W. D. Maser Heads Committee
To Collect Christmas Gifts
For Hospitalized Vets

Commander Arthur A. MacCready of Belleville post 105, American Legion has appointed William D. Maser of 14 Ogden road as the chairman of a committee to formulate plans to arrange for the handling of the Christmas packages that are to be turned over to the American Legion at the suggestion of Eddie Cantor.

These packages will be distributed to servicemen and women in hospitals in America that do not come under other agencies that are at present busy with overseas matters.

Maser has called the committee together later this week to work out the details. He suggests that small useful articles and a card of cheer with the sender's name and address accompany each package.

Other members of the committee are Edwin Ackerman, William Kenney, William Rivo' and Louis A. Wagner. More details will be announced next week.

Other chairmanships made for the coming year are: judge advocate Richard D. Shannon; chief welfare, Arthur S. Ackerman; Americanism, Sheldon Henry; civil defense, Otto Bronnrich; membership, Harry Ziegler; graves registration, Kenney; program and entertainment, Ernest Brown; ritual, Bronnrich and publicity, MacCready.

Veterans' Aims

Members of the veterans' affairs committee were reappointed with Shannon as chairman; LaBaugh, Ziegler, Henry and MacCready. This committee is part of a joint committee that is composed of representatives from the other veterans' posts in Belleville. Ziegler is general chairman.

The membership committee under Ziegler is composed of Rue E. Daniel, William Konrad Bronnrich, Henry, August Beck and Robert Hunger.

The color guard will be in charge of Peter Johnson and will comprise Alexander Klug, Joseph Huemer, Joseph Kolinsky and Brown.

Post News will be under the direction of the commander and William L. LaBaugh will be the liaison with Joseph C. Duval and William R. Gibbs associate editors.

Samuel O. Offen, Essex County Commander has appointed MacCready as membership director for Essex County. The post will hold its monthly social meeting Monday at the Recreation House.

LEGION POST 105 GIVEN NEW HOME

Leases 617 Washington Ave.
From Town at $1 a Year
For Next 25 Years

Belleville post 105, American Legion, will shortly set about rehabilitating and redecorating its new home at 617 Washington avenue.

Tuesday night the Commission unanimously approved a lease to the post for 25 years at $1 a year. The town owns the property and the Legion lease is effective Monday.

The house is at present occupied by Mrs. Margaret E. Thaller and Miss Alice C. Thaller, widow and daughter of the late William Thaller, one of the former owners of Hillside Park.

The post has been meeting in the Recreation House ever since it gave up the old Legion Chateau now Ralph and Betty's tavern, at 170 Washington avenue five years ago.

Harry Ziegler and William Konrad the committee which handles the details, said yesterday that the plans for the building, which is on a lot 150x170, were not yet determined.

Grand Jury Probe of Gambling Scheduled to Begin Monday

The grand jury's investigation of the alleged link between Mayor Williams and a set of Newark gamblers is scheduled to get underway Monday morning and is expected to be completed in two days.

The jury's questioning will be carried on secretly and it is expected that no announcement of its decision will be made until after it has completed inquiries into all the cases before it.

Among those on the docket for questioning on the case are Williams, Commissioners King, Noll, Waters and Mertz, Police Chief Spatz, Deputy Chief Leighton and others. "I won't name," said assistant prosecutor James L. McKenna.

McKenna was given the task of investigating the case from the beginning and it is he who will present the findings to the grand jury.

John F. Verian First Bellevillite To Die in Action in Germany

Wounded in Tunisia, Sicily; Soldier Falls in Naziland
Donald Hartley, Missing a Year, Presumed Dead;
Frederick Mason a Prisoner; Paton Wounded

Belleville's honor roll added two more gold stars this week. One was for the first local man to perish on German soil; the other for a sailor who had been missing for more than a year. An Army pilot, previously reported a German prisoner and missing, is now a father of four was wounded.

Twice wounded on two different fronts and hospitalized on a third, Sgt. John F. Verian shed his blood for the last time on still a fourth. He was the first Bellevillite to die on German soil in this war.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Verian of 128 Washington avenue were notified Tuesday morning in a War department telegram that their son was killed September 18 in Germany, probably somewhere in the midst of the Siegfried Line. He was 22.

Sgt. Verian landed in Oran, North Africa, on Christmas day 1942, six months after he entered the Army. A month later he was wounded while fighting in Tunisia with the First Division.

After he recovered he participated in the invasion of Sicily July 10, 1943, and was wounded 13 days later. He was hospitalized for five months with severe wounds of the lower spine.

He landed in England New Year's day 1944 and spent the next five months training Yanks in invasion tactics and then landed in Normandy on D-day. Ten days later he was back in an English hospital suffering from a recurrence of malaria which he had contracted in Africa.

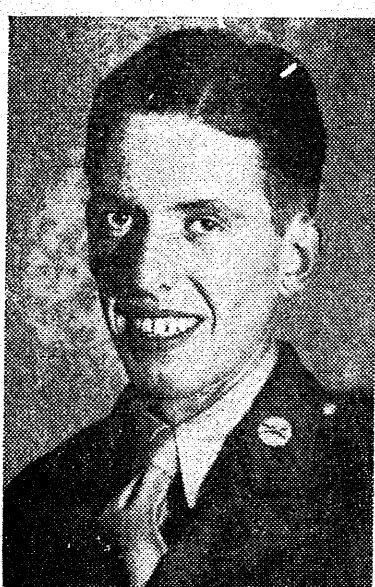

Within a month he apparently recovered and rejoined his outfit in France in eastern France. His last letter home was dated August 22.

Sgt. Verian lived all his life at the Washington avenue address. He was a graduate of St. Peter's parochial and St. Benedict's preparatory schools and worked for CO-20 corporation of Newark before entering the Army June 1, 1942, 25 years to the day after his father enlisted in World War I.

Besides his parents, he also is survived by a brother, Frank R. Verian Jr., and two sisters, Claire and Jean Verian, all at home. Missing since his ship collided with another in the North Atlantic August 18, 1943, Seaman 1/c Donald Bedell Hartley has been placed on the Navy's honor roll of war dead.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo A. Hartley of 51 Mertz avenue were so notified last week by James Forrestal, secretary of the Navy.

The twenty-year-old sailor was on his first voyage and had been at sea three weeks when the accident occurred. He was a member of the armed guard on the SS J. H. Senior which collided with a "friendly ship."

Both ships exploded, the Navy said, and a heavy fire enveloped them. In view of the heavy fog and the rough sea, few survivors were rescued. Hartley was the fortieth Bellevillite to be placed on the roll of those who paid the supreme sacrifice in this war.

He graduated from Belleville high school in 1941 and was a member of Nereid Boat Club. Prior to entering the Navy in November 1942, he was employed with Wallace & Tiernan company.

He took his boot training at Sampson, N. Y., radio training at Bradford, Pa., and a special signal course at Noroton, Conn.

Besides his parents, he leaves four brothers, Boyd in the ROTC at the University of Pennsylvania, William, Lynn and Theodore at home; and a sister, Carol at home.

Mrs. Mildred Seeley Mason of 12 Jerome avenue was notified that her husband, 2nd Lieut. Frederick Hunter Mason, 28, is a prisoner of war in Germany.

The Masons have a six-year-old son, Robert. The Army air forces Flying Fortress co-pilot is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Mason of 72 Campbell avenue. He graduated from the high school in 1933, attended Newark University and the University of North Carolina, worked for Public Service, entered the Army in January 1943 and was commissioned at Turner Field, Ga., a year later.

Father of Four Wounded
Mrs. Eleanor I. Paton of 88 Ralph street was notified Wednesday night that her husband, Pvt. Kenneth A. Paton, was wounded September 20 in France.

