

PARENTS, KITTLE TO DETERMINE B-HIVE FATE

High School Dance Session Closed Temporarily After Fracas Between Two Mobs

The fate of the B-Hive which was closed temporarily Friday night after a street fracas between two mobs of boys, will be decided in a conference between a committee of parents who have been acting as chaperons and Hugh D. Kittle high school principal, it was learned yesterday.

The B-Hive, weekly dance session has been running decorously for a year in the High school gymnasium. Friday night's open house attended by 300, was one of two planned to start this season. No identification was required for admittance. The B-Hive has been operated by students under the supervision of school authorities. It has been on a membership basis and only those showing proper credentials are admitted at the regular sessions. Guests must be accompanied by a member and are required to pay an admission fee.

Kittle said yesterday that his conference with parents will determine whether it is advisable to continue the B-Hive. Questioned yesterday, Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer stated that, undoubtedly steps should be taken to avoid a recurrence of the incident. However, he said that he is in favor of continuing and increasing recreational facilities for the town's young people. "The students have been proud of their responsibility," he said, "and it must be possible that something could be done to insure proper conduct in the future. Of course, if the incident or any like it are repeated, the sessions should be closed."

Kittle stated that the students in charge of the B-Hive concurred with him in closing it temporarily. The B-Hive, a scuffle presumably on the dance floor. It developed into a general disturbance outside the school, according to Kittle, in which a group from Silver Lake formed against a group from town.

After breaking it up, Kittle stated that the Silver Lakers later returned with a group of older men, to carry on. Police were summoned and subsequently picked up four youths for questioning. They were released in their own custody since no complaints had been signed.

NEED ADVISORS IN JR. ACHIEVEMENT

Plan to Establish Five More Companies in New Types Of Business

Because of the success of Belleville's four Junior Achievement companies which are specializing for the most part in woodworking, officials are desirous of establishing five new companies that would operate in chemical work, photography and printing. Expansion, however, will necessitate additional advisors who can devote one night a week as counselors for a Junior Achievement group.

Men with experience in accounting, sales, production or manufacturing in any type of business can give invaluable aid as counselors to these young people interested in learning the various phases of modern business as an aid to choosing a career. Those interested in contributing their services are asked to send their name and address to the Belleville Times-News office, 328 Washington Avenue, as soon as possible.

Junior Achievement trains young people from the ages of 15 to 18 in actually running their small companies as their own business enterprise. They have the opportunity of working in each phase of the business so that they can determine the branch for which they are best fitted. They may find that they prefer sales or manufacturing or the financial aspect of business enterprises and all members of the Junior Achievement companies have equal opportunities to work and learn in each branch.

Well-equipped headquarters to give the youth of Belleville the best of training are located on Belleville avenue near Union Avenue. At present, the national president of the Junior Achievement movement is a member of one of the local companies.

ASK ZONE CHANGE FOR APARTMENTS ON AVENUE

Wilton Housing Corporation Would Erect 63 Units At Greylock

A garden-type apartment containing 63 units will be built on Washington Avenue at Greylock Parkway by the Wilton Housing Corporation of New York City if the board of adjustment at its meeting tonight, approves a 250 foot extension of the business zone off Washington Avenue.

Anthony A. Paterno, president of the Wilton Housing Corporation and his attorney, Marvel Plattoff, appeared before the board of commissioners on Tuesday night to request expedited of the zone change. The board of adjustment had previously reserved decision to determine whether it has authority to extend a zone more than 100 feet.

The board of commissioners gave evidence of their approval by passing on first reading, an amendment to the zoning ordinance which provides for an extension of Residence C zone 250 feet west of Washington Avenue.

Public Hearing

At the board of adjustment meeting tonight the change will either be granted or they will rule that it is beyond the power of the board. The amendment to the zoning ordinance will have a public hearing at the next commission meeting on October 9.

Objection to the zone change was made at the previous board of adjustment meeting for Mrs. John R. Topping of 191 Floyd Street by Robert Gruhin, local attorney. Mrs. Topping also registered a protest last year when garden apartments were proposed for the same section.

The builders purchased the tract on Washington Avenue between the Riviera Park Roller rink and Greylock Parkway last spring, for the erection of 80 single family houses. It is understood that the entire tract which extends west to Bell Street will be developed with single family homes with the exception of the 63 apartment units off the avenue.

Plot plans show provision for 35 garages and two parking areas that can accommodate fifty cars each. A central oil heating unit and garbage incinerator are included in the plans which use twenty percent of the immediate land for construction.

Public Affairs Department Gets Vet Guidance Director

Jurisdiction of the new veteran's guidance director, Joseph F. McGreevy was assigned to the Department of Public Affairs by the board of commissioners on Tuesday night, for budgetary purposes. His appointment is for one year until September 25, 1946.

Battalion Surgeon Spent Year In Combat With 45th

Capt. S. Robert Glynn in High Casualty Group Home on 30 Day Furlough

Capt. S. Robert Glynn, a battalion surgeon who during his year of combat in the ETO was a member of the 45th division, which had the second highest number of casualties of all divisions in the army, arrived home September 13 for a thirty day furlough.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Glynn of 12 Overlook Avenue, he is residing in Newark with his wife, the former Miss Ethel Nash of that town. Capt. Glynn said yesterday that his division which landed in Southern France on D-Day, H hour plus 30, sustained over 20,000 casualties, necessitating replacements three times, during the height of the fighting.

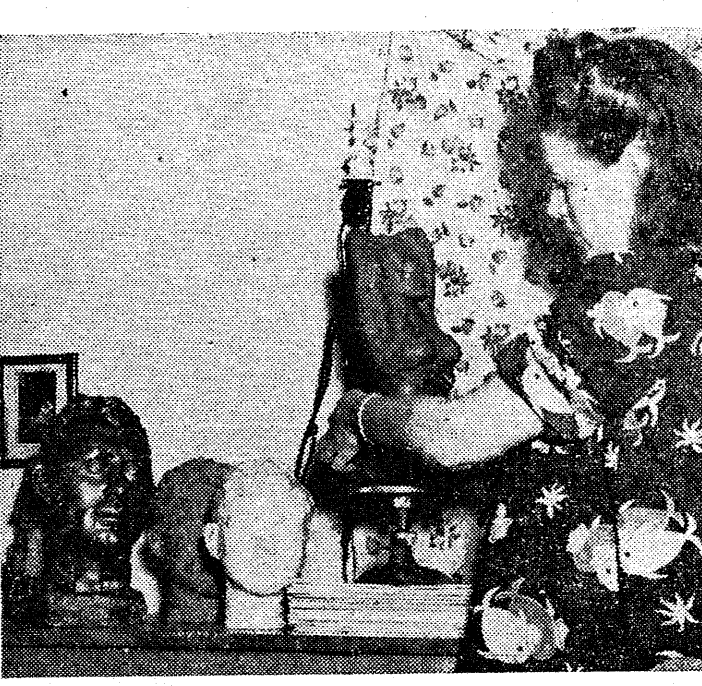

As a member of the 157th infantry regiment, the roughest fighting he experienced was at Anzio where in his two and a half months on the beachhead, as battalion surgeon, he treated troops under fire. Highest casualties were 168 in a single day. Treatment and evacuation were accomplished under extreme difficulties, it was learned, since the heavy all-day shelling by the Germans necessitated waiting until night-fall for removal of the wounded.

Attempts to remove some of the more severe casualties during daylight, under cover of a Red Cross flag only attracted concentrated fire, the captain said yesterday.

After a year of combat and as a reward for meritorious service, he was sent to the 165th General Hospital in Nice where he was a member of the staff until his return here.

He holds the Bronze Arrowhead for landing with the assault troops in Southern France on D-Day, the

Sculptor Receives Recognition

Twenty-four year old sculptor of promise is Mrs. Howard McMaster shown above with heads she has modeled from clay in her workshop at 30 Rossmore place. Her work which will be on display for three weeks beginning Monday, at the Irvington Public Library, includes models of Belleville residents.

