EXPECT INCREASE IN FUND-CHEST CONTRIBUTIONS

Coogan Reports $30,000 Sum Yesterday, Mostly Cash; Rally Successful

Contributions to the War Fund-Chest drive were expected to take a substantial leap last night when the first returns from the house-to-house solicitors were to be made. To noon yesterday a total of $30,852 had been reported.

As the end of the campaign neared, general chairman John P. Coogan Jr. issued "one last appeal" for "whole-hearted support of every organization and individual in Belleville." The drive ends Monday night at 8:30, it is hoped the goal of $83,525 will have been realized.

Reaction following the stirring rally last Thursday night in the Elks club was enthusiastic. The hall was practically filled with persons who enjoyed a War department movie and listened to interesting speakers.

Coogan revealed yesterday that $28,562 had come from industrial plants which were three-quarters complete in solicitation. Of the total reported, seventy percent is in cash, the remainder in pledges.

Other divisions reporting were public employees $322, chain stores $490, clubs and organizations $475, purveyors $320, businessmen $122 and house-to-house $60.

Additional reports in the latter two departments are expected to raise their figures considerably. Coogan pointed out that their preliminary returns were sketchy and represented only a small fraction of the anticipated total.

William J. Orchard, general manager of Wallace and Tiernan company, was the principal speaker at the rally which also included on the program: Lt. John C. Hoagland of Bloomfield, 3d Sgt. Thomas Dawson of Port Chester, N.Y., and S/Sgt. Robert Kirby of Harrisburg, all of the Army air corps.

REPORTS ACCIDENT 24 HOURS LATER

East Orange Man Relates Hitting Pedestrian; Other Officials

Police officials were mildly surprised when a man walked into headquarters Saturday evening and asked if an accident had been reported the night before in which a man had been struck by an automobile. None had.

So Arch L. Terwilliger, 23, of East Orange, told his story, how driving on south Washington avenue the night before he had struck pedestrian Joseph Nori, 28, of 75 Cedar Hill avenue.

He took Nori to the American Legion Memorial hospital in North Newark where 28 stitches were taken in his scalp. Then Terwilliger proceeded home.

John Ogilvy, 72, of North Arlington suffered nervous shock and a possible brain concussion Monday night when he was struck by a car driven by Rev. John S. Nelligan of St. Peter's church.

After the accident, which occurred near Rutgers and Stephens streets, Father Nelligan took the man to police headquarters where he was transferred to an ambulance to St. Mary's hospital, Passaic, where his injuries were considered not too serious.

In another accident the same night an Army ambulance skidded out of control and crashed into three parked cars on Washington avenue south of Jorammon street.

Pvt. Millard Richardson, 19, stationed at the Newark Army air base, driver of the ambulance, told police he skidded on the icy pavement and lost control of the vehicle.

Cars which he damaged belong to Michael Pasternak of 23 Carpenter terrace, Angelo Stellato of 54 Carner avenue and Robert Friedman of 122 Birchwood drive.

CONFUSION CAUSES JUVENILE CRIME

Psychologist Tells Teachers Real War Would Halt Delinquency Here

America's rising juvenile delinquency and crime problems are due principally to the confusion of a "milling around" period in which the nation finds itself, Dr. James E. Plant MD, director of the county juvenile clinic told Belleville teachers last week.

The United States has not entered a real state of war, he said, since it has not suffered the miseries of war, which state-always tends to break off crime waves abruptly.

On the contrary America has been in a state of extreme tension during which anxiety is the predominant emotion and it is this stress which leads to a breakdown of moral barriers.

He cautioned teachers against a state of fatigue on their own part and that of their pupils. This state, he said, leads to outbreaks of temper and lessening of efficiency.

Civic Leaders Deny Increase In Juvenile Delinquency

Leighton, Spatz And Smith Join Others Declaring Situation Unchanged

Civic and police leaders joined this week in a common opinion that juvenile delinquency has not materially increased in Belleville since the war began. The town's position was called unique among similar communities throughout the nation and state where youthful mischief and crimes has been on the upturn for more than two years.

The consensus of opinion was that Belleville, never free from its petty vandals and minor criminals has not deteriorated morally from the standards of former years.

The sudden interest in the question was aroused by a recent series of three instances of malicious window-smashing at the municipal stadium and breaks at St. Peter's school and church and at Union avenue school.

Hailed into juvenile court last week, four boys admitted the school breaks in which their total haul was a box of candy and a couple of dollars. They also confessed to breaking into the church,

KING COMMENDS SAFETY MEN

Police Rookie Nabs Stolen Car In Wild Chase; Save Women's Lives

The work of several members of the police and fire departments was commended yesterday by Public Safety Director King.

He pointed out a newly-appointed patrolman who nabbed a stolen car and a group of men who were credited with saving the lives of two women last week.

Patrolman Nicholas Ugliarolo, named to the force only a week before, chased a wildly-careening car, previously reported stolen, in a hectic 45-minute pursuit in the best cowboy-and-Indian tradition.

Six policemen and two firemen worked for twelve hours last week when two women suffered heart attacks within a few hours of each other. The women are Mrs. J. Edward Lay of 404 Union avenue and Mrs. Roy Voss Jr., of Newark, who was visiting her son Roy Voss Jr. at 66 Hill street at the time.

Working in two-man shifts, the department men administered oxygen for 12 hours before Mrs. Lay showed definite improvement. Yesterday she was reported by her nurse as "definitely improved."

Mrs. Voss, who was eventually taken to a hospital, returned to her home this week and is said to be recovered.

Welfare Drops To Lowest Point In More Than Decade

Only 115 Persons On Relief In 1943 Average, Hewitt Declares In Report

Direct and indirect relief to Belleville families and individuals last year dropped to a point less than a single month's expenditures during the depression depths ten years ago. That is the sum total of the annual report of welfare director John J. Hewitt.

All told during 1943 the town and the state spent $25,400 on an average of 115 persons, maintained either entirely or in part by public moneys. This was a decrease of more than half from the 1942 average.

1942 92 cases	243 persons
1943 53 cases	115 persons

The number of cases wholly dependent on the town for support maintained practically the same level between January and December although there was considerable fluctuation (between 50 and 31) in the months between.

