PW'S SEND WORD VIA RED CROSS

Liberated Prisoners Contact Families Through New Red Cross Service

Last week The Times announced that at the servicemen's request overseas, the various Red Cross chapters would notify families regarding the liberations of Prisoners of War in Europe. Within the past two weeks, several notifications concerning liberated prisoners of war have been received by the local chapter and the messages were personally delivered to the families by Home Service representatives. Mrs. James H. Marshall, Jr., of 131 Bremond street, was the first to hear officially under the new plan when a wire was received Sunday, May 13, asking that she be notified. The notices are now coming in quite rapidly. Carlo Mastantonio of 54 Mt. Prospect avenue was the second in Belleville to benefit from the new service. He received word that his son, Sgt. Salvatore Mastantonio had been liberated in Germany. The local chapter was also happy to be able to make arrangements to meet Mrs. George Baxter Clarke, sister of Mrs. Tuohy of William street, when she arrived last week. Mrs. Baxter Clarke, former resident of Manila, was in the fall of that city and was interned by the Japanese after the Santo Tomas Prison.

Resume Publication of Annual Report by School Board

School Board President Joseph Arnold requested the annual report for the current school year be compiled for publication not later than September or October, at the meeting on Monday night. Former President Herbert Schmutz explained that the report had been abandoned in recent years because of the cost and the apparent disinterest of citizens in obtaining it.

Jack Steinhauer of 9 Lloyd place, chairman of the building fund committee of Congregation AAA, has announced the successful termination of the first campaign for funds with which a post-war building for the congregation will be built. An improved synagogue and community center will be erected according to present plans. Drives for funds will be conducted at intervals until the cessation of hostilities permits building. A site has not been selected. To celebrate the initial success of the drive an entertainment and dance will be held at the Essex House Sunday evening.

TOWN AHEAD OF COUNTY IN E BONDS

Belleville Has 30 Percent Of Quota; Legion Rally At Capitol a Success

Belleville leads the county with approximately 30 per cent of its E bond quota already purchased in the Seventh War Loan Drive, Phillip Dettelbach said yesterday in announcing sales thus far, amounting to $403,000. The county figure is 24 per cent of the quota. The over-all tabulation this week is $500,000 put into war bonds in all series. Local quota is $1,400,000 in E bonds and an over-all of $4,000,000, an increase of 75 per cent. The war bond rally conducted at the Capitol Theatre Saturday night by the American Legion netted purchases of $2,080.25, which represents the issue value of the bonds bought, plus pledges of $6,800. It has been reported by Ronald G. Brunner, drive assistant, that there was a capacity crowd for the Legion's rally. The Legion will be credited with all bonds sold at the theatre during the drive which closes on July 7. The post has the purchase of a bomber as its goal. These Saturday night purchases have not been tabulated, however, in the official figures as given above. In addition, the Legion and auxiliary is credited with the sale of 20 bonds with an issue value of $975 at the theatre for the period from the beginning of the drive, April 1, to May 18. Once again the Boy Scouts will be in the field selling bonds for the purchase of field ambulances during the 7th War Loan drive. Spurred on the knowledge that three of their ambulances purchased with bonds sold in previous campaigns have been seen in action.

