

DEHAGARA ELECTED COMMUNITY CHEST '44-45 PRESIDENT

Newark Lawyer Renamed;
Will Employ Secretary,
Revise Constitution

Reelected last week at the yearly election meeting of the board of trustees of the Belleville Community Chest and Council were Paul deHagara, president; Mrs. John Denike and Elwood Russell, vice-presidents and John Charlton, executive secretary, and treasurer.

New trustees to be Mrs. Clarence D. Van Sickle, Mrs. Harry C. Fredericks, John P. Dailey and Frank McFadden. Reelected trustees are deHagara, Russell, Martin P. Cosgrove, Lester McCormick and Dr. Benjamin Jacobson.

Charlton was authorized to employ an office worker to assist in recording pledge collections for the balance of the year and prepare for the Community Chest drive which will be timed next October to coincide with the National War Fund drive.

A committee, chaired by Mrs. Denike, was appointed to revise the chest's constitution. Based on the Newark community chest constitution, it contains, according to deHagara, many cumbersome provisions not geared to Belleville needs.

To remove these, insert new clauses, eliminate associate member organizations and reduce the number of trustees to a smaller more active group will be the committee's job. Russell, deHagara and Harry G. Specht will work with Mrs. Denike and a report will be made June 20.

Name Committee

At that time deHagara will name a campaign and budget committee. The finance committee, headed by Andrew G. Salkeld, reported a surplus at last Tuesday's meeting of $18.44 over the amounts finally voluntarily agreed upon by local agencies as their quotas from the February drive.

This will be distributed, when all pledges are redeemed, among Community Service bureau, Visiting Nurses, Silver Lake Community house, Boy scouts and Girl scouts.

Girl scouts took the largest cut of $700 in view of the fact that at the time allotments were made they had not been able to engage a full time executive.

Miss Teresa Salmon, Mrs. Frank Craven and Martin P. Cosgrove assisted Salkeld in compiling his report.

On the basis of the comprehensive survey left by the fund raising agency, deHagara indicated that it may be possible for the local campaign committee to conduct the next chest drive without the aid of professional organizers.

Every attempt will be made to put the board of trustees of the chest into action simultaneously with the campaign committee during the formation period of the campaign.

W-T Chemical Warfare Workers To See Flame Throwers

A display of flame throwers, the chemical warfare Division of the War Relocation Authority will conclude a rally this afternoon by smoke screens and similar chemical warfare.

The rally, which will start at 4:30 in St. Peter's school hall, will be addressed by company president Martin F. Tiernan, general manager William J. Orchard and Major Walter A. Davis of the Army CWS.

Talks will also be given by Arthur Ecker, representing labor, and by several combat veterans and Red Cross nurses. "Communique No. 6," a war film, will be presented.