These partially dependent on welfare, however, showed a steady decrease from a high of 89 in January to a low of 29 in December. The breakdown of expenditures includes:

Food and milk	$9,100
Hospitalization	5,942
Shelter	3,947
Medical services	2,359
Fuel	1,104
Board and care	1,000
Gas and electric	601
Burial	585
Medical supplies	420
Clothing	305
Household supplies	21
Moving	12

Mrs. J. Claude Powers

Mrs. J. Claude Powers of 78 Division avenue was named Monday by the board of directors of the Woman's club to the presidency of the organization. She is expected to take office at the next general meeting of the club March 13.

Mrs. Powers fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Frank J. Ackerman of 60 Fairway avenue, who withdrew from the post because of illness.

Mrs. Ackerman had served half of her two-year term but had been unable to attend many meetings of the group. Her resignation was not unexpected.

Other nominations presented Monday were Mrs. William Chapman, second vice-president; Mrs. Norman H. Cooper, and Mrs. George Fralley, clubhouse trustees; Mrs. Morris Rochlin, chairman of nominations; Mrs. William Entekin, chairman of by-laws; Mrs. William Lynch, chairman of civics; Mrs. Powers and Mrs. Dwight N. Streeter, convention delegates; and Mrs. Joseph R. Kilpatrick and Mrs. James G. Shawger, convention alternates.

The new president, the twelfth in the club's 22-year history, has been actively engaged in club activities for the past decade, although she was a member for some time previously.

Former Teacher

A former Jersey City school teacher, she moved to Belleville 23 years ago. She was vice principal of a Hazletown elementary school and retired from active teaching eight years ago.

She has served on international relations and civic committees for many years in both the club and the district and has chairmanned them several times.

Her daughter, Mrs. Oscar E. McEntee, wife of an air corps technical sergeant, is a past president of the Junior Woman's club. Her husband, retired from American Telephone and Telegraph company, is a driver in the civilian defense ambulance corps and a lieutenant in the Community Chest campaign.

Scoutmasters' Training Course To Start At Montgomery

Wayne R. Parmer, chairman of the Belleville district training committee, has announced a scoutmasters' training course which will open at 7:30 Tuesday, February 23, at Montgomery Presbyterian church. Council Commissioner Harry Brumback will be the course leader.

The course is for scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters, as well as troop committeemen. "Institutions in Belleville which contemplate the organization of a Boy Scout troop are urged to select prospective leaders now and enroll them in this course," Parmer said.

The course runs for six indoor sessions meeting one night each week for six weeks, followed by one outdoor session.

Court Of Honor

Henry Minasian, chairman of the advancement committee, is making plans for a public Court of Honor to be held on Wednesday, March 22. Parents and friends of the scouts will be invited to attend.

Scoutmasters and scouts in the Belleville district have been urged to complete merit badges and other awards on which they are now working, so that every troop will be well represented at the court.

Dog License Renewal Slow, Spatz Warns Of Drive

Of the 2,031 dog licenses issued in Belleville last year, only 384 had been renewed in the two weeks after the expiration of the old permits. Chief Spatz announced yesterday.

He said that police would shortly begin their annual dog census of the town and soon thereafter a drive on unlicensed dogs will probably begin.

He pointed out that the Humane society is picking up many dogs without licenses and each costs the town $5.50. They are held seven days and, if still unlicensed, are destroyed.

"If You Can't Go Over, Come Across"—Faas

"If you can't go over, come across" That was the slogan put forward last week by Julius Faas of 60 Belmont street in his weekly appeal for bond purchases by the Rotary club.

After announcing that the Rotary here has been credited with purchases of $1,700,000, Faas spoke of the boys who have gone overseas "to fight our war in strange lands."

He pointed out that most of his listeners were to old to "go over, but if you can't go over, come across."

Taxpayers Keep Pay-As-You-Go Policy In 1943 Payment

Belleville taxpayers paid a total of $1,404,550 on their 1943 taxes into the town's coffers during the past year, according to a report by tax collector William Knapp.

Mayor Williams fixed the figure of current collections at 93.86 percent, a considerable increase over the 84 percent of five years ago.

Nearly $85,000 in back taxes were cleaned up, the report showed. From all sources, the town took in a total of $2,505,000 during the year with a high mark of $393,000 in July and a low of $45,500 in March.

The collection of current taxes leaves only less than $65,000 in unpaid 1943 taxes while the total of taxes owed the town since 1921 is slightly more than $54,000. The majority of these are for the years 1931-35.

Belleville Tops State, Smashing All Records For Fourth War Loan

First And Only Municipality To Go Over Series E Quota; Total Sales Exceed Unofficial Increased Goal

Belleville stands forth this morning as the No. 1 New Jersey municipality on the record of the Fourth War Loan. The industries, businesses, organizations and residents of the town have smashed every record in sales and purchases of war bonds.

Figures released last night show that Belleville alone in the state has exceeded its quota in sales of Series E bonds. Chairman Philip Detelbach announced that the latest report showed total sales in that category up to last night were $707,694. Purchases of all types amount to $3,383,122.

The town's quota for E bonds, which the treasury department urged more strongly than any other type, was $650,000. From the beginning of the drive, however, bond leaders throughout the state and nation reported lagging sales in that department.

Chiefly through the organization of the air raid wardens and of several civic-minded organizations, Series E bonds were pushed hard here. Intensive canvassing of the homes and businesses of the town resulted in the announcement that Belleville went over the top some time Monday.

A week before that day, announcement was made that Belleville had exceeded its original $2,100,000 total bond goal and the quota was unofficially raised to $3,000,000. That figure was also surpassed this week.

Wardens Also Over

Individual work on the campaign is spread in many places. The air-raid wardens have sold more than $100,000 worth of E bonds in their house-to-house canvass.

The Progress club of Congregation AAA, under the direction of the committee composed of Mrs. Anna Glynn, Jack Steinhauer and Edward J. Abramson, went $3,000 over its $50,000 goal.

The Lions club has reported sales of $17,450 while tavern and liquor store owners, organized by ABC, bought up $11,425 worth.

