

QUALITY PRODUCTS PERMIT IS OPPOSED BY SILVER LAKERS

Residents Protest Application To Rebuild Burned Plant; Recommend Rezoning

John Miele is determined to rebuild the structure at 145 Heckel street which housed Quality Products company before it was destroyed by fire three weeks ago and an angry group of Silver Lake neighbors are just as determined that the firm will not be re-established at the old stand.

The Silver Lakers appeared before the Commission Tuesday night for the second time to protest granting a building permit to Mr. Miele and to second Mayor Williams' suggestion that the company move to another location in Belleville.

The Commission, Mr. Miele, the latter's architect, representatives of the citizens and other interested parties were to sit down again last night to try to iron out the controversy.

A delegation of citizens invaded the Commission meeting Tuesday and argued for more than an hour against granting the permit. Mr. Miele urged Commission approval on the grounds that he would "lose too much money" if he attempted to rebuild elsewhere.

Basis of the Lakers' arguments was the contention that the rag-cleaning firm which had occupied the building was a fire hazard and the recent blaze caused terror to spread all through the neighborhood.

Town Attorney Keenan reported to the Commission that the investigation revealed that the company did not violate the zoning laws and that there was no evidence of inflammable chemicals having been used by the firm.

Wants Rezoning Following up on the zoning question, Ralph Risoli of 37 Naples avenue asked the Commission to consider the possibility of rezoning much of Silver Lake to residential.

With the exception of a small area between Wallace and Mill streets (about two blocks wide) in the north end of the section, all of Silver Lake is zoned for industrial or commercial use.

The mayor agreed with Mr. Risoli that conversion of all present residential areas to official residential zones "would be a good idea."

Ralph Calabrese, Mr. Miele's architect, announced that plans for the new building include parapet walls, a sprinkler system, and other fire preventive measures.

Mr. Miele said that the plan for the new building was to be a three-story structure, that the old building was "almost unbearable."

May Ask Injunction "We are determined not to have such a company over there," said Mrs. Martha Herkins, director of

AIR RAID WARDENS' LOYALTY HONORED

Credited With Important Role In Veterans Aid Program; Receive New Handbook

Chiefs of the air raid wardens and other Civilian Defense personnel were honored Tuesday night at a dinner given by officers and trustees of the Belleville Foundation at the Forest Hill Field club.

Prime purpose of the dinner was to explain to the ARP the final outline of the Veterans' Assistance Program, in the early stages of which they played a major role.

The secondary reason for the affair was to honor the ARP for their "unwavering loyalty day and night to the duties and responsibilities since Pearl Harbor."

Distributed for the first time were copies of the new servicemen's and veterans' handbook, "The Open Door to Belleville," which explains the VAP system here as well as the benefits available to veterans.

The original painting of the booklet cover was presented to Harry G. Specht, Foundation president, by Martin F. Tiernan, president of Wallace & Tiernan company and a Foundation trustee.

Mr. Specht presided at the dinner. Special speakers were Capt. Robert Barnard, Veterans' Administration chief for North Jersey, and Hughes Steel, assistant director of the veterans' educational program at Lyons hospital.

Other speakers were Joseph Hughes, principal of Bloomfield school; Herbert S. Rigeron, county veterans' vocational director; G. Graham Livingston, state American Legion commander and area Civil Defense director.

J. Spurr, deputy state Civil Defense director; and Mrs. S. Bethel, director of community war services of the CIO, addressed the Scene Where Triple Tragedy Occurred

X MARKS THE SPOT where the Talmadge car plunged over the Passaic River bank Tuesday morning carrying Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Talmadge of Montclair and Miss Clarinda Volpicelli of Nutley to their deaths. The Valley Improvement association six months ago urged erection of a guardrail at the spot. The Public Authority, however, two years ago rejected an application for a cable rail at the spot on the grounds that it would use critical materials. (Times photo).

Drowning of Three Seen as Spur To Guardrail Along Main Street

Car Dives into Passaic River, Carries Montclair Man, Wife and Nutley Passenger to Death; Berardinelli Believes Driver Suffered Heart Attack

The Valley Improvement association is understood to be preparing to push its six-month-old request for a guardrail along the northern end of Main street as a result of the tragedy which Tuesday morning took the lives of three persons when their car plunged over the embankment into the Passaic River.

Meanwhile, it is understood that a similar proposal made by the department of Public Works in 1942 was rejected by the federal Public Roads Authority on the grounds that the projected cable guardrail would have used critical wartime materials. Commissioner Waters said that PRA had approved plans for the resurfacing of Main street in September 1942 but had ruled out the protective fencing.

Yesterday the assistant county physician, Dr. C. G. Berardinelli, disclosed that preliminary autopsy reports showed that the accident was caused when the driver suffered a heart attack.

The dead, all of whom were employees of Walter Kidde & company, are:

Mitchell P. Talmadge, 60, of 16 Braemore road, Upper Montclair.
Mrs. Josephine Talmadge, 45, his wife, same address.
Miss Clarinda Volpicelli, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Volpicelli of 26 Harrison street, Nutley.

According to Police Chief Spatz, Mr. Talmadge had picked up Miss Volpicelli, his regular car-pool passenger, in Nutley and the three were on the way to Tuesday morning.

The gateman at the Federal Leather company plant saw the car begin to swerve as it passed his station, travelling south on Main street.

About 200 feet south of the Federal entrance, it careened to the left side of the road and plunged over the five-foot bank into the river which was at high tide.

Two men, Fireman Michael Cafone of 64 Greylock avenue and Raymond Boettcher of Garfield, the latter a Federal Leather employee, voluntarily dove into the river to try to extricate the helpless victims.

Cafone found that one door of the car was wedged against a mudbank and the other was locked. He was unable to open it. Later he again entered the river and took out the bodies after the car had been towed nearer the bank.

Mr. Talmadge was given first aid on the riverbank but was pronounced dead by Dr. George F. Stoll.

Mrs. Talmadge and Miss Volpicelli were taken to the Kidde plant where police, fire and Kidde first aid crews attempted resuscitation for more than two hours. They were pronounced dead by Dr. George Rigeron, plant physician.

VIA LETTERS The movement of the Valley Improvement group was inaugurated June 6 with a letter to

ROWE TO INCREASE PEACE PERSONNEL BY FIFTY PERCENT

Automatic Vending Machine Postwar Future Bright, Say Company Officials

The wisdom and necessity of preparing plans for peace are daily becoming more widely recognized. We have all read, talked and thought postwar planning. Under the guidance of its president, Robert Z. Greene, the Rowe Manufacturing company Inc., has done something concrete in this direction.

Several months ago we conducted a survey to determine what operators want in the cigarette vending machine of tomorrow. While thought has been given to the creation of an entirely new item, any radically new product would require drastic tool and die changes that would delay production long after present restrictions are lifted.

We estimate about four months will be required for complete reconversion to a peacetime basis. The mounting need for new vending machines has already reached proportions that will easily keep our factory busy for at least a year after normal production is resumed. We therefore plan to limit the changes in our first postwar model to those improvements which can be incorporated without undue delay.

To encourage Rowe customers to plan today for tomorrow, we have invited our established accounts to place orders now for our postwar equipment.

