CHEST OFFICIALS SAY EARLY HOUSE RESULTS GOOD

All Divisions in Drive Began Simultaneously; Efficient Organization Praised

With few exceptions, all divisions of Belleville's Community Chest Victory drive for $59,000 went into action this week according to schedule. Only reports available today are scattered early returns of the house-to-house canvass. If the trend indicated by these first results continues, chest officials say that total receipts from this source will be substantially in excess of last year's collections.

At a meeting of the Community Chest and Council on Tuesday night, Elwood P. Russell, president, commended Frank McFadden for his efforts in organization. "All branches started simultaneously," Russell stated, "and the drive has started earlier than ever before, due principally, to the untiring efforts of the general chairman who has been working on the organization of the drive divisions throughout the summer."

Division chairmen reporting at the meeting included James C. Powers, head of the house canvass who hopes that his group will complete their solicitation by Monday, using the remainder of the week for repeat calls. The industrial committee, under V. J. Hill, vice-president of Walter Kidde company, has completed distribution of subscription cards and material to industrial plants for employee and corporate subscriptions.

William Hoffman of the Hoffmann Motor Transport company, and chairman of the Lions club professional division, has reported that members of his committee have begun solicitation and will

DEFENSE COUNCIL WILL DISBAND

Officials will Dispose of Equipment, Dissolve Organization by November 1

Dissolution of the Defense Council will take effect November 1, with only the police and fire reserves continuing as organized units. At a meeting of the council units, held on Monday night, the Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, local property officer and Ronald G. Brunner, were asked to submit inventories to the board of commissioners of town property used during the emergency.

They will also dispose of equipment owned by the government in accordance with government directives, after purchase of some items such as trailer pumps, hose and ladders, has been effected by the town, the schools and industry. Brunner stated yesterday that the equipment in the five casualty stations has been assembled in School No. 3 for inventory and that small items such as arm bands, helmets and tank pumps will not be collected.

TRIO SOUGHT IN CAPITOL HOLDUP

Take $314 from Local House, Repeat Performance In Newark

The trio who held up the Capitol theatre on Monday night, escaping with $314.48, was still at large yesterday, police reported, after staging another hold-up of a small movie house in Newark on Tuesday night. They were identified by Newark police through the license of the LaSalle sedan they were driving, stolen on Monday night from Mrs. Ida Kohn of 303 South 10th street, Newark.

Mrs. Anna M. Crafferty of 225 Stephens street, Capital cashier was handing the cash box containing the night's receipts to the theatre manager, Frank Hinchey of Bloomfield at 9:55 when two armed men, one marked intervened. One told Mrs. Crafferty to stand aside as he took the cash box while the second jammed a gun in Hinchey's back.

The street was deserted with the exception of Fred Graham of 47 Joramelon street, victim of the last holdup in town on May 29, who was passing by and ordered not to move by a third bandit at the wheel of the waiting sedan. The trio made their escape, driving north on Washington avenue and east on Joramelon street.

PUBLIC HEARING ON ZONE CHANGE NEXT TUESDAY

Application for Garden-type Apartments on Avenue Goes to Commissioners

The board of adjustment at its meeting on Thursday night referred the appeal of the Wilton Housing corporation of New York City for an extension of Residence C zone 250 west of Washington avenue for the erection of a garden-type apartment of 63 units, to the board of commissioners with the recommendation that the exception be granted.

The board of adjustment stated that it does not have the authority to grant exceptions to the existing zones beyond 150 feet. A public hearing on an amendment to the zoning ordinance providing for the extension, will be held Tuesday night in town hall. It was unanimously passed on first reading by the board of commissioners at their last meeting.

The Wilton Housing corporation is erecting 80 single family homes on the former Volkenning property which is located between the Riviera Park Roller rink and Greylock parkway and extends from Washington avenue to Bell street. The garden apartments would be located on Washington avenue at Greylock.

Plot plans for the apartments which will be two stories and of masonry and frame construction, show provision for 35 garages and two parking areas that can accommodate fifty cars each. A central oil heating unit and garbage incinerator are also included.

END SKIP-STOPS ON BUS NO. 98

Trackless Transit Complies With Public Utilities Order On Noll's Request

The Trackless Transit company Bus 98 serving the Soho section of town to North Newark, will eliminate skip-stops beginning Sunday, Parks and Public Property Director Noll in charge of transportation, announced last night.

Elimination of the skip-stops was brought about by his appeal in a telegram to four officials of the Public Utilities Commission on Monday, following the refusal of the bus company through its president, Frederick Steingale, to resume peak-time service. Emmett T. Drew, commission secretary, wired the director on Tuesday that the matter was being investigated, followed by a telegram yesterday, that the regular service would be resumed.

Noll requested the commission to issue a directive "in the name of the commuters of Belleville that the No. 98 bus line eliminate skip-stops forthwith."

Noll declared that if Trackless Transit failed to do so, he would issue a permit for another bus line over the same route "that will provide the people of Belleville with the service they are entitled to."

He stated that the skip-stops were instituted by all bus lines as a war measure and that Garden State, Public Service and De Camp have now eliminated them.

Hear From Cpl. Tortoriello After Three Years' Silence

Town's Second War Prisoner Liberated, Soon to Leave Japan

After nearly three years without word from Cpl. Michael Tortoriello, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Tortoriello of 88 Baldwin place received a cablegram from him from Manila on Monday morning. Released from a Japanese internment camp there, he cabled, "Am getting along swell, and expect shipping orders soon."

Belleville's second war prisoner, the corporal who enlisted in the Army six years ago, was on Corregidor when it fell and was still fighting in the Philippines when he was reported missing on May 27, 1942. News that he was a Japanese prisoner was not received until a year later, in April, 1943. At that time the family received a printed form card from him from the Philippines.

Only other clue that he was still alive came last February when a short wave broadcast from Japan was intercepted in which his name and those of three other boys from Pennsylvania were mentioned. A recording of the broadcast was sent to the Tortoriellos who got in touch with the parents of the boys in the neighboring state.

Last week was an anxious one for the corporal's family since

Pupils Present Bed To Serviceman

YOUNGSTERS representing School No. 3 in ceremony at Newark Army Air base are Joan Riley and Edward Sidley shown above where T/Sgt. Charles A. Humenik of Garwood accepts a service bed in behalf of all wounded men who will be benefited by the Victory bond sales of the nation's school children. Lieut. Col. Harry A. Lotman looks on. Joramelon street school has purchased many times its one-bed quota of $3,000 in bonds since the first of the year when the drive, "Speed His Recovery" began.

School No. 3 Over Quota In "Speed His Recovery" Drive

Pupils in Ceremony at Army Air Base as Reward for Bond Record

Joan Riley and Edward Sidley, pupils at Joramelon street school, placed the first decalcomania panel indicating purchase of $3,000 in Victory Bonds by their school on a service hospital bed in the Newark Army Air base in Wequahee park Tuesday, September 18. For each $3,000 unit a school may have its name placed on a bed in the nationwide "Speed His Recovery" drive which schools and colleges have been conducting since the first of the year.

Authorities indicated that Joramelon street school has purchased the one-bed quota many times over. Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Riley of 238 Division avenue, lead the 8A class in sales between January and June on which the privileged appearance in the hospital was based, and Edward, son of Mrs. E. J. Sidley of 341 DeWitt avenue turned in highest purchases of bonds in grade 6B.

Their teachers, Miss Lena M. Dunlap and Mrs. Margaret O. Mastik, School Principal William

Richards and School Superintendent Wayne R. Parmer accompanied the young people to the base.

All were guests at the ceremony of Brig. Gen. Clarence P. Kane, commanding general of the Newark base. Lieut. Col. Harry A. Lotman received the panel and T/Sgt. Charles A. Humenik of Garwood, wounded near Aschen in Germany a year ago, accepted the bed in behalf of all wounded men who will be benefited by the Victory Bond activity of the nation's school children.

It has been estimated by Army Surgeon General Norman T. Kirk that $3,000 represents the average cost of equipment and hospitalization required to bring about the complete recovery of wounded or sick veterans. The schools of New Jersey have been given a quota of 1,250 such beds to sponsor in 1945.

DIRECTORS EXPAND ACTIVITIES FOR COMMUNITY HOUSE

Full Schedule will be Ready October 15 when Open House is Planned

Patrons of Silver Lake Community house will continue a flexible program of recreational activities under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Olian who took over direction of the center Monday. They were received by the board of managers, of which Mrs. J. W. Greenbowe of East Orange is president, Tuesday and will be formally welcomed by residents of the community when open house will be held Monday evening, October 15 at 8.

