Charters for the five participating companies in the Belleville Junior Achievement movement will be given to them in a ceremony at 7 this evening in town hall.

Mayor Williams will preside at the affair and the principal addresses will be delivered by Martin F. Tiernan, John Kidde and Harry G. Specht.

Work in the teen-agers' projects will not be interrupted since some of them intend to return to their headquarters at 562 Washington avenue after the ceremony.

The Belleville Junior contractors meet every Monday evening under the sponsorship of the Walter Kidde company. It is making packaging materials and accessories and expects to begin work shortly on reflectors.

Its officers include William Hartley, president; Lawrence E. Keenan Jr., vice-president; Marian Caskey, secretary; and Betty Lou Turner, treasurer.

WAR FUND DRIVE SLOWING DOWN

Industrial Appeal Is Only Sign Of Activity During Week; D'Olier Pleads

A plea for cooperation in the industrial section was the only public evidence of activity this week in the War Fund drive which hopes to raise more than $83,000 in another month.

The industrial appeal was voiced by Harry G. Specht, co-ordinator of that section, who pointed out that individuals had been requested to contribute mainly at their place of business.

He estimated that, in order for the drive to be a success, each employee must subscribe three dollars while the corporate subscription should be a dollar more.

Meanwhile, Col. Franklin D'Olier, chairman of the state War Fund, pointed out the staggering need for relief supplies in Russia and China.

Quoting from a letter received from a representative of Russian war relief, a member agency of the War Fund, Colonel D'Olier said: "No one who has not seen the terrible effects of the war at first hand can imagine what it is like."

"The war," he said, "rarely ends at the battlefield. It is not merely a soldier's war but also a civilian's war—a people's war."

"After the battle of Stalingrad," he pointed out, "not one stone was left standing on another. People returning to the ruined city cannot find the streets on which their homes once were located."

"Similarly, in China, the store of clothing and consumer goods has virtually been exhausted," he said, adding that "hunger and the cruellest privation are everywhere."

Profound Gratitude

"The most touching and heart-warming experience was observing the profound gratitude with which the American supplies are being received. I wish all Americans could have been with me to see how proudly the one hundred Russian tots I visited in a home near Moscow wore their attractive American sweaters; how a shipment of shoes went to a guerrilla detachment fighting behind the German lines; how a victory garden prospered from American seed; what wonderful results Russian hospitals are achieving with American medical supplies supplementing their own great scientific skill."

"If Americans could see these things, I know they would need no urging to dig deep into their pockets for war relief. To make this giving easier, these agencies for United Nations relief, such as Russian War Relief, British War Relief, United China Relief and others, are banded together with the USO and various American wartime services for our soldiers into one united campaign of the National War Fund."

Castaway On Rennell Island, Aided By Savage Natives

Cpl. James F. Salmon, USMC, Joins DeWitt Unsinkables After Pacific Rescue

Four days as a castaway on a tiny island so remote that neither the Japs or the Yanks would bother with it was the highlight of more than a year of Pacific warfare for Cpl. James F. Salmon, a Marine Corps aerial gunner.

But it took a wreck to surpass the thrill when he met his brother William, a Marine private, in the midst of the fighting on Guadalcanal. Now James is home for a well-deserved thirty-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Salmon of 36 DeWitt avenue.

The brief visit to the savages of Rennell Island occurred when the Dauntless dive-bomber (Navy SBD, Army A-24), was caught up in a tropical storm last July while returning to Munda after an attack on Vila.

It was a fierce battle, during which the Japs lost more than 100 Zeros. Returning to their base, Salmon and his pilot were thrown off by the fury of the storm and were forced down off the Rennell shore.

They paddled ashore in a rubber raft and were cared for by the natives, who had only recently been lifted out of the cannibal state.

Four days later Salmon attracted a passing Catalina (Navy PBV) by firing his Verry pistol. The shot brought rescue and a return to Henderson Field on Guadalcanal.

The Unsinkables

Now he is eligible for the DeWitt Unsinkables, men from that street who have been officially reported missing but have turned up later, safe from torpedoings and other enemy action.

Other members are Chester Michaels of 19 DeWitt, John Kant of 40 and James J. Duncan of 44.

A high school graduate, Salmon worked at Wallace and Tiernan before joining the Marines two years ago. After taking his boot and aerial gunnery training at Parris Island, S. C., and Jacksonville, Fla., he went overseas in August of 1942.

After a fairly peaceful existence in New Caledonia and New Hebrides he felt the first sting of enemy action when the transport taking him to Guadalcanal was dive bombed by Aichi 90s near the island. A near miss was the closest the Japs could come.

Later when he was stationed at Henderson Field, his tent was demolished by a direct bomb hit during an air raid. Fortunately

Seals Close To Goal

With Christmas still a week away, seal sales of the Belleville-Tuberculosis association are only $433 from the proposed goal.

Tuesday Belleville reported a return of $2,405, while Nutley, with one day less accounted for, has reached $2,172, giving the two towns a total of $4,577.

Town Requests Freeholders To Take Main Street

Main street from the Belleville bridge to the Nutley line will become a county highway if the resolution, introduced by Commissioner Waters and approved by the board Tuesday night, is voted upon favorably by the freeholders.

The road was improved and widened recently and its acceptance would take all of the street out of the town's hands since the state already controls from the bridge to the Newark line.

At the meeting, the contract for the laying of sidewalks on Union avenue from Campbell street to Crest drive was awarded to the Green Construction company of Belleville for $554.

A resolution was passed requesting bids for the installation of a storm sewer in Carmer avenue, 250 feet to Washington avenue and thence north to King streets. Bids will be received December 28.

Ice Skating At The Stadium To Start Tomorrow

The first ice skating of the season is expected tomorrow at the municipal stadium. Commissioner Waters announced last night that the tennis courts there would be flooded today and that he expected the water to freeze by tomorrow.

The rink, which is 65 by 200 feet, has been opened for skating for the past five years. On ordinary days more than 500 get their winter exercise there in an afternoon and evening.

Floodlights, taken out last year by Army regulations covering the dimout, are expected to be replaced later in the season.

Meets Brother

He had been there two months when he met William. They had spent the time only a few miles from each other but neither knew where the other was. William was in the Guadal hills with his outfit.

He had been there so long when James met him that his clothes had worn out or had been torn to shreds. He gladly exchanged the captured Jap clothing he was wearing for some clear khakis which his brother gave him.

One of James' mementoes is a letter from William, written on the island, mailed to Jacksonville, forwarded back to Guadalcanal and then to New Hebrides.

William meantime spent considerable time in Melbourne, Australia, but recently wrote his parents that he "is now back in the jungle."

There are two other brothers, Joseph, a student at Seton Hall College, and James; and two sisters, Jeanne and Mary.

Lt. Gibbs is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibbs of 14 Forest street. He is a graduate of Belleville high school, class of 1934, where he was a member of the baseball team and rifle club.

He later attended Dale Carnegie Institute and Rutgers university, Newark extension, and in civilian life was employed as an examiner of insurance claims.

Prior to his advanced training at Kirtland Field, Lt. Gibbs was stationed at Kingman, Ariz., where he was graduated from the air forces aerial gunnery school. Now ready for active duty, his destination is not disclosed.

No Shortage Of Christmas Trees; Report Prices Normal

The loudly-proclaimed shortage of Christmas trees throughout the nation evidently has not affected Belleville. If anything, there are more trees in town this year than there were last winter.

All along the Avenue and at other stands in town, sellers reported equal or greater shipment of yuletide greens than 1942. Some few received less.

Some of the dealers reportedly tried to cash in on the early scarcity of trees and boosted their prices sky-high. With the later arrival of large quantities this week, prices went back nearly to normal.

HOSPITAL STAFF COMMENDED FOR POLIO FIGHT

Infantile Paralysis Group Lauds Isolating Hospital For Outstanding Work

The staff and management of the county isolation hospital, located at Franklin and Belleville avenues, was praised this week by Joseph G. Fitzgerald for its cooperation in the fight against infantile paralysis.

