Dickinson book list which was made up by a committee of librarians representing towns in the vicinity of Fairleigh Dickinson Junior college.

The list is supposed to be a common-sense group of enjoyable and digestible books that can be read independently by the college students or the general reader. While it is used at the college as an out-of-class reading list, it is splendidly adapted for general public reading.

The list of books which the librarians have chosen is as follows:

graphy, Cooper's The Last of the Mohicans, Dickens's David Copperfield, Drieser's American Tragedy, Fielding's Tom Jones, Galsworthy's The Forsyte Saga, Goldsmith's Vicar of Wakefield, Hardy's Tess of the D'Urbervilles, Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter, Ibsen's The Doll's House, Kipling's The Light That Failed, Lewis's Main Street, Ludwig's Napoleon, Maugham's Of Human Bondage, Maupassant's Short Stories, Melville's Mobv Dick, Moliere's The Miser, Poe's Tales, Shaw's Candida, Steinbeck's Grapes of Wrath, Stewels's Tristram Shandy, Thackeray's Vanity Fair, Tolstoy's Anna Karenina, Twain's Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, Voltaire's Candide.

Noted Accordionist Plays Tonight

Otto Sorosoto, director of the Symphonic Accordion society of Paterson, will present his talented group of twenty boys and girls in classical and popular concert arrangements tonight at 8:30 at the Nutley high school, under the auspices of Lodge New Spirit.

One of the highlights will be the presentation of his protegee, George Slegers of Clifton. This young man, 20 years old, is a concertmaster, top-flight arranger for the group. His metier is Liszt's rhapsodies which he plays with particular feeling, as well as such widely divergent compositions as those of Chopin and Tschalkovsky.

Included in this musical program will be "Overture to Martha"; Intermezzo from Cavalleria Rusticana; "Polka" from the Bartered bride; "Neulungen March" by Wagner and an original composition of Sorosoto, "Sleighride". The "Military Cavalcade of 1917-1944" will close the musical concert.

The committee in charge is headed by Joseph B. Linnus, president of Limbro dress company of 260 Washington avenue.

Expect Hartley Unopposed For Re-Election To Congress

Congressman Hartley will be unopposed in his bid for the Republican nomination for re-election for this district, it was reported Friday after a conclave of GOP politicians the night before.

It was expected in some circles that Surrogate Hoffman might put up a fight for the place which Hartley has held continuously for eight years. However, Republican chiefs are understood to have settled the issue in their conference.

Last serious opposition to Hartley was in 1942 when Mayor Williams was a rival candidate. Hartley, hurt by his pre-Pearl Harbor isolationism, squeaked through by less than five dozen votes.

No comment has been forthcoming from William's office as to his intentions. Some of the mayor's supporters have been urging him to run again, according to some reports, but such a step is believed unlikely.

John Clark, soundman 3/c, spent a brief leave last weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Clark of 53 Smith street following his return from extended active duty aboard a destroyer in the Atlantic.

A 1939 graduate of the high school, where he was a major basketball star, he enlisted in the Navy two and a half years ago.

Second Lt. Janet Waldie, ANC, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waldie of 15 High street, is stationed at Rhodes General Hospital, Utica, N. Y. She graduated from the high school in 1938, from St. James hospital, Newark, in 1942 and entered the Army nurse corps last November.

John Calicchio, seaman 1/c, will conclude a two-week leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Calicchio of 500 Jerusalem street, and will report back to his station at Miami on Monday.

One of the past decade's stand-out stars of the Bellboy basketball team, he graduated from the high school in 1941 and enlisted in the Navy 16 months ago.

He reports that Frank Smith, who preceded Navy Lt. Larry Gates as Bellboy football mentor, is manager of the Miami USO. Frank was discharged from the Army as overage.

Pfc. Joseph Vadala of Newark, formerly an employee of the Napier Hat manufacturing company at Main and William streets here, is a member of the Army engineers unit which is assembling transit sheds at a new advanced air corps repair depot in England.

Sgt. Paul C. Bohrer, 24, an artillery section leader in the famous Marine 1st Division which took Guadalcanal, was a guest last week at the Rotary luncheon. He is midway in a month's leave after which he will report to Camp Pendleton, Cal.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. P. Bohrer of 106 Stephens street, he attended Cortlandt street school and the high school. He played independent basketball with Dutch Reformed church and the Valley Spiders and starred on the softball teams of the Valley Crowns and the YMCA. He was formerly employed with the J. E. Murgott company of Newark.

He enlisted in the Marines six years ago and was ordered to active duty in November 1940. He took his basic training at Parris Island, S.C.

His introduction to the war occurred immediately after sailing from an Atlantic port nearly two years ago. His ship was subjected to a torpedo attack by a Nazi submarine.

Bohrer is noticeably reluctant to speak of his experiences during the ensuing months, dismissing them as "just a job." He is now in the Pacific with the statement that he won his stars by participating in the original invasions of Guadalcanal and of Cape Gloucester, New Britain.

He wears the American and Asiatic theater campaign bars, the latter with four stars denoting four major engagements, the American defense medal with one star, the Presidential citation with another star and the Marine good conduct medal.

S/Sgt. J. Roy Ericson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ericson of 112 Crest drive, has been awarded the oak leaf cluster in lieu of an additional medal for his service as an aerial gunner on a B-24 Liberator bomber with the 13th Air Force in the South Pacific.

Such awards are made for meritorious achievement while participating in sustained combat operational missions, said Lt. Gen. Millard F. Harmon in making the presentation to Ericson.

The latter is an alumnus of Kearny high school where he played basketball. He was employed by the Star Electric company of Bloomfield prior to entering the Army.

Lt. William H. Cross, whose engagement to Miss Charlotte Lockshin of Los Angeles, Cal. was announced earlier this month, was with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cross of 185 New street, Saturday enroute to Langley field, Va. He has just completed intensive radar instruction in Boca Raton, Fla.

Lt. Cross, who was commissioned and received his wings as bombardier last year at Albuquerque, N.M., has been a bombardier instructor at Deming, also in New Mexico. He is a navigator as well as a bombardier.

A graduate of Belleville high school in 1935 Lt. Cross' civilian employment was with the Prudential Insurance company. Miss Lockshin is a junior student at the University of California in Los Angeles.

Pvt. Saarloos Knocked Out In Avenge For Captain's Life

Pvt. Stanley Saarloos of 73 Cortlandt street, overseas since last November, is recuperating from two mishaps under fire, according to letters received by his family which have been written for him by the Red Cross.