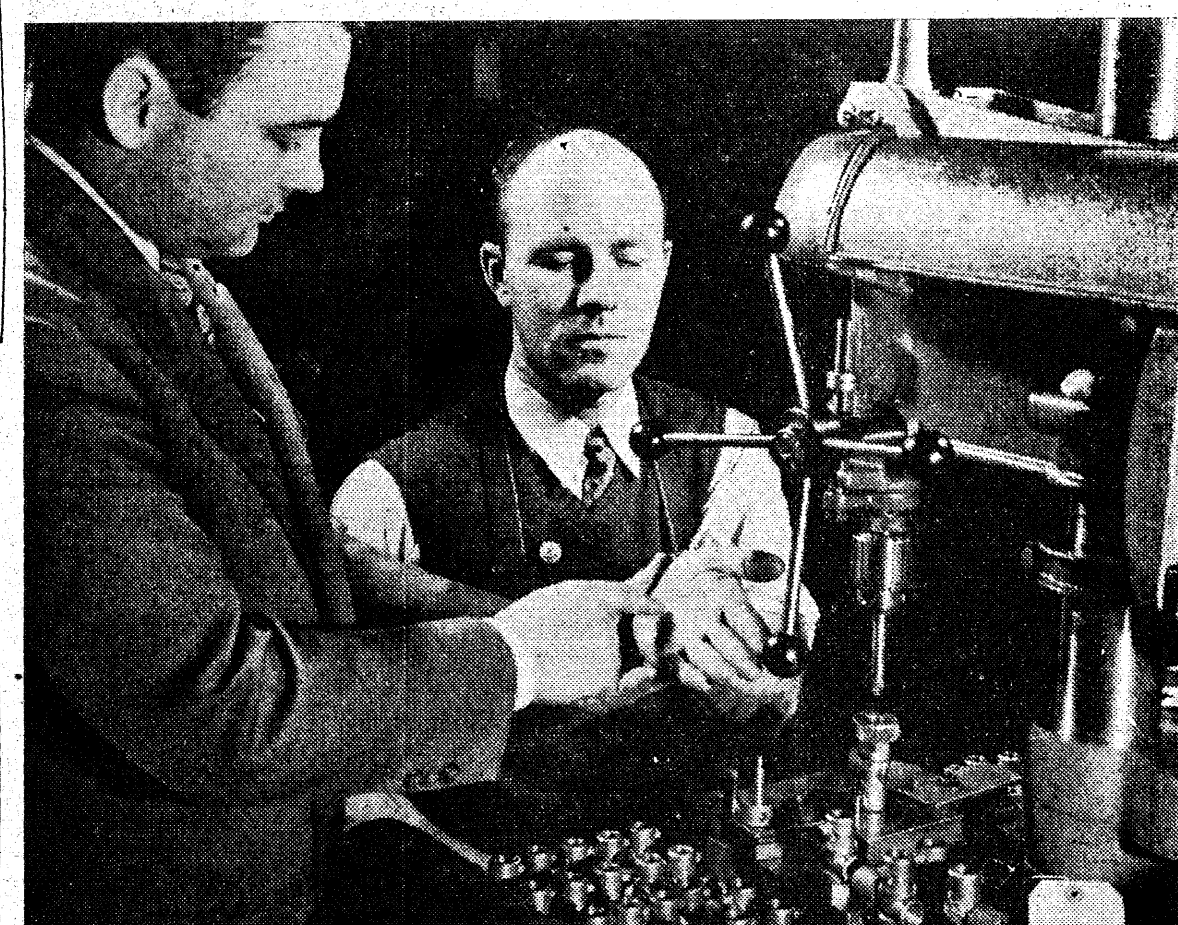

Following the indoor rally, at which W & T's 400 CWD employees will be present, the audience will move outdoors to witness the pyrotechnic display.

Spinnello Low Bidder On Walls

Spinnello Construction company of 437 Riverside avenue, Newark, has been awarded the contract for the installation of concrete retaining walls along the Second River for 15 feet on each side of Mill street bridge.

The action came last week when Spinnello's low bid of $9,696 was accepted by the Commission.

War Worker Can't See, Hear Or Talk

BLIND DEAF MUTE Douglas Richards, despite his triple handicap, has learned all the intricacies of operating a drill press and is doing much to further the war effort at the Walter Kidde company here. Here he is being instructed by Howard H. Gillingham, foreman of the repair department—who spells out the directions on the palm of Richards' hand. See story page 7.

Police Headquarters Face Gets Lifting And Expansion

Painted, Floored, Rearranged;
Plans Call For Appropriation
Of Custodians' Quarters

Police headquarters, long accustomed to two-by-four quarters in the basement of town hall for many years, is getting a face-lifting slowly but gradually.

Commissioner Noll, whose department is parks and public property and includes public buildings (since he got them back from Commissioner Waters last fall) was mum yesterday on the extent of his plans for the quarters.

The improvements in recent weeks, however, have spoken for themselves. A troop of carpenters appeared on the scene several weeks ago and proceeded to rip out some cabinets and install others.

Windows were cut into the recorder's office and the floor of the headquarters was recovered with "tile" linoleum. This week the painters went to work and the headquarters is now pea green.

Noll would not comment on plans for the remainder of the floor but it is understood that the police and detective bureau will eventually take in the entire sub-first floor.

At the present time, the detective bureau is housed in a single room "down the hall." Also on the same floor are several small rooms and the four-room apartment of the town hall custodians.

It is rumored that the custodians (Mrs. Mary Welsh and her brother, John L. Sullivan) have received notice to find other quarters and their apartment will be converted to police offices.

Records Cramped

The record bureau, in which Patrolman Harry Winfield has succeeded Christopher A. Dotterweich who resigned several weeks ago, has been cramped into one end of the detective bureau.

After the rearrangement, Winfield and his records will probably have an office all to themselves. Plans are believed also under consideration to set up a special photography studio and darkroom, which will care for rogues' mugging and for photostating.

Mrs. Welsh, who has been custodian for nearly a quarter-century, is understood to have resigned upon request because of her health. She has been off the town payroll for several months.

Noll, meanwhile, is not neglecting his Recreation house. The cyclone fence which formerly enclosed the parking lot, has been moved to the outside of the property, which it surrounded except for a fifty-foot piece which had to be added at the end.

Shift Commission Dates

The town Commission meetings, originally scheduled for June 13 and 27, have been shifted to June 6 and 20 to care more easily for the flood of liquor license renewals due next month.

POWELL ASKS JAIL RATHER THAN PAY

Stephens Street Man Says
$20 Weekly Is Too Much
To Pay Wife He Beat

"Put me in jail," said William Powell, and Recorder Smith cooperated to the extent of a 60-day jail sentence.

Powell made his request Friday morning after refusing to maintain his $20 weekly payments to his wife and son, who live at 158 Stephens street.

Hailed before Smith on an assault and battery charge brought by his wife, Powell previously called the jail sentence "a vacation."

Convicted of the assault charge, Powell's case was referred to the probation officer.

The latter reported Friday that the Powells were unable "to agree on anything." Mrs. Powell works part-time while her husband holds job in a defense plant and in a Newark department store.

Smith told Mrs. Powell to remain in the home with the boy and ordered Powell to move and pay his wife the usual $20 weekly for household expenses. Powell refused.

Attend GAR Encampment

Several members of the Henry Vreeland Corps, GAR, will attend the sixtieth annual encampment of the New Jersey Woman's Relief Corps, GAR auxiliary at Newark's Hotel Sheraton and the Masonic Temple June 6-8.

Mrs. Ruth Long of 73 Wallace street, president of the local corps, will be platform aide and Mrs. Violet Rochau of 53 Fairview place, senior vice president, will act as color bearer.

Mrs. Florence Roselle of 46 Harrison street, it is understood, will be a candidate for the post of department president.

Overcome By Heat
Miss June Hollahan, 18, of 18 Center street was overcome by heat Tuesday morning while attending Memorial day exercises at St. Peter's church. After first aid treatment, she was taken home by Patrolman Harry Scott.

Three Belleville women will receive their teachers certificates tomorrow at the thirty-fifth annual commencement of the Mills school in New York.

They are Miss Ruth Dettelbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Dettelbach of Hancox avenue, Miss Kathleen Teague, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leverett G. Teague of 120 Rutgers street, and Miss Lorna Zink, daughter of State Controller and Mrs. Homer C. Zink of 26 Rossmore place.

