Belleville Fails To Reach Quota In Cancer Drive

Less Than Fifty Per Cent Of Goal Of $7,500 Is Realized In Town;
County Contributes $80,000

Final Belleville figures in the American Cancer society drive for funds which ended last week, released this week by Harry G. Specht, chairman of the local committee, showed total of $3,061.22 collected. This is little less than fifty per cent of the $7,500 quota set for Belleville by the state campaign committee.

The local drive was part of the first national campaign for funds for the American Cancer society to use in research work, setting up state clinics and general use in combating cancer. The national goal set was $4,000,000.

Of the total local figure, $2,159.50 was contributed by industries in the town, while the balance was gained through personal contributions. A assisting Specht on the local committee were Dr. James E. Irwin, Health Officer Eugene E. Berry, William Orchard, Elwood Russell, Ronald Brunner and William Goodrich, who was treasurer of the drive.

Agencies assisting in the drive included the American Legion and Tri-City post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Woman's club, Petrean club, Craftsman club, Tipical Park Social and Political club, Elks, Defense Council, Masons, Progress club, Lions club, Rotary club and the local schools.

County and State Quota

New Jersey, with a quota of $400,000, contributed in the neighborhood of $220,000. State chairman was Elmer H. Hobbs of Montclair. The Essex county committee was directed by George E. Stringfellow of West Orange. The county contributed more than $80,000, according to Stringfellow.

At an informal meeting held with members of the press and radio, who cooperated with him in the Essex county work of the campaign, Monday night, Stringfellow said, "In my opinion there is no more worthy objective at the moment than finding the cause and cure for cancer—mankind's greatest killer. I want you to know that I feel sincerely grateful to you folks, as I have never worked with a larger group of citizens than those who cooperated with me in this drive."

Communities which exceeded the goals established for them included Glen Ridge, Irvington, Maplewood, Montclair, Nutley and West Orange.

POSTWAR PLANS SOUGHT BY STATE

Survey Being Conducted
To Gain Cross-section
Of Citizens' Intentions

A state-wide survey to determine certain postwar intentions of New Jersey's citizens is being launched this week by the New Jersey State Department of Economic Development.

According to Commissioner Charles R. Erdman Jr., "Interviewers will call upon representative citizens in each community to learn such facts as whether they intend to remain in New Jersey after the war, whether they will build or renovate their homes and what postwar jobs they expect to hold. Questions also will be asked about prospective purchases of automobiles and various articles of household equipment."

Commissioner Erdman stresses the point that the individual answering the interviewer's questions does not give his name or address. He will remain anonymous in all cases, but his answers will be very important because they will be representative of other individuals — to numerous for each to be interviewed — who have similar employment, income, background, and plans for the future.

Results Important

It is expected that 10,000 individuals will be interviewed, and their answers will be tabulated under the direction of the Division of Research and Statistics in the Department of Economic Development, according to Dr. Erdman. Results of the survey are expected to provide important new information regarding postwar jobs for veterans and business possibilities for merchants in each municipality. Building trades will benefit by a knowledge of the percentage of New Jersey residents who plan new homes or improvements to their present dwellings, while other industries will welcome authoritative data on their intentions regarding postwar purchases of utilities such as cars, washing machines, radios or refrigerators.

"These answers from a carefully selected sample, or cross-section of the entire population of New Jersey will be of importance to every local community," Dr. Erdman declares, "and when the representative of the Department of Economic Development asks his questions I know the citizens give him all the help they can. The results of this important, scientific survey, can do much to promote the postwar prosperity of New Jersey."

TOWN INCREASES SEWER FUNDS AT SPECIAL MEETING

Ordinances Introduced
Raise Appropriations
To Cover Lowest Bid

Belleville Commissioners in a special meeting Monday morning introduced two new ordinances and rescinded two old ones in a move to make appropriations cover the price of the lowest bidder for sanitary sewer and water main installations at the Riviera Park development tract.

Original appropriations for the work amounted to $18,300. At the last regular meeting of the commission, bids were received, and it was found that all six of the bids submitted exceeded the amount appropriated by several hundred dollars. A difference in figuring the cost of common labor was the attributed cause for the higher bids.

In the ordinance providing for the construction of a six inch water main at the development, the appropriation was raised to $8,000 from $6,400. Another ordinance calling for construction of curbs and storm sewers had its appropriation increased from $2,500 to $4,000. Appropriation of $9,400 for the construction of an eight inch sanitary sewer remained the same.

After passage of the new ordinances, a resolution by Public Works director Waters called for awarding a contract for the work to Petrozello Brothers, incorporated, of 362 Lackawanna place, South Orange. They were lowest bidders for the work, at a figure of $20,608.32. Award of the contract is subject to final passage and publication of the Appropriation ordinances passed.

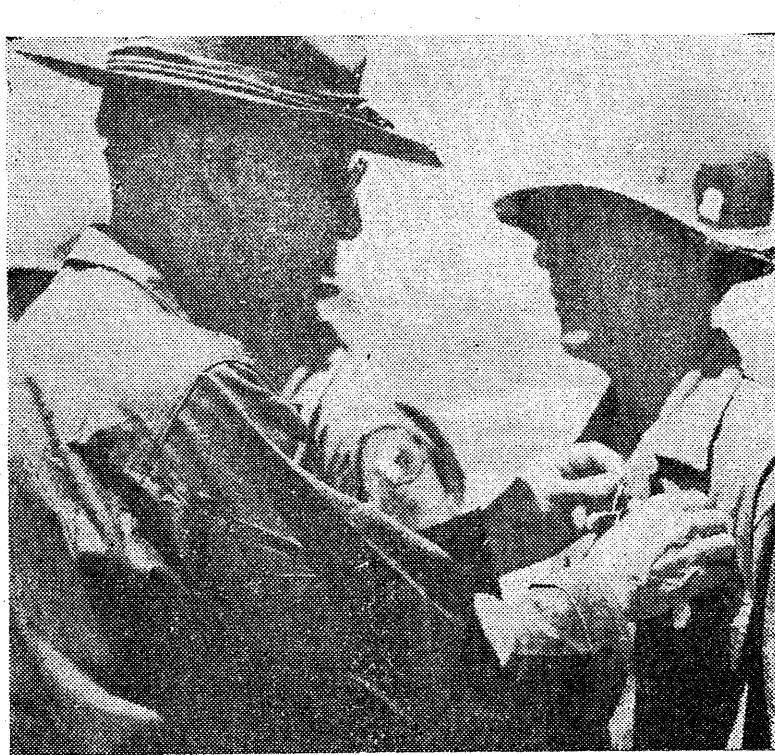

The ordinances will come up for final reading and adoption at the regular commission meeting on August 14.

