Seven Hurt As Bus Hits Car And Crashes Into House

Four Remain In Hospital Following Serious Accident At Holmes Street And Hornblower Avenue Friday Night

Four men remain in St. Mary's hospital, Passaic, this week with injuries received last Friday night when a Garden State bus bound for Jersey City, collided with a passenger car, swerved out of control, snapped off a telephone pole and crashed into a house at the southeast corner of the intersection of Holmes street and Hornblower avenue, moving the house two feet from its foundation.

The men still in the hospital, and whose condition is reported as good, are: William Kelly, 21, of 281 Ampere parkway, Newark, driver of the passenger car; Robert Schmon, 34, of 240 William street, a passenger in Kelly's car; Harold Schuller, 32, of 314 Madison street, Passaic, driver of the bus, and Albert Russell, 28, of 256 Bergen avenue, Kearny, a bus passenger. Three others were treated at the hospital and have been released.

The accident occurred, according to police, when the bus operated by Schuller, traveling east on Holmes street, swerved to the right in an effort to avoid a collision with a convertible traveling south on Hornblower avenue. The attempt was unsuccessful and the bus, after striking the car, careened into the curb, snapped off a telephone pole and crashed into the right front of the house at 177 Holmes street.

Family Asleep

The occupants of the house, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burke, their daughter, Mrs. Jerry Rhodes and a granddaughter, Jane Rhodes, were asleep upstairs in the house at the time. The car, operated by Kelly, was knocked a distance of 117 feet, police said, and struck a tree in Holmes street.

Schmon was taken to St. Mary's hospital, along with Kelly, Schuller and Miss Helen Horan of 441 Belgrave drive, Kearny, a passenger in the bus, in the town ambulance. Kelly was reported suffering arm and head injuries; Schuller, leg and back injuries; and Schmon, head injuries. Miss Horan was treated for a nose injury and released.

The Nutley ambulance responded to a call and transported Salvatore Romaniello, 35, of 44 Memphis avenue; Miss Dorothy Harrington, 22, of 75 Rutgers street, Jersey City, and Russell, to St. Mary's hospital. Miss Harrington and Romaniello were treated for leg injuries and detained. Other bus passengers declined medical aid.

The crash was heard for some distance, and a large crowd of townspeople and passersby soon gathered, keeping the local police busy during the night directing traffic. Police termed the house, unsafe and would not permit the Burkes to remain in it.

STATE INCREASES BENEFIT SCALE

Amendment To Unemployment Compensation Law Sets New Rates On Claims

An amendment to the Unemployment Compensation Law of New Jersey increasing the weekly benefit scale from $7-$18 to $9-$22 went into effect Monday. The new rates apply only to benefits payable on valid claims in connection with benefit years beginning Monday or thereafter.

The $18 maximum rate, with a $7 minimum, has been in effect since April, 1941. These rates will remain in effect for claimants whose benefit years started prior to July 1 of this year, until the completion of their respective benefit years.

Another change effective Monday with respect to newly established benefit years, under legislation enacted by the 1945 Legislature, sets maximum total benefits at $572, instead of $324. The minimum total benefit amount for an eligible individual, during continued unemployment, is $90, instead of $42.

Tests of eligibility for benefits stand unchanged. An applicant must register for work, be able to work and available for suitable work, and report weekly to his nearest U. S. Employment Service Office. Earnings of not less than $150 during the base year from one or more employers subject to the New Jersey Law also are required. Benefits for partial, as well as total, unemployment are provided. Claims are filed through the employment service offices located throughout the state.

NEW AUTO TAX STAMP VALID

Postmaster Reports Sales Parallel Last Year's; Peak Was Saturday

If you haven't purchased your automobile use tax stamp for 1945-46, you'd better put it on your "must" list for today, for you're already four days late on it. All automobile owners whose cars are in use are required to have the new stamp on July 1, which is the beginning of the government fiscal year.

Postmaster William F. Price reported this week that sales of the stamps at the local postoffice was running on a par with last year. Sales usually average around $35,000 a year. While substantial sales were registered on Monday and are continuing this week, Saturday was peak day for sales. Price reported, when more than 2,300 stamps, or nearly $12,000 worth, were sold.

Although sales of stamps began on June 15th, Price reports that this year is the same as other years in that everyone waits until the last minute to buy the stamp. No extra help was used at the local office to handle the stream of tax stamp buyers on Saturday, although sales were made through four windows. However, the regular office force put in extra time in order to handle the rush.

Law enforcement authorities have been in the practice of making drives shortly after the new stamps become effective to determine if all motorists are complying with the law.

CLEARMAN FIELD ATTENDANCE HIGH

Registrations Reach Peak Of 1,100 A Week For Playground Activities

Children of the town are taking greater advantage of the playground sessions at Clearman field this year, Frank Spotts, director, reported this week in announcing that registrations at the field have reached 1100 a week. Last year, when the field was first utilized as a playground for the children during the summer, registrations averaged 700 to 800 a week, he said.

Five days a week more than 200 children a day turn up at the field to take part in the activities planned by Spotts and his associates. Additional help has been assigned to the field this year to take care of the increased registrations.

At the field the older boys take part in such games as baseball, softball, volleyball, basketball, ping pong and horseshoes under the direction of Spotts and John Westlake, while an attendance of fifty or more younger children under ten years of age are directed in group games, jacks, and various other activities by leaders Jean Dailey and Nancy Torre.

For older boys of ages up to fifteen, four baseball teams have been organized at the field. A league is being formed this week "mirroring" the four teams and a team from Recreation houses. A junior team sponsored by Post 105 American Legion is being formed this week to play afternoon games at the field.

Night Games Listed

The field is kept busy evenings during the week with games in the Industrial softball league, the Catholic Youth organization games and those of the senior team sponsored by the American Legion. Three nights during the week the Industrial softball league plays games before an average attendance of 150. Renowned Spotts, while the two CYO teams play their games on Wednesday evenings and the Legion sponsored senior team plays on Friday evenings. Tomorrow night the senior team will play Tommy Dunn's CYO team of St. Peter's church.

ACHIEVERS PLAN RADIO PROGRAM

Local Junior Firms Will Participate In New Venture On Air Waves

A state-wide Junior Achievement venture in radio, which will open that organization to boys and girls of New Jersey between the ages of 14 and 18, was inaugurated at a meeting in Newark J. A. headquarters June 19, it was announced this week.

Belleville Junior Achievement firms provided some of the first volunteers who will supply talent, ideas and effort in the program. They were Miss Betty Hansen of Junior Contractors; Alvin Outcalt and the Misses Laverne Outcalt, Irma Iannelli and Dorothy Koehler of the Belle Chemical company and Richard VanTieghen of 222 William street, not affiliated with a Junior concern here.

In October a weekly, half-hour program will be launched over a Newark radio station. It will be written, directed, acted and managed by teen-agers just as local junior companies are run under the sponsorship of Belleville manufacturers.

The new program is designed to be an outlet for youngsters who are talented or who wish to work in the writing, singing and advertising fields. This is in contrast to most of juvenile enterprises throughout the nation who have chiefly concentrated on manufactured products and their sale.

Young People's Program

The subject matter of radio programs will include all things interesting to young people including their own interpretations of sports, fads, fashions and musical recordings. Each well rounded program will cover a variety of subjects.

Danny O'Keefe, president of New Jersey association of Achievers and sales manager of a youth concern in Glen Ridge which manufactures wooden articles, is guardian of the project. He has outlined its needs in terms of "voices, writers and originators of good ideas." The latter will be young people with a desire for script writing and other forms of the hard work which supports the average radio program.

