

War Bond Sales Near $2,500,000 Quota

Overall Purchases Over $2,280,000 With E Bonds Topping $404,000; May Surpass Goal This Week

Pleasure and determination were the watchwords in Belleville this morning as the town paused a moment to take stock of the achievements of the first two and a half weeks of the Fifth War Loan campaign. Drive leaders predicted last night that Belleville will be one of the first municipalities in the state to exceed its over-all and its Series E quotas.

As reports poured in from the issuing agencies and the volunteer canvassers in all corners of the town, they indicated that Belleville is almost sure to surpass its record-breaking efforts in the Fourth drive.

With the figures tabulated up to yesterday, the town had reached $2,280,768 of its $2,500,000 quota. With 92 percent already counted, War Loan leaders confidently predicted going over before the end of the drive on July 8.

Of the grand total announced yesterday, $404,522 consisted of Series E sales to individuals. Belleville's goal in this category is $750,000.

The local effort took a tremendous forward leap early this week when it was revealed by War Loan chairman Philip Dettelbach that he had received a $1,000,000 subscription from the state Sinking Fund commission. Comptroller Homer C. Zink, newly-appointed commissioner of Taxation and Finance, remarked that his "interest in Belleville" prompted him to "make this arrangement so that the town may get credit for the purchase."

Industrial returns, still far from their final figures, drifted in slowly but are expected to take a big jump next week when the June figures are tabulated. Industrial sales in the Fourth War Loan amounted to nearly eighty percent of the town's total of nearly $4,000,000, compared to a quota of $2,000,000.

Civic and fraternal organizations are already treading hard on the heels of their goals, according to Defense Coordinator Brunner, who is also Dettelbach's assistant.

The Lions club is less than $5,000 short of its planned $35,000 sales, which will go toward the purchase of a medium light tank for the armored forces.

The Craftsman's club has passed the $25,000 mark and will conclude its efforts with a rally in the Masonic temple Wednesday evening.

The Boy Scouts, late starters, have reached $5,000 in their drive to buy an ambulance costing $1,950 for each of the town's ten troops.

Exceptional Sales
Meanwhile, units of the Civilian Defense personnel, bearing the major portion of the household solicitation, have reported exceptional sales all over town, Brunner said.

"We have an excellent opportunity to be the first in the state to go over our quota," Brunner declared, "but in order to do so it will take all the bonds the people can buy."

Allocations from war plants elsewhere employing Belleville residents will swell the final total, according to Brunner. None of these specific allocations to Belleville have been announced.

Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company of Kearny has allotted $1,985,000 to Essex county but Belleville's share is not yet known.

This town is expected to be credited with the $200,000 purchased by the Belleville Works of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company. Westinghouse's county purchases were $1,425,000.

Man Uses Body to Block Car From Injuring Boy Helper

Quick-thinking action by George J. Gebhard, 35, of 47 Parkside drive saved a twelve-year-old boy from possible serious injury Sunday afternoon.

Gebhard was driving south on Bridge street and had just turned into Church terrace when the car stalled. While he was pushing it back into Bridge, Robert Miller of 43 Bridge street offered to help by steering.

As the car started down the hill, Gebhard noticed that the car was in danger of brushing a pole and that the boy's leg was partially out of the open door.

He threw himself on the street in front of the wheels, holding the car until another motorist came along and kept the sedan from rolling further by holding it with his bumper.

Gebhard was uninjured but the Miller boy was treated by Dr. Samuel Gilbert for bruises.

NO CONFIRMATION ON KIDDE'S PLANS TO MOVE HERE

Reported Sale of Bloomfield Plant, Removal to Belleville Called "Anticipatory"

"The Walter Kidde company is not prepared to make any statement at this time about the disposition of the Bloomfield plant."

"They have drawn up no plans as they intend to keep on using the Bloomfield buildings perhaps for years to come."

Thus a Kidde spokesman yesterday put the silence damper on a published report that the firm had sold its old Bloomfield plant and would move itself totally to the newer Belleville plants.

According to the story released late last week by J. I. Kislak Inc., realtors of Jersey City, the Bloomfield buildings have been sold to the Newton Carton company of Newark.

Under the terms of the sale, according to the statement, Kidde would continue under lease in Bloomfield for the next three years before transferring production to Belleville.

"The material in the Newark paper," said the company spokesman, "was anticipatory."

No Layoff
"There will be no laydown in work nor layoff among employees of Kidde company, it was pointed out by company officials," declared the Newark daily.

The Bloomfield plant occupies a five-acre tract at West 27th and Race streets and contains 100,000 square feet of floor space, including the office building.

Objections of residential neighbors in 1941 when Kidde wanted to expand to meet wartime conditions caused the Bloomfield commission to veto expansion plans.

At that time the firm purchased ground on Main street north of Greylock avenue and erected several plants at an estimated cost of $2,000,000. The company now operates six plants in Essex county.

TALKS FAST, GETS $1,000 FROM WIFE

Stranger Bears "Good News" From Soldier and Makes Off With Cash after Threats

A fast-talking stranger, whose smoothness turned to threats, was able to mulct Mrs. Jennie Formato of 109 Newark avenue of $1,000 Sunday night, she told police.

She told Detective Sgt. McGinnis that the man came to her home shortly after 10 p. m. Sunday. He said he had good news about her husband, Pvt. Charles Formato, stationed in Fort Bragg, N. C.

