

DETTELBACH HEADS FIFTH WAR LOAN, GOAL NOT SET

Drive June 12 To July 8; Fourth Loan Purchases $144 Per Capita

Organization of the committees which will conduct the Fifth War Loan in Belleville was completed this week, chairman Philip Dettelbach announced yesterday. The campaign will run from June 12 to July 8 but the town will receive credit for all bonds purchased locally during the months of June and July.

No goals have yet been set for Belleville, Dettelbach said, but it is expected that they will be considerably higher than the $2,100,000 which was doubled in the Fourth War Loan in February.

Belleville has had organized drives in the second, third and fourth campaigns and in those three has purchased a total of $8,520,636 (purchase price) worth of bonds of all descriptions.

In the fourth drive Belleville led the state in exceeding its quota in the sales of Series E bonds, subscribing an average of $30 for every man, woman and child. Overall sales amounted to $144 per capita.

W. Douglas Clark will again head the industrial division, Dettelbach revealed. Twenty-two special treasury representatives have been named in Belleville and their recommended quotas for plants here will be submitted next Tuesday to the county War Finance Division in Newark.

Edward P. Cantwell will be chairman of the house-to-house canvass which was so successful in February.

The bulk of the solicitation throughout the town will again be placed in the hands of the air raid wardens who will be assisted by other branches of the Civilian Defense: ambulance corps, police and fire reserves, first aiders and salvage committee.

Schools Rushed

The school division under school superintendent Wayne R. Farmer will attempt to do a thorough job of selling before school closes June 16. A special campaign will be run by the Boy and Girls Scouts.

It is possible that the town may see a Young America Bond Week from June 26 to July 1 at which time a resolicitation of the entire town would take place.

Another prospective departure from routine may be the display here of American and captured enemy military equipment. The lot on Washington avenue north of the Acme store is being spoken of as the exhibition spot and souvenirs may go to bond purchasers.

"Owing to the amount of money to be raised in this campaign," said Defense Coordinator Brunner who is assisting Dettelbach, "it will take every effort of every group to realize it."

"We hope that every civic and church organization in town will sponsor special bond rallies to aid the cause."

Burt P. Johnson, chairman of the organization and extension committee of the Belleville Scout Executive Harry T. French, announced today that since the first of the year the number of registered Boy Scouts in the district has increased by 17.9 percent while those enrolled in cubbing has increased 31.4 percent.

"At the first of the year," said Johnson, "we had 229 scouts in Belleville, today we have 270. In cubbing 94 boys were enrolled on January 1; today there are 137. More boys want to be cubs and scouts. The only limiting factor is the acceptance on the part of local institutions of the program of scouting as a means of serving youth, and the willingness of men in these institutions to serve as leaders."

The organization and extension committee, composed of Johnson, Harvey B. Thompson and Edgar S. Peters, stands ready to assist institutions of Belleville in organizing cub and scout units, he said.

COMMISSIONERS REJECT CIRCUS

Police, Health Disapproval Kills Legion Auxiliary Plan For Benefit

Disapproval of the projected circus sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary was final Tuesday night when it was made known that both the health and police departments had rejected the application.

Mrs. Peter Johnson, spokesman for the auxiliary, had obtained conditional approval of the Commission two weeks ago and final approval rested with Police Chief Spatz and Health Officer Berry.

Spatz gave no reason for rejecting the project but Berry attached a lengthy letter which declared that he "has always opposed these affairs as being detrimental from a public health point of view."

"However," he continued, "if the Board of Commissioners feels the present request is worthy and permission is granted, the Department of Health feels that the following minimum health requirements should be enforced."

He then listed seven points which he expected to be carried out by the circus management.

The auxiliary had planned to bring Hunt Brothers circus here for a one-day stand some time in August. Proceeds were to be used for a servicemen's fund.

The flood conditions existing at the rear of properties on Charles and Center street may be solved by a joint effort of the town and the owners of the properties.

Town officials will confer Sunday with householders in the neighborhood to attempt to work out a solution.

Town Engineer Walsh believes the solution lies in the laying of a drain at the rear of the lots connecting with a sewer in Arthur street which would carry the water to another sewer at Arthur and Center streets.

The town will undertake to install the Arthur street sewer, it is understood, and will expect the property owners to share the cost of the other drain.

KING NAMES THREE TO DEPARTMENTS

Dacey, Otto Become Police; Knab Fireman; Bush Made Lieutenant

Three appointments to the police and fire departments, two police promotions and another proposed promotion were announced yesterday by Public Safety Director King.

Named to war duration posts on the police force were Herbert Otto of 27 Ralph street and Michael T. Dacey of 37 Church terrace. The fire department gained Arthur Knab of 154 Garden avenue.

Emerson J. Bush of 15 Belmont street was made a police lieutenant, succeeding Richard W. Nourse of 79 William street who resigned earlier this month. Frank Christiano of 3 Wallace street succeeds to Bush's sergeantcy.

King introduced an ordinance Tuesday night which would create another sergeant's post for the head of the school safety patrol. When the bill passes final reading, Harry R. Scott of 57 Garden avenue will get the promotion.

The three appointments filled vacancies caused by the retirements of Nourse, Christopher A. Dotterweich and Lawrence J. Bias, all granted by the Pension Fund Board several weeks ago.

Otto and Dacey have been chancemen for three years. The former was released recently from the maritime service, the latter has been working in a Newark defense plant.

Knab, who was discharged last winter from the Army, has been working for the road division of the Public Works department. The three appointments are effective June 1 as are the promotions.

Bush was appointed to the police force 14 years ago while Christiano has served nearly 19 years.

CALLS FOR PRAYER ON ALLIED D-DAY

Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach Tells Parishioners To Leave Routine Tasks To Pray

Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach stressed the importance that every member of Christ Episcopal church, their friends and neighbors, should leave their routine tasks and go to the church for private prayer and devotion on the day the invasion is announced.

Mr. Deckenbach speaking Sunday morning at service, said in part:

"Let us not wait and hope and fear and do nothing, but rather to the forces of evil which have been let loose these four and a half years upon humanity, shall come, let a great spontaneous prayer come forth out of the hearts of the men and women of good will, all over the nation."

"Let us rise up with heads high and with courage in our hearts and offer our lives also to our God that our boys this time will not die in vain."

"Let us pray to God that He will receive our pledge and speed the victory which is sure."

On the day when the news breaks that the invasion is on, there will be a service of prayer in the parish house at 8 p.m., the rector announced.

NOT DISTURBED BY ASSAULT-BATTERY

Stephens Street Man Calls 60-Day Term "Vacation," Decision Tomorrow

Because he believed that a two-year probation period would not help him, William Powell of 158 Stephens street nearly drew a 60-day term in prison Friday morning.

Recorder Smith will render his decision tomorrow on the charges of assault and battery brought by Powell's wife.

Mrs. Powell testified in court Friday that her husband came home from a tavern "pretty drunk" May 7, awakened her and started beating her. The next morning he "couldn't remember" anything.

She was unable to report for work after the alleged beating, she asserted, claiming that the same thing had happened before. The Powells have one child.

Smith imposed a suspended 60-day sentence and put Powell on probation for two years, expressing the hope that he "would be able to straighten out" his home life in the meantime.

"Nothing can straighten me out," Powell replied.