The Boy Scouts' "gleaners after the reapers" drive has netted $8,468 so far with five of Belleville's nine troops reporting. Those which have made their returns are troop 306, scoutmaster J. R. Meyer; 375, John L. Sullivan; 380, M. J. Wager Jr.; 383, Robert Bartholomew; and 389, Bernard Barlow.

The war loan ended Tuesday night for all classes of bonds except Series E, which will end February 29.

Charles M. Nutt of 27 Reservoir place yesterday became general sales manager of Essex Lumber and Coal corporation of 60 Jorammon street, the company's president, Frank H. Bridge of 217 Malone avenue, announced last night.

Nutt, who has been northern New Jersey representative for the Allentown Portland Cement company for the past five years, had resigned from that organization and will have complete charge of Essex's sales.

Nutt came to Belleville from West New York 22 years ago and for 15 years was purchasing agent and sales manager of the Cook and Genung building materials company of Newark before taking the Allentown account.

He has long been a civic and political leader in Belleville. He is president of the Joseph King association, salvage chairman of the defense council, a director of the DeWitt Savings and Loan.

DEMOCRACY NEEDS PTA ASSOCIATIONS

Refugee Tells Greylock PTA Dictatorships Must Control Children's Schooling

The importance of parent teacher associations in the life of a democracy was stressed Monday afternoon by Mrs. Frank Koch, a PTA in a talk to the PTA of Greylock school.

Mrs. Koch came to America six years ago after escaping from Germany. Her husband had previously spent three years in Nazi concentration camp.

She was emphatic in her statement of the blessing which Americans have in being able to "have a say in the education of your own children. There is no place for a PTA in a dictatorship," she pointed out that "we realized he would never be able to control the older generation and therefore declared that 'the children belong to me.'"

He not only completely trusted them with his property but has integrated them into gigantic spy system against parents. "A child belongs to parents only before he is able to speak for himself," she declared. "Refugees" declared. She pleaded with her audience to "watch for the depression after the war. It is that time which makes such movements as Nazism possible."

During the depression years it is more important to get work for our youth than it is for their parents, since the youngsters are dependent on street corners and easy prey for anyone who comes along and offers them a uniform." Mrs. Koch declared that "unless we be children of all nations to be human beings again the be no happiness for ourselves."

Town Settles Out-Of-Court

A $5,000 damage suit against the town was settled out of court for $400, Town Attorney Keenan announced to the commissioners last week. The legal charges were brought by Mrs. Mary Zeiss of 358 Cortland street.

The woman charged that negligence on the part of town employees was responsible for a fall nearly a year ago in which she injured her leg. The town men were repairing a sidewalk at the time.

Lt. Howard R. Holmes

A dispatch from headquarters of the 13th Air Force in the South Pacific reveals that 1st Lt. Howard R. Holmes, son of Howard A. Holmes of 479 Union avenue, has been awarded the Oak Leaf Cluster in lieu of an additional Air Medal.

The presentation was made last month by Lt. Gen. Millard F. Harmon, commanding the Army forces in South Pacific area.

Holmes probably received the award at the New Zealand hospital where he is convalescing from serious injuries received in a crash landing after the heavy bomber on which he was navigator was shot up in combat.

The crash-up, which occurred October 10, took the lives of the pilot and co-pilot. Three motors of the plane had been shot out and the pilot was endeavoring to bring the ship in on the remaining engine.

Holmes, who is 25, graduated from Belleville high school in 1935 and from New York university in 1939. Prior to his entry into the Army three years ago, he was employed in the disability claims department of the Prudential insurance company.

Donning the uniform of an enlisted man in the field artillery, he rose to sergeant before being appointed to flying school in April 1942. He was commissioned nine months later at the Ephrata (Wash.) Army air base.

He went overseas last June and saw 240 combat hours before being injured. He also wears the Purple Heart.

Married a year ago to the former Miss Phyllis Mary Bone of Pasadena, Cal., he has never seen his month-old son and probably does not yet know he has one.

Pvt. Vincent Cassidy, formerly of 39 Ralph street where he made his home with Mr. and Mrs. William Cassidy for two years, is stationed in England with a group of infantry veterans of the most important North African battles.

Cassidy drew the second number in the selective service lottery in 1940. He was then employed by the Pettit Paint company. After training at Fort Bragg, N.C., he began overseas duty in the first North African campaign.

Walter Maguire of 62 Cedar Hill avenue received the rating Seaman 1/c at Sheepshead Bay Merchant Marine training station last week before visiting his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Nucci of the Cedar-hill avenue address. He formerly made his home with them and was graduated from Belleville High school in June.

Joseph V. Constantine, electrician's mate 2/c, enclosed in a recent letter to his mother, Mrs. Marie Constantine of 391 Cortlandt street, a verse entitled The Seabee Speaks, written on a South Pacific island by a member of a naval construction battalion.

Showing that servicemen from one climatic extreme to the other are of one mind, the poem challenges the civilian who is "tired overworking" to remember that the military "will keep a-going, Mister, you can bet your life we do; and let me tell you, Mister, we expect the same of you!"

Constantine has served in the Aleutian islands for 13 months. He spent five weeks at Davis field, R.I., after joining the Navy in October 1942. Previously he was employed by Wallace and Tiernan company. He was graduated from Belleville high school in 1937.

Pvt. Anthony Constantine, his brother, entered the Army in December 1942 and has been stationed for the past six months with an infantry battalion in Iceland. His civilian employment was with the Federal Telephone and Radio corporation.

Lester Robert Lockhart, gunner's mate 3/c, recently wrote his mother, Mrs. Sophie Lockhart of 36 Clinton street, of his promotion from the grade of seaman 1/c. He has served overseas two years after boot training in Newport. He last visited Belleville in June.

Lockhart was employed by the Eastwood - Nealey corporation prior to entering the Navy and previously attended Belleville high school. He is 23.

His brother, Pfc. Howard Lockhart of 122 Stephens street is a drill instructor in Parris Island Marine encampment. He served four years with the Marine corps previous to his present assignment. He is married to the former Miss Mary Hoag.

Two Bellevillites in uniform have arrived at Great Lakes for their basic training. They are John M. Mekalanos and George A. Sauer, whose wives reside at 2 Dawson street and 123 Crest drive respectively.

