VICTORY DRIVE E BOND QUOTA IS $600,000

Greatly Reduced Figure Reflects Lowered National Goal in Final Campaign

The country's final bond drive for World War II designated as a Victory bond drive by the Treasury department, will get under way throughout the nation on October 29, with greatly reduced quotas. Philip Dettelbach, general drive chairman, has announced that Belleville's E bond quota is set at $600,000 as compared with $1,400,000 in the Seventh War loan. The town's overall quota is $3,500,000. The E bond quota in the county is $15,500,000 and the state is allocated $400,000,000 in bond purchases. The over-all quota for the county which includes all other types of government bonds in addition to the popular E bonds for individual purchase, is $290,775,000 and the state, $496,000,000. The drive will run officially for six weeks, ending on December 7. However, Ronald G. Brunner, assistant to Dettelbach, said this week that the town will receive credit for all purchases made up to December 31. Brunner will again be in charge of the house-to-house solicitation and has made an appeal to those volunteers who have aided in the previous drives, to offer their services once more, for the final campaign. W. Douglas Clark will again be in charge of the industrial division. Brunner said yesterday that drive officials will again rely on the Boy and Girl Scouts and school children to maintain their high sales figures. The bonds sales through the schools will be under the direction of Jonas Swenson of the state Victory bond committee who is heading up the effort in the schools through the boards of education. New Jersey schools have done an outstanding job of bond sales as compared with those throughout the country, Brunner said yesterday, and observed that Belleville schools have maintained a record equivalent to the state average in sales.

PETREAN CLUB BOOK REVIEW

"Captain From Castile" Subject for First of Fall Series Sunday Evening

Rev. William N. Fields, professor of English literature at Seton Hall college, will open the fall series of Sunday evening book reviews in St. Peter's hall this week under the auspices of the Petrean club. This social and cultural group has extended an invitation to the public to be present at 8:15. Father Fields will review "Captain From Castile" by Samuel Shellabarger. A modern, historic novel, it has been characterized as a "lively narrative" of the 16th century inquisition and subsequent colonization of America. The speaker, who is a graduate student at Columbia university, was one of the founders of the Intercollegiate Catholic literary conference and has been director of a radio discussion project on the Church and Spain. Father Fields is also the author of several poems which have been published in Catholic periodicals and, while a member of the Newark Museum, produced a monograph on Mexican and Yucatan primitive and prehistoric civilization. Petreans sponsored a full schedule of book reviews last winter. James Leonard, club president, has instituted through the cooperation of Rev. Aloysius Welsh, a native of Belleville. Subsequent reviews, scheduled for October 28, November 11 and 25, will be given by Rev. Thomas Cunningham, head of the English department at Seton Hall, and instructors in the Conception seminary at Darlington. "The World, The Flesh and Father Smith" by Bruce Marshall and "Cesar and Christ" by Dr. Wills Durant will constitute the series.

Dr. Close Gives Last Sermon At Fewsmith On Sunday

Minister Organized Church Twenty Years Ago, Retires Next Week

Fifty-one years of service in the Presbyterian ministry that began in the humble surroundings of Tennessee's Cumberland mountains will come to a close on Sunday when Dr. O. Bell delivers his last sermon at Fewsmith Presbyterian church. Although he will remain as pastor emeritus of the church he founded 21 years ago, Dr. Close is retiring from active ministry. After an informal fellowship gathering at the church on Tuesday evening, which will be attended by local ministers and friends in addition to parishioners, Dr. and Mrs. Close will move to their cottage, Dogwood Shack at Cliffwood Beach on Thursday, which they will make their permanent home. He is retiring he said because, although his health is fine, he is tired and is not accomplishing the amount of work the parish needs. "I've served a cycle in organizing and developing the church over a period of 21 years," he said yesterday. "The community and the country as a whole are entering upon a new cycle. It's time for a young man to try his hand." Although a successor has not yet been chosen, Dr. Close has been named moderator and services will be continued for a few weeks until a choice is made. Wayne R. Parmer is chairman of the executive group that is visiting candidates in their own parishes. When a minister is nominated, he will come to Fewsmith as a guest and if there is mutual accord, the Presbytery will establish the relationship between the church and the minister.

NEWARK COPS NAB CAPITOL BANDITS

Armed Trio Part of Seven Man Robber Ring Operating in Vicinity

Two of the armed trio that stole $314 from the Capitol theatre in a holdup on October 1 have been apprehended by Newark police as part of a seven-man bandit ring that took $550 from Kay's Department store in Newark on September 29. They have confessed to several other holdups in Newark and one in Irvington, according to Police Inspector O'Neil of Newark. They are Walter Lada, 17, of 334 Oliver street, Newark, and John Kisukiewicz, 21, alias Jackie Pete who was shot trying to escape from Police near his home at 82 Somme street, Newark. They are charged by Newark police with armed robbery, conspiracy to rob and carrying concealed weapons, and await arraignment here on similar charges. The seven were rounded up after Newark police traced a gray Stetson hat dropped by Lada when the youths held up Kay's department store. They checked every hat store and cleaner from the Ironbound section to High street, Newark, and finally found a cleaner who identified it, police reported. Others in the gang are Steve Borowski, 18, of 406 Walnut street, Peter Liverakas, 20, of 98 Howard street; Bernard Gottlieb, 18, of 33 Marne street; Gerald Tretola, 18, of 98 Nassau street, all of Newark, and George Chadwick, 18, Navy seaman of 22 St. Luke's place, Montclair. ## Two Held for Grand Jury on Conspiracy to Burglarize

Nicholas Bello of 34 Franklin avenue, Nutley and C. Bertram Richmond of 245 Centre street, Nutley, proprietor of Richmond's diner at 709 Washington avenue, are held by Belleville police for Grand Jury action on a complaint signed by local police stating that they conspired on the premises of 709 Washington avenue to "commit the crime of burglary" at the Endurette company in Cliffwood. Bello was arraigned in recorder's court on Tuesday and is held in $2,500 bail. Richmond was arraigned last night and is held in $1,000 bail put up by Philip Orechio of 43 Washington avenue, Nutley. A third man is still to be apprehended. According to police, Richmond is charged with instigating the robbery of materials from the Cliffwood concern to cover for his brother-in-law, production manager there, when a shortage of materials became evident prior to inventory.

"Body" Found in Street by Police Is Blood-Stained Manequin

An urgent call from the desk at Police headquarters sent Officers Flynn and Ugoliaro who were cruising in a police car Tuesday night, dashing to Franklin and Belleville avenues on the report that a "body" was lying, lifeless, in the street. The call to headquarters was anonymous since the person who said he was telephoning from the Milk bar, didn't want to get "implicated." Investigation proved the "body" to be a mannequin, in blood-stained clothing. It is now at headquarters. Photostat Discharge Papers Free For Service Men

Public Safety Director King has announced that all discharged service men may have their discharge papers photostated free of charge at police headquarters. Police Officer Harry Winfield is in charge of the service.

