

Educators Evaluate The High School

Mid-States Association Rating
Will Be Set By Report Of
Visiting Committee

An official evaluation of Belleville High school to determine its rating in the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary schools will be made next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday by a group of sixteen New Jersey educators headed by Dr. John P. Milligan, dean of instruction at New Jersey State Teachers college.

Although the high school has been a member of the Middle States association for a number of years, this will be the first official evaluation to be made by the association using evaluated criteria which were adopted as a basis for appraisal in 1939.

Previously, member institutions made their own evaluation by answering a questionnaire sent out yearly. Under the new system, each school on the accredited list is visited every five years for a thorough analysis. However, the war and transportation difficulties have postponed Belleville's appraisal.

Value Of Appraisal

The evaluation will be of value as a stimulation for both the teaching staff and students. Burt Johnson, acting high school principal, said yesterday. It will give Belleville's rating in comparison with other communities, will reveal the strong and weak points in the system and will provide college entrance preferences for students if it is retained on the accredited list.

An oral report of the committee's findings will be made next Thursday afternoon. Every department will be evaluated and weighed as compared with the philosophy of the school and as compared with the average school in the middle states association. The results obtained will either continue the school as an accredited institution, or place it on the probationary list or throw it out of the association.

The evaluation will be composed of detailed questions compiled for all divisions of the institution which include the practicality of the educational philosophy, school plant and buildings, course of study, curriculum, instruction, outcome of educational progress, the teaching staff, school administration, pupil activity, library, pupil population in the community and guidance service.

Mr. Johnson said yesterday that the teaching staff evaluated the school last year, using the association's basis of appraisal, and has just finished a second evaluation which will be used and checked for an official verdict by the visiting committee.

In addition to Dr. Milligan, chairman, the committee of educators is composed of Dr. Guy Hilleboe, supervising principal at Rutherford, vice-chairman; George Bainbridge, principal, Harrington Park; Harmon M. Bradford, acting principal, Branch; Miss Dorcas Bartley, Spaulding, Bergenfield; Arje M. Hawley, English department, Battin High school, Elizabeth; Miss Grace M. Kennedy, head of commercial, Lincoln High school, Jersey City; Edson J. Lawrence, head of languages, Bloomfield; Mrs. Virginia Lintern, vice-principal, Bound Brook; Frank McGrath, history department, Newark academy; Mrs. Mabel H. Merritt, science department, Garfield; True C. Morrell, supervising principal, Park Ridge; Dr. Ferdinand A. Orthen, registrar, St. Peter's College High school, Jersey City; Floyd A. Potter, county superintendent, Atlantic county, Mays Landing; Dr. Gregory Schramm, guidance, St. Benedict's Preparatory school, Newark and S. Thomas Traina, vice-principal, James J. Ferris High school, Jersey City.

BOARD TO IMPROVE CONDITIONS IN CORBIN GARDENS

Commission to Correct Garbage Disposal, Allow All-Night Parking

An ordinance requiring sunken garbage cans or cans inclosed within the building area in four to ten family units, a possible motor vehicle ordinance allowing all-night parking on Carpenter street and court action by the health officer on garbage and insufficient heating complaints are measures proposed by the board of commissioners at the conference meeting Tuesday night, to correct conditions at the Corbin Garden apartments.

Thomas Foy, chairman of the tenants' association there, appeared before the board, with charges that conditions are due to negligence of the health officer, building inspector and town commission. Public Safety Director King recommended the garbage disposal plan as a substitute for the present method in which 68 cans are permanently housed in lean-tos on the sidewalk line of the crescents. Action by the health officer where violations of the sanitary code are present, was recommended by Public Works Director Waters who stated that if the owner, Louis Kaye of Brooklyn "receives enough court fines" he will hasten to correct conditions.

Numerous Grievances

Foy who outlined the numerous grievances of the tenants, and bore out his testimony with pictures of conditions, stated that no action has been taken on the repeated complaints.

Charging that "Mr. Kaye is a chisler" and that he "acquired the property under false pretenses" by not executing proposed building plans, Foy reminded the commissioners that property owners in New York City are heavily fined for an infraction of the violations existing in the apartments and advised them to compare the situation in Corbin Gardens with garden apartments in Kearny and Nutley.

He listed among the grievances, digression from the original plans in construction, which involves the external facade, insufficient parking area, lack of boiler room partitions, storage bins and garbage disposal facilities. Lack of services he said, included insufficient heat and hot water, ash removal, upkeep and landscaping.

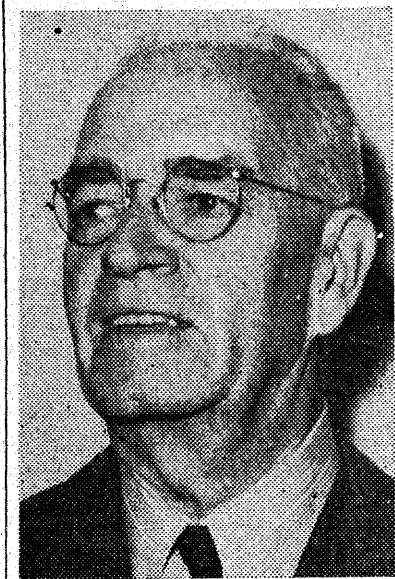

Town Attorney Keenan stated that he will check the alleged discrepancies between the building plans and actual construction but observed that the commission does not have the power to dictate additional parking facilities on privately owned property. He said that ash removal and presence of garbage sheds can be checked with existing laws to determine whether these are violations and suggested that the tenants keep a record of insufficient heat next winter as a basis for complaints.

Foy stated that the tenants' association was formed after tickets were received last February for all-night parking on Carpenter street. Although a conference with Mayor Williams and Police Chief Spatz resulted in agreement to waive tickets because of insufficient parking areas on the property, Foy asked for more definite assurance against fines. He related an incident in which a police officer threatened to hand out tickets in spite of the verbal agreement with the heads of the department. He also indicated that a 40 foot area between the north and south buildings could provide room for an additional 40 cars.

Foy also observed that the owner must have had a permit to build the garbage lean-tos and stated that these are placed on land, dedicated to the town by the owner. Keenan questioned this however, stating he believes it is owned by Kaye.

Vogel of 347 Little street and Mrs. George R. Gerard of 35 Rossmore place will be vice-chairmen, according to an announcement by Frank J. McFadden, general chairman.

Their appointments at this time are in line with the drive committee's policy of early organization this year. The three nominees will start immediately to organize a committee and will work throughout the summer planning their campaign so that the home canvass can start promptly on the first of October.

