UNABLE TO REACH SETTLEMENT IN KIDDE STRIKE

State Mediation Board Meeting Yesterday Fails In Breaking Deadlock

Efforts of the State Mediation Board to settle the three week old strike at the Walter Kidde plant fell through yesterday morning. The meeting was held in the board offices in Newark, but both the company and the union remained adamant in their positions and failed to reach any agreement.

C. V. Hill, company vice president, stated yesterday afternoon that "the company feels that they have gone as far as they can in their offer to the union. We cannot compromise or arbitrate on the balance of the issues."

Speaking for the union, Harry Kellner, business agent, said "we will not back down in our demands and we have the support of our members in this dispute. We offered to submit the case to an outside arbitrator once again, but as in our previous offers, the company refused to consider the matter."

The two points on which the company and the union disagree are the insistence of the company that their offer of a ten cents an hour general increase be based on the merit system, and the three year contract which contains the right of the company to reclassify jobs during the period of the contract. The union insists they will not, say their spokesmen, accept these terms because of the "strings attached." The union would accept the company offer, a spokesman said, but the merit system and the job reclassification must be eliminated.

Injunction Proceedings

Threatened injunction proceedings by the company to begin a strike Monday when they obtained an order from Vice Chancellor Bigelow requiring the union to show cause "why it should not be restrained from using force, threats or violence in preventing access to the company plant by salaried employees and from improper picketing at the plant."

Named in the action by the company were the union and four individual defendants. The defendants were Nick Pitucco, local president, Harry Kellner, business agent, Louis Fox and Samuel Burns, local executives. The union is required to answer the action before Vice Chancellor Bigelow on November 7.

Harry Kellner, business agent for the union, failed to disclose, when queried by this newspaper last Wednesday night, the fact that John Kidde, company president, attended a conference with union officials that afternoon. This

Psychic Police Patrol

Did you ever find anything before it was missing? It happened in Belleville the other morning, and it is quite possible our police force is endowed with hitherto unknown psychic qualities.

At exactly 1:18 a. m. Thursday, Sgt. John F. Flynn and Officer Joseph Nygard, cruising in police car 7, came upon an abandoned automobile in an isolated section of town, at the end of Greyclock parkway.

Down at headquarters, Lieut. Emerson Bush notified all cars of a stolen car missing from Washington avenue. It was reported by the owner, Albert Romich of 90 Joralemon street. The time of the notice was 1:32 a. m.

So, 14 minutes before the car had been reported stolen, these psychic officers had discovered the missing automobile.

The moral to the story is, if you have anything missing or stolen, just call the police department and do not bother to report the loss, just ask them where they found it.

ANOTHER TAVERN FIGHT HERE

One Man Seriously Hurt In Brawl At Belleville Avenue Pub

Another fight in a Belleville tavern took place last Saturday afternoon, and resulted in serious injury to one person. Out on $500 bail for allegedly being involved in the fight are John Howley, 39, of 29 Grant street and John Conaghan, 22, of 17 Grant street, both of Newark.

The police allege that the two men were in a fight at a tavern located at 213 Belleville avenue with Thomas Lombard, 32, of 204 William street. Lombard was taken to St. Mary's hospital in Passaic with severe head injuries. He signed himself out Tuesday, but is confined to his home. Last night's hearing was postponed awaiting Lombard's recovery, and is scheduled for next Wednesday night.

Police Chief Spatz said that reports submitted by the police indicate that Lombard started the fight by punching Howley while the latter was sitting at the bar. A report of the fight will be submitted to Public Safety Director King, who will in turn submit it to the excise board, of which Mayor Williams is chairman. The tavern license is currently being held by Joseph Curran sr.

B-HIVE REOPENING TO BE DISCUSSED

Adult Chaperons' Executive Committee Meets With Kittle Monday

The B-Hive executive committee of the adult chaperons will meet Monday night in the High school with Principal Hugh D. Kittle to discuss the reopening of the weekly dance session for high school students which is tentatively set for the first of the year. The chaperon group, which is composed of fifty couples, has a five member executive committee which will discuss various aspects of the functioning of the B-Hive. It is expected that some changes in its management may grow out of its meeting.

Kittle closed the B-Hive five weeks ago after a fracas outside the building between two groups of boys. It had operated successfully for a year.

Two weeks ago Kittle announced that the delay in reopening was agreed upon in conference with a group of students who ran the B-Hive and a telephone conversation with Mrs. Howard Van Demark, chairman of the adult chaperon group. Reason he said, is the full schedule of dances to be held this semester. They are the Halloween dance this week, one sponsored by the football team on November 10; one by the student council on December 1 and a freshman Christmas party on December 14.

Learn About New Company Product

New Junior Achievement Recruits Talk It Over

Three Additional Companies To Be Formed; 300 On Waiting List

Recruits for three new Junior Achievement companies met Monday evening at Belleville avenue headquarters following enthusiastic reception of the project in the high school last week. Three hundred students filed applications for membership in juvenile concerns during the week.

Actual company organization was not held Monday evening although adult advisors on production of chemical and wood products and photographic enterprises were present from L. Sonneborn company, Heyer Products company and Wallace and Tiernan. Since a maximum enrollment of fifteen students to a company is permitted, those who show greatest zeal will find the concerns. A waiting list for each will be established on the basis of personnel and written interviews.

A total of nine companies will be established immediately; three will meet simultaneously on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Organization was delayed this week because of the absence from town Tuesday of the majority of high school students who went to New York to view the fleet and on Wednesday when headquarters was closed due to Halloween celebrations.