CANCER TOLL IS GREATER THAN WAR

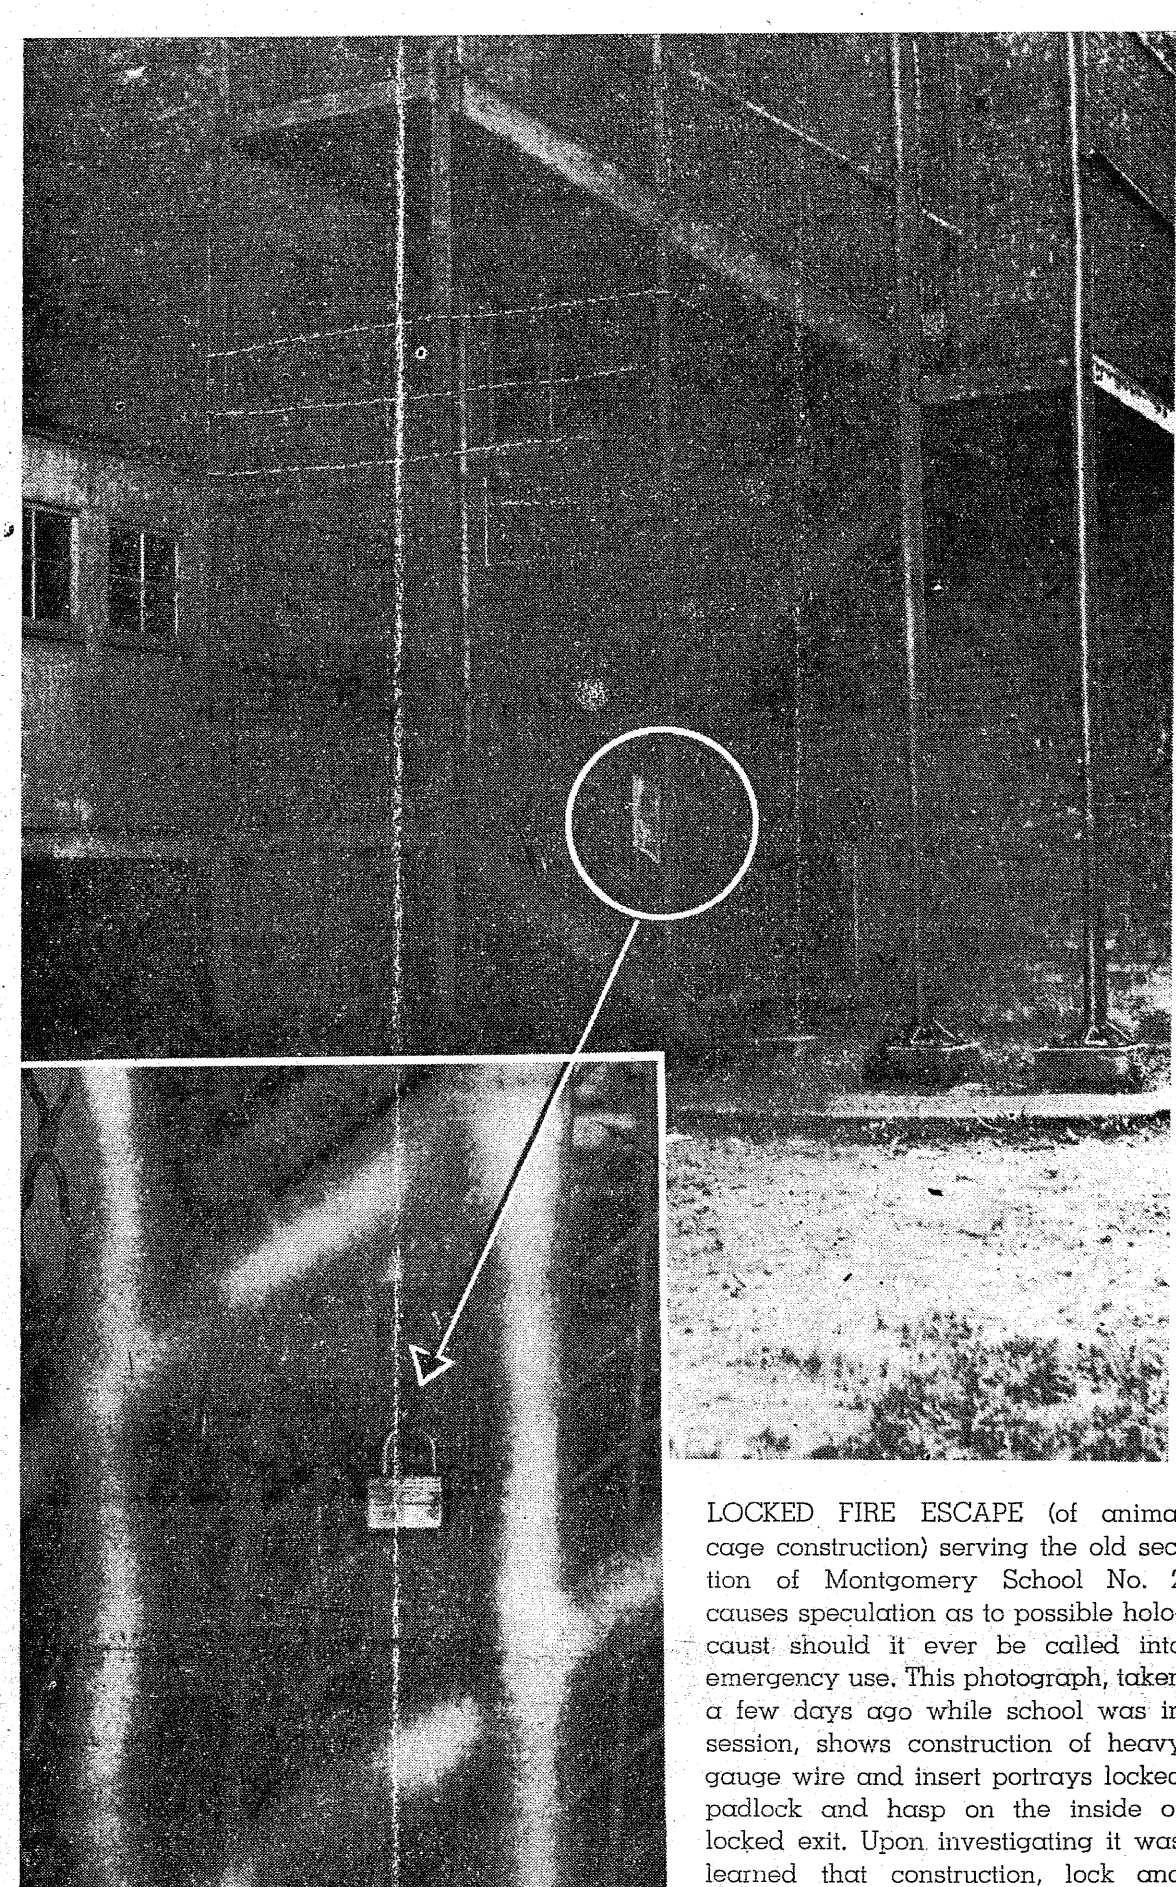

More G.I.'s Will Die Of This Disease Than From Battle, Official States

Pointing out that more of the men in the armed forces of the United States in the present global war are destined to die of cancer than will make the supreme sacrifice on the battle field unless something is done about it, Chester I. Barnard, president of the USO and also the chief executive officer of the New Jersey Bell Telephone company, has appealed to all Americans to "do something about it." Locally, Harry G. Specht is chairman of the drive here which has $7,500 as part of the $5,000,000 national goal. He requests that contributions be sent to William Goodrich at the First National bank. In his statement, Mr. Barnard said, "If this sounds unbelievable, the fact is that more people die of cancer in one year than all our losses in the first three years of World War II. It is estimated that 600,000 people in this country have cancer now, and many of them face long suffering and eventual death unless we do something about it." A Long Flight Continuing, he called attention to the fact that "The war against cancer has been long and valiant" and stressed the fact that "most of the fight had to be carried on by individual research workers or small groups handicapped by lack of adequate resources and equipment. "Authorities in the field of cancer research and treatment believe that we stand now on the threshold of still greater successes, if all of us give them the organized backing and financial aid that are needed." In administering the expected fund of $5,000,000, the American Cancer Society plans to expend more than one-half of the sum contributed in each state, within the state, to extend education, help the early detection of cancer and its proper treatment and to improve the care given advanced cases. Of the money remaining, the greater percentage of it will be used for the national work of the Society, permitting perhaps for the first time a definitely organized approach to cancer research.

Locked Fire Escape Trap For School Children

LOCKED FIRE ESCAPE (of animal cage construction) serving the old section of Montgomery School No. 2 causes speculation as to possible holocaust should it ever be called into emergency use. This photograph, taken a few days ago while school was in session, shows construction of heavy gauge wire and insert portrays locked padlock and hasp on the inside of locked exit. Upon investigating it was learned that construction, lock and barbed wire (which would prevent fire-trapped victims from escaping over the top or sides) were determined necessary to prevent neighborhood children of school and pre-school age from using this fire escape as a "play-ground" or as a method of ascent to the roof of the school building. It was also determined that there is but one key to this locked barricade and this key is in the possession of the janitor (responsible only to the business manager of The Board of Education) whose duty it is, in case of emergency, to reach this lock first—before the fire escape is filled with panic-stricken children fighting to escape searing flame. Should this one key be lost in the process of reaching the lock, escape would be impossible. It was learned that this fire escape serves one classroom on the second floor which has 17 pupils and the third floor auditorium when in use by the entire school. The balance of the 96 pupils of the school are served through three other exits located in the "newer" part.

G. I. Gets Silver Star at Formal Retreat Ceremony

Pvt. Stanley Saarloos Receives Distinguished Award For Heroism In Italy

Seventeen months after the night of January 20, 1943, Pvt. Stanley J. Saarloos received one of the Nation's highest awards "for gallantry in action." That is a long time to wait for thanks, but the spirit in which it was given did not die. On Wednesday afternoon, Pvt. Saarloos was presented with the Silver Star at a formal Retreat Ceremony at Eastview, N. Y. As he stood at attention over half a thousand of his comrades in khaki marched past him, their eyes "right," the officers saluting. His Commanding Officer, Lieut. Col. John J. Williams, 716th Military Police Battalion, made the presentation for the War department. Wearing the Purple Heart for wounds received in action, the combat Infantry badge, and the Good Conduct medal, the 21 year old soldier had won the Silver Star for his extraordinary conduct on a dark, foggy night in Italy. His company had been chosen to make the first crossing of an important river. Our forces had control of one bank while the enemy were strongly dug in on the other. Before they had quit our side the enemy had laid down an extremely thick mine field through which our men had cleared a couple of safe pathways. It was awfully dark and the enemy were throwing everything they had at this small group of Americans. As a result the men became lost and wandered away from the cleared zone. A good many men were blown up by the mines in the confusion.

Lost in Mine Field

Proudly watching the ceremony were his bride of six months, his father, James Saarloos of 73 Cortlandt street and his father-in-law, William A. Norhauser of 428 Belleville avenue. The hero's bride continued on Page Two

SPECHT OUTLINES FOUNDATION AIMS

Enumerates Purposes at May Breakfast Held by Woman's Club

The Woman's club held their annual May breakfast on Monday when Harry Specht, principal speaker, outlined the aims and purposes of the Belleville Foundation. Mr. Specht stated that established the Belleville Foundation was for post-war project only and for the following purposes: (a) To promote the spiritual well-being and religious life, without regard to sect, denomination, creed or faith, of the residents of the Town of Belleville, by direct aid to any organized church, religious society or association in the town, as well as by any other means. (b) To engage in charitable and social welfare work among the needy residents of the Town of Belleville, and to assist in the education of, and rehabilitation, both mental and physical, of the underprivileged residents of the town, without regard to race color or creed. (c) To promote the education of residents of the Town of Belleville by making available facilities including financial aid for any school or any educational or scientific institution or association situated in the town. (d) To promote child and infant welfare work in any way that will alleviate pain and suffering from those of tender years. Mr. Specht pointed out that the Foundation is financially supported by the manufacturers of Belleville and that all the Foundation asks is the cooperation and help of all such organizations as the Woman's club to promote the aims of the Foundation. He stated that it is the duty of every citizen in Belleville to help in making the town a better place in which to live and to work.

PARMER STATES SCHOOLS LACK ADMINISTRATORS

Cites Recommendations Of State Department in 1936 For Additional Help

Bearing out his statement that Burt Johnson, High school acting principal who has tendered his resignation, was hired as general supervisor of education with the understanding that there would be a strong possibility of using him in supervisory work upon the return of the principal, Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer on Monday night declared that the school system is totally understaffed in supervision. Parmer does the supervisory work in the elementary schools unaided while the acting high school principal has only the assistance of the guidance director. Parmer quoted from the recommendations made in January, 1936 by Howard Dare White, assistant state commissioner of education, which are in part: "We have commented favorably on the administration of the school. We feel that this has been attained, however, at the expense of the supervision. When the school was last visited, the vice-principal devoted a considerable portion of her time to administrative duties; now, with a larger school, she has a full teaching program. "It is recognized that a principal of a modern high school should spend the major portion of his time in supervision. This he can not do if the office demands too great a share of his time and we note in this connection that the school has one less clerk than a school of this size requires. Full-time Vice-Principal "Supervision by officers of the high school is particularly necessary in Belleville because the supervising principal has such a huge load of supervision in the elementary schools and can give relatively little time to the high school. We do not see how adequate supervision of the high school can be effected without the assistance of a full-time vice-principal and the services of heads of departments with less than full teaching programs. "It was disappointing to find in a school as large as this one so little evidence of pupil participation in government which is characteristic of the best secondary schools. We believe that Belleville pupils are no less capable of assuming such responsibility than are pupils in other communities of Essex county where such programs have contributed much to the development of good citizenship. The insufficiencies of personnel which we mentioned undoubtedly constitute a factor contributing to this defect." (Continued on Page Two)

KAYE WILL MEET WITH TENANTS

They Will Attempt To Settle Garbage, Parking At Corbin Gardens

Little agreement other than consent by Louis Kaye, owner of the Corbin Gardens Apartments on Carpenter terrace, to meet with the tenants' association tonight, came of the owner's requested appearance before the board of commissioners on Tuesday night, to settle a list of grievances outlined by the tenants. The commissioners, after listening to arguments and protestations between representatives of the tenants and the owner, advised them to come to some understanding on improved garbage disposal and parking facilities. "You had better take your family grievances and settle them among yourselves," Public Safety Director King advised them, "and then if you are unable to reach an amicable settlement, come back to the board." Kaye was told by the board that the garbage cans must be removed from the town-owned property on the crescents and that Carpenter street must be cleared of all-night parking for free access of fire and street cleaning equipment and snow plows. Kaye protested the tenants' complaint on insufficient heat. He also offered to provide additional parking facilities if the tenants would "give something in return," namely withdrawal of their application to OPA for rent reduction on the grounds that they are receiving insufficient services. He stated that he had attempted to buy property on Fairway avenue for a parking lot which the board objected to because of home owners on that street. He also offered to buy adjoining property for its assessment, he said. Thomas Foy, tenant association chairman, stated that a space 40 feet wide on the north and south crescents could be improved, to provide double the parking space now available. The tenants were represented by Solomon Golat of Newark. If You Want To Help THE RED CROSS Or If You Need Red Cross INFORMATION Be. 2-2373, and Be. 2-2601 258 Washington Ave. Ad.