Women's Republican Club Cancels August Outing

The August 9 outing of the Belleville Women's Republican club has been indefinitely postponed. Although it is an annual affair and was planned for members at the May meeting of the organization, a spokesman for the club said yesterday that the women had decided not to impose on restricted wartime traveling conditions.

Mrs. Arthur E. Mayer of Greylock parkway is president of the club.

Silver Star From Stilwell

Local Man Gets Silver Star For Gallantry In Okinawa

General Joseph Stilwell
Presents Award During Battlefield Ceremony

In a battlefield ceremony on Okinawa recently, General Joseph W. Stilwell, commander of the Tenth Army, presented the Silver Star to Pfc. Richard W. Noke, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Noke of 255 Greylock parkway (see photo). The award was made for gallantry in action during the 72-day battle for the Japanese Island stronghold.

Noke enlisted in the Air Corps in July 1942, and entered active service on February 4, 1943. He received training at San Antonio and Hondo, Texas, and at Fredrick's field, Okla., where he specialized in repairing airplane motors. He took an additional six months course of specialized training at Bradley Technical school in Peoria, Ill.

Transferred from the Air Corps to the infantry, Noke received infantry training in Oregon and California. He went overseas in July, 1944.

A native of Newark and graduate of Barringer High school, his parents have lived here for the past four years. He was in his Junior year at the University of Minnesota when he was called into active service. Noke's wife is the former Betty McCum, whom he married in March, 1944, while he was an ASTP student at Bradley Tech. She is at present living in Englewood, Cal., where she is engaged in war work.

AIR MEDAL WON BY CUNNINGHAM

Local Air Force Man Gets Award For Action Against Japanese

Sergeant Clatie R. Cunningham, Jr., 277 Stephens street, has been awarded an Air Medal for participating in operational flight missions in the Southwest Pacific Area from May 2 to May 27, 1945, by General George C. Kenney, commanding the Far East Air Forces.

Sergeant Cunningham was cited for taking part in bombing strikes against Japanese airdromes and installations, and attacks on enemy naval vessels and shipping.

The citation said, "The courage and devotion to duty displayed during these flights by Sergeant Cunningham, when contact with hostile aircraft was probable and expected, reflect great credit on the United States Army Air Forces."

His wife, Mrs. Alice Cunningham, resides at the above address.

Combat when the Marines landed on Okinawa on Easter Sunday. He remained there during the entire 84 day battle.

Fitzpatrick's brother, S/Sgt. James J. Fitzpatrick, also served in the Pacific area. He went overseas in January, 1942, and was with the first American unit to land in New Guinea. For that action he received the Presidential unit citation. After 26 months overseas he was returned to this country, and at present is stationed at Stuttgart airfield, Ark.

School Board Authorized To Purchase Property

Twenty Belleville voters turned out for a special election last Thursday night at the high school and authorized the board of education to purchase a parcel of land adjoining land it already owns in the high school block.

Of the votes, seventeen were in favor of the purchase and three were rejected because the ballots were not marked correctly. Ten of the voters were employees of the school system, and members of the election board.

The land is an "L" shaped section comprising about three-fourths of an acre. The board of education obtained an option on the property for purchase at $700. It is planned that the section will be included with that already obtained by the board for eventual use as a playground.

Heroism and resourcefulness in a battle action which brought him serious wounds also brought the Bronze Star medal to Marine Sergeant John Fritts, recently.

The Marine, who quit Newark Central High school to enter the Service at the age of 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fritts of 166 Stephen street.

The citation telling of Fritts' action on Iwo Jima reads: "for meritorious achievement in connection with operations against the enemy while serving as a machine gun section leader in a marine rifle company on Iwo Jima Volcano Islands from 19 February to 16 March, 1945. Throughout the operation, Sergeant Fritts displayed exceptional tactical skill and daring in the employment of his section, on several occasions performing in a similar manner in the capacity of a rifle platoon leader. On 15 March, 1945, when one of the rifle platoons suffered the loss of both its platoon leader and platoon sergeant, Sergeant Fritts unhesitatingly assumed command of the platoon. With unusual resourcefulness and leadership he rallied his position through the intense fire that seriously wounded him, but refused to be evacuated and continued to direct his men until the hotly contested objective was seized. His initiative and courageous leadership was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Fritts entered the Marines in 1943 and went overseas four months later. He was previously cited for killing nearly 250 Japanese soldiers on another island in the Pacific. Wounded in the action for which he received the Bronze Star medal, Fritts was awarded the Purple Heart, and was at last word in a convalescent hospital in Hawaii.

Oh yes, about those stains on the wall left by the mosquito who collided with the folded paper. If the wallpaper is unwashable, about the only thing that helps is rubbing with a piece of bread. The experts are still looking for suggestions on how to take care of those stains.

Don't worry too much about catching malaria, or other harmful effects of the mosquitoes. The commission advises us they are the "tipiens," or common house type and produce no harmful effects, other than the causing lack of sleep and otherwise making a nuisance of themselves. And don't think you can keep them out with just screens. They are small enough to crawl through the common size screening, and are known to be expert at this. Their ability to find sleeping victims in a dark room, it is said, lies in a mosquito attracting odor given off by the body.

