

BETTER RECORD AS TOWN BOND SALES NEAR $4,000,000

Amazing Sales of E Bonds Continues As Dettelbach Praises Industrialists

While no further goal has been set, even informally, Belleville continues to crawl toward the $4,000,000 mark in the Fourth War Loan. Figures released last night by chairman Philip Dettelbach report sales of $3,470,119 to date with an additional $399,900 in bank subscriptions.

The town is still ranked No. 1 in the state as far as sales of Series E bonds are concerned. Up to last night $768,125 has been subscribed in this category; $108,125 more than the original quota.

"One of the substantial reasons why Belleville was one of the first to go over its quota in the state," Dettelbach explained yesterday, "was a special industrial treasury, representative committee working under W. Douglas Clark."

"It's members have been assigned to industrial plants for the duration of the war by the Treasury department war finance committee. The local group includes:

Industrial Committee
"Sigfried Bart, Ronald G. Brunner, Frank L. Chambers, Edward P. Cantwell, Crosby Hiss, Lawrence E. Keenan, Albert P. Luscombe, George H. Mead, Henry DePhillips, Edgar S. Peels, Clarence Lommerin, Francis J. McPadden, Elwood P. Russell, Harry G. Sneath, Harry J. Sullivan, James Woodhall, Stephen Weir, Gilbert Wright and Raymond Yerg."

These representatives report E bond sales of $635,000, the air raid wardens have added more than $100,000, the Lions club $19,650, Progress club $53,000, Craftsman's club $15,000, Boy Scouts (troops 306, 375, 381, 386, 388, 389 and 392) $9,275.

School children in the month of January sold over $42,000 worth of stamps and bonds and "while the final figures for February are incomplete it is expected that they will have sold as much this month." Members of the Rotary club have been credited with more than $2,000,000 for the drive.

COMMUNITY CHEST CAMPAIGN LAGS

Reaches 45 Percent of Goal As Coogan Urges Workers To Complete Canvass

Reporting a total of $38,126 (45 percent of quota) collected as of last night, War Fund-Community Chest officials appealed to house-to-house canvassers to complete their solicitation of the town by the end of this week.

The canvass, which was to have been finished Monday night, was delayed by several days of rainy weather during the period of the campaign. Headquarters have been moved to 358 Washington avenue in the offices of the Community Service Bureau.

Industry still heads the list of contributors with $28,686, followed by the house-to-house section with $5,908, Public employees $833, special gifts $710, business men $595, clubs and organizations $540, chain stores $465 and out-of-town purveyors $340.

"Many telephone calls from Belleville folks have been received," said general chairman John F. Coogan Jr. to his division captains last night, "and they state they wish to contribute but no one has called on them."

"All division chairmen and workers are urged to complete their solicitations and make their reports as soon as possible to headquarters."

"Citizens who have not been called upon are requested to mail their checks or call at the headquarters; or a telephone will bring a representative of the Community Chest to your home."

"All War Fund and Community Chest workers are reminded that our work must be completed promptly in fairness to the Red Cross campaign which will start Wednesday."

Bellboys Squeak By East Side As Pasquariello Nabs 25 Points

Belleville high had a close call last night but managed to squeeze by a scrappy Newark East Side quintet by a mere 42-38 margin on the Bellboys' home court.

Thanks mainly to Captain Vic Pasquariello who slipped a neat 25 points through the cords, the Blue and Gold put down a late Newark nuptial with a show of force in the final canto.

The game was close from the start and Belleville was able to dig up only a two-point advantage at half-time. After the intermission the East Siders quickly erased this and went ahead by six points.

It was only by dint of a terrific comeback, during which Belleville rosters nearly lost every man that the locals were able to keep from their fifth defeat of the year.

Juvenile Delinquency Study Called For Tomorrow

Community Service Bureau Invites 28 Civic Leaders To Discuss Problem

Invitations were issued this week for a town-wide conference to study the seriousness and possible remedies of juvenile delinquency in Belleville. The meeting will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 in the headquarters of the Community Service Bureau at 338 Washington avenue.

According to Mrs. Julia O. Reiner, operating head of CSB, the bids were mailed Monday to 28 churchmen, school and town officials, police heads, scout leaders and probation officers.

"The subject of the confab is the result of statements by police officials carried in The Times last week in which they denied any material increase in youth crime in Belleville over peacetime trouble."

The purpose behind the conference, said Mrs. Reiner in a statement yesterday, is to arrange a "joint approach" and a "pooling of knowledge" of the problem.

"The search for the causes of juvenile delinquency," she declared, "has been lengthy and at different times has placed emphasis on various factors."

Varying Importance
"Although today varying degrees of importance are assigned to the differing causal factors, there is general agreement that the causes of juvenile delinquency are complex and intricate. Much emphasis has been placed on the family as the socializing agent through which the child acquires his social and cultural values."

"Although modified by other social forces, the family remains the primary force through which children learn of the world in which they live."

"The physically disorganized home is a handicap in that it offers to the child easy access to the outside world in which he finds guides to his conduct."

"Unquestionably other factors influence behavior. Poverty, poor housing, maladjustment in school, lack of adequate recreational facilities, and poor mental and physical equipment are handicaps from which many delinquents suffer."

"While these are powerful factors in producing anti-social behavior, it appears that persistent delinquency which brings the child to court has its roots in personal maladjustments which in turn may be intensified by handicaps found in poor environment."

Knights Of Columbus Birthday Honors Three Charter Members

Eleven men were inducted into the first and second degrees of the Knights of Columbus Sunday afternoon as the organization met to observe the fortieth anniversary of its foundation.

Honored guests were Hugh Nixon, James J. Barley and Martin Malague, the three charter members who are still active. Grand Knight Eugene Kelly presided at the ceremonies which were held in the school of St. Peter's church.

The Kearny KC degree team officiated at the induction of Gabriel R. Palmbo, Harold J. Cavanaugh, Thomas M. Leary, Edward J. Kelly, John Leininger, Rudolph J. Garbelly, Matthew W. Grum Jr., Patrick J. McNally, Charles J. Connolly, Nicholas Saragusa and Vincent Carnazza.

Past state deputy Theodore Oshahr of Montclair delivered the principal address on membership and the aims of the Knights. Refreshments were served.

Free Public Library Report Recommends Roof Repair

Lawn Improvement Sought As Post-War Project; Visitors Increase

Immediate repair of the roof of the Free Public Library building and post-war repairs to the lawn surrounding the building were recommended in the forty-first annual report of the library board, submitted recently to the commission by president Mrs. Mary E. Dodd.

The report listed total expenditures for the year at $14,547. The proposed budget for 1944 calls for appropriations of $15,000 for the library salary and other expenses, part of which, according to Commissioner Noll, is to be used to repair the roof.

A total of 51,284 persons visited the institution during 1943 and borrowed 63,991 books, of which more than one-third were in the juvenile department, which in itself jumped more than 3,000 books.

The library increased by 2,214 books in purchases, rebinding and replacement while the lost was 351 discarded or lost by borrowers. The report continues:

"During the 'victory book campaign' there were collected and delivered at the library by the school children of Belleville, from private homes and organizations a total of 4,500 books. These were gone over, sorted out and sent to the Victory Book headquarters."

"Some that were not suitable for the libraries at the can-

WALTER VAN RIPER TALKS AT RALLY FOR RED CROSS

Crusading Attorney General Expected To Speak Tuesday Evening

Walter Van Riper, crusading new attorney general of New Jersey, will be the principal speaker Tuesday evening if the plans of the Red Cross War Fund committee for the opening rally materialize. The rally will start at 8:15 in the auditorium of Union avenue school.

Also on the program, which is designed primarily for the workers and canvassers but which is also open to the public, will be a new March of Time movie entitled "At His Side," depicting Red Cross activities with the military forces at home and abroad.

Van Riper has accepted the invitation of general chairman Elmer S. Hyde to address the gathering, but made the reservation that other pressing business might detain him elsewhere.

The Red Cross campaign this year will attempt to raise $41,500 in this town, of which $13,500 will be used to defray operating expenses of the local chapter during the coming year and the remainder of which will go to the national organization for its work among the armed forces and civilians.

Hyde revealed yesterday that organization of the canvassing teams which will cover the town between March 1 and 10 is virtually completed. He announced the appointment of Mrs. Edward H. Puckhaber of 66 Malone avenue as his special assistant to aid in the recruiting of workers.

Plans for the solicitation in Belleville's industries were completed yesterday when the industrial committee, chaired by Gilbert Wright of Hamilton & Goodman company, met at Forest Hill Field club.

Included on the committee are O. B. Bart of Bart Laboratories, Raymond Yerg of Yerg Printers, Edward Parr of Carson-Newton, Albert P. Luscombe of Peoples National bank, W. Douglas Clark of Clark & Hammer, Arthur Dent of National Grain Yeast and Clarence Lommerin of Viking Tool.