Miss Dettelbach, who will be graduated magna cum laude, was a member of the student council and president of her junior class. She is now teaching at Walt Whitman school in New York.

Miss Teague, treasurer of the Mills senior class, is teaching in the school system in Lyndhurst. She is a graduate of St. Vincent's academy, Newark.

Miss Dettelbach and Miss Teague will receive bachelor of science degrees in education from Adelphi college next Wednesday.

Hartley Recommends Boost In Gas Ration Valuation

Black Market Will Be Cut
If A, B Holders Are Given
Increased Mileage

Increased value of A and B gasoline ration books was proposed last week by Representative Hartley as a means of eliminating much of the black market operations in the gasoline field.

Hartley, who is chairman of the Eastern Congressional Petroleum committee, appeared before the Congressional interstate and foreign commerce petroleum subcommittee.

He recommended that value of A coupons be raised to 175 and that of B books be raised to 500 miles a month. This, he said, would "divert back to legitimate users of gasoline the supply that is now going into the black market."

Hartley blamed the existence of the black market on OPA bungling and ruthless enforcement as well as the desire of some people to cheat. He said:

"In my opinion, the entire petroleum problem has been handled from the very beginning. It is no secret that there has been considerable friction among the various agencies handling the different phases of the program."

"The public mind has been greatly irritated and to say the least confused by the many conflicting statements that have been issued from these various agencies. Unless the Congress takes appropriate action, I am firmly convinced that the situation will not improve in the future."

"I charge that Colonel Bryan Houston was forced out of OPA and that the Enforcement Division under Mr. Shad Polier dominated the Rationing Division to Colonel Houston's disgust."

"Colonel Houston wanted to make the rationing regulations as simple and as easily understandable as possible. That, however, is not the way the long-hairs in OPA like to do business."

"For if the rules are simple then Mr. Polier won't need an army of snoopers, sniffers and snipers running around harassing the owners of gasoline stations, the great majority of whom are honest and want to play the game on the level."

"On either April 3 or April 5 I read a statement in the New York Times attributed to Mr. Polier in which he announced that unless the black market on the Eastern Seaboard was eliminated, A coupons would be withdrawn, which, of course, meant that no one relying on A coupons would be able to drive. I am wondering what meat this Caesar eats that he has grown so great."

"The black market, in my opinion, will never be eliminated by such tactics. We do not need thousands of investigators, who might better be in the service, running all over the nation intimidating the small fry when a few good investigators could get the real culprits."

"I would like to say at this point that in my opinion the black market is due as much to OPA bungling as from the desire of some people to cheat. The gas station attendant would have to be an expert on printing and paper to be positive as to the authenticity of the coupons he accepts."

"As a matter of fact in the beginning of the coupon system the OPA issued coupons of the same denomination in three different sizes and three different shades of both paper and printing."

"If OPA's statements as to the extent of the black market are well founded, then the black market can be eliminated by the simple expedient of raising the value of legitimate coupons."

"For example, at the present time A coupons permit a person to drive approximately 120 miles per month throughout the nation. The holders of B coupons can drive approximately 325 miles per month on the eastern seaboard, 400 miles on the west coast and 475 miles in the rest of the nation."

"I state to this Committee that the black market will be eliminated if the value of A coupons is raised to 175 miles per month and the value of B coupons to 500 miles per month throughout the country."

"In other words, I am suggesting to divert back to legitimate users of gasoline the supply that is now going into the black market. It is in the cards and can be done if OPA has the will to do it."

MAYOR PURCHASES THREE ACRE TRACT

No Plans For Development
Drawn For Nutley Lot,
Williams Declares

No definite plans for the future of the three-acre tract in Nutley purchased last week by Mayor Williams have been formulated, the mayor said yesterday.

Announcement of the signing of the sale contract was made late last week and it is expected that final title will be conveyed by West Side Trust company of Newark some time this week.

The mayor said that the plot at Washington and Park avenues, across from Nutley's Washington school, is suitable for residential, industrial or apartment development.

The property, which was one of the sites considered for an airport several months ago, has 560-foot Washington avenue frontage and a depth of from 225 to 306 feet.

Approximately 200 feet fronting on both streets is in business zone while the remainder is industrial. There are no buildings on the plot, which is now used mainly for victory gardens.

Nab Stolen Car Before Reported, Youth Held, Another Sought

Because they "didn't like the way it was parked," Patrolmen Lee and Lilore recovered a car late Saturday night even before it was reported stolen from Orange.

Held for Orange police was Anthony E. Milikowicz, 18, of 76 Spring street, Bloomfield. An alleged confederate, John Talami, 17, of 238 Wallace street, Orange, is being sought by police.

Lee and Lilore, cruising in a patrol car, spotted the automobile parked on Brighton avenue. Inside they found the two youths and two teen-age girls.

After Talami claimed the car belonged to his brother, he was sent to a nearby tavern to get the "brother." He disappeared out the back door. He is said to have been released from Anandale two weeks ago.

The license plates on the car are said to have been stolen recently in South Jersey.

HEUSER RENAMED JUNIOR CO. HEAD

Junior Achievement Group
Reelects Three Officers,
Names Three Newcomers

At the semi-annual elections of the Heuser Woodcraft company, William L. Heuser Jr. of 156 Fairview avenue, was re-elected president.

Joyce Shannon of 28 Bremond street was re-appointed sales manager and Lois Burrington of 4 Bell street is still in charge of public relations.

