ANNOUNCE FIGURES AS CHEST QUOTA FALLS SHORT

Collection Will Amount To Approximately $40,000, Says McFadden

Final results of the Community Chest drive were announced this week by Chairman Frank McFadden. The quota was $59,000 and according to McFadden, the final amount received, including pledges, will be close to $40,000.

In spite of one of the best organized drives yet put on by the Chest officials, the results were disappointing, said McFadden.

Best results were obtained in the industrial division, with the corporate group donating $18,851.50, and the employees $6,195.13. The house-to-house canvass brought $6,379.15. The industrial group fell off due to the war's end, which resulted in less take-home pay for the employees. It was expected that the house-to-house division would offset this industrial loss, but it fell short of last year.

School gave $1,321.50; purveyors, $1,262.00; special gifts, $1,500; clubs and organizations, $902; Small business, $648; town employees, $602.71; and professions, $517.

YEAR'S ACTIVITIES REVIEWED BY CYO

St. Peter's Organization Has Reached More Than 3,000 Youngsters

A summation of CYO activities was made at the meeting of the St. Peter's CYO Adult council, which was held on Tuesday, December 18. Gilbert E. Howley presided at the meeting and presented figures to the council. These figures indicated that a total number of attendees for CYO activities reached 3,127 youngsters. This figure is for the period beginning October 3, 1945 and running to the end of the year.

The social activities of the organization were held in St. Peter's old school, and included bi-weekly dances in the auditorium, principally on Sunday evenings. Music was supplied by organization-owned records. Included in the above figures was the attendance on Wednesday evenings when the CYO was able to make use of the Petrean clubrooms and their facilities.

The final CYO activity of the year will increase the figures mentioned, with the CYO Christmas dance Sunday. The dance will be preceded by the presentation of the one-act play "Ringing in the New Year." Special arrangement was made with the Dramatic Publishing company for the presentation of the play.

The committee for the dance and entertainment is headed by Antoinette Orsulak. Mary Tasselli is in charge of refreshments, Mary Dailey will handle the decorations, and Kathleen O'Connor will supervise the entertainment.

With regard to sports activities, Patrick McNally gave a report on the basketball teams and indicated that CYO was actually sponsoring five boys' teams and one girls' team. The CYO is represented in the local Church league, and in addition junior, intermediate and senior teams as well as a grammar school team are entered in the Boys' League run by the Essex County CYO. There is a junior girls' team representing St. Peter's in the CYO Girls' league.

With this many teams playing the St. Peter's CYO gives opportunity for about sixty youngsters to play basketball in active competition. These teams have been making use of the Parish hall for their practice sessions. In addition, about twenty-five youngsters are given opportunity to play weekly even though they failed to make any of the CYO teams. The activity offered thereby keeps the youngsters busy in actual play and in practice.

End Of War Spotlights News For 1945

The end of the greatest conflict in the history of the world featured the news for 1945. Taking place over all local events, the word of the war's end sent the town off in a wild celebration, but was still tame when compared to the signing of the Armistice in World War I.

Both the end of the European and the Pacific battles came this year, and while the first mentioned was anticipated for several weeks prior to its ending, the Japanese surrender came suddenly.

The death of President Franklin D. Roosevelt came as a great shock, and recently another great figure passed away, when the great and colorful General George Patton

An outstanding civic organization, the Belleville Foundation, reported on its activities and showed remarkable progress under the leadership of Harry Specht and through the cooperation of the local industrial concern who make the function of this group possible.

In the sports field, Belleville's defeat of arch-rival Nutley on the gridiron earned the spotlight, and the Varsity club's honoring of the team in the latter organization's first of their planned annual affairs proved especially appropriate this year.

Thirteen casualties marked the War's worst week for Belleville, as 2 were killed, 5 missing, 4 wounded and 2 were taken prisoner. Those reported dead were 2d Lieut. Roger J. Mellon and E. O. Leonard Willette.

Town ratables increased $347,850 in 1944, figures released by Mayor Williams and Charles W. Watson, tax assessor. The total evaluation of the town and its physical properties was at $43,666,700, of which $33,583,000 is taxable, the difference representing tax-free properties. Biggest landowner continues to be Essex County, with the Isolation Hospital and county parks totaling more than three and a half million dollars.