Photography was in greatest demand among these students who are anxious to have a taste of business methods before leaving school. Two companies will be formed for Monday and Tuesday evenings; the first to be advised in production by Al Beams and John Gardner of Heyer Products company. Equipment will be rented from Mr. Gardner. The Tuesday firm will be aided with production problems by Miss Virginia Till of Walter Kidde company.

Chemical companies on Monday and Wednesday evenings will have the supervision of Aaron Winograd of L. Sonneborn company and Reuben Pershko of Resistoflex corporation. Metal products will be manufactured by two companies on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings with John Sharmak and Kenneth Hill of Westinghouse to guide the young workers. Metal ash trays and cosmetic trays have been discussed for their output.

Woodworking, the medium in which several of Belleville's original Junior Achievement concerns operated, is again the choice of three companies. One will be under way each evening under the supervision of production managers Tod Paine of Wallace and Tiernan, Orsini of Walter Kidde and Ted Carl of Resistoflex.

Because Junior Achievement aims to present a well rounded picture of management, labor, sales and production to its aspirants, there will also be present each evening a business and sales advisor provided by Belleville firms. It is felt that one individual in each of these spheres can oversee the activities of three companies simultaneously; only the production manager being needed for all time supervision.

The financial operations of each company are similar and a business advisor will roam from one financial department to the other seeking to advise the young people. Irving Miller of the Kidde plant, Paul deGara, attorney of 120 Rutgers street and Frank Bollen of the People's National bank represent various phases of business in Belleville which will guide this aspect of juvenile company operation.

Miss Miriam Schatzman of Walter Kidde and Harry Corbett of Wallace and Tiernan will direct sales on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Those who await joining junior companies have two opportunities to which to look forward. With

Announce New Product At Wallace And Tiernan

Local Concern Cooperates With Navy To Develop New Remedy For Athlete's Foot

A recent announcement of a new athlete's foot remedy by the Naval department has been developed in cooperation with the research laboratories of Wallace and Tiernan, local industrial concern.

Robert N. Irons, manager of the pharmaceutical division of Wallace and Tiernan stated this week that the new product has also been adopted by the Army.

Under the planning of the well-known dermatologist, Com. Marion B. Sulzberger of the Navy, Mr. Irons stated, a tremendous amount of research work went into the perfection of this new preparation. Two summers of intense study were conducted at the Navy Disciplinary Barracks at Harts Island, N. Y. under the supervision of Com. Sulzberger and Com. Henry C. Shaw.

The Navy is credited with developing a new method of experimentation called "paired comparison." This procedure called for the use of one product on one foot of an infected person and another product, different in nature, on the other foot. This enabled them to determine accurately the progress made in curing the fungus disease on each foot and the relative effectiveness of the respective products. In the course of their study, the Navy also determined, with the cooperation of the local research laboratories, that the new product has the property of prevention of athlete's foot. Not only does it cure an infected case, but by its application before infection, will also prevent the disease.

According to Mr. Irons, one of the most remarkable functions of the product is the complete absence of any irritation in the killing of the organisms after application. The Navy, in the course of their study, found that without taking any preventive measures, 387 men of 1,380 showed an active infection. But, by application of the new remedy, called "Desenex", only 48 out of 1,213 contracted the disease after the remedy had been taken as a preventive measure.

Com. Sulzberger, who is an associate professor of dermatology at Columbia university, is one of the foremost authorities in the country in the field, and Com. Shaw, recently discharged from the Navy, has taken a full professorship at the University of Rochester in the subject.

The new preparation comes in either powder or ointment form and Wallace and Tiernan company officials have made it available to doctors, hospitals and civilians, under the name of "Desenex".

REC ADVISORS WORK ON PLAN

Will Choose Next Year's Projects For Submission To Town For Approval

The recreation advisory board named to implement the long-range plan for expansion of Belleville's recreation facilities as outlined by the survey made by the National Recreation association, is studying projects which may be put into effect next year, board chairman Elwood P. Russell said yesterday.

The board, meeting last Wednesday evening, discussed projects in the 15-year plan which would be of most immediate importance. Committee reports will be made on about four such projects at the next meeting of the board on the fourth Thursday in November. When the outline is completed it will be submitted to the board of commissioners for their recommendations and approval.

A member of the Essex County Park commission was present at the Wednesday night discussion. The recreation advisory board's mission in recreational planning so that no duplication of facilities will result. Its object is an organized program of planning, using the National Recreation association survey as a guide, so that recreational advantages may be added yearly over the long-range period.

The recreation advisory board is composed of three representatives each from the churches, industry, board of education, board of commissioners and citizens.

EXCISE BOARD SUSPENDS TAVERN FOR 60 DAYS

Hillcrest Brawl Brings Stiff Sentence For Violating Ordinance

Charging violation of a Town ordinance that a licensed beverage place may not have dancing on the premises unless a permit is obtained, the Hillcrest Tavern of 66 Washington avenue is suspended for 60 days, effective Saturday at 2 a.m.

The sentence was handed down by the town commissioners sitting as an excise board yesterday afternoon. Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan presented the case for the town while Mrs. Mary Engel, operator of the tavern was represented by Harold Simandl.

In a statement made after the board's decision, Simandl said the sentence was extremely severe, especially for a first offense, and indicated he would file an appeal.

The case arose as the result of a brawl that took place at the Hillcrest Tavern October 20. Thomas Sharp, of 186 Joralemon street, is now out on $500 bail awaiting action by the Grand Jury, on charges of atrocious assault and battery. The complaint was made by Thomas Conlin, 98 Broad street, Newark, who alleged that Sharp beat him up in a fight at the tavern. Conlin spent several days in the hospital as the result of injuries suffered.