Gift of Modeling Clay Changed Artist to Sculptor

Mrs. McMaster Exhibits Heads Figurines for Irvington Art Museum

It was the chance gift of a hunk of modeling clay that changed the artistic destiny of young Mrs. Howard McMaster of 30 Rossmore place from portraiture to sculpturing of busts and figurines which in three short years have brought her well-deserved recognition.

Known to Bellevillites for her commissions for local people and her exhibit at the public library in 1943, Mrs. McMaster has been invited by the Irvington Art Museum association to exhibit at the Irvington Public Library, 1064 Clinton Avenue as part of their fall exhibit. The exhibit which opens Monday and will run for three weeks, will be her second showing in Irvington since her first pieces were on display there soon after she began sculpturing, in 1942. Her work may be seen there from 9 to 9 daily except Sunday.

Always interested in artistic expression, Mrs. McMaster as a youngster, showed a natural talent that often found vent in illustrating her history lessons for her class in school. After graduating from Belleville High school she designed in New York and graduated from a four year course at the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Arts. She studied there an additional year and during this time her chief interest was portraiture. She did however, take one year of sculpturing, her only formal training for the work she now does so well.

Mrs. McMaster was encouraged to continue her modeling in clay by an instructor at the Newark school, John A. Grabach who is also director of the Irvington Art Museum association.

Football Clinics In October

Varsity Club Gets Green Light On Promotion of Sport and Bellboy Banquet

The Varsity club, newly organized to promote interest in sports in Belleville, has received approval of the Athletic Council to hold football clinics on correct methods of play. It has also been given the green light on plans for a "Win, Lose or Draw" banquet for the High school football team at the close of the current season.

High School Football coach William Chapman is in charge of the clinics, which will be held on two successive Sundays in October. The first session has been tentatively set for October 14. At two points in town on that day, the committee of club members who are assisting Chapman in organizing the details of the plan, will open the clinic which is designed to reach boys of the seventh and eighth grades in the local schools.

"Since it is a foregone conclusion that boys are going to play football on the sandlot, it is hoped that they will get a clearer idea of the correct way to play it through the clinic," Chapman said yesterday.

Clinic instruction will include blocking, tackling, kicking, passing, and pass receiving, fundamental stance for backfield and line proper use of the hands on defense and safety features. No attempt will be made to organize teams for scrimmage purposes and no actual playing of the game will take place.

Assisting Chapman and the committee will be Frank Spotts, Herman Wische and Nova Babb, assistants to Chapman at the High school, and other well-known footballmen in the vicinity.

Lloyd "Lefty" Kintzing and Harold Fobert are heading the committee in charge of arrangements for the football banquet at the close of the High school's football season.

Fire Reserve Group Votes to Continue on Peace-time Basis

Members of the Belleville Fire Reserve Association met at Fire Headquarters in Washington Avenue Monday night and voted to perpetuate the organization on a peace-time basis.

Although civilian defense units have been dissolved, the first reserves, many of whom have served since December, 1941, decided to retain their organization to preserve associations which were formed and flourished during the war years.

The group also delegated Alfred Rhodes, president, to convey to Public Safety Director King the offer of the association to serve the town as a trained fire-fighting auxiliary unit if the need ever is occasioned by any emergency or catastrophe.

Former members of the fire reserve who now are in the armed forces will be invited to return as members of the association.

A committee was appointed to arrange a social evening for members of the association and of the paid fire department. The date for this affair will be set by the committee.

VAN DYK COMPANY ENDS ODORS IN MANUFACTURE

Improvement in Process, New Equipment Eliminate Valley Smell

Improvement of their process in producing a chemical used as a solution in cold wave permanents and installation of equipment unavailable during the war were cited by Van Dyk Company of 11 William Street, a chemical firm, as steps taken with in the last two weeks to eliminate odors in the Valley section of town.

A representative of the firm was told at the last commission meeting, to cease production until the odor could be eliminated. Mr. S. Isermann, company president, told the board on Tuesday night that the concern is "not entirely to blame" for the odors which are especially offensive in bad weather, since "other manufacturers in town certainly contribute considerably to the odors which are prevalent."

"I've lived in the Valley all my life," Public Works Director Waters declared, "and immediately in back of your plant. I can tell you that particular odor was never there until your company moved to William Street." Public Affairs Director Mertz said the health department has received no complaints in the last week.

It was stated at the last commission meeting that there have been complaints about odors emanating from the firm for the last year and a half. Dr. Isermann in a letter to the board which was read at Tuesday's meeting, declared that the concern which has been coming to town that the trunk sewer could be used to carry off chemical wastes. After establishing their plant here, he stated, the Passaic Valley Sewer Commission objected to their use of the sewer for chemical effluent. Other manufacturers are using the sewer to dispose of chemical wastes, he said. The firm has had the residues removed by a trucking company.

"Had we known the situation we would never have settled here," he wrote. "We have an investment of over a million dollars in the plant and we are not a rich company. Our town taxes are between $3,500 and $4,000 a year."

He declared that the company has no desire to shirk its responsibility, however, and said that he appreciates the cooperation of the health department, the town engineers and Mayor Williams in eliminating the odors.

NAME DIRECTOR AT COMMUNITY HOUSE

Army Vet Will be Assisted by His Wife; Take up Duties On October 1

The Silver Lake Community House board of managers has announced the appointment of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Olian of New York City as executive director and assistant, effective October 1 to replace Mrs. Martha Herkins who has resigned after thirteen years as director, to move to Youngstown, Ohio.

The appointment was made after an interview by the board on Tuesday on the recommendation of the Newark Welfare Federation which had interviewed and screened applicants for the post.

Mrs. J. W. Greenhouse of East Orange, board president, has announced that plans for the year will be reviewed at a regular meeting of the board on Tuesday. The Community house is a participating agency in the Belleville Community Chest Victory drive.

Mr. Olian, a member of the New York State Bar association who will be executive director, received his honorable discharge from the Army Air Corps as a captain this month. He will be assisted by his wife, a graduate of the Washington Irving school in New York City, in commercial art.

Mr. Olian who was a bombardier, holds the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with eight clusters, the Presidential unit citation and the European theater ribbon and four battle stars. In May he graduated from the Command and General Staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kans. Mr. Olian spent much of his time in the ETO based at Poggia, Italy, and at Catania, Sicily, and Palermo in Sicily. He also saw action in the African campaign.

A native of New York City, he graduated from City College there and took his law work at the St. Lawrence university extension. He was admitted to the New York State bar in March, 1940 and practiced until December 17, 1941 when he entered the Air Corps.

His wife, also a native New Yorker, is an artist using oils, water colors and pen and ink as her mediums and also does modeling in clay. She has done extensive AWVS Red Cross work in Virginia, Texas, California and Kansas where her husband was stationed while in service.

House-To-House Chest Canvass For $59,000 Begins Sunday

One-Week Blitz Of Town Should Bring Average Donation Of $7 To Reach Goal

Opening gun in the Belleville Community Chest Victory drive for $59,000 will be fired on Sunday when nearly 400 volunteers blanket the town in a house-to-house canvass under the chairmanship of James Powers. When the one-week blitz in support of five local agencies, the National War fund and Associated Catholic Charities closes on October 8, it is the expectation of drive officials that the goal, $9,000 less than last year, will be assured.

The entire drive under the general chairmanship of Frank McFadden, is being run through the response of residents who have volunteered their services and without a paid director. A drive official stated yesterday that a quota of $7 per home is necessary in the house canvass if the goal is to be realized. He urged that contributors make use of monthly or quarterly installment payments to increase their donations in support of the local participating agencies, the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Community Service Bureau, Silver Lake Community House and Visiting Nurse Association. The National War Fund and Catholic Charities have agreed that the local agencies receive 95 percent of their quota before benefitting from the Belleville campaign.

