

YOUTHS OF DRAFT AGE ELIGIBLE FOR ENLISTMENT

Army Cites 21-Month Tour Of Duty With The Same Requirements

Belleville youths of draft age may now volunteer for 21-month enlistments, it was announced by Major Walter C. Money, Commanding Officer of the Newark Recruiting Station, today. Single men between 19 and 25 years of age, inclusive, are eligible for these 21-month enlistments, Money stated.

Many young men who are of draft age are desirous of completing the required period of service, but would rather not volunteer for the usual three year enlistment. Under the 21 month enlistment policy, these men are able to plan their entry into service and by so doing, eliminate the uncertainty of waiting to be called under the Selective Service Act.

Same Requirements

Money pointed out that the requirements for such an enlistment are the same as the requirements under Selective Service. All men who are drafted or volunteer for 21 months incur a reserve obligation whereby they are automatically placed in the Enlisted Reserve Corps for a period of five years upon the completion of active service. This five year period can be decreased to three years if the reservist volunteers for the active reserve which necessitates attending regular night drills and summer camp.

The Recruiting Service still offers the regular three year enlistment to all qualified men between 17 and 34 years of age inclusive. Applicants who have reached their 17th birthday but not their 18th birthday are required to have their parents' consent before they can be enlisted. The three year enlistment relieves men from the obligation of any reserve service upon completion of their active duty.

Money stated that full details regarding the 21 month enlistment can be obtained at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Main Station in the Post Office Building, Newark.

Essex County CYO Will Hold 4th Marriage Forum

The fourth annual marriage forum sponsored by the Essex County CYO will get underway at the Hotel Douglas, Newark, on Tuesday, February 27, Rev. John J. Riley, CYO director, announced yesterday.

Father Riley also stated that the forum would again be held in two sections—one for young men and one for young girls. Lectures in the series will be heard on the 27th and the succeeding three Tuesdays. Registration for the course will be open up to the night of the first lecture. Admission from then on will be by ticket only.

In announcing the dates Father Riley said that "The pre-marriage forum is designed to help young people think through the problem of marriage before, not after, so that much heartache and disillusionment can be prevented."

Helen B. Davis Circle To Discuss Book At Meeting

Members and friends of the Helen B. Davis Circle of Grace Baptist Church will meet next Monday evening in the home of the pastor, Rev. Thomas Ellis, 91 Overlook Avenue. Mrs. Irving Russell will assist Mrs. Ellis as co-hostess. The Circle plans to make a further study of the book, "The Near East," Mrs. Edward Puckhater will lead the discussion.

The good prizes of life go to those who dare to do what others only dare to think.

The only time you don't want to fail is the last time you try.—Charles F. Ketterling.

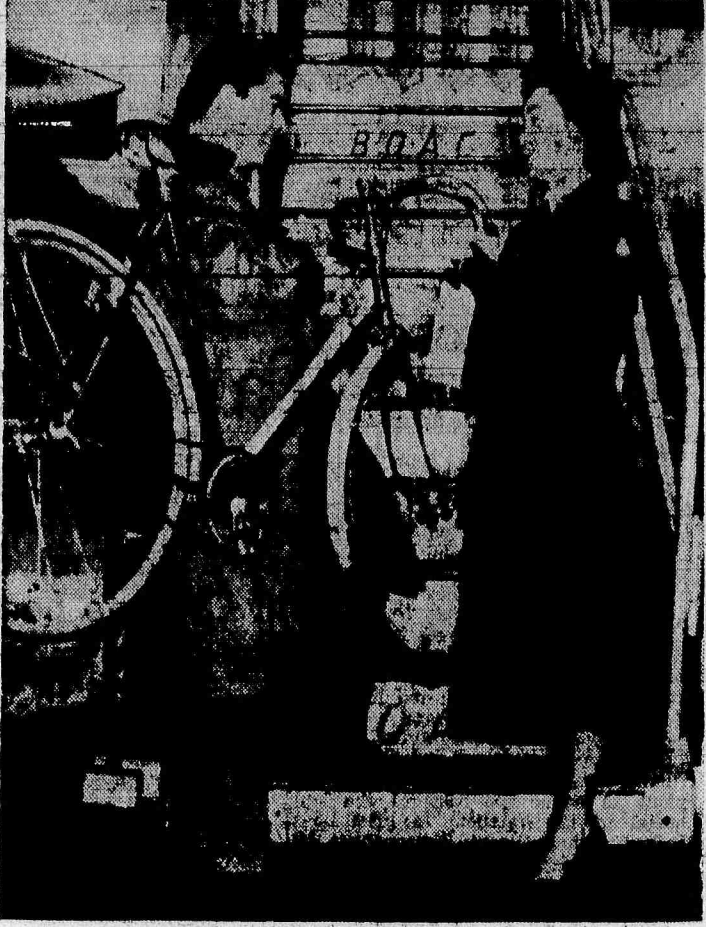

There is only one endeavor in which you can start at the top—and that's digging a hole.

There is nothing which makes men rich and strong but that which they carry inside of them. True wealth is of the heart, not of the hand.—John Milton.

Sheldon and Bike Take to Air

Don Sheldon, former national junior champion, winner of numerous European and international cycling events, twice winner of the famous "Tour of Somerville" and former New Jersey state champion takes his racing cycle aboard a BOAC "stratocruiser" en route to London where he will represent the United States in the international cycling race at Herne Hill, England. The specially built road racing bicycle, a BSA "Gold Column" weighing only 20 pounds, was a gift to the Nutley athlete by the Rich Child Cycle Company of 639 Passaic Avenue. Mayor William J. Jernick made the presentation at a banquet attended by devotees of the twin wheels last Sunday night at the Passaic Turners.

Nutley Student Queen For A Year

Valerie's beautiful blonde hair and lovely smile, Clifton, were crowned Queen and King of Fairleigh Dickinson College campus at a coronation ceremony and Valentine's dance in the college gym, having been elected by popular vote of the students to rule for the coming year. Valerie lives at 443 Franklin Avenue.

Post On Municipal League's Advisory Committee To Mayor

Appointment of Mayor James J. Tully to the advisory committee of the New Jersey State League of Municipalities was announced this week. According to the release, committee has no regular meeting dates but functions at the call of the president to consider questions and discuss problems that vitally concern municipal government.

The committee represents a cross-section of officials and administrators in all classifications of municipal government. It assists the league's executive board in determining general league policy.

Brotherhood Week Proclaimed By Mayor Starting Sunday

Mayor Tully issued a proclamation today calling for the observance of Brotherhood Week, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews. The annual celebration, held in conjunction with the Essex County Round Table of the Conference, will be held next week. Special programs and services have been scheduled by churches and organizations throughout the town in commemoration of Brotherhood Week.

Elwood P. Russell, local State Assemblyman, is a co-chairman of the Essex County Round Table.

home about midnight from a lodge meeting, found all doors locked and could not gain entry. She summoned a neighbor, John Pearce, of 179 Malone Avenue, who broke a latch chain to gain admission. Mr. Price was found on the second floor with his head resting on a pillow on the gas range, with four jets open, according to police. Police said a note was addressed to his wife, asking forgiveness.

Police and firemen were unable to revive Mr. Price and he was pronounced dead by Dr. Meekhan.

Born and raised here, Mr. Price took an active part in Masonic matters and was a pillar of the Belleville Reformed Church. He was employed for many years as a statistician with the Prudential Insurance Company. Mr. Price had recently recovered from a serious seige of illness.

He is survived by his wife, a son and a daughter.

to roll back.

The government has admitted that the price control as it now stands is only temporary in order to stop zooming prices, and that it will be made more flexible later on. That's fine, but in the meantime while about 60,000 jobs are being created in the OPA and 6,000,000 items are being regulated, the poor, long suffering American housewives are, as usual, left holding the bag, and we don't mean tea, either.

Viking

After acquiring the rights to the electric unit from a Canadian firm, Mr. Lindstrom began the job of making it tick, by our American standards. The delicate, accurate electric parts are installed in a compact, light aluminum casing. It is attached to the cab's transmission by a cable, which in turn runs from the motor to the speedometer cable. A trip switch inside the unit, after being set at the desired spacing, sends current flowing that completes a circuit to the solenoid coil, which in turn pulls a bar that records the fare.

Ready Potential

With 90,000 cabs in the country, half of them already metered, the market potential is tremendous, the Viking officers feel. They produced 2,000 last year and anticipate disposing of 5,000 in the current year, if material cutbacks influenced by industrial mobilization aren't felt too severely.

Viking has already gone to war, too. Sub-contracts are being handled for the Picatinny Arsenal and more defense work is anticipated. Most of the plant's production is peace-time goods, though. Television parts for RCA and Philco and a new, electrically-operated TV antenna rotator unit designed by Viking are directed toward our newest medium.

Vending machines, used for providing sandwiches, milk and cigars are being made by Viking. The first two named are sub-contracts from the Rowe Manufacturing Company, former Belleville concern now located in Whippany.

The Forum was an open critic of Clean Government methods during last year's Congressional campaign, contending that the base selection of candidates was not broad enough and that there should be wider consultation. While doing nothing to help Democratic Congressman Peter W. Rodino win re-election, the Forum did nothing to help elect Clean Government's William Rawson.