She let him in, whereupon he demanded the money which she had in a cedar chest in the house. How he knew it was there has not been explained either by Mrs. Formato or by the police.

When he threatened that she "would get hurt" if she did not hand it over, she gave it to him. Most of the money was from dependency allotments from her husband.

As soon as the man left, Mrs. Formato telephoned the police but a search of the neighborhood failed to reveal a trace of him.

Mrs. Formato described the stranger as about 38-40 years old, about five feet six inches in height, medium build, a neat dresser wearing a brown suit and soft hat. He had several teeth missing in his lower jaw.

Reported Safe

F/O John W. Barrett

Reported safe this week after having been missing more than two months was Flight Officer John W. Barrett, 27, son of Mrs. Theresa Barrett of 21 Clinton street and the late William Barrett.

Mrs. Barrett received from the delegate of the government of Yugoslavia a transcript of a communication from the headquarters of General Mihailovich containing information that Barrett is alive and well.

Barrett, pilot of an Army P-47 Thunderbolt, was reported missing ever since an April 16 raid on German installations in Yugoslavia. He was based in Italy.

It is believed that Barrett either bailed out or crash-landed his fighter plane after it was damaged and then made his way into the camp of the pro-Allied leader.

Born in Scranton, Barrett attended St. John's high school there and moved to Belleville five years ago. He was formerly employed by the Federal Telephone & Telegraph company of Newark.

He enlisted in the Army air corps in November 1942 and won his wings and bars in August at Marianna, Fla. He has been overseas since January.

S/Sgt. Robert P. Leonhard

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Leonhard of 24 Elmwood avenue have received notification from the War Department that their son, S/Sgt. Robert P. Leonhard, is a German prisoner of war.

The 22-year-old gunner-engineer on a B-24 Liberator was previously reported missing in the Mediterranean theater after a bombing mission April 2. It was his seventh mission.

A 1939 graduate of Nutley high school, his family moved to Belleville last October. He entered the Army in November 1942 and won six wings at Tindall Field, Fla. He has been overseas seven months.

Card Game Ends in Stabbing, Man Faces Assault Charge

Vincenzo Messina, 61, of 252 North Belmont avenue was released in $500 bail Monday by acting Recorder Gebhardt for "further hearing last night on charges of atrocious assault and battery."

Messina was arrested at Cross and Magnolia streets Sunday night by Sgt. John F. Flynn and Patrolman Michael Dacey after allegedly stabbing Michael Lioia, 44, of 45 Watchung avenue with a pair of scissors.

The argument is said to have resulted from a previous dispute during a card game. Taken by Patrolmen Cruthers and Lukowak to St. Mary's hospital, Passaic, the stitches were required to close the wound in Lioia's shoulder.

SPATZ CALLS FOR SAFETY MEASURES OVER FOURTH

Police Chief Spatz Announces Special Enforcement Campaign During Holidays

Police Chief George R. Spatz today announced that a special enforcement campaign will be in effect over the Fourth of July holiday season.

The campaign, he said, is in cooperation with a nationwide drive being conducted by the National Safety council to reduce the staggering holiday death toll which occurs annually at this time.

"The Police department is asking every citizen to enlist in this campaign to save lives and property over this holiday season," Spatz said.

"This is no time for anyone to be wasting lives, property and time through needless accidents. Yet, the national traffic accident death toll is up fifteen percent for the first four months of the year."

A little common sense, courtesy and care in driving will halt this mounting toll."

War Workers Work
Chief Spatz pointed out that many war workers would be going to and from work despite the holiday period. He predicted that, gas or no gas, the holiday traffic will be heavy.

"One of the best ways to help our boys of Belleville who are out there fighting for us is to stop accidents that waste manpower here on the home front."

"Those boys must have every bit of material they need for the invasion. Our job is to give it to them. Accidents slow our efforts."

Chief Spatz emphasized that violators of wartime traffic driving restrictions not only are "flitting with death," but exposing irreplaceable cars to destruction.

KIDDE TAKES OVER SEA SCOUT SHIP

Company to Sponsor Seamen, Eastwood-Nealey Provides Temporary Shelter

The reorganization meeting of the Belleville Sea Scout ship (troop) was held Tuesday when Carl Hundertpfund, skipper, and members of the new ship committee discussed the transfer of sponsorship to Walter Kidde company.

The ship, begun six years ago by the fire and police departments, has been granted temporary quarters in the Eastwood-Nealey corporation plant but will eventually be housed by Kidde.

Chairman of the new committee is Arthur Lundquist and the other members are Crosby Hiss, William A. W. Thomson, Michael Lundberg, Richard H. Green and Nicholas Vuyosevich, all of the Kidde firm.

Registration of the ship is now around twenty, Boy Scout district chairman W. Douglas Clark said yesterday, but a membership increase is expected in the near future.

"Most of the original Sea Scouts are now in the Navy, Coast Guard or Merchant Marine," Clark said, "and the experience they gained in the ship here proved invaluable to them."

The Coast Guard picket boat from the Manasquan Inlet was presented to the local ship five years ago but the Coast Guard had to borrow it back after the beginning of the submarine menace offshore.

The cutter has been docked at Port Newark for several years but it is expected that Belleville Sea Scouts will put it back into local action this summer.

The organizational meeting of the new ship, to which all applicants for membership are invited, will be held Wednesday at 7:30 at Eastwood-Nealey.