WATERS OUTLINES ROAD PROJECTS COSTING $80,000

Submits List to Board For Approval, After Lifting of WPB Restrictions

Public Works Director Waters in a letter to the board of commissioners on Tuesday night, outlined for approval, a list of road projects for next year, totalling $80,000, exclusive of new streets for which state aid is sought. He stated that the projects are suggested since, with the lifting of War Production Board bans, limitations on new construction and maintenance have been released by the government. Stating that they may be taken under individual consideration since some require large expenditures, he urged that maintenance projects totalling $18,700 be approved and appropriations made early in the year so that his department may continue the program started this year with the resurfacing of Little street and Tappan avenue. The director also stated that his department will need three trucks and a mechanical loader to replace equipment purchased in 1931 and 1936, which should cost around $13,000. Estimates have been made for resurfacing the following streets with bituminous concrete: Malone avenue from Washington avenue to Forest street, $6,500; Overlook avenue from Washington avenue to Forest street, $7,200; Tiona avenue from Union avenue to Forest street, $3,000 and Tappan avenue from Union avenue to Adelaide street, $2,400.

APARTMENTS ON AVENUE ASSURED

Commissioners Grant Zone Change for 63 Units to be Built by New York Firm

The board of commissioners passed an amendment to the zoning ordinance on second and third readings Tuesday night, extending Residence C zone on Washington avenue at Greylock parkway 250 to allow the erection of a garden-type apartment there by the Wilton Housing corporation of New York City. Public Affairs Director Mertz informed the board that while the firm has not yet applied for a building permit, he will request a change in the plans which have been filed. There is no provision for cellars in any of the buildings except that housing the incinerator, he said, and consequently, no storage space for tenants. Lack of a rear entrance in the buildings which will have 63 apartments also creates a fire hazard, he observed. The zone change was passed unanimously by the board on the recommendation of the board of adjustment which ruled at its meeting last week that it does not have authority to grant exceptions to existing zones beyond 150 feet. Parks and Public Safety Director Noll stated that he voted for the change since the board of adjustment recommended it. He observed that the board of adjustment did not recommend the change two years ago when property owners in the vicinity petitioned against a proposed garden-type apartment on the same site. Robert Gruhin, local attorney, urged the board to grant the variance by resolution instead of by an amendment to the zoning ordinance on the grounds that further encroachments into Residence A district would not then be possible. Mayor Williams pointed out that proposed changes should be advertised in zone changes is mandatory for amendments to ordinances, a condition which does not apply to resolutions passed by the board.

JUNIOR DIVISION FOR STAMP CLUB

The Rev. Marshall Whitehead, president, has announced that a junior division of the Belleville Stamp club, will be formed at a meeting at Grace Baptist church at 7:30 this evening. All stamp collectors between the ages of twelve and sixteen are invited to become members of the junior club. Those over sixteen are welcome to become members of the senior club which meets at the church every second and fourth Wednesday evening of each month. The Belleville Stamp club was organized a little over a year ago, and has had continuous growth, attracting members from six surrounding communities. An exhibit by its members was held in the local library last spring, and a similar and larger effort is again being planned. Several donations have been made to "Stamps for the Wounded" of the latest of which is usually attractive through the generosity of Philip Dettelbach who supplied most of the material. George Snow and LeRoy Davenport of the senior club will act as sponsors with Rev. Whitehead in helping to guide the junior division.

Canine Vet Still Does Her Bit

Member of K-9 Corps Now at Capitol in Behalf of National War Fund

The Congressional Coat of Arms has been awarded this week by the War department to Marine Lieut. Rita, four-year old Belgian Shepard who as a veteran of over two years in active combat in the K-9 corps, is still doing her part in nightly appearances in the lobby of the Capitol theatre on behalf of the National War fund, a participating agency in the Belleville Community Chest Victory drive. Rita, a slight female who has been parachuted with supplies, seven times over enemy territory and twice wounded, is owned by G. E. McKee of 808 Mt. Prospect avenue who sent all six of his Belgian Shepards into military service. Rita, his favorite now, is the only one to be discharged so far. Two of her relatives are known to be lost in service to their country and the fate of the other three is not yet definitely known. During her 27 months in active duty, Rita has been in combat in Africa, New Guinea and the Burma road as well as in the South Pacific with the Marines. While in New Guinea, she was the sole survivor of a group of Marines who lost their lives under shell fire of shelling in a cave on the island. She was trained by her owner at Frank Buck's Jungle Camp on Long Island in guard and patrol duties, carrying Red Cross first aid supplies and parachuting. Members of the K-9 corps are not generally retrained for civilian life, McKee said yesterday. While Rita remembers her war

The board of commissioners will meet Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock to sit as an excise board for consideration of an application for a tavern license at 382 Union avenue made by Sgt. Frank Risolo, now in service. Public Safety Director King stated it is his opinion that the board of commissioners should take all liquor applications under advisement as an excise board. Risolo who has been in service three years, has lived in town for fifteen years and is a graduate of Belleville High school, it was stated.

First Feminine Member of Library Board Resigns

Mrs. Frederick Dodd Has Served as Trustee for Twenty-two Years

The first feminine member of the Library board of trustees, Mrs. Frederick Dodd of 86 Division avenue who has served for the past 22 years, has given her resignation. Parks and Public Property Director Noll announced yesterday. Noll under whose department jurisdiction of the Library board falls, has not yet named a successor. Appointed to the board on May 1, 1925, by the late Mayor John De Graw, Mrs. Dodd estimated yesterday that she hasn't missed more than half a dozen monthly meetings of the board in her more than two decades of service. She was named president on September 8, 1938 on the death of James K. Alexander and has retained that post for the past seven years. Coming to town in September of 1908, she has watched the institution grow almost from its beginning as a book club in old School No. 1 when members operated it two or three days a week, during school hours. As it grew, the library moved to Theodore L. Browne's store on William street and later to 132 Washington avenue the location of the present Crescent Press. Mrs. Dodd was present at the laying of the corner stone for the present building in 1911. The first regular meeting of the board of

KIDDE HIKES HOURLY INCREASE IN CIO DISPUTE

Second Offer Will be Presented to Union Representatives This Afternoon

A flat increase of ten cents an hour for all hourly employees of Walter Kidde and Co. Inc. will be offered by the company at a meeting with representatives of Local 420, of the United Electrical, Radio Machine Workers, CIO this afternoon at 4:45. This is a three cent an hour increase over its first proposals in negotiating a new contract which was rejected by the union on Friday night. The union is seeking a twenty-percent increase in line with the CIO national campaign for a $2 a day pay raise. Approximately 1,300 hourly employees are affected by the dispute in the Belleville and Bloomfield plants. Before work picketing was staged at the entrances of the local plant on Monday and Tuesday mornings this week. A company spokesman in a statement yesterday, said, "This increase will affect not only those now employed but any who may be rehired who were laid off after VJ Day and also those servicemen who may return after serving in the armed forces. It increases the top of the wages band ten percent. All increases beyond the top of the present wage band will be on a merit basis and determined by review every four months. "The immediate increase of ten cents an hour affects all hourly employees up to or very close to the top of the new wage band. This, the company feels, meets the objections the union is raising, to the merit system for increases." It is understood that in negotiating the new contract, the union is disputing the company's retention of the right to give raises on the merit system. The union claims that this would "cause chaos and insecurity among the workers" and states that all production workers must be union members. The salaried employees are not unionized. A company official stated earlier this week that the demands of the union are exorbitant since Kidde hourly employees have enjoyed a 45 percent increase in their basic wage since 1941. Although the take home pay has been reduced because of a shorter work week, the present wage structure is above the average for industries in the area, he said.

