LISTER TO RETIRE FROM RECREATION POST NEXT WEEK

Application Approved By Commissioner Hyde After 22 Years Of Service

Edward J. Lister

Parks and Public Property Director Elmer S. Hyde announced yesterday that he had accepted and approved an application for retirement from recreation supervisor Edward J. Lister. Lister's request, coming after 22 years of service as a town employee, will take effect May 1. Hyde has granted the retiring supervisor a six weeks' leave of absence, with pay, beginning March 15.

The commissioner stated he regretted Lister's decision and commended the recreation director for his long and faithful service to the town.

Appointed in 1936 Lister was appointed to his present post in 1936 by the Town Recreation Commission, where he had served as a member for two years. Prior to that, he was town clerk for two years and for three years was chief clerk in the engineering department.

Born in Belleville, Lister was educated in public and parochial schools and attended business college. He served overseas in World War I and is a past commander of the Belleville American Legion Post 105. He is secretary of the Lions Club and Camp Ro-Li and a member of the Public Recreation Association, American Recreation Society, New Jersey Parks and Recreation Association and the Old Timer's Association. Married, he resides at 93 Union Avenue with his wife and two children, Jean and Edward Jr.

Lister said he had no immediate plans other than that he was "just going to rest."

SAVINGS REPORTED BY HYDE ON JOB AT STADIUM

Face-Lifting Completed As Commissioner Reveals Details Of Project

In a report on his reorganization program of the town recreation department, Parks and Public Property Director Elmer S. Hyde said this week that rejuvenation of Municipal Stadium has been virtually completed. The commissioner stated that by using maintenance employees of the recreation department, a savings of nearly $2,500 had been achieved. Original estimates on the stadium face-lifting amounted to $3,000, the commissioner asserted, but the entire project cost the town about $500.

Hyde said that when he was assigned the Department of Parks and Public Property, he was concerned over the apparent run-down condition of the community's recreation and athletic center. Biggest task on the "clean-up" involved a new coat of paint, inside and outside. By assigning his regular maintenance men to the job, the face-lifting was accomplished without hiring outside labor on a contract basis, Hyde declared.

Clean Up Time
In the course of the project, the debris littering the interior and exterior was removed, the snack bar at the stadium's entrance cleaned up, the grounds cleared and the rest rooms done over. The commissioner has also invoked a practice of having caretakers in the rest rooms at all stadium events.

Another improvement scheduled for the stadium is the construction and renovation of the running track. The existing running surface will be widened and extended, making it a quarter-mile track, thus opening the way for the high school to expand its track activities and have a formal place to practice.

Drives From Chicago Sans Plates, But Nabbed Here

Roller Derby Star In Recently Purchased Car Made Trip, Never Stopped

When William Wall, a young man who earns his cake and coffee in that mad whirl called the Roller Derby, was apprehended by Belleville police early Tuesday morning for driving without license plates on his car, he unknowingly opened the way for a trail of red faces from here to Chicago. Said red faces will be occasioned when gendarmes scattered along the highways from Belleville to the Windy City discover that Mr. Wall, a speedy gentleman on a pair of skates, traversed the 840-mile stretch sans plates and minus a single query from a minion of the law.

It all began at 12:07 a. m. on Washington Avenue. Sergeant Bride spotted a cream-colored convertible cruising along the main drag, without a license plate on the front. A fast glance at the rear, either, Sergeant Bride, on foot, had barely finished looking when an unidentified motorist pulled up to the curb and asked the Sarge if he wanted to track down the culprit.

Tale of No Plates
At the Westinghouse plant, Wall was hailed and pulled to the curb. His tale started in Chicago, where he skates as a member of the Westerners. Wall purchased the car from the Sandra Motors of Jackson Boulevard and Saturday, when he was ready to leave, discovered the seller had neglected to obtain license plates. The Roller Derby man said the dealer told him to drive to Jersey without the plates and that he would mail them to Teaneck Armory, where Wall was scheduled to join his Chicago teammates.

Inasmuch as Belleville police feel obligated to enforce the state's motor vehicle laws, Mr. Wall was informed that although he was only six miles short of his Paterson destination, further driving was taboo that night. He was brought to headquarters, where he summoned a friend in Paterson.

BELLEVILLE LOSES SEAT IN ASSEMBLY

Russell Out As CG Abides By Policy; No Action On Fredericks Resolution

Essex County Clean Government, meeting in executive session yesterday, announced the GOP slate for the Board of Freeholders and the State Assembly. Six new candidates were named for the Assembly ticket, thus upholding a Clean Government policy of rotating the candidates. Of particular interest locally was the dropping of Elwood P. Russell, who has served two terms in the Legislature. Russell, public relations director for Wallace & Tiernan, is expected to be placed in another spot in the

Living Quarters Being Sought Here By Yankee Ball Players

Temporary living quarters are being sought for New York Yankee baseball players, Fred De Furia of Freddy Farmer's Liquor Store, said this week. Last year, Fred Sanford, Jackie Jensen and Bob Porterfield resided here during the major league baseball season. Porterfield is now a permanent resident of town, having purchased a home on Forest Street. Anyone with facilities available may reach DeFuria at Belleville 2-1982.

Arrangements have been concluded for the distribution by the Belleville Civilian Defense Council of cards of instruction on air raid precautions to each home.

The distribution for the Council will be handled by the Belleville Boy Scout Council. This was agreed upon between Kenneth D. Smith, coordinator for the Civilian Defense Council, and Harry T. French, assistant scout executive, Robert Treat Council, assigned to the Belleville District; F. Douglas Wadsworth, district commissioner of Belleville; Charles M. Nutt, chairman of the Belleville District Committee, and neighborhood commissioners Fred Grabau, Peter Wendell, Horace Miller and George Meagher, together with all scout masters, explorer advisors and Cub leaders.

The distribution will be handled by Scout Troops Nos. 301, 302, 305, 306, 307, 313, 333, 350, 375, 387 and 388; Boy Scout Post No. 388, and Sea Scout Ship No. 303.

The film "You Can Beat the A Bomb" was shown last Thursday under the auspices of the Council at the Recreation House on Joramoleon Street to members of the Belleville Chapter of the American Red Cross. Coordinator Smith and Max N. Schwartz, director of education of the Council, addressed the meeting.

Weather Extremes Marking Naval Officer's Travels

Hawaii, Tokyo and Then Alaska Keeps Lieut. Grosch Busy Changing Clothes

From the heat and the hula girls of the Pacific to the bleak cold and parka-clad Eskimos of the Arctic summarily describes the cycle covered by Lt. Joseph Grosch of the Navy. Called back into service before the close of the year, Lt. Grosch, former high school faculty instructor, is assigned to an escort ship, serving as intelligence officer. Presently, and temporarily, he is stationed at Tacoma, Wash.

His travels have already taken him into the Korean conflict. After going to Pearl Harbor early in the winter, Lt. Grosch flew to Tokyo where he awaited his ship's return from the Inchon and Wonsan landings. Orders took the AKA right back on another run to Wonsan, where they left three days before the big evacuation, acting as escort to a couple of destroyers damaged by mines.

This junket brought Lt. Grosch back to San Francisco, just in time to join his wife, Adell, and two youngsters, who flew to the Coast for the Christmas holidays. The family kept pace with Pop along the West Coast for about

Varsity Club Will Fete Cage Team At Robin Hood March 27

The role of toastmaster will be filled by Everett B. Smith, town magistrate and several speakers have been procured. Tickets are still available and may be had at the Belleville Grocery, Anderson and Robert's, Hafner's and the Belle-Mead Milk Bar.

Awards, were financed by a grant from the Foundation. Suitable awards, to be announced later, will be made to the boy and girl chosen as the outstanding leaders in this community. They will be entered in the state contest, to be conducted by the State Elks Association, and the winners there will be entered in the national contest.

The contest is open to all boys and girls 13 years of age or under. Applications At High School Applications blanks are available at the guidance director's office at the High School and parents, teachers, clergymen and heads of youth groups are especially urged to nominate boys and girls who they think merit consideration. The lodge can accept applications only from those living within its jurisdiction, which includes the town of Belleville. Applications must be filed with the lodge not later than March 15, 1951.

Joseph R. Kyle, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, has announced that he will proclaim March 24 as Elks National Youth Day. Winners of the Belleville lodge's Youth Leadership Contest will be presented as a feature of a program that is being arranged to honor the youth of our community on that date.

