

FIVE BUSINESSMEN MADE COUNSELORS FOR STATE LOANS

Erdman Names Bart, Coogan,
Clark, Dettelbach, Gebhardt
To Administer Fund

TRENTON. — Five businessmen have been appointed business counselors for Belleville by Charles R. Erdman jr., commissioner of the state department of Economic Development, to assist and advise veterans in business undertakings financed by loans which they have secured through the help of the state Veterans' Loan Authority.

The committee here includes W. Douglas Clark of 85 Academy street, John F. Coogan jr. of 337 Little street, Philip Dettelbach of Hancox avenue, Charles A. Gebhardt jr. of 128 Adelaide street and Siegfried Bart of 227 Main street.

Under the law the state guarantees 90 percent of a loan to a veteran up to $3,000, and in each municipality men of proved business judgment and established reputation have been selected to consult with the veteran desiring to negotiate a loan.

These business counselors will also inquire into the veteran's qualifications to conduct his business or profession efficiently and make recommendations to the bank as to whether or not the loan should be made.

Can Get Advice

When the loan has been secured and the business set up, the veteran is free at all times to call upon his business counselor to assist him with any problems which may arise in connection with its operation.

Business counselors receive no pay for their services, but by assuming these duties out of patriotism and a desire to help the returning veterans establish themselves in a profitable business or professional undertaking.

Their appointment is in line with the provisions of the New Jersey law, which charges the department of Economic Development with a duty to organize and operate programs for "the increase of employment opportunities and encouragement of free private enterprise."

No Conflict

Authorities here yesterday were speculating on the relative positions of the state-appointed committee and the financial committee of the Veterans Assistance Program, known here as The Belleville Plan.

It was felt in most quarters that there would be little conflict, for it was pointed out that one of the primary purposes of the business counselors is to guide the first faltering business steps of the veterans.

The VAP financial committee will be concerned more with the actual loans which will be made under the GI Bill of Rights. The counselors will administer the New Jersey loan fund.

SAVE YULE PAPER, C. M. NUTT URGES

Salvage Head Says Shortage
Is Becoming More Desperate;
Announces Old Book Drive

Salvage Director Charles M. Nutt yesterday echoed the sentiment of state Civilian Defense Director Edward Wachob who has requested merchants to place in their Christmas advertising an appeal to salvage Christmas wrappings.

Declaring that the paper shortage is becoming so acute that "soon packages and even groceries will not be able to be wrapped," Nutt urged Bellevillites to assist in the campaign to overcome public indifference to the salvage campaign.

He commended the people for the response which they have given to the salvage efforts thus far but asked for "redoubled effort." He also announced an old-book collection to be conducted in the near future and urged householders to "start digging the books out now."

Aware of Shortage
"Retail merchants," Mr. Wachob said, "are keenly aware of the paper shortage and are having difficulty in obtaining the boxes and wrapping paper for their Christmas needs. The shortage continues extremely critical."

He pointed out that more than 700,000 items used by the Armed Forces require paper packaging or paper in some form. This need must be met, he said, in order that adequate supplies of ammunition, food, blood plasma and similar items reach the fighting fronts in time.

22-Year Record As Light Goes Out

The Sundheimer light this week finally went out. The Sundheimers had begun to think they were the possessors of an eternal flame, but realized this week that all things must give up the ghost.

When Mr. and Mrs. David Sundheimer moved into their home at 243 Ralph street 22 years ago there was a bulb in the light on the front porch. This week, after 22 years of service, it finally quit.

The Sundheimers believe the 22-year record set up by the Mazda will be hard to beat.

POSTWAR PICTURE IN HEYER COMPANY BEGINS TO CLEAR

Can Accomplish Reconversion
To Civilian Goods Production
Practically Overnight

The executive and engineering staffs of the Hoyer Products company at Cridland and Little streets, have been devoting all their spare time to a study of postwar problems under the direction of Sidney R. Milburn, chairman of the Postwar Planning committee.

He states that the company's plans are such that reconversion to 100 percent production of civilian merchandise can take place practically overnight.

Only the time required to obtain supplies of the materials and parts needed in the production of civilian equipment will determine the immediate and subsequent manufacturing schedules.

There should be, at the most, a very brief lag and the length of time involved will determine any immediate increases or decreases in employment. For the longer term view, present plans will necessitate an increase of approximately 25 percent in operating personnel.