School Board at Odds On Acting Principal

Disagreement On Terms Of Original Contract Basis Of Johnson's Resignation This Week

A divergence of opinion among members of the board of education on the terms under which Burt Johnson was hired as general supervisor of education in 1943 was aired on Monday night when his letter of resignation as acting high school principal was read by Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer. His resignation was finally accepted by a vote of three to two with Herbert Schmutz and Charles Gebhardt dissenting. They expressed the wish that an attempt be made to retain him. The task of filling the vacancy while the principal is on leave in the Navy will be discussed at a special meeting of the board on June 4 when the superintendent will present his written recommendation. Johnson gave as his reason for resigning, the "implications that evolved from the board's discussion at a special meeting held in April concerning the position of general supervisor." At that time he received a new contract by a three to two vote with Mrs. Homer Zink and Walter Gilby not voting. Joseph Arnold, board president, stated that he was voting for renewal of the contract "from a business man's standpoint."

JOHNSON RESIGNS FROM BHS POST

Will Take Tenafly Position; Feels Permanence Here Is Questionable

The resignation of Burt Johnson, acting principal at Belleville High school, effective June 30, was read by Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer to the board of education on Monday night. He is leaving to take a position in Tenafly as principal of the junior-senior High school at a starting salary of $6,000. Mr. Johnson came here in 1943 from Port Jervis, N. Y. where he was principal of the junior senior high school. He came with the title of general supervisor of education and was assigned as acting high school principal to replace the principal on leave for service in the Navy. Johnson was voted a new contract at a special meeting of the board of education in April by a three to two vote and given a $250 raise to make his salary $5,500 for the coming year. His letter to the superintendent and members of the board of education follows: "At the very outset, I want to say that it is with some regret that I find it necessary to write this letter. I feel, however, that I have no alternative in view of the implications that evolved from the board's discussion at the special meeting held in April concerning the position of general supervisor."

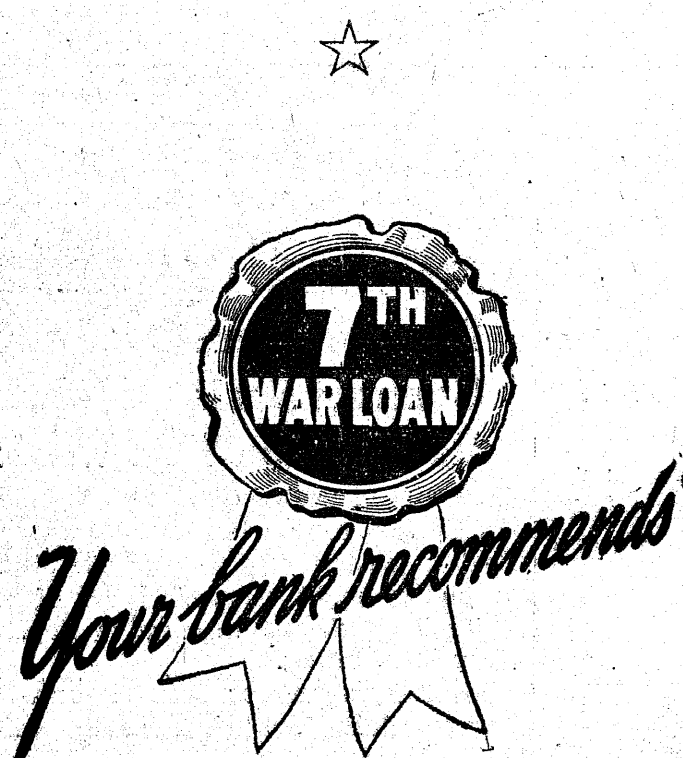

Position Changed

"If I understood your discussion as reported, there appeared considerable doubt as to the long-range purpose, duty and responsibility of the general supervisor, as well as some indication that the permanent nature of the position might have changed from that presented to me when I accepted your offer in April, 1943, to that of a 'duration' position, and then only for 'practical purposes.' "I therefore am submitting herewith my resignation as general supervisor of schools in Belleville, to become effective at the close of this school year, June 30, 1945. I do this with a great deal of regret, since it means leaving many friends and since my work with the faculty, students, superintendent and board of education has been both interesting and challenging. "I could not have asked for finer cooperation on the part of teachers, students or superintendents, but under the circumstances I feel that I must ask to be relieved of my duties at the date mentioned above, since I have been invited to accept a permanent position in a neighboring suburban city at a starting salary of $6,000 and with a bright outlook for professional advancement."

Life Scouts Get Certificates

Samuel Amosato, Jr. (left) and William J. Cartwright (right) are life scouts of Troop 388 at Christ Episcopal church who were awarded certificates on Tuesday night at the Scout Court of Honor in Union avenue school.

Star Scout certificates went to William M. Carr and Walter Geppner of Troop 386, Bert Haslam, Richard Vertegail and Eugene C. Mougel of Troop 308, Walter Nedoma, Francis Plumeau, Lee Richardson, Roger Roby, Nelson Shaw and Eric Sheard of Troop 388 and Richard Peterson of Troop 350.

Forty-six Eisenhower medals, each representing a collection of 1,000 pounds of scrap paper, will be presented to Belleville scouts and cubs at the camporee in South Mountain reservation this weekend by Ronald G. Brunner, defense coordinator.

Patriotic songs, an investiture ceremony for scouts of Troops 301, 306 and 388, camping movies and an address by S/Sgt. Francis Clark, aerial photographer on a B-24 bomber were included in Tuesday evening's program. Window display award ribbons were presented to the winning troops by Homer C. Zink, president of Robert Treat council. Harry T. French, assistant scout executive, made the life awards.

Samuel Amosato, who lives at 82 Columbus avenue, has been a scout three years. A high school sophomore, he holds 16 badges. Richard Cartwright lives at 28 Ralph street and is a high school freshman. He has ten Scout badges.

and added, "without this possibility he wasn't interested in the position."

Mrs. Zink observed that this was an answer to the question she had been asking for over two years. Neither she nor Walter Gilby voted on Johnson's original contract since, she claimed, they had expected to vote on the title of acting principal. They were informed she has said, just five minutes before the vote was cast that the title was general supervisor of education.

It was stated on Monday night that she and Gilby had been invited, but were not present at the teachers committee meeting when this title was discussed. Mrs. Zink said she had told Johnson there was nothing personal in her refusal to vote on his contract. She explained she said that "there was confusion in the way he was appointed, that perhaps he misunderstood it, and if so, he was wasting time. His qualifications are splendid," she said, "but in other respects the town will profit. The same thing has happened in other towns where he has been. I've never seen anyone in town for such a short time who has created so much friction." She amended this to say that perhaps the friction is on the board.

Parmer retorted that this statement was unfair to Johnson who came with twelve of the finest recommendations he had ever seen. "He is a very unusual man," Parmer said. "His conferences with parents, teacher groups, guidance, all show that."

It was pointed out by Charles Gehardt that the teachers committee clearly stated Johnson's status but that it was also stated, with Parmer approaching the age of retirement, there was a need for a man who could be a candidate for the superintendency.

Brides Neglect to Change Name On Social Security Cards

War marriages are a cause of concern with local Social Security offices because brides, including some from Belleville, have failed to change their names on the social security records, John R. Shields, manager of the Social Security board in Newark, stated this week.

"The name on the social security account number card of a worker should be the same as the name the employer uses on his payroll," Shields explained. "When a worker changes the name she uses at work, she should also have her name changed on her social security card. Until she advises the Social Security board of her new name, the company will be reporting her wages under a name and number which do not correspond with the Social Security record, and she may not receive credit for such wages on her social security account, the loss of which could mean smaller or perhaps no benefits to her or to her survivors."

"When any worker wishes to change the names used on the social security records, a form OAA-N7003 should be obtained from a Social Security board office. If you visit the local office at 45 Brantford place, Newark, they will be glad to give you this and any other assistance."

Parmer States

Parmer related that the principal had assigned Miss Minnie Kayhart, the vice-principal, to a full teaching schedule and refused the offer of additional administrators, including a vice-principal made from time to time.

Herbert Schmutz recalled that the principal now on leave was not recommended by the superintendent and was hired by a three to two vote of the board. He stated that since the principal had been appointed over the superintendent's recommendation, the superintendent had taken the position that he "couldn't be held responsible for conditions in the high school." He added that this condition was rectified.