Projects are in the experimental stage for using the insecticide, DDT, which was developed for the Armed forces. Methods of spraying on the ground are being studied, as well as the possibility of using an airplane to spray over a large area.

LOCAL CHILDREN TO HAVE CAMP NEXT SUMMMER

Site At Glenwild Lake
Secured By Foundation
For Lions And Rotary

Prospects for a summer camp for the exclusive use of boys from Belleville and the local girl scouts next year loomed this week when the Belleville Foundation announced plans for taking over the former Camp Demarest, to be operated jointly by the local Rotary and Lions clubs.

The camp, comprising the northern end of Glenwild lake, near Haskell, N. J., is expected to be available for use of the town children next year. It will be sponsored jointly by the local Rotary and Lions and will be incorporated under the name Ro-Li camp.

Formerly operated by the town of Bloomfield, the camp was named for Mayor Demarest of Bloomfield. Negotiations have been underway for some time by the Foundation in order to gain the camp for use by the children of the town.

In the camp area are buildings worth $40,000, according to the Foundation, including 14 outdoor sleeping cabins, a large central hall, a cabin for a doctor, a cabin for a nurse, a cook's cottage, a nature study cabin, a cabin for arts and crafts and a camp leader's cabin. There is a waterfront for swimming, a dock and a float.

Under tentative plans announced, the Rotary and Lions clubs will sponsor five weeks of camping for Belleville Boys, and the Girl Scouts of the town will take over the camp for their use for five weeks.

The camp has been situated at Glenwild lake for the past fifteen years, and until this year was operated as a camp for Bloomfield boys. Due to lack of food, leadership and other necessities the Foundation stated it would be impossible to open the camp yet this summer, but details will be worked out during the winter in order that it can be opened at the beginning of the camping season next year.

Dailey Appoints Group To Work Vets' Program

Committee Of Seven To Carry Out
Belleville Plan Under System Set Up By Federal Government

John P. Dailey, chairman of the Veteran's Assistance Program for the Belleville area, announced this week the appointment of an advisory committee composed of seven veterans, who will assist in carrying out the Belleville Plan as outlined in the pamphlet, "Open Door To Belleville."

Dailey was appointed by Colonel Bloomer, state director of Selective Service to set up a program for Belleville to assist veterans in the changeover from military to civilian life. The plan was instituted nationally by the federal government through the Selective Service system.

In Belleville, Dailey and his assistants will carry out the Belleville plan, a program of wide acclaim for aiding veterans developed some time ago by the Belleville Foundation. Since the inception of the committee five veterans have been carrying on the assistance work, awaiting the appointment of two veterans of World War II. In addition to Dailey, the committee is composed of Edward F. Ferguson, John Gannon, Dr. Benjamin A. Jackson, Anthony C. Lenza, John Rehg and Harry Ziegler.

Committee Background

Dailey, who is chairman of the committee, is a member of the Belleville Post 105, American Legion, and was in the transport service of the Navy in World War I. He is chairman of Selective Board No. 9 of Belleville.

Ferguson of 14 Oak street, is a veteran of World War II. He was inducted into the Army on July 3, 1942, and was honorably discharged last January 12 as a Second Lieutenant.

Gannon lives at 4 DeWitt avenue and is a member of Selective Service Board 9. He is also a member of American Legion post 105, and for many years was adjutant of the George Younginger Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Dr. Jacobson, a dentist of 511 Washington avenue, has been attached to the local Selective Service board as an examiner since its inception. He is a past commander of the George Younginger post.

Lenza of 106 Heckel street was inducted into the Army on August 11, 1942, and was released on June 1 this year for physical disability.

Rehg of 72 Continental avenue is reemployment committeeman attached to the local Selective board. He served for many years as service officer for the George Younginger post.

Harry Ziegler of 114 Adelaide street is commander-elect of Belleville post 105. He is also a reemployment committeeman attached to the Selective Service board.

This committee, Dailey stated, has been and will continue to check every case of returning veterans to see that he receives all the rights that he is entitled to and wishes to claim under both the Selective Service act and the G.I. Bill of Rights. At the present time all of the activities of the committee have been conducted through the offices of the local draft board and with the clerical help of that board.

Commission Authorizes State-wide Increase To Telephone Company

Approval by the National Telephone Commission of the War Labor Board for the New Jersey Bell Telephone company to grant a $2 a week increase in weekly pay to approximately 2,500 plant department employees in its state-wide organization has been received by the company and the Telephone Workers Union of New Jersey. The company and the union jointly applied to the commission for approval of the wage adjustment last February.

Also approved by the commission was an application by the company to make voluntary adjustment in the wages of about 100 weekly-paid supervisory employees in the plant organization.

With the exception of certain clerical employees, the $2 a week increase will be general for all plant employees and will be effective retroactively to December 24, 1944. Clerical employees not receiving the $2 increase will receive an upward adjustment of $1 a week.

An additional $1 per week was approved for linemen in the northern New Jersey metropolitan area. The length of time required to reach maximum wages in the various job schedules was shortened by as much as two years in some instances.

Local Navy Flier Honored On Memorial In England

Walter Antonik Among Men Killed In Action From Dunkeswell Air Base

Walter J. Antonik, aviation ordnanceman, third class, USNR, had his name permanently inscribed on a memorial dedicated recently at the United States Naval Air Facility at Dunkeswell, England. The memorial was dedicated by Fleet Air Wing Seven, and contained the names of 182 other U. S. Navy men who lost their lives while operating from the air station.

Antonik, who was a gunner-ordnanceman on a liberator bomber, was killed in action on January 3 in the European theater. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. John P. Antonik of 133 Ralph street. The Navy flier was well-known here as a high school athlete prior to his graduation from Belleville High school in 1942. He entered the Navy in January, 1943.

Nearly five thousand surviving comrades, with RAF Coastal Command, installed the memorial organ in Dunkeswell parish church and unveiled a bronze tablet containing the names of the deceased men who fought German U-boats while based there. The fleet Air Wing flew nearly sixty-five thousand sorties against the enemy between September, 1943, and June 1, 1945. Dunkeswell, five miles inland from the English channel near Exeter, Devon, is the only U. S. Navy air station in England.

