

REFERENDUMS VIE WITH PRESIDENCY IN TUESDAY'S VOTE

Municipal Employees Pension, Revised Constitution Queries On Interesting Ballot

Two referendums on local ballots will vie with the presidential contest for interest of the voters when they go to the polls Tuesday in the second wartime election in the history of the country. Prognosticators expect Belleville to go Republican by a wide margin.

Only local question to be decided is that of whether or not the municipal employees should be allowed to participate in the state pension plan. The referendum is not expected to meet much opposition.

More closely contested probably will be the vote on the proposed revised constitution which would replace the century-old charter under which New Jersey has been operating.

Electors for five presidential candidates are on the ballot: Republican Thomas E. Dewey, Democrat Franklin D. Roosevelt, Socialist Norman Thomas, Socialist-Laborite Edward A. Tycher and Prohibitionist Claude A. Watson.

Luke A. Kiernan jr (D) will challenge Fred A. Hartley jr (R) for the congressional seat which the latter has held for eight terms. H. Alexander Smith (R) and Elmer H. Wene (D) are candidates for the U. S. Senate.

Other posts to be filled are those of state assembly, county sheriff, surrogate, coroners, freeholders. Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m.

The Belleville pension question concerns all town employees except police, firemen and school employees who are already covered by retirement plans.

Plea for Pension
A plea mailed this week by the municipal employees to thousands of Belleville voters appealed for an affirmative vote and listed three reasons:

1) "The employees concerned are not included in the benefits of social security and unemployment compensation, and are the only group of municipal employees who have no pension or old-age protection."

2) "The state 'as well as certain other communities and municipalities use this retirement system for their employees. It is actually sound and is under the supervision of the state department of Banking and Insurance."

3) "The knowledge of future security makes for a better worker. For present employees, the plan will be optional, not compulsory. Town employees who join the plan will contribute from 3% to 9% percent of their salaries to the cost."

Generally speaking the constitution revision question has boiled down to a partisan fight with the Republicans pro and the Democrats con, although many party lines have been crossed in the fight.

Mayor Gives Costs
Mayor Williams last night released estimated costs to the taxpayers of the employees' pension plan which they might "determine if they desire to accept the annual costs" if the referendum is approved. The tabulation:

|------|--------|
| 1945 | $ 413 |
| 1946 | 968 |
| 1947 | 12,674 |

For the next 24 years, the mayor said, the annual cost to the taxpayers is estimated at $12,674 annually. After 1972 the cost will drop to $5,600 for the present number of 58 employees.

Thirty to 35 years of service is required to be eligible to receive a retirement wage of fifty percent of salary. Years of service already rendered would be included but payments would depend on length of service and amount paid into the pension fund.

Publish Constitution
The text of the constitution has been published in The Belleville Times in a series of thirteen installments, concluding in this issue.

Proponents of the change argue that the 1844 charter is outmoded and that state government and judicial procedure will be rendered much more efficient under the new laws.

Opponents of the revision have been mostly organization or groups which feel that their own rights and privileges are not protected in the revised text.

Most notable foes of the new code are the New Jersey Grange, the APL, the CIO, certain leaders of women's groups and Mayor Hague of Jersey City.

It is estimated that more than 13,000 votes will be cast in Belleville even though the registration figures have not been officially tabulated. It is believed that more than 14,000 civilians and servicemen are registered.

Captain Louis H. Jannarone Dies of "Battle Fatigue"

Pvt. John C. Keller jr Missing in Italian Fighting; Edward A. Flynn jr Howard McMaster, Domenick Valeo, Louis Fusaro, Wayne Young Wounded

The death of Capt. Louis H. Jannarone Tuesday in Walter Reed General hospital, Washington, has been ascribed by Army doctors to battle fatigue brought on his refusal to leave the wounded on the battlefield. Capt. Jannarone, who was with the Army medical corps, landed in France on D-Day and worked day and night through all the push across that country. He was finally stricken during the siege of Aachen and, when his condition grew rapidly worse, was evacuated by plane to Washington. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jannarone of 225 Passaic avenue, and his wife is the former Capt. Louis A. Jannarone, Miss Frances Taylor of Ashokis, N. C., a nurse in Baltimore.

A 1931 graduate of Belleville High school, he attended the University of Maryland and was graduated from medical school there in 1939. He interned in Mountsinai hospital, Glen Ridge, and Jersey City Medical Center.

He was commissioned in the medical corps in October 1941, served at Fort Benning, Ga., and Camp Gordon, S. C., before going overseas January 6.

Besides his parents, he leaves three brothers, Pvt. Ralph Jannarone with the Fifteenth Air Force in Italy, Philip J. of Belleville and Joseph of Leonardo.

He is also survived by five sisters, Mrs. John Codomo of West-raleigh, S. I., Mrs. Jeffrey Ritzke of Pawtucket, R. I., Mrs. William Rich of Atlantic Highlands, Mrs. Thomas De Rogatis and Mrs. Samuel Brown of Nutley.

A solemn high mass of requiem will be offered Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in Holy Family Catholic church, Nutley, following a funeral from his home. Interment will be in Holy Cross cemetery, Arlington.

Missing in Italy
Mr. and Mrs. John C. Keller of 172 Delavan avenue were notified Saturday by the War Department that their son, Pvt. John C. Keller jr, has been missing in action in Italy since October 12.

Keller, a wireman attached to an infantry regiment in one of Lieut. Gen. Clark's units, was inducted in June 1943, trained at Camp Croft, S. C., and went to Africa a year ago.

He attended Nutley High school and Bloomfield Vocational school and was formerly employed as a machinist with the Jaebel Ring company of Newark. The Kellers moved to Belleville five years ago.

The Times was notified yesterday in a dispatch dated before Keller was reported missing that he had been awarded the combat infantryman's badge for participation with the enemy on the Fifth Army front.

McMaster Wounded
Pvt. J. Howard McMaster was seriously wounded in Germany October 8, according to a War Department telegram received by his wife, the former Virginia M.

HOMER ZINK URGES VOTERS' OKAY OF REVISED CHARTER

Declares State Management Reorganization Is Impossible Under Old Constitution

Declaring that further reorganization of state offices is impossible under the present charter, Homer C. Zink of 26 Rossmore place, state commissioner of Taxation & Finance, yesterday urged voters to approve the revised constitution Tuesday at the polls. His statement follows:

"Since July 1, when the streamlined, modern state Finance department started to function, there has been a notable advance in accounting efficiency.

"The improvement, which thus far has affected only this new and enlarged department, will shortly be reflected in other state departments.

"The resulting opportunities for increased efficiency, promoting economies, improving the relationship between departments and raising the morale of employees, are almost unbelievable.

"So far, we have merely scratched the surface, yet we have already done away with some duplication of effort and much waste."

"An important and significant accomplishment has been the development of a centralized payroll, which, alone, will save time, money and effort to a surprising degree."

New Charter Needed
"The creation of this powerful new fiscal department was made possible merely by the passage of a legislative act. There are other state departments or agencies which need reorganization as badly as the fiscal department did, but which cannot be altered without a changed constitution.

"The outstanding example, of course, is the judicial system, which sadly needs revision, but which, as a practical matter, cannot even be touched until we adopt a new state constitution.

"Those of us who know, from experience and observation, what the reorganization of the fiscal department has already brought about, are most enthusiastic when we think what a new and modern judicial system, as set up in the revised constitution, will mean to all the people of the State.

"Costs will be cut, duplication and overlapping will be limited, waste effort and delays will be checked, and understanding between courts will be improved. Due solely to our archaic Constitution, and with no reflection on our judges, justice in New Jersey has long been crippled by delays. Yet, 'Justice delayed is Justice denied.'"

The PBA then listed three specific paragraphs to which it objects:

Article VI, section 1, paragraph 2 "which is indefinite in its phraseology and which would cause much litigation and could do much to prevent home rule in our municipalities."

Pension Funds
"Article VII, paragraph 2 which 'may work against our interests because we have a special claim for our pension funds against taxes on gasoline and motor vehicles and this paragraph would put all revenues in a single fund.'"

Article IV, section 2, paragraph 1 which "should have contained a provision that a law enforcement officer should be a member of the parole board."

"If this new constitution is adopted in its present form we feel that our cause is lost for a great number of years and the opportunity that we have been waiting for, for over a quarter of a century, will have passed.

"Therefore, we deem it necessary at this time, for self-preservation and for the best interests of the police departments throughout the state, to ask the people of the state to reject this new proposed constitution."

Red Cross Blood Bank
A total of 186 pints were taken Saturday in the fourteenth Belleville blood bank sponsored by the Red Cross bringing the total to 2,593 pints to date. There were 235 registered, of whom 35 failed to appear and fourteen were postponed for various reasons.

Young men fifteen years or over are eligible for membership, whether or not they have been Boy Scouts. The ship meets Tuesdays at 7:30 p. m. at Eastwood - Nealley. 28 Jerusalem street.

THOMAS K. GROSCH MRS. EDITH TEUFEL IN DELAWANNA

Youth Dies of Fractured Skull When Car Hits Pole; Soldier's Wife Dies in Missouri

A solemn high mass of requiem will be offered at 9 this morning in St. Peter's Catholic church for Thomas K. Grosch, 22, who died Sunday night in St. Mary's hospital, Passaic, of injuries received in an automobile crash in Delawanna shortly after midnight Saturday.

The youth, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Grosch of 435 Cortlandt street, was a passenger in a car which failed to make a curve in River road, Delawanna, and crashed into a pole in front of the Waldrich Bleachery.

Also severely injured in the crash were Miss Anna Rose Nolan, 29, of 240 Page avenue, Lyndhurst; Army Sgt. George J. McKay, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. McKay of 283 Ralph street; and Theodore R. Close, 23, son of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. O. Bell Close of 19 Tiona avenue.

All were rushed to St. Mary's hospital. Miss Nolan suffered a broken jaw, lost a number of teeth and suffered internal injuries. Her condition is still reported serious.