School Board budget showed increase of only $5,000 for the coming year. Total amount proposed to operate the school system was $746,768, of which local tax-payers were to furnish $549,127. The figures made provision for a 5% cost-of-living bonus to employees of the school system. Charles A. Gebhardt was reappointed to a five year term on the Board of Education.

The Belleville Times-News dropped a five-year-old policy of free distribution and went on a subscription basis. Fred B. Handlon named as chairman of the March of Dimes campaign, with Mrs. Mead Mazzia assisting. Samuel E. W. Peck named director of music in local school system. A $600,000 subscription in War Bonds by Walter Kidde employees paid for a B-29 Superfortress that was christened "The Extinguisher."

Alert police foiled a daring hold-up of the Washington Liquor Store on Washington avenue. Two bandits were captured after their car crashed into an apartment building, one being shot by attempted to escape.

Failure of the Community Chest drive indicated that at least two agencies would have to take on their 1945 budgets. The goal set was $67,000, while the amount collected was $50,244 with final reports due from several sources. The Belleville and Nutley Lions clubs were host to the local War Price and Rationing Board at a luncheon in Wesley Church. It was the third anniversary of the formation of the Board. Local chairman was Herbert C. Schmutz.

February

In a surprise move, Joseph P. Arnold was elected president of the Board of Education, replacing Herbert C. Schmutz, who had been president of the board for seven years. Schmutz was nominated.

ated by Charles Gebhardt, but the motion did not receive a second, and Schmutz then requested that his name be withdrawn. Arnold had been on the board only since July, 1944.

Red Cross War Fund drive got underway, with quota set at $43,500. W. Douglas Clark was chairman, and named John J. Hewitt as head of the house-to-house. B. Thomas Aitken was reelected chairman of the Red Cross for his third term. Rev. Marshall Whitehead was elected president of the board of trustees of the Community Service Bureau. March of Dimes closed with a total collection among local citizens of $3,106. Resistoflex was awarded a star for the Army-Navy E flag.

The brown-out went into effect in an effort to conserve fuel. Public was advised that six weeks remained to wrestle with the heat problem. Commissioners passed ordinance raising chancemen's pay from 80 cents-an-hour to $1. Boy Scouts continue celebration of 25th anniversary.

The Red Cross announced 26,416 volunteer hours had been piled up by the workers for the year of 1944. This was equivalent to three years of 24-hour-a-day volunteer service.

The tax rate for the coming year was forecast at $4.64, with possibility of increasing if a wage increment was granted to town employees. Increases for police and fire departments were under study.

Over 400 attended the Lions club supper dance at the Meadowbrook, according to George Mead, chairman. John Lanzer named president of the Soho Civic Association.

Holdup men held for Grand Jury on Washington avenue robbery. Elks announce program for recruiting of nurses for 94 vets hospitals. Three men were held for Grand Jury action as the result of the death of one man in an auto accident.

W. Douglas Clark was awarded the Silver Medal for distinguished work among Boy Scouts. Mrs. Lawrence Willette, author and lecturer, visited the White House as guest of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who extended sympathy to Mrs. Willette on the death of her son, 2nd Lieut. Leonard, who was killed in action in aerial combat over Germany.

March

Speculation was rife throughout town over the rumor that

Philip Dettelbach

Mayor Williams would attempt to oust Recorder Clerk Fred Handlon, with Williams reported to favor placing a member of the uniformed police force in the post. At a commission meeting, the ordinance was laid over following the presentation of a petition of 800 names by Frank Parsells, protesting the proposed ordinance. The 1945 Red Cross War fund drive got under way, with the Belleville quota set at $43,500. W. Douglas Clark, chairman, announced volunteer canvassers would cover the town, and was confident the quota would be attained.

The midnight curfew went into effect, designed to conserve fuel, manpower. Draft board announced more men 30-34 would be inducted due to increased quotas. Five more Gold Stars added to Belleville list of growing casualties.

Corbin Gardens apartments came into the limelight, with the tenants protesting the garbage disposal system and asked town commissioners to take steps correcting the situation. Hank Greenberg, baseball star, visits Walter Kidde plant with combat veterans to address Kidde workers.

Final adoption of town budget had police, recorder's clerk and traffic control items transferred to Mayor Williams Revenue and Finance department. Town employees given additional $100 bonus. Tax rate unchanged by bonus, at $4.64.

American Legion celebrated the national birthday of the Legion with a party at their new home, 617 Washington avenue. Women's club elected officers, Mrs. J. Claude Powers voted to two year term as president.