On counter complaint charges made by Sharp, simple assault and battery was charged against Conlin, his brother Harry, bartender at the Hillcrest, who resides at 309 Broadway and Anthony Rich, 116 Bloomfield avenue, Nutley. Sharp stated that all took part in the fight. Recorder Everett Smith dismissed charges against Harry Conlin and Rich and fined Thomas Conlin.

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR GRID DINNER

Varsity Club Will Give Banquet To High School Team December 8

Plans are now under way for the "Win, Lose or Draw" football banquet given by the newly formed Varsity Club of Belleville for the high school varsity squad of 1945.

Lloyd Kintzing, chairman of the affair, has announced that the dinner is scheduled to be held at the high school cafeteria on December 8. Admission will be by ticket only and reservations will be limited to 250.

Efforts are being made to have several outstanding football personalities from college or professional ranks as guest speakers. Included on the committee with Kintzing are Harold Fobert, Bill Bennett and Jack Hicks.

At the regular monthly meeting of the club held recently, guest speakers were Coach Bill Foley of Bloomfield High school and Johnny Gibson, who is former Olympic track star and holder of many world's records. Both gave interesting talks, and commended the Varsity club on their activities and interest in high school sports.

Bill Chapman, Belleville football coach, reported on the results of the football clinic which was conducted under the sponsorship of the club. In two sessions, more than 200 enthusiastic youngsters turned out for the instruction in fundamentals and tactics, which were illustrated by members of the Belleville and Bloomfield high school teams and members of the Varsity club.

An appeal was made by membership chairman Harold Fobert to the present membership of the organization to contact all former lettermen of the high school and enlist them in the club.

After the meeting several new members were introduced during a social hour, when refreshments were served.

Sat Out Okinawa Hurricane In Tomb, Atop Skulls, Bones

Capt. Howard Buckley Describes Wreckage Caused By 150 Mile Wind

First-hand report of the Okinawa hurricane came to Mrs. A. A. Buckley of 1 Essex street last weekend when her son, Capt. Howard P. Buckley wrote her his observations from an Okinawan tomb during the sixteen hours of the storm.

Capt. Buckley, island veterinarian and overseer of food depots and barges, said "We lost practically everything we had during the storm; clothes, files, equipment, etc. The wind registered 150 mph and gusts up to 170 mph occurred."

"I sat in an Okinawan tomb during the storm leaning on some skulls and bones. Tents blew away like rags; platforms flew through the air with boxes and telephone poles.

"This morning we flew over the island in a B-25. The storm had driven over a hundred ships on shore and it was a sight from the air. We have been busy trying to clear up our area and the depots and barge. Our food situation has been rather acute and planes have been flying in rations."

OPA Investigation At Corbin Gardens

Action On Petitions For Rent Cut Prompted By Tenants' Appeal On Foy's Eviction Notice

An OPA representative began an investigation of Corbin Garden tenants' association petitions for a rent cut on grounds of failure of services by the owner, Louis Kaye of Brooklyn yesterday morning, following their appeal on Tuesday that an OPA certificate of eviction issued to Thomas Foy, association chairman, be revoked pending a formal hearing. Michael Peccora, OPA area rent director said yesterday that a date will be set for a hearing of both the landlord and tenants on the complaints. An investigation of the tenants' association protest against Foy's eviction will be made he said, and the landlord requested to show cause for the eviction proceedings.

The appeal for the revocation of the certificate of eviction issued to Foy which is effective December 1, was made by Solomon Golat of Newark, attorney for the tenants' association. He appeared before William E. Sandmeyer, chief attorney for the OPA area rent office Tuesday afternoon, at an informal hearing in the OPA district rent office at 20 Washington place, Newark, attended by a dozen tenants.

No Response To Petitions Golat compared the prompt 10 day action of the OPA in Kaye's application for the eviction certificate with the seven months of OPA unresponse to the tenants' petitions filed March 30 for a decrease in rent on the grounds of failure of services.

Kaye stated in his application to OPA that the Foy apartment, 1F in No. 3 which he described as on the first floor, facing the street, is needed for a new superintendent. He stated that two porters are now living in the basement of one of the units. Establishment of a superintendent at the Foy apartment, he said, should remedy tenants' complaints on service. He stated that the superintendent would receive the apartment rent free and a salary of $100 a month.

The tenants contended that the owner's choice of Foy's apartment is unfair and alleged that Kaye would like to evict him since he is chairman and spokesman of the tenants' association in their attempt to obtain better service. They enumerated three first floor apartments which have been vacated since the middle of August they said, and cited another which is expected to be vacated December 1, as evidence that Foy's eviction is not necessary.

Sandmeyer stated that action on the tenants' petitions for a rent reduction due to failure of services has been dropped since it was understood by the OPA that the owner had spent $1,500 to provide additional parking space for the tenants and that an incinerator would be installed, for garbage disposal, in an attempt to remedy the two chief complaints. It was also understood he said, that a private scavenger had been engaged to provide an extra garbage collection each week.

The tenants protested that there is so far, no evidence of either additional parking facilities or an incinerator and listed other grievances such as lack of heat and hot water, the condition of the basement floors covered with coal, lack of care of grounds and lack of painting and decorating.

BELLBOYS TRAVEL TO PLAY HILLSIDE

Belleville Will Be Out For Win No. 3 Against Big Hillside Team

Belleville will try to get back into the win column this Saturday, when they travel to Hillside to meet the team from that town which is usually a bruising battle. The Bellboys dropped their second contest last week to Irvington, but did not play good ball in losing. Last year Hillside handed Belleville a 25 to 0 pasting and the Yellowjackets will be gunning for revenge.