McKay, whom police listed as driver of the car, suffered a mangled arm. He has been removed to the Army hospital at Camp Shanks, N. Y.

Close's jaw was fractured and cuts on his face and neck required sixteen stitches. McKay and Close are reported improved.

Outstanding Courtiers
The latter men were well-known in Belleville as outstanding independent basketball players. Close, who is a student at Montclair state teachers college, was recently discharged from the American Field Service after having been wounded in Italy.

Mr. Grosch graduated from St. Peter's parochial school and from the high school in 1939. He was employed as a machinist with Gould & Eberhardt company of Irvington.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a brother, Lieut. (jg) Joseph B. Grosch, who arrived Monday night by plane from San Diego, Cal., where he is an LMC instructor and by two sisters, the Misses Dorothy and Shirley at home.

The funeral from the Kiernan funeral home will be at 8:30 this morning and will be followed by the requiem mass. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

Soldier's Wife Killed
Mrs. Edith Teufel, 24, was killed and her husband, Capt. Norbert J. Teufel, 27, was critically injured Tuesday when the car in which they were passengers crashed into the rear of a large truck in Green Castle, Mo.

Teufel, who received a medical discharge from the Army Friday, and his wife were on the way to Detroit to visit with her aunt, Mrs. T. J. McCormick. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Teufel of 29 Charles street; his wife's parents are deceased.

Teufel has been in the Army five and a half years prior to which he was employed with Walter Kidde & company, Bloomfield. He has lived in Belleville eighteen years.

The couple was married in May 1943. Mrs. Teufel is survived by her aunt, two sisters, Mrs. Emma McCurdy of Irvington and Mrs. Doris Sleeth of East Orange, and her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Kershaw of 14 Oak street.

The funeral will be held from the Peoples Burial company of Newark. A requiem mass in St. Peter's Catholic church Saturday at 9 will be followed by interment in the church cemetery.

Other Accidents
Howard C. Reinhardt, 41, of 511 Washington avenue suffered lacerations of the face Saturday afternoon when his car struck a public service pole in front of 9 Floyd street. After treatment by Dr. Martin M. Meahan, he was "taken home."

Several hours later, Alfred P. Karl, 33, of 1071 Prospect street, Hillside, stopped his half-ton truck on Union avenue to wait for the red light at Belleville avenue.

While there, he told police, a car smashed his left front fender. As he stepped from the truck to survey the damage, the other car ped on in the direction of Newark. Somehow he also lost his wallet.

He reported the hit-and-run to police and then went home. Several hours later an attorney called headquarters to relate that Karl and the other driver had gotten together and settled the matter.

Then the other driver was revealed as Arthur Goetz of 22 Townley road, Fairlawn. Karl also reported that he had recovered his wallet.

Detective Mariano Faces Charges For "False Statements" to Jury

Claim Local Sleuth Wrongly Testified to Witnessing Gamblers' Statements to Leighton; Held in $2,500 Bail; Recapture Ralph Borriello After Two Weeks

Repercussions from the grand jury hearing of alleged "understandings" between Mayor Williams and Newark gamblers and the jury's subsequent dismissal of the charges continued unabated this week as another grand jury prepared to consider charges of false statements attributed to Detective Nicholas J. Mariano. Mariano was arrested Monday afternoon by order of Prosecutor Wachenfeld and was released Tuesday morning in $2,500 bail to await grand jury action. He has retained Gerald T. Foley of Newark as his attorney and the case is being investigated by assistant prosecutor James L. McKenna.

This was the second step in the mayor's projected "clean-up" of the police department here. The first action was taken two weeks ago when Commissioners Noll and Mertz approved Williams' resolution stripping Public Safety Director King of control of the department and placing it in the mayor's hands.

Wachenfeld declared Tuesday that the basis of the complaint against Mariano was contained in statements by the mayor and by former police chief Michael J. Flynn. The complaint was signed by Capt. Joseph Cocozza and investigated by detective Lieut. Merrill, both of the prosecutor's staff.

According to Wachenfeld, Mariano testified at the grand jury hearing that he was a witness to the report signed by deputy police chief Elmer S. Leighton and that he had overheard the conversation between Leighton and the Newark gamblers when the latter allegedly put the finger on the mayor.

"Confession" to Flynn
After the grand jury had handed in its presentment clearing the mayor, Wachenfeld said, Mariano went to Flynn's home and told the retired chief that "his conscience bothered him."

Flynn's statement asserts that Mariano admitted that he had not overheard the conversation between the gamblers and Leighton. Flynn called in Williams who declares that Mariano reiterated his admission.

When Mariano, however, refused to sign a confession to the alleged perjury, it is reported, Williams took the matter to Wachenfeld. When questioned by a prosecutor's investigator, Mariano is said to have denied that he made any such admission to Flynn and Williams.

Mariano, who has been on the police force for three years, was formerly a heavyweight fighter who boxed under the name of Jack Marion. He has been suspended by Chief Spatz pending the outcome of the grand jury hearing.

Mariano figured in the capture Sunday of Ralph Borriello, 20, of 509 North Fifth street, Newark, one of the two brothers who escaped from police headquarters two weeks before while awaiting questioning here.

The escape of the Borriellos is entangled in the whole police turmoil principally in point of time; it occurred five days before the grand jury presentment and strengthened Mayor Williams in his seizure of the department.

Spot Stolen Car
Leighton and Mariano were living near Borriello's home Saturday night when they spotted an automobile reported stolen in Bloomfield.

Detective Holly, assigned to watch the car, reported the next day that it had not been moved. Mariano and Sgt. McGinnis then went to Borriello's home and found him asleep in bed. He did not resist arrest.

Borriello is being held by the sheriff's office for grand jury hearing on alleged liquor thefts in Belleville and Irvington.

Two weeks ago he and his brother James, 24, of 43 Florence avenue were brought here for questioning in connection with a suspected stolen car ring in Essex county.

While in custody here, the two forced open a heavy screen, squeezed their way through and "led down the fire escape in the rear of town hall. James is still at large.

It is understood that Mayor Williams is pondering bringing charges against Leighton and possibly other members of the police department in connection with the escape.

DeWitt Savings and Loan Shares Oversubscribed by $25,000
A two-month campaign to sell $15,000 in new shares in DeWitt Savings & Loan association resulted in sales of more than $40,000, president Joseph King and executive secretary Edward J. Cantwell announced yesterday.

At the end of September, money in the drive, DeWitt announced over the million-dollar run for the first time. A total of new shares were purchased.

The officers and directors were divided into two teams during the drive, with Lawrence E. Keenan's team turning in $19,000 and Harry Griffinger's aggregation copying the honors with $21,000.

WAR CHEST DRIVE NOW IN HIGH GEAR
Canvassers to Meet Tonight, Industrial Rallies Planned; "Give to Feel Good" Theme

With the neighborhood solicitors getting set for a meeting and rally tonight and several industrial rallies planned during the next few days, the Belleville War Chest campaign to raise $67,000 here this week swung into high gear.

The week began with appeals being made in virtually every church in the town for the support of the parishioners. Churches and their rectors have expressed their approval of the drive and are taking active parts in it.

Miss Kathryn Conklin, chairman of the neighborhood canvassers will give her workers last-minute instructions this evening at 7:30 in town hall, although some of the canvassing has already begun.

Miss Conklin announced yesterday that the first report meeting of the canvassers will be held November 15 at which time first returns of the house-to-house solicitation will be made.

As an ice-breaker to the campaign, Boy Scouts this week are distributing posters and literature to stores and homes.

Four inviolate veterans from Halloran General hospital will speak today at the Walter Kidde company rally. Joseph C. Duval, managing editor of The Times and an Army veteran, will address the employees of L. Somnecorn & Sons tomorrow morning.

Homer C. Zink will hold the first full-dress meeting of his special gifts committee tomorrow evening at 7:30 in War Chest headquarters at 338 Washington avenue.

Endorses USO
An endorsement of the USO, one of the 22 member agencies of the National War Fund, was given yesterday by Signalman 2/c Wesley Lehman of 90 Tappan avenue, a veteran of Pacific fighting and a former fireman here.

"USOs are strung across the country and overseas," he said, "thus making a succession of homes away from home for the servicemen."

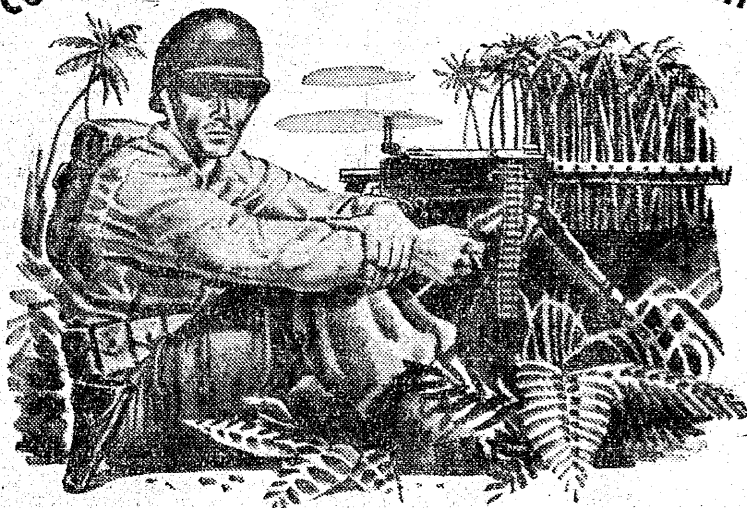

"It has helped me many times. With the USO around, there is no reason for anybody to be lonely. They feed you and entertain you when you need it most."

"One thing that I am not afraid to tell anybody is that they don't have to worry where the money goes when they contribute to the USO. The people might not be able to see where their money goes, but we in service see it."

Lester E. McCormick, general campaign chairman, yesterday praised the "splendid cooperation" which has been received from all quarters of the town during the past several weeks.