To this, Parmer replied that he was in no way attacking the principal. He stated that after the principal's appointment, he had expressed a desire to cooperate. He explained his failure to recommend the principal he said, with the list of many applicants for the position who possessed more experience and training.

The principal had no previous experience in administration and was a manual training teacher at the time of his appointment. The superintendent stated that he felt it his duty to attempt to obtain a man with the best possible qualifications for the job.

tion by former Scouts of Belleville, it is expected that they will top all previous records.

Each ambulance costs $1,950 at issue price of the bonds. While the record has been good in previous campaigns, every effort will be made this time to increase the number of Scouts who actually make sales, as well as increasing the total bond sales.

Every troop in the district is expected to have at least one ambulance with the troop number on it somewhere on the battle front as a result of this campaign. Scoutmasters already have the materials necessary for the campaign and reports are to be made to the office of the Defense Coordinator at the Town Hall.

Troops and Scouts of Belleville are heading for the Council Camporee at Summit field, South Mountain Reservation this Saturday. Fifteen hundred Scouts and Scouters are expected to participate in this big event. The Boy Scouts are a participating agency in the Community Chest and council.

School's Contribution

The schools are to be credited with purchases of $51,486.60 in bonds and stamps during April, in addition to St. Peter's contribution of $301.90. Brunner said yesterday that the school children will make a special solicitation effort during the remainder of the school term, to compensate for the cessation of their sales during the last month of the drive.

Brunner also reported that ABC and insurance salesmen are soliciting bond purchases which will be credited to the town. Purchases of bonds by residents through out-of-town agents are also being credited to the total.

Introduce Additional Course In American History at BHS

The necessity of requiring two years of American history in the High school since the passage of recent state legislation was explained by Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer at the board of education meeting on Monday night.

Institution of an extra course will necessitate an additional teacher he said, and will mean that students will have to carry five subjects instead of four, to meet requirements.

He explained that the seventh and eighth grades now have American history and geography combined in a social science course while the High school has an orientation course in government, civics, citizenship and American history. Modern European history is available as an elective.

Ralph Street School

Mrs. Elizabeth Russ, newly elected secretary of the PTA, presented awards last Thursday to students of the school who competed successfully in the recent hobby show.

During the past year the PTA supplied funds for milk for underprivileged children in the school, presented the institution with funds for new book cases, made a gift of $7 to the graduating class to defray expenses of their annual party and made the usual monthly award of $1 to the class which was most strongly represented by mothers at the meetings.

Major accomplishment of the Ralph street PTA was the sponsorship of an intermediate Girl Scout troop. Known as Troop 6, it is led by Mrs. Leo Wysocki.

The group attributes most of its financial contributions to the success of a barn dance held in December. Mrs. Peter Melchione, president for the past two years, will be presented with a commemorative pin in the fall. Mrs. Naomi Miller is her successor.

Greylock School

At the final meeting of the association Monday night, Mrs. Arthur Schult took office as president; Mrs. James Thompson, first vice-president; Robert N. Hayes, school principal, second vice-president; Mrs. Robert Conklin, treasurer; Mrs. Herbert Robinson, recording secretary and Mrs. Mildred Clark, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Charles Speed, who has been president for the past two years, was presented with a gift in lieu of a past president's pin. The PTA's gift to the school was half the cost of a set of volumes of the World Encyclopedia.

Friday evening members of the PTA bowling team will attend a theatre party in New York. They are, besides Mrs. Robert Hindman, second year high scorer, and Mrs. John Keller, runner-up, Mrs. Speed, Mrs. Fred King, Mrs. Harold Robert, Mrs. John Zetterstrom, Mrs. John Matus, Mrs. August Hausman, Mrs. Iva Heartz, Mrs. Edward Penkethman, Mrs. John Harms and Mrs. Frank Rutledge. Reflections for Memorial Day, 1945

Lives must be lost to maintain freedom, and what nobler death than to die for one's country!

Still, we cannot but ponder were any of these telegrams, "The War Department Regrets," sent through any failure of ours.

A Red Cross Nurse says that thousands of boys will die of shock because enough blood is not being volunteered.

A boy writes home from overseas, "How can I tell you any plainer, I don't want any Christmas presents? We need more ammunition and gasoline out here."

Are you buying War Bonds with a large fraction of your salary or wages? Are you helping to keep down inflation, so your bonds will buy the most possible war gear?

Are you working part time or all the time to supply the needed water purifiers, fire extinguishers, bombs, paints and paint brushes, leather for boat and plane seats, searchlights, valves for ships and batteries for jeeps, machine tools and lamps and the many other war materials made in Belleville. Are you conserving gasoline, clothes, money for the war effort?

Sgt. William Murphy Tells of Ie Shima Pre-Dawn Battle

Just One Of Encounters In "Toughest and Roughest" Fighting He's Seen

In a 20-minute pre-dawn battle far behind front lines, 77th Division artillerymen on Ie Shima successfully defended their big guns against a 25-man Jap demolition patrol, and wiped out the enemy raiders to the last man.

Sgt. William H. Murphy, 37, son of George Murphy of 337 Main street, manned a machine-gun during the fighting, but was unable to fire. "I was afraid of hitting our own men," he explained. "They were right in the middle of our position."

The Japs, armed with grenades and knives, and carrying light machineguns and mortars, brought over a dozen high explosive charges into the artillery position with the intention of blowing up the guns.

They blundered into booby traps as they infiltrated, and the explosions alerted the gunners to their danger. Confused and hand fighting broke out all over the position amid dark foxholes and puppets.

"Our boys killed some of them, and the others just blew themselves up with grenades when they saw they were trapped and couldn't get at the guns," Murphy said. "We found eight dead ones in our area, and I picked up the pearl handled sabre of the officer who evidently commanded them."

Count Dead Japs

Twenty-five dead Japs in all were found in the position—five of them within fifteen yards of the Battalion command post. The artillerymen suffered nine casualties, only four of them serious. Not a single big gun was damaged.

An ammunition sergeant with one of the 77th Division batteries, Murphy worked before the war as an assembler for the Viking Tool Machine company in town. He is a veteran of the Guam, Leyte, and Kerama Retto campaigns, and his decorations include the Asiatic-Pacific campaign ribbon, the Philippines Liberation ribbon, and the Good Conduct medal.

In recent letters to The Times-News, Murphy has described his three missions in ten months as "all tough ones with no rest." He called the Ie Shima battle the "toughest and roughest battle I have been in." On one island he related, they had a struggle to save some native girls and their mothers from committing Hari Kari but by the use of sign language finally persuaded them that they would not be killed. The G.I.'s then had to carry the women about a mile, on their backs, to the prison camp.

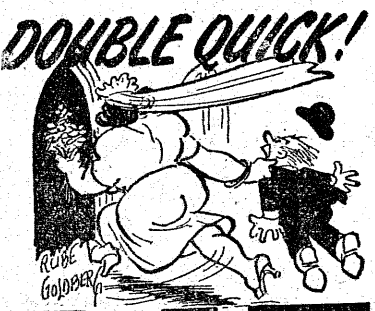

He describes the "chow" as very good but says there is a slight shortage of cigarettes, and "this is one place where a person smokes plenty." It's no picnic he writes, and says that a feather bed and a couple of months' sleep are things he would appreciate most, at the moment.

Time Out From Combat

TALKING IT OVER somewhere in Germany are S.Sgt. Leo J. Giangrande of 50 Magnolia street left above and Cpl. Peter F. Murphy of Elmhurst, N. Y., both assigned to a medical battalion of the 44th Infantry Division in the Sixth Army Group. S.Sgt. Giangrande, a platoon sergeant in the division, was a trucker in civilian life and is a graduate of Belleville High school. He has been awarded the Good Conduct Ribbon and three battle stars. Horace, a brother, is also in the Army and another brother, Samuel is serving in the Navy. Both soldiers have more than four years of Army service and seven months overseas.

Mr. Metz enlisted in the Navy two and a half years ago. He was graduated from Belleville High school in 1941 and worked in the Federal Shipyards before entering service. Mrs. Metz is the former Miss Doris Madison of Smallwood avenue. The couple now reside in Caldwell.

POW Gets Home

Pfc. Vincent Cassidy

Pfc. Vincent Cassidy, who made his home here with his brother, William Cassidy of 39 Ralph street before entering the first draft contingent to leave Belleville in November, 1940, was liberated from a German prison camp April 15 and arrived in this country Monday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cassidy of Jersey City with whom he will spend the first part of his 60 day furlough.

Member of an anti-tank corps, he has described his capture in Normandy, France last July when he and two other men approaching a German tank to cripple it with their guns in one of the "battles of the hedgerows," suddenly found themselves without infantry support and were surrounded. In prison their occupation was farm work, their barracks were warm but their food consisted of the new traditional "turnip and potato soup." When occasional Red Cross packages were received the men took their chocolate bars to the fields with them and were able to trade them with German workers for extra bread which augmented their meals. Pfc. Cassidy has gained back the fifty pounds he lost.