Appeal Made For Autos To Carry Disabled Vets

The Slovak War Mothers and Fathers, along with the Essex County Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars, issued an appeal this week for donations of automobiles to transport disabled veterans from the Lyons hospital to the Newark Bears Stadium on July 14.

The agencies plan to entertain 150 disabled veterans at a baseball game in the stadium. Members of the American Reserve Hospital Corps will tend the veterans while at the game. Persons desiring to donate the use of their automobiles are urged to contact Essex County Commander Charles Becker at Market 2-9795 or Joseph Hrasna at Waverly 3-2729.

BLOOD DONOR DAY IS SATURDAY

Red Cross Makes Urgent Appeal For Seventy-Five More Registrations

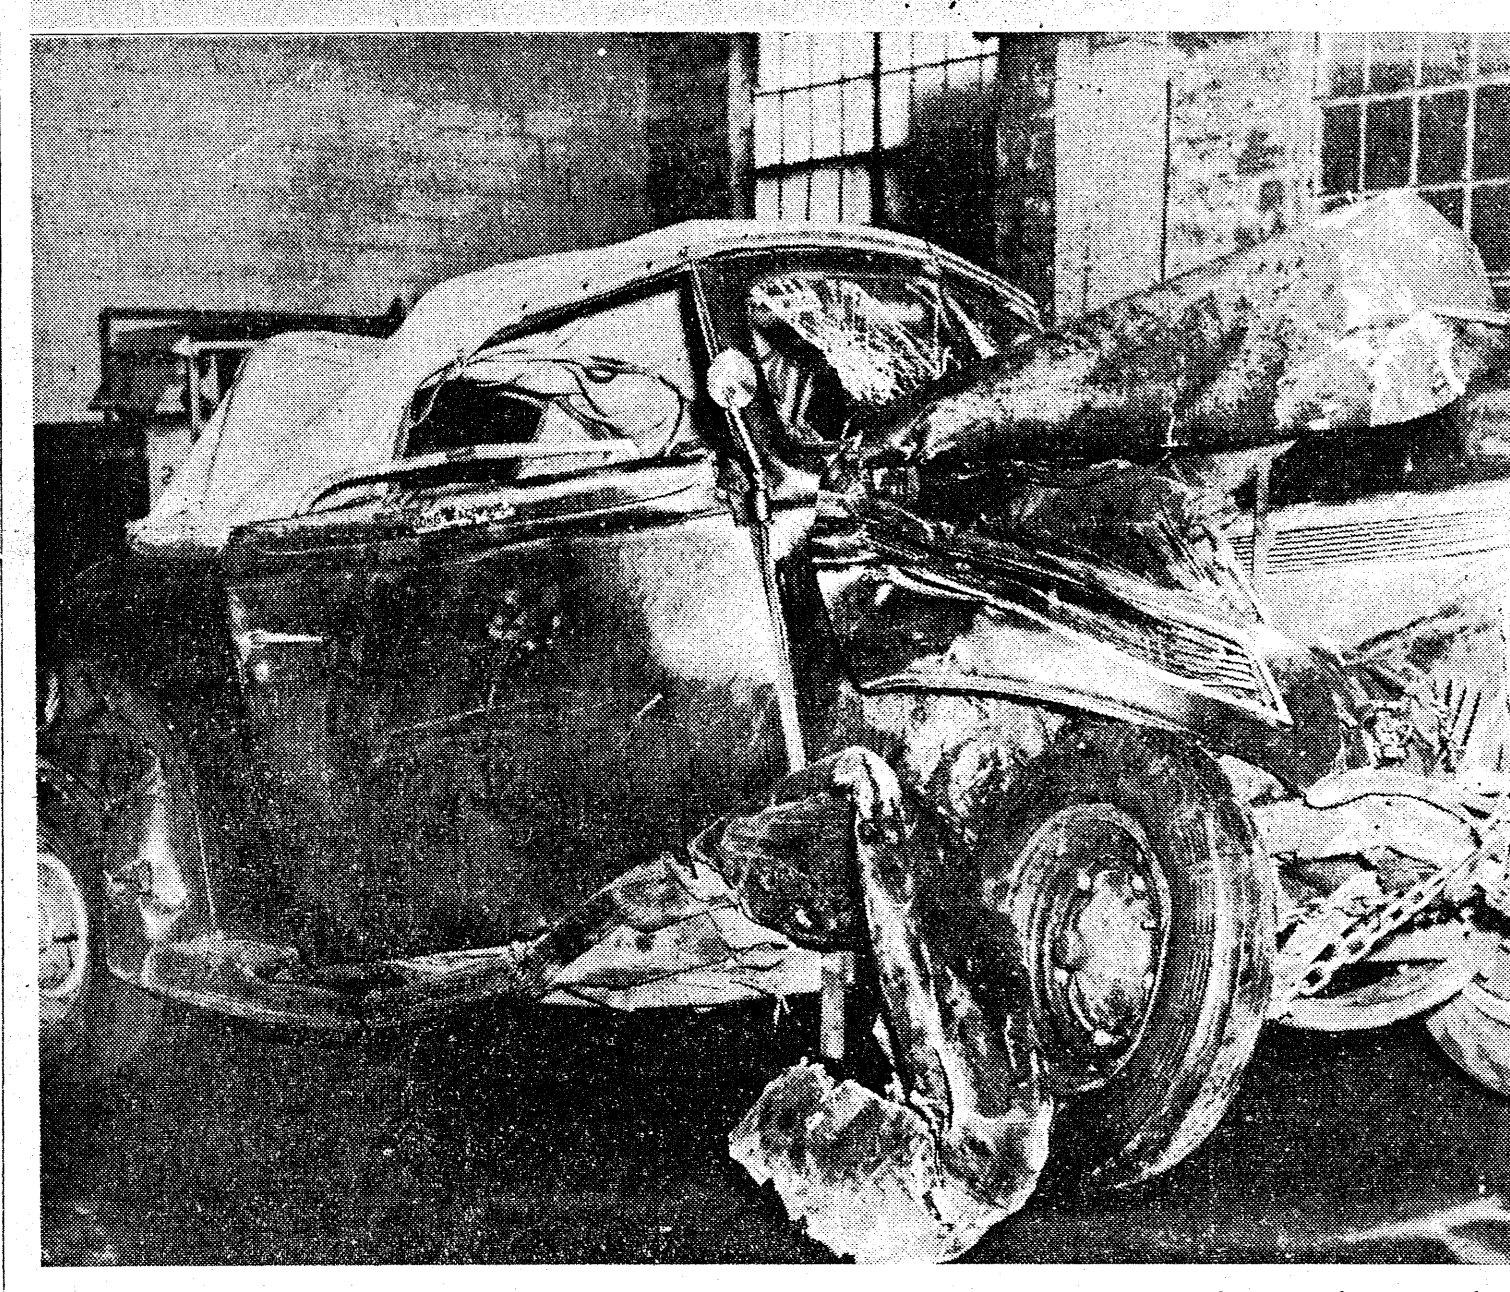

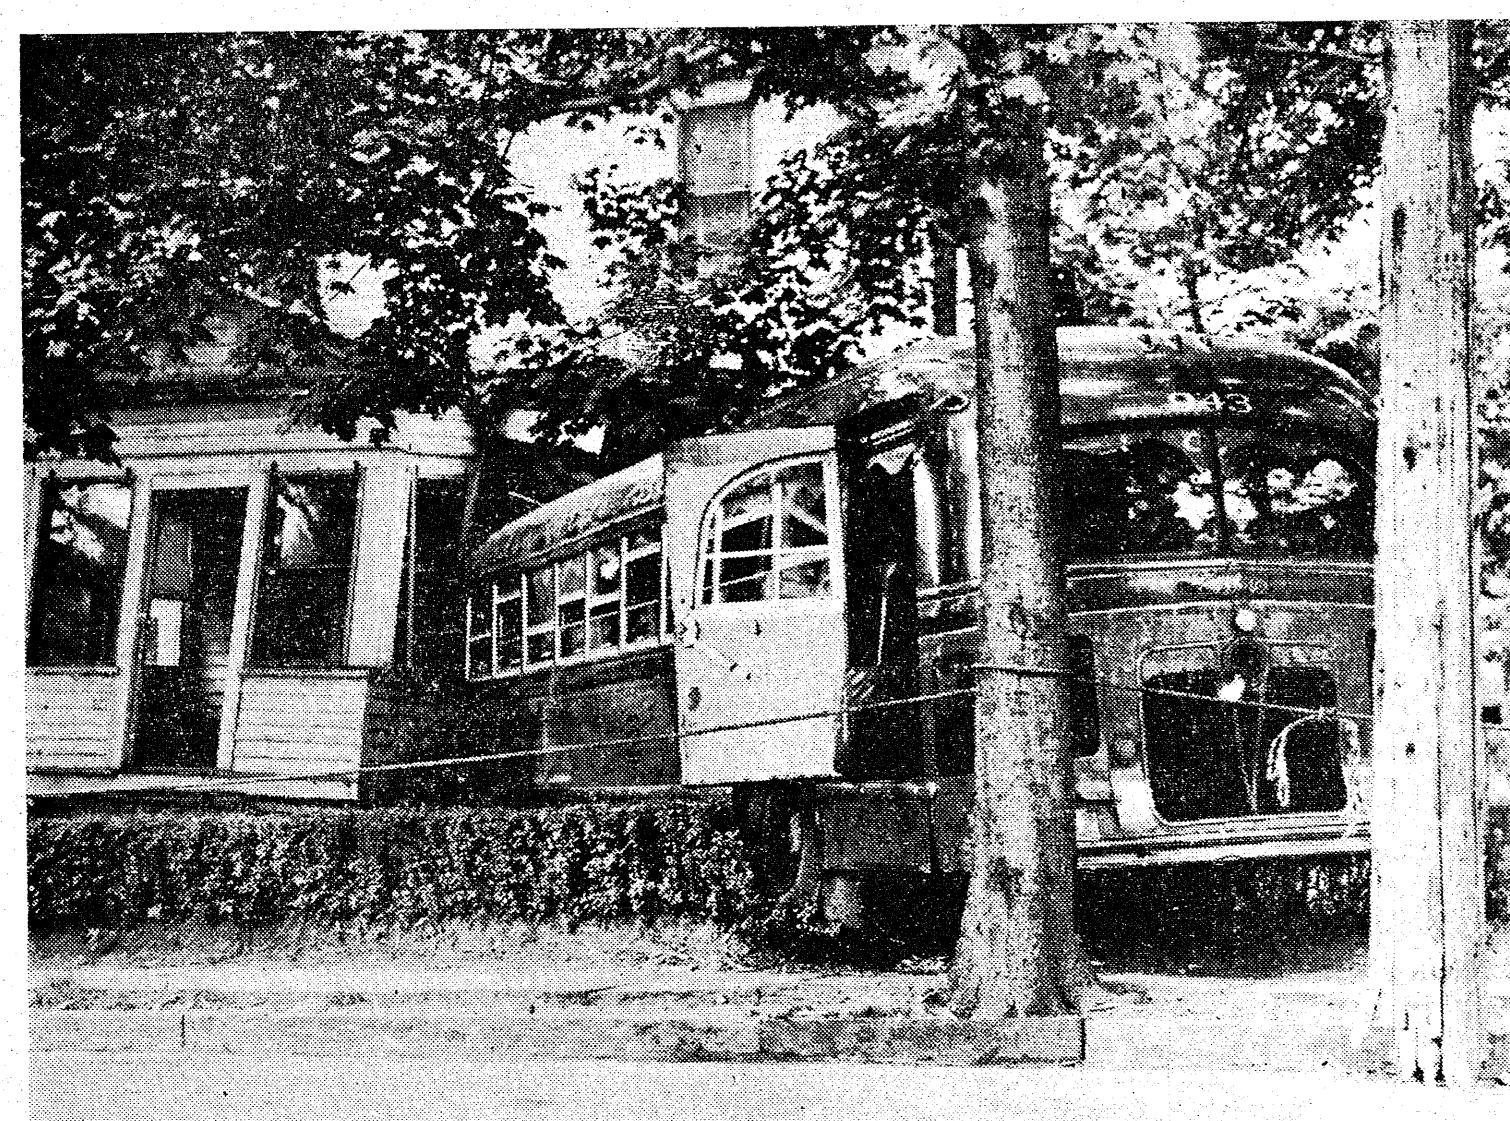

"Don't feel that giving blood is a little thing to do. What could be bigger? What's bigger than life itself? And that's just what it means when a fellow's where nothing else on earth can pull him back from the brink - - -" So wrote an Army Lieutenant from Belgium on a miracle he had seen performed by plasma.

The statements are pointed to by the Belleville Red Cross in urging local citizens to register for blood donations. The next Blood Donor day in Belleville is Saturday from 12 to 4:30 p.m. at the high school.

Seventy-five more donors are needed to fill the quota set for the local Red Cross chapter. Residents who have not already done so are urged to phone for an appointment at once at Belleville 2-4610.

Many men in service are badly wounded every day in the Pacific area, said Miss Esther Adams, executive secretary of the local chapter, who is taking registrations for donors. Sometimes it is necessary to give as many as twenty pints of plasma to each wounded man, so plasma and whole blood must be kept moving to the battlefronts. Your pint may be just the one needed to restore a wounded man to his home and family.

Damage Caused When Bus Hits Car And Crashes Into Belleville House

Belleville Service Bureau Schedules 41 For Camps