She said that JRC members here have made Christmas gift boxes for children overseas, art classes in the High School made menu covers to be used by the Navy on Christmas dinner tables, contributed to National Children's Fund, and produced many items

"WILL I COME MARCHING HOME TO A WORTH WHILE JOB?"

"I'm just a G.I.—fighting for you... for a decent world... for a sound America.
Some day, I hope, I will come marching home.
What will I find?"

Will he find a strong America where he will have a chance to go to work and earn dollars which are worth while? Or will he just march from wartime hell to peacetime hell?

That depends, to a large extent, on YOU... on how you spend the money and save the money you are now earning.

If we on the Home Front plan our spending and our saving... if we spend less, save more... then we may reasonably expect post-war America to be O.K. But if we blow in our money... if we try to spend it as fast as we make it... then we're bidding up prices, pulling down the buying power of the dollar, crippling business, heading toward trouble.

Planning is the answer. Take a pencil and work out your own plan for spending and saving. Out of your figures will come a sensible method for spending. Then, too, you can determine how much to save. Put your surplus dollars into War Bonds and into your bank account. Then we'll head toward victory on the Home Front, too!

As a matter of loyalty, it is up to each and every one of us to have a sound, worth while American dollar when our fighting men return.

Help the nation's efforts to keep your living costs DOWN, the buying power of your dollar UP.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR ILL VETERANS, AIM OF CAMPAIGN

American Legion Post Appeals
To Public to Contribute To Cheer Collections

"Christmas gifts to Yanks who gave" is the slogan of the campaign of Belleville post 105, American Legion, to gather Christmas gift parcels for distribution to wounded and sick war veterans in military hospitals.

The aim of the campaign is to provide a yule present for every hospitalized serviceman and woman in the United States. The drive was suggested by Eddie Cantor on his weekly radio show.

The Belleville post, under the chairmanship of William D. Maser of 14 Ogden road, has set up several collection depots throughout the town for the convenience of the donors. Members of the committee will call for packages "Citizens of Belleville," Maser said yesterday, "are invited to purchase or provide a Christmas box when they are preparing similar gifts for other friends."

"The store where these purchases are made will gladly deliver them to the Belleville post or to the chairman's house."

A tentative deadline of December 10 has been set for the receipt of the parcels in order to insure delivery in time. Belleville collection depots are as follows:

Rivola's drugstore, Union avenue and Joralemon street.
Rossmore Pharmacy, 338 Washington avenue.
The Belleville Times, 328 Washington avenue.
Empire Laundry, 517 Washington avenue.
Feldman's dry goods store, 115 Washington avenue.
Greylock Pharmacy, 528 Union avenue.
Mantone grocery, 56 Harrison street.

Assisting Maser on the committee are William Kenepf of 8 Dawson street, Edwin Ackerman of 191 Linden avenue, Louis A. Wagner of 148 Brighton avenue and William E. Rivola of 197 Joralemon street.

Each contributor is requested to enclose a personal greeting card with his gift and for further details listen to the Cantor broadcast or call Belleville 2-2386.

"My new neighbor on the next street got a telephone but I'm still waiting"

Yes, that could happen for any one of several reasons. Your neighbor may have been ahead of you on the waiting list—his service may have been moved from a previous address—service for him may be essential to the war effort, or to public health, welfare and security, and accordingly would be provided promptly—or he may have qualified under War Production rules for preferential treatment because of serious illness or service in the Armed Forces.

Every need for essential service is being met, but with telephone factories producing at full capacity for war needs, the only facilities there are to care for pending applications are those released by present customers.

Those now waiting for service can be sure that they will be connected in proper turn as fast as disconnections permit.

NEW JERSEY-BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

Internee Home

First Lieut. James P. McCann arrived home on a well-earned leave Friday night. He is resting after having spent seven months interned in neutral Switzerland. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McCann of 136 Belleville avenue.

It was his fourteenth mission over enemy territory. The Americans were jumped by German fighters on the way to the target but got their bombs safely away as per schedule. Over the target, however, they were seriously hit by flak which knocked out both starboard engines and sprang an oil leak in another. They immediately started to drop behind the formation. When they could no longer keep the big plane in the air, they were forced into a crash landing in Switzerland. Two Swiss soldiers immediately took them prisoners. The Swiss treated the Yanks fairly, McCann said, quartering

Lieut. James P. McCann them in modern hotels in an interior city. He refused to divulge how he escaped from confinement but he rejoined the Allies in France and flew to the States from England.

McCann is credited with shooting down a Focke-Wolf 190. He wears the air medal with an oak leaf cluster and is anxious, after reporting to Atlantic City November 18, to be assigned to pilot school.

Lorena Clark to Show 14 Canvasses at Club

Display of Paintings to Mark National Art Week; Woman's Club Plans Supper Saturday; Drive for Federation "Air Armada" for the Navy

A one-man show of paintings by Lorena Clark will be hung in the Woman's club Saturday evening in observance of National Art Week. They will be viewed and bid for by the members and their friends at the annual cafeteria-supper of the club's ways and means committee the same evening. Featured work of the Belleville artist will be a self-designed stained glass window dedicated to the Gold Star Mothers of Belleville.

The painting, says Mrs. Clark, is purely imaginative but the inspiration for it came from watching the sun stream through the beautiful windows of St. Peter's Catholic church. After Saturday's exhibition, the memorial painting will hang for a while in Konrad's art store at 266 Washington avenue where an exhibition of Konrad Shoemaker's canvasses is also being shown. Also of interest in the Clark exhibit will be a portrait of the artist's husband, W. Douglas Clark of 20 Clearman place. There are landscapes, seascapes, still life and floral oils included.

Mrs. Clark took up oil painting three years ago before which she was a costume designer. After completing a course at the Newark school of fine and industrial arts, she studied with Charlotte Kroll of Newark.

The dinner committee is headed by Mrs. William Chapman and included on her committee are: Mrs. Harvey B. Thompson, Mrs. Leslie Woodruff, Mrs. William Allen Jr. Mrs. Wayne R. Palmer, Mrs. Raymond J. O'Brien, Mrs. Luther E. Van Pelt, Mrs. R. Clifford Whitfield, Mrs. John J. Hewitt, Mrs. Bernard J. Kelly, Mrs. Horace B. Knox, Mrs. Norman D. Lauterette, Mrs. Frank J. McFadden, Mrs. Edward Puckhaber, Mrs. Clifton J. Smith, Mrs. Dwight N. Hyde, Mrs. Joseph King, Mrs. Arthur E. Mayer, Mrs. Louis A. Noll, Mrs. Herbert L. Niles, Mrs. F. Kenneth Mass, Mrs. Elwood P. Russell, Mrs. Willard Y. Stranage and Mrs. Michael Volpe.

Members of the local club are again cooperating with the state Federation of Women's Clubs in a bond campaign for the federation's "air armada" for the Navy. Mrs. Edward H. Puckhaber is leading the Belleville part of the drive to sell $1,000,000 in extra bonds. In a similar effort for the Army last year Belleville was credited with sales of $23,088.75. "It will be a great satisfaction," Mrs. Puckhaber said yesterday, "to know our efforts are supplying strategic material at a critical time in the war, realizing that the Navy must play a major role in the Pacific victory." The literature department of the club will hear reviews of two new books next Thursday at a meeting at the home of Mrs. James M. Lynch of 65 Randolph place, South Orange. Mrs. Theodore F. Voelter will be co-hostess. Mrs. Charles S. Smith will speak on "Razor's Edge" by W. Somerset Maugham and Mrs. R. Clifford Whitfield will review "Burma Surgeon" by Jordan Sea-

Casualties Mount on Battlefields

Rose of 30 Rossmore place, last week.

The 31-year-old infantryman is an alumnus of Belleville high school and prior to his induction last November was employed with the First National Bank. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William McMaster of 242 Washington avenue.

He took his basic training at Camp Croft, S. C., and went overseas in April. His brother, Lieut. Andrew G. McMaster, is with the artillery somewhere on the Franco-Germany front.

Wounded Second Time

Pfc. Domenick Valeo, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Coppola of 72 Eugene place, was wounded for the second time October 8 in France, they were notified Saturday by the War department.

A letter from him revealed that he is now in a hospital in Italy and hopes to be able to get in touch with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Valeo of Borgia, Italy, when he is released from the hospital.

He has lived with the Coppolas eight years and entered the Army two years ago. He went overseas in January and was wounded the first time shortly after participating in the invasion of Normandy.

Wounded Third Times

Second Lieut. Edward A. Flynn jr. has been wounded for the third time and in a third country in two months, the War department has informed his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Flynn of 94 Van Houten place.

He was hurt this time on September 23 in Germany. He later wrote that he was blown out of a pillbox and later out of a foxhole, both times by Nazi 170-mm. shells. The explosions deafened him in his left ear.

Flynn was wounded for the first time August 2 in France when he was grazed by several German machine gun bullets. They pierced his helmet and creased his temple. He has been awarded the silver star for that action (see Bellevillites in Uniform).

He returned to action September 3 and twelve days later in Luxembourg received a slight shrapnel wound in his heel. He was back in action a few days later.

Returns to Combat

Wounded in France July 17, Pfc. Louis Fusaro, 23, has returned to combat duty, according to letters received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fusaro of 42 Mitchell street.

Fusaro was wounded in the foot and spent thirteen weeks in an Army hospital in England before returning to France. He has been overseas ten months.

He attended Belleville High school and, before his induction two years ago, was employed with plumber Samuel D. Wasserman of Cortlandt street.

Recovering in England

Pfc. Wyne N. Young, 21, was wounded July 22 in France, according to information from the Mr. and Mrs. August Young of 3 Cedar Hill avenue. He is in an English hospital.

A former employee of Wallace & Tiernan company, he was inducted into the infantry in February 1943 and has been overseas four months.

Surrogate's Notice

October 25, 1944

Estate of JOHN F. CROWLEY, deceased. Pursuant to the order of EUGENE F. HOFFMANN, Surrogate of the County of Essex, this day made, on the application of the undersigned, executor of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased, to exhibit to the subscriber under oath or affirmation, their claims and demands against the estate of said deceased, within six months from this date, or they will be forever barred from prosecuting or recovering the same against the subscriber.