"The Belleville Republican Forum has expressed its confidence in the leadership of County Chairman George Becker and it will do everything within its power to help secure a Republican victory in 1952," Golden told The Times-News last night.

necessary in the interest of national defense, to curtail non-military uses of some critically short materials used by the telephone industry. We must assume that sooner or later, this will make it necessary to adjust our plans for expanding and improving service for civilian uses," the report read.

Defense First

"The nation's defense needs come first. We are sure that telephone people, as well as the telephone public, will accept this situation and the problems it brings, as part of the price of freedom."

Telephone construction in New Jersey during the year 1950 amounted to $41,500, bringing the total telephone construction program in New Jersey in the last five years to $241,000,000.

An increase in earnings of $4,705,189 over 1949 reflected the first full year's effect of an $8,305,000 increase in telephone rates awarded in the spring of 1949 out of a total of $16,025,000 originally sought by the company, and gave the company a 4.8 per cent return on the fair value of its property in 1950.

Costs Rise

The company said that it filed for new rate increases on April 19, 1950, to cover the increased costs of materials and labor and to bring the earnings of the company to a satisfactory level.

The company's direct case has been completed and cross-examination is scheduled for March 20 of this year. The low return of 4.8 per cent on the fair value of its property for 1950 supports the rate application, the company said.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the President of the United States has accepted the Honorary Chairmanship for Brotherhood Week 1951, and has proclaimed the observance during the week of Washington's Birthday, and

WHEREAS, the Father of our country was among the first to see that to achieve the goal of a "more perfect Union," our Government must "give to bigotry no sanction, to persecution no assistance";

THEREFORE, I, James J. Tully, mayor of Belleville, do hereby set aside the week of Washington's Birthday, February 18 to 25, 1951, as Brotherhood Week, and call upon the people of this city to rededicate themselves during that period and throughout the year to the principle of the Brotherhood of Man under the Fatherhood of God.

James J. Tully
Mayor of Belleville.

SEARS' EMPLOYEES
GET STATEMENTS

Group Has Investment Of $42,152.79 In Savings, Profit, Pension Fund

Eight employees of Sears Belleville store have accumulated $42,152.79 in the "Savings and Profit Sharing Pension Fund of Sears, Roebuck and Co. Employees," A. J. Gerolstein, store manager, announced today at a meeting of the store's fund members.

The employee-members were called together to receive their annual individual statements. These statements show the extent to which each member is sharing in the company's 1950 profits.

According to A. J. Gerolstein, this local employee group has to its credit in the fund 640,971 shares of Sears stock plus a cash balance of $8,501.81. Based on a year-end market value of $52.50 per share for the Sears stock, this group now has a total investment worth $42,152.79.

Total current assets of the fund have reached $349,400,000 (based on a year-end market value of $52.50 per share). Of this amount, only $55,200,000 represents deposits from the wages and salaries of the 104,104 employee members in the fund.

The total holdings of the fund now approximate 23 per cent of the company's stock.

The Sears fund—which was started thirty-five years ago—has a two-fold purpose, A. J. Gerolstein explained. One is to permit employees to share in the company's profits and the other to assist them in creating a financial reserve which will help take care of their needs following their eventual retirement from business.

All regular Sears employees are eligible to join the fund after one year with the company.

Employee members of the fund deposit five per cent of their salaries up to a $250 maximum deposit into the fund each year. Sears annual contribution into the fund is based on an established percentage of its profits. This sum is credited to employee-members on a length-of-service basis.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO HAVE ACTIVITIES

Plan Garden Day Program, Covered Dish Supper, and St. Patrick's Day Bridge

The film, "How Does Your Garden Grow?" will be shown by the American Agricultural Chemical Company at the Garden Department's Guest Day program, to be sponsored by the Woman's Club, and held at the clubhouse on Monday, Mrs. William D. Cornish, chairman of the Home Department, will also display her collection of Cranberry Glass. Refreshments will be served, and all members and friends are welcome.

The club will hold a covered dish supper next Tuesday in the clubhouse. Mrs. William C. North is general chairman, Mrs. Ruel Daniels is in charge of the supper, Mrs. Arthur Tirico is music chairman, and Mrs. P. Webster Diehl has charge of the tickets.

Mrs. Marvin S. Wallace has been appointed chairman of the March 5 dessert bridge. Plans are being made to make it a St. Patrick's Day party. Proceeds from the bridge will be used for fulfillment of the club's pledge to the Lutheran Hospital fund. All club members and friends are invited. Tickets may be obtained from general card party chairman, Mrs. John DeNike by calling Belleville 2-3011, Mrs. Marvin Wallace, Belleville 2-1631, or Miss Esther H. Adams, Belleville 2-1843.

George Schwacha To Speak At Amateur Artists Meeting

George Schwacha, art director of the Society of Creative Artists, will give a demonstration of the monthly meeting of the society on Monday, at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Bloomfield Public Library on Broad Street, Bloomfield. The public is invited to attend.

Cassia is fast becoming a popular medium with artists. Mr. Schwacha will explain the use and versatility of this new medium and what can be done with it. There will be an opportunity for questions from the audience.

Although Mr. Schwacha is well known for his painting demonstrations, this will be one of the few he has given in this locality. Those who saw him demonstrate at the Art Festival in the Bloomfield Town Green last June will be interested in this chance to see a repeat performance.

Master Of Science Degree
Awarded To Albert Pascal

Albert Pascal, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Fred Pascal, 22 Prospect Street, was awarded the graduate degree of Master of Science at the Mid-Year Convocation of the University of Pennsylvania, Saturday, February 10. Dr. Harold Stassen, president of the University conferred the degrees. Principal speaker was Dr. George Keith Funston, president of Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut.

Mr. Pascal was graduated from the local high school and received his Bachelor of Arts degree from George Washington University, Washington, D.C. He holds the position of Executive Assistant, Rehabilitation Service, VA Hospital, Coatesville, Penn.

Parish Priest Aids Deaf

Assignment of Rev. John B. Hourihan of St. Peter's to aid in directing the activities of the Catholic Center for the Deaf was announced recently. The appointment was made by Archbishop Thomas J. Walsh, who is shown seated in the above picture. Mrs. Thomas J. Smith, president of the Mt. Carmel Guild, is on the left, next to Rev. Patrick J. Owens of St. Francis Xavier Church in Newark, co-director with Father Hourihan. A new Silent Club has already been created to stimulate social life among the Center members and further expansion of activities has been planned.

Makes Debut

Santy Josol, 11-year-old singer who made his professional debut recently on the Ted Steele television show. Gifted with a fine tenor voice, the youngster has been singing since the age of three and has been studying voice for three years. He has been a guest at several grade schools and entertained at assembly programs. He is the soloist for the grammar school orchestra and will be a featured performer in the annual Spring Concert staged by Passaic Avenue School. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Santy Josol of 185 Passaic Avenue, the young singer is a sixth grade student at No. 7 School.

VARIETY OFFERED
BY ADULT SCHOOL

New Registrations Are Being Accepted For Spring Term February 26

Social amenities and the arts are on the upswing in Belleville, if the registry list of the North Newark Adult School is a media for judging. Richard W. Howe, president of the Adult School and a resident of Essex Street, said yesterday that dancing and painting proved the most popular courses among the fifty-four Bellevilleites who recently completed the Fall term.

The school, a non-profit organization, conducted at Elliott Street School in North Newark, is now accepting registrations for the Spring term. Information may be procured from the school, 709 Summer Avenue or at the local Free Public Library.

Monday Classes

Sewing, a "personality plus" course, bridge, memory and golf drew registrations for the term just finished. Many subjects are available and classes are held each Monday evening.

Four evenings have been established for enrolling. Tonight, Monday, Tuesday and Friday, February 23 have been set, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. A nominal charge is made to defray the expense of the courses and the first class period is scheduled for February 26.

Thomas McNair Honored By
Elks At P.E.R. Night

Belleville Lodge of Elks No. 1123 celebrated Past Exalted Rulers Night at its clubrooms on Monday evening in honor of all the living past exalted rulers of the lodge.

A well deserved distinction was bestowed on Thomas McNair being elected to honorary life membership in the Belleville lodge.

At a meeting of the Board of Governors it was voted that the lodge donate the auditorium for the benefit card party to be held Friday, March 2, the proceeds to go to the Belleville March of Dimes.

Williams Named Plant Manager
For Belleville By Westinghouse

Ralph C. Stuart, vice-president of Westinghouse, announced the appointment of William J. Williams of Bloomfield as manager of the parts plants in Belleville and Bloomfield. Williams, an employee of Westinghouse since 1916, will continue as manager of equipment and maintenance for the division.

He formerly supervised the plant at Lester, Pa. and was awarded a Westinghouse Order for Merit for placing that plant in full war production four months ahead of schedule during World War II. He resides at 61 Overlook Terrace, Bloomfield.

Lenten Speaker

Rev. John Strome, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church of Newark and moderator of the 48 Newark Presbyterian Churches, will be the guest preacher next Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock in Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church. Mark Seibert, minister of music, will direct the choir and Miss Ruth Lurie, soloist, will sing. The service is open to the public.

A. B. Degree Conferred
On Russell J. Swanson

Russell J. Swanson was among the 764 students at Indiana University who completed work on their degrees at the end of the semester. Commencement exercises were held last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Swanson received an A. B. degree in geography.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Swenson of 35 Malone Avenue, he graduated from Central High School and served four years in the radio and communications branch of the Army Air Force during World War II.