Local Youngsters Will Get Summer Vacations At Many Jersey Sites

In an expanded camping program, believed to be made necessary by war time disturbances in many homes, 41 Belleville youngsters will be sent to New Jersey camps this summer through the efforts of the Community Service Bureau. Periods will range from two weeks to all summer depending on the child's needs. Cost to the bureau will be approximately $400 from an allocation in its annual support by the Community Chest and council.

Red Cross Motor corps aid is again largely responsible for transporting the children, according to executive secretary Mrs. Julia O. Reiner of the bureau. Seven boys and girls were taken by the corps Saturday to a Newfoundland, New Jersey, camp. The Birches. The corps also renders year round help in assisting ill clients of the bureau to sources of medical aid.

Camps patronized by the bureau, which renders one of its main services in scrutinizing the needs of children and advising parents before placements are made, include The Birches, Bonnie Brae

CHURCH HONORS FAITHFUL SERVER

Edward Lukowiak Feted On Completion Of 25 Years Of Service

Edward Lukowiak of 29 Clinton street, was honored Sunday evening by a reception given him by the societies and members of St. Peter's parish. The occasion was a celebration of 25 years of service Mr. Lukowiak has given the church as sexton of the church, janitor of the school and superintendent of the cemetery.

Congratulations were expressed throughout the special program arranged in his honor. Thomas A. Haney arranged a musical program for the event. Miss Maureen Haney sang "Morning," by Teresa Del Rio; Miss Patricia Haney rendered "Morning," by Oley Speaks. The musical part of the program was completed by a selection "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," by Victor Herbert, sung by Miss Joan McFadden.

Speaking on behalf of the parish, James Leonard offered heartfelt congratulations and many more years of health to Mr. Lukowiak. John Callahan spoke for the church ushers. Joseph Hunter, grand knight of the local K. of C., congratulated Mr. Lukowiak.