Sergeant Hoey, at 25, was a twice wounded veteran of the African and French invasions. He was killed on the First Army front in Germany on December 14. He was wounded the second time during the Normandy campaign. Born in Flushing, L. I., Sergeant Hoey had lived with his aunt and uncle on Prospect street for the past ten years after his parents died. Before his induction in the infantry in January, 1941, he was employed at Hearn's department store in Newark.

BURROUGHS GETS 2ND. AIR MEDAL

Oak Leaf Cluster Awarded Air Forces Gunner For Meritorious Achievement

Staff Sergeant William A. Burroughs Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Burroughs of 295 Greylock parkway, has been awarded the Oak Leaf Cluster to his air medal for meritorious achievement during 13th Army Air Force Liberator attacks on Japanese airdromes and military installations in the path of Allied landing operations on Borneo. This was revealed this week in a letter from General George C. Kenney, Far East Air Forces Commander, to Mrs. Burroughs.

Sergeant Burroughs is a gunner with the Bomber Barons group, which holds two distinguished unit citations for spearheading "Jungle Air Force" strikes at Woleai Island, and Balikpapan, Borneo. Overseas seven months, he has completed 23 combat missions, and holds the Asiatic Pacific Theater ribbon with three battle stars.

A graduate of Belleville High school, Burroughs entered the Army in December, 1943. He was employed at the Isolantite plant prior to that time. Receiving his gunner's wings at Laredo, Texas, he went overseas last December.

Letter From Kenney

Text of the letter from General Kenney follows:
"Recently your son, Sergeant William A. Burroughs, Jr., was decorated with the Air Medal. It was an award made in recognition of courageous service to his combat organization, his fellow American airmen, his country, his home and to you.

"He was cited for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flights in the Southwest Pacific Area from February 3, 1945 to April 19, 1945.

"Your son took part in sustained operational flight missions during which hostile contact was probable and expected. These flights included bombing missions against enemy installations, shipping and supply bases, and aided considerably in the recent successes in this theatre.

"Almost every hour of every day your son, and the sons of other American mothers, are doing just such things as that here in the Southwest Pacific.

Sergeant Frank DeHagra, son of Mrs. Ida DeHagra of 270
Ralph street, met his brother
Nicholas for the first time in six years last week when he returned home for the second time in five years, following a 19 months tour of duty overseas in the China-Burma-India theater of operations. He will return Sunday to North Carolina where he is being treated for recurrent malaria.

DeHagen enlisted in the army in October, 1940, for overseas duty in Panama. He was stationed there and throughout Central America for two years and four months and then was returned to the United States for eight months training with an artillery unit.

After taking an army examination, he was sent to China as an instructor in artillery to work for the Chinese government, teaching artillery to Chinese troops. He served there for nineteen months and then was returned to this country and entered in a North Carolina hospital for treatment.
After his release from the hospital he went to New Iberia, La.
There he married the former Joan Giacitano on July 11. She accompanied him to Belleville on his furlough and will remain here after he leaves.

He has been awarded the Bronze Star medal, and while in East China in June last year, he was credited with shooting down a Japanese bomber with a twin-60 machine gun.

His brother Nicholas is a musician first class in the Navy.

the New York World's Fair and at the close of the fair was sent

ANTHONY'S WINS OVER ST. PETER'S

Three Pitchers Allow Only Two Hits In 3-2 Victory At Clearman Field

St. Anthony's nine defeated St. Peter's by a 3-2 score in a close six inning contest last week at Clearman field.

In taking the game, St. Anthony's used three pitchers, D'Alessia started on the mound and gave way to Galenti in the fourth. Vitelli, who went in in the fifth, was credited with the win. The three pitchers allowed St.

Peter's only two hits. Joe Lister went the whole game for St. Peter's and allowed six hits.

Scoring began in the St. Anthony's half of the third, when Vitelli singled, stole second and third and crossed the plate safe on Hickman's wild throw. The game was tied up in the fourth when McConnell walked and then scored on Hickman's single. St. Anthony's went ahead to stay in when Vitelli scored on a single by Nardone. In the sixth, Coumo scored on Galenti's single.

St. Peter's scored their second run in the sixth, when George Lister walked, stole second and third and scored on an error by Cancellieri.

MAP SHOWS new highway route S-3, and the portion that will be opened to the public next Monday. Heavy black line indicates completed section of route S-3 at Rutherford. Broken line shows proposed post-war construction to junction with route 6 (U. S. route 46) at Great Notch.

STATE TO OPEN NEW ROAD LINK

Ceremonies Next Monday Will Mark Completion Of Two-Mile Section

Surmounting handicaps of marshland, mountain grades and existing material seizures, State Highway Commissioner Spencer Miller Jr., will open next Monday the newly completed route S-3 between route 3 junction to Secaucus, Hudson county, and route 17, at Rutherford, Bergen county.

Brief ceremonies on Berrys Creek viaduct at two o'clock in the afternoon will mark the dedication of this addition to the Highway Department's plan for traffic relief in New Jersey's northern metropolitan area.

The public is invited to be present at the exercises which will be attended by the Legislative representatives of Bergen, Essex, Hudson and Passaic, and other officials.

Although less than two miles in length the new roadway represents seven years of intermittent work by seven contractors and an investment of almost $2,000,000 in motorists' funds. Its location was governed chiefly by the need of crossing First mountain on the easiest grade in the proposed post-war extension of S-3 to route 6 (U. S. 46). Great Notch at Clifton, Passaic county, offered the most favorable gap between Paterson, Passaic county, and Springfield, Union county, and determined the course to be followed.

Hickman was on the mound for the winners. Donhouse pitched for the losers.

midshipman in the United States Merchant Marine Academy, with concurrent appointment as Midshipman in the United States Navy Reserve, it was revealed this week.