RETURNS SLOW IN RED CROSS DRIVE, BEHIND LAST YEAR

Less Than Ten Percent Raised As Chairman Urges Greater Effort

Paul M. Kelley, general chairman of the Red Cross Fund Drive, urged all Red Cross workers in the campaign solicitation to redouble their efforts and complete their canvass as quickly as possible. With only a few reports in from the various divisions, the fund raised to date stands at $2,462.70, less than 10 per cent of the goal of $26,402. At the present time the school division shows the greatest progress, with a standing of 23 per cent. As compared with last year, the fund is nearly $1,000 behind.

This is a definite indication, points out Mr. Kelley, that workers must increase their efforts, turn in their reports promptly each Tuesday and Friday and make every possible contact to assure a successful campaign. Mr. Kelley, in a plea to the citizens of Belleville, asked that they be generous—be courteous to the workers—and encourage others to contribute to the fund.

SALARY ORDINANCE COMES UP TUESDAY

Measure Boosting Maximums For Town Employees Set For Final Passage

Three ordinances, up for final reading, will be presented at the Town Commission meeting Tuesday. Interest will probably center on the measure calling for the boosting of salary maximums for town employees.

Other ordinances include the creation of a special activities supervisor in the recreation department, under Commissioner Hyde, and an appropriation of an additional $1,500 to complete the running track at the Municipal Stadium. Hyde has already named his deputy director, James Lampman, to the part-time, $1,000 per year job.

The salary maximum ordinance was approved by the board last week. It revises the Civil Service scale upward and Mayor Tully, finance director, explained it was necessary in order to give wage hikes to employees already at the old maximums.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL SHAKEN BY KELLY, OUSTS 3 MEMBERS

Watters, Delaney, Minasian Dropped In Favor Of Spotts, Pomponio and Tietze

Belleville's Athletic Council received a substantial shake-up this week, when school board president Eugene Kelly ousted three veteran members with new appointees. Former Council president Thomas Delaney, Henry Minasian and Henry Watters, with four, five and six years' service, respectively, were dropped from the body that guides the widespread high school athletic program.

Kelly named Werner Tietze of 91 Tiona Avenue, Victor Pomponio of 191 Valley Street and Frank Spotts, Holmes Street resident, to succeed the ousted members. Only Roy Dickinson survived the cut and was appointed to the council for another one-year term.

Delaney, in a statement to The Times-News yesterday, expressed hope that one element in the Town Hall would not attempt to extend its influence over the Athletic Council as it tried to influence the school board. Although the statement did not name names, it is believed Delaney referred to Mayor Tully, who tangled with the school board on a referendum issue back in November last year. Kelly, now president of the school board, was appointed by the Mayor.

Delaney was also critical of Kelly, contending the latter failed to extend the courtesy of a notification to the deposed Council members. Minasian admitted he received no official notice and expressed complete surprise at the change in personnel. Watters had no comment.

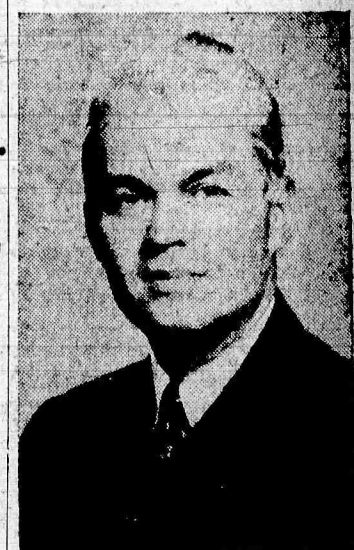

The statement read as follows: "My heartfelt congratulations to those men who have been appointed to the Athletic Council and my best wishes for their success in maintaining athletics of quality in the Belleville schools."

Can Express Compliments
"The broad change in the personnel of the Council comes as no surprise to me, Mr. Kelly."

FEWSMITH HEARS MISSION SPEAKER

Far Eastern Missionary, Active In Korea, Is Guest Preacher Sunday

John Coventry Smith, D.D.

The Rev. John Coventry Smith, executive secretary for Japan, Korea, Thailand and the Philippines of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., and vice-president of the Japan International Christian University Foundation, will speak at Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church on Sunday at 11 o'clock.

Rev. Smith served as a missionary in the educational, evangelistic and administrative work of the Presbyterian Mission to Japan for 12 years. When war made further missionary occupation of Japan inadvisable, he was teaching in Meiji Gakuin College and in the largest theological seminary in Japan. He returned to America in 1942 on the repatriation liner M. S. Gripsholm.

Active in Korea
Dr. Smith was elected in 1948 by the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions as executive secretary in charge of the board's Japan, Korea, Thailand and the Philippine portfolio. In the fall of 1948, he made a survey trip to these countries visiting mission stations, talking with missionaries and leaders and evaluating generally the work of the missions and the church. Again during the summer of 1950 he visited the Far East and was in Korea conferring with the missionaries in his jurisdiction during the North Korean forces invaded the country. He was active in effecting the evacuation of Christian missionaries to Japan. Canadian born, Dr. Smith re-

Summer is the proposed Fourth of July program. An all-day affair is planned at the Stadium, to be climaxed with fireworks at night. The Stadium will be decked in flags, according to Hyde, and for the first time, local residents will not have to go out of town for their holiday entertainment.

"Every effort is being made to conduct the Parks and Public Property Department on a business-like basis," said the commissioner. "If there are any shortcuts to saving a dollar for the taxpayer, we intend to use it. I have no intention of incurring additional expenses through hiring outside labor when it's possible to have a satisfactory job performed by our salaried, recreation employees."

Monsignor Di Luca indicated that the crowded condition of the regular Masses in the church has made this move advisable. The parish census has indicated that many new families have moved into new homes both in Belleville and in Nutley, both of which towns are served by Holy Family. With construction continuing, added church facilities for new residents of the Catholic faith have become necessary.

The new Holy Family school now has a kindergarten and the first four grades are functioning.

Latest-Type Garbage Trucks Servicing Town

Fleet of new garbage trucks that serve Belleville under the five-year contract entered into by the Department of Public Affairs and Capasso & Pucillo, refuse contractors. Standing in front of the trucks, left to right: Public Affairs Director King, Clark Hopkins, sales representative of the Roto-Pac truck, Town Health Officer Eugene Berry, garbage supervisor Lewis Leone and Lawrence Pucillo, owner and contractor. The truck driver is William Pitt of Belleville. Commissioner King said this week that with the co-operation of the citizens, using the proper receptacles, the town's garbage collection, featuring the new-type closed trucks, will be the best ever developed here. He added Belleville's per capita cost of garbage removal, $2.77, was one of the lowest in Essex County.

Four classrooms are completed, but unoccupied, and a new room will be opened next succeeding September. All the grades are operating. Enrollment in some of the rooms is already near capacity. The children now take almost half of the seating capacity of the church at their Sunday 9:15 Mass, and gradually, as each new class is opened, will require more seating space. Once all eight grades are functioning it is anticipated that the 9:15 Mass will be exclusively for children.

"There are ample parking facilities on the present church property, but this will be improved and increased in the Spring, when it is planned to pave additional area."

members of the Council for their co-operation and help during my terms as president.

"I wish to thank also Mr. Ralph Allaire who, as president of the Board of Education, gave wholehearted support to the Athletic Council and asked only that his appointees direct their efforts solely toward providing the best possible program of athletics for Belleville's schoolboys.

"That the Council has succeeded may be found in the comment several months ago of Everett Hebel, State Department of Education supervisor of physical education. Hebel remarked that Belleville High School's program of major, minor, and intra-mural sports was unsurpassed in Essex County.

"I hope that Belleville will preserve this position. I also hope that any attempt by one element in the Town Hall to extend its influence over the Athletic Council—as it has tried to influence the school board—will be resisted for the sake of maintaining a quality program of athletics in our schools."

Watters has been active in athletic circles for many years. One of his chief interests is track and it was principally through his strenuous prodding that the present running track to be constructed at the Stadium came about. About a year ago, Watters unleashed a blast at Mayor Tully for failure to bring about the track's advance, pointing to an appropriation that had been made but removed from an ordinance.

Yocum Named

Charles Yocum, vice president of the Board of Education, was appointed by Kelly to represent the Board on the Council, succeeding Ralph Allaire, former school board member. Other members of the Council are high school principal Hugh Kittle and schools supervisor Wayne Farmer. Ruel Daniels, school district clerk, is secretary-treasurer of the Council, but has no voting powers.