She has also received a letter dated September 27 written from a hospital in France in which he said the wounds he had received were mostly about the left side of the neck and arm.

Paton, who was inducted March 1, went overseas in August. He is a graduate of North Arlington high school and was formerly employed with City Line Express company of Harrison.

Mrs. Paton resides at the Ralph street address with their four children, the youngest of whom was born two weeks after her husband was inducted.

Saipan: Isle of Beauty And Japanese Bombers

Pfc. Harvey S. Adams Jr Gives Eyewitness Story
Of Invasion and Conquest of Jap Stronghold,
Where Beauty and Horror Clashed

A first-hand account of the invasion of Saipan was written this week especially for The Times, by Pfc. Harvey S. Adams Jr of 124 Crest drive. The account, which was passed by the censor, is one of the finest servicemen's dispatches to come out of the Saipan engagement. Adams left Belleville high school in his senior year in February 1943 to enter the Army. He went overseas in January 1944 with a field artillery unit. His story follows.

"Slowly our LST circled its destination, the island of Saipan! Moving in closer, on scanning the near countryside through the glasses, huge green farm lands could be seen and Mt. Tapacho loomed above all. But no sign of life was present.

Rounding the northern tip of the island, suddenly we were fired on. Obviously there were coastal defense guns hidden among the rugged cliffs; but luck was with us as the shots fell short on our port side.

Our craft quickly sped for open sea, while destroyers and planes shelled and bombed the area from which the gun flashes had come. By late afternoon we were once more lying off the island, very close.

Flashes, black smoke and the dull boom of destroyers blasting away at various beachheads, along with live bombers which would swoop low, unload and pull out accompanied by little puffs of ack-ack fire, continued the rest of the day.

Fires Break Out
Fires broke out on parts of the island, with smoke and dust overlying large areas. The sun began to sink and, as the curtain of darkness crept upon us, our colonel and observers rode ashore in 'ducks.'

All was quiet for the time, until enemy planes were reported nearby. Everything seemed like a beehive. Ships began roving all over. A lone plane broke through and seemed to come from nowhere.

Naval A.A. gunners filled the sky with stream after stream of lead. The plane dropped one egg, a ship caught fire but its crew was out. Sorry to say, though, the plane made good its escape. It was evening now and, as our ship headed out to sea, one could see the flashes of naval guns blazing away at the island. A flare would illuminate the sky, then a stream of blood-red tracers cut the air.

WOULD BUILD NEW DE SOTO AGENCY ON THE AVENUE

Pfeffer Offers to Buy Parcel
To Erect Modern Building
Before January 1

The De Soto motor car company evidently expects to resume civilian automobile production within a short time. This was evidenced Tuesday night when Joseph Pfeffer of 111 Grace street, Irvington, applied to the town Commission to buy property at 50-64 Washington avenue.

Pfeffer, who has operated Birelow Motors of Irvington for six years, told the Commission he plans to erect a modernist building on the lot and "De Soto expects the building to be built and in operation by January 1."

Pfeffer explained that he had just been appointed De Soto agent for Belleville and Nutley and that he had figured the Washington avenue site as the ideal location inasmuch as it was also near the Newark line.

The lot is 200 by 100 feet deep and he plans to erect a building with 10,000 square feet of floor space. He offered $3,500 for the parcel which will be placed on public auction next Friday afternoon in town hall. He said he expects to employ twenty to 25 people.

The cost of the property would be increased, he declared, because it would cost $4-$6,000 to excavate. He agreed to give the fill to the town to be used in the Municipal Stadium grounds in lieu of a higher price on the property.

The Commission felt that $3,500 was too low for Washington avenue property but estimated that the town would gain nearly $1,000 in fill.

It was Parks & Public Property Director Noll who suggested the compromise which would put much-needed fill in the Turf Bog where Mayor Williams declared, "we could use 100,000 cubic yards of fill."

Condition of Sale
The proposition on transfer of the excavated soil has been made a condition of sale and Pfeffer said, if he is the successful bidder, he will make the transfer before taking final title.

This was merely the leading transaction on the calendar of humming real estate sales in which the Commission has been engaged all summer. Also offered for sale next week will be 72-88 Fairway avenue carrying a minimum bid of $3,000.

Two other parcels will likewise be offered: one is a combination of 22-28 Eugene place and 1-3 Honiss street for $350 and the other is at 10 Cross street placed at $150.

Four sales totalling $1,850 were approved Tuesday night. James Dell Guercio bought 57-61 Cedar Hill avenue for $300, New Jersey Modern Homes company paid $700 for 13-15 Overlook avenue. Andrew Benenato purchased 73-71 Watchung avenue for $200 and Nicholas Merola obtained 489 Joramemon street for $50.

SCAVENGER PRICES DOUBLE NEXT YEAR

Cuozzo Brothers Low Bidder
At Twice the Present Figure;
Three Others Submit Bids

Garbage collection in Belleville is going to cost the town twice as much as in the past three years, even if the lowest bid is accepted by the Commission.

This was indicated Tuesday night when four scavenger companies submitted bids on one, three and five-year bases. The bids were referred to Public Affairs Mertz for tabulation and report at the next Commission meeting.

Cuozzo Brothers of 205 Hecke street entered the low bids on the one and three-year contracts; Miele Brothers of Caldwell were low on the five-year basis.

Cuozzo, who has had the contract for sixteen years, for the past three years at an annual rate of $31,666, out in a bid of $50,000 for one year, $177,000 for three and $334,000 for five years.

Next in line was Miele with $61,331 for a year, $189,000 for two and $320,000 for five years. Canessa & Pucillo of Ridgewood bid $63,975, $210,000 and $364,000 respectively.

Highest priced of all were Viola & Sons of Nutley who felt they could not do the job for less than $73,638, $230,100 and $390,900. The new contract for town collections is to start January 1, 1945.

Old Church Bell in New Setting

THE NEW TOWER to house the historic old bell of Christ Episcopal church was dedicated Sunday as a memorial to the parish's 120 servicemen scattered on battlefronts the world over. A large throng of parishioners and friends gathered on the church lawn to witness the impressive ceremonies, conducted by Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach and addressed by Harry G. Specht.

Mass Meeting Climax To Hospital Agitation

Medical Society President Explains
Soho Conversion Plan in Newark
Conference Tonight; Hear Bluestone

Agitation by several officers of the Essex County Medical Society to convert a portion of the Isolation hospital at Belleville and Franklin avenues to care for chronic diseases will reach a partial climax tonight at 9 at the society's monthly meeting in the Academy of Medicine, 91 Lincoln Park, Newark. Scheduled to address the gathering is Dr. E. M. Bluestone, director of Montefiore hospital, New York. He is expected to speak in favor of the proposal to which Dr. Louis Schneider has dedicated his term as president of the medical society. Inasmuch as the hospital is located in Belleville, many local doctors are expected to attend.

The medical profession of the county is sharply divided on the merits of the Schneider plan which is based on the fact that the Isolation hospital, devoted to contagious cases, is only partly occupied.

Proponents of the plan point to the need for a chronic illness hospital in the county and declare that the county's largest medical plant should be brought to full use.

Without reflection on the administration of the institution, they aver that less than a quarter of the hospital's 300 beds are in constant use. There are an additional 20 empty beds in neighboring buildings.

This drop is due, they claim, to improved medical treatments which have decreased the number of patients and the length of the hospitalization of the patients who are sent there.

Epidemic Insurance
Opponents of the change maintain that the Isolation hospital, being the only place in Essex for contagious diseases, must be held in readiness to care for epidemics and peaks of contagion in the winter and spring.