Philip Dettelbach named chairman of 7th War Loan drive.

April

By a unanimous vote of four commissioners, the jurisdiction of the police department was returned to Public Safety Director

Frank J. McFadden

King, after the department had been in the control of Mayor Williams since October, 1944. Mayor Williams failed to reveal the "conditions" he alleged existed in the department which he claimed were detrimental to his character. The revelation referred to Williams alleged association with proposed gambling elements in town and the resulting presentment which he claimed was an indictment of King. In the face of this setback, the Mayor assumed a role of righteous dignity and spoke dramatically of his reasons for believing Commissioner King was incapable of handling the affairs of the department. Throughout his indignant speech, the four commissioners remained silent. Upon conclusion of the talk, the commissioners, with the Mayor not voting, blandly said "aye" and the resolution, introduced by Commissioner Mertz, passed.

A committee of sixteen New Jersey educators, led by Dr. John P. Milligan, Dean of Instruction at New Jersey State Teachers College, embarked upon an official evaluation survey of Belleville High school. The report will determine the rating in the Middle States Association of College and Secondary Schools, of which Belleville is a member, as compared to other communities. It would reveal the weak and strong points of the system and provide college entrance preferences for students if retained on the accredited list.

In the fact of strong protests from the tenants, the commissioners took steps to correct conditions at Corbin Garden apartments. (Things haven't changed much up there. Only one of the many complaints have been remedied, according to the tenants, and the place is still a sore spot to the town burgomasters.)

The salary guide for teachers was approved. Harry Specht was appointed chairman of the Cancer Drive. C. H. Eastwood, general manager of advertising of Wallace and Tiernan died in California. Wilton Housing Corp. purchased 20 acres of land at Riviera Park for the purpose of erecting 85 new homes. They were to be priced at $7,500.

Tenants and landlord of Corbin Gardens to hold meeting and discuss problems. S/Sgt. Harry Pfister, first of Belleville prisoners of Bulge to return home, told of experiences.

J. Claude Powers

The tenants appealed to the OPA for a reduction in rent, and filed a report with the FHA, and expected the latter organization to investigate immediately.

Frank J. McFadden named chairman of the 1946 War Chest campaign scheduled to begin in October. Walter Widde company awarded Army-Navy E in recognition of outstanding production of war materials. The school board voted a new contract to was the victim of an automobile accident while with the occupation troops in Germany. Locally, the returning of many servicemen and their multitudinous problems has taken a feature spot in the headlines. The particular problem is housing, and with an acute shortage all over the nation, Belleville is no better off and the veterans are trying to create their own housing but have run into some belated opposition.

Politically, the return of the police department to Public Safety Director Joseph King after Mayor Williams had taken it from him in October, 1944, proved a setback to the Mayor. Action on the political front has been comparatively quiet of late, with the coming election in May of 1946 playing a big part in the on-the-surface harmony existing in the commission.

Burt Johnson, Liquid Carbonic Corp. of Chicago started construction of a new plant on Washington avenue. Plans call for a building costing $150,000, on Walter Kidde property next to Westinghouse. Testimonial dinner to Mayor Williams, which according to chairman, was "divorced from any Odium of politics."

May

V-E Day in Belleville found quiet celebrations, confined principally to special Church services. Families of local soldiers received first word in months from liberated prisoners-of-war, many of whom were awaiting transportation home.

The School Board took exception to an article appearing in the Times-News, pertaining to the report of the evaluating committee that had been making a survey of the local high school, under the rules established by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The rating received was "average" and the Times-News interpreted the oral report of Dr. John Milligan, who headed the five-man committee making the survey, as critical of the board and their methods. The Board countered that this was not true, and submitted a letter from Dr. Milligan defending the Board. However, the Times-News stood on its report of the oral version. (And still awaits a copy of the written report of the evaluation committee, which has been in the Board's hands for some time.)

Acting Principal of the High School Burt Johnson resigned to accept another position. He was hired to replace Hugh Kittle, regular high school principal, who had entered the Navy. Johnson claimed his job was not one of the "duration type" but had been given to believe by the board that he would be retained in a supervisory capacity, probably of the secondary schools, upon Kittle's return. The Board denied this, however, and accepted his resignation by a 3-2 vote. At the same time, Superintendent of Schools Parmer scored the lack of administrators in the school system, and said the State commission of Education had recommended supervision and administrative help as far back as 1936.