He went overseas in 1942 and first served in North Africa. He has two other brothers in service. Pfc. Cassidy was with the Pettit Paint company here.

Col. Charles J. Donholm, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., has won a high reputation for combat efficiency in all types of battle. It stormed the beaches of Italy and Southern France and performed the slow and tedious task of taking rugged mountain heights. Troops of the 143rd gobbled up as much as 70 miles a day as part of the Butler Task Force, a flying column which later, with the rest of the 36th Division, bottled up the entire German 19th Army in the Rhone Valley.

Since its baptism of fire on D-Day at Salerno, Italy, where it was among the first American infantry units on European soil, its men have amassed approximately 365 combat days and captured over 23,000 Germans. It participated in the liberation of Naples and fought bloody battles below Cassino.

Breaking out of the Anzio beachhead in a 36th Division infiltration maneuver, described as one of the greatest strategic feats of the war, it sped through Rome to the hills overlooking Pisa. In France it was part of the "stopper" that trapped thousands of

Navy Gives Rocket Exhibit at Walter Kidde Plant

Rocket Supplier Sponsors Show That Includes Buzz Bomb and Other Types

A rocket exhibit of the United States Navy was shown in the parking lots of Walter Kidde and company on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. The exhibit is the first of its kind to appear in this area.

It included a German "Buzz Bomb," various American rockets, plane and boat launchers and other equipment employed. The uses and effectiveness of this new weapon which is bringing terror to the Japs were explained by veterans of Pacific battles in which rockets were used to cover beach landings and to knock out Jap caves and emplacements.

Officer-in-charge of the exhibit was Ensign Whitfield Wood, USNR, 21, of Lynn, Mass. Ensign Wood, commissioned while on duty in the Pacific, saw action in that theater from Lavea to Guam aboard an LST. His ship took several direct hits from Japanese field artillery at Bougainville where no rockets were available to clear the beach. He contrasts this experience with the initial landing at Guam where a barrage of thousands of rockets made possible a successful landing despite stubborn resistance.

Used Rockets

A third member of the group was AMM 2/c John Johnston, USN, who flew in a rocket firing TBF "AVENGER" in recent Pacific actions. Operating from one of the Navy's carriers, Johnston's plane used rockets against shore installations at Palau and against the enemy fleet in the battle of Leyte Gulf. In the latter engagement he was shot down, drifted for ten hours in a rubber boat, reached a nearby island, and spent six weeks with native guerrilla forces before rejoining the fleet. He is 20 years old and comes from New York City.

Rounding out the crew was Sgt. Emmanuel Guito, USMC, of Lancaster, Pa. This 22-year-old marine, a former Golden Glove champion, was twice wounded in action. He first saw rockets at Cape Gloucester on Christmas Day, 1943, and calls them "the best Christmas gift we had from you folks at home." On Peleliu, Sgt. Guito became somewhat of a rocket expert. He landed under a rocket barrage from the sea, watched rocket firing aircraft demolish fortified enemy cave positions, and saw the Marines use bazookas against Jap gun emplacements.

This battle-tested quartet, who have seen what rockets can do in action and know from first-hand experience how vitally they are needed, agree wholeheartedly that "On every beachhead — rockets came first!"

WILLIAM LIEBAUS CONCLUDE TRIP

Return to Quantico, Va. After Wedding Trip to Poconos

Pvt. William Liebau, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Liebau of 23 Duane street, and Mrs. Liebau concluded their honeymoon in the Poconos last week and Pvt. Liebau returned to the Marine Corps base at Quantico, Va. The couple were married May 5 in Ozone Park, L. I. Mrs. Liebau is the former Miss Dorothy Frances Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Weber of that place.

Pvt. Liebau has been at Quantico since last July. He had previously spent 25 months of Marine warfare in the Pacific in Guadalcanal and other engagements.

The couple were married in St. Mary Gate of Heaven church in Ozone Park by Rev. A. D. D'Amico of the Order of St. Mary. A nuptial Mass followed the ceremony after which a reception was held in the Franklin hotel in Jamaica, L. I.

Miss Joan Weber attended her sister as maid of honor and the Misses Mary Cherry of 27 Hornblower avenue, Mary Policastro of North Bergen, Rita Essig of Ozone Park and Bernice Bark of Maspeth, L. I., as bridesmaids.

1st Sgt. Carl Jasinski, USMC of this town was best man; Lieut. (j.g.) Joseph McCoy and Ensign John Schneider of Richmond Hill and Mechanist's Mate 1/c Edward Fuller, USMS, of Patchogue were ushers.

The bride's gown was of net over tulle and was made with a train. Her fingertip veil fell from a coronet of French bell flowers and tiny pink rosebuds; her prayer book was covered with white orchids.

The maid of honor's costume of lace and net was pink and was matched by a halo headdress. She carried blue delphinium. The color scheme was reversed for the bridesmaids who wore similar costumes of blue and carried pink African daisies.

Mrs. Liebau was graduated from Our Lady of Wisdom academy in Ozone Park; Pvt. Liebau from St. Benedict's Preparatory school. He was with the 6th Infantry company in civilian life.

for Japan. Walter Kidde and company are suppliers of rockets to the United States Navy and will put the individual names on the shipping boxes as they leave the plant. The Navy is sponsoring this exhibit so that American workers may better realize that a colossal effort still remains in the Pacific. Rockets are expected to play an important part in the final victory.

Pfc. Richard Noke Takes Care Of Jap Conversationalist

Pfc. Richard W. Noke of 223 Greylock parkway, doesn't know the Japanese language but he does have an effective way of replying to questions blurted out in the night by Nipponese soldiers.

The infantryman was dug in one night atop Hawk Saw ridge facing enemy positions on the reverse slope when he saw a figure moving toward his position at about 4 o'clock in the morning. Believing the man to be another American returning to the lines, Noke let him approach to within twenty feet of him. Just as he realized the intruder was a Jap, the infiltrator whispered a question to him in Japanese, apparently thinking the Yank was another Jap.

Quietly taking a bead on the Jap, Noke ended the one-sided conversation by squeezing off a shot from his rifle.

Pressure Canner Gauges May Be Checked Tuesday

Belleville owners of pressure canners are invited to have canner gauges tested free of charge by bringing the pressure cooker lid to the "Canning Clinic" which will be conducted by Mrs. Gertrude Morrison of the County Extension Service, in the Washington school, Nutley on Tuesday at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Thomas Jackrell, local canning chairman, urges that all gauges be tested before starting this year's canning. Gauge testing will be from 1 to 2 p.m. after which a technicolor movie, "Canning The Victory Crop" will be shown. There will also be an opportunity to ask questions and discuss canning problems.

a result of school board action on Monday night and an attempt will be made to have the preparation of the play area completed by fall.

Purchased about a year ago from the Pearl Realty company of Glen Ridge, plans were drawn at that time by Arthur Starin, Basking Ridge architect, according to specifications prepared by Superintendent of Schools Wayne R.
Parmer, Acting High school principal Burt Johnson and Coach Herman Wische. They call for two levels which will include a softball diamond, three badminton courts, three deck tennis, two shuffleboard and one volleyball court. Provision of an enlarged play area was recommended by the evaluating committee. An elliptical piece of land next to the gas station was not included in the original purchase and the board's building and grounds committee has designated Charles Gebhardt to negotiate now for the purchase of the strip. If it is obtained, the area will have a 126 foot frontage on Washington avenue and 200 feet frontage on High street.

Joseph Arnold, board president, stated that he is anxious that the work be done this summer as soon as school is closed and requested that revised plans to include the additional land be submitted by the architect within two weeks for the June 4 meeting.

Walter Gilby, building and grounds chairman, who was prepared to advertise for bids for the preparation of the ground for a two level play area, based on the original plot, will now ask for alternate bids to include the strip of land under negotiation. Deadline for the filing of bids on this work which includes grading and the erection of a retaining wall near the gas station, is expected to be June 18.

Taylor of South Orange, vice-version and reconstruction. Speaking of the plans for international that there is constant necessity for compromise because of the different states of development on the plan has in back of it the will of the people to make it succeed.

Dr. J. D. Messick, Dean of Montclair Teachers College, spoke in the afternoon on Character and Spiritual Education, reminding his audience that the aggressor nations discarded such education in ed the need of understanding as a primal quality for those dealing with childhood and youth.

Extinguishing System for Busses

For the benefit of insurance officials and bus operators, Walter Kidde and company, Inc. will stage a demonstration of their new carbon dioxide fire extinguishing system for busses at their main plant in town on Wednesday, May 23, at 2:30 p.m.

Prompted by the occurrence of a number of serious bus fires in recent years, engineers of the company have developed this built-in system to give protection to the constantly growing volume of bus traffic, and it is now in process of installation in a leading intercity bus fleet.

At the demonstration, actual fires will be started, and the exact operation of the system shown.
Included in the test will be the special flame detector designed by the same company originally for use in their fire-extinguishing system for military tanks, and also employed in their fire-detecting system for aircraft.