SILVER LAKE AIDS TOWN BOND SALES

School Pupils Sponsor Rally To Raise $2,700; Featured By Service Flag Parade

Sales of $2,700 worth of war bonds in addition to the regular weekly sales of the school were reported last Wednesday after a special Fourth War Loan rally sponsored by the eighth grade students of Silver Lake school No. 4.

Staged entirely by the pupils, the program featured a play, "Star for a Day," centered about the fictional experiences of a group of students preparing for a bond rally at which a movie star was to be the guest of honor.

The highlight of the program was the display of ten service flags bearing 26 stars. They were carried by brothers and sisters of the servicemen whose names and branches of service were announced. Bearing the flags were:

Susan Goglia, five stars; Micheline Bruno, four stars; Vito Cicci, James Mobilia and Theresa Zecca, three stars; Anthony Ferrante and Theresa Corlione, two stars; Hilda Curvin and Theresa DeMeo, one star.

Two guests, Army privates Joseph Carbone and Sebastiano Caputo, started the sale by buying war stamps at the booths on the platform. Before the sale was finished, $2,700 had been poured into Uncle Sam's coffers.

The people of Silver Lake are doing their part in backing the boys in service, said one spokesman, "and are showing their faith in the future of our country."

Tripoli Park Club Pledges Aid To Red Cross War Fund

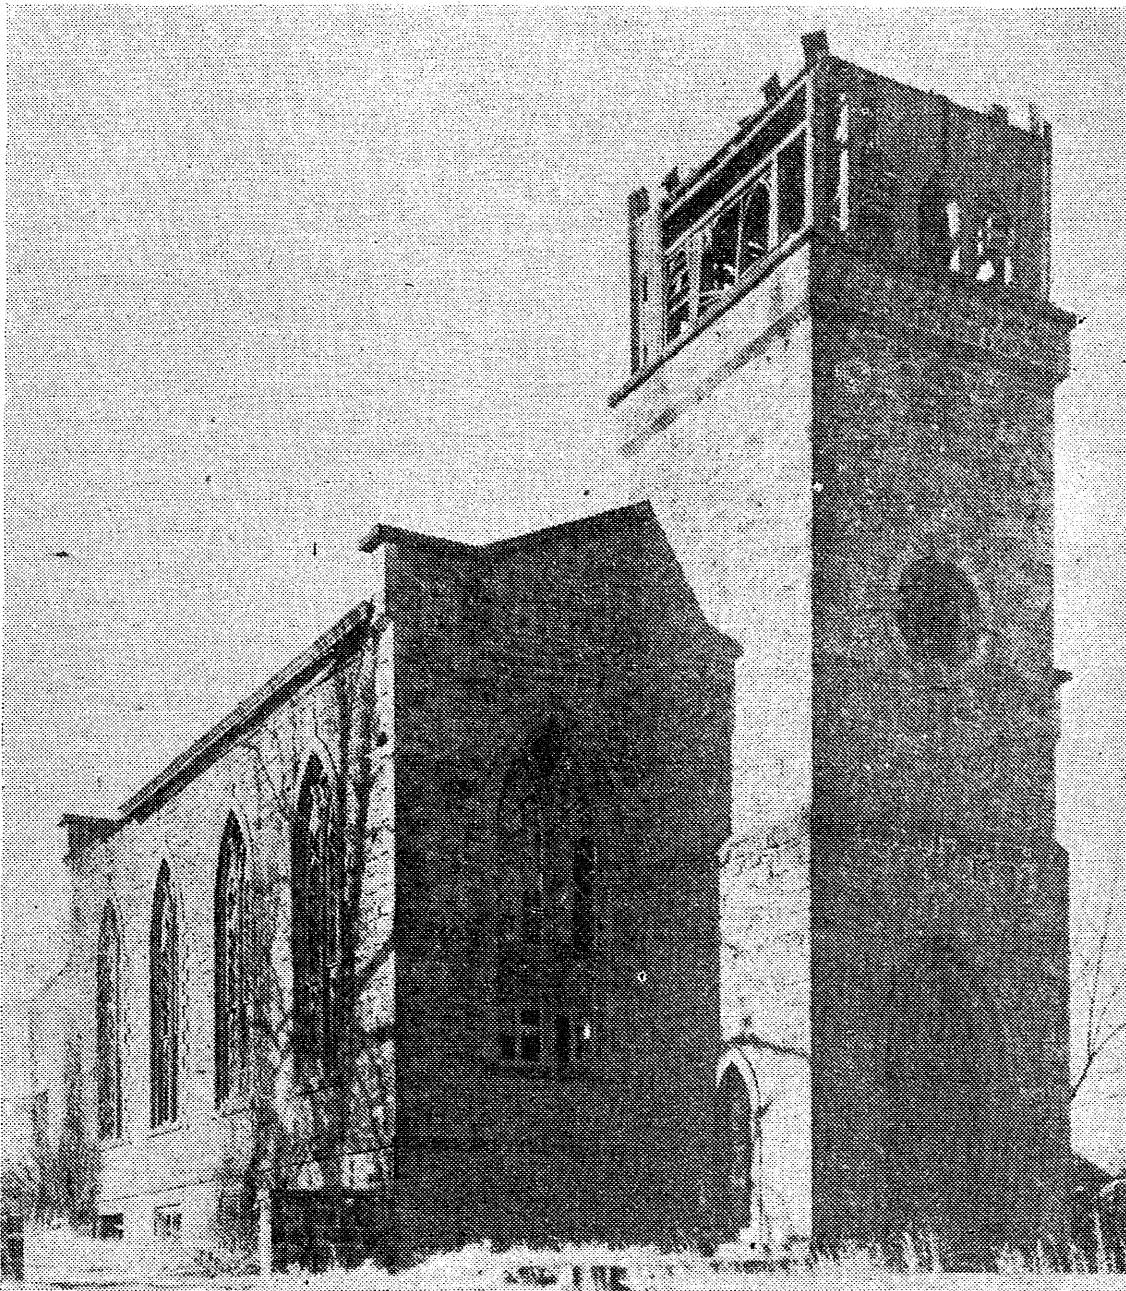

Active participation in the forthcoming 1944 Red Cross War Fund was pledged last week by the Tripoli Park political and social club when it appointed Frank Calabrese and Michael Capone as a committee of two to organize workers for the drive in Silver Lake.

The club, composed of men of Italian extraction, has its headquarters at 45 Naples avenue. It expects to have a full team of canvassers ready to begin the solicitation when the drive starts Wednesday.

The meeting of the club was addressed by Elmer S. Hyde, general chairman of the campaign, who pointed out the services of the Red Cross to the armed forces and the necessity of support to the drive.

Long-range plans for V-Day were also made when a committee composed of Capone and Frank Zarva Jr. was named to begin their own fund-raising campaign for proper reception for servicemen when they return after the war.

Old Christ Church May Be Music And Art Center

CENTURY-OLD BUILDING of Christ Episcopal church may become the home of music and the arts in Belleville if the projected plans of the Belleville Foundation materialize. The Foundation proposes reconstruction of the historic edifice and conversion to a home for musicians and artists and the erection of another building beside it which would be an historical reliquary of the town. The upper photograph shows the church as it stands, haggard from long disuse and the abuse of vandals. Below is the architect's drawing of the reclaimed center.

Education Board Selections Depend On Town's Citizens

Dr. Spargo Tells Committee School Board No Better Than People Demand

There is little to choose between an elected and an appointed board of education, Nutley school superintendent John Spargo told a public meeting of the Citizens' Committee Thursday night at the recreation house.

The school board, as other branches of government, "will be better and no worse than the citizens of a community permit it to be," he declared after emphasizing his neutrality in the present Citizens' investigations into the relative merits of the two systems.

He stated at the outset of his talk that he had come to Belleville because he had been asked to do so and that his visit here implied no criticism of the Belleville or the Nutley boards.

An elected board, he felt, "is closer to the people since the people themselves have put the members there." An election is the more democratic method of choosing, he said, and pointed out the "concern which many educators felt about the country."

"Educators throughout the nation feel that we are slowly swinging toward a fascist form of government here. Democracy is more than a form of government, it is a way of life" but in order

LICENSE PLATES GO ON NEXT WEEK

Must Affix Before March 31; Abramson Unable To Hold EB Series For Town

The flesh-colored 1944 license plates may be affixed to cars any time after next Wednesday, William Abramson, whose motor vehicle agency is at 500 Washington avenue, pointed out yesterday.

The single plate must be placed on the rear of the car between that day and midnight March 31. He predicted the usual last-minute rush for plates despite the ample warnings given to motorists.

While his agency can serve motorists from any section of the state, he said, clarifying out-of-town applications, they must take Essex county plates regardless of their home counties.

In previous years each dealer was permitted to stock a small number of serial letters for neighboring counties but this year they will be supplied with plates only for the county in which they are located.

Abramson declared the "impossibility" of adhering to a request by The Times that he temporarily reserve the EB series for Belleville residents. Licenses must be distributed in the order in which applications are received, he stated, and no exceptions can be made.