Such orders will naturally be filled first and, in addition to priority on delivery, the purchaser is to receive a substantial discount on his order in which constitutes a far greater return on the money invested with us in advance of shipment, than is available through banking channels.

Start Funds Now In this way, the operator is encouraged to set aside from present day profits funds that will bring him earliest possible delivery of new machines on which he will owe little or nothing.

His postwar program will therefore be begun on a sound financial basis that will encourage him to further expansion.

In addition, the plan gives us a basis for establishing peacetime production charts and a fair and equitable method of determining who is to receive our first production runs.

Further, it permits us to retain in our employ during the reconversion period the people now working for us, and make room for the boys who come home from the war.

We do not know how many of the men we lost to the armed forces will wish to rejoin our staff. At least half of those already released have returned to our plant, and jobs will be open to any of the others who want them.

Keep Price Down While no definite price can be established on our future production, we feel we will be able

Mayor to Try Mariano for Perjury After Grand Jury Fails to Indict; Gruhin Asks Police Return to King

LAWYER DISPUTES WILLIAMS' RIGHT TO TRY MARIANO

Gruhin Says Mayor's Interest Disqualifies Him; Asks Police Return to Public Safety

"You cannot morally sit in judgment" on Detective Mariano, Robert C. Gruhin of 352 Washington avenue told Mayor Williams Tuesday night before calling on the town Commission to rescind its action of October 19 when the department of Public Safety was stripped of jurisdiction over the Police department.

Charging that the mayor's scheduled departmental trial of Mr. Mariano would be spending taxpayers' money foolishly, Mr. Gruhin declared:

"I want it on the record that you (the mayor) were forewarned and that I predicted that, if the charges against Mariano are the same as those considered by the grand jury, a long litigation will ensue and he will be reinstated and will ultimately be paid his back salary."

It was the second time in two weeks that Mr. Gruhin, outspoken critic of the mayor since the police turmoil began eight months ago, had appeared before the Commission to protest the mayor's assumption of police duties.

He gave to the town clerk five original copies of his resolution and requested that one be delivered to each of the commissioners. He asked that they study it during the next two weeks and that one of the solons sponsor it at the next Commission meeting, December 26.

He did not quarrel so much with the bringing of charges against the detective, he said, as he did with the fact that they were to be held before the mayor.

Public Acquittal The latter is the aggrieved party in the charge, he averred, and as such cannot sit in hearing. "You are going to conduct this trial to have yourself acquitted in the public mind," he said.

He pointed out that the mayor considered himself cleared of gambling implications after the case has been tossed out by the grand jury and asked, "Why isn't the same action of the grand jury good enough for Mariano?"

He was referring to the fact that the jury heard all the evidence in the charge against the detective and refused to indict him.

Mr. Gruhin then attacked the ability of the mayor to prove the perjury charges inasmuch as he did not have access to the grand jury minutes and did not know what Mr. Mariano testified there.

He also questioned the mayor's right to try the detective on the perjury charge since perjury is a criminal offense and the constitution states that "no person shall be held to answer for a criminal offense unless on presentment or indictment by a grand jury."

"A grand jury needs only reasonable ground to believe that a person committed the act with which he is charged in order to indict him."

"Brings Chaos" "When the grand jury investigated the Mariano case, it found no reasonable grounds. That action should have terminated this mess," he charged that the mayor's administration of the police department is "disrupting morale and bringing chaos" in the department.

After introducing his resolution and stating that "this board must take immediate action to settle this mess," Mr. Gruhin concluded with the parting shot:

"I and the people of Belleville would like to see by a vote of this resolution just where each Commissioner stands on this question." Neither Mayor Williams nor any Commissioner made any reply to Mr. Gruhin's remarks.

Williams Sets Trial of Detective For Thursday on Spatz Charges

Requests All Information on Alleged Link to Gamblers From King, Leighton, Handlon, Winfield; Keenan To Prosecute, Gerald T. Foley Defense Lawyer

The Police department turmoil, which apparently had received the quietus after Deputy Chief Elmer S. Leighton was completely cleared of bribery charges and Detective Nicholas J. Mariano absolved of a perjury charge last week, erupted Monday with renewed fury when Mayor Williams announced that Chief Spatz had preferred departmental charges against Detective Mariano.

The detective will be given a hearing before the mayor next Thursday morning at 9:30 on charges that he "was guilty of misconduct in that he gave false testimony and committed perjury before the grand jury. . . . by testifying that he had heard a conversation between Mayor Williams and Deputy Chief Leighton in which among other things the aforesaid Mariano testified that Mayor Williams told Deputy Chief Leighton that it was all right for gamblers to operate in Belleville."

Last week, according to Assistant Prosecutor McKenna, the grand jury "heard all the evidence" on the same charge against Mariano and "refused to indict him."

At Thursday's hearing, the case will be prosecuted by Town Attorney Keenan, and Leighton and Mariano will be represented by their attorneys, John W. McGeehan Jr. and Gerald T. Foley.

The current charge against Mariano is the latest step in the town-shaking series of events which began April 11 when the mayor publicly accused Commissioner King and Leighton of "framing" a gambling charge against him.

Gambling Link Williams testified that the detective admitted a report that he had a pair of Newark green lights to a house in Belleville.

Asserting that, which had not been made public, the story about the "framing" trial by scan mayor referred the entire to the prosecutor.

In October, after a lengthy investigation, the grand jury indicted "against" King or on the alleged gambling quiescence and chided the Board of Commissioners for of "mutual confidence."

Much of the testimony before was contradictory, the grand jury wrote, and "more prompt and effective action by the police" would have eliminated the embarrassment and unwarranted stress.

Using the grand jury presentment as a springboard, Mr. Williams two days later called a special meeting of the Commission and forced through a resolution stripping King of jurisdiction over the police department and the recorder's court clerk Commissioners Noll and Merriam sided with the mayor.

Apparent Harmony A semblance of harmony settled over town hall the following week when all five Commissioners put their signatures to a resolution which called for mutual cooperation and management of municipal government.

Less than a week later, however, the peace was ruptured by the mayor took to the prosecutor statement which declared that Mariano had confessed to lying during his testimony before the grand jury.

According to reports, Mariano had voluntarily gone to Flynn and told him that "his conscience had him" because he had not overheard the conversation as he testified.

On the strength of the Williams and Flynn statements, Cooze signed a complaint against Mariano who was arrested and held in $2,500 bail. It was charged that the grand jury failed to indict.

The mayor Monday also letters to King, Leighton, Court Clerk Handlon and P. man Winfield, record clerk, asking them to turn to him all records pertaining to the original gambling case.

Unsolicited Citizens Request To Send War Chest Gifts A large portion of the Belleville have not yet been addressed by War Chest solicitors, but it is hoped that they will be in the near future.

He described the fall cases about 4,000 families, "shortage of workers," "need of families," "cause by mulling" and "need of families."

FOUR MEN KILLED ON BATTLEFRONTS

Carmen Olivo, John Bocchino, George Skeen, Joseph Masi War Casualties

Lieut. George C. Skeen

Second Lieut. George C. Skeen, 22, died of his wounds October 19, two days after his B-17 Flying Fortress was shot down over Germany. Three weeks ago he was reported missing (see The Times Nov. 21).