James J. Dolan

James J. Dolan of 151 Holmes street who died Tuesday in Mount-ain-side hospital after a brief illness, will be buried tomorrow morning after a requiem mass in St. Peter's church at 9. Interment will be in St. Peter's cemetery.

Mr. Dolan, an employee of Charles Green and Sons of Newark, was born in Malden, Mass., and had lived in Belleville 23 years.

He is survived by three sons, Harry Dolan of Lyndhurst, Cpl. James J. Dolan jr with the Signal corps in Germany and Pfc. Richard in an Army hospital at Martinsburg, W. Va., where he is recuperating from wounds suffered in action.

There are four daughters, Mrs. Agnes May of the Holmes street address, Mrs. Anna Plameau of 79 Bridge street, Miss Rose Dolan and Mrs. Margaret Weinberger of Newark, Mrs. Agnes Young of Malden and nine grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were made by George F. Kiernan.

Miss Elizabeth F. Kelleher

Miss Elizabeth F. Kelleher of Geneva, N. Y., for fifteen years instructor of English in Belleville high school, died Saturday at her home of arthritis and heart trouble.

Miss Kelleher, who was 45, was born in Geneva and attended schools there. She received her bachelor of science degree from Syracuse University and her master of arts degree from Columbia University.

Vaccine Tablets
Prevent Colds

2,280 test cases
show 87% results

Now that Science has found the way to get "cold shots" to tiny tablets, all you have to do is swallow CO-VAX with a sip of water. They cause production of anti-toxins that destroy the germs associated with colds. Start taking CO-VAX cold vaccine tablets right now, before midwinter epidemics strike, and give yourself a chance to enjoy this winter. It costs only a penny a day to prevent colds with CO-VAX.

War Chest Business Leaders

LEADS OF BUSINESS DIVISIONS of the Belleville War Chest are shown planning the moves which will help make the business and industrial canyons for the fund a success. Left to right are Eugene T. Kelly who is chairman of the businessmen's division, Elwood P. Russell who heads the industrial committee and Harry J. Sullivan who will contact out-of-town purveyors and chain stores. The War Chest hopes to raise $67,000 between now and Thanksgiving.

Becks Receive Recording of Son's Broadcast

HEUSER ANNOUNCES "SECRET" PRODUCT

Junior Achievement Company Develops Plastic Clothespin With Different Uses

The "secret project of the Heuser Woodcraft company is now in production. It is a plastic clothespin which has the same uses as a regular clothespin but is washable and will not tear stockings, silk blouses or other sheer clothing.

The idea of the clothespin and its design were conceived by William Heuser Jr., of 156 Fairway avenue, president of the Junior Achievement company. He has also devised an oven for heating and jugs for bending several hundreds of the pins at a time.

The company has been making the pins for three weeks and during that time it has found several other uses for them. If hooked over a wire hanger, they change it to a clean, efficient skirt or pants hanger. For the photographer, they are very useful in the dark-room for drying prints.

There is a three-week sales contest among the members of the company who are canvassing the town for orders. While taking orders for the clothespins, they are also offering a handy drying rack for light laundry. Orders for these articles will be taken by mail to the Heuser company, 562 Washington Ave.

Cubs Enjoy Halloween Party At Fewsmith Church

Seventy-five cubs attended Pack 350's Halloween party Monday evening at Fewsmith Church recreation rooms. Cubs gathered for games and songs. Den mothers served cider and doughnuts. Chief business of Friday's pack meeting will be completion of properties and costumes for the annual Cub circus which will be presented by the boys November 17.

Twenty acts have already been completed. Cubs may determine their circus assignments by telephoning Cubmaster Harold F. Ross at Be. 2-2474.

Girl Scout Movie to be Shown At Capitol This Week

Arrangements have been made for a movie showing of "Volunteers for Victory" at the Capitol theater under the auspices of the Girl Scouts of Belleville and through the courtesy of Frank T. Hinchey, theater manager.

The short, which depicts normal activities of children in wartime as opposed to the regimented practices in some European countries, will be seen at all performances from through Saturday.

The film is part of Girl Scout week efforts here which will include window displays, Scout's Own program in the high school Friday, and the inauguration of a Service Bureau for Girl Scouts Saturday.

Eleven Basketball Teams Signed For Recreation Leagues

Eleven teams have definitely signed their intention of participating in the 1944-45 Church and Intermediate recreation basketball leagues. This was learned, last week at the organization meeting of the leagues with Edward J. Lister, recreation director in the Recreation House.

Wesley Methodist church will defend its title in its circuit against the challenge of Congregation AAA, St. Peter's Catholic, Montgomery Presbyterian, Westminster Presbyterian and Christ Episcopal or Grace Baptist. The two latter teams did not have representatives at the meeting. Seeking their second straight crown in the intermediate league will be the Eagles. Other teams in the loop are the Demons, Shamrocks, Imperials, Raiders and Starlings.

Campers Trip Bellboys In Narrow Squeak

Undefeated Irvington Gets Scare from Stubborn Belleville, Squeezes 12-0 Win; Locals Play Host To Formidable Hillside This Saturday

Irvington High's football juggernaut swept on its road to state diadem in gaining its fifth successive win at the expense of Belleville's previously once beaten eleven, 12-0. The contest, played Saturday at Clearman Field, brought out an estimated throng of 7,000.

The loss was the second of the current season for the Bellboys as against three wins. The locals did, however, gain on consolation in the defeat. They held the Campers to a dozen points, the lowest of their season's record.

Not too successful in gaining through the stubborn Blue and Gold forward wall, the Campers took to the air waves, completing six out of sixteen passes and turning two of them into six pointers. Three more touchdowns were called back on the Campers, two, because of penalties and another because of a "dead ball."

Shortly after the opening kickoff, Campers end Dick Summers recovered a Belleville fumble on the latter's 15-yard line.

Five plays later Henry Benkert, star Irvington athlete, took a reverse from Dreher and went off his own left end for what seemed to be the game's first tally, but the play was called-back because of a clipping penalty against the Campers. The Bellboys then held on downs.

Line Plunge Fails
Near the close of the first half the Irvington team took over possession of the ball on the loser's 25, when a fourth down line plunge by Vic Pasquariello failed to net a first down. On the very next play Benkert tossed a pass to halfback Joe Veit in the end zone for the first score.

The Campers tallied again in the third quarter, after Rinaldi's running and passing ability had set up the score. Fading back to the Belleville 20, Benkert again connected with a "td" toss, this time to end Bob Dentz.

The fourth period saw the title-bound Campers "lose" two more apparent scores, when Norm Burnett intercepted a Bellboy aerial and raced 35 yard to pay-dirt, but the play was nullified because of a Camper offside penalty.

On the following play Irvington scored again on a fumble recovery by Benkert, only to have it cancelled for the third time, the reason this time being that the ball had been ruled "dead" on the spot where it fell, giving the ball back to the Bellboys.

At this point the locals tried to strike through the air, but Rinaldi again proved his prowess by intercepting two of the passes to keep in check the futile offensive efforts of the Blue and Gold.

With two minutes of play remaining, Pasquariello intercepted one of Benkert's lobbs on his own goal and raced up to his 30, but already the Belleville fans had given up hope of the locals overcoming the deficit.

Not satisfied in performing all of the football fireworks, during the course of the afternoon, Irvington's huge band presented a sparkling display of marching and music in their pre-game antics and during halftime intermission.

The Bellboys will again play host to another one of Jersey's more formidable powerhouses Saturday, when they take on Hillside High. The only mar on the Comets' record this season is a scoreless tie with Orange.

Rotary Speaker

Charles R. Erdman Jr

Plans for postwar development of New Jersey were outlined last week to Belleville Rotary by Charles R. Erdman Jr, mayor of Princeton and state director of Economic Development.

The postwar program falls into three categories, Erdman said: 1) financial and other aid to veterans, 2) planning for housing and public improvements, 3) commerce and municipal aid (welfare).

The first point includes help in establishing veterans in businesses of their own, legal and other advice, helping them get other jobs than those they held before entering service.

"State and local governments should be planning now for post-war improvements," he declared. "It may be that we will have to turn temporarily to public works in order to help some of the unemployed."

"A public works program, will not help us out of a depression but it will help if we construct things we really need. We must make our plans now."

The final point of the state plan includes the necessary public assistance to unemployables and also exploring New Jersey's natural resources and selling the idea of the state as a good place to work and live.

GROSSMAN PLANS TO START BOXING, WRESTLING SOON

Maps Programs For Matches Twice Weekly in Riviera Park Skating Rink

Boxing Commissioner John Hall has issued a license to Bernie Grossman of the B.G. Sports Club to conduct boxing Thursday nights and wrestling Monday nights at the Riviera Park Roller Skating rink.

Grossman, for many years as Lyndhurst resident, former owner of the Three Acre Grill Night Spot and at present a manufacturer of machine shop products, intends to present his first show at the rink late in November and run through the end of May.

Plans for the outdoor season are tentative but Grossman is looking for an outdoor arena or a suitable site to erect one.

Remaining a popular rendezvous for roller skating enthusiasts and remembered as the scene of more than dances when that craze swept the country the rink is ideally located and constructed for boxing.

Oval in shape and large enough to comfortably seat 2,500 fans, the promoter proposes to make the rink the mecca of boxing in New Jersey.

A compact seating arrangement is planned for the comfort of the fans and to afford an excellent view from every seat.

Assistant Matchmaker

Grossman has secured Irving Cohen as assistant matchmaker. Cohen served as matchmaker at Elizabeth last winter, where he successfully introduced many new action fighters and developed them through torrid fights, to main event attractions.

Outstanding boxers now successfully appearing as main event attractions in New York clubs and who were introduced to New Jersey fans through the efforts of Cohen will be seen on the first shows at the Riviera rink.