Mr. Powers was associated with the American Telephone and Telegraph company for 42 years, retiring in 1942. He is a member of the Life Membership club of the Telephone Pioneers of America. He is deputy supervisor of Junior Achievement in Belleville and is a member of the Civilian Defense Ambulance corps. Iwo Jima Survivor Says Battle Indescribable

James Tully, Platoon Officer,
Invaded Jap-Filled
Caves On Island

A battle-weary survivor of Iwo Jima, Platoon Sgt. James J. Tully has written, "There isn't a word in the dictionary that could describe the fighting."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tully of 143 Bell street, Tully will be remembered as the founder and first president of the Belleville High school alumnae association in 1940 and his entrance in the commission race of 1942 in which he polled over 3,500 votes to put him in eighth place.

To his brother William, of 32 Hewitt avenue, he has written, "I've killed one Jap for each of you and some to spare. We had a field day out here. We had holes up in caves all over the place. It was in every sense of the word a bloody battle—I went on a lot of combat patrols and had to go into a lot of caves. I've been so close to live Japs that I could have shaken hands with them."

The 27 year old enlistee in the Marines says he has "the biggest prize of all"—an officer's sword, almost equalled by a Jap flag that has the commanding officer's writing on it and that of every man in his company. Then there are other reminders of the island, a Jap rifle, a hari kari knife, insignias, money and a Jap dress cap for his nephew.

"I saw a few commie hari kari," he said, "and I saw plenty of them blow themselves up with their own hand grenades when

Four Votes Restore Police Department To King After Mayor, Not Voting, Assumes Dramatic Role

Pile of Clothes Bundles at Stadium

MOUND OF BUNDLES at municipal stadium this week, contributions to the drive for clothes to be sent to Europeans, is shown above, with custodian George DeVito. The pile which has been picked up from collection depots in churches, schools, town garage and Girl Scout headquarters, was approximately seven feet high and 55 feet long before the job of sorting and packing was begun. Additions are made daily, as calls are made to the Defense Council office in town hall, for pick-ups.

House Canvass For Clothes Slated For This Sunday

Twenty Tons of Used Apparel Are Already Collected; Drive Officials Hope
To Meet 75 Ton Quota

A house-to-house canvass on Sunday from 9 to 2 o'clock will wind up Belleville's drive for 75 tons of used by wearable clothing to be sent to destitute peoples of Europe. The Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach, drive chairman, has announced that 20 tons have already been collected and the bulk of this amount has been sorted and packed, ready for shipment.

The house canvass will be made under the direction of Charles Nutt, collection chairman and will be announced via police radio car in all sections of town on Sunday morning. In the event of rain the pickup will be postponed until Sunday, May 6. Boy scouts and school children are also reminding residents of the town-wide collection this week. Contributions are to be placed on the curb at 9 o'clock.

What To Give

All kinds of men's, women's and children's inner and outer clothing can be used. However, women's hats, high heel or open shoes, and pocket books are not on the requested list. Contributions of gloves, shoes, socks, suits, children's play suits, and any apparel of two or more pieces should be firmly tied together, James Lampman, sorting and processing chairman, has said, to facilitate handling.

Mr. Lampman also requests organizations to volunteer an average of ten members for specified nights for the next two weeks to aid in the tremendous job of sorting the clothing at municipal stadium. So far members of Sisterhood AAA, Fewsouth Women's Guild, Fire Reserves, Craftsmen, American Legion and Petrean club have donated their services and the Boy Scouts of Fewsouth church are scheduled for tonight. However many more volunteers are needed for the work which must be completed promptly since all collections in this area must be cleaned and shipped overseas by the end of next month, according to the Treasury department which is directing the nation-wide drive.

Last Friday morning, before much sorting had been done, a seven foot pile of clothing extended for about 50 feet through the center of the long, narrow enclosure under the bleachers at the stadium. The garments are divided into lots for infants up to three years, children three to eight; women and girls nine years and over, men and boys nine years and over.

Predominating were sturdy winter coats and men's suits in good condition as well as leggings and

An urgent appeal has been made by clothing drive officials for the following:

Williams Fails to be "Explicit" But Puts on Good Show Without Drawing Response

Jurisdiction of the police department was returned to Public Safety Director King on Tuesday night with the unanimous vote of four commissioners on the resolution introduced two weeks ago by Public Affairs Director Mertz. It was laid over at that time on the request of Parks and Public Property Director Noll.

Mayor Williams who has had control of the department since last October, following the grand jury presentment,

Public Hearing on Salary Guide For Teachers Monday Night

A public hearing for interested taxpayers will be held on the proposed salary guide for teachers in the Belleville school system on Monday evening in School No. 8 at 8 o'clock. The meeting has been called by the board of education since adoption of the guide will mean an increase in the school budget.

It is understood that although teachers with long years of experience object to the basis of raises which is predicated on the possession of degrees the majority in a poll taken yesterday, are in favor of adoption of the guide by the school board.

CLEAN-UP WEEKS APRIL 30 - MAY 12

Public Affairs Director Mertz
Designates Period For
Rubbish Disposal

Public Affairs Director Mertz has designated April 30 to May 12 as Clean-up Weeks in Belleville, a yearly period set aside to enable residents to dispose of rubbish not ordinarily picked up in the usual refuse collections.

Bellevillites are urged to clean out unwanted articles in their cellars, attics, garages and yards during the next two weeks. The articles, placed in containers at the curb on regular garbage collection days, will be picked up at that time. Branches from trees should be tied in bundles for easy handling, and extra trucks will be used for the collection, Mertz said yesterday.

In addition to cleaning out unwanted debris, observation of the two week period in every household will be a safeguard to health, and contribute much toward fire prevention, the commissioner said.

Eric Would Change Station At Belwood Park Stop

An Eric railroad proposal to change the Belwood Park station to a non-agency station and to replace the station building with a shelter will be heard by the Public Utilities commission on Tuesday morning, May 29, at 11 o'clock. Parks and Public Property Director Noll will represent the town at the hearing.

Caught Short of Defense in Aerial Tussle With Nips

AMM 1-c George Hoffman
Tells of Four to One Battle
With Turret Gun Jammed

A graphic description of what it's like to be zoomed over by four Jap fighter planes with only one small turret gun and .38 caliber pistols for defense, has been given by AMM 1-c George A. Hoffman, who has concluded his leave after a tour of duty in the the Far West Pacific area.

The son of Mrs. Augusta Hoffman of 22 Harrison street, George is a member of a Navy torpedo squadron that battled the Jap Navy in the second battle of the Philippine Sea. He has been on nineteen missions that have taken him to French Indo China, the Philippines, Hong Kong harbor, Kowloon, Formosa and Amio Shima.