PLAN TO CONVERT ANCIENT CHURCH FOR CULTURE

Foundation Asks Rebuilding Christ Episcopal Edifice For Music, Art Center

Conversion of the ancient building of Christ Episcopal church on Main street just south of William street into a music, arts and cultural center for the people of Belleville was proposed this week by the Belleville Foundation.

The plan of the Foundation is to set up a board of trustees for the project, to acquire or lease the property and to undertake to raise the necessary $75,000 which is the estimated cost.

The center would then be used primarily by musical and art enthusiasts of the town to further their respective programs and to present their concerts and exhibitions to the public.

Adjacent to the present structure it is planned to erect a small building which would be used as an art gallery and reliquary for items of Belleville history.

In making the plans public yesterday, Foundation president Harry G. Specht pointed out that the entire project would be worth in the neighborhood of $125,000 since the construction already extant in the century-old church is worth $50,000.

He indicated that the Foundation would not attempt to underwrite the cost of rehabilitation by itself from its own treasury, but that it would undertake to raise the necessary funds.

Deteriorating

At the present time the ravages of time are much in evidence about the structure. The elements have chewed at the roof and the interior walls, while several generations of Belleville's well-known vandals have completed the job by smashing windows and plastering.

The church, which was erected in 1835, was abandoned when the congregation moved to the new location at Washington and Essex street.

The brownstone of which it was made was quarried in the side walls are 32 inches thick while the end walls are 37 inches through. The windows were of antique glass with diamond-shaped panes.

According to the architect's plans, the west wall would be broken through to make a stage and dressing rooms. A balcony would make the seating capacity about 350 during a performance.

The ancient cemetery to the rear of the church would not be disturbed, Specht said. In it are buried members of the founding families of Belleville: the Schuylers, Van Rensselaers, Rutherfords and Kinglans.

Trace History

The history of the Episcopal parish here has been traced back 200 years by Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach, present pastor. It was formerly part of Trinity church parish, Newark, which was chartered by King George II in 1746.

It embraced all the territory on both sides of the Passaic River as far north as Passaic, with a warren and gave vestrymen to be chosen from that part of the parish which is now Belleville.

"New Barbadoes Neck" on the River and Aqueduct. Services were held in the village as early as 1750, six years later referred to as "mission at Second Belleville" was then a lower.

"About three miles from the northward of Newark is a compact village, called Dutch, who speak English but tolerably well, there being no schoolmaster among them."

Declare Independence

About 1811 it was mutually agreed between the Newark and Belleville portions of the parish that each congregation should be independent. On Easter Monday, April 20, 1835, measures were adopted to separate Christ Chapel from the Newark church.

Papers of incorporation were drawn up and adopted between November 18, 1835, and May 2, 1836. The cornerstone of the new church was laid July 11, 1836 and there was "a procession from Bridge headed by the Sunday School scholars and their teachers."

A year later the new edifice destroyed by fire. Says the pastor of the time, missionary Rev. Davies, in his chronicle:

"June 24, 1837. On the night of this date the new Church of Belleville was destroyed by wickedness of an incendiary, and (Continued on Page Six)

Muriel McBrin Wed Saturday To Cpl. David T. Mac Gregor

Montgomery Presbyterian Church was the scene Saturday afternoon of the wedding of Miss Muriel McBrin, daughter of Mrs. Jane Taylor of 110 Brighton avenue, and Cpl. David T. MacGregor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joan MacGregor of 34 Maple avenue. Rev. Neils Christiansen of Irvington performed the ceremony after which a reception was held at Crystal Lake casino, West Orange. Mrs. Robert Stoehrer of Carpenter terrace was her sister's matron of honor. Other attendants were Miss Valerie Crockett of Little Falls, maid of honor, and Miss Anne Diamond of Newark and Mrs. Thomas Lowe of Bloomfield, bridesmaids.

Cpl. Alvin Geary served as Cpl. MacGregor's best man and ushers included Cpls. Thomas Bauman and William Phillips. The men are stationed at Fort Hamilton, New York. Miss McBrin's untrimmed satin gown was made with a long train and was covered by a fingertip illusion veil. She carried white roses. Cerise taffeta floor-length costumes with matching veil and flower pompadours were worn by the matron and maid of honor and bridesmaids. All attendants carried old-fashioned bouquets of spring flowers. The couple will complete Cpl. MacGregor's ten day furlough with a Washington honeymoon after which he will return to Fort Hamilton and the bride will make her home with her mother. Miss McBrin was graduated from Belleville high school and is with the Prudential Insurance company. Cpl. MacGregor was also graduated from Belleville high school and Newark school of Fine and Industrial arts. He was with Eastern Cutter corporation of Newark previous to entering the Army in December, 1942. A radio operator, he received his signal corps training at Fort Monmouth. Sgt. Aurora A. Rollieri, daughter of Mrs. Anna M. Rollieri of 249 Linden avenue, has been awarded the good conduct medal at Fort Knox, Ky., where she is an information clerk in the station hospital. Before enlisting in the WAC, Sgt. Rollieri was employed with the Prudential Insurance company.

Lt. William G. Engelmann. The boy who wouldn't take "no" for an answer last fortnight proved the experts wrong. Bill Engelmann won his bars as an Army pilot and is now helping other Army birdmen sprout their wings. William G. Engelmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Engelmann of 1 Essex street, three times was classified 4-F by the local examiners and three times refused to concede that it was impossible for him to take an active part in the military war effort. Finally he went to New York's recruiting station, submitted to special X-rays which were sent to Washington for approval and thirteen months ago got the green light. He enlisted and went to Atlantic City for basic training. Shortly afterwards he began the long trail of the pilot hopefuls and studied in Army flying schools at Niagara University, N. Y., and at fields in Missouri and Alabama before graduating from Spence Field, Ga. While he was spending a brief leave with his parents, a telegram summoned him to Randolph Field, San Antonio, Tex., where he has begun his duties as a flying instructor. The new lieutenant, who has lived in Belleville nearly all his

Says Women Have Equal Chance with Men in Radio

Helen Misko of Newark, glass analyst in the RCA radio tube factory in Harrison, thinks women and men have an equal chance to get ahead in radio—an observation based on her six years of experience in building radio tubes. Miss Misko started out as a machine operator when she first came to RCA, and progressed rapidly to her present position.

Analyst Helen Misko. A large percentage of the employees at the Harrison plant of RCA are women—largely because the work is light and requires careful hands, which most women have. Production now is highly important to allied invasion, Miss Misko points out, and will continue to be important after the war. More women and girls are needed (full or part-time) at the RCA Harrison plant to make vital radio tubes. You can apply at the RCA employment office, Sussex and Fifth Streets, Harrison, weekdays between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Miss Dorothy Knobel Married To Army Aviation Cadet

Miss Dorothy Knobel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William George Knobel of 472 DeWitt avenue, and Army Aviation Cadet Carl F. Schaefer, son of Mrs. Laura Schaefer of Newark were married on Lincoln's birthday in Grace Episcopal church, Nutley by Rev. L. Harold Hinrichs.

A reception followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kay of Elmwood avenue, parents of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Kay who were the couple's attendants. Mrs. Edward Kay is a sister of the bride.

Mrs. Schaefer is a graduate of Belleville high school and is employed by the People's National bank and trust company. Cadet Schaefer was graduated from Nutley high school and was with the Lehn and Fink corporation in Bloomfield before he entered the Army two years ago.

He returned to Maxwell Field, Ala. Saturday at the conclusion of his furlough which included the couple's short honeymoon in Lakewood. He has completed pre-flight training.

Heads Salvage Drive

James R. Lampman of 75 Tappan avenue was named by the defense council Monday night chairman of the paper and tin can salvage collections, succeeding Charles M. Nutt of 226 Little street, who recently moved into the chief salvage spot following the departure of Robert G. Sutherin.

First Lenten Musicales Scheduled For Wesley Church March 5

The first of two Lenten musicales under the auspices of the music committee of the Belleville Foundation will be presented March 5 at Wesley Methodist church and will feature the Mueller trio.

The second concert (both will be Sunday afternoon affairs) is scheduled for March 29 but the program is indefinite.

Carl F. Mueller, noted organist and accompanist, is director of the Montclair capella choir and organist of the Central Presbyterian church of that town.

Completing the trio are his daughters: Miss Carlette F. Mueller, soprano and violinist, and Miss Renee Mueller, mezzo-soprano and cellist.

Promoted, They Reveal Troth

Miss Theresa Cordi

Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Cordi of North Newark announced the engagement last week of their daughter, Miss Theresa Cordi, to Cpl. Alfonso Cipolaro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cipolaro of 11 Cedar Hill avenue.

Miss Cordi was graduated from Newark Vocational school and is employed by the Lionel corporation of Irvington. Cpl. Cipolaro was graduated from Belleville high school and was also with the Lionel corporation before he entered service six months ago. He received his promotion at Camp Davis, N. C. previous to a recent eleven day furlough here.

