

ANTI-NOISE BILL INTRODUCED BY COMMISSIONERS

Would Outlaw Noisy Animals,
Horns, Whistles; Mayor Will
Fund $100,000 in Bonds

Belleville will become one of the quietest little places this side of heaven if strict enforcement follows final adoption of an anti-noise ordinance introduced on first reading by the Commission Tuesday night.

The ordinance, which was introduced at the instigation of Commissioner King because of numerous complaints received by the Police Department, sets forth eleven causes of unnecessary noise and legislates against all.

"Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance," it further declares, "will be liable to a maximum fine of $50 and a jail sentence up to ten days for each violation."

Foremost among the noise-makers which will be forever banned from Belleville are horns and other signal devices on vehicles which are sounded without sufficient reason. They can be used only as "danger signals."

Radios, phonographs and musical instruments must be kept "pianissimo" between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m. so as not to "annoy or disturb the quiet, comfort or repose of persons" who might be non-musical neighbors.

The keeping of "any animal or bird" which might disturb military slumbers, jalopies which are so loaded or out of repair as to grate people's nerves, the sounding of bells or gongs at night are also taboo.

Commercial noise will be regulated by prohibiting "the blowing of any steam whistle attached to any stationary boiler" except for a few rare causes.

Muffled Motors
All steam engines and other similar motors must be muffled, as must internal combustion motors, whether in automobiles or motorboats. No more loud speakers on moving trucks without specific permission.

The ordinance specifically legislates against "any excessive noise on any street adjacent to any school, church, institution of learning or court while the same are in session."

Also introduced on first reading Tuesday was an ordinance by Mayor Williams which will permit issuance of $100,000 in negotiable bonds to fund a number of temporary bonds issued by pay for capital improvements during the past two years.

Bearing 1 1/2 percent interest, the bonds will be redeemable as follows: $15,000 in 1948, $10,000 in 1949, $10,000 in 1950, $30,000 in 1951 and $35,000 in 1952, all falling due on November 1 of the years.

The mayor declared that issuance of these bonds will put the entire public debt on a funded basis and that provision for redemption will be placed in the budget for the year they fall due. Largest items covered in the total are paving and curbing and laying of storm sewers in Main street ($43,700) and construction of the Second River retaining wall ($12,630).

POLICE REGISTER ALL BICYCLES

Begin Plan to Mark Bicycles
To Aid Theft Recoveries;
Will Issue Data Cards

The Police department will begin immediately registering all bicycles in Belleville to aid in theft recoveries, Chief Spatz announced yesterday.

Under the new procedure, owners of bicycles need merely to bring their bikes to police headquarters where certain data will be taken free of charge, a number will be stamped on the vehicle and a permanent record kept.

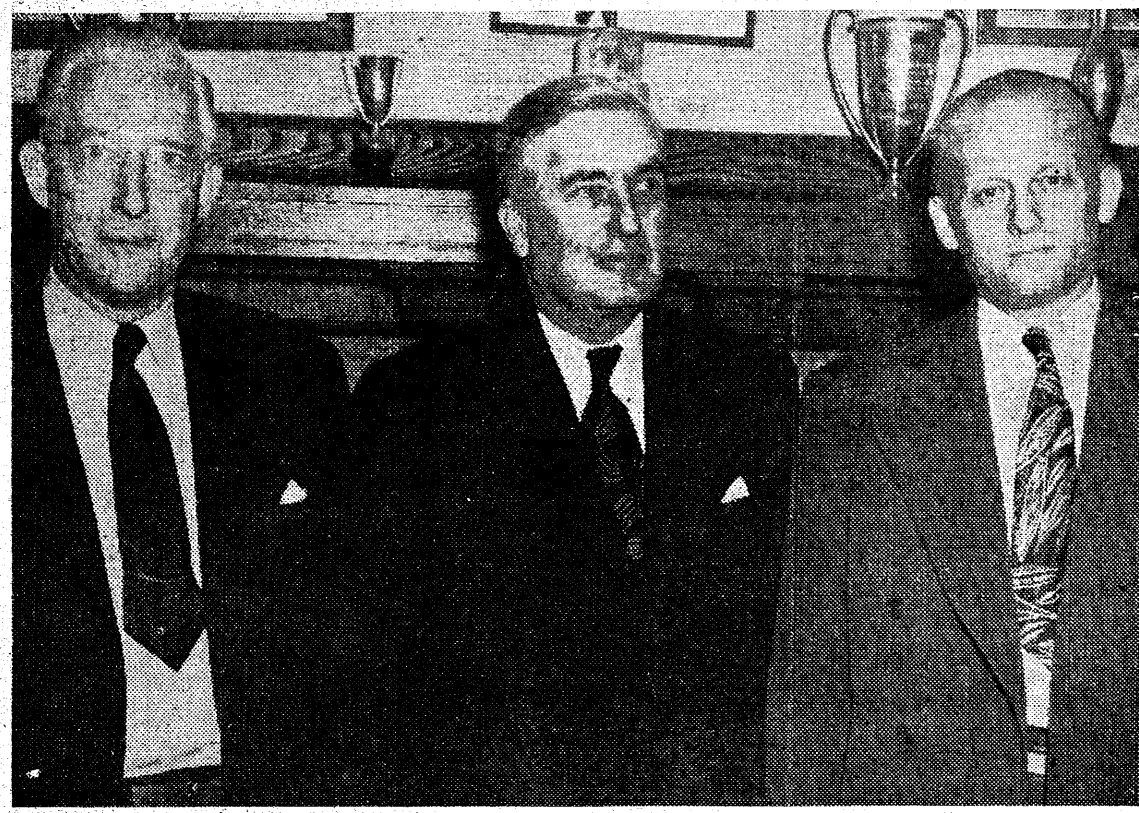

The move is being undertaken, Spatz said, because of the increasing number of bicycle thefts being reported. He recommended that every owner carry a chain and lock as part of the equipment and chain the bike to a pole when leaving it unattended.

Each registrant will be given a card on which will be certain personal data and a complete description of the bicycle. A duplicate card will be kept in police files.

An identification number will be cut into the bicycle and a record kept of that also. Spatz declared this move would aid in identifying stolen bikes after they are recovered.

On the back of the card are a set of ten rules which will guide the bike rider toward greater safety. They include obeying traffic signals, riding in a straight line, having proper lighting on the bicycle.

Constitution Revision Urged by Charles Edison

BLASTING AT FRANK HAGUE for his opposition to the proposed constitutional revision, former Governor Charles Edison last week urged adoption of the new charter when he spoke to the members and guests of the Craftsmen's club in the Masonic temple. Hague's opposition, Edison declared, is based on a fear of investigation which is impossible under the 1844 document. The governor is pictured here flanked by James R. Lampman of 75 Tappan avenue and Harry W. Winfield of 238 Ralph street, present and past presidents of the Craftsmen. (Times photo.)

X-Ray Clinic Saturday Good Health Check-up

Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association Clinic
Offers Chest Examinations Free to Residents
Of Towns and Employees in Industries

John J. Hewitt, Overseer of the Poor, and Health Officer Eugene T. Berry yesterday joined forces in urging all residents of Belleville and employees of Belleville industries to take advantage of the annual free chest X-ray examination which will be held Saturday from 10 to 7 in the gymnasium of Nutley high school under the sponsorship of the Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis association. The clinic, inaugurated last year by the association, is made possible through the sale of Christmas seals.