In the interim an expanded program of athletics and indoor arts and crafts will be set up. A complete schedule of activities will be posted by October 15.

Continuing the arrangement under which various age groups from kindergartners to adults have formed voluntary clubs within the center, an athletic program of touch football, baseball and soccer will be offered the boys, croquet and knit clubs, basket weaving and, later, rug weaving will be available for girls and women and a library and musical programs will be open to all.

Record Library

Projects especially dear to the directors are the building of a record library, for which Mr. Olian has appealed for donations of classical musical recordings, and the establishment of a toy workshop by Mrs. Olian.

The house will make use of cast off toys and dolls which will be repaired and refurbished so that a lending toy department may be operated on the lines of a lending library. Along these lines too, Mrs. Olian plans to offer some groups the opportunity to make Christmas cards and work with beads in producing Christmas tree ornaments for their communal Christmas tree.

The board of managers approved the Olians' projects Tuesday and authorized purchase of supplies.

Superintendent of schools, Wayne R. Parmer, a member of the board, welcomed the director and his wife and praised the efforts of the Silver Lake house in augmenting the life of the community. He remarked the outstanding talents of many of the children in the Magnolia street elementary school and pointed out how the community center activities could foster them outside school hours.

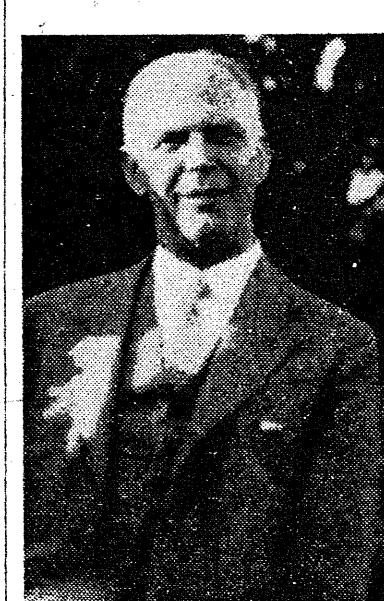

Mr. Parmer remarked that a social program like this one embodied the recreational aspect of education which ranks its importance with its other phases.

Members of the board expressed their determination to have the activities of the community house foster the interdependence of residents on each other for a well rounded community life and to establish their interdependence as a self-sustaining group in the larger area. The center is one of the agencies supported by the Community Chest Victory drive.

Plans to again operate Girl Scout intermediate troop 5 are also under way.

Mr. Olian has asked particularly for musical recordings of Italian artists and books for all age children as well as toys in any condition will be welcome. The Olians, residents of New York, will live in the Community house. Formerly a lawyer, Mr. Olian served as a bombardier during the war and saw prolonged action in Europe.

WILLIAM PRICE DIES SUDDENLY

Superintendent of Local Post Office for Fourteen Years Stricken at Work

The death of William F. Price of 1 Essex street in St. Barnabas hospital Monday morning followed quickly upon his collapse in the Belleville branch of the Newark Post Office where he had been superintendent since 1931. Apparently in good health, his collapse came as a complete shock to postal employees there and to his wife, Mrs. Helen Cohan Price.

Stricken at 9:30 he was taken to the hospital where Mrs. Price was at his side when he died as the result of a cerebral hemorrhage. Dr. George F. Stoll was in attendance.

Mr. Price had spent 32 years in the postal service from the time of his appointment as a substitute clerk in the Newark postoffice in 1913. He was made a full clerk

HOLD GUARDS FOR GRAND JURY

Isolantite Employees in Grand Larceny Charge; Involve Nutley Accomplish

Alleged to have stolen machinery valued near $2,000, from Isolantite, Inc., of 343 Cortlandt street, two guards at the plant were held on $2,500 bail each Friday for Grand Jury action on grand larceny charges and an accomplice is held on $1,000 bail awaiting arraignment on a charge of receiving stolen property.

The guards are James Luzzi of 27 King street, chief plant guard and chanceman in the police department and Robert Parker of Irvington. Luzzi has been suspended as a chanceman according to Police Chief Spatz pending disposition of the case. Cosimo Luzzi, his father posted bail for him and Parker.

The accomplice is Fiore Stabile of Nutley, in whose garage at 10 Centre street, according to police, some of the machinery was recovered. He was charged by Nutley police on Tuesday and requested postponement of arraignment for a week to secure counsel. His bail was posted by Louis Rossi of Nutley.

Luzzi and Parker were arrested by Deputy Chief Leighton and Detective Holly after complaints

Musicians Club Recital Features Josephine Rossi

Raymond Young of Newark Also Club Member, on Thursday Program

The Musicians' Club of Belleville will present two of its members, Miss Josephine Rossi, local soprano, and Raymond Young, pianist of Newark, in a joint recital next Thursday evening at 8:45, in the Contemporary Lounge, Griffith building, Newark.

Miss Rossi took a leading part in musical activities as a Belleville High school student, and upon her graduation entered the Institute of Musical Art of the Juilliard school, New York City. Completing her study there, Miss Rossi then assumed the directorship of the music department of Leah Kridel Neighborhood school in Newark. For several years she trained the choir and was organist at St. Anthony's church.

A high point in this singer's career came when she sang the role of Violetta in La Traviata, opposite Bruno Landi of the Metropolitan Opera, in Orange High school. A favorite role is that of Michaela in Carmen, which she has sung at the Newark Opera house as well as at the Mosque. For next Thursday's program Miss Rossi has chosen a group of operatic arias and a group of art songs. Gilda Sant Ambrogio of Bloomfield will be her accompanist.

Mr. Young made his debut as a pianist in Newark in 1939, and in 1942 braved New York critics in a recital at Times Hall, receiving favorable criticisms. Since his initial concert appearance, Mr. Young has performed before virtually every important music group in northern New Jersey. Last year he was soloist with the Nutley Symphony orchestra, playing the Schumann piano concerto. Mr. Young maintains teaching studios in Newark and in Westfield, where he is assisted by his wife, Ruth Bogert Young.

Three compositions by Chopin, and works by Phillippe, Granados and the American composer, Harold Morris, will be played by Mr. Young for the forthcoming musical.

Helen McNair of Preston street, vice-president of the Musicians' club has planned the program. In charge of tickets is Virginia Ellsworth of Little street. Adell Sutherland, president, served as publicity chairman. Users will be Clara Walters of Bloomfield, Wulma Sagurton of Montclair, and Thomas Wilkinson of Arlington.

RATIONING BOARD COMBINES WITH NEWARK NOV. 1

Tarrant Requests Price Panel Members to Continue Their Services

Official announcement of the amalgamation of the Belleville War Price and Ration board with the Newark board on November 1 came this week with Newark District OPA Director Richard Tarrant's appeal to price panel members to continue their services through Newark.

"We need your special knowledge of your community to help us hold the inflationary dangers in check for a few months more," he said in a letter to Board President Herbert C. Schmutz. "Your community needs these members to represent its interests in the consolidated price control board."

It is understood that the amalgamated ration boards will continue until the first of the year, after which they will be converted into price control boards, with the probable end of all rationing at that time. The 55 boards in Northern Jersey which compose the Newark district are being consolidated into 23.

The local board which serves both Belleville and Nutley, is planning a farewell dinner at the Elks club when it disbands on Wednesday, October 31.

Schmutz said yesterday that the paid personnel on the local board have all been given thirty days notice effective on October 31. It is possible, however, he said, that some may be transferred to the Newark board offices.

In announcing the closing of the local board, Tarrant stated that the consolidation is a "national program dictated by national necessity. The choice of those boards which will remain in existence is no reflection on the effectiveness and worth of the other boards, including your own which are to be eliminated."

"The plan of consolidation is based only on the maximum service and convenience to the public," the director continued, "and not on the relative operating merits of those involved."

BENGALS INVADE STADIUM SATURDAY

Visitors Meet Bellboys Annual Classic; Both Victors in Openers

One of the outstanding cornerstones of the school football schedule will be unfolded at the Munster Stadium on Saturday, when the Belleville Yellowjackets, under the tutelage of Bill Chapman, meet the Bengals from Bloomfield, in their yearly classic.

Both elevens reeled off impressive victories in their openers last week, Belleville knocking off a favored Barringer team by a decisive 19 to 6 count, while Bill Foley's pupils were trimming Seton Hall Prep to the tune of 33 to 12.

