NEED VOLUNTEERS FOR PAPER DRIVE ON SATURDAY

Enough To Man 10 Trucks Are Needed For Town-Wide Collection

There is an urgent need for men to volunteer in the salvage committee's town-wide paper drive on Saturday.

Chairman Charles Nutt said yesterday. Although 10 trucks and drivers have been contributed for the day by local firms, two additional men are needed for each.

"If patriotic citizens volunteer to help, even for a little time as one hour," Nutt declared, "this drive will go as well as the other salvage operations that Belleville's enthusiasm has put over in the past."

Men interested in helping are asked to call him at Be. 2-249 or telephone any member of the Defense Council or Town Hall.

Trucks will call at every home and pick up bundles of paper left by the householder at the curb. It is urged that the bundles be tied as compactly as possible to facilitate the loading of trucks.

The need for paper scrap is growing more critical every day. All types are needed, particularly newspaper and brown wrapping paper. Cardboard should be pressed flat and tight. Householders who use their food packaged in cardboard instead of tin cans realize that enormous quantities, amounting to millions of pounds a day, are required.

Increasing military need for paper is mounting, one being for the waterproofed containers in which war supplies are packed. Thrown overboard during a landing operation, the packages wash ashore, and need not be ferried by the men.

Should Get 65 Tons

Belleville has a theoretical potential source of 65 tons of paper salvage per month. It is estimated that two and one half tons per 1,000 people per month is accumulated in areas where there is a heavy concentration of newspapers and magazines. Belleville's school children already active in the collection of tin cans, are being asked to remind their parents to get their papers out this Saturday.

Two trucks loaned by the Beiler-Weidmann company will cover the valley, and the area east of Washington avenue; one loaned by Joe Resiniti and Son will collect from west of Washington to the east of Union, and from Newark to the Nutley line. One town truck will work the west of Union to the Bloomfield line, from the Newark to the Nutley line. A second town truck will work the Silver Lake and Soho districts. Other trucks furnished by the Forbes Trucking company, the Essex Lumber company, Federal Leather, Hoyer Products, Thompson Materials, and the American Dyewood Corporation will work through the areas as the need arises.

There is no danger that the paper will be turned in and collected, and then refused, for the mills have guaranteed the government that they will take every pound of paper up to February 15, and if on February first stocks are still short they will continue to accept the collections.

Plans for the paper drive were worked out by Nutt, chairman; Ronald Brunner, Joseph Rasser, James Waters, Robert Sutherland, and Commissioner King. The committee stressed the need for volunteer help on Saturday.

Teachers Pension Fund Holds 21% Of Town Bonds

The annual report of the Teachers Pension and Annuity Fund of New Jersey, said today, is one of the soundest, and most conservative in the state, shows, according to Mayor Williams, revenue and finance director, investments of $909,000 in Town of Belleville bonds or an aggregate of 21 percent of the town's net debt.

The average interest of the Pension and Annuity Fund's Belleville holdings is three and one-third percent lower than the interest rate for instance for bonds from many other well reputed municipalities.

Of the aggregate amount, $807,000 is held in Town bonds; $64,000 in school bonds and $38,000 in water bonds.

Russell Sargeant Chairman Of Finance Officers' Meeting

T. Russell Sargeant, president of the Municipal Finance Officers' association of New Jersey, said today he will be chairman of the annual meeting being held this afternoon in the grand ballroom of the Hotel New Yorker in New York City. The association is affiliated with the New Jersey State League of Municipalities.

Armistice Observance In High School Tonight

A program to be held at 8:30 tonight in the High school auditorium marks the annual observance of Armistice day. Under the sponsorship of the local post of the American Legion, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the program opened by Mayor Williams will feature an address by Harry Specht, head of the Belleville Foundation and vice-president of Eastwood-Nealley corporation. His topic is "Failure after Victory."

Josephine Rossi, a graduate of the Juilliard school of music and local teacher of voice and piano, is the featured soprano, and Peter Kuoslaas, who appeared last June in the Foundation concert, will give a trumpet solo.

Pianist will be Raymond Young of Newark, winner of the National Federation contests in New Jersey. He gave a recital in Town Hall last year, and is well known in New York as well as New Jersey.

After selections by the High school orchestra, and the leading of the Star Spangled Banner by Vera Holly, the program ends with the salute to the flag and benediction.

REVIEW PLAN FOR POST-WAR WORK

Long Range Program Of Town Projects To Be Studied

In a move to bring the post war works program compiled by the planning engineer in the Public works department up to date for submission to the State Planning Board for approval, Mayor Williams suggested at Tuesday's board meeting that the board of education meet with the commissioners next Tuesday night to go over the scheduled long range improvements. The school system improvements cover a major share of the now estimated $1,800,000 cost since the replacement of School No. 3 and a junior high school as an addition to School No. 8 are included.

Approval of the state planning board in its all-over program for post war works projects is necessary to secure federal and state aid. The projects within the financial ability of the town and those most necessary will be a basis for determining the most important projects to be undertaken. When approved, copies of the program will be submitted to state authorities.

The Mayor in the introduction to the report represents the carefully analyzed capital improvement needs of the town for a period of years. "Past revenues and disbursements have been carefully analyzed," he has stated, "and trends in assessed valuations and population as well as future trends have been studied." A six year program has been set up, and in addition, other needed improvements for which funds are not available have been designated as "later" projects.

"It is intended that this basic long range public improvement program will do for the physical improvement requirements of the town what the operating expenditure budget has done for operating expenses," he has stated. The program is flexible, he said.

November In 1918 Sounds Much The Same As Today

Women Were Taking Jobs, Sugar Was Scarce And Prohibition Loomed

In November, 1918, Belleville's women were taking jobs in order to release men for active service. They were, according to The Times, "taking part in manufacturing operations, and even in actual war work." All men between the ages of 18 and 21, and between 31 and 45 were called up to register with their local draft boards under the Selective Service Act.

The Red Cross submitted weekly reports of its activities, and begged for more letters for the boys overseas. There was a new drive on for the sale of war bonds.

No more phones were to be installed until after the war, and subscribers were asked to limit both the number and length of their calls.

There was a shortage of wool materials, and clever Belleville women were choosing their fall suits carefully, with the prospect of wearing them for the duration. There were very few spare parts for cars, and employing a chauffeur was considered a matter for the owner's conscience.

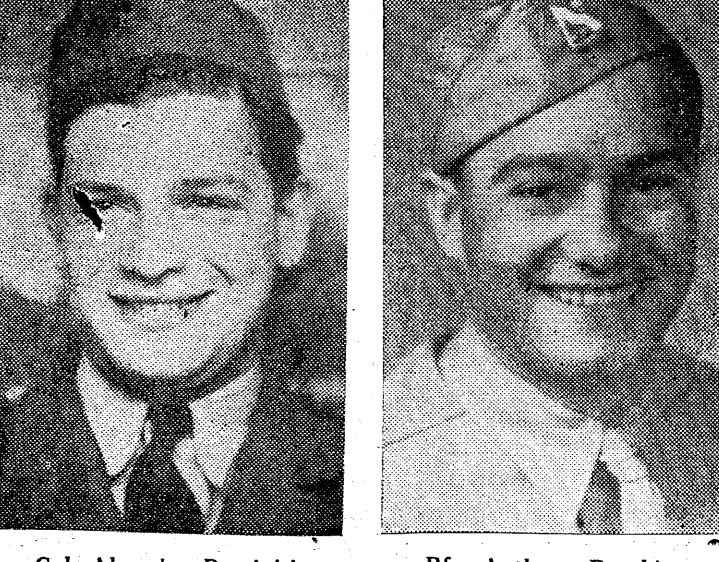

Fires were watched carefully, and their battered surfaces gently preserved. The production of baseballs, and golf and tennis equipment was practically nil.

Turkeys for Thanksgiving were 60 cents a pound.

Rather Familiar

It all sounds rather familiar to ears attuned to the news of November, 1943. But there were differences, too. Imagine prices like these: bread 15 cents a loaf, butter 76 1/2 cents, nut margarine

Three Who Are On Italian Front

Two Soldiers Prisoners, One Wounded At Salerno

All Entered Service At Same Time; Were In Same Regiment

Three local boys who entered the service at the same time, trained at the same stations and apparently were in the battle of Salerno together, in the same regiment have been heard from this week. One, Cpl. Almerico Resciniti, has been heard from Purple Heart for wounds received in action and the other two, Pfc. Anthony Bocchino and Pvt. Joseph Ferraro Jr. are reported prisoners in Germany.