Grossman, whose experience as a sports promoter is limited was first inclined to participate in this field when he discovered that he had to travel out of New Jersey to see bouts that were "Jersey naturals".

After toying with the idea for a few weeks Grossman, a manufacturer of machine shop products with shops in Belleville, Lyndhurst and Cranford, made inquiries among friends and business associates and organized his club.

There are at present at least two good intra-Jersey matches with plenty of local color that waiting to be made by an enterprising promoter with vision.

The managers of these boys have assured Grossman they will sign for his club as soon as he is able to set a definite opening date.

Will Enforce Fireproof Buildings For Commercial Construction

Commissioner Mertz reaffirmed at the recent special Commission meeting his intentions to attempt to enforce the regulation whereby all commercial construction in Belleville will be of fire-proof material.

While admitting that the provision against frame construction is not contained in the building codes of the town, Mertz nevertheless pointed out that such is the desire of the town commission.

Industrial and commercial construction in recent months, he said, has voluntarily followed the wishes of the board.

He cited, however, the instance of an unnamed industry which recently has made several persistent efforts to erect a frame building but "I had it stopped."

"Their argument is that it is temporary but I feel that a fire could start five minutes after we give them a permit for it," he declared.

Bellevillites In Uniform

Lieut. Robert A. Gibbs

With the Fifteenth Air Force in Italy. — First Lieut. Robert A. Gibbs, 27, has spent the majority of his combat career peering at enemy territory through a bomb-sight and anxiously watching flak bursts track his Italy-based Flying Fortress across battlefields of the sky.

Bombardier-navigator Gibbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Gibbs of 14 Forest street, Belleville, began his career by flying to an enemy oil dump at Porto Marghera, Italy, May 19.

Between his first mission and the fortieth trip into enemy territory, a long haul to Ploesti, Romania, oil refineries July 31, Gibbs collected memories from a storehouse of hazardous experiences.

He flew through skies black with flak bursts May 29 at Vienna; spent anxious moments while his squadron, obscured in thick haze, flew formation with overwhelming numbers of German fighters at Belgrade June 6; and was injured at Ploesti July 31 by heavy flak which battered his Fortress and sent the big bombers limping home like wounded birds.

Gibbs decided his most hazardous combat experience was a toss-up between the anxious moments spent riding with Junkers 88 fighters at Belgrade, hoping the enemy wouldn't discover the Fortresses were American planes, and the Ploesti mission when he was wounded.

"Flak was heavy and accurate at the target," Gibbs said as he began the story of Belgrade. "We were wrapped in thick heavy cloud layers like a woolen blanket and formation flying was extremely dangerous."

Dangerously Low
"We went over the target at 3,000 feet, dangerously low for heavy bombers, and despite the terrific pounding from flak, did an effective job bombing the objective, a railroad yard loaded with tank cars and supply trains."

"After rallying for home with flak bursts still snapping at our formation, three squadrons in our group became separated from the air force and began floundering around in the haze like lost geese hunting for their leader."

"My ship was in the last squadron. We kept calling back and forth over the radio, constantly on the lookout for air force, meanwhile playing hide and seek with each other and praying we would avoid collisions."

"Then we spotted the other groups, or what we thought were other groups, flying a thousand feet above us, apparently lost too."

We flew in under them and rode along together in beautiful formation.

"Occasional breaks in the weather then revealed the other planes to be Junkers 88 fighters. I'm certain they suspected we were an unescorted group of Fortresses, beautiful targets for their rocket guns."

"Since neither formation could definitely identify the other, we continued riding along together, like two boxers wary of each other but making no move until certain of the opponent's intentions."

"We rode along like that for a half hour. Finally the German fighters swung right and, as they disappeared, we breathed a sigh of relief and went to hunting our own planes. Shortly afterward we rejoined the others and continued, uneventfully, to home base."

Anti aircraft batteries threw up heavy, accurate and intense flak at Ploesti July 31. Fortresses in Gibbs' group received concentrated pounding on the bomb run.

Gibbs was wounded in the left thigh and knocked back in the plane by a flak burst close off the left wing immediately before "bombs away."

Alone in the bomber's nose (serving as both navigator and bombardier), he was forced to crawl painfully back to position, minus his oxygen mask which had been ripped off, and salvaged all bombs on the target. Then he lost consciousness.

Five minutes later the engineer revived Gibbs and administered first aid. Then, although still groggy, Gibbs resumed his navigational duties and plotted the return course to home base.

He has been awarded the distinguished flying cross, the purple heart and the air medal with three oak leaf clusters. His DFC citation reads:

"On July 16, 1944 Lieut. Gibbs participated in a bombing mission to enemy oil installations at Vienna, Austria. His planes was subjected to heavy accurate flak barrages on the mission."

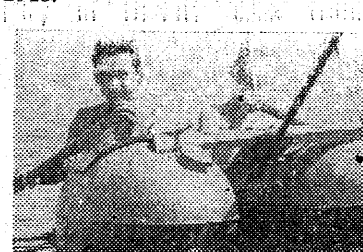

"At the target, six bombs failed to drop due to a broken bomb shackle on the bottom bomb. Upon close examination Lieut. Gibbs discovered the arming wire had been pulled, setting the time fuse to explode."

Without hesitancy, he assumed position over the open bomb bay and removed the fuse, thus averting explosion and destruction of the plane.

"Lieut. Gibbs then returned to his position at the bombsight and, although his oxygen mask had been rendered useless during removal of the fuse, took great care and deliberation in performing his duties, scoring direct hits on the objective as a result of his accurate bomb release."

Gibbs graduated from Belleville High school in 1934, studied business science one year at Rutgers University and was employed with the Prudential Insurance company previous to enlisting January 24, 1942.

After spending a year in the infantry, he transferred to the AAF and won his bombardier's wings and commission at Albuquerque, N. M., December 4, 1943.

"SPEED? About eight thrills per minute," says Cpl. Clement Ippolito of 97 Magnolia street (left) describing the belly-tank boat, popular pastime in the Mediterranean Sea.

Twelfth Air Force Service Command. No secret invasion craft nor suicide bomb is the belly-tank boat, demonstrated here by Cpl. Clement Ippolito Jr. of 97 Magnolia street, Belleville, and M/Sgt. W. A. Parker of Cincinnati.

The boat is just one of the happier overseas entertainment inspirations. Like the foxhole radio, it is easily made and materials to make it are plentiful.

The simplest type, and most common along the Mediterranean beaches, is the kayak, a salvaged 75-gallon emergency fuel tank with a board seat and back rest installed inside and a pair of outriggers bolted on. Paddles are hand-carved.

Others, like Ippolito's, have been bolted together for stability; and some have had motorcycle motors with propellers attached, with the result that they look like Siamese sidecars sputtering yarely up and down the coast.

"Speed?" remarked Ippolito. "Well, we cruise at about eight thrills per minute when the waves are running high."

Evening Meetings Should Help Revitalize PTAs

For two years some of the Parent-Teacher associations have complained that their progress has been retarded by the Board of Education ruling against opening the schools for evening meetings. That reason can no longer be given as an excuse, for the school board has reopened the school buildings for PTA night use. The buildings are now available for either afternoon or evening sessions and enough of both may be scheduled to permit attendance at some time of every interested party.

The reasons for the Board of Education's wartime ban on night meetings were obvious. The critical fuel shortage was the most stringent, for it would take a considerable amount of coal or oil to reheat the buildings in the evening after having been shut down during the late afternoon. The light and janitor expenses were not such a problem. Opening the schools one night a month will probably create a hardship again this winter, but evidently the school board believes the work of healthy PTAs is sufficiently important to make a sacrifice for.

Several members of the school governing body were pioneers in the development of PTAs here and therefore it is evident that it went against their grain to have to clamp down on the evening meetings. They are to be commended for taking this latest action in order to give the associations every opportunity to expand and work to the fullest benefit of the schools and the children. It is to be hoped that the PTAs already functioning will take full advantage of their present position and that those schools which do not at present have associations will see their way clear in the near future to establish them.

The Ballot Is a Privilege of Free America

Next Tuesday America will demonstrate to the world one of the most glorious advantages of living in a free world where the rights of the individual man are still recognized and protected. Millions of Americans will go to the polls in a practical demonstration of democratic principles and will show the world what this American way of life means. The American who is able and yet does not exercise this great democratic privilege and honor is failing in the fundamental duty of his citizenship.

The independent voter, of whom there are too few, is expected to exercise a great influence on the outcome of this election. All straw polls and "expert" predictions point to a close race. It is the man who is still struggling to choose between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Dewey and what they stand for who will probably really elect the next president.

Independence of thought is a saving feature of Americans. The party hack who blindly pulls down his party's lever regardless of what that party proposes to do is exercising his duty but stupidly. He is not interested in issues or even in personalities. He is looking merely to feather his own nest. The independent will weigh carefully the platforms, the public utterances of the candidates, the nominees' qualifications, experience and background. Then he will choose the men whom he feels are best

Proposed Constitution Is Enigma to Voters

The proposed revised constitution on which New Jersey will vote next Tuesday is a mighty confused issue in many people's minds despite the tremendous amount of publicity which has been given it and despite the numerous speeches which have been delivered pro and contra. Many voters have been led to think that the new charter is to be decided almost entirely along party lines with the bulk of the Republicans in favor of it and the majority of Democrats opposed.

The reason for this is the fact that Mayor Hague took early issue with it while Governor Edge and Governor Edison (Republican) stood for it. The battle has far transcended party lines, however. Had the issue been taken several months ago the constitution would have been assured of an overwhelming majority. Of recent weeks, however, a surprising amount of opposition has been encountered as one group after another publicly found fault with it. They were, of course, concerned only with the specific sections which dealt with or which failed to cover interests closest to their hearts.

Most Jerseyites would feel a lot safer about the revision had it been drawn up in a constitution convention at which representatives of all the counties thrashed out the charter point by point. If the new laws are passed, it will be the first state constitution drawn up by legislation rather than by convention.

