Teachers' Wages Guide Adopted By Local Board

Action Taken On Recommendations Of Salary Study Committee Will Base Rate Of Pay On Qualifications Regardless Of Position

In a move to set a definite scale for teachers' wages in the Belleville school system and place the basis for payment of wages on qualifications rather than on the teaching position held, the board of education formally adopted a teachers' salary guide Monday night.

The guide is the product of a nine-member salary study committee of teachers and laymen, drawn up last December and presented to the board in January. Since then the guide has been under study by the board. Dr. Willard S. Elsbree of Teachers College, Columbia university, served as consultant to the committee.

RED CROSS NEEDS MORE WORKERS

Volunteers For Sewing And Knitting Sought By Production Group

Mrs. Harvey B. Thompson, chairman of the Belleville Red Cross Chapter, committee on production, this week reported that workers are needed badly in both the sewing and knitting fields. She reminded the chapter and the townspeople that highly essential Red Cross production requirements still have to be met.

In the field of foreign war relief, the National Red Cross has sent 6000 yards of material to Belleville for production. This is to be made into 25000 garments, such as women's and children's dresses, children's pajamas, capes, coats, boy's shirts and layettes.

For servicemen, 250 yards of olive drab twill for three gross of kit bags and 100 pounds of olive drab wool for sleeveless sweaters are waiting to be processed.

In connection with sweaters, Mrs. Thompson advised that the stock at the Area office is low. During last winter, large shipments were made to Red Cross field directors in Italy and France. Recently there has been a large demand for sweaters for issuance to convalescent servicemen in hospitals here and abroad. The sweater quota is there fore being scheduled for early production.

Volunteer workers are urged to contact Red Cross headquarters at 258 Washington avenue or phone BELLEVILLE 2-4610.

PICNIC TO CLOSE SUMMER SESSIONS

Bridge Street Playground To Hold Final Outing In Nutley Park

Mrs. Olive Muir, playground director under the Recreation department at the Bridge street grounds in St. Peter's school yard, has announced that a picnic in Nutley park will be the end-of-the-season treat for youngsters who have satisfactory attendance and effort in the playground before its closing in mid-August. A picnic for leaders is also planned.

Sixty children participated in a peanut hunt at the grounds last Friday afternoon when first prize was awarded to William Byron who gathered more than a hundred peanuts. Michael Fortina and Joseph Ward took second and third prizes in the elder group. Children under ten who turned in the most nuts were Samuel Brizenza and Phyllis Demio.

On Fridays, in addition to special contests, the playground library is operated by the leaders group of children from the ages 12 to 14. Mrs. Muir, who was stationed at the Cortlandt street playground the past two summers, reported that of the forty or more volumes loaned last year none were lost or damaged. The children keep each book for a week.

Leaders in the playground also are on duty at swings and other apparatus while small children are using them. A cleanup squad is responsible for keeping the grounds neat.

Children under ten, of whom 44 are enrolled, spend mornings using swings, playing singing games and drawing. Awards will be made for their drawing books at the end of the season.

Practical Handiwork Done

Older girls have included in their handiwork window shade pulls, lapel ornaments made of felt and wool and crepe paper place mats, which will be checked to make them practical for use in the home. A shortage of jackets limits one of their most competitive sports.

Basketball, soccer, table tennis and checkers are older boys' sports. They are supervised afternoons from 3:30 to 8:30 by Michael Carnevale, Mrs. Muir's assistant. A high school student, Carnevale lives at 11 Cedar Hill avenue. He is a member of St. Peter's CYO.

The playground is visited on Thursdays by Gerald Bonavita, woodworking specialist, who instructs those who are qualified in wood-craft.

2 LOCAL MEN AID IN CAMP RESCUE

Famous Political Hostages Liberated From Prison In Italian Alps

Two local soldiers, Pvt. Pasquale Saniscalchi, son of Mrs. Anna Saniscalchi of 224 William street, and Pvt. Joseph J. Carbone, son of Mrs. Vincenza Carbone of 48 Joniss street, are members of the 2nd Battalion of the 339th "Polar Bear" regiment, which discovered 133 political hostages in an isolated Italian Alpine camp in the Fifth Army sector. Both men are riflemen with the unit.