The new officers include June Jimmers of 418 Franklin avenue, secretary; Eleanor Denike of 345 Union avenue, treasurer; and Leonard Hicken of 182 Garden avenue, production manager.

The elections were held at Junior Achievement headquarters at 562 Washington avenue two weeks ago.

The idea behind Junior Achievement is to give experience and training to boys and girls. Not everyone in the company can hold an office.

So in order to give the others valuable training, officers' assistants were appointed. These people will work with the officers to become more efficient if they should be elected.

This plan is new in Junior Achievement and the Heuser company feels that they will all reap the benefits both in profit and experience.—L.B.

Spatz Believes Three Dogs Died Of Victory Garden Insecticide

Last week three dogs died of unknown causes in Belleville and the possibility of poison is being investigated, according to Police Chief Spatz.

"In view of the large amounts of insecticides such as arsenic of lead being used in victory gardens," Spatz said, "it is believed that they may have been poisoned when they chewed the leaves of plants."

He again warned dog-owners to keep their pets at home or on a leash "unless they want to run the risk of them dying from like causes."

Spatz also pointed out that dog-owners face $5 fines for every instance of permitting their dogs to run at large and revealed that a large number of dogs have been picked up and destroyed in recent months.

Mohican Applications Growing

"Applications for 'Camp Mohican' are coming in at a rapid rate," according to Boy Scout Executive Harry T. French, "and Belleville scouts are urged not to wait too long, particularly if they plan to attend either the second or third periods."

Mohican rallies have been held at troops 301 (Wesley Methodist church), 306 (Montgomery Presbyterian), 388 (Christ Episcopal) and 375 (St. Peter's Catholic).

The next rally, at which movies of the camp will be shown, will be June 21 at troop 350 at Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian church.

PRAYER IS NEEDED WITH TOLERANCE FOR LASTING PEACE

Memorial Day Observance
Crowds Hear Understanding
Is Essential To Real Peace

Lasting peace must be based on understanding of one's fellowmen. That was the theme of five brief addresses delivered by Mayor Williams and four clergymen during the Memorial day observance Tuesday morning.

Twelve organizations participated in the parade, which started at town hall and marched to several other points in South Belleville at each of which wreaths were laid, volleys fired and taps sounded.

Before the ceremonies began, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zarra presented to newly-formed Tri-City Post 299, American Legion, an American flag and a post standard.

They were received by Commander Michael Calabrese. Rabbi Herman Schwartz prayed in his invocation that "those whom we remember today may be granted the peace for which they fought."

He called for an end to racial prejudice and declared that "war must no longer afflict mankind."

Mayor Williams praised Secretary of State Cordell Hull for the work he has done toward setting up a permanent postwar peace organization.

"Boys might from this town are dying on battlefields for their ideals. . . . that man may live with man in harmony and peace in the future."

At St. Peter's Catholic church memorial flagpole, Rev. Joseph M. Kelly told his listeners that they must look forward "with fortitude to D-day's crushing blows."

He urged them to have courage of heart and mind and to "get down on your knees and ask the great God above, who is on our side, to strengthen you and cheer."

No God At Versailles
"Without prayer there is never going to be lasting peace. There was no God in the Versailles treaty. Do you think you can live without him? Where do you think you will get the next breath that is within you?"

The philosophy that man can live without his fellow man, Father Kelly termed an "egregious blunder." He declared "we are prone to complacency, we begin to think victory is just around the corner."

"We are not even in the enemy's yard as yet, let alone beginning to storm his castles."

He urged his audience to "go to church, practice your religion according to your convictions. Religion has not failed, it has the leaders; but the people have failed the leaders."

"Religion alone is the true regenerative and recreative force. If you are not true to God you cannot be true to your fellowmen."

Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach, speaking at the old Christ Episcopal church, declared that a "peace based on selfish aims will be a renunciation for another war."

"Peace must be based on understanding and we must pray for lasting peace," He pleaded for and to intolerance, pointing as example to blood plasma which "saves the lives of every race and every creed."

Live Free
Rabbi Schwartz spoke again at the monument at Veterans' Park and pleaded for a "peace which will enable men to live as free men." The world "has yet to learn the drastic lessons which will bring true peace," he said.

Rev. Dr. John A. Stryker, speaking from the steps of 250-year-old Belleville Reformed church, said that this is "the seat of religious freedom. We pray today for all, regardless of their religion."

He exhorted his listeners to "be true Americans. Don't merely say you are Americans, be Americans."

The Memorial day observance concluded at Belleville bridge where members of the Henry Vreeland Women's Relief Corps, GAR, lowered two flower baskets into the Passaic River in memory of those who are buried at sea.

In the line of march were police, police reserves, Tri-City and Belleville posts of the American Legion, Younginger post of VFW, Boy and Girl Scouts, Cubs, Red Cross motor corps, St. Mary's Bugle, Fire and Drum corps and scores of unrelated youngsters.

Kenneth Place, Robert Dobbins, Joseph Ferraro Hold Reunion In German War Prisoners' Camp

Three Captured In Italy Meet
At Stalag 3; All Praise
Work of Red Cross

The last place they expected to see anyone from the old home town was in Stalag 3, somewhere in Germany. Yet three Belleville boys, all taken prisoners by the Nazis during the fighting in Italy, recently held a reunion in that German prison camp.

The youths are Cpl. Kenneth J. Place, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Place of 146 Stephen street, Cpl. Robert Dobbins, son of Mrs. Edna Dobbins of 98 Belmont street and Pvt. Joseph Ferraro Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferraro of 754 Washington avenue.