Twice Wounded, Rita Gets Award For Combat Duty

Member of K-9 Corps Now at Capitol in Behalf of National War Fund

The Congressional Coat of Arms has been awarded this week by the War department to Marine Lieut. ## $5,027 REPORTED IN CHEST DRIVE

First Returns Tabulated Monday; Conscientious Coverage in House Canvass

Initial reports of $5,027 were made this week in the Belleville Community Chest Victory drive for a quota of $50,000 to provide operating funds for five local participating agencies, the National War fund and Associated Catholic Charities for the coming year. Drive officials stated yesterday that the first report of zone captains in the house canvass on Monday night indicates an excellent and conscientious job of coverage is being done in most cases. Because of the slight returns however, it is impossible to compare contributions with those of last year. It is expected that the next report meeting on Monday night will show a sizeable increase in returns and indicate the general trend. Drive officials feel some concern over the harmful effects of possible strikes in the area which may delay the conduct of the drive in the plants affected. The drive among school employees got under way this week after a meeting of principals, Superintendent of Schools, Wayne R. Parmer and School Board President Joseph Arnold with Frank McCadden, drive chairman, on Monday. The special gifts division has completed half its solicitation and the majority of contributions are equal to those of last year and some are larger, it is understood. The professional list being solicited by members of the Lions club is also making an exceptional showing, officials state.

Town Attorney to Compile List Of Town-Owned Property

Mayor Williams requested Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan to compile a list of town-owned property at Tuesday night's pre-commission meeting. The request was made after Robert Gruhin, local attorney representing William Werner of 180 Fairway avenue stated that his client is interested in purchasing a lot at 17-178 Fairway avenue which is under contract of sale to the Conforti Engineering company. Keenan explained that Conforti had completed half of his contract when he was given an extension by resolution for the duration, because of priorities on building materials which would necessitate the erection of lower priced homes. It is understood that he has been asked to indicate this week what action he will take on his contract now that priorities have eased.

KIDDE HIKES HOURLY INCREASE IN CIO DISPUTE

Second Offer Will be Presented to Union Representatives This Afternoon

A flat increase of ten cents an hour for all hourly employees of Walter Kidde and Co. Inc. will be offered by the company at a meeting with representatives of Local 420, of the United Electrical, Radio Machine Workers, CIO this afternoon at 4:45. This is a three cent an hour increase over its first proposals in negotiating a new contract which was rejected by the union on Friday night. The union is seeking a twenty-percent increase in line with the CIO national campaign for a $2 a day pay raise. Approximately 1,300 hourly employees are affected by the dispute in the Belleville and Bloomfield plants. Before work picketing was staged at the entrances of the local plant on Monday and Tuesday mornings this week. A company spokesman in a statement yesterday, said, "This increase will affect not only those now employed but any who may be rehired who were laid off after VJ Day and also those servicemen who may return after serving in the armed forces. It increases the top of the wages band ten percent. All increases beyond the top of the present wage band will be on a merit basis and determined by review every four months. "The immediate increase of ten cents an hour affects all hourly employees up to or very close to the top of the new wage band. This, the company feels, meets the objections the union is raising, to the merit system for increases." It is understood that in negotiating the new contract, the union is disputing the company's retention of the right to give raises on the merit system. The union claims that this would "cause chaos and insecurity among the workers" and states that all production workers must be union members. The salaried employees are not unionized. A company official stated earlier this week that the demands of the union are exorbitant since Kidde hourly employees have enjoyed a 45 percent increase in their basic wage since 1941. Although the take home pay has been reduced because of a shorter work week, the present wage structure is above the average for industries in the area, he said.

Twice Wounded, Rita Gets Award For Combat Duty

Member of K-9 Corps Now at Capitol in Behalf of National War Fund

The Congressional Coat of Arms has been awarded this week by the War department to Marine Lieut. Rita, four-year old Belgian Shepard who as a veteran of over two years in active combat in the K-9 corps, is still doing her part in nightly appearances in the lobby of the Capitol theatre on behalf of the National War fund, a participating agency in the Belleville Community Chest Victory drive. Rita, a slight female who has been parachuted with supplies, seven times over enemy territory and twice wounded, is owned by G. E. McKee of 808 Mt. Prospect avenue who sent all six of his Belgian Shepards into military service. Rita, his favorite now, is the only one to be discharged so far. Two of her relatives are known to be lost in service to their country and the fate of the other three is not yet definitely known. During her 27 months in active duty, Rita has been in combat in Africa, New Guinea and the Burma road as well as in the South Pacific with the Marines. While in New Guinea, she was the sole survivor of a group of Marines who lost their lives under shell fire of shelling in a cave on the island. She was trained by her owner at Frank Buck's Jungle Camp on Long Island in guard and patrol duties, carrying Red Cross first aid supplies and parachuting. Members of the K-9 corps are not generally retrained for civilian life, McKee said yesterday. While Rita remembers her war

$5,027 REPORTED IN CHEST DRIVE

First Returns Tabulated Monday; Conscientious Coverage in House Canvass

Initial reports of $5,027 were made this week in the Belleville Community Chest Victory drive for a quota of $50,000 to provide operating funds for five local participating agencies, the National War fund and Associated Catholic Charities for the coming year. Drive officials stated yesterday that the first report of zone captains in the house canvass on Monday night indicates an excellent and conscientious job of coverage is being done in most cases. Because of the slight returns however, it is impossible to compare contributions with those of last year. It is expected that the next report meeting on Monday night will show a sizeable increase in returns and indicate the general trend. Drive officials feel some concern over the harmful effects of possible strikes in the area which may delay the conduct of the drive in the plants affected. The drive among school employees got under way this week after a meeting of principals, Superintendent of Schools, Wayne R. Parmer and School Board President Joseph Arnold with Frank McCadden, drive chairman, on Monday. The special gifts division has completed half its solicitation and the majority of contributions are equal to those of last year and some are larger, it is understood. The professional list being solicited by members of the Lions club is also making an exceptional showing, officials state.