Cpl. Cipolaro returned to Camp Davis Thursday where he is stationed with the searchlight battery of an anti-aircraft battalion.

Encouraged by the success of Saturday night's affair, the informal committee headed by Gilbert Henris of Washington avenue has decided to continue the affairs weekly in Veterans' hall, 17 Belleville avenue. There will be modern as well as square dances to the music of the high school orchestra.

WAR BONDS will guard against a post-war depression

Miss Margaret Flanagan Weds Ex-Member Of Eagle Squadron

The marriage of Miss Margaret Flanagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Flanagan of 20 Beech street, to Othmar H. Melchior Jr. of Bloomfield took place Sunday afternoon in St. Peter's Catholic church.

Rev. John S. Nelligan officiated at the ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the Mulberry Inn, Montclair. The bridegroom's father lives in St. Petersburg, Fla.

The couple was attended by Miss Irene Wagner of Bloomfield and Paul Smith of Union. The newlyweds are temporarily residing at the Beech street address.

Mrs. Melchior is a 1937 graduate of the high school while her husband attended school in Washington, N. J. Given a medical discharge from the Army in 1941, he immediately enlisted in the Eagle Squadron of the RAF and worked as a mechanic in that organization throughout the Battle of Britain.

Traditions in wartime

as seen by an Oldtimer

H'E'S BEEN a telephone man for nearly thirty years. Time and again he's been called out to rebuild lines wrecked by wind storms, blizzards and floods—tackling the job with one thought uppermost: "Get those lines back—fast!"

Today his part in the effort to meet the wartime needs for telephone service is the testing of telephone cables, to keep them free from trouble. The men at his test bureau are responsible for over 40,000 lines which carry many thousands of calls every day.

"All through our business—and it may be the same in others"—he says, "the traditions of the job and the organization are laid right on the line when the going is tough. At such times something makes you say to yourself, 'Bill, you've got to come through!'—and somehow you do.

"It's the same with the girls at the switchboards when more calls pour in than they can handle with the equipment they've got. The old tradition, 'Get the Message Through!', helps them keep trying their hardest.

"Yes, sir!—traditions are solid rocks of support when the chips are down. That's one big reason why I know this country of ours will keep its sleeves rolled up doing the job that must be done at home—to win this war."

State Junior Achievement
Tops Entire Country

Forty-Five Companies Work On Program; Local Units Commended By Reach

In a report issued recently on Junior Achievement of New Jersey, Charles Dallas Reach of Newark, state chairman, pointed out that during 1943 the expansion of the Junior Achievement program in the state reached such proportions that New Jersey now surpasses any other area in the country.

Reach explained that the state organization, in existence only since January, 1942, now has 45 different companies in many different towns throughout the state, and that 492 different young people received the training of the Junior Achievement organization during 1942.

Junior Achievement companies have been organized in Belleville, Verona, Plainfield, Hillside, Irvington, Newark, Bayonne, the Oranges, New Brunswick, Union City, Red Bank, Clifton, and Jersey City.

In particular Reach commended the chairman of the central committees who have been responsible for the organization of Junior Achievement in their own communities, as well as the advisors of these junior business groups, who give so freely of their time and experience in order that the young people may have guidance in their business ventures.

Among those cited for outstanding work during the year was Edgar S. Peierls, president of the Resistoflex corporation of Belleville and head of the movement here. He is also president of the Rotary club.

Free Enterprise

Junior Achievement is an organization founded to teach youth the principles and purpose of the American system of free enterprise by letting them participate in it through the medium of miniature corporations in which the boys and girls themselves serve as stockholders, officers, directors and employees.

Each company is composed of ten to fifteen youngsters and is assisted by three advisors. These advisors and meeting places are provided by YMCA's, YWCA's, schools, service clubs, industrial concerns, churches, etc. The companies manufacture some product or form a service company and get the actual experience of paying and receiving miniature wages and dividends.

The following are the Junior Achievement companies in Belleville:

Belle Chemical corporation whose advisors are Joseph M. Gentile of Newark, Glen A. Cole of Belleville, Steven M. Sinding

Frederick Triano

Frederick Triano of 109 Sanford avenue, who died Friday in Beth Israel hospital, Newark after an 11 months illness there, was buried Tuesday morning in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Bloomfield.

A high mass of requiem was offered for him in Sacred Heart church, Bloomfield. Forty-one, Triano had lived here for 39 years. He was employed by Walter Kidde company.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Ethel Cerbie Triano; two sons, Frederick Jr. and Raymond Triano; two daughters, Agnes and Marion Triano; his father, Fortunato Triano of 1 Acme street; four brothers, Gerardo and Thomas Triano of this town, Martin Triano of Bloomfield and Albert Triano of Harrison and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Capaldo and Mrs. Samuel Belotti of Orange.

EDUCATION

community will "have men of higher type if the appointer is of a high caliber."

Lethargy Of Voters
Among the advantages of appointing the school board are "the by passing of the natural lethargy of voters" and the ability of the mayor to keep watch over all budgets "since the school budget is a separate entity" and the town fathers have no control over it.

Also, "the mayor can be held directly and solely responsible for poor appointments since he alone appoints the members and there is no other authority which can veto or approve his appointments."

The mayor, as the appointer, has full freedom of selection regardless of the section of the town which the prospective appointee resides and the mayor "will ordinarily select someone who is going to reflect honor on himself and the town."

The appointive system, however, lays the school board open to the danger of dominance by the municipality's politicians, Spargo averred. He cited Mayor LaGuardia's present attempts to run the New York school board.

He returned then to his original premise that the caliber of the school board depends primarily on the attitude which the citizens of the town take towards it.

High points of the discussion, most of which were brought about by questions from the floor, included:

Board Sets Policies
"A board of education is not intended to go into education itself but to set policies. Education itself, and the operation of the school system should be left to trained educators, just as we leave matters of medicine to the doctor.

"The superintendent of schools should be solely responsible for the operation of the school system and should not share his authority (dual control) with the business manager."

"Parent-Teacher associations should definitely be encouraged and every school in a community should have one. Teachers should be encouraged to join town organizations and to be active in civic affairs."

"School buildings belong to the people and should be used by the people whenever they want them. The more these expensive buildings are used 24 hours a day the better it would be for the town."

"Education also goes on 24 hours a day and teachers should be interested in children's projects at all times. Responsibility toward the child does not end at the end of the school day."

A lawyer present at the meeting pointed out that Belleville still has the opportunity to change to the elective system. When the municipalities of the state cast their lot for one or the other system in 1929, Belleville failed to do so.

"Therefore, this town never made a decision on the question," he declared. His opinion was that the decision can be made at any time the town elects.

PLAN TO CONVERT

Isaac C. Baker the contractor was fully committed to take his trial for the foul deed."

The contractor covered the building with insurance and then set fire to it. He served four months in prison but "the insurance was not obtained." The church was rebuilt around the ruins in 1841 and consecrated by Bishop George W. Doane the following year.

In the meantime the congregation was permitted to use the Methodist church "of afternoons during the greater part of the year 1839" and the rector in his diary speaks of performing occasional services "in the upper room of Mr. Dow's store."

Held In $30,000 Theft
John Negaro of 44 Frederick street was arraigned in Newark Tuesday charged with participating in theft of $30,000 worth of radio tubes from Tung-Sol Lamp Works, Newark, Negaro, who was charged with two Newark men, denied the allegations but was held in $1,000 bail. He has been a company truck driver for 10 years.

Theaters In Red Cross Drive, Beehler Pledges Support
Joseph Bernhard, general manager of Warner theaters, has accepted the chairmanship of the motion picture industry's drive to aid the Red Cross and hopes to raise $100,000,000 in the movie palaces of America March 23 to 29.

Sixteen thousand theaters in the country will be recruited to run special trailers, use radio tie-ups and will be furnished with special exploitation books to be used in cooperation with local chapters.

David Beehler, manager of Warner's Capitol theater here, has already pledged himself to carry out the program in Belleville. Beehler said that the March of Dimes drive in Belleville topped last year's total and has promised to do the same for the Red Cross.

Junior Women Plan Tag Day For Field Ambulance Fund
The Junior Woman's club will hold a tag day throughout Belleville a week from Saturday for the benefit of its field ambulance fund, president Betty Messer announced last night.

"The junior department of the New Jersey state federation of women's clubs, of which the Belleville Juniors are a part, has picked as their project for the year, the purchasing of fully-equipped field ambulances to send to our boys overseas," she said.

The local club has set $1013.45 as its goal, the price of such an ambulance. "When our Juniors approach you, give them a contribution, no matter how small and place Belleville's name on a placard," Miss Messer said.

Patrolmen's Association Reception Planned At Elks March 18
The 33rd annual reception and dance of Belleville Patrolmen's association No. 28 will be held Saturday evening, March 18, in the auditorium of the Elks club. George Milano is director of the Paramount orchestra which will furnish music. A floor show will be directed by Howard Oliver.