The salary guide for teachers was approved. Harry Specht was appointed chairman of the Cancer Drive. C. H. Eastwood, general manager of advertising of Wallace and Tiernan died in California. Wilton Housing Corp. purchased 20 acres of land at Riviera Park for the purpose of erecting 85 new homes. They were to be priced at $7,500.

Tenants and landlord of Corbin Gardens to hold meeting and discuss problems. S/Sgt. Harry Pfister, first of Belleville prisoners of Bulge to return home, told of experiences.

Lieut. Kenneth Smith, in charge of traffic squad of the police department, replied to Mayor Williams criticisms and cited excellent work of the traffic division. G. Crosby Hiss Jr., Achievement chairman, announced plans for expansion of that group. Creation of a school traffic squad composed of partially disabled veterans, passed on first reading by the commissioners. Civil Service referendum scheduled for November. Belleville high baseball nine was invited to participate in Greater Newark tournament. Masonic Lodge observed its 75th anniversary. An advisory planning board consisting of five members was created by the Board of Commissioners, each of whom will appoint one man to the board.

The town commissioners continued in a solid block against Mayor Williams, voting down the last two of six resolutions proposed by the Mayor in a month. The veterans traffic squad, which had passed on first reading, was postponed for the duration and six months, while the other resolution of the Mayor, creating a central purchasing department, was solidly opposed.

A reorganized committee, with Elwood P. Russell as head, met and discussed steps to put into operation the long range program of recreation that was recommended in a survey conducted for the town a year ago by a national recreation association.

The school board voted favorably on a proposal by Superintendent Parmer that an assistant to the supervising principal be hired, with such assistant later helping organize the Junior High school program.

A report of the work of the Merchants in town presented a petition asking that a denial to the Cities Service Transit company to run more buses be considered. An ordinance introduced by the commissioners creating the position of a veterans guidance director, passed on first reading. Belleville Republican club named Harry Machete, chairman for the 13th consecutive year. The local Rotary club received the President's award of Rotary International for outstanding promotion. The school board, by a 3-2 vote, ruled out a proposal to ask the voters of Belleville to vote on the construction of playground adjacent to the high school. Evan Hughes Thomas of Riverton, N. J. was appointed general supervisor of secondary education and will act as assistant to Superintendent of Schools Parmer. Formal adoption of the teachers wages guide was made by the Board of Education.

The final figures on the 7th War Loan showed Belleville going over the top in all phases. E bonds amounted to $1,413,496.75 against a quota of $1,400,000.00, while the overall figure was $4,454,493.75 against a total quota of four million.

August

V-J Day and the end of the War brought forth a wild celebration in Belleville, as throngs jammed the streets. The Belleville Foundation announced the acquisition of Camp Demarest located in Glen Wild. The camp was formerly owned by the Town of Bloomfield, and present plans call for Ro-Li Camp Inc. to take over the camp. Ro-Li is composed of members of the Foundation, the Lions and Rotary clubs.

The high school would play all football games at the Municipal Stadium, it was announced by the Board of Education. Seven applications were on hand for the position of veterans guidance director. The commissioners decided to make the appointment at a special meeting. Commissioner Louis A. Noll introduced plans for a skating rink to be constructed adjacent to the Municipal Stadium. was reached Monday, when Edgar Peierls, company president, Dominick Tripode, international representative of the union, company and union attorneys were able to reach terms.

Fourth of a series of strikes to his Belleville, the Resistor's union disagreement was the only strike that was marked by violence. Five members of the nine who are not reporting to work were alleged to have committed atrocious assault and battery against several of the non-strikers and were released on bail. The case was supposed to have come up for hearing last week, but has been postponed until a future date.

The company was granted a restraining order against the union picketing, limiting the union picketing to five persons at each of the company's three entrance gates.

Local 333, Playthings, Jewelry and Novelty Workers Union, CIO, called the strike because the company allegedly had refused to settle grievances. Annual Meeting Of Treat Council

Scouters and Cubbers of the Belleville District are looking forward to attending the Annual Meeting of the Robert Treat Council, which will be held at 6:45 P.M. on Tuesday, January 29th, in the Essex House. Ellwood Russell, vice-chairman of the Belleville District, is a member of the dinner committee and in charge of arrangements. A fine program is being developed, and it is expected that Belleville will have the largest turnout for this meeting in local Scouting history.