Town Attorney to Compile List Of Town-Owned Property

Mayor Williams requested Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan to compile a list of town-owned property at Tuesday night's pre-commission meeting. The request was made after Robert Gruhin, local attorney representing William Werner of 180 Fairway avenue stated that his client is interested in purchasing a lot at 17-178 Fairway avenue which is under contract of sale to the Conforti Engineering company. Keenan explained that Conforti had completed half of his contract when he was given an extension by resolution for the duration, because of priorities on building materials which would necessitate the erection of lower priced homes. It is understood that he has been asked to indicate this week what action he will take on his contract now that priorities have eased.

Excise Board Will Consider Tavern License Application

The board of commissioners will meet Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock to sit as an excise board for consideration of an application for a tavern license at 382 Union avenue made by Sgt. Frank Risolo, now in service. Public Safety Director King stated it is his opinion that the board of commissioners should take all liquor applications under advisement as an excise board. Risolo's representative pointed out that the soldier expects to receive his discharge around November 1. Risolo who has been in service three years, has lived in town for fifteen years and is a graduate of Belleville High school, it was stated.

THERE'D SOON BE TELEPHONE SERVICE
FOR EVERYONE WHO WANTS IT

Telephone instruments are now coming off assembly lines at the rate of 100,000 per month; this monthly production will be doubled after the first of the year.

But telephone instruments and telephone service are two entirely different things!

The telephone instruments you see above are less than one-tenth of what is required to give telephone service.

We can make them on assembly lines, very much like refrigerators or automobiles. But the hardest and longest part of the job—the part where assembly lines are out of the question—comes with the manufacture and installation of switchboard equipment to permit New Jersey's 204 exchanges to handle additional subscribers.

The job is well started—15,000 now waiting will be cared for before the year is out... and additional thousands every month in 1946. You may be sure the job will be pushed as fast as humanly possible until we can again serve everyone promptly.

Catholic Charities Account
Of 1944 Aid In This Area

Chest Agency Financed Family
And Child Care, Hospital,
Institutional Service

A breakdown of the service rendered in the Belleville area by the Associated Catholic Charities was distributed on Sunday in all local Roman Catholic churches by authority of Archbishop Thomas J. Walsh. The associated Catholic Charities has a quota of $15,000 as a participating agency in the Belleville Community Chest Victory drive.

The agency has a four-fold service available to all denominations. It includes family and general welfare, child care, health and hospital service and youth and recreational activities.

Funds are used in the maintenance of nine Catholic hospitals in the Archdiocese of Newark, seventeen day nurseries and nursery schools, thirteen orphanages and four institutions for specialized care of the blind and aged.

Funds were used in the Belleville area last year in the family and general welfare division to serve forty families composed of 36 adults and 23 children; fifteen welfare and domestic problems; four aged; six unwed mothers and one adult delinquent.

Institutional care was given to ten persons for health reasons for a total of 593 days; one woman received 332 days of correctional care; and eight aged persons received 1,884 days of specialized care, making a total of 2,809 days of institutional care for nineteen persons. A total of 1,358 persons received 249,542 days of institutional care in the archdiocese.

In the Belleville area the Catholic Children's Aid association served 25 families, 51 adults and 33 children last year; placed eight children; supervised three children in their own homes; supervised two juvenile delinquents in their own homes and gave special services for adoption and foster homes to twelve children.

Children given institutional and foster care in this area amounted to 26 receiving 6,112 days; two children received 503 days of health care; four 1,146 days of correctional care and five, 1,578 days of specialized care, for a total of 37 children receiving 9,739 days of service last year. Total institutional and foster care in the archdiocese amounted to 2,176 children receiving 473,779 days of care.

The Catholic Child Care council last year placed two people for 408 days care in the Barbara Givernaud orphanage in North Bergen; four for 1,146 days in the Catholic Protectory, Arlington; one for 88 days in the Sacred Heart orphanage, Kearny; six for 2,196 days in St. Anthony's orphanage, Arlington; six for 1,376 days in St. Francis orphanage, Union City; one for 122 days in St. Joseph's Home for Boys, Englewood; four for 1,464 days in St. Mary's orphanage, Newark; one for 20 days in St. Peter's orphanage, Newark; five for 838 days in St. Walburga's orphanage, Roselle and two for 503 days in St. Vincent's nursery, Montclair.

Specialized care was given to six people last year in the Belleville area for 1,509 days at the Home for the Aged of the Little Sisters of the Poor, Newark and two persons for 375 days in Mount St. Andrew's, Ridgewood.

Funds were also used for the Mount Carmel Guild a volunteer organization of Catholic women of the Archdiocese of Newark, in giving emergency aid to needy families. The Guild in 1944 served a total of 6,994 adults and children of whom the Belleville Chest area contributed 59 adults and children. The Catholic Youth organization also benefited from funds contributed last year. It had a total membership in the archdiocese of 136,306 with 950 in the local area. Its leisure time program includes athletic and radio activities, parish recreation centers, lectures and study groups.

fulness," he says. Never known to direct and lead his flock he would rather "inspire them a bit and then throw them out in the middle of the stream." "Of course you sometimes have to pull one out," he adds, smiling.

It was this same simplicity of character perhaps, that prompted him to refuse the board of trustees' offer to give him an automobile during his second year at Fews-Smith. Perhaps he remembered when he travelled 150 miles on foot to the University of Chattanooga to take up his studies for the ministry for the very good reason that he didn't possess the money to provide speedier travel. At any rate, he has been walking ever since and a conservative estimate of the distance he has travelled on Belleville streets during his two decades here, would easily cover the globe.

The characteristic dropped out again in his reply to the board of trustees in 1930 in a letter now part of their records, on their repeated attempts to give him a raise in salary. He wrote then, "Three times during the last five years an increase in my salary has been proposed and once I discouraged and twice gratefully accepted this kindness. My salary at present is smaller than the average in the Presbytery. Fews-Smith will in all reasonable probability continue to grow, nevertheless I will not accept another increase in salary while I am pastor. My present salary is adequate for the simple life I prefer to live and I make this statement as an emphatic repudiation of those shameful appraisals of churches and ministers based on the pastor's salary."

Aided Foundation

One of his special interests is the Belleville Foundation which he was instrumental in forming. As a member of the projects committee of the Defense Council he invited Harry Specht now Foundation president to serve with him. When Specht suggested that his church-industry group of the National Association of Manufacturers combine with Dr. Close's committee, Dr. Close arranged the first meeting. It was at the third meeting of this group that the idea of the establishment of the Foundation was formed and the charter was later signed in Dr. Close's home on Tiona avenue.

Although he is retiring officially on October 15, Dr. Close will not be entirely divorced from Belleville. He expects to continue his interest in the Foundation and will be back at Thanksgiving to take the service at Christ Episcopal church at the invitation of the Ministers' club, as a farewell address to Belleville people. The ministers requested this when he refused to sanction the usual farewell reception the club gives for members leaving town.

The church has grown from a charter membership of 252 to 700. Dr. Close organized the church basketball league and provided the gymnasium for games that like his services have been well attended by many of other denominations. There were eight Fews-Smith quintets before the war and the team in the Newark Church league won the championship four successive years, taking all games in the last two. Bowling has always been popular at Fews-Smith also, with as many as fifty players using the alley free of charge and many more on the waiting list.