Fitzgerald, New Jersey representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, wrote the board of county freeholders that Dr. Ellis J. Smith, superintendent and medical director of the hospital, "is doing as outstanding a job in his hospital as is being done anywhere in the treatment of infantile cases."

He commended the institution particularly for its use of the now-famed Sister Kenny method of treatment of the disease.

Were it not for the cooperation and the "expert care and attention given patients by the highly trained and skilled workers, many of those returning home would have had to go through life dragging useless legs behind them."

Dr. Smith revealed yesterday that the hospital is now treating infantile patients during the past year for a much longer period than before the war.

It had been the custom to care for them during the first three-week acute period and then to send them to an orthopedic hospital. Now they are kept here longer and the treatment continued.

Recoveries have been unusually promising this year, he said, but pointed out that, while the Kenny method is a considerable improvement over old ideas of treatment, it still is not a cure-all.

Van Ness Appointed

Dr. H. Roy Van Ness of Newark was named Wednesday to the medical advisory board of the hospital. He succeeds to the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. Clement Morris.

Dr. Van Ness, former president of the county Medical Society, the Pathological Society and the Physicians' Club of Newark, was recommended by Dr. William H. Areson, chairman of the hospital board.

Dr. Lewis W. Brown's position as pathologist at the hospital will be taken by Dr. Walter L. Mitchell Jr. of Newark and East Orange when Dr. Brown leaves in two weeks from military service.

Certified by the Civil Service Commission, Miss Barbara C. Nosarelli, who has been a laboratory technician on a temporary basis, was appointed permanently.

Seibert's Eye Movement Data Printed By School Journal

Guidance Head Used Pupils From Schools 7 And 8 In Experiments

Belleville attained prominence during the past week in the field of scientific psychological investigation as a result of the report in the current issue of the Journal of Experimental Education of the research in photography of eye movements done by Dr. Earl W. Seibert, guidance director and psychologist for the board of education.

The eye movements of 60 eighth-grade boys and girls from School No. 7 and School No. 8 were photographed as the pupils read 300-word selections in six different types of material.

The eye movements were recorded by means of the ophthalmograph on 35 mm photographic film and 3,000 feet of this film was carefully studied and analyzed by means of a magnifying glass in order to secure on accurate count of the fixations used to read, regressions made, width of span of recognition, length of pause duration and number of words per minute.

The entire investigation was set up in accordance with principles of scientific research and was approved by the School of Education of New York University.

Sets Standards

No previous study of the eye movements of eighth grade pupils has been reported, so this investigation in Belleville has produced data on the subject that had not previously been available. It sets the standards for future study of eye movements of pupils of that grade.

The investigation revealed that eighth grade boys and girls do not read different types of material (as mathematics, biography, adventure, physical science, history and geography) with the same pattern of eye movements nor with the same degree of comprehension; the pupils vary their eye movements according to the type of material they are reading.

The most significant finding of the study was that there is little relationship between eye-move-

SCHOOLS WILL NOT CLOSE-PARMER

Superintendent Claims Danger Not Great; Berry Says No Flu Reported

Belleville schools will not be closed because of the current outbreak of sniffles and gripple unless the situation suddenly becomes unwieldy. This was promised yesterday by School Superintendent Farmer.

He said that the number of absentees in the town was evidently far less than in surrounding communities where the schools have closed from one day to a week.

Monday one school reported only a single absentee while the highest in the system recorded eighteen percent. Farmer pointed out that the colds are contagious but mild. He claimed that keeping the pupils in school gives the teacher an opportunity to observe them for symptoms.

Should any of the latter evidence themselves, the children are immediately made to visit the school nurse. If they have temperatures, they are sent home to bed.

Farmer declared that closing the schools often has the opposite effect from the one desired because the children do not stay at home, but instead frequent stores and theaters where the dangers are much greater.

Meanwhile, Health Officer Berry said that not a single case of influenza had been reported but that the present epidemic is of common cold and gripple.

He also revealed the outbreak of a slight epidemic of chicken pox during November when 71 cases were reported. He stated, however, that only 12 have been detected so far in December.

GILBERT WRIGHT REAPPOINTED

Heads Industrial Committee In Red Cross Campaign, John Hewitt Resigns

The reappointment of Gilbert Wright of Handlon and Goodman company to head the industrial section of the 1944 Red Cross drive was approved last week by the board of directors.

Wright headed the manufacturers' department last year and his committee raised two-thirds of the total amount realized.

At the same meeting the resignation of John J. Hewitt as chairman of the canteen and nutrition unit was accepted and his recommendation of Miss Dorothy Shaner, manager of the high school cafeteria, as his successor was favorably received.

Hewitt pleaded the press of other business, particularly his duties at town hall in the event of a disaster.

Martin Cosgrove, Rev. Dr. O. Bell Close and B. Thomas Aitken, chairman of the chapter, were named as a committee to review the by-laws of the organization and to report at the January annual meeting.

The latter event will be planned by a two-man committee composed of Mayor Williams and Rev. Peter R. Deckerbach.

Also approved at the meeting was the recommendation of the executive committee that applicants be interviewed for the position of a paid social worker for the home service department. Named to examine applicants were Mrs. Louis A. Noll, Rev. Titian Menegus, Dr. Close and Aitken.

A recent and unexpected gift of $193.76 was received from the employees' benefit fund of the Isolantite corporation. It was reported that they were 169 blood donors in the Walter Kidde company day at the Red Cross last week.

Opposes Any Fixed Salary Increase In View Of Lessened Revenues Expected In Post-War Years

The teachers of the school system are more entitled to a salary raise than are members of any other town department; next in importance are the "white collar" town employees; but no fixed raises should be written into the town laws until the matter has been given exhaustive study by the town fathers. These were the principal points expounded by Mayor Williams Tuesday night at town hall during the discussion which followed the introduction by Public Safety Director King of an ordinance calling for $200 jump for all members of the police and fire departments.

The mayor called attention to the anticipated drop in revenue in the immediate post-war year and declared that the prospect was far from bright. He sought abandonment of the ordinance on the grounds that at the present time no compulsory increment which would bind the town in future years should be given.

He declared also that the Belleville teachers were much underpaid in comparison to other municipal employees and felt that their problem should be studied first.

The ordinances were passed on first reading, however, by a 4-vote with Williams dissenting. I will come up for final vote December 28, unless the committee decide to lay it over for another study.

Asks New Schedule

The ordinances introduced by King called for a new salary schedule for both departments with tops ranging from $4,200 for the chief to $2,800 for patrolmen and firemen.

The purpose behind the ordinance is a promise which the board is claimed to have made to the police and firemen two years ago when they threatened to put their salary demands in a referendum. At that time, it is said, they were promised their $300 request with $100 to be given in each of the next three years. That sum was given in 1942, but this year a five percent "cost of living" bonus was substituted.

King's proposal would cancel the expected bonus this year and substitute the raise. It would mean an actual boost of $80 for the men in the lower brackets and $50 for the higher over the figure paid under the bonus.

As soon as the proposed ordinance was introduced, the Mayor levelled both guns. Before he had finished he had quoted figures on teachers' salaries in comparison to the firefighters, and police and had also revealed that his defeat at the next election had been threatened if he opposed the boost.

He claimed that individuals had tried to high-pressure him, that there are "pressure groups" fighting for the raise and "I know what I am talking about."

He also alleged that he had received several telephone calls to "lay off" but "I am not going to lay off this."

The mayor said that one of the reasons put forth in support of the raise was that "it would help morale." In reply he claimed that "the morale of some of them raises every two months."

He brought forth figures which he offered to show that 103 of the 134 teachers in Belleville receive only 68 percent of what a proportionate number of firemen and police receive. If the raise goes through, he declared, that will be lowered to 55 percent.

The average salary of the 134 teachers, he said, is $1,921, and of these the lowest 27 receive an average of $1,296. Other town employees range from the seven who average $1,243 to the nine who get an average of $2,644.

On the other hand, he claimed, the average salary of the policemen is $2,820 and of the firemen $2,800.

In propounding his thesis that the teachers deserved first consideration for a raise, he declared that "we must prevent the Belleville school system from being a training ground for other municipalities who want to take over teachers."