"Then I'll revoke the suspension and let you serve the sixty days," the Judge said.

"That's OK with me," Powell retorted, "I need a vacation anyway."

Smith reserved decision pending an investigation of the Powell's home conditions by Probation Officer John Coyle.

NUTLEY MAN FINED BY JUDGE SMITH

Careless Driving Conviction Costs $18; Others Fined For Speeding, Building

Speeding through a dangerous intersection at 50 mph is more than just speeding, it is careless driving. That was the decision of Recorder Smith Friday morning as he fined John E. Gombos of 293 Chestnut street, Nutley.

Gombos was convicted of speeding along Franklin avenue and through the intersection at Jerome street April 25. He was fined $15 and paid $3 costs.

His attorney, James Piro of Nutley, argued in defense that the Gombos car was in a Nutley garage at the time of the violation.

Garage records, however, showed that the car entered the garage the same day as the charge and Smith asserted that there was no evidence to indicate what time of the day it was taken in.

Lieut. Kenneth Smith and Patrolman Donald Smith testified that they had traced the Gombos car through the license number which they took and that they also recognized Gombos as the driver.

John W. Hoffman of 316, Claremont avenue, Montclair, drew a similar fine when he pleaded guilty to speeding at 58 mph on Main street May 2.

A $10 fine for building a garage without a permit at 41 Watessing avenue was meted out to Thomas Mignone of 64 Wallace street. Building Inspector O'Connor told Judge Smith the garage now is virtually complete.

Bormann Appointed; Commission Votes Buckley Death Regrets

The appointment of Albert H. Bormann of 45 Mertz avenue to the Zoning Board of Adjustment was announced Tuesday by Commissioner Mertz. He fills the vacancy caused by the recent death of Alva A. Buckley.

The Commission Tuesday night passed a resolution of regret over the death of Mr. Buckley. "A great loss because of the death of this gentlemanly, highly inspired, civic-minded citizen."

The resolution, a copy of which will be sent to Mr. Buckley's widow, declared that he had "contributed much to the progress of the town" and cited his work in building and loans, Boy Scouts and churches.

Cemetery Service

The next stop will be the cemetery in the rear of Christ Episcopal church where Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach will make an address.

After leaving the cemetery the parade will continue to Veterans' hall on Belleville avenue where exercises will be held.

Rev. John A. Struyk will speak at services at Belleville Reformed church at Main and Rutgers streets.

The affair will conclude about 11 at Belleville bridge when the Vreeland Relief Corps of the GAR conducts its annual ceremony of lowering into the Passaic river a boat of flowers in memory of those who have been buried at sea.

Serving on the committee in charge of arrangements besides Laubach and Doherty are Richard Shander, Michael H. Calabrese, Angelo Barbarosso, Joseph Colucci, Michael D'Acunti, Alfonso De Lea and Louis Prospero.

At the beginning of the ceremony at town hall, Frank Zarro Jr. of Bloomfield will present a set of colors to the newly formed Tri-City Post 299 of the American Legion.

Tri-City members of the Memorial day committee are Commander Michael H. Calabrese, Angelo Barbarosso, Joseph Colucci, Michael D'Acunti, Alfonso De Lea and Louis Prospero.

Five Men Injured In Crash At Joralemon And Cortlandt

Two men are in St. Mary's hospital, Passaic, and three others required medical attention following an accident Tuesday night in which a station wagon and a truck collided at Cortlandt and Joralemon streets.

Treated by Dr. Martin M. Meenan were Otto Brunich of 68 Rossmore place, this town, Charles P. Kelly of 481 Williams street, East Orange, and George Hargrove of 58 Rutgers street, Newark.

Your Social Security Card

Shields Advises Youngsters Working This Summer For First Time On Use And Care Of Card

With many high school pupils and other persons, who will be employed in summer jobs this season, applying for social security account number cards, John R. Shields, manager of the Social Security Board office at Newark, today issued a statement of advice on the use and care of the card.

He advised new workers to apply for social security cards only if "you go to work on a job that is covered by the Social Security act—a job in a store, office, factory, hotel, filling station, telephone company, or other business or industry."

Persons who should not apply for a card are those working on farms, in private homes, in any non-profit religious, charitable or educational organization, or for any city, county, state or federal government. These jobs are not covered by the Social act.

"Your social security card has your number on it; no other person's card has the same number. Report your number to your employer, to every employer, part time or full time, provided it is a job covered by the Social Security act," Shields advises new workers.

"You will need it whenever you take a job covered by the Social Security act. You will need it when you file a claim for monthly payments. Keep it in a safe place. As a precautionary measure, take off the lower half or stub and put it some place where you can always find it.

"If you should lose your card, take or send the stub to any field office and get a duplicate card. Don't get a new number. Make sure you get the same number. One number lasts a lifetime," he pointed out.

brace of runs in the first and third and one in the fifth and seventh innings. Belleville crossed the plate with their only run in the second inning.

The first man up, John DeMunter, grounded out. Frank Marra went to first base on interference from the catcher. As Frank Takash was up at bat Marra went to second on a wild pitch and to third when Takash grounded out.

Joe Costella banged out the first hit for Belleville off the Bloomfield pitcher, Don Uehlein, a solid single out to center field to bring in the only Belleville run.

Jack Meier and Pat Racioppi walked to fill the bases. That was the end of the Bloomfield pitcher as he was taken out by Foley and substituted for by Jim Stewart.

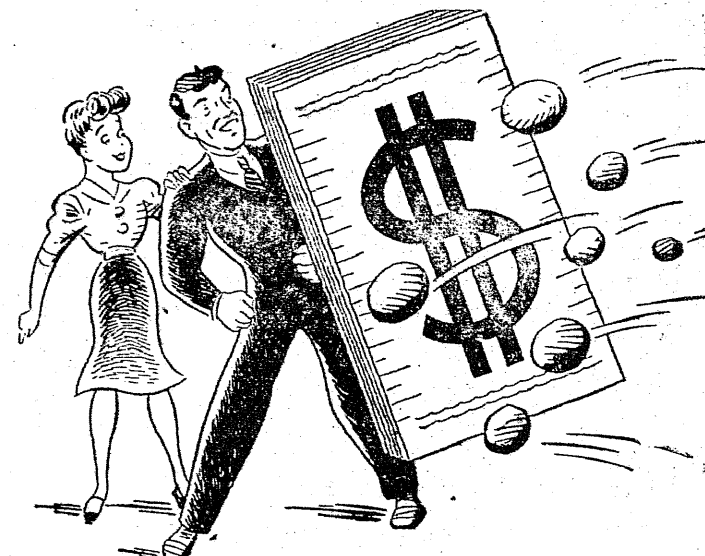

Stewart fanned Pasquariello to end the Belleville threat. The next game will be May 27 when Belleville meets St. Mary's at Rutherford.

Jeanne Frazier, Rutgers Grad, To Teach In Livingston

Miss Jeanne Frazier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion R. Frazier of 7 Bremond street, was graduated Saturday from the physical education course at Panzer college.

Wanted! Men and Women Who Are Hard of Hearing

To make this simple, no risk hearing test. If you are temporarily deafened, bothered by ringing buzzing head noises due to hardening or congealed wax (cerumen), try the Ourine Home Method test that so many say has enabled them to hear well again. You must hear better after making this simple test or you get your money back at once. Ask about Ourine Ear Drops today at Read's and drug stores everywhere.