However, in spite of the range of latitude, and attendant experiences, George, a turret gunner, picks his first incendiary raid on small as the one that was really snafu. They had just left their carrier and joined the first section of their flight outside the screen of destroyers when in a routine test, he found that his turret jammed on the first round.

Drive On Manila
After a couple of hours of useless prying to dislodge the jammed cartridge, George found that they were over Manila, and declined to vote and also failed to follow through on his threat to be "very explicit" on conditions in the department which he claims have jeopardized his personal character. His threat referred to his alleged association with proposed gambling elements in town and the resulting presentment which he claimed as an indictment of King.

Before the vote Tuesday night, the Mayor said that he is continuing his investigations although he is having some difficulty in getting the story. "When I have the complete situation and after I consult with the town counsel, if there are bases for charges against some members of the department, it is not only in my jurisdiction but also my duty to make them," he declared. "That I propose to do. If I can get some citizens to do their civic duty in reporting the facts, it will be a help. However, I can't make them. The Mayor will keep a strong supervisory eye on the police department," he added.

Cites Religion

Assuming the dramatic role of one who has suffered and been accused unjustly, the Mayor said, "Fortunately I am temperamentally so constructed that I can adhere to the principles of my religion. I hope the characters of other members (of the board) will not be jeopardized." Failure of King to consult with the full board on the rumors was scored by Williams who said all had been pledged to discuss all business with the full board. "It is a matter of conscience between these members and the taxpayers," he observed.

Working into a moderate pitch of righteous wrath, the Mayor then, strode over to King, and waving papers under his nose, declared, "I wonder if the commissioner knew at the time of his conference (with Waters) that the Mayor was prepared to enter the service of the United States government. This shows I wasn't interested in receiving $200 from gamblers. My wife and I were prepared to enter the Red Cross service in foreign territory." He then explained that after four physical examinations, he had been refused.

Williams also stated that King "failed to manage the department consistent with good organization by the transfer of men on the police desk without the knowledge of the police chief. 'I hope the chief will be consulted as head of the department,'" he stated.

Writes Names

In another dramatic episode he accused King of jeopardizing his character with men interested in the erection of apartments in Riviera Park. Although he said he had permission from one of the individuals to relate the story, he wrote the names of the two men involved, on slips of paper which he had delivered from his desk to King's.

Saying that the restoration of the department "may have something to do with the ordinances I have proposed," the Mayor stated that he will send copies of the three ordinances to board members and will welcome constructive suggestions and amendments. Referring to the rumors that he wrote out Recorder Clerk Fred Handlon, the Mayor said it is "not primarily to eliminate someone from his job, but to centralize all records of the detective bureau and department in one place and save from $2,800 to $3,000 a year."

He also elaborated on the need to fill police and fire department vacancies with the most competent men available through examinations and to advance them in rank in the same manner. The third ordinance introduces a school traffic squad to which partially disabled veterans of World War II would be eligible.

At the conclusion of the lengthy episode, the other four commissioners who had not spoken, broke silence only long enough to vote "aye" on the Mertz resolution.

A WORD OF CAUTION

To the Veteran who wishes to buy a home:—

So, you're back from the wars. And you think you'll buy your own home. That's good judgment. A home in the U. S. A. is about the world's best investment.

Now, how to go about it? There are risks, but there are ways to avoid them, too. Your Government has seen to that. For example, the Veterans Administration will guarantee an equity loan for servicemen, which is usually more than enough as a down payment.

Then, we recommend an FHA Insured Mortgage loan to finance the balance of the purchase price. Why FHA? Why not some other kind of mortgage loan? Well, because of those risks we've just mentioned.

Prices of homes are inflated in certain areas. You might be led to pay a certain price today and later find you had paid far more than the long-range value of the place. But when FHA analyzes such transactions, ap-praises the property on a long-range view of the market, and agrees to insure a mortgage for a certain amount, you can be fairly sure the risk is a good one. Just remember that the Federal Housing Administration won't take a risk that you shouldn't take.

And there are other advantages in FHA financing. Terms as long as 20 to 25 years. Reasonable interest rate. Moderate monthly payments which include a portion of principal, interest, taxes, fire and hazard insurance. Whether you buy a home already built now, or one newly built later on, finance it the safe way—the FHA way.

Our welcome mat is out to servicemen. Come in and consult us any time—and entirely without obligation.

NAZI PRISONERS' DIET PUBLISHED

Unrationed Meats and Vegetables On Menu For Captives Here

German prisoners of war in the Second Service Command are going to eat a lot of fatback, sausage, cabbage, carrots, and beans, under provisions of a new monthly rotational menu distributed this week by Service Command Headquarters to all installations concerned.

The men's distribution closely followed a conference of army post food service supervisors, at which was disclosed that fresh meat in the diets of German prisoners would be limited to hearts, liver, and kidneys; that substitutes for scarce and rationed foods would be used wherever possible, and that the "no work, no eat" policy would continue to be strictly enforced.

The new menu, to be used as a 31-day standard with substitutions as may be required to meet local food availability, calls for liver on five occasions, hearts on three occasions, and fish on three occasions.

The menu prescribes that when fresh vegetables are available, they must be substituted for canned vegetables.

Here is a typical menu:

Breakfast — apples, oatmeal, fresh milk, coffee cake, oleomargarine, coffee.
Dinner — liver, boiled potatoes, sauerkraut, lettuce salad with dressing, bread, oranges, coffee.

Supper — baked beans with fatback, boiled cabbage, fried potatoes, string bean and onion salad with dressing, bread, raisin twists, coffee.

But it was for a breather only, since they zoomed up from below, "making a run for our plane and trying to knock us down for the Rising Sun," he said. The pilot did some fancy zig and zagging while the radioman kept up his tiny stream of fire from the tunnel gun, and they took a steep dive to keep the Japs away from the underside of the ship.

Ready for another round with the pesky Nips, this time with their pistols cocked, the crew was preparing for the showdown round when four Navy fighters zoomed out of a cloud above, to "save our necks," he related. Bellevillites In Uniform

Pvt. William T. Schaible, Headquarters Battery, 803rd Field Artillery Battalion, Camp Bowie, Texas, has been promoted to Technician, Fifth Grade. He was inducted August 8, 1944 and is the son of Mrs. Theresa Schaible of 102 William street.

In the capable and experienced hands of men of the 57th Signal Battalion rests a large share of responsibility for maintenance of communications for the U. S. Seventh Army in Gen. Jacob L. Devers' 6th Army Group in Germany.