Nelson Shaw On Honor Roll
At Rutgers University

Nelson Shaw, son of Mrs. H. G. Shaw, 144 Jorammon Street, and the late Mr. Shaw, has been named to the honor roll at the Rutgers School of Business Administration. Superior scholastic grades and membership in the top five percent of the class are necessary for earning the honor.

Fred Holland To Speak
At Fellowship Meeting

The Fellowship Circle of Fewsmith Memorial Church will hold a monthly meeting Tuesday, February 20, at 8 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Robert Zander, 15 Bel-mohr Street. Fred Holland will be guest speaker. Co-hostesses will be Miss Mabel Taggart, Mrs. Eberhard Lindauer and Mrs. Curtis Mitchell.

PHILIP PAUL

Belleville Boy, Seriously Injured In Auto-Truck Collision On Tuesday

Passaic General Hospital reports that the condition of Philip Paul, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Paul of 273 Ralph Street, is favorable. The boy was seriously injured Tuesday morning in a collision between a milk truck and an automobile at Allwood Road and Mt. Prospect Avenue. Clifton, a passenger in the car driven by her husband, was detained at the hospital for observation.

Philip, riding with his father in a milk truck, was thrown from the truck to the road. Mr. Paul was driving south in Mt. Prospect Avenue. The Pauls' car was proceeding east in Allwood Road.

PTA Notes

The Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 10 held its monthly meeting last Thursday evening in the school auditorium. Mrs. Lillian Eron, president, urged the members to vote on the school budget on Tuesday, February 13 at the school.

After the regular business meeting, a film, "You Can Beat the Atom Bomb," was shown. Max Schwartz, director of Education of the Belleville Civilian Defense Council; Chief Kenneth Smith, Coordinator of the Defense Council; and Norman Lauferette, who is in charge of Civilian Defense in this area, were present. They each gave an informative talk about their respective fields of Civilian Defense.

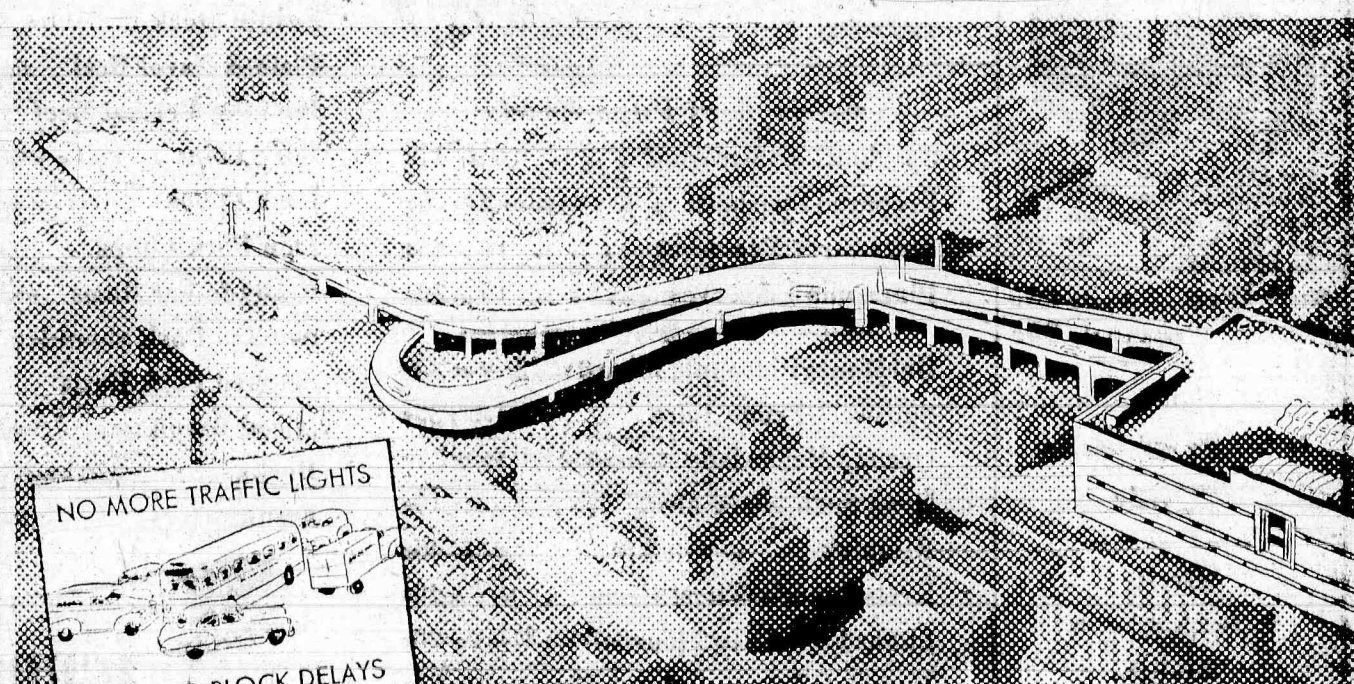

A Founder's Day celebration was held in the gym after the meeting.

Customers' Corner
At this time each year we honor our founder, George Huntington Hartford, who gave us this basic policy:
"Always do what is honest, fair and sincere and in the best interests of our customers."
Today, as in our first store 92 years ago, the men and women of A&P strive constantly to live up to that policy.
If we should ever fail to do so, please let us know. Please write:
CUSTOMER RELATIONS DEPT.
A&P Food Stores
420 Lexington Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

Buy all your food and household needs at A&P for one week. Then compare the total cost with your usual weekly food bill. You'll save any day you shop.
Because A&P not only offers storewide low prices on hundreds of items every day, but guarantees advertised prices for a full week, even though market prices go up.
This guarantee applies to all advertised items... not to groceries alone, from Thursday through Wednesday... not merely for a few days.

All prices shown here (including those of items not subject to price ceilings) are guaranteed Thursday, Feb. 15th thru Wednesday, Feb. 21st.

A&P's PRICE POLICY
• Storewide low prices on hundreds of items every day... instead of just a few "one-day" or "week-end" specials.
• All advertised prices (including those items not subject to price ceilings) are guaranteed for one week, even though market prices go up.
We believe this policy helps our customers save more money.
• With the correct price marked on every item, plus an itemized cash register slip... you know what you save at A&P.

Belleville-nosed Hillside in another close contest, gaining the verdict by a 36 to 34 score. A last minute rally by the locals, featured by two quick baskets by Captain Frank Takashi, enabled Belleville to score their second win of the season over the Comets. It would not have been surprising at all if Coach Jitty Wische had developed a head-full of gray hair, for the last six games played by the Bellboys finished as close as the hands of a clock at twelve.

The Community House five defeated the Silver Lake Club by a 52 to 13 score in St. Anthony's Intra-Parish League contest. A big first period in which they tallied 18 points, enabled the winners to coast to an easy triumph. Sam Alverso gained top scoring honors, ringing up 20 markers, while Jerry Vizzone had four points to lead the Silver Lakers. The win enabled the Community five to climb into a first-place tie with the Cimota A. C. for league honors.

The St. Peter's Intermediate team played their second game of the season in the second round of the CYO League in Newark. St. Francis Xavier gave a spirited battle, but lost out in the final quarter. At half time the St. Peter's five made things a bit closer—15 to 14. In the final half of the game St. Peter's plays clicked and with Bucky McConnell and Tracey leading the way St. Peter's put the game on ice.

Belleville High School's newly organized freshman basketball team found the Bloomfield Junior High School lads too strong for them when they traveled to Bengal-town and were halted 23-15. Organized to develop material for junior varsity and varsity teams, the freshmen were coached by Sam Blair.

The Congregation AAA basketballers who had been kicked around the Church League without a triumph for two years, finally won a game. They created a sensation at the High School when they knocked off the runner-up Belleville Reformed Boys, 27-21, and kicked them back into a third place tie. Schwartz and Lustig had a good night looping in six and eight points respectively for the Congregation boys.

The Belleville Rosary five sought its sixth planned win at St. Peter's Hall when they tackled the Berkeley big five, rated as one of Newark's best senior quintets. The locals continued to show their high scoring punch that week when they halted the Passaic Wolverines 44-39. Rhodes led the Rosery five with 15 points while Ferrara sunk six baskets and a foul shot and McNally made 12 points. Adams lead the losers with 17 markers. Despite a late rally the Bellboys bowed to the Orange High Cagers 29-25. The setto was a case of the Belleville team not having enough scoring punch to put over a victory when they had other teams on the run. Orange shoved off to a lead early in the second quarter, to count at twelve-all with a basket just before the halftime whistle.

Fifteen Years Ago

Basketball's sudden return to popularity in college and high school was proving a boon to the sport at Belleville High School. An informal survey by a Belleville News writer, showed that Belleville High School was about mid-way in the finest season it had experienced since the start of the sport. The school was blessed that year by one of the finest teams ever seen at the time under the banner of the Blue and Gold.

Doris Kopsky, daughter of Joe Kopsky, local bicycle shop owner and bike race trainer, emerged the winner in a half-mile match race on rollers, at the Bay View Wheelmen's Club, Bayonne. Her opponent was Lois "Dick" Alhey, Malone Avenue star rider. The Comets chalked up a big surprise in the local Lions Club four-man team bowling at the Elks alleys when they thoroughly drubbed the second place Giants for three straight games. A 239 game, highest average of the season by Smith, helped the Comets score their impressive triumph.