"The municipality that wants to continue giving its teachers only two-thirds of what its police and firemen get must recognize that it must pay better salaries if it wants to give its youth the same advantages that they would receive in other towns."

The mayor then proceeded to give what he considered the financial future of Belleville, with particular stress on the post-war years.

The communication to the Poles was signed by Admiral Halsey but no details were given. It is not known how serious are the injuries suffered by the Marine.

A former student at the high school, he enlisted in the Marines in November 1942, took his boot training at Parris Island, S.C., and New River, N.C., and went overseas in January.

Midway in the studies of the second phase of the Army specialized training program at the University of Illinois is Pvt. Peter R. Deckenbach Jr. of 393 Washington avenue, son of the pastor of Christ Episcopal Church. James B. Carolyn of 5 Union terrace, former Marine private who received a medical discharge last spring after a long period of service in the Southwest Pacific area, was reported last night as "much improved" in the Hackensack General hospital where he was taken after an automobile accident in Rutherford Saturday night.

Carolyn, who recently resigned town fireman to which he was appointed following his discharge, was said to have suffered head and internal injuries.

Driver of the car police said was his buddy, Cpl. James Salmon of 98 DeWitt avenue, currently on furlough after returning from the Pacific fighting. He suffered only slight head injuries.

an apartment house which would have netted an additional $18,000 in taxes, he charged that the projects were "killed without any attempt to investigate their worth."

He said that the town faces the prospect of higher contributions to the county and state in the years after the war; that tax collections and property sales will decrease; that franchise taxes will be lowered when people start driving cars again.

The town increased its ratables $4,600,000 between 1940 and this year, he stated, but the added income has been consumed without lowering the tax rate. No such income can be expected in the future.

Cash Surpluses

The cash surpluses of 1941-42, totalling $687,000 were brought about by the payment of several years' railroad taxes but "there will be no such nest egg any more."

He pointed out that only 74.9 percent of the operating cost of the town is met by tax collections.

All these factors point to the necessity, he declared, of calmly evaluating every dollar spent. He pleaded with the other commissioners to "wait to see what the board of education will decide" about teachers' salaries.

In answer to King's question as to the amount of control the commissioner exercised over teachers' wages, Williams answered that it is only negative, "if we do things which will help the board of education to bring its salaries up."

To King's response that the school board "has been trying to do that for four or five years and haven't been able to," Williams replied that "has been trying to give honest honest increments."

Commissioner Waters entered the discussion to inquire as to Belleville's position in comparison to other towns in the salary question. When Commissioner Noll attempted to answer, he was verbally jumped on by the mayor in another of the now famous Noll-Williams oral battles.

Teachers Poorly Paid

Waters declared that, if the teachers are not getting more today than they were a year ago, they are being poorly paid; but Williams declared that "every teacher got some kind of a raise last year and the year before."

"Other towns took care of their teachers," Noll declared, "so that when they needed replacements they could get them from the poorer paid."

Waters stated that the firemen and police were not "promised" raises, but that "they would get them if conditions warranted."

Noll averred that some employees of the Free Public Library have not received salary increments in 11 years. Waters then recommended that the ordinance be passed on first reading and that, during the two weeks before it comes up for final vote, the commissioners sit down as a committee of the whole to study the salary problems of all town employees.

Proposes Town Planning Board

ation. One representative of the School Board, appointed by the board of education.

"One business man, representing the small storekeepers, appointed by the board of commissioners; one lawyer, appointed by the board of commissioners; one architect and one builder appointed by the board of commissioners; one banker, appointed by the board of commissioners; two citizens, representing the home owners, appointed by the board of commissioners."

"The seven members of the board appointed by the board of commissioners should represent the various departments of the commission; for instance the banker should be appointed by the commissioner of finance. The architect and builder, should be appointed by the commissioner in charge of building permits; the small store-keeper and business-man and the citizens should be appointed by the mayor or representative commissioners."

"In other words, each commissioner should have the right to appoint one citizen or representative to this board, the balance to be appointed by the Mayor. The above schedule would indicate that five men would be appointed to the board by three of the representative groups through the real estate men, industry and the board of education."

"After these men have been nominated to the planning board, the regular mechanics can be set up whereby such board will be appointed by the mayor or by the board of commissioners, whichever complies with the state laws. It is essential that such a Board be appointed as soon as possible in order that the benefits accruing to this town from the standpoint of the post-war period will be done upon an intelligent basis."

"The planning board would not in any way concern itself with such details from a standpoint of improvements as covered by sewer, lighting, fire alarm, and other requirements. If this matter is given intelligent study and laid out properly, I am sure that Belleville will step forward in its program of the future to meet the needs as they develop."

SUPREME COURT MAY HEAR CASE

Tina Granese Plans Appeal After Smith Throws Out Funeral Fund Suit

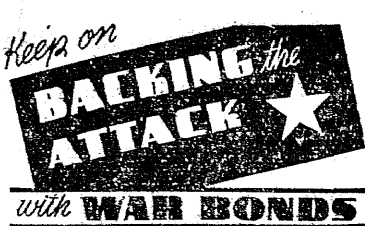

A hearing in the state supreme court may be the next step in the suit of Mrs. Tina Granese of Madison to recover the funeral funds contributed by friends of her late husband.

Her charge of fraud lodged against her brother-in-law, Joseph Granese of 109 Newark avenue, in connection with the custody of the funds was dismissed Wednesday night by Recorder Smith for lack of evidence.

The dispute arose out of the $1,432 sum collected according to an old Italian custom at the funeral of Anthony Granese in August. Joseph was placed in charge of the money.

He contends that he is afraid his sister-in-law intends to re-marry and he wants to be sure the money goes to her son.

Mrs. Granese claimed the defendant had converted the money to his own use, but Recorder Smith declared there was no such evidence. It is understood the fund has been placed in escrow. The woman is said to be planning an appeal to the supreme court.

Then followed the high school's contribution.

Anna Santiglia, soprano, sang two songs with a clear, bird-like voice. The "Merry Christmas" was given by the selected girls' choir under the direction of Alice Wagner.

Three violin compositions by Phyllis DiSturco and three carols by the French club completed the young peoples' offerings. Bertha Hermann was accompanist.

Harry G. Specht, head of the Belleville Foundation, gave greetings in which he touched on the difficulties of presenting such a program at this time and assured the audience of its continuance another year because of the well-filled auditorium and obvious approval of the listeners.

To those people who attended the combined choir's debut concert last June is must have been particularly interesting to hear the fine quality which Thomas A.
Honey was able to achieve both in tone and interpretation.

The choir members watch their conductor faithfully and perform with a nice seriousness and sincervity. Arthur Ackerman at the piano, and a string quartet from the Bloomfield Symphony orchestra provided a background of color.

The program seemed just long enough (about one hour and a half in length) and many were the expressions of enthusiasm for it heard after its conclusion.

All are active in civilian defense. Peterson is supervisor of the casualty station at No. 5 school. Vogel is deputy chief of the Ambulance corps and captain of the Ambulance corps at No. 3

The course was held at Walter members of their volunteer first aid detachments who qualified as

Clothes Collected Last Sunday
Still Being Sorted At Stadium

Completely overwhelmed by the "terrific" response to the clothes salvage drive Sunday, workers are still trying to get all the materials and garments sorted so that they can be cleaned so further use.

Several women's organizations in town are understood to be considering plans to spend several days at the municipal stadium where the clothes are temporarily stored. Only one-third of the collection has been sorted to date, chairman Robert G. Suther-in said yesterday.

Thirty-two loads of clothes were picked up and delivered to the stadium Sunday afternoon by volunteer workers in trucks donated by town departments and local industries, businessmen and churches.

Sutherland reported particularly excellent results in the children's clothing department. Several overcoats and fur coats, all in good condition, were also contributed.

He requested that any persons who had been missed in Sunday's collection call Defense Coordinator Brunner at town hall and the clothing will be called for.

School No. 3 Breaks Solved

The several breaks in School
No. 3 reported last year were amounting principally to items of stationery.

The case, cleaned up by Detectives McGinnis and Mallack, resulted in a strong reprimand for the offender. No complaint was made.