They further contend that the hospital is specifically designed to handle such isolation cases as infantile paralysis, scarlet fever and other diseases which require separation.

Since millions of dollars were spent to set up for isolation, they state, it would be foolish to undo that work by converting it in part to a general hospital.

Schneider plans tonight's meeting as a sort of mass rally after which details of the plan will be ironed out and presented to the Freeholders with the recommendation that they be adopted.

Since Schneider's first proposal early in September, events have moved rapidly as more and more physicians and allied organizations took stands for or against the move.

The county Health Officers Association notified the Freeholders September 21 that it is opposed to the change on the grounds that such a use would be illegal.

The association cited the state act under which the hospital was founded and which restricts its purpose to the care of communicable diseases.

STATE DRAFT HEAD ACCEPTS PROGRAM FOR VETERANS' AID

Bloomer Approves Belleville
Plan for Municipal Help;
Answers Williams Query

The Belleville Plan, proposed last week by the Foundation as the system for municipal aid to returning war veterans, received the approval of Col. Edward N. Bloomer Monday when he visited here for a conference with Foundation officials.

Bloomer, who is the state director of selective service, characterized the plan as "well worked out and in general it looks good," according to Harry G. Specht, Foundation president.

He pointed out that the position of chairman of the Veterans Assistance Program is appointed by the state and that John P. Dailey of 188 Division avenue, also head of the draft board, had been named to the non-salaried post.

An explanation of the workings of the plan is given in an article on the editorial page of today's issue of The Times.

Bloomer also gave an answer to the politics-religion question raised last week by Mayor Williams. The mayor had objected to the inclusion on selective service forms of questions involving those two points.

Resents Question
The mayor had declared that he resented "the exercise of the right by selective service to ask anybody serving on a committee to aid the reemployment of veterans what are his religious and political beliefs."

He indicated that such information would be dangerous in the hands of biased or bigoted persons and such people might give work to veterans of their own beliefs to the detriment of opposite parties or religions.

The purpose of the question on the forms, Bloomer said, was to prevent top-heavy weighting of any committee by religious faiths or political parties.

Only by knowing the preferences of the appointees, he declared, can steps be taken to see that appointments to all committees are evenly distributed among the different parties and faiths.

ARMY-NAVY AWARD TO WESTINGHOUSE

Four Lamp Division Plan
Including Belleville, Win
War Production Banner

The Army-Navy "E", symbol of excellence in the production of war materiel, will be awarded to the four plants of the Westinghouse Lamp Division, manager Ralph C. Stuart announced last week.

Word of the Army-Navy Production Award was contained in a message received at the Bloomfield plant from Robert P. Patterson, undersecretary of war. The message, addressed to the "men and women of the lamp division," read in part:

"Your patriotism, as shown by your remarkable production record, has helped our country along the road to victory. May I extend to you men and women of the lamp division my congratulations for accomplishing more than what seemed reasonable or possible."

The four manufacturing locations are at Bloomfield, where electric lamps, electronic tubes, and tube lamp parts are manufactured; the lamp base plant at Belleville; lamp plant at Trenton; and the lamp and electronic tube plant at Fairmont, W. Va.

The award will entitle each company to a roll of the four plants as of September 20 to wear an "E" lapel pin. The acceptance ceremonies for the Bloomfield and Belleville plants will be held jointly at the Bloomfield plant on October 26 at 3 p.m. Ceremony plans for the other two locations are being arranged for a later date.

To Sell Buildings and Equipment

Belleville's only military establishment, a searchlight battery which operated in Branch Brook park for two years, will disappear completely in a short time when the buildings are sold to the highest bidder.

The camp, which is on Franklin avenue near the Newark line, is composed of a mess hall, bath, four barracks, officers' quarters and four miscellaneous buildings. The camp was established shortly after Pearl Harbor as part of the ring of defenses around New York. The Army abandoned it about two months ago.

The barracks (with hot water tanks, plumbing and fixtures), barbed wire fence and fabricated buildings offer chance to acquire materials and fixtures which are otherwise difficult to procure.

Sealed bids on the equipment will be opened Wednesday afternoon at 2 in the office of U. S. Engineer, Room 603, Broadway, N. Y. Further information regarding the property is available by telephone 7-1616, extension 238.

Once on land the terrain was a tangled mass of wreckage and debris. Palm trees hacked off knee-high above the ground, leaving their tops shattered and shell-torn.

Fox holes and sandbag shelters among the shaggy sand beaches. The dust and booming of our small artillery could be heard and seen pouring out against the Japs in support of our Marines and infantry.

Positions were picked out and, after a hearty meal of K rations, our little band dug deep into mother earth, just in case something should come up during the long night.

Twisting and turning in my little hole, I thought I'd never drop off to sleep. A nearby howitzer boomed and sent sand dirt sifting over my face throughout the seemingly endless night.

A lonely rooster in the distance welcomed the new dawn. After a rather light breakfast and a wash in a nearby mudhole, all we had to do was wait — wait until the guns came.

Towards noon our guns came in and it was decided to move closer to the front.

One Public Agency Aids Rich and Poor Alike

Community Service Bureau Offers More Advice than Relief to Clients Regardless of Economic Status

In an effort to explain to the town at large some of the workings of the Community Service Bureau, one of the member agencies which will benefit from the current Belleville War Chest campaign, the following article was written by Mrs. Julia O. Reiner, bureau director. The principal point which she tries to put across is that CSB is for the benefit of all citizens, regardless of financial standing. It is established for the giving of advice, not relief. Mrs. Reiner's article follows:

The Community Service Bureau is maintained by the people of Belleville for the people of Belleville chiefly through contributions to the Belleville War Fund.

In order to extend the services of the Bureau to those who might not know of its existence the following is submitted.

It is believed that it will be helpful, as many who have contributed to the War Fund wonder "what they get out of it."

We take this opportunity of bringing to their attention a service which they help support and one which may help directly to them.

How's the family? That's a pretty important question when it comes straight from the shoulder.

Bureau Can Help
If you or members of your family need some help in making the grade, probably we can do something for you. We have helped a good many families iron out some of their worries in the past.

We have seen all sorts of trouble and because we know how families sometimes run up against a wall we also know how to help them over their difficulties. That's our job, helping people out of trouble.

Is there sickness in the house? We have assisted in making arrangements for hospital care. We have seen to it that the children are cared for while the mother is in the hospital.

Are you in debt? Indebtedness is often a result of sickness. Many families we have known are now out of debt and have started a regular savings plan for that rainy day.

Marital Difficulties
Do you get along? Marriage sometimes has a way of running on the rocks. You can't put your finger on anything that is the cause but something is happening. You argue with your wife. She argues with you. Because we are trained "trouble finders" we can help you put your finger on the cause before it is too late.

Our confidential services are available to anyone in Belleville regardless of race or creed. It makes no difference how much or how little money you have. Everyone has personal and family problems and many people want to know where they can go to talk it over.

Telephone, write or come in to make an appointment. 833 Washington Avenue, Belleville. We are open weekdays 9 to 5, Saturdays 9 to 12 and evenings by appointment. Telephone Be. 2-2686.

the chronic cases and leave a margin of safety for epidemics.

"Naturally this hospital is not always full," he said, "but it is needed to stand guard over the community. As Dr. William H. Areson, head of our advisory board, says: 'Firemen don't spend all their time fighting fire.'"

Council Meets
That night the inner council of the medical society met in Dr. Schneider's home and authorized a committee to begin conferences with municipal and county authorities.

The Freeholders, said the council, "have provided the people of Essex County with the highest type of institutional care for the insane, tuberculous and contagious patients."

The council felt, however, that the legal barriers to the conversion of a portion of Soho might be resolved by the simple expedient of having the Freeholders "un-dedicate" part of the hospital without need of special legislation.