GOOD FOOD SUPPLY SEEN BY A. P. HEAD

Reduced Military Needs To Fill Nation's Larders, Predicts Hartford

The food industry must maintain its war-accelerated pace in 1946 in order to meet increased domestic demands and fill its export obligations, John A. Hartford, president of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, declared here today.

"With adequate production of most foods indicated for the new year," Hartford said, "industry-wide teamwork is needed to improve the quality and freshness of agricultural products and to reduce to a minimum the waste and spoilage involved in moving these products from farm to kitchen."

A hopeful development in recent years, he said, has been the cooperation of farmers, government and state college experts and leading farm organizations with progressive distributors and retailers in working for these objectives. Hartford said it will be helpful in the new year if the co-operating agencies can concentrate their talents and facilities on the following objectives:

1. Producing the quality, quantities and varieties suited to national and local requirements;
2. Providing better marketing coordination to avoid surpluses and waste in some areas when markets are available elsewhere;
3. Improving and standardizing grade and pack, shipping containers and consumer packages;
4. Developing better transportation methods, and routing produce more directly from field to store;
5. Improving retail merchandising through better display, less handling and more informative advertising and selling.

Hartford said that progress is also likely in the merchandising of more mature fruits and vegetables and in the development of new by-product uses for lower grades of produce. Scientific refrigeration at every stage of marketing, when required, will add much to the efficiency of handling perishable foods, he said.

"Farm production will benefit not only from the removal of war handicaps — shortages of manpower, farm machinery and supplies — but also through the wartime development of labor-saving devices, sturdier disease-resistant crops, new ingredients in dairy and poultry feed, sprays and weed controls." Hartford added.

"Marked progress may also be expected in stock and poultry breeding during the next few years. There is evidence of this in the reaction of progressive poultry breeders to a nationwide contest which we are sponsoring to promote production of better meat-type chickens."

War-inspired science will contribute valuable aid to the processing and distribution of food, as well as to production, Hartford predicted. He cited developments in electronics, air freight, scientific train-loading, dehydration, freezing, defrosting and elimination of costly bread mold. He referred also to enrichment of baked goods and other products and the trend in many states toward establishment of a permanent "added-vitamin" program.

Reduced requirements of the armed forces, Hartford said, will have a decided effect upon the quality as well as the quantity of all types of food products available for consumer use while consumers, who have been tolerant of wartime substitutes for scarce commodities, will become increasingly selective in their purchasing habits. This, he said, will require full attention of producers and distributors to strict control of quality and constantly increasing efficiency in production and distribution methods to deliver quality merchandise economically.

Many of the new year's innovations, aimed at making food shopping more convenient, will be speeded by the return of experienced retail employees who have been on leave with the armed forces, he said.

CASH AWARD WON BY LOCAL TRAPPER

Skillful Handling of Muskrat Pelt Earns Award for James W. Schultz In Sears 17th National Fur Show

Read How You, Too, May Win an Award as High as $1,000.00 Cash

Proving again that "better pelt handling pays," this local trapper got an extra $5.00 in cash—one of the Daily Awards in Sears 17th National Fur Show—and, besides, a chance to share in the big major award!

What this trapper did, you too can do—whether or not you sell your furs through Sears Raw Fur Marketing Service. For Sears Fur Show offers, this season, a total of 942 cash awards, including the First Award of $1,000.00 for the best handled pelt of all.

942 Awards—$7,590 Cash

Yes, a total of 942 cash awards for fur shippers—942 opportunities to share in $7,590.00 in cash.

MAJOR CASH AWARDS: There are ten major cash awards, ranging from $50.00 to $1,000.00.

SECTIONAL CASH AWARDS: There are sectional awards, too—for complete shipments of five or more pelts—one award of $250.00; eleven of $50.00 each.

DAILY CASH AWARDS: Finally, there are 942 daily cash awards of $5.00 each, for pelts received during the Fur Show.

Pays You 3 Ways

First, every award is in addition to the cash Sears get you for your pelts.

Second, Sears can be depended on to obtain for you top prices.

Third, even if you don't win an award, careful handling enhances the value of your furs.

This third feature is the real reason for Sears 17th National Fur Show with 942 Cash awards, totaling $7,590.00.

By encouraging careful pelt handling, Sears believes the annual value of America's raw furs can be increased by millions of dollars. And that the income of every trapper can be given a big boost.