Led by General Garibaldi, partisan leader who had just escaped from the camp, the men from the 2nd battalion climbed the snow-covered Dolomite Alps and surrounded the camp at dawn. The surprised German garrison surrendered without having had a chance to fire.

Most of the hostages had been prisoners of the Gestapo for as long as eight years. According to their testimony, they were to have been put to death on the arrival of the Americans, since it was believed some of them had been executed long before.

Among the hostages were Kurt Schauschnigg, Leon Blum, Martin Niemoller, Dr. Hjalmar Schacht and Fritz Thyssen.

Laying The Town Hall Cornerstone—1913

Town Hall Cornerstone Laid Thirty-Two Years Ago Today

Beginning Of Present Washington Avenue Building Was Occasion For Gala Ceremony On July 19, 1913

Just thirty-two years ago today on July 19, 1913, the cornerstone of the present town hall at Washington and Belleville avenues was laid. The date fell on Saturday and the occasion was marked by a special ceremony which included many prominent speakers of the day, town officials and representatives of town organizations. The affair attracted a large crowd of residents of Belleville and surrounding townships.

The building was not officially opened until January 2, 1914, when a new Democratic Council took office, and then there was no such affair as marked the laying of the cornerstone. Perhaps the best picture of the ceremonies can be obtained from the article in the July 24, 1914, issue of the Belleville Times which described the event as follows:

"Marking the completion of the first stage of construction, the corner stone of the new Town Hall was laid by Mayor Denison, last Saturday. Many witnessed the ceremonies.

"Seated on the temporary grandstand, were executives from nearby cities and towns, as well as the town officials, representatives of the various organizations in the town and the speakers of the occasion.

"After the invocation by Rev. Charles W. Popham, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Mayor Denison made a few remarks and introduced Congressman Eugene F. Kinkaid. The latter eulogized the town and its people and gave a resume of its early history. Mayor William Hauser offered the best wishes of Bloomfield, regretting that Bloomfield had no Town Hall. Former Judge Alfred F. Skinner, who was born in Belleville and was a member of the old township committee, told what he thought of the town's progress. Town Attorney John DeGraw spoke and Charles Granville Jones, the architect for the building, explained its construction.

"The box sealed in the stone contained a brief statement of parchment, signed Belleville Day of last year building code; township reports of 1912 and 1913; program by town officers; copy of the program of the corner stone laying of the Belleville Free Public Library two years ago and the dedication address of Rev. Christopher H. von Glahn; copies of the Belleville Times and current newspapers; annual statement of the First National Bank of Belleville and of the invitations and program of the Town Hall ceremony.

DEFENSE COUNCIL RETAINS BRUNNER

Organization Decides To Keep Co-ordinator As Part-Time Worker

Ronald G. Brunner will continue as part-time paid co-ordinator of the Belleville Defense Council. It was decided at a meeting of that body last Thursday night in Town Hall. Brunner will remain active for a period of six months or less at a salary of $1,000 a year.

First hired as a full-time co-ordinator, he received a salary of $3,000 a year. Last year, when much of the work of the council had dropped off, he was retained as a part-time worker at $1,500 a year. His principal duties now will be to supervise bond sales and to take inventory of the defense equipment now in possession of the Council.

The council decided not to request retention of the auxiliary fire and police forces because action of the forces in behalf of the council was most unlikely. It was left up to the Town Commissioners to decide if they want the forces active for their own benefit. Keeping the firemen and policemen active necessitates purchase of a blanket insurance policy to cover them.

The council also decided to close the medical aid stations in the schools and store all the equipment temporarily in school No. 3.

CLUB PARTY TODAY

The Summer Club of Belleville will sponsor a Tricky Tray party at the Masonic Temple at 126 Jerusalem street, this afternoon at two o'clock.

Seaman 2-c Ronald McCormack Went Down With Ship In Normandy Invasion

Official word of the death of Seaman Second Class Ronald F. McCormack, former Belleville High school student, has been received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. McCormack of 128 Church street, Nutley. It was revealed this week. The McCormacks are former residents of Overlook avenue.

According to the report made by the Secretary of the Navy, "there were 5 LST ships in the group. They had made one successful trip across, but on the second, they were hit by a torpedo from a German 'E' boat, causing great fires and explosions. Three of the five ships were sunk."