Hillside has an unimpressive record this year, dropping decisions to Jefferson, 20-0, Jacona, 27-13, and last week falling before an undefeated Cranford eleven by a 19 to 7 count. However, reports from the Hillside school indicate that the Comets, who annually have one of the heaviest teams around, are improving with each game, and the Bellboys will have to play top match ball to cop the verdict. The Comets have their usual quota of beef and will probably depend upon their ground attack which is reported to be from the double wing back system.

IRVINGTON SPANKS BELLEVILLE, 20-6

Greatly Improved Camper '11
Catches Bellboys On Off
Day And Cops Verdict

Showing a complete reversal of form over their previous three contests, Belleville dropped a 20 to 6 decision to Irvington last week at the winners field. It marked the second loss for the Bellboys against the same number of triumphs, while the Campers record now stands at two wins, two ties and one defeat.

Irvington wasted little time getting under way, and had a score in three minutes after the opening kickoff. The Bellboys fumbled the kickoff on their 28 yard line and the alert Campers recovered. Three consecutive first downs were reeled off by Irvington, with Heine Benkert, backfield ace, leading the way, and supported by Gene Kane and Harry Hill in juggling the pigskin. With the ball on the Belleville two yard line, Benkert plunged over on bird down for the touchdown, and then kicked the extra point from placement for a 7 to 0 lead.

The Bellboys racked up their only score of the game in the closing stages of the opening period. Back on their own 20, Irvington was forced to kick, and his boy Benkert, who does everything, tried to boot his team out of danger. But the Belleville line broke through to smother the kick, and recovered the ball back on the Campers 2. Joe Distasio banged over for the T.D. but an attempted placement was no good, and it finally developed that Irvington had enough to win right then and there.

The second quarter found both teams unable to dent the scoring column. After the intermission, the Campers tallied in the third and last periods to walk off with the contest.

Continuing to be a thorn in the Belleville side, Benkert intercepted one of Don Smith's left handed aerial bombs early in the third quarter at midfield. After a line play, Benkert faded back and tossed a strike to Joe Veit on the 11 and the ex-Merchants Mariner, who was recently discharged, ran the remaining distance to the goal line. The ever present Mr. Benkert again added the extra point with a perfect placement.

The final Irvington score was a gift, as the Bellboys handed it to them on a silver platter. Deep in their own territory in the final period, a bad pass from center went sailing over Don Smith's head, and rolled around the grooved. A wild scramble took place with at least four players having their hands on the ball, and the pigskin finally rolled over the goal line, where Franklin, a sub center for the Campers, fell to the elusive leather for an Irvington touchdown. The extra point try was unsuccessful but they did not need it anyway, and the final score was Irvington 20, Belleville 6.

It was one of those days for the local pigskinners, where everything they tried went wrong.

It is possible that Romeo Cerami, first string fullback, who has been confined to the sidelines for two weeks with a bad leg, will be able to return to the line-up. This will enable Coach Chapman to send Joe Distasio back to his guard position and strengthen the forward wall.

The probable starting line-up for the Bellboys, who will be on the road for the second successive Saturday, will have John Distasio at quarter, Del Vecchio and Smith at halves and Cerami at full.

was the first time that Kidde had attended a joint union-management meeting since the strikers walked out. On Tuesday, Kellner issued a statement to this paper that John Kidde had not seen fit to attend a single meeting with the union to try to reach a settlement.

The salaried workers of the company, who number 1,000, are not on strike, but except for a few officials, none of the salaried employees has crossed the picket lines maintained by the union at the plant entrance since the strike started.

Company Statement

The company was represented in the action Monday by Joseph Blum, of Lum, Fairlie and Vachonfeld. In a statement issued Tuesday, the company said "An affidavit filed with the court discloses that many salaried employees not members of the union had attempted to report for work, but were prevented from gaining access to the plant by mass picketing and intimidation." The company also presented pictures which allege that pickets are shown moving cars near entrances to form a solid line to prevent employees from entering the plant.

The company further stated that a secretary to one of the plant executives was elbowed by the pickets and forced to retreat without gaining admission to the plant. Continuing, the statement further alleged that the union, by striking, had violated the War Labor Disputes Act, the President's executive order, and did not file a strike notice or wait the required 30 days after such notice before striking, which acts are necessary under the Smith-Connally act.

The Kidde concern is still engaged in the completion and termination of war contracts, and the union recently allowed 25 or 30 employees to enter the plant and complete this work when the Army Air Corps requested this move to hasten the termination and enable the company to go ahead with reconversion plans.

In a counter statement, Samuel L. Rothbard, union counsel, said "the union will fight the action vigorously, because the strikers are within their constitutional rights."

Business agent Kellner stated before the strike that the company told salaried workers they would be paid while the strike was in progress. This was done, said Kellner, to induce the salaried employees not to support the strike. He further contended that the company is taking the injunction action because "the salaried people are supporting our strike and the company is using the injunction method to force them back into the plant." Kellner also claimed there had been no violence, except for isolated company-motivated moves which were apparently for injunction purposes.

Friday night, in his honor at Willie's Restaurant, West Orange. It marks his retirement from the Western Electric Company today after 22 years service.

Many years ago berry-raising became Mr. Conley's hobby. Now he plans to buy a farm and grow berries on an extensive scale. A rabid fishing enthusiast since boyhood, his friends presented him with fishing apparel, consisting of waders, a jacket and rubber hat.

Mr. Conley's Western Electric career began with his employment as a tool inspector at the company's Hawthorne Works in Chicago in 1923. Since 1929 he has been located at the Kearny Works. He retired as a planning engineer, responsible for setting up piece parts and engineering planning for the machine shop.

Prior to joining Western Electric, he worked for several tool concerns in Dayton, Ohio, where he attended school.