Last week his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis N. Skeen of 75 Van Houten place, were informed by the War department that the German government had informed the Red Cross of his death.

His wife, the former Miss Betty Ann Speight of Peoria, Ill., has been spending a few days with the Skeens and brought them the news.

Lieut. Skeen attended Irvington High school, Rutgers University, New York University and the American Banking Institute. In civilian days he was employed with Walter Kidde company, having moved to Belleville five years ago.

He entered the Army January 29, 1943, and was commissioned April 22, 1944, at Selman Field, Monroe, La. He went overseas as a navigator in July. Besides his parents and his wife, he leaves a sister, Miss Lois Skeen at home.

Only Son Killed Pfc. Joseph A. Masi was killed October 25 in France, according to a War department telegram received last fortnight by his mother, Mrs. Maria Masi of 54 Lake street.

He was the only son and is also survived by three sisters. Mrs. Rose Petrilla of Nutley and the Misses Maria and Domenica Masi at home.

Pfc. Masi, who was 23, graduated from Belleville High school in 1939 and was formerly employed in the fur storage department of L. Bamberger & Sons.

He was inducted December 12, 1941, and went overseas with an infantry unit last June. He served two months in Italy before participating in the invasion of southern France.

Killed in English Channel Sgt. Carmen Olivo, 29, was killed June 6 when his ship was sunk in the English Channel during the invasion of France. The War department has informed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Domenick

Begin Fourth Year The Police Reserves, all of whom are volunteers and who serve without compensation, are now entering their fourth year of service, having been organized December 11, 1941.

Their purpose is to augment and assist the regular Police department in any emergency which might arise and also on special occasions where extra police are required. Many of the men are World War I veterans. While on duty reservists have the annual meeting at the high school Wednesday. All other officers were also renamed for another term.

Continuing in the capacity of captain is Dr. Benjamin A. Jacobson. The lieutenants are Ernest H. Alden in zone 1, Norbert E. Bevil in zone 2, Charles C. Haring in zone 3, Otto T. Breunich in zone 4 and William Hunt in zone 5.

Inspector Shannon announced the appointment of Cpl. Frank W. Merrihue as equipment and supply officer of the reserves.

It is expected that a further reorganization of Police Reserve sergeants and corporals, who are appointed rather than elected, will probably be announced by Inspector Shannon at the first meeting in January.

Chief Spatz expressed his appreciation and thanks for the co-operation and assistance rendered by those Police Reserves who reported for duty in response to his summons to direct traffic in Silver Lake a few weeks ago when a large area was threatened by flames which destroyed Quality Products company on Heckel street.
He also paid tribute to Special Officer Angelo Scavone, who is still a member of the reserves and who was present at the meeting, for his "alertness, bravery and fortitude" about ten days ago in trapping and capturing James (Red) Borriello who escaped from a detention room at police headquarters in October while awaiting questioning in connection with alleged thefts.

She called the mayor's proposal to assist Mr. Miele by arriving at a mutually satisfactory solution by exchanging his land for a piece of town-owned property "more than fair."
She and others declared that it was the third fire in a Quality Products plant in recent years and "it is not safe for those who have been living there fifty years and more."
Mr. Miele asserted that he still has considerable equity in the burned structure since the footings, concrete floor, sewer and water connections are still usable.

He would lose these should he agree to move to other quarters, he said. Mayor Williams told him that "the town can take care of water and sewer connections without cost to you."

the Board of Commissioners which said:
"The strip of land located between the end of the Essex County Park and the Nutley line is a hazard to both pedestrians and motorists and we suggest that some sort of a guardrail be constructed there."
"Because of priorities it will probably be impossible to erect a permanent guardrail at the present time but steps should be taken to construct a temporary rail at this location."
Copies of the letter, over the signature of the secretary, Mrs. Mary Peck of 34 Van Rensselaer street, were sent to County Engineer Colwell and State Highway Commissioner Miller.
Both replied that it was strictly a municipal matter inasmuch as the road is under the jurisdiction of the town.
When no reply had been received from the Commission by mid-September, copies of the letter were sent to The Times and were published in the September 28 issue.
This week inquiries at town hall regarding disposition of the Valley letter were met with negative replies. No one, from the town clerk on, had any record of having seen the association's letter.

Vending machines were one of the first items affected by government regulations restricting the use of metal. Since they are not considered a necessity by the government, vending machines will probably be among the last items to be relieved of restrictions.
The demand for automatic merchandisers has increased during the war due to the manpower shortage, with the result that Howe equipment has been subject to more than normal wear and tear.
Consequently, there is already an urgent need for new machines which will be increased when "Johnny comes marching home again" and returns to his store or office or shop bench.
We shall do our best to give him the equipment he wants as quickly as possible, and toward that end expect to increase our personnel by about fifty percent over prewar levels.

When the stadium proper was completed four years ago, supervision of it was placed under the department of Revenue & Finance despite the widespread belief that it was properly a recreation or school matter.
The Mayor has also recommended that the town purchase 1,000 cubic yards of topsoil for resurfacing the football field and that the field be enclosed with a snow fence.
He also revealed that excavation of the lot at 50-64 Washington avenue, site of the projected DeSoto automobile agency and garage, would begin this week and that 4,500 cubic yards of fill taken from it would be dumped in the northwest corner of the Turf Bog under the terms of the sales agreement with Joseph Pfeiffer.

Sea Scouts Plan Yule Party; Receive Ensign From Hiss

Skipper Wallace Jones of Sea Scout ship 303 has announced a Christmas party which will be held at the ship meeting place in Eastwood-Nealley's Jorammon street plant Monday evening.

A new ensign was presented the ship at the November meeting by G. Crosby Hiss representing the ship committee and Walter Kidde company, ship sponsor. Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Specht inspected the ship on that occasion.

Work on repairs of the 40 foot packet which was damaged in the September hurricane has progressed and scouts are preparing for the filling out time in April. Visitation of parents and friends to the land ship in Eastwood-Nealley headquarters will occur in February.

Town Ordinance

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the following ordinance was passed on second and third readings at a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville held Tuesday evening, December 12th, 1944, having been read in its final form at least one week prior thereto and is therefore now a law and hereby published according to law.

FLORENCE R. MOREY, Town Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE TO ELIMINATE FIRE HAZARDS, TO REMOVE BRUSH, TRASH, DEBRIS, STUMP, DEAD TREES, AND OTHER OBSTRUCTIONS IN THE TOWN OF BELLEVILLE.

BE IT ORDAINED BY the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville, in the County of Essex, as follows:

Section 1. In any case where the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville shall determine that it is necessary for the preservation of public health, safety, general welfare, or to eliminate a fire hazard, to require the removal from any lands in the Town of Belleville, brush, weeds, dead and dying trees, stumps, roots, obnoxious growths, fifth, garbage, trash and debris thereon.

Section 2. The notice mentioned in Section 1 of this ordinance, shall be by personal service upon or by registered mail directed to the last known address of such owner or tenant. Said notice shall be given at the direction of the Board of Commissioners whenever it shall be deemed necessary and expedient for the preservation of the public health, safety, general welfare or to eliminate a fire hazard or hazards.