Get In—It's Easy

Every fur you ship to Sears, during the term of the Fur Show, is automatically considered for awards.

Moreover, only the handling of the pelts counts; not the kind of fur, not its value.

So this season, why not try for some big extra money? Remember, everybody has an equal chance. You have everything to gain—nothing to lose.

When your furs are ready, ship them to Sears, Roebuck and Co., Raw Fur Marketing Service at the nearest of these points: Chicago, Philadelphia, Memphis, Dallas, Kansas City or Seattle. Thousands of trappers have earned awards. YOU CAN, too!

The Commissioners granted two package store liquor licenses to returned veterans. A policy was established by the commission to the effect there would be no limit on granting of licenses, within reason, and stated this policy would not deprive the veteran of an opportunity to start in business.

Joseph Arnold named head of Chest drive in schools. An ordinance was passed by the commissioners amending the sanitary code, which was aimed at settling the long-drawn out fight between the tenants and landlord at Corbin Gardens. The ordinance provided for interior staining of the garbage cans or if cans placed outside must be below ground level.

Belleville-Nutley T. B. officials hoped to have 1,000 persons avail themselves of the chest X-Rays at the local high school. Mrs. Ernest Whynall is the T. B. nurse in charge of the two towns.

The Community Chest adopted a budget of $26,250, exclusive of the war fund and Catholic Charities budgets. DeWitt Savings and Loan added approximately $450,000 to its assets through the absorption of three Newark groups. Police request registration of all bicycles in town in effort to curb thefts. Mrs. William P. Adams, prominent local citizen, celebrated her 80th birthday. Belleville failed to reach their quota in Cancer drive, less than half of the $7,500 goal being realized.

John P. Dailey, chairman of the veterans assistance program for the Belleville area, announced the appointment of an advisory committee composed of seven veterans.

Mrs. Allan Crisp

October

Strikes at local plants broke into the news, with 1,000 production workers going out at Walter Kidde and the Wire Weavers at Eastwood-Nealley staging a walk-out. Wage increases were the issues principally involved, with other contractual differences also in dispute. Picketing at both plants was peaceful as union and management held many meetings in an effort to settle their differences.

The acute housing shortage grabbed the headlines locally, as the influx of returning veterans from the armed forces created an unprecedented demand for accommodations. The problems was taken under consideration by the town commissioners, and a survey

Carbat named commander of the Tri-City Post of the American Legion. Town increases sewer funds at special meeting, in a move to have appropriations cover the lowest bidder for the sewer and water construction at the Riviera Park development tract.

September

Opening gun in the Community Chest drive was fired, 400 volunteers setting out to canvass the town thoroughly in a well-organized house-to-house campaign. The quota was $59,000, and a drive official stated that an average donation of $7 was needed to make the drive a success.

The B-Hive, weekly dance session held for the benefit of the students and younger people in town, with students conducting the affairs under the supervision of the school authorities, was closed temporarily following a fight between two groups outside the school. The scuffle was supposed to have started on the dance floor, and developed into quite a brawl outside. Hugh Kittle, school principal, and a committee of parents were scheduled to meet to decide the fate of the B-Hive.

Red Cross announced the resignation of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Baxter, the former being chairman of the chapter safety service committee and Mrs. Baxter, chapter secretary. Joseph McGreevy took up his post as town veterans guidance director. It was announced that the position would come under jurisdiction of the Department of Public Affairs, and the appointment would be for one year. Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Olian of New York City were appointed executive director and assistant of the Silver Lake Com-was planned to determine whether any existing housing was available in town.

The house-to-house canvass for the Eighth War Bond Drive got under way. The overall quota, according to chairman Philip Detelbach and assistant Ronald Brunner, was $3,500,000. Temporary appointment of John J. Kant of 40 DeWitt avenue as local postmaster was announced. Kant succeeded William Price, localite who was stricken suddenly and died. Price had been postmaster of the Belleville Post-Office for 14 years. The Belleville-Nutley Ration Board closed its offices and merged with the Newark board, and moved to 1016 Broad street.

Four men were involved in a brawl at the Hillcrest Tavern on Washington avenue. Thomas Sharp of Joralemon street was held for the Grand Jury on a charge of atrocious assault and battery. A tavern license granted to Sgt. Frank Rizzolo, an Army veteran, received belated opposition from the residents in the vicinity of the proposed saloon 382 Union avenue. (Case still pending.)