One Bellevillite anxious to support the drive is J. Robert Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson of 165 Hornblower Avenue. A high school student who is also employed in the Belleville Pharmacy, he stopped in at headquarters, 360 Washington Avenue, the other night, with contribution. "I have the money now," he explained, "and I don't, when the house canvass begins."

Zone captains who will do the door-bell blitz are John F. Cann, Alex Thomas, Harry Bach, A. W. Jacobus, Arthur Bloemke, Gottfried Johnson, H. C. Fredericks and Anthony Pascal. All in need of additional volunteers is Cedar Avenue. Residents wishing to be in the coverage there are asked to call Mr. Powers at Be. 2-1020.

At a meeting of the general committee and zone captains Monday night final plans were completed. Each worker will have in his kit a reprint of the display advertisement which appeared last week's Times-News, outlining activities of each Chest agent and the amounts of their budget so that the information will be available to all contributors.

Boy and Girl Scouts have been distributing folders to each home in Belleville this week in preparation for the opening of the drive. A window display has been prepared for the Girl Scouts by Miss Elizabeth Badargy, director at their headquarters on Washington Avenue and the Boy Scouts have a display in the windows of The Times-News.

AUTO REPAIR SHOP PERMIT DENIED

Second Application for Florence Street Mercantile License Refused by Board

A second application by Rocco Ramo of 21 Florence Street for a mercantile license was refused by the board of commissioners on Tuesday night after petitions for and against the establishment of an automobile repair shop at 19 Florence Street were filed with the board.

Ramo was represented by Robert Gruhin, local attorney who said that he would apply for a certificate of occupancy and then make a third application for the license before going to court on a writ of mandamus.

The original application was rejected two weeks ago when Florence Street residents petitioned against it and also petitioned for a change of zone in Florence Street from Industrial to Residence B. Rezoning of Florence Street and other sections of Silver Lake are under consideration by the board.

Gruhin argued that the two car garage building which has been repaired and fire proofed, has already been used as a repair shop. A non-conforming use can continue he said, after a zone change. He declared that to deny the application would be discrimination.

The objectors were represented by James Guillian, Newark attorney who stated that his clients want protection from an anticipated nuisance. The street would be congested with cars brought in for repair he said, and this would constitute a hazard.

He also objected to Gruhin's suggestion that the occupant's hours of work be restricted by a regulatory town ordinance governing the work hours and days of such a business throughout town. In appealing for a denial of the application, Guillian also stated that the property had not been used formerly as a repair shop, but was a two car private garage.

Sailor Aboard Cargo Sub Taken Over From Japs

William Malarsky Tells of Rattled Vessel that Carried Three Seaplanes

Member of a prize crew that took over the Jap submarine I-401 and helped bring the 5,500 ton cargo-carrying ship to Yokosuka naval base from Tokyo harbor, William P. Malarsky, motor machinist's mate second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Malarsky of 12 East Overlook Avenue.

His parents learned recently that the sailor was on a ship that was part of the escort for the USS Missouri at the time the Jap surrender was signed. Later they proceeded to Tokyo Bay to take over three Jap submarines with their crews. With typical American ingenuity, they were quick to learn by sign language the location of valves, lines, etc., from the Japs.

The vessel, with a complement of 220 officers and enlisted men, was built for carrying cargo and planes. A huge, hermetically sealed door on top of the sub swings out sideways by hydraulic power. Inside is a huge cargo hold which contains space for three seaplanes. A double tracked ramp leading from the cargo hold and extending to the bow served as a launcher for the planes.

Malarsky wrote that he spent the first night aboard the Jap vessel in the auxiliary room that, like the rest of the ship was rattled and filled with stench. The Japs were given the job of fumigating and cleaning the ship, he said, and a crop of 150 rats was tossed overboard after the first fumigating session. The American crew had to be deoused with DDT whenever they went ashore, he said.

Impressed with the size of the sub, Malarsky wrote that it car-

BAXTERS RESIGN FROM RED CROSS

Safety Service Chairman, Chapter Secretary Moving To North Carolina

Belleville Chapter, American Red Cross, has announced the resignation of Paul Baxter, chairman of the safety service committee, and Mrs. Baxter's resignation as chapter secretary. Mr. and Mrs. Baxter are leaving Belleville in the near future to make their home in North Carolina.

William J. Ross, who has served as vice-chairman of the committee, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Baxter.

Mr. Baxter has been connected with the safety service committee for several years, and his efforts have seen the committee grow from first aid to include accident prevention and water safety. He has been a member of the executive committee since 1940, and in January 1945 was appointed a director and vice-chairman.

Mr. Baxter was instrumental in forming the first aid detachments at some of the local industrial plants. There were seven detachments with about 200 volunteers at Walter Kidde company, and a smaller number of detachments at Wallace and Tiernan and the American Tag company.

The water safety program was instituted in 1944 with a class of Boy Scouts meeting at the Friendly House in Silver Lake, and 42 certificates were issued in June. Two candidates were sent to the aquatic school at Nanterburg, N. C., and have been certified as water safety instructors. Additional classes will be formed as soon as more instructors can be certified.

Mrs. Baxter's services as secretary to the board directors will be greatly missed as her cooperation and assistance was highly valued by the entire chapter, a spokesman said yesterday.

Police Lieut. Kenneth Smith received the approval of the board of commissioners on Tuesday night on his $850 bid for a piece of town owned property at 10 Ogden road.

The bid was the object of a tilt at the meeting two weeks ago when Mayor Williams requested that the sale be held up to enable Judge Frederick Stickle to appear before the board in the interests of the Hamblond Building and Loan association of Newark. The Mayor offered to give up jurisdiction of town-owned property when the other commissioners were in favor of selling the lot to Smith in the absence of competitive bids.

It is understood that the building and loan is the holder of a mortgage on land fronting on Belleville Avenue between Ogden Road and Stephens street and that it is near foreclosure proceedings. Stickle and Emanuel DeNoia are owners of the property in question and were interested in redeeming it if the building and loan could obtain a change of zone for the erection of apartments.

Put in Farm School

"We found the local relatives sincerely interested but so situated that it was impossible to open their tiny home to the boys," Mrs. Reiner said. "Although born and brought up in Newark they had been out of the state more than a year so could not be accepted for care by our State children's agency. We were successful in making arrangements for them to enter a farm school where they are settling down after their previous unhappy experiences, and are arranging for responsible relatives to assume guardianship which will provide a continuing safeguard for them."

In the case of Carl and Anna, their father, a soldier home on leave went to the agency threatening to go AWOL if a safe plan could not be worked out immediately for his youngsters, aged three and four respectively. His wife had been receiving the allotment for herself and the children but she had disappeared after placing them in a "baby farm" and paying only one week's board.

"Sgt. K. had only located them with great difficulty where he found them dirty, half clothed and living under very poor conditions," Mrs. Reiner explained. "We had to act quickly to satisfy this distressed father and we were able to move his children to a new home which met with his approval as well as ours. We are now receiving the sergeant's allotment for his children and keeping in close touch with them and will continue to do so until this soldier receives an honorable discharge and can return to take up his responsibilities."

Varied Services

Services to families during this period were varied, including situations in which there was misunderstanding between husbands and wives or parents and children. There was need in some instances for help in home management and budget planning. The agency helped one family to understand

CSB REPORTS ON SUMMER WORK

Gave Assistance to 65 Cases Monthly; Largest Camp Program in History

In addition to giving active assistance to 65 cases monthly during June, July and August with financial aid of $1,645, the Community Service Bureau sent 38 boys and girls to summer camps for a total of 882 camp days, Mrs. Julia O. Reiner, executive secretary, reported to the board of trustees at its meeting Tuesday night.

During the three month period the bureau received 44 applications for assistance of which 38 were accepted. The case load averaged 82 monthly and one out of every three families needed and received some financial assistance during this period in amounts from $2 to $96. All service and assistance was made possible through this agency's membership in the Belleville Community Chest.