Section 3. Any owner or tenant that shall fail to remove any such materials from such lands after notice as aforesaid shall, upon conviction thereof, pay a penalty of not exceeding $100.00.

Section 4. In the event that the owner or tenant shall have refused or neglected to comply with the aforesaid notice, within 10 days, the Department of Public Affairs shall remove from such lands the brush, weeds, dead and dying trees, stumps, roots, obnoxious growths, fifth, garbage, trash and debris that may be thereon, and said department shall certify the cost thereof to the Board of Commissioners, which shall examine the certificate and if found correct shall cause the cost shown thereon to be charged against the said lands; the amount so charged shall forthwith become a lien on such lands and shall be added to and become part of the taxes next to be assessed and levied against such lands, the same to bear interest at the same rate as taxes, and shall be collected and enforced by the same officers and in the same manner as taxes.

Section 5. This ordinance shall take effect immediately after publication in the manner provided by law.

Passed first reading: Nov. 28th, 1944.
Passed second reading: Dec. 12th, 1944.
Third reading: Dec. 12th, 1944.
ADOPTED: Dec. 12th, 1944.

Attest: FLORENCE R. MOREY, Town Clerk.

Junior Achievement Leaders Meet

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT OFFICERS discussed the reports of the accomplishments of the past year and laid plans for 1945 at a breakfast-meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, Friday. Above are Alvin W. Outcalt of 65 Baldwin place, Miss Irma Tonelli of 27 Lincoln terrace (both of Belle Chemical company, a Belleville JA firm) and S. Bayard Colgate, chairman of Colgate-Palmolive-Peet corporation and a member of the national board of directors of JA.

Urges Consideration of Problems of Youth

NEW YORK. — President Roosevelt as well as leaders of industry and labor were urged recently by the head of a youth association to give more thought to the problem of the millions of young people now in school who at the end of the war will be looking for jobs "without the benefit of previous experience or without the benefit of being veterans of the war."

The appeal was made by 16-year old Alvin Outcalt of 65 Baldwin place, Belleville, president of the National Association of Junior Achievement Companies. Junior Achievement is a nationwide youth organization designed to provide young people with practical business training and experience by setting them up in miniature "companies" which are managed and operated entirely by the youngsters themselves.

"In period of national adjustment or upheaval the economic problems of young people are always neglected and forgotten. We hope that this will not be the case in postwar America," Outcalt said in a letter addressed to President Roosevelt, Eric A. Johnston, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and other national leaders.

"There are millions of boys and girls in school today who will be looking for their first job when the war is over. They will be particularly handicapped this time as they will be seeking employment without the benefit of previous experience and without the benefit of being veterans of the war."

Consider Problem

"We respectfully urge you, therefore, that in formulating and developing plans you give this problem due consideration. We recognize that the first responsibility of the country will be to provide jobs for the returning service men and women, and secondly for the men and women now in war industries.

"However, provision and plans should be made to provide op-

Thomas E. Clancy

A solemn requiem mass was offered Tuesday morning in St. Peter's Catholic church for Thomas E. Clancy who died Saturday after a long illness. Interment was in Holy Name cemetery, Jersey City.

Mr. Clancy was born in Ireland 73 years ago and lived in Jersey City and North Arlington before moving to Belleville three years ago. He retired nine years ago from the shipping department of J. R. Warkins company of Newark.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Annie Higgins Clancy; and two daughters, Mrs. Daniel T. Howell with whom he resided at 26 Essex street and Mrs. Charles E. Campbell of Washington, D. C.

Carl Knaepel

Carl Knaepel, 67, of 477 Joralemon street died suddenly Monday in American Legion Memorial hospital, Newark. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary Kutch Knaepel, and a sister, Mrs. Emma Blumenthal of New York.

Mr. Knaepel was born in Germany, came to America in 1894 and lived in Newark before moving to Belleville thirty years ago. He was employed as foreman of the tool and die department of the Adams Stamping company, Newark.

Rev. George S. Miller of First Baptist church, Irvington, officiated at funeral services last night in the Pfeil funeral home, Irvington. Interment today will be in Cresthaven Memorial Park, Clifton.

Christian Science

276 Main avenue, Passaic.
"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday. Golden text: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. . . . All things were made by him, and without him was not any thing made that was made" (John 1:1, 3).

Sermon: Passages from the King James version of the Bible include: "For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth." (Ps. 33:4) Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"The scientific fact that man and the universe are evolved from Spirit, and so are spiritual, is as fixed in divine Science as is the proof that mortals gain the sense of health only as they lose the sense of sin and disease."

Redeemer Lutheran

Rev. Paul P. Arndt, pastor.
Broadway and Carteret Street, Newark.
Sunday, 9:30 — Sunday School, Bible class; 10:45 — Sermon topic: "The Scriptural Appraisal of the Holy Ministry"; 8 — Annual carol service.

portunities for boys and girls who are usually to become economically self-sufficient.

Idle youth with attendant hopelessness and discouragement is a tragic waste of the nation's youth power and a serious deterrent to the nation's development and progress. Postwar planning should include provisions for young people to become socially, mentally and economically independent.

"In times of war we are asked to fight the nation's battles. We should be allowed to do our share of the productive work of a nation at peace."

Junior Achievement

Sealed to the resources and leisure times of teen-age youth, Junior Achievement companies are patterned after established businesses. Members finance their own enterprises by selling "stock" at fifty cents a share, elect their officers, and produce and sell products and services through their own efforts.

Charles R. Hook, president of American Rolling Mill company, is chairman of the national board, and Robert L. Lund of St. Louis, Mo., is president.

The board includes S. Bayard Colgate, chairman of Colgate-Palmolive-Peet company; James A. Farley, chairman of Coca-Cola Bottling company; Judge Anna Kross, chairman of the youth committee of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Dr. Daniel L. Marsh, president of Boston University; Roy W. Moore, president of Canada Dry Ginger Ale Inc.; A. W. Robertson, chairman of Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company; Robert J. Watt, international representative of American Federation of Labor, are also on the board.

O'Connor Takes Fourth Spot In Miami Open Golf Tourney

Branch Brook Pro Shoots 277, Four under Par, To Win $800; Finishes Behind Dutch Harrison, Henry Picard and Johnny Revolta

Maurie O'Connor, 18 Fairview place, spun out a neat four-round 277 over the weekend to win $800 fourth prize money in the Miami open golf tourney in sunny Florida.