Lindley Graves named to the Board of Trustees of the Belleville Public Library. Republican Rally at the Elks club heard Representative Fred A. Hartley. The proposed closing of School No. 2 and merging with No. 10 was blocked by a group of indignant parents, who claimed that walking to School No. 10 was a safety hazard and that their property would suffer if No. 2 were closed. Robert C. Gruhin announced his candidacy for the State Assembly, running on the Democratic ticket.

Harvey Thompson

Norman Lauterette received a Presidential citation for distinguished service as head of the local war transportation committee. The High School football team showed considerable promise, hanging up triumphs over Barringer of Newark by a 19-6 count, and Passaic 12-0. The local pigskinners dropped a tough one to Bloomfield, losing in the closing minutes, 18-13. Football clinic conducted by the Varsity club had large turnout.

Rev. John Struyk received a certificate from the U. S. Treasury Department for distinguished services rendered during the many bond drives. After 51 years of service in the Presbyterian ministry, Dr. O. Bell Close announced his retirement from active service. He founded and led the Fewsmith Presbyterian church 21 years ago. Mayor Williams urged clarification of the town zoning map, as the outcome of many discrepancies discovered, which had taken place over the years. An application for a mercantile permit by Rocco Raimo to operate a garage at Florence street in Silver Lake brought a wave of protests from the residents on the street. The permit had already been turned down by the board, but Raimo was appealing through his attorney, Robert Gruhin.

Discharged servicemen were offered the opportunity of having their discharge papers photostated free at police headquarters. The offer came through Public Safety Director Joseph King.

Tripoli Park Political and Social club celebrated its tenth anniversary with a dance at St. Anthony's hall. The board of education was authorized to borrow $70,000 by the voters, in a special election, the money to be expended for the construction of recreational facilities in the area south of the high school.

The Defense Council announced it would disband in the near future. Newark police caught bandits that held up Capitol theatre and escaped with $314.48. Girl Scouts announced formation of a Junior Council.

November

Veterans in town, faced with a terrific housing shortage, were offered a measure of relief when several members of the Amvets, veterans organization, proposed building garden-type apartments. The proposal called for 30 vets to organize a corporation, conduct the affairs of real estate connected with such a project and generally handle the whole thing. The town commissioners expressed their willingness to cooperate to the fullest extent, and offered to sell, at public bidding, a parcel

PRICE VIOLATIONS CONTINUE RISE

Construed As Warning Of Inflation If Preventive Measures Removed

Price violations in North Jersey have been rising at the rate of one half of one percent a month for the past three months, according to monthly reports submitted by the 23 local OPA price boards in this area. This was cited today by District OPA Director Richard J. Tarrant as evidence of "tremendous post-war inflationary pressures."

Tarrant disclosed that November reports from Price Panels show that eight percent of 5,733 North Jersey retailers checked during the month had one or more price violations. He compared this with six percent in August, six and one half percent in September, and slightly over seven percent in October. He pointed out that price violations took a sharp drop right after V-J Day to six percent from the wartime range of ten to eighteen percent, but that a steady rise has occurred since September.

"This is a warning to all of us," he said, "is the smoke that gives evidence the fires of inflation are smoldering in our economy and can break into flame if we relax our preventive measures. Business men, consumers and government must continue their anti-inflationary efforts."

"Shortages are not the only factor causing price violations," he declared. "Despite adequate supplies of most foods, price violations are reported at the rate of five and one half percent this month."

Tarrant said that while the incidence of price violations on food had decreased somewhat, increased violations on consumer durable goods, both new and used, accounted for the increase in the general level of violation.

The November reports from Price Panels also indicate the measure of cooperation extended by consumers and the anti-inflationary results achieved by the OPA price volunteers — 43 of 331 consumers who reported overcharges received refunds totaling $2,321.56; and 97 merchants paid $3,224.06 into the U. S. Treasury in settlement of overcharge triple damage claims. During the same month, District OPA food enforcement attorneys negotiated triple damage settlements with 75 food retailers who paid a total of $4,399.05 into the U. S. Treasury.

SISTER KENNY DRIVE ENDS

John F. Coogan Announces Total Collection Of $725 In First Year Here

John F. Coogan jr. this week reported collection of $725 for the Sister Kenny Fund conducted earlier this month under his chairmanship by means of newspaper and direct mail solicitation, and coin boxes placed in local banks and stores.