Cpl. Arthur Lackner Jr. of 190 Linden avenue is one of the veterans of D-Day landings at Salerno and Anzio in Italy, in southern France, these communications experts know what it means to work hard and move fast. "Men of the battalion have met every demand on skill and energy," said Lt. Col. Arthur C. Hill, commanding officer. "In a recent six-week period, when troop movement called for extra effort, our construction companies laid 554 miles of telephone cable, 597 miles of field wire, and took over and rehabilitated 2,145 miles of French wire."

Seaman 2/c Ralph Citarello, of 19 Mount Pleasant avenue and Seaman 2/c Roy A. Werder of 61 Welber street have completed their recruit training at the Naval training center, Sampson, N. Y., and have been granted leave. Upon their return to the base, they will be eligible for further assignment which may qualify them for a petty officer rating.

Pfc. Hugh Dunlop, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Dunlop of 52 Wallace street, after fighting Japs in the jungles of the Solomons and the open fields of Leyte, can now add street fighting with the Nips to his score of combat experiences in the Pacific.

As spearhead of this division's amphibious assault on the island of Cebu, Dunlop's company was the first unit to hit the beach a short distance from Cebu city, second largest metropolis in the Philippines. Knifing their way through a maze of land mines strewn over the beach, Dunlop and fellow doughboys gained the main highway shortly after the initial assault and swept through to the city in a lightning-like advance that left the Japs no time to prepare an organized defense.

Serving as a scout with the 132nd Infantry Regiment of the veteran American division, Dunlop has been overseas ten months.

When the 321st B-25 Mitchell Bomb Group of the 12th Air Force in the Mediterranean Theater recently announced the completion of two full years of combat operations, one of the men assigned to the group who helped observe the anniversary was T/Sgt. Rocco F. Milano, who is serving as aviation crew chief. His home is at 97 Passaic avenue.

Sgt. Milano's group has flown combat duty in the Tunisian, Sicilian, Italian and Southern France campaigns and holds five campaign stars, as well as a War department citation for distinguished service in battle.

Howard M. Byles Jr. of 297 Union avenue has been promoted to the grade of Sergeant, according to an announcement made by the commanding officer of the Fifteenth Air Force Service Command Air Force Service Group in Italy. Sgt. Byles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Byles of the same address. He is in the Finance section of a service group headquarters of the Fifteenth Air Force Service Command. He has been overseas since August 1943 and has two campaign stars on his European-African-Middle-east service ribbon. In civilian life, Sgt. Byles was a student at Franklin and Marshall college.

Landing under Japanese fire, Cpl. John M. Geidosch of Belleville was a member of an advanced detachment of the Fifth Air Force Service Command troops that went ashore in the Philippine landing on D plus two. For approximately a week the service command troops, all air force ground crew members, remained dug in on the beach while undergoing Jap bombing and strafing attacks.

During the period on the beach, the service troops helped to build the Tacloban air strips for fighter planes. Work was carried on under constant enemy aerial attack and adverse weather conditions.

Upon completion of the landing strip, service command troops began servicing and maintaining all aircraft, in performance of the Fifth Air Force Service Command's mission. Cpl. Geidosch's wife, Mrs. Mary Boehne Geidosch and son, John, live at 11 Forest street. He is the son of Mrs. Tina Geidosch of 57 Magnolia street, Newark.

S/Sgt. Watson W. Van Horn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore H. Van Horn of 364 Little street, is serving as a classification clerk with a Headquarters Squadron of a Troop Carrier Service Wing somewhere in France.

Service Wing, commanded by Col. Franklin S. Henley, repairs and services the planes and gliders of US Troop Carrier forces, headed by Maj. Gen. Paul L. Williams.

These planes and gliders have played an important part in the European war by dropping paratroops and supplies at strategic times and places. Especially significant was their part in helping to save the American garrison at Bastogne during Rundstedt's all out counter offensive. Sky trains of C-47's dropped paratroops of food, ammunition and medical supplies to troops of this beleaguered city, thus relieving the critical supply shortage.

Sgt. Van Horn was graduated from Cornell university in 1941. Prior to entering the Army in August, 1942, he was group insurance field representative for the Travelers Insurance company, Hartford, Conn. He was a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity and has

PFC. ADAM REID GETS BRONZE STAR Also Holds American Defense Medal, Good Conduct And ETO Ribbons

Pfc. Adam F. Reid, light machine gunner of Company "C", 771st Tank Battalion, was recently

ly awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service in action against the enemy in Germany. Pfc. Reid also holds the American Defense Medal, the Good Conduct ribbon and the ETO ribbon, the latter for his participation in the general battle of Europe.

The citation of the award was signed by Maj. Gen. A. R. Bolling, commander of the 84th Infantry Division and the Medal was presented to Pfc. Reid by his Battalion Commander, Lt. Col. Jack C. Childers.

The Citation reads: "On March 2, 1945, in the vicinity of St. Tonis, Germany, when the tank in which Pfc. Reid was a crew member, was hit by an anti tank gun and was destroyed by fire, Pfc. Reid refused to return to the rear. Instead he made his way forward several hundred yards in the face of heavy enemy fire to where two other tanks in his company had been destroyed and several men wounded.

Gave First Aid

"He assisted in removing these men from their tanks and in giving first aid. He then helped to lead the wounded men on the rear deck of the tank to evacuate them. Some of the area that the tanks had to cover to get to the road was mined and Pfc. Reid proceeded on foot to observe for any mines. Pfc. Reid's utter disregard for his own personal safety to aid his wounded comrades reflect high credit upon himself and the military service."

Pfc. Reid who makes his home with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reid of 35 Mertz avenue, recently wrote, asking for a new set of pictures of his six-year old nephew, Tommy. His only reference to the event which brought him the citation was that Tommy's pictures were burned up in the tank which was "shot out from under them."

Pfc. Reid is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reid formerly of town. Twenty-nine years old, he was graduated from Barringer High school, Newark, and entered the service in August, 1941, going overseas last October. He was employed by the New Jersey Bell Telephone company in Newark in civilian life.

Coxswain Alexander Munro, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Munro of 280 Washington avenue, is on thirty day leave here after twenty months in the Southwest Pacific where he took part in three major engagements.

Coxswain Munro, crew member of a fleet tender, is 20. He entered the Navy two years ago after being employed by the American Stores company in Newark. He attended Belleville High school.

Pfc. Ernest Caruso of 672 Belleville avenue is spending a thirty day convalescent furlough at home. One of the first to land on D-Day with the Fourth Infantry division of Lieut. Gen. Patton's Third Army, Pfc. Caruso was wounded by shrapnel last July 15.

He has a nerve injury in his shoulder which deprives him of the use of his right hand. Since returning to the states last January Caruso has been a patient at O'Reilly General hospital in Springfield, Mo.

