Reelected last week at the yearly election meeting of the board of trustees of the Belleville Community Chest and Council were Paul de-Hagara, president; Mrs. John Denike and Elwood Russell, vice - presidents and John Charlton, executive secretary, and treasurer.

New trustees will be Mrs Clarence D. Van Sickle, Mrs. Harry C. Fredericks, John P. Dailey and Frank McFadden. Reelected trustees are de-Hagara, Russell, Martin P Cosgrove, Lester McCorkle and Dr. Benjamin Jacobson.

Charlton was authorized to employ an office worker to assist in recording pledge collections for the balance of the year and prepare for the Community Chest drive which will be timed next October to coincide with the National War Fund

A committee, chairmanned by Mrs. Denike, was appointed to revise the chest's constitution. Based on the Newark community chest constitution, it contains, according to deHagara, many cumbersome procedures not geared to Belleville's needs.

To remove these, insert new clauses; eliminate associate member organizations and reduce the number of trustees to a smaller more active group will be the Russell, committee's Hagara and Harry G. Specht will work wih Mrs. Denike and a report will be made June 20.

Police headquarters, long accustomed to two-by-four quarters many years, is getting a face-lifting slowly but gradually.
Commissioner Noll, whose de-

The improvements in recent weeks, however, have spoken for themselves. A troop of carpenters appeared on the scene several weeks ago and proceeded to rip out some cabinets and install others. Windows were cut into the recorder's office and the floor of the headquarters was recovered linoleum. This week the painters went to work and the headquarters is now pea green.

Memorial Day Observance Crowds Hear Understanding Is Essential To Real Peace

Lasting peace must be pased on understanding of one's fellowmen. That was the theme of five brief addresses delivered by Mayor Williams and four clergymen luring the Memorial day observance Tuesday morning.

Twelve organizations participated in the parade, which started at town hall and marched to several other points in South Belleville at each of which wreaths were laid, volleys fired and taps sounded.

Before the ceremonies began, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zarra presented to newlyformed Tri-City Post 299, American Legion, an American flag and a post standard. They were received by Command-er Michael Calabrese.

Rabbi Herman Schwartz prayed in his invocation that "those whom we remember today may be granted the peace for which they fought." He called for an end to racial prejudice and declared that "war must no longer afflict mankind." Mayor Williams praised Secre-tary of State Cordell Hull for the work he has done toward setting up a permanent postwar peace organization. "Boys right from this town are lying on battlefields for their that man may live 345 Union avenue, treasurer; and with man in harmony and peace in the future."

Movies may come to you with a flick of the dial. A home television set was about to be put on the market when the war broke. Demands for war radios will greatly improve the instrument and provide ample manufacturing facilities for radical peace-time improvements.

Why not save now, so much per month, for the machine after the war? A radio which will bring movies into your home! Or, again, for a machine that will do your washing and ironing — or wash your dishes.

Anthony Stefanelli, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest N. Stefanelli of 673 Belleville avenue, is the suburban marbles champion of Essex county. He breezed through three opponents in the Newark Star-Ledger tourney Saturday afternoon at Nutley junior high school with the loss of only one game out of in finding out what will happen, eignt.

The two-time Belleville king won his early rounds with two straight games over John Houston of Harrison and Robert Peronick of Invington.

In the finals he trounced Salvatore Metta of Orange 3-1 in a three-out-of-five match. Contestants from Livingston and Nutley also took part. First prize was $25 war bond.

Since the war started the county, state and national tournaments have been eliminated. Receation Director Lister said yesterday, however, he might try to match Stefanelli with the Newark champion for the county title.

The Belleville Nationals trimmed the Nutley Crusaders 9-2 Sunday at Municipal Stadium. It was the second straight win for the Nats and their third in four

The win avenged their only loss of the season which came at the hands of Crusaders by a score of 4-3. Johnny Marshall, twirling for pitchers for a total of 14 safties, the most hits they have garnered this season. Bill Hickman was the chief offensive gun for the winners. Hickman batted out three straight hits, one a double. This Sunday the Nats will take on the Belleville Orioles, winners of their last three games, at Kidde Field at 2. The Nats and Orioles have been pointing to this game since the start of the season and Sunday's game will be the first of the three-game-town champion ship tournament,

Spread The Sugar

"A word to the wives is sufficient," a radio speaker said the other day - and a word about the use of canning sugar will be sufficient to guide New Jersey homemakers through the summer. You don't want to share Mrs. Jones' experience of last year.

She knew there was only so much sugar available to her family for the canning season, but she became so enthusiastic about making jams and jellies that when peaches and pears came along later in the season her sugar was all gone! While you may not know exactly how much of each fruit you wish

Pound Per 4 Quarts to do up this year, you can at least figure it out tentatively and The sugar ration is based on one pound sugar for each four plan your allotment accordingly. quarts of finished fruit. This is In other words, plan how you can the same proportion on which the Lest spread the sugar over your ration program was figured last season's canning needs and assure your family of a variety of fruits year, but because of the need for a larger production of fruit spreads and jams, homemakers You probably know the 1944 will have to plan even more careprocedure for getting extra sugar fully this year than they did in for canning, but perhaps we might well include a reminder here, along with a word about the 1943 if the 25-pound allotment is to cover the family's needs both for canned fruits and spreads. If your application is for less than 20 pounds per person, and if you need more canning sugar later, you may make a second application to the same board. However the total amount of both applications must not exceed 20 pounds per person.

From all indications, butter is going to be as scarce next winter as it was this year, which means we shall have to depend largely upon fruit butters, jellies and jams for sandwich spreads. Be sure to plan for enough of these spreads to last your family through the cold weather months. The "word to the wives," then, is to spread the sugar for plenty of spreads!

olt Will Remove Noose From Men's Necks

men's fashions are dictated by "men" their tastes, according to the members the gentler sex. They claim that styles changed only because their menfolk ant something new and different all the time. While so claiming, however, they tactfully omit any mention of their bonnets which scare most hubbies half to death. But men also assert that they dress the way they do because that's the way friend wife wants it. If that is true, there is a definite culprit to blame for the instruments of torture with which the mere male is inflicted year after year while he sweats out his brief span on this thankless planet.

Men's clothes are very nice during the winter: they are so designed that they choke off the flow of wintry blasts which otherwise might turn various sections of the anatomy blue. But where manhood makes its mistake is carrying over to the summer the same type of clothing. The individual who concocted the masculine suit with its attendant thousand miseries certainly bore males a grudge. And they, weakminded vassals, have feared for over a hundred years to initiate the revolution which would bring them a modicum of comfort during the sum-down-drafts, the clothing was designed to fit snugly at the waist and at the neck. The latter point is one of the most excruciating torments to men, for it is the yoke which symbolizes their subservience to their mistresses. "But, dear, men's necks are so ugly" is all the little woman has to say to force her husband into a noose, euphemistically called a necktie. They go out; he squirms all through the party and pulls desperately at his neck, wishing he had left it home, and looks at his wife in her fluttery little chiffon something-or-other and swears an undying oath to do something about it. His resolve lasts just about as long as his discomfort. The next time he meekly puts on the tie again.

Men have been suffering thus for years, crying about it all the time, but not one is willing to brave the wrath of a female or the excoriation of his fellow-men, who brashly label him a traitor but (conventionbound themselves) inwardly are jealous. It is convention which forces men into coats and neckties at social gatherings and in business. It is a convention which should have long since died. Now we have reached the day of so-called enlightenment, comes the revolution. A declaration of independence is not Wrapped around their legs is a padding enough; we need men of great courage who will sacrifice themselves on the altar of public opinion in order to bring about the