All residents of the two towns and non-residents employed in the communities were strongly urged to check their health without charge and without regard to what they think is their present state of health.

The first free clinic was held in Belleville high school last December and 242 persons from the two towns availed themselves of the opportunity to learn definitely the condition of their chests. "The results of the X-rays are held strictly confidential," said Hewitt, who is president of the association, "and will be made known only to yourself and to your physician."

He urged attendance at the clinic "plain common sense in peacetime and a patriotic duty in wartime." He recommended that all Bellevillites have their chests examined now because:

"If it shows that you have a healthy chest, that is good news. If it shows that you have already fought a round with tuberculosis germs and have won, that is good news."

"If it shows that you have tuberculosis in the early symptomless stage, that is good news too, because when tuberculosis is found early the chances for complete recovery are excellent; provided treatment is started at once."

Berry pointed out that a state law passed in 1939 requires compulsory examinations for tuberculosis in the pupils and employees of the public schools.

"Now that your child has been examined and X-rayed for tuberculosis, do you not feel that you owe it to him to do likewise?"

"When TB is found early, it can be cured in less time and at less cost than if it is left to go on to the advanced stage," he declared.

Expect Boxing and Wrestling At Riviera Park Skating Rink

Boxing and wrestling matches may soon be a regular weekly feature of the sports life of Belleville if present plans involving Riviera Park roller skating rink come to realization.

Benjamin Grossman of Lyndhurst, owner of B. G. Enterprises at 141 Belleville avenue, will promote the matches provided he can make satisfactory arrangements with the owners of the rink.

Tuesday night the Commission approved a plan to charge Grossman only a quarter of the $250 license fee in view of the fact that he will operate only for the last quarter of 1944.

Grossman said yesterday he hopes to make a definite announcement of the boxing-wrestling opening, tentatively scheduled for October 5, within the next week or ten days.

V-DAY MAY PASS QUIETLY HERE

No Official Celebration Plans,
Say Commissioners; King
Gives Police, Fire Orders

There will be no official celebration of V-day, when it comes, as far as the town fathers are concerned; but Public Safety Director King is taking many precautionary moves nevertheless.

King this week issued marching orders to the police and fire departments and reserves so that they may be prepared for an anticipated spontaneous celebration of the fall of Germany.

Fire reserves will make a bee-line for Washington avenue headquarters while the police reserves will gather in St. Peter's church hall.

King said he "did not contemplate anything serious but wanted to be prepared for any eventuality." Prime purpose of the move is to direct traffic and prevent possible vandalism.

He said that there should be no official celebration but that the churches should be immediately opened for prayer. He suggested that all church bells be rung.

Mayor Williams said yesterday that "the real time to celebrate is when Germany and Japan have both thoroughly defeated."

APPOINTS BRUNNER CHEST OFFICIAL

Defense Coordinator Named
Council Executive Secretary;
No Drive Chairman Yet

Appointment of Ronald G. Brunner of 549 Washington avenue as executive secretary and treasurer of the Community War Fund council, president Paul de Hagara announced yesterday.

He also revealed that Mrs. Thomas Reilly of 49 High street, Bloomfield, had been reappointed as clerical assistant to Brunner who fills the vacancy created by the resignation of John S. Charlton.

Brunner, who entered public life in Belleville only two years ago, is also town defense coordinator and secretary to Harry G. Specht, president of the Belleville Foundation. With his wife, he is owner of the Mode Hat shop at the Washington avenue address.

"Naturally, Brunner's experience with defense council work and supervision of air raid wardens makes him very familiar with the physical layout of the town and the logical man for the replacement," de Hagara said.

"His experience in running bond drives will also help," he added referring to the fact that Brunner has been assistant to Philip Detelbach, chairman of the Belleville War Loan campaigns.

Budgets of all agencies except the Visiting Nurses and the Silver Lake Community House have been received and are under consideration by the budget committee.

The amount asked for by the six participating agencies will determine the figure for the Community Chest-War Fund drive which is scheduled to begin October 9 although a general chairman has not yet been appointed.

King GOP Finance Chairman

At a meeting of the county Republican finance committee in Newark last week, Commissioner King was appointed finance director of the GOP in Belleville.

He has named six to his local committee and will appoint others. The six are Charles M. Nutt, Ralph Allaire, James R. Lampman, Fred Fischer, Eugene T. Berry and Eric Peterson.

COMMISSION ASKS SCAVENGER BIDS, WOULD BAN WEED

Wants 1, 3 and 5 Year Bids
For Garbage Collection; Also
Proposes Ragweed Control

Hoping to obtain the most favorable prices which will undoubtedly change after the war, the Commission this year is asking for scavenger bids on one, three and five-year contracts.

The proposal, introduced Tuesday night, calls for bids to be submitted for consideration October 10 at 8 p.m. and must be accompanied by a filled-out lengthy questionnaire which queries the bidder on many phases of his work.

The town's three-year contract with Charles Cuzzo of 205 Heckel street will expire December 31. Cuzzo's annual charge to the town has been $31,666. He has held the job here since 1928.

Bidders must provide for the "collection, removal and disposal of all ashes, offal, garbage, rubbish, debris and other refuse matter, twice a week." It must be disposed of outside the town.

The questionnaire, which is obtainable from the Health department, inquires into the firm's equipment, past experience, organizational set-up, bonding companies and other pertinent data.

Up for consideration and possible introduction at the next meeting of the Commission will be an ordinance designed to do away with the ragweed nuisance which has bothered hay fever sufferers for years.

Under the terms of the proposed new law, the owner of a property could be forced to remove all obnoxious weeds, trees and shrubs.

Should he refuse, he would be liable to a fine of $100.

Mertz Named

Commissioner Mertz was named by the board to take the place of town Treasurer Sargeant on the municipal police and firemen's pension fund board. John Micere of 27 Washington avenue was reappointed to a one-year term as town constable, effective today.

Military leaves of absence and going-away gifts of three months pay were approved for two town employees who were inducted September 5.

James V. Gibbons of 89 Cortlandt street, selected for Navy service, was the third policeman to don a uniform. Gerard F. Zilleenz of 20 Bayard street, now in the Army, was in the department of Public Works.

The Commission decided to offer five parcels of town-owned property with an aggregate value of $1,765 to the highest bidder at a public sale to be held a week from tomorrow in town hall.

A combination of 13-19 Grove and 9-13 Elm street, which adjoin, is priced at $500; 61-67 Watching avenue and 57-61 Cedar Hill avenue are down at $450 each; 43-45 Carmer avenue is listed at $240; 29 Florence avenue has an asking price of $125.

Parmer Exhorts Youth To Go Back to School

Supervising Principal Cites Million Who Have Quit
To Take War Jobs, Urges Careful Consideration
Before Discontinuing Their Education

Supervising Principal Wayne R. Parmer yesterday added his voice to the number which have already publicly exhorted high school students to withstand the lure of lucrative war jobs and other reasons to quit school when it is not absolutely necessary. He pointed to the vast numbers of students who have failed to return to school this fall and urged "youths of high school age and their parents to consider seriously the matter of continuing their education."

Parmer's statement follows: One million fewer boys and girls were enrolled in the high schools of America last year than in the year before we entered the war. The figures are not yet available but there will likely be an additional sizable decrease in registration this school year.

The steady drain of young people from school into jobs is the cause of most of this falling off in high school registration.

In the summer of 1943 approximately five million boys and girls, from about 14 to 17 years of age, went to work. When the schools opened in September of that year, the enrollment of our high schools was 400,000 less than the year before.