She has been engaged to teach physical education in Livingston's elementary schools next year. She is a '41 alumna of Belleville high school.

She and the 14 other graduates heard former Governor Edison plead for improved conditions in the teaching profession "if we are to look forward to an intelligent democracy."

"Decent salaries, a reasonable expectation of promotions and increases in pay and real security of tenure for teachers must underlie any postwar plans we may contemplate," Edison asserted.

High School Inaugurates Chapter Of Honor Society

We Have With Us Today

We have with us today that tall blonde fellow with the first "butch" he ever had, president of the junior class, John Van Volkom. After graduation he plans to attend Pratt Institute in Brooklyn and, being especially interested in plastics and chemistry, he hopes to major in that field.

One of Johnny's favorite topics of conversation is flying. Before the war he was taking flying lessons over in Long Island, but when the war began and private flying was banned he had to stop. The first time up he encountered a rather ticklish experience. The engine stalled and he was forced to land in a swamp.

Johnny collects girls pictures as one of his hobbies and loves to read books about pirates and buried treasure. His interest lies in traveling, of which he hopes to do quite a bit someday. He seems to be the outdoor type as he likes boating, hunting, swimming, and fishing, with baseball being a favorite school sport. He doesn't like work, preferring to eat and sleep.

He thinks Frank Sinatra is a pretty swell fellow. When it comes to bands his choices center on Cab Calloway, Charlie Barnet and Artie Shaw.

He claims he hasn't any secret ambition, although sometimes he admits that he might like to get into politics.

When the committee for the B-Hive was chosen Johnny was elected unanimously as Vice-President and has contributed a great deal indeed toward the progress of this organization.

This year's Junior Prom is the first Prom Johnny's going to and he is almost certain it will be a great success.

Nationals Win From Blue Jays In 10-7 Tilt At Stadium

Pushing three runs across the plate in the tenth inning, the Belleville Nationals swept their second win in three starts, as they defeated the Silver Lake Blue Jays 10-7. The game was played Sunday at Municipal Stadium.

The lead changed hands four times before the Nats put together three singles, coupled with two Jay miscues, to break up the game.

The Jays were in quest of their second straight win, and up until the sixth had the Nats handcuffed by a 4-0 count. At this point the Nats rallied and sent three runs across and then in the seventh went out in front 6-4 only to have the Jays come back and tie it at six all.

Johnny Marshall, starting his first game for the Nats, pitched six hit ball and was troubled by two fielding lapses by his mates. On the offensive side for the winners, Richmond and Lanno excelled, while for the Jays, Giambrone and Del Tufo each banged out two safeties.

This Sunday the Nats will attempt to avenge their only loss when they tangle with the Nutley Crusaders at Municipal Stadium.

Hilltops, Blue Jays Whitewash Foes In Softball Openers

Two shutouts last weeks gave the Hilltops and the Blue Jays early leads in the curtain-raisers of the Recreation department's Intermediate Softball league at Belleville Park.

De Filippo, Tortorella and the Ciaccia brothers each hammered out three hits for the Hilltops while Pasquariello was holding the Rams in check to score an 15-0 victory on Thursday.

Lewis limited the Braves to five hits as the Blue Jays hammered out a 7-0 triumph Monday. Janzer banged out a trio of safeties to lead the Blue Jay attack.

National Honor Society Pledge

I pledge myself to uphold the high purposes of the National Honor Society to which I have been elected; I will be true to the principles for which it stands; I will be loyal at all times to my school; and will maintain and encourage high standards of scholarship, character, leadership and service.

Study Hall Chatter

Horseshoe Champ—Dot Johnson; ask Dot Squire who knows. . . Congratulations to the National Honor Society members. . . Skippy Clancy, why the file clerk? In Hawaii now are Zeke Henderson, Mike Lescaore and Bill Paxton. Enjoying the sun, boys? Watch for Margie Evangelista ('43) in the Cadet Nurse Uniform! Mary Buist added to the payroll at American Tag Company!

You should see Betty Fried do the push-up exercises. It's a tie between Dot Gruelich and Betty for champ. . . Rita Ferguson ('43), the little Commando. . . Pete Koustas better not leave his diary around for study halls to read!

No "B-Hive" session Friday night, because of the Junior Prom. Incidentally, it looks as if the Prom will be a terrific success!

The "Rosalinda Cottage" will be invaded by the M. G. G.'s this weekend. Henry Miller entertaining two members of the Free French Navy last week. Nice too.

All will never leave Dramatics. . . Nancy Lou Harsell, where or where did you get that lovely accent, as if we didn't know. . . Kay Schneider finally paid up. . . Vin Giambrone has reservations. . . Tony Flynn doesn't like canoeing but you should see him swim.

Holmes street was certainly crowded Friday night. Is that an engagement ring, Calleen Garry? . . . Ray MacPherson going to gunnery school.

Pedestrians, beware! Don Rochlin got his driver's license. . . The Woodside Diner and Child's will be crowded Saturday morning. . . Who's that sailor Patty White and "Didi" Wall were at the "B-Hive" with? . . .

National Honor Group Taps Eighteen Members Myterious Ceremony Impresses Students; New Organization Includes School Leaders

It was a tense and somewhat bewildered group of students who gathered in the assembly Friday morning to witness a special ceremony. The subject of the assembly was something they had all heard snatches about here and there, and yet something which they did not completely understand. Honor Society—tapping ceremony—character—leadership—nationwide—3,000 chapters. What did it all mean? How did it fit together? Well, this was the crossroads; at last they would be able to find out. And the 1,400 students of Belleville High sat very still and waited.

First there was an address by Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach explaining the history, ideals and aims of the National Honor Society. It was very informative and suddenly the haze began to lift from our vague mental picture. Here was something clear and concrete; an organization with a purpose. Not for geniuses or the scholastically-minded only—but for people who actually went out and did things. After this there were brief addresses by Mr. Farmer and Mr. Johnson, expounding the subject still further.

Then Mrs. Emick of the faculty introduced a member of the National Honor Society, who is a senior in our high school at the present time. He is Edward Epting, a transfer pupil from Du Pont Manual Training high school in Louisville, Ky.

Before we knew it, the tapping ceremony had begun, and we were all very attentive while wondering exactly who would be tapped?

Two maroon-robed figures, Helen Kohne and Charles Pantridge, were circulating through the audience with impressive looking slips of white paper in their hands.

In this row and out that one; cut across half a row and then go back and start on the one in front of it. All very mysterious, all very irregular, and yet it had a certain fascination about it that seemed to blend right in with our needs.

All of a sudden we perceived a boy being led up to the platform by one of the robbed figures. It was George Reif, the first to be tapped! And so it began.

Before the morning was over, there were 17 other students, seated beside George on the platform.

Catherine Anderson is this year's valedictorian. She is a graduate of Joramelon school and is active in the Schools-at-War program, the French club and the Junior Red Cross.

Muriel Atkins, junior, is now hard at work on the Junior Prom decoration committee. Muriel is also functioning with the Schools-at-War Program, and is very fond of music.

Betty Cooke is student director of the senior play and of the Schools-at-War program. Betty also hails from Joramelon school and is very fond of horseback riding.