There is every indication that the costs of standard products will show an increase over 1940 prices, particularly if it becomes necessary to operate on the present basis after reconversion.

Direct labor, indirect labor, administrative expense and other items have all increased considerably. Materials and parts remain about the same.

It is possible however, that an expected increase in volume of production based on the release of the pent-up demand for automotive equipment will offset the increases mentioned.

President in Service
Col. B. F. W. Hoyer, the President, has just returned from England and has served for the past 2 1/2 years in the Army air corps.

Capt. Charles Mohnen, one of the field engineers on duty with the air corps in Florida.

It is believed that their combined experience in the aviation field will be productive of considerable activity in the line of aviation maintenance equipment.

The company's experience in the past few years with war orders has not only been diversified but also has required changes in facilities and skills which places it in a position to produce, in addition to the standard merchandise, anything in the mechanical electrical field down to the finest tolerances.

The capacity for both quality and quantity of electrical products has been expanded.

Educator of Thousands, George R. Gerard Dies

Town Pays Homage to Supervising
Principal Who Built Schools Here
And Headed Public Safety

George Rearick, the man who guided the education and training of a generation of Belleville school children and who made them step fast while doing it, was buried yesterday in the Gerard family plot in Locust Hill cemetery, Dover. He died Saturday in his eightieth year after a three-day illness in St. Barnabas' hospital, Newark. Although his final illness was brief, he had been in poor health since undergoing a major operation four years ago.

Mr. Gerard, one of Belleville's best known figures for forty years, was either loved or feared by countless school children and politicians alike. He was a strict disciplinarian all his life and held his charges in tight rein. He was, nevertheless, a thorough and efficient administrator in school and municipal affairs.

He was born in Long Valley, Morris county, and attended high school in Hackettstown and Boonton. His early years were spent largely in poverty and it was in these years that the personal discipline which marked his life was ingrained in him.

He began teaching in 1883 in a little schoolhouse in Rockaway Valley at a salary of $25 for the first four weeks and $30 a month for the remainder of the year "if he lasted." He was still there in June.

Named to Belleville
There followed successive teaching terms in Flanders, Green Village, Loantaka Valley and Mount Hope. In 1893 he became principal at Rockaway and eleven years later became supervising principal of Belleville public schools and principal of the high school.

When he arrived here the school system comprised four schools, 31 teachers and 950 pupils. When he retired 27 years later there were ten schools, 205 teachers and 6,000 pupils.

Three years ago "when contemplating the end of life," Mr. Gerard, with characteristic directness, wrote a brief autobiography about death has been that of oblivion, the fact that all trace of his life will soon be forgotten.

Of his tenure as supervising principal here he wrote that he "remained 27 successful years until a victim of politics, (my) career as a schoolmaster closed."

He was referring to the eventually successful efforts of town hall in 1929 to unseat him from his dual position. He was separated from the high school principalship that year and two years later from the supervising principalship.

Led State
During his administration, he wrote, "Belleville schools led New Jersey year after year in records of attendance, percentage of earned promotion among pupils, and economy of operation."

Mr. Gerard took a leading part in the founding of the State Schoolmasters' club, was president of the State Teachers' association, was named a U. S. delegate to the World Federation of Educational Associations and, at the time of his death, was president of the New Jersey Society of Retired teachers.

Three years after his retirement in 1931 he was elected to the town Commission and served four years as a director of Public Safety. He was defeated for reelection in 1938, "completely disillusioned."

FORMER RESIDENT KILLED IN ACTION IN SOUTH PACIFIC

Seaman William A. Hourigan
Moved West 8 Years Ago;
Two Others Wounded

The death in action of 18-year-old Seaman 2/c William A. Hourigan was made known by the War department to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hourigan of Newport Beach, Cal., Sunday.

The Hourigans resided until 1936 at 97 Tiona avenue where Mr. Hourigan conducted his business as building contractor. A brother of Seaman Hourigan, Richard Hourigan, lives at 158 Cedar Hill avenue.

The young sailor was eleven years old when he left Belleville. He enlisted last February while still attending high school in Newport Beach.

He saw action in the invasion of the Philippines but where he suffered his fatal injuries has not yet been made known.

Another accident at Rutgers & Main streets, the eighth at that intersection this year, this week again pointed to the need of a signal at the corner to regulate traffic where the east-west bridge route from New York to the west meets State Highway 7.