A banner crowd will flock to the stadium to see these arch rivals tangle in what is usually an action packed, hard fought battle, with the heavier Bloomfield team probably reigning a slight favorite to overcome the home eleven.

The game will match the hard running Bloomfield T formation against a better than ordinary Bellboy passing attack. With Don Smith on the heating end and Johnny Distasio and Tony Greco doing the receiving, the locals will prove a tough nut for the visitors to crack. The Belleville forward wall did a great job in holding the heavy Barringer team in check last week, and although they will be outweighed again, can be counted upon to turn in a strong performance.

Watch for Blocking

If the Yellowjacket ground attack has shown improvement over last week, as it probably will, added trouble may be in store for the Bengals. The Belleville blocking, both up front and in the backfield, was generally good in the opener and if they block as well against Bloomfield, any one of the starting backs, Smith, Distasio, Del Vacchio or Cerami, have the stuff to go all the way.

Coach Chapman has indicated he will use the same eleven that

B-Hive Fate Still up in Air

No arrangements have yet been made for a conference with adult chaperons on whether the High School B-Hive will continue, High School Principal Hugh D. Kittle admitted yesterday. Mr. Kittle said that he does not know when he will call the meeting.

The B-Hive was closed temporarily two weeks ago by Mr. Kittle after a fracas between two mobs of boys outside the school building.

Bellboys Take Barringer In Stadium Opener, 19-6

Smith Stars for Locals with 73 Yard Run for First Touchdown

Before the largest home crowd to see a Belleville football game in recent years, the local high school eleven made a successful inauguration of the Municipal Stadium last Saturday when they bumped off a heavily favored Barringer High by a 19 to 6 score. It was the opening game for both teams, and the Bellboys, on the strength of this win, served notice to the scholastic world that they are a team to be reckoned with this year.

Don Smith, a bull-like halfback, starred for the home team, tallying one touchdown on a sensational 73 yard run and heaving two passes to Johnny Distasio to account for the other scores, with Distasio kicking one of the extra points.

The Belleville eleven took the opening kickoff, but fell into hot water when the Newarkers recovered a block kick in the home-ter's territory, but the Bellboys held, with the aid of a penalty, and took the ball on their own 27. Here Smith took over, and on a straight line play, smacked his way through the line and broke into the open. He outran the Barringer secondary to reel off the necessary 73 yards to payoff territory and ring up the first counters of the contest. John Distasio failed to connect on his try for the point, and the Yellowjackets led, 6 to 0.

The Big Blue team recovered a Belleville fumble shortly after, however, and starting from the home team's 41, quickly tied the score. Two nice passes clicked for the visitors, the first from Gene Nisivoccia to Tom Gialanella that carried to the 19, and then Nisivoccia found Art Berry in the end zone and dropped a toss into his arms for a touchdown. On the try for the extra point, Berry was smeared as he attempted to buck for the one point, and the count stood at 6 all as the first period ended.

Smith Turns Tide

In the second quarter, Belleville hopped onto the lead to stay, as Don Smith again, unloosened his rifle arm to turn the tide in the Bellboy favor. A pass from Smith to Tony Greco moved the pigskin to the Barringer 21, after Belleville recovered a Blue fumble on the visitors' 36 yard line.

Here again the touchdown combination of Smith and Distasio clicked, the latter grabbing one of Smith's tosses on the 47 and dashing the remaining distance to the goal line. A placement kick by Distasio was successful and the Yellowjackets walked off the field with a 13 to 7 halftime lead.

Belleville continued to outplay the Barringer pigskin warriors, and really put the clincher across in the final period. Moving the ball from the Blue 43 to the 15 on ground plays, Distasio worked into the clear, once more to nab one of Smith's aerials and cross the Barringer goal line, and although failing in the conversion attempt, took a 19 to 6 edge which they held until the final whistle.

The Belleville forward wall did a commendable job in holding the heavier visitors in check, and with a little more work on the ground attack, the Bellboys will prove formidable foes for the opposition this year.

make their report at its meeting today. The special gifts group, covered by 24 business men has been practically completed and first returns are said to be satisfactory.

Out of town business houses and purveyors are being solicited by mail by Harry Sullivan, as well as local clubs and organizations, under the chairmanship of W. Douglas Clark. As in the past, Mrs. William P. Adams is handling church announcements and solicitations as well as clergymen and church societies. Town employees are being solicited this week under the chairmanship of the town commissioners.

A meeting of school principals with Joseph Arnold, board of education president, Wayne R. Farmer, superintendent of schools and Ruel E. Daniels, board of education business manager, has been called for Monday to prepare the campaign in the schools. A special group is collecting this week and next from Washington avenue merchants.

A report of the drive's finance committee at Tuesday night's meeting shows that less than $400 has been spent on the drive thus far. This figure includes the salaries of additional office workers engaged for the drive.

First in Essex

In a statement yesterday, Mr. McFadden, general drive chairman, said, "I am thoroughly satisfied with the manner in which the various divisions have completed their preparations. All have started on schedule. I believe that our drive, which started Sunday, was the first to get under way in Essex county and I congratulate the chairmen and workers in each division for that achievement."

"I want to pay particular tribute to the house-to-house personnel. I consider door-to-door solicitation the most trying work in the campaign and I am grateful to the people who have volunteered their services. I want to commend the drive committee for a splendid job in preparing the campaign. Their work was well done. The success of the drive now rests with everyone in town. I am satisfied that we can count on support for this community effort conducted by community people."

in 1916 and came to the Belleville branch in 1921. Three years later he became special clerk and continued in that position until his appointment as superintendent 24 years ago.

Born of English parents, he was schooled in Belleville except for brief intervals when he accompanied his mother and father on trips to England. He and Mrs. Price were married in her home city, Middletown, N. Y., 29 years ago.

Besides his wife Mr. Price is survived by a brother, Henry Price of 43 Prospect place and a sister, Mrs. David MacConchie of New York.

Belleville's eighteen letter carriers and the members of the office staff attended in a body funeral services for Mr. Price in the St. Patrick Funeral home in Nutley last night where Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach officiated.

This morning six of the carriers acted as pall bearers when interment was made in Glendale cemetery. Oldest in point of service under Mr. Price were Charles O'Neill and Gustave Haberkost; the others were James McLaughlin, Benjamin Pudney, Pat Tortorello and Francis Plumean.

Assistant Postmaster Barrett in Newark confirmed yesterday the temporary assignment of Joseph DeSantis to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Price's death. Ceasar DeBlasio will oversee the afternoon shift, formerly Mr. DeSantis' duty. No permanent appointment to the post of superintendent will be made for some time, according to Mr. Barrett.

started against Barringer, with Naturale and Greco at the ends, Cook and Pudney at the tackles, Del Grosso and Joe Distasio at the guards and Kline at the pivot post. The backfield will have Smith and Del Vecchio at the halves, Cerami at fullback and John Distasio at quarterback. The game is scheduled to commence at 2:30.

School officials have announced this week that the inside stadium parking has been eliminated, and that parking facilities for 500 cars on the Passaic avenue end of the stadium have been arranged. Cutting the weeds and the leveling of the ground, and the placing of the ashes will be completed this week to be in readiness for the large crowd anticipated.

HOME SERVICE WORK INCREASES

Red Cross Committee Plans Vet Program, Elects Four New Members

Plans for meeting the increasing number of Home service cases and a program for returning veterans have been discussed by the Red Cross Home Service committee which has elected four additional members. They are Raymond E. Mertz, James C. Powers, Rev. Benedetto Pascale and Miss Clara H. Lewis who was nominated as the new Home Service Corps chairman.

The Red Cross offers assistance to a veteran in filing claims of all kinds: hospitalization, domicilary care, compensation or pension, and other benefits in addition to bringing to the veteran, an awareness of his legal benefits, the Red Cross helps in making adjustment to civilian life, provides financial assistance and aids in home problems.

Although the ever-increasing problem of the Home Service department is the veteran, the civilian and those still in the armed forces are not being neglected. Home Service will continue with all of the services which it has been rendering to the men in uniform during the past four years.

It is important to remember that while enlistments were "for the duration and six months" the War Department has not officially defined "duration" but it is reliably reported to mean the date of the signing of the peace treaties, not an armistice. After the first World War, some men were not discharged for more than three years after the Armistice.

Disabilities Increase

At the start of World War II, Red Cross had not yet reached the peak of its service to veterans of World War I. Illness developed as a result of war service, and as the generation grew older, disabilities increased, and as a result hospitalization was required in later years.