The Men's club is a thriving organization formed soon after the church was dedicated in February, 1926. The women have formed a guild with a junior guild for younger girls, a missionary society, a fellowship circle, mothers' club and a comparative religion group.

Early History

Dr. Close's early history was recalled last year on the occasion of his fiftieth anniversary in the ministry. He received his early training in the country schools of Tennessee and after graduating from the University of Chattanooga, returned to the Cumberland where he remained for five years as a missionary.

He later had pastorates in Nashville and Atlanta and came to New Jersey in December, 1913. He lectured privately for ten years for five years while he resided in Millburn. He became Essex County Assemblyman during World War I and afterwards organized and built a church at Carney's Point an industrial center on the Delaware river, across from Wilmington.

At the end of three years, he received a call to the Weequahic Presbyterian church in Newark and at this time was named moderator of the Presbytery. While retaining this capacity the Presbytery became interested in establishing a church here and Dr. Close presented the idea to 25 or 30 people in town hall in November, 1924. The church was organized the first Sunday in December with a charter membership of 252, a number hitherto unheard of for charter members.

The old Fews-Smith church of Newark had at that time been sold and holders of the mortgage had defaulted. Dr. Close sought permission of the Presbytery to attempt realization of funds on this mortgage with the assurance that the name Fews-Smith would be perpetuated in a church here. Insultant proceeds built the church at Union avenue and Little street which was completed and dedicated in February 1926.

Dr. and Mrs. Close are the parents of three sons, Bernard, an attorney for the Century Indemnity Company of Hartford; Carlisle, in the Army Air Corps stationed in New Mexico; and Ted now working for an insurance group in Buffalo. Mrs. B. E. Failing and Mrs. Birdsell Rowland Jr., both of town, are their daughters.

She organized the Home Missionary society at Wesley Methodist church in 1910 and is a past president and acting secretary of the Ladies Aid society. At present she is corresponding secretary of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

In addition, Mrs. Dodd has accumulated over 3,000 hours of production work for the local Red Cross chapter during the past five years, a record for the chapter. She is also past president and now recording secretary for the Ray Palmer club of Newark.

Junior Council members of the Girl Scouts who met Tuesday afternoon, to inaugurate that body, will be occupied with special duties in preparation for Girl Scout week observations here from October 28 to November 3. After that they will hold a meeting to elect officers.

Mrs. Charles Speed, program chairman, met with the girls Tuesday. Each junior council meeting will be attended by a member of the adult council for the purpose of transmitting the girls' point of view and ideas to the governing body. Incorporation of these suggestions into the council planning, it is felt, will greatly augment the effectiveness of scouting in Belleville.

Girls who were elected by their troops to form the youthful council are Connie Sprague, troop 2; Bonnie Slier, troop 3; Dolores Higgins, troop 4; Jean Lund, troop 6; Carol Orth, troop 7; Betty Jane Jewell, troop 9; Cynthia Thomas, troop 10.

Bronze Star Catches Up With Ex-Repair Crew Chief

Anton Till Jr., Receives Award For Ingenuity in Front Line Communications Work

The Bronze Star awarded T/Sgt. Anton M. Till Jr., for ingenuity in maintaining operational control for the 6th Cavalry group of Gen. Patton's Third army, has followed the 38 year old into civilian life which he resumed just two weeks ago.

As a member of the 187th Signal Repair company, Till, on his own initiative, moved his bulky shop truck up to the forward units and made front line repairs almost in the face of the enemy, during Patton's march through France, Belgium and Germany. He operated a ten man crew and his was the only section in which all crew members received the Bronze Star medal.

Abroad twenty-two months, Till at first refused his Bronze Star citation. If he had accepted it, he would have been discharged long before, under the point system. Till's section had a close encounter with some German 88's at Wiltz, Germany, and again at Coblenz. In March, they reached the famous Buchenwald concentration camp which lived up to all descriptions. Fifty bodies machine gunned by the SS the previous day, along with the infamous gas chambers, were found on their arrival.

The 187th was awarded five battle stars and the meritorious service plaque. Returned to this country on June 10, the outfit was sent to Fort Jackson, Va., where Till instructed in radio and gave talks on his experiences.

He enlisted in March, 1942, and was married last August to the former Miss Dolores Duffy of Newark. The couple are now making their home with his parents at 80 Bremond street. (Picture on page 4, Second Section.)

Former President Hoover will address the 75th anniversary convocation October 13. Lieut. Commander Margaret C. Disert, USNR, Wilson's dean-on-leave, will lead the forum "Citizenship and Peace", opening jubilee event, October 12. Dr. William B. Lange, of St. Louis, moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., will deliver the sermon at the anniversary service, October 11.

Montgomery School

The program committee of Montgomery School P.T.A. has planned a "Membership Sketch" for Tuesday evening meeting at 8 in the school playground. Increased enrollment in the association is their goal.

School No. 3

The reading group of School No. 3 P.T.A. will meet this evening at 8:30 at the home of Mrs. Dwight Streeter, 151 Jorammon street, when Pleasant Valley, by Louis Brofield and A. Star Danced by Gertrude Lawrence will be discussed.

The regular monthly meeting of the P.T.A. will be held Tuesday evening with classroom visitations at 7:15. The business meeting will start at 8:15 and will be followed by a talk, "What is Our Victory?" by Mrs. Durand Taylor of South Orange, vice-chairman of the Commission to Study the Organization for Peace. An open discussion is invited.

Thirteen year old Eduard Bergamini will entertain with his accordion and songs. Hostess will be Mrs. Carl Hiltnerhaus and Mrs. Raymond O'Brien on the first and second floors and Mrs. Richard Breckenridge and Mrs. Charles Rohler at the desk. This meeting marks the end of the membership drive and a 100 percent family representation is expected. Classrooms with the highest percentage of parents present will be awarded a prize, one for the upper and one for the lower grades.

The executive board met at the home of Mrs. John D. Boyd yesterday afternoon.

Greylock School

The parent education group of Greylock P.T.A. will hold the first of a fall series of informal discussions Wednesday afternoon in the school library at two o'clock. "Parents and Teachers as Partners" will be the assigned topic.

Plans for future meetings are under way and are in charge of Mrs. Robert Metcalf and Mrs. Einar Steffenson, co-chairman and Mrs. Edward Churchwell, chairman of the committee. All P.T.A. members have been invited to enter into these forums.

Monday evening Dr. Thomas J. Brosnan, vocational guidance director of Belleville schools, spoke to the general association on "Mature Attitudes in Social Relationships." He stressed the tendency of all human beings to postpone, evade and ignore those activities that are inevitable but difficult.

In this respect, he pointed out, one of the most important phases of education has been evaded; namely, social relationships of a personal nature. Since the young child is interested in "self" his parents and educators should make a particular effort to coordinate him with society by listening for his problems and making clear-cut answers.