LOCAL VETERAN GETS G. I. LOAN

Believed First In Town Granted Under Terms Of Bill Of Rights

Granting of a "G.I." home loan, believed to be the first of its type completed in Belleville under the provisions of the G.I. Bill of Rights, was announced this week by Edward P. Cantwell, secretary-manager of the DeWitt Savings and Loan Association. Recipient of the loan was John C. Densler Jr. of 17 Bremont street.

According to Cantwell, several loans have been under application since the Bill went into effect, but this is the first to be approved by the Veterans' Administration and completed. Application for the loan was made less than a month ago, he said, and latest indications are that approval from the Veterans' Administration can now be secured in about two weeks.

Under the provisions set forth in the Bill of Rights, the government guarantees payment to the institution of $2,000 or fifty per cent of the loan, which is less, on loans to honorably discharged servicemen.

Densler, who discharged from Bethesda Naval Hospital, Virginia on May 10, sought the loan to purchase a home at 214 Overlook avenue. Entering the Navy fifteen months ago, he served as a seaman first class.

7TH WAR LOAN TOTALS WILL BE WELL OVER QUOTA

Total Sales Are $128,000 Over The Top, While "E" Bond Sales Still Lag

With the wind-up today for the Seventh War loan, incomplete tabulations of total sales already are more than $128,000 over the top of the overall quota of $4,000,000 set for Belleville. Figures announced yesterday, with several day's sales yet to be counted, listed the total sales at $4,128,005.75. It is expected this figure will be advanced considerably when the total sales of the past two days are counted.

Sales of E bonds had not yet reached their quota when the latest official figures were released. Of the quota of $1,400,000 set for E bonds, $1,097,498.75 had been recorded in E bond sales. The U. S. Coast Guard truck with a loudspeaker system, utilized to pep up the sale of E bonds, brought in an additional $5,400 sales during last Thursday and Friday, when it toured the town and was parked in front of the town hall. The truck remained here through Monday and Tuesday, but sales for those days have not yet been recorded.

Scouts Sales

Local Boy Scouts, striving to sell bonds for purchasing army ambulances at $1,950 issue value, sold a total of $19,496. They were asked by Ronald G. Brunner to continue sales up to the closing of the drive today, and are expected to be more than enough to purchase ten ambulances.

The breakdown by troop scout sales is as follows: 301, $4,518.75; troop 302, $3,575.50; troop 386, $673.50; $3,358.25; troop 389, 706.25; troop 389, 389; and troop 392, $112.50.

Brunner announced that Belleville Masonic Lodge, Belleville Craftsmen's which James R. Lampp, president, had sold $30,500 of bonds that the raid was a success. Chairman Edward Densler had in the present drive their sixth war loan registered sales of $50,000 in value of E bonds.

Brunner said he would like permission to use the truck and to the Coast Guard, whom the truck was borrowed, express appreciation to those who patronized the drive and apologized for disturbing any young children who might have been awakened as the truck toured the town with the loudspeaker attached.

The driver of the veterans coast guard truck was Motor Mechanic 3/c Joseph Cervino of Jersey City, veteran of three years service. Assistants on the truck included S/Sgt. Clayton H. Vernig of Chokio, Minn., who just returned from 27 months service in the South Pacific. Among his decorations are the combat infantryman's badge, the Bronze Star award, the Philippine Liberation ribbon with two stars, the Asiatic Pacific ribbon with two stars and an arrowhead and the Good Conduct medal.

SCHAFFER MOVES TO NEW LOCATION

Prominent Physician Plans Building On Newly Acquired Site Soon

Barney Schaffer, prominent physician and native of Belleville, will move his office and home to a recently purchased building at 321 Washington avenue. Purchase of another site at the corner of Essex and Washington avenues also has been announced by Dr. Schaffer, who stated he plans to build a home and office building here in the near future.

A graduate of Belleville High school in 1926, Dr. Schaffer attended the University of Michigan, receiving his A.B. degree in 1930 and his medical degree in 1934. He served internship in Newark City hospital from 1934 to 1936 and opened a practice in Belleville in 1936.

While practicing here he has served as Town Physician and as School Physician, a position he still holds. With 32 months with the medical corps of the U. S. Army, Dr. Schaffer served a year overseas, returning from the army last December. He is married to the former Rose Miller, and they have two children.

Active in civic life, Dr. Schaffer is a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Belleville Rotary and the Boy Scout Council of Belleville.

Active Against Jap Homeland

Rear Admiral V. H. Ragsdale, USN, presents the Air Medal to Lieut. (jg) John F. Rapp, USNR, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rapp of 17 Agnes street, at a west coast naval air station. Lieut. Rapp, a carrier-based fighter plane pilot, distinguished himself in attacks against the Japanese fleet based at the Japanese homeland.

Navy Fighter Plane Pilot Is Awarded Air Medal

Lieut. (jg) John Rapp Receives Decoration For Meritorious Achievement

Lieut. (jg) John F. Rapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rapp of 17 Agnes street, has been awarded the Air Medal for distinguishing himself by meritorious achievement in an attack on March 19 on major units of the Japanese fleet in the harbor of the Kure Naval Base, Honshu, Japan. Announcement was made this week by headquarters of the twelfth naval district that the award was presented by Rear Admiral V. H. Ragsdale.

Flying through heavy flak as a pilot of a carrier-based fighter plane, Lieut. Rapp scored a hit on a heavy cruiser at Kure. He strafed a Jap sub in the Inland Sea. In another combat mission in Southern Kyushu, Lieut. Rapp carried out bombing and strafing attacks on air fields and ground installations.

The citation accompanying the award reads: "For distinguishing himself by meritorious achievement while participating in an aerial fight attack as pilot of a carrier-based fighter plane on 19 March, 1945, in an attack on major units of the Japanese fleet in the harbor of the Kure naval base, Honshu, Japan. He pressed home his bombing and strafing attack to 2,000 feet in the face of intense anti-aircraft fire, thereby assisting in the great damage inflicted on the enemy fleet. During this attack he performed his assigned duties in an outstanding manner and his skill and courage were at all times in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Lieut. Rapp attended Belleville High school and the University of Newark. He was employed by the Prudential Insurance company before entering the service. He received his commission in February, 1944.

A serious interest in any phase of the venture are invited to contact Junior Achievement headquarters at 106 Halsey street, Newark where interviews will be granted. The telephone number is Mitchell 2-0023.

Indication of the rise in interest in this youth project throughout the nation was also felt in Belleville this week when International News Service photographers visited the Junior Achievement of Belleville headquarters at 210 Belleville avenue to photograph members of the four companies now operating here and members of the industrialists who constitute the Central Adult committee. INS photographs are usually supplied for magazine or newspaper feature articles on a nation-wide scale.

Greylock School Celebration
One of the highlights of a special celebration marking the close of the war loan drive at Greylock school was the announcement of the finals in individual bond sales for the year. The sum of $32,218.75, represented the weekly purchases by Constance Calenda, 9 years old, a fourth grade pupil.

It was stated that this was a result of "Connie's" own personal stimulus and persuasion of the employees of the Ardell Razor Blade Company of Newark, of which her father, Nicholas Calenda, is superintendent. "Connie" resides at 26 Myrtle avenue, and was chairman of bond sales for the primary grades at the school. Her sales, and her leadership for this year, and in past years played a big part in the pupils of the school doubling the original goals. This year the pupils sold over $103,000 in bonds and stamps.

Lukowiak as a fellow Knight. The Rev. Francis Ignacini offered congratulations on behalf of the boys and girls of St. Peter's Catholic organization. Scoutmaster John L. Sullivan spoke for scout troop 375 of St. Peter's church.