As long as a standing Army and Navy are maintained, there must be an organization to help servicemen obtain emergency fun-

CAPT. MARKS WEDS SO. ORANGE GIRL

Marriage to Elizabeth Voight
Took Place Saturday;
To Reside in Texas

Capt. Charles R. Marks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Marks of 173 Tappan avenue, was married on Saturday afternoon to Miss Margaret T. Voight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Voight of South Orange. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. Donnelly of Our Lady of Sorrows church, South Orange and a reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Capt. Marks returned from the ETO on July 14 after serving aboard for sixteen months in the Ninth Air Force as a fighter pilot on a P-47. He has 102 missions to his credit and holds the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with twenty Oak Leaf clusters, the Presidential Unit Citation, the Purple Heart and five battle stars. He has spent six weeks in advanced training on P-47's in Texas and is now on a 30 day furlough before reporting for duty in San Antonio as a member of the regular army.

Miss Eleanor Marks, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Anne Maus of Newark, cousin of the bride and Miss Vera Roebeling of Maplewood. Lieut. John Modine, AAF, of Newark, was best man and ushers were Sgt. John Begley of Newark, Fred Sautter of Montclair and Lieut. Harry Manzer of Auburn, N. Y.

The bride given in marriage by her father, was gown in white chiffon over satin with a trimming of seed pearls. She carried white gardenias and orchids. The maid of honor wore a gown fashioned similar to the bride's, in ice blue and carried roses with blue violets. The bridesmaids wore American beauty gowns with short halo veils and similar corsages.

Mrs. Marks wore a dress of royal blue velvet, black accessories and a gardenia corsage. Mrs. Voight was gown in fuchsia, with black accessories and a gardenia corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Columbia High school while Capt. Marks was graduated from St. Peter's Preparatory school in Jersey City. After a trip to Canada they will leave for San Antonio, Texas where they will make their home.

SPEER SOLOIST AT NUTLEY SYMPHONY

Guest Artist on October 23
Has Been on General
Motors Hour

Donald Speer, tenor of Paterson, will be the soloist on Tuesday evening, October 23, when the Nutley Symphony Orchestra initiates its 45-46 concert series at the High school.

Mr. Speer was first heard in Nutley last March on the Spring Musicale series and has had a wide and varied experience.

The General Motors Sunday program at Carnegie Hall featured Mr. Speer weekly for several seasons. He organized and directed a chorus choir of fifty voices at Paterson's Broadway Baptist church, one of the largest churches in the east. His position as minister of music there and his conductorship of the Paterson Oratorio society were relinquished due to pressure of business during the war period.

Mrs. Harold Tingey of Nutley, has announced a partial list of honorary sponsors. They include two from Belleville, Eastwood-Nealley corporation and Rose M. Reilly.

FALL COURSE IN HOME SERVICE

Limited Number of Volunteers Needed to Train for Work with Group

Mrs. Muriel Taggart, Red Cross Home Service secretary, announces that a Red Cross course for Home Service volunteers will be given in Belleville this fall. Applications are now being received and a limited number of additional applications will be accepted.

Ten members of the Home Service Corps will take the course which they had been unable to take prior to this time due to the pressure of work. "These volunteers have done a praiseworthy job during the spring and summer months," Mrs. Taggart said. "The course will further equip them to handle all phases of Home Service work ranging from giving aid to servicemen and their families, to assisting the growing number of returning veterans," she said.

Included in the group is Miss Clara H. Lewis, corps chairman, whose duties include recruiting and allocation of work. Other volunteers who assisted during the past months and who plan to complete the course are Mrs. Ethel Beers, Mrs. Eleanor Brown, Mrs. Adeline Castner, Miss Marietta Constantine, Mrs. Barbara Fowlett, Mrs. Marion Zetterstrom and Miss Mary E. Biller. Mrs. Le Hammer, Miss Jean Brown and Mrs. Anita Busch have ably assisted in doing the clerical work.

At the completion of the course, Red Cross Home Service certificates will be awarded.

MRS. O'BRIEN ON PEACE EFFORTS

San Francisco Conference
Guest will Relate Incidents
For Woman's Club

Directing her remarks to fellow members of the Belleville Woman's club Monday afternoon at its opening fall session, Mrs. John F. O'Brien, former chairman of international relations will speak on the need for untiring efforts in the cause of peace. She will review events of the San Francisco peace conference at which she was guest of Delegate Gale Drum of Los Angeles.

Mrs. O'Brien will draw upon recent peace developments such as the London conference to point out the significance of the San Francisco conference and trace its results. Personalities of the delegates and interesting sidelights of the conference will be used in her talk. The speaker, who has also served the club as legislative chairman and is now recording secretary, was chairman of the Dumbarton Oaks committee here, was a member of the Humber Resolution for World Peace and is now on the committee for the cause and cure of war.

A worker in Red Cross Home Service during the last war and a consistent welfare enthusiast, especially in the cause of crippled children, Mrs. O'Brien has been named an associate member of the National Rehabilitation committee since attending the San Francisco conference.

The open meeting at which she will speak will be preceded by meetings of the board of directors Monday morning. Mrs. J. Claude Powers, president, will conduct them.

Study Parliamentary Law

This afternoon the club's drama department will inaugurate an unusual series of three monthly meetings in which members will study parliamentary law and learn its practical application.

Chairman Mrs. Douglas Clark explained this week that during the war the group had felt the need of more serious preoccupation than the theatre and had begun to question themselves on their ability to apply the technique of public speaking and correct platform procedures to their own sphere.

In order to perfect their individual public appearances in local clubs and organizations they will listen to addresses and have discussions on parliamentary law. The meetings will be conducted by Mrs. Dwight N. Streeter, co-chairman of the group. Tomorrow's meeting will be held at Mrs. Clark's home, 20 Clearman place.

Last year these women developed a juvenile drama group composed of the children of club members. Twenty-two youngsters will hold their first meeting of this season next Thursday in Mrs. Clark's home at 3:45.

They will start work on two short plays, fantasies, which they will present to a juvenile audience this fall. They will also prepare a Christmas play to be presented to the women of the club. Mrs. Clark, well known monologist and long active with the Adelphi Players here, is their coach.

Literature Program Change

Next Thursday also, the Women's club literature department will meet with Mrs. Charles Gowie of 12 Oak street, Nutley. Receiving with her will be Mrs. Theodore Voelter, co-hostess. There will be a general discussion of books read during the summer according to Mrs. Frank J. McFadden, literature chairman.

The department has arranged an evening program at which Belleville Woman's club members will welcome their husbands and guests Monday evening, October 22. Featured speaker will be Harold B. Laity of the Cartaret school in West Orange. A specialist in accelerated reading methods, Mr.

Laity will demonstrate a machine reading test. This will be the first evening program at the club to open the winter season. Mrs. McFadden announced this week that William E. Haskell, assistant to the president of the Herald Tribune, who had been scheduled to speak, will not be able to appear because of illness.

Bates-Hintze Nuptials Held In Nebraska September 23

The marriage of Miss Evelyn Hintze, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Urd M. Hintze of North Arlington, to Cpl. Albert K. Bates, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bates of 171 New street, took place at Alliance, Neb., September 23 where the ceremony was performed in the Post chapel by the resident chaplain.

Miss Hintze was graduated from Kearny High school and was with the Pollack Manufacturing company in that city before her marriage.

Cpl. Bates, who recently concluded a thirty day furlough here, has returned from 22 months troop carrier service in Europe. He served on planes which transported paratroopers from an English base to the continent.

Cpl. Bates has been in the Air Forces nearly three years. He was graduated from Belleville High school in 1942 and was with the Fireman's Loyalty Group Insurance company in civilian life.

While on furlough here he had a one day visit with his brother, Hospital Apprentice 2/c Gilbert Bates, now stationed in San Diego, Cal.

Girl Scouts Inaugurate Junior Council Next Week

Patterned After Adult Council,
It will Incorporate Ideas
With Those of Leaders

Girl Scouts, one of the most successful community services operating in Belleville, next week will make practical application of the national Girl Scout plan of work when it inaugurates a Junior council. A representative of each of the thirteen intermediate and senior troops here will meet Tuesday afternoon in scout headquarters with Miss Elizabeth Bardagj, director, and a member of the program committee.

Designed to bring about the closest possible coordination between the adults who guide scouting and the girls who benefit by it, the junior council will be modeled after the adult group and will elect a commissioner and other officers and appoint committee chairmen.