Delaney served as president of the Council for two years. He is with the editorial department of The Newark News.

The new appointments have all been active in some phase of Belleville athletics. Spotts, principal of School No. 1, is a former high school baseball and football coach. Pomponio, a graduate of Belleville High, played basketball and is employed by Newark Wire Cloth Company.

Mrs. Edward J. Purdue

Miss Elinor Viventi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Viventi, 10 Springer Street, became the bride of Pvt. Edward Joseph Purdue, son of Mrs. Beatrice Purdue, 171 Garden Avenue, Sunday afternoon in St. Peter's Church. Rev. John P. Hourihan performed the ceremony. A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents.

The wedding, scheduled for two weeks ago, was postponed when the army cancelled Pvt. Purdue's leave. Upon receiving a long distance telephone call from him Saturday morning, telling her that he had obtained a three day pass and requesting that she make the necessary arrangements, Miss Viventi notified guests. The wedding took place with little more than 24 hours preparation.

Miss Shirley Viventi served as her sister's maid-of-honor, and Robert Purdue was his brother's best man. Another brother, Russell Purdue, and Robert Viventi Jr., brother of the bride, were ushers.

The wedding gown was made of chantilly lace over satin with a Queen Anne collar. Mrs. Purdue's shoulder length veil fell from a chantilly lace crown headpiece and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. The maid-of-honor wore an ice blue lace and taffeta dress. Her old-fashioned bouquet was composed of pink roses.

The couple are graduates of Belleville High School. Mrs. Purdue is employed as a secretary by the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, Newark. Pvt. Purdue is with an Army Signal Corps detachment at Vint Hill Farms, Warrenton, Va. The bride will reside at the Springer Street address.

Blood Bank Donation Here Ahead Of Withdrawals

Local Contributors Save 431 Pints Last Year, With 396 Given Out By Residents

Eugene Barnett, chairman of the blood donor recruitment committee of the Red Cross, reporting on the accomplishment of the blood donor service in 1950, announced that in the eight scheduled banks in Belleville, and one special bank at Newark City Hospital, 431 pints of blood were received from Belleville.

During the same period, according to chapter records, 396 pints of blood were drawn from the Essex County Bank by Belleville residents and the families of blood donors who were from outside Essex County. In this group fall many employees of local business places who do not live in Belleville, but feel that the blood bank is worthy of their support and are frequent donors.

Cites Mobile Plant

Last year, according to Barnett, the Essex County Blood Bank dispensed 10,032 pints of blood throughout the county; 76 percent of the blood collected during the year came through the mobile collecting unit, which visited factories, offices, schools, institutions and similar organizations in Essex County. The 10 Red Cross chapters in the county handle the blood recruitment, and provide the personnel at the various blood banks. The Red Cross also provides the sandwiches and beverage given each donor, and furnish some of the supplies. The Essex County Medical Association, with the Board of Chosen Freeholders, jointly sponsored the blood bank, which began in October, 1947. Dr. Eugene Katz is the director of the county bank, which operates from Newark City Hospital as a base.

In its three years of operation the county bank now has a list of 19,000 persons who have been donors at one or more assemblies. All of these donors have had their blood typed and their RH factor determined without cost to the donor.

Barnett announced that the Knights of Columbus, Belleville Council No. 835, will sponsor the next low-volume blood bank scheduled for April 5 at the Belleville High School, from 3:30 to 6:30 p. m. In October, 1950, the Knights sponsored a successful blood donor assembly in Belleville with 60 pints received.

John Kennedy, Grand Knight, expressed confidence that the council this year will have an even more successful turn out, and urged the Council members, numbering 276, to participate in the bank and enlist the support of their friends as well. The blood donor assembly will be open to everyone in Belleville and it is hoped that at least a hundred donors will be recruited.

Red Cross Volunteers Cited For Publicity Activities

As chairman of Red Cross staff aides, Mrs. John A. Walsh reports that in the recent all-out effort to send to the citizens of Belleville publicity material regarding the 1951 Red Cross Fund Drive, 35 volunteer workers spent a total of 278 hours processing 8,740 pieces of mail. In addition, 11 regular staff aides served 219 hours at the Red Cross office during February, typing, filing, compiling statistics, completing records and doing other office work. Three other staff aides spend 14 hours at the Isolation Hospital where they are able to assist in the office work at that institution.

Mrs. Walsh, one of the most ardent volunteers in the local Red Cross chapter, spent 130 hours during February, according to Miss Darby, executive director of the chapter, directing the work of her volunteer group, recruiting additional volunteers when the work load made such action necessary, and attending various Red Cross meetings and instruction classes programmed during the month.

High School Band Goes Over Big

Under the joint direction of music instructors Herbert Mattick and Charles Wertman, Belleville's band, twirlers and cheer leaders put on a tremendous show last week at the finals of the Essex County Basketball Tournament. The staging took place before the contest and during the half-time intermission of the featured game between Belleville and Seton Hall.

The band and twirlers rehearsed for two months, preparing the various routines, according to Mattick. Donna Walsh developed and supervised the dance production and Claire Nees, another of the majorettes, was responsible for the twirling section numbers.

Taking the solo on the trumpet, a 4a Harry James, was Frank De Cunzio. The high school student memorized the "Melancholy Baby" recording made famous by James and the schoolboy's rendition was well received by the fans that packed the spacious gymnasium.

ganization in the near future.

Belleville will not be represented on the Assembly ticket. County Chairman George Becker and his committee named Neil G. Duffy, William A. Barnes, and Mrs. Marie Maebert. Others expected to be included on the slate were Anthony P. Bianco, Edward Bowser Sr. and J. Pierre Lassans.

Ignore Local Bid

This nullifies a resolution passed by the Belleville County Committee last week, which called for Mrs. Ruth Fredericks to succeed Russell if the incumbent was not named. The local body met in a special session Friday to name Mrs. Fredericks, who is GOP town vice chairman.

Freeholder candidates are Mayor Charles W. Holton of Essex Falls and Richard Bonomo of Glen Ridge. They replace Clayton Freeman and Joseph Solimine. Freeman declined to run again while Solimine was named secretary to the Essex Tax Board.

Gourmets, Glory Was Day Of Saloon and Free Lunch

M. C. Albey Recalls Many Fine Eating Places That Were Famed For Food

By M. C. Albey

Most of us old timers like to talk about the "good old days" of half a century or more ago, when we were young and many things seemed fresher and better than they do today. Of course, civilization has advanced in many ways since those days of long ago, but still there are fond memories of the high spots of the old days that bring a thrill and sometimes makes our mouth water when we recall the gastronomical pleasures of those times. (Also the prices.)

Recently, at a Boy Scout affair after a fine program, they ended up with a splendid repast with all the eatables on a large table and each one took a plate and helped themselves to whatever they wanted. This brought back to me memories of the old time free lunches of 50 or more years ago, but, when I mentioned the similarity between this affair and the old time free lunches, I found that no one seemed to know what I was talking about. Perhaps some of the older readers of this paper will recall the free lunches of bygone days, and it will make their mouths start watering. For the benefit of readers of a later generation, let me explain just what the old time free lunch was.

Saloons and Eats

In the old days before the turn of the century, the free lunch had become a national institution and had great prestige throughout most of the United States. In those happy days in most taverns (we called them saloons then) there was a table on which were slices of bread, crackers, pretzels, sliced bologna, cheese, smoked fish, pickles, pickled onions and various other viands. Any one wanting a "snack" could help themselves to this spread, upon buying a five-cent drink.

Some taverns each afternoon would put on a special of some kind. There was one place on Market Street where each afternoon a large piece of roast beef weighing 45 or 50 pounds would be put on the bar and one of the bartenders would stand there with a large carving knife. The patrons would take a plate and two slices of bread from the table and hold the plate up on the counter where the bartender would carve a generous slice of roast beef and place it on the bread, then add a ladle full of delicious gravy. All this went with the purchase of one five-cent drink. Each day as the time of this hand-out approached, a goodly crowd would be lined up waiting with their mouths watering for the carving to start. Of course no one was supposed to have a second helping without buying another drink, and woe betide any one who tried to beat the game. He would be reprimanded by the proprietor and maybe run out or thrown out of the place.

Chicken With a Shot

In New York there was a noted tavern on West 23rd Street, right across from the Penn. D. L. & W., Central R. R. and Erie ferries where, every afternoon a bowl of sauer kraut with a small frankfurter was served with a drink, all for five cents. In Paterson, one tavern served a bowl of chicken each afternoon, which, with a five-cent drink, made quite a meal.