Handlon, Mrs. Mead To Head
Local Paralysis Drive

The annual drive for the national Infantile Paralysis Foundation is expected to get under way here this week, according to an announcement of the co-chairmen, Fred B. Handlon of 243 Greylock parkway and Mrs.
Mae Mead of 242 Washington avenue.

No goal has been set for the campaign but Handlon said yesterday he hoped to better last year's $492 raised solely through voluntary contributions placed in coin collecting boxes which will be distributed to stores this week and in the "March of Dimes" greeting cards.

Handlon declared that is costs $1,800 to treat a single case for a year and that Belleville reported four cases in 1943. One was cleared up within three weeks by prompt action of the local authorities but the other three are still undergoing treatment.

The funds are used to supply a technician in the Kenny method of treatment, to supply hospitalization and other essential aids.

Prepare For Ration Tokens

District OPA Outlines Plan For More Headaches To Begin Shortly

In preparation for the use of red and blue, dime-size, plastic tokens in connection with food rationing next February, the District OPA in Newark today urged food retailers to submit report forms to banks immediately.

The reporting form (OPA-749-23), requires all retail food dealers to state an average week's point sales on both processed foods and meat, and also the allowable inventory granted them by the rationing board. On the basis of these figures the banks will allot each retailer a quantity of tokens which stores will receive early in February. They will be put into use on February 27.

The reporting forms are being distributed to retailers through trade channels, District OPA officials pointed out. Retailers who have ration banking accounts can estimate the point business for an average week from their ration banking accounts. Other retailers are permitted to give a close estimate or an actual point count.

Consumers will receive the one-point tokens as "change" beginning February 27 when they make purchases of the rationed foods—red ones on meat-butcher cheese purchases, blue ones on processed foods.

In conjunction with the token plan next year, all food stamps will be given a value of 10 points, regardless of the numeral printed on the stamps. The stamps will become valid on a horizontal, or across-the-top-of-the-page basis instead of the vertical system now in effect.

Tokens Make Change

When a consumer makes an 8-point purchase of meat, for example, two red tokens will be given as "change" for the ten-point stamp. If the purchase is processed food, the change will be made in blue tokens, also worth one point each. The red and blue disks will be valid indefinitely and can be used like stamps to purchase rationed foods.

To illustrate how stamps will be validated horizontally, OPA gave the following schedule, effective February 27, 1944:

Ration Book 4 Blue Stamps A8, B8, C8, D8, and E8, with a total value of 50 points, will become good on February 27, and will remain good more than two and a half months until May 20. (This compares with the 48 points a month now being used by consumers.) Five stamps, worth 50 points, will become good the first of each month beginning April 1, and will remain good until the twentieth of the second month following.

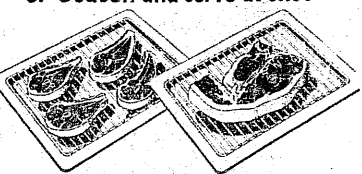

The red stamps will become good three at a time, totaling 30 points, every two weeks, as compared with the 16 points a week under the present system. Stamps A8, B8, and C8 become good on February 27 and expire May 20. Stamps D8, E8, and F8 become good March 12, and expire June 10, and so on.

The reason for streamlining point rationing in this way, OPA explained, is to cut down drastically the amount of stamp handling for retailers and banks overloaded with paper work under the present system. It was pointed out that once consumers switch over to the new system, they too will find it easier to handle stamps of one denomination.

STEPS IN BROILING

a dry heat method for tender cuts of meats. Chops & Steaks may be Broiled

1. Turn oven regulator to "broil"
2. Place meat 2-3 inches from heat
3. Broil until top is brown.
4. Season with salt and pepper
5. Turn and brown other side
6. Season and serve at once

INELIGIBLE PLAYERS CAUSES DEFEATS

Eagles, National Quintets Drop Former Victories In Intermediate Loop

The team which gets by with using the least number of ineligible players this year will probably win the Intermediate basketball league crown.

The Eagles and the Nationals both felt the sting last week as erstwhile victories were washed off the books. The former licked the Shamrocks 20-11 and then watched a loss chalked into the record for them.

At the same time the Nationals learned that they had really lost their Thanksgiving game for the same reason and this constitutes the only mark on their ledger, since they trimmed Fewsmith 27-22 last Thursday.

The Starlings and the Imperials both bounced their opponents; 21-13 over the Orioles and 31-16 over the Demons respectively. It was the first win of the year for the Imperials.

Congregation Keeps Its Lead But St. Peter's On Rampage

Congregation AAA maintained its grip on first place in the Church recreation basketball league Monday night by eking out a 29-25 win over Grace Baptist. Corvino of the Congregation nabbed seven field goals to lead his teammates to victory.

St. Peter's, which had not won a game up to three weeks ago, copped its third straight to haul themselves into tie with Wesley Methodist for third spot.

The Peters tripped Wesley by a 21-1 count. Meanwhile Montgomery Presbyterian held onto its runner-up spot by trouncing lowly Fewsmith by a 25-12 count.

At Central

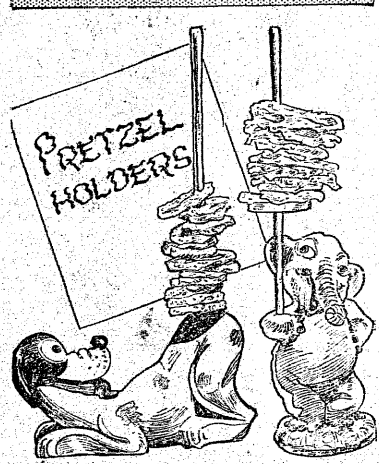

Tyra Vaughn

A star-studded cast will be seen in the New Earl Carroll Vanities, Friday, for an entire week at Warner's Central Theatre, Passaic, directly from the glamorous Hollywood Earl Carroll theatre.

In addition to the all-star cast of the "Vanities" the revue will feature the "most beautiful girls in the world" in gorgeous and breathtakingly beautiful production numbers. "Tornado" featuring Chester Morris and Nancy Kelly is the screen attraction for the week.

Give him a crisp WAR BOND for a CHRISTMAS present to be remembered. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

WHAT NEXT

What with difficulties of securing orthodox home furnishing items, decorative statuettes, figurines and what-nots are enjoying a stronger appeal than ever before. Fashioned from material that is not too critical, the designers tend to give free play to their imagination, hence many of their creations are somewhat bizarre. Illustrative of this trend are the two figurines pictured above. They are made from a composition of ceramic material and glass.

HELEN HAYES BRINGS HOME THE BACON

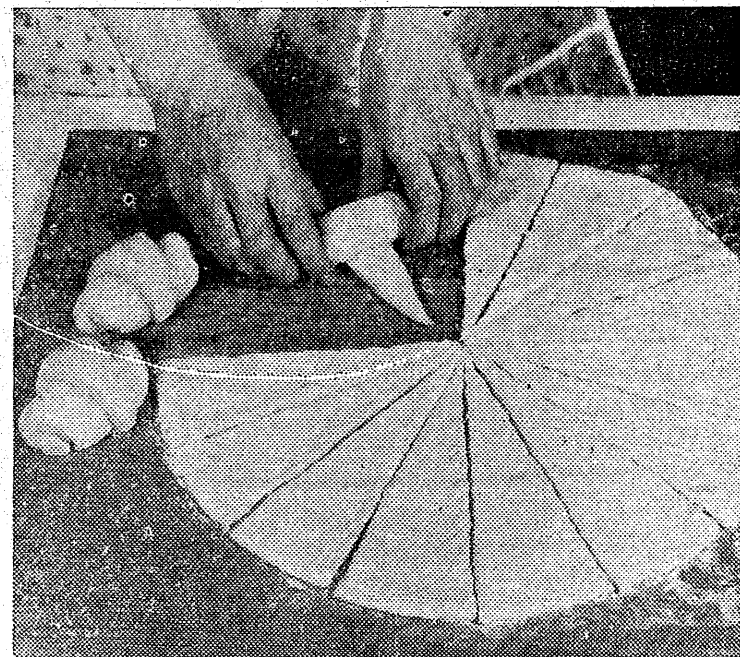

America's leading actress, Helen Hayes, who has been conscientiously saving all used fat in her household for war use, welcomes the decision of OPA to allow extra meat ration points for used kitchen fat. Here on her regular weekly trip to market, she turns in her used fat for bacon.