An effort on a national scale to incorporate the ideas of scouts themselves into the yearly program in each community resulted in many suggestions from girls all over the country. In communities where junior councils operate, for instance, a junior camping committee will recommend to the senior committee various proposals which have been tried and proven among the girls themselves; such as length of the camping period, fees or activities for which they are especially anxious.

A member of the adult council here, of which Mrs. George R. Gerard is commissioner, will attend each meeting of the junior council. Thus the women who guide the program will get the girls' needs and recreations in scouting at first hand.

Prospective Leaders

Tomorrow morning Miss Bardagj will meet all who are interested in becoming leaders of Brownies, pre-scouters up to the age of ten, at the Belleville avenue entrance to Belleville park opposite Mt. Prospect avenue. Present leaders of five troops will be present and women willing to prepare themselves for troops now anxious to form are urged to attend. One troop at Union avenue school awaits a leader anxious to form.

In the park Miss Bardagj will illustrate the games and nature activities by which Brownies are enabled to spend part of each of their weekly meetings in the open air. Collections of fall flowers, seed pods and colored leaves which they preserve or use as designs in their crafts and the study of insects and animals as they adapt themselves to winter conditions are part of their routine.

Leaders are guided so that they can accomplish interesting programs in yards or vacant lots which may adjoin their meeting places.

BELLEVILLE GAVE FOR WAR BE GENEROUS IN VICTORY

Tower Used In Historic Talk

FOR A LONG TIME A MYSTERY to passersby, the tower in the insert, on the old Yountakoh Country club golf course at Kingsland and River roads, Nutley, was revealed Thursday, to be part of a three-cornered circuit used by the Federal Telephone and Radio corporation for experimentation in multiple, two-way, simultaneous radio conversations. The other points of the circuit are the company's office in lower Manhattan and a similar tower on Telegraph Hill, near Hazlet, N. J. Pictured also is the architect's drawing of the 300 foot tower as it will look when it is completed.

In Revolutionary Talk FTR Tower In Nutley Used

End of all Wires Seen Possible As Result of Company's Invention

Foreshadowing a possible revolution in long-distance telephony, the Federal Telephone and Radio Corporation last Thursday in its New York offices gave a demonstration of the use of radio telephone circuits permitting twenty-four two-way simultaneous conversations over one radio channel.

The demonstration was on a circuit which took in the new tower near the Federal plant on Kingsland road, Nutley, another tower on Telegraph Hill near Hazlet, and the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation's building in lower Manhattan.

Development of the new communication method, which has been kept secret during the war by orders of the Navy, was divulged for the first time last Thursday at a demonstration before representatives of the metropolitan press and public officials.

If all the hopes of the new invention are realized F. T. & R. engineers say that in the not distant future there will be no necessity for telephone wires and that it will be possible for the big radio networks to distribute many programs simultaneously over automatic "drop-offs" at other principal broadcasting centers, over one radio channel. Television is expected to be greatly affected by the new development.

Principle Involved

The new experimental network utilizes the pulse time modulation principle of transmission recently perfected by the Federal Telephone and Radio Laboratories and other I. T. & T. System laboratories after nine years of research. It requires only one transmitter and receiver at each location for simultaneous 24-channel communication.

As now set up for study and experimentation, the Telegraph Hill and Nutley stations are essentially relay points, and the actual transmitting and receiving stations are located in the International Telephone Building at 67 Broad street, New York. In Thursday's demonstration two groups of 24 persons, seated in separate rooms at the New York location, conversed simultaneously over the single microwave carrier.

In spite of the fact that two dozen voice channels are handled at one time by the transmitter, the entire audio-frequency and pulse generator apparatus occupies a cabinet standing only three feet high in a floor space twenty inches square, and requires fewer vacuum tubes than the average home radio for its operation. The system receiver occupies a similar cabinet and requires the same number of tubes.

Common wave guides and antennae are used both for transmission and reception. Parabolic reflectors, eight feet in diameter, serve to beam the 1300 megacycle carrier. The reflector at the New York end is located on the roof of the 35-story International Telephone Building, while those at Telegraph Hill, and the new Nutley laboratories are situated atop 100 and 200-foot towers, respectively.

The present 24-channel arrangement makes use of a combination of pulse-time modulation plus a system of electronic time selection, being allotted each channel for the transmission of its signal. In contrast to mechanical systems

More Details

In single-channel operation one marker-pulse would be followed by a single signal-pulse, but since they are of very short duration the marker pulse occupies an interval of the order of one micro-second, and the signal-pulse 0.5 micro-second multi-channel operation is entirely feasible.

In the present arrangement a single marker-pulse is followed by the 24 channels, the entire sequence being repeated at a rate of 8,000 PPS. Lacking an applied signal, the entire 25 pulses are evenly spaced in time. However, if a signal is applied to the channel No. 1, the No. 1 signal-pulse will occur slightly sooner or later in the first sequence cycle than its no-signal position, in relation to the fixed time position of the marker-pulse. During the next cycle its position will have again changed, while the other 23 signal-pulses, lacking applied signals, will retain their previous time position in relation to the marker-pulse. Since this variation in timing of the transmitted pulse corresponds to the audio-frequency of the impressed signal it is only necessary at the receiver to have a device which is sensitive to these variations and which will convert them back to audible sound.

The marker-pulse serves to synchronize the receiver with the transmitter, so that the receiver will examine the input on each of the 24 channels in sequence, at the same rate of speed and repetition as the transmitter. It is apparent that such audio channel is actually "sampled" or interrupted, 8,000 times per second, but these interruptions occur at such high speed that they are not audible to the listener.

Started In 1931

Since only the spacing of the pulses is important, requirements for the design of pulse-time modulation relay stations are much less critical than for those used with methods of modulation. Moreover, since distortion is not cumulative any number may be used. Inasmuch as the pulse shape need not be exactly reproduced most of the noise that is inevitable in any receiver using vacuum tubes can be eliminated merely by clipping the bottoms and peaks of the received pulses, resulting in a much better signal-to-noise ratio than that obtained, for instance, with amplitude-modulation. Cross-talk, or interference from adjacent channels, is completely eliminated because of the fact that only one channel is actually on the air at one time.

Another advantage of the system is the fact that telephone dialing and bell-ringing operations can be effected simply, since it is entirely feasible to transmit direct-current for these functions without the need for additional equipment.

The present system is an outgrowth of the efforts of I. T. & T. system companies, extending back to 1931 with the Dover-Calais 18 centimeter micro-ray equipments, and the first multi-channel voice-circuits between Scotland and Ireland. News of the new 24-channel network has been received with tremendous interest in communication circles, offering as it does, far-reaching innovations of great importance in increased economy and efficiency, not only in telephone communication, but with enormous possibilities for sound and television broadcasting.

Parent-Teacher Associations

School No. 7

The first meeting of the P.T.A. of School No. 7 was held Tuesday night in the auditorium. The program was opened by Mrs. Edward Rochau, president, who introduced members of the faculty and who welcomed the many parents attending. Mrs. Catherine Hardwick, principal, spoke on "The Challenge of Peace."

Rev. Clarence Blakney pastor of the Roseville Baptist Church in Newark, guest speaker, chose "Religious Tolerance" as his topic. Rev. Blakney stressed the importance of home training in fostering tolerance and understanding in the very young. The basic principles of religions are similar, he said. One should believe implicitly in one's own creed while sincerely understanding the beliefs of others. A question and answer period followed.

Ralph Street School

First evening meeting of the association will be held Tuesday at 7:30 when fathers as well as mothers of students have been urged to be present. The general topic under discussion will be "Bettering Our P.T.A."

Mrs. Naomi Miller, president, has indicated that the suggestions of all parents are earnestly sought.

Seventh and eighth grade students, under the direction of Miss Indra Bryant, music supervisor of Belleville elementary schools, and Miss Appacilla, a teacher at Ralph street, will sing "Andalusia," an old Spanish song and "Vive L'Amour," a college song. Singers will be Lorraine O'Droney, Dorothy DiNicola, Virginia Russ, Helen Melio, Betty Lennox and Ann Lubertazzi.

Graylock School

Dr. Thomas J. Brosnan, guidance director in the Belleville school system, will speak before the Parent-Teacher association of Graylock School No. 5 on Monday evening at 8:15 on Sex Education. The parents' responsibility in supplying sex knowledge to children at the proper time and advice on its presentation will be discussed by Dr. Brosnan. A question and answer period will follow his talk.

An executive meeting will be held this afternoon at 3:15.