Each child, said Dr. Brosnan, will want different explanations and interpretations of society since each will have had different experiences. He cited the importance of instructing children through experience and concrete example rather than by verbal and abstract teaching.

Dr. Brosnan also warned that children absorb unconsciously the attitudes of those around them and that it is therefore of the utmost importance that parents, guardians and teachers have correct attitudes and personal relationships.

BELLBOYS BOW TO BENGALS 18-13

Rain-Soaked Fans Witness First Defeat of Locals At Stadium

Before 3,500 soaked fans Bloomfield downed Belleville by an 18 to 13 score Saturday. Belleville drew first blood in the second period, when a kick blocked by Smith and recovered by Padney gave Belleville the ball on Bloomfield's two yard line. Smith bulled over on the next play, but Del Vecchio's plunge for the extra point failed.

The situation was reversed in the same period, however, when a blocked kick gave Bloomfield the ball on Belleville's nine. It took Bloomfield three plays to bring the ball to the one where Palmo plunged it over. The extra point was not converted.

With atomic suddenness Bloomfield took the lead in the third period when Palmo, receiving a punt on his 15, dodged puddles and Belleville players for a brilliant 85 yard run to score. Again the plunge for the extra point failed.

In the fourth period Belleville roared back to tie the score again. Another blocked punt gave Belleville the ball on Bloomfield's 30. On third down Don Smith pitched the slippery pigskin into the waiting arms of John Distasio in the end zone from his own 25. When Smith plunged over for the extra point, Belleville took what seemed like a decisive advantage.

The Bengals, however, were far from tamed. A short kickoff gave them the ball on their 49. In two plays the ball was advanced to the 36. A penalty put the ball back on the 41; but on the next play Palmo, with six minutes of play remaining, streaked through a hole in the line to score. The try for extra point failed.

With four minutes left Belleville took to the air; but a Bloomfield interception stopped the spurt.

The line-up:

Score by periods:
Bloomfield 0 6 6 6—18
Belleville 0 6 0 7—13

Touchdowns—Palmo (3); Smith, John Distasio. Point after touchdown—Smith, Referee—Smith. Umpire—Olsen. Linesman—Winkler.

Kegler Does The "Impossible"

A KEGLER'S DREAM was realized last week by Kenneth Kenning of Reed's Drug store team, member of the North Newark Recreation B league when he bowled a perfect 300. Reward for this feat which was the first in the country this year, it is claimed, and the first in the history of the North Newark alleys, is shown above as Kenning receives a war bond from James Ferrara Jr. It is estimated that a perfect score is won about once in a million games. Kenning who averages 175, the team's average, achieved the perfect score after fifteen years of bowling. Pressure was heavy as he put the ball in the one-three pocket, frame after frame. In the ninth frame, he hit the head pin light but the pins scattered and dropped. The last three balls then hit the pocket for the first 300 game in the history of the North Newark Recreation. Kenning started off the night with a low 136, then hit 204 and then the 300 game for a 640 series. His team is contending with Tri-County Hardware for top honors in the league.

GUARD AGAINST UNSAFE TIRES

OPA Warns of Racket in Junk Tires Masquerading as Sound Recaps

"With a number of dangerous junk tires reported masquerading in trade channels as sound used or recapped tires, District OPA Director Richard J. Tarrant today listed a four-point guide for purchasers to follow in guarding themselves against this 'vicious racket.'"

Tarrant said the enforcement division of the District OPA here is taking part in a nationwide OPA effort to stamp out the racket "which is endangering the lives of men, women, and children on the highways of the Nation." He urged motorists and dealers to inspect carefully any used or recapped tires they purchase.

Recappers, he said, are buying dangerously worn and useless tires in junk yards, and are doing superficial repair and recapping jobs to make them appear to be sound used tires. He warned that a blow-out, and possible dangerous highway accident, are inevitable since such tires cannot stand the strain of even moderate speed.

He listed the following four points for motorists to check when buying used tires:

1. The tire should have a tread design, and no space four inches or longer should be without tread design.

2. The inside of the tire should be examined to see that it has no emergency repairs such as boots, reliners and cold patches, and it does not have more than three vulcanized repairs.

3. It should not have a repair that covers up a cut or break that is longer than half the tire's cross section diameter.

4. The tire must not be water-soaked, dry rotted, hard or worn through more than half the plies. In buying a recapped tire or having a tire recapped, purchasers should check the following: the basic tire carcass which must be sound and the tire must have a finished tread that adheres uniformly. It must not have bulges or sunken areas and must not be porous.

A Chance For Service
The Junior Achievement movement in town has successfully launched four companies of enterprising students interested in learning all phases of operating a business. It is providing invaluable experience to teen-agers anxious to find the niche for which they will be best suited when they get into the business world.

The movement, made possible here by the sponsorship of local industries, provides the young participants with opportunities to take advantage of the state and national Junior Achievement programs through the speakers corps and radio-broadcasts. In addition, it should build the all-important foundation of a greater understanding between labor and management in the minds of these young folks who, through active participation in all phases of a small business, can more readily understand the problems on both sides.

Junior Achievement leaders are anxious to expand the program with the addition of five more companies so that the advantages and fun may be made available to more Belleville young people. Facilities for photography and chemistry have been added to the existing production lines.

Yet, formation of the new companies is being held up for lack of adult advisors who are able to devote one night a week to directing the young folks in sales methods, finance, production or bookkeeping. An appeal was made two weeks ago by Junior Achievement officials. Since that time, one man has volunteered his services by sending his name to the Belleville Times-News office.

There are surely many business men in town with the time available to direct a company in one phase of business operation. There are surely men who would become deeply interested in these teen-agers' accomplishments if they would take the initial step of offering their services. The organization, facilities and enthusiastic youngsters are ready and waiting. All they need is interested guidance along commonsense business lines. Adult apathy is the last factor that should hinder the development of such a worth-while movement.

The Saving Vice
Since the Sermon on the Mount moralists have condemned man's selfishness; but, like so many things, this unlovely trait has its compensating side.
Out of man's selfishness, on the one hand, have grown all those ugly forces of destruction which have brought the species to the verge of extinction. Poverty, ignorance, starvation and disease, these could have been eradicated long ago had it not been for man's greed. And war, the supreme threat of annihilation, was the crowning folly of his blind devotion to his own immediate, petty interests.

Yet, contemplating life in Europe during these war years, one wonders what might have happened to the human race had man not been so absorbed in his own selfish pursuits.