September 24 Health Officer Craster of Newark and Newark Almshouse superintendent James H. Farmer announced their support of the move.

Craster backed it because his department is not in a position to provide specialized care for the chronically ill who must remain at home because there is no room for them in Newark City hospital.

Farmer urged the change to relieve overcrowded conditions at the almshouse where many beds are occupied by the chronically ill.

The last development occurred September 28 when the Freeholders voted to permit the treatment of rheumatic heart cases at the local hospital.

The Freeholders also delegated Rawson to fix a date for a discussion of the Schneider plan with a committee named by the medical society.

License Transferred
The town Commission Tuesday approved the transfer of the liquor license for Ralph and Betty's tavern at 170 Washington Avenue from Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Goldacker of 161 New Street to Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas J. Gutch of Jersey City.

GUIDANCE LETTER URGES STUDENTS RETURN TO SCHOOL

Matches Industry's Shortage With Nation's Study Needs; Cites Age Level Sacrifices

A copy of the following letter has been mailed to all students registered at Belleville High school who have failed to return to study because of employment attraction due to the present crisis:

"Do you want to know the best way to help yourself and your country? The answer is to return to your studies this fall and prepare yourself to carry on the great struggle your older brothers are so gallantly pursuing all over the world.

"The struggle will require hundreds of millions of man-hours of learning. You must equip yourself to understand the great problems ahead. The chairman of the War Manpower Commission says that the opening of school this fall is your D-Day in the struggle for a better world.

"To give up a job and return to school may mean a sacrifice of income but your battlefield is in school. Your country is asking you to return to your post of duty in high school and stand by it until your duty is done.

"You will find study is voluntary. We will be happy to recruit you to the classroom. Just call Belleville 2-4701. When may we expect your call?"

Serious Problems
The Guidance Laboratory of the high school, under the direction of Dr. Thomas J. Brosnan, in cooperation with Wesley Schneegas, attendance officer for the public schools, calls attention to the seriousness of the problem.

"Industry needs man-hours of labor; the country needs man-hours of study to solve the great problems which lie ahead in the struggle for peace for the young and the old, said Brosnan yesterday. "Both industry and education have contributions to make.

"The student who postpones his industrial training until he has completed his school studies should be a better product for industry to carry on the struggle that our boys in the armed forces are sacrificing their time, energy, talents, and lives for the present moment.

"Each age level has its peculiar sacrifice to make if the peace of the world is to be insured.

"The Guidance Laboratory is powerless to influence these students who have failed to return to study this fall. Those citizens in the community who encounter these students would render a service to the student and the country by counseling the students in a democratic way.

"It is an opportunity for citizens who are genuinely interested in the improvement of society to prevent the bitter regrets of our future young citizens and to participate in the preservation of the democratic way of life."

Eighth Red Cross Blood Bank Scheduled for October 28
Belleville's eighth blood bank will be conducted in the high school gymnasium, October 28 by the local Red Cross chapter. A mobile unit of the New York area will be present from 2 to 7. Residents at large are asked to register at once by visiting Red Cross headquarters at 258 Washington Avenue or telephoning Be. 2-2373. Those between the age of 21 and 60 who have not contracted malaria are eligible.

Although blood has been given here fifteen times, seven of the donations have been made by employees of various defense industries.

Woman Pummels Rival, Regains Husband, Drops Complaint

Mrs. Rhoda Madeo of 128 Beech street took the law into her own hands Tuesday when she appeared in Passaic police court to sign a complaint against her husband, Elgin Madeo, 29, and Mrs. Irene Kosteky, 22, of Passaic.

Mrs. Madeo charged her husband and Mrs. Kosteky with unlawful cohabitation but did not wait for the law to take its course. The mother of two children, she swung three times and scored three blows on the other woman.

She labeled the first two for the children and the third for herself. Then she withdrew the complaint and walked out of court on her husband's arm. Mrs. Kosteky's husband is in service overseas.

Mass Meeting

The Freeholders, said the council, "have provided the people of Essex County with the highest type of institutional care for the insane, tuberculous and contagious patients."

The council felt, however, that the legal barriers to the conversion of a portion of Soho might be resolved by the simple expedient of having the Freeholders "un-dedicate" part of the hospital without need of special legislation.

September 24 Health Officer Craster of Newark and Newark Almshouse superintendent James H. Farmer announced their support of the move.

Craster backed it because his department is not in a position to provide specialized care for the chronically ill who must remain at home because there is no room for them in Newark City hospital.

Farmer urged the change to relieve overcrowded conditions at the almshouse where many beds are occupied by the chronically ill.

The last development occurred September 28 when the Freeholders voted to permit the treatment of rheumatic heart cases at the local hospital.

The Freeholders also delegated Rawson to fix a date for a discussion of the Schneider plan with a committee named by the medical society.

BELLBOYS BEATEN BY SUMMER HEAT AND T-FORMATION

Bloomfield from Behind Roms to 14-6 Victory; Locals Idle This Week

With a fortnight to lick their wounds before meeting Passaic in the fourth game of the grid season, the Bellboys pondered the causes of their 14-6 downfall before the roaring Bengals of Bloomfield Saturday.

There were two factors which prevented repetition of the 1943 Blue & Gold triumph: the heat and inability to solve the power-house T-formation of the home-sters.

The heat took a considerable toll of Bellboys during the afternoon. One was knocked out every few plays. Meantime the Bengals suffered not a single casualty in the shirt-sleeve weather.

Bloomfield showed T propensities in the second quarter but it was not until after the intermission that it began rolling in high gear. Then it was egged on by the touchdown scored by the Bellboys.

Bob O'Gara handled practically every Maroon ball of the afternoon and, by slipping it first to one and then another Bengal, he managed to fool the locals nearly every time.

Bloomfield's first threat came with promise, chalking up two successive first downs before the fracas was a minute old. It stalled near midfield, however, and an exchange of punts followed.

Bloomfield's first threat came after Vic Pasquariello's punt wobbled out of bounds on the Bellboy 25. The Bengals peched out a first down on the 9 but the defense stiffened and the score was averted.

Just before the end of the second period big Frank Tripucca, the Bloomfield No. 1 man, created a second threat with dashes of 13 and 19 yards respectively but Pete Del Vecchio stopped that with a pass interception on his own 7 as the half ended.

Quick Cashing Bloomfield cashed in quickly for a tally in the third after Vince Vaccarella recovered a Bloomfield fumble on the enemy 46.

Pasquariello on the next play started an end run, cut back just in time and sprinted 38 yards before being hauled down from behind on the 8. He carried it over four plays later but failed to convert.

Thoroughly aroused, the Bengals took the following kickoff on the 20, returned it to the 40, then opened up with T-formation in a continuous march which carried sixty yards to a touchdown in eleven plays.

Tripucca bucked over from the two-inch line and then passed to O'Gara for the extra point.

The Bellboys retaliated with a small-sized march which ended on the Belleville 48 when Del Vecchio, attempting to pass, received little coverage and was thrown for 14 yards.

With the O'Gara-to-Tripucka slip working to perfection and to the locals' complete confusions, Bloomfield worked another 51-yard march to a score late in the fourth period. Once again it was Tripucca who scored. Art Swerdlow kicked the point.

With less than a minute to play the Bellboys covered 42 yards in two plays before the whistle ended festivities.

The Line-ups Belleville: Smith, Byrne, Vaccarella, Bonis, Meschio, Del Tufo, Pasquariello, Del Vecchio, Bloom, Pasquariello. Bloomfield: Smith, Byrne, Vaccarella, Bonis, Meschio, Del Tufo, Pasquariello, Del Vecchio, Bloom, Pasquariello.