The attack occurred at night and, according to some of the survivors, McCormack was believed to have been asleep at the time of

School Board Kills Proposal For Constructing Playground

Three To Two Vote Rules Out Proposal To Place Construction Question On Ballot At Special Election July 26

Belleville Board of Education Monday night turned down a proposal to ask the voters of Belleville to approve the building of a playground adjacent to the high school building at Washington avenue and Holmes street. The proposal was part of a three point resolution calling for placing on the ballot of a special school election the questions of purchasing property for $700 to complete an area for a playground, the construction of a playground at a cost not to exceed $69,192, and the borrowing of $69,992 to pay for the property and the cost of construction.

Following bitter debate, the board passed the resolution to place the question on the purchase of the property on the ballot, with the other two points stricken. The vote of the board was three to two.

Earlier in the meeting the board passed a resolution calling for a special school election to be held at the Union avenue school on July 27 from seven to nine o'clock in the evening. Named to the election board were Chairman, Dr. Edgar Compton, Secretary, Mrs. Bangert, and Tellers, James Lampman and Harvey Thompson.

Property Sought

The property concerned in the resolution on what to place on the ballot is an "L" shaped section with a narrow frontage on High street and adjoining property already owned by the board. The strip, is desirable for completing the playground area. The board has obtained a $700 option on the strip, and now it is up to the voters to vote whether the board should purchase or condemn the purchase of the property.

The second point in the resolution called for placing on the ballot the question of whether the board should construct a playground on the entire playground area at a cost not to exceed $69,192.

Federal Aid Argued

Board President Joseph Arnold requested inclusion of the point, the resolution, maintaining the playground at the high school, sorely needed. He said previously the board had been reluctant because of the possibility federal aid in building the ground might be available now he was convinced that it would not be.

Ernest Schmutz agreed with Arnold that there was definitely a great need for a playground at the school, but he contradicted the board president on the availability of federal funds for the construction. Schmutz said he felt there would be aid of some sort available and that he would not support the resolution until he was certain that there was no federal aid to be had in the reasonable future. He qualified the reasonable as "in the next year or year and a half."

Board Divided

Ernest Schmutz, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee, agreed with Arnold, while Charles Gehardt sided with Schmutz.

The deciding vote on the second point in the proposal was cast by

SUB COMMANDER AIDS IN RESCUE

Local Navy Man Heads Craft That Saved Plane Crew In Jap Waters

A newspaper clipping mailed by his brother to Charles Plence of Continental avenue this week recounted the rescue of the crew of a Super Fortress bomber off the coast of Japan by a Navy submarine. Commander Raymond Budd of Hawaii, formerly of 169 DeWitt avenue, is the sub's chief.

The report told how officers and men of the plane's crew, scattered over a mile in the ocean, were picked up by the submarine less than 45 minutes after they hit the water. They had completed a raid over Japan when their ship was crippled off the coast.

Following submarine custom the rescued men were stripped for souvenirs by the sub crew.

Commander Budd was graduated from the United States Naval academy in 1935. Several years later he entered submarine service and last year was raised to the rank of full commander. He was stationed in Pearl Harbor when the Japanese attacked in 1941. He was returned to this country and patrolled the Atlantic from an eastern base until he went to the Pacific again last winter.

His brother, James R. Budd, resides at 168 DeWitt avenue and a sister, Mrs. John P. Evans, at 112 Tappan avenue. Commander Budd was graduated from Jorhanna street school and the high school.

Odd Plant Causes Concern In Malone Avenue Home

Dracina Macciana Reaches Height of Eight Feet Then Blossoms Out

Whether to have the ceiling raised in her sun porch a few feet, or part with an odd plant which was the gift of an old friend, has been problem confronting Mrs. Margaret Shriber of 182 Malone avenue in recent weeks. Now about eight feet high, the plant comes to within a few inches of the ceiling.

The plant, now ten years old, was given to Mrs. Shriber five years ago by a friend in New York. At that time it was about three feet high, she said. Growing at the rate of about a foot a year, it now threatens to outgrow its place in the sunporch of the Shriber home.