Gardenia Christmas tree, a growing spruce tree becomes a glamorous gardenia tree under the skillful hand of Allyn Wayne, official stylist of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, who wraps the branches with white satin ribbon and uses at least 24 Belmont gardenias at their tips, thus making a small tree more important looking than one ten times its size.

Learn About Soybeans

Used in Soups, Sauces, Breads, Cakes and Served as a Vegetable

Soy flour is often used for bread and cakes.

THE soybean is a food old to China but new to this country. It is an important food in our changed diet as war conditions make accustomed foods more scarce. Soybeans are comparable to beefsteak in nutrition if not in flavor. A pound of the sprouted beans has more iron and calcium than an equal weight of meat, half as much protein, and a third as much fat plus carbohydrates which are lacking in meat.

Fresh soybeans may be boiled, and dried—or canned soybeans may be used. There is also soy meal and flour that can be used in bread, muffins, cookies and desserts. The beans are also good in sauces and soups.

Soyburgers

1½ cups cooked soy grits 1 tbs. dried green pepper ½ cup fine cracker ½ tsp. pepper 1 cup bread crumbs 4 tbs. dried milk 1 tsp. salt ½ cup water 1 onion, minced

Combine all ingredients. Then shape into cakes or make into loaf. Sauté cakes until browned on both sides. Bake loaf in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 35-40 minutes until lightly browned and heated through. Approximate yield: 6 portions.

Soybean Casserole

2 cups cooked soybeans 2 tbsps. chopped green pepper 6 tbsps. flour 2 cups milk 1 tsp. salt 1 cup buttered bread crumbs 2 tbsps. chopped onion

Brown the salt pork in a frying

Soybean Muffins

1 cup sifted soybean flour 1½ cups milk 1 cup sifted white flour 1 tsp. salt 2 tbsps. sugar

Sift flour, salt, sugar and baking powder together. Combine milk, eggs, and shortening and add to dry ingredients stirring until just mixed. Fill greased muffin pans ¾ full and bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Approximate yield: 1 dozen muffins.

Molded Orange Dessert

1½ cups hot cooked soy grits 1 tbs. plain gelatin ½ cup brown sugar 1 tsp. grated orange rind 1 egg, separated ½ tsp. vanilla

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine egg yolks, hot grits, sugar, orange rind, and soften gelatin. Return to fire to cook egg and dissolve gelatin (about 3 minutes). Add vanilla. Chill until thickened. Beat egg white until stiff. Fold into pudding and pour into mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve plain or with custard sauce. Approximate yield: 45 portions.

Three More Belleville Names On War's Casualty List

Mozeika Wounded In Italy, Nucci Missing At Sea, Fenn German Captive

The beautiful and exciting Purple Heart is all Mr. and Mrs. Konstantin Mozeika of 3 Hilton street have to comfort them until their son, Pvt. Felix P. Mozeika, recovers sufficiently to write them additional details of the wounds he received in battle in Italy.

The medal was received Friday by the Mozeikas, the same day the War Department had announced officially that their son had been wounded in the fierce fighting on the Italian boot.

He is now convalescing in a North African hospital to which he was evacuated shortly after having been injured October 26. Mozeika, who has lived all his life in Belleville and who attended School No. 7, was employed with the American Tool and Die company in Annapolis before entering the Army last April.

He took his basic infantry training at Camp Croft, S. C., and also was stationed for a while at Camp Chenango, Pa., before being sent overseas. He landed in North Africa on his nineteenth birthday, September 27. Two weeks later he was in the thick of the fighting in Italy and another two weeks saw him lying wounded on the field of action.

His family has not yet learned the extent of his injuries but expects a letter from him in the near future. First word of his injury came in a telegram from the Adjutant General on November 16 that he had been "seriously wounded" and a subsequent letter informed them of his removal to Africa.

Vincent Nucci Missing

Another Belleville casualty was added to the honor roll Thursday when the Navy Department officially listed Seaman 1/c Vincent F. Nucci as missing.

The terse Navy announcement gave no details but the sailor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nucci of 62 Cedarhill avenue, said this week that their son's ship, a destroyer, was involved in a crash with another ship in the Atlantic near the coast almost two months ago.

Young Nucci, who would be 24 January 29, graduated from the high school in 1940 and entered the Navy a year later. He had made four trips to the other and participated in the battles at the invasion of Sicily.

Nucci was home for a brief furlough and rejoined his ship only two days before the accident. He has a brother Angelo who is a private in the cavalry overseas.

Nucci was a member of the crew of the "Murphy," which figured in one of the most astonishing sea stories to come out of the war. When it was rammed by an 8,000-ton tanker in the middle of the night on October 21, the front half sank within ten minutes, carrying 35 crewmen with it.

The stern remained afloat and, within 24 hours, reached New York harbor. It was the smallest section of a destroyer ever pulled into any port.

The Murphy was on convoy duty and was naturally without lights, as was the tanker. The latter cut the smaller ship clean in half. "It was like a sharp knife cutting through cheese," said the skipper.

The destroyer had participated in the initial action off Casablanca in the Allied invasion of North Africa a year ago and played an important part in the Sicilian campaign.

Sgt. Kenneth R. Fenn

Announced this week as a German prisoner of war was Sgt. Kenneth R. Fenn, son of Mrs. Stephen Pauls of 3 Carpenter terrace. She believes her son, a radio-gunner on a Flying Fortress, may have been shot down during the gigantic raid on Schweinfurt in October.

Fenn has never lived in Belleville but his mother moved here about nine months ago. He is an upstate New Yorker and attended schools there. His wife Shirley lives in Millwood.

He entered the Army air forces a year and a half ago and went overseas last September.

Based in England with the 8th Air Force, he made a long visit to his mother's native Scotland and "liked it better than England."

Mrs. Pauls does not know how many raids over the continent her son may have made. She has not heard from him since he was taken prisoner.

PUT PRIZE MONEY INTO WAR BONDS

Emil J. Kamens Win $60 On "Double Or Nothing" Program Over WOR

The sixty dollars which Mr. and Mrs. Emil J. Kamens won in New York Friday night has already been invested in war bonds.

The Kamens, who reside at 166 Division avenue, won the money by their correct answers on WOR's famous Double or Nothing program, and they won it because Mrs. Kamens knew (or guessed right) that Japan had acquired Formosa before snatching Korea.

They missed the jackpot question of the night, which would have brought them more than $100 worth of prizes, and that gave them a forfeit to perform. The jackpot query was regarding the average amount of personal taxes paid yearly by Americans. They over estimated the correct $143 by more than $100.

As a penalty they stood before the large audience in Mutual's Manhattan studio and sang "Put Your Arms Around Me," and had to break the balloon between them in fifteen seconds. They did it in five.

Knew About London

Kamens was asked what Republican had plunked that week for Dewey for president and jacked the pot up $30 when he knew that Alf Landon was the brave individual. Then came Mrs. Kamens' final bit of wisdom for the double-or-nothing question and the couple sat down to ringing applause.

Kamens, who has lived in Belleville for the past decade, has a dehydrated food business, the Dried Products company in Perth Amboy. Previous to that he was in the restaurant business in Newark for 25 years.

A veteran of World War I, in which he served 14 months overseas and went through the Meuse and Argonne offensives, he is past president of the 78th Division of New Jersey.

EX-SGT. TOM WARD RETURNS TO JOB

Veteran Of Tunisian Battle Now On Production Front At Wekaryn Plant

Back on the job at the Western Electric Kearny Works after six months of fighting in Tunisia is ex-sergeant Thomas P. Ward of 326 Belleville avenue.

Over-age and put in the Army reserve, Ward's war efforts will be on the production front instead of the battlefield from now on. "Not that I'm sorry about it, either," he said, "but I suppose I'm like the others who've had to come back. I'd like to have stayed over to finish the job."