Doris Dickenson, our snappy cheerleader, is active on our Youth Center, Riding club and French club. She is also on the Traffic committee and is another delegate from Joramelon school.

The concert mistress of our Orchestra, Phyllis Di Sturco, is the president of our senior class. Phyllis came from Passaic school and is a member of the International Artist's society.

Emma Donofrio, the editorial editor of High-Lights, is also the business manager of the Monad, and just loves to dance. She is from Union avenue school.

Edward Epting, our former member, graduated from Carver junior high school in Nashville. Ed is active in making our Youth Center a success, is the photography editor of the Monad and plays with the orchestra, the band and the Bandettes.

Berta Hermann, a very busy senior, hails from Joramelon school. She is the editor-in-chief of the Monad, the president of the French club, Glee club accompanist and a member of the International Artist's society.

Ruth Hodes, the feature editor of High-Lights, is a graduate of Ridge street school in Newark and is the student director of the Junior Red Cross chapter. She is a member of the Riding club, French club and serves on the assembly committee. She is also a Glee club accompanist.

Orioles Swamp Nutley Nine 18-2, Avazier Allows Only One Hit

The Belleville Orioles swamped the Nutley Crusaders 18-2 Sunday at Kidde Field. The victory, second in three games for the Orioles, avenged an earlier defeat inflicted on them by the losers.

Gus Avazier, winning his first decision or the year, limited the Crusaders to one infield single and fanned nine along the way. The Orioles were paced at bat by Takash, Cerami and Costello.

COOGAN & MAYER, Inc.
A Complete Real Estate
Organization

Many folks are under the impression that it is very difficult or impossible to secure a good sound home at good sound value. This office is experiencing no great difficulty in securing homes for sale in good sections at fair marketable prices.

One of the reasons our office has effected such a large number of sales, and quick sales, is that we choose the best available homes for sale, appraise them for selling price at a fair value, fair to the purchaser and fair to the seller.

Another reason for our numerous and prompt sales is that we do maintain "a complete real estate organization," capable, experienced, active. Following are a few of many homes offered for sale through this agency. View the following properties but PLEASE DO NOT DISTURB TENANT OR OWNERS. Inspection of the properties you might be interested in may be made by appointment through this office.

$9,500—26 Lincoln terrace; a splendid two-family, 5 rooms, bath on each floor.

$9,500—27 Melweg street; all brick, 5 rooms plus 3 partly finished on second floor.

$9,000—37 Van Houten place; two-family, steam, oil, 4 rooms each floor, garage.

$8,500—502 Union avenue; English type, 7 rooms, sun parlor, 2-car garage.

$8,500—75 Belmoor street; quality in this 6-room dwelling, 2-car garage.

$7,500—208 Greylock parkway; 6 rooms, bath, garage, open porch, 37x100.

$6,200—348 Stephens street; 6 rooms, steam heat, coal, garage, 37x147.

$5,900—56 Cleveland street; 6 spacious rooms, open porch, 3-car detached garage.

$5,700—8 Bell street; 6 rooms with front porch, 2-car garage.

$5,200—161 New street; 7 rooms including 4 good-sized bedrooms, open porch, 60x130.

$3,500—57 Cortlandt street; 10-room home, 4 bedrooms, fine American type.

$3,000—122 Newark avenue; 5-room bungalow, tile bath, sun porch.

Our service absorbs the responsibilities and worries of your real estate transactions. We arrange all details; we arrange suitable terms and secure required mortgage; we see that you have adequate insurance to safeguard your home ownership. We attend to your transaction from start to conclusion.

The volume of business that has been negotiated through our agency since our organization March 1, a period of less than three months, has been most gratifying to us. We do appreciate the confidence of buyers and sellers of Belleville real estate in choosing this agency to handle their real estate matters.

It is quite safe to say — and we are justly proud of the fact — that in less than three months our office has come to be recognized as, at least, one of Belleville's most active real estate and insurance agencies.

Labor Out Of Hand Hurts War Effort

Thousands of foremen in Detroit have tied up war production there for days. Tuesday a work stoppage at the Newark airport (because a timekeeper was fired) halted the shipment of planes to the fighting fronts. In Kearny 150 supervisors reported themselves "sick" and failed to appear for work in the vital shipyards there. All over the country the wave of strikes is growing, growing, growing. What is the reason? Why should so many thousands of supposedly patriotic Americans prove themselves to be traitors to the cause of American democracy and freedom? What strange psychology has led thousands of parents to lay down their tools and thus cast aside all thought of the safety of their boys who are risking their lives against the enemy?

Eric Johnston, level-headed chairman of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, put his finger on the inevitable conclusion several weeks ago when he declared that labor today is making the same mistakes that management made during the 1920s, mistakes which caused management to "take one of the severest beatings any group of Americans has ever had to take." Labor began to feel its strength finally ten years ago. The AFL had muddled along for years, secure in the knowledge that it was the only labor organization worthy of the name in the U. S. Then along came the CIO and labor wars. Not since that anarchical body was born has there been peace, either between labor and management or within labor ranks themselves.

The CIO has been a troublemaker from the beginning, yet thousands of persons have been sucked into it. They have been made to understand that, unless they joined, their jobs would not be worth a plug nickel. From the beginning, as soon as CIO felt itself strong enough in a plant, a strike has been called merely to show its power, to indicate the size of the club it carried. The morally irresponsible CIO leaders cared nothing for the human distress they caused; power was the thing, and with power went money — money primarily for leaders' pockets. Not even the horrors of Pearl Harbor, not the sight of good American blood staining the sands of Anzio and Tarawa, not the look in the eyes of the prisoners of Bataan, not the lengthening casualty lists have been enough to deter the leaders from their strikes-for-power. With perfectly straight faces they made their no-strike pledge for the duration, all the time plotting how to break it. It is time they were called to justice for their treason.

The CIO is now so powerful it can tell the War department, the NLRB and the WLB what to do. On Tuesday it was reported that the CIO had forced the War department to bring pressure on the NLRB to withdraw a ruling which would have granted management an equal right with the union to call for an election among its employees to determine the bargaining agent. In effect the CIO has ruled for the nation that it alone has the right to regulate employment in the United States. Time and again the CIO has flaunted the authority of the United States and gotten away with it. That is dictatorship in its rawest form. Obviously the administration in Washington has neither the inclination nor the courage to regulate such Frankenstein monsters as the CIO. For a decade the Roosevelt regime — at first with much justification — has coddled and petted labor; now in the form of such organizations as the CIO the child has grown into an ogre which dictates the parent's movements and thoughts. The longer it is permitted to do so the stronger and uglier it will become.

Junior Red Cross Does Quiet Job Of Mercy

Tuesday afternoon the Junior Red Cross held its semi-annual meeting in order that reports of the year's activities might be rendered. And the reports that were read indicated that JRC has been far from inactive during the year. Utility bags, hospital equipment, blankets, gift boxes, menu cards, all sorts of things were made in large numbers for presentation to members of the armed forces, to wounded veterans and to hospital shut-ins.