Bellevillites In Uniform

Lt. Harold W. Fairweather, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fairweather of 220 Joralemon street, reported this week to the San Angelo (Tex.) Army air field for a course in bombardiering and navigation.

He graduated from the high school in 1937 and studied for several years in Rutgers university evening school while working for the St. Joseph Lead and Steel company in New York.

Entering the Army 23 months ago as a private, he was commissioned after graduating from the anti-aircraft school at Camp Davis. Last April he transferred to the air corps.

Pfc. Guy Curry, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Curry of 146 Delevan avenue, will graduate tomorrow as an aviation mechanic at the B-24 Liberator school at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss.

Miss Frances Mary Sheldon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Porter F. Sheldon of 221 Joralemon street, was sworn into the Marine corps women's reserve last week and will report in a few weeks to Camp Lejeune, New River, N. C., for basic training.

A 1939 graduate of the high school, Miss Sheldon also attended New Jersey College for Women for three years before taking a position with the Walter Kidde company. She is a descendant of Pilgrim John Alden.

She has two brothers already in uniform: 1st Lt. Porter F. Sheldon Jr. with the 8th Air Force in England and Smith Sheldon, electrician's mate 2/c with the Navy somewhere in the South Pacific.

Also announced on the ETO promotion list was Pfc. Achille Potenzzone, upped to the grade of corporal. In the Army four years, he is stationed in Iceland.

He has three brothers in service: Sgt. Silvio Potenzzone, a heavy bomber tail gunner stationed in Australia; Pfc. Romolo Potenzzone with the Army in England; and Remolo Potenzzone, seaman 2/c with the Navy in South America. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Santo Potenzzone of 45 Honiss street.

Marine S/Sgt. Eugene V. Neary, son of former Commissioner and Mrs. Frank Neary of 15 Hewitt avenue, began a thirty-day furlough at home last Friday. An aviation mechanic recently stationed at Henderson Field, Guadalcanal, he returned recently from more than a year in the South Pacific.

Neary, who enlisted in the Marines immediately after Pearl Harbor, wears a presidential citation, the American and Asiatic theater campaign bars with four stars.

Sgt. Byron Abbott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Abbott of 210 Stephens street, returned to Camp McCoy, Sparta, Wis. last week after a seven day furlough with his parents.

He was accompanied here by his wife, the former Miss Charlotte Mitchell of Raleigh, N. C. The couple were married in Sparta last October.

Sgt. Byron, who has been in the Army two years, is with a medical corps unit. He was first trained in Camp George Meade, Md. Previous to entering service, he was a postal clerk.

Wins $753 for Ideas!

When Mary Fretch, radio tube inspector at the RCA Harrison plant, gets a good idea, she does something about it. Whenever her good ideas had to do with improving the radio tubes she was inspecting, she turned them in to the company on a suggestion blank. Last year her ideas earned total RCA awards of $503, and because she was the high-scoring idea girl in 1943, she earned an extra $250! Total—enough to buy a $1000 war bond with $3 to spare.

Mrs. Fretch points out that savings now mean better things after the war.

Teachers Answer Question Of "Whose Children?"

The Times yesterday received from the Belleville Teachers' association a lengthy communication, the first instalment of which follows, stating its opinions of the present and future of Belleville youth.

Submitted by Miss Lena Dunlap, president of the association, and John S. Charlton, chairman of its salary schedule committee, the article is the opinion of the authors and not necessarily that of The Times.—Ed.

Last week an editorial appeared in a Belleville newspaper asking the question—"Whose Children?" Whether we want to admit it or not, there children are "Our Children."

We will admit that many communities throughout America and the whole war-torn world are having a great challenge to cope with the problem of juvenile delinquency. Many more acute problems exist in Belleville because of the heterogeneous type of population in the heart of a metropolitan and cosmopolitan area.

Our children are no worse today than we were twenty-five or thirty-five years ago. The only difference we observe between the children of today and the children of yesterday is there are more of them, and they have more choices to make.

We as citizens and parents could tell some stories about our activities and experiences as children which we would not want "Our Children" to know about.

No—"the world is not going to the dogs"—this world is going to be inherited by "Our Children." Let's face the problems and perplexing situations of Belleville and our nation as they exist for "Our Children" and decide on a definite program or plan of action so that these stumbling blocks in the path of our youth may be minimized.

Maze of Choices

Our children of today are faced with many more choices both good and bad which they need guidance in making wise choices. We recommend the following as possible solution to our present youth problems.

1. Personalize our community education and recreation so that in all parts of our city our boys and girls have the best program we can afford to provide for them. Our immediate neighborhood then approximates the basic unit of all society—our family. Then we as parents and citizens have a feeling of responsibility and ownership.

2. We need to provide for our children an opportunity to have a better outlet in their own neighborhood for leisure time activities through: supervised playgrounds; gymnasiums for organized play and social programs for youth and our parents; organized program for dramatics, music, and public speaking in each neighborhood an opportunity for creative work in art, industrial arts, home economics and other activities to develop leadership qualities and coordinate the dexterity of our hands with our general intelligence.

Undesirable Activities

3. There are surely a number of most undesirable activities and institutions existing in our community. We must organize the forces of good in each part of our community against the forces of evil. The activities and institutions that entice our children and promote or encourage juvenile delinquency and crime should be corrected or eliminated.

Our churches will cooperate in every way possible to eliminate this situation. Surely, if we would exercise one of our inalienable rights as good Americans our church would be over-crowded and would make a greater contribution to this phase of our problem.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." It only costs us about $100 per capita each year for our school children while it costs over $600 per capita per year for each of our boys and girls in penal institutions and reformatories.

4. Joseph Siegel, former juvenile court judge has said that "the best method of preventing juvenile delinquency in normal or war times is the strengthening of public services for children."

"These public services include providing of child welfare service wherever they are needed; community facilities that supplement home care and supervision when mothers are employed; safeguards with respect to child labor and youth employment; opportunities for wholesome companionship and leisure time for social influences; social service to meet problems of families arising out of the absence of the breadwinner and health services."

Guidance Program

5. We must offer a complete guidance service in all grades of all public schools. Guidance is a continuous program from the "cradle to the grave." One of the best definitions we know of guidance is "the assistance given an individual in making wise choices during critical situations in life."