The news was contained in a letter received Monday morning by the Places. The note was mailed from Germany April 15.

"I'm as fine as can be expected so don't worry. I met two boys here from Belleville. They are Joe Ferraro (Harry Scott's brother-in-law) and the other one is Bob Dobbins. He graduated with Bus" (Pvt. Clarence Place Jr., now an MP at Fort Meade, Md.).

Mrs. Dobbins received a card Saturday from her son, written two weeks before the Place letter. Dobbins reported himself "well and OK."

Both youths praised the work of the Red Cross along the prisoners. Said Place: "The Red Cross is taking good care of us, so all we have to do is sweat out the letters from home."

Cpl. Kenneth J. Place

"The Red Cross is my second mother and we are treated wonderfully by them," Dobbins wrote. Place was a member of the Ranger battalion which fought last January at Cisterna until it had no more ammunition or food with which to carry on.

He was reported missing January 30 and his family was notified earlier this month that he has been a prisoner. Another brother, Cpl. George Place, is with the signal corps in England.

Cpl. Robert Dobbins

He was taken prisoner February 13 in Italy. He had been in the Army a year and overseas two months at the time.

Ferraro has been a prisoner since September 19 during the battle of Salerno, at the same time as Pfc. Anthony Bocchino of 15 Frederick street who was being sought last week by his brother, Pvt. Joseph Bocchino, also a German prisoner.

Anthony Stefanelli Marbles King In Suburban Essex Tourney

Anthony Stefanelli, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest N. Stefanelli of 673 Belleville avenue, is the suburban marbles champion of Essex county.

He breezed through three opponents in the Newark Star-Ledger tourney Saturday afternoon at Nutley junior high school with the loss of only one game out of eight.

The two-time Belleville king won his early rounds with two straight games over John Houston of Harrison and Robert Peronick of Irvington.

In the finals he trounced Salvatore Metta of Orange 3-1 in a three-out-of-five match. Contestants from Livingston and Nutley also took part. First prize was a $25 war bond.

Since the war started the county, state and national tournaments have been eliminated. Recreation Director Lister said yesterday, however, he might try to match Stefanelli with the Newark champion for the county title.

Nationals Gain 9-2 Vengeance On Nutley Crusaders

The Belleville Nationals trimmed the Nutley Crusaders 9-2 Sunday at Municipal Stadium. It was the second straight win for the Nats and their third in four games.

The win avenged their only loss of the season which came at the hands of Crusaders by a score of 4-3.

Johnny Marshall, twirling for the Nats, allowed four scattered hits and was never in trouble. It was Marshall's second straight win and he has, as yet, to be beaten.

The Nats slugged two Nutley pitchers for a total of 14 safeties, the most hits they have garnered this season. Bill Hickman was the chief offensive gun for the winners. Hickman batted out three straight hits, one a double.

This Sunday the Nats will take on the Belleville Orioles, winners of their last three games, at Kiddle Field at 2. The Nats and Orioles have been pointing to this game since the start of the season and Sunday's game will be the first of the three-game town championship tournament.

St. Mary's Squeezes 2-0 Win Over Bellboys At Rutherford

A successful squeeze play in the sixth inning gave St. Mary's high a pair of runs which enabled it to defeat Belleville 2-0 Saturday afternoon at Rutherford.

Herman Libertazzi, up- and-coming freshman twirler for the Blue and Gold, limited St. Mary's to five hits and fanned six in his seven-inning stint.

Meanwhile Jack Solch allowed the Bellboys only four bingles, fanned four and gave up only one base on balls. Libertazzi walked three.

Orioles Whitewash Bluejays 7-0 Behind Ritchy Lockwood

Behind the fine three-hit pitching of Ritchy Lockwood, the Belleville Orioles whitewashed the Silver Lake Bluejays 7-0. The game was played Sunday at Kiddle Field.

For Lockwood it was the second win of the year as against no setbacks. For the Orioles it was their third win in four starts. The Oriole hurler had good control over the nine innings, walking but three and burning 15 third strikes past the Jay batters.

The winners batted out nine hits off two day hurlers to help complete the first shutout of the local season. For the Orioles, Takash, Keating and Greco got two hits apiece while Nests got two of the three hits made by the losers.

Meeting the Orioles this Sunday will be the Belleville Nationals. The contest will be played at Kiddle Field at 2.

Union Shuts Out Cortlandt 28-0 As Cook Twirls No-Hitter

Union avenue school's Cook called up a no-hit no-run victory over a weak Cortlandt street school nine as his mates hammered out at 28-0 win in the only grammar school baseball league game played last week.

The triumph tied Union with Silver Lake for the loop lead at two wins and no defeats. Cortlandt was able to offer no defense to the Unions, who scored in every inning except the last.

HIGH-LIGHTS BELLEVILLE, N. J. THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1944

Man's Fancv...

It looks like those baggy sweaters and heavy skirts were finally put away and a brand new setting has taken over Belleville High. You see the darlinest peasants with lovely white blouses and the cutest bows!

Then those cool, clean stripes are seen hiding behind books... or fellows! Dots, stripes, flowers, circles and checks seem to be everywhere. It is then that you stop and say "why—spring is here!"

Spring is not in nature alone—it is in our school. The boys seem to develop a lazy mood, while the girls develop a talkative mood. Teachers seem a bit tired with the last-minute work, but a bit happy to know it's almost over.

So, teachers and students alike, may smile with joy for when spring comes, summer is close behind.

Bookworms

If you've seen that senior in study hall working hard lately, it's only a sign that graduation is near. You probably noticed that he isn't talking to you very often and you felt hurt. But, clear up only that the poor fellow is trying to get his work done.