Leon Nakashian, 35, of 118 Washington avenue and Walter Syperiski, 29, of 12 Franklin avenue, Harrison, were listed by police as the drivers of the cars.

Miss Anna Pollack, 24, of 54 Crittenden street, Newark, a passenger in Mr. Syperiski's car, was said to be shaken up but reportedly refused medical attention.

Sunday morning Michael Melenchuk, 52, of 29 Hanford street, Newark, lost control over his car as he turned left from Union avenue west into Joralemon street, according to police.

He is said to have struck the rear of a parked car belonging to Philip Montrose of 254 Joralemon street.

Brakes Slip
There were two instances reported this week of cars slipping their brakes and rolling down hills. That of Harry Van Brunt of 21 Elmwood avenue rolled Sunday afternoon from its parking place on the south side of Rutgers street near Washington avenue.

It struck the car of Samuel Feinsmith, 56, of 607 North Fourth street, Newark, and finally stopped when it hit a tree in front of 63 Rutgers street.

Monday morning the milk truck of Miss Louise S. Mingle of 48 Rossmore place slipped its moorings while parked in front of 14 Essex street.

It rolled backward down Essex, across Washington avenue and smashed into the Erie railroad station, damaging both the truck and the building.

Fred Handlon, Mrs. Mazza Head
Infantile Paralysis Fund Drive

Fred B. Handlon of 243 Greylock parkway and Mrs. Mae Mead Mazza of 242 Washington avenue have been reappointed for the fifth time to manage the annual infantile paralysis fund campaign in Belleville.

Handlon, in making the announcement yesterday, said that the drive would start in January and that the committee hoped to double the $2,500 raised locally last year.

Kimble Returns
Pvt. Joseph C. Kimble, who was wounded August 30 near Brest, France, recuperated from leg injuries in an English hospital and has returned to combat duty.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Rizzo of 58 Frederick street, he is a member of an infantry unit of the 29th Division. He landed in France on D-Day.

Born in Monroe, Mich., he has lived here seventeen years. Sgt. Rizzo graduated from Belleville High school in 1937 and was employed with a Bloomfield chemical company before entering the Army in March 1942. He went overseas six months later.

Kimble had spent two months in a hospital in Naples after having been wounded in both legs. He suffered arm wounds May 27. He wears the purple heart with an oak leaf cluster.

Kimble, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Kimble of 286 Cortlandt street and husband of Mrs. Doris Johnson Kimble of Laurence Harbor, was formerly employed with Federal Shipyard, Kearny.

He was inducted September 22, 1943, received his training at Fort Dix and Camp Croft and went overseas with an infantry division in March.

Fifth Annual Christmas Festival
Postponed for Duration

The fifth annual Belleville Community Christmas Festival will evidently not be held until after the war. Queried this week, one of the sponsors of last year's concert knew of any plans for a repeat.

Arthur S. Ackerman of 120 Rutgers street declared that he had heard nothing of Christmas plans. He laid the difficulties of last year to the current shortage of male voices.

The festival in the past has drawn more than 400 people to the high school each year. Started in 1939, it was interrupted in 1942 by the evacuation of the Belleville population.

Originally the 200-voice chorus was made up of voices from the Belleville Glee Club, the Woman's Choral and the church choir of the town.

The Glee Club and the Choral have disbanded for the duration and many of the choir members are hard hit to find enough voices to round out their needs.

War Chest Drive Tops 75 Percent

Chairman Lester E. McCorkle last night announced that the Belleville War Chest had reached $50,000 or 75 percent of the $67,000 goal.

McCorkle declared that the effort in industries has been "exceptional" but indicated that public subscriptions through the town have been short of expectations. Clean-up squads are now at work.

TRAFFIC DIRECTOR REPORTS LOW BAIL IN RECENT CASES

Lieut. Smith Protests to Ch.
On "Insufficient" Bonds
For Motor Violators

Police Lieut. Kenneth Smith, head of the traffic bureau, yesterday submitted to Chief Spatz a strong, worded report on two stances of release of traffic violators under insufficient bail.

Bail in all traffic violations, Lieut. Smith wrote, should be fixed according to the highest possible fine should the violator be found guilty of the infraction which he is charged.

The latest case which roused Lieut. Smith to protest was that of Peter Kisselove, 32, of 299 Hickory street, Kearny, who was arrested Saturday evening for speeding careless driving on Washington avenue.