With the heavy weapons division of the infantry, he suffered his first wound on the day he was promoted to the position of orderly for the captain of his company. He sustained an arm injury by the same shell that killed the captain. After recuperation in a hospital in Naples he again entered the battle with avenge for the captain uppermost in mind. However, in his enthusiasm, he again injured the muscle and ligaments in his arm by tossing a hand grenade with such fervor that he "passed out" as a result.

He is now reported recovering for a second time. He entered the infantry in June of last year and spent four months at Camp Croft, S.C. before going abroad. The private has a brother, Leonard, a Petty Officer third class stationed in Boston. He attended Belleville high school for three years and was employed by Wallace and Tiernan before entering service.

According to Marine Pfc. Fred E. Rohnstock Jr., 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rohnstock of 116 Washington avenue, the duties of a military policeman do not come with such fervor that he "passed out" as a result.

Rohnstock is attached to a military police company of a Marine unit on Cape Gloucester, New Britain. For six years prior to his enlistment on January 4, 1942, he was employed by the Essex Falls police department.

"Law enforcement," remarked Rohnstock, "is a job about the same the world over. There are certain laws and regulations that everyone must obey, regardless. However, I can't quite remember where or when I ever had to stand waist deep in mud before, to see that these laws and regulations were carried out."

Rohnstock landed there with the first Marine assault troops under a heavy enemy machine gun and sniping attack, and immediately began directing the steady flow of tanks, tractors and troops through the jungle.

A veteran of Guadalcanal, he agrees that he experienced more thrills and excitement in the first three or four days here than during his entire time on Guadal.

"Guadalcanal was a tough scrap," Rohnstock continued, "but it will never compare with what we were up against here."

Lt. George B. Rader, son of Mrs. Flora Rader of 82 Division avenue, recently spent a week's leave with his mother. A Flying Fortress bombardier, he is presently completing the first phase of combat training at Dyersburg, Tenn.

Previous to his entrance into the Air forces 19 months ago he was with the New Jersey Testing Laboratories in Newark. He was graduated from Belleville high school.

John Bink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bink of Nutley, last week received the rating of aviation metalsmith 3/c at Shawnee, Okla. Naval auxiliary air facility. The Binks lived at 139 Little street until last July.

A 1942 graduate of Belleville high school, Bink was with the Walter Kidde company until his enlistment in the Navy 18 months ago. His boot training at Newport, R.I., was followed by advanced work at the Norman, Okla. base.

Pvt. Albert Peter Botticelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Botticelli of 30 Mount Prospect avenue has reported to Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss., and is now undergoing Army processing to determine his qualifications as a pre-aviation cadet.

While at Keesler Field, a station of the Army Air Forces training command, he will be given training, classification and medical and psychological tests.

If he successfully completes this phase he will be sent to a college or university for five months further study or depending upon his academic background, directly to a pre-flight center for cadet training.

Iboki Plantation, Rein Bay, New Britain, (Delayed)—Patrol duty is tough duty, especially in the New Britain jungles and swamps. Marine Cpl. William J. Mears, 29, will vouch for that.

In the rapid Marine advance along the northern New Britain coast where the Japanese are pulling back their lines for a new defense, this patrol duty has become the most important phase of operations.

Every beach must be scouted, every trail run down, every native hut searched. Japanese stragglers are everywhere, and listening posts spot the coast. The stragglers must be picked up, the bivouac and dump areas knocked out.

An engineer reconnaissance unit is on every patrol. Its duty is to locate watering points, mark the better beach areas, find locations for fords or bridges, and aid in the demolition of enemy ammunition dumps.

Corporal Mears has that job. Stationed on Iboki Plantation, Rein Bay, New Britain, he averages a patrol a day, many up to 20 miles. Invariably they lead through deep swamp and thick jungle. He did the same work on Guadalcanal.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Terence M. Mears of 21 Jefferson street, Cpl. Mears was an industrial engineer with the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway company of Birmingham, Ala. He enlisted

FISHING SEASON OPENS APRIL 15

License Renewals Urged By Game Commission; Hunting Tags Ready

Anglers who are looking forward to taking an active part in their favorite sport should secure fishing licenses now in order to be ready when the curtain rises on the 1944 open fishing season within a short time, the New Jersey Fish and Game commission announced today.

The trout season which remains open from April 15 until July 15, usually brings a rush of applicants for licenses at various municipal buildings and fishermen can aid municipal clerks and regular game wardens who distribute the certificates by filing their applications early, the commission said.

Following the opening of the trout season on the calendar of sporting events is the pike, pickerel and pike-perch season from May 20 to November 30. The latter season will be followed by the popular bass season scheduled for opening from June 15 to November 30.

Sportsmen residing in New Jersey may secure a separate fishing license for $2 plus a small insurance fee, or a hunting license for the same amount. A combination hunting and fishing license costs $3.

The non-resident fishing license is $5 and the combination non-resident hunting and fishing license costs $10.

Former Missionary In Japan Speaks At Grace Church

Rev. Marlin D. Farnum, formerly of Japan, was the speaker for a special service sponsored by the ladies' auxiliary in Baptist church Sunday night.

Mr. Farnum first went to Tokyo in 1927. He worked at Scott Hall in the Baptist language school until 1930, when he was transferred to work on the Inland Sea which had become well known through Captain Bickel and his gospel ship.

He came back to serve as mission secretary in Tokyo and to work in Misaki Tabernacle in 1938. There he remained until mission work was disrupted by the attitude of the Japanese in 1941.

Auxiliary Rolls 1,100 Bandages

Mrs. George Barnett directs American Legion auxiliary workers who devote their semi-monthly social meetings to the production of surgical dressings for the Red Cross.

Eleven hundred bandages were rolled Monday evening by Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Peter Johnson, Mrs. Edward J. Burns and the Misses Marion H. Hopper, Florence Pagani, Dorothy Richards, Marie Fitzsimmons and Frances Coeyman. Thirteen workers turned out 1900 compresses the previous Monday evening.

Littig Captures Third Straight Bike Club Sunday Race

Ed Littig continued his whirlwind pace which has won him all three of the special races of the Belleville Bicycle club when he copped the 20-mile run back from Keansburg Sunday.