A wekaryn nine years before entering the Army in June 1942, he is taking up where he left off as a wire-twister at the plant.

He is of medium height and stocky build; his face is well tanned. There's nothing to suggest that he lost 65 pounds in the Tunisian campaign. Some of his friends said they did not recognize him when he first came back early in October. He says he's in perfect shape again.

Like so many of his fellow veterans, Ward doesn't like to talk much about combat experiences. He went overseas last January and was in the North African fighting almost from the start. Attached to a reconnaissance detachment of an armored division, he saw action in the neighborhood of Sone, Bizerte, Ferryville and Matruh.

He liked Oran and Tunis, "but there's nothing left of Bizerte," he said. Looking back on it now, his biggest impression of Tunis seems to be the almost constant German air raids, rain, hills and dirt. Most of the time he was on outpost duty.

He joined the Army in June 1942 and received his basic training at Fort Meade, Md.

Plan For Belleville's Growth

almost entirely unknown among the hearts of a few civic-minded individuals for these many years is planning. For decades, indeed for a century, there have been staunch advocates of a strong central board in Belleville, without political pressure or of personal gain, draw up a master plan for building in the town and would some measure of authority to see that the plans were carried out. Yet the idea never gotten all the way, it has never come to the stage where such a commission could be set in operation. Now it is not a question of why previous attempts at such a planning board have failed; now it is time for some group or organization, private or public, in Belleville to take the bull by the horns and demand such an institution.

The purpose of a planning board is to study the present picture in every section of the town, street by street, lot by lot, to determine what type of building it should house, to decide where there should be industrial areas, where residential and where commercial, to decide which streets should be improved into parkways, to come to a decision on the types and locations of parks and public buildings—in a word, to paint a complete word picture of Belleville as it should be in the ideal.

Ordinarily the study takes several years. Much time is necessary in order that the work can be carefully, thoughtfully and conscientiously done. Then the report which is turned in is studied and, in its final form, approved by the town's governing body and written into the laws of the town. A permanent commission of some form is usually established to carry out the provisions of the report. After that time, no change in buildings or streets or any other public improvement may be made unless it complies with the master over-all plan.

It would not be permitted to toss any old type of building into the middle of an area where it would not conform with the other structures there. It would not be possible to put a trucking garage in the middle of residences, nor could a store be erected practically in the basement of a church nor would a brick building be planted between two constructed of granite.

It is obvious, therefore, that such a commission with conscientious personnel would be one of the greatest factors for civic improvement that the town of Belleville has known in a hundred years. Sections of the town would not be permitted to spring full-blown and half-baked into the public eye merely because someone waved a fistful of money around. If town hall procrastinates further with the project, putting it off with vague promises as it has for years, then it is time that citizens took the matter in their own hands. Now is the opportune time. There is almost a complete hiatus in construction and the problem could be studied calmly and objectively during the war so that when the lid is off again Belleville will be able to begin its post-war building with a clear and level-headed plan of what we want. Yes, now is the time; let us not permit it to slide unheeded.

The War Comes Of Age Today

Today the war is as old as World War I; today the nations of the world have fought as long as they did in that great Battle for Democracy; our generation ties the record of the last at 11 o'clock this morning. And the end is not yet in sight! Victory now seems certain, but how much time it will take, how many more thousands of human lives will be thrown into the maw of Mars is definitely not certain. Peace, total peace, is much harder to bring about than is total war.

And today, in the foxholes of the Pacific and the mountain crags of Italy, battle-scarred veterans of the hardest fighting Americans have ever known are hoping and praying that the America they come back to will be a reasonable facsimile of the America they left two years ago. They do not want to come back to a statesman's idea of Utopia; they do not expect to return to a land made shallow by scheming and petty patronage; they definitely do not anticipate coming back to a country which shall have been remodeled into a portrait of the nations which they are fighting.

They intend to return to a capitalistic nation in which the capitalist realizes his responsibilities, a land of the laborer in which the laborer does not abuse the power of his numbers, a land where the governor recognizes the rights of the governed, a country where it is a pleasure to be a social being. For that he is fighting, and when he returns he is determined to continue fighting against selfish interests, be they municipal, state or federal, be they economic, political or social until he has fashioned with his own hands the sort of nation he wants for himself and his children.

Too Many Jobs For One Man?

From A Citizen
Name Withheld on Request
To the Editor of The Times:

It seems to me that since the war started each man in business has been very much pressed for time. We have all been trying to do a good job all the way around, especially those people who have businesses of their own. Within the town of Belleville, there is a very large thing for a town this size, and certainly its business volume is great. . . . There are nine grade schools, an enormous high school and approximately 227 teachers in the system.

Then again we have a combined ration board which takes in Nutley and Belleville and must serve approximately 38,000 people with their ration needs. That in itself is an enormous undertaking. In fact I might venture to say that this is a larger enterprise by far than the largest individual business in either one of these towns.

Yet each individual business in either one of these towns has at present an executive organization of its own, and these people must work exceedingly hard and long hours to keep their business in good condition.

I, therefore, cannot concede the fact that any one individual, irrespective of who he might be or what his talents or how great his executive ability can be, is president of the board of education in Belleville and chairman of the ration board for Nutley and Belleville at the same time.

I wish to assure you that I am not making these statements because of any grievances I might have. These statements are true. However, I am prejudiced as to the treatment given to people having contact at either of these two boards due to the fact that the chairman is overwhelmed with work.

In my opinion, the man at the head of the board of education and the ration board should resign one of the chairmanships in justice to the people of Belleville. In justice to his own business, health, and last but not least the welfare of his family.

Asks Baseball Return

From John R. Carlough, BHS '21
143 Forest street
To the Editor of The Times:

An article in your paper last week hinted that a possible reason for the elimination of baseball from the high school athletic program was because it did not pay for itself. It is hard for me to believe that the athletic authorities would abolish baseball for such a reason.

However, at this time I do not intend to discuss the reason baseball was discontinued. This is not written either to accuse anyone or defend anyone, in or out of the Belleville school system.

As a citizen and a former BHS baseball player, never a star, I simply would like to urge the return of the game. There are several reasons why baseball should have a part in the athletic program:

1—Many boys, with no desire or ability for basketball or football, would get a much-wanted chance to represent the school on a team. Do not think this is unimportant to a boy.

2—Baseball is the national game, of interest to a big percentage of the boys in school and to many citizens beyond the school age.

3—In addition to the physical benefits, it teaches respect for worthy opponents, fair play, team work and quick thinking. This, of course, is true of all sports.

4—The growing athletic reputation of BHS would be advanced even more rapidly. Win or lose, this is true!

5—Our fine school spirit, centered around athletics and guided by the many capable teachers in the school system, would improve thereby.

Searching my memory, I think this is the first letter I have ever written to an editor and I have done so merely to plug a bit for baseball and the boys. In closing, I might say also that the return of track would be welcome.

BELLBOYS FACE EAST SIDE IN CAGE OPENER

Squad, Untested In Varsity Play, Chosen; Freshmen And J. V.'s To Appear

Coach Jitty Wische's basketball squad opens its season Tuesday, against East Side High school of Newark. The game, which will be held at the Belleville High school gym, begins at 9 o'clock. Something new had been added to Belleville's schedule. Instead of seeing two games at home, spectators will see three. The Freshmen will go into action at 6:45 and the Junior Varsity at 7:45. The Bellboys will start the season with only one returning letterman, Vic Pasquariello, captain of this year's squad. Mike Bell and John DeMunter are expected to provide the necessary height with Pasquariello and Jim Brynes showing as forwards. Other boys expected to fill varsity uniforms are Richard Stanford, Bob Purdue, Frank Bemis, Russell Stout, Ted Lewis and Ronald Kennedy.

The game between East Side and Belleville will mark the first time that the two teams have met on the floor. East Side is expected to have tough team and the Bellboys are improving rapidly as the days go by.