New Camp And Hospital Group Functions In Red Cross

This week the camp and hospital committee of the local Red Cross chapter advised all Belleville organizations by letter of their function which enables interested groups to supply military camps and hospitals with Christmas packages and other needs.

The committee, newly organized, has as chairman and vice chairman Mrs. Raymond Moritz and Mrs. Everett B. Smith. These women, who were appointed last month by chapter president B. Thomas Aiken, will also be delegates to the Essex County camp and hospital committee which is a clearing house for requests from the military.

A local organization such as a social club or patriotic group may find out through this Red Cross committee the needs of hospitalized or encamped men. If they furnish a designated quantity of articles these will be transported to the hospitals and camps by Red Cross through the medium of its motor corps.

Mrs. Frank Brown and Miss Doris Soleau, chairman and vice chairman of volunteer special services in Red Cross; Mrs. William H. Williams, chairman of Junior Red Cross and Mrs. Horace Knox, canteen chairman, have also been named to the camp and hospital committee.

NEW JERSEY'S GOVERNOR WALTER E. EDGE is shown giving his application for a Victory Loan Bond to Pic. Harold A. Peretzweig, a wounded veteran from Tilton Hospital, to inaugurate the Victory Loan drive in the State. ENLISTMENT PLAN EXTENDED BY ARMY

Concessions On Ranking To Recent Honorably Discharged Vets

Extension until November 21, 1945, of the period in which men honorably discharged from the Army between May 12, 1945, and November 1, can enlist in the grade held at the time of discharge, permanent or temporary, whichever is higher, and in which men discharged honorably as privates can be enlisted as privates, first class, is announced by the U. S. Army Recruiting Service.

After the November 21 deadline, honorably discharged men may be enlisted or reenlisted at the grade they held at the time of their discharge, and honorably discharged privates may be enlisted at the next higher grade only if the enlistments or reenlistments are effected within 20 days of the date of their discharge.

Men enlisting or reenlisting have their choice of three-year, two-year, and 18-month "hitches," and in addition, any soldier of the Army of the United States, otherwise qualified, who has had not less than six months service, may enlist for a period of one year, plus the period of any reenlistment furlough to which he may be entitled. Those signing up for the three-year period have their choice of arm or service, and of overseas service in the European, Pacific or China theaters, the Caribbean defense Command or the Alaskan Department.

"I Like 'em Shining" says Mary Margaret

MARY MARGARET MCBRIDE

Mary Margaret—as fans affectionately call the famous radio columnist—likes to keep her pots and pans shining, her dishes gleaming whether she scrambles a midnight snack of eggs or french-fried onions for company dinner. "Stuck up" pans clean easy as apple pie with Dif—the wonder cleaner in the blue box. You can whizz through the dirtiest dishes, shine the stubbornest pot in double quick time. Dif makes the difference in laundry and housework too! That's why Mary Margaret McBride has a kind word to say about Dif on her program every day!

ST. PETER'S OPEN COURT SEASON

CYO Fives Make Debut Sunday Night In Twin Bill At Auditorium

St. Peter's CYO open their basketball season Sunday night at the school auditorium with a doubleheader on tap. The feature contest scheduled for 8:30 pits the CYO five against the Oldtimers, while a preliminary game at 7:30 has the CYO juniors tangle with the St. Charles junior CYO team from Newark.

The Oldtimers will have a raft of familiar names in the lineup, with a number of ex-servicemen taking the boards for the first time in many a moon. Among the well known former court stars who will make it interesting for the youngsters will be Al Culkins, Ned Dunn, Bill Hammon, Bus Watson, Matty Grum, Tom Marshall, John McGuire, Frank Carragher, Nick Candura, Brad Handley, Harry Metz, Jim McCabe, Doc Shelly, Tom Leonard, and Coach Jitty Wische of the high school five. Officials will be Leo Jackson and Gene Kelly.

Last year, the CYO team nipped the vets by a 49 to 44 count, but may not have enough to cope with the Oldtimers this year.

CONSIDER CLOSING BANKS SATURDAYS

Proposal Under Study By Newark Clearing House Association

Proposals that New Jersey banks be closed on all Saturdays throughout the year are being given consideration by the Newark Clearing House Association, W. Paul Stillman, Newark banker said recently.

According to Stillman, president of the National State Bank of Newark and chairman of the Clearing House Association, strong sentiment in favor of making Saturdays a year-round legal bank holiday in New Jersey developed at several recent meetings of the association.

However, no formal action will be taken by the Newark banking group, Stillman said, until a thorough study has been made of all phases of the program and its effect upon the banking requirements of the people and business of New Jersey. Since 1938, the banks of the state have closed on Saturdays throughout the summer months, by act of the New Jersey legislature. If such action is recommended by the group studying the proposal for a five day week, it would be referred to the Legislature to revise the present law to make Saturday a legal bank holiday.

A spokesman at the First National Bank in town stated that no attempt has been made to analyze the effect that a Saturday closing would have upon their customers. He further stated that inasmuch as the bank is open one evening a week, depositors needs could probably be accommodated at that time. Saturday is a busy day at the local institutions, and the bank has taken no position either for or against the proposal, but would give serious thought before making the adjustment.

The Peoples National and Trust company would make no official statement, but indicated they would agree to whatever position the majority of the banks decided upon.

Parents Of S-1-c Wendell Vincent Lunch Aboard USS Missouri

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vincent, parents of S-1-c Wendell Vincent, of 310 Greylock parkway, were his guests at luncheon of the USS Missouri on Monday, visiting day for families of the vessel's crew members.

Seaman Vincent enlisted in the Navy from Belleville High school where he was a member of the junior class in May 1944. He was a member of the original complement of the ship, assigned before she was commissioned.