This week has seen a change in the senior class. Instead of smiling, energetic students, they've settled down to accept the responsibilities of passing. They all want to graduate, and they're all working hard to graduate. We admit that some of them are a little late, but remember "Better late than never."

So, juniors, sophomores, freshmen won't you ease be a little considerate of your studies and help the seniors to help themselves graduate?

DOUGLAS RICHARDS WORKS FULL-TIME

Man Overcomes Handicaps, Is Inspiration To Workers At Kidde Plant

Douglas Richards of 12 Horatio street, Newark, 33-year-old deaf and blind mute, holds the unique record of being the only man so handicapped who works full time in a war plant and receives full-time pay.

A bench hand in the Belleville plant of Walter Kidde and company, he utilizes his highly developed sense of touch to perform a variety of operations connected with the manufacture of carbon dioxide fire-fighting and life-saving equipment for our armed forces.

Wounded war veterans, forced to learn new trades to fit their handicaps, will be heartened by the fact that Richards, with three serious handicaps, quickly learns new operations taught to him on a plan of work simplicity.

He has never worked before and has had no training for any trade and limited training to read Braille.

He is instructed in the operation of a drill press by Howard H. Gillingham, foreman of the repair department, who spells out the directions on the palm of Richards' hand.

Motile of workers in the Kidde plant is kept high by the fine example of courage and perseverance of this man who wishes above all to help win the war.

George J. Christie will again head the Democratic town committee as a result of an organization meeting of district leaders held last week in town hall.

Heading the women's section again will be Mrs. Mae Mead Mazza. The secretary is Ralph A. Vana while Mrs. Alice C. Spillane will fill the treasurer's position.

Harry C. Machette has been re-elected head of the Republicans in Belleville, a post which he has held for several years.

John L. Morey has been promoted to the rank of first lieutenant at Selman Field, Monroe, La., where he is a navigation instructor at the largest aerial navigation school in the country. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Morey of 103 Malone avenue.

Tavern Transferred

The liquor license for the tavern at 66 Washington avenue, held for many years by John W. Lawlor, was transferred last week to Jean L. Cadorette of Bloomfield and William F. Vanderzee of Newark.

CARLTON KINGS ARE IN GREENLAND

Team In Comedy-Magic Act In The Fox-Hole Circuit; Make Own Props

Carlton and Dorothy King, who make their home at 227 Little street, are now entertaining American troops in Greenland with their comedy and magic act, USO-Camp Shows announced today.

Mr. and Mrs. King, who make their own stage props in a little machine shop behind their Belleville house, are trouping the "Fox-Hole Circuit" for USO-Camp Shows. They are both veteran war entertainers and are well-known in civilian life for their night club work.

USO-Camp Shows today operate the biggest theatrical circuit in history. During the past two years its domestic entertainment units have given more than 40,000 performances before a total audience of over 30,000,000 servicemen stationed in the United States. Overseas statistics are not released for security reasons but it is known that 1,200 entertainers have already played to servicemen outside this country. Back of this vast entertainment and morale project are the nickels, dimes and dollars of the American public because USO-Camp Shows is supported by contributions to the National War Fund.

Junior Women Plan Banquet June 13 At Hotel Sheraton

The eleventh annual mother-daughter banquet of the Junior Woman's club of Belleville will be held June 13 at the Hotel Sheraton, Newark.

Mrs. Charles S. Smith, Woman's club member and founder of the junior organization, will be the principal speaker. The club is now headed by Mrs. Irving Butler. The young women will provide a program of entertainment and reservations for the affair will be accepted until June 1 by Miss Gloria Elder at Be 2-2073M.

The club has asked friends of the members and other Belleville young women to join Tuesday evening bandage rolling sessions at the clubhouse, 51 Rossmore place, at 7:30.

Mrs. Willard Y. Strange, councilor of Junior women, reported at the Woman's club breakfast Monday that the Belleville junior club stood high in the list of contributors toward the state fund to purchase military ambulances. The club raised $400.

Marrone Again Eludes Guards, Escapes In Penn Station

Police are seeking Pvt. Anthony Marrone of 15 Van Rensselaer street today for the third time this year. His elusiveness has baffled local, state and military police many times.

He was said to have been AWOL several months ago when he was arrested in Newark on a statutory charge and for breaking and entering.

Sent to Fort Hancock and locked in the guardhouse there, he escaped after a short time and was finally nabbed by local police at his home May 12.

Turned over to military police, he was being taken to a train Saturday afternoon when, at the Pennsylvania railroad station in New York, he escaped from his two guards and disappeared in the crowd.

Police just sighed and said yes, they would look for him again.

Will Remove Noose From Men's Necks

Men's fashions are dictated by "men" and their tastes, according to the members of the gentler sex. They claim that styles have changed only because their menfolk want something new and different all the time. While so claiming, however, they tactfully omit any mention of their bonnets which scare most husbands half to death. But men also assert that they dress the way they do because that's the way friend wife wants it. If that is true, there is a definite culprit to blame for the instruments of torture with which the mere male is afflicted year after year while he sweats out his brief span on this thankless planet.

Men's clothes are very nice during the winter: they are so designed that they choke off the flow of wintry blasts which otherwise might turn various sections of the anatomy blue. But where manhood makes its mistake is carrying over to the summer the same type of clothing. The individual who concocted the masculine suit with its attendant thousand miseries certainly bore malice a grudge. And they, weak-minded vasaals, have feared for over a hundred years to initiate the revolution which would bring them a modicum of comfort during the summer heat.