Voters should strive honestly to understand what it is they are voting on. They should not cast a ballot for or against it merely because a political boss somewhere, even if he is a mayor or a governor, says that members of his party should vote that way. In the proposed constitution is the code of laws which would govern us for better or for worse for many generations to come. That is a thought not to be trifled with and voters must realize the full import of the ballots they will cast Tuesday.

SIX OLD STREETS TO BE REPAIRED

Commissioner Waters Urges Permanent Surface; Cuzzo Given Garbage Contract

Repair of six east-west streets between Washington and Union avenues by means which would ensure permanency was proposed last week by Public Works Director Waters who suggested that payment for the work, which is expected to cost about $42,000, be spread over three years.

Waters also suggested that the streets be repaved with concrete or asphalt in the next two or three years. Waters declared, pointing out that the streets in question "were laid 28 or thirty years ago."

Disclosing that road materials are expected to be released in time for repairs next spring, Waters recommended that permanent surfacing be placed on Division, Malone, Tappan, Little, Overlook and Greylock.

He also announced that his department is resubmitting application for the repaving of Belmont avenue from the Moonfield line to the Erie railroad. The town has already been granted $27,000 from the state for this purpose.

During the business meeting of the Commission, the garbage contract for 1945-47 was awarded to Cuzzo Brothers Inc. of 205 Heckel street at a total cost of $177,900 for the three years.

The price is nearly double that paid Cuzzo during the past three years ($95,000) and averages $1.96 per cart a year. Commissioner Waters said that Cuzzo has promised to replace some of his equipment to give better service.

Long-term refunding bonds totaling $100,000 in value were sold to Julius A. Rippe of Newark for $100,047.26 at 1.3 percent interest. Other bidders were J. S. Rippe and MacBride-Miller, both of Newark.

URGES IMMEDIATE GAS APPLICATION

Schmutz Reveals 60 Percent Of Motorists Here Have Not Applied for New A Book

Herbert C. Schmutz, chairman of the Belleville-Nutley war price and rationing board, disclosed today that sixty per cent of motorists in Belleville and Nutley have not yet applied for the new "A" gasoline ration book that goes into use in two weeks.

He urged that they apply immediately and pointed out that application forms are available at the board office, banks and at automobile dealers in both communities.

"If the board is to have all books distributed in time for motorists to buy gas on November 9," Schmutz said, "we'll have to have the prompt cooperation of car owners."

"Get an application form today, fill in all the required information, and mail it to this board immediately, together with the back cover of your present 'A' ration book. Be sure that your signature and address appear on this cover."

Schmutz explained that OPA will not validate the number 12 coupons of the present ration book, but will instead, validate the number 12 coupons in the new book on November 9.

Three of the first six No. 13 coupons will be good through December 21; the other three have been obliterated and will not be valid. On December 22, six No. 14 coupons will be validated for three months.

The new coupons are worth four gallons each instead of the present three-gallon value. However it was pointed out, the total ration for three months remain at 24 gallons.

On Grand Jury
Sylvester Frazer of 505 Washington avenue and William McWalters of 436 DeWitt avenue were sworn in Tuesday as members of the grand jury for the second half of the fall term.

Ration Board Closed
The ration board office at 444 Washington avenue will be closed at 1 p.m. Election Day. It will be open all day Wednesday, as usual, and from 6:30 until 9 Wednesday evening to replace the customary Tuesday evening period.

LETTERS

Belleville Set an Example

From Harry F. Brumbach
100 Little Street
To the Editor of The Times:

The writer has been very fortunate in having time to attend two of the local High School football games, some of these being the Irvington game. Although our team lost may I sincerely congratulate the Belleville squad and coaches for our neighboring municipalities for a game well played.

During these games I was impressed and Oh! so proud that Belleville had again set an example to follow. Congratulations to the powers that be, Board of Education, High School Teaching Staff or to the students themselves for the wisdom and thoughtfulness in eliminating the band from our games.

What a wonderful inspiration to our team. What an impressive record they ought to make now that their attention can be centered on their game and need not be distracted by the blare of the band. What dignity, what charm there is to the game without a band.

I'm sure that every Belleville fan was proud, wonderfully proud, that our boys and girls did not need to parade their talents and charms as the Irvington band did. How thankful we should be that our students have reached the age of dignity and maturity so that they need not indulge in such frivolous things.

May I suggest, and I'm sure all fans will agree with me, that we further dignify our games by eliminating the cheering squad. By doing this I'm certain that we will further inspire our team to their best on the gridiron.

A few more improvements like the elimination of the band and cheering squad and we will have a quiet and dignified football game which will attract thousands of our most rabid fans. The Editor, I'm sure, will welcome any suggestions for improving our game.

Belleville Set an Example

I was playing third and had a fair average of .316 in 51 games. Reese hit .415 to lead the league. I also have played a lot of tennis and now softball.

I also do a little sports writing. My column was "Diamond Dust" during baseball and "Sports Watch" during football. The Belleville paper comes from home each week and I sure enjoy it.

Opposes Constitution Revision

From Mrs. John F. O'Brien
55 Lincoln Avenue, Newark
Founder, Belleville Women's Republican Club
To the Editor of The Times:

As free people we should use our own good judgment on the question (of constitutional revision) and should not be dictated to by either political group as to how we should vote.

First allow me to ask you one question. How many know that this new draft extends the time of the Assembly from one year to two years. In other words they are elected every two years.

And does the proposed draft in any way benefit the legal status of women?

I will admit that our constitution in one hundred years old. But we have prospered under it. We could amend it. We have had I believe nineteen amendments to our Constitution of the United States and I believe five to our State Constitution.

Believe me this is no reflection on those members of the State Senate, Assembly or Bar Association who gave so freely of their time and who earnestly believe this is the proper method of setting up a new State Constitution. I have always been for revision by amendment, perhaps I am wrong.

Questions Mrs. Noll's Dismissal
From Mrs. Charles Whittemore
700 Mill Street
To the Editor of The Times:

I and many other Red Cross Contributors would like to know why Mrs. L. Noll was asked for her resignation as chairman of the Home Service.

In times like these why should personal feeling enter into one's volunteer work. I contacted Mrs. Noll on several occasions for neighbors in my section and she was always willing and ready at any time to do all she could.

Wants Noll Case Clarified
From Mrs. Carmen Tortoriello
88 Baldwin Place
To the Editor of The Times:

Having heard of Mrs. Noll's "resignation," I for one would certainly like to have this "resignation" clarified.

For the past 21 months Mrs. Noll has been assisting me regarding information of my son who is a Japanese prisoner of war. While my son's prisoner has been of much grief to me, each time that I have called on Mrs. Noll for help, she has always been very kind, sympathetic and helpful.

With all the duties that Mrs. Noll has had to perform she has always given me her time.

Since the Red Cross is a public maintained organization, I do not feel that the chairman of the Belleville Red Cross should have full authority to dismiss anyone. Especially a person as fine and loyal as Mrs. Noll, her "resignation" is both unreasonable and without basis.

Asks For Details of Noll Case

From Mrs. A. D. Williams
7 Tappan Avenue
To the Editor of The Times:

I and many other Red Cross contributors would like to know why Mrs. Noll was asked for her resignation as chairlady of the Home Service. Never has anyone done so much and received so little thanks for it as Mrs. Noll.

She endeavored herself to everyone who came in contact with her in her work. I personally feel I owe her a debt of gratitude for helping me so speedily at a time when I most needed a friend.

I am now joining the many other mothers and wives of our boys in service who would like to know the full details of her resignation.

Worked With Mrs. Noll

From Mrs. Anthony C. LaPara
99 Baldwin Place
To the Editor of The Times:

I have worked side by side with Mrs. Noll for more than a year and a half and know and have experienced the duties she has fulfilled. The untiring, unceasing and unselfish efforts exerted on her part have won her many thanks and praises from the servicemen and their families.

I have been in the presence of Miss Colmery, field representative of Home Service of Area Office of New York, on many occasions. I have heard Miss Colmery state to Mrs. Noll that she was doing a splendid job and Area Office was very pleased with the handling of the affairs of Home Service Belleville.

Why then has Area Office allowed Mrs. Noll's dismissal? Since Area stated Mrs. Noll was doing a satisfactory job, why was Mr. Aitken's recommendation accepted by them?

Personal grudges and petty grievances should be of no importance to an organization as large as Red Cross. The volume of work and the carrying out of her duties to a satisfaction is to be considered.

It is poor policy and not according to business ethics to introduce personal grudges as a foundation in discharging a conscientious person as Mrs. Noll, and I feel that this matter should be thoroughly investigated.

SUMMARY OF THE Revised Constitution

FOR THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY

To be voted upon as a whole by the voters of New Jersey at the General Election, Nov. 7, 1944

To the People of New Jersey:

The Revised Constitution for the State of New Jersey will replace the present New Jersey Constitution which was adopted in 1844 if a majority of those who vote on the question at the General Election, November 7, 1944, vote "Yes".

I have prepared the following Summary of the Revised

Constitution, by comparison with the present Constitution of 1844, at the request of the Secretary of State, Hon. Joseph A. Brophy, the President of the Senate, Hon. Howard Eastwood, the Speaker of the House of Assembly, Hon. Dominic A. Cavicchia, who are together charged by law with the duty to inform the people of the contents of the Revised Constitution.

This summary is published at their direction, by the Secretary of State, to further inform voters of the nature and significance of the contents of the Revised Constitution.

TRENTON: JULY 15, 1944

WALTER D. VAN RIVER, Attorney-General

Sovereignty of the People

The present New Jersey "Bill of Rights," setting forth the basic rights and freedoms of all the people, without distinction of group, class or sex, is carried forward without any change from the Constitution of 1844.

Government and Laws

Briefly, the Revised Constitution can be characterized not by any changes it makes in the form of our government, but rather by its important changes in organization of the business of state government and in the functions of public officials.