Junior Red Cross is cut out of the same pattern as its bigger sister and has the same quality of mercy running through its every endeavor. Its cardinal principle is the helping hand, the caressing hand extended to soothe and not to strike. Here

Blood Is Needed On The Fighting Fronts

Only three weeks remain before the people of Belleville will be given another opportunity, their first in five months, to contribute to the Red Cross blood bank. Present indications are that, unless there is a surge of registrations between now and June 17, Belleville will again fail to fill its hoped-for goal of 180 pints of life-giving plasma for our fighting men who are bleeding and dying in foreign lands.

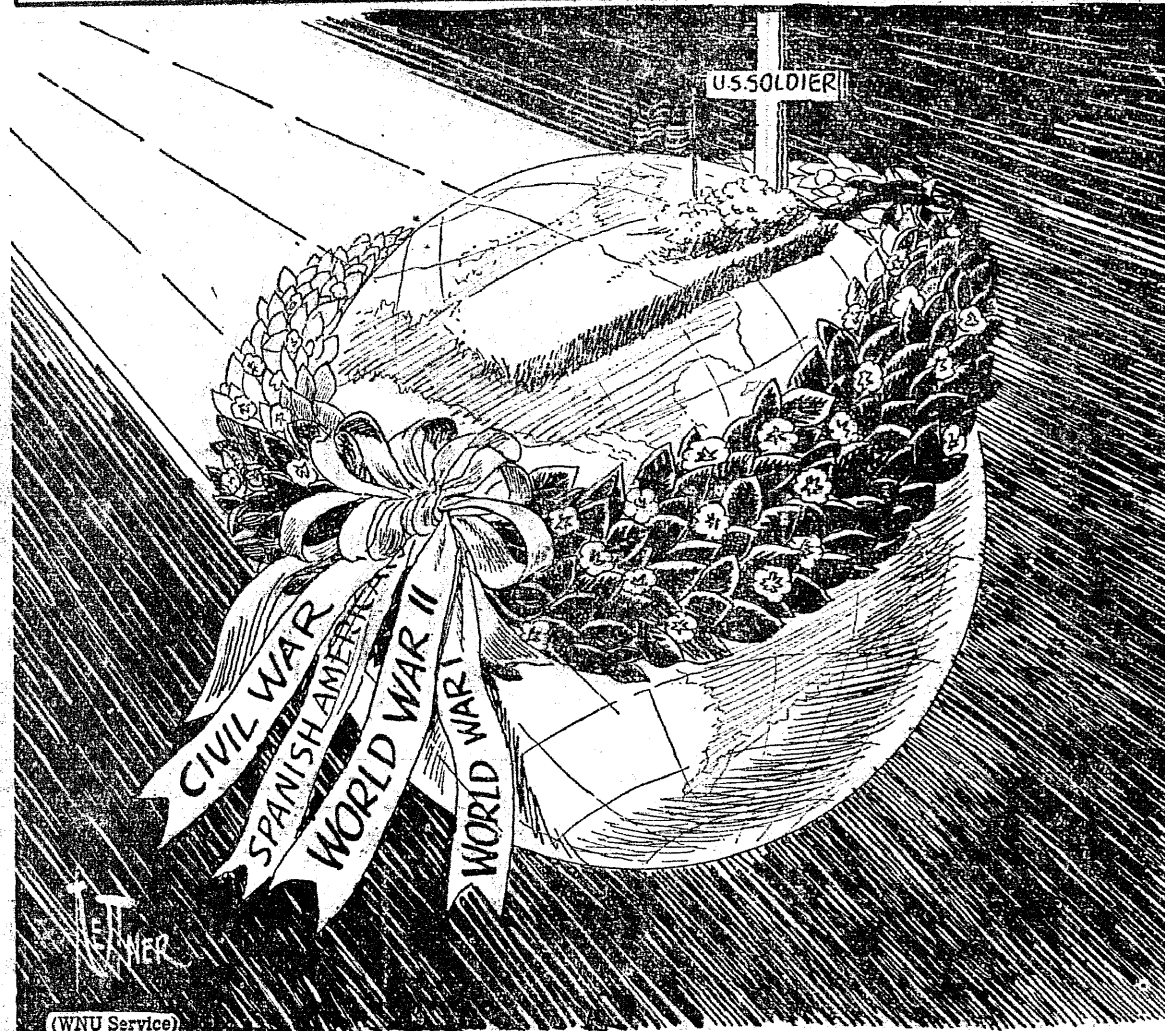

There are several thousands persons over 21 in Belleville who are not working in industries which sponsor their own blood banks. Therefore the only opportunity these people have of helping the cause is when the Red Cross mobile unit comes to the town for the general public — only two or three times a year. Yet out of all these thousands of possible donors, the town has never yet reached its goal. The principal reason is that the available and prospective contributors have "just never gotten around to it." That is hardly a worthy excuse in these times.

Doctors and surgeons have rated the discovery and use of blood plasma as one of the greatest, if not the greatest, medical discovery of our generation. To it they attribute the remarkably low percentage of fatalities among those wounded on the battlefield where formerly a wound which caused loss of blood more often than not was fatal. Remembering this, who among us at home would refuse a pint of our blood to save the life of a soldier or sailor fighting afar off for us?

Registrations are being accepted daily at Red Cross headquarters at 258 Washington avenue (telephone Belleville 2-2378). It is hoped and expected that the flood of donors for the June blood bank will swamp the facilities of the unit to the utmost.

The Whys And Wherefores Of Municipal Planning

Facilities for recreation must include not only one big park—generally hard to reach from many neighborhoods—but facilities easily available to all the dwellings of the city. These include playgrounds for children and recreation areas for adults.

America, the richest country in the world, has some of the ugliest cities. Our best looking communities are those in which each building considers its neighbors. Planning will give our skilled architects the chance to create fine looking buildings, fine looking streets and fine looking towns.

The health of a city is intimately tied to its plan. Slums are the most serious menace to community health; but any kind of overcrowding is bad, whether people live or work under congested conditions.

Few communities have enough light and air. This involves not only space between buildings, but the design of the buildings themselves.

Noise is another threat against health. Experts know how to reduce it. Smoke is unhealthy and can be eliminated.

An unbelievable number of places lack decent water and decent sewerage disposal. Does it surprise and shock you to know that 49.2 percent of all houses in the U. S. are badly in need of repair and that an even higher percentage have no inside toilets?

Scarcely any community has enough hospitals and clinics for properly caring for its sick and injured. But the real answer to community health lies not in curing sickness but in preventing it. Make it easy for people to live healthier lives—open up the city to sun and good air, provide recreational facilities for adults as well as children, make streets and roads safe against accidents and outlaw overcrowding.

Cities For Civilized Americans. You do not have to be an expert to know the difference between a beautiful city and an ugly one.

Americans have gone abroad by the millions and have marveled at the boulevards of Paris and the splendid parks inside the city, at the wonderful squares of Rome with their fountains and surrounding fine buildings.

Here tourists make pilgrimages to rebuilt Williamsburg and the villages of New England. Of course, these towns are not planned for today, but their beauty and quiet order pleases everyone.

When any city has done particularly fine civic planning, all of the inhabitants are quite aware of it and proud of the results.

People know good things when they see them. But no one has seen a city really designed for living properly in the Twentieth century. What world such a town be like?

This town, let us say, is a community of 30,000 people, located anywhere. Approaching our imaginary city on an express highway, we notice that the highway no longer goes through the town but skirts it.