Last week the plant surprised

Realtors Board

"A big housing program after the war, required to provide hundreds of homes and to stabilize employment, will simply not 'come off' unless rents are increased sufficiently to make it worthwhile for builders to build. Rental housing constitutes a large part of our shelter supply and is counted upon for a large part of the needed postwar building activity. Under present rents, we won't get any, no matter how badly we need it."

National Association Appeal

In their appeal to Congress to allow a general rent increase, the National Association stated: "While typical family income has gone up 44 per cent over the level of 1942, rentals are exactly the same. Most of the eight million property owners who own the small properties in rent controlled areas depend for a large share of their income on the rental from the house they have rented out. These people are unorganized and cannot speak for themselves. They are the landlords of 69.4 per cent of all American tenants, yet their gross income from rents is less than $30 a month each. Out of this they pay a large part of the costs of education, health and safety of all the people.

"Since 1939 food has gone up 44.8 per cent; clothing 41 per cent; house furnishings 39.2 per cent; weekly wages 75.2 per cent; building costs 17.5 per cent and farm prices 100 per cent.

"Such figures show the peculiar discrimination that has been worked against one American group above all others—the six million who own rented houses; the 1,600,000 who own two-flats and the 600,000 who own three or four flats. Together they own 83.2 per cent of all the rented buildings, and for many, such ownership represents their life savings.

"Treasury and other government officials have expressed the fear that the biggest threat of inflation lies in the spending surplus accumulated by wage-earners. An orderly rent increase would tend to absorb a part of this over-all surplus without any real hardship to the individual tenant. It would put an equalizing increase in the hands of people who can't contribute in any way to inflation because they have suffered actual losses."

Real Estate Sales

The multiple listing board of the four local communities also announced this week the sale of the following Belleville properties during June: 164 Academy street, 337 Stephen street, 563 Washington avenue, 33 Adelaide street, 423 Washington avenue, 60 Bremond street and 10 Celia terrace.

School Board

Mrs. Homer Zink when the resolution was introduced Mrs. Zink voted against the inclusion of the point, stating that there was no use trying to seek permission of the town voters for construction of the playground if not all the board members were going to be for it. The third point on the resolution, sanctioning the borrowing of $69,992 to pay for the property and the construction, was ruled out along with point two.

accepted. The request of Augusta M. Klein for an extended leave of absence for one year was granted. Mrs. Mary Torre also was granted a leave of absence for one year. Present at the meeting was County Superintendent Chase, who spoke briefly at the request of Board President Arnold. Chase praised the work of the board in adopting a teachers salary guide. In intimating that he was not in full accord with other transactions made by the board during the meeting, he said that the first interest of any board is the children, and it is a question of what may be more important to the children, rather than that of saving a few dollars to taxpayers. He expressed the hope that the board would find that the cheapest road is not always the best road. At the meeting the board turned down a proposal to place a question on the special election calling for the construction of a high school playground. The story appears on page 1.

COUNTY AGENT URGES CANNING

Tips On Preparation Of Blueberries Cited By Margaret C. Shephard

"If that bowl piled high with dark, frosty-cool blueberries puts an edge on your appetite in July, just think what a warm, fragrant, blueberry pie will do for you some snowy night about six months now." That is the statement made this week by Margaret C. Shephard, Essex county home demonstration agent.

"It's pie made with the blueberries you were smart enough to can in midsummer, of course. And to can without sugar, at that. Fortunately for the status of most sugar bins, blueberries and huckleberries are canned to best advantage when they are canned without any sweetening. Add sugar next winter, if you think the fruit needs it, when you make that blueberry pie or cobbler.

"Before canning the berries, look them over carefully and remove stems and any foreign material they may have gathered. Then place a quart or two of the cleaned berries — no more, please — in cheesecloth and blanch them by lowering them into boiling water. The fruit is left in the water from 20 to 30 seconds, or until a few spots of color on the cheesecloth indicate that the berries are beginning to lose juice. Then dip the fruit immediately into cold water, drain it, and pack it as tightly as possible without crushing into clean, hot jars.

"Seal the jars in accordance with direction for the type of closure you are using and process them in a hot water bath for 15 minutes. Then remove them from the canner and complete the seal as recommended for the closure. Always cool the jars before storing them.

"To pack one pint jar you will need about three-fourths of a quart of fruit.

"Berries canned this way, with no water or sugar added, will remain whole — a great advantage, of course, if they are to be used to make feathery blueberry muffins next winter. Or for that blueberry pie.