Almerico or Micky, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Resciniti of 36 Clinton street, was reported by the war department this week as seriously wounded in action in Italy, almost a month after his family received his own admission of his mishap. He was wounded on October 3, and 10 days later resumed his correspondence with his family after a silent and apparently busy two months.

A camera fan, his chief concern aside from assurance that he is "all right," is the fate of the rolls of film he has sent home to be developed. One of his latest letters says, "The wound I have will take a little time to heal. However I was up out of bed today and walked around for a while. I managed to do all right for the first time. The treatment I have received has been none but the best. The doctors and nurses treat us all swell."

The Corporal is a graduate of Belleville High school and attended Newark College of Engineering. Twenty-three years old, he says he is glad he took Spanish and French in High school since he at least has a start on conversing with the natives. He worked at the Otis Elevator company in Harrison before entering the service.

Micky has three brothers, Vincent who lives at 161 Walnut street, Nutley; John and Natalie who live in town and one sister, Mrs. Nicholas Lasandile of the Bronx, N.Y.

The parents of the other two boys, Mr. and Mrs. Bocchino of 15 Frederick street and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ferraro of 754 Washington avenue received telegrams on the same day last week, stating that their sons are prisoners of Germany.

In Another Company

Separated from Micky in another company, Pfc. Anthony Bocchino and Pvt. Joseph Ferraro were "captured by the enemy" the telegrams stated, on September 19. The War department further explained that the mailing address cannot be furnished until confirmation of their capture is received through the International Red Cross.

Anthony is 23 years old. He attended Belleville High school and worked for the General Instrument company in Elizabeth before joining the army. He has two brothers in the service, Frank, a Corporal stationed at Fort Dix and Joseph who is overseas. His two other brothers

WOULD ELIMINATE FLOOD CONDITION

Mayor Suggests Amendment To Building Code For Correction

In order to free future owners of new homes from cellar flood conditions, Mayor Williams suggested an amendment to the building code at the pre-commission meeting on Tuesday night, which would force builders to fill in low levels before construction so that houses will be above the street elevation and consistent with other grades.

An example of the flood condition now exists on Continental avenue between Fairway avenue and Carpenter street, where the land slopes to the north, with high lands in the rear of the houses on Continental avenue with the result that storm water flows into the cellars there. An additional storm sewer was installed in the area last year at a cost of $4,400 to overcome the condition. However, the unusual severity of last week's rain was more than the dual storm sewers could carry.

The suggested stipulation in the building code which has been referred to Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan, would be an assurance to property owners that they will not become victims of damages and unhealthy conditions except in the event of extreme storm conditions and the town should benefit by saving the expense of subsequent storm sewer installations, the Mayor stated.

O. P. A. Stops Issuance Of Ration Books 1 And 2

The Belleville war price and ration board has been notified by OPA that no more copies of War Ration Book 1 or 2 are to be issued for any purpose whatsoever.

All stamps in these books have now expired except No. 18 in Book No. 1 for shoes and blue stamps X, Y and Z in Book No. 2 which remain valid through November 20, for processed foods. These stamps should be safeguarded against loss because local boards are no longer authorized to replace them. The shoe stamp No. 18 will be valid until further notice. If it ever becomes necessary to set an expiration date, 30 days will be given.

Stamp No. 1, in Book No. 3, is now valid for shoes for an indefinite period. Brown stamps in Book No. 3 are now being used for meat. Green stamps in Book No. 4 are now being used for processed foods.

TRY SOLUTION FOR PARKING PROBLEM

Corbin Garden Tenants Now Assured Of Off-Street Facilities

In response to a request by the board of commissioners to appear at the Tuesday night meeting to remedy lack of adequate parking facilities at the Corbin Garden apartments on Carpenter street, Louis Kay of 50 Cort street, Brooklyn, the manager, agreed that a solution should be sought.

The over night parking condition on Carpenter street has been necessitated, Mrs. Dorothy Cottingham, representative of the tenants stated, since 58 car owners are unable to find either garages or other space in which to park their cars. Receipt of parking tickets was the cause of a petition to the commissioners from the residents asking for a solution to the problem.

Kay who said that he has made various attempts to find parking facilities, suggested that Mrs. Cottingham and a committee of tenants attempt to interest the owners of the property on the south of the apartments in leasing it to him for a parking area.

In the event that this plan is not successful, he will make arrangements to lease lots in back of the apartments which face on Fairway avenue, for a parking area. The commissioners agreed to rent the lots to him at a price equivalent to the annual tax assessment on condition that he leave the north and south lots free of cars. Entrance would be gained he said, from Carpenter street.

These alternate plans were agreed upon after Kay showed that Mrs. Cottingham's plan for clearance of space in back of the apartments would not accommodate enough cars. It is being reserved for a children's playground anyway, he said. The parking in the U shaped driveways which are approaches to the apartments, is not lawful, the commissioners warned, since they are town streets and must be kept clear for fire apparatus.

November Draft Group Leaves For Army On 23rd

The November draft contingent composed of Pre-Pearl Harbor fathers who were given 30 days to transfer from non-essential to essential industries and failed to do so, 18 year olds and those released by the Manning table will leave for Fort Dix on November 23 after the army's usual three week furlough. Those assigned to the Navy and Marines reported for training on Tuesday.

Assigned to the Army

Salvatore L. Avanzato, 51 Mt. Pleasant avenue; Joseph Backhaus, 15 Smith street; William D. Baumgartner, 11 Davidson street; James R. Baxter, 414 61st street; West New York; Louis E. Caputo, 14 1/2 Clinton street; James M. Cowell, Jr., 509 Union avenue; Louis J. DellaVolpe, 35 Jericho street.

Assigned to the Navy

William G. Black, 337 DeWitt avenue; Daniel J. Bride, 146 Little street; Frank E. Cocco, 6 Magnolia street; Alfred Delaney, 293 Main street; Raymond E. Ferry, 12 Locust street; Nutley; Benjamin F. Fiorentino, 67 Harrison street; Nutley; John P. Holler, 430 Cortlandt street; Franklin W. Lempert, 64 Belleville avenue; James A. Manning, 17 Lomb avenue; Nutley; Leonard J. Saurlos, 60 William street.

Assigned to the Marines

Harold E. Bates, 389 Washington avenue; Sherman S. Haggerty, 718 Joramelon street; John C. Lutz, Jr., 29 Overlook street.

WPB Denies Authority To Pave Brighton Avenue

Public Works Director Waters informed the board of commissioners on Tuesday night that the War Production Board had denied the request of deputy director Hugh Welsh for authority to construct pavement on Brighton avenue from Sanford avenue to 400 feet north of Newark avenue.

Although the decision may be appealed within 30 days, Welsh has pointed out that this may be a critical area and the WPB has observed that the condition has existed for a number of years. The proper maintenance of the present road will give adequate access for property holders for the duration, it maintains.

Claim School Board Arbitrary; Consider Elective Method

NO TOY SHORTAGE WHEN TYCOONS START ROLLING

All Junior Achievement Companies Will Make Yule Products

Early Christmas shoppers will find no shortage of toys in Belleville after the wheels of three more junior companies start rolling. A series of meetings held in the high school auditorium last week settled the final organizational problems of the Junior Achievement plan.

The company sponsored jointly by Viking Tool and Machine company and Bart Laboratories is to be known as Junior Enterprises, with Jeanne Russell as president. The board of directors also includes Alfred J. Jennings, vice-president; Nan Anderson, secretary; Ruth Albrechtsen, treasurer; Allen T. Bonhoff, sales manager and Kenneth Mayotte, production manager. Evelyn Walling, George M. Keating, George Anderson, and Paul Holland are the other members of the firm, whose arrangements were completed at Wednesday's meeting.

Heuser Woodcraft company, under the guidance of the Eastwood-Nealley corporation, announced the completion of its executive board Thursday night. William Heuser Jr. is president, Anne Gerino, secretary; Marjorie Hansen, treasurer; Joyce Shannon, sales manager; and Leonard Nesta, production manager. The firm members are Vilma DelPriore, June Jimmerson, Lois Buntington, Eleanor deNikie, Leonard Hicken and Charles Zindel Jr.

Adult advisors from Wallace and Tiernan met with their junior group, the Woodware Novelty company, Friday evening. Dolores Allaire, Marise Whidden, Robert Gross, Teresa Durran, and William Gross make up the personnel of the firm headed by Dolores Dietz, president; Marilyn Wern, secretary; Muriel Alger, treasurer; Lionel Ehrenworth, sales manager; and Eric Willette, production manager.

The purpose of Junior Achievement as a nation-wide plan is to give youngsters actual part in the working of big business. According to adult sponsors of Belleville's group, the manufacture of Christmas toys and novelties will give the new organizations invaluable experience in production and merchandising. After this seasonal activity, the young executives of tomorrow hope to handle war materials under subcontracts from some of the sponsoring companies. Plans for interests other than manufacturing are also under way.