It is banked by trees instead of billboards, dilapidated hot dog stands and the usual junk that clutters up most of our roads.

From the parkway there is a turnoff which leads directly, without the interruption of cross traffic, into landscaped parking spaces which surround the business center.

Leaving our car, we proceed to a covered sidewalk which leads directly into Main street. Unlike other Main streets, there are no cars on it.

In place of the old pavement and trolley tracks there are long stretches of lawn, paved walks, benches, fountains, flowerbeds and trees. Our new Main street is for pedestrians only.

Can Happen Here

This kind of a Main street could be created right in our town. To get it, it would not be necessary to tear down all of the existing buildings or even many of them.

By eliminating dilapidated structures that have outlived their usefulness, clearing out the ring of commercial blight which surrounds the business district of most towns, and taking advantage of existing open spaces, plenty of land can be found for the parks and parking spaces needed.

And all of this could be done gradually, as conditions permit. None of the buildings are particularly large or high, nor are all alike. But the riot of signs is gone, and the individually designed shops are planned so that each harmonizes with the other.

All Main street shops are double faced, one side facing the street itself, the other facing the parking areas.

Along each row of shops are arcades which keep the sun off the show windows and provide shelter for shoppers and office workers. Here and there is an outdoor cafe and restaurant.

What were once side streets have become small squares where people can move about quietly and with complete comfort.

Business Section

The best place to see the business section of our imaginary town would be from the top of its tallest office building, which has perhaps 10 or 12 stories.

From the roof terrace we can see down to Main street and side streets, where pedestrians stroll unworried by automobiles. We see that no building shut out the light and air of its neighbors, we see the large parking areas, from which it is easy to get to the shops, theatres and offices.

Around the parking areas is a belt of lawn and trees and beyond this the road which circles the entire center. This small green belt is a relaxation area. Here businessmen and workers can meet their families and friends, relax, chat and dine.

Outside the ring of commercial and recreational activity are the homes, which are surrounded by their own little greenbelts with the playgrounds, schools and other community facilities.

Streets within these residential areas are for local traffic only and they are supplemented by pedestrian walkways. Where these walks meet one of the streets they either go over or under. There are no crossings at grade levels. A child could safely be left to play as he pleases within one of these neighborhoods.

The neighborhood shopping center is a miniature of Main street. It too has its surrounding parking space. The shops cluster around a small plaza.

Here we also find the church, the fire station, high school, community building and other services.

The fifth and concluding installment of this series (from "Planning With You," reprinted with permission of The Architectural Forum) will appear next week. It will finish painting the picture of a city for civilized Americans and will tell us what we can do to attain it.—Editor.

First Lessons in Freezing

"Well, when the war is over..." we keep saying, and then we go on to visions—some of them perhaps a bit fantastic—of a brand new era of improved living conditions.

One thing we can count on, however, is an upswing in facilities for the quick-freezing of fruits and vegetables, either at home or in locker plants.

Quick-freezing is easier than canning, it preserves more of the original, fresh flavor of foods, and it retains more of their nutritive values. Undoubtedly it will gradually take its place as one of the most popular methods for preserving fruits and vegetables.

If you live near a locker plant, or if you have your own quick-freezing cabinet, you may wish to freeze some of the vegetables from your own garden this summer. Here are a few pointers to help you, if you have had no previous experience.

First, choose only prime quality fruits and vegetables for quick-freezing. Freezing will not improve the quality of poor food, so be sure to start right—with food of high quality.

Freeze Quickly

Next, quick-freeze the food as soon as possible after it is picked. An ideal way is to harvest it in the early morning and have it frozen before noon. If for any reason it is necessary to hold the food over for a longer time, keep it in the refrigerator.

Vegetables must be heated (blanched) before they are frozen. After you have cleaned them thoroughly and cut off any inedible portions, here's the way to proceed with the blanching:

Place the food in a wire basket or in a square of cheesecloth and immerse it in a kettle holding 8 to 10 quarts of boiling water for every pound of food.

The heat under the kettle should be high enough to bring the water back to boiling within a minute after the food has been immersed. The blanching period varies from 2 to 5 minutes.

A time chart for the freezing method is available free of charge at your County Extension Service office.

After blanching it, remove the vegetable immediately and plunge it into large container of ice water or very cold water until the food is thoroughly chilled. Now it should be drained, packed in a container, and frozen as quickly as possible.

Better With Sugar

Most fruits do not require blanching before being quick-frozen. But fruit retains its flavor, shape and color better if it is packed with sugar or with syrup.

Follow the specific instructions for whatever fruit you are freezing. There's an Extension Service bulletin giving free directions. All these prepared foods must be sealed in moisture-vapor-proof containers. Rectangular cardboard boxes lined with a cellophane bag which can be sealed seem to be proving most satisfactory. These containers can be purchased at some locker plants, farm supply stores, and commercial paper companies.

If you live in a vicinity where there is a locker plant, you may be able to arrange with the plant to have your fruits, vegetables, and meats prepared and quick-frozen right at the plant.

If not, do the cleaning, blanching and packaging at home, and then rush the packed containers to the locker plant for quick-freezing.

Plan to quick-freeze at least part of your fruits and vegetables this summer if you have access to the necessary facilities, and look forward to the post-war era, when more and more equipment and facilities for this type of food conservation will most surely be available.

Pvt. Robert Valentino's Heroic Mural At Camp Campbell Wins Critics' Plaudits

Receiving the plaudits of admiring crowds in the main recreation room in the service club at Camp Campbell, Ky., is the huge mural recently completed by Pvt. Robert Valentino, son of Mrs. Cleverline Valentino of 37 Hill street.

The heroic and ambitious mural, executed from an original Valentino plan and design, is entitled "Let Us Be Trained and Depicts the transition of Joe Civvie to today's fighting G. I. Joe."

It is rendered in tempera on composition board and measures 42 feet in length and 18 feet in height in the middle, tapering to eight-foot sides.

The drama of the mural depicts the coming-of-age of American youth in national crisis; the exodus of farmer, student, clerk and professional man from the rural routes, main streets and Broadway of the American scene to the induction centers of the land.

Interlocking figures convey the sweep of modern military training, the evolution of the personality of the fighting man, the metamorphosis from civilian to soldier.

"It is a deeply sincere piece of work, realistic, and totally devoid of photographic set," rhapsodized Retreat-to-Taps, official newspaper of Camp Campbell.

Successful Matching

"Pvt. Valentino has successfully matched color with action, blending his line to the gradual transition of collective personality, thus avoiding an over-all rigidity of pattern, a common fault in mural decoration."

Valentino is a product of the long-outstanding high school art department instructed by P. Webster Diehl. A native of Belleville, he lived here all his life before entering the Army 15 months ago.

Two years ago his oil painting of Bob Fogarty, a fellow student at the high school, won him top awards in the state scholastic art competition. The canvas was also runner-up for best-of-show honors.

Valentino was a scholarship student at the Central Park Institute of Art in New York before induction. He plans a one-man show at Camp Campbell in the near future.

Canning Clinic To Be Held Here Next Wednesday

Mrs. Gertrude Morrison To Conduct One-Day Confab In Woman's Club

A canning clinic will be held Wednesday at the Woman's club, 51 Rossmore place. Mrs. Gertrude Morrison, district food conservation supervisor, will point out the main cause of failures in canning and show how to make the 1944 canning program a success.