LITTIG WILL TRY TO BREAK RECORD Teams with Luders in Crack At New York-Philadelphia Tandem Record Sunday

Ed Littig of Belleville Bicycle club and Paul Luders of Long Island Wheelmen will attempt Sunday to break the five-year-old New York to Philadelphia tandem speed record.

The present standard of three hours 56 minutes was established in 1939 by Bob Settagas and Fank Wurtz of Long Island Wheelmen. Several weeks ago Littig set a new individual mark over the same route.

Luders and Littig will start, from New York city hall at approximately 6 Sunday morning, cross the Hudson River via ferry and start down Highway 1, for Trenton.

Finish by 9:45 They will travel over Roosevelt Boulevard and down Broad street in Philadelphia to the city hall, finishing the trip by at least 9:45 if they are to be the holders of a new record.

This means they must ride better than 30 miles an hour most of the time in order to average the 24 miles per hour they will need to break the record.

Littig, two weeks ago, set a new record of four hours 42½ minutes between the two cities in an unpaced run on a single bicycle.

READING & WRITING BY Edwin Seaver and Robin McKown

Van Wyck Brooks has long been acknowledged as one of the most distinguished American literary historians of our day. Now he has followed his brilliant surveys of American literary origins—"The Flowering of New England" and "New England: Indian Summer"—with a third volume, "The World of Washington Irving."

"The World of Washington Irving," like "New England: Indian Summer," is a Book-of-the-Month Club selection.

To Van Wyck Brooks, the literature of a period is not something that can be picked up and set aside in a neat cubby-hole by itself. It is intimately bound up with the customs of the people and social conditions of times. Thus his new book is particularly rewarding for Mr. Brooks' penetrating analysis of Washington Irving's world—a period in which American writers first became conscious of their heritage.

"Mr. Brooks' book is far more than a life of Irving," says Henry Seidel Canby in the current issue of the Book-of-the-Month Club News. "It is a pictorial biography of our country in its first half century as a republic. . . . Here in this book the great figures appear, always freshly treated and sometimes with high originality."

Van Wyck Brooks has read some 800 to 900 volumes in preparation for each of his books—not only the important works of the period, but the half-forgotten, dull ones as well. . . . He begins his reading early each morning with his six o'clock cup of tea. After his regular breakfast, which he has at a more civilized hour, he retires to his study to write. Afternoons and evenings are usually devoted to more reading and note-taking. . . . "The Flowering of New England" took four years of work.

From a British Tommy, says Tom Treanor, in "One Damn Thing After Another," he got the warmest, most understandable description he's ever heard of the British soldier's love for tea. "It's when you get moody that you need it," the Tommy said. "Take when the mail comes around. You haven't had a letter for two months. They distribute the mail and everyone gets his letter but you don't. You get moody and there's only one thing to do. You start your fire and you get crackin' on brewin' up some tea. Then you feels better."

NATIONAL WAR FUND

THREE FRONTS-ONE CAUSE

WE won't let them down NOW!

WHEN it comes to giving . . . we never think of ourselves as "labor" or "management" . . . Republican or Democrat. We're Americans all!

That's why the great labor unions are lined up with chambers of commerce and manufacturers' associations in support of the annual War Fund drive of their community. That's why C.I.O., A.F.L. and the Railroad Brotherhoods—all unions—are urging their members to give generously.

These WAR SERVICE AGENCIES are supported entirely by your gifts to your local War Fund: U.S.O.—with lounges and canteens, with camp shows both here and overseas. War Prisoners' Aid—delivering games, books, athletic equipment to boys in enemy prison camps. United Seamen's Service—a helping hand for men doing lonely, dangerous war jobs.

LOCAL COMMUNITY WELFARE AGENCIES also have been banded together in this one great cause. Local services supported by this one big drive include family and child welfare work, maternity care for wives of service men, day care for children of war workers, public health activities, projects designed to combat juvenile delinquency.

These are OUR boys and girls in the service, OUR friends and neighbors at home. There are more who need our help this year than ever before. WE won't let them down now! We're giving.

A 1943 graduate of the high school, he worked for Compton Enterprises of Newark before entering the Navy.

His brother, Pfc. John D. Miller, is with the infantry on a front in France. He has been in the Army five years and overseas a year.

T/Sgt. John P. LoCoco of Verona, formerly of 61 Florence avenue, is on his way home after 35 missions as a B-17 engineer in Europe. He wears the distinguished flying cross and the air medal with four oak leaf clusters.

Pvt. Paul E. Shapiro of 82 Division avenue recently completed training at Camp Lee, Va., and has been assigned to the Army postoffice in New York.

A veteran of eight years' service in the Belleville postoffice, he entered the Army nine months ago.

Lieut. Richard J. Roberts

The story behind the legion of merit won by Navy Lieut. Richard J. Roberts was finally revealed this week when he came home to Belleville for a brief leave before resuming his duties as skipper of a PT boat.

Roberts will leave today for San Francisco where he will rejoin his ship. A former resident at 93 New street, he spent his leave with his nephew, Andrew Roberts of 13 Linden avenue.

The action which won Roberts the legion of merit, believed to be the highest decoration won by a Bellevillite in this war, occurred several months ago during the invasion of Kwajalein atoll in the Marshalls.

Then commanding an LCM, Roberts was running his ship to shore under the bombardment of our own naval guns and the heavy fire of Japanese shore batteries.

Suddenly he noted a small group of Yanks which had been isolated from the main party making the landing. He immediately decided to come to their rescue.

"He returned four times to an isolated detachment on a beachhead," says his citation, "bringing replacement, guns and supplies and each time taking off the wounded in the face of a terrific barrage of machine gun and mortar fire from enemy positions a short distance away."

"The unprecedented conditions under which he carried out his operations were exceptional and it is possible that the beachhead would not have been established were it not for his demonstration of gallantry and fortitude."

"His action saved the lives of many men isolated and, at the mercy of the enemy..."

Roberts has lived most of his life in Belleville, graduated from Barringer High school and formerly was employed with the O'Hanlon Bureau, insurance investigators.

He entered the Navy nearly three years ago as a chief petty officer in view of his vast experience in small boats, gained as skipper of a yacht which sailed regularly out of Manassquan.

He served for a period in the North Atlantic theater, returned to New London, Conn., for a specialized navigation course and was commissioned there.

Since he went to the Pacific two years ago, he participated in nine major engagements, most recently between Halmahera, Biak and Hollandia.

His greatest thrill, however, was meeting his nephew, Pfc. William O'Neill, in Honolulu. He missed another nephew, Radioman 1-c Eugene O'Neill, by two days. The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. O'Neill of 83 New street.

Lieut. (jg) Stephen Petro jr

Some of the experiences undergone by Lieut. (jg) Stephen Petro jr on a minesweeper in the Normandy invasion forces were revealed this week. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Petro of 245 Adelaide street.

His ship was assigned to sweep coastal waters clear of enemy mines. "I had duty occupied the better part of ten days. After a ten-day break in England, he was assigned to sweep the waters off Cherbourg."

A mine went off and ripped a gaping hole in the stern of the ship. Five men were blown overboard and the ship finally went under. Petro's spot at this time was recently described by a fellow officer:

"The ensign (Petro had not yet been promoted) who was picked up by the PT boat was rebellious when they tried to get him under blankets below deck."

"He kept yelling at a man in overalls, 'Hell, I'm not hurt. Let me get the hell out of here,' when minutes later he noticed a cap with three stars on it."

"It wasn't until then that he found out that the man he had been yelling at was Admiral John Wilkes of Charlotte, N. C. He calmed down considerably." After the rescue, he was taken back to England.