The camp program which provided camp periods from two to eight weeks at seven camps was the most extensive in the history of the agency, Mrs. Reiner stated. The agency spent $911.50 for camp fees but parents reimbursed $350, in every instance showing a desire to assume as much responsibility as possible. She said, "The children generally gained in weight and proudly showed their prizes and souvenirs as they came home. For most of them it was not only a wonderful vacation but also a new experience in getting into the country, learning to swim and most important, in becoming part of a group that worked, played and lived together," Mrs. Reiner told the board.

During this period which was a vacation period for the agency, they were short staffed a greater part of the time. However, workers held 564 interviews in giving aid to those who requested help in meeting difficulties they could not solve unaided.

ARTIST EXHIBITS IN IRVINGTON

Mrs. Allan Crisp Closes Local Display of Work; Named To Art Student League

Removal of her twenty canvases from the Belleville public library tomorrow will conclude Mrs. Allan Crisp's initial showing of oil paintings. Major results of the showing for the young Perry street resident are the entry of her "Rainy Night" canvas, a local scene, in the Irvington Art and Museum society's fall exhibit and her appointment to the Art Student's League in New York City where she began formal instruction Saturday.

Her work there will be guided by Ethel Katz, whose own paintings may be seen in the Riverside and New York City College museums. An official of the society for Women Artists and member of the board of directors of the Fine Arts Federation, she will instruct Mrs. Crisp in landscape painting in oils.

Although she has painted two portraits and several still life selections, Mrs. Crisp's works are predominantly landscapes and marine pictures. She had done no major canvases until six months ago.

"Winter Moon," her first oil, "Storm Brewing" and "Rainy Night" are the three pictures which will be analyzed by the directors of the Art Student's League to determine Mrs. Crisp's training.

Librarians have commented on the number of residents who have visited the institution to view the exhibit. Mrs. Crisp, who lives with her husband and five year old son at 23 Perry street, is at work on a new painting of an oak tree.

Prevention In Its Early Stages

NEW EXPERIENCE for nineteen month old Robert Scolese, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Scolese of Nutley, who are taking no chances that the youngster may develop tuberculosis. He is shown propped against the window of the x-ray machine by one of the attendants at the clinic held by the Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis association Saturday in the High school.

Town Doubles '44 Response To TB X-Ray Clinic

Association Gratified That 472 Took Preventative Step Against the Disease

In a turnout which doubled last year's attendance and tripled that of 1943, 472 Belleville residents availed themselves of the x-ray clinic held Saturday morning in the high school by the Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis association. Nutley residents and a small group of out of towners who are employed by Belleville and Nutley firms made up the balance of 806 clinic patrons.

Obviously convinced that they could not afford to miss the preventative action offered by the clinic many who came to be x-rayed were accompanied by their children. Although past clinic experience has proved to tuberculosis authorities that middle aged persons are most susceptible and should be x-rayed in largest numbers, no one is turned away and he same particular follow-up is accorded all.

It will be five or six weeks before final results are tabulated by the association's consultant, Dr. Martin Castellano of Newark. If his confidential report shows abnormalities in any individuals, the association's nurse, Mrs. Ernest Whynall will ask them to have a larger x-ray taken free of charge at Essex County Isolation hospital's clinic, so that the extent of the inroad of the disease can be clearly ascertained.

X-ray officials who operated the clinic on Saturday were gratified at the large number of Belleville residents who availed themselves of the service. In their experience of operating their mobile clinics throughout the country, they have found they said, that a response of 300 residents is average.

The association's executive committee will meet this evening at 8:30 with the Rev. H. O. Berkobin, president, presiding. They will review the accomplishments of the two x-ray clinics held by the association this year, the one held on Saturday and one held for employees of Walter Kidde company during the summer.

Plans for the coming year's work will also be discussed and they will include the distribution and sale of Christmas seals which begins in November and which is the sole source of funds for the association's work.

Those Were The Days—

by M. C. Albey

This is the second in a series of articles by an old-time resident of Belleville on the activities of the town in the 1890's.

—Ed. Note.

Does anyone remember the rowing races that were held every Decoration Day below the Greenwood Lake bridge? The Passaic Queen was used as the referee's boat. She was a beautiful craft that made two trips each day between Passaic and Newark. Then there were the tug boats, the Fannie B, the Hortense, the Mackintosh, the Queen Mab and others.

Belleville had many celebrities in those days. There was Whiskey Hank, Tommy the Rooster, Norrie Hen, Greasy Mary, Railroad Kate, Slasher Mag, Clotheshorn Jack etc. Billy Sandford and a butcher shop next to Passaic Row and on old colored man, Old Black Bake worked for him. Bake had been a slave in his youth and claimed to have at one time held Gen. Washington's horse for him. He also claimed that he was 100 years old. In addition, he was inclined to brag about having been "rather bad in his hey-day." He insisted that he had died and been called before the Judgment Seat, but that St. Peter took pity on him and gave him a second chance. It is related that one time in a revival meeting, Old Black Bake gave the following testimony: "I've been mighty bad in my time. I've shot crap, I've drunk gin, I've stole chickens and I've beat my wife but thank the good Lord, I've never done lost my religion."

There were two favorite swimming places on the river, the old copper dock on the east bank opposite Eastwood's and the lower end of the Newark water works lock just above where Little Street ends. They were the typical old swimming holes in every sense of the word. Among the "customers" was a colored boy called Muggins who had not learned to swim. One day the fellows took him out in deep water and accidentally let go of him. As he sank they grabbed him and brought him to shore in an unconscious condition. Everyone was badly scared as he lay there on the bank, no one having any knowledge of first aid in those days. Then all of sudden he came to, let out a yell and started down the road for home.

The boys realized that it would not do for him to reach the in-habitable part of town sans suit, so they all without stopping to dress, started after him in a stern chase. It was touch and go for a while and there is no telling what the result might have been had not Brummy Joralemon who was a fast runner, caught him in time to prevent a tragedy.

Brummy was a powerful boy and later developed into a great football player. For years he played full-back on the Big Orange AC and other prominent teams. Weighing about 215 pounds and standing six feet one inch in height, he made a formidable full-back, and to quote an authority "When he hit the line it was a catastrophe." I have seen many strong and well-built men in past years, including Sandow and other professionals, but I consider Brummy the best of them all. He is still alive and living in Irvington.

Who remembers the old Woodstock baseball team that played on the John street (now Belleville avenue) grounds where Colonial terrace runs through? The outstanding players as I recall them were Bunny Comiskey, pitcher and first baseman, his brother, Nick, Jimmie Noonan who caught behind the bat, Mike Flynn, former police chief, Deney O'Neil with a voice like a fog horn, Jim Flynn, Danny McMan, Fox, Bryne, Fishers and later Juss Scaine and Pop Westlake.

Then there was a team of younger players called the Mystics after the Edgewood. They played in the old school grounds, then later on the southeast corner of what is now Little and Cortlandt streets. The Edgewood line-up as I remember it was, Fred Bull, Billy Swin, Allie Hill, Turkey Wark, George Clearman Joe Kearny, Jack Lawrence, Frank Hull, Billy Simmonds, Al Pearl, Jack Laffey, Schuyler Webster, the Hammon brothers, Sam Forgie, Jimmy Van Rensselaer, the Martin brothers, Mickey McNeil and Pop Westlake.

Another team of still younger players was the White Oaks, later the Actives, who played in the old abandoned car lot on Main street.

The players I recall were Ol' Perry, Jack Sandford, Roger Brett, Tom Polkinghorne, Rut Lawrence, Jim Coeyman, Jose Sandford, Jim Ashworth, Turkey Wark, Allie Hill, Billy Douglass, Billy Graham and Jack O'Reilly.