Open Meetings

All meetings of the Citizens committee are open and Brumback emphasized that all interested citizens are welcome to attend. One teacher, a member of the faculty, was present Tuesday night, who was supported in the statement that other teachers were interested in the meeting but were "afraid" to attend. However, it was also pointed out that residents have shown little aggressiveness in attempting to have their wishes acted upon by the present board.

Belleville has had an appointed board since 1913 when the change from councilmanic to the commission form of government was made. Under the commission form of government when there is an appointive board of education, the appointments are made by the Mayor. There are five members. Herbert C. Schmutz is president and others are James Lynch, Charles Gebhardt, Walter Gilby and Mrs. Homer Zink. Moves have been made from time to time, in the past, to obtain an elective board, but have never been carried through.

Should public opinion indicate that an elected school body is preferred, the change could be voted upon by a public referendum placed on the ballot at a general election. The Citizens committee plans to investigate the relative merits of the appointive and elective systems. It is writing to the State Commissioner of Education in Trenton in this regard, and voted to find competent speakers for and against each system, as a forthright approach to the question. In addition, the New Jersey Education Association will be contacted for any information or opinion it will give on the subject.

It was emphasized that this action would in no way be a vindication against the present board but is rather intended to solve the question of whether or not the public and schools would be better served by board members of their own choosing.

Decorations By King Said To Be First For Yanks

Royalty Not New To Sgt. Ferrell Who Has Met Prince Of Wales

Tech Sgt. George Ferrell, formerly of 117 Beech street, whose investiture with the Distinguished Flying Cross was reported here several months ago, has just got around to writing of his experience. No novelty to George was his meeting with royalty, although it is believed that he is the first United States member of the ranks to be decorated by the King of England.

About 15 years ago, young George received a trip to London as Hoboken representative to the international Boy Scout jamboree. There he was photographed with the Prince of Wales, and this picture became the nucleus of a collection that now includes the many colorful personalities encountered in an adventurous life.

George, now 29, served in the Merchant Marine for eight years, spending his leave with his brother Harry, who still lives at the Beech street address. One of the few white men to have landed on Pitcairn Island in the mid-Pacific, where practically no harbor exists, he photographed the descendants of the buccaners whose stories have made the basis for novels and films.

In 1941 the young sailor, again acting against every convention of tradition, decided to join the army. He wanted action, and enlisted in the R.C.A.F.

The flight for which Sgt. Ferrell received his citation was a bombing mission over Dortmund, Germany. The Lancaster, in which his position was mid-gunner, was delayed in taking off, and although it reached its objective, was far enough behind the rest of the flight to become a single target for the enemy.

Junior Red Cross Begins Annual Roll Call

St. Peter's Joins Schools That Had 100 Percent Enrollment Last Year

Again, the American Junior Red Cross is taking enrollment for service. Once each year the organization is faced with the task of enrolling boys and girls in the schools for continuing service with the Red Cross, and this year the task is greater than ever.

With more than seventeen million members, the American Junior Red Cross has reached new heights. Not only is there a larger membership than ever before but it is more active. Last year, members made more than nine million articles for men in the armed forces, and more than twelve million have been made since Pearl Harbor.

Members of the Junior organization have collected more than fifty thousand tons of salvageable materials; one hundred thousand gift boxes have been sent to England, Iceland, Ireland, Alaska, and 15 Central and South American countries.

Children of America have sent shoes and gifts to the war orphans of Russia, clothing and other necessities to England, educational supplies to Polish refugee children. All this, and more, has been accomplished by the National Children's Fund of the American Junior Red Cross. This fund established during World War I is made up of money contributed by young people in the schools of this nation. The money is earned by them, in groups and individually, through all sorts of endeavors. Not one penny of the Children's Fund is ever used for administrative purposes. The fund helped in the rehabilitation of Europe's children after the last war. During peacetime, it was used for the children of this country in time of flood and fire.

In Belleville, the Junior Red Cross has had 100 per cent enrollment in the public schools in past years, and this year, the students of St. Peter's school are joining the Junior group.

Work Finished

Mrs. William H. Williams, local chairman, has reported that 150 gift boxes have been completed and sent to the area warehouse in Jersey City for shipment abroad. These contained games, pencils, novelties and personal articles. Members in the schools are working for the production committee on utility bags and covers for hot water bags.

Under the direction of Miss Helen Simpson, over 750 decorated menu cards were made for the Navy for Christmas. In School No. 3 three dozen favors for the Veterans' Hospital at Lyons have been made; at School No. 10 decorated napkins and candy cups for the patients have been sent to the Isolation Hospital for Halloween and scrap books are also being made for the children at the hospital. Many items which were left after the gift boxes were filled to the Crippled Children's home and razor blades and soap turned over to Mrs. Harvey B. Thompson, chairman of the production committee, to be used in filling the utility bags.

The new Junior Red Cross movie "Hand to Hand" has been shown in all the schools which have facilities for the projection of a sound movie.

Miss Edith Arlotta Receives Engagement Ring By Proxy

Miss Edith Arlotta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Arlotta of 173 Garden avenue, whose engagement to Technical Sgt. Felix Mongrello of the Army Air corps was announced Saturday evening received her engagement ring by proxy. Sgt. Mongrello is in Hawaii after a year and a half overseas duty. His brother, Virgil Mongrello placed the ring on Miss Arlotta's finger. Mongrello was graduated from Belleville High school and was also employed by the Kidde plant before entering the Army two years ago. Recent Bride

Mrs. Harold A. Wade

Miss Beatrice Groeling, daughter of Patrolman and Mrs. William Groeling of Kearny, and Harold A. Wade, Seaman, 1/C, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Wade of 181 Floyd street, were married Sunday afternoon, October 31, in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Kearny. Rev. Raymond E. Neff performed the ceremony. A reception and buffet supper followed at the bride's home.

The bride's father gave her in marriage and she was attended by her sister, Miss Louise Groeling as maid of honor. Sgt. John W. Haines of Kearny acted as Mr. Wade's best man. Ushers were Sgt. Harold Richter and Sgt. Robert Williams of Bloomfield. The bride's gown of white faille was made with a sweetheart neckline. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses. Her sister's similarly made frock of raspberry faille was matched by a feather headdress. Her bouquet was of roses in the same shade.

Mrs. Groeling wore a corsage of gardenias with her burgundy costume. Mrs. Wade wore a burgundy hat with her soldier blue gown and her corsage was also of gardenias.

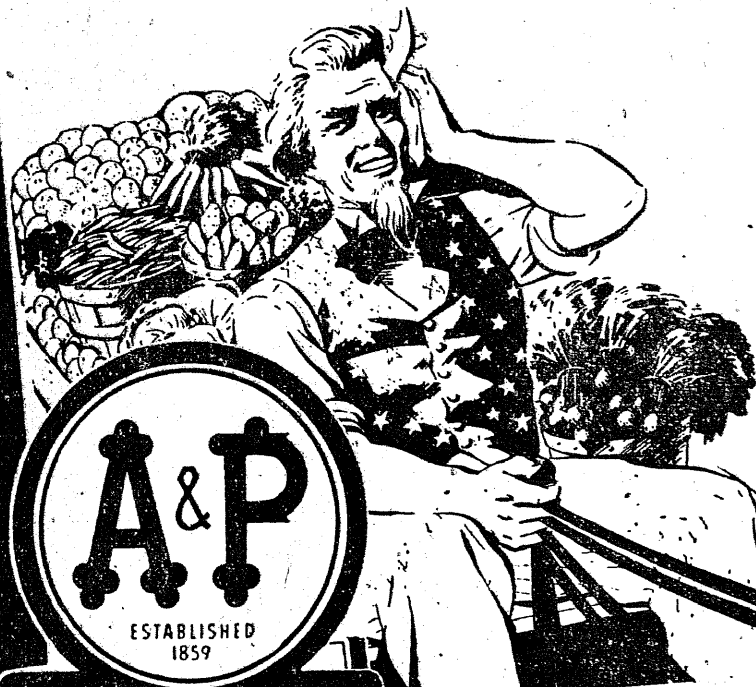

The couple had a short honeymoon in Asbury Park after which Seaman Wade returned to sea duty. He has been in the Navy a year and a half before which he was with the Westinghouse corporation. He is a graduate of Belleville high school. Young Mrs. Wade is with the Prudential Insurance company in Newark. A graduate of Kearny high school, she will remain with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade entertained at dinner in their Floyd street home for the couple on the evening preceding their wedding.