Requests Improvements In High School Equipment

Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer reminded the board of education on Monday night of his request of last year for a demonstration desk in science rooms 7 and 8 in the High school, a film strip projector requested this year, and one or possibility two Chandler and Price platen presses for the print shop, also requested last year.

District Clerk Ruel E. Daniels stated that he is getting estimates again, on the desks, that the projector can't be ordered for next year until July 1 and that after investigation with American Type Founders, found the presses were not available last year.

The necessity for the presses was questioned by the board since the evaluating committee stated that the print shop had too much work.

Parmer explained that Russell Ubrecht, printing teacher, had requested them to balance the shop work.

Jordan in Mars Task Force That Cut Burma Road

Localite Spent Six Months with Volunteer Outfit As Radio Operator

Sgt. A. E. Costello, known in Belleville as A. Ernest Jordan, arrived in China last month, from Burma, when he was a member of the Mars Task Force that cut the Burma road, according to his mother, Mrs. Joseph L. Jordan of 25 Nulton street.

During his fourteen months overseas he has also been in North Africa and India. During his six months with the task force in Burma as a radio operator and repairman, they covered the most hazardous terrain in Burma ever traversed by an American unit, his mother reports.

They fought the Japs saveagely at Bhamo and down to Lashio, a trek of about 300 miles, which was described by their commander as "a magnificent job of marching over rugged mountains, followed by an equally magnificent job of fighting."

A description of their performance given in the Army newspaper, "Roundup" printed at Delhi for the India-Burma theater, states that "twice the Mars Task Force bivouaced at altitudes of 8,000 feet and although we sweated in the sun on the trail, at night the water in our canteens froze. We were moving into enemy territory and no fires were permitted. And so, on the tops of those mountains we huddled together for warmth at night."

"When our food was dropped to us, everyone watched each circle the plane made and moaned aloud when a parachute failed to open and the cans splattered over the mountains, or when the wind drifted a chute into a river. That meant living on vitamin pills until next time."

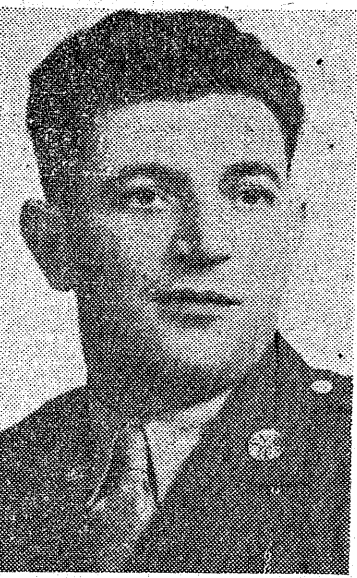

Hazardous Night Marches

"At night we marched by linking hands as we crossed treacherous bogs, swamps, creeks and precipices with phosphorous lighting on the backs of men and mules. The men were so tired at times that every mule in the column had some poor soul hanging on to its tail. On the thirtieth day of the March from Myitkyna, we lost fourteen mules over mountains as high as 7,800 feet, as the unit pushed on over a creek road."

Such is the partial story of the task force, all volunteers, who fought Japs and numerous hazards in their drive to cut the Burma road for the Allies. Sgt. Jordan holds a presidential unit citation for this mission and also received a promotion to his present rank. With him for awhile was Thomas Cataldi of 347 Union avenue until he contracted malaria and was shipped to a hospital in India.

Sgt. Jordan graduated from Belleville High school in 1942 and entered the Army in October of the same year. He trained at Camp Crowder, Mo. for eight months in signal corps work, and then became an army cadet at the University of Nebraska and Rhode Island State College. When the Army disbanded the A.S.T.P. he returned to Camp Crowder for wireless and teletype instruction. He also was trained in India, in driving eight-ton trucks.

Promoted

1st. Sgt. Salvatore Prezioso Jr

Promotion to first sergeant came to Sgt. Salvatore Prezioso Jr of 50 Naples avenue in Germany on V-E day. He is a member of a cavalry reconnaissance division which went overseas nine months ago. The unit was first stationed in France.

His parents and his wife, the former Miss Angelina Sgobbo of this town, live at the Naples avenue address. Sgt. Prezioso, who has been in service two and a half years, was with Federal Telephone and Radio corporation in Newark. He was graduated from Belleville High school in 1935.

He is the brother of T/Sgt. George Prezioso, now at Langley Field, Va., after 29 months overseas. He is a bombardier-engineer and will spend his first birthday at home in four years this week when he has three days leave here from the field.

Gets Bronze Star

T/5 Peter N. Nicollette

In a letter written the day before V-E day T/5 Peter Nicollette of 50 Mitchell street told his mother that he had just been awarded the Bronze Star for heroic conduct in connection with military operations against the enemy in Heck duseheid, Germany. The action took place February 6.

The soldier, who is with a medical detachment of an armored infantry division of the 3rd Army, "voluntarily entered anti-personnel minefield at night through barbed wire obstacles and deep snow to evacuate wounded soldiers." He is credited with saving the lives of several men in a confused and dangerous situation.

Cpl. Nicollette was hospitalized after his difficult feat and returned to action. Later he sustained an eye injury and has now rejoined his unit in Austria.

Twenty-three, he entered the Army in November, 1942. He had previously attended Belleville High school and been employed by Walter Kidde company. He went overseas in October, 1944. His mother is Mrs. Lucy Nicollette of the Mitchell street address. His sister, Mrs. Charles Restaino resides at 119 Mt. Prospect avenue.

Locals Shut Out Opponents to Chalk Up Seven Wins

Lubertazza and Marshall Take Bellboys To 3-1 And 7-1 Triumphs

Their sixth and seventh victories were chalked up by the Bellboys last week with a 3-1 triumph over Immaculate Conception of Montclair and a 7-1 shut-out for Harrison.

In the Immaculate Conception tilt, Herman Lubertazza on the mound for the Bellboys, scattered seven hits, struck out five and passed one. Jim Davidson pitched for the opponents, with a no-walk record, striking out five.

For the first five innings it was a scoreless ball game with Immaculate getting the first score in the top of the sixth frame. Borquist started off with an easy out but Schultz followed with a free ticket. He stole second and scored on a line single by Harry Slattery. A double by Joe Lubin advanced Slattery to third but the rally ended there.

In the home half of that frame, the Bellboys came fighting back with three winning runs. Pat Passannanti, leading batter, led off with a double off the left field fence. After a pop-up Tony Greco singled him home with the tying run. Greco went to third on an error by Lubin. On Joe Costello's grounder, Greco was caught in a run down, but got back to third safely, Costello going to second. Both scored on Pat Raccioppi's single.

The locals made it three in a row the following day when they defeated Harrison 7-1. John Marshall made his first starting appearance of the campaign and did exceptionally well. He gave up five hits, two walks and got a strike-out victim in the five innings he pitched.

Lou Vitelli relieved him in the sixth, striking out one and passing the same number. Al Biddulph went the distance for Harrison striking out six but passing seven. Belleville took advantage of the Harrison generosity while the boys from cross the river couldn't bunch their eight hits.

Three Run Damage

Without giving up a hit, the opponents, behind Biddulph gave up three runs. Papasidero led off with a free pass and stole second. After an out was made, Takash got a hit on error which scored Papasidero. A walk and another hit on error scored Takash. Passannanti sacrificed to score Marshall and when Rowles attempted to do the same Passannanti was tagged out at the plate. A strike-out ended the inning.

In the following frame the Bellboys made three earned runs on three hits. Costello was hit with a pitched ball to start off the inning. A single by Papasidero sent Costello to third. While trying to work a doublesteal, Papasidero was out at second but Costello stole home safely.

A free pass and successive singles by Takash and Marshall scored Raccioppi and left men on first and third. Once again, they tried the double steal in which Takash scored and Marshall was run down.

The Harrison lone tally came in the fifth on a walk and two base hits. Biddulph scoring. Belleville made their last run in the sixth on a hit, walk and error. Harrison staged rallies in the sixth and seventh but didn't score.

BELLBOY BITS: Belleville's fine record has put them in the baseball tournament. They will play Roselle Park this coming Saturday at Belleville. Pasquariello has five more weeks before he will enter the Navy. . . He is the leading scorer with nine runs to his credit. . . Passannanti has hit safely in seven of the nine games played, his recent streak being five. . . The team has only made one error in the last three games.

Bad Orb Was "Popular" Among Local G. I.'s

Four More Internees Return Home; Cpl. Walter Davis Reported Safe

Tales of Bad Orb prison camp, "popular" among local internees, were told again last week, as a round-up disclosed that four more soldiers are enjoying home life again after varying periods as captives. They are Pfc. John Scalercio, Pvt. Dominick Alberti, Pvt. Joseph Bocchino and Pvt. Joseph Gamaro.

In addition, it has been learned that Cpl. William J. Davis, previously reported missing among the liberated Belleville members of the 104th infantry division in Germany, is well. His mother, Mrs. Mary Davis of 63 Washington avenue received a cablegram from him on May 4.