Gifts Presented
The Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, pastor, made an address of congratulations, and then presented Mr. Lukowiak with a substantial purse, representing the gift of the various societies and of the parishioners, given in appreciation for the services performed by Mr. Lukowiak within the past 25 years.

Mr. Lukowiak thanked those present for the honors bestowed upon him, and the program was brought to a close with a trio arrangement of Schubert's "Ave Maria," sung by the Misses Maureen and Patricia Haney and Joan McFadden. Dancing and refreshments followed.

St. Peter's Social Society was represented by Miss Teresa Salmon and Mrs. P. Gelschen. Miss Eliza Cousins was representative of the Catholic daughters. Colin Little and Agnes Griffin were there as the official representatives of the boys and girls of the CYO.

The Petrean committee of arrangements was composed of James Leonard, chairman, Gertrude Kimmelf, Mrs. Grace

Maguire, Norman Lauterette, Marion Malcolm, Rita Ritz, Rita Dunn, Ramona Grey and Nicholas Candura.

The Rev. Kelly acted as the Master of Ceremonies for the evening.

Local B-Hive Dances Are Well Attended

Between three and four hundred young people gathered at the high school last week at the regular dance held by the B-hive social organization, it was announced this week. The dances are held in the school auditorium each Tuesday and Thursday evening, chaperoned by adults of the town and offering dancing to recorded music, refreshments and entertainment.

Chaperones for Tuesday Night's affair were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Struble, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Smalley and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kline. At tonight's dance, chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Korn and Mr. and Mrs. A. Ross.

An appeal has been made for more chaperones to be present at dances during the summer on scheduled dates. Those interested are asked to contact summer business managers James Palma of 68 Perry street or Arthur Riker of 43 Belmont street.

MISS LEE TAKES GIRL SCOUT POST

Council Names Well Qualified Localite As Chairman Of Training Committee

Miss Mildred Lee of 132 Hornlower avenue has been appointed training committee chairman of the Belleville Girl Scout council, a participating agency in the Community Chest and War Fund drive.

As training committee chairman, she will be responsible for training all leaders including council committee and troop committee members as well as troop leaders. Her committee will train leaders on the job, visit their troops, discuss their work and questions with them, and give help and advice as needed.

Now working for her Doctor's degree in education at New York university, Miss Lee is eminently qualified for the post. She received her B.S. in physical education at Wisconsin university and her M.A. in recreation at New York university.

She has been physical education instructor at the University of Minnesota and has served as recreation director on the Island of Maui in Hawaii. Her experience has been extensive in the Y.W.C.A. field in Chicago and Boston. In 1941 Miss Lee was U.S.O. director at Fort Dix and went from there to Washington, D. C. to become director of the National Recreation WPA project where she supervised the conversion of all existing projects to a war-time basis. Her final task while in Federal service was to supervise the recreational activities of the Arlington, Va. Farm, a women's group consisting of 3,000 WAVEs and 5,000 Federal civilian employees.

Miss Lee is now instructor in physical education and health at Paterson State Teachers college. She has also had extensive experience in summer camp administration work, having served in Camp Andre, National Girl Scout camp and in Girl Scout camps operated by Cleveland and Boston councils.

Industrial Entertainment Held For Cancer Fund

A baseball game and general entertainment for the benefit of the local Cancer Fund took place at Clearman field Tuesday night before a large attendance.

The program called for a baseball game between a team sponsored by the Independent Employees Union of Northern New Jersey, union at Wallace and Tiernan company, and the regular Wallace and Tiernan team. Commissioner Noll threw the first ball of the game to Mayor Williams as catcher.

Also included in the program was the singing of the National Anthem, several selections by the 40 voice male chorus of the Walter Kidde company, other entertainment from the Wallace and Tiernan company and community singing.

Arrives Home

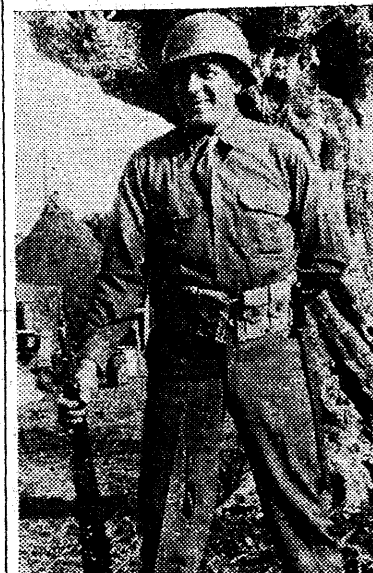

Pfc. Albert Molinari

Private first class Albert A. Molinari arrived home this week to spend a furlough with his mother, Mrs. Jennie Molinari of 42 Preston street, following a fifty months tour of duty overseas in the European theater of operations. Pfc. Molinari was a lineman in the A.G.F.

A wearer of the Bronze Star, Purple Heart, American Defense ribbon with one star and the American and European Theater ribbons with three stars, Molinari has a total of 134 points under the army system for separation from the services and therefore is eligible for discharge.

ST. PETER'S WINS LEAGUE OPENER

Victors Over East Orange Aggregation In Game At Park Extension

The CYO Baseball League opened officially last Sunday at the Branch Brook Park Extension, when St. Peter's in their opener against All Souls of East Orange were victorious, 9-0.

Merwin Cook was pitching a no-hitter up until the sixth inning. Vaccaro, catcher for the All Souls team got the one and only hit off of Cook. This hit did not job Cook of a shutout, however, for the runner died at second.

St. Peter's opened up in the first inning when Howell, first man up, was walked. Bucky McConnell sacrificed and Howell advanced to second. Bill Hickman then hit a double which brought Howell home. In a scramble of wild throws Hickman was able to come home for the second run of the ball game.

In the second inning Paul Mays hit safely and Howell got on base through an error. Both scored when McConnell and Hickman each got a safe hit. McConnell was left at third and Hickman at first when Leichter struck out for the third out of the inning.

Kleinknecht, first up in the third inning got a single and advanced to second. George Lister got to first on an error. Mays sacrificed so that both runners were advanced. With one out the All Souls team deliberately walked Joe Lister to work a play at any base. Merwin Cook then came to bat and surprised all by clouting the one and only triple of the game. Kleinknecht and George Lister came in. By a break caused when Joe Lister failed to touch third he was out and Cook was caught going home for the third out.

In the fifth inning Kleinknecht started things off again with a single. George Lister fled out, Paul Mays walked and then Joe Lister sent Kleinknecht and Mays home when he hit a double. Joe Lister was put out at third on a fielder's choice and Cook got to first and advanced to second. Howell fled out to end the inning. In the sixth inning Hickman hit a single, stole second and scored when Kleinknecht came through with another hit. All in all St. Peter's had 13 hits and 9 runs. Cook pitched the full game. He allowed the one hit, walked 7 men and struck out 11.

The All Souls team used two pitchers, Delany and Gunning. Gunning came out of the box in the fourth inning. Gunning managed to get 3 strikeouts, and Delany got 6. Vaccaro got the one hit with two out in the sixth inning, he died on base when Deeter fled out.

The only scoring threat was made in the last inning. Perrillo walked, and was caught going down to second. Larkin walked and so did Decker. Donlon got on base through an error, but Larkin was put out at third. O'Keefe struck out to end the bawgy game with two men on the bases.

Leichter Registers Three Homers During The Week In Intermediate Softball Tilts

Saint Peter's had a successful week in the intermediate recreation softball league by chalking up two victories. In a close battle, they eked out a 3 to 2 win over Christ church, and also coasted through an easy 11-4 decision over the Ramblers.