Nabbed by Patrolmen Finn Ugliarolo of the traffic squad, Mr. Kisselove was charged with driving at 45 miles an hour on the left side of the white from Greylock parkway to K street.

Mr. Kisselove's license was revoked in Belleville a year ago after he was found drunk driving. The conviction was upheld after hearing of appeal.

It was the Kisselove case which was largely instrumental in the charges preferred against Patrolman Raymond Demgard, conduct unbecoming an officer and which led to his resignation from the police force.

Patrolman Demgard charged with having permitted Mr. Kisselove to buy a drink at a tavern after taking him to a doctor for treatment after he was involved in an accident.

Shows Penna. License
Sunday Mr. Kisselove showed police a Pennsylvania driver's license in lieu of his card which was a man's background, Lieut. Smith, was posted at the desk officer at the time when he was turned over to two patrolmen.

Lieut. Smith declared that headquarters personnel consulting with highway officials, set his bail at $25, let him go to appear here December 13. If convicted of the charge he would be liable to a mandatory $100 fine.

Lieut. Smith protested in report that low bails made it easy for the defendant to bail to avoid paying a high penalty.

He proposed a schedule of minimum bails to be set for certain motor vehicle offenses and recommended that they be enforced by the chief and Police Recorder Everett B. Smith.

Heyer Outlines Postwar Plans

Approximately 400,000 pieces of Heyer equipment are now in military and civilian use and the service that they have rendered represents in itself the most tremendous test laboratory that any manufacturer could ever hope to employ.

Pilot models of several radically new developments are now in process of design. These employ mostly applications of electronics to automotive maintenance problems.

However, no immediate change in the present design or type of our equipment is contemplated and civilian production will be resumed on the models built in 1941.

The company does not see any need of a serious upset brought about by switching from satisfactory current models to post war models unless something more can be accomplished than simply a gesture in style or appearance rather than basic utility.

Wants Heyer Veterans
Heyer Products company expects and hopes that their many former employees now in the armed forces will return to be re-employed. There will be plenty for them to do and a generous welcome will be extended to all Heyer war veterans.

The postwar planning of this company contemplates some expansion. Conservative estimates, based on the projected requirements of the present customers of the company indicate a greatly increased volume of sales.

Another factor that should have considerable bearing on the future is that millions of American planes, trucks, cars, earth movers, and other units all over the world, powered by internal combustion engines, will have to be maintained and tuned up by instruments.

The end of the war will restore to civilian life hundreds of thousands of young men familiar with these vehicles and scientific instruments used to service them.

Over one million of these instrument conscious men will come out of the American services alone. The future, therefore, is bright for Heyer equipment and

MOHICAN OPENING SET FOR JUNE 30

District Scouters Draw Plans For Summer Season; Change Staff, Increase Enrollment

Scouts and scouters of the Belleville district can now start to make definite plans for the 1945 season at Camp Mohican. At a recent meeting of the Camping & Activities committee of the Robert Treat Council the opening date of camp was set for June 30.

Because of certain changes in staff assignments and the increased enrollment a further reduction in the fees to be charged the scouts has been effected, which will undoubtedly make camping available to even more of Belleville's Scouts.

A 72 percent gain in attendance at the camp was experienced in 1944. Work is going forward now on a number of projects for next summer's camp which are not quite ready for announcement at this time.

The Camping & Activities committee is, however, bending every effort to bring to Mohican Campers greater opportunities for real scouting and adventure in the magnificent wild country of the Kittatinny where Mohican is located.

Between Seasons Camp Mohican is also available for short term camping during the period between seasons, and some troops are availing themselves of this opportunity.

Scout Acres at Boonton is being used to capacity this Fall. Both camps are operated for the benefit of scouts in Belleville, Newark and Irvington by the Robert Treat Council.

At Scout Acres there are seven all-weather cabins fully equipped with stoves, cots, fireplaces, approved drinking water and sanitary facilities. A full-time Camp Ranger lives on the property.

Troops under the leadership of their own scoutmasters conduct all expeditions to Scout Acres. Belleville Troops scheduled to visit Scout Acres in December are 306 and 392.

Deer Hunters Asked to Donate Hides For Gloves and Muklaks

Deer hunters who plan to take part in New Jersey's big game season from December 18 to 21 are asked by the State Fish and Game commission to donate to the government the hides of all deer taken in order to provide leather for the manufacture of gloves and muklaks (arctic shoes) for men in the armed services.