T-5 Peter Nicolette Receives Bronze Star Award

The Bronze Star has been awarded to T/5 Peter N. Nicolette, son of Mrs. Lucy Nicolette of 50 Mitchell street, for heroic conduct at Heckhuscheid, Germany last February.

He was with the 55th Armored Infantry battalion of the 11th Armored Division when he voluntarily entered an anti-personnel minefield at night, through barbed wire and deep snow to help evacuate a number of wounded soldiers. Through his action in a confused and dangerous situation the lives of several seriously wounded men were saved.

Twenty-three years old, he has recently been transferred from Chechoslovakia to Degendorf, Germany. He has been in the service since November, 1942 and has been in the ETO a year.

land and Germany. He was at Neuremberg, Germany on V-E Day.

The soldier entered the service in January, 1942 and went abroad in February, 1943. A graduate of Belleville High school, he was employed by the Prudential Insurance company of Newark in civilian life. His engagement to Miss Elizabeth Harrop of Montclair has been announced.

Mishkind Refused on Second Tavern License Application

Sheldon Mishkind, a veteran, was refused a second application for a license to operate a tavern by the board of commissioners on Tuesday night, on the grounds that the location is unsuitable. Mishkind made application for 629 Washington avenue, a location adjoining the American Legion property.

Public Works Director Waters objected since the Legion intends to build a club house and will probably apply for an open license, he said.

Two weeks ago Mishkind was refused an application for 701 Washington avenue, the building next to the Riviera Roller rink because it is the policy of the board to keep taverns as far away as possible from places frequented by minors.

Cpl. D'Ambola On Staff Of Antwerp General Hospital

Getting Used to Strange Quiet Of Europe After Months Of Enemy Fire

Cpl. Michael A. D'Ambola, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas D'Ambola of 22 Brighton avenue, a clerk in the office of the 30th General hospital in Belgium, is getting used to the strange quiet of peaceful Europe where the hospital staff is carrying on its work of healing sick and wounded soldiers with the same calm which took them through months under fire.

Today the hospital is situated in modern buildings in a beautiful Belgian village near Antwerp. White gravelled paths wind between hedges, and soldiers sit in the sun among fruit trees and beds of tulips.

But the nurses who walk along the white paths remember weeks spent in baggy fatigues, struggling through the mud of Normandy. Surgeons with tired eyes remember endless hours in operating tents shaken by artillery blasts. Medical officers remember going through crowded wards filled with sick men, while robot bombs went overhead to smash Antwerp. And medical soldiers remember French mud, German shells, the sound of V-bombs bursting in village streets.

Set-up in Normandy

The 30th General began its overseas service in England, in 1942. Soon after D-Day, the staff of the 30th climbed down the sides of ships in the English Channel and headed for the Normandy beach in bullet-scarred ducks. Following so closely behind the advancing U. S. lines that artillery fire rocked the ground around them, the surgeons, nurses and enlisted technicians finally reached a position near a devastated town amid the hedgerows and apple orchards of Normandy.

Throughout the summer and autumn of 1944, the hospital cared for thousands of battle casualties. Many times tired nurses and surgeons left their assigned station to take up temporary duties in small medical units where help was sorely needed.

Convallescing vets at the United States Naval hospital of the Brook-

The bluejackets, several of them New Yorkers and Newarkers, vocally expressed their partiality one way or the other for ninety minutes of matches and mismatches. Ed Little's pink panties act split a few tight bandages while Henry Krumweide's riding supplemented his m.c'ing.

Herb Henderson kept both ends together on the mike and rollers as a fill-in and Al Bulgren, rider, made it a family affair with Mrs. Eleanor Bulgren's vocalizing between races. Well-known Paul Luders got his brother out to accompany the L.I.W.A.'s roller riders after Heinz's three years in service.

Pfc. Frank Leonard Receives Bronze Star in Germany

Saving the life of a wounded G.I. in the battle of St. Lo even though he himself was wounded, has brought the award of the Bronze Star to Pfc. Frank "Bonnie" Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Leonard of 89 Union avenue.

His parents heard yesterday that he received the award last week at Neurenberg, Germany. A member of the 467th Armored Weapon Battalion of the First Army, his outfit also received a citation for their landing at Normandy on D Day. The soldier holds four battle stars and an invasion arrow.

He has 87 points to his credit and is awaiting word of his next destination. Twenty-nine years old, he is a graduate of Belleville High school and was employed by the Home Style Laundry company of Montclair in civilian life. His wife the former Miss Mathilda Weber of East Orange and their three year old son Tommy, are residing in East Orange. He has been in the service two and a half years.

Two brothers are in service, Edward, 21, a corporal in the Quartermaster corps who was wounded in Sicily and is now stationed in Leghorn, Italy, and Raymond, 18, a corporal stationed in North Camp Hood, Texas.

Pfc. Thomas McLaughlin Gets Bronze Star Award

Pfc. Thomas McLaughlin of 15 Smith street has been awarded the Bronze Star for heroic achievement just prior to V-J Day with the 31st Infantry Division on Mindanao.

When the aid man in a rifle company his unit was supporting was killed, Pfc. McLaughlin moved to the front of the column and took up his equipment and duties. During the ensuing action, he exposed himself many times to enemy fire to give first aid to the wounded. His action saved two lives.

Pfc. McLaughlin has been overseas nineteen months, and in addition to the Bronze Star wears the Medical Badge, the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with two bronze combat stars, the Philippine Liberation ribbon and the Good Conduct Medal.

Bellboys Invade Stadium For First Time In School History

Probable Line-up Shows Seven Lettermen Slated for Opener Against Barringer

When the Bellboys invade Municipal Stadium for the first time in school history on Saturday for their opener against Barringer, the probable line-up include seven lettermen in key positions. Coach Bill Chapman has indicated that the loss of Vic Pasariello at quarterback will be offset by using either John Distasio or Rocco Cerami as the field general.

As practice shaped up this week, the crowd will probably see lettermen Don Smith at tailback, Pete Del Vecchio, speedy tailback from last year who will get the call at wingback, John Distasio, '44 alternating fullback, who will start in the blocking position and Rocco Cerami, alternating tail and wingback from last year at full back.

In the line, veterans expected to be the prime performers are lettermen Bob Pudney, tackle who

Choose Drum-Majorette, Others In High School Contest

At a final try-out for drum-majorette of the BHS band on Tuesday afternoon in the girls' gym, Barbara Lanning, senior, was selected from a group of seven finalists. Also chosen from the same group were three minorettes, Carole Linfante and Barbara Meyer juniors, and Carole Manley, sophomore. Michael Tortorelli will twirl the baton in the position of drum-major.

Finals were held for the positions of color-guard and banner-bearers also with another group of seven girls participating. Of these Irma Iannelli and Jean Rolke were chosen to guard the colors which will be carried by Joe Blase, while Phyllis Tagliatella, Bob Murnin and Betty Schnutz will carry the banner.

Both the preliminary and final try-outs were under the co-direction of Miss Margaret Leahy, director of girls' physical education, and Samuel Peck, music director.

Others who reached the finals were: for minorettes, Anna Marinera, Rose Wall and Flora Boniface, and for color-guard and banner-bearers, Norma Rinaldi, Audrey Todd and Lois Bacula.

The group chosen will make its initial appearance at the Belleville-Barringer football game this Saturday at the Municipal stadium.

Bellevillites In Uniform

They handled two million gallons of gasoline daily in combat, but soldiers of the 1376th Engineer Petroleum Distributing company would consider themselves fortunate to get even an extra gallon on their return home.

The 1376th is heading for the United States through redeployment procedure of the Asseby Area Command in France and with it is Pfc. Carmine J. Paterno of 15 King street.

At Camp Atlanta, near Chalons, France, these Engineers recounted how they laid the famous pipeline and installed the pumping stations to expedite the movement of gasoline to the advancing American armies in Europe. They also maintained the line and held to less than one percent the loss of gasoline through leakage and theft.