The Branch Brook pro patched together four creditable rounds of 70-69-67-70 to finish among the leaders, which numbered some of the better golfers of the nation. Maurie pressed the wimmer from the beginning and finally wound up behind S/Sgt. Dutch Harrison of the Army, Henry Picard of Harrisonburg, Va., and Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill. After the first round Thursday he found himself tied for third, two strokes behind Tony Penna of Dayton, O. Picard and Revolta at that time were way down with 72s and Harrison had only 73 to his credit. Pete Cooper of Gainesville, Fla., took the lead briefly Friday when he added a 68 to his 70 for a halfway score of 138. O'Connor was tied with Harrison and Revolta at this point, all having 139s. The eventual winners emerged at the top of the heap Saturday when Revolta and Harrison each fired 66s for three-quarter marks of 205. Maurie had 207 and Picard 208. Only one stroke separated each of the first four after the finals Sunday, when Picard fired a 67 to climb to second while Revolta slipped to third with a 71. The cards of the leaders were:

Harrison	73-66-66-63-274
Picard	72-69-67-67-275
Revolta	72-67-66-71-276
O'Connor	70-69-68-70-277

Raiders, Demons Win Second To Top Intermediates

The Raiders and the Demons wallowed through their opposition Thursday night to win their second games and take the lead in the race for the first round title of the Intermediate basketball league. The Raiders rang up the highest score of the season as O'Connor and Byrnes sank 13 and 12 points respectively to lead the way in the 47-25 triumph over the Imperials. The Demons knocked the Shamrocks out of the undefeated ranks with a 26-22 victory which saw Vester tapping in six field goals. McConnell tallied seven double-doubles to lead the Starlings to a 28-24 win over the Eagles.

Attend N. Y. Conference School Postwar Problems

Representatives of Belleville High school attended a conference in New York Monday at the American City High School in the Postwar Period. They are principal Burt Powers and faculty members Ed. Tschubert and Dr. Thomas J. Man. The discussion was held in the Men's Faculty club of Columbia University and was moderated by the Briggs club of Metropolitan Secondary School. Research for the conference was by the National Education association, the American Council on Education, the U. S. Armed Forces Institute, and other organizations.

Bach and Franck Featured In Huberman Concert

Featured violin works on the program to be played by Bronislaw Huberman, great Polish violinist when he appears at the Mosque Monday evening under auspices of the Griffith Music Foundation, will be the Bach "Chaconne" and the Cesar Franck "Sonata in A Major."

Regretting that his great countryman Chopin never wrote for the violin, Huberman has arranged several of the composer's numbers for his own programs. By means of a new fingering technique he is able to retain the full pianistic expressiveness and color of these pieces.

Two of these will be included in his Newark appearance at the Mosque, when he will be heard in the following program:

Sonata da Camera in D major ... Handel
Chaconne ... Bach
Sonata A Major ... Franck
"La Fanciulla d'Arles" ... Szymanowski
Mazurka Op. 7 No. 3 ... Chopin-Huberman
Waltz Op. 70 No. 1 ... Chopin-Huberman
Prom My Country ... Smetana

MRS. MADEO HAILS HUSBAND TO COURT

Woman Who Walloped Rival In Passaic Court Charges Hubby With Non-Support

Mrs. Rhoda Madeo of 128 Beech street, the woman who made history in a Passaic court two months ago by socking the "other woman," was in court again Friday.

She appeared before Acting Recorder Gebhardt charging that her husband, Eigin Madeo, failed to support her and their two children. She declared that they are now separated.

Mr. Madeo, through his attorney, Nathan Rotherberg, admitted not having paid to her support in recent weeks, but declared he recognized his responsibility toward his family.

After hearing that the man had recently taken a new job and had not yet been paid, Recorder Gebhardt turned the matter over to the probation officer, John Coyle, with the recommendation that the woman should receive $25 weekly.

Mrs. Madeo two months ago brought charges in Passaic against her husband and Mrs. Irene Kosterky, charging them with unlawful cohabitation. Mrs. Kosterky's husband is overseas in the armed forces.

Mrs. Madeo interrupted the proceeding by taking a resounding wallop at the other woman and followed up with a second and a third, each labelled for one of her children and herself. She then withdrew the complaint and walked out of court with her husband, apparently reconciled.

Boy Scouts Start Learn-to-Swim Program at Friendly House

Through the cooperation of the Friendly House in Silver Lake, Boy Scouts of Belleville are to have an opportunity to learn to swim or, if swimmers, to improve their aquatic ability and to become junior life savers and scout life guards.

The program is under the direction of William Ross, a member of the troop committee of troop 288 and an instructor for the American Red Cross. The classes take place from 7 to 8:30 p.m. on Tuesdays.

Each party of Scouts will be under the direct supervision of their own scoutmasters. The "buddy system" will be used in accordance with Boy Scout and Red Cross standards.

BERRY RECOUNTS SEALS' HISTORY THRU 40 YEARS

Health Officer Outlines Story Of Successful Fight Against Tuberculosis

To give Bellevillites a background for the purchase of Christmas seals to fight tuberculosis, health officer Eugene T. Berry this week outlined the forty-year history of the movement which has done more than any other one factor to stamp out the dread disease.

In 1904 a Christmas letter crossed the sea from Denmark to America. On the letter were several pretty stamps decorated with stars and flowers and a picture of the Queen of Denmark with a crown above her head.

Jacob Riis, who received the letter, had never seen a stamp like it, and so he wrote to his friends in Denmark for its story. His friends told him that a postal official named Einar Holboell had invented the Christmas health seal to raise money with which to fight tuberculosis on behalf of the poor children of Denmark.

Mr. Riis thought how fine it would be if we could do the same thing in America. He saw the Christmas Seal not only as a means of fighting the Great White Plague, but also as a means of spreading the message of health.

So he wrote an article which was published in the "Outlook" magazine. He told about the Danish Christmas Health Seal and begged America to try it.

Fairy Godmother

That was in the year 1907. And now the fairy godmother enters the story. Shortly before Christmas of the same year, the Philadelphia "North American" began to carry six and seven column headlines urging people to buy Christmas Health Seals in December.

The inside story is told by Leigh Mitchell Hodges, who was then a columnist on that paper. One morning in December 1907, Miss Emily Bissell of Wilmington, Del. dropped in to see Mr. Hodges.

She told the columnist that she had just paid a call on his Sunday editor to ask a favor. Mr. Hodges remarked politely that he hoped the favor had been granted. Miss Bissell told him no, it hadn't. "And what," asked Mr. Hodges, "was this favor?"

Miss Bissell told him that a few months ago she had read an article by Jacob Riis telling about the Danish Christmas stamp sold to raise money to build a hospital for tuberculous children. So she wondered whether it would be possible to issue a Christmas stamp in Delaware and sell enough to build one small shelter for poor children, sick with tuberculosis. Indeed, the stamp had already been designed and printed, but publicity was needed to promote the sale.

Mr. Hodges was greatly excited by Miss Bissell's story. He knew that the editor of the paper, E. A. Van Valkenberg, had already tried to get money to fight tuberculosis. He ordered Miss Bissell not to stir out of his editorial cubby hole, and then he dashed out to find the editor.

Orders 50,000 Stamps

Mr. Van Valkenberg was as excited as Mr. Hodges had been when he heard Miss Bissell's story. He immediately ordered 50,000 stamps and told Miss Bissell that from that day on The Philadelphia North American was hers. The idea spread like wildfire. Soon the presses in Wilmington couldn't print the stamps fast enough. Jacob Riis telegraphed Miss Bissell: "Good for you and for Philadelphia and The North American. Keep it up, I am glad the little seed I sowed last summer has borne fruit."