During the past summer there have been in jobs probably more than 5,000,000 of these teen-age boys and girls — more than half of all our 14 to 17 year old youth.

We have reasons to believe that many of these young people, attracted by good paying jobs, will not return to school this fall.

Future Welfare
Whether we look at it from the standpoint of the future welfare of these boys and girls themselves, or the future welfare of this country and our country, every boy and girl needs the best education and training that can be provided for them — more education and training is needed than ever before.

The value of training and study is too well known to need to be repeated here. Modern wars depend on scientific knowledge. Lasting peace depends on intelligent and trained minds. Sound bodies and sound minds are basic to any successful life.

Every parent believes that our children should be wise, able, and more successful than parents are if they are to meet the problems of the present day, or of the days immediately ahead.

A nation to be great must have well qualified individuals constituting it. This is doubly true of a Democracy.

It may be that personal needs, or the local labor situation may require some of our young people to work during this emergency.

Some work may have educational value of significance to them but for the majority of boys and girls, school provides the greatest opportunity for their future.

We appeal to our boys and girls of high school age and to their parents to consider seriously the matter of continuing their education.

They should consult with our high school principal, Burt P. Johnson, and guidance director, Dr. Thomas J. Brosnan, before closing the doors to consideration of a matter which will greatly affect their entire future well-being and happiness.

I shall personally be glad to discuss so important a decision with any boy or girl or with their parents.

HARRY NYEGAARD OF MAIN STREET DIES IN PACIFIC

Killed, Probably on Tinian Is.,
Parents Informed; Petrillo
Missing, Others Wounded

Rejoicing over the promotion of one son turned to sorrow within a few hours Thursday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Nyegaard of 329 Main street were notified that another son had been killed in action.

Pfc. Harry W. Nyegaard

Alfred V. Nyegaard arrived home on leave that morning to announce that he had been promoted to motor machinist's mate 3/c at Little Creek, Va., where he is stationed aboard an LSM.

Several hours later a Navy department telegram arrived announcing that Marine Pfc. Harry W. Nyegaard, 19, had been killed in action somewhere in the Pacific.

The notification did not mention the engagement in which he was killed but his family believes it may have been on Tinian. He was also a veteran of Saipan. No date was given in the wire.

The Nyegaards moved to Belleville eleven years ago from Nutley. Harry Jr. graduated from Belleville high school in 1942 and was formerly employed with Van Deusen's as a newsboy and later with Friebe & Sons, leather company of Main street.

He enlisted in the Marines in December 1942 and went overseas in a field communications unit a year later. He saw action at Kwajalein, Namur and Roi before going to Saipan.

Besides his parents and the brother in the Navy, he leaves two other brothers, Kenneth and Raymond Nyegaard at home.

Petrillo Missing

Pvt. Benjamin Petrillo, 20, has been missing in action in France since August 14, according to a War department telegram received Saturday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Petrillo of 60 Lake street.

After attending Belleville high school, Petrillo was employed with Scott and Bowne company of Bloomfield until he entered the Army in March 1943. He has been overseas five months.

He has three brothers also in the Army: Sgt. Michael is with the engineers in New Guinea, Pvt. Anthony is with air corps in South Carolina and Pvt. Eugene Petrillo is in an infantry unit in Massachusetts.

McWalters Wounded

Pvt. Thomas W. McWalters, 25, son of Mrs. Mary McWalters of 139 Union avenue and the late William McWalters, was wounded August 8 in France and is now recuperating in an English hospital.

He was born and educated in Newark and moved to Belleville five years ago. A former employee of American Chain & Cable company, Newark, he entered the Army a year ago and has been overseas three months.

The injured infantryman has three brothers in the Army: Capt. Frank W. McWalters with the air corps in China, Sgt. John J. McWalters with the air corps in France, and Pvt. Martin K. McWalters with the medical corps in India.

Melody Wounded

Mrs. Rose Melody of 207 Washington avenue was notified Monday that her son, Pfc. Eugene Melody, was wounded in France August 24.

He was a student at Belleville high school, where he played football and basketball, when he entered the Army in March 1943. He went overseas last May.

He has two brothers and a brother-in-law in uniform: Pfc. Raymond W. Melody of the Marines, Seaman 1/c Ted Rodrigo in the Navy and Pvt. Ted Roskawe in the Army.

Lost and Found
Within three days Mr. and Mrs. Santo Potenzzone of 45 Honiss street learned that their son, Pvt. Achille Potenzzone, 25, was missing and that he is safe in France.

Saturday they were informed by the War department that the

Advisory Committee Is Urged for Recreation

Noll Tells Foundation Group He Will Introduce Resolution Recognizing It; National Association
Representatives Explain Recommendations

Belleville should have a recreation advisory committee to assist in the formation of policies and the carrying out of recreation projects, Commissioner Noll told a committee of the Belleville Foundation at a two-hour conference Thursday evening in Union avenue school. He indicated his willingness to use the Foundation's committee for this purpose and added that the group should be recognized by the town Commission by "passing a resolution creating such a committee." Noll also declared that Mayor Williams and school board president Herbert C. Schmutz have called it "a good program and have promised to cooperate in it."

The Foundation group was organized last year and its major accomplishment to date has been the convincing of the Commission that a study of Belleville's recreational assets and needs would benefit the town.

As a result the commission appropriated $1,000 and several investigators of the National Recreation Association spent eight months making a town-wide inventory.

Attending Thursday's meeting for the Foundation were Harry G. Specht, Kent R. Costikyan and Elwood P. Russell representing industry; Rev. Joseph M. Kelly and Rev. O. W. Chapin for the churches; Wayne R. Parmer and Walter Gilby for the schools; James A. Leonard and Ronald G. Brunner from the town at large.

Noll and Recreation Director Edward J. Lister were also present to hear an outline of the report given by F. Ellwood Allen, Weaver W. Pangburn and John H. Faust of the national association.

All-Inclusive
Specht, who is president of the Foundation and who presided at the conference, pointed out that, in order to be successful, recreation must be "all-inclusive." It must embrace all age groups and income groups in the town and all branches of community life (churches, town government, schools and industry) must assume the responsibility in their own spheres. He then called on Pangburn and Allen to explain the report.

"Newly has the report been given to the public as it has in Belleville," Pangburn asserted. "We have never met a community where the report has been carried verbatim in the newspapers."

He was referring to the twelve installments carried as a public service exclusively in The Belleville Times for the past three months.

"This is the opposite to the concealment which documents of this sort sometimes receive," he declared. "Usually they are buried and handed out to the public in small doses when it is deemed all right."

The acquisition and development of playgrounds and parks is not the answer to Belleville's rickety recreation situation, Pangburn said, "it is what goes on there. Programs and competent leadership is most important."

He then "strongly urged" the establishment of a town planning commission here since the recreation plan "should be part and parcel" of town planning.

Town Planning Essential
"In making this survey we ran smack into this larger consideration of the physical aspects of the town. For example, Silver Lake

Wants Interest Paid
Mayor Hague of Jersey City contends that the interest should also be distributed to the municipalities but a recent supreme court decision allowed distribution of only the principal.

Still awaited is a "substantial payment" from the Jersey Central which is in bankruptcy and the trustees have asked the district federal judge for instructions.

Zink in his letter to Governor Edge notifying him of the payments, did not pass up the opportunity to take a crack at Hague.

"You asked the attorney general," Zink wrote, "to institute appropriate action in the courts to settle the question (of distribution of the interest)."