Hickman was the winning pitcher in both St. Peter's contests. In the Christ church battle Kline was the losing moundsman and White was the losing pitcher in the Ramblers game. Leichter, first base for St. Peter's, was the batting hero of the week, wallowing out two homers in the game with the Ramblers and one in the game with Christ church.

In another close contest during the week, the Hilltops took over the Starlings, 9-2. Zicaro was the winning pitcher for the Hilltops. Mays was on the mound for the losers. Outstanding hit of the game was a two-bagger by Cialla, short felder for the Hilltops.

SOLDIERS VIEW OF PHILIPPINES

Conclusion Of Manuscript Sent By Former Sports Writer Of Times-News

Editor's note—This is the concluding installment of "The Velvet Mountains," a description of the Philippine Islands and its inhabitants as the average American soldier sees it.

The manuscript was written and sent home by Pfc. Harvey S. Adams, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Adams of 124 Crest drive. Prior to his entry in the Service, "Harvey" was high school sports reporter for the Times-News.

To one side a handler is honing and sharpening his delicate, but razor sharp knife or spur, which will later be fastened to the bird's leg.

After much arguing and debating two birds are picked to enter the bamboo ring.

The judge warns everyone to bet on the inside, for it's on the up and up. Whereas on the outside you might win, but still lose. Pesos begin to exchange hands and the betting goes on for some time.

At last bets are even. The birds are brought to the center of the ring. The owner of the white one covers the head of his bird with one hand and allows the opponent red bird to peck at the neck of his white one and vice versa to make each other mad.

Spur coverings are taken off, the shiny steel glistens in the sun. The roosters are turned loose. There they go! Until one dies or runs.

The red cones standing straight up on their heads, necks flushed, beaks slightly parted, and beady eyes studying each other's first move. The crowd's tense for the bet is high. With "red bird" the favorite.

"Red" jumps for the "white," but it ducks safely out of range. The red one's back in there again, he jumps, gets a beak full of white, down, feathers. Our white fellows cut and bleeding, he's down, he's up! That bird's in bad shape but still hanging on. Down again, for the final time, but wait!

The red rooster and sure victor is running! The crowd goes wild with excitement. Dashing in the ring the owner picks up his white but very dead winner. An unexpected upset, with the winner also taking the losing red bird. The sun began to fade and life moved to a quaint school house. Music met us at the door; there were only a few well-worn guitars, but this was still considered a dance band. But as Henry Thoreau once said, and I quote, "Let a man step to the music which he hears, however measured and however far away," unquote.

Learning the Language

Much of our time was spent not dancing, but talking with two of our guerrilla friends. Both of who spoke very fluent English and were former school teachers. Anxious to learn some of their language, they told us many words and phrases, and had a grand time at our pronunciation difficulties.

Stories ran like a babbling brook through our eager ears. Tales of the mysterious submarine that brought arms to the "terrorist gangs," as the Japs sometimes called them. Starling Jap patrols ambushed by automatic fire in the jungle. Bolo knives striking silent death during the night. Printing presses turned out "G" money to be used by them only.

Death striking many farms leaving young children to care for themselves. A traitor turned up now and then only to be eliminated by fellow country men.

The night grew shorter and stories longer. Enough true dramatic action bounced within that little room to fill many a book.

Old "father time" left almost without knowing it. For there were no gay parties to remind us, just the same continuous left over trimming from Christmas. Along with the happy feeling of life, the life, the life we live and die for, year after year.

The next regular term, which gets with orientation today. She will register tomorrow and Saturday for the summer term under Purdue's accelerated twelve-month academic calendar. Actual class work will begin next Monday.

T-Sgt. Joseph McGuire, Holder Of Silver Star, Due Home

Due to arrive home next week from the ETO for a three or four week furlough is T/Sgt. Joseph J. McGuire Jr. of 44 Mt. Prospect avenue, holder of the Silver Star for gallantry in action.

The husband of the former Theresa Tobia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Tobia of the Mt. Prospect street address, he has been overseas since last October and although only 22 years old, will complete six years in service in September. He has seen action in France, Belgium and Luxembourg.

His wife who has recently received the citation that accompanied the award of the Silver Star for action on March 25. It states in part, "When heavy enemy resistance was encountered near Braubach, Germany, Sgt. McGuire refused to take cover, despite intense enemy machine gun fire. Remaining in the open, he directed his platoon in eliminating the hostile positions, killing twenty and capturing thirty of the enemy." The sergeant led his platoon, the next day, in an attack on a commanding enemy position, when his platoon leader was wounded, with an "outstanding display of leadership and courage."

The enlistee also holds the Combat Infantryman's badge. He attended Newark schools. His mother is Mrs. Florence McGuire of Paterson.

Men in Service

Sgt. Jeremiah Callaghan, B-29 aerial gunner stationed in the Marianas Islands, has been awarded the Air Medal for meritorious achievement in combat in completing five missions over the Japanese empire. He writes he is sending the medal to his wife, the former Eileen Browne of 75 Division avenue.

Overseas since last February, Sgt. Callaghan entered the service in January, 1944. Prior to that time he was employed at the National Union Radio corporation, Newark. Before going overseas, he was stationed in New Mexico, where he was visited by Mrs. Callaghan.

Pfc. Vincent P. Intindola, 32, of 725 Washington avenue, son of Mrs. Theresa Intindola, has recently returned from service outside the continental limits of the United States and is now temporarily stationed at the Army Ground and Service Forces Redistribution station in Atlantic City. While at this installation he will be given a series of tests to determine his fitness for future assignments.

Pfc. Intindola served ten months as a rifleman in the European theater of operations. He is a recipient of the European-African Middle Eastern Campaign ribbon.

Before entering the service, Pfc. Intindola was employed by Westinghouse Lamp company at 780 Washington avenue.

WELL, GOD, here we are.

You up there. Me down here, with a burning sun, a mess of insects, too much ocean, and other buddies just as lonely as me.

Oh, God, how nice it must be back home, with Germany licked, and the folks humming, and some of the boys all finished with the fighting.

But I guess that wasn't meant for me, was it? And tomorrow and tomorrow I'll still be dodging bullets, still feeling lost in the middle of the night.

Well, no hard feelings.

I'll go wherever You say, and do whatever You want me to. For You know what's best for me.

But say, if You can only get the people back home to remember me, maybe they'll still bear down. Maybe they'll still send us their blood, still stay on the job, still keep making the stuff we need.

You see, God, I'd like to get home, too.

D'Amadio Helps Capture German "Man From Mars"

German Swimmer Unit Member Called Batman By Local Soldier

Two Yanks from the 320th regiment of the 35th Infantry division, Pfc. Oswald D'Amadio of Belleville and Pfc. Ermin J. Danielack of Milwaukee, Wis., captured a veritable Nazi "man from mars" after he had swum down the Elbe river in an attempt to place a highly charged mine to destroy the American pontoon bridge across the river.

Another Nazi, member of a "swimmer" unit attached to the Wehrmacht, was also captured by the engineers.

According to the captive taken by the 320th, there were seven "swimmers" involved in the operation, but five of them were not found.

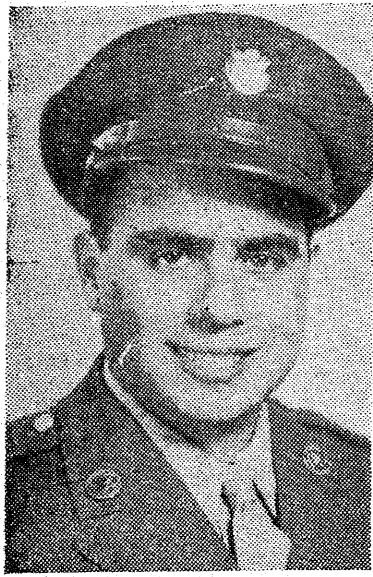

The captured Nazi was dressed in a tight fitting rubber suit, resembling a coverall, and attached to it was a long hoodlike veil. His face was blackened and he was equipped with a pistol, knife and a water-proof watch.