Thrilled by all the battleship's engagements in Iwo Jima, Okinawa and the bombardment of Japan as well as peace ceremonies in Tokyo bay, Seaman Vincent's father hazards the guess that his son and other crew members derived much satisfaction from the souvenirs they obtained when a Kamikaze plane crashed on their deck.

Seaman Vincent will return to the ship when his leave concludes on November 15.

S-1-c Raymond Mertz, jr. Arrives In San Francisco

Raymond E. Mertz jr. S-1-c, son of Commissioner and Mrs. Raymond E. Mertz of 10 Van Ryeher place, arrived in San Francisco recently aboard the 45,000-ton U.S.S. Wisconsin, for participation in the Navy Day celebration.

In service three years, young Mertz served in the Atlantic theater of operations prior to being transferred to the Wisconsin when the big battle wagon was commissioned on April 16, 1945.

During the final eight months, the Wisconsin played a prominent part in 3rd Fleet operations in the Leyte and Luzon invasions, took part in the 5th Fleet raids against Honshu and Kyukyu in support of the Iwo Jima operation, joined 3rd and 5th Fleet during the Okinawa invasion and made strikes against the Japanese home-lands with the 3rd Fleet.

Climaxing her battle career, the Wisconsin dropped anchor in Tokyo Bay at the cessation of hostilities. Mertz received several liberty passes and visited Yokohama and Tokyo.

Need New Building Code

We feel that it is time to repeat again, the urgent need for the rewriting of the town's building code. Compiled in 1926, before the days of garden apartments, and the type of building allowed during the war period because of shortage of materials, it is the fundamental cause for the lack of garbage disposal facilities existant at Corbin Gardens.

This is because the code does not require specifically that all new housing have two entrances. As many know, the Corbin Gardens project has only a front entrance for each eight family unit. The narrow hallway can rightfully be considered a fire hazard. In addition, the usual back entrance would not only allow a reduction in this possibility but would also provide a place for the garbage to be placed where it could be collected at regular intervals by the superintendent.

Public Affairs Director Mertz has stated that since his term in office he has been acutely conscious of the need for rewriting the code. He wished to wait for the termination of the war period he said, and for action by the state in establishing a building code that would be in universal use by all communities throughout New Jersey.

However, in the meantime, the Wilton Housing corporation is proposing to build a garden-type apartment on Washington avenue at Greylock parkway. Its tentative plans Mertz said, provide for only one entrance also. The corporation has not yet applied for a building permit but when they do, Mertz intends to request the addition of a rear entrance as a safety measure. These builders have already included an incinerator in their plans.

It should be pointed out however, that as town law now stands, builders cannot be compelled to include more than one entrance in this type of project. With a building impetus being encouraged by the government and state to alleviate the acute housing shortage, it seems imperative that Belleville take some immediate steps to insure proper construction and to eliminate the possibility of being saddled with another Corbin Gardens.

Inadequate Handling

The current installment in the continued serial on the Corbin Gardens apartments again occasions wonderment at the disinterest that has been shown by the commissioners and the OPA. The owner's allegedly blatant disregard for provision of customary services such as adequate garbage disposal, parking facilities, sufficient heat and hot water, decorating and the like, has received ineffectual handling by the commissioners, who have allowed conditions to continue without improvement over a period of many months.

In spite of many conferences, only concrete remedial step taken by the commissioners is an amendment to the sanitary code requiring that refuse cans be kept within the interior of the building or placed below the ground level in water proof containers until the time of collection. It is understood however, that the owner is receiving bids on the installation of an incinerator which has already been the source of objection by home owners in the immediate vicinity. Many discussions on increased parking facilities have been held but as far as is known, no definite plan of action has yet been determined to alleviate the all-night street parking which is a hazard if fire trucks are to use Carpenter street.

And in spite of many complaints to the health department on lack of sufficient heat last winter, nothing more drastic than correspondence and verbal discussions with the owner, were used for remedial action.

The town owes better service than this to the 96 families living in the project which instead of being the asset it should be, is becoming a definite liability. And it seems to us that the commissioners are wholly to blame because of their ineffectual handling of a bad situation.

A Great Speech

Characteristically, General Marshall has put his finger on the chief peril to future peace. In his address Monday at The New York Herald Tribune Forum, he said this peril was the rapid degeneration of American military power and the equally rapid responsibility. In one of the most profoundly moving appeals an American has ever made to his countryman, this great soldier called on us to arrest that drift and to preserve our military strength so that the United Nations will have the power needed to insure peace.

After every war, General Marshall said, America has turned away from all things military. Thus it was after the last war, so that in 1940 France fell, we were spending three times as much on cigarettes and alcohol as we were for military security. "As late as 1937," said the general, "we might have convinced the Axis gangsters of the complete futility of their preparations by simply matching our cigarette money with expenditures on our national security." We didn't; and such blindness, in a world aflame, was folly bordering on national decadence. That we averted disaster was due, he said, to the fact we had Allies to buy us time.

Now victorious America finds itself the senior partner in an organization devoted to preserving peace. The strength of these cooperating nations, General Marshall says, "is tied directly to the strength of the United States." He adds: "I personally am convinced that the organization has not even a remote chance of success unless it is nourished by the strength of the United States."

Thus, not the militarist, but the lover of world peace should insist on a militarily strong America. The best way to insure the success of the United Nations is not through weakness coupled with pious sighs, but through military strength; and those who wish to see the United Nations succeed would do better to listen, not to the wordy vapors of those whose doctrine of weakness has cost us millions of casualties, but to this great and simple soldier who has proved that he knows whereof he speaks.