Let some of this paper's readers get the idea that I was an old toper, going around to these free lunches, let me explain that I always took a soft drink instead of "suds." This, however, was somewhat of a handicap, for if I wanted another helping, how could I swallow more than one soft drink? But, I solved this problem somewhat by going around with a friend who could get away with any amount of "suds" and did not care much for free lunch, so we would take two glasses of "suds" and two free lunches, and while he was downing the "suds" I would take care of the free lunches.

Methodist, So No Toper

One time I went into a tavern with a young fellow who did not "know the ropes" very well and he promptly started in to fill up with free lunch and only one drink. I expected every minute to hear the bartender bawl him out, but he held off until we started out, then he yelled out: "Say, young fellow, would you like to stay for supper?" I was reared a strict Methodist and was not supposed to frequent taverns, but the lure of the free lunch was stronger than my will power, and I could not resist the call of the free lunch. One of my ancestors on my father's side was inclined to indulge too freely at times and my mother thought it was a terrible thing. As far back as I can remember she would warn me that I inherited an awful appetite for strong drink and that unless I was very careful in curbing my appetite, I would land in a drunkard's grave.

One day I said to her: "You are opposed to the saloon, are you not?" "I most certainly am," says she, "if I had my way there would not be a saloon in the whole country." "Well," I said, "I am doing all I can to put them out of business. Every time I go in one I eat so much free lunch that they lose money on me."

I am past the age of three score years and ten as given in the Scriptures as the limit of man's age, and I call upon all of my acquaintances to witness that I have not yet landed in a drunkard's grave.

Only a Memory

But, those days are gone to return no more. The free lunch is only a memory. The law stepped in and sounded the death knell of it by a ruling that all tables with free lunch on must be covered with wire screens. The result was that a person had to take the screen off of each dish with one hand and reach for the eatables with the other hand, instead of using both hands with which to grab the food. Many of the taverns also served meals at tables as they do today, and in many of them the food was as good and sometimes better than the regular restaurants (and the prices lower).

I wonder if any old timers remember Iflands, that was in a basement on Market Street, just east of Broad? Iflands had the best sauer kraut that I ever tasted. They served a large bowl of kraut, with two frankfurters, rye bread, and a drink for 15 cents.

How Iflands prepared their sauer kraut is a deep mystery. I have made many inquiries about it, but no one seems to have the answer. It had a delicious taste that is not found in any other kraut. We have tried many ways of preparing this dainty, but the nearest we can come to Iflands is baking it with pork. In this way all the juices are retained whereas when it is cooked in a kettle most of the juices are wasted.

Another noted tavern was Henry Hart's, on Market Street, opposite Beaver Street. Hart's was noted for potato salad which was the "best ever." They served a dish of potato salad, two frankfurters, rye bread, a glass of "suds" and a piece of pie for 20 cents (believe it or not). I wish I knew the formula they used for their potato salad.

Clams in Your Chowder

Then, there was Simonsons in a basement on Broad Street below William Street. Their specialty was seafood, and oh my, how good it was. A bowl of clam chowder (with clams in it) was 20 cents and a large oyster fry with a dish of delicious relish was 25 cents.

Another "oasis" was up near the Lackawanna station, where we could get a large serving of roast beef and boiled potatoes with a drink for 20 cents. There were many good eating places, but I am mentioning the ones that stand out most prominently in my memory.

Well, I have written a "mouthful" and my own mouth is watering for some of the old time delicacies (at the old time prices), so now I will close and take a look into our ice box in the hope of satisfying this longing for the old time free lunch.

Elects New Officers

Elected to office on Congregation Night held last Friday in the Belleville Reformed Church were: Elders, William Betcher, William MacKillop and Charles Thatcher; Deacons, William Gnatz, William Mawhir, John Van Duinen and LeRoy Davenport Jr. They will be ordained on Sunday, April 1, at 11 a. m.

HOSPITAL BENEFIT CONCERT PLANNED

Newark Group Follows Project Instituted Here By GOP Women's Club

The Lauter Piano School of Newark and the Nurses Alumnae Association of Lutheran Memorial Hospital will jointly sponsor a concert for the benefit of the institution's building fund campaign at 8:30 p. m. Thursday, March 15, at St. John's Lutheran Church, 10th Street and Avon Avenue, Newark.

Frederick Berry, pianist, and Greene Turner, vocalist, will be featured on the program.

All proceeds will be turned over to the $2,800,000 Lutheran Memorial building fund, since expenses will be absorbed by the Lauter School. The Lauter organization is the third area group to sponsor benefits for the hospital fund, following the examples of the Belleville Women's Republican Club, which has scheduled a series of card parties, and the Belleville Choral Society, which will give the hospital all proceeds from its annual Spring concert.

Mr. Berry studied in New York with Edwin Hughes, Josef Lhevinne and Jan Smetelin. For a number of years, he was dean of the Piano Faculty of the Miami School of Applied Art. Mr. Turner, a pupil of Bruce Benjamin in New York, has performed as a soloist and with choral groups throughout New Jersey and in New York City for the past five years. He is presently rehearsing the leading male role in Giancarlo Menotti's "The Old Maid and the Thief" to be presented soon in East Orange.

COUNTY CYO TO HAVE BREAKFAST

Eighth Annual Communion Breakfast To Be Held In Douglas Hotel Sunday

The Essex County CYO will hold its eighth annual Communion breakfast this Sunday at the Douglas Hotel. Speakers at the affair, expected to draw young CYO leaders from the majority of the parishes in the county, will be Robert Kelly of Jersey City and the Most Rev. James A. McNulty, auxiliary bishop of Newark and archdiocesan CYO director.

The breakfast will start at 10

a. m. and for the benefit of suburban CYO members who would be unable to attend their own church and still make the starting time there will be a special mass at St. Bridget's, Newark, at 9 a. m.

Listed to speak besides Kelly and the auxiliary bishop is Rev. John J. Kiley, Essex County CYO director. The toastmaster will be Victor Donnelly, chairman of the Essex County Senior Youth Council.

Kelly, winner of the national award in the American Legion oratorical contest several years ago, is a senior at St. Peter's College, Jersey City. President of the National Student Association last year, Kelly is a graduate of St. Peter's Prep and is a popular speaker with young people.

Purpose of the breakfast, according to Father Kiley, is to stimulate similar activities on the parish level and to motivate CYO members towards the goals of the Youth Apostolate.

The Bright Time

March is a time of kites—
 Of wind-wide weather;
 Of trees that bend to slingshot shapes;
 Of birds like bells—
 Chiming on polished twigs—
 Of myriad stretched boughs
 Pointed with buds.
 No other time of year is like to this!
 Expectancy is shine and shape of warmth
 Still tipped with cold—
 Spring not yet here,
 Winter already old!

Our Best Public Relations

Hats off to the Belleville High basketball team and the school band and twirlers. Both did more to increase the stature of the town last week than a whole covey of hand-shaking politicians. Although the team lost to Seton Hall in the final of the Essex County tournament, the boys conducted themselves with impeccable deportment and were great even in defeat.

However, the band, with its accompanying floor show, stole the spotlight. Belleville's bevy of cute girls had the packed house beguiled and roars of delight and approval rocked the gymnasium as the Blue and Gold contingent performed its routine. Music directors Herbert Mattick and Charles E. Wertman, assisted by the students, staged a brilliantly conceived, well-executed performance.

Salary Guides

A revised salary guide for municipal employees was established by the Town Commission last week, through the passage of an ordinance on first reading, amending a previous Civil Service wage list. Maximum salaries, in a number of instances, have been substantially boosted and the taxpayer should give careful scrutiny to those sections of the ordinances, because they're whoppers.

The Town Hall's reply to any criticism of the salary schedule will be that most of the maximums are still to be reached. Few of the employees have attained the top notch. But the fact remains that ultimately the maximum will be reached, the time depending upon the generosity of the director of a department.

Another factor that should be carefully weighed by the taxpayer before allowing this ordinance to become law is the pension question. Boosting the maximums is tantamount to increasing the pension payment when the worker retires.

This is not a protest against paying municipal employees a living wage, but a warning for tax-paying citizens to guard against any trend toward exorbitancy. A comparison with industry will disclose that town workers in the higher-bracket maximums are far better off than their industrial counterpart who does not reap all the benefits befalling Civil Service groups.