Gresham applied for the appointment in November, 1944. A graduate of Belleville High school in 1944, he also attended Newark College of Engineering.

Upon completion of basic training, the cadet-midshipman will be assigned to sea duty aboard a merchant vessel for a period of six to eight months, after which he will report to the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point. At graduation he will be licensed as third assistant engineer and commissioned as ensign in the United States Maritime Service.

The United States Merchant Marine Academy is the nation's newest service academy, established to train young men to become merchant vessel officers, just as West Point and Annapolis produce officers for the Army and Navy.

Gilroy's Action In Battle Gets Praise From General

Local Soldier Commended For Coolness In Battle During Breakthrough

Outstanding performance of duty in the thick of battle near Cerao, Italy, on April 24, earned for Staff Sergeant Francis Gilroy, native of Belleville, a written commendation from Brigadier General R. E. S. Williamson, commander of the 91st Division, it was revealed this week. The commendation has been forwarded to his wife, who now lives in Bloomfield.

The commendation reads: "When an enemy convoy attempted a breakthrough in their disorganized retreat, Staff Sergeant Gilroy immediately fired on the enemy. He threw several hand grenades on an enemy armored car and forced its withdrawal. Later, when the enemy vehicles approached firing machine guns, Staff Sergeant Gilroy, without thought for his personal safety and completely ignoring the enemy fire, coolly fired a bazooka at the vehicle. His accurate shot disabled the vehicle and forced the enemy soldiers to surrender to his squad. His courage, coolness under fire and devotion to duty reflect a great credit on himself and on the Armed Forces of the United States."

Gilroy was born in Belleville and was graduated from Belleville High school. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gilroy, formerly of Smith street, now live in North Arlington. He married the former Emma Goldecker of 161 New street in March, 1944. Overseas since June, last year, shortly after the Normandy invasion, he entered the Army in 1942.

SCHOOL TEACHERS TOUR WAREHOUSE

Agriculture Instructors Of Area Study Practice Of Large Chain Firm

Northern New Jersey instructors in vocational agriculture participated last week in an educational tour and workshop program, using facilities of the A & P produce warehouse at Newark.

Comparisons of New Jersey packages, grower practices and varieties with shipped-in fruits and vegetables were demonstrated and explained by the food chain's produce men. Produce unloaded during evening operations from farm trucks and carlot shipments were examined by the instructors to give them increased knowledge to use in high school classes and in evening courses for farmers. A tour of the Newark A & P bakery preceded the warehouse program. Included in the tour group with H. O. Sampson of New Brunswick, state supervisor of agricultural education, was Milton H. Anderson, high school instructor at Nutley. Instructors in the southern half of New Jersey scheduled a similar evening tour and workshop July 31 in the Philadelphia A & P produce warehouse.

PEACHES REACH PEAK THIS WEEK

Tips On Canning Process Listed By Essex County Demonstration Agent

The first 10 days in August deserve to be underscored on your kitchen calendar with the stoutest red pencil you can find, stated Margaret C. Shepard, Essex county home demonstration agent, this week. They mark the first peak in the 1945 Jersey peach season, when generous quantities of tree-ripened Golden Jubiles and Tri-gems will be available in markets throughout the State. If peach canning or freezing is on your food conservation program this summer, this, then, is the time to get busy in earnest!

Fortunately for those of us who enjoy mid-winter peach pies and puddings, the sweet, juicy fruit that goes into their making is easy to can. Peaches, like other summer fruits, can be done up very satisfactorily in a boiling water bath. They do not require pressure cooker processing. And don't be deterred by the mere fact that your sugar bin is low! Honey or corn syrup can be used in place of a substantial amount of the sugar most of us used to think essential to a good peach syrup.

Fresh Peaches Best
For best results, the fruit should be canned just as soon as possible after it is picked. The fresher the peaches, the better they will taste and keep. Select fruit that is ripe enough to serve at the table—peaches with that warm, deep golden or honey-white complexion color not only beautiful to the eye but a good indication of quality as well. Use only firm, perfect fruit. Any softer or slightly bruised peaches you may find in your basket can be made into peach butter or jam.

If the skins are reluctant to slip off, plunge a few peaches at a time into boiling water and then give them a cold water dip. They may turn dark if you leave them exposed to the air for any length of time once they are peeled. Cut them in halves or slice them immediately into clean, hot jars. Fill the jars with a syrup made in any of the following ways:

A pound of sugar to four quarts of finished fruit.

Corn syrup replacing up to one-third of the sugar.

Mild-flavored honey replacing up to one-half the sugar.

Soft pieces of the fruit cooked to make a peach juice which is used in place of the regular syrup.

Very firm peaches are processed in the hot water bath 35 minutes; slightly softer fruit will take only 20 minutes. Peaches precooked in syrup and then packed with the remainder of this syrup used to fill the jars are processed 15 minutes.

Golden Jubilee is your peach if you plan to freeze the fruit. A sugar syrup is better than dry sugar for packing peaches, and a good 50 per cent syrup can be made with four cups hot water, one and one-third cups corn syrup, and two and one-third cups sugar. Pour the hot water on the corn syrup and sugar, and cool the resulting syrup to room temperature before using it.

Who Guides Our Veterans?

Yesterday the ordinance creating a Veteran's Guidance Director for Belleville became effective. As yet, none has been appointed to the position. In fact, the position has not yet been placed under jurisdiction of any of the town departments. This might indicate that considerable political dickering is going on over who is to control the office. There is the grave possibility that the appointment may be turned into a great vote-getting agency.

The continued silence maintained on the subject in the town hall—at least on the surface—does not indicate that any genuine effort is being made to assist in the Veterans program. Actually, failure to make the appointment is increasing the immediate burden on the man who takes the job. The local Selective Service authorities state that the number of discharged veterans reporting back to them is showing a decided increase.

Furthermore, it seems that the town hall has not yet approached the Selective Service board on the subject. Under the town ordinance, the man who becomes Belleville's Veteran's Guidance Director will work in co-operation with the local and state Selective Service boards. It would seem only natural that the town fathers would consult the Selective Service authorities before making the appointment.