All the laws now on the statute books would continue fully effective upon adoption of the Revised Constitution except where they are in conflict with its provisions.

The Revised Constitution continues our present form of state government unchanged, with its powers divided among three distinct branches: the Legislative, the Executive and the Judicial.

The Legislative branch, just as under the present Constitution, would consist of a Senate and House of Assembly. The Senate would, as now, consist of one senator from each county (making 21 senators) and the House of Assembly would, as now, consist of 60 representatives apportioned among the counties according to population, with each county having at least one assemblyman.

The Legislature

Senators: Term increased from three to four years; salary set at $2,000 a year instead of the $500 fixed in 1844.

Assemblymen: Term increased from one to two years; salary set at $2,000 a year instead of the $500 fixed in 1844.

The Legislature would meet annually in regular session, on the second Tuesday in January, as at present, but a new provision would limit regular sessions to 90 calendar days thereafter. Provision is made for special sessions, to be called for specific purposes if necessary.

Other important changes affecting the legislative process, as compared with the present Constitution of 1844, are these:

1) The Legislature would no longer be permitted to appoint various state officers, as it has in the past, except the State Treasurer, the State Comptroller and the State Auditor. These three officers would be required to be appointed by the two houses of the Legislature in joint meeting—which is the way they are now appointed.

2) The Legislature would have its power to investigate the conduct of public business—which is now narrowly restricted by court decision—broadened and specifically defined. This power would be implemented by requiring public officials to testify on matters relating to their public duties on pain of losing their privilege of holding public office.

3) Members of the Legislature would not be permitted to accept an appointive state job while the Legislature is in regular session; and their present disqualification to accept any state job created, or increased in compensation, during the term for which they shall have been elected is redefined.

4) Lobbying in the Legislative chamber of either house would be prohibited.

5) The organization of the state militia, now fixed largely by the Constitution, would be left for future legislative determination.

6) Various legislative provisions relating to the protection of public improvements, zoning of land use, and prohibiting private, special or local laws are redefined (Art. III, Sec. VI).

The Governor

The office of Governor would be changed by the Revised Constitution from one of limited constitutional authority, under the present Constitution of 1844, to an office of substantial executive powers and duties. Beginning with the new Governor to be elected in 1946, the Governor's term of office would be increased from the present three years to four years, but the present provision which does not permit a Governor to succeed himself would be continued.

The major changes fall into two categories: first, those that redefine the present constitutional relationship between the Governor and the Legislature, and second, those that redefine the present constitutional relationship between the Governor and the various state administrative departments and agencies. These two groups of major changes follow:

A. Governor and Legislature

1) The Governor's veto of a bill or appropriation item passed by the Legislature would require a three-fifths vote in each house to override, instead of the present majority vote.

2) The Governor is given ten days to act upon a bill while the Legislature is in session and thirty-five days after its adjournment. Pocket vetoes are abolished. If the Governor vetoes a bill and the Legislature has adjourned sine die, he must call a special session for its reconsideration.

3) The Governor may no longer make so-called legislative recess or ad interim appointments to office, unless authorized by law. Nominations to office by the Governor will become effective without confirmation by the Senate unless confirmed, rejected, or returned by the Senate within 6 weeks after submission.

4) The initiative and power to effectuate state administrative reorganization is transferred from the Legislature to the Governor, to be exercised by executive order.

5) The Governor's authority for administrative reorganization is checked and balanced by provisions staying the effective date of an executive order for six weeks, during which the Legislature may by resolution veto any executive order relating to administrative reorganization; and by absolute legislative control over the state's pursestrings. The Legislature will also retain exclusive power to create, increase or diminish functions, powers and duties under the state government.

B. Governor and the Executive Branch

1) The Governor would be given new responsibility and power for reorganizing the state government into not more than twenty principal departments. He could appoint a cabinet of such state officers as he might designate.

2) The Governor's power of administrative reorganization is required to be exercised so as to group "all the executive and administrative offices, departments and instrumentalities of the state government . . . according to major purposes."

3) As part of such a reorganization, the Governor might redistribute functions, powers and duties which have been created by law but he could not create any new or additional function, power or duty. In any case he would be required to act "in such manner as to promote efficiency and economy in the operation of the state government." The present Constitution of 1844 makes no provision for administrative organization.

4) The Legislature would determine those principal departments which shall be headed by a single executive and those which shall be headed by a board, commission or other body. In either case, the appointment of heads of principal departments would be by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. Single executive heads would hold office concurrently with the Governor appointing them. The members of boards and commissions heading a principal department would serve for such term of office as provided by law. Future appointments of chief administrators by boards or commissions heading principal departments could be made only with the approval of the Governor.

5) A new constitutional basis would be given the merit system of appointments and promotions in the civil service of the state, as well as in the civil service of all local governments. The Governor's power of administrative reorganization is limited by provision that no person shall be deprived of any right or privilege that may be accorded him by civil service law; and veterans' preference is expressly recognized.

6) Pardons would be granted by a board of pardons with the concurrence of the Governor. Reprieves could be granted by the Governor without the existing 90-day limitation on the time for which a reprieve may be extended.

7) Fees or other compensation paid to an appointive state officer or employee for official services, other than his annual salary, must be paid into the State Treasury unless otherwise provided by the Legislature.

The Courts

The Revised Constitution would replace the present constitutional state and county courts with a unified court system, under the administrative supervision and direction of a chief justice. The chief justice is made responsible for efficient administration of the business of all courts in the state.

Organization of the Courts:

1) The present Court of Errors and Appeals of 16 judges, who also sit in other courts, is replaced by a new "top court," a Supreme Court of seven full-time members appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. Supreme Court justices serve during good behavior with a compulsory retirement age of 70 years.

2) The jurisdiction of all the present constitutional state and county courts, except the court of last resort, is merged in a single state-wide court, called the Superior Court, with power to try and fully decide cases of every kind throughout the state. This court would replace the present Supreme Court, Court of Chancery, Prerogative Court, Circuit Court, orphans' courts, common pleas courts, courts of oyer and terminer, courts of special sessions and courts of quarter sessions.

3) At least two Appellate Divisions of the Superior Court, each consisting of three justices assigned for three-year periods, would be constituted to decide appeals from sections of the Superior Court.

4) The Superior Court, except its Appellate Divisions, will sit in each county; and each county must have at least one resident justice. Superior Court justices shall be appointed for a term of seven years and upon reappointment shall serve during good behavior with a compulsory retirement age of 70 years.

5) The Legislature may create or abolish inferior courts of original limited jurisdiction as at present. These courts may be integrated with the new court system so far as the Legislature finds practicable. Present constitutional status of Justices of the Peace is eliminated.

6) The first justices of the new Supreme Court shall be appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate from among the Chief Justice, the Chancellor, the justices of the Supreme Court, judges of the Court of Errors and Appeals who are attorneys-at-law of at least ten years' standing, Circuit Court judges and Vice-Chancellors, who are in office under the old Constitution on July 1, 1945. All of the foregoing members of the judiciary who are not appointed to the Supreme Court and the judges of the courts of common pleas in office when the Judicial Article takes effect (November 1, 1945) shall be justices of the Superior Court, each for the balance of his unexpired term.

Decisions and Appeals:

1) The Superior Court will have a law section and an equity and probate section. In cases of conflict between equity and common law, equity will prevail, but every controversy shall be completely determined by the court or justice hearing it.

2) Appeals to appellate divisions of the Superior Court may be taken as a matter of right from any final order, judgment or decree of a section of the Superior Court. Appeals to the Supreme Court may be taken as a matter of right only under specified conditions. Upon appeals, the appellate court shall exercise all jurisdiction necessary to do full justice and make final determination of cases before it, unless the constitutional right of trial by jury or the ends of justice shall require a new trial.

Administration of Justice:

1) The Supreme Court shall make rules governing the administration of all of the courts in this state. It shall have power, also, to make rules as to pleading, practice and evidence, which may be applicable to all of the courts in this state, and which shall have the force of law unless changed or abrogated by law.

2) The chief justice is made the responsible administrative head of the court system, to be assisted by an executive director of the courts. There is no comparable authority under the present Constitution of 1844.

3) The responsibility of the chief justice will include, in particular, the assignment of judges according to the needs of judicial business, except that each county must have at least one resident judge. The chief justice will also direct publication of reports and prescribe records, reports and audits for the inferior courts. These matters are not provided for under the present Constitution of 1844.

State Finances

Property Taxes: The present requirements of general laws and uniform rules for the assessment of property taxes is continued without any change with the further provision that property shall be assessed "according to standards of value as may be provided by law, but not in excess of true value."

All state revenues are to be payable into a single fund and be subject to appropriation for any public purpose except in the case of trust funds, grants, etc. for restricted use; or funds directly or indirectly payable to, collected or retained by counties, municipalities or school districts as provided by law.

Balanced Budgets: A new requirement designed to prevent expenditures from exceeding revenues, would be added by the Revised Constitution. "No general appropriation law or other law appropriating money for any state purpose shall be enacted if the appropriation contained therein together with all prior appropriations made for the same fiscal period shall exceed the total amount of revenue on hand and anticipated which will be available to meet such appropriations during such fiscal period, as certified by the State Comptroller."

There is also a new constitutional requirement that all state expenditures shall be budgeted, so far as reasonably foreseeable, in one general appropriation law covering a single fiscal year. This would prevent the practice of a "highway fund" budget covering a calendar year and "state fund" budget covering a fiscal year ending June 30.

Amending Process

The present amending process would be changed by the Revised Constitution in these four ways:

1) Legislative approval would be given by a 3/5 vote of members of each house instead of the present majority vote requirement.

2) But proposed amendments would require the approval of one Legislature instead of two as at present.

3) The present 5-year bar against successive submission of amendments is clarified to apply only to submission of the same amendment or an amendment effecting substantially the same change as one previously disapproved by the people.

4) Amendments must be submitted to the people only at a general election (first Tuesday after first Monday in November) instead of at a special election as now required.