The annual deer season usually extends from December 17 to 21 but as the first day of the season this year falls on a Sunday, there will be a four day season only, December 18, 19, 20 and 21. Next year licensed hunters may enjoy a full five day season because no Sunday intervenes.

The hides may be turned over to game wardens who will send them to designated conservators of the Game Department for salting or be delivered direct by hunters to the conservators at the various public shooting and hunting grounds.

HUBERMAN PLAYS MOSQUE CONCERT

Great Polish Violinist Slated To Appear December 18 In Griffith Series

Bronislaw Huberman, the great Polish violinist, will be presented at the Mosque theater, Newark, the evening of December 18 under auspices of the Griffith Music Foundation. This is third in the major concert series being presented under Foundation auspices.

When in Genoa on one of his round the world trips, it was Huberman—and Huberman alone—who was granted the unprecedented privilege of using the original Paganini violin for a concert. A special decree was necessary to remove it from the museum there, but that decree was passed for Huberman.

As early as 1925 the violinist published a book "My Road to a United Europe." It was he who founded the famed Palestine Symphony. Besides raising $30,000 for it himself, he also recruited the musicians and trained the group to ensemble perfection.

At his first Carnegie Hall recital of the season, Huberman presented three mazurkas by Chopin, which he had transcribed for the violin.

In order to retain the full pianistic expressiveness and color of these pieces, the artist perfected a new fingering technique which gives the violin a vast new musical literature—both transcriptions of the old masters and original works by modern composers, who have written but little for the violin because of its previous limitations.

Huberman is the possessor of a Stradivarius as well as a Guarnerius. Once his plane crashed in Sumatra, and although he was injured, nothing happened to his instruments. They had been packed in specially constructed double cases.

VOTE TO SPONSOR CAMP DEMAREST

Rotary Club Approves Project, Awaits Results of Discussion In Bloomfield and Nutley

Belleville Rotary yesterday unanimously voted to support the projected tri-town sponsorship of Camp Demarest at Glen Wild Lake. It is understood that Bloomfield and Nutley will discuss the plan this week.

Camp Demarest operated under the auspices of former Mayor Demarest of Bloomfield and a group of citizens of that town from 1915 through 1942.

It did not open during the past two summers but is far from bankrupt, as previously reported. The camp is said to possess an $8,000 trust fund still standing.

It is proposed that a special Rotary trust be set up to take over the lease on the property. The trust would be composed of two members of each club.

The camp would be open to about thirty boys a week from each of the towns. There would be a charge of $15 a week either paid by the boy or underwritten by other individuals.

ous limitations.

Huberman is the possessor of a Stradivarius as well as a Guarnerius. Once his plane crashed in Sumatra, and although he was injured, nothing happened to his instruments. They had been packed in specially constructed double cases.

WESLEY MEN HEAR CZECH EDITOR

Helen Matousek Will Address Church Club Monday Night; Ladies, Public Invited

The Men's Club of Grace Baptist Church will hold its regular monthly meeting next Monday night at 8:30 p.m. The program committee has arranged a "ladies' night" and members of the women's organizations of the church have been invited to assist the community at large.

The speaker will be Mrs. Helen Matousek who is associated with the New York office of the Czechoslovak Information Service and is co-editor of the daily bulletin containing the information concerning the Czechoslovak struggle for freedom at home and abroad.

Mrs. Matousek will come to Belleville with a very interesting background. Before the war she was the secretary of a Czech committee in Prague which cared for democratic Germans who sought refuge from the Nazis in Czechoslovakia from Nazi wrath in Germany, Austria and the Sudetenland.

She was instrumental in getting at least 300 of them out of the country before the Nazi invasion, and herself destroyed all records of her refugees so that the Germans could not persecute them further.

When the officers of refugee committees in Prague were tortured by the Gestapo in an attempt to learn where the refugees were, Mrs. Matousek was given asylum in a foreign legation and spirited out of the country. Her friends were sure that she would be executed at once if she fell into German hands.

After her escape from Czechoslovakia, Mrs. Matousek went to France where she was a member of the underground until rescued by the American Friends of Czechoslovakia in August, 1941.

FIRE ENGINE

—new job for a jeep!

Coast Guard airports find a new job for the versatile jeep. They've manned it with asbestos-clad fire-fighters, loaded it with Kidde carbon dioxide extinguishers. This tough little "fire-engine" can rush right up to crash-fires or other blazes, hit them hard and fast with fire-smothering carbon dioxide gas.