Pfc. Caruso entered the service in June, 1941, training at Camp Wheeler, Fort Benning and Camp Gordon in Georgia, Camp Gordon Johnston and Fort Jackson. He went overseas in January, 1944. He has three brothers in service, Henry a corporal in England; Louis, a private stationed in South Carolina and Adelphi, aviation machinist's mate third class, at Pensacola, Fla.

John A. Hellings, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Hellings of 121 Fairway avenue, fighting in the St. Nazaire-Lorient pockets in France, has been promoted to the rank of private first class. He is a member of the 66th Black Panther division which is one of the Allied units fighting 60,000 Germans on France's Atlantic wall.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kerr of 260 Hornblower avenue have received word from their son, Fred, that he has been promoted to the rank of sergeant at his station in Germany. He is a paratrooper in the famous 82nd Airborne division and has participated in the Holland invasion, the battle of the Belgian bulge and the latest air landings in Germany. A graduate of Belleville High school in 1941, he entered service in December, 1942 and went overseas in May of the following year.

The TRANSPORTS OF WAR Require Thousands of Lights

Every ship—every plane—every tank must have means of illumination. Some of these lights are of gigantic size and some are as diminutive as the tip of a finger. Gas is used to mold the glass. The uniformity of gas heat gives uniform results. Since the slightest irregularity is cause for rejection, and rejections slow production, gas is given preference in war plants making this equipment. Gas has made an outstanding contribution to New Jersey's fine record for war production work.

Team Forms For Play in Rec And CYO Circuit Competition

Under the supervision of Thomas Dunn the boys of St. Peter's grammar school have formed a baseball team in the local school league sponsored by the town Department of Recreation.

This team will also represent St. Peter's in CYO-sponsored baseball competition.

The older boys of the parish CYO unit will also be active in baseball. This will be in the CYO baseball league which will go on during the summer months. They are also organizing to form softball teams which will represent St. Peter's in the Belleville Recreation Intermediate Softball league. Joseph Parsells is coach and Leo Jack is helping out in hardball.

Not to be outdone by the boys, the girls are forming a softball team of their own. This team for girls under eighteen years will enter in CYO-sponsored competition. Eleanor Maguire and Ruth Dacey will assist the girls in forming a team.

St. Peter's CYO Presents Play In County Competition

Last night the one act play "Thank You, Doctor" was put on by the CYO of St. Peter's parish. It was one of three plays in CYO competition at Blessed Sacrament auditorium, East Orange.

The host parish gave their entry first, entitled "Chiselers Three." St. Mary's parish of Nutley came next with the play "Sweet Sixteen." Last on the program was the local entry. Since the first play was put on at eight o'clock there was no possibility of learning the decision of the judges on the winner in the competition.

The local cast included Paul McConnell, Maureen Bell, William Field, Kathleen Owens and Colin Little.

Sgt. Charles Gillen Missing, Now Reported War Prisoner

A postcard, dated February 6, has been received by Mrs. Margaret Gillen of 571 Washington avenue from her son, Sgt. Charles H. Gillen who was reported missing in Luxembourg by the War department December 22, is now a German prisoner of war.

Sgt. Gillen's message told his mother that he expected to be moved to another prison camp and advised her to wait for a new address before writing him.

He was captured while serving with the 28th Infantry division in Luxembourg. Stationed in England and Wales after his arrival overseas in October 1943, he entered the continent in the Normandy invasion on D day.

Sgt. Gillen entered service April 1, 1941 before which he was with the Monahan Construction company in Newark. He was graduated from West Side high school in that city and made his home there with an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Gillen.

FAMILY HEARS CANDURA SAFE

No Direct Word From Him But Telegram, Friends, Give News

The story of the liberation of Sgt. Henry Candura from a German prison camp has been confirmed by the War department, by one of his friends who has been flown home, and by another friend still overseas, but the soldier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Candura of 16 Washington avenue are still awaiting direct word from him.

Mrs. Candura said yesterday that she received a war department telegram on Tuesday, saying Henry had been "returned to military control" on March 30. A fuller story of the sergeant who with five other local boys was taken prisoner at the Battle of the Belgium Bulge last December, has been told by Sgt. Paul Johnson of Cranford now hospitalized at Fort Dix.

Sgt. Johnson called Mrs. Candura to say that when he was flown out of Europe on Easter Sunday, one of his last actions was to get a cigarette from her son who looked "pretty husky" and "in good condition." He told her that as prisoners, they had been walked for two days, loaded into cattle cars, 60 to a car without food, and taken to a camp (probably Bad Orb) where commissioned officers, non-coms and privates were separated.

Sgt. Daniel Miller of Wycoff, who trained with Henry has also written saying that they met in Germany and that Henry has a V-mail on the way. In letters and a cablegram to his mother, Sgt. Miller has told her not to write since he will be home before her letters can reach him.

GIRL SCOUTS AID IN PROGRAM

New Plan Will Give All Troop Members Voice In National Activities

Every member of the Girl Scout organization in Belleville from seven year old Brownies to council members will have an opportunity to participate in planning for the work of Girl Scouting throughout the nation during 1946 and 1947, according to a plan announced this week by Mrs. George R. Gerard, scout commissioner. "The two year plan of work for Girl Scouting will be formulated during May and June," Mrs. Gerard stated. "Both Girl Scout adults and Girl Scouts here and all over the country will share in building the nation-wide plan of work and this plan once completed and adopted, will in turn be used as a basis for formulating the program for each council."

This is believed to be the first time that a national membership organization comprised principally of children, has ever undertaken a comprehensive poll of its members as an aid to determining its course of action. The theme for the 1946-47 plan will be "active citizenship."

The scouts have already begun their plans, all of which will be formulated at regular meetings during the next two months. They will be asked to list at least four things they have done during the past year that have helped them to become more active citizens, things which they as individuals and members of the troop want to do in the immediate future, and things they think Girl Scouts throughout the country could do in the next two years to promote active citizenship.

Adult members—leaders, committee and council members and members of regional and national committees will also assist in the preparation of the nation-wide program which will be announced in the fall.

Dr. O. Bell Close Pastor Emeritus Upon Retirement

The Rev. Dr. O. Bell, pastor of the Fewsmith Presbyterian church who is retiring in October, will continue as pastor emeritus, an honorary title only, in recognition of his 21 years of service at Fewsmith.