Bob Arnot, Chuck Wille and Ray Bryan finished 2-3-4 behind Littig, one of the best bikers in the state. The other five riders trailed behind. Next Sunday's ride will be to Lakeland Hopalong and again a race will be held on the "turn" trip.

The club's one-mile roller championship will be held Saturday night in Littig's woodworking shop in Montclair. Six of the club's best riders have entered and movies of the affair will be taken.

Most important business at Sunday night's monthly meeting at 308 Washington avenue will be handicapping or grading of the bikers. Riders rated class B will draw 10-seconds per mile handicaps over the class A scratch men, while class C will receive 20 seconds.

Nation's Youth Invited To Join In Wartime Food Contest

New Jersey's boys and girls, who are between 14 and 22 and have two years' experience in vegetable gardening, are eligible to compete in the $6,000 wartime food production and marketing contest of the National Junior Vegetable Growers' association, it was announced last week.

H. O. Sampson, New Jersey state supervisor of vocational training who is a member of the national contest committee, joined with Earle Parsons Jr., twenty-year-old Northampton (Mass.) president of the association, in inviting both farm and town youth to register for the fourth annual competition immediately. Additional information may be obtained by writing Sampson at New Brunswick.

Contestants from this county will compete for a $500 national championship, a Northeastern regional award of $200 and for ten sectional awards of $100 from a scholarship fund provided for the association by the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company. In addition two $25 war bonds are offered to other outstanding contestants from the state.

TELEPATHIST IN NOVEL PROGRAM

Dr. Franz Polgar Presents Mind-Reading, Hypnosis In Assembly Program

Belleville high school students were treated to a display of "Miracles of the Mind" Friday as Dr. Franz Polgar, prominent telepathist and hypnotist, put several of the school's bright young lads and lasses into a sound sleep with the twinkle of an eye.

Starting his program with a demonstration of his photographic memory, Dr. Polgar went on to deal with telepathy and hypnotism. To show what can be done with a good memory he drew 16 squares on a blackboard and had the members of the audience call out the name of some object to be placed in each square.

Then one of the students called off the words in the squares and the lecturer gave a number for each square. When a number had been placed in each square every vertical, horizontal and diagonal line added up to the number proposed by the students beforehand.

The telepathy demonstration had the doctor using one of the students as a transmitting station to send mental directions to him telling him where to find Betty Strange, who had been selected by a group of four students as the object of the search. Another telepathy demonstration found the doctor searching for a check taken from him on his wallet.

Hypnotism Polgar then went on to the subject of hypnotism. Calling volunteers to the stage, he provided chairs for them and proceeded to lull them into a deep sleep. The hypnotist then showed how a hypnotized person could be made to do things he would not do normally.

A sixteen-year old girl was made to believe she was three, the hypnotized group drank water, believing it to be champagne, and became slightly inebriated, and then drank the same water, now believed to be a sobering medicine, and became completely sober.

Polgar showed convincingly that it was possible to make a subject to do something after he awoke when he told one hypnotized student to talk without his usual stammering.

The student hasn't stammered since that memorable day. Polgar was forced many times to wait for the gales of laughter to abate before continuing the program.

Baseball Team To Move Outdoors Schedule Shows Ten Contests

During the last few weeks the baseball team, coached by Frank Spotts, has finally begun to take shape. Although the practice has been limited to indoors, the ambitious pitchers and catchers have been working themselves out vigorously.

Before the workouts 30 minute lectures have been given lately on principals of baseball. Spotts has been instructing about 80 of these boys daily on that subject.

This Monday if the weather permits Spotts plans to take his boys outside where he hopes to fill in other positions. These try-outs will take place at the Municipal stadium.

One of the factors that played an important part in the restoration of baseball is the way the students have participated in it. In fact so great has been the coming out of the students that recently two girls applied for the bat boy position!

The Senior Play

One of the most popular traditions at Belleville high is the senior play. A senior play means much not only to seniors, but to all underclassmen.

The senior class and its faculty directors works hard and long to make their play a fine memory to those who see it. Our play this year is "Junior Miss." This popular comedy about teen-agers will appeal to all high school students.

We strongly urge you students to come and join us in laughter tonight, and parents to remember, our senior play can not be a success unless you make it one.

We Have With Us Today—

Phyllis DiSturco

For the first time in 15 years, Belleville high is honored to have as the president of its senior class a girl. Quiet and shy, but with lively hazel eyes, Phyllis DiSturco has accepted her duties with complete feminine efficiency.

She is as active as her spare time will permit. During her four years of high school, she has served as concert mistress of the orchestra while playing first violin.

She has been president of the orchestra, on the Red Cross committee, the senior play committee, the Monad, and she's even been in the band.

As regards her hobbies, music plays a big part. Phyllis has played the violin for the past six years. At present she is studying at the Juilliard school in New York. As close friends and relations will tell you, her favorite musical selection is "Perpetual Motion." Incidentally, that title might well describe Phyllis herself, as she certainly does some high-style dashing.

Among other things, our Nell is a fresh air fiend. One of her greatest delights is to go bicycling "somewhere in the country" out in the open air. (Ah me! Ain't nature grand!)

As to her future, Phyllis is already enrolled in the Berkeley Secretarial school, where we're sure she'll make a great success of her career, judging by the standards she's set here in Belleville.

Aside from an intense interest in basketball and football, the only sport Phyllis will admit is to play.

PERFORMANCES TO BE HELD TONIGHT AND TOMORROW

Curtain To Rise At 8:15 Sharp; Bandettes And Orchestra To Play

The Belleville high school senior class will present one of its most important activities of the year when it offers performances of the three-act comedy "Junior Miss" tonight and tomorrow at the high school auditorium at 8:15 sharp. Doors will open at 7:45 on both nights.

Under the leadership of a faculty committee, the members of the cast have worked hard to insure the success of their dramatic attempts. Rehearsals have been long and arduous, but, according to Miss Eleanor Rush, faculty coach and co-chairman of the committee, and student director Betty Cooke, the cast is ready for the performances.