The Revised Constitution if approved will take effect on the second Tuesday in January, 1945, with the exception of the judicial article, the provisions of which would become effective November 1, 1945.

Text of the citation for which 2nd Lieut. A. Flynn Jr. of 94 Van Houten place was awarded the silver star reached Belleville this week. He won it for gallantry in action in France August 2, the day he was wounded for the first time.

"Upon approaching a road junction, intense 88 mm fire was encountered from three enemy tanks approximately 500 yards away. One member of a three-man patrol dispatched to contact the company on the left flank was severely wounded by 88 mm fire as he attempted to cross a large level field in full view of the enemy tanks.

"Exhibiting complete disregard for his own personal safety in the face of continued heavy fire, Lieut. Flynn walked out into the field, picked up the wounded man and carried him over his shoulder, unassisted, a distance of 300 yards to safety.

"Continuing with his company which led the battalion in its attack on . . . against strong enemy resistance, Lieut. Flynn himself soon afterward received severe wounds in the head from machine gun fire.

"His display of personal bravery and courageous leadership served as an inspiration to all of his men and reflects the highest credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States."

Flynn was also wounded in Luxembourg and later in Germany (see front page).

landing in September 1943, Nettuno on the Anzio beachhead in January and the invasion of southern France in August.

Lackner entered the Army October 6, 1941, and has been overseas since July 1943.

Leo Killen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Killen of 59 Hornblower avenue, is preparing for duty with the amphibious forces aboard an LST at the Navy training base at Camp Bradford, Va.

Pvt. Louis A. Caruso and Seaman 1/c Adolph A. Caruso met for the first time in over a year last week when both arrived home to spend two-week furloughs with their father, Pasquale Caruso of 672 Belleville avenue.

Louis is stationed at the Greensboro (N. C.) Army air base. He has been in service sixteen months and is home with his wife who has been with him in the south.

Adolph entered the Navy in March and is stationed at the Pensacola (Fla.) air base. He is also a machinist's mate 3/c. His wife and their three children reside at the Belleville avenue address.

Two other brothers are in service: Cpl. Henry Caruso is in England where Pfc. Ernest Caruso is recuperating from wounds received in France in July.

Pfc. Frank W. Martino, son of James Martino of 46 Harrison street, has been awarded the Army good conduct medal in the Panama Canal Zone where he is stationed with the "Jungle Infantry."

He was employed with Mackey & Son of Jersey City prior to entering the Army in February 1945. He has been overseas four months.

Seaman 1/c John E. Todd Jr.

Coast Guardsman and Seaman 1/c John E. Todd Jr. of 35 Parkside drive swabs down the deck aboard his destroyer escort somewhere in the Atlantic. His ship patrols sea lanes and escorts convoys bound for fighting zones.

Todd attended BHIS, worked for Wallace & Tiernan before enlisting in June 1942. He has been on trips to Africa, Greenland and Iceland and is now believed again at sea.

Pfc. Robert King, son of Commissioner and Mrs. Joseph King of 28 Malone avenue, returned last week to New Orleans where he is convalescing from an attack of malaria. He had been home on furlough.

James Bunting Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bunting of 13 Linden avenue, entered Navy boot training at Sampson, N. Y. last fortnight. He was with Tung-Sol Lamp works in Newark previous to his enlistment.

James Anderson Jr., whose wife and three children reside at 170 Division avenue, has been chosen by the Navy to serve aboard an LSM (Landing Ship, Medium), the speed carrier of attack that has been especially developed for Pacific duty.

Now stationed at the Amphibious Training Base in Little Creek, Va., Anderson is going through the rigorous training program to prepare for duty as Quartermaster on the swift new invasion vessel.

The amphibious ship on which the Belleville bluejacket will serve has been designed with a shallow draft that enables it to negotiate the coral reefs of the Pacific islands. It can cross the ocean with its cargo of tanks and machines and discharge them directly onto enemy-held shores over its landing ramp bow.

Anderson was personnel manager for the Prudential Life Insurance company Belleville office before he joined the Navy in March of this year.

He is a former student of New York University and the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson sr who reside at 167 Brighton avenue, Arlington.

Motor Machinist's Mate 3/c William Natale was recently promoted to second class. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Natale of 156 Joramemon street. Natale has participated in the invasions of Sicily, Tawara, Makin, the Marshalls and the Marianas. His engagement to Miss Alberta Allen of Washington avenue was recently announced.

He has two brothers in service: Sgt. O. James Natale is with the Army engineers on Saipan and S/Sgt. Tom S. Natale is with the infantry in Paris.

15th AAF in Italy — Sgt. Frank P. Vazzano, 26, aerial gunner in an Italy-based Flying Fortress, has been promoted to the grade of staff sergeant. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Vazzano of 42 Naples avenue.

Before entering the Army January 4, 1943, Vazzano was employed by the Lionel corporation of Irvington as an inspector. He attended the Bloomfield Vocational school and played on the baseball and basketball squads.

After completing basic training, the Belleville flying sergeant studied aircraft mechanics at the AAF technical training school at Lincoln, Neb. He received advanced training at Niagara Falls, N. Y., and won his wings upon graduation from flexible gunnery school at Kingman, Ariz.

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England. — T/Sgt. Ralph T. Witte, 27-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Witte of 234 Division avenue, has been awarded the distinguished flying cross, it was recently announced at this base.

The citation read in part: "For extraordinary achievement while serving as engineer-top turret gunner of a B-17 Flying Fortress during combat bombing missions over Nazi Europe. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by T/Sgt. Witte upon these occasions reflect the highest credit upon himself and upon the armed forces of the United States."

Veteran of more than thirty bombing missions he also holds the air medal with three oak leaf clusters. He has participated in attacks on Berlin, Munich, Bremen, Hamburg and Merseburg.

Witte has been in the Army since August, 1941, and has been serving overseas with the Eighth Air Force for the last six months. Before entering the service he was assistant manager of the Witte Novelty Works, of North Newark.

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England. — S/Sgt. Peter A. Torre Jr., B-17 Flying Fortress tail gunner in the 351st Bombardment Group, has been decorated with the distinguished flying cross for "extraordinary achievement" on bombing attacks on enemy Europe.

A veteran of more than a score of combat missions, Torre has taken part in three aerial assaults on Munich and Leipzig; two each on Hamburg, Peenemunde and Ludwigshafen; and one each on Augsburg, Merseburg, Gagganau, Soest and other important enemy installations.

The citation read in part: "The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this enlisted man upon these occasions reflect the highest credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States."

Torre, 22 years old, wears the air medal with three oak leaf clusters. He was graduated from Belleville high school in 1939 and attended Seton Hall college and Newark University Law school. He entered the army June 19, 1942. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Torre, live at 87 Union avenue.

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England. — Second

Lieut. William R. McIver, 22-year-old bombardier on a Flying Fortress, has been presented the air medal for "meritorious achievement" during bombing attacks on Nazi military and industrial targets and in support of Allied ground forces.

McIver is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross W. McIver of 135 White Oak terrace. Before enlisting in the Army Air Forces he was employed by Westinghouse company of Newark.

Gerard J. Kennedy, husband of Mrs. Regina Lynch Kennedy of 162 Malone avenue, has been promoted to seaman 1/c. He is a member of patrol bomber squadron 1, Pacific area.

Kennedy, who was inducted in January, and Mrs. Kennedy, who teaches at Greylock school, have a two-year-old son, Gerard Jr.

Sgt. Bernard J. Barnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Barnett of 11 Baldwin place, has been stationed for seventeen months at Port Darwin, Australia, as an Army air forces armorer. A 1935 graduate of the high school, he was a star pitcher for Akron and Binghamton minor league baseball teams. He was inducted in July 1942.

Pvt. Willis J. MacDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick J. MacDonald of 163 Academy street, recently completed the topographic drafting course at the Army engineers' school at Fort Belvoir, Va.

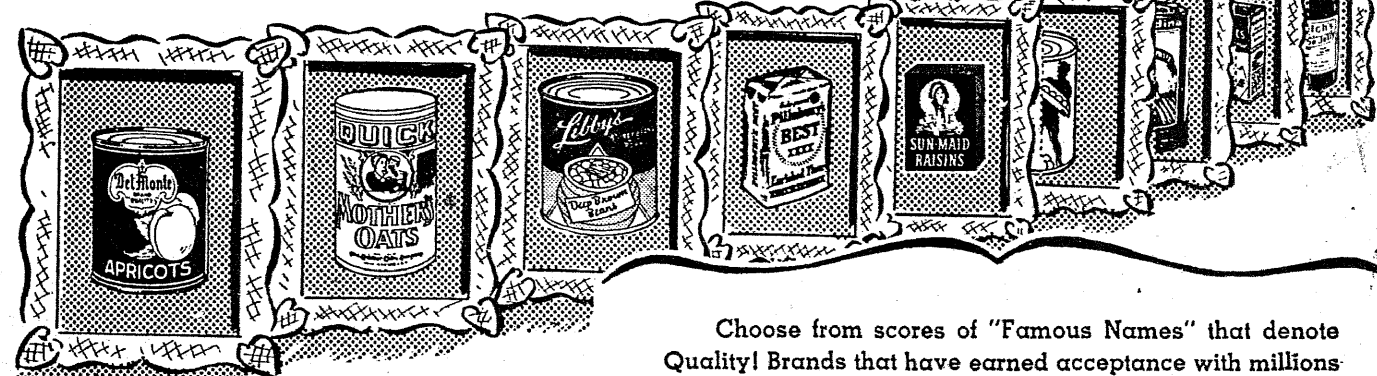

Prior to his induction March 1, he was a salesman and displayman with Sears Roebuck & company here.

Cpl. Frank L. Rankin, husband of Mrs. Anne Rankin of 18 Hornblower avenue, recently completed an orientation course at an Air Service Command station in England designed to fit him for combat soldiering in France and Germany.

Before entering the Army air forces, he was employed as a rocker operator with the Tube Reducing corporation of Wellington.