SCIENCE STUDENTS VIE FOR PRIZES

Take Westinghouse Science Talent Test In Try For Scholarships

The Westinghouse science talent search test was given in Belleville High last week. The test was conducted by Dr. Earl Siebert and Robert Parker of the faculty. Although it has been given throughout the country annually for the past three years, this is the first year Belleville students have participated. To qualify for this, a student must be a senior, write a thousand-word essay on a scientific experiment of his own, and take a three-hour test.

Forty students are chosen from all over the country. The chosen students spend a week in Washington with transportation and hotel accommodations paid. In the capital they attend meetings and interviews. As a result of the meeting and interviews two of the 40—a boy or a girl—receive a scholarship of $2,400, and eight others of $400 are also awarded. In college they will study science or engineering.

The seven contestants from Belleville are Edward Epting, Albert Knight, Richard Petruzzi, Jack Goodford, Donald Rochlin, Robert Rame and Ludwig Kowalski.

The Team Deserves Our Appreciation

The football season is over and we say farewell to one of the best teams Belleville High school has ever had. Surely the defeats of Bloomfield and Barringer proved that.

As we reminisce, our thoughts stray to Capt. Jim Dunleavy. What a great player and grand sport! We'll never forget that exciting 90-yard run he made at the Thanksgiving Day game. Jim's dates with rival football teams are over, since he has now left for the Navy. Good luck, Jim.

Our town has gone "all out" to pay tribute to our fine team. The Lions club of Belleville entertained the boys and coaches last Thursday with a dinner at the Forest Hill Field Club.

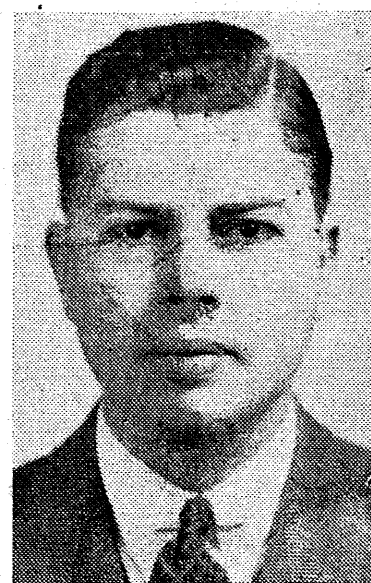

Bill Chapman, the coach, an Dunleavy were guests of the First Quarter club of Bloomfield on Tuesday.

Friday afternoon the cheerleaders entertained the team and coaches at a tea dance in the girls' gym.

Never before has a team received more praise and honor from the town. The football banquet Saturday evening is OUR chance to show our appreciation. Let's make the best of it.

We Have With Us Today—

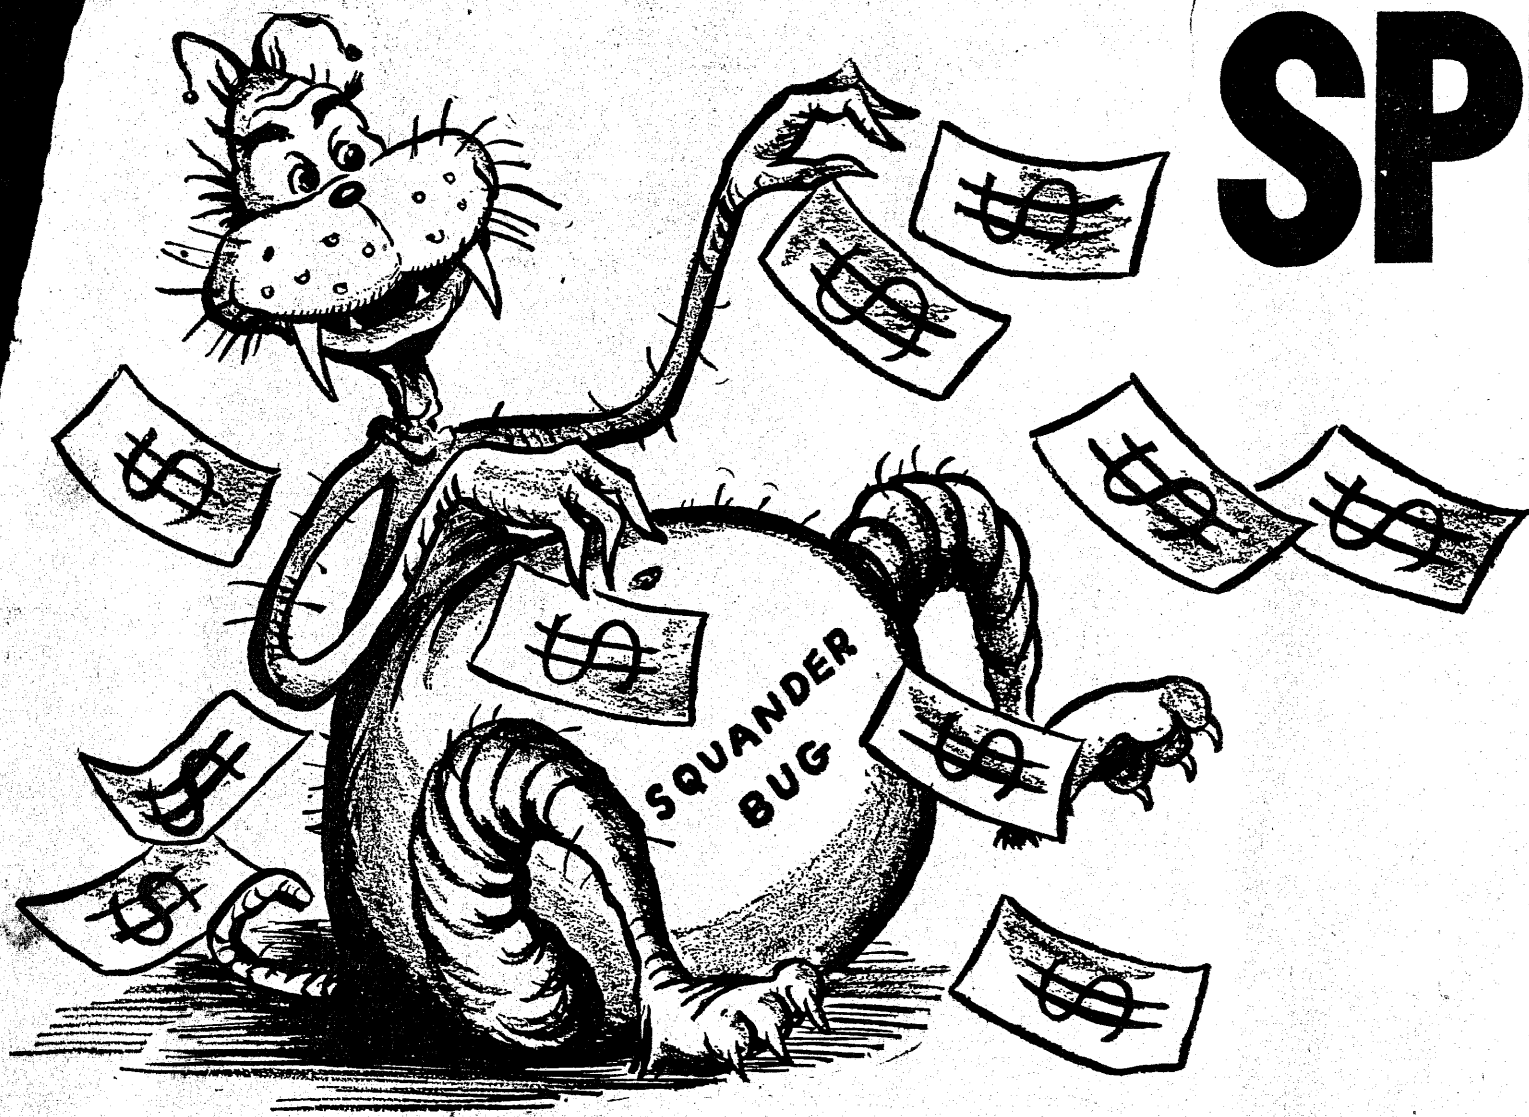

Burt Johnson

An extremely genial man whose cheerful personality is exceeded only by his willingness to cooperate with the students of Belleville High. Thus we have Burt Johnson, principal of our school.