Commissioners Meet
A special meeting of the Commission this afternoon at 5 will consider three late liquor license renewal applications. Mayor Williams, still at the GOP convention, will not be present.

Ration Board Hours
The war price and rationing board office will be opened Tuesday, July 4, from 9 to 3. It will not be open during the evening.

However, in order not to let the week pass without an evening session, the office will be open Wednesday evening from 7 to 9.

Beginning This Week . . .

Beginning today in page nine is a series of analytical articles on the recent eight-month survey made by the National Recreation association. The articles will show the sort of town in which we live, what its recreational facilities are and what they should be. It will conclude with a list of recommendations for enlarging the recreational life of Belleville.

A study of the entire report will prove interesting and enlightening to all citizens of Belleville as well as to its various civic organizations and governing bodies. It should be required reading for all those who are truly interested in the development and future of the town.

Special Ceremonies Sunday To Honor Independence Day At The Municipal Stadium

Belleville will observe the 168th anniversary of the liberation of America from the yoke of Old World domination with a well-planned demonstration and entertainment in the Municipal Stadium Sunday afternoon beginning at 2. Defense Coordinator Brunner, who is also chairman of the committee on arrangements, said yesterday the celebration had been moved forward to allow for the defense workers, many of whom will be working on the Fourth of July.

The observance of Independence Day will be both patriotic and entertaining, Brunner declared, announcing the cooperation of local patriotic organizations and an eight-act bill of popular entertainers. Admission will be free. The celebration, which will be sponsored jointly by the Defense Council and the Belleville Foundation, will open with the presentation of color guards from the two American Legion posts and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Three More Casualties Are Added To Belleville's List

Pvt. Morris E. Catalano Is Killed, Pvt. Jeremio Tagliatela Wounded in Italy; Joseph Razes Dies of Ruptured Aorta in South Pacific

Belleville's casualty list continued to mount this week as one soldier was reported as having been killed in action in Italy, another wounded in the same field of action and a sailor was listed as dead of natural causes in the South Pacific. The town's service flag now bears 23 gold stars.

Pvt. Morris E. Catalano

The death of Pvt. Morris E. Catalano, 28, killed in action in Italy May 14, was revealed recently in telegrams to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Catalano of 14 Bellevue avenue, and his wife, Mrs. Marie Sabalia Catalano of 165 Twelfth avenue, Newark.

Tarrant Outlines Procedure For Used Car Ceiling Prices

Dollars-and-Cents Limits Placed on 23 Makes And 6,000 Models Effective July 10; Sellers Must Complete OPA Certificate of Transfer

With used passenger cars, including taxis and station wagons, OPA Director Richard J. Tarrant today outlined provisions of the regulation, and steps his office and the war price and rationing boards will take to assure uniform and effective enforcement of the ceiling regulations.

Discussing industry fears that black market operations may disrupt the program, Tarrant promised intensive surveillance of used car dealer operations by both price panels and district enforcement personnel, with prompt enforcement action to eliminate black market activities.

"This must and will be done," Tarrant declared, "because the used car supply has become of vital importance to wartime transportation, in view of the dwindling stock of new cars and the total absence of new production for the past two years."

In reviewing the mechanics of the program, he pointed out that successful operation would depend largely on full cooperation of dealers and other used car sellers with local board price panels and mileage panels.

He summarized the regulation as follows: The regulation sets a dollar-and-cents ceiling on 23 makes and 6,000 models of "as is" passenger cars including taxis and station wagons manufactured from 1937 through 1942.

Models earlier than 1937 are controlled by means of a prescribed pricing formula based on the 1937 model prices. The dollar-and-cents prices apply to sales by both dealers and individual consumers.

Dealers are permitted a markup over the "as is" prices of $100 or 25 percent, whichever is greater, when the car carries a written guarantee for 30 days or 1,000 miles.

Only dealers who have repair facilities, or who have written permission from Regional OPA based on a written contract with a repair shop, may use the guarantee markup.

There is also a schedule of permitted price additions for specific accessories. Ceilings will drop at the rate of 4 percent every six months.

Assure Compliance

In order to assure compliance with the price ceilings, each person selling a used passenger car, (except sales to dealers), must complete an OPA certificate of transfer, available at rationing boards.

This certificate must be signed by both seller and buyer and filed by the purchaser with the local board where he applies for gasoline rationing.

By executing the certificate, both certify that they have complied with the price regulations, that the actual selling price was not above the ceiling, and that no payment directly or indirectly was or will be made in addition to the actual sales price as shown on the certificate.

Further check on sales of used cars will be made by local boards when sellers of used cars surrender their unused gasoline ration coupons and apply for the receipt without which the sale cannot be consummated at the state Motor Vehicle bureau.

When such sellers appear at the board they will be advised of the used car ceiling regulation and all its provisions including the ceiling price on the specific car in question.

WAR CROPS FROM MIDDLE AMERICA

WHEN NOT LOOKING at the camera, three of Middle America's 30,000,000 farmers inspect two-week old sprouts of Balsa trees. Balsa seeds, scattered by tropical winds, are so adaptable to the soil that the shoots must be thinned to leave only one tree every four or five yards.

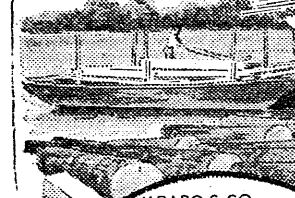

BALSA WOOD

WITHIN SIX MONTHS, the Balsa tree has grown to a height of 12 feet and about 3 inches in diameter. Note the large leaves. As Balsa trees age the leaves become smaller.