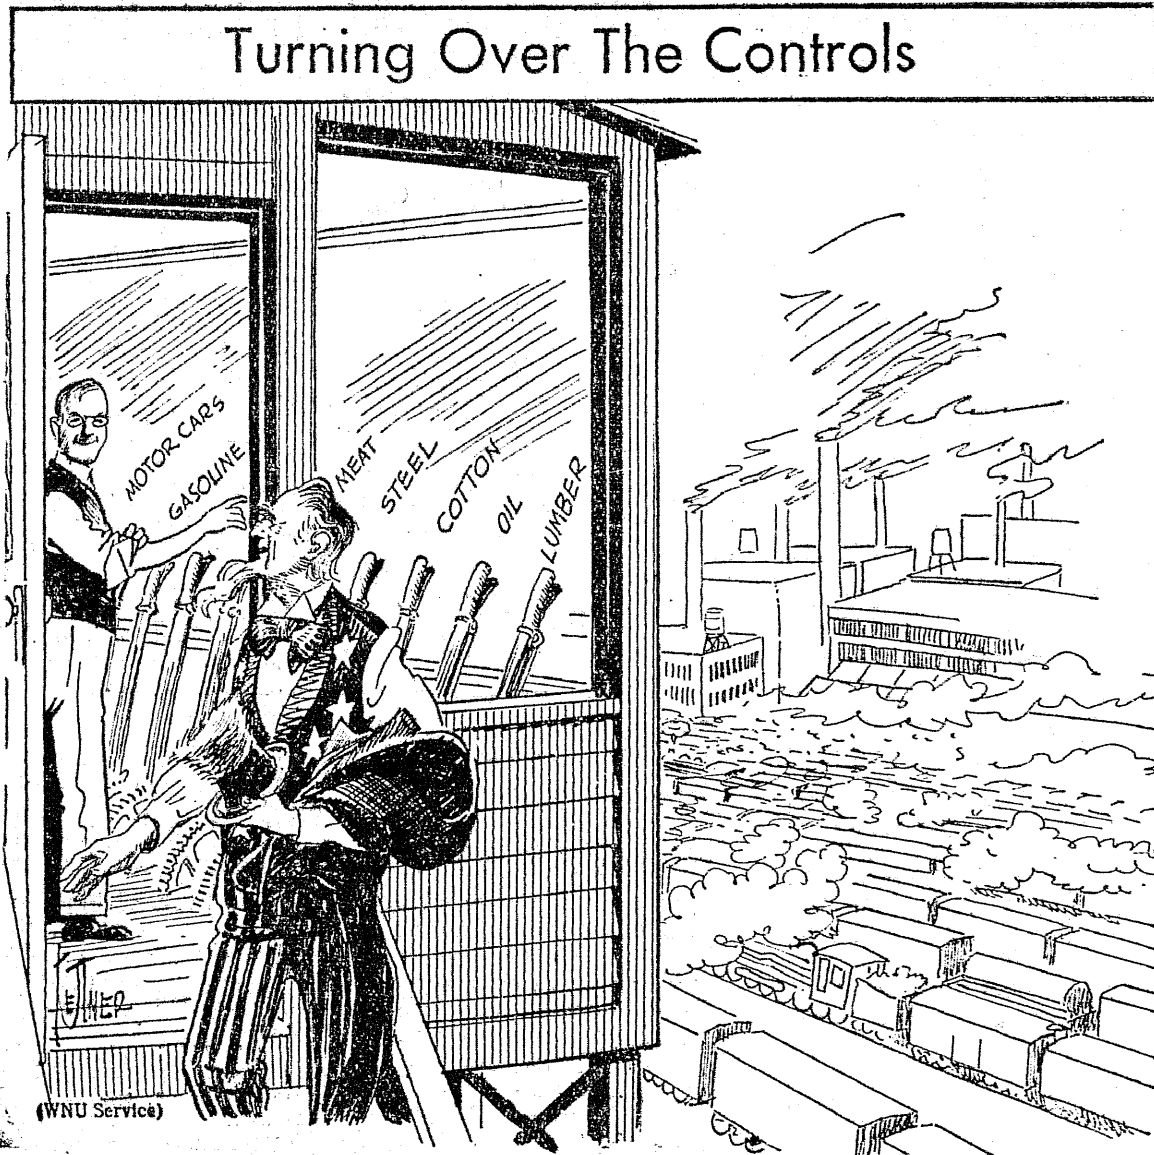

Until the Allied armies liberated France, the world speculated on the manner of life in a country trampled by troops, stripped of its goods and held in bitter conquest. Now we know that, amid all the desolation of spirit, life went on. Frenchmen tilled their fields, harvested their crops, conducted their shops, worked in their factories, as always. Births, marriages, deaths, the whole rise and fall of the arc of life, continued, even as starvation and disease added their black hues to the shadow of the storm trooper.

All over the world the story has been the same. The Russian peasant, the Chinese coolie, the English business man, Greeks, Danes, Norwegians, Italians — all have managed somehow, amid the ebb and flow of war, to press the pursuit of those eternal necessities, food for the stomach, rags to keep warm, and a roof for shelter. The will to live, to protect one's own, rides above the storm of war.

Man is the architect of his own undoing; yet after he has brought the world crashing about his ears, he crawls pathetically forth from his ruins to seek anew the life he has made so hazardous. A strange, pitiful creature, struggling to escape the toils of his own devising. All the longings of his spirit call him to the heights where he could dwell in dignity; yet his own ineptitude keeps him bound abjectly to the earth to grub for the bare bones of existence.

Some day, in some far-off millenium, man no doubt will be free of the shackles his selfishness has forged upon him. Then he will look back in pity on the frailties of his forebears. But, dark though the nature of man now may be, that noble creature of the future probably will heave a sigh of thanksgiving that the vice of selfishness which so often brought him to the brink of extinction, also saved his silly neck.

October
Usually the most beautiful of months, October this year seems reluctant to show her charms. Instead of brilliant, golden days, when the glory of the hunter's sun is reflected in the yellow of fields and woods, there has been too much rain, too many lowering clouds. But we have faith in October. Before month's end, the leaves will be turning. At the far end of meadows maples and birches will flaunt their yellows and reds. The drifting smoke of burnt leaves will cast a filmy blue haze over all; late afternoons will be softened in amber and violet, and the tang in the air will add spring to the step and sparkle to the eye. October is Nature's grand climacteric. The lush days of summer have gone. Now, dying, Nature makes her great, final gesture before settling back into the bleak death-couch of winter.

Girl Scout Activities Reflect Practical Use of Chest Fund

Development of Skills and Broadened Interests Seen In Badge Work

Practical application of community funds obtained through the Community Chest Victory drive, was offered this week by Girl Scouts in initial reports of full troop activities to the organization's executive director, Miss Elizabeth Bardagjy of 400 Washington avenue headquarters.

Development of skills needed to produce efficient and socially conscious citizens were typified in Girl Scout badge earning activities such as the First Aid course at Troop 7, the hostess and house-keeping training under way in Troop 8 at Ralph street school, the "my troop" and "my community" badges in Troop 22 at the Recreation house.

These two badges are obtained through work which is designed to make girls self-sufficient and at the same time demonstrate the need for cooperation within the troop and cooperation of the troop with the community.

Girls securing a "my troop" badge do everything possible at their meeting places and at headquarters to make conditions attractive. They put the equipment given them by the Scout council and national Scout headquarters to work and supplement that equipment with improvised articles thus economizing community funds.