D'Amadio and Danielack were on an outpost near the river when they discovered the eerie-looking figure, who had emerged from the water, and was dashing from tree to tree.

"I thought it was the Batman come to life," said D'Amadio.

They started firing at him and the German made a desperate attempt to escape, but was finally subdued by the Yanks.

Taken back to the 320th Prisoner of War cage for questioning, the Nazi said that he, five other men and an officer had entered the Elbe four kilometers from where the bridge is located. Fastened to them and floating was a mine said to contain 32 hundred weight of explosive.

Plans Went Wrong

According to his story, the mine was to be attached to the anchorage of the pontoon bridge and was set to explode in six hours. Something went wrong, however, and the Nazis became separated. The mine got away from them in the swift current.

After completing that job, it was said, the unit was to continue downstream and reconnoiter a damaged railroad bridge to determine if it was being prepared for use, so that another unit could take care of that later on.

The "swimmer" taken by the 320th was one of the most fanatical they've ever come across, according to the PW authorities. He was steeped in Nazi propaganda and blind obedience to his fuhrer.

When told that the Russians were twenty miles from Berlin, the Nazi captive firmly maintained that they would never reach the Reich capital. He said his fuhrer had told them that a new secret weapon had already destroyed eighty Russian divisions.

Pfc. D'Amadio, who lives at 35 Harrison street, entered the service on July 19, 1944. He received training at Camp Wheeler, Ga., and last December received a diploma as a qualified rifleman and a sharpshooter's medal. Following a furlough at home, then, he went overseas in January, this year.

The knife which the Nazi prisoner carried has been sent home by D'Amadio as a souvenir.

D'Amadio attended Belleville High and Bloomfield vocational schools and was employed by Walter Kidde company, for five years previous to his entry in the army. His father, the late Orlando D'Amadio, was in the 305th regiment of the noted 77th division during the first world war.

Belleville Soldier Receives Bronze Star Medal Cluster

Sarcone Gets Decoration For Gallantry In Action As Ambulance Driver

An Oak leaf cluster, in lieu of a second Bronze Star Medal, has been awarded to Cpl. Nicholas Sarcone of 36 Watchung avenue, for gallantry in action, according to an announcement made this week by the headquarters of the communications zone of the army, European theater of operations. The presentation was made by Maj. Gen. Walter M. Robertson, commanding general of the Second Infantry division.

The action for which the award was made occurred last February when Cpl. Sarcone, an ambulance driver, went to the rescue of seven of his comrades who had been seriously injured when their jeep struck a mine. Although it was broad daylight and he was under complete observation by the Germans, Cpl. Sarcone drove unhesitatingly to the scene of the mine explosion.

"He began his laborious task of loading the casualties on the ambulance," the citation reads, "but was fired upon by enemy machine guns, thus forcing him to flatten himself on the ground for cover. Within a few seconds, however, he resumed his loading and was again forced to take cover. This driver was fired on five times by machine gun fire and the ambulance was hit four times, but Cpl. Sarcone finished his loading of patients and returned amid a hail of machine gun and small arms fire, and shell fragments."

Cpl. Sarcone entered the service on January 7, 1942, during his junior year at Belleville High school, and went overseas on October 8, last year. He writes that he expects to come home within the next sixty days.

A brother, Pfc. James Sarcone, in the infantry, has been overseas for the past three years, and is now in France. The two boys met accidentally in Germany last March and then spent a three-day leave together. Lieut. Carmen Pasquariello, brother-in-law of the two boys, is also overseas, and met each of them on different occasions there last year.

Belleville's Fire Protection
A glance at the report of the fire department activities during the month of May given to Commissioner King last week would indicate that Belleville firemen are continuing their good work in keeping fire damages in Belleville at a minimum. The reported damage in May of $2,675, is $130 less than that reported in April.
That is natural enough, for it is usually conceded that fire losses drop during the summer months. However, in March, which is usually a period of many fires, in a great many cases the result of uncontrolled brushfires, the Belleville fire department reported fire damages of only $325, while in the winter month of February there was not a single fire reported with damage amounting to over $100.
History has shown that fire losses are always greater in war years than in peacetime, particularly in industrial areas such as Belleville. Last years losses due to fires in the town amounted to $54,823. The peak year of 1942 saw fire losses in the town reach $67,765. These are mammoth figures when compared with the $380 fire loss the town had in 1939, or the $180 reported by the fire department in 1938.
Fire losses cannot be predicted. Within hours, a few hundred dollars damage can be boosted into the thousands. Only by comparison with the damage that might have been caused in a fire can the work of the firemen be appraised accurately. Out of 21 alarms answered by the department during May, 19 of these turned out to be fires. Only three of these caused damages of $100 or more.
The Schedule Rating Bureau in Newark, which places fire insurance rates for the town lists Belleville as a class C community. Ratings are alphabetical down to G, with A and K ratings for unprotected communities. In this, Belleville compares well with neighboring towns; Orange and West Orange are both rated C towns. Bloomfield and East Orange are A towns, while South Orange is a D town and North Arlington carries an E rating.
These ratings do not simply reflect the efficiency of the fire department, but also take into account the overall protection offered, including the water pressure available in the town, the number of pieces of fire equipment available and strength in personnel of the fire departments. In a C rated town insurance rates on a wooden building call for 18 cents per $100 of insurance, while in a G rated town, the rate would be 25 cents per $100. This simply indicates that as an industrial town, Belleville's fire protection is considered pretty good.

100 Years of Walden
"It is very evident what mean and sneaking lives many of you live, for my sight has been whetted by experience; always on the limits, trying to get into business and trying to get out of debt, a very ancient slough, called by the Latins aes alienum, another's brass, for some of their coins were made of brass; always promising to pay, promising to pay, tomorrow, and dying today, insolvent; seeking to curry favor, to get custom, by how many modes, only not state-prison offenses; lying, flattering, voting, contracting yourselves into a nutshell of civility, or dilating into an atmosphere of thin and vaporous generosity, that you may persuade your neighbor to let you make his shoes, or his hat, or his coat, or his carriage, or import his groceries for him; making yourselves sick, that you may lay up something against a sick day. The mass of men lead lives of quiet desperation. But it is a characteristic of wisdom not to do desperate things."

It was 100 years ago next Wednesday that twenty-eight-year-old David Henry Thoreau went into the woods of Walden Pond, at Concord, Mass., to live alone. When he came out, two years later, he told the world of a way of life which millions since have envied, and in telling it gave us one of our richest treasures in English prose.

Now For Ratification
The great Charter for world peace has been signed by fifty nations, and in a ringing speech President Truman acclaims the work of the statesmen and serves notice that now the peoples of the world must try to make the Charter work.
The first step toward making it work will be ratification of the Charter by the United States Senate. Indeed it is probably the most important step, because unless the most powerful nation on earth stands behind this Charter the new league will work no better than the last one.
President Truman has announced that he will ask the Senate immediately for ratification. Although there are admittedly several isolationists still in the Senate, to whom any kind of international collaboration is anathema, the prospect is that this agreement will not meet the fate of the treaty which President Wilson brought home from Paris after the last war.
The townspeople of Nutley have shown themselves acutely aware of the problems of peace. Probably more than any other comparable community, we have a citizenry informed about the meaning and purposes of the Charter. These citizens will now turn their gaze toward the United States Senate, particularly upon Senators Haykes and Smith. These two New Jersey representatives in the upper house have already gone on record as favoring the ratification of the results of San Francisco, and there is no reason to doubt that they will change their attitude.