A CLOSE-UP of the elephant ear leaf of the Balsa tree—known as Middle America's War Wood—used in the manufacture of several pieces of our fighting equipment.

ON THE WAY to war! Costa Rican Balsa from Barro Colorado, is loaded on flat bottomed barges at the mouth of the San Juan river. Before it reaches the Port of Limon this wood will be transferred to a fifty ton launch.

STRONG MEN of the tropical Large timbers of Balsa wood are easily handled—the wood is porous and lighter than cork. The laborers carry their load to the wharf at Limon for shipment to the United States.

* SPANISH CONQUISTADORS discovered the New World found the Indians called it "balsa." Balsa is today, as it was in World War I, of primary importance. It is used in the manufacture of life preservers, submarine mine floats, streamlining of struts and braces in aircraft, and commercial refrigerators for self. Its use in aeronautical manufacture and design is increasingly significant.

Mrs. Winthrop Crowhurst Killed Accidentally, Police Believe

Asphyxiation and not strangulation has been given as the cause of the death Monday of socially prominent Mrs. Penelope Crowhurst, 32, of 761 Parker street, Newark.
The wife of Winthrop Crowhurst, partner in the Belleville leather tannery firm of A. J. Crowhurst and Sons of Mill street, was found dead in the family automobile in the garage of their home.
The strangulation theory was discussed after the discovery of finger marks on her throat but Newark police ruled they might have been caused by her husband when he removed her body from the car to render artificial respiration.

Omnipotence has all power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God. The humble Nazarene overthrew the supposition that sin, sickness, and death have power. He proved them powerless."

"His courage and superior airmanship" were factors which brought the distinguished flying cross to Antonik during his operations as navigator and commander of a B-24 Liberator in the South Pacific from August 26 to November 11, 1943.

"Frequently defying heavy enemy ack-ack and fighter opposition, he took part in 46 night and day missions."

"On September 26 he sank an enemy cargo ship after an attack so low that debris from his own bombs raked his plane."

"On his last exploit, Antonik's bomber repulsed an attack by five enemy planes and damaged two of them."

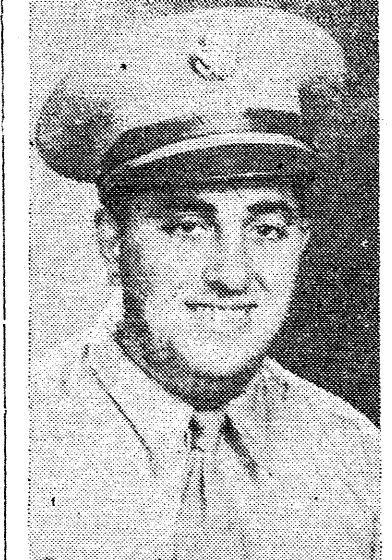

All told Antonik, who is now stationed at Hutchinson, Kans., participated in nearly 200 missions during his 27 months overseas. He returned to the States late in April.

His brother, Army 1st Lieut. John Antonik Jr. now in Grand Rapids, S. D., also holds the DFC for his work as bombardier in Africa and Italy.

Another brother, Ordnanceman 3/c Walter Antonik, expects to be transferred next week from Virginia to Florida.

Mobilio Gallant
Mobilio, a member of a medical unit in Italy, received the bronze star medal for "gallantry in action." It was presented by Major

Pfc. Sam Mobilio

Gen. Fred L. Walker and his citation related:

"On the morning of 12 February 1944 his company was subjected to intense artillery fire which caused many casualties."

"Although he was not in the area being subjected to the artillery shelling, he heard the cries of the wounded."

"Leaving his place of safety, he crept into the dangerous area and gave first aid to the wounded although shells continued to burst all around him."

Mobilio graduated from Silver Lake school, attended Belleville high school and formerly worked for the Blue Ribbon Dairy in Newark. He entered the Army a year ago and has been overseas six months.

He also has two brothers in service: Pvt. Domenick Mobilio is with the field artillery at Camp McCain, Miss., and Pvt. Anthony Mobilio is in a medical unit at Camp Crowther, Mo.

Rescued Comrades

Erickson received the silver star for gallantry in action with a chemical battalion in Sicily and Italy. He was decorated by Lieut. Col. Littleton S. Roberts at Camp Sibert, Ala.

His citation tells the story of how he rescued several of his fellow soldiers from drowning while storming enemy beaches under heavy enemy fire.

He attended Belleville and Barringer high schools and Newark Technical School. He was formerly a chemist with the duPont company of Arlington. He has been in the Army two years and overseas nine months.

To the Editor of The Times:

in Iceland. We have had some wonderful experiences entertaining our troops in some of the most remote outposts in the world.

We have flown many thousands of miles, we have given shows above the Arctic Circle where at this time of year they have continuous daylight.

We have had the wonderful experience of flying over the Ice Cap and have also travelled by dog team. Words cannot describe the enthusiasm shown by the troops at our different stops.

We have met and talked to several Belleville boys and have met many boys from Northern New Jersey.

(Mr. and Mrs. Carlton King left Belleville several months on an extended tour of northern bases for USO-Camp Shows. Their magic-and-patter routine is reportedly going over big in the far north. Editor.)