The meeting has been planned by Mrs. Thomas Jackrell of 12 Campbell avenue, canning chairman of War Services Division of O. C. D. and one of Belleville's representatives of the extension council.

Many failures in canning can be traced to poor equipment and to incorrect use of good equipment. Mrs. Morrison will show how to operate, care for and to properly clean all types of pressure canners.

It is important that all pressure gauges should be tested each year. This is often neglected and may play a big part in successful canning. Dial and pencil type gauges will be tested for accuracy from 1:00 to 2:00 p.m. Homemakers are asked to leave the gauge on the lid of the canner and to label it with their name and address.

Woman's Club Garden Party To Include Games, Cards

Belleville Woman's club members and friends have been invited to share a garden party next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Dwight N. Streeter, 151 Joralemon street.

They have been asked by the ways and means committee, of which Mrs. William Chapman is chairman, to bring box lunches. Mrs. Norman Lauterette heads the hospital committee which will furnish hot and iced tea.

Games and entertainment will be provided. Those who wish to play cards are asked to telephone reservations to Mrs. Elmer Bag-nall at BE. 2-3418 or Mrs. Chapman at BE. 2-3305-J.

YOUR VICTORY GARDEN

By Dr. Charles H. Connors
College of Agriculture Rutgers University

Care Of The Garden

By now all of the early planting will have been finished in most gardens. Even though the spring was wet and late and summer seemed to break right out of winter, the season is now about normal.

One job that must not be neglected is cultivating, and if performed properly cannot be overdone, except at the expense of your back and arms. At least once a week when the weather is fair, the soil should be cultivated. Again, as soon after a rain as the soil can be worked, the soil should be gone over. Do not cultivate when the soil sticks to whatever tool you are using, whether it be a rake, a hoe, a scuff hoe or a cultivator.

The purposes of cultivating have been mentioned in former articles, but they will bear repeating. First is weed killing.

If the weeds are killed just as the seeds are germinating or the seedlings are appearing above the ground, they can do no harm to the garden; and certainly this will not be as much work as pulling the weeds after they have reached some size.

Secondly, cultivation breaks up any crust that may tend to form on the surface. Thirdly, by breaking up the crust, air can enter and gases from the rotting of organic matter and given off by the plant roots can escape from the soil.

Also, if the surface soil is loose, rain water can penetrate more easily.

In cultivating, do not go too deep. Usually a depth of one inch will stir the soil sufficiently. If you go deeper than that, close to the plants, you are apt to kill roots that are near the surface and in that way do harm to your crops.

Excess Plants

As soon as a crop from seed becomes large enough to handle, be sure to thin out the excess plants so those that remain will have proper space to develop. Spacing distances are given in the New Jersey Victory Garden Manual.

If you do not have a copy, get one from your local Victory Garden chairman or send a request on a post card to the College of Agriculture, New Brunswick, N. J.

The operation of thinning may at the same time be the beginning of harvesting some of your crops. Radishes can be pulled and used as soon as the roots are one-half inch across. Pulling young ones gives more room for those that are left.

Onions from sets may be used as green onions when the bottoms of the stems are one-quarter inch in diameter.

As soon as the lettuce leaves become three or four inches long, the plants may be thinned out and the thinnings used for salads. Beet greens are relished by many persons, and you can start thinning the beets to use as greens as soon as the plant are two or three inches high.

Many persons thin beets to one inch apart and then make a later thinning to use as greens when the small beets are one-quarter to one-half inch in diameter.

Watch for Insects

Be on the alert for insects. Cutworms may still attack young plants, especially if you are gardening on land which was in sod last year. Poison bran bait is the best control.

Cabbage worm, flea-beetles and the Colorado potato beetle may now be at work. A rotenone dust is the best control for the cabbage worm, although you can conserve that scarce insecticide by using a calcium arsenate dust or spray in the early stages of infestation.

Calcium arsenate dust or spray will also control the flea-beetle and the potato beetle.

The Mexican bean beetle appears soon after beans come up, so be on the watch for this almost circular insect, about one-quarter of an inch in diameter, brownish in color with 16 black spots.

If you pick off the first adults, you will reduce the infestation a lot. Rotenone dust is the best control, coating the upper and lower surfaces of the leaves.

Peas appear about a month after this vegetable is planted. A nicotine spray is the best control and the applications must be thorough and frequent.

This year especially, when planting was delayed, peas will have a hard enough time to mature in hot weather without competition from this serious insect pest.

Watch the vines closely and get the control on as soon as you see only a few of the insects. They are little and green in color.

NEXT WEEK: Mulching the Garden.

Parent-Teacher Associations

Passaic Avenue School

Installation of Mrs. Edward Rochau as president of the Passaic PTA was held last week in the school auditorium at the final meeting of the season.

Mrs. Fred Austin took office as first vice-president; Mrs. Catherine Hardwick, principal, second vice-president and Mrs. Irene White, treasurer.

Mrs. Frederick Wiegmann and Mrs. Harry Raymond are recording and corresponding secretaries. Mrs. Louis Lempert is the retiring president. Harry T. French assistant scout executive of Robert Treat council addressed the group on the value of cubbing.

Eighth grade candidates for graduation, who attended in a body, were applauded and the program was concluded with community singing under the direction of Miss Eleanor Jewett and with the piano accompaniment of Miss Doris Maurer. Mothers of the fifth, sixth and seventh grade students provided refreshments.

Joralemon Street School

Mrs. John Eggenberger of Bloomfield, district vice-president of Parent-Teacher associations, installed officers of the Joralemon street school association last week afternoon when Mrs. Dwight N. Streeter took office as president.

A member of the organization for seven years, Mrs. Streeter has been secretary, vice-president and chairman of home room mothers. Other officers are: John Rudin and William F. Richards, principal, vice-presidents; Mrs. Charles Maise, secretary and Miss Margaret O'Neill, treasurer.

Mrs. Streeter, Mrs. Rudin, Mrs. Maise and Mrs. William Armstrong, retiring president, will attend the international conference of Parent-Teacher associations at the hotel Pennsylvania May 22, 23 and 24. Other members at large are expected to accompany them.

Mrs. Rudin reviewed Christopher Morley's "Thoroughfare" Tuesday evening and Mrs. Streeter showed colored films of the Streeter garden entitled "One Man's Garden."

Greylock School

Re-elected president of the Parent-Teacher association of Greylock school last fortnight was Mrs. Charles Speed. Taking office with her were Mrs. Fred King and Robert N. Hayes, school principal, vice-presidents; Mrs. Elmer Korn and Miss Mary Gailey, recording and corresponding secretaries and Mrs. John A. Matus, treasurer.

Parents also witnessed an extensive display of students' hobbies in the school auditorium. Upper classes displayed wood burning equipment, photographic materials and other hobby makings through the medium of a mock store tend-

S/Sgt. James P. Fitzpatrick

Yeoman 1/c John R. Topping

Returned the the states after 26 months in the Southwest Pacific war zone, S/Sgt. James P. Fitzpatrick has reported to the AAF redistribution station at Atlantic City.

A '36 alumnus of the high school, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Fitzpatrick of 82 Ligham street. In civilian life he was with the Moore Paint company of New York. He is 26.