Wrapped around their legs is a padding of wool specially designed to keep out mosquitoes and air. To prevent any possibility of cooling the body by means of up- or down-drafts, the clothing was designed to fit snugly at the waist and at the neck. The latter point is one of the most excruciating torments to men, for it is the yoke which symbolizes their subservience to their mistresses. "But, dear, men's necks are so ugly" is all the little woman has to say to force her husband into a noose, euphemistically called a necktie. They go out; he squirms all through the party and pulls desperately at his neck, wishing he had left it home, and looks at his wife in her fluttery little chiffon something-or-other and swears an undying oath to do something about it. His resolve lasts just about as long as his discomfort. The next time he meekly puts on the tie again.

Men have been suffering thus for years, crying about it all the time, but not one is willing to brave the wrath of a female or the exhortation of his fellow-men, who brashly label him a traitor but (convention-bound themselves) inwardly are jealous. It is convention which forces men into coats and neckties at social gatherings and in business. It is a convention which should have long since died. Now we have reached the day of so-called enlightenment, comes the revolution. A declaration of independence is not enough; we need men of great courage who will sacrifice themselves on the altar of public opinion in order to bring about the emancipation of all men.

Hold On To Tomorrow — You'll Need It

The Bond Rally is a test of patriotism. The days that follow the rally are a test of financial shrewdness. Americans are meeting both tests brilliantly.

At the rally, with bands playing, speakers exhorting, returned heroes telling of the comrades they left behind, bonds are purchased in an emotional white heat. The morning after, the heat is off and temptation is on. Why not sell that bond and use the money on some immediate, transient pleasure? A few people do. But only a small minority is guilty of giving our government war-winning equipment one day and taking it away the next. The vast majority of Americans are holding their bonds and by that act, passing the test of financial acumen.

These Americans know they've gotten hold of a good thing. They know that they've bought themselves a future, a future worth one-third more than the present. Not a vague, imponderable future; but one which means a new home, or a college education, or perhaps the privilege of relaxing in security. Most bond holders know this and that's why most bonds aren't being cashed in. Americans won't sell out their future!

Our present war bonds descended from the pre-Pearl Harbor defense bonds, and these in turn descended from the baby bonds first issued in 1935. 1935! That doesn't seem so long ago. Yet, in just a few months, investors will start to receive four dollars for every three they put away in 1935. There were quite a few of those pioneer investors and each year there are more of them. It's hard for them to remember ever owning the dollars invested a decade past. They, more than any other Americans know not only the patriotic thrill of investing in war bonds but also the deep, immeasurable, personal satisfaction of buying a future and watching it come to pass.

Don't Talk, It Might Be Your Boy

A few months ago an American troopship, carrying two thousand of our soldiers to the fighting front, was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine. One thousand American lives were lost. Strange as it seems — and this should give us all pause — it is entirely possible that a patriotic citizen was responsible for the catastrophe. What might have happened? An American mother, in any town or city, has just said good-bye to her son. He has been home on his last furlough. In explanation of her worried look, she tells a neighbor that her son is sailing the next day from Brooklyn. The neighbor happens to know that the boy belongs to let say the 302nd Infantry and that several other boys from the neighborhood belong to the same outfit. That night at the corner bar he sees the father of one of the other boys. "Your son is sailing tomorrow," he tells him. "Yeah, from Brooklyn. Certainly, I'm sure. He belongs to the 302nd, doesn't he?" Well, Billy Ames was home this week and told his mother.

A man at the next table strolls casually to the telephone booth. The man at the other end of the telephone sends a telegram in code. In a little hideaway on Long Island another man seems very interested in the telegram. It goes winging across the sea by wireless. In Berlin, in a room filled with maps and charts and code books, a group of men put this bit of information with other bits that have come from elsewhere. At a German port a wolf-pack moves stealthily out to sea. Four nights later a torpedo strikes — a ship sinks. A messenger rings a doorbell. There is a telegram for Mrs. Ames. Billy is dead — and with him a thousand other boys.

Mrs. Ames' patriotism is not to be questioned. She did not want her son to die. Neither did the neighbor who passed the information along. But information is one of the most important weapons of the war. Our enemies are willing to spend millions of dollars to find out what our plans are. Too often we present them with what they want to know free of charge, entirely through carelessness.

The Army, the Navy and the FBI have asked civilian defense organizations throughout the country to impress on Americans the importance of safeguarding military information. You may feel that this does not include you, but it does. Bits of war information, which seem immaterial to you, may be vital to the enemy. A word about the sailing of one soldier may endanger a whole convoy. A casual remark by a war-worker about his day's work may reveal an entire factory's output.

The safest procedure is to think before you talk — and then don't talk. What the enemy doesn't know won't hurt him. What is more important is that what the enemy doesn't know won't hurt us.

(WNU Service)

The Whys And Wherefores Of Municipal Planning

CONCLUSION

In these neighborhoods we find both apartment houses and single family houses, but they do not clash with each other for the town building regulations require that there must be a minimum amount of ground space for each family.

Consequently, if someone wishes to put up an apartment house for fifty families, he must provide equivalent space for these fifty families, which means that all apartments are set in miniature parks which enhance rather than detract from the fine character of the neighborhood.

Obviously both apartments and individual houses are excellent investments for, as the years go by, values remain stable. And occupancy of such neighborhoods remains relatively stable; there is no decay to drive people out.

The variety of dwelling accommodations provide for the requirements of families young and old, large or small.

Each neighborhood has a certain number of people in it. There might be 2,000 or perhaps as many as 5,000.