"You said that neither you nor we, the state's fiscal officials, would be justified in setting ourselves up as the court of last resort in deciding this question."

Raps Hague
"Your natural reaction of deference to the duly constituted courts is in sharp contrast to Mayor Hague's modest contention that I am the law."

"The mayor would have us arbitrarily distribute all the railroad tax and interest money without regard to the opinion of our highest court . . ."

"Until that question is decided, we cannot make complete distribution of the $35,000,000 recently collected from the railroads."

"Meanwhile, I respectfully call your attention to the fact that of the $10,476,050 paid out today, the sum of $8,879,842 went to Hudson county, of which $5,505,750 will be paid Jersey City, leaving $1,596,208 available for all the other participating municipalities of the state."

Town Must Search for Bidders To Supply Parking Meters
The war has changed a lot of things, including the relative position of seller and buyer, the town Commission learned Tuesday night.

The Commission had let it be known two weeks earlier that it "would be in a receptive mood" Tuesday night if anyone wanted to sell a number of parking meters.

The meters are to be installed on Washington avenue between Belleville avenue and William street, authorization for which was voted some time ago.

But when the Commission gathered to be sold Tuesday, nary a bidder had come forward. Now the board is preparing to canvass to ask if there is anyone in the market for prospective purchasers.

KIDDE WORKERS GO ON AIR WEEKLY

Monday Night Program to Be Broadcast from Local Plant
For Thirteen Weeks

Walter Kidde and company employees will go on the air every week for thirteen weeks in a new radio program broadcast direct from the local plant. Time has been arranged for a half-hour beginning at 10:05 every Monday night over WAAT Newark.

Featured sustained artists in the program will be the Kidde Glee club and Don Milo's orchestra. Individual employee talent and interviews will fill the remainder of the program.

A letter from a former employee now in the armed forces will be read each week together with a short message from a Kidde executive. The first program will be presented September 18.

Individual acts already presented at numerous Kidde luncheon shows at the plant will form the basis for auditions for future programs.

"Besides affording pleasure to Walter Kidde workers, it is believed that this publicity will make the company and its products more favorably known in the Newark area, thus helping to meet the difficult manpower problems," says The Kiddegram, company organ.

is too extensively zoned for industry and business."

The answer is town planning "which we strongly urge on this committee and the town officials."

Control of the use of the land is one of the strongest points in this report."

The Belleville Times has waged a lone fight for ten months to bring about the establishment of a municipal planning body here. Several months ago an enabling ordinance was proposed by Commissioner Waters but was quietly dropped when other commissioners evidenced opposition.

The "coordinated use of town and school property is basic in a well-rounded recreation plan," Pangburn declared, pointing to the "enormous stake" which the schools have in recreation for children.

Early acquisition of necessary property he recommended as necessary. "It should be done as soon as possible even though immediate development cannot be carried out."

First Class Leaders
"Belleville has first class leadership in industry and in education," he stated, turning to that phase of the report, "and recreation demands first class leadership no less."

Industry, he declared, "does not get out its products without leadership. Recreation is beyond the point where incidental leaders will fill the bill."

He recommended that Belleville set up machinery for training leaders here and said that the "National Recreation Association stands ready to help" in the training of leaders.

Allen, in his part of the discussion, listed four phases of the survey: 1) fact-finding investigation, 2) analysis of findings, 3) formulating of policies and plans, 4) putting the program into action.

His study had accomplished the first three steps, he said; the fourth "is in your hands."

Belleville facilities and needs have been judged in the light of standards established by the association, he said, but "the standards have been tempered by a lot of common sense and realistic economic reasoning."

The survey "examined what we have and concluded we don't have very much in Belleville," he declared, pointing principally to the piecemeal total of 6 1/2 acres of school property in the town.

County Parks Good
He made much of the "magnificent Essex County Park system which is one of the Belleville's great assets."

The Municipal Stadium and its 23 acres available for development presents "a golden opportunity: you own the land, it is merely a question of developing it."

Noll at this point cited the post-war projects which the Stadium affords but Allen retorted that "it is not necessary to wait for the postwar period."

"You do owe the people of this community something and so far you haven't given them very much. The town should consider capital improvements and you will have the people with you."

Noll revealed that Montgomery Presbyterian church may move to a site on Belleville avenue and that the town may take over the old church building and grounds for a playground.

He also announced that Mayor Williams had agreed to close off 2 1/2 acres of town-owned property at Ralph street school for recreation and that there is a 5 1/2-acre town plot on Elena place which might be used for recreation.

Praises Leadership
Noll was commended this week by Faust, field representative for the National Recreation association, for his proposal to carry out the long-range recreation development plan as a living memorial to Belleville servicemen.

"I have just seen The Belleville Times which quotes from your letter of transmittal of the long range plan, setting forth your recommendation that it be carried out as a living memorial to Belleville's servicemen and women."

"Mr. Pangburn and I were talking it over yesterday and I am hasting to assure you that we at the office are delighted at the leadership you and Lister are taking in this matter and also at your fine imagination in presenting this as living memorial."

"So far as we know, Belleville is unique in that respect. We have heard of plenty of war memorial buildings being considered, but as far as we know no one has had the vision to present a long range plan for this development."

Two Wallace-Tiernan Companies Get Fourth Army-Navy Award
Wallace and Tiernan company and Wallace and Tiernan Products were notified Monday that each had won the coveted Army-Navy "E" award for the fourth time, a feat almost unparalleled in this area.

There have been several instances of a single company receiving the excellence award four times but it is believed that never before have two allied companies under the same management been so rewarded.

Both companies first won the pennant in December 1942, again in July 1943, February 1944 and September 1944. Notification came from Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson.

Wallace and Tiernan manufacturers water purification equipment for the armed forces with particular emphasis on sterilization equipment for armies in the field. W&T Products makes azochloramid and other pharmaceuticals as well as certain military secret material.

First National Announced As a Redemption Agency

Bank Has Qualified as Authorized Issuing Agency For Redeeming War Savings Bonds; Hope Move Will Not Encourage Slackened Bond Buying

Officials of the First National bank announced yesterday that the bank has qualified as an authorized issuing agency for the redemption of war savings bonds. In a formal announcement regarding this new arrangement, the Secretary of the Treasury said: "Beginning October 2, individual owners or co-owners of Bonds can turn them into cash by presenting them to any commercial bank which has qualified for this service. The bank will pay the redemption value of the bonds immediately following satisfactory identification, and without charge to the bond owner. Because of the huge increase in the number of War Bond holders—now estimated to total about 60 percent of the country's population, it was deemed advisable to set up the simplified redemption procedure, eliminating delay and saving trouble."

The arrangement applies also to the Series A, B, C and D Savings Bonds which were sold from 1935 to 1941. It does not apply to Series E and G Savings Bonds. It is of potential benefit.

Secretary Morgenthau pointed out, to the estimated 80,000,000 persons to whom some 600,000,000 bonds of Series E have been sold in the last three years.

Heretofore, it has been necessary to have requests for redemption certified before an authorized officer, and after certification forward them to a Federal Reserve Bank or present them direct to the Treasury. This necessarily caused a certain amount of delay before the bond holder received payment.

Permitted To Qualify
All incorporated banks and trust companies are permitted, under the new rules announced today, to qualify as bond paying agencies, and it is believed a large majority of them will do so.