Petro, who is 23, graduated from Belleville high school in 1939 and from Newark College of Engineering two years later. He formerly worked for Electronics Enterprises of Newark.

He entered the Navy in February 1943 as a midshipman and was commissioned in June 1943. He was in Europe for nine months and is now at Norfolk, Va., for reassignment to another minesweeper.

His brother John is home on a brief leave between his naval pre-flight and basic flight training. He was cadet sub-commander at Chapel Hill, N. C.

Another brother, James, is in the Navy V-12 program at Drew University at Madison.

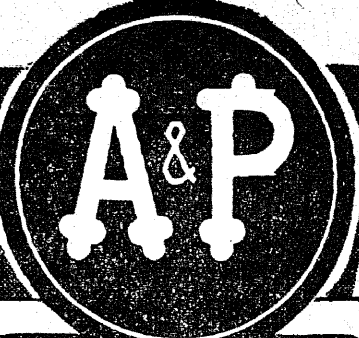

Seaman 1/c F rank D. Haight returned last week to Pensacola naval air training station after spending a two-week leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Haight of 266 Hornblower avenue. Haight, who is eighteen, has been in the Navy a year.

Lieut. (jg) Joseph B. Grosch, will leave Saturday to return to San Diego, where he is an LCM training officer, after spending a week's leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Grosch of 435 Cortlandt street.

His wife, the former Adell Kleinknecht, was also in Belleville visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Kleinknecht of 256 DeWitt avenue.

New Passaic River Parkway Progress Outlined in Report

County Park Commission Cites Local Development As Dramatic "Before and After" Example; Work Interrupted by War Will Continue

"Probably no land which has been converted to park purposes by the Essex County Park Commission would present a more dramatic series of pictures of the 'before and after' type than those of the Passaic River Parkway, the taking lines for which were fixed in November 1927." Thus does Park News, official publication of the commission, this week begin its story of the development of the parkway, the major portion of which lies in Belleville on the west bank of the Passaic River.

"Although much of the land within those lines has been acquired, particularly that between the Second River (Belleville) and the Avondale Bridge in Nutley, not all of the improvements have been made by any means, nor did the work progress with the speed which was possible at other locations, due largely to delays beyond the control of the Commission.

"Among other things, the establishment of the Passaic River Parkway was intended to prevent erosion of the river bank and thereby preserve for public use, under the control of one body, an area which could not otherwise be so preserved or beautified.

"Part of it consisted simply of refuse dumps. There was an abandoned reservoir belonging to the City of Newark; other parts were given over to factory use, which certainly did not enhance their beauty.

"In building the retaining wall the Commission's engineers discovered piling which, though it had been under water for seventy years, was thoroughly preserved.

"The major portion of the brown stone used in the new wall was salvaged from the walls of the former reservoir.

"Early Plans Ambitious
"Some of the early plans were motorboat and yacht anchorage with clubhouse and other facilities.

"But because of conditions existing when the Commission was finally in a position to start work, the boat anchorage with its attendant facilities was temporarily abandoned in favor of less costly operations which would provide an added beauty spot in the county with the more usual type of recreation areas.

"In the Belleville section there are ball diamonds, a football field, children's play area with shelter, sandcourt and, wading pool spray, four hard surface tennis courts, bocce alleys and horseshoe pitches, with a small field house which offers accommodations for those persons using the more strenuous of the athletic facilities.

"A parking area south of the ball fields is a feature to which not every park lends itself.

"Of the land acquired to date only that in the middle portion (mostly in Belleville) plus a small area near the Avondale Bridge has been walled."

Violet Johnston's Engagement To Idaho Marine Announced

Mr. and Mrs. George Johnston of 75 Liberty avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Violet Ann Holmes Johnston, to Marine Cpl. John B. Harms, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Harms of Wendell, Idaho.

Miss Johnston, who teaches in Greylock school No. Five, is a graduate of Belleville High School and Montclair State Teachers College.

Her fiancé attended Lindfield College, Oregon. Recently returned from sixteen months in the South Pacific, he is stationed at the Naval ammunition depot at Lake Denmark near Dover.

Attend Boy Scout Meeting

The annual meeting of Region Two, comprising New York and New Jersey, will be held October 21 at Hotel Pennsylvania.

Scout commissioner Harry Brumbach, assistant scout executive Harry T. French, and a number of other scouts from the Belleville District will attend. There are 135,985 Scouts, 39,084 Cub Scouts in Region Two.

The meeting will be devoted to improving both the quality and quantity of scouting in the two states.

URGE APPLICATION FOR "A" GAS BOOKS WITHOUT DELAY

Forms Ready at Ration Board For Renewal of Gas Books Before November 9

North Jersey motorists were urged today to make application immediately for the new "A" gasoline ration books which go into use on November 9.

The distribution of the new books, according to District OPA Director Richard J. Tarrant, is being handled on a mail order basis.

Applications can be mailed of "A" books and "D" books (for motorcycles) are available now at the local war price and rationing board at automobile dealers, establishments, and at war plant transportation committee offices.

Motorists are instructed to get a form at one of these places and fill it out and mail it, together with the back cover of the present "A" book, to their local rationing boards. Boards will then begin mailing the new books so that all are distributed by November 1.

Applications can be mailed throughout October, but rationing officials here pointed out that the earlier the applications are sent to boards, the sooner the books can be distributed.

It was explained that the No. 12 coupons in the present ration book will not be validated. Instead, the No. 13 coupons in the new book will be declared valid for use beginning November 9.

This move was taken by OPA to balk counterfeiters who, it was understood, were prepared to print and sell the No. 12 stamps.

Another reason for the action was to bring the East coast into line with the gasoline validation and expiration dates in effect in the rest of the country.

Safety Paper

The new "A" book is printed on a new type of government safety paper which, OPA says, will be virtually impossible for counterfeiters to duplicate. As a further protection, every coupon bears a serial number. The same number also appears on the cover of the book, and a record of it will be made by the issuing board.

The new coupons will be worth four gallons each, but only six are validated for each three-month period, leaving the "A" ration unchanged. At present, eight coupons, each worth three gallons, are validated every three months.

When the motorist receives the new book he will notice that three of the No. 13 coupons have been obliterated and cannot be used. The other three will be good for purchasing gasoline from November 9 through December 21.

On December 22 all the No. 14 coupons will become valid. This is done so that the East coast expiration date for the No. 13 coupons will coincide with the expiration date for the rest of the country which already is using the No. 13 coupons.

Car owners are cautioned to send to the board only the back cover of the present "A" book. This is the part headed "Certification of Bookholder," under which appears the signature and address of the registered owner.

The motorist retains the front cover with the No. 11 and 12 coupons attached to it. The No. 11 coupons remain good through November 8.

Together with the new book, the board will send each motorist the stub from the bottom of the application form. This he is instructed to retain as a permanent mileage rationing record in place of the present Tire Inspection record.

The mileage record will be used when a motorist applies for renewal of his supplemental gasoline rations, or for special emergency gas rations.

Forms to be filled out are now available at Ration board; at Belleville; Nutley Sun office, 386 Franklin avenue; and at all banks in the two towns.

Missed the Point on Recreation Committee

When Commissioner Noll introduced and the other Commissioners unanimously passed a resolution last fortnight creating a Recreation Advisory Committee they partially followed the plan outlined by the Belleville Foundation, but they did it in such a way that they jeopardized the future of the group. They missed the point which the Foundation attempted to get across, namely the elimination of politics from the picture.

The plan that the Foundation had in mind was that the committee would be made up of three representatives from each of the four main branches of civic life: the town, the church, the schools and the industries. In order, however, to keep the committee free from political bias it was suggested that those four groups be asked to name their own representatives.