The newly formed Grade School Basketball League under the direction of Albert McBride, director of athletics in the school system, was well under way, with many games being played at the high school gym. McBride stated that he thought the training and experience the grade school boys received in participation in a league of this sort is of outstanding value in the training of clear, clean minds in the younger generation.

Twenty Years Ago

Belleville High's fine basketball five suffered a let-down in their championship play at West Orange, and as a result had their string of seven straight wins snapped by a 24-17 defeat. The locals suffered the inevitable off-day, as everything they did went wrong. Heretofore flawless pass-work was haphazard in its execution. The team as a whole lost its "eye" for the basket, as only Goodrich and Captain Lamb netted field goals. Even they were not their usual high scoring selves, dividing four field goals between them. The brilliant Lamb, however, sunk seven out of eight free throws from the fifteen yard mark to cop high scoring honors with eleven points. The Bachelors and the Valley's each won easy victories in the local American Legion Basketball League at the local high school gym. The Panthers, in losing to the Bachelors, suffered the humiliation of having the largest score in the years competition rolled up against them by the powerful Bachelors. The score was 71-19. The Valley's turned back the Clintons, 25-13, in the first game of the evening. Upsets galore featured bowling activities of the local American Legion League at Ferrara's but the powerful Republics' One was not in sympathy with the prevailing events, taking their usual three games from the lowly Bachelors. Some real high class bowling on the part of the fast stepping Belleville Elks quintet only permitted them to stay eight games in back of the G. O. P. in their role of runners-up. The Veterans of Foreign Wars were the Elks' victims. The Belleville A.A. reached their peak in sweeping clean their three game series with the Junior Order five. As a starter they reached 897 in each of the first two contests. Their high team score for the year, 1020, was their means of announcing their return to form in the final game.

A Consecration of Toleration

Brotherhood Week will be observed across the land next week, a rededication of the basic ideals of respect for peoples and for human rights and a simple reaffirmation of the principles in the preamble to the Declaration of Independence to the effect that all men are created free and equal.

It is a strange commentary on American morals that a Brotherhood Week should be necessary at all, but the barbed fences of prejudice had sprung up across the land to herd citizens by castes according to the color of their skins or the God they worshiped. Intolerance had sprung up where tolerance should have ruled.

Human relationships between fellow Americans were at a low ebb when, in 1934, a Roman Catholic priest in Denver, Msgr. Hugh L. McMenamin, conceived the idea of observing, every year, a Brotherhood Week to combat, in a measure, the undercover intolerance and political dogmas that, then, were bent upon the destruction of human and religious rights throughout the world. Nazism was barely born, but Communism had already forged the bonds of human slavery and locked the doors of Russia's churches.

The Klan has lost much of its glory by being opened up to the ridicule of Americans. Men no longer parade in silver shirts in the name of eugenics. Intolerance has weakened and there is less racial prejudice and hatred among Americans than ever before. Brotherhood Week, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, therefore, can but consecrate a worthy trend towards toleration, a lifting of the mist of prejudice, fear and extermination which settled over the world during the darkest days of Dachau and Buchenwald. R. E. H.

Those Pre-Election Promises

Over the years the Belleville police department had acquired the reputation of being top-heavy in brass. Compared to surrounding communities, Belleville's police force, with its multitude of officers, was often likened to the Mexican Army—more generals than privates.

One of the sharpest critics on this score, during pre-election campaigning, was Harry Sullivan, presently commissioner of public safety who ascended to the post by reason of finishing fourth in the May election. Commissioner Sullivan fired plenty of campaign fodder on the issue of too much brass in the department and indicated, if elected, matters would certainly be different at the Town Hall.

Commissioner Sullivan was presented the opportunity to make good on his promise within the past few weeks and on the situation of brass, too. A leave-of-absence was granted Deputy Chief Smith, who for the next six months will be coordinator of Civilian Defense. His salary will be paid out of an appropriations for civil defense. The deputy's departure would still leave the town with an active deputy chief, Emerson Bush. With this obvious chance to trim the brass, even temporarily, Commissioner Sullivan apparently forgot that campaign promise. He named Detective Captain McGinnis temporary deputy chief, with the compensating salary increase. It amounts only to $100 annually, but Smith's salary appropriation still remains in the safety department budget, for it hasn't been transferred to the defense council as yet and that comes from Finance Director Tully.

Inasmuch as safety and defense funds all have the same origin, the taxpayers' pockets, some savings might have been realized by transferring these funds, at least the portion that will not be expended during the defense coordinator's leave of absence. And when cities much larger than Belleville's suburban populace manage to get along with only one and in some instances, no deputy chiefs, we, too, might have struggled through this emergency without the formality of filling the temporary vacancy.

To Send Harry Back to Independence

The hatchets, dripping with blood, which Jean Government's County Chairman George Becker and the Belleville Republican Forum's John Golden tried to bury in each other's necks all during the 1950 Congressional campaign were buried this week with ceremony and communiques.

The two Republicans got together as Republicans, both anxious to pool their common strength to insure a Republican victory in 1952, straight across the board. As such, the step must be most welcome to all members of the party. The defeats of 1948 and 1950 were galling to all Republicans here in the 10th District and not a little blame was laid on leadership, rightly or wrongly.

The Belleville Republican Forum is not mighty in numbers, but it is a useful party sounding board. No one can ever question the Republicanism of its leaders, John Golden or Kurt Kruger. No one can ever question the Republicanism of County Leader George Becker. But the hatchets flew over questions of method.

The Forum did not like the way candidates were chosen and asked for a broader consultation within the district and the county. In return, Becker's lieutenant in Belleville tried to scuttle the Forum by dissolution. In the meantime, Congressman Peter W. Rodino won re-election in a Republican stronghold for the second time—with the biggest majority ever scored by a Democrat in the 10th District.

Becker is to be praised for his efforts at straightening out kinks in Republican affairs. A great many Republicans voted for Rodino here last November as an expression of dissatisfaction over Clean Government. It was obvious that Clean Government had to patch its fences or see the Democrats invade its fief and run wild.

As President, Harry Truman has shown such symptoms of state socialism, such a total disregard for the common consensus of opinion of leading Senators and Congressmen, from both parties, that the spending of non-defense departments of the Federal Government must be cut drastically to provide part of the money needed for rearmament, and such a hesitancy to use the Taft-Hartley law against labor unions which call strikes and threaten the entire national armament effort, that millions of voters, of both parties, are determined to defeat him and his party in November, 1952.

Let's send Harry back to Independence.

A Question of Semantics

President Truman's statement that he will cut non-defense spending has touched off a mad scramble among government agencies to tie a defense tax on everything they do. This is not surprising, since it is simply the instinct of bureaucratic self-survival operating as usual.

As a very minor example, the District of Columbia Health Department, a Federal agency, was sending a mobile unit around town to check the health of waiters and waitresses. This was probably a very salutary move, but the Department looked a little ridiculous when one official stressed that this survey was of vital defense importance in case of an atomic bomb attack. Asked why, he said, "We will know the blood type of all the waiters and waitresses." So how could we lose a war, then?

On far bigger fronts, peace programs become defense programs. Foreign economic aid drops off, to be replaced by military aid. Public housing programs are dropped, only to reappear in new dress as "defense housing." We can expect that many of the innumerable programs on which the government manages to spend our billions will go underground, only to pop up somewhere else in new dress.

This is an old technique in politics. If a project takes on some degree of unpopularity under its past name, it is simply tagged with a new and more attractive name. And there can be no question that every effort will be given to continuing and expanding this strategy now that the defense program is really beginning to roll. It is very largely a question of semantics—the meaning of language.

School Budget Election

There should be little surprise occasioned at the results of the school budget election on Tuesday. In keeping with past performances, the voters stayed away in droves despite the fact three additional polling places, centrally located, provided ample opportunity to cast a ballot for the million-and-a-quarter dollar budget. It proved one thing to the Board of Education. In the future, as long as Belleville remains an appointed school board functioning under the present provisions of Article Seven, it should not be necessary to expend several hundred dollars for an election that based on the interest shown, can be suitably handled in one polling place. We seriously doubt if some citizens would vote even if a voting machine were rolled into the living room. Television is too interesting.

Passage of the budget by a 2-1 majority might be called an indorsement in absentia. If people were aroused to the point where they felt the school demands were exorbitant, some action would probably result. But it's no secret education comes high, in Belleville as everywhere else. Parents are primarily interested in their children and as long as education facilities are acceptable, budgets will continue to be approved, even though it is a silent vote of confidence.

ONE MAN'S OPINION ...

GOP Has Grabbed the Leadership in Framing American Foreign Policy With Hoover, Taft and Dewey Statements

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

There is a healthy sign in the discordant views on world policy of the three top Republicans—Herbert Hoover, Thomas E. Dewey and Robert A. Taft. Even though their most recent pronouncements on policy differ widely, they represent a serious contribution to a great debate which is in progress in the American mind and may soon come out into the open in the Capitol. The Democratic majority power has failed miserably to match this Republican expression of thought, clearly pointing up the hand-to-mouth nature of the makeshift foreign policy which, alas, led us to the brink of a disastrous war.

There are three major points at stake in the great debate that the three pronouncements have opened:

1. Should the United States pull out of Asia?
2. Should the United States enlarge its Army of Occupation in Germany into a vast land army for the defense of Western Europe?
3. Should Congress keep in its own hands or invest in President Truman the power to make those decisions?