Cargo fire reports itself! First puff of smoke, sucked up to bridge, rings alarm, locates blaze. The Rich-Audio System does it. It's a Kidde product.

Re-fill for fighting lungs! War planes fly high, need lots of oxygen. Kidde compressors deliver it—surgically clean—wherever our men fly and fight.

Extra horsepower—in a package! Carbon dioxide is emergency power for plane brakes, landing gear, etc. A 30" Kidde cylinder holds a million foot-pounds!

Kidde

Gases-under-pressure, harnessed by Walter Kidde & Company, are serving our fighting men in many ingenious ways. After the war they'll serve you. Look for them!

Clarence A. Robst
Clarence Robst Ends 35 Years
With Bell Telephone Company

Clarence A. Robst of 159 Academy street, telephone splicer who has had a hand in building much of the voice highway system now in use in northern New Jersey, was honored November 27 by the New Jersey Bell Telephone company and his associates at a luncheon at the Newark Athletic Club on reaching the 35-year mark in the telephone service.

A gold emblem awarded him by the company to commemorate the anniversary was presented at the luncheon by P. T. Kraus, division plant superintendent for the company.

All of Robst's service has been in the Newark metropolitan area except for two years during the last war when he went to Washington, with many other telephone men, to help build additional cable lines to carry the heavy wartime traffic into and out of the city. He is a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

VAP Gains Approval

The time and effort which have gone into the preparation of The Belleville Plan for aiding returned veterans have given birth to a program which is idealistic and yet practical. The heads of the Belleville Foundation and the scores of citizens who worked many months on the program may well be proud of their accomplishment.

The Veterans Assistance Program is a work of the people, led by industry; it is a product with which politicians had nothing to do. Indeed its progenitors as well as the Army officers who spoke here last week warned strongly against politicians who would "ride to power on the shoulders of the veterans."

As a product of the efforts of the ordinary people of Belleville, VAP deserves their support. Booklets describing the work will shortly be distributed to the home of every serviceman. Families will do their part when they become familiar with the program, and help VAP in its efforts to aid the men who have fought so valiantly for us at home.

Police Regain Confidence

Last week the deputy chief of Belleville's police department was entirely cleared of the desperate charge of having accepted a bribe to permit two prisoners to escape from confinement. It was also reported that the detective who was charged with having lied on the witness stand was absolved.

The clearing of the reputations of these men of charges which had more than a pale political tinge about them restores some of the confidence of the public in the police department. That confidence had been somewhat shaken by the plethora of accusations which have been hurled around with reckless abandon in recent months.

As the public and the authorities face the question of what is the proper way to go about clearing wrongs and investigating the actions of public employees. There is serious thought in the public mind that the side displays of recent months were not a growth of personal feuds and political animosities.

When public employees step out of line there are several ways of going about their correction. One is to quietly single out the men who have flaunted the ideal and correct them privately. Should they persist, they may be called to an intra-departmental accounting devoid of personal animosities.

Another method is to put forth many headline-making charges which are insupportable by evidence but which leave bitter thoughts in people's minds. A particularly effective use of this method is the writing of mud-slinging articles in irresponsible publications which exist for political purposes only.

The stock in trade of politicians is the ability to grab headlines in the public press, for they are sweet unction to the political soul. Tragically very few politicians realize that their effective weapons in the fight for reelection are the deeds, not the words, of their administration. Too many politicians defeat themselves at the polls because they have an erroneous idea of what constitutes favorable publicity.

It is to be hoped that future difficulties in any town department will be solved and settled within the department and not in the public press. A certain amount of publicity will attend any radical changes and reprisals, but they should be carried out without mudslinging and without personal animosities which put self ahead of public welfare.

Teaching is a Vocation

Reports still continue that in some Belleville schools it is difficult even to interest many teachers in extracurricular activities, let alone get them to take an active part in them. They refuse to consider contributing a minute of their time outside the strict boundaries of school hours.

It is not peculiar to the teachers of Belleville that it is probably more marked here than anywhere else in the country. This is because of the intense competition in this section, competition which permeates every minute of life and which raises the theory of survival of the fittest to its highest degree.

There are two phases of school life, each supremely important in the development of children. One is the formal academic training which the pupil receives in the classroom, the other is the informal life of clubs, societies and athletics which give the student the practical side of life and develop his social personality.