"Most varieties of cultivated blueberries also freeze to good advantage. Berries to be frozen should be well ripened, washed, freed of any stems, and drained well. If they are to be used in pies, they should be packed dry. Simply put the drained fruit in moisture-vapor-proof bags, heat seal the bags, and place them in freezing cartons. The cartons are then ready for the sharp freeze — and you and the family are all set for a few blueberry pies come the snowstorms!"

Union Avenue Residents Mark 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Higgins of 59 Union avenue celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on July 11. On the morning of that day they were given an anniversary mass at St. Peter's church by their six children: Thomas Eugene, Delores, Michael James, Ella May, at home; Mrs. J. Cardinale, and Cpl. Joseph Higgins, who has been overseas in the European theater for the past three years and is expected home in September. There is on grandchild, Dennis Joseph.

In the evening, a party was held at the family home, when relatives and friends dropped in to add their congratulations.

Band Leader Hal Breeze Saw Much Action In 19 Months Overseas

Hal Breeze

Staff Sergeant Louis J. Luzzi, better known to Bellevillites as band leader Hal Breeze, is now at the "Tonhat" staging area at Antwerp, Belgium, awaiting shipment to the United States under the army redeployment program, according to word received this week. His wife lives at 184 Passaic avenue.
A veteran of more than four years in the service, Luzzi has been overseas for the past 19 months as a member of the 28th infantry regiment of the 8th Division. He participated in the Normandy, Central France, Rhine

Three Belleville boys who entered the vast army of the United States and wound up in Europe in the same outfit, and who weathered out five major battles in France, Luxembourg, Belgium and Germany together, wrote to the Belleville Times-News recently to say that they would be arriving home together any day now.
The letter, received this week,
was written by Sgt. Vincent Ucci of 100 Baldwin place, Cpl. Vincent Papsidero of 43 Heckel

LOCAL CYO LOSES TO NEWARK TEAM

St. Peter's On Short End Of 9-4 Score When Game Is Called

St. Peter's CYO baseball team went down before the onslaught of the Newark team in a game played last Wednesday at Clearman field. Final outcome of the tilt, a scheduled seven inning game that was called at the fifth because of darkness, was 9 to 4.

Blessed Sacrament opened their scoring in the second inning when White, center fielder, hit a single. Fitzgibbons walked and White managed to seal a base as Redden and Williams struck out. White stole home safely on Williams' third strike. Horak walked and Cruitt got on through an error. Then Fitzgibbons and Horak scored in the tossing around. The side was retired when White fielded out.

The Beas added three in the third as Big John Thomas reached first and Carter and White walked. Thomas stole home as Fitzgibbons struck out. Carter and White came in when Redden hit a grounder.

St. Peter's began to click in the fourth. Bucky McConnell walked, Hickman fed out to the infield and then George Lister came through with a single to advance McConnell to second. However, he was tagged out at third when Joe Lister grounded to shortstop. With the Listers on shortstop, Frank Lechleiter came through with his first hit of the season with a long single that brought George Lister home and Joe to third. Hood got to first when he was hit by a pitched ball, but then Ryan struck out to retire the side.

In the fifth Blessed Sacrament scored three more. White went to first on an error, stole second and then scored when Fitzgibbons singled. Redden walked; Williams flied out and Horak got on when his fly ball was dropped. Fitzgibbons scored. Cruitt walked and Redden stole in to give Blessed Sacrament their ninth run.

In St. Peter's half of the fifth, Bucky McConnell was hit and went to first after Cook and Caragher had struck out. Hickman got on through an error and then McConnell stole to third. He came in after George Lister got on through another error. Hickman stole second and third and

Last night to second. Both Hickman and George scored when Joe Lister got on through an error. Then Lechleiter struck out and the game was called.

Last Sunday's game between St. Peter's and St. Thomas of Bloomfield was called because of weather. Next Sunday the local team will meet St. Mary's of Nutley. St. Peter's is endeavoring to play every Wednesday evening at Clearman, following last Wednesday's tilt with Blessed Sacrament. The schedule had not yet been completed, but all games will start at 6:30 p.m.