Students of the cast were selected after competitive try-outs. Those who will perform tonight are, in the order of their appearance:

Joe Graves	Joseph Rue
Harry Graves	Sidney Helling
Grace Graves	Lillian McKenna
Hilda	Catherine Anderson
Lois Graves	Betty-Ray Brown
Judy Graves	Betty Strange
Fuffy Adams	Dorothy Webber
J. B. Curtis	Donald Rochlin
Ellen Curtis	Kay Schneider
Willis Reynolds	Walter Speyer
Barlow Adams	Albert Knight
Kaskell Cummings	Jack Goodford
Merrill Feurbach	Robert Peppi
Sterling Brown	Frank Larkin
Albert Knudty	Paul Beckenbach
Tommy Arbuckle	Howard Taylor

Faculty Committee
The faculty committee for the senior play is headed by L. Howard Fox, business manager and chairman; John Gordon, assistant and co-chairman; Nova Babb and Ira Scheib, stage lighting; Mrs. Mary Sheldon and Mrs. Evangeline Weber, costumes.

Mrs. Esther Hutchinson, Miss Regina Brennan and John Charlton make-up; Sheldon Henry, P. Webster Diehl and James V. Zurlo, scenery; Miss Blanche McDonald, hand properties; Miss Elizabeth Kelleher, stage properties. Charleton also was in charge of the printing of tickets, programs and tags.

Another feature of the program will be the appearance of two of the school's most popular music groups. The Bandettes, school dance band, led by Robert Parker of the faculty, will play before the curtain and between the acts tonight, while Mrs. Alice Wagner will conduct the school orchestra for tomorrow evening's event.

Tonight's performance is primarily for the benefit of high school students. Tomorrow night adults will compose most of the audience. Near-capacity attendances are expected for both nights.

Bowling Team Loses To Nutley

Last week was a busy one for Belleville high's bowlers as both the boys' and girls' teams bowed to powerful opponents. The boys' team lost to defeat against Nutley high's keggers, Saturday, netting a total of 2078 pins against the victor's 2323.

Nutley's team was led to its 245-pin victory by "Rip" Ripca with a 516 series and a high 184 single for the day. Belleville was paced in its losing effort by Bill Ewald with a 449 three-game total. The two teams will meet again Saturday.

Thursday saw the girls' team going down before a powerful combination of Belleville women to the tune of 432 pins. Garnering a total of 2284 pins against the high school girls' 1842 the victors were paced by Celia Crigg who captured both the high single and high series honors with 169 and 444. The losing team was led by Dot Greulich with a 348 three-game total.

Between the two matches the six teams of the bowling club league met in another tangle which left the two teams tied for first place. Team 4 dropped two games to team 1 and team 6 took a pair from team 2.

This resulted in a tie for the leading position between teams 4 and 6. Team 1 climbed into second place while team 2 dropped into last. Team 3 took two games from team 5, leaving the two teams in a tie for third position.

STUDY HALL CHATTER

Tonight is the big night for the senior class, its big "premiere" of that side-splitting, rollicking play, "Junior Miss." Credit is due Miss Eleanor Rush, faculty director, and Betty Cooke, student director, for the long tedious work attached to making this play a success. If you haven't already bought your tickets, see any of the seniors for one!

Glee Club Prepares For Spring Concert To Be Held May 4

Among the groups now actively engaged in preparation for the annual spring concert, to be presented by the school music department on May 4 is the glee club.

This is the biggest program of the year for the group and it takes much planning and practicing to present a good program. Rehearsals are held every morning before school, noon hours and after school every day, and during the regular glee club class four times a week.

Glee club members are busy learning new songs, practicing old ones, or discussing the future music event.

According to Mrs. Alice Wagner, faculty director of the Glee club, "A glee club is one of the finest organizations a school can have and Belleville High is no exception."

"All through the year the glee club adds much color to many of the school's programs by their singing. As the year goes by, you can notice the improvement in this musical club. At first the students were rather shy about getting up and singing in front of the group, but now almost all volunteer to sing."

Like any other club, they elect their officers. Officers of the Monday and Tuesday classes are president Bertha Hermann, vice-president Dorothy Newman, secretary Audrey Mason, treasurer Ruth Hodes.

Officers for the Thursday and Friday classes are president Ann Santiglia, vice-president Ruth Hodes, secretary Dorothy Newman and treasurer Olindo D'Amadio.

N. Y. FIELD ADVISOR PRAISES UPSWING IN GIRL SCOUTS

Tells Leaders' Association
Trend Here Improved;
Discusses Program

A special meeting of the Girl Scout leaders' association Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Elmer S. Hyde was addressed by Mrs. Dorothy W. Reynolds, field advisor of region 2 of the Girl Scout national headquarters in New York.

Commenting favorably on the upward trend of girl scouting here, Mrs. Reynolds outlined the advantages and attractions of the work which cause so many leaders to serve without recompense.

She also discussed the methods of registering girl scouts, the slight fees involved, the advantages of keeping records of their activities. She pointed out that girls cannot successfully be transferred from one troop to another, also, that a waiting list of girls for all troops should be encouraged.

Leaders present were Mrs. Morris Bennett, Mrs. Arthur Price, Mrs. Frank Chambers, Mrs. Ward Lay, Mrs. Leif Scheit, Mrs. Raymond O'Brien, Mrs. C. L. Cox, and the Misses Angelle Pucillo, Mae and Lavina Watson and Ruth and Margaret Marx. Miss Edna Baum, their president, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Hyde is girl scout commissioner here. The women will have another opportunity to meet Mrs. Reynolds Monday evening when they will meet at Mrs. Bennett's home, 93 Crescent terrace.

Easter Decorations

Girl scouts worked Sunday afternoon in the Washington avenue headquarters on Easter decorations for nearby hospitals. More than 1,000 cardboard eggs, on which bunnies, chicks, ducks and flowers are superimposed, are in the making for the Easter morning trays of hospitalized children. Miss Baum has charge of the project; Mrs. Ward Lay, leader project; Mrs. Ward Lay, leader of troop 7 supervised Sunday's activities. Scouts present then were Lois Ann Jepson, Lois Ann Bennett, Christine Wilkinson, Marion McTernan, Patsy McGinnis, Marie Christian of troop 2; Dorothy Westlake, Joan Stanley, Patricia Scully, troop 3; Patsy Day, Joanne Jonas, troop 7; Lois Anderson of troop 9, Diane Bramhall, Joan Kintzing, troop 13; Marion Caskey and Betty Lou Turner, troop 19.

Bellevillites Hand First Defeat To West Point Chessmen

The first defeat suffered this year by the West Point military academy's chess team was delivered last week by the Belleville Chess club which walked off with a 5-4 decision.

Previous victims of the West Pointers have included the Nutley Chess club, the Passaic YMCA and Newark college of engineering. The Belleville club meets every Monday in the Recreation House.