Patrolmen members of the committee for this affair are Henry Winkfield, chairman; Harry Scott, treasurer of the association; James Lee, Gerardo Lilore, Anthony Gross and John Monaghan.

Budget Hearing Tuesday
Belleville citizens will have their say on the 1944 town budget Tuesday evening at town hall when the figures come up for public approval.

Teachers Analyze Ability To Support Education

This is the second and concluding instalment of an article prepared by Miss Lena Dunlap, president of the Belleville teachers' association, and John S. Charlton, chairman of the BTA salary schedule committee. Quotations are from "Cost of Education in New Jersey," 1942, by Robert C. Clothier, president of Rutgers university. —Editor.

Per Capita Income

"The support of educational opportunities is largely dependent upon school taxes and the amount of taxes that can be raised is closely related to the income per capita in each state.

"New Jersey stands third from the top with a per capita income of $852. Thus the State is in a position to support education if the citizens want it.

"The average per capita income for the U. S. is $673. New Jersey has a 28 per cent greater ability to support education than the average of the ten states selected for comparison."

New Jersey has a density of population greater than any one of these states and 88.75 per cent greater than the average of these states, which should mean that any educational program in New Jersey could be administered and supervised for less money per student than that more service could be rendered for the same price per student.

"Only two states have an alien population greater than New Jersey and New Jersey has 32.3 per cent greater alien population than the average for the ten states."

New Jersey has 651 aliens for each 10,000 population; New Jersey has 317 illiterates per 10,000.

Junior Colleges

"If New Jersey should support junior colleges to the extent that California is now supporting them, it would cost the state approximately $3,000,000 per year."

The above facts indicate that Belleville and other New Jersey communities could improve their educational services with available money or could institute junior colleges.

New Jersey is spending 40.6 per cent less than the average of this group of states. New Jersey has a greater per capita income than any one of the ten states and a 28 per cent greater index of ability to support education than the average of the ten states.

Luxuries vs Education

"The figures show that in New Jersey $1.01 is spent on alcoholic beverages for every dollar spent on education; for every dollar spent for the total luxuries, only 31.2 cents is spent on education."

"New Jersey is spending $5.86 more per person on luxuries than the average expenditure for the ten states. Figures such as these should have some influence in forming the opinions of those who are inclined to feel that the cost of education is excessive."

Statistics show the following expenditures per 10,000 population in New Jersey:

Alcoholic beverages	$383,460
Tobacco	147,880
Amusements, theaters	146,779
Soft drinks, chewing gum	45,584
Beauty services, toilet preparations	38,522
Public education	287,603

Using these figures on Belleville, with an estimated population of 30,000, the following would be the amounts spent each year for the above items:

Alcoholic beverages	$1,150,407
Tobacco	442,140
Amusements, theaters	440,837
Soft drinks, chewing gum	136,752
Beauty services, toilet preparations	115,556
Public education	718,409

It is hard to believe but the above figures indicate we are spending almost two and a half times as much for alcoholic beverages alone as we do for education in Belleville. We spend almost as much for tobacco as we do for education.

We spend almost as much for theaters and movies as we do for education. For soft drinks, chewing gum, toilet preparations and beauty services we spend about two and a half as much as we do for education.

For all of the above luxuries we spend $2,285,199, while according to state average we should spend $71,409.00 for education. However, our actual educational budget to be raised by taxes was $485,438 in 1943.

Is it more important to spend the amount for personal satisfactions, many of which harm our physical body, than it is to spend our money on improved or expanded school services for our children?

Per Capita Cost

The per capita cost for education in Belleville (30,000 divided into $485,438.00) is $16.18. At this rate an average family of four would pay $64.72 per year for their education. This means $1.24 per family week or 31 cents per member of the family—or less than the price of one movie each week.

The average population per capita cost for education in New Jersey is $23.78; for Belleville it is $16.18 or 7.60 population per capita less.

According to other figures out of each $100 average income for New Jersey we spent $1.35 for major functions of highways, health, sanitation, hospitals, charities; $8.94 for luxuries, $2.79 for education.

"New Jersey with a larger per capita income than any one of the ten states does not spend as great a percentage of its per capita income for major functions, luxuries, or education and therefore has a greater reserve, $86.92 per $100 income, from which to draw for the support of any type of service its citizens may choose to sponsor."

Able To Pay

Some people have doubted the ability of Belleville to pay for improved school services. But the money is here. The town did itself proud in the Fourth War Loan when Belleville people and Belleville industries bought up nearly $4,000,000 in bonds.

The projected tax rate of $4.68 for 1944 is only slightly higher than the figure of three years ago. It is believed that, even should a higher rate be necessary in the future the town is able to take care of all proposed improvements without any unnecessary financial burden.

We could also continue to invest in war bonds for reserve or liquidate our bonded indebtedness as proposed by our commissioners. We can continue to improve our municipal and school services without any unnecessary financial burden.

After serious comparison of the present expenditure of our money with state figures, don't you think we should and could organize to improve our community services for our children?

We propose that we get together around the conference table with all of our elected and appointed representatives and draft a program which will tend to prevent recurrences of child delinquency.

Breeze Shows 40 Percent Increase in War Production

Breeze Corporations, Inc. of Newark, with plants in Elizabeth, increased production of war units 40 percent in 1943, John T. Maschuch, president, announced yesterday.

Due to voluntary price reductions and refunds, Breeze's sales reflect an increase of approximately half of that percentage. Mr. Maschuch, in his statement to the stockholders, estimated that the voluntary refunds and reductions were "in excess of $9,000,000." He credited the voluntary reductions to "increased volume of production and efficiency."

Breeze and its subsidiaries shipped $45,268,029 worth of war equipment last year. The 1943 business was a record for the corporation. The company's net income of $1,600,000 during the year 1943 and has declared a dividend of 40 cents per share payable March 10 to stockholders of record as of March 1, 1944.

The corporation added $2,193,553 to its earned surplus. Provisions for the 1943 Federal Income Tax will be $7,113,000, and profit, after taxes and prior to renegotiation, was $2,610,000.

Many Bellevillites Will Attend Nutley Symphony Concert

Appearing in its second concert of the current season's series, the Nutley symphony orchestra will be heard tomorrow night at Nutley high school in a varied program beginning with Corelli's "Concerto Grosso No. 8" and continuing with the "Emperor Waltz" of Strauss, the "Symphony No. 3" of Beethoven and Wagner's "Overture to the Flying Dutchman." Nicos Cambourakis, conductor, will direct.

Eleanor Eberhardt, Maplewood contralto, will open her part of the program with "In Quest of Tomorrow" by Beethoven. Rachmaninoff will be represented by that famous song, "In the Silence of the Night." "Trauma" of Wagner and the Saint-Saens aria, "Amour Viens Aider" from Samson and Delilah will complete the vocal portion of the evening's musical offerings.

REV. GUY BROWN TAKES PASTORATE

Conducts Inaugural Service At Bethany Lutheran; Comes from Harmon

Rev. Guy Brown took over the pastorate of Bethany Lutheran church last night, succeeding Rev. Willard H. Borchers who recently accepted a call to Arlington, Va. Pastor Brown comes here from Harmon-On-Hudson, N. Y., where he had headed Our Saviour Lutheran church since November 1940.

Born in Orwigsburg, Pa., thirty years ago, he was educated in the high school there and also spent a year on the "Schoolship Annapolis" of the Pennsylvania state nautical school.

He graduated from Albright college, Reading, Pa., in 1937 with a bachelor of arts degree. He was president of the Philosophy club, vice president of the International Relations club, president of the social service fraternity, and a member of numerous undergraduate organizations.

Three years later he graduated from the Lutheran theological seminary in Philadelphia and, while a student there, served in Ascension and Christ Lutheran churches there. That summer he worked in Helton parish, among the mountaineer churches in Virginia and North Carolina. At Harmon and at neighboring Croton he was active in civic affairs as director of Amity Hall school for refugee and underprivileged children, and on other committees as well as preaching several times at Sing Sing prison.

SCOUTERS TO TAKE TRAINING COURSE

Brumbach Will Lead Classes Beginning Next Tuesday In Montgomery Church

Course leader Harry F. Brumbach has organized the scoutmasters' training course, which will open Tuesday evening at Montgomery Presbyterian church, in the same manner in which a scout troop is organized.

Instructors and leaders will assume leadership positions comparable to those in regularly organized troops, while the course members will be the scouts of the troop.

Thus practical trainings in the "know how" of scouting will be given. The training course troop organization will be as follows: Chairman of the troop committee, Wayne R. Palmer, scoutmaster, Harry F. Brumbach, assistant scoutmaster, Robert Bartholomew; service patrol leader, Robert Meyer; quartermaster, John James; patrol leaders, Bernard Holzman and Lindley Graves.