News of Those In Service

Frances Daley, daughter of the Frank E. Daleys of 7 Wallace street is one of 55 girls newly recruited in the WAC under the All-States plan. Before leaving for basic training, the New Jersey contingent was entertained Wednesday evening at the Elks club in Newark. Borah Minevitch's Harmonica Rascals, and Danny Hope and his music with Virginia Hall were stars on a program that also included talented service men and women. Ralph A. Villane, Director of Parks and Public Property was in charge of the affair.

Geoffrey Powell, son of the Thomas Powells of Academy street, has transferred from the R. C. A. F. to the U. S. Army Air Force, and has received his commission as a first lieutenant. He held a commission in the R. C. A. F. as Pilot Officer. He is stationed overseas.

Machinist's Mate Ralph Robert Cordasco of 418 Broad street, Bloomfield, has completed his training at the Naval Air Technical Training Center in Memphis, Tenn. Ralph attended Belleville High school, where he was an all-around athlete, and was employed for a year before his enlistment by the Sweeney Lithographing company of Newark. He is the brother of Marie Cordasco of Bloomfield, and has a twin brother, Jerry, a seaman on the U.S.S. Boston. The brothers enlisted in Newark last August first, and until Ralph was sent to Memphis for technical training, had never been separated.

Penny Scarcity As Public Is Urged To Keep 'Em Circulating

Calling to the attention of the general public yesterday the need for returning more coins to circulation, Frank J. McFadden, First National Bank vice-president, quoted a letter received by the bank from the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

"While more pennies are in existence today than ever before, it is important that a better distribution be effected. Because our supply of pennies has been greatly limited we have been unable to meet the requests of member banks and others for pennies and the available supply has been apportioned under an informal rationing system. Many banks throughout the District have, in turn, been unable to meet the requests of their own customers and have found it necessary to restrict the distribution of pennies to them.

"In order to effect a better distribution of pennies to meet the needs of banking and business, we shall appreciate your urging your customers and employees to return their coin savings as promptly as possible. The cooperation of banks, businesses and individuals in this respect will help in meeting the needs of business and, by lessening the demand for new coins, will ease the production strain on the mints."

Those with coin banks are asked to turn in their savings as quickly as possible.

Legion Auxiliary Sells $465 In Bonds During October

Reporting yesterday on sales at the War stamp and bond booth which has been conducted nightly since June, 1942 in the Capitol theatre lobby, Mrs. William Kant, chairman of this project for the American Legion Auxiliary, said that during October $465 worth of stamps were sold and $350 worth of bonds. In the preceding month, during the September Third War loan drive, stamps amounted to $580 and bonds to $2800.

Sgt. Chester Paul

The promotion of Capt. James A. Castner from the grade of first lieutenant is announced in orders issued by the Caribbean Defense command. Capt. Castner is intelligence officer of a bombardment squadron of the Sixth Air Force at an outlying base in the Caribbean area. The Captain is a graduate of Washington N. J. High school. He later attended Temple university in Philadelphia, for one year, Washington and Lee university, Lexington, Va., for two years, where he majored in business administration and economics, and Brooklyn Law school, where he received his L.L.B. He was commissioned a first lieutenant in June, 1942, after which he attended Officer Training school, Miami Beach, Fla. From there he went to the Air Forces Intelligence school, Harrisburg, Pa., and to the 2nd Air Force Headquarters Intelligence school, Spokane, Wash. He arrived in this department in April, 1943. Capt. Castner's home address is 188 New street, where his wife, Adeline E. Castner, now resides.

Sgt. George E. Kistner, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kistner of 450 Cortlandt street spent a 10-day furlough with his parents here in late October. He was graduated and received his wings from aerial gunner's school at Laredo, Texas in September and previously from Scott Field, Ill. as radio operator and mechanic. Sgt. Red Wings Bow To Irvington

The Belleville Red Wings, outweighed and poorly equipped, were a credit to their town a week ago Sunday, in spite of their defeat to the undefeated McKenna Sports club of Irvington.

A long pass and successful conversion accounted for McKenna's score in the first quarter. From that point on, both teams were unable to score. Belleville's scoring chance was stopped on the five yard line in the third quarter.

Bub Gelok, 23 Terrace place, Red Wing sensational back, got off a brilliant 75-yard kick in the third period. Gelok displayed fine running and was a constant threat to the McKenna backfield. Bob McManus, Seaman 1/C, USNR, played with the Red Wings. Other members who participated in Sunday's game were Capt. Fletcher, Leonard, Dejesse, Briody, Frank, Riden, Hickman, Carlan and Bryon.

Press Club Elects Officers

The Press club held a banquet and meeting Sunday afternoon in Veteran's hall at 3. Officers elected were Frank Stanley, president; Joseph Donnelly, vice-president; Stanley Pogerski, financial secretary; Frank Machonis, secretary and Edward Shaw and Tony, Charlie Chaplin of committee chairman. Nip Demgard will be sergeant at arms.

Pfc. John Paul

Paul, both Petresin club members, were formerly noted as one of the most dextrous dancing couples in Belleville's young crowd. Sgt. Paul was in the office of the Singer Sewing Machine company in Newark before entering the Army.

News also came last weekend to the Pauls from their eldest son, Pfc. John Paul, now stationed somewhere in the South Pacific area, where his uniform is now mostly "a pair of khaki shorts". He spent two years in Hawaii and only recently arrived at his new destination. He is fighting with an artillery unit and spent six months training here at Fort Eustis, Va. Pvt. Paul was with the Pittsburgh Paint and Glass company in Newark in civilian life.

Youngest members of the Paul family in service are twins Jim and Joe who have completed their basic Air corps training in Miami Beach, Fla. and are awaiting further orders. They were accepted by the Cadet Examining board of the Air Corps this summer and reported for training in September.

Promotion of Peter P. Brindisi, 35, of Belleville, to Sergeant from the rank of Corporal has been announced by the headquarters of the heavy bombardment group to which he is assigned in Hawaii. Brindisi is an airplane mechanic in a squadron based in the Hawaiian Islands. Prior to his induction March 5, 1942, Brindisi was a tacker employed by the Seton Leather company of Newark. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Agostino Brindisi, live at 75 Cedar Hill avenue.

WHY IS AN APPRAISAL NECESSARY?

A real estate appraisal is necessary only when a person wants to know the real value of a property—before he buys or sells it.

Appraisals of real estate, until recent years, were more or less limited to use by Banking institutions, Savings and Loan associations and attorneys; that is, by those regarded as being business people prudent in matters of real estate, handling funds of others.

Today—private individuals—the public in general—have become more prudent in real estate matters. The many calls to my office for appraisals of real estate—by private home owners and persons considering the purchase of a home indicate the trend of the public to the use of an appraisal for value—before they buy or sell real estate.

Years of intimate experience with values of Belleville real estate enable me to render a prompt, qualified and economical appraisal service on all Belleville properties.

The Role The Visiting Nurse Plays In Belleville Homes

Non-Profit Association Will Receive Funds From War Fund Drive

For many years Belleville has been one of the communities covered by nurses working under the direction of the Newark Visiting Nurse association. The work of the Visiting Nurse differs from the work of the nurses employed by the Town of Belleville. When called, the Visiting Nurse goes in to any home where there is illness and under the direction of the physician in charge gives nursing care and carries out treatments. The nurses employed by the Town of Belleville, are engaged in teaching and supervising mothers in the care of their children in the home and school.

Calls for the Visiting Nurse come from many sources—often it is the busy doctor who calls and asks the nurse to visit his patient and he leaves his written orders in the home. Sometimes the family, when they are overwhelmed by the need of the patient, call for the nurse. Sometimes in the hospital, sending the patient home, calls and states that the physician now thinks the patient may leave the hospital if a nurse can come in every day to give nursing care.

All Eligible For Service

Anyone regardless of ability to pay, may have the service since the Belleville Community Chest contribution pays for service when the patient is not able to pay. The association also does the work for two insurance companies which provide nursing care for certain types of policies. All who are able to pay for the service are asked to pay the normal charge. The Association is a non-profit organization and only asks for payment sufficient to carry on the work.

A typical day might mean that she might visit the young mother whose baby was born at home the night before—the nurse now comes to give the mother care and the baby his first bath. Next she might visit the young mother who has just come home from the hospital and feels very inadequate when it comes to giving her first baby his bath although the nurse did show her how to give him a bath in the hospital. The baby's father will not see him for months as he is in the army overseas and the nurse must bring the mother reassurance and courage as well as help.