This same program is carried on in the town of Belleville to fight tuberculosis. The money received from the sale of these little seals is used to pay the salary and expenses of a tuberculosis nurse who visits and advises those who are unfortunate enough to have this disease, and also pays for the clinics, X-ray, home visits and publicity, without any additional cost to the taxpayers.

GIRL SCOUT HEAD OUTLINES GAINS DURING QUARTER

Elizabeth Bardagjy Reports Service Bureau Founding, Four New Troops

First quarterly report was made Thursday evening to the Girl Scout council by Miss Elizabeth Bardagjy, executive director, who assumed her duties September 24.

Outstanding accomplishment has been the establishment of a service bureau for senior girl scouts who file materials and otherwise take care of the office at scout headquarters at 400 Washington avenue.

They are messengers between troops and have entered community life in the preparation of Christmas seals for mailing by the tuberculosis association and in assistance at Red Cross blood banks.

The girls also maintain a clipping service of 6th War Loan items for the Treasury department.

Troops have worked on the Junior Red Cross sewing projects under Miss Bardagjy's direction, sewing utility bags and stuffed toys. Toys, scrapbooks and tray decorations have been made for Essex County Isolation hospital.

Four New Troops

Besides reorganization of the leaders club where new rules of procedure and by-laws have been installed, Miss Bardagjy has presided over the registration of four new troops.

Brownie troop 26 was organized at Greylock school with 36 girls and five leaders; and Brownie troop 25 at Jorammon street school with 45 girls, two leaders and a troop committee of five.

Also started were Brownie troop 27 at Franklin avenue school with 42 brownies and similar committee and leaders; and intermediate troop 6 at Ralph street school where 25 girls are enrolled.

Associate Girl Scout Gladys Reyle has taken up office duties at headquarters; a new council member, Mrs. Edward J. Ackerman, has been chosen; and Mrs. Joseph C. Duval has been named member of the standing committee in publicity.

Miss Bardagjy, whose background includes ten years as troop leader and trainer of leaders, has greatly augmented the supply of instructive literature at headquarters. She produced the Girl Scouts' annual review for parents and friends in the high school November 3.

Industry after the War

Last week The Times began a series of articles on the postwar expectations of Belleville industries. Each week the future of one of the many industrial plants which dot Belleville's map will be discussed. They will be complete and authoritative, for they will be written by officials of the companies.

This will be one of the best pieces of public relations that local industries have yet attempted. For virtually the first time they will tell the people of Belleville exactly what they have in mind for those ambitious years which will follow final V-day.

Within the confines of the town, scores of different products for everyday and for technical use are manufactured. Many of these goods have taken a temporary back seat while the plants turned their attention to the implements of total war. Soon they will return to peacetime production.

Instead of leaving the future to chance, Belleville industries have planned well for the postwar era. The articles, which will be carried exclusively in The Times, will give the public an insight into those plans which will expose tremendous possibilities for postwar employment here.

It is a strange phenomenon that fully three-quarters of all the employees of local industries come from outside Belleville and that approximately the same number of Belleville residents go out of town every day to work.

While a completely industrialized community, with almost total local employees, is far from the ideal, yet a certain amount of home employment in Belleville is a good thing. This will give the public an insight into those opportunities for postwar employment possible here.

Kind of Boys

A group of boys not long ago went out one night and smashed scores of windows in the Municipal Stadium. Last summer another straggling crowd of boys threw stones through more than fifty windows in Cortlandt street school. Many times boys have been arrested for breaking into schools or stealing from churches or for shooting ducks with small rifles.

The sight of youngsters hanging around street corners is not an unusual one and investigators have found that the greatest part of juvenile delinquency and vandalism has its inception in such gangs. The boys are not necessarily from slum homes, but rather are drawn from all classes — boys drawn to each other by sheer boredom and neglect.

Last week hundreds of boys in Belleville spent several nights and rang the front doors of virtually every home in the town. They were canvassing the town to sell a few more war bonds. They were Boy Scouts acting as "Gleaners for the Reapers," voluntarily taking up the cause of a clean-up squad to see if they could raise a few more dollars to help their Sam.

There was no fundamental difference between the boys of these two groups. The boys of both were of the stuff of which our heroes in Leyte and Germany are made. They had energy, initiative and a wish to do something in the community. They needed leadership and something to do. One group got it; the other did not.

They are thrown on their own in a world never happened before. Homes are dismantled; both parents often are workaholics; recreation is curtailed; there are no social parties, curtailed athletics. The boys are in the armed forces, but they are footloose. They are often headed for trouble.

Slack in a youth's life is often taken up by the Boy Scouts. He becomes a Scout in the troop meetings and projects. In the meetings he is consumed with the suggestions at the meetings for him to do. He is one of the most beneficial things in our times. Parents should encourage sons to join a troop and to take part in it.

Group leaders interested in boys should consider the possibility of starting and sponsoring troops. Any person, any parent, any service club, church, school, industrial plant, can start a troop. Scouting offers outdoor living, a training program, excitement and adventure and the chance to be useful, as more than ten million boys have found out.

Scouting has made useful citizens out of countless boys who would otherwise have amounted to little. The parents and elders of Belleville should cherish and foster the Boy Scout movement here as one of the most potent forces to worthy community life.

Calculated Bitterness

Coming home from the wars on V-day will be millions of men who will have gone through hell to make America a better place in which to live. Not all those who left these shores will return, for thousands have spilled their life's blood on an angry battlefield many miles from home.

But the ones who come back (and there will be enough to make their presence felt) will feel elation at a job well done and they will feel relief that their time to rest has come. They will also feel a bitter and undying resentment at many of their fellow-Americans who spent the war within the safe confines of their native shores, refusing to play their little part in the great struggle for freedom — indeed, often sabotaging it.

They will realize that most Americans made themselves worthy of the name and performed capably the duties which were laid on them at home. But rankling deep in their hearts will be a bitterness and a hatred for those who used this greatest crisis in our history to feather their own nests.

The lion's share of the resentment will be directed against the irresponsible labor barons and their spineless sheep who have used the stress of the war emergency to try to make of themselves the most powerful organized group in the nation.

Immediately after Pearl Harbor labor barons in all parts of the country started tossing out "no strike" pledges — it was the fashionable and patriotic thing to do. Every once in a while we are still treated to the laughable spectacle of some labor officials reaffirming with straight faces their "no strike" promises.

Yet not a day passes but that there is a work stoppage somewhere — and every strike deprives the real warriors of essential tools to complete their jobs. It is bad enough that the strikes are still occurring over petty grievances (most of them trumped up to further labor's throttlehold on the nation); why should we have to bear the pharisaic mouthings of these men who are truly traitors to their nation?

Stories of the bitterness which has been aroused among fighting men over these strikes continue to filter back to us. "Men who have never cursed, curse with anger" at hearing of the recent Wright strike which halted production on B-29 engines, wrote one soldier from Germany to a Newark newspaper.

The temperament of the GIs bodes little good for labor after the war. Even men who were once staunch laborites, have been disillusioned and ashamed of the workers of America. They know that much of what has been done has been brought about simply for the sake of strengthening the labor movement in order to provide neat livelihoods for racketeering labor barons.