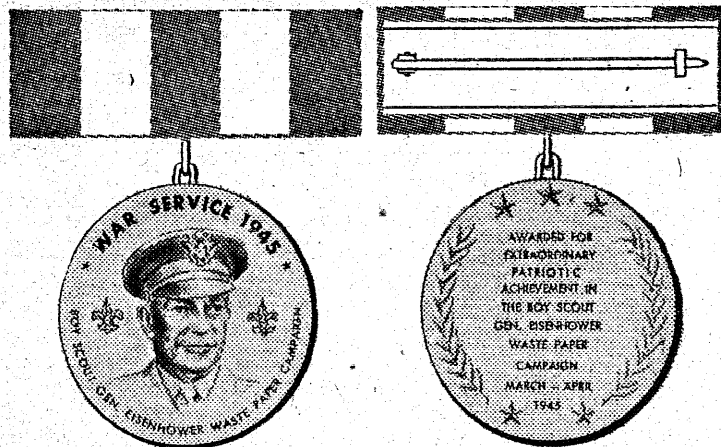

Dr. Close celebrated his golden jubilee in the ministry in November of last year, using the same psalm verse from which he preached his first sermon at the age of 17. Then, surrounded by members of his family and neighbors in the Cumberland mountains of Tennessee, he spoke in the tiny Snow Hill church on the words, "The Lord hath done great things to us whereof we are glad."

He founded Fewsmith 21 years ago, purchasing the property and building the church and congregation which now number 800 members.

John Regh Named Chairman Of Memorial Day Committee

The Memorial Day committee had its organization meeting Tuesday night in town hall when John J. Regh, V.F.W. commander-elect was named chairman and John Gannon, secretary. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday night, May 8, in town hall.

Gen. Eisenhower Medal

AWARD WHICH WILL BE MADE to Boy Scouts for outstanding waste paper collections is the Gen. Eisenhower medal shown above, front and back views. All Scouters and Cubs who collect 1,000 pounds or more of the salvagable paper are eligible for the award. Reports of all troops in Belleville will be made by May 1. To date, 40 Scouts and cubs will get the award.

Forty Scouts And Cubs Now Eligible For Awards

Outstanding Waste Paper Collections in Cub Packs 350 and 307

A preliminary check-up reveals that approximately 40 Scouts and Cubs in the Belleville District will receive the General Dwight D. Eisenhower award for individually collecting 1000 or more pounds of paper during the campaign period March 1 to April 30.

The first application for the award to arrive at the Council Office is that of Cub Pack 350, Fewsmith church, in behalf of Alfred Fox, 5 Bell St., who has collected 1200 pounds of paper. It has also been reported that Cub Pack 307 sponsored by the P.T.A. of School No. 7, has collected nearly two tons of paper. It is hoped that the awards can be made at the Public Court of Honor to be held in May.

Because Waste Paper is so greatly needed, the Scouts are asked to redouble their efforts during the last weeks of the campaign. Some of the Scouts are using the proceeds to defray their expenses at Camp. In some cases the funds are donated to worthy charities.

Citizens of Belleville who are contributors to the Belleville Community Chest and Council war fund drive will be glad to know that through their contributions they have participated in making Cubbing available to more boys than ever before in Belleville's whole Scouting history. Today 186 boys 9 to 11 years of age are happily engaged in this program.

Wesley men and Boy Scout Troop 301 of that church will sponsor a play, "Ma Conquers Rationing and Pa Conquers Ma," tomorrow night at 8:15. The cast will be composed of players from the Christ Reformed church, Newark. Tickets may be obtained from any scout or committeeman or at the door.

Belleville Youth In College

Miss Barbara Currie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Currie of 305 Union avenue, has been voted sophomore queen at Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind. where she is a home economics student. Miss Currie was graduated from Montclair High school in 1943; but previously attended Belleville High school.

Miss Currie is also one of six students from the State of New Jersey who were among the 458 students at Purdue, who won the "Distinguished Student" rating for scholastic achievement during the past term which closed the latter part of February.

In order to be rated as a "Distinguished Student," the highest scholastic honor offered by the university, it was necessary for a student to maintain a scholastic index of 5.00, or above, which approximates an average of 90.

Notice that he had been appointed to the Dean's list at Franklin and Marshall college came to the parents of Seaman 1/c Donald Rochlin of 353 Washington avenue last week.

Seaman Rochlin, a sophomore at the college where he was a pre-medical student, left at the conclusion of the March term to join the Navy. Now a radar technician, he is in boot training at Great Lakes, Ill.

Miss Lynne Rader, daughter of Mrs. Florence Rader of 82 Division avenue, a senior at New Jersey State Teachers college is a member of the college's war loan drive committee which has a quota of $10,000.

Teachers To Blame

Public school superintendents and teachers seem to be perturbed over the passage of a bill which would make teaching of American history mandatory in New Jersey high schools. They say the curriculum of schools is not a proper subject for legislation but should be left to educators.

Ip this they are doubtless right. Unfortunately, however, they would be in a less vulnerable position if they themselves had made a better job of public education. The American people have spent millions of dollars on their public schools and have accorded to their school authorities, from boards of education down to kindergarten teachers, a reverence they have not given other public servants. Yet the results of this freedom of action are considerably short of what the public is entitled to.

Educators themselves are the first to admit the shortcomings of our present educational system. They are forever filling the public press with lamentations over the state of American education. Some want the Hundred Books. Others put their faith in learning by doing. All of them want bigger and better buildings, more and costlier equipment.

One thing they never seem to think about is the cultural equipment of the teachers. Most of our teachers seem to be satisfied with a quick acquisition of the techniques of teaching, as if teaching were a trade that could be practiced after one had learned the tricks. Few of them bring to their classrooms the background of culture and scholarship which their pupils have every right to expect from their mentors. And the discussions of education by our school authorities are devoted to pretty nearly everything else but the simple subject of scholarship and its desirability.

Possibly it was an impatience with this state of affairs which led the legislators at Trenton to embark on their course of curriculum-building. Maybe some Assemblyman had been questioning his son about the more outstanding facts of American history. It is even possible that some state Senator had talked with a public school teacher and had been shocked by the narrowness of her intellectual range.

Whatever the cause, educational authorities have only themselves to blame. And before they ridicule state legislators for mixing into educational problems they might bestir themselves toward improving the quality of public school instruction.

The Navy

"There's something about a sailor", and the pride the American people have in their navy is a hardy growth dating from the days of John Paul Jones, Commodore John Barry and Captain Lawrence. Today the American battle fleets cover the oceans and scour the skies and their strength is more than that of all the other navies in the world combined.

Felled by a sneak punch at Pearl Harbor the navy got up off the floor and has carried the fight to its enemy ever since. Today the American navy is probably the most battle-wise navy in the history of maritime warfare; we haven't counted them, but it seems safe to assume the navy has engaged in more actions in this war than in all the other American wars put together.