On the subject, our attention was called to an article in another publication last week in which it was indicated that this paper had some particular axe to grind in the appointment, and it was urged that words and thought on the appointment be left entirely up to the public officials to take care of the problem. There was a question as to whether or not it is a problem.

The writer of the article evidently is not aware that the commissioners of Belleville were not elected to handle the veterans program. It is, however, their duty to appoint a man unbound by political bonds to work with those engaged in the veteran's assistance program, which was set up by the federal government through the Selective Service system. They are citizens of the town uninterested in vote-getting.

In raising the question of whether or not it is a problem, the writer of the article indicates that assistance to discharged veterans is but a routine matter of little importance and that laxity in appointment of a man to help returning soldiers in the changeover to civilian life is of little concern. We hope all the commissioners do not take the same light view.

That proper guidance of returning soldiers is a matter of great concern has been proved conclusively under the very eyes of the town. Belleville gained nationwide acclaim for being the first to take progressive steps in looking out for the future of veterans by establishing the Belleville Plan. The plan was worked out by a group of citizens, not by the town fathers. Had not people all over the country considered the future of the veteran a real problem, the Belleville Plan would have gone unnoticed.

We'll Have To Decide

Whether we like it or not the British election seems to indicate that in the not distant future we shall have to decide which is more important, our system of free enterprise or our desire for a democratic world.

In opposition to the Labor party's program of nationalization of heavy British industries Mr. Churchill held aloft the banner of free enterprise. The British people chose nationalization. France also has a program for nationalization of industry. In Russia, of course, everything is controlled by the state, and German and Italian industries, or what is left of them, will be under the control of the Allies for an indefinite future.

Thus European basic industry and finance is, or is on its way to being, outside the free enterprise system. Coincidentally with this development, however, the United States is being asked to lend money for European rehabilitation. There can be no denying the necessity of these loans if trade is to be restored and Europe saved from chaos. But in making such loans this nation will be putting its resources in support of a system which most Americans look upon as the mortal enemy of our own.

Immediately after the results of the British election were made known Senator Wolcott of Connecticut said this country should not lend money abroad if its money is to be used in the promotion of radical ideas. Nationalization of heavy industry and the banks, it is to be assumed, comes within his definition of "radical ideas." Others in Washington hold the same view.

Yet there can be no question that democratic processes were used in Britain's elections, and it is also to be presumed that similar processes will be used in the French elections next fall. These processes have been indorsed by this country as being all we ask of Europe in setting up its new political structure.

With the United States holding the purse strings of the world, it seems obvious, therefore, that we shall soon have to decide whether we shall support free, democratic governments that have chosen state ownership or whether we shall withhold our financial support from such governments unless they conform to our economic system.

Anachronisms

What many have feared has at last happened: an airplane has crashed into the Empire State Building. That it has not happened long before this is astonishing. That it will happen again seems almost inevitable.

The plain fact is that in the few brief years of their existence New York's up-town skyscrapers have become anachronisms. They are a menace to air traffic, and since this traffic is certain to increase the danger of further crashes is obvious.

Blackball

The Civil War denied the right of secession from the Union. It is a pity, however, that in denying this right we did not also reserve the right of casting out of the Union any state whose conduct reveals signs of incurable idiocy. Had we done so we have a nice shiny little blackball we'd throw into the box for the expulsion of Mississippi. Any state that inflicts Senators Bilbo and Eastman and Representative Harkin on us must either have fallen on its head in infancy or be inhabited exclusively by descendants of the Jukes family.

Discharge Papers

One of our readers has made a suggestion which we think deserves to be passed along to returning service men and their families.

His idea is that discharged veterans be urged to have several photostat copies of their discharge papers made immediately on their return home.