W & T RALLIES IN 10TH TO WIN

Viking Tool Co. Goes Down In Overtime Session In Industrial League Game

A ten-inning tilt between Wallace and Tiernan and the Viking Tool company aggregations produced the thrill in last week's action in the Industrial Recreation Softball league. The game, played last Thursday at Clearman field, ended in a 7 to 3 victory for Wallace and Tiernan.

The Vikings jumped to a one road lead in the first, and added two in the fourth, while the Wallace and Tiernan squeezed one over in the fourth and then added two in the fifth to tie up the game. Both teams tightened up and no more runs crossed the plate until the game went into an overtime session. Then Wallace and Tiernan broke away and managed to score four runs before they were stopped. However, they tightened up their fielding and continued to hold the vikings scoreless and take the game.

Union Wins From Pittsburgh In the game played July 9, the Wallace and Tiernan Employees Union won a game from the Pittsburgh Plate Glass team, 4 to 2. Pittsburgh scored one in the first, but the Union boys came to bat and put across their four runs to take the lead. In the fifth, Pittsburgh made another bid and scored one, holding the employees scoreless, but they were unable to cross the platter again, and the Employees wound up in the winning column.

The previous week, the Employees Union team took over the Wallace and Tiernan team, 9 to 4.

SCOUTS COMPLETE CAMPING PERIOD

18 Local Troop Members Visit Robert Treat Site In Kittatinny Mountains

Eighteen Scouts representing seven of the troops in Belleville district, Robert Treat Council, completed the first two week period at the Council's Camp Mohican, located in the Kittatinny mountains near Blairstown. Officials of the camp reported that an unusually high percentage of the scouts entered the camp without having had previous swimming instruction and that most of these were taught to swim during the camp period. The officials also said that advancement to the ranks of second and first class scouts as well as participation in the merit badge program was highly satisfactory.

The camp is owned and operated by Robert Treat council and is available to the scout troops of all districts in the council area. It is one of the largest and best equipped camps in the State of New Jersey.

Council officers, committeemen and commissioners visited the camp during the first period and a corps of volunteer leaders were on hand to assist in the operation of the seven camp troops or divisions.

During the first term, exhibits of tents, fireplaces, cooking fires and camp gadgets were developed. Hikes on the many trails on the camp and running through the Kittatinny mountains were one of the features of the period. Popular trips are to the Trenton and North Bergen camp sites as well as to the site in the mountains where a B-17 bomber crashed two years ago. There are additional places at the camp for the remainder of the season.

All scouts are limited to not more than four weeks and all have been requested to limit their reservation to two weeks in order to give a larger number of scouts the opportunity of attending.

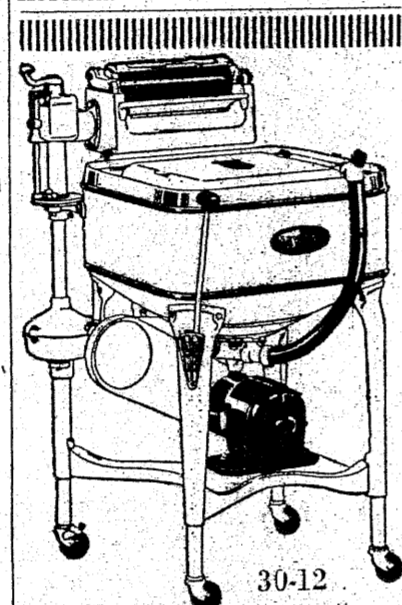

Plans are being developed by district and troop leaders for the Belleville district camporee to be held in the Fall.

The local scouts who attended and their troop numbers are: David Annunzio, Troop 350; Leonard Byrne, Jr., 350; Elmer Reed, 350; James Skidmore, 350; Wallace Sullivan, 350; John Welles, 350; Arthur Dey, Troop 388; Robert Gnat, 388; Edmund Hansen, 388; Herbert Haslam, 300; Walter Haslam, 306; William McTiernan, 392; Frank Smith, 392; Henry Pint, 301; Richard Maisie, 301; George Richardson, 333; and Jack Schrier, 389.

Bretton Woods First

So confident are they that the Senate will ratify our signing of the United Nations Charter, that Administration forces have postponed debate of the Charter and have brought forward the Bretton Woods agreements for debate and action by the Senate. The House already has overwhelmingly approved the Bretton Woods agreements. Our representative, Congressman Hartley, voted for their passage. In the Senate the two New Jersey Senators, Hawkes and Smith, already have gone on record that they will support the agreements.