Softball League Organization Monday At Recreation House

Sentiment in favor of the formation of a town softball league will be sounded out Monday evening at 8 in the Recreation House when teams interested in entering a circuit will send representatives to confer on the organization.

Invitations to the meeting are issued today through the newspapers by Commissioner Noll and Recreation Director Lister.

All softball teams, independent and industrial, are invited to participate in the league, which will be for 16-year-olds and up.

No industrial league will be in operation this year under the sponsorship of the recreation department, Lister said. He pointed out that interest in a similar circuit lagged toward the end of last year.

Municipal Welfare To Assist In Remedies For Rejectees

Cooperation of the municipal welfare department in remedial treatment for induction rejectees was pledged last week by director John J. Hewitt in a letter to the local selective service board, said Hewitt.

"We have been informed that a new arrangement has been formulated with the New Jersey State Headquarters of Selective Service, which provides that local draft boards may refer persons who need remedial treatment for physical disabilities to municipal welfare departments.

"It has been our privilege to have cooperated with the Municipal Aid administration, Trenton, and several rejected draftees have become available for military service through these channels. "We would be glad to have you refer further cases to this department in order that we may assist these young men in the service of their country."

Montclair Man Is Fined Again For Driving Without License

"If you can afford to pay $100 a throw, it's all right with me," was Recorder Smith's comment

Friday morning before handing down a $125 fine against Watson R. Chambers of Montclair for driving while his license was revoked.

Chambers pleaded guilty to the charge and Judge Smith raised the mandatory $100 fine in view of the man's record as a second offender. His license was lifted originally in October 1941 when he was convicted of a drunken driving charge.

Seven months later he was fined in East Orange for driving without a permit. He was arrested

March 17 on Mill street by Inspector Charles Kehoe of the motor vehicle department. He faces loss of his license for an additional two years.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Edwin C. Smith of St. Louis, Mo., and a grandson Ferdinand Cray Smith, Coxswain, USN, stationed in the Pacific.

Two Parents Lightly Fined For Children's Truancy

Irresponsibility Of Adults Flayed By Judge Smith, Threatens Drastic Action

Two parents were given "light" fines Friday morning by Police Recorder Smith after they were found guilty of permitting their children to be absent from school "without sufficient cause."

The parents are James McCombs of 340 Belleville avenue, whose two sons were absent a total of 221 sessions this year, and Mrs. Mary Russomano of 12 Etanck street, whose daughter attended only a few sessions since moving here from Newark last fall.

The older McCombs boy was kept out of school, testimony of Attendance Officer Schneegas brought out, "on doctor's orders" but a recent check with the doctor showed the latter had not seen the boy in months.

Meanwhile he had worked many days at a Bloomfield bowling alley from 1 to 11 daily. A cut was given as one of the excuses of the other boy.

Smith verbally flayed McCombs before fining him $10. "There is a person I hold responsible and that's you. I am fining you because it is as much your fault as anybody's that these boys stay out."

McCombs had attempted to place the blame on his wife, "unless you want me to quit work and stay home to see they go to school."

"Our schools are not just monuments," Smith declared. "They're there to give our children an education. These are your boys and it is up to you to see that they get that schooling. You have the power and the right to make them obey."

Could Be Heavy Turning to the boys, he pointed out that under the law he could fine their father $5 for every session they missed, "in this case about $1,000. When he could not pay the fine, you would put him in jail." He also warned that he could commit the boys to the parental home.

Principal reason for the Russomano girl's absence, according to her mother, was an automobile accident a year ago, following which her doctor allegedly ordered her not to go to school for the rest of the year.

When Judge Smith demanded the doctor's certificate to that effect, Mrs. Russomano was unable to produce it, claiming it is in the custody of the Newark school which the girl formerly attended.

Recent absences were caused

Plan Board Gets Axe Before Vote

of the commissioners there. He backed up King's objections and asserted that "we could take the zoning board and make it into a planning board."

Waters, the only commissioner who spoke in favor of the plan, pointed out that a planning board is a long-range proposition. Many already-developed sections of Belleville are going to have entirely new faces in the next 25 years and we should plan that face.

"Nothing was planned out during the depression years when we had 1,500 people working on the CWA and WPA. Nobody planned a 12-inch sewer line in North Main street, but it was a godsend when Kilde located there."

Proposed Before "During the 14 years I've been on this board I've heard this thing discussed five or six times. Its purpose is not to disturb people but to better conditions in Belleville."

"We should have a real business section here, but even on Washington avenue, our main thoroughfare, we have practically nothing but one-story buildings. We should have definite residential, business and industrial sections. We should have eight or nine more apartments but there is no place for them to go."

He rejected Williams' suggestion of a hired planner. "Our citizens can prepare a far better plan for the town than an outsider, a stranger, can."

"I would like someone to show me," interjected Williams, "what constructive thing has ever been accomplished by any planning board outside of drawing pretty maps."

"If we have nine men sitting down," said Noll, "we would have nine different ideas and nine months to wait. I don't see what this board can do that a planning board would do."

Salvage Drive

that all paper which leaves the country for our armed forces never returns.

"If England people have been fined for throwing away a paper match book cover. Here authorities have gone so far as to ask us to save the paper milk bottle caps."

Ten Pounds Per Family "What we are striving for is salvaging ten pounds of paper from each family each week. A campaign will, however, indicate that in this area only thirty percent of the waste paper is being saved and collected."

"Save everything entirely or partially made of paper. We particularly want newspapers, magazines, envelopes; but besides that we want every scrap of paper in your home. Don't burn any of it. Turn any of it in."

It is important to know your zone. Then learn what day of each month the collection will be made in your area and put the paper on the curb early in the morning."

He also thanked the householders of Belleville who have contributed more than thirty tons of paper and twenty tons of tin of the salvage drive since the

when "a detective told her to stay home because she might be called as a witness" in a Newark police case in which the girl's watch was stolen.

Similar Warning Before Smith fined the woman $5, he gave her the same warning as he had previously given. McCombs added that "I am not at all satisfied that you realize your responsibility to keep her in school. It is up to you to take care of her."

"How can I take care of her?" demanded the woman, who previously stated that her daughter is living with one of the mother's "girl friends" nearby.

"That is your responsibility," Smith replied, "no one else can do it."

"I'll send her away," retorted Mrs. Russomano. "I'm not going to go crazy. The next time I won't pay no fine and I say that in front of all these men. I'll send her away."