The purpose was the same as in the plan subsequently proposed by the Foundation for assistance to the returning veteran, namely to prevent the committee from becoming a political football and to give the representatives full authority to speak for the organizations which appointed them. It was felt that, if they were not appointed by only one of the branches, they would be able to maintain their independence of thought and recreation would have a set of checks and balances to guide it.

Instead, the Commission chose to emasculate the plan by appointing all the committee members itself. True it chose the men and women who served on the original Foundation group (plus a few added starters.) It must be remembered, however, that the Commission has set the precedent in retaining the full appointive powers and left no guarantee that future committees would not be composed exclusively of political appointees.

The resolution which was drawn set up no length of terms nor did it provide for replacing persons who leave the present committee. What it should have decreed was merely that the Commission, the Board of Education, the Ministers Association and the Manufacturers Association should each name three members to the committee and should have been followed by an invitation to those groups to make their appointments.

It is felt that the resolution, which was introduced and passed with such speed that no advance study or publicity could be given it, should be rescinded and another, which would embody the Foundation policy, substituted. If the Commission is truly interested in serving the best interests of the town they will not create an instrument whose usefulness could be completely nullified by selfish politics at some future date. That mistake has been made too often in the past and the usual result has been collapse of the committee.

Industry's Plan Should Get a Chance

The Belleville Foundation last week unveiled its proposals for municipal assistance to returning veterans, for helping the men who have risked their lives for nearly three years that we might continue nicely along with our tranquility only slightly ruffled. By its own admission, the plan is not necessarily perfect, will undoubtedly need much refinement before it reaches its final form. But there is little doubt that the plan, now officially known as The Belleville Plan, is one of the most forward-looking steps yet taken by any municipality in the United States to aid its own sons and daughters — and their families — to reinstate themselves in civilian life with a minimum of commotion and discomfiture.

It is no secret that many people, in Belleville and elsewhere, look with not a little suspicion on the efforts of Industry (with a capital I) to become public philanthropists. It is said in some circles that its efforts to be public benefactors is a little late, that it is the result of generations of misanthropy, that it is merely an antidote to the attempts of the federal government during the past decade not merely to regulate but also to control Industry in an Americanized totalitarian state.

Well may some of these assertions be true. There is certainly little doubt that Industry has taken a fearful licking at the hands of the government during the past ten years and that part of its present humanitarian efforts may be an attempt to reinstate itself in the good graces of the public. If it has learned the lesson of its responsibilities to ordinary mortals, it has learned at terrific cost something which it will not quickly forget. If it has realized its duty to its employees, it should be permitted to do its best to carry out its new ambitions. We cannot on the one hand blast Industry for its longtime callousness and on the other hand blast its attempted reform. If both alternatives were logical, if Industry can do no right, then our entire American economic system is wrong.

Therefore, Industry in Belleville, now realizing its responsibilities toward the town which houses it, must be given the opportunity to prove its good intentions. Such Belleville industries will play a major part in postwar employment here, their voices must be raised and must be heard. Should they play the people of Belleville for suckers and take a hand in town affairs for their own personal gains, the people will not be fooled and will be able to take care of themselves.

But the industries, in this case in the form of the Foundation, must be given a chance to show their reawakened social consciousness. Their plan should be given a try purely on its own merits. It will cost the town a little money but, if even a small percentage of Belleville's 3,500 veterans are helped to become better citizens, it will be money well spent. The Belleville Plan deserves serious consideration by the town Commission and, unless the latter body can bring a better proposal, it should be adopted and the necessary funds appropriated.