Entering the Army two months before Pearl Harbor, he went overseas with the Fifth Army Air Force. His unit was the first to land in New Guinea and for that has received a presidential citation.

Two men who graduated last June from Belleville high school, inducted into the Army last April and are now rounding out their basic training course at Army Air Forces Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss. are Pvt. James Lavern Cole Jr. of 80 VanHousen place and Pvt. Robert Defuria of 30 Parkview avenue.

The men will shortly enter a period of maneuvers and will be assigned to further training when their aviation cadet status has been announced.

Pvt. Cole is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Cole. He studied chemical engineering at Upsala college before entering the Air Forces and practiced his lifelong hobby of model airplane construction.

Pvt. Defuria was with the American Tag company where he was learning the printing trade. He has a brother, Sgt. Ralph Defuria, in a field artillery unit at Fort Belvoir, Mass. The men are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Domonick Defuria.

T/Sgt. Anthony Zinna returned last week to Camp Atterbury, Ind. after a ten-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Zinna of 56 Cedar Hill avenue. He is serving as truck mechanic with an infantry headquarters company.

Sgt. Zinna was a student at Bloomfield Vocational school before he entered the Army 16 months ago. His brother, Pvt. Leonard Zinna, is stationed in Texarkana, Texas.

Pvt. John A. Distasio, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Constantino Distasio of 145 Garden avenue, has reported to Keesler Field Biloxi, Miss., to undergo tests to determine his qualifications as an Army pre-aviation cadet.

He attended Belleville high school but left last November to enlist. His brother, Warrant Officer Joseph Distasio, is stationed at Atlantic City.

Cpl. Robert Reeves serving with an AAF weather squadron somewhere in the Arctic circle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd R. Reeves of 84 Belmont street, writes that he recently had a three-day visit with Cpl. Robert Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Howard of 224 Overlook avenue. The meeting took place at Anchorage, Alaska.

Reeves entered service in January 1943. His basic training was at Miami Beach; he studied meteorology at Chantute Field, Ill. and served as a weather observer at the Avon Park bombing range, Florida.

In November he volunteered for Arctic service and was transferred to Buckley Field, Colo. for training. He also spent several weeks in the Rocky Mountains, besides a brief stay at Spokane, Salt Lake City and Seattle, before going overseas.

He graduated from Greylock school and Belleville high, class of '39. He was employed by the Driver-Harris company of Harrison before entering service.

Howard also graduated in 1939 from the high school and, before entering the Army nearly two years ago, was a civilian employee of the Army signal corps at Fort Monmouth. He has been overseas nine months.

Joseph D. Larkin, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Larkin of 253 New street, is now enrolled as an aviation cadet in the Army pre-flight school at Maxwell Field, Ala.

The Larkins moved to Belleville from Newark three years ago. The youth left St. Benedict's prep to enter the Army last August. His father was a lieutenant in the British Army in France in the last war.

Back to sea last week went seaman 1/c Walter L. Spinning, already a veteran of one torpedoing in the icy waters of the North Atlantic. He is the son of Mrs. Irene Spinning of 24 Agnes street.

Spinning, who attended Belleville high school, has been in the Coast Guard 16 months. On duty aboard a DE (destroyer escort) on his second trip to sea his convoy was attacked by three Nazi U-boats 600 miles southeast of Iceland.

After a short fight his DE was sunk and Spinning found himself in the numbing waters of the Atlantic. He and 20 other men scrambled onto a raft—only five hours before they were picked up.

All told over 170 men from the vessel were lost. Most died of exposure, not from actual wounding. Returned to the States, Spinning has just completed a 30-day leave.

At the San Antonio (Tex.) Army aviation cadet center, Robert J. Gallagher of 567 Washington avenue is in the pre-flight course. His wife and 15-month-old daughter reside at the Washington avenue address.

His brother, Pvt. John Miller of the Army, went overseas last month but his whereabouts are not known.

Pvt. Harry Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy of Newark, formerly of 48 Schuyler street, is with an Army signal corps unit in Britain.

Mr. and Mrs. William N. Bennett of 197 Linden avenue entertained last fortnight for Lt. (j.g.) and Mrs. Brainerd F. Swain, who returned recently from Great Lakes.

The Swains, who formerly reside here in Morris town, are the parents of new-born Andrew H. Swain. Mrs. Swain is the former Judith Hyde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer S. Hyde of 43 Rossmore place.

Among the guests were Army Lt. Andrew G. McMaster of 242 Washington avenue, Yeoman 3/c Alfred J. Walker of 133 Jorammon street, Mr. and Mrs. Casey DeLong of 39 Malone avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cooke of Arlington, Miss Vera Donahue of New York, Leslie Burnley of Nutley and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haffner of 448 Washington avenue.

Sgt. Russell F. Flynn has been promoted from the rank of corporal on the Anzio beachhead according to word received yesterday by his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Edward A. Flynn of 94 Van Housen place. Flynn is a member of a combat infantry unit. He left high school a year ago to join the Army and was trained at Camp McClellan, Ala. He went overseas in November.

15TH ARMY AIR FORCE — Sgt. John D. Ukson, an armorer in one oldest fighter squadrons overseas, was promoted to the rank of staff sergeant recently.

Ukson is the husband of the former Helen Ozupka of 65 Fairview place and enlisted in the Army November 4, 1940. He has been serving overseas for 22 months.

As an armorer on AAF P-38's, Ukson first served with his group in England. On D-day November, 1942, he landed under enemy fire with the oldest AAF fighter group on the beaches of North Africa.

A few days later, these men of the ground crew had the P-38's operating from their air base on escort missions with heavy bombers to Tunis and Bizerte.

The group has participated in every campaign in the Mediterranean theater, flying 900 missions and scoring 300 victories over enemy aircraft. During the Sicilian and Italian campaigns, they patrolled over the invading fleets and later strafed and fighter-bombed enemy troop concentrations.

Ukson has been awarded the Army good conduct medal for "exemplary behavior, efficiency and fidelity" and wears the European-African-Middle Eastern campaign ribbon with three battle stars denoting the North African invasion and the Sicilian and Italian campaigns.

When the hospital ship Thistle docked at Charleston, S.C., last week one of its patient-passengers was Sgt. William H. Hill, wounded in the Italian campaign.

The son of Mrs. Bessie Hill Baccaro of 57 Center street and the late Mr. Anthony Hill, the wounded veteran has been transferred to England General Hospital, Atlantic City.

Educated in Chester, Pa., Hill was formerly a mechanic in the Canadian Civilian Technical corps and served with it in England. After the US entered the war he transferred to the Army and was in a cavalry reconnaissance unit.

Trovato was struck in the back by shrapnel during one of the numerous Jap dive-bombing attacks which opposed Allied occupation of a forward base in the northern New Georgia group.

Trovato joined the Marine corps July 22, 1940, and received his recruit training at Parris Island. He was assigned to duty at Cuba early in 1941 and then transferred to Pearl Harbor, where he participated in the defense of that base December 7, 1941.

Accompanying the first Marine unit to be sent into the South Pacific after the outbreak of war, Trovato now has 38 months of overseas duty and has had duty in the New Hebrides, New Zealand and Guadalcanal.

He is a member of a Leatherneck anti-aircraft unit, which has a record of shooting down 42 Jap planes within a 10-week period.