The next patient has returned from the hospital and still has a dressing which the doctor has asked the nurse to do and then report to him the progress of the case. Another patient to be visited is the chronic patient who has been in bed for months unable to help herself. She is alone all day as the family is working and she looks forward to her bed bath twice a week when she is made clean and comfortable and the nurse brings her outside interest. And so the nurse goes from home to home where there is illness. In a day she will visit seven or eight patients always attempting to teach the patient or family as she works, the best way to regain health.

Report Four Star Show For Lions Club Supper Dance

Many tickets have been sold for the supper-dance to be given under the auspices of the Belleville Lions club, on Wednesday night at Frank Dailey's Terrace room, Mosque theatre building, in Newark.

Members of the committee visited the Terrace room to witness the show by Abe Lyman and his orchestra and they report it is the best in entertainment, comparable to Cafe Society Uptown or any leading night club in New York.

In addition to the feature numbers which includes novelty acts by members of the Lyman cast, the committee has arranged other popular acts to augment the regular show, thus assuring each one attending, a well rounded evening of pleasure.

The specialty feature in which Lyman himself, conducts an auction contest in which members of the audience are invited to test their voices before the "mike", is especially humorous, the committee reports.

Dailey has agreed to waive the minimum cover charge for Lion guests, and has included the dinner as a concession to the club. The entire lower floor has been reserved for Lion guests. Tickets can be purchased from any Lion member. The committee suggests that this be done immediately so that adequate arrangements can be made for supper service, by calling Luther VanPelt, at the Peoples Bank.

Cub Scouts Urged To Prepare For Future Careers, Now

Preceding a costume Halloween party in Fewsmith church auditorium Thursday evening, members of Cub Pack 350 were told to apply themselves now in preparation for their future careers. Seventy cubs were addressed by their Cubmaster, Harold F. Ross, by Rev. O. Bell Close, Fewsmith pastor, and Mayor Williams. Ross stressed obedience to parents, den mothers and Cub leaders.

Mayor Williams in giving reasons for preparation now outlined in his talk at the end of the present period of destruction and waste the part these young boys will have in rehabilitation and progress. Wisdom, the Mayor demonstrated, combined with fair play and friendliness will be victory weapons for success.

Twelve den mothers, eight den chiefs and relatives and friends of the Cubs attended. After games and a costume parade prizes were awarded. First prize went to Lawrence Baureis as Aunt Jemima and second to Mason Ford as a well dressed socialite. Ronald Newton and Herbert Wandmueller received first and second prizes for the neatness of their costumes. Mayor Williams was the guest speaker. Her topic is "The Home in the Third Reich".

At the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of School No. 2 Mrs. Hilda Koch, author of "Refugee", will be guest speaker. Her topic is "The Home in the Third Reich".

These Are The Vitamins
That Build Health and Energy

Vitamin A is the anti-infective and growth-promoting vitamin. Its lack results in susceptibility to colds and other ailments; . . . its insufficiency in children results in scrawnyness and stunted growth. Principal source, halibut liver oil.

Vitamin B is the "spark plug" of the human system" . . . it tones the nervous and digestive systems, promoting growth, appetite and energy. It also helps to remove lactic acid from the blood stream, thus eliminating the feeling of fatigue. Principal sources, yeast and wheat-germ.

Vitamin C protects and feeds the capillaries under the skin; it helps to heal wounds, and prevents scurvy. Modern diet is usually lacking in this vitamin because it is easily destroyed by cooking. Principal sources, tomatoes and oranges when freshly picked.

Vitamin D is the "sunshine" vitamin. Tests show that it remedies the disorders caused by the deficiency of ultra violet in this climate's sunshine. Without it, normal formation of blood and bone ceases, resulting in rickets, sagging muscles and decay of the teeth. Principal source, cod liver oil.

Vitamin E is the "anti-sterility" vitamin. It has additional important uses in that it promotes mental vigor and tones the muscles. Principal source, wheat-germ.

Vitamin G is the riboflavin factor of the B vitamin that improves stomach tone, remedies skin eruptions and loss of red blood corpuscles. Principal sources yeast and liver.

If It Should Happen Here

DEMONSTRATING the emergency health and medical committee's readiness to go into action as part of the protective services of the Defense Council in an emergency, is Mrs. Ellis Smith, registered nurse in charge of Casualty Station No. 4 in School No. 10. Mayor Williams is shown on an inspection tour, in the background, accompanied by Defense Coordinator Ronald Brunner and Defense Council Chairman Everett Smith. The "victims" on the stretcher horses are Bobby Smith, son of the chairman and Phyllis Smith, young daughter of Mrs. Smith, standing between the patients.

Well Planned Facilities For Air Raid Casualties

Five Stations Fully Equipped,
Under Emergency Health
And Medical Service

Facilities well planned by the Defense Council for the protection of residents in the event of enemy air attack are ready to go into operation at a moment's notice. Outstanding in importance among the protective services are those designed to accommodate the wounded in such an emergency.

All Bellevillites should be acquainted with the casualty station and first aid station plan set up to treat varying degrees of injuries. There are five casualty stations in town, located on the ground floor of the schools and so situated as to be of service in all sections. They are under the direct supervision of Dr. James Irwin, chief of the emergency health and medical service, and are equipped with operating facilities.

The staff at each station consists of a minimum of two local doctors, two registered nurses who assume charge until the doctors arrive, three or four nurses aides, first aiders, canteen and motor corp members.

Should bombs fall, the air raid warden would report the catastrophe and among the services which would respond would be an ambulance and attending physician. If treatment on the spot seems inadvisable, the physician would then direct those with minor injuries or ambulatory cases to the nearest first aid station. Those more seriously wounded would be taken on stretchers in the ambulance to the nearest casualty station for treatment. Those requiring hospitalization would then be sent first to the isolation or base hospital where the staff would be augmented by Belleville doctors and nurses. In the event that this becomes crowded, the overflow would then go to Columbus and St. Barnabas hospitals in Newark.

The casualty stations have 10 ambulances in attendance, are equipped with operating tables, 10 cots, 10 stretchers, a cabinet containing all types of splints and bandages, a cabinet of operating and other instruments and drugs and sterilization facilities. Electric lanterns and Sterno are also provided in the event of light and heat failure.

Casualty Equipment
The schools are used through the cooperation of the board of education and all of the rooms delegated to the Defense Council have been freshly painted with light walls and floors of battleship gray. The canteen would operate out of the High School cafeteria where the dietitian would be in charge. The isolation hospital is also supplied with plasma for shock cases and material for the treatment of burns, in addition to the usual supplies needed in an emergency.

The personnel in attendance and the location of the stations is as follows:

Casualty Station No. 1, School No. 1—Dr. A. R. Caputo and Dr. Martin Meehan; Miss Mary Millar, R. N.

Casualty Station No. 2, School No. 3—Dr. G. R. Lewis and Dr. William Taffet; Miss Angelle Chapman, Mrs. Ruth Failing and Mrs. Maurin Horb, R. N.

Casualty Station No. 3, School No. 5—Dr. E. M. Rizzolo, Miss Elizabeth Millar, R. N.

Casualty Station No. 4, School No. 10—Dr. D. S. Brown, Mrs. Marion Smith, R. N.

Casualty Station No. 5, School No. 4—Dr. W. H. Post, Miss Ethel Akersten, R. N.

The first aid stations are located in St. Peter's school, Fewsmith, St. Anthony's and Baptist churches, the Silver Lake Community house and the Friendly House, the High School, Schools No. 7, 8 and 9; the Recreation house, Exempt Firemen's Hall and Montgomery Chapel.

When a first aid instructor is assigned to one of these stations, he is in charge, otherwise the captain of the first aiders supervises.

REVIEW PLAN

points out and may be modified as conditions require it. He recommends that the program be reviewed annually with revisions so that a continuing six year program may be effected. The result will be "a more closely controlled tax rate", he says.

The program covers a brief history of the town, purposes and objectives of the creation of a capital long range budget, financial analysis covering sources of revenues and expenditures from 1937 to date, anticipated revenues and expenditures projected to 1948, outline of debt, policy, graphic charts covering population, taxes, valuation trends, functional expenses, actual and anticipated capital improvement expenditures and charts of funded debts of Town, School and Water divisions, and amortization schedules.

The main projects listed in the report cover: William street fire alarm building; Water lines Washington avenue; elimination Water line dead ends, Jorammon and Main street storm sewer, street improvements, A, B and C Second River improvement, Stadium recreational building, school playgrounds improvement, fire alarm communications and controls, junior high school an addition to No. 3 school, replacement of No. 3 school, Third river reclamation and flood control, Town hall addition, Norton-Division and Celia terrace storm sewers and Norton-Arthur and Division avenues improvements.