Our point is this—can Belleville afford to meet this obligation? Perhaps now, but our sources of revenue are slowly being strangled. Only last week, The Times-News revealed that the home owner is footing 58 per cent of the tax bill. How much more can Joe Jones be clipped for taxes, fighting, as he is, the grip inflation has upon his weekly pay check?

Once before, back in the dark days of the depression, Belleville's financial structure was rocked when the bubble burst. In order to avoid issuing baby bonds again to pay our school teachers and employees, it might be wiser and less expensive to inject strict economy in all town matters. No one will deny the loyalty of the town employee and being in the white collar bracket, they have been hit hard by rising prices. But a cost-of-living bonus, being considered in many other communities, rather than a defined obligation such as sharply increased pay maximums, would be easier for the taxpayer to absorb. Let's keep the "pork barrels" in Washington and try practicing a little economy on the local level instead of emulating our Federal spendthrifts.

It Could Only Happen Here

It could only happen here in America that a Marine corporal in a California camp could question the morality of our military action in behalf of the UN in Korea, write to his Dad who, in turn, sent the letter to the Department of State evoking from the busy Secretary of State Dean Acheson a magnificent essay on the motives of our intervention against tyranny.

Imagine what would have happened to the soldier in Red Russia had he dared to write his bitter criticism of the regime. Imagine what would have happened under Hitler or Mussolini. Only in America could such a thing be understood and an individual's right to question the morality of his government be respected.

The Camden Marine's thinking was confused. Prevented from completing his college studies, he obviously was ripe for resentment. He resented being called back as a reservist, not because he was afraid to fight but because he was not at all sure that the authorities in Washington who had called him back into service had not bungled the peace he had fought for in World War II.

Secretary Acheson, a soldier's father himself, understood that the symptoms which prompted the New Jersey Marine to write to his father cause many other thousands of young soldiers to feel tricked—five years after the greatest war in history had destroyed despotism. That he took the trouble to answer the anxious father's questions is a tribute to our understanding of Democracy, but what he answered still leaves fears that cannot be dissipated by a single letter.

The Secretary of State declared America's role to be morally right, worthy of the faith of the young soldier in the ideals upon which this country was founded. How terrible, how tragic, therefore, that at the very moment that the Secretary of State sought to reassure the youth of the nation that our war effort is morally right, the awful R. F. C. scandal should smoulder in the nation's capital and that a Democratic Senator, Fulbright of Arkansas, should demand a Congressional investigation of the general moral level of the federal government's executive branch.

The R. F. C. has long outlived its usefulness. There is no need in a nation girding for war for a lending agency that competes with legitimate commercial banks. Like he stood behind the "deep freeze" grafters in his intimate official household, like he stupidly disposed of the awful Hess affair and other Communist exposures as "red herrings," like he has jumped to many other wrong conclusions from a mistaken sense of loyalty to his pals, President Truman has sought to cover the R. F. C. mess with a pretense at approbation.

The Marine corporals of our army, the fathers of our soldiers who would rather see their sons in college, the citizens at large who pay the taxes and whose money is being spent by Truman's appointees to grant favors that are paid for in mink coats want an assurance of the morality of our tremendous national effort that Secretary Acheson stressed in his letter.

There has been a succession of scandals during this Truman administration—the deep freeze units, the five-per-centers, the mink coats—which leave us all apprehensive. The moral standards and the mistakes of our federal government are the direct cause of the low morale in our army camps which the Camp Pendleton Marine reported so coherently to his father. This country hates Communism and would fight to its last breath and last cent to preserve our heritage of freedom. But not to buy mink coats for the wives of men high in our federal hierarchy who peddle their prestige and honor to the highest bidder.

Next year will give us an opportunity to clean house, to rid ourselves of the stinking mess in the overstuffed federal bureaus. We can only hope there still is time, but it certainly is later than you think and an intelligent soldier has pointed it out. R. E. H.

All Soldiers Do Not Fight

Every month sees a score of Belleville youths leave home for military service in the Army, Navy or Air Corps. They are our sons and their lives are dear to us. We want, for them, every possible chance to survive any way and that is why the debate now in progress about manpower waste in the armed forces reaches right into the homes of our town.

All soldiers do not fight. It takes cooks and bakers, clerks and chauffeurs, quartermaster men and truck drivers and a hundred other trades to keep the fighting soldier supplied. The only question is: how many men does it take to keep one soldier on the fighting line?

In the Soviet army, there are nine men in supporting jobs for every ten men in combat divisions. In the American army, by contrast, 26 men are now used in support units for each 10 men in combat divisions. Proportionately, in other words, the Russians have a lot more gun-carriers and more fire power per division than we have.

The upshot is likely to be that Congress, before it consents to the draft of 18-year-olds, will tell the generals they must squeeze more front-line troops from the manpower they already have.

ONE MAN'S OPINION...

Two Years Have Seen the Tables Turned in Paris

Where the Big Four Deputies Are Meeting

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

Paris in the Springtime seems to have done something to the Russians or, perhaps, when we spent our billions to build a wall against the westward shove of Communism we built better than we had hoped. At any rate, we are getting our first dividends from the billions we invested in Western Europe's defenses as well as our own.

The meeting of Big Four deputies in Paris this week has found the Russians exceptionally malleable. Things have changed in six months or since those dark days of the Berlin airlift. The Russians are realist enough to respect strength and right now that's something we have plenty of. The gloom that surrounded the last Big Four meeting has gone. You can talk about "peace" now with sincerity in your voice.

The Korean war definitely is going better.

The revival of European defenses in the West is progressing ahead of schedule.

There is a positive decline in Communist party strength in France, Italy, Scandinavia, the low lands and Western Germany. The State Department is the source of an official report which sets the loss of Communist party membership at 33 per cent since 1945.

Pravda's protests against any peace for Japan unless Red Russia and Red China help in its negotiation and keep a power of veto over it prove the vital importance of our Japanese "ace" in the game of diplomatic poker now in progress.

On top of all the other symptoms which should increase our confidence came the statement by Dr. Vannévar Bush this week that "without question no all-out war is in sight for the immediate future unless we make some very serious error." Dr. Bush, who is one of the world's top 10 in atomic research, concluded with the calm assertion that Russia knows that if she did start a war today she would be destroyed by America's atom bombs.

Cheaper Than War

Now that the air is clearing somewhat we enjoy a much greater freedom of movement, diplomatically. Had we possessed the strength and the determination a year ago that we have today, the Korean venture never would have occurred. Since we armed the French in Indochina, the Viet Minh rebellion has become strangely less important. Mobilization for peace has been costly, but cheap at half the price compared to what a modern war would cost.

The old policy of "containment" of Red Russia at points where it might pour over into new aggressions is obsolete. Right now our military and diplomatic planners are looking ahead to the days when we may hope to reopen China, Eastern Europe and the Balkans to Western trade and western thought.

The old bogey of a coalition of Russian and Chinese Communism, a pooling of Russian leadership and Chinese coolie manpower, is stilled. The victory of Communism in China proved to be not half as bad as we had feared. We know that Communism can survive in China only if China itself can survive and to survive, China may have to turn to the West as Yugoslavia turned and as Czechoslovakia was seeking to turn until the recent purge occurred.

Containment Obsolete

There is no doubt that if we stay strong and if we pile up A-bombs faster than Russia does, the peaceful co-existence of Capitalism and Communism is possible, but would America want to go along indefinitely financing a military installation that costs $70 billion a year and keeping 3½ million of our sons in uniform?

A policy of containment is obsolete; so may a policy of peaceful co-existence become rapidly outmoded. What then? Destroy Communism by an offensive war or force our way through the Red Curtain?

It would be ridiculous to deny that there is a growing segment of public opinion in favor of a preventive war, a war to destroy Communism and to rid the world of the continuous crisis which have sapped out peaceful progress. You have only to read such national publications as "Time" to realize that many people are talking about the impossibility of co-existence and the need of settling the issue with Communism once and for all.

Chances of War Fade

The prospects of such a war are frightful. Even the winner might come out of such a holocaust so weakened that civilization might have difficulty in surviving.

SO YOU CAN BUY ELECTRICITY ...for a few pennies a day!

Seward Electric Generating Station, newest in the Public Service system, which the Federal Power Commission recently referred to as the most efficient steam-electric plant in the country in 1949.