Construct Sheet Metal Shop On Site of Razed Factory

A permit to build on the site of the razed factory that housed the Quality Products company on Heckel street has been granted by the town to John Napoli of Newark who will erect a one story concrete block building to house his sheet metal plant.

Napoli bought the property from John Miele, owner of the factory that burned after Miele tried unsuccessfully to obtain a permit to rebuild for the Quality Products company. His application was turned down after petitions from residents in the area who claimed the concern's business was a fire hazard.

George Baldwin Holds Unit Citation For China Action

In Heavy Bombardment Group, Also Holds DFC and Air Medal

F/O George H. Baldwin of 120 Stephen street has been authorized to wear the Distinguished Unit citation for his work while a member of the 308th Heavy Bombardment Group, the famous "Liberators of China" at Rupsi, India. F/O Baldwin, who has been overseas seven months, also wears one battle star on his Asiatic-Pacific Ribbon, and has received the Air Medal and the Distinguished Flying Cross. The record of his outfit, which has twice been cited for its heroic achievements, stands out as one of the most spectacular war tales to emerge from the Asiatic Theater.

Battling from behind enemy lines, forced to evacuate three bases before onrushing Jap infantry, blasted continually by enemy bombers, the 308th doggedly slugged back at the enemy with surprising success. The story of this small group of embattled airmen is dramatically told in the citation, which reads:

"Between 24 May 1944 and 28 April 1945, this group preyed relentlessly on the Japanese sea shipping lanes between the Japanese homeland and her conquests throughout southern Asia and adjacent insular territories. During most of this period, this Group was the only organization among all the Allied Forces in a position to conduct interdiction operations against this vital supply line.

"Operating from bases in China, the Group swept the East and South China Seas, the Straits of Formosa, and the Gulf of Tonkin through all kinds of weather, sinking and damaging nearly three-quarters of a million tons of vital Japanese shipping. They sank 107 merchant vessels and 12 enemy naval vessels, including three cruisers and seven destroyers. They probably sank 29 vessels and damaged 48, for a total of 427,252 tons of shipping sank, 102,765 tons probably sank and 187,045 tons damaged.

Low Altitude Tactics

"Pressed by the constant need for enemy of operations from air-supplied China, the Group forsook the usual high altitude style of bombing to attain accuracy and minimum expenditure of bombs. Heroically and deliberately, the combat crews developed and employed low altitude tactics that brought their slow, heavy bombers down to within four hundred feet of their targets during attacks. This exposed their aircraft to murderous fire from the armed merchantmen and naval vessels they attacked. On a number of occasions, the crews carried out attacks at 400 feet over entire convoys of eight to twelve armed merchant and naval ships.

"Throughout the cited period, the Group was forced to fly much of its own gasoline and bombs over the 'Hump' (Himalaya Mountains) into China, and in the same period was forced to evacuate from three bases before the advance of enemy ground forces. For several months, the Group launched its sea search missions from a base behind enemy lines in East China."

RECRUIT HANDS FOR SCOUT SHIP

"Sailors" will be Welcomed At Open House on Monday Nights

It takes forty "hands" to man a picket boat and to that end Sea Scout ship 303 which meets Monday nights at Eastwood Neale's Jorammon street plant wants to recruit a number of boys who have reached the age of fifteen. Skipper Wallace Jones announces open house at the ship every Monday night when all Belleville boys and interested fathers will be welcomed.

A mock ship has been set up in the wire company's plant where a forty foot deck with all the accessories of life at sea are available for endless practice. Boys do not have to be boy scouts to be eligible.

The Sea Scout troop's real boat, a 36 foot Coast Guard picket boat, has been cruising with scouts aboard performing all the seamanship, for the past two months. Ordinarily docked in Rutherford the boat goes out each weekend. A typical cruise is to the St. George Coast Guard base in Staten Island.

Skipper Jones is a licensed pilot and other officers of the boat are qualified to direct and protect the boys in acquainting themselves with seamanship.

Besides the water trips recent experiences for the scouts on Monday evenings have talks by a submarine commander, waist gunner of a PB flying boat and divers from the Navy diving school. Such programs are regularly scheduled.

Former members of Belleville's Sea Scout ship 303 have acquitted themselves well in military service and have attributed much success to their experiences on "the ship." Three are Merchant Marine radio operators, one a Navy radio operator and one a Marine pilot.

Skipper Jones, who lives at 224 Cortlandt street, has spent twelve years in sea scouting. Walter Kilde company sponsors the local sea troop and Mr. Jones may be telephoned at that company's plant for information on sea scouting.

GRACE MEN HEAR BRITISH NAVY MAN

Open Season Monday Night With Holder of DSC As Speaker

The Men's club of Grace Baptist church will open its 1945-46 season next Monday night at 8:30 p. m., in the Church social hall when the speaker will be Lieut. I. S. Menzies, D. S. C., an officer of the British Navy, who is expected to tell of his experiences during his service since 1939.

Lieut. Menzies has seen action in the North Sea, the North Atlantic, the English Channel and the Mediterranean. He took part in the North African, Sicilian and Normandy invasions, in the latter as executive officer of the American built frigate H. M. S. Stayner. For his action during the Normandy landings he was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. He had previously been mentioned in dispatches.

Lt. Menzies also served for a year on the West Indies Station based at Port of Spain, Trinidad, and served for some time on the whole of the West African coast, at such places as Dakar, Casablanca and Freetown.

Most of Lieut. Menzies sea service has been on destroyers. He knew the Channel convoys in 1940 days quite well and "E boat Alley" which also, of course, includes the long range German guns which fired across the Channel from Cape Gris Nez. He has also touched at places such as Malta, Tripoli, Algiers and Oran.

Open Fish Market

Peter Coraggio, former chef at Westinghouse Electric plant in Bloomfield and his son Frank, have opened Frank and Pete's fish market at 810 Mt. Prospect avenue, formerly Demmon's fish market. Frank was formerly manager of the meat department in the local A & P store.

SCHOLASTIC ART CONTEST MARCH 1

P. Webster Diehl Assists in Arrangements for Sixth Annual Exhibition

The New Jersey committee for the 1946 Scholastic Art exhibition met Friday with executive of L. Bamberger and company to discuss plans for the competition to be held March 1 to 10. This is the sixth year that the store has sponsored this statewide program to promote a high standard of art in New Jersey schools.

Culminating in a national exhibition at Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh, the Scholastic Art exhibition conducted by Scholastic Magazine offers opportunities for talented students to win recognition and substantial prizes. Through the New Jersey exhibition, adults have an opportunity to see the best art work done in public, parochial, and private schools.

Dr. Paul Spencer, principal of Trenton High school and chairman of the Scholastic committee, announced that the scope of the contest will be expanded this year to include not only high school students, but also junior high school artists and pupils from technical, industrial and vocational schools. P. Webster Diehl, head of the art department at Belleville High school is among the committee members who will assist him in the organization of New Jersey schools for participation in the exhibition. Among others are Robert Campbell, state supervisor of industrial arts and Lawrence Chase, Essex County superintendent of schools.

Charles Levine Home After 18 Months on Submarine

Radioman 3/c Charles Levine, son of Mrs. Ida Levine of 64 Cortlandt street, is home on leave after eighteen months submarine duty in the Pacific. He went into sub service two and a half years ago and, "now that all can be told," was proud to report that his ship, the Queenfish, sunk fifteen Japanese vessels. Among them were an aircraft carrier and a destroyer, troop transports, tankers and merchant ships.

Radioman Levine had his basic training at the New London base. The submarine, with a crew of 75, operated from a Pacific base.

Six months ago Mr. Levine visited his brother, Radioman 2/c Jack Levine, when both were in Pearl Harbor. Jack is aboard a troopship in the Pacific. The men have another brother, Pharmacist's Mate 2/c Irving Levine, now stationed in Florida after service in Europe.

Sailor Got Close-up Of Jap Emissaries In Tokyo Bay

Robert E. Taylor Holds Ten Battle Stars for 35 Months in Pacific Action

Looking at huge, majestic Mount Fujiyama from the waters of Tokyo Bay, Robert E. Taylor, Radioman Second Class USNR, of 209 Jorammon avenue is finding it difficult to realize he is witnessing the finish of a journey he started over 35 long months ago. Taylor is serving on the U.S.S. Nicholas, which, with the exception of a short period at the end of 1943, has been actively operating against the enemy in the Pacific since shortly after it was commissioned in 1942.