FERDINAND GILMAN SUCCUMBS AT 81

Had Lived Here 75 Years; Member Of Police Force, Exempt Firemen

One of Belleville's oldest residents, Ferdinand Gilman of 368 DeWitt avenue, died Sunday at his home after a long illness. He had resided here for 75 of his 81 years.

Born in Germany, he came to America as a child and moved to Belleville in 1869. His three-quarters of a century of residence here is believed to be one of the longest periods of any person still living in Belleville.

Some years ago he was employed in the Eastwood wireweaving company and was also one of the town's two constables in the days before the establishment of a regular police department.

He became a member of the force in 1892 and served for forty years prior to his retirement 12 years ago. In the days of horse-drawn fire fighters, he was also a member of the Exempt Firemen's association.

Mr. Gilman is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anna Gilman; a daughter, Mrs. Edward Smith of St. Louis; and a grandchild.

Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach, pastor of Christ Episcopal church, officiated at services Tuesday evening in the Irvine funeral home and interment was in East Ridgeland cemetery.

Frederick C. Weber

Frederick C. Weber of Newark, father of three Belleville women, died suddenly Sunday at his home. He was 75 and has been a stationary engineer with the Janconius Rug company for 26 years.

He leaves three daughters here: Mrs. Franklin Dowe of 65 Melrose street, Mrs. John J. Kiernan of 18 Wilbur street and Mrs. Frank R. Parsells of 37 Washington avenue. Also surviving are two sons and another daughter.

A requiem mass was offered yesterday at Our Lady of Good Counsel church, Newark, and interment was in St. Peter's church cemetery here.

Food Prospects For 1944 Outlined By Rotary Speaker

Dairy products will be down, egg supplies good, citrus fruit plentiful, meat about the same, coffee, tea and other imports the "best since the war began."

This was the summary of the 1944 food situation as told to the Rotary club yesterday by Paul Cupp, regional manager for the American Stores company of Philadelphia.

Three great unknowns will affect all predictions for the year, he said listing them as weather, victory gardens and the demands of our Allies. He also reviewed the economic position of the farmer and discussed the work of the 16 governmental agencies which have their finger in the food situation.

Sings at Cousin's Wedding Miss Edna Marie Baun of 61 Ralph street was soloist at the wedding of her cousin Miss Theresa Baun of 790 18th street, Newark, which took place Saturday, to William Kostowicz who is serving the U. S. Navy.

OLD GAS COUPONS EXPIRE SATURDAY

District Rationing Office Clarifies New Regulation In B, C, E, R, T Books

The District OPA Rationing Division this week issued a special bulletin to clarify the situation regarding gasoline ration coupons invalid for use by consumers after March 31.

The bulletin listed the following ration coupons which will no longer be good for the purchase of gasoline beginning April 1: old-type B, C, and B-1 and C-1 coupons; old type E and R coupons; all serially numbered T coupons which do not bear a quarterly designation (those valid after March 31 will bear the words: "2nd Qtr").

It was explained that most of the old type B, C, E and R coupons still in circulation represent expired rations. In the few cases in which they are part of currently valid rations with an expiration date or earliest renewal date later than March 31, rationholders may exchange them at their ration boards for coupons of the type now valid.

Gasoline dealers who have any of these invalidated types of coupons on hand on April 1 must dispose of them by April 10, either by transferring them to suppliers, or by exchanging them at ration boards for inventory coupons.

Crochet Your Own Easter Bonnet

DUTCH CAP — HALF HAT — call it what you will, this is a pretty little accent for your costume which you can make with an economical amount of crochet thread and narrow grosgrain ribbon. Make it in gay colors to spark your navy or brown costume; or pastels to match your flower colored costumes. The direction sheet, which we will be glad to mail you if you send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to The Belleville Times, also contains specifications for a crocheted, be-ribboned tricorn.

Flatten Cartons

THIS IS ONLY one phase of saving waste paper; but a very important one! These girls take flattened cartons to their place of business for collection. It's just as important that we at home have a corner of the cellar in which to keep all flattened containers from toothpaste cartons on up. Flatten them, tie them together and have them ready for your zone collection day!

Acme Super Markets OWNED AND OPERATED BY THE AMERICAN STORES COMPANY

Must Double Waste Paper Collections

Belleville needs to double the amount of her waste paper collections. That is a consideration not to be passed off lightly. This is not the time for us who are homekeepers and civilian employees of small business to complain that we haven't time or patience for "one more collection." We've been able to rest pretty comfortably on the assurance that our men would be amply supplied with ammunition — but how would those bombs and torpedoes look rattling around in the holds of ships and cargo planes? Not many would reach their destination unless they were carefully cartoned in material partly made of waste paper.

We've not had to worry that our husbands, brothers and friends were hungry in distant outposts or continental camps and fields where they are giving the utmost of their health and energy to our defense — but how much of the food and medicine which protects them could be delivered without paper containers? We've even had the miraculous comfort of knowing that our men who are prisoners of war can receive the items that change their lives from bleak despair to the hope of homecoming. What were these precious items packed in if not in paper?

How much longer can we postpone the salvage of paper if all these desperately needed jobs are to be accomplished? We can't postpone it; and, if there are those among us who need to be approached from the purely selfish angle, how much longer are we going to be able to obtain paper containers for our groceries? Isn't it now difficult enough to cram the week's shopping into one visit to a large store without totting an ungainly basket?

How many of our favorite magazines are we going to be unable to renew? How much annoyed will we be when we cannot order our favorite convenient stationery? How will we feel when there is no satisfying

Sunday newspaper with which to spend a comfortable afternoon? There are a lot of things connected with the prosecution of the war about which we have not had to be troubled beyond paying our Victory tax and buying war stamps and bonds. But the answer to the foregoing questions is definitely up to us.

The chief obstruction to a 100 percent collection of paper in Belleville to date seems to have been a misunderstanding of collection dates and localities. Even this should not have prevented us from flattening every carton, no matter how small, which has come into our possession and from tying up all newspapers and magazines promptly. Let's not be guilty of keeping a whole magazine from being reclaimed because we want to save one recipe or one picture or one poem. Snip it and file it and free another half pound of precious paper.

Elsewhere in this issue of The Times a map of Belleville will show you in what defense zone you live. The dates of collection could not be simpler; first zone residents should stack the paper at their curbs on the first Wednesday of the month; second zone on the second Wednesday; third zone on the third Wednesday and fourth zone on the fourth Wednesday. Silver Lake, which constitutes the fifth zone, will be canvassed on the first Wednesday.