In his declaration of foreign policy, this week, Governor Dewey sought to widen the debate by adding, as a fourth major point, a proposal to removing all "vacuum" areas in the oil-rich Middle East. "Dictators move into vacuums," warned the titular head of the Republican party. There the governor merely was repeating the warning of British Prime Minister Clement Atlee who since several months has been seeking to decide us to plant an American army in the Middle East.

The Dewey dictum is based upon more than heresy. Mussolini moved into the vacuum of Ethiopia. Hitler could not resist the temptation of the vacuum of Austria when he staged the Anschluss. Stalin struck swiftly in the vacuum of China when we withheld our material support of Chiang Kai-shek in a moment of aberration and weakness which we have lived to regret. Dictators do "move into vacuums" but the debate that is coming up must decide whether we are big and rich enough to eliminate all the vacuums of this globe without becoming a vacuum ourselves.

Stalin's Fairy Story
The Hoover warning that if we spread our forces too thin in trying to eliminate all the vacuums of this world we might consent to too heavy commitments and thus bankrupt ourselves, playing into Stalin's hands, is very worthy of consideration. There is an element within the Politburo, and reportedly it includes Stalin himself, which believes that given time the United States will destroy itself economically, slip into a terrible depression and, eventually, fall into the Kremlin's lap without a war.

Since many years, Stalin apparently believed that. His own economists have predicted depression after depression for us, which never materialized. Undaunted, Stalin apparently still believes in fairy tales, but now the Republicans' elder statesman in his radio speech of February 9, seems to side with Stalin. We can, he insists, spend ourselves into political and economic oblivion.

Air-Sea Bastion
The former President urges us not to send more troops to Europe until Europe shows more results from the billions of dollars we have poured into her armament. Better, he argues, cut our expenditures, save our dollars now going to Europe, set up a sea-air bastion here at home and wait for the Russians to come.

Mr. Hoover's strategic concepts were immediately attacked in the administration, the Pentagon and the Capitol as "rather naive." Numerous arm-chair strategists countered with a warning that if we abandoned France and western Europe to their fate and the Communists reached the shores of the Atlantic and set up their submarine and air bases along the coast, our sea power would be useless in the Atlantic and our eastern seaboard would be vulnerable to surprise raids.

Let's look at the facts. We were told the same thing in 1940 when the French army collapsed and the Germans moved west to the Atlantic coast—the first time the argument was ever put to a test. During the two and a half years that I remained in France, as United Press correspondent in Vichy, under the German occupation, I saw the argument explode.

Germans Had Advantages
The Germans are, undeniably, the world's best submarine operators, far better than the Russians. They had 240 subs in 1940 and they had the ultra-secret "schnorkels" which permitted subs to breathe and refuel while lying on the bottom or to cruise long distances under water, safe from observation.

As France fell, the Germans took over Cherbourg, Brest, Lorient, St. Nazaire, La Rochelle and Bordeaux, all excellent submarine bases. They brought in slave labor from the low lands and the Todt Organization built tremendous submarine pens along the Loire River at St. Nazaire. The roof of the pens was a solid concrete block so thick that the biggest air bombs never could penetrate it—so they said.

What really happened, then? The German held those Atlantic bases, sub-pens and air fields for five years and yet they never won the mastery of the seas. They were not able to interrupt Britain's lifeline to Gibraltar. Operating from France, fairly safe from attack, they could not even blockade

Britain. In a word, the Germans were more effective operating from their own bases in the North Sea than they were from the French Atlantic ports. I, for one, do not agree that if the Russians reached the Atlantic shores they would have us at their mercy. They still have an ocean to cross.

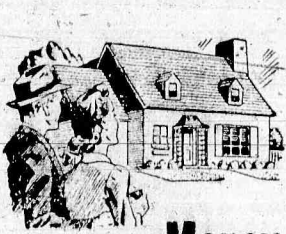

Strengthen Franco
Personally, and from a quarter of a century experience in Europe, I am more inclined to agree with Governor Dewey that we must strengthen the Middle East. I would even go farther and say that we must strengthen Spain and Gibraltar.

Give the Russians all of the European coast down to Spain, but hold Gibraltar and keep the lifeline open to Malta and the Levantian coast, and you can neutralize all the Russian gains. Churchill used to call the Mediterranean and the Balkans the Germans' "soft-under-belly" and he was right.

Russia would be vulnerable from the south just as the Kaiser and the Fuehrer were.

Africa can be the base of operations against Russia just as it was against Germany, but Africa can be held only if we hold Gibraltar and the Suez Canal. They can be held only if we have Spain on our side, and Spain will be on our side only if Franco holds his power. It is logical, therefore, that, for our own good, we should strengthen Franco instead of harming him. A weak Spain would be a "red" Spain and with the Communists rampant in Barcelona and Madrid again, Gibraltar would be a red rock.

Belleville, Once Upon A Time, Was Peopled By Mermaids

Upsala Geology Class Discovers We Were Once At Bottom Of Ocean

Have you ever wondered what Belleville and the rest of New Jersey were like millions of years ago?

A group of students of Professor James S. Yolton's Department of Geology at Upsala College did, and as a result discovered the startling fact that if you had inhabited the site of Belleville vast seas ago you would have spent considerable time in a mermaid world in the depths of blue-green waters.

Seashells and fragments of marine animals discovered here and in all parts of the state indicate that, on different occasions, the whole of New Jersey had been submerged beneath the sea. Several ages later the seas receded, and as a pre-Neanderthal Belleville resident, you would have found lakes and seaside resorts accessible for recreation in areas which today are the state's busiest industrial sections.

Deep Under Water

In pre-glacial times a large river, 400 feet deep cut the gaps of Short Hills, Chatham and the gap south of Pine Brook. In glacial times the whole of central Jersey was flooded by Lake Passaic between the Highlands on the northwest and the Second Watchung Mountain on the south and east. At its greatest extent, Lake Passaic would have offered pleasure seekers the facilities of its 30 mile length and its 240 feet depth.

A narrow strait would have provided transportation across the state with connections southwest to the Gulf of Mexico and northeast with the Gulf of St. Lawrence. However, these waters would not have been as peaceful or warm for bathers as they are today. Remains of snakes about 20 feet long, bones of sea turtles, crocodiles and shark teeth have been uncovered, particularly in the Shark River marsh.

Surpass Sea Serpents of Fiction

Pleasures of the coastal waters would have been dampened by the presence of huge reptiles which surpassed even the most fantastic sea-serpents of fiction in size and strangeness. Most common were the elasmosaurs and mosasaurs.

The mosasaurs were gigantic, scaled, carnivorous marine lizards which measured some 30 feet in length. The limbs of this creature were modified into paddles. His rows of conical teeth and an adjustable jaw which could open his mouth to any width. Mosasaurs were considered the most vicious animals that ever lived. These waters were also inhabited by turtles and tortoises up to six feet in length.

Families that enjoy the domestic pleasure of woolly kittens and faithful puppies would have had to satisfy themselves with the acquaintance of the now extinct land animals that once roamed the woodlands of the Garden State.

Tremendous duck-billed, plant-eating dinosaurs, 28 to 30 feet long, would have been the most likely pests. A skeleton of the best known Trachodon was discovered near Haddonfield, but fossils have been found in eight other localities.

Other animals which frolicked for a while in this region of New Jersey include the hairy mammoth, the Greenland Reindeer, the Arctic walrus, the Canadian elk, the peccary, a pig-like mammal, an extinct moose and the mastodon.

Remains of 19 individual species of mastodons have been reported throughout the state. The most remarkable of the finds was on the farm of William Ayers between Hackettstown and Vienna, where several years ago in a small bog, six skeletons were located. Recently, a skull was found near Westfield.

Scene of Volcanic Activity

Transplanted into the New Jersey of yesterday, one would not see only green covered mountains peacefully silhouetting the skies, for, at one time, the state was the scene of great volcanic activity. The Watchung Ridges in Essex and Union counties were formed by surface flows of lava successively buried by rocks and uncovered during geologic research. The Palisades trap ridge is composed of lava material that spread between layers and the irregular rock forms among the rocks and solidified far beneath the surface.

Further results of volcanic activity may be viewed on a road-cut on Central Avenue, North Caldwell, just south of the Greenbrook Country Club and the quarries near Paterson and Upper Montclair.

The present day Snake Hump, little more than a rough pile of rocks outside the Hudson tunnel, is the eroded remains of an ancient volcano which once poured tons of boiling lava over unsuspecting areas of the state. The present Watchung Mountains are believed to owe their origin to this New Jersey geological oddity.

So it was found through years of careful research that New Jersey was not always the trim, comfortable industrial and residential area it is now. The highways were once the habitats of invertebrates, extinct fish and marine life. The land now occupied by apartment houses and cozy homes was once the playgrounds of dinosaurs and other monstrous animals.

A KEMPIS TO MEET ON FEBRUARY 20

Rev. John P. Hourihan To Address Group On "The Apostolate Of The Deaf"

The Book Study group of The aKempis of New Jersey will meet on Tuesday, February 20th at two p.m. Rev. George W. Shea, of Immaculate Conception Seminary in Darlington, N. J. will give a commentary on the Pope Pius' Apostolic Constitution, "Most Munificent God," in which the dogma of the Assumption is defined. Mrs. Arthur Sullivan is chairman.

At three o'clock the Federation and Legislation Group of The aKempis will meet. Miss Nellis C. Salmon of Belleville is chairman. Rev. John P. Hourihan, S. T. L. will speak. Father Hourihan is assistant to Monsignor Joseph M. Kelly of St. Peter's parish. His subject will be "The Apostolate of the Deaf."