Kidde Workers Hear Head Of Skull And Cross Bones

Lieut. Comm. Tommy Washburn, Famed Squadron Commander, Tells How Outfit Shot Down 154 Japs In 79 Days, Praises Kidde War Bond Plane

A firsthand account of how the record-breaking "Skull and Crossbones" fighter squadron shot down 154 Japanese aircraft in 79 days in the Rabaul area was told by Lieut. Comm. John T. (Tommy) Blackburn, commander of the squadron, when he visited the Belleville plant of Walter Kidde & company today.

What he also told employees there was the part played by "Gopher Gus," the Chance Vought Corsair purchased by Kidde employees in a war bond drive and presented to the Navy last September.

This fighter had ten Jap aircraft to its credit and was still going strong when Blackburn left the Pacific theater.

Kidde employees were interested particularly in Blackburn's account of how the carbon dioxide equipment they manufacture protected the lives of the "Skull and Crossbones" squadron.

The shatter-proof oxygen cylinders, emergency landing-gear extension equipment, engine and gas-turb fire extinguishing systems to protect against explosion in combat.

The inflation equipment for Mae West life-jackets, rubber rafts and parachute pack-rafts that land in the water fully inflated if the crew is forced to bail out.

Never Lost A Plane
Blackburn, in recounting the squadron's exploits, said that they never lost a plane on any of the 60 missions in which they participated.

Presides blasting 154 Jap planes from the skies, the "Jolly Rogers," as they were also called, destroyed two more on the ground and sank five cargo ships and 16 troop and supply barges.

He said that usually a pilot "got religion" the first time he actually tangled with the Japs. Blackburn and other members of his squadron completed their combat assignment and returned recently to the States. Thirteen of the pilots who served in this squadron lost their lives during the 79 days of combat.

Fined for Indecent Exposure

Clarence P. MacPherson of 749 Mt. Prospect avenue, Newark, was fined $50 by acting Recorder Gebhardt last week after pleading guilty to a charge of indecent exposure.

Arrested by Patrolman Finn, he was held two days in jail here pending the hearing. The offense occurred on Washington avenue. MacPherson declared in defense that he was drunk at the time of the occurrence.

Gebhardt will be sitting in police court Wednesday evenings and Friday mornings during the absence of Recorder Smith, who is taking a two-month vacation from court duties.

DRIVE IT HOME!

"That's the way I like to see them," said Gen. MacArthur when he saw the rows of dead Japs in the Admiralty Islands. In this war—the costliest, cruelest war of all time—our boys must fight with savage fury. Kill or be killed! And on how well each plays his part depends the lives of many of his buddies.

Here on the home front, too, just cheering the attack on isn't enough.

That's why there's a Fifth War Bond drive on now, a drive in which you're needed to support the men on the fighting fronts who are facing the most treacherous forces Americans have ever met in combat. We on the home front can't let them down—and we won't. So resolve now to at least double your bond buying in the 5th War Loan drive. This is the time to do better than your best.

NATIONALS SPLIT IN EAST ORANGE

Shut out by Jimmy Slattery After Copping Opener 5-2; Meier Hurls One-Hitter

The Nationals broke even in their doubleheader with Blessed Sacrament of East Orange Saturday.

The Nats, behind the brilliant one-hit twirling of Jack Meier, won the opener 5-2 but were shut out in the nightcap 2-0. It was the first time in two years that the Nats had been whitewashed.

In the opener, the Nats talied twice in the first inning on a single and consecutive doubles by Bill Hickman and Johnny Westlake. Then in the fifth, they put the game on ice with another brace of runs.

The win was Meier's fourth of the season. The big guns at bat for the Nats were Howie Clegg, with four singles, and Westlake, with two doubles and a single.

The nightcap was decided in the first frame when the East Orange nine pushed across two tallies off Johnny Marshall. Jim Slattery, hurling for the Sacrament team, duplicated Meier's first game feat, by throwing a one-hitter.

Slattery was deprived of a no-hitter when Joe Henry beat out a hit in the second inning. Cuzak, Walker and Garrigan each collected two hits apiece in this game.

GREYLOCK STAYS WITH LEADERS

Trounces Joralemon by 26-1 To Keep Fourth; Franklin Outlasts St. Peter's

In the Grammar School League this week Greylock blasted out sixteen hits and rolled a score more familiar to football as they completely snowed under a hapless Joralemon street nine, 26-1.

The victors, paced by Lanno's one-hit trick, scored at will. Lanno also had a field day at the plate by knocking out four hits, one a triple.

In Wednesday's game at Belleville Park, Franklin avenue school outslugged St. Peter's 11-8. The loss was the fourth straight defeat for the Petros.

In a forfeit game Union avenue team won from Ralph street school 9-0. It was the fourth win of the year for the Number Eighters.

Meanwhile the league-leading Silver Lake team's game with No. One School was postponed because of rain.

Bellevillite Teaches Seamanship to Army Nurses

LESSONS IN SEAMANSHIP are imparted to four Army nurses aboard a Coast Guard assault transport somewhere in the Atlantic. The teacher is Boatswain's Mate 2/c Joseph Dillon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Dillon of 13 Howard place. A '36 alumnus of BHS, he worked for Sweeney Lithograph before enlisting in the CG two weeks after Pearl Harbor. His brother, Cpl. Robert E. Dillon, is with the Army engineers in England. Here Joe Dillon explains the intricacies of a boat's pipe as well as duties of Coast Guardsmen who are landing Allied forces all over the globe. (CG official photo.)