Mr. Coogan, Washington avenue realtor, in analyzing the drive total gave top honors to Thomson Machine company and The Federal Leather company who each contributed $100. The First National Bank, by paying for one-half the drive's newspaper advertising, was the next most substantial supporter.

Five hundred dollars was raised through direct subscription; of the remaining $225 the coin container at the People's National bank was responsible for the greatest return, $22.47. McCoy's tavern at 455 Washington avenue returned the largest amount, $19.82, among the coin boxes distributed to individual merchants.

This is the first time the drive has been held in Belleville. Operated on a national scale, it is intended to provide funds to train nurses in the Sister Elizabeth Kenny treatment for infantile paralysis. Mr. Coogan expressed satisfaction with returns here because of the newness of the venture and lack of pressure in the drive.

His associates in the drive were R. William McMullen and Mrs. Elizabeth Patterson, both members of his real estate firm.

Theft of one coin container and its contents from a Union avenue tavern caused the committee to believe that they knew of the existence of the meanest man for 1945. Investigation to prove the guilt is under way.

Additional compensation totaling approximately $1,500,000 has been distributed to employees of The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company before Christmas, it was announced today by John A. Hartford, president.

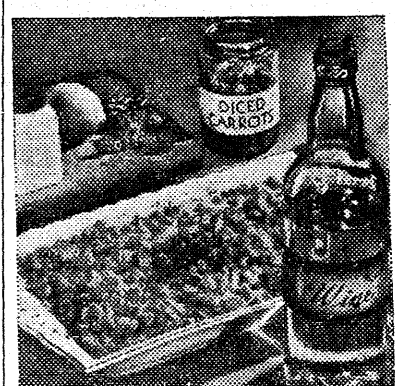

All A & P employees throughout the country, with six months or more service with the company, participate in the cash distribution. The company's employees were voted similar compensation last year.

Local Man Wins Prize In Sears Fur Contest

James W. Schultz, well-known trapper in town, was the winner of one of the daily awards for correct pelt handling in the Seventeenth National Fur Show conducted by the Raw Fur Marketing Service of Sears, Roebuck company.

Schultz's carefully handled muskrat pelt brought him a $5 award, as a result of its being judged one of the three best handled skins among all pelts received at Sears Roebuck Fur Marketing Station in Philadelphia Saturday, December 15. Schultz is also eligible for one of the major awards, including $1,000 first prize, which will be selected at the final judging in April.

Glamour Carrots

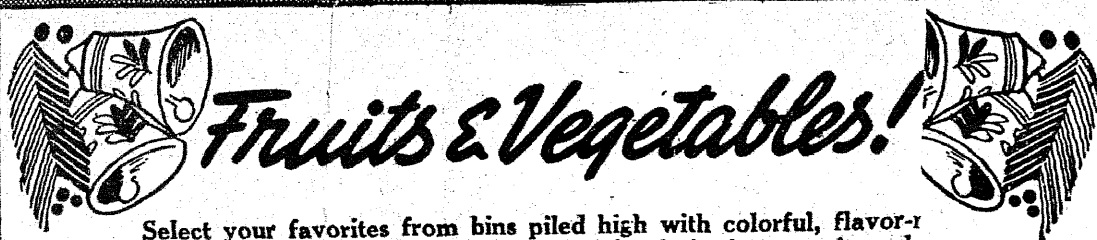

A tasty new sauce for carrots will make that winter standby a more refreshing vegetable course. Canned or fresh cooked carrots may be used. A glass jar of carrots is the equivalent of the quantity called for in this recipe.

Carrots Supreme
2 cups cooked carrots
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/4 cup bottled white wine
Pinch majoram and thyme
Spritz parsley

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
2 tablespoons flour
3/4 cup bottled milk
2 tablespoons table fat
Drain carrots; measure 1/2-cup liquid and combine with lemon juice, wine, spices, parsley and seasonings. Bring to boil and reduce to one-half original volume. Remove parsley.

Make paste of flour and a small amount of milk, blend thoroughly into wine mixture. Add remainder of milk and table fat stirring constantly until sauce thickens; add carrots, heat and serve.

Select your favorites from bins piled high with colorful, flavor-rich vegetables. And buy plenty of plump, juicy fruits for tempting salt desserts, and between-meal snacks. Prices will please your pur-