"My community" badge groups first of all travel through the public buildings and facilities of the community and possess themselves of a working knowledge of post office, public library, town and social agency offices. They are also called upon to join the Girl Scout service corps which supplies workers for community drives, Red Cross needs, the sale of Christmas seals and, in recent years, distribution and collection of emergency war necessities.

Hostess Requirements

To gain a hostess badge a Scout is required to know how to issue invitations, make table favors, plan the sequence of events in an afternoon or evening's entertainment. Receptions for troop committee members or the girls' mothers afford most troops the

It took sixty or seventy years for chestnut trees to attain a good growth. I recall some noble trees up back of Miller's pond that were probably over 100 years old. There used to be many walnut trees on the farms, as well as a few butternut trees. There are still a few walnuts scattered here and there but I have not seen a butternut in over 30 years and never see butternuts in any of the stores.

Expands Semi-Yearly Admission Schedule for Opportunity to Servicemen

The ever increasing number of discharges from the armed forces has led Newark College of Engineering to expand its regular semi-yearly admission schedule for 1945-46 in order to provide veterans the opportunity of expediting their education in the engineering field.

In announcing the innovation this morning, Dr. Allan R. Cullimore, president of the College, revealed the first inter-semester class is set to begin October 20. Other freshman groups will be admitted at intervals of approximately a month thereafter until February 4, 1946.

In explaining the plan, Dr. Culmore emphasized that the curriculum is not going to be curtailed. Instead, the freshmen entering under the expanded schedule will carry their work through the summer months, completing their first year's course in time to qualify for sophomore standing with the regular class which began October 1.

"This program is made possible," Dr. Cullimore continued, "by shortening the vacation periods proportionately. The October 20th class, for example, will finish the freshman semester by approximately July 1, 1946 while the regular October 1 class will complete the course by June 1. In the same manner, the November entering group will continue studies until about August 1, the next class until about September 1 and the last one, February 4, until approximately October 1."

At their regular luncheon meeting today in Wesley Methodist church dining room the Belleville Lions club will hear an informal address by Frank J. McFadden, chairman of the Community Chest Victory drive. The club will welcome a new member, Arthur Hess, who is affiliated with the Equitable Life Insurance company.

Yesterday a delegation of Lions represented the Belleville club in an annual pilgrimage to the Jamesburg home for delinquent boys.

Those Were The Days—

by M. C. Albey

This is the fourth in a series of articles by an old-time resident of Belleville on the activities of the town in the 1890's. —Ed. Note.

In the 90's there was only one public school in the town proper, with a small one room country school in the Soho section. I don't believe anyone in town will recall old Dr. Fuller who taught in the little Soho school. The old No. 1 school was on the southwest corner of Stephens and Academy streets and was called Belleville Academy.

The original building contained only four rooms with an extra room in the basement. The teachers about 1890 were E. L. Anderson, the principal, Mrs. E. S. Titus, Mrs. Margaret Kay, Miss Amelia Cammiff and Mrs. S. Albey all of whom have gone to their reward.

This building was torn down about 25 years ago and the present No. 1 school erected on the south end of the same block. When the old school building was demolished the tin on the roof which had been there for over sixty years was found to be in excellent condition.

I doubt if there are many people in Belleville or any part of Jersey who have ever seen a live chestnut tree or ever tasted a regular chestnut. In those days that I speak of there were hundreds of chestnut trees around here. What a delight it was to go chestnutting on a frosty day in late October, with a good wind blowing and the nuts falling by the thousand. What is now Little street was then a lane running from near the Erie railroad west up the hill and through the woods to ways beyond where Union Avenue is now. There were several large chestnut trees between the railroad and Washington Avenue, then several more where Floyd and Linden intersect Little street. Farther along, the woods became thicker and there were hundreds of the trees there.

SERVICE PANEL TO BE ACTIVE
It Will Be Information Committee Under New OPA Set-up, as Inflation Check

Community Service Panels will remain to represent OPA in those communities where War Price and Rationing Boards are being closed in the process of consolidating the 55 North Jersey boards into 25 offices. This was announced this week by District OPA Director Richard J. Tarrant in a memorandum to all board chairmen.

"The volunteers on the Community Service Panels," he pointed out, "have been doing the extremely vital job of keeping the communities informed about all phases of the price control and rationing programs. Their work has been a most important factor in the smooth and successful operation of those programs."

It is necessary that they remain active in their communities to make the fight against post-war inflation as successful as the wartime program was. They will represent OPA in the community and the community in OPA; they will keep consumers abreast of price ceilings — and OPA abreast of consumer needs in the community.

Describing the community service set-up under the consolidated board program, Tarrant said that each consolidated board will have an Information Panel (now called Community Service Panel), and that in communities where boards are being closed the Community Service Panel will be known as the Information Committee. The chairman of each committee will be a member-at-large of the appropriate consolidated board Information Panel.

The committees have been asked to try to secure voluntary desk space in the quarters of local civic organizations, or in the City Hall. Temporarily, they will establish headquarters in the home of the committee chairman, or of one of the members. Information material will be supplied all committees by the District OPA Information Division.

The consolidation program will be completed, according to Tarrant, by the end of this month.

"In the vital program to protect the economy against post-war inflation during this reconversion period," Tarrant said, "the Information Panel must work closely with the Price Panel to secure maximum community support in holding down prices and rents. So far as inflation is concerned, the next few months are the most dangerous. Consumers must be told why and how to protect themselves and the country. They will be the responsibility of the Information Panels and committees."

A principal project to be instituted by the information volunteers, Tarrant said, is the establishment of channels for getting consumer overcharge complaints to the Price Boards. To this end they will urge local women's clubs, labor unions and factories to appoint an "Anti-Inflation Reporter" — a person to whom complaints can be given who will forward them to the OPA Information Committee, which, in turn, will transmit them to the boards for action. Reports of action taken by the boards will go back by the same route to the complainant.

"Quick Dinners" will be the subject of a demonstration to be given by Mrs. Margaret C. Shepard, home agent of Essex County Extension Service at a meeting of the Belleville Woman's club on Monday, at 2 p.m. at the club house.

Mrs. H. D. Cornish, American Home chairman of the Woman's club, arranged this demonstration because she feels that homemakers want to know how to prepare meals that are both nutritious and appetizing but don't require too much time in the kitchen. Mrs. Shepard will discuss the use of time saving mixes, one dish meals, oven meals, broiler meals and time-saving equipment.

The charity fund of the Sisterhood of Congregation AAA will benefit from a rummage sale which will be held in a vacant store at the corner of Cortlandt and Academy streets Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Mrs. Jack Orlinsky and Mrs. Samuel Lindenbaum will be in charge.

What's the Dif?

DIF
Washes it Double Quick
Painted walls and woodwork come back fresh as new—a dash of DIF in cleaning water does it, double quick. For all housecleaning DIF takes the "clinging" out of grease and grime. Don't forget, DIF is double quick for clothes and dishes, too.