Father Hourihan was recently appointed a chaplain for the deaf by Archbishop Walsh. He received his degree from Catholic University, and studied under the Reverend Stephen Landherr, a well-known authority in sign language and a zealous worker among the deaf.

Miss Helen C. Barrett, Mrs. Frank Egan, and Mrs. John Bennett are members from Belleville.

Gray Ladies Form New Class At Isolation Hospital

In a report received today from Mrs. Frank Welle, chairman of Gray Lady Service, it was announced that a new class of eleven volunteers is now in training. This will provide a second Gray Lady unit at Essex County Isolation Hospital, and bring a total of 20 volunteers into this new Red Cross service.

The Gray Ladies, as first conceived, were scheduled to work in the children's wards at Isolation Hospital, reading to the patients, playing recorded music, organizing hobby projects—doing whatever was possible to keep the children occupied, happy, and comfortable. The success of the first Gray Lady group was so complete that hospital and medical authorities promptly asked the local Red Cross chapter and Mrs. Frank Welle, as chairman of the group, to extend the Gray Lady program to all of the convalescing wards. Additional volunteers are being sought.

Essex County Aircraft Spotter Units To Be Reactivated

Essex County's aircraft spotter unit—which functioned on a 24-hour basis all through World War 2—has been reactivated on orders from the Army Air Force and is ready to begin operations atop the G. Krueger Brewing Company plant at 75 Belmont Avenue, Newark.

According to Leroy Freeland, chief observer, the post will be ready to go on 24-hour duty again when ordered to do so by the military. Meanwhile, volunteers may apply at the Defense Council in room B-25 in City Hall. During the last war, more than 300 men helped man the lookout post, with groups of four working two hour shifts around the clock.

Newark Academy Exhibit

"Theatre — From Ritual to Broadway" an exhibit prepared by the editors of Life magazine, will be on view at Newark Academy from Tuesday, February 13 through Friday, February 23. The exhibit traces the history of the theatre from its ancient beginning to its present familiar shape in the Western World, and suggests some of the reasons—religious and social—for the theatre's universal appeal. Students in English classes and members of drama groups in public and parochial high schools and other preparatory schools in Essex County are invited to view the display. Adult amateur drama groups in the area also may see the exhibit during regular school hours, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

RODINO REWARDED FOR HIS DEFENSE OF SISTER KENNY

Ex-Speaker Martin Awards Certificate In Ceremony At Capitol

Congressman Peter W. Rodino of New Jersey, in a ceremony at the Capitol in Washington this week, was presented with a Certificate of Appreciation on behalf of The Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation. The presentation was made by House Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr., acting on behalf of the honorary national chairman of the Foundation, Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, who was unable to be present due to absence from Washington.

The award was made to the 10th District member of Congress in appreciation of his comments on the floor of Congress for the work of the Kenny Hospitals and Clinics throughout the United States.

Representative Martin remarked, in presenting the certificate to his New Jersey colleague, "You had the faith and courage to work for and defend the concepts of this world-famous Australian nurse. This is a tribute to you and it shows the people of the world that our elected officials do defend the right of anyone to prove that they have a new and better way, as this great courageous woman has done in her fight against polio. The sad part of today's ceremony is the realization that Sister Kenny has returned to her native Australia, her right arm in a state of paralysis. But she left behind her in these United States, and in fact throughout the world, hospitals and clinics, doctors and technicians, trained in her concept and treatment. We all are grateful that the work she started in 1911 will continue and pray that the percentage of recoveries will increase in the fight against this dreadful disease."

FAREWELL PARTY FOR DIRECTOR

Lyne, Completing Services With Lutheran Hospital Drive, Is Honored

Louis A. Lyne, campaign director for the $2,800,000 Lutheran Memorial Hospital Building Fund was tendered a farewell dinner party by his office staff at For Hills Restaurant on February 9th.

Lyne recently completed his services with the Lutheran Hospital to accept the position of Campaign Director for the $600,000 Riverside Hospital Building Fund in Boonton, New Jersey.

Directed UN Crusade

In addition to the Hospital Building Fund, Lyne also served as Campaign Director for the Nutley and Belleville 1949 Campaigns for the United Nations Crusade for Children, both of which were oversubscribed.

Since his discharge from the Armed Forces in 1945, Lyne has guided the activities of over 6,000 volunteer workers in the raising of $5,000,000 for the National War Fund, American Red Cross, Boy and Girl Scouts, Boys Clubs, U.S.O., American Legion, Catholic Charities, Prevention of Cruelty to Children, Hospitals, Colleges, United Nations and the Salvation Army.

Lyne is a resident of Jersey City.

As the outcome of a series of robberies in the school system, the Board of Education voted to hire a full-time night watchman at the high school. It was also agreed to investigate the cost of installing burglar alarms in the rooms in the school where certain valuable equipment was kept. The recommendation for the watchman came from Hugh Kittle, high school principal, where robbers broke into the school vault and stole $60, and according to Rud Daniels, school clerk, did $500 worth of damage to school property.

A one-time farm boy who worked his way through the University of Rochester, Martin F. CYO TO START ANNUAL FORUM

Rev. John Kiley Announces Marital Lecture Series To Start February 27

The fourth annual marriage forum sponsored by the Essex County CYO will get underway at the Hotel Douglas on Tuesday, February 27. Rev. John J. Kiley, CYO director, stated that the forum would again be held in two sections—one for young men and one for young girls.

Lectures in the series will be heard on the 27th and the succeeding three Tuesdays. Registration for the course will be open up to the night of the first lecture. Admission from then on will be by ticket only.

In announcing the dates Father Kiley said that "The pre-marriage forum is designed to help young people think through the problem of marriage before, not after, so that much heartache and disillusionment can be prevented."

Douglas Clark acknowledged the program which wound up with a spirited knot tying contest between six Rotarians and two scouts. Winners were Rotarian Ed Yerg and Scout Charles Gordon who were served an extra portion of dessert.

Results of the regular meeting of the Belleville American Legion Post No. 105 indicated that the Legion was well on its way with their planned expansion program. The Post agreed to sponsor a boy of the Junior High School grade to participate in the eight-day program scheduled for Rutgers University, in which more than 350 youngsters from all over the state would take part. The boy chosen would be housed on the campus, take all his meals in the University's dining halls, and have the school swimming pool and athletic facilities at his disposal.

Earl W. Seibert, guidance director and psychologist of the Belleville public schools, received more requests for workers from employers than could be filled. The high school replacement bureau began to receive requests a few weeks before Christmas. After that they steadily increased and Seibert was hard put to find boys and girls to fill the jobs. Two Arlington business firms and the Westinghouse Electric Company asked for high school graduates and had to be told that there were none available.

Director Joseph King of the department of public affairs warned town physicians that the town would pay hospital bills only for indigent cases, and doctors would be personally responsible for cases sent to St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, without investigation by the Poor Department. Chronic cases required investigation before they were sent to the hospital.

Missing — 660,000,000 gallons of water. Question—What happened to it? Answer — Who knows. Local commissioners sought a solution to the mystery of what happened to 660,000,000 gallons of water that had been unaccounted for from 1928 to 1931. The possibility that the town had not received water it had ordered was eliminated by a

Serving Belleville for Our Fifteenth Year

SPOTLIGHT

on SPORTS

by Warren Knight

There was no surprise occasioned Saturday when Belleville was seeded the top team in the Essex County Basketball tournament that gets under way this week. Not only do the Bellboys boast the best record in the section but they're defending champions as well. It all adds up to making the local five overwhelming favorites in many books to cop the coveted trophy again this month and at the same time retire the beautiful bauble from competition, for Belleville has two legs on it now and the third means permanent possession.

With 15 triumphs safely behind and needing only a victory over West Orange tomorrow afternoon to give the town its first and only undefeated scholastic basketball combine, happiness should reign supreme in the Belleville camp. But one individual reflects little but sadness although many coaches would like to be in his shoes at this time. That individual is the leading protagonist of the towel-waving fraternity, head coach Jitty Wische. How his team ever won all its games is a mystery to Jitty, he'll tell you. And he doesn't like to be top-seeded in any tournament, for the favorite's mantle automatically goes with the position. If you ask Jitty who he expects most of his trouble from, he's likely to answer, "The other 15 teams in the tournament."

There may be some merits to Wische's apprehensive mood. Working on an undefeated skein puts more pressure on a team and being the odds-on choice for the title just sticks the old neck out a little further for someone to knock it off. Those facts are true of many unbeaten aggregations but to our way of thinking, this is no ordinary school team. Most of the varsity have been playing together for a couple of years. They're tourney veterans and shouldn't be afflicted with the jitters. Only once, possibly twice, have they really been pushed down to the wire this season, which is unusual in these days of high-powered scoring machines. Clifton took the Bellboys right to the final gun and Bloomfield extended them, but the others were comparatively simple. Seton Hall's spacious court is old stuff to Jim McConnell, Dick Godfrey, Charlie Travers, Bob Dilworth, all of whom played prominent roles in last year's fine victory over Central. Fred Engel and Dean Hatcher round out the meat of the team. Engel was on the squad last year and shared in the honors but didn't play too much. Hatcher is a terrific sophomore prospect, a great defensive man and potent under the boards. If the hooting mob of rooters doesn't ruffle him, the gangling youngster is capable of playing in any company.