There are few people in Belleville who do not know Union avenue and Joralemon street. If you know the relation of these two streets to your home you know your zone number. People who live below Union avenue on the Newark side of Joralemon street are in zone 1; those on the Nutley side of Joralemon street below Union avenue are in zone 2. Zone 3 is the whole area from Joralemon street toward Nutley above Union avenue; zone 4 the area above Union avenue to the Newark side of Joralemon street. Know your zone and put out your waste paper on the proper Wednesday.

Give Your Serviceman A Chance To Vote

The civilian defense council has been called upon once again to demonstrate how smoothly and efficiently it can function. And the service it will perform this time is probably as vital to the future of our democratic system as any thus far handed the group of men and women who are voluntarily giving of their time and energy to prosecute the war on the home front.

This time the whole CD set-up is asked to make a thorough canvass of every home and every apartment in Belleville to complete the roster of the town's men and women in uniform so that those away from home may be given an opportunity to vote in the April primary and the November presidential elections. The importance of obtaining a complete list is too well known to bear repetition.

This will be the only opportunity to register servicemen for their chance to cast their ballots. Only those already in uniform and those who will report before April 24 will be listed, but residents should remember that an empty house when the canvasser calls only means a large question mark and therefore additional calls. Age also is not considered; teen-age servicemen will be listed along with the rest and the delineation will be made later according to age.

Belleville's canvass will be conducted mainly this Sunday afternoon. Hundreds of volunteers will embark on the survey at one o'clock and in the next four hours will attempt to visit every home in the town. Every family in the community should consider it an obligation to those who are away fighting the war or preparing to fight it to be at home during those hours so that its soldier or sailor will not be deprived of the right to vote because of his family's negligence. They are fighting to preserve our right to vote; let us not through our carelessness take that privilege away from them.

How To Use Your Library Told In One Easy Lesson

By Jennie M. Flexner

Free books are one of the great assets of a free nation. In America a system of public libraries has made available to a vast part of the population a great diversity of reading matter. A public library is all that its name implies — a collection of books for the use of all the people — and its value is in direct ratio to the use all the people make of it. It is the business of libraries to supply books.

You undoubtedly know where the library is in your town or your region, and you already may have discovered for yourself the manifold uses it can be put to; on the other hand, you may be a Timid Soul, who occasionally thinks of the library with curiosity or even wistfulness but hasn't had the time or the temerity to investigate its valuable resources. In that case, you are missing something.

Suppose the program chairman of your club has assigned you a paper to be delivered at a forthcoming meeting. Maybe your club is studying American literature this year and your subject is Louisa May Alcott.

Now, you always have loved Louisa and for many reasons you are anxious to do well by her. You want to appear to the best advantage before the members of the group and you are really interested in the subject.

You begin to cast around for something to say. Of course you can think of Little Women, Little Men, and Under the Lilacs. But you haven't read them since you were a girl, and you can't even conjure up a very clear picture of the books.

Besides, you can't make a paper out of the synopsis of two or three books that everybody has read. You may begin to feel a little frantic as the date for your paper approaches.

Answer Is Library

You present yourself to the Librarian and state your problem. You will find her not only efficient but friendly. Her first move might be to take you to the reference room to look up Louisa May Alcott in the Dictionary of American Biography. Alphabetically, Bronson Alcott precedes his daughter.

The librarian might suggest that you read the short account of his life, to obtain some insight into the home life and background of your heroine. A perusal of Louisa May Alcott's biography in this Dictionary will give you the salient events of her life and also additional references.

The librarian then might suggest that you look up the date of publication of Little Women and read some of the critical reviews printed at the time. Poole's Index to Periodical Literature, which is in most reference rooms, would help you locate the issue of old magazines containing these long-ago book reviews.

If your paper is really ambitious, the librarian would suggest that you read a full-length biography of Miss Alcott, and she would take you to the card catalogue to look up her name.

In the file would appear in alphabetical order cards for all the Alcott books the library owns, followed by cards for books written about Miss Alcott by various authors.

These are the subject cards, the biographies and criticisms of her as a writer, arranged in a separate alphabet, by author. You should choose the one that seems most interesting.

Whatever the size of the building, the librarians are genuinely glad to welcome you, not effusively but effectively. A librarian has no ulterior or missionary motives, and her curiosity is limited to the facts related to your use of the library.

If you will tell her, without too many reservations, what you really want, you may spend an interesting and profitable time with her.

Introductory Visit

It is wise to go to a library for an introductory visit when the whole town is not there, with lines of students and other readers waiting for the charging or discharging of books. So choose a quiet, midmorning hour for your visit.

The librarian will register you for a borrower's card, which comprises signing your name and libraries in the community cannot be overestimated. Here often begins the building of a library habit, which should be the sound for all adult use of books.

In most children's rooms a story hour for the children is scheduled regularly. This leads to an introduction to the books themselves, and induces young people to read what they want — for pleasure and self-satisfaction and with no sense of compulsion.

The readers' adviser is a boon to the library beginner or to anyone who needs assistance or advice about books. This librarian, usually released from routine duties, has time to talk with you about your reading.

She has more time for the individual readers than has the busy assistant at a crowded desk, and she can and will be glad to help you plan your reading.

The adviser will ask you some questions and make notes of your answers; and the information will enable her later to select books for you to read.

She will make a list of these books for you, with a brief annotation describing the contents and approach of each book. Many women, wanting to fill in gaps in their reading, investigate new subjects, or refresh their information, use this service.

Later they talk over their reading with the adviser. Under her direction they avoid haphazard reading and their reading is more satisfying and of more lasting worth.

Will Assist

The readers' adviser is the person who will assist you in writing your club paper. She will be interested in helping others in your club group in the selection of reading.

She wants to work with clubs, forums, discussion groups, or individual readers. Her field is adult education.

Because she usually is as interested in people as she is in books, you will find her a friendly guide, anxious to bring books and people together.

The public library has an open door. The librarian has a sense of community responsibility. She knows that a fresh stimulus must be found in print — in books, pamphlets, and magazines — if the individual's life is to be full and worth while.

She thinks all men and women want to read, and she always stands ready and willing to help them find the right books.