Recreation Association Gives Master Plan

This is the first in a series of analytical articles on the report of the recent survey of Belleville made by the National Recreation association. The survey studied the characteristics of Belleville, made an inventory of its recreational facilities and offered a master plan for development of recreation in all sections of the town.

Most of the language of these articles is that of the report itself. Study of the report is recommended to all citizens and organizations of the town as it develops in further installments which will appear exclusively in succeeding issues of The Times.—Editor.

A long-range plan for recreation in Belleville must be based on the physical and social setting of the town and on the pattern of civic and social forces. The report begins with a word picture of the type of town in which we live and concludes with many recommendations to make it a better place to reside and enjoy.

As a unit of Essex county, Belleville is part of a metropolitan county which in 1940 was 97.9 percent urban. There are 6,541 persons per square mile in the county, much of which is highly industrial.

The economic life of Belleville centers principally in its industries, the majority of whose employees, however, live outside the town. The industrial plants of Belleville employ 13,000 but only 2,000 are residents of the town.

It is a bedroom city, hitherto heavily dependent on New York and Newark for many of the resources of culture and amusement which are found within the limits of towns of like size distant from the metropolitan area.

Such dependence on the large cities, up to a certain point, is natural and inevitable but it has been allowed to develop beyond desirable limits in the case of important facilities and services which should be established very near to or within residential neighborhoods.

The town limits comprise only 3.2 square miles. The land, without being extremely hilly, slopes moderately downward to the Passaic River on the east. The Second River borders the greater part of the town on the south.

While the areas lying near these streams have long since been taken over for industry, sufficient land adjacent to the waterways has been recaptured for park and parkway development through the enterprise of the Essex County Park commission.

The belt of park land surrounding a considerable part of the town has been further extended by the commission through the establishment of Hendricks Field (Branch Brook) golf course to the west.

Population Trends

The town's population was 15,600 in 1920 and 26,974 in 1930, a 72 percent increase. In 1940 it was 28,167 which is a 4.4 increase. In November 1943 the Civilian Defense Council calculated the population at 29,000.

The estimated future population of the town and the figures used as a basis for the long-range plan is 35,000. Newer residential construction has been to the north and west, principally in the White Oaks section.

Residents of Italian, German, English, Irish, Scotch, Polish and Canadian ancestry comprise 22 percent of the population with the Italians numbering fifty percent of the foreign-born.

In 1940 15.7 percent of the population was foreign born. Between 1930 and 1940 the Negro population decreased from 1,023 to 857.

Occupations

In 1940 83 percent of the men and thirty percent of the women of Belleville (fourteen years old and over) were in the labor force. The actual figures were 7,551 common characteristics, conform to school district boundaries.

The following table shows the distribution of child enrollment in elementary schools and of families in elementary school districts. The table does not include enrollments for the high school or for St. Peter's school.

The high school (1,375) is drawn from the entire town and St. Peter's (457) is drawn from school districts 1, 3, 8, 9 and 10.

District	Enrollment	Families	Population
One	305	734	2,503
Two	104	253	863
Three	438	1,188	4,051
Four	729	892	3,042
Five	492	1,545	5,267
Six	432	843	2,875
Seven	446	1,017	3,173
Eight	196	470	1,603
Nine	281	1,035	3,529
Ten	281	1,035	3,529
Totals	3,421	8,477	28,406

The trends in public school enrollments are some reflection of the changes in family life and neighborhood conditions. The following table shows the enrollment changes over a period of years.

District	1924	1941	1943
One	816	311	203
Two	223	110	164
Three	879	423	485
Four	1,132	790	729
Five	407	496	490
Six	259	405	432
Seven	254	489	446
Eight	231	199	196
Nine	222	264	281

In school districts eight, nine and ten, instead of the 1924 enrollment, figures are given for 1925, 1926 and 1929 respectively. The year 1924 was the peak year for the total school enrollment.

The table shows a large decline in one-half of the school districts. Even were general population has increased, the child population has not kept pace with it.

Elsewhere the declines are caused by displacement of residential population through the expansion of industry.

The decline in the number of children in any neighborhood does not necessarily mean that there should be no recreational planning for that area. It does, however, affect the type of planning.

The second installment of this series will appear next week.

Students Learn Price Ceilings Before School Closing

Retail ceiling price lists were distributed week before last to the public schools and St. Peter's school through the courtesy of School Superintendent Farmer and Rev. Joseph M. Kelly.

This marks an innovation in the effort to hold price ceilings, by bringing into the home a complete price list of almost every variety of meat, canned goods and groceries the average housewife might purchase.

This distribution was under the leadership of Mrs. Luther E. Van Pelt, community service member of the Belleville War Price and Rationing Board.

Fill Nutley Symphony Positions

The first board meeting of the newly-elected officers of the Nutley Symphony society was held last week at the home of the president, Howard Heed Jr. of Nutley.

Eleanor Bacon-Peck of 87 Preston street is vice-president. Mrs. Peck will also continue as auditions chairman.

Miss Francena Harris of 224 Holmes street, who plays viola in the symphony, will be personnel chairman as she was last year and Mrs. Adell Sutherland will again direct the publicity of the organization.

Gets B.A. from Cornell

Mrs. Tina Berliuss Rubenstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Berliuss of 83 Beech street, received her bachelor of arts degree at Cornell university's seventy-ninth commencement Sunday.