The Nicholas, now operating in the Third Fleet, was given the privilege of making first contact with the Japanese emissaries on August 27 to bring them out to the Admiral's flagship, the Missouri. When contact was made in the early morning, she steamed close aboard at high speed, with all guns bearing on the small Jap two-stacked destroyer, put a small boat into the water and brought naval officers, harbor pilots and interpreters on board.

Transferring them to the Missouri at sea, the Japanese turned the facilities of Tokyo Bay and the naval base at Yokosuka over to Admiral Halsey and the U.S. Navy. The Nicholas then led the way into Sagami Bay, south of Tokyo to await completion of the minesweeping task. This was done sufficiently to permit units of the fleet to steam in and anchor on August 29.

Impressive Record

Having come all the way from the Solomon Islands, Taylor, who holds ten battle stars and the Nicholas can look back with pride at the impressive record she has compiled in the Pacific War. A veteran of the nerve-racking patrols "up the slot" between Guadalcanal and Bougainville, where Japanese planes were more frequently seen than friendly ones, it participated in the Battle of Kula Gulf.

As a result of her rescue of survivors of the cruiser, Helena, after this action, the Nicholas was awarded the coveted Presidential Unit Citation. Three times during the rescue the Nicholas departed to engage enemy forces and assisted in the destruction or severely damaging of a Japanese cruiser and two destroyers.

Prior to returning to the United States in 1943, the Nicholas covered the landing of marines in the Gilberts and participated in carrier strikes on the Marshall Islands. After a rest and a short leave, they returned to the South Pacific and assisted in the Attapeu.

New Guinea invasion. Last September found this battlewise ship at Morotai in the Halmaheras Group. The next six months brought almost continuous offensive operations in the Philippines.

At Corregidor

The "Nick" as she is known to the destroyer fleet, took part in nearly every amphibious operation of the Philippine campaign, including Leyte and Luzon. She played a large part in silencing enemy shore batteries on Corregidor and Batan, preparing the way for airborne and amphibious landings of American troops. Before joining the third fleet the Nicholas moved to Tarakan, off Borneo, to pave the way for that island's occupation by Australian forces.

The Nicholas arrived in the Okinawa area in time to witness the closing phase of that operation, and spent the last 56 days of the war off the coast of Japan with Admiral Halsey's task force, screening the carriers that were making historic strikes that, together with the B-29s and the persuasive atomic bomb, finally brought the once proud Japanese empire to her knees.

Taylor enlisted in the Navy in May 1942 received training at Newport, R. I. and reported aboard the Nicholas in March 1943. Prior to his enlistment he was employed by the Certain-teed Products

Will You Do Your Share?

The house-to-house canvass for Belleville's Community Chest Victory drive got off to a good start this week with a well-organized crew of volunteers beginning their door to door solicitation last Sunday.

It cannot be too strongly emphasized that the burden of responsibility for the support of the five local agencies participating in the chest lies with the individual residents of town. The service and influence of such organizations as the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Community Service Bureau, the Silver Lake Community House and the Visiting Nurse Association is far-reaching throughout the community and at one time or other has an influence for good in the majority of Belleville homes.

Drive officials have estimated that an average contribution of $7 per family is necessary if these agencies, the National War fund and Associated Catholic Charities are to operate efficiently for the coming year. This means that those families financially able are requested to give more than the average donation to compensate for those who, though willing, cannot meet this amount.

The average of $7 as a year's contribution to seven agencies from one family is small when it is considered that a family would undoubtedly give more if there were seven individual drives throughout the year. The provision for monthly or quarterly payments of a pledge spreads the contribution so that it should mean little hardship for anyone.

Bellevillites are proud of their town not only because it is a pleasant place to live but because of the services it provides — the yardstick for the prestige of any community. Drive officials are therefore confident that those who have not given before, will assume their responsibility this year and those who have provided the backbone in the past, will give a little more in support of these community organizations that work only with the community welfare as their goal.

Vote Of Thanks

Announcement of the amalgamation of the Belleville War Price and Ration board with the Newark board the end of this month means the official termination of the services of many volunteers who have given much time in patriotic service to their community.

While there have been many gripes at the rationing program throughout the country by a people more accustomed than most, to acquiring the things they want when they want them, the fundamentals of sharing scarce commodities equally with all, have been accepted with good grace by the majority as a fair way to get through the war period.

The local board, serving Belleville and Nutley, has had its share of disgruntled customers who have sometimes considered refusal of their applications as personal discrimination. They have forgotten on occasion, that the rules were made in Washington for the nation, and not by the volunteers operating the local set-up. This reaction of course, can safely be considered as nation-wide, and a natural one when individuals get preoccupied with personal requirements and lose sight of national aims.

The volunteers who served on the board from both towns, have been human too, and thankful for the cooperative attitude of the majority who have been presented their problems. Serving the public is never easy. The vast number of directives particularly at the beginning of rationing, took countless hours of assimilation and interpretation by panel members, before they could even be applied.

The work has been long and arduous and the volume at times has been staggering. These people deserve some sincere recognition from the community for their part in the war effort. Without them we would not have gotten through the years just past, as comfortably.

This Is Our Week

Since this is National Newspaper Week, guess we're supposed to pat ourselves on the back and tell our readers what a swell job we are doing for them. But we wouldn't get much satisfaction out of that. Our pleasure comes from the knowledge that this newspaper is being read. If our readers like what we print we don't often hear about it but if they disagree with our views or what we say, they don't hesitate to tell us so.

And that's what we like and what we want. Our only measure of the job we are doing is the criticism that we receive. This is because a newspaper's value is estimated only by the interest that it creates among its readers. Our primary purpose is to be of service to the community and the parts of it which make it worth while. If we are being helpful in this way we feel that we are accomplishing our aims.

We do not attempt to pattern ourselves after our bigger brothers, the daily newspapers, although our paths frequently cross. Ours is a community task and we welcome all types of news that reflects the community life of Belleville.

Annual Reminder On Fires

National Fire Prevention week begins on Monday as an annual reminder to the public of the dangers of fire and the losses that can be sustained through carelessness. Although this is one of the communities in which the fire loss is comparatively low, it will not remain so if we do not occasionally check on the factors that cause fires and eliminate them in the home, places of business and industries.

The regrettable fact in regard to most fires is that seventy-five percent of the blazes that occur annually and in which millions of dollars' worth of property are destroyed and many lives lost, could be prevented.

Fire Chief Reid has pointed out that while the national fire loss has risen during the war years, the National Board of Fire Underwriters estimates that the annual fire loss in the country during peace time is in excess of a quarter of a billion dollars.

This is a staggering sum. Statistics show that among the causes which are listed as preventable are chimney fires with an average annual loss of $25,000,000; fires from hot ashes, coals and open fires with losses totaling $6,000,000; from matches and smoking the loss rises to the amazing sum of $35,000,000; from sparks on the roof losses are over $15,000,000; rubbish and litter account for losses of more than $2,000,000 and fires started because of defective furnaces, boilers and pipes amount to $23,000,000.

This town has a good fire prevention record which is a tribute not only to the residents but to the members of the Fire Department whose quick action in fighting those blazes which do occur has prevented heavy losses.

Waste Land's End?

If "The Waste Land" was the poet's picture of life after the last war, what will be his song after this one, when mankind is groping over a spiritual rubble even more barren and desolate than that which confronted Eliot when he wrote his poem in 1922?

For many there was still hope in 1922 that out of the moral disaster of war the world would have a renaissance of faith and purpose. Eliot's despair, therefore, aroused a storm that rocked the ivory tower of poetry. Much of the controversy, it is true, stemmed from people's impatience with the obscurantism of modern poetry; Eliot's allusiveness was hardly for the general. But for the most part it was the poet's bleak picture of man's state that evoked the criticism. That this critical judgment was in error, however, has been made all too evident by the last two dreary decades. The cloud of spiritual negation which the poet saw oppressing the world is now known to have been a real cloud, and through its darkening shadows men have only foundered toward the deeper abyss of today.

This time victory has not brought even the brief illusion of rebirth. Now there is no exaltation, and if anyone still tastes hope at all it is only to savor too the bitterness that comes from the memory of hope's treachery. In the mouths of all are the aloes of doubt and fear; and if this be true of the commonality of men, what must be the inner thoughts of the poet?

It must be believed, however, that even despair has its ultimate bottom. It is hard to think that the poets after this war can plumb any deeper depths than "The Waste Land." Indeed, it is possible that with the divination which is the poets' great gift they will see farther than the statesmen and the rest of us, and through the gloom may discern a light of which duller men are unaware. Let us hope so. At any rate, it might be profitable to listen to what the poets have to say. If, rebelling against despair, they should sound a note of cheer, it could well be the harbinger of a brighter day now far below the horizon.