Each year, when the experts start comparing notes on the peach-basket rivals, the subject of Belleville's lack of reserve strength is always thrown into the discussion. Wische will use his reserves as often as possible, but it's no secret his hopes ordinarily ride with six or seven players. Inasmuch as the Setonia court is giant-size, the question of stamina pops up. Can the six or seven Bellboys take the terrific pace of tourney play? Will they be able to run with some of the other schools accustomed to playing on larger courts and having more bench strength? All we can say is—look at the record. In four tournaments thus far, Belleville has won two, lost in the finals and dropped a semifinal engagement. That's the best record on the books for Essex County schools in the popular tourney staged by The Newark News and Seton Hall College.

This column looks for most of Belleville's opposition to come from Bloomfield and Seton Hall. Earlier in the year, Central looked like a powerhouse, but Fancy Dan tactics and other troubles have beset the Newarkers and we'll be surprised if they aren't knocked off. West Orange and Montclair could be dark horses, but both are in and out teams. If that win streak doesn't weigh too heavily on the Bellboys, we like their chances for bringing home the bacon. Monday night, East Orange forms the opposition. If the Panthers succumb as anticipated, Belleville moves against the winner of the Montclair-Clifford Scott embroglio.

A couple of more stinkeroos like last Friday night in the Garden, when Rex Layne and Cesar Brion set boxing back another 10 years, and the IBC can fold its promotional tent and steal away, far away. Layne was fat, slow, out of condition and dirty. Brion, who gives a good imitation in the ring of Babe Herman trying to catch a fly ball, should trade in one of those two left feet for a rightie. Around the middle, Layne looked as though he'd been training in a night club after filling up on pasta-fa-zoo and spaghetti, for the Midwesterner carried a tire that would fit any kid's 26-inch bicycle. Drumbeaters pounding out IBC publicity, noting the youngster came from the same part of the country that gave us Jack Dempsey, immediately started drawing smiles when Layne took old man river himself, Jersey Joe Wolcott. About the only similarity is Dempsey and Layne both have two feet and two hands. From there on, Layne looks like a good sugar-beet farmer.

That's the trouble with boxing today. These promoters have television contracts to meet, so inexperienced, awkward leather flingers get main bout matches in the Garden. And who is going to shell out $10 for a ringside seat to watch a fiasco like the one last week? If those matches get any worse, Tim McCoy and Buck Jones will have a higher Hooper rating than Ezzard Charles and Joe Louis.

Bellboys Hoping For Undefeated Season Today

West Orange on Tough Cowboy Court Is Tough Assignment as Belleville Seeks to Break School Record

The ultimate ambition of every team and coach, an undefeated season, looms for the Belleville High cagers today as they go after the 16th straight triumph on the year. It's a big obstacle in the path, too, as the West Orange Cowboys, foes this afternoon, are always tough and particularly so on their own court. The game will get under way at 3:30 p. m. and if Jitty Wische's youngsters come out on top, it will be the first time in Belleville's athletic history that a major sports combination has completed a season without a loss.

Tuesday, on the local boards, the Bellboys ran the streak to 15, as South Side bowed by a lopsided 57-35 count. Not only was the Blue and Gold offense hitting on high gear, but the defensive show put on almost stole the spotlight from the sharp-shooting cagers. The Sun Streaks, who have been pesky foes most of the year, were limited to 15 field goals and not a single player scored in double figures.

Settle It Early

Belleville moved quickly to put the issue on ice before a packed gymnasium and after the teams were knotted at four-all, the big three, Dick Godfrey, Jim McConnell and Charlie Travers, ran off nine straight points and from there it was just a question of the clock running out. The Streaks couldn't score in double figures until the final quarter, when Wische cleared the bench of reserves. Even then, the subs battled the visitors on even terms, both tallying 14 markers.

High producer for the evening was McConnell, whose 16 credits sent him zooming over the 200 mark. The pivot man now has 215 points on the season. Travers and Godfrey chipped in with 10 each to help the cause.

The line-up:

Belleville	g	f	p	South Side	g	f	p
Travers	4	2	10	Strakides	3	1	7
Godfrey	5	0	10	Babinetti	1	0	2

BELLBOYS PULL COUGAR CLAWS TO WIN 14TH

School Record Smashed As Undefeated Season Moves To Near Conclusion

Taming the Columbia Cougars with considerable ease, Belleville's rollicking, undefeated basketball team rolled to a new school record last Friday. The Bellboys chalked up their 14th consecutive victory in the scramble for an undefeated season, burying the visiting aggregation 59 to 49.

It took about five minutes for the talented Blue and Gold to assert its superiority. Columbia hopped off to a 4-2 count but couldn't stand the prosperity as Charlie Travers came up with a deadly shooting stint in the first period. With the clever forward pitching ten credits through the mesh, Belleville smothered the hard-trying Cougars with a 21-point output in the first stanza while the Columbians could bucket only 9.

After watching his man-for-man defense ripped to shreds, Columbia's coach switched to a zone. It worked better, at least in the second period, the Bellboys notching 11 against the Cougar nine. But in the third session, Belleville bucketed 16 while holding the hapless visitors to another 9-point production, thus giving the home forces a substantial 48-27 bulge going into the last quarter. Even against the reserves, Co-

CYO Conducts Annual Track Meet At Armory March 3

Scholastic track champions, as determined at the annual state meet on February 24, will get an early chance to defend their laurels at the Essex County CYO's fifth annual track carnival slated for March 3. The games, which draw the largest entry of any New Jersey meet, will be held at Newark's Sussex Avenue Armory.

Thirty-three events, not including heats, in six divisions—AAU, Catholic High Schools, Public High Schools, Essex County Catholic Grammar Schools, Essex County CYO and Newark PAL—will make up the program. All events except PAL and Public High Schools will be for state or county championships.

Entries in all classes must be filed with the CYO by February 20, according to William Stuart, director of the games. Stuart is also arranging afternoon and evening sessions so that the main part of the program can be devoted entirely to finals.

Soccer Instruction, Game For PAL Stated This Weekend

John and Joseph Hughes, PAL soccer team coaches, will be on hand at Belleville Park Sunday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. to instruct and explain the booting game to any boys interested in the sport.

It was announced by PAL leader Tommy Dunn that weather permitting a soccer game will be played at Clearman Field Saturday afternoon. For the past two weeks, snow, ice and cold weather have postponed scheduled contests. Opposition may be the Irvington PAL.

SPORTSMAN SHOW OPENS SATURDAY

Outdoor Lovers' Delight At Grand Central Palace Has Plenty On View

With a strong note of adventure added to its usual outdoors appeal the 14th annual National Sportsman's Show opens in Grand Central Palace Saturday, February 17th at 11 a.m.

Bringing together adventurers from the Arctic Circle and the jungles of Africa, sawyers, choppers, log rollers, canoe tilers, guides, Indians and the whole gamut of outdoors activities it will run through Sunday, February 25th.

Five states—one more than last year—the Federal Government, and many sections of states, have exhibits in the show this year. Maine has the largest display of any of the states; New York State has two exhibits while New Jersey is the newcomer, exhibiting again for the first time since the late war.

Its unusual entertainment program will offer such outstanding personalities as Jim Monesmith, great African hunter, Cecil "Mush" Moore who negotiated a perilous dogsled trek from Fairbanks, Alaska, to New York City and Noah John Rondeau, famous Adirondacks hermit who is leaving his mountain fastness for the second time in 10 years to visit habitation and be in a sportsman's show.

By sweeping three games from the league-leading Gutterballs, the Luckystrikes moved into undisputed possession of first place, and extended their winning streak to nine games. In the other match, the Alleycats squeezed out of last place by taking the odd game from the Tenspins.

"Ott" Farishian paced the howlers with a 454 series, while "Ror" Gennell chipped in with a 180 game for the nighty high. Other 400 series were: Gennell 433; Christos, 420; and Ryer, 411.

Spitballs Roll Gutterballs For Sweep, Tie For First

Eyeing three games from the Gutterballs, the up-and-coming Spitballs moved into a tie for first place. After a slow start at the beginning of the season, the Spitballs have now climbed from the cellar to the top position in the league. The Cannonballs, co-leaders, were able to win only one game from the Snowballs. This was just enough to keep them in the first place tie. In the battle for last place, the Meatballs won the odd game, thus, keeping the softballs in the basement.

VICTORY KEYNOTE OF GOP LINCOLN DAY DINNER

Enthusiastic Turnout Marks
County Committee Affair
At Essex House

More than 1,100 persons attended the second annual Lincoln Day Dinner at the Essex House, sponsored by the Essex County Republican Committee, last Saturday night. William Orchard, general manager of Wallace & Tierman and a well-known figure in GOP ranks, acted as toastmaster of the affair.

Guest speakers were County Chairman George H. Becker, Mrs. Ellen Berger of Nutley and State Senator Alfred Clapp of Montclair.

Three Speakers

Mrs. Berger, mentioned as a possible candidate on the GOP Assembly ticket, addressed the group on the increasingly active role being portrayed by women in politics. Senator Clapp sounded a warning on the need for solving a pressing traffic problem confronting Newark and the suburbs, while Becker's theme was Abraham Lincoln in the principal address of the evening.

