir automatic.

Cpl. DeLuca was employed by the Plenge farms here and has two brothers in the Army, Pvt. Charles DeLuca, also in North Africa; and Pvt. Joseph DeLuca, who is presently in the Hawaiian Islands.

LET'S WORK NOT WAIT... FOR VICTORY!

Look into Your Heart before you give me your Answer!

MY NAME isn't important. I'm just one of the millions of fellows over here fighting for America. I'd like to speak for these fellows—to you folks back home.

You see, I think I know what's in their minds, because we often talk things over among ourselves. Mostly we talk about home—about the places we came from and the things we plan to do when we get back. Right now, especially, we're thinking a lot about home, for we're in the bloodiest battles of history—and we know that some of us will not come back. Some of us will never see again the ones we love.

But—we've got a job to do and we're going to do it. What I want to say to you folks back home is this: we'd like to think that you are with us in this bitter struggle of invasion. It would help a lot to know that you are really behind us, backing us up 100 per cent. It's going to take a heap of ammunition—and ships and planes, tanks and guns, to beat the Axis. That's what the 3rd War Loan is for; it's for INVASION. Most of us fellows in the service are putting every dollar we can into War Bonds. But you folks back home will have to carry the big load. We've got to depend on you. Don't fail us, will you?

Yes, it's to you this boy is looking in this critical hour. Today America calls upon you to do your part in the 3rd WAR LOAN. And your part is at least one EXTRA $100 War Bond during the drive. AT LEAST $100. That's in addition to your regular War Bond subscriptions. Invest more if you possibly can—some of you must invest thousands in order to reach our national quota. Invest out of your income—invest out of your idle or accumulated funds.

Remember, this money must come from individuals like yourself. Each and every one must do his share.

Let's do it the American way—willingly, gladly. Do it with the knowledge that you are putting your money into the safest investment in the world—to be paid back with interest by your government.

Sacrifice today—you will be richer for it tomorrow. Back the invasion now—buy at least one extra $100 War Bond in September.

Your Answer is Either "Yes" or "No" in this
Roll Call of the Nation—

YES

I will honestly do my best to invest in at least one extra $100 War Bond during the 3rd War Loan Drive. I will lend my Government this money gladly to back up our fighting men.

NO

I am not lending any of my money to my country, I'm spending it. Sure, I know the boys who are fighting for me need support, but let somebody else make the sacrifices.

Your answer will be given in the number of EXTRA War Bonds you invest in during September.