"Unreality" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday. Golden text: "Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the Lord our God is the salvation of Israel." (Jer. 3:23)

Sermon. Passages from the King James version of the Bible include: "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear?" (Ps. 72:1) Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The understanding, even in a degree, of the divine All-power destroys fear, and plants the feet in the true path — the path which leads to the house built without hands 'eternal in the heavens.'" (p. 454)

in the land of blood and tears?

Is he slogging along some muddy road . . . or huddled beneath a leaky tent? Do you see him now, thirsty beneath a broiling sun?

Or is your boy fighting a wintry blast in the land where winter never ends? . . . Yes, millions of people worry tonight for the men in the far-off but not forgotten land.

But if your heart is sick with longing for some special boy . . . remember this and find comfort . . . wherever he may be, in the frozen wastes of Iceland or the jungles of New Guinea . . . you can reach out and give your boy some little comforts that speak of home.

He will get coffee, doughnuts, cigarettes and other American comforts when the long march is over . . . thanks to you.

He will sleep between sheets when he gets his furlough, in a town ten thousand miles from home . . . thanks to you. Even should he be a prisoner of war, he won't be condemned to live on alien bread. For wherever the Red Cross can reach him the Red Cross will send him a carton of food, the kind you used to give him at your own table. And real American cigarettes and tobacco!

He will get all this . . . and more . . . straight from your heart through the Red Cross. Because the Red Cross is you—the Greatest Mother in the World, because it represents all the mothers of America. The Red Cross is your blood and your bandages, the sweaters you knit and the gifts you pack.

And the Red Cross is your money, too! This year when your Red Cross has a bigger job than ever before to do . . . this year when your Red Cross is serving your own sons in every corner of the globe . . .

this year you will want to give more, more of your time, more of your work, the blood from your heart . . . and more of your

to help the work go on.

So dig deep and be glad. For wherever he is

The RED CROSS is at his side

There are just a few days more for you to give to our Red Cross Quota. Belleville must make good. Remember — the more you give the more will live. This means perhaps your own boy, husband or friend. Notwithstanding all other Patriotic Contributions you made to other worthy causes, the Red Cross should stand at the head. If you have not given liberally, I am sure you can do just a little more. If every one of us helps just a little, our goal will be oversubscribed.

Our boys are giving their all, you will certainly want to give a little.

Send your contributions immediately to Mr. Albert P. Luscombe, Treasurer, c/o Peoples National Bank & Trust Company, Belleville, or to War Fund Headquarters, 400 Washington Avenue, Belleville.

YOUR VICTORY GARDEN

Sowing Seeds; How To Do It

By Dr. Charles H. Connors
College of Agriculture Rutgers University

Having prepared the soil, lay out the Victory Garden as you have planned it, using stakes to indicate the rows. Some seeds can be planted as soon as the soil is prepared, namely, peas, onion, carrot, beet, radish, turnip, broccoli, cabbage, endive, kale, lettuce, spinach and Swiss chard. However, there are other seeds such as beans, that require a higher temperature for germination. They cannot be planted until all danger of frost is past.

Do not try to sow seeds when the soil is sticky. To determine when the soil is ready, use the same test as that given to ascertain if it is fit to dig. If the soil is sticky, it is impossible to make the furrows properly, and then when the soil is drawn in to cover the seeds, it will be lumpy and will dry out in small clods; so the seeds will not be suitably covered.

Or, if the soil is compacted, it will dry in a crust so air cannot enter, and the seedlings will have a hard time to get through. This was responsible for some of the failure of carrots last year.

Make Straight Furrows

Sow in straight rows as it is much easier to cultivate the garden. Do not sow too deep. This is another cause of failure.

The general rule in sowing is that seeds should be covered about three times their smaller diameter. Make your furrows at the depth shown in the 1944 New Jersey Victory Garden Manual. For example, one-half inch for carrot, radish, turnip and lettuce seeds; three quarters inch for beets; one inch for peas. Make the furrow as uniform in depth as possible in order to secure uniform covering and uniform germination.

Sow the seeds thin. Carrots should stand two to three inches apart. Hence three or four seeds to the inch will suffice.

Beets should be thinned to stand three inches apart, so a seed ball (which may contain several seeds) should be sown about every inch. This will give plenty of seedlings for beet greens as well as for development of roots. Where the plants are to stand six inches or more apart, many experienced gardeners will place two or three seeds at the planting intervals, later thinning to one strong plant. This conserves seed and makes cultivation easier.

To make the furrows straight, stretch the garden line close to the soil, and, as the furrow is made, walk backward with one foot on the line to keep it in place.

Shallow furrows for fine seeds might be made with the end of the hoe handle or by laying the handle of the rake along the line and treading on it to press it into the ground.

For deeper furrows, the corner of the hoe blade is used. Draw the hoe toward you with quick, rather short strokes so that the soil drawn out may be distributed evenly along the furrow and not piled up toward the end.

How To Cover The Seeds
Sow the seeds at the proper depth and spacing and then draw loose soil in to fill the furrow about halfway. The rake is a good tool to use for this purpose.

Then, with the back of the rake, gently tamp the soil over the seeds to make sure that the seeds are surrounded by and in contact with soil so that moisture will be drawn to them to help initiate germination. Then draw soil in until the furrow is level full and leave this in a loose condition and it is not so apt to cake or form a crust.

It usually is not necessary to water seeds at time of sowing in the spring. However, some persons do find that seeds will germinate a little more quickly and the seedlings grow a little faster if starter solution is used. This consists of a teaspoonful of 5-10-5 fertilizer in 12 quarts of water.

Allow to stand overnight, then use a cupful of the solution to a foot of row. Apply the starter solution in the furrow after the seeds have been placed but before covering.

Allow the solution to soak in and then draw the soil into the furrow, not packing it. This method is especially helpful in the drier weather of late spring and summer.

Rake Space Between Rows
Finish the job by raking the space between the rows that have been planted, using a sort of rotary motion, to loosen the soil in the footprints.

At the same time it is a good plan to rake the unplanted part of the garden to kill weeds that may have germinated but which do not yet show above the ground. This is the stage at which they are more easily killed.

If you have definite evidence that your soil is infested with wireworms or white grubs, Dr. Bailey B. Pepper, acting entomologist at the N. J. Agricultural Experiment Station, recommends that you defer planting until the soil warms up.

Then these larval forms will migrate to lower regions in the soil. Instead of planting as soon as the weather is fit, wait three or four weeks until the larvae migrate. NEXT WEEK: Setting Plants and Insect Control.