Discussions will be led by Brumbach, Bartholomew, Meyer, John S. Charlton, John Minasian, Robert Lloyd, Harry T. French, James Killough Jr. and others. Scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters, troop committeemen and others are urged to enroll in the course. Institutions planning to organize Boy Scout troops should enroll prospective leaders. Further information can be obtained from Robert Treat Council headquarters, Market 2-2488.

King Studies Meter Extension On Washington Avenue

Extension of the parking meter zone to the block of Washington avenue between Belleville avenue and William street may come about as a result of a survey currently being conducted by Public Safety Director King.

King said yesterday he has been sampling public and merchants' opinion on both sides of the avenue and that the canvass would be completed and a decision forthcoming by the middle of March.

As in the case of the meters installed two years ago in the block north of that now being studied, the meters would be put in without cost to the town. The municipal treasury would receive 25 percent of revenue from them until the meters are paid for and from then will get all of the receipts.

U. S. E. S. REOPENS OFFICE HERE

Shepherd Again Manager; Will Handle Releases And Availability Cases

The United States Employment Service will operate the office which the Belleville Manufacturers' association has reopened at 136 Washington avenue after yielding the space for five months to the Community Manpower Mobilization Committee.

The office, which is under the direction of Horace J. Shepherd of Upper Montclair, resumed operations Monday. It covers the Belleville, Nutley, Lyndhurst and North Newark sections.

"There are many industries in Belleville which need to be served by Belleville people," Shepherd said in announcing the reopening. "There are companies which are doing good work and which will continue after the war."

"Our job is to help their employment problems." Noting that workers from other communities hesitate to come to Belleville to work because of the distances involved, he said he hoped to place localities in the positions.

The office will also handle releases of employees and will give quit statements of availability in cleantech cases. Appeals will have to be made to the Newark office of the U. S. E. S.

The agency, which operates in cooperation with the Belleville Manufacturers' association, was here last May. In September it yielded to the U. S. E. S. office.

Four-Fold Responsibility For Juvenile Delinquency

Last week various police officials went on record with the statement that juvenile delinquency has not materially increased in Belleville since the war began, that it is no worse today than it was ten or fifteen years ago. Now other members of the town's official and semi-official family retort that there has been some slight upswing in the number of youthful wrong-doers and that it is time Belleville awakened to its civic duties toward the problem. The whole question seems in for a complete airing and that is probably the best thing that could be done for it.

We may try to excuse present delinquency in the town with the consoling thought that it has not increased. But the fact remains that Belleville has had its share of what we used to call vandalism and has suffered it for those many years. The simple statement that it has always existed does not make it right. For we as a community have failed to take the proper remedial steps. Trite though it is, the old axiom still holds true: An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Had Belleville devoted half as much time to its children over a period of years as it did to political, business and social scheming today's picture would be quite different.

There are four great agencies concerned with the development of our youth: the family, the church, the school and the community at large, the first being the all-important fundamental preceptor, the other three being the outside interested assistants. Of the latter, only the churches have attempted to do anything like the job they should. Most of the religious bodies in Belleville have long since established young people's groups which foster the Godly side of our youth. The schools and the municipal agencies have not been so successful. The municipality enters the picture mainly in the field of recreation and, while individual efforts have been made to bolster Belleville's sagging recreational system from time to time, still the history and outlook on that front are far from what is desired. Although we have increasingly appropriated more and more for town recreation, yet the program has steadily declined.

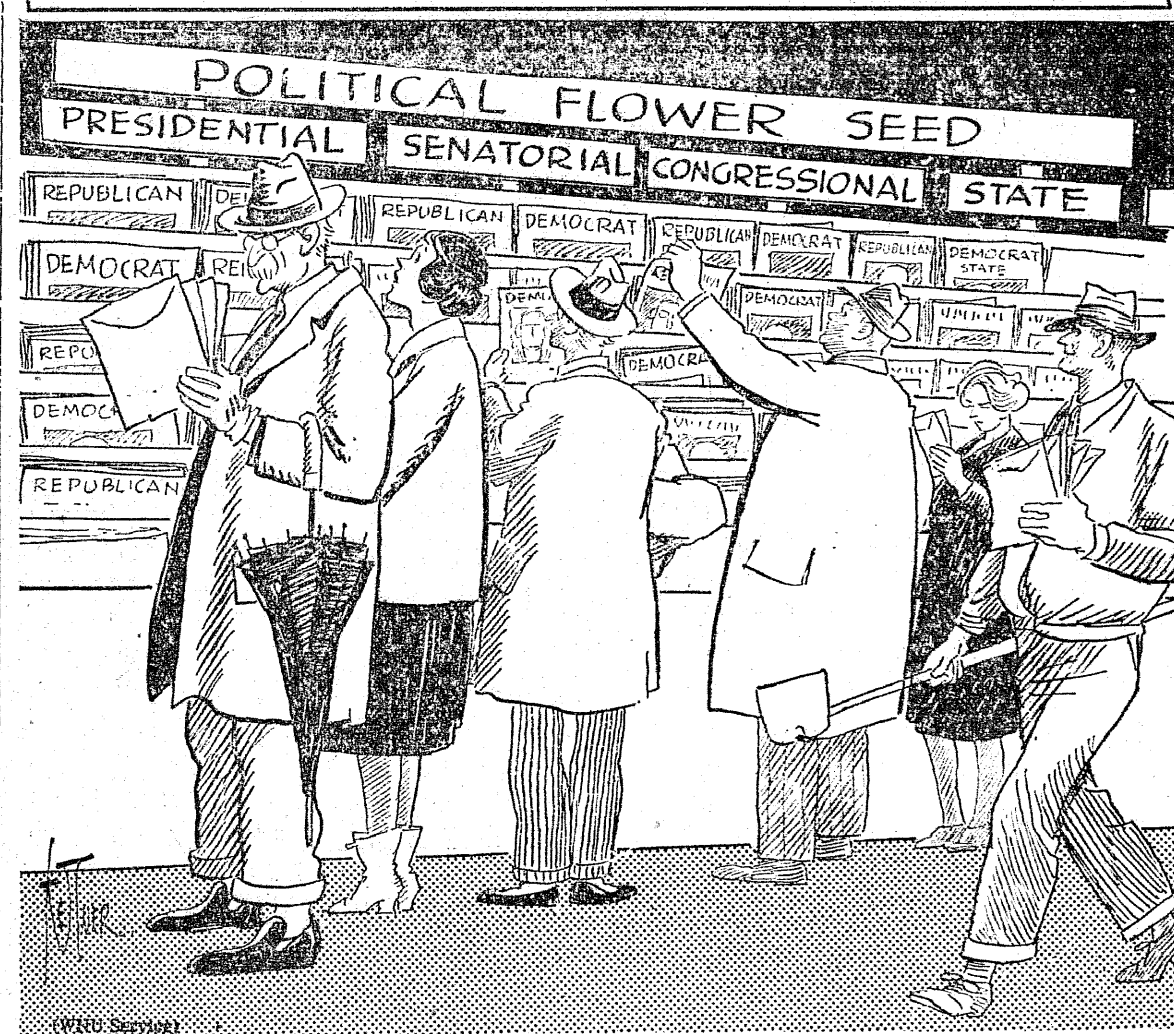

The schools have failed principally because to quote the public statement of the president of the board of education, "The school's responsibility toward the children ceases at 3:15!" No school system operating on such a premise can be successful in the training of youth. If the schools feel no more responsibility toward our youth than the mere dishing out of academic subjects, then they have failed miserably. For in the hands of the educators is a power second only to that of the family in shaping the future generations. If teachers feel that their responsibility ends when the final bell rings (and how many of them make immediate bee-lines for their homes), then the school board should pay them more or should look around for teachers to whom teaching is a challenge and not just a meal ticket.

But the big failure in many Belleville homes is in the family itself. Parents in many instances do not know how to be parents. They do not realize that their children will be only what they make them. If teen-age and sub-teen-age youngsters are permitted to roam the streets at will, who is more to blame than the parents who care little if their children are attending a lecture or hanging around on a street corner? Should they not be taught to be good parents, to rear their offspring in a normal decent environment? Are our schools now teaching their pupils how to be good parents themselves some day?

Many young people of Belleville are obviously making attempts to supply what their parents, their town administration and their school system is not giving them and the method in which they make the attempt is either constructive or destructive. The former is attested to by the numerous attempts to organize social clubs, dances, outings among themselves. The latter is shown up by signs of juvenile delinquency, vandalism, malicious mischief, street corner lizards, fanatical attendance at movies in and out of town and by other more or less harmful portents. Unfortunately most of the constructive attempts are abortive, they die away after a while due principally to lack of encouragement and support from those who should be most interested. The young people, however, are seeking the normal solution of their problem and for that they deserve congratulations. They want nothing handed to them on a silver platter; but they do crave the support and encouragement of their elders. Until the present generation realizes its responsibilities, the future generation will be cast in the same mold as their forefathers.

Cub Interest Increasing Here, Says Scout Expansion Head

Interest in the Cubs, the younger boy program of the Boy Scouts, is growing in Belleville as it is throughout the country, according to Burt Powers Johnson, principal of the high school and chairman of the scouts' organization and extension committee.