Teachers unfortunately tend to overlook the second part of their responsibilities to their charges. They feel no sense of obligation toward the extracurricular training of youth. This feeling has caused scores of pedagogues to go into war plants and other ventures in preference to helping students form debating, dramatic, journalistic, music and other clubs from which they will learn as much if not more than in the classroom.

Most teachers are eager in their early teaching days to help in every way possible to mold students into useful citizens; but such "eager beavers" are frowned upon by their colleagues for their attempts to "show us up." The latter are perfectly content to drift along fully protected by neat but not gaudy salaries and by the pernicious tenure system.

Teaching is not a job, it is a vocation. Unfortunately many young people enter it because they think it is an easy profession. They have no real call to it but once they are in it they are afraid to get out. They certainly do not realize the tremendous responsibilities which they assumed; they will not consider that generations of schoolboys will be only as good as they choose to make them.

A salary schedule, a table of automatic raises, for the teachers of Belleville will soon be considered for adoption. Should it be put into effect, the teachers will be the most favored of the public employees. They should now be asking themselves what they in turn are going to give the town and whether their contributions to the town and its children have warranted protection which no other public employee has and which no employee of private business would expect.

Silver Lake Needs Planning

No greater argument for the necessity of establishing a conscientious town planning commission in Belleville can be found than the picture presented by Silver Lake; and the Lakers are finally raising their voices and demand to be heard in the matter.

Last week a delegation of them went before the Commission to protest the inadequate fire and police protection and poor garbage disposal which they claim has existed in that corner of the town for many years. That was the immediate cause of their visit but a statement made in passing by one spokesman brought out the deeper implications of the situation for it indicated the basic policy which has dictated treatment of Silver Lake for a long time.

"If Silver Lake is a burden to this town as has been so often stated, why not incorporate with Newark or Bloomfield where we would get some protection," he asked. The major portion of Belleville has always looked on Silver Lake as a burden and consequently has done little for it.

Some persons excuse the lack of consideration toward Silver Lake with the comment that "the town has poured more money into the Lake than it has ever gotten out." That may well be true; but a community is an association of all the people for the mutual benefit of all. The town would be in a bad way indeed if each person got only what he paid for.

There are two principal deterrents to the progress of Silver Lake. The first is the bungled job which was done on the zoning of the section many years ago. Virtually all of the Lake is zoned for industrial or commercial use. In matter of fact, however, the bulk of the land is and always has been devoted to residences.

The second deterrent is a corollary of the first. Silver Lakers have put forth little effort to lift themselves by the bootstraps. True Silver Lake incomes are below average in many instances; but poverty is little excuse for dirty and unkempt surroundings.

But even those who would make their surroundings attractive are somewhat deterred by the realization that there is no protection since their efforts are wholly dependent on the possibility that a factory or store might be built next door and they would have no right to object.

Since there is a spirit of apathy among the townspeople at large over what goes on south of the Morris Canal, it might well pay Silver Lakers to organize their own improvement association to teach members of their community the proper ways to care for their homes and thus prove to the rest of the town that there is a sense of responsibility there.

Self-improvement is a difficult process but, once accomplished, it awakens a healthy respect among one's fellows, who are then more willing to listen to requests and arguments. Self-improvement would do much to correct the neglect which Silver Lakers say has been their lot for generations.

Outlines Income Tax Change To Aid Harrassed Public

Tax Consultant Says Final Declaration Not Due Until January 15; Explains 3 Ways of Filing; 1942 Hangover Due by March 15

Certain changes have been made in the Federal tax laws which will affect individual taxpayers, especially those deriving all or the major portion of their income from salaries or wages. Because these changes represent a departure from previous methods, it is felt that the readers of The Belleville Times will wish to know, in advance, what the government expects and what the taxpayer should do when the time comes for filing.

Those who have filed quarterly declarations of estimated tax for 1944 need not file the final declaration on December 15, as the time for filing has been extended to January 15. In lieu of filing this final declaration, the taxpayer may instead file his 1944 income tax return by January 15.

Who Must File?
Declarations of estimated tax for the coming year 1945 will be filed quarterly, commencing March 15. Individuals are required to file declarations quarterly for 1945 if:

(a) their 1945 estimated wages subject to withholding tax are expected to exceed $5,000, plus to $500 for each surtax exemption (except the taxpayer's exemption); or
(b) if the taxpayer's estimated gross income for 1945 from sources other than wages subject to withholding tax (for example, income from dividends, rentals, etc.) is expected to exceed $100 and taxpayer's gross income from all sources is expected to exceed $500 during 1945.