Johnson was born in Raleigh, N.C., and has led an interesting scholastic life. He is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, where he received his A.B. degree. Subsequently, he served four summers in the department of secondary education in the Teacher's college at Columbia university, here earning his master's degree. While on the subject of degrees, we might add that Mr. Johnson is at present working towards his doctor's degree in general education at Columbia.

To add to these achievements, he was both a teacher and a coach in the North Carolina

SPEND SUCKER. SPEND!

This article was written by Ralph de Castro for the Savings Banks of New York State to help the Government promote War Savings.

The last war . . . remember?

Silk shirts!

Pink ones, green ones, blue ones with white stripes—millions of them.

And silk stockings for the women—on legs that had never felt anything but cotton before.

Wrist watches . . . rings . . . bracelets . . . hand-tailored suits . . . ten-dollar felt hats . . . better, larger, sweller apartments.

Then it happened.

1918 and the Armistice. The war boom petered out. In factory after factory the wheels turn slower—slower—then stopped.

The cuffs on the silk shirts were frayed, and the colors faded . . . and the silk stockings were gone, and the rings and the watches were in pawn shops . . . and people moved back where they'd come from. But . . .

"Don't let it get you down, Bud! You can't hold this country back. Country! Don't sell America short—why, with our natural resources—and the way we work . . ."

So we started on the second lap, on the same circular track.

1923-1929. Prosperity. Nothing ever like it before in the world. Stocks—up 50 points in a week—thousands, millions—billions of dollars of profits—on paper.

Bootleggers . . . parties . . . automobiles . . . more silk shirts . . . new suits . . . radios, refrigerators, real estate, furniture, diamonds and rings, boats, shoes, hats. . .

Then—1929 and crash again!

"Sorry, Mr. Jones . . . more margin, or we'll have to sell you out . . . Dear Mr. Jones . . . unless you send us a check to cover two unpaid installments on your furniture . . . Dear Sir . . . in the hands of our attorneys unless . . . mortgages unpaid . . . worry . . . worry . . . sorry, Jones, better look around for a new job . . . help wanted. . ."

Remember?

Bread lines . . . the Bonus Army . . . ex-soldiers selling apples on street corners . . . "Brother, can you spare a dime?" . . . stocks going down—down—business failures . . . suicides . . . relief . . . N. R. A. . . . W. P. A. . . . C. C. C. . . . and no jobs yet, and shoes run down at the heels. And the kids—undernourished—crying a lot—and "the lost generation. . ."

How come? How did we get that way—again? Why did it happen here, when it couldn't happen here?

Well, let's look back—let's see how it did happen.

Bonds weren't good enough for us. Savings banks weren't exciting as brokers' offices.

We were trying to compress our lives—to squeeze the juice of three score years and ten into a decade. We wanted for next to nothing the things our fathers had worked and sweated and saved for.

My wife's clothes had to be better, smarter—more expensive than your wife's—and her jewelry, too.

You spend a thousand dollars for your car? So what? I'm spending thirteen hundred for mine. (On time.)

And say—looka my new radio! Twenty-two tubes, three loud speakers, record changer, home recorder, and three short-wave bands!

The old one? Oh, I traded it in when I bought the new one—and the new refrigerator, and the dining-room furniture—slick, eh?—"modern," they call it.

How much? What's the difference?—Twenty-four payments of eighty dollars instead of sixty-five! I'll never miss it. . . .

Hold on a minute, brother. . . .

Did we "miss it" in the early "thirties?" Did we "miss it" when some fifteen million men walked the street—camped out—lived in huts and shacks and lean-tos? Did we "miss it" while brave women scrubbed and scoured and patched and mended until their finger tips were raw, their hands rough—and their hearts dull with the pain of abandoned hopes?

Hold on once more. . . .

This time chances are we won't bounce back again! Many people now realize what a close shave it was the last time . . . how desperately near we were to chaos and national ruin.

MUST we come with another crash? MUST we ignore, not one, nor two, nor three—but the dozens of lessons taught us by history? MUST we head straight along the road-to-ruin we took last time?

It's what's beginning to happen, right here—now—in our country.

People are making more money than they ever did before and spending it. Spending it faster than they ever did before.

The old "short-life-but-a-merry-one" story is back with us. But how merry IS it?

Where's the money coming from—"prosperity?" No . . . war. From the Business of Death we've been forced into. From things made to kill people. From things made to kill other people so they won't kill us.

Win, lose, or draw, the war will end some day. No war has lasted forever.

Then what?

Those same war-factory wheels will again slow down and stop. Men will walk out of factories and hear the gates grind closed behind them—many of them to stay closed.

And maybe the green grass will grow between the stones of factory courtyards before the men will come back to work again . . . slowly . . . a few at a time.

The same as the last time? And the time before that?

Well it shouldn't be, but it will be even worse—unless we use our common sense now!

There's no special Providence watching over this country, in spite of all our songs and slogans.

We're people—just like any other people.

Luckier, yes. Our land is fairer—endowed with more riches than any other lands. And we've worked hard—or used to, anyway. Nobody knows how much is left of American spirit and guts—yet. We think it's greater than before. The Japs and the Germans will find that out.

But listen, Mister. . . .

Don't fool yourself! The time's going to come when you'll need those dollars you're throwing around now.

If hard times catch up with you, it isn't that night-club proprietor who's going to return the money you spent in his place—no, not any part of it!

And all the unnecessary gimmicks and gadgets you think you need now won't be worth a dime on the dollar then.

And when your pockets are empty it won't be because you'll be taking money out of them—but because no money will be going into them.

How about those bright kids of yours? Will they have to work instead of going to high school or college?

And those beautiful rings you bought your wife? Supposing you lose your job . . . how long can you last before pawning those baubles, for a fraction of what they cost you?

So look. . . .

When you want to spend money or buy something new, just imagine you were spending your next-to-the-last dollar.

Don't ask how happy you'd be with what you get for your money—but whether you'd be miserable without it.

That's the only test. Otherwise you're just kidding yourself. Lighting matches to ten dollar bills you're going to need—sure some day.

What? Oh, you're making more money? Then save more—don't spend more!

Because the money we all save now will play a tremendous part in the after-war economy of our country. The money we save now will be a cushion of buying power—those sorely-needed dollars to "start things up again" in our civilian economy—to keep us from national bankruptcy until the wheels start moving again. The dollars you waste now may be the dollars you'll need then—yes, perhaps even for such matter-of-fact things as bread and milk and meat.

Why do you suppose your Government urges you to save? It's perfectly simple—to ward off disaster. To make sure that the crash that "couldn't happen here" doesn't happen again. So that possible (if not probable) after-war depression doesn't find you at the tail end of a bread line fifteen-million-people-long. So that a war we win by fighting won't be lost by waste.

Remember, we're at war! Dollars are needed just as much as men—to back up those men—to give your boy, your brother, or your pal the stuff he needs to beat the Axis, and come back alive.

Money wasted on foolish luxuries won't do this. Once spent, it's gone, and neither you nor the boys fighting for you are better off for the spending.

But the dollars you save in War Bonds or your saving account will help Uncle Sam buy the guns, the tanks, the ships, and the planes we must have to survive and win.

And those savings will guarantee your future—the financial future of you, your family, and the boys who are fighting for us all.

Nobody can tell you what's going to happen after the war, of its searing effect on the Nation.

But somebody can tell you what will happen to you.

You can.

Make a plan and stick to it. Guarantee your own future. So many dollars every pay day into War Bonds and into your savings account.

Then, come hell or high water, follow your plan. Protect your family. Build up reserves. Create a stock of money and make it grow. Your money. Your Bonds. Your protection.

And the bigger the stock of savings you create, the better off you'll be—to buy the good things you will want when the war is over—that new car, that refrigerator, and radio you can't get now—things that make American life the best in the world.

Meanwhile, helping yourself, your savings money will go to work helping your country, to provide fighting equipment for your boys to lick the Axis—homes for war workers—roads, railroad equipment, and ships to transport war materials from the factory to the front. Your dollars working for Victory and Peace!

So, when you save wisely, you're helping your country and yourself at the same time.

Honest, now. . . .

Could you ask for anything better?