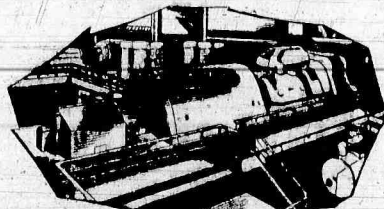

PUBLIC SERVICE is a good citizen of a great state. Over the years we have spent hundreds of millions of dollars in building the dependable electric system as you know it today. Yes—hundreds of millions of dollars so that you can buy electricity for a few pennies a day.

These huge sums of money spent in plant and equipment for producing electricity have also played an important part in the development of the industrial life of New Jersey.

Low-cost electricity is essential in attracting new factories to our state. We help New Jersey maintain its high position in industrial leadership by producing a dependable supply of low-cost power.

As time goes on, even larger sums must be spent to keep ahead of New Jersey's growth. More generating capacity and more electric distribution facilities will be needed if more industries are to locate within our borders and more jobs created for those who live here.

As we enter the second half of the Twentieth Century, Public Service continues to look ahead and plan for the mutual growth of the state and the company.

Shown here is a turbo-generator of the type used at Seward Generating Station. Equipment of this kind costs millions of dollars.

No. 3 at Italian Baptist Church.
No. 4 at Pillar of Fire Church on Wallace Street.

Zone Headquarters

At St. Anthony's Church.

Ambulance Locations

To be decided by the Board and Red Cross.

Strategy Board (Initial)

Rev. Titus Menegus, Rev. Benedetto Pascale, Dr. Post, Dr. James Cazzarelli, Michael Marotti, Frank Fuselle, Sal Piro, Charlie Rossi, Ralph Risco, Miss Marie Serritella, Mrs. Clementine Serritella, Peter Nappi, Michael Albertine, Mrs. Angelina Tortorillo. Representation from veteran posts, police, firemen, public school, Red Cross, Merchant's Association, Chamber of Commerce, etc.

Responsibilities

Strategy Board members will set up such committees within the board as will serve the best interest of the Civil Defense program, and give full co-operation to the several division directors. Each zone strategy board will have a chairman, secretary and treasurer.

Boards will be responsible for compiling information from all levels of zone activity. They will keep accurate records of the work done in emergency hospitals, first aid stations, ambulance routes, child care and information centers, canteens and other services. The officers of the boards will be elected by the members, and serve for the duration of the emergency.

The five strategy board chairmen will compose a five-man central board which will serve as liaison group for the Defense Council of Belleville and the strategy boards of all zones. Through this central, five-man board, the zones will receive orders from the local council and from the state director through the local council. In turn, this board will convey clear and correct reports to the Defense Council of all activities within the zones. This will speed up action on all levels, by avoiding individual investigations by the various division directors, the council chairman, and state officials. This will, of course, require earnest team work between the board committees, zones and the divisions of the Defense Council with the five-man board. It will also require full co-operation with the town co-ordinator.

Each representative on a strategy board must at all times be fully informed regarding work being done in his or her respective field, such as Red Cross, public schools, churches, etc.

Druggists Play Role

Druggists will be required to submit to their zone boards inventories of essential medicines and supplies. In an emergency shortage, the Belleville Defense Council through its emergency medical service division will be authorized to impound necessary supplies for use and pay for same at prevailing prices. A list of drugs and supplies that may be needed will be given the druggists by the emergency medical service directors. Other stock, such as toys, perfumes, candies, and sundry merchandise will be of no concern to the Defense Council.

Druggists will also be asked to provide safe storage space for town supplies purchased from state stockpiles. This suggestion was made by me to State Preparedness Director Dr. Bergsma, and was recommended by him in his speech over television February 14. Such a procedure enables the town to hold custody over its own supplies, thus making them available at all times, instead of leaving them on requisition in the state's storage which may not be reached when needed.

This inventory regulation also applies to food stores in order to assure each citizen some food in case of shortages due to non-contact with outside sources. Only foods used by the Council will be paid for with Council funds. Lists of vital foods likely to be impounded will be given to merchants. The system will be explained in detail to the Chamber of Commerce and Merchant's Association.

In addition to first aid stations maintained through the Belleville Defense Council, all churches will be asked to set up auxiliary First Aid closets in their church Sunday schools, and each home will be asked to establish a modern first aid chest in a safe place, preferably in a protected area of the basement set aside for retreat in the event of air raids, and equipped with the necessary food, water substitutes, clothing, etc.

Churches at Center

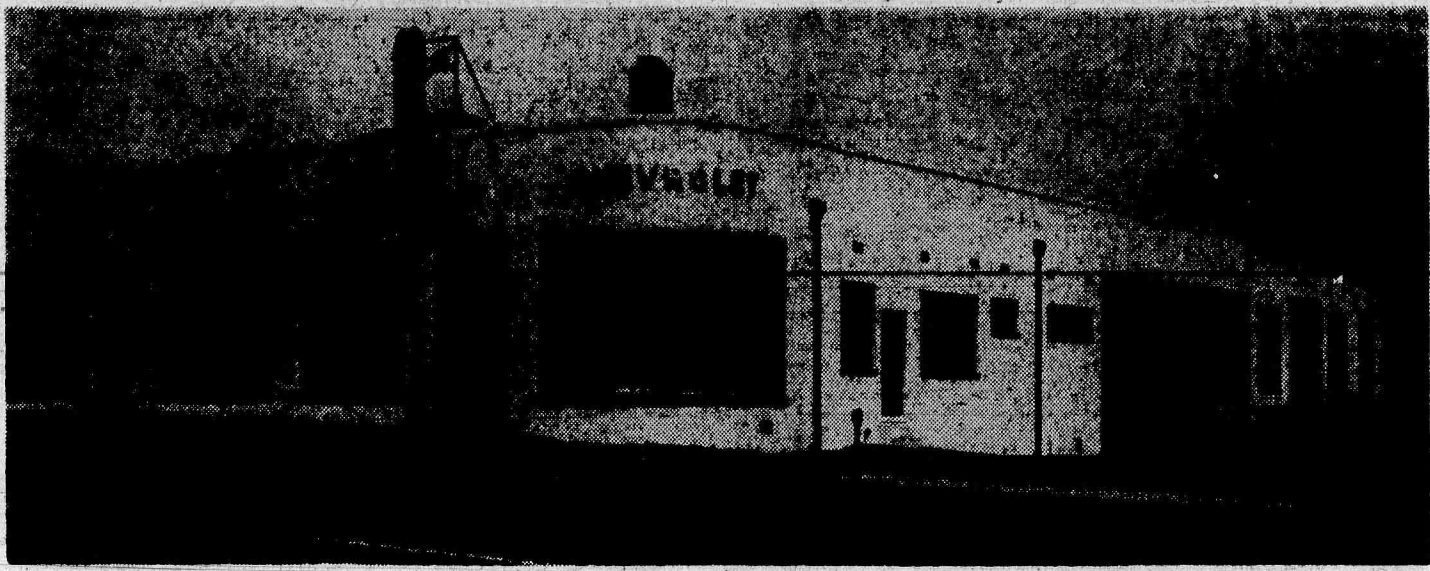

All churches will serve as child care and information centers under the direction of church guilds or clubs and the strategy board committee charged with this activity. Ministers of each zone will serve as advisors giving moral and spiritual direction to the work on all levels. They will aid in recruiting the necessary volunteer staffs for all divisions.

First aid training will be required of all workers and members of strategy boards in keeping with common sense practices, and training will be under the supervision of the Red Cross in each zone, training periods to be set in co-operation with the board.

Strategy boards will meet regularly. The five-man board will meet with the Defense Council when necessary, and with the several chairmen when required, for complete co-ordination of the work. Meetings with the emergency medical service division take precedence over all others.

The doctors in the zones together with the town public health officer and the co-director of emergency medical services will constitute the emergency medical division, and through this group each zone board will expect the doctors on the board to promote a strong medical service zone by zone, for a co-ordinated town service designed to prevent as much suffering and death as possible.

Teachers and parents will co-operate with the Red Cross and all other agencies in the interest of protecting the children of the community, and in general volunteer service requiring their aid. In the event of atomic warfare, they will be asked to provide coveralls made of special materials for all school children.

Series of Drills

As soon as the strategy boards become operative I would recommend a series of drills in all categories until the work is well understood and can be done effectively in case of an emergency. Ambulance drivers need practice to be perfect in a real disaster, rescue workers should have experience in digging out dummies from real rubble.