It was followed by a recent War department telegram stating that the corporal was liberated on April 21 from Stalag 4-B. He was imprisoned December 16, Cpl. Davis attended Belleville High school and was with Crucible Steel company in civilian life. His wife, the former Miss Vina Woods of Newark and 17 month old daughter live in East Orange.

Pfc. Scalercio is the husband of the former Miss Grace Pacente, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pacente of Washington avenue with whom she and their two children are making their home. He was interned at work camps in Prum and Gerolstein before going to Limburg and Bad Orb where he was liberated.

Captured on December 28 as a member of the 35th infantry division at the Battle of the Bulge, he marched over 230 miles in his trek from camp to camp, under the usual conditions of no food or water.

The thirty-three year old private was in various details at the work camps where he removed the dead and wounded from bombed houses, helped in burials, carried water for civilians and lugged building materials five miles up a mountain for construction work.

He arrived home almost simultaneously with a fruit cake his family had sent him for Christmas and which was returned by the post office, in time for the home-coming celebration. The private and his wife will spend two weeks at a rest camp in Asheville, N. C. before he reports to a redistribution center for processing and reassignment.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Scalercio of Newark, he entered the service March 10, 1944 and went overseas last August. He has four brothers in service, Samuel, coxswain 3/c stationed in San Francisco, Calif.; Donald a staff sergeant in Germany; Michael Jr., a corporal on his way home from Europe and Floyd, a sergeant in Italy.

While at Bad Orb, Scalercio became a member of the New Jersey club along with Pvt. Alberti and Pvt. Gamaro. Pvt. Alberti is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Alberti of 385 Lake street, and has been interned since January 12. He attended Belleville High and Newark Vocational schools before entering service in 1943. He was formerly employed by the American Housing company in Kearny.

Pvt. Gamaro, a member of the 28th infantry division, is the husband of Mrs. Josephine Gamaro of 369 Lake street. He was also taken prisoner in January. He entered service in 1941 and in civilian life was employed by Cuzzo brothers.

The second to be liberated, of the three brothers in service, Pvt. Joseph Bocchino, 21, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bocchino of 15 Frederick street. He was reported missing in January, 1944, five months after Anthony Jr. was taken captive. Born in Belleville, he attended the high school and entered the army in the fall of 1942. He went to Africa in December, 1943 and then into Italy, joining the same battalion Anthony had belonged to.

The boys have another brother, Frank, a corporal in the ETO.

St. Peter's CYO Oratorical Contestants Earn Ratings

Members of St. Peter's CYO who earned ratings in an oratorical contest last Thursday evening at Blessed Sacrament church, Newark, were Miss Mary Tasselli in third place and Miss Maureen Bell, tied for sixth place.

Contestants were judged by Rev. Thomas Long, OSB, of the National Forensic league; Charles Anderson, director of the American Legion oratorical contest and a member each of the faculties of Central and Barringer high schools. A dinner in honor of the contest winners, a Newark and an Irvington boy, will be held in the Hotel Sheraton Sunday evening. All contestants will be present.

Sunday evening the CYO bowling teams will entertain boys and girls bowling teams of Blessed Sacrament church whom the St. Peter's teams recently dethroned as champions of the county CYO league. After a game in St. Peter's alleys a dance will be given in the auditorium.

St. Peter's youngsters lost the first baseball game of the CYO grammar school league in Branchbrook Park Thursday to St. Mary's team 21 to 5. Nutley scored thirteen hits; Belleville, three. Hits were made by James Kelly, Henry Bergamini and Angelo Piana.

JR. RED CROSS WORK DISPLAYED

Activities Of Junior Red Crescent In Egypt Told In Letter to Local Member

Now being exhibited at Sears, Roebuck and Woolworth stores are many items hand-made by the High School Junior Red Cross. They were painted by Lieut. Michael Hanley and other members of the William Street fire house staff and will later be sent to military camps and hospitals. The articles include ten bedside tables, two smoking tables, five smoking stands, ten cans, two book wagons, two book racks and twenty-five lap boards.

Mrs. William H. Williams, chairman of local Junior Red Cross also made public an interesting letter from a school girl, Nevine Sirry in Cairo, Egypt, sent to Dolores Ottoviani of 115 Garden avenue and School No. 7.

The letter is one of thanks for the surprise boxes sent overseas and the delight these Egyptian children have in receiving them. Nevine wrote also of the activities of the Junior Red Crescent, taking part in events that have the same appeal as for American school-children. Her letter follows:

"I have just received the lovely present you sent us; I must say all my friends who have received them and myself were delighted. We never expected to find so many nice things inside those surprise boxes. But most of all I think what I enjoyed the most was the 'voyo' (I don't know how you call them in American). I have it with me all the time and last night as I had put it on the dining-room table at dinner, my father said he would take it away from me (which he didn't do, of course).

"You know here in Egypt we have only just started to be juniors, but it is very satisfactory to realize how all of us have entered into the spirit of the thing. In our school which is a private institution we have already done quite a lot of things to help the poor; on two occasions we collected money and bought sweets, cigarettes, oranges, and biscuits which we gave ourselves to the poor in hospitals.

Red "Crescent" There

Then in another instance as villages had been flooded by the rain and had suffered many casualties we sent some money to the Ladies' committee of the Red Crescent which occupies itself with all these emergency cases. We sowed quite a lot of 'galabieh' (dresses of the poor) and distributed them to the poor as well as pull-overs and scarves which we knitted. We hope to organize a "fair" at school next month, which will start at three in the afternoon. There will be first the tea and selling of things, then a small show and afterwards a dance. As it will be in May we are having it in the open air, and the funds are to go partly to the French refugees (because it's a French school) and partly to the Junior Red Crescent's fund."

Girl Scout Council Gives Reception For Adults

A reception for all adults who have taken active part in Girl Scouting in Belleville this year will be given by the Girl Scout council at the Woman's club Wednesday evening, June 6. Mrs. George R. Gerard is Girl Scout commissioner.

The gathering will be informal; but will feature an address by Miss Anne Grahn, field representative of the National Girl Scout staff.

A field day for Brownies Saturday in Belleville park and a campfire at Municipal stadium for Girl Scout troops on June 1 will conclude troop activities for the summer.

...when you welcome the Victory Volunteer

... As you read this, your armed forces are fighting their way toward the great victory. Every American must do his part—that means every American must back this greatest of all War Bond drives—the mighty, urgent Seventh!

TWO BIG DRIVES IN ONE!

... Last year, by this time, you were asked to subscribe in two drives. Since this is the first drive in 1945, we must be ready to back it up to the hilt. That means you must substantially increase your bond buying during the Seventh.

... Let's get ready now to welcome the volunteer salesman with a generous heart and an open pocketbook. Thousands of men, women, boys and girls are giving their time to take your bond subscriptions. They know how vital this drive is—show them you know, too, by buying bigger, extra bonds.

... If you have any income, from any source—whether from work, land or capital—you have a personal quota in this drive. Find out what it is—and be ready to do your share when your victory volunteer calls.

... The need is greater than ever before. As we push closer to victory, the cost of waging war gets higher and higher. More guns, more ships, more planes are needed every day. That's why we must put every ounce of effort behind the Seventh War Loan. And remember, too, war bonds are still the world's safest investment—they represent savings for your future—victory for your country.

Time To Take Stock

The resignation of Burt Johnson from the Belleville school system represents a loss in leadership and guidance for the high school students and faculty that will be keenly felt. His resignation at this time is particularly regrettable when some of his long-range programs such as curriculum and courses of study are just becoming established and still need the development that a well-qualified educator can provide. His work here has borne out the recommendations of members of the faculty at Columbia university, school superintendents and school boards with whom he has worked. They are unanimous in describing him as outstanding, a leader and above average in ability.

It is apparent that the board of education has lacked a mutual understanding not only of the conditions under which Mr. Johnson was brought here, but that it also has neglected to formulate and crystallize a progressive, long-range educational policy. Their problem now, of securing a person of experience for the high school will be a difficult one and they are undoubtedly as interested, as anyone else, in avoiding a similar occurrence with the next administrator they hire.

Time could be given now, to a consideration of an educational policy that will embrace such exigencies as future changes in key administrative personnel positions. We refer both to the eventual disposal of the next administrator they hire, when the high school principal returns to his position and also to the approaching retirement of the superintendent of schools.

The board could profitably change its accent from administration to policy making and vest sole authority in the superintendent whose acts would, of course, be subject to their approval. By giving the superintendent full responsibility, they would integrate authority and shift the emphasis away from the business office where, according to accepted educational standards, it does not rightly belong. The business manager is now responsible to the board of education instead of to the superintendent. Also, by providing adequate administrators, they would escape a recurrence of their present unenviable position in which there is no one available to succeed to the position of acting high school principal.

Memorial Day

It is an unusually solemn Memorial Day which we shall observe this year. As our citizens march through the streets, to pause at each of the veterans' monuments or to lay wreaths on soldiers' graves in our cemeteries, our thoughts will go to those other graves which none of us will ever see but which will always be a part of America.