That Bretton Woods would meet opposition, however, was to be expected. The local group that did such splendid work in educating public opinion to support the Dumbarton Oaks world security plan which became the point of departure for the formation of the United Nations Charter is now asking citizens to write to Senators Hawkes and Smith in behalf of the Bretton Woods agreements.

Passage of Bretton Woods is of utmost importance. Indeed, unless there is quick establishment of the orderly economic machinery which Bretton Woods envisages, success of the United Nations Charter will be endangered, as no political structure can stand up under pressure brought by economic instability.

Meanwhile the intellectual bankruptcy of isolationists was once more demonstrated by the hearings on the Charter by the Senate Foreign Relations committee. Only the lunatic fringe of isolationism had the temerity to appear before the committee in opposition to the document on which the nation has pinned its hopes for future peace. Even Senator Taft has said he will vote for it.

Qualified Director. Needed

Last week Belleville commissioners created a $3,000 a year position, that of a Veterans' Guidance Director. Belleville has led the field in providing for its returning soldiers and this latest move indicates that the town fathers are all for seeing that local veterans will receive every advantage possible in returning to civilian life.

However, the most important part of the move still remains. It is in the appointment of a person to fill the position that the commissioners will show their true interest in the welfare of the returning veteran. A three thousand dollar a year job could be a grand political plum or it could go a long way toward seeing that the veteran of World War II is capably guided in the difficult changeover from military to civilian life and receives his full share of the benefits provided by the G. I. Bill of Rights.

The position definitely calls for a man of many talents and wide experience. If at all possible, he should be a veteran of the present war himself, for only through personal experience could he fully understand many of the problems that will be brought before him. The army of this war, as well as the modern ways of civilian life are totally different from those of the first World War.

The man who becomes Belleville's Veterans' Guidance Director must be in one a psychiatrist, psychologist, economist and social worker. He must be a supervisor who will understand the extremely varied problems that may be brought before him. He must be able to cope with the financial problems of one veteran and then turn directly to the social adjustment problems cast upon another through the shock of combat.

In his capacity as director of the Belleville plan, he must be able to turn each veteran to the proper committee to fit the needs involved. He must inspire the confidence needed to get at the root of all problems, and then command the authority needed to carry the veterans' problems to the point where maladjustments will be corrected.

As yet, the commissioners have not introduced any names put forward for the arpointment, although several persons have been mentioned for the post in town hall circles. Also, it has been rumored around that they intend leaving the appointment ride until September, a month after the ordinance creating the position becomes effective.

Perhaps the commissioners feel that much time is needed to look about and pick the best man for the post, but any such delay is going to make the task before the director that much more difficult. It is going to take some time for the man appointed to move in and become acquainted with the varied phases of the task, and the intricate government procedures therein. Meanwhile, veterans are continuing to flow back into the community at the rate of one or two a day and the individual problems confronting them are mounting.

The Real Warmongers

Justice Jackson says that in the coming trials of high-ranking Nazis he will try to have aggression legally declared a criminal act. With this fine purpose all will agree. But are the aggressors the only one responsible for this war? Nobody knows better than Justice Jackson that the law also embraces the doctrine of laches, which means that in a lawsuit the injured must show they have taken proper steps to maintain their rights against encroachment. Since it is now established that the moral and military weakness of the Western democracies encouraged Hitler and Mussolini in their adventures, does not some guilt also attach to those statesmen outside of the Axis countries who refused to take the most ordinary precautions against the storm whose approach was obvious to all?

In England Stanley Baldwin and Neville Chamberlain, practicing the most shameless demagoguery on their countrymen's longing for peace, refused to prepare their nation for war. Indeed, they banished into political exile the only British statesman, Winston Churchill, who warned of the danger. In our own country, only a few months before Pearl Harbor, Congressmen came within one vote of defeating Selective Service. Are these men without guilt?

Nothing, of course, will be done to punish them. Indeed, the whole sorry record would be scarcely worth reminder were it not becoming apparent that despite all the horror of our experience the fallacy of unpreparedness is still abroad in our land.