Regardless of the outcome at San Francisco we hope the day will never come when the flag will be lowered on the American battle fleet. The scuttling of our warships in the 20's was a blunder which is not likely to be repeated; we owe too much to the navy in this war ever to forget its usefulness.

These thoughts on the navy are prompted by the reading of a news story of the Navy Department's budget. If Congress gives the navy what it asks for, we shall have a peacetime fleet three times the size of our navy before Pearl Harbor. That's all right with us. We're not going to attack anybody with it, but, peace or no peace, we'll be better off with the biggest navy afloat.

Trivia of a Historic Weekend

There is a lot about American radio that is irritating, but the job it did on the death of President Roosevelt earns forgiveness for many of its sins . . . We met a man this week who had no advice to give President Truman; he was deaf mute . . . The statement of Governor Dewey we thought, was among the best of all the comments on President's death . . . We watched a young soldier of twenty listening to President Truman's address to Congress; he was eight the last time any other president except Roosevelt spoke over the radio . . . All the Eleanor jokes seemed pretty paltry beside the behavior of Mrs. Roosevelt in her hour of trial . . . The New York Herald-Tribune did not print a display advertisement in its news section the morning after the President died . . . Nothing seems quite so beautiful — or so final — as the bugler's taps . . . The swift, unfailing continuity of the American Government never fails to impress us when a vice president is sworn in as President immediately on news of his predecessor's death . . . We can imagine no more bewildered people in the world than the little photographer and the Russian woman artist who found themselves in the center of a world tragedy . . . An era has ended in American politics.

Let Lindbergh Fly Again

A group of American Senators, Congressmen and editors is being flown to Germany to view evidence of German atrocities. We suggest this group should include Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh.

In Cologne and Nuremberg and Aachen, Lindbergh could see for himself the triumphs of that Nazi power which so bemused him. He could visit the prisoner pens and see the master race at ease. Let him see the white flags of German surrender. Only in Germany could Lindbergh appreciate the true glory of that Nazi efficiency which he thought we would be foolish to oppose. And, in Buchenwald Mrs. Lindbergh could feast her eyes on the true beauties of that "wave of the future" which fascinated her so.

Of course, this time Lindbergh should not fly alone. With him should go those who thought we could do business with Hitler, those who jeered at the stories of Nazi Germans invincible. And a good part of the cruelty, the faint-hearted who believed the ship's company would be those who thought the whole thing was none of our business.

Let them all view the ruins of this modern Ozymandias, while "round the decay of that colossal wreck, boundless and bare, the lone and level sands stretch far away."

Home Service Secretary Presents Explanation Of Conditions

This is the second in a series of articles giving questions most commonly asked of Home Service in the local Red Cross Chapter. The answers are based upon information given to all Red Cross Chapters throughout the United States by National Headquarters. Today's article concerns prisoners of war. It is of value to clip and save for future reference.

"With the rapid advance of allied armies in Germany, it is increasingly difficult for Red Cross specifically to answer questions regarding prisoners of war in that country," Mrs. Muriel Taggart, Home Service secretary, said today. "However," she continued, "the following questions are of a general nature and the answers still apply to all theaters of war where Americans are interned."

Q. Are Red Cross chapters furnished with lists of servicemen reported as prisoners of war, and are you notified of the movement of prisoners of camp to camp?

A. No, such lists are held by the War Department, and Red Cross is not notified of any prisoner of war transfers.

Q. I believe a relative of mine is held prisoner of war by the United States government. Is there any way I can verify this?

A. Yes. Write a letter to the Provost Marshal General, War Department, Washington, 25, D. C., giving all identifying data such as full name, rank, date and place of birth and your relationship.

Q. Are our boys in prison camps urged not to try to escape?

A. As a rule, the senior officer, or camp spokesman, does his best to discourage the men from futile attempts to escape.

Q. Is there any assurance that our fliers on bombing missions know where P.O.W. camps are so that they are not likely to be bombed?

A. The War department knows the precise location of all officially reported P.O.W. camps. In the Far East as well as in Germany, and fliers are briefed to be careful to avoid bombing P.O.W. camps.

Q. Is it necessary for my husband who is a prisoner of war to file an income tax return?

A. While there is no exemption from payment of income taxes, legislation has been enacted which automatically postpones for prisoners of war and civilian internees, the making of returns and the payment of federal income taxes. Many states have enacted similar legislation with respect to state income taxes.

Q. How soon may a soldier reported missing in action has been taken prisoner, and how long after that will it be before his permanent camp address is known?

A. In the case of Germany, notification of capture, with the permanent camp address, has usually been received within three months. Recently, however, the German reporting service seems to have lost much ground. In the last few weeks many relatives have received the first notice of capture in a letter from the serviceman sent from a German camp.

Tell War Department

Q. My husband writes that he is a prisoner of war, yet I haven't received any official notification from the War department. Should I write to Washington and inform the government of his status?

A. Yes. Write to the office of the Provost Marshal, War department, Washington 25, D. C. and enclose a photostat (showing both sides) or the original of your husband's letter. Many men reported missing in action in the closing months of 1944 have notified their families by mail that they were prisoners of war in Germany. The fact that many next of kin are learning direct from the serviceman of his prisoner of war status is but another indication that the situation inside Germany is under increasing strain.

Q. May photographs be sent to prisoners of war?

A. Yes. Enclose the photographs in a separate envelope without a letter, but with the name, number, and camp address of the prisoner written on the back of the photograph. No postage is necessary.

Q. Do the Japanese permit prisoners of war and interned civilians to send cables to their families?

A. Yes. Through arrangements of the International committee of the American Red Cross, one cablegram a year from each prisoner or civilian may be sent. These cables will be forwarded to the Office of the Provost Marshal General, Prisoner of War Information Bureau, War department, Washington, D. C., and sent to the persons in this country to whom they are addressed.

The expense of the cable will be assumed by government departments, state, war, or navy. Home Service, national headquarters, will keep no record of them. Replies to these collect cables must be sent through the American Red Cross. Such replies will be considered emergency cables and will be accepted for transmittal although one non-emergency cable (the limit for next of kin to prisoners of war or civilian internees held by the Japanese) has already been sent during the year.

James And Paul Snyder Meet Somewhere in Germany

The Snyder brothers, James and Paul, met recently in Germany after not having seen each other in nearly two years, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Snyder of 105 Belmoor street, related this week.

James, a staff sergeant who has been in service for three years, went overseas last September. He is a graduate of Henry Snyder high school, Jersey City. Paul, a private first class, was attending St. Benedict's preparatory school in Newark when he was inducted in August, 1943. He has been abroad since January.

The brothers who met in Germany the later part of March were able to spend nine hours together. It was their first meeting since Paul's induction, because they were unable to get furloughs at the same time, while training in this country.