The promotion of Willis J. MacDonald of Belleville, to Technician 5th Grade was announced by his headquarters, the 30th Engineer Topographic Battalion in Honolulu.

He was with the Sears Roebuck and company, Belleville, prior to his induction into the Army in March 1944. He received his basic training at Fort Belvoir, Va., and left the U. S. in April 1945 for duty in the Hawaiian Islands.

His wife, Marie, and children, Paul Joseph, four and a half will resume the same spot, Joe Distasio former alternating full-back who will start at guard and Tony Grecco, alternating end of last year who will be seen at one end.

The remainder of the line will probably see Del Grosso, a capable performer with lots of experience, at guard, Bill France or Charles Kline at center, Met Cool at guard and Bill Natale, a halfback converted to end.

First line reserve material includes Ed Nelson, a letterman filling in at guard, Luther Van Peit at full, Vic Natale at wingback and Bob Sneeder or Al Ferrara in the blocking positions.

Among those likely to see service on Saturday are Ed Heimrich and Bob Miller reserve ends, Charles Macaluso and Frank Langleiter at tackle and Curtis Gilmore and Frank Falcone as guards.

LITTE FIRST IN HONEMAN SPRINT

Veteran Cyclist Noses Out Youngsters to Nab Orange Park Honors

The local bicycle club's stellar cyclist, Ed Littig, has cut another notch in his trophy room wall for his performance, second to none, in the Honeman Sprint Series of September 23 at Orange Park. He competed in the quarter and half mile sprints with Charlie Russ, Coast Guard fast man, and the Laufs of Maryland, Jim and Art, who finished in that order past Littig.

Upsetting youth's sovereignty, Littig's 37 years served him well once more as his point standings in the sprint events surpassed those of the speedy Russ. Littig took prime position in two heats which sent him into the finals.

The quarter-mile and five points went to Littig in a duel with Russ, and the Lauf brothers were third and fourth. In the half mile event Littig compiled two more points in the No. 3 spot against Jimmy Lauf's spurt to the front position. Second placer Russ netted a 3-3 score for two No. 2 spots.

Eastern Cycling Federation members, sponsoring, warmly and heartily congratulated the veteran cyclist for his victory which was wrested from the long arms of the eastern states' fastest cyclists.

Walter T. Sincow, coxswain, of 28 Howard place, participated on September 5 in flag-raising ceremonies on Jaluit Atoll in the Marshall group after it had been surrendered by the Japanese.

As the flag went up a 21-gun salute boomed from the guns of the USS Wingfield, of which he is a member, the USS McConnell, on which the terms had just been signed, and the USS Baron, all destroyer escorts.

Jaluit, by-passed as other islands in the group were captured, was reduced to impotency by air-sea bombardments the past eighteen months. The atoll was pockmarked with craters from end to end.

Even worse was the iron blockade the Navy threw about the place. Not one ship reached the garrison in more than a year and the Japs, half-naked and poorly fed, subsisted on what they could grow. Of the original garrison of 2,600 men, about 2,000 survive.

Two Belleville Navy men, Ernest F. Lesiak, aviation boatswain's mate, third class, whose wife, Lucille, lives at 147 Belleville avenue, and William V. Juliane, seaman, first class, of 190 Hackle street, are serving on the USS Bon Homme Richard off Japan, an aircraft carrier, which has company in Paris in orientation information and education, was stationed at Chateau Thierry when his brother Harry, 25, holding the same rank, surprised him with a visit before going to a deployment center. An account of how they spent Harry's 24 hour pass, seeing the town and catching up on news, followed from Russell, who said that nothing so pleasant as meeting one of the family had happened to him since he went overseas.

Harry was discharged on September 5 after earning eight combat stars, a bronze arrowhead and the African, European and Middle Eastern campaign ribbons.

He went overseas in September, 1942 for the first assault landing at Algiers, North Africa, and followed through Tunisia, Sicily, Normandy, Northern France, Ardennes, the Rhineland and Central Europe. After serving in the Army of Occupation for a short time in Bavaria, he was sent to Rheims, France before embarking. Both brothers are graduates of Belleville High school. Harry also attended Alabama university. Russell was employed by L. Sonneborn and Sons in civilian life.

been assigned to duty as part of the U. S. occupation fleet.

For 45 days preceding the end of the war, the vessel steamed up and down the Japanese coast as the 3rd Fleet staged thirteen air raids and five bombardments on the Jap home islands—and fired her guns only once. That was when the almost-perfect air cover permitted a Jap suicide plane to sneak through, only to be shot down just short of another carrier.

"Gosh!" yelled one of the men as he seized his helmet and dashed for his gun mount, "the war's over—it would kill me to get killed now."

Pfc. Jerry Longo of 43 Emmett street has been promoted to technician fifth grade and T/5 Louis F. La Badia of 142 Hecker street has been promoted to technician fourth grade as members of the 14th Signal Radio Intelligence with the Seventh Army of Occupation in Germany.

T/5 Longo is a first aid man and

T/4 La Badia, a teletype operator. Both hold four bronze campaign stars for Northern France, Ardennes, Central Europe and the Rhineland.

Edgar J. Daddis, seaman, first class, USNR, whose wife, Isabelle, lives at 41 Forrest street, who is a member of the crew of the submarine Archerfish, rode into Tokyo harbor aboard one of twelve Pacific Fleet subs participating in the surrender and occupation of Japan.

The Archerfish rescued at least one Navy aviator and took time out to sink a large Jap acrier almost within sight of Japan's main home island. With more than 50,000 tons of enemy shipping to her credit, she covered wide areas of the Pacific. In one patrol she sank a Japanese submarine.

2nd Lieut. Edward R. Daniels of 79 Preston street received orders returning him to an inactive duty status, at impressive ceremonies at Greensboro, N. C. on Friday.

The operation of this post, under the command of Col. Paul R. Younts, one of a network conducted by the Army Air Forces Personnel Distribution Command, processed and prepared him for a speedy return to civilian life.

George Sears, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sears of 267 Main street, inducted into the Navy last Thursday, is now stationed at the U. S. Naval Training station at Bainbridge, Md. To be eighteen years old in November, he attended School No. 1 and the High school.

Speciale In Tokyo Action When Peace Was Declared

Seaman Aboard USS Pasadena
Tells of Crew's Reaction After Months in Battle

S 1/c Salvatore Speciale

Engaged in a strike against the Tokyo area aboard the USS Pasadena the day that peace was declared, S 1/c Salvatore Speciale husband of the former Isabelle Meehan of 22 Mt. Pleasant avenue, has sent her a description of his reaction to the event for which he had been fighting nearly a year in Pacific action.

The seaman who now hopes to spend Christmas with his wife and family which is composed of Vincent, two and a half years old, and Judith Ann, four and a half, entered the service in March, 1944. Thirty years old, he was born in Hoboken and attended schools there. He was employed in Baldwin, L.I., by a trucking concern before entering the Navy.

Speciale wrote that August 15 is a day that the crew of the Pasadena will never forget. "Early that morning," he said, "as on so many other mornings, before the first rays of light crept over the horizon, reveille sounded and a few minutes later, found each of us at his battle station. Another strike was on and this day it was against the Tokyo area, an old stomping ground to us, being a region we had struck several times before.

"The strike was not many hours

a good and free world in which to live.

Suicide Attacks

"Across our minds ran memories of innumerable suicide attacks, burning and smoking ships, falling Japanese planes, the continuous and fast firing of the A.A. guns, the solid steady roaring of our main batteries barking at enemy shores, the sight of men blown into the water, the ping of shell and shrapnel against our ship's sides, and many other scenes too innumerable to recount. And there passed in array before us dates and places, which mark the high spots in the fighting of the Pasadena in this war."