Evidence that this folly still exists is seen in the propaganda against universal military peacetime conscription. Ignoring rockets, robot bombs and all the other devices of sudden attack which Germany forecast in the closing months of the European war, the apostles of weakness tell us again that to be unarmed and unprotected is the only way to insure peace. Although the country's existence may be at stake, they ask us to gamble that they are right and that all history is wrong.

Free speech is one of our most cherished rights, and the right of these deluded people to advocate unpreparedness is something we must not deny. But we can deny their brazen claim to be advocates of peace. Quite the contrary, they are the true warmongers. Their exploitation of man's longing for peace has been the necessary complement to the aggressors' designs, and in this respect they have been one of the prime causes of war. Only by fastening upon such people their real identity as breeders of conflict can we view their arguments in proper perspective.

If from such a position they wish to press their theory let them do so. But let's not permit them to wear the habiliments of peace-lovers while they proceed to invite another war.

Nature Teaches

In the cities he has built and in the houses where he dwells man is absorbed by his own doings, and thinks from that he is master of all things. But in a forest, or in a field on a summer's day, or by the vastness of the sea, or under the archway of the stars at night he sees that there are other and greater things than he has accomplished. One of the blessings of a summer vacation is that it puts man in proper perspective with the world around him. He is still little.

Change

Luckily for all of us the permutation of human affairs is incalculable. Only a few years ago Harry Truman was a mediocre haberdasher in Kansas City, Joseph Stalin was in prison and Winston Churchill was looked upon as headed down the slope to oblivion. Today, from the ruins of Berlin, they are shaping the destiny of the world.

JAP-AMERICAN LIFE EXHIBITED

Library Features Display
Sponsored By War
Relocation Authority

Currently featured in the reference room of the Belleville public library is a display loaned by the War Relocation Authority, on Japanese-American life in the United States. The exhibit is made up of a number of photographs each of which is a part of the history of the life and background of a member of the Nisei in America. The term "Nisei" designates American citizens of Japanese ancestry.

A few months after the war with Japan was begun, all persons of Japanese ancestry were evacuated from the coastal areas of California, Washington, and Oregon, and parts of Arizona, to relocation centers within the interior. These relocation centers were in western and southern states, and were under military guard. Under the program of relocation, the Nisei were allowed to move from these camps to any part of the United States except the areas from which they were evacuated. Many were called in to the armed services and gave their lives in serving the United States. A great number went into war work and into farming.

In December, 1944, the Army announced the reopening of the west coast and the end of relocation for the Nisei.

The War Relocation Authority has taken photographs and compiled booklets to bring to public attention the work of the Japanese-Americans in the United States.

FURNITURE CARE

Tips On Preserving Outdoor Pieces Are Listed By Agricultural College Agent

According to Doris Anderson, home management specialist of the State College of Agriculture, the most important factor in the care of outdoor and porch furniture is weather-protection. For this reason any furniture which is expected to endure rain must be varnished at intervals with spar varnish.

Damp, warm weather often makes furniture loose-jointed because it softens the glue. The housewife who is her own repairman in wartime should remember that joints in need of being glued again will hold together only when they are thoroughly dry, entirely free of old glue, tightly fitted, and then clamped or tied to a holding position for 24 hours, or until the glue is thoroughly dried. All of this may sound like a large order for a busy homemaker. Merely filling open spaces in loose joints with quantities of glue never makes a strong joint, however, because glue itself has strength. It is time well spent to do the job well.

If some of your porch furniture has pulled apart and there are loose joints, scrape the glue gently from the joints to avoid any breakage on the wood. Glue will wash off with warm water. Before you go any further the joint should be tested for fit. It must be tight or it will not hold. Strips of cloth over the end that goes into the hole will tighten the joint. The pores of the wood should be opened by warming the piece of wood in the oven or sun before the glue is applied. In fact, the wood should be warm when the glue is applied. Rub it well into the pores of the wood with a stiff brush, covering all the parts that are to be joined. Force the pieces into place at once and press them together with a clamp, or tie them with rope or strong cord. In order to hold the chair even more firmly, a tourniquet may be made with a stick of wood to draw the rope tight. Pads of paper under the clamp or rope will protect the finish of the wood.

There are many kinds of glue available, and some are easier to apply than others. Follow the directions for the type you decide to use.