We need a teacher in each school trained in child psychology, vocational and educational guidance, social and character guidance, health physical guidance, and recreation as well as the regular progressive program of education.

Surely we need a psychologist, a student personnel administrator, a distributive education coordinator, a visiting teacher, a dean of boys and girls, a vice or assistant principal in all high schools.

All schools and communities should offer services for each of our children so that they might have the opportunity to develop fully, mentally, morally, and spiritually.

School Costs

Please study carefully the following comparison of costs and then ask ourselves if we are spending according to our ability and our interests for our schools and our children. (From "Cost of Education in New Jersey," 1942, by Robert C. Clothier, president of Rutgers university.)

"The wealth of a nation can be measured by the education of its people. This is especially true of a democracy for no democracy can survive, much less prosper, unless its citizens are enlightened. In a democracy in which education is highly developed the enlightenment is the lot of the people and wealth, in its broadest sense, is their reward."

"Present day realities make very vivid to us the need for more and better education, not alone as training in professional and technical skills, as preparation for a fuller and richer life. Tyranny thrives on the ignorance of the people, freedom is achieved through the qualities of mind and heart which flow from education."

"Education to create and preserve democracy must be all-permeating and must assure each succeeding generation a broad knowledge of our heritage of freedom and the sacrifices through which it was won for us, and awakening of loyalty to its and the development of that self-discipline and sense of personal responsibility which are necessary."

"We must achieve that kind of education if we are to avoid the ruthless discipline from above which has enslaved the people of so many hitherto free nations. Wherever class barriers exist, oppression threatens. Education must remove these barriers."

"Our program of compulsory education at the elementary and secondary school levels is financial with public funds derived from taxation."

We must extend and enrich our program of public education so that our Belleville boys and girls have an equal opportunity with other boys and girls of New Jersey. To spend more money for our public education is a huge task and responsibility on the part of the general public who have a vision for the future and a knowledge of the present expenditures.

Surely, the use of a larger amount of public funds for education will prevent a large increase in juvenile delinquency and result in a great local, state, and national advantage for the future.

By the use of more public funds and the wise development of a modern progressive educational program our boys and girls will receive a training, which we can well afford to pay for and we are investing in the very foundation of the best possible future for the America of tomorrow.

Population Compared

New Jersey has 3.16 percent of the population of the United States. Between 1890 and 1936 our population increased sixty percent while our secondary school population increased 1,700 percent.

During some years of this period of expansion we had to build an average high school every day to take care of increased enrollment. Compulsory education for this heterogeneous group takes on a different and social educational significance.

New Jersey has only 16 students in our colleges and universities and is fifth from the bottom, excluding teachers college. The average for the United States is 40 students. These facts indicate we need a broader curriculum in our secondary schools and a very urgent need for higher education.

(The second and concluding instalment of this article will appear in an early issue of The Times. It will discuss the ability of a municipality to support education.)

Joins Shep Fields

Joseph W. Soldo

Another Belleville name will be added to the roster of big-time musicians today when Joseph W. Soldo of 20 King street becomes an active ingredient in the dancing menus served by Shep Fields and his orchestra.

The 18-year-old youth with the sweet pucker lips will take up his sax and clarinet with the Fields organization tomorrow when it opens at the Earle theater in Philadelphia.

Trouping in the musical world is nothing new to young Soldo. He quit Belleville high school a year ago when he was a senior to join Eddie Rogers band for four months and then went over to Tommy Reynolds.

He left the Reynolds aggregation a few months ago when induction started him in the face. Subsequently turned down by the Army, he has played with Bob Astor and Joe Marcella in New York in the interim.

He landed his present contract through Frank Dailey. When Fields began his engagement at Dailey's Terrace Room in Newark, the major-domo asked Shep if he needed another "good man."

All Fields needed was a brief audition and Soldo was signed on the dotted line.

Soldo received his musical training in Newark and fostered it at Central High school before transferring to Belleville. He has been ripping the reeds for the past eight years.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Soldo, who have another son, Cpl. James Soldo stationed at Camp Kilmer. The elder Soldo is owner of Bill's Diner at Belleville and Union avenues.

Extend, Enrich

We must extend and enrich our program of public education so that our Belleville boys and girls have an equal opportunity with other boys and girls of New Jersey. The Russian Bear Is Not Perfect

Whenever we hear anyone go all-out in a supreme effort to whitewash completely his pet theory or project we cannot help but perk up our ears. For nothing can be quite as perfect as these apologists would have us believe. And again little doubts begin to crawl around in our head whenever we hear a defender label every statement from the other side of the fence as a lie. For there are few things which are wholly good or wholly bad, few major enterprises about which only truth or only lies are told.