PAPER COLLECTION THIS SATURDAY

This Saturday, November 13, trucks will call at your home to pick up your paper. Have it tied into small tight bundles and placed on your curb. Make it easy for the volunteers who are doing this work to pick up the paper and load the trucks.

Your country urgently needs paper NOW for packaging war supplies, and greater demands have been created on the home front, such as conversion to cardboard packages for food products instead of tin cans.

Remember Three Things:

1st - Tie Up Your Bundles

2nd - Place On Curb

3rd - Saturday, November 13

If you want to help an hour or more with the truck crews, phone Charles Nutt, BE. 2-2549, or any member of the Defense Council or Town Hall. Help is needed.

Post Office Makes Plea For First Class Mailing Of Cards

The United States Post Office requests that the public preserve the dignity of Christmas greetings and send them first class mail. First class matter may be sealed, may contain writing, will be forwarded, will be returned, will be given preference in delivery. Christmas greetings mailed at the third class rate cannot be sealed, will not be forwarded, will not be returned, must not contain writing and are handled as ordinary circular mail.

The use of small or odd-size greeting cards and envelopes which practice is so costly to the Postal Service is discouraged. It is suggested that not under any envelopes be smaller than two and three quarters by four inches, a size somewhat larger is preferable.

Large numbers of Christmas greetings, mailed in unsealed envelopes at the third class rate of postage, 1 1/2 cents each, are disposed of as waste every year because they are undeliverable as addressed, due to removal of the addressee, or other cause. Such greetings are not entitled to free forwarding privilege accorded those mailed in sealed envelopes, prepaid at the letter rate of postage. Consequently, the senders in many cases never know that the greetings were not received by the addressee. This would not occur if the greetings were mailed sealed at the letter rate of postage.

Ben is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ben of Garfield. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. James Glotzbach at 4:30 p.m. White chrysanthemums and palms will be used to decorate the church. A reception will be held in the Essex House, Newark.

Over this she will wear a fingertip length tulle veil falling from the lace coronet. Her bouquet of white roses and poms will be centered with an orchid. Heavenly blue chiffon has been chosen for the maid of honor's gown with sweetheart neckline and full skirt. She will wear a matching tulle shoulder length veil over a tiara of blue flowers and will carry pink roses and yellow pom-pom chrysanthemums.

Similarly made gowns of cedar rose chiffon will be worn by the bridesmaids whose floral head-dresses and veils will also match their gowns. They will carry American Beauty roses and white poms. Mrs. Heideman will wear yellow flowers in her hair and a corsage of yellow roses with her aquamarine gown. Mrs. Ben will also accent her black costume with a corsage of yellow roses. The bride will travel in a suit of brown wool gabardine with matching felt hat and white accessories.

Justice Day Has New Meaning

Justice Day celebrations denoting the end of World War I which was fought, if remembered correctly, as "a war to end wars", have a changed significance now, and leaves their original purpose deleted to the pleasant and ineffectual realm of wishful thinking.

The observance this year should certainly be no celebration but rather a serious consideration of the terms and plans under which some future Victory Day will be achieved. If the present world-wide chaos is to be justified, a clear cut and hard-headed approach to post-war plans must be determined and followed.

International policies affecting a community of nations through national, state and local programs must have well-executed blueprints arrived at through a consensus of public opinion. Every adult should take a part in the formation of that public opinion at least by participation in his own town's approach to the problem.

Belleville, in addition to its post-war works program calculated to take up the slack in employment during the reconversion period that industry must engage in, is fortunate in having already under way, plans for returning servicemen through the activities of the Belleville Foundation. The Foundation, with its program of service, its plans for enlarged recreational and musical activities, if it is to be a success, needs the support of the community by individual participation. Those plans are now being molded. They present an opportunity for every Bellevilleite to have his share in the peace to come.

How About Giving Him A Break?

New Jersey's new governor beside being a fast thinker, will have to be something of a mathematical wizard during his first few weeks in office when he prepares his recommendations on the state's multi-million dollar spending program for next year, the New Jersey Taxpayers association points out unless corrective legislative action is taken.

The complicated process of shaping the state government budget for 1944 already has begun. The results of the Budget Commissioner's hearings ordinarily would be reported to the governor early in December and the chief executive would then have sufficient time to lay out his budget recommendations for submission to the legislature early in February.

However, the association observes that this year, because the new governor will not take office until January 18, preparation of his budget message in time for submission to the legislature on February 15 must be a high speed, less than a month job, sandwiched in between the multitude of other duties and ceremonies piled upon a new chief executive upon taking office. While he may wish to sweep clean and cut state spending to the bone from the outset of his administration, he has little time for a thorough job.

A solution in the attempt to provide the new executive with additional time for preparation of the budget is seen in a resolution introduced in the state senate some months ago by Senator Lance of Hunterdon county. This measure, recommended by the New Jersey Taxpayers association as a step toward better fiscal control in government, would permit the governor-elect officially to participate in the budget preparation as soon as his election is certified next month instead of waiting until his inauguration.

Deserving of early enactment by the 1943 legislature to give the new chief executive more time to set the economy guideposts on the state's 1944 financial course, this measure affords one of the many improvements needed in present state government budget-making which now has little to commend it except, perhaps, its long gray whiskers.

The "Horrors" Of War

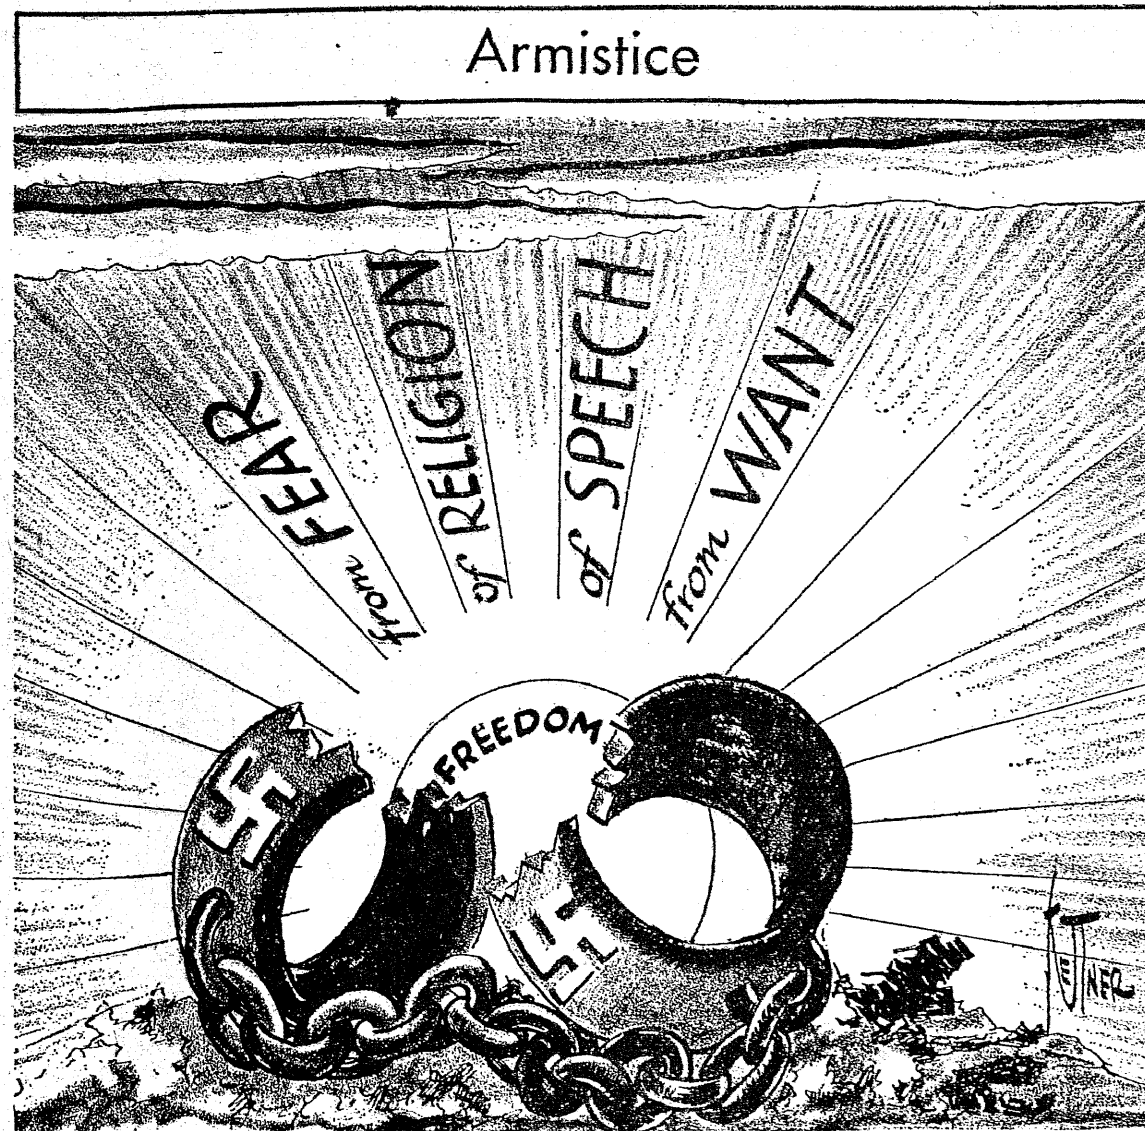

A chart of young America's wartime morale would have shown an alarming drop early this week. Frankie Sinatra is now in 1A, it being apparent to any draft board that the absence of the breadwinner will not cause dire hardship to Frankie's little brood. It will, of course, be very hard for the singer's agents and employers who have already raised an anguished howl. It seems that the United States Treasury will feel at once the pinch caused by the absence of taxes brought in by Frankie's fans.