Mrs. Rubenstein prepared at Belleville high school, class of '41, and has been a member of the Cornell Radio Guild and the Cornell-for-Victory committee.

She was married May 26 to Lieut. Frank Rubenstein of Irvington.

Where the people live, as well as the total number in the community, is a guide in applying standards for recreational services and facilities.

For the most part, the lines which more or less divide Belleville into neighborhoods having

Painstaking Survey Reveals Recreation Needs

The report of the survey of the National Recreation association, handed last week to the Commission, is probably one of the most exhaustive and detailed pictures of Belleville ever drawn. The investigators, Weaver W. Pangburn and F. Ellwood Allen, were quite painstaking in their study of the town, and its recreational shortcomings were portrayed frankly but with a knowledge that improvements can be made with a little effort by the town.

While the recommendations for enlargement of the program here would at first glance appear to involve considerable sums, it must be remembered that what they propose is a long-range program and it must be realized that dollars spent over a long period of time soon whittle down to pennies.

With due respect to the now-defunct Recreation Commission (killed some five or six years ago) and its successor, the municipal Recreation Department, the conclusion is inescapable that we in Belleville have made only baby steps along the path to full recreational development. Our program here is somewhat stagnant through long years of only minor activity.

Now experts have shown us where the municipal recreation program should be heading and what has to be done if Belleville is ever to begin to meet standards for minimum recreation for its residents. It is to be hoped that the report will not be allowed to lie buried under an incubus of red tape and political animosities. It is to be hoped that the town has not laid out the $1,000 for the report in vain.

In order that a successful town-wide program of recreation may be established it is essential that the entire town be behind it. That means a strong and aggressive policy of public enlightenment and education, the direct responsibility of Commissioner Noll. He is the one who must explain the plan to the public, who must push as much of it to completion as is physically and economically possible, who must take forceful and decisive steps to insure the leadership needed for the program. Recreation has been his province for six years and he is responsible for what it is and what it is not.

The task of arousing public cooperation in Belleville is not an easy one, for the citizenry at large has been quite apathetic toward municipal affairs for many years. The people themselves only occasionally arouse themselves to protest and never to endorse a movement or an action on the part of the town fathers. The various civic and fraternal organizations of the town are content to concern themselves with purely social matters and never raise their voices on civic affairs, with the exception of an occasional public expression from the Citizens Committee and the Belleville Foundation.

Why the Elks, the Masons, the Knights of Columbus, the Woman's club, the Crafts-men, the Eastern Star, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Rotary and the Lions, the Parent-Teacher associations, the Petreans, the various "political and social" clubs and all the other organizations within the town limits should be so consistently silent on town matters is a complete mystery.

The NRA report, however, has now been submitted. It is a master plan for the development of the recreation future of the town and should be carried out as far as possible. There is now something definite to work toward, a goal the accomplishment of which will vastly improve the livability of Belleville. Studying it, one realizes the vast amount of good which could be accomplished by such a body and give serious thought to its establishment.

Such a plan can be evolved only by the intensive and well-intentioned efforts of a conscientious town planning board. The Commission might well consider the NRA report as an excellent example of what could be accomplished by such a body and give serious thought to its establishment.

Parking Lot, Not Driveway

From John Donaldson
580 Washington Avenue
To the Editor of The Times:

Last week you referred to a court case in which I was reported as having ordered one of my tenants to move her baby's playpen from the driveway.

This is incorrect. She had the pen in a parking lot and it was from there that I asked her to move it as it was interfering with the cars which wanted to park.

Sailors Facing Death Shame Labor "Patriots"

Out in the Pacific, the crew of the seaplane tender Coos Bay collected 41,200 pennies and sent them back to their homeland as an ironic gesture to the American "compatriots" who, by strikes and walk-outs, are robbing them of the tools with which to crush the totalitarian threat to security of America. Their idea, they say, is "to help pay the wage increase on our meager pay that the money-hungry strikers are demanding" and all the sailors ask in return is that "they will just continue to produce the implements necessary so we can end this war. We have seen war — and we hate it."

Their real purpose, of course, is to shame their fellow-Americans into a sense of the responsibilities which those at home have in this war. Practically every serviceman, not knowing whether the next Nazi bomb or the next Jap bullet will have his name on it, is unable to comprehend the workings of the minds at home which can find any justification under the sun for walking out on strike. They feel that it is a home-made partnership with Tojo and Hitler. They feel that a strike in a war plant is a full-fledged act of treason, regardless of the salary or jurisdictional disputes involved.

And most of them are determined to set-

Takes Trenton Position

From Mrs. Ethel C. Murphy
90 Second Avenue, Newark
To the Editor of The Times:

My resignation was so sudden, but three days before school closed, and so unexpected, even to myself, I do not know what fact may or may not have reached you.

My position with the Belleville Board of Education for the last six and a half years has been that of Teacher-Supervisor of Special Classes.

I have accepted a position on the staff of the Trenton State Teachers College. My field there will be in the Lanning Demonstration School, as Vice-Principal and Psychologist.

(Mrs. Murphy's resignation was noted in last week's issue of The Times.—Editor).

Craftsmen Entertain Cub Pack At Masonic Temple July 5

The Craftsmen's club will be host Wednesday evening to Cub Pack 350 in Masonic temple. Cubs who will assume the duties of Craftsmen officers that evening will be David VanDusen, president; William Richardson, vice-president; James Carmen, secretary and James Lampman, treasurer.