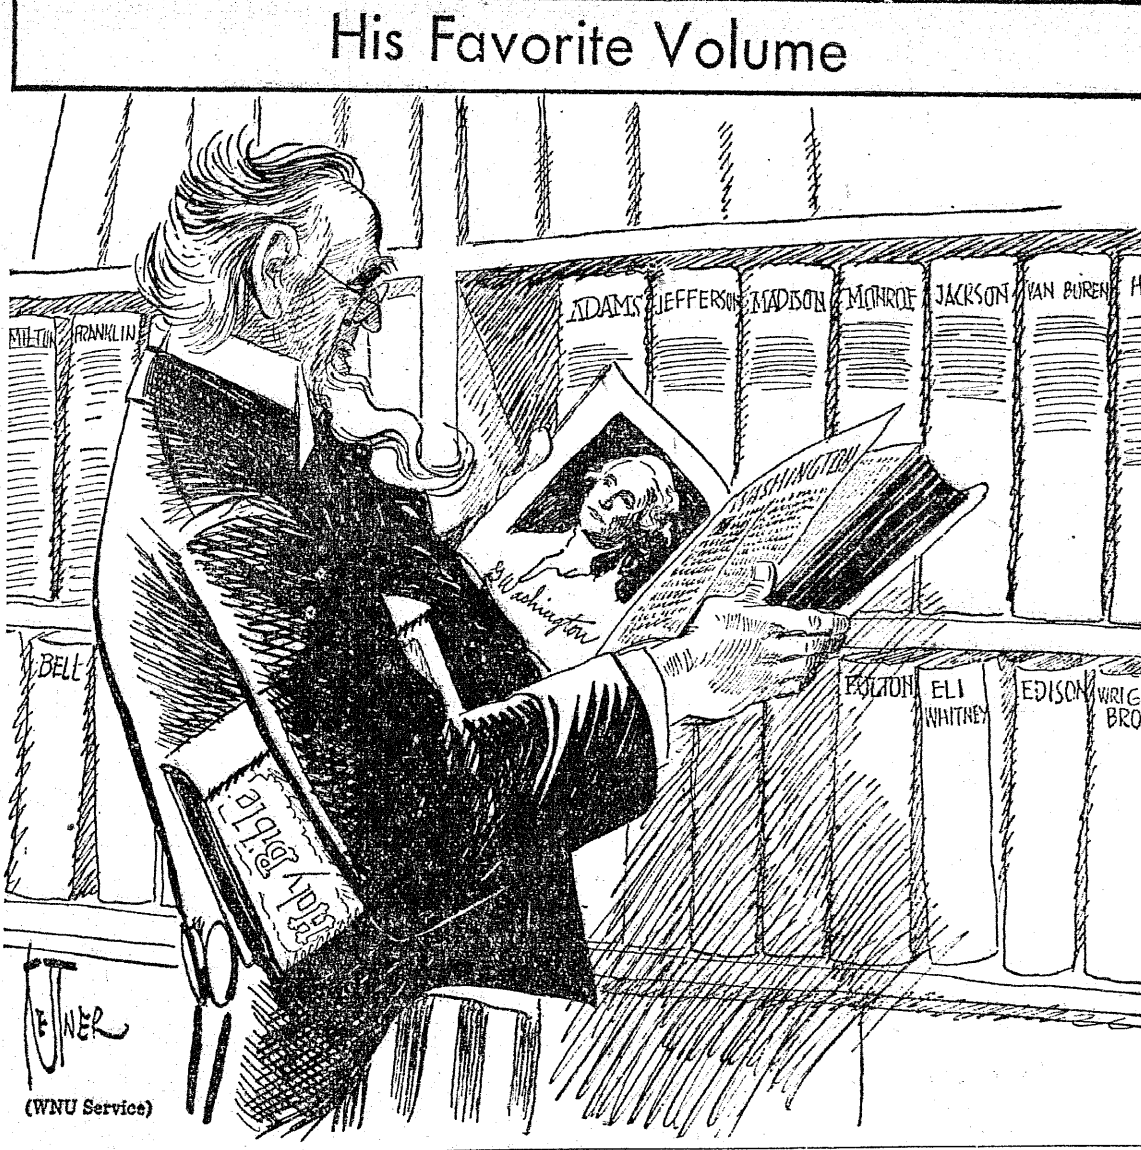

That was our reaction last week as we listened to an able defender of Soviet Russia in the rescue of the Red homeland in the spirited talk before the Rotary. Recognizing there were many truths in her words, truths which indeed many anti-communists in their blindly blind antipathy have steadfastly refused to acknowledge. And in their refusal to concede the good points about Russia they weakened their opposition to the points which they really wanted to attack. There is little doubt that the Reds in the past twenty-five years have done much more than most than most democracies have to lift up their citizens economically and educationally, that the Russian peasant of today is much better off than his serf father in the property he owns, that literacy has spread to eighty-five percent of the population whereas in the old days that same percentage could neither read nor write.

But the speaker based her plea for Russo-American cooperation in the post-war world on the premise that Russia is a democracy and then she attempted to prove her premise. The weak link which she placed right at the beginning of her chain is that Russia is a democracy in ideals and that "we should consider the ideals and not the methods." We wonder strongly if the two, the ideals and the methods, can be that easily separated. Should they not be correlatives? Are we Christians if we believe in Christ's ideals and do not follow his precepts? Can a nation which professes to be democratic in its aims violate the individual rights of man for years? Is a nation which purges its leaders by the sword, which brings recalcitrant citizens to their knees by starvation, which denies to its people the fundamental right to religion, which regulates its citizens' every action to a degree tantamount to mental and economic slavery — is such a nation a democracy?

It may improve the lot of its people, it may be popular with them, it may be better than democracy, but let us call it by its proper name — a totalitarian state, that is, a government in which the individual counts for nothing, in which the state is the only ultimate good. Yes, there are admittedly many misconceptions about the USSR but let us not add a further one by calling it a democracy.

Russia is, to our minds, completely opportunistic and such a role is not out of place in this modern world. Russia, great friend to the democracies now that is she valloping Germany, has relaxed certain restrictions on the lives of her citizens for the sake of further aid from the democracies. That is smart politics. On the other hand, Russia intends to let the rest of the world know that she has not gone soft. Else why should she periodically put on a truculent mood, refuse to give recognition to Allied efforts, even attempt to cast doubt and suspicion on their intentions and endeavors? By keeping America and Britain on tenterhooks, wondering if the Bear will turn and snap at them after the war, she hopes to keep them in a state of modified appeasement at the end of which they will not dare to talk back to her demands.

What the speaker before the Rotarians failed to answer was the question: "Is Russia today, and will Russia after the war be, materially different from the Russia of five years ago and before?" Will she again ban religion when she no longer needs the sympathy of the Allies? Will she again train and send out her paid agitators secretly trying to undermine the governments and economic systems of other nations? Or will she be content to let other countries struggle along with their own particular systems as she does with hers? We repeat, Russia is opportunistic and so are we. Our respective nations have not changed ideologically in the past several years merely because we happened to be at war with a common enemy. We have been crowded into each others' camps by force of circumstance and we should make the most of it. For the post-war world we should now lay plans for harmonious cooperation even though we be poles apart in political, economic, religious and social thought.