Leaders and the Led

Former President Hoover recently told a college audience that we needed leaders and that upon the colleges fell the task of supplying them. There can be no disputing, of course, that the qualities of leadership are always in demand, but equally important, especially at this portentous moment in history, is the need for more intelligence and a tougher fibre of mass morality in the choice of leaders.

For without the acceptance of followers there can be no leaders. It was only by the consent of great masses of Germans that Hitler rose to power. It was Mussolini's followers that marched on Rome. Huey Long had disciples. Roosevelt was a leader. Churchill and Stalin are leaders. Hoover himself, for that matter, was a leader, and not to be irreverent, Jesus Christ was a leader of men. Some of these had qualities of leadership that lifted men to the heights; others led their people to ruin and degradation. But all of them had followers, without whom they would have remained nonentities.

We are now in a period of great mental and moral confusion. Out of this chaos new leaders are bound to emerge. If the masses of people are intelligent, courageous, hopeful and possess moral integrity, they will accept only leaders reflecting those qualities. But if men are bogged in despair and lack hope in their future then glittering charlatans will once more have an opportunity to usurp command.

Unfortunately for the race of men this moment of confusion also happens to be a moment of destiny. Whoever our leaders may be they will come to power in a world such as never existed before—the world of atomic energy. Into their hands will be placed a force never before given to man's disposal. The shape of life itself, for ages to come, may well be formed in the next few years.

Never, therefore, has there been such need for intelligence, moral integrity, vigilance. This is especially true of America, since into our hands, for the moment at least, has been given awful authority over the future of man. Are we as a people big enough? Have we the perception to detect false leaders, the moral and intellectual capacity to reject false doctrines?

Not on our leaders depends the future. Much as we may wish to shift it, however we may try to escape from its oppressive weight, the burden rests squarely on our own shoulders.

Those Were The Days—

By M. C. Albey

This is another in a series of articles by M. C. Albey of Molone Avenue on interesting phases of life in Belleville before the turn of the century.—Ed. Note.

Memoirs of the gay 90s would not be complete without including the old bicycling days when the high wheel was still being used, but the safety was evolving from a complicated mechanism to the present diamond frame.

The first safetyets were, like the Scriptural text, "wonderfully and fearfully made." Anyone taking one of them apart found that putting it together again was like piecing out a jig saw puzzle. These early safetyets were also heavy, weighing from 50 to 60 pounds. There were two types of high wheels, one with the large wheel in front, and a small wheel in the rear, and the one called the Star, with the little wheel in front. The Star was propelled by pumping up and down on pedals connected with a racket arrangement. Only men and boys rode in those days. There were no women riders until a safety was designed with a drop frame, permitting a lady to mount without entangling her skirts. One drop frame had a bar that could be bolted across the top, thereby converting it into a man's wheel.

When the women began riding around 1891 there was a great hue and cry about it. From many quarters came protests, even from the pulpit. It was declared vulgar and indecent. Bicycling was really the beginning of the short skirt for women. Then there was the divided skirt that made a sensation. A few women riders were sensible enough to ignore all criticism and don knickerbockers as they were then called, and ride in comfort.

The old wheels, both high and safetyets, had hard rubber tires with brakes that were applied directly to the tires by a lever attached to the handle bars. The coaster brake did not arrive until about 1900. Following the hard tires were the cushion tires and then the pneumatic. On the old high wheel, a lantern for night riding was hung on the axle of the large wheel and swung between the spokes. The light for the early safetyets was slipped over a lug attached to the head of the wheel.

The Tricycle

Then there was the tricycle, a three wheel contraption in which the rider sat on a wide seat that could seat two people. The machine was propelled by pumping up and down in the same way as the Star bicycle. As the safetyets were introduced, more and more people began to ride and bicycle clubs were organized all over the country.

The Belleville Wheelmen started about 1890 and had their headquarters in the old stone mansion on Main street between John, now Belleville avenue and William streets. They held road races on Main street every Thanksgiving Day for several years. Among the prominent riders were Walter Coeyman, Billy Knight, George Douglas, Joe Kearny, Bert Taylor later a Congressman and Harry Wadsworth. The prizes for these races would be on exhibition in Osborne's drug store on Main street and would consist of bicycle lights, bells, saddles, caps and various other accessories.

Many were the road races held on the River road near the North Belleville bridge. Often a hundred or more riders would compete. The spectators would line up on both sides of the road along the course. They would stack their wheels in the fields near the road and leave them there until the races were over without ever having a wheel stolen.

The great race of the year was the 25 mile Irvington-Milburn road race that was run every Decoration Day. It was won by a Belleville boy, John McCarthy in 1898 if I remember correctly. Many Belleville boys competed in these road races. They were

To the Editor of The Times-News:

May we take this opportunity in your column to thank all the friends of the St. Joan of Arc Post 209 Catholic War Veterans for their fine response to our annual Halloween dance.

The affair was a great success and we would like to express our heartfelt appreciation for their splendid cooperation.

The bicycle craze reached its peak about 1896. Nearly everyone rode a wheel then and on Main street on clear summer nights there was a continuous procession of riders up to nearly mid-night. Small refreshment stands sprang up all along the river road from Newark to Passaic and many were the parties that went out on wheels. Some couples even went on their honeymoon on bicycles. Share of Fair Proceeds Goes To Girl Scout Special Fund

Country Fair Saturday Follows Program in High School Tomorrow Night

First major decision of the newly formed Junior Girl Scout Council was made at their meeting last Tuesday afternoon when members voted to allocate 25 percent of the proceeds of Saturday's Country Fair to the Scouts' Juliette Lowe Fund. This fund, donated annually by scouts throughout the nation, is used for the advancement of scouting in other countries and, during war, for relief purposes in stricken countries. Ordinarily a donation of one cent apiece annually is expected of Girl Scouts. Tomorrow evening the spirit of international friendship, which is a leading motif of scouting during the post-war period, will be illustrated by a Scout's Own program in the high school at 7:30. The public is urged to attend to witness this demonstration of scouting and to visit the Country Fair on Saturday from 3 to 6 in Masonic temple.