Those Were The Days—

by M. C. Albey

This is the third in a series of articles by an old-time resident of Belleville on the activities of the town in the 1890's.—Ed. Note.

In those days every town with any self respect boasted of a haunted house. Does any reader recall the old dilapidated house that stood on the corner of Main and Holmes streets? The blood curdling tales that were told about this place had us so scared that we would not even go into the yard. The ghost tales reached such a peak that the New York papers had write-ups about the house.

Belleville drank Passaic river water until 1892 or thereabouts, and Jersey City drank it until about 1895 or 96. Not many of the streets were paved in those days, most of the drinking water coming from pumps or wells. There was a pump on the corner of Main and Academy street that was frequented by many in that neighborhood. This pump had a flat wooden top and there was usually a tin can there for drinking purposes. After taking a drink we would fill the can and by a quick movement, turn it upside down on the top of the pump so that the water stayed in the can.

One hot night old "Doc" Anderson, the school principal came along all dressed up in his best clothes, patent leather shoes and all. Some of the boys pulled the truck on Doc, watering from behind a tree, as the water spilled all over his patent leathers and heard his comments that were pretty descriptive.

One day we were playing ball in a field on Main street where a cow was grazing. A lady living next to the lot came out with an armful of linen and laid it on the grass to bleach. The cow kept getting nearer and nearer and finally, went up to a piece of linen, and after giving it a sniff, swallowed it. This happened with one piece after another until it was all devoured. After a while the lady came out to see if the linen was dry and not seeing it, accused us of taking it. When we told her that the cow had eaten it she became abusive and threatened us with arrest if we didn't bring it back at once, whereupon we beat an ignominious retreat.

We used to skat on Miller's pond located about where DeWitt avenue crosses Tappan and Division avenues. Another pond was Fairview's on the corner of Main and Little streets, as well as the Third river pond on Joralemon street near the Nutley line. The old cove on the other side of the river, below the bridge was another popular skating place but of course the river was the best of all. It did take several nights though, of severe weather to make it safe and then it would last for only a day or two since the tugboats and the action of the tide would break it up.

Some winters the river wouldn't freeze at all. Many people believe that winters were colder years ago than they are now. According to the best of my memory, this is not so. I understand that the U. S. official weather bureau records show little if any difference in the winters running back over 60 years or more. (Next week — The Old School house.)

Calls Times-News Editorial On MacArthur Unjust

From a Reader
To the Editor of the Times-News:
I have never been drawn to MacArthur because he doesn't seem to possess the warm, friendly characteristics of Eisenhower, but after reading your editorial in yesterday's NEWS, I feel you are very upset and prejudiced in passing off as facts your own personal grudges and opinions.

If one compares the character of MacArthur and Eisenhower, there is no doubt that Eisenhower would have the more amiable traits. But the deeds of MacArthur in the war, are they not equally as great as those of Eisenhower? Certainly the odds were as numerous and difficult as in Europe. Besides, we fought in the Pacific almost to the end without substantial aid of allies.

It is said that MacArthur is unpopular with the soldiers because he demands sartorial perfection. What's wrong with that? A clean man is a man who respects himself. Most men expect women to be immaculate in appearance but think it natural for themselves to go about in a soiled condition.

The trouble is that there are not enough MacArthurs to train boys in neatness when they are growing up. The word "neatness" should have the same meaning when applied to men as when applied to women.

Man Who Came Back

MacArthur is an earlier product of West Point and thus more the exponent of the old tradition of that school. Is it fair now to criticize him for his training? He is the fighting general with whom most of us associate victory in the Pacific. He was the Man Who Came Back!

The newspaper, very surprisingly, in the apologetic manner reserved for reporting news of unions and their members, have jumped to premature criticisms and conclusions not warranted by any actions of MacArthur. Why don't they give him a chance to speak fully, and then ask for explanations if they don't understand, instead of howling and causing more confusion?

Editorials on MacArthur, such as yours in yesterday's edition, serve only to strengthen the prevailing opinion that "You can't believe what you read in the newspapers."

NEW CUB PACK AT WESLEY

Plan Training Sessions for Parents; Camp Group Plans for 1946

Plans were made for the organization of a Cub Pack at the Wesley Methodist church at a meeting held last week. In accord with the plans recommended by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, three training sessions for the parents of prospective cubs will be held in the church one night a week for three weeks. The first meeting to be held at 8 p.m. on Thursday, October 18.

Harold Ross, cubmaster, has announced three training sessions for the parents of Cub Pack 350 members, sponsored by the First Presbyterian church, beginning on Monday and continuing on October 15 and 22.

The training is being held at this time because many of the cubs have joined recently, and their parents have not had the training so essential to the operation of the Cub Pack. The course will be conducted by Harry T. French, assistant scout executive. Pack members will meet tomorrow evening at the church at 7:30 to practice the circus theme and lay plans for the third annual circus to be held Friday evening, October 26.

Neighborhood Commissioner

At a recent meeting of the district committee, James Lampman of 75 Tappan avenue, was appointed to the district commissioner staff, and will serve as neighborhood commissioner in the area comprising Sea Scout Ship 303, meeting at Eastwood-Nealley corporation and School No. 9, where a new troop is being organized.

The organization and extension committee with Harry Sullivan, district chairman and Lindley A. Graves, district commissioner, are completing the organization of a troop under the sponsorship of the P.T.A. of School No. 9. This new troop will bring scouting nearer to boys who have had to go to other parts of the town to enroll in a scout troop.

John H. Nelles, chairman of the campaign and activities committee of the Robert Treat council has announced that the committee will meet on October 12 to make plans for the 1946 season at Camp Mohican. Despite bad weather the 1945 season passed all previous seasons in the number of boys reached and in total boy weeks. The committee is composed of chairmen of camping and activities in the seven districts of the council. Clifton Smith, newly appointed chairman for Belleville, will represent this district on the committee.

To Repair Camps

With materials and labor more available the committee is making plans for extensive repairs and replacements at both Scout Acres in Boonton and Camp Mohican at Plainfield, to care for even more scouts in 1946. Plans will also be made for the 1946 council camporee.

Scouts and scouters of the Belleville district are urged to keep October 13 and 14 in mind for district camporee in Belleville Park near Garden avenue. Parents are invited to visit the camporee. October 16—at School 8, the Scouters Roundtable devoting a full evening to program planning will be held October 16 and scouters' weekend at Camp Mohican is planned for October 20. Scouters from the seven districts of the council will go to Camp Mohican at Plainfield for a weekend of fellowship and to make repairs at the camp.

Fire Takes Its Toll in Loss of Life and Property! Do All You Can To Prevent Fire!

The Scream of Sirens --

The scream of a siren — another fire — with its attendant loss of property and possibly human life. And the saddest part of it all is that it could have been prevented.

Your Fire Chief can recount hideous tales of fires and their toll of property and human life. He has many ideas on Fire Prevention that he'll be pleased to give you — if you'll give him the opportunity. Remember — It is his job to "Stop Fires Before They Start." Why not give him the chance to help you prevent fire in your home or store?

Fire... Nation's Worst Enemy --

Millions of dollars go up in smoke every year — perhaps some of them will be yours unless you take every precaution to prevent fire in your own home or business. Do your part now — today. Check over every possible place in your home that is used for a "catch-all." Have competent workmen check heating plants, electric wiring, etc. It may pay you enormous dividends in property saved — as well as human life.

Check Your Own Home or Business For Fire Hazards Today!

The surest way of preventing fire is to have a periodical systematic check-up. This can be easily and quickly done by obtaining the aid of your entire family. Children should definitely help in this check-up . . . it will make them fully realize the dangers, and causes of fires and the precautions necessary to prevent them.

1. CHECK all electrical wiring, units and appliances for shorts, faulty connections and overload.
2. REMOVE all rubbish and waste from basement, attic, garage and around buildings.
3. USE non-inflammable cleaning fluids only! Keep any and all cleaning fluids away from excess heat.
4. KEEP matches away from children. Always be sure a match is completely out before throwing away.

5. HAVE all gas pipes and connections inspected periodically.
6. DON'T bring gasoline into a house.
7. TAKE caution with burning cigarettes.
8. KEEP your furnace, furnace room and coal bin clean and orderly. Keep them clear of any rubbish.
9. ALWAYS have a ground wire on your radio.