The fans themselves are suffering with more or less silent dignity. We have not personally observed the universal swooning said to be brought on by the crooner's low tones. The sobbing groan from the broadcasting studio that accompanies his opening notes gives some idea of the devotion of his audience. However, the fans feel that it is only in character for their idol to throw his 136 pounds into battle, and they will be brave.

Conscious of being a psychologically unexplainable phenomenon in an otherwise jive-mad generation, Frankie himself is taking it big. Always a lad with an eye for publicity, even when pictured in obvious disharmony with symphony orchestras, the singer has now abandoned his pose of clasping a swaying mike, and has adopted a more pugilistic attitude for his photographs.

There is no question about it, to avoid more of this, and for the sake of the juke-box set, let us go all-out for a quick victory.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

by Meador Wright

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville Times.

The majority given Walter E. Edge in the recent election was so sweeping that it makes his strength in relation to the various county leaders too great to permit any one of them challenging him successfully as the Vanderbilt-Cleese leadership in Essex challenged Harold G. Hoffman in 1935. I heard several predictions during the gubernatorial campaign, both within and without the Clean Government camp, that Arthur T. Vanderbilt and Edge would fall out when the 1944 legislative session would get underway. At the time, I was inclined to agree with these predictions. But further study of the situation in the light of the recent election returns makes me revise this opinion.

Much will depend upon how skillful and aggressive Edge is as a state leader. If he fulfills the predictions of his close advisors he will assume this leadership without hesitation or reservations. Should this be the case, Vanderbilt will almost be compelled to fall in line. Insurgency on his part prior to the May primaries would mean a certain opposition ticket at home with Edge backing. This would be risky to say the least. The position of Edge and Vanderbilt in New Jersey is somewhat analogous to that of America and Russia in the international scene. The mutual advantage of working together is too great to make any other course logical.

Even though unlogical, it is not too hard to visualize an estrangement where self-interest might clash with principle as in the future status of Poland, Turkey or China. Likewise Edge might favor a compromise with the New Jersey promise with the South Jersey boys on constitutional revision on the grounds of expediency that Vanderbilt would reject as a matter of principle. Or Edge might recognize as leaders in Essex men so hostile that Vanderbilt would consider such recognition more dangerous to his and Clean Government's position than a show-down. Again, they might break over the selection of delegates to the next Republican national convention.

The cordiality between Edge and Wendell Willkie during the recent campaign led many observers to explore the possibility of disagreement on that subject. It is definite that Vanderbilt will support Thomas E. Dewey if he is a candidate, and that he will probably work toward creating a situation whereby Dewey's candidacy will materialize. Edge's position is less well known but most of his intimates say that he favors Willkie over Dewey. Whether this preference is militant enough to make him go out and fight for delegates pledged to Willkie is far less certain.

One Edge advisor (who is unfriendly to Vanderbilt) thinks that the two may work out an agreement for uninstructed delegates to the convention. Edge, said this man, has always favored uninstructed delegates as a matter of standing policy. Vanderbilt, on the contrary, has worked successfully for pledged delegates the last two conventions. But this year since his first and irrevocable choice has definitely stated that he will not be a pre-convention candidate, Edge's policy of uninstructed delegates would suit Vanderbilt's plans and preferences perfectly.

Obstacles To Agreement

Several obstacles, however, to such an agreement loom. First, the Willkie forces might decide to make a bid for delegates in New Jersey regardless of Edge's policy, and might put all kinds of pressure on him either to support them mitted to censorship of Clean Government's conduct and policies by that group. To use the jargon of today in international affairs, he has given up some of his "sovereignty" in exchange for greater security. Henceforth, he must operate with the "advice and consent" of his new allies. Aside from that of Arthur J. Sinnott who directs the policies of the Newark News, the active support of no man in Essex would have quite the strategic value to Willkie as that of Speers.

BELLBOYS DROP GRID STRUGGLE TO KEARNY 13-6
Passes Good For Two Scores; Dunleavy Goes Over For Touchdown
The Kearny High gridder led by Leo Latulippe and Bob Whinnham, scored their fourth victory of the season last Saturday over a strong Belleville eleven in a 13-6 game at Kearny. The loss was Belleville's third against as many triumphs.
After a scoreless deadlock during the first half, in which Kearny threatened to score twice, the Kards, midway in the third quarter, marched 60 yards for a touchdown. Leo Latulippe, a substitute, in five plays carried the ball down to the "bellboys" 34. Then the scoring play was made on an 18 yard pass from Ed Ford to Bob Whinnham, who snared it on the 16 and ran to the 7, where he lateraled to Latulippe, who carried the ball over. Bowman's attempted place kick failed.
Kearny's second six pointer came in the final stanza, and again it was set up by Latulippe. Starting on his own 35, in several plays he went to Belleville's 30. On a 15 yard penalty against Belleville for roughing the kicker, the ball was brought to the 24, and then Latulippe went to the 14. After several incomplete passes Ed Ford tossed the pigskin to Whinnham, who was standing clear in the end zone for the second tally. This time Bowman's kick was good making it 13-0.
Belleville's lone touchdown came with minutes left to play in the fourth period, when it traveled 50 yards against Kearny subs. Jim Dunleavy, who led the attack, went 15 yards for the score to drive the end. Duntra point and Kearny won 13-6. leavy's end run failed for the extra point and Kearny won 13-6.

EDITORIAL
At last we have a school newspaper. We hope to keep it going. We're going to keep it going if we have your cooperation. Through the courtesy of the publishers of The "Belleville Times" we are able to use these four columns in which to print all school news.
We've a lot of things planned for the future to liven up our "sheet." If you have any suggestions concerning columns and features, or have any helpful criticisms for us, give them to any of the editors.
Give us your support and we'll give you a paper.
Students in high schools all over America should remain in school during America's critical war days so as to be prepared to help her in post-war days.
Many students feel a duty to our country at this time and rightly so. Many of them carry out this duty by leaving school and entering the armed forces or working in a defense plant.
But let them stop and think it over carefully before leaving an institution of learning. In our schools we learn to become better citizens for the country we love. After this war, America must contribute a great deal of work, food, clothing, and effort to restore the world to its normal peaceful condition.
It will be up to us, the present students of America, to shoulder this job. We cannot do this unless we are educated.
Therefore our duty to our country now is to remain in school and become the educated citizens she expects and needs.

NAT'L EDUCATION WEEK OBSERVED IN SCHOOL
Superintendent Farmer Invites Parents To Visit Classes
Superintendent of Schools Wayne Farmer, expressed confidence in an interview on Thursday, that parents of Belleville boys and girls will take advantage of National Education Week, now being observed, to visit the schools and observe their work programs.
All parents are invited to the schools for the purpose of creating a better understanding between the school and the home. "This is the time," said Mr. Farmer, "to emphasize cooperation between parents and teachers by renewing interest in the value of education." He pointed out that due to the war, courses in the high school have been changed and new ones added. The new "Work and Study" program has also changed some of the plans in the high school.
This week, Belleville High school celebrated American Education Week in order to acquaint the people with the needs, aims, and achievements of the schools of this nation. Every year a program with this topic has been conducted in local schools, to bring out the purpose and advantages of education in our country.
Burt Johnson, principal, said, "I think American Education Week should be a very important week in the lives of students and parents, particularly parents. This week enables the parents to know what the schools they are paying for, are doing and offering their children." Meetings at open house have been planned through the P.T.A., and parents will have a chance to see the finished products and posted work at the schools.
Began in 1921
American Education Week grew out of the First World War, when in 1921, thousands of schools were closed for lack of teachers. A long range program for the extension of education was needed and as a result the first American Education Week was observed.
Today, education is of vital importance to winning the war. In order to accomplish this, everyone must build himself up to the utmost mentally and physically.
Teachers are assisting in the drive to victory in many ways. Their jobs are vitally important war work. The schools must be kept up in order to educate children if they are to play their role in winning the war. The schools lay the foundations of democratic citizenship and teach young people to be true, patriotic Americans.
Another field in which the schools are acquainting the students in Education for Work. Everyone should work to his greatest ability in order to help win this war. High school courses have been adjusted to meet the requirements of the armed services, of industry, agriculture, and government. After the war, education for work will be important also, for new inventions and ideas will come to life.
Programs of health instruction, physical education, recreation, and healthful school living, teach our children how to become more healthy and vigorous. Education for sound health must not be omitted in our drive to bring the war to an early and victorious conclusion.