The fair this year replaces the individual exhibits of troops in various store windows and public places throughout the community. Booths will serve a dual purpose in demonstrating the handicraft and ingenuity of troops and, by the sale of articles, augmenting the Juliette Lowe fund and securing minor troop equipment.

Mrs. George B. Gerard, Belleville's Girl Scout commissioner, Mrs. Charles Speed, program chairman and Miss Mary Stanila, Juliette Lowe fund chairman will constitute a judging committee Saturday and will inspect booths between 2:30 and 3. Prizes will be awarded to the most attractive scout booth and to the most original Brownie booth. Other prizes will be given for the best articles of pastry, canning, needlework and arts and crafts. The articles will be marked with ribbons and left on display during the sale.

The Leaders' club has had over-all supervision of this activity which has given Girl Scouts an opportunity to participate in a town-wide activity and establish friendly competition among troops. Mrs. Ruth Carruthers, leader of Troop 11 and Mrs. Louise Carlson, assistant leader of Troop 6, are co-chairmen.

Ingenious Booths

The girls have combined practicality with ingenuity as the titles of many booths will illustrate. The Valley pastry shop of Troop 6 at Ralph street school will display bread, cake, pie and cookies. Troop committee members have permitted the use of their kitchens for the scouts to make these articles.

Fewsmith Church troop will conduct a Mother Hubbard's Cupboard where they will sell fruits

Postpone Bidding On Play Area Until Spring

At a meeting last Thursday night, the Board of Education reviewed with the architects the plans for the new play area adjacent to the high school. Several minor changes were made, and the board decided to postpone the advertising for bids on the work until spring. This decision was reached, according to Joseph Arnold, president of the board, due to the coming of winter.

Mr. Arnold also stated that the by-laws of the Athletic Council were changed, an entire method of procedure being agreed upon by the board and the council.

by the hand-painted vases which have been decorated by Brownie Troop 8 at Passaic avenue school; Recreation House's Troop 22 with a Dainty Wayside booth of candles, plaques, lacquered pictures, tiles and earrings and Silver Lake Troop 5's offering of handwoven articles.

Brownie Troop 26 at Greylock school has done up girls for a Wishing Well and Brownies of Franklin avenue school have used their nature periods to assemble materials for rock gardens and terrariums.

Entertainment and refreshments will be provided by Troops 20 and 2 of the Recreation House. The former has planned a program of dances and songs in costume; the latter will serve Mexican punch and doughnuts in a booth titled, "Down Mexico Way."

Mrs. Frank McFadden, second deputy and public relations chairman, will read hands in a booth that the scouts have dubbed "Hands Up."

Town Employees Meet To Discuss Civil Service

The town employees will meet Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock to discuss the referendum on Civil Service that will be on the ballot for adoption Election Day, Tuesday November 6.

This will be the second time that Civil Service has been proposed for town employees, the proposal being defeated by a 3 to 1 margin back in 1938.

Sister Kenny Paralysis Fund Names Chairmen

An announcement of the appointment of Bing Crosby, as national chairman and A. Harry Moore, as state chairman, of the 1945 Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation drive against infantile paralysis has resulted in a tremendous response from the citizens of New Jersey anxious to join the all-out fight against the dreaded scourge of polio.

The 1945 Sister Kenny appeal gets underway November 22 and will run until mid-December. National officials have told ex-Governor Moore that they would like to wind up the campaign by December 10. The quota for New Jersey is $250,000. It is the ultimate aim of the committee in New Jersey to establish a Sister Kenny clinic here. The money raised in this campaign will be used to send doctors and nurses to the Sister Kenny Institute in Minneapolis for training. Fifty per cent of the funds raised remain in New Jersey while the other half goes to the Sister Kenny Institute.

Bing Crosby, in a national statement, said that "infantile paralysis is a cruel disease striking suddenly and mysteriously. It must be fought with every weapon at our command."

Ex-Governor Moore stated "we owe it to the children of America to provide them with every ray of hope."

BELLEVILLE VICTORY COMMUNITY CHEST

During the first week in November, Chest workers will complete their call-backs in the house-to-house and merchants divisions.

EVERY DOLLAR IS NEEDED!

BE SURE THAT YOUR CONTRIBUTION IS RECEIVED.

OUR WAR'S OVER — BUT THEIRS ISN'T! BUY EXTRA BONDS!

There's nothing but Peace, glorious Peace ahead for us.
But not for these men.

For them, now comes the Battle of Aching Nerve, the Battle of Despair, the Battle of Fear.

It is a fight we can help them win.

We can help them back to health. We can help them forget their fears. We can help them learn to walk. We can help them learn a trade... or help them start their own business.

And we can take care of the widows and orphans of their friends.

We can do all these things with our purchase of extra Bonds in this, the last Loan.

And, ironically enough, at the same time we're saying thanks to them for the way they fought for us, we can put money into our own pockets... for every dollar we put into Series "E" Victory Bonds brings back a quarter of a dollar interest when they mature.

Let's help these men. They deserve everything we can do for them after what they went through.

For this one last time,* let's really outdo ourselves to say, "Thanks,"— and to protect our own family's future.

* Following the Victory Loan, the sale of E, F, and G U. S. Savings Bonds will continue through regular authorization agencies and through the Payroll Savings Plan.

THEY'VE FINISHED THEIR JOB...LET'S FINISH OURS!