Courtesy Urged By Bell Co. To Speed The War Effort

Courtesy as an aid in speeding up the war effort was stressed in a little booklet published recently by the Bell Telephone Company. The booklet of cartoons indicates 12 ways "you can help yourself to better telephone service and at the same time ease our overburdened lines and switchboard." The rules:

1. Answer promptly: — It's irritating to the other fellow when you are slow to answer.
2. Answer by name: — "Production Department, Lee speaking" is quicker and saves everyone's time.
3. Speak clearly: — Speak directly into the telephone; your natural voice is best.
4. Keep a pad near: — And, of course, a sharp pencil; they're your telephone working tools.
5. Make it brief: — Plan your conversation ahead of time, particularly on out-of-town calls.
6. Provide coverage: — Have someone answer your telephone when you are away from your desk or place of business.
7. Leave word when out: — Going out? Let your office know where and the time you expect to return.
8. Look up the number: — Wrong numbers mean extra calls. When in doubt, use your telephone book.
9. Keep a list handy: — List all frequently called numbers; saves time, avoids wrong-number calls.
10. Stay on the line: — Even toll calls get through quicker when you stay on the line.
11. Answer for others: — Ask if you can take the message.
12. Hang up gently: — You can spoil a pleasant goodbye by jarring the ears of your caller.

"In an air raid test or an actual emergency, telephone lines must be kept free for urgent official calls, calls which are being made to protect you," the booklet concludes.

"Refrain from telephoning during a test alarm or a real emergency, and also avoid outside calls for a period following the 'all clear' signal, so that civilian defense organizations can complete emergency work which uses telephone lines."

Pleased With Baseball Return

From John R. Carrough

To the Editor of The Times:
I was greatly pleased to read in your paper that the Athletic Council is making plans for the return of baseball to Belleville high school. The Council members are to be congratulated on doing the right thing for the students. Many of the boys will soon be in military service, and it is only fair that they have an opportunity to play our national game for a few weeks before the serious job of war is upon them. I feel sure that the students will be willing to play, and support, the game of baseball.

That's one thing of which there are plenty; six eggs for breakfast is just routine. . . . We have armored cow — there just isn't any milk. But potatoes are fresh and we have beef, pork or chicken. Occasionally it's very good, usually mediocre, and sometimes it's water buffalo — and old buffalo at that, no matter what they say. The food must be low in calories, because we all eat very large meals. Everything is small in this part of China; the people,

Our School . . . Its Impression

A stranger entering any high school must judge that school mainly by the way it appears to him. It may not be pleasant, but it certainly is true that such a stranger would be glancing into our cafeteria during either of the lunch periods, receive a far worse impression of BHIS than actually is the case.

It is unfortunately a fact that too many of us are not considerate as we should and could be while in the cafeteria. The appearance of the cafeteria after each lunch period shows that far too many students are just plain lazy, too lazy to remove papers, crumbs, and ice cream from tables, chairs and the floor.

Students may not believe it, but a clean school building is an important sign of a better, more responsible group of pupils. It makes for a better high school, and it is a job for the students and the students only. Right now the job is not being done nearly as well as it can be done.

ARMY-NAVY TEST DATA ANNOUNCED

Principal Reveals Tests To Be Given At High School March 15

The third Army-Navy college qualifying test for the Army specialized training program and the Navy college program V-12, which will be given throughout the country on Wednesday, March 15, at 9 a. m., will be administered at the Belleville high school principal Burt Johnson, announced today.

A leaflet of general information which contains an admission-identification form may be obtained at the high school office. This form properly filled out will admit to the test students between the ages of 17 and 21 inclusive who are high school graduates or who will be graduated by July 1. Intent to take the test should be made known immediately to the high school principal in order that the necessary test supplies may be ordered.

The same examination will be taken by both Army and Navy candidates. The Army specialized training program is aimed to meet the Army's needs for special technical and scientific personnel in the field of study. Academic work is at the college level at government expense.

The Navy college program enables students to continue academic training at government expense.

Completion of the described courses may, following officer training, result in a commission in the Navy.

Man Gives Interesting At Assembly Program

Students were given a vivid picture of how the F. B. I. gathered evidence and captured espionage and sabotage agents at work in the U. S. A. in an assembly program Friday.

The speaker, W. R. Paxman, told the interesting story about an incident which caused hundreds of man-power hours to be lost in a war plant. It seems that quite a kick out of putting red not rivets into the pockets of unsuspecting workers.

When the co-worker put his hand in his pocket the hot rivet would burn his hand as well as a hole in his pocket. This would cause the worker to be absent a number of days from the plant while his hand healed.

Through practical jokes such as these, carelessness and revenge on fellow workers, patriotic Americans as well as enemy agents were working the war effort.

Members Of Music Organizations Receive Awards From Principal

Awards, consisting of an Old English letter "B" and a stripe for each year of service were made last Friday to members of the various music organizations at the high school by Burt Johnson, principal.

Johnson said he was very glad awards were being presented to outstanding students again and hoped that the music students would cherish their letters just as much as the football and basketball members prized theirs.

Fourth year students, who received a "B" and 2 stripes now, with another stripe coming after the spring concert, are Phyllis DiSturco, Peter Kovacs, Audrey Mason, Mary Haberle, Shirley Neilson, and William Taylor.

Third year student to receive a "B" and 1 stripe now, with another stripe after the spring concert are Ada Goldstein, Bertha Mann, Doris Kessel, Alma Constance Redeker, Ann Sue Dorris, Al Rossy, Dot Zuckerman, Joe Minor, Victor Zuckerman, Loretta Ziemann, Dot Newman, Roger Ellsworth.

Second year student, receiving a "B" and 1 stripe now, with another stripe after the spring concert are Eric Willette, Phyllis Kadin, Lois Buntington, Phyllis Zuckerman, Elsie Aierstok, Joan Carpenter, Helen Koehne, Richard Alough, James Kovacs, Robert Zuckerman, Peg Mills, Lena Iau-Gloria James, Lena Davis, Eleanor Gunshiemer, Marguerite O'Brien, Marise Whidden, Geraldine Giglio, Roger Ellsworth, Shirley Grosch, and Anna Zuckerman.

On Tuesday morning, February 2, Burt Johnson, school principal, called together the Seniors for the first of four meetings with each of the classes. The meetings took place in the auditorium and some of the problems brought up were the condition of the cafeteria at lunchtime, the noise in the halls when classes are changing, the condition of the building in general and the increasing problems of the noon-time dancing.

The seniors are to face some of the responsibilities facing them now and in the future.

We Have With Us Today—

Marjorie Burke

You have no doubt seen this short, blue-eyed, light-haired girl around many times, one of the peppiest girls, president of the Sophomore Class — Marjorie Burke. This 16 year old miss was also secretary of the Freshman class. After graduation she has intentions of becoming a secretary or perhaps enlisting in the WAVES.