Fifty cubs are expected to attend. They will contribute songs and piano selections by John Masarano to the program.

The annual club picnic was held Saturday in the west end of Belleville park from 10 to 5. Nature study, races, games and contests were held and prizes awarded winning contestants. Harold F. Ross is cubmaster.

Robinson Heads Baptist Men

Herbert E. Robinson of 29 Bremond street was elected president of Grace Baptist Men's club Monday at the concluding meeting of the season. He succeeds Howard G. Ryer of 42 Tappan avenue.

Also elected were vice president John DeMark, secretary John C. Alpaugh, treasurer Charles Buckley, financial secretary John M. Stoddard, trustees Ralph Howells, Edward Lauer and Ryer.

Anonymous Letters

From the Editor of The Times:
To Anonymous Letter Writers:

A number of you have recently written us some very interesting communications, letters which would prove startling and revealing if we could only publish them.

Unfortunately you do not realize that, when you write a letter and fail to sign your name, you have gone through just so much waste motion. We cannot even consider your letter either for publication or for investigation.

Your letter to us is completely confidential if you do not wish your name used in connection with it. But it must be signed as an indication of good faith and so that we may occasionally ask you for further information.

If you wish to correct a situation, you cannot do it by writing an anonymous letter to us for we are powerless to act upon it. If you have not the courage of your convictions, why should you expect us to carry the ball for you?

Lynch Resigns Tomorrow

The resignation of James M. Lynch of 175 Tappan avenue as a member of the board of education will become effective tomorrow and Mayor Williams is expected to take no action on naming his successor until after that date.

Last week the board of education commended Lynch on his six and a half years as finance chairman for the board.

Buy Bonds for Liberty

Tuesday is the Fourth of July, the 168th anniversary of the promulgation of the document which declared us a free and independent nation, forever liberated from the tyranny and oppression of a despotic rule. We have come a long way since that first feeble step toward liberty. We have grown and flowered into a great nation, probably the greatest in force of arms on the face of the earth.

Today our sons and brothers are fighting bravely to carry that torch of freedom to others who are groaning under the heels

Town Service Flag

Several months ago the Lions club presented to the town a new service flag to replace the tattered one which hung on town hall for years. To date the town authorities have not seen fit to display the banner of glory nor have they flown the flag which went before it. There is no public acknowledgment of the 3,000-odd Bellevillians in uniform.

Commissioner Noll (parks and public property) told inquirers that the old flag-pole is not strong enough to hold the new

Now a resident of Louisville, Ky., Harris has been at his present station two years. He received his commission to the Navy three years ago when he graduated from Stevens Institute of Technology. Previously he was graduated from Belleville high school.

Pfc. John C. Weber of 10 Jerome avenue graduated Friday from ASTP at the University of Connecticut civil engineering school. He spent a brief delay in Belleville and reported Sunday to Camp Shelby for duty with the engineers.

A '41 graduate of the high school, he attended Newark College of Engineering for two years before entering the Army a year ago. He was an outstanding oarsman at the Nereid Boat club.

Apprentice Seaman Frank Cozzarelli Jr., 18, of Van Rensselaer street, is receiving his boot training at the naval training center at Great Lakes.

Two other Nereids have been in town during the past week. First Lieut. William B. Fehon Jr. spent his leave from Midland Army air field with his wife, the former Muriel Lamy of Bloomfield.

EM 3/c William Hunkele

Home on a three-week leave after his third extended submarine foray in Jap waters in the Pacific, Hunkele's Mate 3/c William Hunkele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunkele of 291 Main street.

Since he first shipped out last August, Hunkele has spent a total of 146 days at sea hunting the Jap. Under attack several times, his sub ranged to within 400 miles of Japan and 300 miles of the equator.

He remembers Easter sunrise off Truk by the aerial bomb from a Jap seaplane which "greeted us the first thing in the morning; he nearly got us."

"That night when we surfaced we listened on the radio to Tokyo Rose who announced that we had been sunk."

Later the sub was pinned on bottom for twelve hours between Truk and Eniwetok while Jap depth charges burst all around them. No direct hits were scored but concussion broke light bulbs, valves and damaged the hydraulic system.

Shook Everything

"The bombs shook everything aboard. Just before every blast we could hear the 'cherry,' a sharp tick which preceded the explosion. Only one man got a case of nerves during the attack."

Among the Jap ships sent to the bottom by Hunkele's sub was "a big tanker" and a destroyer escort along with "several small freighters." The sub rescued the crew of a Navy plane off Truk.

Returning to Pearl Harbor and granted leave, Hunkele boarded the Army transport Henry Byrd for the trip to San Francisco. Near port the big ship piled onto the rocks in the fog and sank in a few hours.

The crash came when Hunkele was in the No. 1 hold "right after chow." He and his shipmates went over the sides and lost all their personal effects.

He has a brother, Sgt. Charles Hunkele with the Army ordnance corps in England. Both are former Bellboy football stars.

Navy A/C Jack VanMarter, formerly of 33 Berkeley avenue, is recuperating in Wold Chamberlain naval dispensary, Minneapolis, from multiple injuries received a month ago in a plane crash at Charles City, Ia., his base.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert VanMarter and a sister, Miss Doris VanMarter, moved to Charles City two years ago. Cadet VanMarter attended Franklin avenue school here and was graduated from Belleville high school in 1942. He is 19.