The Treasury will compensate them on a quarterly basis, at the rate of 15 cents for each of the first thousand bonds paid, 12 cents each for the second thousand, and 10 cents each for all in excess of 2,000.

Proper identification, satisfactory to the bank, is all that any qualified bank will require of a person desiring to redeem an eligible bond.

The new system will not affect in any way, however, the stipulation that Savings Bonds are non-transferable. Nor does it affect the requirement that Series E Bonds be held for 60 days from the issue date before they become redeemable.

The new redemption regulations are based on legislation which Congress enacted last year.

The privilege of cashing the Series A-to-E Bonds at commercial banks is available to individuals in their own right and is not extended to such classes of owners as corporations, associations, partnerships, fiduciaries, a person named on a bond as a beneficiary, and a person whose name, as inscribed on a bond as owner or co-owner, has been changed in any manner other than by marriage. Banks are not authorized to make partial payments on bonds.

The earlier system of handling redemption applications through the Federal Reserve Banks will be continued for all Savings Bond issues where the bond owner prefers to use these facilities, and as the only authorized method of redemption of Series F and G bonds and, in a few cases, of the Series A-to-E issues.

Detering Effect
Treasury officials said the new procedure might have a detering effect on redemptions, since a considerable number of bond owners in the past have cashed their bonds well in advance of expected financial needs which actually never materialized, or have cashed bonds in larger amounts than, as later events proved, they actually needed.

With the new method providing for immediate payment of eligible bonds upon their presentation to any qualified bank, it is believed many redemptions such as those heretofore made in anticipation of delay in payment, and later found unnecessary, will be avoided.

Another effect, Treasury officials said, may be to encourage the purchase of Series E bonds by persons who have money on hand and are uncertain as to whether it will be needed for personal or family expenses.

Knowing that Series E bonds can be turned into cash immediately if emergency requires, they probably will resolve their doubts in favor of bond-buying.

In making the announcement regarding the authorization of the local bank, Frank J. McFadden, vice president, remarked: "We heartily endorse the statement of the Secretary of the Treasury, who said: 'We hope the simplification of redemption will not encourage bond owners to present bonds for payment except in cases of absolute necessity.'"

"Huge sums are still to be required before we can return to a normal period. Every bond owner should remember, too, that his bonds become increasingly valuable as investments the longer they are held."

Unable to Reach Servicemen, Rev. Chapin Tells Rotarians
The churches are "unable to get through to returning servicemen," Rev. O. W. Chapin, pastor of Montgomery Presbyterian church, told Rotary yesterday at Forest Hill Field Club.

Rehabilitation of veterans will depend, he declared, in large measure on "how much healthy religion they are going to come back with."

Many men turn to religion while on combat duty but fail even to attend services when not in actual danger.

When they return home, very few servicemen are interested in attending church services just as they are not generally keen on pursuing further education.

Domestic problems and divorce are expected to have a great increase and will thus constitute a rehabilitation problem, said Mr. Chapin.

"Everybody is just standing, waiting, ready to cooperate on a rehabilitation program," he asserted, "but nobody knows just what to do."

"As soon as someone begins a real program for the returning servicemen, we will all pitch in and help."

Rotary will hold a joint meeting with Bloomfield and Montclair Rotary in Park avenue church, Bloomfield, next Wednesday. A duPont official will address the meeting.

Jews Celebrate Rosh Hoshanah

Holy Season of Examination And Self-Judgment Starts Monday and Tuesday

Rosh Hoshanah, the Jewish New Year, will be observed Monday and Tuesday with special services in the synagogue of Congregation Ahavas Achim Anshe, according to Rabbi Herman Schwartz.
Rosh Hoshanah is more than the mere opening of another year in the flight of time. It is not a time for revelry like other New Year celebrations, but a solemn season for self-examination and self-judgment in the life of the Jew.
Scripture prescribes a special symbolic rite for this day, the sounding of the ram's horn, the Shofar. The meaning to the worshippers is as stirring as the sounds themselves.
Since days immemorial, the sounding of the ram's horn has been interpreted in Israel as the clarion call to repentance and spiritual renewal, saying: "Awake, ye sleepers! Be not of those who miss realities in their hunt after shadows. Consider your deeds; purify your hearts."
"There is an Eye that seeth all things; there is an Ear that heareth all things. There is a heavenly Judge with whom there is no unrighteousness nor forgetfulness nor respect of persons." On Rosh Hoshanah a tentative decision is made as to the fate of each individual for the coming year.—H. S.

William H. K. Davey

Services were conducted in the Irvine funeral home Monday night for William H. K. Davey of 155 Academy street, New York attorney and for many years an outstanding citizen of Belleville. Interment was in Cedar Grove cemetery, Toms River.
Mr. Davey, who was born in Jersey City 74 years ago, moved to Belleville shortly after the turn of the century. While he never held public office, his voice was often raised for or against governmental and civic issues.
His foremost fight was carried on in 1912-13 when he strongly opposed the establishment of the commission form of government here. A man of strong convictions, he was seldom silent on any major issue affecting Belleville.
He served his legal apprenticeship in the office of Richard V. Lindabury of Newark before starting his own law office. He was a past master of Adelphi lodge 23 F&AM, New York.
Mr. Davey suffered a heart attack and was bedded for six weeks last April. Last Friday he suffered another attack on a De Camp bus in Journal Square, Jersey City, and died shortly after in the Holland hotel there.
He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Louisa Robinson Davey, a brother Fred Davey of Plainfield; and two sisters in Florida.

Charles Stephen Salzer

American Legion, Masonic and religious services were held Monday night in the Kiernan funeral home for Charles Stephen Salzer of 257 William street. Interment was in East Ridgeland cemetery.
Mr. Salzer was born in Newark 44 years ago and had lived sixteen years in Belleville. He died Friday at Veterans' hospital in The Bronx after an illness of five weeks.
He had been employed as senior Army air forces procurement inspector in New York and was a member of Belleville post 105 American Legion, Belleville lodge 108 F and AM, the Craftsmen's club and Christ Episcopal church.
He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Ann Marshall Salzer; four brothers, Albert of Gouldsboro, Pa., Rudolph of Newark, Stephen of Virginia Beach, Va., and Cpl. Frank Salzer in the Army medical corps in France.
He also leaves two sister Miss Mary Salzer of Newark and Miss Helen Salzer of Newark.

John D. Otis

John D. Otis, 66, died suddenly of a heart attack last Wednesday at his home in Long Valley. A requiem mass was offered Saturday in Sacred Heart Catholic church, Dover, and interment was in St. Mary's cemetery, East Orange.
Mr. Otis was born in Jersey City and lived in Belleville for thirty years before moving to Long Valley six years ago, shortly after he retired from the interior decorating business which he operated here for 25 years.
He was a veteran of the Spanish-American war, and during his residence in Belleville, was a member of the Elks club and the Rotary.
He leaves his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Otis; a son, John D. Otis Jr. of 93 Forest street; and three grandchildren.

WESTINGHOUSE CO. DEVELOPS NEW GUNSIGHT LAMP

Enables Yank Airmen to See Planes Coming out of Sun; Paris Made in Belleville

A new gunsight lamp that enables American gunners to aim directly into the sun and yet fire with deadly accuracy has been developed for the Army and Navy by lamp engineers of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, it was revealed today.

The bases for the new lamps are made in the Belleville plant at 720 Washington avenue.

Protecting airmen against enemy planes which dive out of the sun to attack, the miniature lamp of unique design already is being produced for all types of optical gunsights as well as for torpedo directors.