School No. 3 Takes Honors Again, For Publication

Columbia Press Association Award Is The Eleventh One Received

School No. 3 has repeated its now customary accomplishment of taking honors in the yearly Columbia Press association contest for elementary school papers, it was learned this week.

Its publication, "Voice of No. 3" this year won the medalist and highest award for the fifth time. In addition the school has placed first, next highest honor, in six other years, since its debut launched by Principal William Richards about twelve years ago.

A neat, quarterly volume usually of about 32 pages, it is mimeographed on 9 x 12 paper and is outstanding for its art work as well as for the maturity of its written contents. No. 3 is the only Belleville member of the association and learned of its award by mail this year, since the usual convention had been abandoned. Usually, students of the staff who have earned the most points for their work on the paper, are sent to the convention, financed by proceeds from the advertising which is contained on the back cover of the publication. A self-sustaining venture, the paper has a circulation of about 400 and sells for five cents a copy or twenty cents a year.

Advisors and Staff

Faculty advisors who supervise contents and the art work which plays a large part in the publication's pleasing appearance are Mrs. Margaret Mastek, Miss Virginia Ruhe and Miss Ethel Jone for the upper grades and Miss Mabel Smith, Miss Lucie Smith and Miss Carolyn Pohl for the lower grades.

Alvin Outcalt of 65 Baldwin place, seventeen year old pioneer in Junior Achievement here, addressed the organization meeting of the Junior Achievement central committee of industrialists in Jersey City's Hotel Plaza last night. S. Bayard Colgate, chairman of the executive committee of Junior Achievement in this country, also addressed the group. Marshall K. Stoll, executive director of the work in New Jersey, was another speaker.

Alvin estimates that he has made thirty such addresses throughout the state, in the southern states and in Ohio. His mission is to illustrate to adult sponsors the worth of Junior industrial ventures to high school students and the subsequent value to the industrialist of workers who have put into practice the essential rules of operating businesses.

Now president of National Junior Achievers, an organization of 2,000 teen-age operators of small industries throughout the nation, Alvin hopes to remain an honorary member of a Junior Achievement company after he is graduated from high school here in June.

He was second president, and is now public relations manager, of the Belle Chemical company, one of five juvenile companies here. They organized in November, 1943.

Robert Kanouse is now president of the company which is occupied with sub-contracts for local firms and the manufacture of toy train tunnels for Christmas trade. William Outcalt, Alvin's father, is shop manager and projects advisor for the companies in which function at 210 Belleville avenue.

T-4 Eugene Welsh Gets The Mail Through, At Air Force Station in England

The postal unit of which T-4 Eugene J. Welsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Welch of 6 DeWitt avenue, is a member at an Eighth Air Force Liberator Station in England has been cited by Maj. Gen. William E. Kepner, commanding general of the Second Air Division "for distinguished and outstanding performance of duty."

The unit was activated in March, 1943 and completing its training at Fort Bragg, N. C., was sent to the European Theater of Operations.

In the ETO since August, 1943, the unit has maintained an unexcelled efficiency record. Serving seven Army Air Forces stations in the early days the men worked by candle light, gasoline and electrical lanterns and put in up to eighteen hours each day in order that the men might receive their mail in a minimum of time.

With inadequate personnel to handle a volume of work comparable to that accomplished by a civilian first class post office, T-4 Welsh's unit expeditiously processed all phases of their duties. From the start of their operations until February of this year, the unit dispatched 312 tons or 20,747 bags of mail.

Seven hundred and nine tons or 56,675 bags of mail were received at this end. Welsh's dept. has at this end. Welsh's department has issued without error money orders totaling $2,500,000. During the Christmas rush, the men went without passes and worked long hours so the morale building holiday mail from home might be delivered to the men as quickly as possible.

T-4 Welsh is the husband of Mrs. E. J. Welsh of 95 Hill street, Bloomfield. He attended St. Peter's Parochial school and St. Benedict's Preparatory school, and before entering the service in December, 1942, he was employed by the U. S. Post Office in Newark. His army training was received at the Adjutant General's Postal School at Fort Washington, Md.

Bohrer's Howitzer Blasts Iwo Jima Jap Positions

A 75 millimeter pack howitzer, named for the late Marine flying ace, Major Gregory Boyington, literally pulverized a Jap fortified area on Iwo Jima in less than 24 hours from a position less than 25 yards from the enemy.

The 1600-pound camouflaged howitzer destroyed five Jap pillboxes, at least three rock-fortified gun positions and innumerable enemy machine guns. "We knocked out everything within an area 300 yards by 150 yards," explained Marine Sergeant Paul C. Bohrer, 25, of 160 Stephen street, chief of the "Boyington's" gun crew.

Bohrer, veteran of Guadalcanal and Cape Gloucester took his howitzer, 18 men and 288 rounds of ammunition up to the front lines at noon of the 19th day of fighting here.

One truck towed the howitzer "Boyington" and carried the men, while another carried the am-

Bellboys Take Visitors 4-0 In Opener At Clearman

Lubertazza Hurls For Locals, Dropping One Hit To Bloomfield Tech

The Bellboys made a good showing in their initial game of the season when they defeated Bloomfield Tech 4-0 on the home field before about 200 diamond fans on Friday.

Coach Spotts pitted veteran hurler Herman Lubertazza against the Techmen to see him put in a brilliant performance, giving up but one hit in the seven inning game, a hit to deep short.

Picking on both sides was excellent, with Gene Mangini of Tech giving up four hits, all singles.

First score came in the second stanza when Frank Papisidero scooped home from third base on Lubertazza's bunt. Following him in from second on an error by Mangini was Vic Naturale for the second Bellboy roy.

While Lubertazza was setting the Techmen down in order for the third time, the Bellboys added another run, with Greco scoring the first hit after two runs had already been tallied.

Errors caused most of the scoring and the fourth inning saw Bloomfield take their first and last hit from Lubertazza. Greco, in the last half, the Bellboys added hits by Pasquariello with the latter doing the tallying. The Bellboys chalked up a score again in the fifth when Papisidero hit safely to center.

In the final inning, Bloomfield hopefuls saw Chislock hit a grounder to Lubertazza who bobbed it to put Chislock on. Then with two out, Niegles hit a line drive fly ball to left field. Pat Racioppo ran against the wall and dove into the air to pull it down, saving the shutout for Lubertazza.

BELLBOY BITS: Vic Naturale filed in for Takash at second base. Greco and Papisidero are leading the Bellboys with a batting percentage of .500. Chislock of Bloomfield Tech was the boy who robbed Lubertazza of his no hit, no run game. Lubertazza scattered his seven strike outs where they would do the