SCHOOLS AT WAR DRIVE ENLISTS STUDENT BODY
Grasshopper Drive Goal Within Reach By December 7
Belleville High School is doing its part in the Schools at War program this year.
During the Third War Loan drive the school's bond and stamp sales of $10,000 far exceeded the set quota. In the current Grasshopper Plane drive the totals have already reached $5,422, with the Juniors leading the other classes with a total of $1,717.30. The totals represent approximately one-sixth of the $30,000 set up as the goal by December 7, which is to pay for 10 Grasshopper planes.
The Schools at War program doesn't confine itself to War Bond sales however. There are many other activities such as salvage collecting and Junior Red Cross work. The Red Cross work includes such activities as knitting squares for afghans, gathering books for the men in service, collecting toys for children in the war-torn countries of Europe and Asia.
Soon there will be the Junior Red Cross Roll Call. Students will give their money to the organization to help carry on their activities, and the only outward reward will be a small badge showing that they have given.
The Schools at War program is nation-wide. Schools all over the country have chosen school chairmen to organize the program. Belleville High did them one better and chose Betty Cooke as chairlady. She and her fellow committeemen have worked hard to make B. H. S.'s campaign for victory a successful one and are well on their way to doing so.

Tells Of Bombing Trip Over Sicily; Red Cross Movie Shown
In one of the year's most dramatic assembly programs presented by the B.H.S. chapter of the Jr. Red Cross, Lt. John Antonik of the U.S.A.A.F., told an audience of students of his adventures as a bombardier over the Mediterranean.

He told of briefing before takeoff, enemy flak and fighter opposition and destruction of the target. At the conclusion of his talk, Lt. Antonik answered many questions from the audience.
Also on the program was a movie, "Hand in Hand." The picture showed the work that the Junior Red Cross was doing to relieve the lot of the men of our armed forces and others who are in need.
Ruth Hodes, student director of the Jr. Red Cross at B.H.S., spoke briefly and introduced the speaker.

LT. ANTONIK VISITS ALMA MATER
Recalls His School Days At Belleville High School In Interview
Were you one of the lucky individuals fortunate enough to catch a fleeting close-up of Lt. John Antonik on Friday? If you were one of the chosen few, you were probably impressed by the same well-defined features that confronted me. A firm, military carriage; a pair of steady, self-confident, friendly blue eyes, a tanned, worldly countenance, and an easy affable smile.
It was only four years ago that Lt. Antonik was ambling quietly through the halls of Belleville High, like any other mere student. Yet, even at this early stage, he was profoundly interested in aeronautics. A better than average student, he was a member of the Printing club and served on the Senior Play committee.
Lt. Antonik confided to us that he can clearly recall the days when Mr. Wilcox, "the professor," stressed to him the significance of a balanced line in football; and those trying periods when Miss Kelleher attempted to teach him Senior English. (Times haven't changed much.) He is also extremely grateful that he paid strict attention to all of Mr. Hefferman's mathematical laws. "My knowledge of math," said he, "was one of the things that helped me attain the position of bombardier."
Since the Lieutenant's time was limited, we didn't have the opportunity to find out all the things we'd like to know. However, as a concluding question, he was asked what sort of advice he would give to the High school students of today. Ernestly, and without hesitation, he replied, "The most important idea for the student to grasp is the will to maintain a true fighting spirit."

PRESS GROUP AT CONFERENCE
Hears Mary McBride, Radio Star, At Meeting Held At N. Y. U.
Five members of the B.H.S. Journalism club went to New York City recently to attend the annual High School Publications conference at New York University.
At the conference the students rubbed elbows with high school journalists from New Jersey, New York, and Connecticut. B.H.S. representatives were Alan Rosenberg, Ruth Hodes, Donald Rochlin, Rose Wall and Bill Ewald. Seymour Heck, Journalism club faculty advisor, accompanied the five students.
Upon arriving at the conference, the students pinned on their badges and squeezed into their seats to be treated to an excellent talk by Mary Margaret McBride, famous radio personality. Miss McBride kept the audience interested and attentive throughout her talk. Her account of her experiences as a student and writer was very interesting and showed that a journalist's career isn't all a bed of roses. She studied her address with many points which will be helpful to B.H.S.'s budding young journalists.
Following Miss McBride's address the students attended forums on newspaper writing and newspaper layout. The forums were designed to help the students grasp the fundamentals of newspaper work. They were successful inasmuch as the speakers were excellent, knowing their subjects and knowing how to put their points across.

Condition of Finances and Debt Data

The Current, or general operating group of accounts, at December 31, 1942, showed an excess of cash and United States Bonds over cash requirements in amount $521,552.16, after provision in full for school funds in amount $200,000.00, payable in installments to June 30, 1943. See Exhibit "A-6". The sum of $201,259.17 was appropriated from this source as revenue in the budget for 1943, and $199,800.00 has been invested in U. S. Savings Bonds, Series "F"; $99,900.00 in 1941 and 1942 and the same amount in 1943. A cash surplus resulted from 1942 operations in the sum of $187,257.50.

Collections of current taxes equalled 91.67% of the amount levied, compared with 88.53% in 1941. Delinquent taxes collected in 1942 equalled 64.65% of the total outstanding at the beginning of the year, compared with 71.18% in 1941. Re-demptions of tax title liens, which are not anticipated as revenue in the budget, yielded $14,942.42, in 1942, compared with $43,292.65 in 1941.

Foreclosure of properties under tax liens and liquidation of foreclosed properties continued. 68 parcels having lien values totalling $74,468.19 were acquired and 123 parcels having lien values totalling $126,368.60 were sold for $67,251.21.

The cash surpluses in accounts other than Current and the amounts thereof appropriated to the 1943 Budget are detailed below:

	Trust Account	Capital Account	Water Operating Account	Water Capital Account	Total
Balance December 31, 1942	$8,055.61	$6,067.49	$35,083.03	$5,332.36	$54,538.49
Appropriated to 1943 Budget	$5,000.00	$4,000.00	$28,000.00		$37,000.00

The total indebtedness of the Town, which was issued and outstanding as at December 31, 1942, was $3,696,507.00. The Net Debt was $3,014,882.26, or 10.76% of the average assessed valuation of real estate for three years. The statutory limit is 7%. Water Debt was fully deductible by reason of a surplus from operations. Gross Debt, including School Debt, was $4,299,867.16, or 13.812% of the total assessed valuation for 1942.

RECOMMENDATIONS

(A) Repeated from previous audit: That missing tax sale certificates be replaced or the covered properties resold. That care be exercised to avoid error in charges for water consumed. That all salable liens be included in each tax sale. That review of prior year personal property taxes be made and action thereon resumed until final elimination of these delinquencies is effected. That all officials receiving revenues effect final settlement for the year before the close of business on December 31. That overpayments of taxes and assessments be cleared by appropriate means. That efforts be made to identify and secure return or defacement of Tax Revenue Bond Certificates of

1932 in the amount of $6.00. That the cash in hand for Tax Revenue Bond Certificates be deposited and a list of outstanding certificates placed with the bank for payment upon presentation. That care be exercised in the accounting for materials and supplies in the Water Department to the end that the book and physical inventories may correspond at all times. That petty cash funds be turned in to the Treasurer on December 31 of each year and reestablished in the new year. That old real estate taxes be examined and any found unenforceable cancelled. That full enforcement of interest penalties be carried out in connection with payments of taxes. That liens held from sales over twenty years ago be resold. That all receipts for relief purposes be deposited directly to the Relief

Account and not routed through the General Account. (B) 1942 Recommendations: That the lists of tax title liens and assessments receivable contained herein under "Condition of Records and Conduct of Offices-Tax Office etc." be investigated and any found unenforceable be cancelled. That the differences between lists and controls as developed on 1941 and 1942 taxes and water consumers' accounts receivable be resolved.