Teacher boards need practice in handling mangled bodies, and the whole population needs practice in the resistance to explosive noises, and orderly taking of cover, evacuation, etc. Just to hear our sirens wailing every noon is poor preparedness for orderly action and controlled nerves. I hope Belleville will be able to undergo several realistic "raids" with all the necessary sound and action that a real raid carries. A few home-made casualties may well serve as practice material to save real human beings. This could be a project for the high school or other sewing groups. Made of tough material and stuffed with sawdust or chopped paper they could be used and reused. It would give a first aid recruit good practice to staunch the flow of red sawdust. This is not a play. It is serious practice proposals for providing service that will be free of nervous tension as possible. Our volunteer firemen need experience in fire-fighting, not just talk. Such experience is vastly different from orderly training in the high school or church hall just for practice sake. But how will volunteer graduates act under the noise of explosions, the sight of blood, or dirt covered victims? If we are going to the trouble and expense of setting up Civil Defense, let us do it as realistically as possible for the good of the community, and everyone in it.

Such a drill could be worked out without any real casualties or destruction. Our July 4 explosives would serve a better need than just entertainment.

Remember When

Five Years Ago

The movement among Belleville public school teachers to organize a local chapter of the American Federation of Teachers, after gained momentum, and over 140 members of the teaching staffs of the different schools attended a meeting at School No. 8. Two officials of the New Jersey State Federation of Teachers cited the merits of organization. Charles Allen, vice-president of the State Federation and president of the Newark Teachers union, stressed the necessity of teachers familiarizing themselves with town government, political views, tax rate and everything pertaining to the financial condition of the town.

Harry G. Specht, vice-president and general manager of Eastwood-Nealy Corp. and president of the Belleville Foundation was named chairman of the 1946 American Cancer Society drive scheduled for April 1. The Belleville quota was set at $6,000, while the state-wide goal was $500,000.

The Senior class of Belleville High School was planning its annual play. Among the cast of "Spring Green" were Fern Kube, Betty Armstrong, Lois Wilson, Larry Keenan, Mary Dailey, Barbara Boyce, Ned Becker, Ed Purdue, Doris Firmanik, Bob Snedeker, Allan Van Demark, Barbara Lanning, Eugene Lenninger, Bill Hartley, and Joe Barbone.

Property stolen or lost and recovered by the police department amounted to $24,930.45, it was revealed in the annual report of police department affairs for the year 1945. The report was submitted by Police Chief Spatz. Criminal cases in the court during the year were led by assault and battery charges, with 52 on the books. Breaking and entering drew the next highest number of cases, with 19, with 18 disorderly persons being reported to the court.

Ten Years Ago

In a history of the town written by the New Jersey WPA Writers' Project it was revealed that native folklore disclosed early settlers believed headless phantoms, pirates, and witches roamed in Belleville three centuries ago. According to legend the River Road was the route on which the ghost of Moll de Graw traveled nightly. During her lifetime Moll was believed to have been an evil person who held communion with the powers of darkness. Stories of her witchcraft grew as she aged. In taprooms there was talk at nights of "the witch" and it was often proposed that Moll be burned at the stake.

But fear restrained even the bravest until one night "Dutch courage" inspired a group to set out for her lonely hut on River Road. When they arrived Moll was dead. Her spirit haunted the town for years and found no rest until River Road became a part of Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters proved himself to be an ace weather man when he called the turn for fair and warmer for the weekend following a foot-deep snow storm, the worst in six years, and put his trust in Old Sol to remove most of the snow at little extra cost to Belleville Taxpayers. He struggled through the drifts and depths all day with his scant eighteen men recruited from the street, water and sewer departments, and only ten extra in help to do a lightning job of removal, in fact so good a job that more than a dozen letters of commendation were received at Town Hall.

For the boys and girls in Belleville who didn't know how to swim and were even fearful in the bathtub, the local chapter of the American Red Cross planned a summer swimming course under the supervision of Miss Eileen Lynch.

The Belleville Woman's Republican Club planned induction of seventeen new members. Included were Mrs. Joseph Ryan, Mrs. George Stalter, Mrs. Harry White, Mrs. William Meehan, Mrs. Frances Demark, Mrs. Frank Cronsey, Mrs. Francis Ellenberger, Mrs. George Pritts, Mrs. James Hand, Mrs. Anna Hafner, Mrs. Clara Hornak, Mrs. Samuel Oswald, Mrs. Emil Reichter, Mrs.

Sonneborn Employees Give Approval To Payroll Plan
In Lutheran Campaign

More than 100 employees of L. Sonneborn Son, Inc., Belleville oil products manufacturers, this week joined the list of worker groups contributing to the $2-800,000 Lutheran Memorial Hospital building fund campaign.

The Sonneborn workers, approving a one-year payroll deduc-tion plan authorized by their management, earmarked $873 for the hospital. Earlier this year, similar group donations were made by employees of the American Tag Company and Walter Kille & Co., Inc., both of Belleville.

Frank Gaccione, president of the Sonneborn shop local of District 50, United Mine Workers, headed the employee group directing the sign-up. He was aided by Patsy Cofone, Frank Lucariello and Anthony Marino. The committee personally solicited every employee in the Sonneborn plant during the past three weeks.

Hailed by Chairman

Thomas Perrotta, chairman of the hospital campaign's labor committee, hailed the Sonneborn donation as an indication of widespread worker support of the fund. His committee is continuing to contact employee groups in other plants in the Belleville-Nutley-Bloomfield-Newark area working towards a goal of $2,000,000.

The contributions will help to build the new 200-bed Lutheran Memorial Hospital on a site overlooking Branch Brook Park at the Belleville-Newark line. It will serve an area of 125,000 residents and industrial workers now lacking in adequate hospital service.

Gerard presented the report of a survey of all such cases at a meeting of the board. The report showed that in the opinion of the principals of the various schools there were present sixty-one children who could be regarded as below normal. The report was turned over to the health committee of the board, composed of Mrs. Mary Sheldon and Walter Gilby, who were to see that every case was given a thorough examination by the county clinic. Following that, the board would take steps to establish special classes under trained teachers.

A slightly inebriated guest walked into Belleville Police Headquarters, casually strolled up to the desk and requested a night's lodging. His request was granted, and while being taken to his bunk, he put on an exhibition fig for the benefit of his host. A half hour later the guest raised quite a commotion, claimed that he didn't care for his room, and demanded to be set free. Once again his request was granted.
When last seen he was headed over the river towards Harrison.

Looking Back In Sports

Five Years Ago

The St. Peter's Girls team was put out of further competition in the CYO Basketball league played in Newark. In a thrilling and close game St. Antoninus came from behind to take the game by the score of 16 to 14.
The game started slowly, for the score at the quarter was 1 to 1.
At half time St. Peter's had a lead of 3 points, with the score board reading 7 to 4. All through the third quarter St. Peter's Girls maintained their three point lead.
However in the fatal last quarter which started with the score at 12 to 9, St. Antoninus began to edge away. Marie Pettito was high in scoring with her 9 points.

On the strength of a miserable exhibition of foul shooting, in which they missed 18 out of 25 free tosses, Belleville was eliminated from the State basketball tournament by a team passing Orange team. It was the first tournament contest for the Bellboys, and unfortunately, the team had one of their worst evenings of the season. The score was 37 to 25, and a crowd of more than 2,500 fans was on hand to watch the doubleheader, the second contest going to West Orange, who trimmed Nutley 35 to 25.

A three-way tie for second,
third and fourth place followed the results of games in the Grace Baptist Men's Club bowling league.
The Atomic Bombers, Holy Rollers and Mud Slingers all knotted up with 20 and 25 each.
The Wood Choppers rolled merrily along, safely entrenched in first place.

The Walter Kiddie basketball quintet, paced by Al Queen and George Yuvosevitch, warmed off with the New Jersey A. A. U. cage championship in Jefferson High School, Elizabeth. The Kiddie combine trimmed the favorites, Garfield American Legion, in the final game by a 65 to 53 count. Queen had 22 points and Yuvosevitch tallied 13.

Ten Years Ago

While Grace Baptist continued to thunder along in first place in the Church League with a low-scoring 19-10 triumph over Christ Episcopal, the second place tie was broken when the Fewsmitth Presbyterian boys stepped out to trim the Italian Baptist team 26-

22. The Baptist boys then skid into a third place deadlock with the St. Peter's five which bounced the lowly Congregation
A. A. 25-20. In the other game Reformed edged up a bit on the head vanguard by halting the Wesley Methodist quintet 34-24.