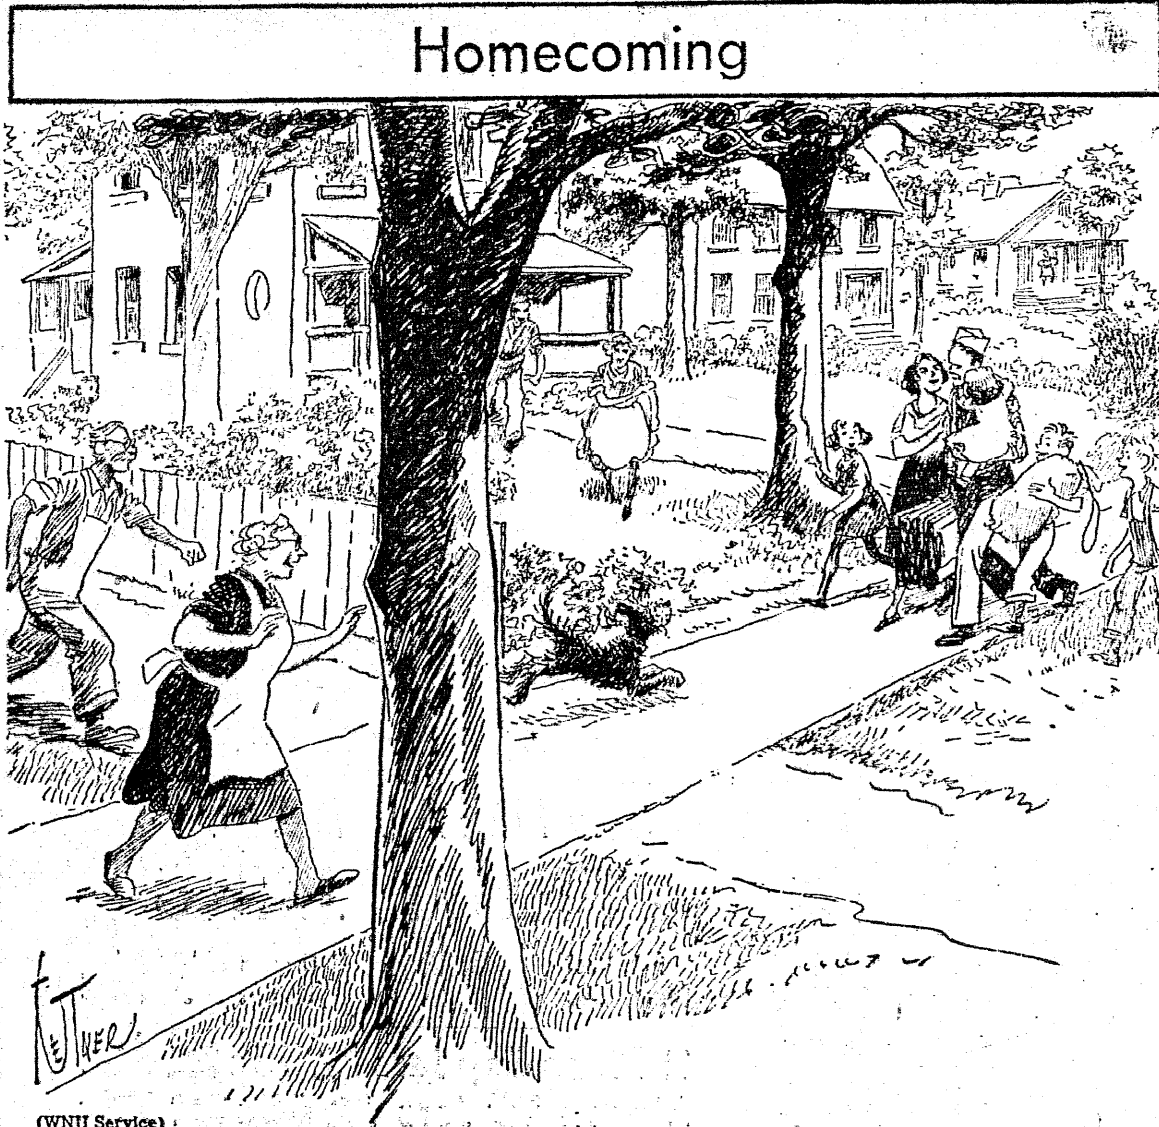

The soldier's discharge papers will be valuable to him until he dies, and every precaution should be taken that the papers are not lost. Everyone knows how careless young boys are, and it is safe to assume that many of them, in the joy of homecoming, will throw their papers into a drawer and forget about them. Families of service men should see to it that several photostat copies of the papers are made promptly on their boys' return. For the expenditure of a few dollars now a great deal of inconvenience and possibly loss of benefits can be avoided later.

Tax Exemption Mounts

Figures compiled by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association reveal an alarming increase in tax exemptions in this state. In the last ten years property exempt from taxation has increased thirty-two per cent, while in the same period ratables have dropped eight per cent.

Thus, with costs of government mounting, the sources from which taxes can be obtained to pay these costs are being diminished. The result is of course that the burden on the few remaining taxpayers is increased out of all proportion to the increase in cost of government. Fewer and fewer people are asked to do more and more. It requires no great mathematical knowledge to realize that if this continues there will soon come a time when ownership of property will be a burden which fewer people will care to assume.

A complete reappraisal of tax exemption policies seems necessary. Governor Edge and the Legislature could perform a distinct public service by bringing all the facts of this problem before the public so that the voters might be informed as to who is responsible for exempting property from taxation.

When Noise Doesn't Stop Says Albee, Call A Cop

Editor of The Belleville Times: Dear Sir:

A few days ago, while passing a yard where several young children were playing, they started to sing some childish song, which to my untutored mind sounded rather pleasant. But, there came a quick interruption, as a woman from a nearby yard called out in a rasping voice: "If you kids don't stop making such a noise, I'll call a cop."

There seems to be no place in this world for children, dogs, cats, or other such things, either dumb, or otherwise.

The enclosed verses are dedicated to the Belleville cops, who are doing noble duty, (though often reluctantly) in keeping children and animals in their proper place, although such place has as yet never been decided upon.

This procedure of "calling a cop" is becoming quite a habit in this neighborhood. In fact, if the kids around here don't quiet down a little until I finish this epistle, I may have to "call a cop" myself.

When you hear the cheerful lay Of the children at their play, On a bright and happy day, Call a cop.

Let no feeling of remorse Let no sentiment unhorse Your most patriotic course, Call a cop.

Should you hear a baby cry, Do not stop to reason why, Use a telephone nearby, Call a cop.

If a noble dog should bark

Rages at the midnight hour,
Call a cop.
When you hear at 3 a.m.,
The street sweeper's throbbing hum,
Use your thinker, don't be dumb,
Call a cop.
Should you hear old Gabriel's horn
Blow a blast, some early morn,
Don't get frightened, or forlorn,
Call a cop.
When, at last, St. Peter's bell
Tolls for you a doleful knell,
And he tells you, "go to HELL,"
Call a cop.

RAIL MEN SOUGHT TO WORK IN WEST

State Manpower Director Cites Need For Labor On Western Lines

A search for manpower, which may develop into the most intensive labor recruitment activity ever conducted in this state, has been launched by the War Manpower Commission to enlist New Jersey men for work on the country's western railroads.

Thomas F. Costello, State Manpower Director, in announcing the WMC recruitment program said this week that the transportation movement of military personnel and equipment under redeployment from Europe to the Pacific theater of war is critically bottlenecked for lack of 65,000 men needed in the operation and maintenance of the western rail lines.

"New Jersey workers are urgently needed," Costello said, "to help move soldiers from this state with speed and safety and to prevent critical stymieing of the progress of the war against Japan."

Limited railroad facilities of the western carriers are already overburdened as a result of the vast demands made upon them for the transportation of men and materials since the end of the war in Europe necessitated a complete reversal of the previous west-to-east preponderance of transport, Costello explained.

"A million and a half men must be moved from the east to Pacific coast embarkation points along with six tons of equipment and material per man during the next few months," the manpower director stated. "This situation requires that adequate manpower to insure expert direction and operation of the roads be found without delay."