All taxpayers having gross income for 1944 in excess of $500 must file an income tax return before March 15 regardless of whether or not withholding tax has been deducted by the employer from 1944 wages, or regardless of whether or not the taxpayer has filed declarations of estimated tax in 1944.

Even children should have returns filed for them if they earned more than $500 in 1944. A separate return may be filed for the child who earned less than $500 in 1944 and in this way, refund may be obtained of withholding taxes deducted by the child's employer during 1944.

Three Methods
Individual taxpayers have the choice of three methods of filing 1944 Income Tax Returns. On or about January 31, employers will furnish employees with a statement of 1944 wages and the amount of tax withheld from such wages during 1944.

This statement, known as the withholding receipt, contains a simple form which may be filled in by those taxpayers entitled to use this method of filing income tax returns.

The withholding receipt can then be mailed to the Collector of Internal Revenue; he will compute the income tax for 1944 and mail the taxpayer a bill for any additional income tax due, or issue a refund if the taxpayer's withholding tax during 1944 has overpaid the amount due on income tax.

The use of this simple method is limited to those whose total 1944 income was less than $5,000, consisting wholly of wages shown on the withholding receipt or of such wages plus not more than $100 of other wages, dividends and interest.

A married couple may use this method in filing a joint return if their total income meets the requirements stated.

Short, Long Forms
The income tax blank (Form 1040) contains two other methods by which the taxpayer may file his 1944 return. This form contains both a "short form" and a "long form," either one of which may be used for joint or separate returns.

The "short form" method contains a table as it did in previous years. Previous tables were compiled so that, instead of itemizing each allowable deduction, the taxpayer received a blanket allowance of six per cent deductions and earned income credit.

"POSITION SECURE!"

That terse military message tells that our boys have achieved another objective. It does not tell the price they paid, in suffering and death!

BIGGER WAR BONDS will Secure the Position of Postwar Farming

This is a BIG farm year—Now Buy BIGGER Bonds!

Here are 6 big reasons for buying the most you can—$100, $500, $1000—in the big 6th War Loan. War Bonds give you:

1. The best and safest investment in the world!
2. At maturity, $4.00 for every $3.00 you loan.
3. The convenience of cash—plus increase in value!
4. Funds to replace and restore worn-out farm equipment, soil fertility, and buildings.
5. Funds for educating your children; a nest-egg for your own security, travel, retirement.
6. The increased purchasing power vitally needed to win the Peace.

THEY still die—will YOU buy?

THE BOYS who win our beachheads on strange and foreign shores expect us to hold the home-front intact, for those who will come back. They have every right to expect this:

The War Bonds you buy now do just that—in two vitally important ways. First, they answer Japan's belief that our home-front is "too soft" to carry on the war against them. They firmly expect us to quit and give them an easy peace, because they think we are unwilling to sacrifice any of our comfortable living. Japan knows the B-29's that bomb Tokyo cost $600,000 each and that even a torpedo to sink a Jap ship costs $12,000. They think we'll stop paying before they stop fighting. Give them your answer, as a patriotic American... Say it with bigger War Bonds!

It will probably be the costliest war in history—but you know it is worth the price! If we failed to whip Japan now, we could never count on Peace again.

A second way your War Bonds protect the home-front is by securing America's position in the postwar world. A sound national economy will mean prosperity for all of us. Such an economy can only be if each of us avoids spending now, and builds up a strong reserve for the future.

It's still a big job ahead. Lending money is the easiest part—but it will finish the war faster and go far in winning the Peace. Buy Bigger War Bonds Now! Let's show Tokyo we're in it to the finish!

T/Sgt. John D. Ukson, whose wife lives at 65 Fairview place, has been authorized to wear a second oak leaf cluster on his fighter group's Presidential citation. The clusters are for War department citations.

An oak leaf cluster was added for an escort mission over enemy rail yards at Aversa, Italy, where the P-38 pilots beat off an enemy attacking force estimated at 75 planes, enabling a 15th AAF heavy bomber formation to reach the target.

The second cluster was for a withdrawal cover mission in support of a heavy bomber attack on the Romano Americano oil refineries at Ploesti, Rumania, where the fighter pilots engaged and drove away 80 enemy planes attacking the bombers at a loss of only one P-38. Ten enemy planes were shot down in the battle.