Fifteen Years Ago

The Overmyer Tire representatives of the local Manufacturers' Bowling League had the honor of snapping the league leading R. C. A's long record-breaking winning streak at Ferrara's North Newark alleys. After the radio outfit captured the initial game of the match to post up their twenty-fifth consecutive win, the pace setters bowed by a twenty-eight pin margin in the second game and then slipped miserably in the third game.

Ernie Gardi, local amateur boxer who two years before won the 118-pound county championship in a tournament sponsored by a Newark newspaper, was signed up for the 1936 championships to be held in the Sussex Avenue Armory, Newark, under the sponsorship of the Suburban Athletic Club of Newark. Young Gardi was favored to win the 118-pound crown, as he had been training for a year under the direction of Charles Smith, a former recreation supervisor in this town.

Belleville High's up and down court aggregation had another discouraging evening at Kearny High School's gym when a Red and Black combine were sufficiently clever to put the skids on the Bellboys to the tune of 37-33. The many loyal Belleville followers were disappointed with the performance of the local lads, for they had completely outclassed the Cardinals several weeks earlier by the one-sided count of 43-30.

The Speedsters, the unofficially crowned champions of the Lions Club Bowling League, annexed a pair of wins from the Cubs at the Elks' alleys. The title winners, with the main idea of bolstering their winning margin, were scheduled to meet the Comets in the final meeting of the loop.

The fifth place Forest Hill Presbyterian registered the upset in the Belleville Church Bowling League when they knocked the pace setting Fewsmitth Men's Club down a few pegs, topping the leaders for two out of three games. Despite this setback, the Men's Club had a seven-game grip on top perch of the circuit.

Twenty Years Ago

With a vengeful gleam in their eyes, Belleville High's brilliant court youngsters wiped out one of the few smudges on their fine record by overwhelming Orange High 26-14, at the local high school gym. It was the fourth consecutive victory for the locals and their fourteenth in seventeen starts during the rapidly waning season. Handicapped at the outset by the loss of that defensive wizard, Jerry Bonavita, the local Golden Comets displayed some of the best form of the season in easily downing the Orangemen, who came to town with a record of having lost but two games in twelve this season.

The Forest Hill Ramblers
scored their most impressive victory when they downed the high-from the fifteen foot mark had much to do with their undoing.

The Belleville High School varsity club, composed mainly of members of the highly successful local combine, invaded Elizabeth, and turned back the strong Pioneer Juniors, 32-25. The point distributed between Goodrich, Lamb, Smith and Bonavita, with Goodrich the usual high scorer.

The Belleville Elks' howling representatives in the Morris and Essex League were victimized in three straight games by the visiting Chatham five at the local alleys. Billy Bechtold's high 244 Faust's 213 in the third, were wasted before the determined onslaught of the Chathamites, who were led by Shepams' trio of double century marks.

The Belleville-Knights of Columbus court five travelled to Newark, and received a 26-17 set-back at the hands of the well-known National Turners. The Bruce Streeters had their hands full of retaining a slim 12-11 margin at halftime, but came back strongly in the final period to win decisively. The locals in-

Oh, how can we start? What's the use, "We wuz robbed!" Four mealy points! However, "our heads are bloody, but not bowed," quoting the incomparable "Jit." Anyway, we'll settle for state!!! With spirit like that of Belleville, how can we miss? Did you hear that there were six buses filled with B. H. S. enthusiasts? How unfortunate that their sobs (and we do mean sobs) were "My Heart Cries for You."

But, tears and all, the kids were dumped at the high school to show the team that their tears and cheers were for them alone. The following day we heard that two anonymous young men chased Mr. Kittle around the building to get him to condescend to an assembly. He broke down, finally, at the end of fifth period. And are we glad he did! We really raised the roof! Hope our cheering will inspire the team to victory in the forthcoming state championship games.

Milk Man Charlie

Mention of the team spurs mention of Charlie Travers. Now the boy's turned actor! He's even made his TV debut on Junior Frolics. Say, Charlie, how'd you ever grow to be so big 'n strong? By drinking a quart and a half of milk a day?

More celebrities—Those kids who almost went unnoticed after their speeches at the Rotary Club. Those who spoke were Jim Cameron, Ron Kravitz, Ann Fritchard and Barbara Van Houten. Nancy Jackson also was to have spoken, but she was ill at the time.

Curtain time for the Senior Play is growing nearer and nearer. Next Tuesday the play is being presented for the grammar school crowd. This week, members of the play and of the publicity committee are traveling cross-town to the various grammar schools giving them a "peep" at what they will be seeing next Tuesday.

The previews for the high school will pass for inspection tomorrow in an assembly program. By the way, anyone interested in tickets need only look in the direction of any senior and he will be delighted to be of help—especially those in the play, who have all of 16 to sell.

Spotlight Near

The second issue of the Belleville Spotlight made its appearance about two weeks ago—the 23rd of February, and as usual, there were comments—pro and con. But the comments are welcome. The paper is open for criticism; it wants the student body to voice its opinions.

Mal Zadigian, and the two of us are still collecting baby pictures—of those adorable creatures—seniors. It's a new twist for the Monad this year, so we can see the changes that have taken place in the "aging process." The annual yearbook will be going to the publisher soon—can't wait till it comes out in June. But, then, can't wait till June, period. Lots of good things

AAA SISTERHOOD TO GIVE COMEDY

Musical, "Call Me Esther," To Be Featured At Party In Celebration Of Purim

The paid-up membership party of the Sisterhood of Congregation A. A. A. will be held Tuesday, March 13, at 8:30 p.m. Featured on the evening's program, celebrating Purim, will be a gala musical comedy entitled "Call Me Esther," which is derived from material supplied by the National Women's League.

The cast includes Mrs. Abe Glynn, Mrs. Seymour Perske, Mrs. Ethel Fischel, Mrs. Albert Kabor, Mrs. Herman Kesner, Mrs. Arthur Kabin, Mrs. Louis Lempert, Mrs. Stanley Lebowitz, Mrs. Jack Orinsky, Mrs. Ann Roth, Mrs. Morris Rochlin, Mrs. Al Rose, Mrs. William Schrier, Mrs. Ann Siderman, Mrs. Carol Weiss, Mrs. Wilfred Yudin, and Mrs. Henry Zadikoff.

The production has been directed by Mrs. Samuel Skinner, program chairman, assisted by Mrs. Stanley Sobelson and Mrs. Robert Underwood, who is in charge of lighting. Musical accompaniment and arrangement is under the direction of Mrs. Robert Gruhin. Special festive refreshments will be served for this occasion.

Crazy Question

We keep coming up with the damndest questions! This week's is even crazier than the past ones.

"What do you notice first in a boy or a girl?" Note the answers—we humans see a lot in our fellow beings.

Evelyn Denner, senior—"I notice if he has a tie on and if his shoes are shined."

Warren (Cookie) Kimble, sophomore—"I always notice whether a girl is a deadhead or in the lively category, which is definitely my choice."

Joan Bauer, junior—"My sight sees his eyes and my ears hear his voice."

Walt Haslam, senior—Ed. note—Mr. Haslam turned red and speechless, and blurted, "Well—it's kinda personal."

Marge Henry, sophomore—"A boy's manners and looks stand out when I first see or meet him." Don Allaire, senior—"Gee whiz," said Don, in his inimitable way, "I don't know. I guess I notice the girl's appearance first." (But doesn't every boy?)

See what we mean? Thanks, Katherins' Haborkost, for your suggestion of this week's question. Come on, let's have some more ideas.

Fewsmith Fellowship Circle To Hold Monthly Meeting

Rev. Dr. James K. Morse will speak on the Bible at the regular monthly meeting of the Fewsmith Fellowship Circle, to be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. John DeNiko, 345 Union Avenue. Mrs. John Gibson, Mrs. William Armstrong and Mrs. Harry Wortman will be co-hostesses.

New Jersey a' Kempis To Present Biblical Film

The film "Golgotha" will be shown at a meeting of the a' Kempis of New Jersey on Tuesday, March 13 at 2:30 p.m. in the ballroom of the Robert Treat Hotel in Newark. "Golgotha," a great tragedy of the Bible, impressively performed and brilliantly directed, stands out among the greatest of films. It is an immortal story grandly presented. The entire performance is religious.

Mrs. Charles M. Moore of East Orange will preside and Mrs. Anton P. Randazzo is program chairman. Belleville members are Miss Nellie C. Salmon, Miss Helen C. Barrett, Mrs. Frank A. Egan and Mrs. John Bennett.