"Twerp" as she is frequently called, likes spaghetti and is crazy about dogs. However, her pet peeve is girls wearing up-sweeps to school. Marge says that her favorite subject is English.

Her pastimes seem to be reading and the movies. "Twerp" goes out for sports in a great big way and excels in ice-skating and swimming. A member of the Riding Club she loves horses and also likes basketball.

Unknown to many her hidden ambition is to become an author. Who would have guessed?

It so happens that there's a certain dark haired junior in room 208 that simply sets her little heart a-fluttering. Marge is a student of Miss Rush's dramatics class. She has certainly been places, having attended no less than 12 schools.

"She seems quite decided on the fact that Tommy Dorsey is her favorite orchestra and that T.D.'s recording of "Melody" is one of his best. Then when it comes to singers Vaughn Monroe rates just about tops.

Marjorie doesn't seem to like sailors much but says that that's no reflection on two of her brothers who are in the Navy, the third being in the Army.

Marjorie Burke is a typical high school girl.

Scholarship Information Open To Graduating Seniors At BHS

Several pamphlets, describing scholarships being offered by various colleges and universities, have been received at the high school this year. Notices have been received from Pembroke College of Providence, R. I., offering eight scholarships of from $450 to $500, and Webster College of Babylon, N. Y., offering twenty $500 awards.

For the girls, the Vassar club of New York is offering a scholarship with the amount based on the needs of the winners. The University of Rochester and Hood College of Frederick, Maryland have also made several excellent offers. There have been several others received, but they are too numerous to mention here.

The scholarships mentioned cover a wide range of subjects, from music and the college of arts and sciences to one for physical education. These scholarships offer an excellent opportunity for the senior of B. H. S. Anyone interested in learning more of the details should see Miss Sandford in room 302.

Belleville Five Drops Two Cage Struggles

Bellboys Score Only Four Points In Second Half After Leading 17-10

Upsets of the 1944 basketball season reached a new high last Friday as Newark Central turned the tables on a favored Belleville high quintet 29-21 before a capacity crowd of 800 at the Bellboys' gym. The hot and cold Central combination hung up its sixth win out of eleven starts, while Belleville suffered its third loss in 13 games.

With both teams using the fast break system the game went along at a very fast pace. Play was often sloppy as both teams missed about 15 shots each quarter. The aggressive Bellboys left the floor at the half with a very reassuring 17-10 lead as Bob Kennedy, star Belleville center, threw in 9 points in the second quarter.

Starting the third quarter Belleville saw its 7 points lead disappear into thin air. Fred Stickle of the visitors put in a lay-up, Ed Suchicki followed with a hook, Joe Gallagher put in four points and Nelson and Suchicki completed the Central scoring for a 10 point spree. Finally Belleville countered with 2 points provided by Mike Bell's lay-up. Kennedy ejection from the game because of fouls provided a substantial gap in the Belleville line-up.

While playing the fourth quarter with an excited crowd yelling wildly Central increased its 21-19 lead to 29-21 until Belleville again clicked with their only two points of that quarter as Bell again put the shot in.

In that last half the faults of the Bellboy players showed up. Their passes were far from good and the backboard was left open to their opponents. About three fourths of their shots were no good and again the foul shooting was off. Also the inability to supply capable subs contributed to the losing of the game.

The Bellboys have a good chance to redeem themselves at the Paralysis Fund game with Weequahic on February 26th.

Kearny Wins On Long Set Shot In Last Seconds Final Score 43-41

A set shot from the middle of the court by George Wright, Kearny sophomore, gave his team a close 43-41 decision over Belleville High school's basketballers in an exciting game at the Cardinals' court Tuesday night. This was the Bellboys' second successive loss, having been beaten by a Central High school five last week, and it marked Kearny's second win over the locals this season. Belleville has now put together a record of ten wins and four losses, all of the latter coming in close games.

Wright put on a one man show in the final period when he scored six of his team's seven points. Kearny went into the final period with a 36-33 lead, but the Bellboys put on a determined rally to tie the score, with Mike

Bell, substitute center, scoring the basket that left the score at 41-41. With thirty seconds left to play in the game, Wright broke the dead lock with his game-winning set shot.

This was the first time in several years that either of these teams was able to win both games of this home-and-home rivalry, the Cardinals having won a previous 30-24 decision. The only possibility of another meeting between the two teams is a game in the coming state tournament, provided both teams are entered.

The Bellboys seem to have run into a streak of hard luck, having lost three of their last four games, all by close margins. Orange upset the locals in an overtime game which ended in a sudden-death period by a 31-30 count, and Central won out by a second half rally to the tune of 29-21. With two games left to play on the schedule, with Lyndhurst and East Side of Newark, the Bellboys have a good chance of finishing up the season with a record of twelve and four, good enough to earn the Wischemen an invitation to the state tourney.

Kirk Scores 19 Points
Bob Kirk of the Kearnyites continued with his high scoring activities by leading both teams with a total of 19 points, while Vic Pasquariello, Bellboy captain kept up his 15 point per-game average by scoring 15. Wright had twelve counters, including the all-important six scored in the hotly-contested final period. Belleville's Bob Kennedy and John Demunter tallied seventeen points between them to help keep their team up in the game until the final seconds.

STUDY HALL CHATTER

If you've heard the anguished cries in the senior halls this past week, blame it on the return of the senior pictures for The Monad.

More alumni home on furlough this week are George Ferro, Richard Matus, Jim McManus, James McNeill and Neal Finn — My, what a uniform add.

Talk about your crazy basketball players, leave it to Dot Carpenter to shoot for the wrong basket! Esther Morano is still humming the song "Besame Mucho." The Army sure has an influence!! A very odd souvenir was received last week by Jean Romichs. A friend stationed on Tarawa sent her a Jap war. Looking closely she discovered it still had a few drops of blood on it! Who rang the fire alarm?

Dt Squier was surprised to receive a gardenia from a certain former student now in the Army air forces. "Twinkle-toes" is a glutton for punishment. That was a nice trick that Don Richmond did in gym the other day when he climbed up the "work-out" ropes backwards!!!