The seaman told of action beginning in November, 1944, which included Luzon, Mindoro, Formosa, Hong Kong, and Okinawa. "In February we made a series of strikes at Tokyo which we did in support of the Iwo Jima operation which was to follow," he continued, "and in which we participated from February 18 to 22." In March, while attacking the Jap mainland at Kyushu, we were ourselves attacked by swarms of Jap planes, the most we ever encountered at any time, and for days the going was really rugged," he said.

At Honshu

In July they had the honor of making the first of a number of night high-speed anti-shipping sweeps made by the Third Fleet units, off the east coast of Honshu, which found them prowling in the night within sight of the Jap shores.

"During the Okinawa operation, we were at sea for eighty consecutive days and nights, never stopping for a minute," the sailor wrote. "We rearmed, reprovvisioned and refueled at sea, during which times mail was taken off, but not always brought on. During all our operations we were subject to air attacks so often, we stopped counting them."

"We have seen a part of two proud and mighty fleets, serving under Admiral Halsey in the Third Fleet, and under Admirals Spruance and Mitscher in the Fifth Fleet. During our stay with them we won the Philippine Liberation Ribbons, and several stars to wear in our Pacific Ribbons."

"Now that the fighting and shooting has stopped, the Pasadena sails to complete whatever missions are required of her here on these waters, where not so many days past, shells flew, and the war was waged in grim earnestness. We have been a happy ship, and a fortunate one. We are one of many, that make up the greatest Navy the world has ever known. With peace, it is but a question of time when we shall return. How long, I do not know, but until then keep writing. Your letters are ever welcome."

BIKE ACROBATS VISIT KILMER

Provide Welcome Home For
GI's With Hilarious Show
Of Cycling Antics

After many long months the first day on home soil leaves many G.I.s just plain starry-eyed. At least the Olympic Bicycle Roller club can vouch for this at Camp Kilmer where many recently had just arrived from such ships as the Frances Y. Slanger and the Sea Pike.

Scores of the boys glugged the new hall to capacity where the Roller club had set up rollers for the evening's sole diversion. For over an hour Ed Littig, Charlie Logan, Al Bulgren and Don Sheldon performed in several obviously rousing match races. Henry Krumweide and Herb Henderson, along with their riding, frightened the mike a bit, serving to introduce the club's feminine swoon crooner, Mrs. Eleanor Bulgren.

Afterwards nurses and aides hastened the 'A' group out ignoring their reluctance, and then a 'B' group scrambled into every available seat and the show was on again. Not disregarding Ed Heer's and Pete Puterbaugh's back bending, the club's efforts were apparently directed to a vulnerable spot in G.I. taste for entertainment.

Draft Board

Of all the citizens who contributed to our victory we can think of none more deserving of our gratitude than the members of the Belleville Draft Board—and few who are less likely to get it.

This, of course, is unfair. Upon these men was placed one of the war's most onerous duties, that of sending the sons of their neighbors off to battle, possibly to death. Not only was it a grave responsibility, but when they assumed their task they knew that theirs would be the most thankless job of all. Their expectations were fulfilled; abuse and even threats were their reward. This probably was to be expected; but through it all they did their job efficiently, honestly, humanely.

Selective Service was democracy picking its fighting men, and our local board was a credit to the system. Although backed by the authority of the national government, the members of the board were neighbors, familiar with the town, the boys and their families. There was little scandal connected with Selective Service. In Belleville there was none; service fell on all with an even hand. Thus from the beginning the board discharged its intricate, difficult job without a blemish. To do this required great sacrifice not only of body but of mind, because to the thousands of hours the draft board members devoted to their duties must be added those secret, silent, uncounted hours of soul-searching and mental distress inevitable to thoughtful men as they send youngsters into danger.

Now the worst is over, but as the boys come home no American will be more thankful than they are back safe and sound than these men who sent them away.

A Dim View

Any public figure who is the pet of the Hearst-Patterson-McCormick-Scripps-Howard storm troopers starts with two strikes on him in our game. But having admitted that, we still maintain that General MacArthur is a greatly overrated individual and doesn't belong in the same military league with Eisenhower, either in battle or victory. Not that the opinion of this Washington avenue strategist means a blessed thing, but in our Pantheon the Tokyo addict of the purple phrase and the striking pose has more of the stature of General McClellan than of the man who cracked Fortress Europe and conquered the German army in the field.

Worth While

One of the most satisfying examples of co-operative community effort is the Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association's free chest x-ray clinic, the latest session of which was held last Saturday in the Belleville High school, when 806 patients were treated.

The association, supported by the sale of Christmas seals in both towns, offers free service to check tuberculosis in the early or preventive stages. The x-rays taken at the clinic are sent to each patient's personal physician so that he is made acquainted with any indications of incipient trouble. Thus the good this community effort accomplishes in the fight against tuberculosis is incalculable.

Not the least heart-warming phase of the work is the manner in which civic organizations in each of the towns cooperate in making the clinic a success. Every effort is made to persuade people to take advantage of the free service, and as a consequence the patronage has been growing yearly.

This is cooperative democracy at work, and it is most stimulating.

Coordinator Needed

We have listened with great attention to those who advocate government planning, and there is no gainsaying that they have some pretty good arguments on their side. Certainly, if what they say is true, and all their hopes were realized, this would be a more orderly world. But we doubt if such a world would be as interesting as the one we have now, with everybody doing as he pleases, and never a look at his neighbor.

We were reinforced in this belief the other day when we found two stories side by side on the front page of our morning newspaper. One was a breath-taking account of the billions of dollars that are to be spent for new housing; the other was the story of the London conference of the Big Five foreign ministers. Completely unrelated though they were in subject matter, they seemed nevertheless to have a curious kinship that fascinated us by its possibilities.

In Washington, it appears, Mr. Snyder had told the builders of houses that all restrictions were off, and that from now on they could build low-cost houses, high-cost houses, any kind of houses, to their hearts' content. On hearing this the boys gave a whoop of glee and ran off lickety split to build millions of pretty houses all over the land.

But as we read of the happy little builders, singing as they worked, like the dwarfs in "Snow White", our eye kept straying to the next column about the foreign ministers. They, it seems, were not nearly as happy in their job of building a new Europe. Indeed, they were having a hard time. That seemed most curious, too, because somehow we had gained the impression that the existence of the atom bomb would make their work easier. Such, however, was far from being the case. Indeed, the story said that during all the meetings of the foreign ministers the existence of the atom bomb was not even mentioned. The statesmen, just like the statesmen of the early nineteenth century, were deep in the ageless argument over the Balkans, and as we read we half expected to see, instead of the names of Mr. Byrnes and Mr. Molotov, the names of Talleyrand and Metternich. Real peace seemed far, far away, and the atom bomb, even if it had not been mentioned, loomed larger and larger.

Nobody apparently told the builders about the foreign ministers' troubles. Accordingly, the countryside doubtless will soon be covered with row after row of pretty little houses. Meanwhile the foreign ministers will go on arguing and bickering, just as if the builders didn't exist, and the atom bomb didn't exist, and millions of wounded didn't exist, until one day there'll be another war—a real hell of a war, this time—and all the builders' pretty little houses will be blown right off the face of the landscape. And the little builders, if they're still alive, will no doubt look up in dismay and cry: "Oh, look what you've done to our brand new houses. Why didn't you tell us what you were about?"

That, we suppose, is where government planning would come in. If we had a Supreme Planner, one who knew all about everything and could flash a green light to go ahead and a red light to stop, he no doubt would tell the builders to wait for the statesmen to agree, or, more likely, would tell the statesmen to hurry up and agree so that people could have roofs over their heads. But as it is nobody says anything, and it all seems rather a mess. However, as we said in the beginning, it's all mighty interesting. Surely nobody can deny the fascination of the race between the builders who wish to put up houses and the statesmen who seem determined to have those houses destroyed in some tomorrow's world of atom bombs cum jet planes.