The midget searchlight, so powerful that it will project a 1,500 candle power beam for 60 nautical miles was also perfected at the Westinghouse Bloomfield plant and has been used as standard equipment on many of the seven man collapsible rafts now used by the Navy.

The new gunsight lamp recently invented by J. H. Kurlander enables American gunners to aim directly into the sun and yet fire with deadly accuracy. Protecting airmen against enemy planes, which dive out of the sun to attack, the miniature lamp of unique design already is being produced for all types of optical gunsights as well as for torpedo directors.

"Present gunsights, first used in this war, allow gunners to aim within only about fifteen degrees of the sun, thus leaving a dreaded 'blind spot,' Mr. Kurlander explained. 'If the gunner aims more directly into the sun, he is unable to see his sight lines and has to fire blind.'

"With this new lamp illuminating his gunsight, the sight lines or 'reticle' will be visible even against a glaring sun and it will no longer be necessary to use a dark filter which tends to obscure the target."

Greater Accuracy

A product of a year's research in Westinghouse laboratories, the new gunsight lamp also makes possible greater shooting accuracy, the engineer declared. No longer must the gunner "glue" his eye to an eyepiece in order to draw a deadly bead on his target. Now his head can move an inch or two without impairing his aim.

About the size of a walnut, the new lamp provides a light from eight to thirty times brighter than gunsight lamps now in use and does it with the same filament wattage. In some of the lamps, the wattage has been reduced by as much as sixty per cent and yet the advantages of more brilliant light have been retained.

"Brilliance, however, is not the only key to this lamp's success," said Mr. Kurlander. "Certain other features which cannot be disclosed play an important part."

"Tropical warfare, particularly, revealed a need for gunsight improvements," he continued. "In the tropics the sunlight is more brilliant especially at high altitudes where much of our aerial warfare is carried on. With present gunsight lamps, the reticle image sometimes becomes lost in the glare."

"The two favorite attack positions of warplanes are between the target and the sun or between the target and a bright cloud near the sun. A cloud reflects light and is brighter than surrounding sky."

"In the last war, ordinary 'rifle sights' were used. The gunner couldn't see his sights when he aimed within some 30 degrees of the sun. After this war began optical sights were developed which gave the gunner the advantage of a larger projected image of the sight."

"To reduce the glare of the sun," said Mr. Kurlander, "dark filters were placed in front of the gunsights. Unfortunately, these filters also not only darkened the sun but also obscured the target by about 50 per cent. Equipped with the new lamp, the gunsight now can be used without filters giving a clear image of the reticle without darkening the target whatever."

The brilliancy of the gunsight lamp can be controlled by the gunner according to the demands of the situation, the engineer pointed out. At night, for example, the lamp can be dimmed so that the sight lines will be clear and yet not too brilliant to obscure the target. In sunlight, the lamp can be made bright to provide a vivid image of the reticle.

Mr. Kurlander received his engineering degree from Drexel Institute in 1919 and was employed for six years by Edison Lamp Works. Later he was with a motion picture and theatrical lighting concern in Detroit.

Where Does Recreation Go from Here

In an aura of harmony and good will Commissioner Noll met Thursday night with representatives of the Belleville Foundation and the National Recreation association to discuss the report of the recent NRA survey and to answer the question "Where do we go from here?" The report was fully discussed and practically every angle was covered. The answer to the question is still unclear, however. Where we will go from this point is largely a matter for conjecture and future discussion.

As we see it, the recommendations of the report boil down to three major considerations: 1) Belleville must have professionally trained recreation leaders who can fully organize an active, well-rounded program which will be attractive to all age groups in the town; 2) more extensive use of existing recreation facilities must be obtained by the inauguration of interest-arousing programs; 3) a sane and sensible long-range plan of capital improvement must be adopted and gradually carried into effect. The three courses should be inaugurated and fostered in that order.

The question of fully trained leadership is the most important of all. When it is answered, it will be found that the other two fall naturally into place and improvement will already have begun. Recreation in Belleville has been on a steady decline for the past ten years and not even the abolition of the Recreation commission five years ago and the consequent centering of all power in Commissioner Noll's hands, despite his assurances at the time of greater efficiency and improved recreation, changed its downward course one iota.

The employment of trained personnel is admittedly difficult during these wartimes; but Belleville had no trained recreation leaders even before the war began. This summer, playground directors were culled from every possible source and they tried hard to fill the bill. But the lack of training of most was forcefully borne home by the fact that the children stayed away in droves.

After the war the tendency naturally will be to employ veterans wherever possible and some doughboys will be put on the town payroll in positions which they are not qualified to hold. Eventually the veteran will find himself embarrassed by his position. Veterans' organizations should realize that they do the veteran himself a disservice by insisting that our public officials hire an ex-soldier even when he cannot fill the requirements. Commissioner Noll should, as the NRA officials recommended, set up standards for his department and not employ anyone who cannot qualify under them.

Also a question of leadership is the policy-making group. At the present time the Commissioner is the only policy-maker. It has been suggested that the Foundation's twelve-man recreation group be officially recognized as the recreation advisory committee. It should be remembered that, should that course be followed, it will be just that — without authority to enforce any of its opinions and that the ultimate and the immediate responsibility will still rest solely on Commissioner Noll's shoulders to carry into effect all the legislative, financial and organizational aspects of the recreation program.

Increased use of existing facilities, the second point, would include enlarged programs centering around Essex County parks, opening up of the schools as indoor recreation centers (impossible without adequate leadership) and making the playgrounds into something resembling their names. To have these facilities in the town and not to use them to their fullest extent is a woeful waste of money.

The long-range program of capital improvements and the list of priorities outlined in the recreation report should be adopted without delay as the official plan of the town and should be carried out as time and funds permit. Commissioner Noll's first steps along that line should be the introduction of a resolution putting the Commission on record in its favor and the listing of the properties which will have to be acquired. This latter matter should not be put off until it is too late; it will take time and should be started now. If Commissioner Noll really outlines a workable and aggressive recreational program for the town, he will find considerable public support. If he misses his opportunity now, it will not come back.

PTAs Should Justify Their Existence

Another school year has started and one of the major incidentals connected with it is the reopening of the Parent-Teacher associations and it can be said at the outset that, if the PTAs in Belleville do not do more to justify their existence than they did last year, they might just as well not bother to hold even their first meetings. The years of 1942-44 have seen PTAs here degenerate into social groups at which Johnny's mother and his teacher greet each other over a cup of tea and pass polite amenities and moan over how hard it is to whip up interest in the association, what with this war and all the other competition.

When there is a speaker to address the gathering, it is usually a politician or an author or a visiting refugee from Europe. They talk about economics, travel, the war, the plight of Europe's children or sometimes even the psychology of the adolescent; but they seldom talk about education itself.

Actually the PTA should be a pleasant but nevertheless businesslike organization where parents, already having determined in their own minds just what sort of an education they want Johnny to have, should ascertain whether or not he is getting it and should be prepared to let his teacher know what is expected of her. On the other hand, the teacher should be prepared to deliver herself of a summary of her teaching methods and what she is doing to uphold her most important part in the training of the growing boy or girl.

Parents must realize that they themselves are paying the salary of the teacher and therefore are entitled to know that they are getting value for the money they expend. The PTA gives the parent an opportunity to ascertain whether or not the teacher is worth the salary she is receiving and whether or not she is being underpaid. Teachers, not only in Belleville although it is very noticeable here, are doing a great deal of hopping around in order to get the best-paying position. Since they are so concerned with the dollar, the educational system should become even more a dollars-and-cents business. How better to put it on that basis than through the PTA?