He is heading the drive which is expected to add several Boy Scout troops and Cub packs to those already established in the town. The only pack now functioning here is at Fawcett Memorial Presbyterian church and is under the direction of Harold F. Ross.

Cubs are organized into "dens" of five or six boys who meet weekly during the afternoon after school, he explained. Several dens constitute a pack.

Pack meetings are held monthly and are attended by all the Cubs, their leaders and parents. Cub packs, like scout troops, are their even less mature followers. In a rustic society they rob melon patches; here they break glass. The background and motives are identical.

The best remedy that has been found has been proved again and again, — neighborhood recreational associations more or less in close contact with the police, with the officer as the friend of the boy rather than as the minion of the law.

For a picture of real juvenile crime I quote the following from a recent letter from my boy now in the service:

"We rode through the mining towns around Miami (Okla.). The way some people choose to live!

"Little, crooked, unpainted shacks with garbage-strewn yards and an occasional cow or goat, the tin stove-pipe, the broken-out windows, — just like a huge Soho jungle, — and in the midst of all, the expensively dressed women and the beautiful new cars.

"The miners are making lots of money, they seem to like to live that way. Well, that's another class of our Great American Society I've learned something about.

"The kids are allowed to run wild with no education, and there is always a crowd of them in the City Jail, charged with everything imaginable. Not petty stuff like in New York, such as picking pockets, but for knifing, shooting, armed robbery, — even arson and rape. Exciting, even though not very uplifting."

This is what the words Juvenile Democracy mean. Belleville is not in that class.

HOT WATER, automatically heated by gas, is a great convenience in housekeeping, but don't keep it running all the time you're washing dishes. That's a waste of fuel. . . . The American Red Cross is now engaged in the greatest humanitarian work in the history of the world for the alleviation of suffering caused by the most devastating war in the world's history.

Reports from combat zones show that the Red Cross blood plasma service has helped to reduce the mortality rate among the wounded to less than half the rate in the First World War.

Red Cross camp personnel has been assigned to outgoing troops so that by now camp service staffs are attached to any sizeable group of servicemen wherever they may be stationed.

Red Cross hospital social workers, recreation workers, staff aides and secretaries are assigned to convalescent hospitals, evacuation and field hospitals, mobile evacuation hospitals and station and general hospitals in every theatre of operation as well as on hospitals ships.

As of 30 August 1943, 280 Red Cross clubs and rest homes were in operation in Great Britain, North Africa, Sicily, the Middle East, China, India, Australia, the south and southwest Pacific, Central Africa and Alaska.

It is estimated that over 18,000,000 servicemen have used Red Cross club facilities since these operations began.

The Red Cross has also equipped 234 recreation centers at posts in China and India and one in North Africa.

Clubmobiles are used to carry Red Cross service to detached, isolated and outlying units where men are on special duty.

Almost a billion surgical dressings have been made by volunteer workers of the Red Cross; and two and one-half million kit bags containing comfort articles have been furnished to our armed forces.

Vast amounts of medical supplies, clothing, food and other aids have been and are being furnished by and through the American Red Cross to 35,000,000 civilian war victims in thirty nations and to United Nations prisoners and civilian internees.

Through the International Red Cross, every effort is made to locate boys reported missing in action and these efforts have been successful in thousands of cases.

Packages of food and certain other articles are shipped by the Red Cross, or under its direction, to American boys who are prisoners of war in enemy countries.

Innumerable other ways the Red Cross is always standing by the side of our men in the armed forces. In addition, the organization of the Red Cross is always prepared to render assistance in disasters in this country or abroad.

General Eisenhower recently stated: "I consider the Red Cross an auxiliary of my army and we simply couldn't get along without it. They are doing a perfectly magnificent job in every way." Over 5,000,000 volunteer Red Cross workers contribute to these services.

The Red Cross, chartered by special act of Congress, neither receives nor asks for any financial support from the Government; and all Red Cross operating income is derived from voluntary contributions. Red Cross accounts are audited annually by the War department and a complete financial report is transmitted to Congress each year with copies available to the public on request.

To make possible a continuance of the superb, desperately needed and constantly increased services being rendered to our boys who are in the armed forces of the United States, the American Red Cross will ask the American people during the month of March to contribute $200,000,000 to its annual War Fund. This is $75,000,000 more than was asked in the 1943 War Fund drive, or an increase of 60 percent.

The quota for Belleville in the 1944 drive is $41,500, as against last year's $26,200 or an increase of 58.4 percent.

These increases have been made necessary, of course, by the enormously increased demands upon the Red Cross for service arising from the war.

The National War Fund drive of this past winter, designed to meet the combined needs of seventeen of the other large organizations now engaged in war relief work, did not include the American Red Cross. The total quota of the National War Fund in that drive was $125,000,000, or $75,000,000 less than the minimum amount urgently needed in the coming Red Cross War Fund drive.

A volunteer worker will be calling upon you shortly to ask for your contribution. To carry on its work, the Red Cross needs your generous help.

Belleville must assume its full share of responsibility in supporting the Red Cross. Your assistance is necessary to achieve that result. Let's give to the Red Cross.

Youth Center Needed In Belleville

In the past few weeks the words "juvenile delinquency" have been banded on many lips around Belleville. Some say it has increased because of war conditions; others are just as emphatic that the picture has not materially changed. But there is a great deal of blame being laid on the doorstep of practically everybody concerned: the children, the parents, the town fathers, the school board. This is no time for shamelessly wasting time and breath with fruitless condemnations. Rather should we be taking steps which will prevent any rise in the delinquency rate in Belleville, the first of which should be renewed activity in the field of recreation. Other communities have met the problem by the formation of youth centers, operated by the boys and girls themselves with the aid of town and school officials.

Our neighbor Bloomfield has inaugurated just such a center through the recreation commission in that town. "The Hub" was decorated, painted and completely furnished through the efforts of the high school students. Why can't Belleville begin something along the same lines. At the present time we are far behind the other towns in this area in this respect. In our opinion however, projects such as this will be one means of salvation for the youth of our generation. We must learn to do for ourselves and not always wait for someone else to do for us.

Of course, the old bugaboo of facilities immediately pops up: where can we hold such a center? Many places in town could be used. The old Belleville Hall on Washington avenue is now for sale, and with some alterations and the installation of fixtures it could be made usable.

A problem of his sort should be thought over by all concerned, for the problem of the coming generation is the concern of everyone.

BELLEVILLE NIPS LYNDHURST FIVE

Win By 38-35 In Away Game
Pasquariello and Byrnes
Lead Team To 11th Win

Belleville High school's basketballers defeated Lyndhurst for the second time this season in a close game played Friday on a basketball court at the Bergen County gym. The score was 38-35 and the game marked the Bellboys' eleventh triumph over four losses. The previous game between the two teams ended with the score 33-22 in the local's favor.

Belleville, handicapped by the small playing court, left the floor at the half with a 23-16 advantage. The Lyndhurst team rallied in the third period, and outscoring the Bellboys by 13-9 closed the margin to three points. Both teams scored six in the final quarter.

As he has done through most of the season's games, Vic Pasquariello, speedy Bellboy forward, led his team's scoring with twelve points. Not far behind him were Byrnes and Bob Kennedy with 11 and nine markers. Scoring honors for the game went however to Lyndhurst's John Mitchell with 15 points, while his team-mate Bill Bernidino racked up 12.

Belleville's G. F. P. Lyndhurst G. F. P. Byrnes, 11; Bernidino, 12; Kennedy, 9; Mitchell, 15; Moore, 10; Meschio, 8. Lyndhurst: Mitchell, 15; Bernidino, 12; Kennedy, 9; Moore, 10; Meschio, 8.

Officials: Connors and Salerno.

Music Club Obtains Membership In Metropolitan Opera Guild

Belleville High School Music Clubs purchased a group membership this year in the Metropolitan Opera Guild.

Two performances are sponsored by the Guild a season on a non-profit basis as part of its educational program. Tickets are sold at greatly reduced rates to members and the demands for tickets usually far exceeds the seating capacity of the Metropolitan Opera House.

Included in the Advantages of a Guild Membership is a subscription to "Opera News" a 32 page illustrated weekly magazine.

Also admission to one rehearsal of the Metropolitan Opera Company each season and admission to three round tables at which Guild members may share discussion on vital operatic subjects with outstanding authorities.

Belleville students, as members, have use of the Guild club-room with its convenient lounge and ticket reservation service with the privilege of sitting in the Guild box which is located on the Grand Tier floor of the Metropolitan Opera.

We Have With Us Today—

The Cheerleaders

An energetic group of young people, led by Miss Margaret Leahy of the faculty. They are present at all our athletic functions, and deserve a commendable word of praise for the pep and enthusiasm which they stimulate.

Captain of this colorful crew is Buddy Speyer, a popular fellow with all who know him. Bud's noted for his good-natured geniality and enterprising energy.