Boy and Girl Scouts Need Leaders

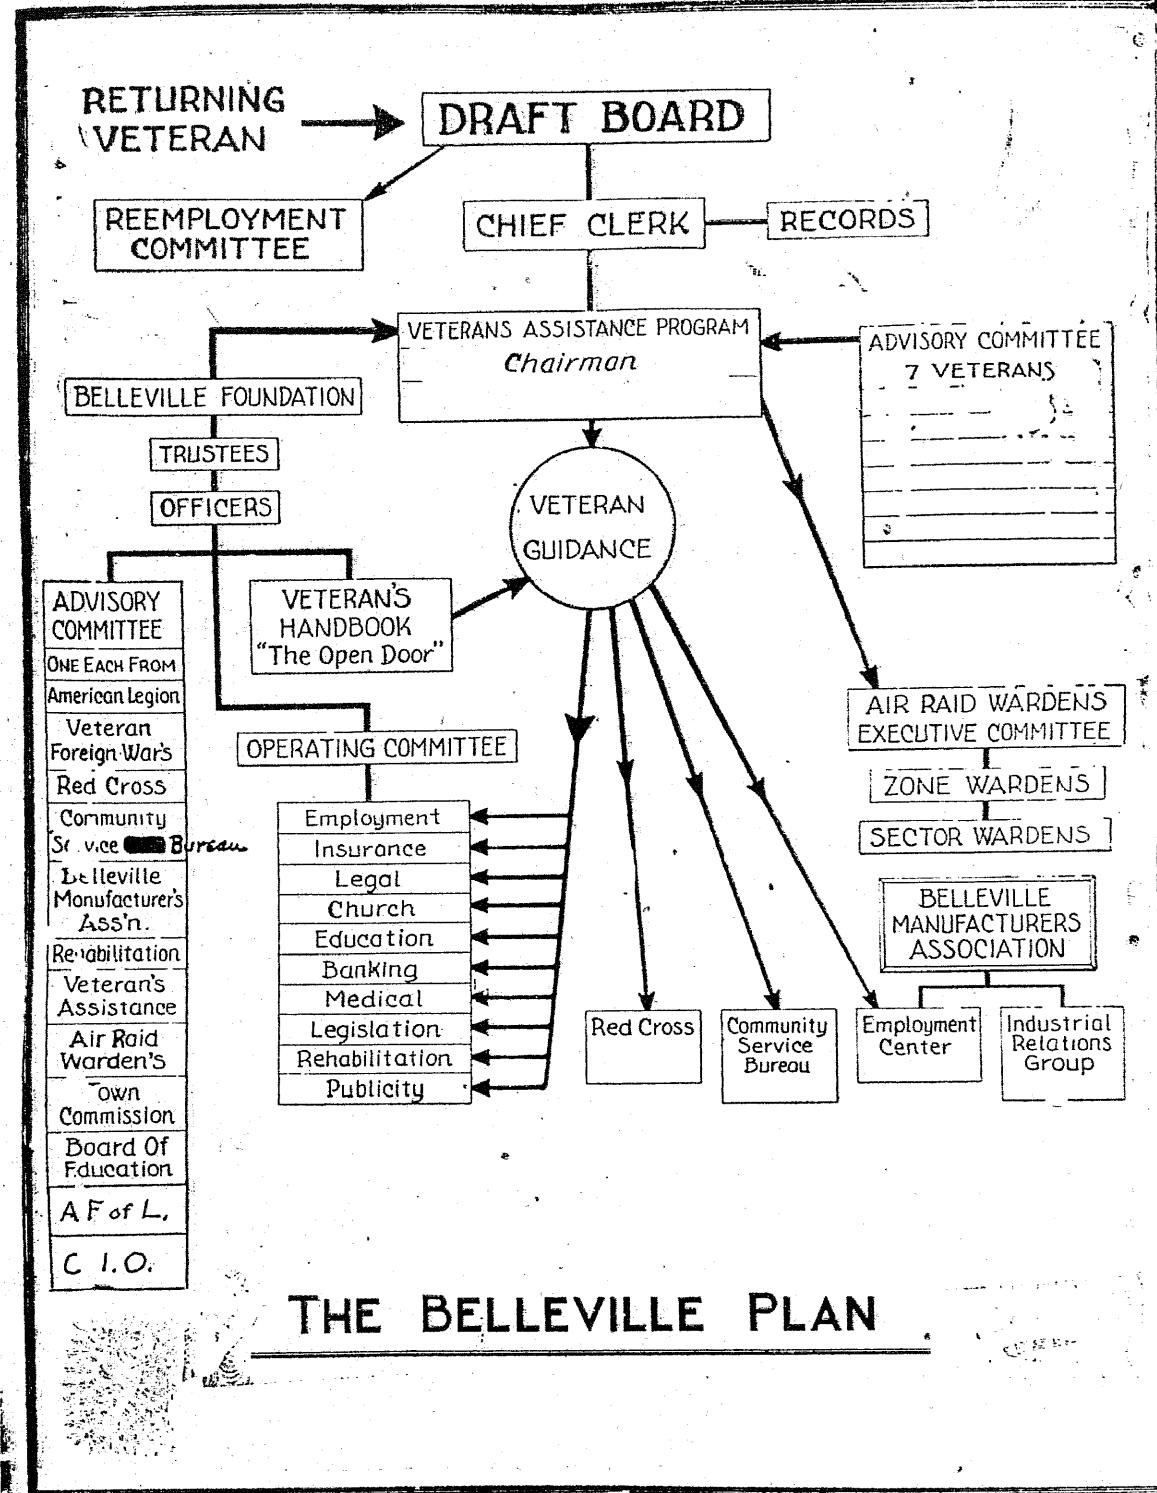

Belleville is rediscovering the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts. Gradually a consciousness of the value of these organizations as tremendous aids to boys and girls in becoming good citizens is beginning to dawn on the people of the town. The Scouts, by their broad and high-minded ideals, greatly supplement the work of the parents in the upbringing of their children. They teach our youth the finest of the American principles, guide them in the paths of usefulness to themselves and to the community. And they do it in a way which makes their programs entertaining and interesting to youth.

To carry on such a program as has been outlined for the Scouts here (the Girl Scouts hope for 1,000 girls, 35 troops by spring; the Boy Scouts have no announced goal but are attempting to form numerous new troops) the immediate assistance of numerous adults is needed to help guide the destinies of the youth of the town. Organizations (industrial, civic, school and church) are needed to sponsor the troops; adults are needed as scoutmasters, leaders and program assistants.

Scout work requires comparatively little of an adult's time and the satisfaction which is derived from it more than compensates for the time given. Little specialized training is needed and what is necessary is given by professionally trained executives right here in town. Adults who would be able to devote a few hours a week to this great work are being urged to contact the headquarters of the Scouts. The Girl Scouts are located at 400 Washington avenue, the Boy Scouts can be reached at Belleville 2-2020.

The Belleville Plan for Veterans Assistance

Picture above is the diagram of The Belleville Plan proposed last week by the Belleville Foundation which recommended that the town Commission adopt it as the official program of the town to assist returning servicemen.

The Plan is divided into two essential parts: advisory (aiding the formation of policies) and operating (the portion with which the veteran will come in contact).

The serviceman having left Belleville through the draft board, he will return the same way, reporting upon arrival to that body.

Should he know exactly what his future will be and should he require no assistance in relocating himself in civilian life, he will progress no further than the filling out of his discharge records.

Should he, on the other hand, need aid in planning his future course of action, he will be referred to the Veterans Assistance Program set up by state selective service headquarters.

Chairman of that program will be John P. Dailey who, having played Simon Legree to many outgoing men, will have the opportunity to play Santa Claus to them on the way back.

The real work of the program, however, will be performed by the veterans' guidance director, a salaried position filled by appointment by the program chairman and paid for by the town.

Guidance Handbook

After listening to the veteran's problems, the director will be able to guide him to the proper agency to help solve it. He will see that every discharged veteran has "The Open Door," a handbook to be published soon by the Foundation.

If the veteran wishes to return to the job which he had before induction or enlistment, the re-employment committee headed by Ernest H. Alden will guarantee it. This committee has been functioning for some months.

Should he, however, desire some other future, committees have been set up incorporating a group of experts in each of several lines and he will be referred to the proper one.

These committees, composed of volunteers, will be able to offer sound advice on employment, insurance, law, church, education, financial matters, medicine, legislation, rehabilitation — without charge.

Should his problem be of a

DECIDED INTEREST AMONG JUVENILES

Library Says Sharp Increase Is Noted in Children's Dept.

For Grades One to Six

The beginning of the school season has brought about a great increase in the use of the children's department of the Free Public Library this year.

Youngsters from the first grade through the sixth came to the juvenile room for help with book reports and homework, and for the many delightful little books designed for young readers' entertainment.

A comparison of the records of the past two months will show how business in the Children's Room has increased.

In August there were 1,412 books taken out and in September the circulation rose to 2,530. During August 1,186 readers visited the Juvenile Department and in September there were 2,689.

Reference questions answered in August amounted to 93 and in September there were almost four times from the picture.

The Foundation has recommended that the various committees all be housed under one roof in order to expedite and coordinate assistance.

After listening to an exposition of The Plan last week, the town Commission promised immediate study and an early decision on it.

times as many, totalling 363 questions answered for the children. Mothers also are finding the children's room very helpful in selecting books for young readers, and the number of adult visitors increased considerably in September.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Shattuck, Librarian, is planning a special display of new children's books to be featured during book week which this year is from November 13 to 18.

The date for the beginning of children's story hour will be announced in the paper at a future date.

Two unusual and beautiful exhibits of minerals are on display in the adult reading room. Both of these exhibits feature lovely specimens from all parts of the world.

Robert Fitton of 57 Adelaide street and Fred Alden of 196 New street are the hobbyists who have loaned these collections.

CORRECTION

A letter praising the police bicycle registration drive last week was signed by Mrs. Maurice McEligot of 272 Hornblower avenue. Mrs. McEligot, safety chairman of Joralemon street school PTA, was erroneously listed as holding that position with Passaic avenue school PTA.

ECONOMY VIA CONSTITUTION REVISION

Governor Charles Edison said:

"In general the financial aspect of the business of our State is now so confused by separate funds, different fiscal years and various appropriations acts that no one can tell where the State stands financially — All this will be remedied if the proposed Constitution is adopted, for it requires a single State Fund, a uniform fiscal year and one appropriation act — over the years this clause alone should save the taxpayers millions of dollars." - - -

"I wish to emphasize that - - - until the old Constitution is properly revised there is little likelihood of attaining any real solid economy in the State Government."

Your vote "yes" for the new State Constitution is needed — November 7th.

SOLDIER WRITES HIS APPRECIATION

Sgt. Harry Mason Commands North Belleville Honor Roll For Remembering Boys

The appreciation of servicemen for the honor paid them in the North Belleville honor roll now in the course of construction on Union avenue was expressed in a letter received this week by Joseph Stein, chairman of the honor roll committee.

The letter was written from Italy by Sgt. Harry Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Mason of 72 Campbell avenue. "It is really a swell idea and believe me when I say all of us will greatly appreciate it. Fellows like Emil (Lieut. Emil Ostrowski of 540 Union avenue, killed in action) should not be forgotten, and a permanent memorial like this is what it should be, not just a large bulletin board type.

"It is darn nice to know we are not forgotten over here and that all of you think enough of those who gave their life and those of us who will come back, to put up something like this.

"I'm telling the truth, Joe, when I say the idea brought tears to my eyes and a lump in my throat. All I can say to everyone who has part in it is that you are all a swell bunch of people and we'll never forget you."

Landscaping for the honor roll is virtually completed and dedication with impressive ceremonies is scheduled for Armistice Day or the following day, a Sunday.