In his particular year, because of the unsettled minds among high school students due to their proximity to military service, the establishment of a PTA in the high school should warrant near-top priority. It is not enough to sit around and bemoan the fate of this erroneously-named "lost generation." Steps should be under way now, tomorrow, to make plans for the revivification of interest among the present-day high schoolers who are looking on their schooling as a necessary evil. That is a job not for teachers alone but for a combination of teachers and parents.

Meantime, PTAs in all schools might well be making plans for a forceful and vigorous exchange of thought and opinion between parents and teachers, both of whom are responsible for the training of the men and women of tomorrow. There are many parents who need training in their duties as much as their children do and the PTA renders an excellent opportunity for the teacher to do some very important missionary work.

Belleville's PTAs should be constantly seeking, by publicity and by personal visitations, to expand their membership and every membership and every mother and father with a child in school should, in the cause of self-interest, belong to the organization. Attendance at PTA meetings has hit the skids during the past year or so because of the Board of Education policy, made by force of war circumstances and perfectly justified in many ways, of limiting time to the afternoon. Relaxation of that regulation would do much to foster increased attendance and the Board should, within the limits of war exigencies, consider the question to decide whether or not it is feasible to permit evening meetings again.

The kindness and consideration of the men who drive it I shall never forget. Surely the people of Belleville have much to be thankful for in such service.

National Recreation Assn. Report Priority Schedule Set For Town Recreation

Based on Scarcity of Facilities, Need for Land For Development, Social Problems, Other Factors; Recommends Early Action on Survey Report

Conclusion

The principal factors on which the priorities schedule is based are the real scarcity of existing areas and facilities, the need to acquire vacant land before it is developed by private interests or is prohibitive in price, the requirements of the different age groups, the incidence of social problems, and the existence of alternative resources in given sections.

It is assumed that the long range plan will be realized over a period of from fifteen to twenty years.

A capital budget covering the acquisition of land and the development of areas and facilities should be set up if at all possible and a certain sum designated for annual expenditures.

The following statement suggests the order in which the proposed playgrounds, playfields, and other properties be acquired and developed.

It is important, of course, that land for the proposed developments be acquired as early as possible or when it can be obtained most cheaply.

The schedule does not attempt to designate projects by years but simply constitutes a listing of the proposals in the order in which they should be carried out.

Priorities Schedule

1. Acquire and develop a neighborhood playground and a municipal swimming pool in Riviera Park (Volkening tract) at the northerly end of Linden avenue.

2. Acquire land from its private owners at Edison Field, Belmont avenue and Magnolia street, and develop a major playfield.

3. Acquire the Friendly House on Florence avenue, develop a neighborhood playground and remodel the indoor community center.

4. Develop a neighborhood playground on Clearman Field at Union avenue and Holmes street, and open an indoor center in Union avenue school.

5. Develop the neighborhood playground at Cortlandt street school.

6. Acquire land and develop a neighborhood playground at Acme street and Brighton avenue.

7. Acquire land from the City of Newark at Garden avenue and Maier street and develop neighborhood playground.

8. Develop the Municipal Stadium and install a major playfield on the twenty-odd acres available there.

9. Develop a neighborhood playground on Ralph street just north of Belavista avenue.

10. Acquire more ground by Passaic avenue school and develop a neighborhood playground.

11. Acquire land at Jorammon street and Celia terrace (southeast corner) for future site of playground.

12. Acquire land on the west side of the Third River, north of Jorammon street, or a municipal camp.

Editor's Note. — The Belleville Times has for the past twelve weeks carried the story of this vital report and this is the final installment. It is now up to the people of Belleville to see that as much of it as possible is carried into action.

This can be done only by the active interest and continued support of the program here. It should be the pleasure and responsibility of every parent and taxpayer to follow through and to take care that it is not buried in a political scrap heap.

Revised Constitution

FOR THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY

To Be Voted Upon as a Whole by the Voters of New Jersey at the General Election, Nov. 7, 1944

ARTICLE IV EXECUTIVE

SECTION I (concluded)

Veto Power: 3/5 Vote to Override

12. Every bill which shall have passed both houses shall be presented to the Governor; if he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal and proceed to reconsider it; if, upon reconsideration on or after the third day following its return, three-fifths of all the members of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall be reconsidered and if approved of by three-fifths of all the members of that house, it shall become a law; and in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within ten days, Sundays excepted, after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall become a law on the tenth day if the house of origin is not in adjournment on said day. If, on said tenth day, the house of origin is in adjournment in the course of a regular or special session, the bill shall become a law on the day on which the house of origin convenes after the adjournment unless the Governor shall return the bill to that house on that day. If, on said tenth day, the Legislature is in adjournment sine die, the Governor shall within thirty-five days after such adjournment sign the bill or return it to the house of origin at a special session of the Legislature called by him, to meet within the thirty-five days, for reconsideration of bills; otherwise, the bill shall become a law on said thirty-fifth day. If the Governor shall return any bill to the house of origin less than three days prior to the adjournment sine die of any session, the bill shall become a law thirty-five days after said adjournment unless the Governor shall call a special session of the Legislature, to meet within said thirty-five days, for reconsideration of bills, and in such case such bill may be reconsidered.

Veto Power: Appropriation Items

13. If any bill presented to the Governor shall contain one or more items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more of such items while approving of the other portions of the bill. In such case he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of each item to which he objects, and each item so objected to shall not take effect. A copy of such statement shall be transmitted by him to the house in which the bill originated, and each item objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, upon reconsideration on or after the third day following said transmittal, one or more of such items be approved by three-fifths of all the members of each house, the same shall become a part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor. All the provisions of the preceding paragraph in relation to bills not approved by the Governor shall apply to cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

Investigatory Power

14. The Governor may cause an investigation to be made of the conduct in office of any State officer except a member of the Legislature or an officer elected by the Senate and General Assembly in joint meeting or a judicial officer. After notice, service of charges and an opportunity to be heard at a public hearing, the Governor may remove any such officer whenever in his opinion the hearing discloses misfeasance or malfeasance in office. Upon application on behalf of the Governor or officer under investigation or subject to charges, a Justice of the Superior Court may issue subpoenas and, under penalty of contempt of the Superior Court, may compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony, and the production of books and papers, in the investigation or at the hearing.

SECTION II

Board of Pardons

1. There shall be a board of pardons in the executive branch of the government, which shall consist of the Governor, or person administering the government, and of four other members who shall be nominated and appointed by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the Senate for terms of four years and until their successors are qualified into office and who shall receive such annual salaries for their services as may be provided by law. At least one of said four members shall be an attorney-at-law of this State.

Pardons, etc. (2, 3)

2. The board of pardons, by a majority of all its members of which majority the Governor, or person administering the government, shall be one, may grant pardons, after conviction, in all cases except impeachment. The board of pardons, by a majority of all its members, may remit fines and forfeitures and suspend the collection of the same, but in proceedings as to these matters the Governor, or person administering the government, need not participate.

3. The board of pardons shall have no power to grant paroles except as provided by law.

Reprieves

4. The Governor, or person administering the government, shall have the power to grant reprieves except in cases of impeachment.