Display Pictures of Camps at Times-News Office; Postpone District Camporee

Under the leadership of Frank L. Chambers, chairman of the finance committee, a group of Scouters and Cubbers is being recruited to assist the Belleville Community Chest Victory drive in the neighborhoods where they live. It is through the funds allocated by the Community Chest that the many activities of Scouting are carried on in Belleville, and Belleville Scouters and Scouts are eager to do their share in order that the work of Scouting and the other worthy agencies of the Chest may be effective in the life of the community.

Through the courtesy of The Times-News, the Robert Treat Council has placed a display of photographs of Scout Acre, the short-term camp at Bonton, and Camp Mohican, the long-term camp at Blairstown, in the windows of the newspaper office at 328 Washington avenue.

The Belleville District Camporee, originally planned for this week-end will be held October 13-14 instead because of a conflict with some other community events.

The Camporee will be held in Belleville Park near Garden avenue, and will be directed by District Commissioner Lindley A. Graves, and his staff of neighborhood commissioners, H. H. Hammett, Howard Sutphen, Edward Chesley and Franklin Peterson.

Mr. Graves announced that a full program has been developed for the event, and that parents are invited to visit the Scouts during the encampment. The camp will open at 9:00 A.M. Saturday October 13, when troops will register for participation and set up camp. After the noon meal prepared by the Scouts themselves, there will at 2 P.M. be several competitions in Scoutcraft and camping events, including water boiling, signalling relay, first aid, undressing race, knot tying contest and snatch the bacon.

Retreat Ceremony

At 5 P.M. there will be a retreat ceremony, followed by a game of capture the flag. At 8 P.M. there will be a campfire program with Thomas Hamilton, scoutmaster of Troop 313, and Sydney Sheard, troop committee.

strict Commissioner Graves will preside. The topic will be "Troop Program Planning."

Up in the Kittatinny Mountains near Blairstown is the summer camp of the Robert Treat Council, comprising 1,760 acres of woods, mountains, and a crystal clear lake. Each fall and spring Scouters from the three communities of the Robert Treat Council, Belleville, Irvington and Newark, spend a week end at the camp enjoying its facilities and helping in making camp repairs. Thus far Belleville Scouters who have indicated that they will attend on October 20 are C. H. Thompson Jr., Howard Virtue, E. M. Bratton, James Bunting, John L. Sullivan and William G. Schumacher. More are expected to sign up this week.

Over 100 Attended Breakfast Of Petreans Last Sunday

Regarded as a "tribute of thanksgiving for the safety of most of its 100 members in military service" the Petrean club
Communion breakfast Sunday morning was attended by another hundred civilian members who heard addresses by Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, pastor of St. Peter's church; Mayor Williams and Town Attorney Lawrence Keenas.

Other town officials, present as guests, were Commissioners Mertz and Noll and their families. Petrean third-time president James Leonard was toastmaster, who took the occasion to compliment members on their support in the continuing activities of his regime which have included annual Petrean shows, an active program of service to those in the armed forces, support of CYO activities, presentation of book reviews and social gatherings.

William Brickell, who entitled his talk, "Petreanism," designed the fall setting of flowers and leaves in which the breakfast was served by fourteen CYO members.
Mr. Brickell was designer and executor of the scenery in the last two Petrean productions for which he was awarded the Petrean
Oscar.

Rev. Francis Ignacius also addressed the audience and Nicholas
Candura, chairman of the breakfast, acknowledged the efforts of the breakfast committee.

Souvenir programs contained a preview of major winter Petrean activities which will include a series of Sunday afternoon book reviews by outstanding clerics.
These programs are opened to the public and were also conducted last winter.

John F. Rhodes, firecontrolman, first class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rhodes of 30 Lincoln terrace, is serving aboard the USS Alabama in the Pacific; a battleship which in one month's time raided the Japanese mainland twice, bombarded a Jap-held island north of Okinawa and rode unscathed through a violent typhoon.

One of the raids against the Jap homeland uneventful, but during the other operation the "Mighty A", as the man-o-war is known by her crewmen, ran into a hornet's nest of Jap suicide pilots. Scores of the Kamikaze planes were shot down outside the task force formation, but at least four came in close enough to be splashed by the guns of this and other ships. Alabama gunners claim credit for downing two of these planes and for assisting in destroying another.

One Kamikaze, a "Zeke"-type fighter, flew through clouds of ack-ack before singling out this ship as his target, but as he turned to make his death run his plane hit and crashed flaming, a scant 300 yards away. During her bombardment assignment, the Alabama turned loose her 5- and 16-inch guns to pulverize Jap shore installations. The typhoon the battleship experienced pounded the 35,000-ton vessel for hours, causing her to pitch and toss heavily, but she came through undamaged.

Pfc. Michael D. Nardiello, son of James Nardiello of 24 North 8th street, has been awarded the Army's Good Conduct Medal for exemplary behavior, efficiency, and fidelity.

This award, given only to enlisted men who have had more than a year of war service, was made in the name of the Commanding Officer of Van Nuys Army Air Field, one of the largest Fourth Air Force fighter bases in Southern California. Located in the famous San Fernando Valley north of Los Angeles, this field is a training base for fighter pilots. The ribbon of the medal, worn on the left breast, is scarlet with three white vertical stripes at each side.

John J. Kant Jr., gunner's mate, first class, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kant of 40 DeWitt avenue, is serving aboard the USS Oceanus in the Pacific, a rugged little repair vessel which in her two years of Pacific activity has earned the sobriquet, "Physician to the Fleet."

Chunky and small, looking anything but the heroine she is, the Oceanus is a floating machine shop — manned by the pick of the Navy's skilled craftsmen. Welders, shipfitters, carpenters, boiler-makers, electricians, radio technicians, machinists and divers call her home.

A veteran of three invasion operations, the Oceanus recently repaired 56 vessels in one month, managed to patch up the hull of one warship while both went along at average cruising speed.

Cpl. Palmer Louis Guibilo of 35 Franklin street, a machinist with the 480th Air Service Group is now being processed at Camp New York, redeployment unit of the Assembly Area Command in Northeastern France.

The men of the 480th are scheduled for furloughs in the United States upon completion of their processing at Camp New York prior to probable reassignment to the Pacific. While at the assembly area, the air service group members are having all their records checked and corrected, are taking their most rigid physical examinations since induction day, and are being issued necessary clothing and personal equipment for the homeward journey.

S/Sgt. John O. Henion of 33 Dow street, has been honorably discharged from the United States Army Air Forces at the AAF Convalescent hospital at Fort Thomas, Ky.

The Fort Thomas AAF Convalescent hospital has as its mission the smooth transition of its patients from definitive hospital treatment or operational fatigue to maximum fitness for military duty or civilian life. Along with its convalescent therapy, it offers vocational and educational refresher courses, or preliminary training in crafts and trades.

S/Sgt. Lee O. Effner, brother of Mrs. M. Riley of 320 Franklin avenue, has been honorably discharged from the Army Air Forces by the separation center at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Sgt. Effner has been in the Army Air Forces for 30 months and has served overseas for nine months as an engineer gunner. He has been awarded the Air Medal with three clusters, Distinguished Flying Cross, and 5 Battle Stars. His last station before discharge was at Biggs Field, Texas, a B-29 training base.

Before his entrance into the Armed Forces, Sgt. Effner was employed by the Diljak Manufacturing company in Montclair. He is 26 years old.

School Debut

Most appealing of all tots' clothes are those which reproduce in miniature adult or older girls' styles. This checked rayon strap skirt worn with diminutive white blouse is appropriate for nursery school and sturdy enough for outdoor play.

Watch for laundering directions on rayon fabrics to avoid spoilage.

New Checks

Spun rayon fabric makes this tailored college or office frock which will be popular in fall wardrobes. Many people also wish to remodel last year's clothes until a great variety of serviceable materials and styles appear in the shops.

A self-addressed envelope mailed to The Belleville Times-News will bring you a handy leaflet entitled, "Make-Over Tips for Your Rayon Wardrobe." Send for yours today.