A large delegation of Belleville and Nutley Republicans were in attendance. The former was represented by Mayor James J. Tully, Parks and Property Director Elmer S. Hyde, State Assemblyman Elwood P. Russell, Town Chairman J. Gordon Gant, Mrs. Ruth Fredericks, vice chairman, while the guest register included Mrs. Catherine White, Joseph A. Krister, Mrs. Mamie Kimble, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Zoeller, Miss Mary Grace Hamon, Mrs. Theresa Singer, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Van Sickle, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Winfield, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brand, Mrs. Jessie P. Rue, Mrs. Catherine E. North, Miss Mary Maglia, Ben Maglia, Bertram Stanley and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hyde.

Town Represented

Nutley guests on the register included Mrs. Abbie Magee, Essex County Registrar and vice-chairman of the town; Undersheriff Wilson Kierstead, town chairman; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Dicker, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lamoureux, Mr. and Mrs. William Biggs, Revenue and Finance Director Robert Anderson, Parks and Public Property Director Theodore De Muro, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Tucker (county chairman Young GOP), Mickey Greb, Dr. and Mrs. J. Warren Young, Mrs. Elizabeth Young, Mrs. Olive K. Muir, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Olive Parker, Mrs. Bertha Vreeland, Mrs. Olive Sanford, Dr. Theodore Berger, Raymond Mahoney, Essex County Adjuster, J. Wesley Tillou, Mary Anna M. Fritts, Charles Gazan, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lovdy, Joseph Piro, J. Donald Peoples, Charles W. Benjam, William P. Strain, Mrs. Ethel M. Epworth.

Police Sergeants Picking Up Experience On Desk

Five police sergeants are undergoing a two-months orientation course in desk duties, it was announced recently by Safety Director Sullivan. Sgts. Don Smith and Fred Singer have already completed the tour which is ordinarily assigned to a police lieutenant. Presently assigned to the desk are Sgts. Jerry Litore and Tom Bride, with Sgt. John Monaghan awaiting his turn.

Fewsmith Men's Club Plans Rally, Hear Atomic Expert

A men's rally will be held in Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening February 25th at eight o'clock. Sponsored by the Fewsmith Men's Club this event will feature an address by Prof. Hugh Wolfe, noted atomic scientist. Selections by an outstanding New York violinist, and a hymn sing lead by Andrew Verhagen are also on the program. The men of the community are welcome.

Familiar Figure at No. 3 School

Rounding out 43 years of service is Miss Lena Dunlap, shown above as she has appeared to the many students passing before her. Miss Dunlap, a literature and speech instructor at No. 3, has the longest record of service in the entire system.

Forty-three years service to a community is a remarkable feat for any person. Any person that has loved every minute of it. One of the most outstanding and beloved women ever to teach in the school system, she has tutored over two generations of Belleville men and women, and helped hundreds of children overcome speech deficiencies.

Tiny, plump, and jovial, Miss Dunlap began teaching in 1908 when No. 3 was little more than a small red schoolhouse with eight rooms. Born in McConnellsburg, Pa., she later moved to Shippensburg, and attended teacher's college at the age of 14 and graduated at 17.

Studied in Paris

Miss Dunlap received her Bachelor of Science Degree at Rutgers University, and won a European scholarship from the New York School of Speech Extension in 1916. After that she studied in Paris and London. While in Paris, she took courses in speech and dramatics at the Sorbonne.

From 1916 to 1931 this energetic woman found time to teach twice a week in New York dramatic schools. She has tutored several movie stars, among them, Doris Dawson who appeared in "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come."

Her most outstanding pupil is Vera Teasdale, daughter of Sarah Teasdale the poetess, and wife of Adolph Menjou. Miss Teasdale appeared on Broadway in "The Constant Wife," and "The Youngest."

Brings Books to Life

To be a literature pupil of Miss Dunlap is one of the most memorable experiences a boy or girl can have. It is like a never-to-be-forgotten trip into all the pages of fiction and poetry. When she reads, characters are no longer inked descriptions, but vivid, alive personages and wars, slums, and even the heart of darkest Africa move into them.

A challenging talk, "On The Witness Stand," will be given by Reverend Russell G. Jones of The First Baptist Church, Bloomfield. All men are welcome.

No Dough After Taxes

One problem, though, makes baseball's situation unlike it has ever been before. World War I was a war to make the world safe for democracy. World War II was a war to end fascism and human slavery. If it starts on a full scale, World War III will be considered a war of survival. When the question of survival comes up, everything must become subservient.

SAINTS CLIMB IN COUNTY PIN LOOP

Move Up To Third After Two-Game Victory Over St. Casimir Keglers

With Don McKinstry once again showing the way, St. Peter's intermediate CYO bowling team dumped St. Casimir's 1, Newark, twice last Sunday at the Star Recreation Alleys. The double win pushed the local keggers into third place in the first round standings with a 6-6 record.

McKinstry pinned a 495 set after opening with a 114 game in a contest lost by St. Peter's, 770-693. He had his high of the night, 190, in the second tilt and led Eddie Costenbader, who rolled 196, led the Petreans to an 826-738 win. Costenbader's 196 was a new loop high as was the team's 826 effort.

Ray Gilchrist and McKinstry were the high men as St. Peter's downed the Newarkers by two pins, 723-721, in the deciding tilt.

McKinstry's 495 set was five pins higher than the old individual series mark.

School No. 1

The PTA of No. 1 School held a Founder's Day dinner on February 6. Speaker for the program was Mrs. John Rudin, chairman of the Pre-School of Essex County. Entertainment featured Carroll Salter of the Little Zion Methodist Church. The new principal, William Chapman, was introduced by Lester Skinner, and cut the Founder's Day birthday cake. Miss Donhauser's class had the largest attendance.

A Founder's Day dinner preceded the meeting. Mrs. Herbert Luckner, Mrs. J. Lee Jr., William Chapman, and Lester Skinner attended.

School No. 2

The Belleville Defense Council will show the sound film, "You Can Beat the A-Bomb" at the next meeting of the No. 2 PTA. The group will meet in the playroom of the school, next Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. Accompanying the film will be three speakers, Max Schwartz, in charge of publicity for the Defense Council, Kenneth Smith, Coordinator of the Defense Council, and Norman Larterette, Director of the Belleville Defense Council.

School No. 3

The PTA of School No. 3 will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday evening at 8, in the Visual Education Room. Mrs. Jerome Harrington, chairman of the Human Relations Council of Nutley, will lead a discussion based on the film, "Of Human Rights," which will be shown.

Mrs. Harrington is a graduate of Occidental College, Los Angeles, California, a member of the League of Women Voters, American Association of University Women and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. She is chairman of the Essex County Council, League of Women Voters and is presently a case worker at the Nutley Family Service Bureau.

The discussion will be preceded by a service in observance of Founder's Day. An acoustic will be performed by twelve students of the Dramatic Club. Mrs. Frank Spotts will participate and Mrs. Harold Crane will sing the PTA prayer.

Invitations have been sent to the following past presidents, Fred Holland, C. Carswell, John Denike, Christian Hansen, George Irwin, R. France, Mrs. John Massarano, Mrs. William Armstrong, Mrs. Dwight Streeter, Mrs. John Rudin, Mrs. Evan Thomas, and Mrs. Frank Spotts.

Mrs. Anthony Grinnelli and Mrs. Samuel Peck will be hostesses at the meeting. Those serving on the refreshment committee will be Mrs. Joseph Spoini, Mrs. John Watt, and Mrs. Kenneth Woods.

Mrs. Arthur Denzler and Mrs. Anthony Grinnelli will attend the Board of Education meeting on Monday.

School No. 5

Mrs. Vernon W. Sherman and Mrs. Paul J. Van Ness will be featured in a duo piano concert at a Founder's Day Celebration to be held in School No. 5 on Monday at 3 p.m. Mrs. Arthur Schultz, a past president of the PTA, and Founder's Day chairman will be in charge of the program which will include a short business meeting. Nicholas Colaninno will preside.

Scheduled on the program are community singing, the duo piano concert, and lighting of the candles on the Founder's Day Cake. Refreshments will follow.

Girl Scouts, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Metcalf, will supervise pre-school, kindergarten and first grade children, to allow their parents to attend the meeting.

Arrangements will be made to allow parents to sit by grades with their respective teachers. Sections will be designated by the new class banners.

School No. 7

The February 6 PTA meeting of School No. 7 disclosed the fact that the school was the only one in Belleville to contribute to the Red Cross drive for overseas packages. The sum of $40 had been collected and presented to Mrs. Bartlett, with Mrs. Violet Rochau, purchased articles for the boys overseas. These articles were given to Mrs. Jensen for shipment.

President Fred Ochs read a letter giving the cost of installation and purchase of a loud speaker system for the school. It was proposed that bids be sent out to various concerns covering this matter. Miss Marie Gunn was guest speaker. Her topic was child psychology.

Mrs. Anna Rosenberg was presented with a Certificate of Merit for her fine work and cooperation in the school. She announced that there will be a Parent-Education meeting on Thursday, March 1, at 1 p.m. in the school library. Principal Hardwick will speak.

Elected to the nominating committee were Mrs. F. Johnson, Mrs. eleven volunteers is now in training program to all of the con-

A collection of $9.17 was taken for the Founder's Day gift. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ochs, Miss Forgonne, and Stephen Martin were among the No. 7 School PTA members who attended the dinner at the Mosque.

As a finale, pupils, under the direction of Miss Troste, presented a one act mystery-comedy play. In the cast were Leona Salandra, Dorothy Zbroksi, Cyrus Amato, and Nicky LaPara.