LETTERS
The opinions expressed in this column are those of the authors of the individual letters and do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the publishers or editors of The Times.

From Cpl. Alan R. Roberts
Seebach, Oberbayern,
Germany
To the Editor of the Times-News:
Allow me to congratulate you upon your two excellent editorials "Calmness Needed" of May 10, and "Danger Ahead" of May 17.
Second only to the utter defeat of Japan is the problem of a lasting peace—if we miff the ball this time, the Third World War will rival Armageddon. With this in mind it is not difficult to see why the negotiations at San Francisco must go smoothly.
We cannot all attend the conference, however, what we can do is to preserve an atmosphere of sanity — and to drive home the fundamental fact that since we agree that a conference is a better way to settle disputes than warfare, we must expect differences of opinion and loud discussion of the issues involved.
Your editorials are steps in that direction.
It is indeed gratifying to read your editorials, when half of the rags are harping on the "don't trust Russia" theme, and doing all they can, unconsciously (or otherwise) to make the talks at San Francisco a failure.
Some unthinking persons even go so far as to suggest the possibility of war with Russia! These insane mouthings undoubtedly reach Russian ears, and the Russians, already half-distrustful of capitalist America, are certainly not put in a mood to give concessions at a peace conference!
From this vantage point, here in Europe, which is not far from the demarcation line separating the American and Russian zones of occupation, I have had an opportunity to talk with and observe the Russian people—both "D.P.s" and army officials. I have come to some very definite conclusions about them.
Firstly, they, as a people, like the Americans — they have high respect for our equipment. They like our information organization, which is so like their own. They are an energetic people, and are full of the desire to rebuild their country. They realize that their country has reached the stage of development that is surprisingly like our own, circa 1840, and they are curious to find out how we acted and what we did then. War with the United States does not even enter their minds.
They are amazingly more educated, politically, than we are—even the slave laborer, in Germany for three or four years, knows all about Cairo, Teheran, and the main principles of Dumbarton Oaks and Yalta. They avidly read the news of San Francisco. One asked me, in a friendly manner, "Why aren't your international bankers in favor of the (Bretton Woods) International Bank?"
Such is the Russian attitude, Hearst and McCormick not with standing.
Our town paper is small, and so is its circulation, compared to the metropolitan dailies, but it is worth noting that the small town newspaper expresses the opinion of small town people—and they are the ones who carry their ideas to the polls!
Keep it up!

Soldiers for Ken Smith in Stand on Veterans
From "The Boys from the Plattsburg Convalescent hospital" Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y.
To the Editor of the Times-News:
There are approximately 150 convalescents stationed at Plattsburg Barracks who are from New Jersey and who read the editorial in The Belleville Times on how Mayor Williams wants to treat the veterans. A poll has been taken that Lieut. Ken Smith is 100 per cent right and Mayor Williams is 100 per cent wrong.
We convalescents at the Plattsburg Barracks Convalescent hospital give Lieut. Ken Smith our thanks and well wishes for his work in our behalf. We believe that if there were more men like Lieut. Smith, who is 100 per cent in back of the veterans, that the veterans would be well taken care of without a lot of political red-tape.

S-Sgt. Joseph De Luca Gives Japs "Sure Route to Eternity"

S/Sgt. Joseph F. De Luca, son of Mrs. Concetta De Luca of 36 Meacham avenue, commanded a squad of Japanese soldiers long enough to bring them within range of machine gun fire and to their death, according to a report from Minidino.

De Luca, of the fighting 34th Infantry Regiment, attached to this rugged 24th Division, was commanding a section of machine guns which had established a road block behind the Japanese lines.

He spotted a column of troops moving down the road, turned to a lieutenant of infantry standing near and asked if they were American troops on patrol. "We have no patrols out," answered the officer. The sergeant marched out into the middle of the road and mentioned for the Japs to come forward. Evidently thinking he was a Jap, they came marching on until they were only twenty yards from the daring non-com.

De Luca thereupon barked an order, "Halt, and drop your rifles!" The Japs halted, abruptly. But one of them made the mistake of grabbing for a grenade. Two machine guns opened up with a withering crossfire and eight more Japs died for their Emperor.

"If they want a sure route to eternity," grinned De Luca, "we're always willing to oblige them."

TWO RECEIVE BRONZE STAR

1st Sgt. Bernard Ings and Pfc. Frank Fleming Awarded Honor

As reward for meritorious achievement in active duty, reports have been received this 1st Sgt. Bernard Ings week that 1st Sgt. Bernard A. Ings and Pfc. Frank J. Fleming have received the Bronze Star medal.

1st Sgt. Bernard A. Ings of 467 Franklin avenue has been awarded the Bronze Star medal by Gen. Jacob L. Devers, 6th Army Group commander, for meritorious achievement in connection with military operations from September 20, 1944, to May 8, 1945, in France and Germany.

Presentation was made by Maj. Gen. David G. Barr, Gen. Devers' chief of staff, at 6th Army Group headquarters in Heidelberg, Germany. A number of generals and other high-ranking officers witnessed the ceremony.

The citation accompanying the award to Sgt. Ings, a member of the 251st Signal Heavy Construction company, read, in part: "Sgt. Ings displayed almost unbelievable stamina and perseverance by personally travelling long distances day after day, helping his men to load and unload trucks, managing the maintenance and repair of equipment and improving certain items that were unobtainable but essential in doing the job."

"The unstinting effort he gave to the supply of his organization with the necessary material and equipment to complete each mission, and the stamina, perseverance and initiative displayed by him were frequently much more than his duty normally required, and played a large part in the successful construction and maintenance of wire communications for the 7th Army Group."

Miss Violet Ings, a sister, lives at the Franklin avenue address.

Pfc. Frank J. Fleming, brother of Margaret U. Fleming of 55 DeWitt avenue, a member of the 52nd Engineer Boat and Shore Regiment, has been awarded the Bronze Star medal for heroic achievement. The award was made by Gen. Walter Krueger, commander of the Sixth Army on Luzon.

Shortly after Fleming had taken his landing craft ashore in the assault wave at Hollandia, a Japanese plane scored a direct hit on an ammunition dump causing violent explosions and widespread fires. Fragments from exploding shells were sweeping the area when Fleming risked his life to go in and evacuate the injured men to safety.

Home Reunion Just Missed By Local Navy Brothers

Donald and Joseph Bean of 126 Washington avenue, Navy brothers, hope their paths will cross in the Pacific since they failed to meet at home during the past week. Coxswain Donald concluded a thirty day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bean, last Wednesday; Bosun's Mate 1/c Joseph Bean is expected home on leave at any time. Both are scheduled for Pacific duty.

Donald Bean returned a month ago from 27 months in that area where he served on a light cruiser escorting the aircraft carrier, U.S.S. Franklin. The cruiser, within sixty miles of the mainland of Japan, effected a daring rescue of members of the crew of the Franklin when the carrier was painfully shattered.

The souvenir log furnished members of the cruiser's crew as a memento of their tour in the Pacific notes that they covered nearly 225,000 miles and entered into 63 engagements.

Coxswain Bean reported to Long Beach, Cal., this week. He has been in the Navy more than three years. Both brothers were with Rowe Manufacturing company in civilian life.

Joseph Bean will return from the European theatre where he saw action in the Normandy invasion and other engagements.

Another member of the family, now in the Pacific, is Storekeeper 3/c Alfred Noonan, cousin of the Beans and former resident of Long Island. He spent Christmas leave here and expects to reside in Belleville when released from service.