Labor might well examine its conscience. Repentance for the harm it has done the war effort is too much to expect; reform out of patriotic motives is unthinkable. But labor might consider what might be its future when the men with whose lives it is toying return to grasp the reins of power in the United States. Pure business horse sense might accomplish what consciences never could.

Guidance of Youth

Elsewhere in this issue is a letter from the Guidance Director of the public schools. He asks that parents and guardians whose children are missing school unnecessarily consult the Guidance Laboratory so that the school and the home may compare notes and decide on the best way to assist the student to make the most of his schooling.

Every parent should take this message as addressed directly to him. In these busy days it is often difficult for a parent to fulfill all the obligations which are placed on him by virtue of his parenthood. Consultation with the professional guidance directors of the school system will help ease the burdens which are placed on parents.

More Schooling, Not Less

From Dr. Thomas J. Brosnan
 Guidance Coordinator
 Belleville High School
 To the Editor of The Times:

All over the country there is a great temptation to youth to lay down the pen and get behind the machine. The machine is an important instrument, but it was drafted on paper before it was forged in steel.

Any person is a better product behind the machine for spending his allotted time behind the pen. The machine age calls for more schooling rather than less. Shortage of labor present a "substitute" opportunity for our youth. Then war is no longer our major concern, the many present employment opportunities will not be available to youth.

Those young people who left school stand a very great chance of being left without employment. Where there is a choice of selection, employers invariably choose a person with more schooling — that person is more likely to be a safer operator behind a machine, and his product is more likely to be of better quality. It is regrettable that this situation exists. Those who have the responsibility of the guidance for the youth of America should exert every effort to direct youth toward continued schooling.

Numerous Temptations
 In our wartime emergencies and pressures, however, adults are taxed with increasing activities and responsibilities, and youth is confronted with varied and numerous temptations.

It is relatively easy for a young person to remain away from school to visit friends, to attend movies, to shop, and to travel in nearby cities. Frequently their parents or guardians assume that they are in school.

There is great need for the home and the school to "compare notes" or reasons for school absence. The school cannot be responsible for students who do not attend school; but the schools of Belleville, through their office of attendance, Mr. Wesley Schneegas, will perform a cooperative duty to parents by sending a written notice when a student is not in school.

The high school will welcome parents and guardians at the Guidance Laboratory (Telephone BE 2-4701) or write for appointments in order that no time will be lost in waiting to discuss specific problems of attendance.

The boys and the girls in the armed forces are repeatedly called upon for additional service. Those of us on the home front must cooperate with them in performing to our fullest ability these additional responsibilities and services which war demands.

The boys and the girls of today are the men and the women of tomorrow. They depend upon us for guidance. For the sake of America and the world peace, we must not fail them.

From Miss Ruth Robertson
 Passaic Avenue School
 To the Editor of The Times:

I am one of the teachers you criticized so sharply in your editorial last week. It seems there are many things you do not know about our schools, or you would have written differently.

Every teacher has her own field of extracurricular activities. Our schools have clubs well supervised. Both grade schools and high school can point with pride to outstanding performance of groups and individual pupils.

Consult the "Scholastic Press" ratings for our school newspapers, which represent many hours of work in compiling, stencil-cutting, and mimeographing by experienced editors, helped by teachers after school hours.

Attend an evening entertainment of music or dramatics, and head the results of two or three months' work by interested teachers.

This means arriving at 7:30 a.m. to supervise building of scenery, using lunch hour for consultation on costumes, staying as long as the school is open for rehearsals, and thinking out carefully, far into the nights, all the details which must be checked on the next days.

Not Drifting

I am one of the older teachers you accuse of "drifting along." Since November 13th, I have given 40 minutes of every lunch hour, and a varying amount of time after 3:15, to rehearsals for a Christmas cantata, which will be heard by possibly 30 interested parents and no one like you whose printed criticism is read by thousands, you hope. There are many holiday observances and assembly programs requiring such attention.

These are some of the activities which show. Much routine, taking hours after the school day, is part of the expected school work for a teacher.

Every English teacher in Belleville has 100 or more students. Can you guess how long it takes to proof-read 100 compositions at least twice a week in which spelling and punctuation are still to be hoped for? There is no time in the school day set aside for such work. In every classroom, from the first grade to the twelfth, there are at least five pupils who need extra help in the skills required to keep them working with their class.

No time for remedial work is provided. We do give such help. When? When the child asks for it! My telephone may ring at 8 p.m. "Please how do you find the area of a circle?" I have at times tutored a pupil over the summer, giving my time. Ethics prevent accepting the usual fee from one's pupils. So how can you say when a teacher's day is done? If we were paid overtime, the tax rate would undoubtedly go up.

Now as to the "neat" salary. I came here in 1932, having had five years' experience at $25 per week, minus deductions and cuts. An efficient budget recommends one week's wages monthly rent. Have you ever known an apartment in Belleville to rent for $25 per month? Now, after almost 13 years of hard work, I receive $36.54 per week with all deductions bringing it to $30.13. Would you describe that as "neat," attractive, satisfactory, motivating or adequate?

Paid for Education

Last summer I went to school to keep myself in step with modern trends. It cost me $286 for tuition, labs fees, and living expenses, while rent in Belleville went on.

What other public or private employee has to pay for his own further education? What other employee of town or private business would put up with an No. 11 per week raise over a period of 13 years of successful accomplishments?

A teacher has to be made of sturdy stuff so that the joy in achievement of her pupils compensates for low salaries and unwarranted criticism such as yours. It might be interesting to go back through your files and find how many editorials you have written, commending us for our share in helping train boys and girls who put Belleville on the map — or recognizing our value as bond-salesmen, salvage collectors, ration board drafters, Red Cross workers, social workers, or just plain friend to the boys and girls who needed one.

Your next editorial might well be "What have we as citizens given as incentives to teachers for loyal service?"

Last week's editorial, "Teaching is a Vocation," spoke of "some schools" and "many teachers," did not accuse or intend to accuse all teachers by any means. Many of them, fortunately for Belleville, are doing excellent work beyond the call of duty.

The editorial was based on reports from several schools of the difficulties involved in getting teachers to head some projects. The shoe was intended to be worn by those whom it fit.

Another big rush on Long Distance lines this Christmas

It was a big rush last year. It may be even bigger this Christmas.

So please help keep Long Distance lines clear for essential calls on December 24, 25 and 26.

War still needs the wires—even on holidays.

Today, and every day... far from home

This is a BIG farm year — Now Buy BIGGER Bonds.

Here are 6 big reasons for buying the most you can—$100, $500, $1,000 in the big 6th War Loan. War Bonds give you:

1. The best and safest investment in the world.
2. At maturity, $4.00 for every $3.00 you loan.
3. The convenience of cash—plus increase in value!
4. Funds to replace and restore worn-out farm equipment, soil fertility, and buildings.
5. Funds for educating your children; a nest-egg for your own security, travel, retirement.
6. The increased purchasing power vitally needed to win the Peace.

THEY still die—will YOU buy?

American farm boys are still giving their lives for you... you can help to save many of them

THE job is a long way from over yet. The toughest part for our fighting men may be just beginning. Surely the easiest part of the whole war effort is lending money. Have you done your share? The more and better equipment they have, the fewer lives will be lost.