But once a neighborhood is filled to the edges of its own small park belt, no more building can be done until houses or shops within it are torn down to be replaced.

If the population expands, the neighborhoods do not expand, but their number increases.

Our imaginary city is no fancy residential suburb, but a complete community in which people work as well as live. The factories are located away from the houses, but not very far away.

Because the factories have installed smoke eliminating devices (which have been on the market for years) their surroundings are clean. They too have trees and lawns around them.

This is a pretty picture, isn't it? But it is not a visionary one. All of these elements already exist in fragmentary form. They need only to be assembled to form complete, modern, gracious and beautiful communities if there is the wisest way to spend the money a man.

Because only the plan can tell which has to be spent anyway.

WHAT TO DO

Look

Look at our town. Look at it with open eyes. Stop taking the noise, congestion, dirt and ugliness for granted.

Compare it with the imaginary city just described, which could be started the day war ends without waiting for a single new material or any new inventions.

Read And Listen

Many popular magazines publish articles on planning. Watch for them. Watch for lectures on this subject. Watch for radio programs.

And talk to your fellow Bellevillites who have to know about such things—architects, engineers, builders, realtors, bankers, public officials. Many of them have the answers to your questions. Listen to the pessimists too—the more you listen to them the more you will want Belleville to be forward-looking.

Join

There are many groups in Belleville which could become potent forces for community betterment through replanning and rebuilding.

One such group are the parent-teacher associations, which are vitally interested for many reasons. Others are the Rotary and Lions. We have no Chamber of Commerce but a citizens' housing council or a citizens' planning association are definite needs.

Support

Once you know your town, you are in a position to support things which you know would make for better living and a more beautiful community.

Here the aid of the local newspapers and of the Commissioners must be enlisted. The pressure of public opinion and recognition of it are what make America a democracy.

Through demanding a better town, we can maintain and improve the democracy we are now fighting for.

Promote

We have already mentioned the groups which can promote ideas for better town planning. But this can go much further.

Children, through their civics classes in school, can also learn what Belleville (where they are growing up) is like and what it could be like. Exhibitions can be prepared which will popularize the program.

Downtown merchants, who are threatened with loss of business, property and mortgage holders who are interested in commercial and residential properties, can be induced to cooperate in such activities and to give their invaluable support.

Vote

In the end, many elements of the program become political issues, for many of the changes will require legislative action. Exercise your full rights as an American citizen.

For it will be your choice whether candidates supporting progressive city planning measures or those opposing them will be elected.

We repeat what we said at the beginning the right kind of planning will result if an informed group of active citizens arouses public opinion and guides the planners in gradually making Belleville over into a better place for your wife, your children, your neighbors and you.

Tough Year Ahead

From Frank J. McFadden Executive Vice President First National Bank

To the Editor of The Times: This is the decisive year of the war. The ultimate attainment of complete victory depends largely upon the success of the offensive about to be launched by the Allied armies and upon our ability to sustain the drive once it has begun.

As the tempo of the war quickens, so will the cost rise in lives, in suffering and in money. That is why the coming Fifth War Loan drive may be the most important one of the war; why it is imperative that each one of us work for the success of the drive and invest to the limit of our ability.

Praises Alva Buckley

From Hon. Homer C. Zink 26 Rossmore place

To the Editor of The Times: Last week, Belleville suffered a very real loss in the death of Alva Buckley. He was a good citizen, a useful citizen, an unselfish citizen; such citizens are all too rare today.

He had long rendered definite service to Belleville, without pay and without reward beyond the inward satisfaction of knowing he was doing a good job.

Nice things are now being said about Mr. Buckley. It is too bad some of those things were not said about him in his lifetime. It would have helped to repay him for the sacrifices he steadily made, giving his time, talent and energy to Belleville.

He might be alive yet if he had not worn himself out working over-time for the good of others — in Scouting, Community Chest, Civic Welfare and the Town generally.

Mr. Buckley was a real friend to Belleville — a truly good neighbor; he stood high on the list of the Town's first citizens.

We can, perhaps, honor him best by remembering what kind of a citizen he was — forthright, generous, quiet — always with the courage of his convictions.

In a word, Alva Buckley put the welfare of others above his own; he was interested in "giving" rather than "getting." Such citizens are, indeed, rare.

Town Planning Necessary

From Harry C. Specht President, Belleville Foundation To the Editor of The Times

I spent yesterday reading all of the material you sent me on town planning. I read each magazine from cover to cover.

The information is most interesting and the more you read of what other towns are doing and what the Government and State hope towns will do, you become conscious of how much there is for us to do here in Belleville.

If our town Commissioners and our people do not become conscious of postwar planning, we will pay the price for such negligence in the years to come . . .

St. Anthony's And St. Peter's Want Clothes For Italy

A two-pronged team headed by Rev. Titian Menegus of St. Anthony's Catholic church and Rev. Joseph M. Kelly of St. Peter's Catholic church is reported making progress in the drive for old clothes for war-torn Italy. The campaign, which is now in full swing, will run for two more weeks. The clothes after being processed will be shipped by the federal government to Italy and will be distributed through the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

Receiving centers have been set up in St. Peter's school and in the Belleville Political and Social club at 282 Belleville avenue. The school will be open all day and the club after 5 p. m. daily.

John C. Stefanelli of 20 Wilson place and Harry C. Citarella of 19 Mt. Pleasant avenue, members of the club, have volunteered to pick up clothes which cannot be delivered to the centers. Their telephone numbers are Belleville
 2-1709-W and 2-1795 respectively.