Type of Workers Needed

"We propose to comb almost every section of the state in a search for workers to fill essential operations and maintenance jobs on these overtaxed rail workers to fill essential operations and maintenance jobs on these overtaxed rail facilities. Among the types of workers needed are: engineers, hostlers, conductors, switchmen, signalmen, brakemen, yardmasters, blacksmiths, boiler-makers, carmen, car inspectors, electricians, machinists, molders, sheet-metal workers, telegraphers (operators and towermen) and signalmen."

"The need for these workers has developed just at a time when numbers of men are being released through war production cut-backs and contract terminations. The men will be speedily offered railroad jobs through the top-ranking priority on the nation's manpower which has been accorded the rail lines by WMC."

Costello continued to explain the big-scale recruitment program as necessary to meet "what is probably the most critical manpower need the nation at war has yet encountered" in the light of its dual military and transportation implications. "The schedule of the war against Japan cannot suffer delay or interruption at this stage without serious consequences," he added.

Costello's announcement said the Army Service Forces and the Railroad Retirement board, both of which agencies have much at stake, are to collaborate with WMC in its extensive campaign to enlist the needed railroad workers.

Men capable of filling any of the listed jobs are urged to apply immediately to the nearest U.S. Employment Service offices for information or referral.

MORE BOY SCOUTS LEAVE FOR CAMP

Opening Seen In August; Father And Son Program Planned Here Tonight

Another contingent of Belleville boy scouts left Monday morning for a two week stay at Camp Mohican, the summer training center of Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts of America. The council and district officials indicated the possibility of a few vacancies for one week periods beginning next Monday or for two week periods beginning August 13.

There is also the possibility, they said, of scouts who had not attended the camp this season having the privilege of going the last three weeks. Reservations are to be made at the council office.

Reservations and enrollment are already in excess of the number of Belleville scouts who participated in the camp last season.

Robert Bartholomew, scoutmaster of troop 388, John L. Sullivan, scoutmaster of troop 375 and Lee Richardson of the committee of troop 388 have already spent a week at camp where they served as volunteer members of the camp staff.

Program Here Tonight

Boy scouts of all troops in the district and their fathers will have a get together tonight from 7 to 9 p.m. With their troop leaders, the scouts and their fathers will assemble at the bridge, Rutgers and Main streets at 7 p.m. sharp.

From there they are to proceed over a marked trail to the Essex Park along the Passaic river. The program will feature tracking, star study and other skills which the scouts need to acquire in order to advance. After the instruction period, there will be a campfire.

Among the first "American troops to enter Berlin was T-5 Louis F. Stefanelli of 731 Washington avenue, who is part of Major General Floyd L. Park's first airborne army which will establish U. S. headquarters in the Berlin district.

Harold Lewis Atkins, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Atkins of 35 Essex street, was graduated recently from an intensive course of radio fundamentals at the Service Schools of the Ninth Naval District Headquarters, Great Lakes, Ill.

The course was designed to train him for a specialized navy job, and also for skilled work in industry after the war. Graduates are sent to sea, to shore stations or to advanced schools for further duty.

Technician Fourth Grade, Rocco D. Santasieri, son of Mrs. will take place at schools early in December, according to the general plan announced by OPA in Washington. The exact time for North Jersey will be announced later, Tarrant said. The new "A" gasoline book will go into use December 22, and War ration book 5 will be used soon after the first of the year for food rationing and shoes.

The new food ration book will be smaller than a dollar bill, and will contain stamps designed to make for simpler procedure for both consumers and retailers. The new stamps will not have both a letter and a number as the present stamps do. All the housewife and the grocer will have to remember is that stamps of certain numbers are good.

The book will contain 48 red stamps numbered from 11 through 58 for use in the meat-fats program; and there will be 48 blue stamps also numbered from 11 through 58 for the processed foods. There will be 12 sugar stamps, and 12 shoe stamps, and the book will also contain 72 "spare" stamps.

The last set of five blue stamps in Book 4 will become good on September 1. The final set of 5 red stamps will be validated on October 1. Since Book 5, containing the new red and blue stamps, will not go into use before January 1, 1946, it will be necessary to use other stamps in Book 4 as substitutes for processed food and meat-fats stamps during the interim period.

Jennie Santasieri of 116 Brighton avenue, and Pfc. Michael Barbone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virginia Barbone of 112 Heckel street have been awarded the Bronze Arrowhead to wear on their European theater of Operations ribbon. The arrowhead has been awarded for participation in the Salerno and Riviera invasions when they made the D-Day amphibious assaults. Santasieri is a member of the 36th Signal company of the 36th division. Barbone is with the 143rd battalion of the same division. He participated in the Riviera invasion.

The 36th Infantry division has seen action on two D-days, those in Italy and Southern France. To its credit are such battles as San Pietro and Cassino, the Rapido River and Anzio. It fought at Montelima where the German 19th Army was annihilated, and drove across the Sainte Marie Pass of the Vosges mountains. It breached the powerful Siegfried Line defenses at Wissembourg and completed four hundred days of actual combat plunging through Germany and deep into Austria.

RATION BOOK ANS ANNOUNCED

District OPA Head Tarrant Says Food Situation To Be Generally Tight

Plans for the distribution of Ration Book 5, announced by OPA for next December, underline the generally tight food supply situation this year, according to District OPA Director Richard J. Tarrant, and point to the possible need for continued food rationing through this year "and perhaps the next year."

"A" gasoline ration books will be distributed at the same time.

Tarrant pointed out that it takes a long time to plan, print and distribute a new ration book. He said:

"The supply agencies—the Department of Agriculture, and the War Production Board—have told OPA that meats and fats, canned goods, sugar, and shoes will be in tight supply for months to come, and so it looks as if a ration book will be needed at least throughout most of next year. To be reasonably on the safe side, and avoid the expense of having to get out still another book later, OPA has set up Book 5 so it can last from 10 to 15 months if it is needed."