ARTICLE XI—SCHEDULE—SECTION III

"The 'Schedule' provides for orderly transition from the old to the new Constitution. In the official text it appears as a single Article (XI) at the end of the Revised Constitution. For ready reference, however, the Schedule is being printed in appropriate parts with the Articles to which it relates.

3. The first members appointed to the board of pardons established under this Constitution shall be appointed, one for a term of one year, one for a term of two years, one for a term of three years and one for a term of four years, and thereafter appointments shall be made for terms of four years.

Bellevillites In Uniform

A second oak leaf cluster to his air medal has been awarded to S/Sgt. Robert T. McDonough, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McDonough of Bogota, formerly of Belleville for "courage, coyness and skill" while participating in several bombing attacks in the air offensive against Germany military and industrial targets over continental Europe.

He is a waist gunner on an Eighth Air Force B-17 Flying Fortress in the heavy bombardment group commanded by Col. Elliot Vandevanter Jr. of Washington, D. C.

Prior to entering the Army air forces in February 1943 he was an inspector of boxes for the Gair Bogota Paper and Board company. He trained for aerial gunnery at Kingman Field, Ariz., and received his wings on May 24, 1943.

A/C J. Eugene Matus Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Matus of 27 Linden avenue, was recently awarded a sharpshooter medal for proficiency in firing the .45 Caliber Automatic Pistol at Maxwell Field, Ala.

An Eighth AAF Bomber Station, England — Sgt. Peter A. Torre of 87 Union avenue, Belleville, has been decorated with a third oak leaf cluster to his air medal for "meritorious achievement" on B-17 Flying Fortress bombing attacks on installations in enemy Europe.

A tall gunner, he is a veteran of more than a score of combat missions. The citation accompanying the award read in part: "The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this enlisted man upon these occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

Pvt. Robert W. Taggart II, son of Mrs. Muriel J. Taggart of 12 Essex street, is now being examined by the AAF Training Command station medical and psychological unit at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss., to determine his qualification as a pre-aviation cadet.

15th AAF in Italy — Second Lieut. George B. Rader, 26-year-old bombardier from 82 Division, Belleville, is following the Allied offensive in southern France with particular interest these days since his AAF B-17 Flying Fortress group was the first heavy bombardment unit over the invasion beach on the morning of August 15.

Thirty minutes after his group left the target area full of bomb craters, waves of ground troops moved ashore.

The invasion was his unit's fourth participation in a combined landing operation, having previously softened up the beaches at Salerno, Sicily and Pantelleria.

Men of the group have twice received distinguished unit citations. One of these was given for a brilliant and daring attack which destroyed an enemy ammunition convoy during the closing stages of the Tunisian campaign. The other was for the first coordinated attack of the Eighth and fifteenth Air Forces against Regensburg, Germany.

Rader entered the Army April 2, 1942, winning his wings and commission at San Angelo, Tex., June 24, 1943. Arriving at his overseas station four months ago, he participated on 37 missions over enemy territory.

Marine Cpl. Elizabeth J. Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Martin of 47 New street, was graduated recently from the aviation supply school at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

MMM 3/c Frank S. DeFresco

Motor Machinist's Mate 3/c Frank S. DeFresco, 19, was a member of a naval crew in the American assault force which invaded France. He was recently promoted from fireman 1/c. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Domenico DeFresco of 289 North Belmont avenue, he attended Bloomfield Vocational school and was formerly employed with Freeman and Ferrarelli company of Newark.

He has two brothers in service: Salvatore in the Army and Joseph in the Navy.

Seaman 1/c Salvatore J. Vicari, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Vicari of 66 Eugene place, returned last week to his base after spending his first leave in three years here. He recently returned from five months' duty in the South Pacific.

Yeoman 3/c Alfred J. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Walker of 133 Joralemon street, returned yesterday to Camp Bainbridge, Md., for further assignment.

The 1943 national sculling champion recently completed boot training preparatory to active duty although he has been in the Navy for more than two years. He had been stationed in New York headquarters.

"Hi ya, everybody," is the cheery greeting to The Times received this week from Cpl. William Murphy, "Just a few lines to let you know everything is going along fine on the island of Guam."

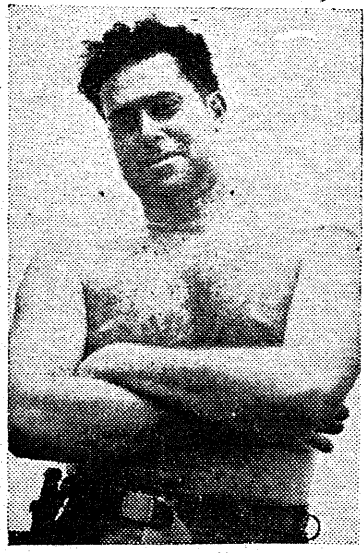

Murphy has lived in Belleville about twenty years and resided with his sister, Mrs. Joseph A. Mooney of 337 Main street.

A graduate of the high school, he was formerly employed with Viking Tool Machine company. He was a softball star with the Valley Crowns, the Baldwins and with Viking.

"Just finished up our first battle and came through safely," he continues. "Plenty of dead Japs and, boy! how they smell. The odor was so strong at times it would turn your stomach upside down."

"Plenty hot here with mud, rain and man-eating flies. You feel very sorry for the natives. They sure were treated very badly by the Japs and were very glad to see us Americans again. It is a shame to see the poor children so skinny. It's a sight I will never forget."

MMM 2/c Eugene L. Smith

Motor Machinist's Mate 2/c Eugene L. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Smith of 416 De Witt avenue, is pictured aboard his Coast Guard combat cutter somewhere in the Atlantic. His ship patrols the sea lanes and guards convoys bound for the war-fronts.

"Things are going along fine here. We landed in France with the initial invasion force," writes Sgt. Joseph D'Elia, son of Mrs. Rose D'Elia of 44 Columbia avenue, in a letter to The Times.

"We were to land on the beach at H plus on D-day, but as we pulled up close to the shore we found things were a little too hot. 'The German 88s were bursting all around us. It was impossible to land. So our LCT (landing craft-tank) had to back up a mile or so. We waited for our battleships to knock out the German gun positions."

"So we landed next morning; things were still hot on the beach. The first night on shore was the first time I was actually under fire. I was surprised to find myself quite calm. I always thought I would be scared."

"We were put to work clearing land mines. We had to be constantly on the alert for snipers. Everywhere we go we are sure to find snipers."

"We find that the Germans don't bother us at night any more like they used to. (The letter is dated August 20). They were sure to come over every night at first. Of course, we live in fox holes so we didn't worry too much about air raids."

"The French people are very nice. They are always ready to help a Yank. Most of the people outside the big cities wear wooden shoes. But the thing I like best about them is their wine. It's really tops!"

D'Elia is a member of an engineer aviation battalion, has been in the Army since March 1942 and has been overseas 22 months. His brother, Sgt. Philip D'Elia, is stationed at Fort Dix.

Second Lieut. Frederick T. Field Jr. of 43 Schuyler street has completed the reserve officers' course at the Marine base at Quantico, Va., and reported yesterday to Camp Lejeune, N. C., for advanced training.

He had a fifteen-day leave with his parents and with his wife, the former Elsie Fehrenback, and daughter in Newark.

Take a Tip from Reddy

"TAKE CARE of your electric refrigerator and you won't have to call in the repairman so often. Defrost it regularly; don't overload the shelves; let food cool before storing. The National Appliance Conservation Program has this slogan — Better Care Less Repair. Fewer repairs will help to lessen the heavy demands on manpower and materials."