War in the Pacific will probably be the costliest in history. Distances are vast; supplies and equipment must travel thousands of miles, in huge quantities, to many places. One battleship costs 108 million dollars. One B-29 to bomb Tokyo costs $600,000. Even one torpedo to sink a Jap ship costs $12,000.

Your dollars are needed now more than ever. Japan is fighting on fanatically for only one reason—they think our home-front is soft and will quit. They know they can't win, but they expect us to lose. Let's give them America's answer—in the 6th War Loan!

Buy the biggest War Bonds you can, NOW! It is a privilege you are lucky to have... and it will save lives.

ROMAGNE, France. — Helping to commemorate an American soldier dead, Pvt. Robert B. Schall, of 28 Mt. Prospect avenue, was a member of a firing squad that took part in the Armistice Day ceremony here at the largest overseas American cemetery of the first World War.

The cemetery is located on one of the famous battlefields of the Meuse-Argonne offensive which terminated the war 26 years ago. More than 14,000 American soldiers are buried at this cemetery, and every grave is marked either with a marble cross or a marble star of David.

A NINTH AIR FORCE FIGHTER-BOMBER BASE, France. — Behind a P-38 Lightning, dive-bombing and strafing German strong-points in the path of the U. S. First Army, is Sgt. Henry Sisbarro, an assistant crew chief responsible for mechanical functioning of the plane.

When Sgt. Sisbarro high-signs his pilot off on a combat flight, he knows that his fighter-bomber is in top-flying condition. The prop won't vibrate, the turbo-supercharger miss, the trim-tabs and tail wheels malfunction, because Sgt. Sisbarro has checked and tested those and thousands of other plane parts before every mission.

Sgt. Sisbarro works under field conditions at an advanced air-strip in France, and he's a stickler for exacting plane performance. He knows his pilot depends on him to keep the plane in top condition to withstand the strain 400-mile-an-hour strafing attacks and the recoil from his four .50 calibre guns and .20mm cannon.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sisbarro of 240 Passaic avenue.

Pvt. Louis H. Doell of 169 Linden avenue concluded a ten-day furlough here Sunday evening. He returned to 2nd Army headquarters in Memphis, Tenn. Pvt. Doell is the son of Mrs. Ludwig Doell.

Warrant Officer Joseph Distasio will return to Charleston, S. C., tonight after spending a week's leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Constantine Distasio of 145 Garden avenue.

Mr. Distasio, who is stationed aboard an Army hospital, arrived in Charleston November 29 after a trip from Naples, his third round-trip voyage of mercy to the European theater of operations.

Pvt. Raymond Kingsley is spending a brief furlough with his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Vogel Kingsley of 28 Belleville avenue, after returning from a tour of duty in England.

Pvt. Fred P. Underhill of 17 Magnolia street returned from the Pacific last week and is at the England General hospital in Atlantic City where he is undergoing treatment for wounds received last January.

Pvt. Underhill, who is 27, has been in the Army nearly four years and overseas three years. He was injured in combat in New Guinea.

AN AIR SERVICE COMMAND STATION, England. — T/Sgt. George E. Kistner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus G. Kistner of 450 Cortlandt street, recently enjoyed a seven day recess from aerial warfare at an ASC rest home.

The home is a remodeled English manor house where America's airmen who provide aerial cover for the advancing Allied armies in France may relax between missions.

Sgt. Kistner has completed fifteen missions over Nazi-dominated Europe. Before entering the Army he was employed as an apprentice wire weaver by the Eastwood-Neally corporation.

Home on furlough last week was Cpl. Alan Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Roberts of 33 Essex street. He is stationed at Camp Campbell, Ky.

Pvt. Joseph M. La Penta, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. La Penta of 68 Eugene place, has been posthumously awarded the silver star for gallantry in action. He was killed January 23.

The War department citation discloses that Pvt. La Penta, who was a scout with an assault unit, took command of his squad after both its non-commissioned leaders were wounded.

He advanced through artillery fire, barbed wire and mines to a point close to the enemy positions. From there he led the attack even though he was seriously wounded.

The American position became untenable, he kept up a protective fire to cover the withdrawal of his squad.

Pvt. La Penta was a machinist before he entered the Army in June 1943. He went overseas five months later and served in Africa before going to Italy.

Parent-Teacher Associations

Joralemon Street School
The association will commemorate Christmas at its Tuesday afternoon meeting which will be opened at 1:45. Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach of Christ Episcopal church will speak on the spirit of Christmas.

Carols will be led by Mrs. John Rudin with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Herbert L. Niles. Pupils who will appear on the program are Janet Rudin of the fifth grade, who will give a reading, and Joan Mosby, seventh grader, who will sing. Miss Agnes Gailey, teacher, will accompany Joan.

Hostesses are Mrs. William Giles, Mrs. John Reed, Mrs. Arthur Wickham and Mrs. William Kintzing. Pre-school children, accompanying their mothers, will be cared for during the program by Mrs. Merritt Johnson and Mrs. James Lammann.

Mrs. Everett B. Smith is chairman of the hospitality committee which will provide refreshments.

Conclusion of the membership drive will take place at this meeting and a cash award will be made to the classroom of mothers in the greatest percentage of mothers in attendance. Mrs. Matthew J. Sheehan is membership director.

Ralph Street School
An attendance of 200, including parents and high school students, was reported by Mrs. Peter Melchione at the Wednesday evening barn dance held in the school and sponsored by the association.

Modern and square dances were played by a Clifton band and the entire executive committee served under Mrs. Linwood Raymond, ways and means chairman, as workers for the affair. Miss Gloria Apicella and Miss Louise Bergman, teachers were in charge of publicity and programs. Also active in preparations was school principal Thomas Gryczka.

Funds will be used for milk and other necessities for needy children in the school, toward expenses of the yearly school play and a party for the graduating class. An award is also made each month to the class whose mothers attend PTA meeting in largest number.

Montgomery School
A Christmas social will follow the regular business meeting of PTA Two Tuesday evening at 8:15.

Graylock School
Mrs. Mildred Clarke and Miss Helen McNair will direct an operetta, "The Nativity," to be presented Monday at 2:30. Mrs. Catherine Speed will preside at the business meeting which will precede the play.

Franklin Avenue School
Following the regular meeting Tuesday night at 8, the newly-formed music club will present a tableau, "The Christmas Story" under the direction of Miss Leona Reed.

Soloists will be Miss Margaret Bunce, Mrs. George Stickle and Mrs. Harry Snyder. The reader will be Rev. O. W. Chapin of Montgomery Presbyterian church. The Girls' Glee Club of forty voices will sign part of the program. Pupils in the tableau are Herbert Haslam, Madeline Gabriel, Patricia Ford, Charles Searles, Edward Taylor, Jay Andrew, Lee Richardson, Robert Bolderman, William Johnson and Anthony Stefanelli.

Assisting the program chairman, Miss Margaret Patten, is Mrs. Ellen Angus. Miss Reed, Miss Patten and Mrs. Angus are teachers. Special guests will be Mrs. A. G. Ling and Mrs. John B. Eggenberger, president and vice president of Essex County PTA.