Betty Ray Brown is the co-captain of our lively company. Gay, witty, and worldly-wise, "Lissette" will always be found in the center of an admiring group.

A spry individual is Doris Dickenson, a jaunty junior who certainly gets around. Enjoys being active and finds an outlet for her excess energy in dancing.

Don Rochlin, the boy who does so many things, shows his versatility in this field as well. Don's well-known in the high school; expects to be a surgeon.

A ready smile and a pleasing personality will introduce you to Marjorie Ramage, called Midge by all her friends. Always on the go, she never has a dull moment. That roguish grin will captivate you.

Activity ignites when each Ralph Citarella appears on the scene. Cheerfulness and good-nature are his formulae for success. Takes great pleasure in his "ice-skating" ability.

Grace McConnell, that junior whirlwind, always has something to keep her busy. Brisk and agile, she invariably keeps a sharp lookout for good-times. Has a passion for boy's saddle shoes.

A quiet little sophomore with big ideas is Shirley Carpenter. Attractive and sweet, we know Shirley will do whatever she sets out to accomplish. Renowned for her long, blonde, silky hair.

Our dashing debonair is Eddie King, the snappy fellow, who flaunts those bow-ties. Full of liveliness and good-humor, Eddie is perpetually in motion. It's hard to keep him in one place for any length of time.

These nimble nine have never failed us, and they're always in there plugging when the going gets tough. How about you giving them a cheer? Are you ready—hip hip!

HOLMES THE SNOOP INVADERS SCHOOL
Hirent Inaugurates Career By Interviewing Captain Vic Pasquariello

Students beware! "Hirent Holmes", the super snoop, has descended on good old B.H.S. to pursue his favorite pastime, interviewing students. So — if a timid looking gent with a curved pipe and a magnifying glass stops you in the halls, don't scream, don't run away, it's useless. Ask Vic Pasquariello, he knows.

Getting off to a good start "Hirent" cornered Vic who revealed this much about himself:

Ambition: To be physical education teacher.

Where seen most: With Ceil.

Slow Dance: Yes!

Jitterbug: If I could, I would.

Favorite Record: "Frank Sinatra's 'I Couldn't Sleep a Wink Last Night.'"

On Crosby vs. Sinatra: I'll take Sinatra. (This guy's crazy for Sinatra)

Favorite teacher: Mr. Spotts.

Sounds interesting, doesn't he, girls? Its disappointing though, he seems to be shackled to fate, who, in this case, is Ceil Hanly.

Paralysis Fund Game Set For Saturday

BELLBOY FIVE IN STATE TOURNEY

Draws Bye In First Round To Play Winner Of East Orange Central Game

Belleville High school's highly successful basketball season reached its climax when it learned that the Bellboys have accepted a bid to play in the annual state tournament to be held in the near future.

Possessors of one of the best records for this district, the local cagers will be joined in the Group 4 division by teams representing East Orange, Weequahic, Newark Central, Irvington and Thomas Jefferson.

The field was completed and the schedule drawn up at a recent meeting of the executive committee of the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association.

The Bellboys received a break from the draw when they were given a first-round bye, and then will face the winner of the Central-East Orange struggle in the second.

Of the teams competing in Group 2 of the North Jersey section play, Belleville has played Central and Irvington. Neither possesses as impressive a record as the locals although Central was able to work out a 29-21 victory over the local five.

Irvington was beaten twice during the regular season's play. Before the tourney begins, however, the Bellboys will have played Weequahic, since that game is part of the Paralysis Fund double-header scheduled for Saturday at the Seton Hall College gymnasium in South Orange.

Kearny, which administered two of the four losses suffered by Belleville this season, will play in the Hudson County division, and since it has lost several times to teams from this district, it is not expected to reach the semifinals.

But the Bellboys will still have their work cut out for them since they must play either East Orange, currently regarded as the best team in Essex County, or Central of Newark, which team defeated them as the locals played their worst game of the season, something which probably will not happen again.

Belleville participated in last year's tourney, but was beaten by Weequahic in a low-scoring game. It is expected that this year's semifinals and finals will be played on the spacious Seton Hall gymnasium.

David Was A Desk

David was a desk, and what is more, he had a terrible stomachache due to the fact that he had swallowed whole, four pieces of gum, three pencil points, and six sets of initials the day before.

"Ugh," he groaned as the 9:00 o'clock passing bell rang, "I shall never pull through this day alive."

Just then the first period student came in, sat down, got up, sat down again, and then wiggled right through the entire period. She scratched David's stomach, and so in desperation and for revenge he caught her stocking between his teeth and started a run. The second period was always a quiet one for David because the boy just slept from beginning to end. Then the third period started, and our hero shivered as he thought about it, for the pupil chewed all the time—and with his mouth open!

When the two-minute bell rang, that student had the audacity to place the gum on David's ear. (Of all the conspicuous places!)

The next class came and went with nothing harder to bear than French, Chemistry, P. A. D., Latin, and English Literature books balanced carelessly on his head. After this came first lunch period, and by the way that girl spread her food around, you'd think that David was supposed to be fed too. He wouldn't have minded so much, except that he thought it was sort of silly, when the cafeteria tables were built for that express purpose.

When a quiet second lunch period had passed, David was a trifle alarmed to note that the boy from the fifth period was absent. However, the boy of the sixth period was not only there, but made his presence felt by drawing all over our poor David. He tickled so, that our hero could have shouted for joy and relief when the bell rang. When seventh period came, the girl ironically chewed Chams, drew pictures, and whispered! To cap the climax, at the end of the period, she spilled ink all over David's neck. As he stood there dripping, the classes moved, except that the day was over. David went to sleep, and with only occasional groans, thought regretfully of the morrow.

Moral: Crime does not pay — be kind to your desk.

Weequahic - Belleville Meet In First Game; Kearny East Orange In Second

Belleville vs. Weequahic. East Orange vs. Kearny. That is the schedule for Saturday night's big double-header at the Seton Hall College gymnasium in South Orange.

These four basketball teams, possessors of the best records in the district, will clash in a charity event run by a Newark newspaper for the benefit of the Paralysis Fund. Belleville and Weequahic lead off at 8 p.m.

No favorites for these games can be chosen, since 1944 has been a season of numerous cage upsets, and each of the teams has shown itself capable of defeating any of the others.

The two games should help somewhat to clear up the question of superiority, since neither game was played during the regular season.

The Bellboys, possessors of an 11-win and four-loss record, which does not include last night's game with East Side of Newark, have often shown promise, and should be rated at least evenly with Weequahic. Their four defeats came in games with Kearny, which holds two victories over the locals, Central and Oranges, which won in a double-overtime game which ended in a sudden-death period. The total margin of defeats in these games was 18 points.

Weequahic Mystery

The Indians of Weequahic are the mystery team of the year. A hot-and-cold outfit, they have lost several games to inferior teams, but have to their credit victories over East Orange, often regarded as Essex County's best, and Kearny.

East Orange has lost only two games all year, to Weequahic and Montclair, the latter a team which was beaten in a previous game with the Panthers. Kearny has lost several games, but most of these defeats were suffered at the hands of outfits from Hudson County, where the bulk of New Jersey basketball power seems to be located this year.

All proceeds from the games will be donated to the Paralysis Fund. Use of the gymnasium, services of the officials and participation of the teams and coaches were willingly donated, and a capacity crowd is expected to bring in a sizable sum for this charitable cause.

BOWLERS TO MEET BLOOMFIELD

Will Roll Bengals On Saturday; Results Of School League Posted On Bulletin Board

After six weeks of play in the bowling club league, team 4 has forged into first place. Members of the leading team are Bill Jewell, Len Hickman, Agnes Griffin, Mary James, and Jean Monaghan.

Records have been kept each week of individual scores and averages and are posted each week on the bulletin board outside the office. The highest average has been attained by Ernie Ritchie with 148.5.

Highest game in league play was bowled by Bob Yanz with a score of 192, the second highest being a 191 game rolled by Bill Ewald.

The club bowls every Friday at the North Newark bowling alley. Erwin Tschubull, faculty director of the club, has organized a boys' team and a girls' team and has arranged two matches for the boys with Bloomfield High's Bowling organization. The first of these matches is to be played this Saturday in Bloomfield.

Mr. Tschubull is trying to arrange more matches with teams of other schools in the vicinity. It is hoped that his efforts will be rewarded in the near future.

STUDY HALL CHATTER

In a few local and New York papers there appeared recently a picture of Russ Flynn, former tackle on the Belleville high school football team. It seems Russ was making a landing with Allied troops on an Italian beach-head! Blackie Norton now stationed in Merrie Old England, remarks heard in an assembly study hall recently were "Bing the king and Frank the lank."

A certain freshman after reading about one of the students receiving a Jap bill last week casually remarked "Oh that's nothing, I have four."

Visiting B.H.S. the other day was Lieut. Charles Huber, former home law teacher. Looks like that Navy Blue.