North Africa, Sicily, Italy, France, Belgium, Germany, the far islands of the Pacific, the unmarked graves in the sea—all will hold our hearts, for there have fallen our bravest and our best.

It is a long battle roll that we are compiling. For generations the names were pure American — Spotsylvania, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Gettysburg. Then foreign names began to appear—San Juan, El Caney, to be followed by the long roll of place names on the Western Front of 1918—Chateau-Thierry, Cantigny, St. Mihiel, the Meuse and the Argonne. How far away they seem—both in distance and in time. And now the roll girdles the globe, and there is scarcely a battle field in Europe, Africa or Asia on which a Belleville boy has not fallen.

It is fitting that we pause and pay them reverence. They have died for us, and the debt we owe them grows with the years.

Seventh War Loan

Following so closely after V-E Day, there is something peculiarly urgent about the Seventh War Loan. Everybody must realize that there is still an enormous job to be done in the Pacific, that to defeat Japan will cost huge sums of money for new munitions, and that the need is pressing.

Belleville's quota is $4,000,000, with the E bond objective set at $1,400,000, a new high for this town. Just as Belleville has gone over its quota in every war drive held thus far, so, it seems certain, we shall surpass our goal in this. At any event, the duty to buy war bonds to the limit of one's capacity is obvious.

Congressional Medal

Since unanimous consent is required in Congress for bestowal of the Congressional Medal of Honor, refusal of a lone Republican to vote for the resolution blocked the posthumous award of this great honor to President Roosevelt. Whatever the motives of the objector, and regardless of one's admiration for the late President as a war leader, there is no gain saying that there are excellent arguments against the award of the Medal to a civilian.

That the Medal previously had been awarded for non-military exploits by George M. Cohan, Admiral Byrd and Lindbergh is not, we believe, sufficient excuse to repeat the error. The Medal never should have been given these men in the first place. The Congressional Medal of Honor should be preserved as this country's highest award for valor in battle, and if denial of it to President Roosevelt establishes a restrictive precedent it will have accomplished a sound purpose.

This in no way minimizes the magnitude of Mr. Roosevelt's services to his country. His courage was beyond question and his work will live in history. But since the Congressional Medal of Honor was designed as recognition of valor in battle "above and beyond the life of duty", the Medal is the servicemen's own, and refusal of it to civilians, whatever their achievements, can only enhance its importance to the men in uniform.

New Loyalty Needed

Of the many and varied obstacles in the road to permanent peace, nationalism is the largest and most formidable. It probably will not prevent the establishment of a world organization, since the longing for peace throughout the world is too powerful for the statesmen to ignore. But if such an organization is to be effective, the men at San Francisco must evolve some means to abate the nationalistic fires which have been mounting in intensity for the last half century.

To achieve this will be no easy task, but one of the necessary steps toward that goal would seem to be the fostering of a new loyalty. This loyalty must be to the international governing body, above and beyond that which men now entertain for their respective countries. It will not be enough to set up a shadowy conclave of tired statesmen, meeting in some aseptic spot like Geneva, and then do nothing about winning for it the interest and regard of men. The men of all nations must give this supra-government all the devotion which they now accord their national governments. In their hearts there must be for the new international government the same loyalty that is now given to flags, to crowned heads or to those other national symbols that hold nationalities together.

How this can be done is a problem. It may be over-simplifying it to cite our own history as an example of how it has been done, yet to those who recall the important role which state's rights played in our political development, the analogy may not seem too far-fetched. Certainly the nationalist of today has no fiercer pride in his country than the Virginian or South Carolinian had in this state in 1861. But in the North man had a greater loyalty. That loyalty was to the Union, and they were ready to die to keep it alive.

Admittedly we are now far from entertaining such a concept of world organization. In relation to time, instead of facing a Civil War to preserve the Union, we are rather back in the days of the Thirteen Colonies and hesitantly drawing up something like the Articles of Confederation which preceded our Constitution. But some day the world government of nations will hold our greatest loyalty.

Meanwhile the men at San Francisco might well consider the semantics involved in their task. New symbols, new shibboleths, new creeds that will arouse the passions of men must be created. It will not be enough to lay out blueprints. Man is a creature of impulses and emotions, and if the new supra-government is to hold his loyalty it must capture his inner self.

Improvisation

Like so many others who followed with less than feverish interest the romance of The Menace and The Look, we have been speculating on the nature of the wedding service that united Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall. The municipal judge who officiated read from a loose-leaf notebook, "in which he had typed an improvised service which he said combined a little of everything." Since the traditional words of the marriage ceremony have never been looked upon in Hollywood as hoops of steel, the random jottings in a small-town judge's notebook probably are as binding as anything, although we can't help wondering why the judge didn't save time and trouble by just reading a few lines from the telephone directory and let it go at that.

These men can tell you why the 7TH WAR LOAN is the BIGGEST yet !

YOU ARE being asked to lend more money than ever before—in the 7th War Loan. These men can tell you why. They can tell you of giant ships ready to slide down the ways this year. They can tell you of a whole new air force in the building—huge new bombers and fast new jet-propelled planes coming off the line by thousands. They could show you why it is cheaper and quicker to give our Pacific Forces entirely new equipment sometimes—instead of shipping tanks and guns from Europe. They can, in short, show you 101 ways in which your dollars are needed more than ever to bring America's might to its full strength—so that we may crush our foe the faster, make an end of killing, and bring our men back home.

Will you tell these men "I can't afford to buy my share"?

THE GENERALS and admirals can show us why our money is needed—more money than before. But other men can show us something, too. They're the men with twisted, crippled limbs...with clever iron hooks instead of hands. The blind men...the men with scarred, seamed faces. And perhaps worst of all, the men with blasted, darkened minds. They can show us, clearly, how small is any sacrifice we make in lending money. If you have an income, whether from work, land, or capital, you have a quota in the 7th War Loan. Find out what that quota is—and make it!

German Stronghold

Pfc. Abe G. Becker of 98 Division avenue is one of the veteran doughboys of the 142nd Infantry regiment of the 6th Army Group in Germany, experiencing some of their hardest combat in more than 350 days of battle, recently broke through the Morder Line at Oberhoffen, captured Wissembourg, and slashed their way through strong Siegfried Line defenses.

These 36th Division infantrymen, among the most battle-weary troops in Gen. Jacob L. Devers' 6th Army Group, fought for three days against completely manned Siegfried defenses but smashed through to get in on the kill of two German armies in the Saar Basin. They observed their second anniversary overseas by boosting their total of Germans captured to 10,000.

Spectacular Record

Kepner, commanding general, 2nd Air Division, for "distinguished and outstanding performance of duty in combat" during high-altitude bombing attacks on key industries, airfields, and transportation centers throughout Europe, on rocket-launching sites in France, and on tactical targets and troop concentrations in coordination with Allied ground operations from the first landings in Normandy on D-Day through the Ardennes campaign and the Rhine crossings.

rapid trusts deep into enemy territory.

Rugged fighting in Italy saw them among first Americans to battle on European soil when they waded ashore at Salerno. They took the treacherous heights of Mount Maggiore and on Mount Castellone off a force of 1,000 Germans with 400 men. Playing a key part in one of the most brilliant maneuvers of the war they infiltrated enemy lines two miles to take heights overlooking Velletri, opened the gates to Rome, and became the first unit to pass through the capital city.

From the beaches of Southern France, these doughfests sped north and smashed back remnants of the German 19th Army trying to break out at Montelimar. First to pass through Lyons, they captured Remiremont, historic Koenigsburg Castle, St. Marie Pass and Selestat.

Honorably Discharged After 37 Months in Pacific

Pfc. Elmer H. King received an honorable discharge from the Army at Port Dix last week and returned to the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Horvath of 465 DeWitt avenue. He had recently concluded a 45 day furlough here after 37 months in the Pacific.

Pfc. King entered the Army four and a half years ago. He saw action in the engagements of Makin Island and Saipan. His 97 service points entitled him to discharge which he did not expect.

Pfc. King, who makes his home with the Horvaths, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William King of Nolton street. His brothers are William King of Nolton street and Edgar King of Overlook avenue. Before entering he was a wireweaver with Eastwood Neale corporation.

Bike Club Members Pedal To Greenwich, Conn.

The great outdoors has been no place for sports recently and as a consequence the Belleville Bicycle club had to do without the inter-state jaunt to New Hope, Pa. But Sunday, May 20, the weather being Utopian, the boys ventured on a tri-state trip to Greenwich, Conn.

Those lads sending postcards from Greenwich to the less energetic of the clan were Bob Arnott, Ed Littig and Herb Henderson. On the return trip Sunday afternoon, Littig's, Henderson's and Arnott's spokes whined to the tune of three hours from Greenwich to Belleville. This was inclusive of a really enjoyable stroll across the George Washington bridge.

The five mile race en route home was taken by Littig, with Henderson second and Arnott trailing. The club will enter a 100 kilometer handicap race on Long Island on Sunday, starting out at 6 a.m.
