DICKINSON JOINS OUSTED MEMBERS IN COUNCIL TIFF

Submits Resignation, But Kelly Denies Receiving It As Confusion Grows

Confusion entered into the recent developments arising out of the Belleville Athletic Council shakeup reported here last week. Roy T. Dickinson, only appointive member who survived the slash instituted by school board president Eugene Kelly, announced to The Times-News he had tendered his resignation in a letter to Kelly. The latter told The Times-News he had not received Dickinson's resignation and therefore could not comment on the matter. Kelly said as far as he was concerned, Dickinson is still a member of the board.

Dickinson Displeased

A carbon copy of Dickinson's resignation shows the letter to be dated March 8. In it, he says that in view of recent developments on the Council, he declined the appointment made by Kelly. Yesterday, Dickinson elaborated on the situation by declaring he was displeased with the manner in which his former colleagues were discharged, or fired. Dickinson contended the ousted members should have been notified of their dismissal in the same way the appointments are announced.

The ousted members were Thomas Delaney, former president; Henry Waters and Henry Minasian. Kelly replaced the trio with Frank Spotts, Victor Pomponio and Werner Tietze. Kelly told The Times-News it was his intention to rotate the Council personnel as much as possible and thus give citizens a chance to serve on the civic organization.

Last week, Kelly was on the receiving end of a mild rejoinder from Delaney. Delaney inferred Kelly's action might have been inspired by an outside authority who was aiming at political reprisal. Kelly denied this.

VARSITY BANQUET FOR SCHOOL TEAM

Sport Organization Sponsors Fete At Robin Hood On March 27 For Cagers

Plans have been virtually completed for the banquet honoring the Belleville High School cage team at the Robin Hood Inn, March 27, according to chairman Leslie Armour. The annual affair is being sponsored by the Varsity Club and the team and coaching staff will be guests. Senior members of the squad will receive awards.

Armour said this week that negotiations are under way for a prominent basketball figure to be guest speaker. Assisting Armour on the committee are Arthur Bloemke, Vincent Buccarella, Ralph Casale and Frank Bemis. Tickets may be procured from any member of the Club or at the High School, Belleville Rosery, and Anderson and Fobert's service station at Washington and Greylock Avenues.

Running Track, Recreation Post Ordinances Approved

Two ordinances pertaining to the Parks and Public Property department were passed on second and third reading Tuesday. One measure called for an appropriation of $1,500 to complete the running track at the Municipal stadium and the second creates the post of a special recreation supervisor on a part-time basis at a salary of $1,000.

Parks Director Hyde has named his deputy director, James Lampman, to the position.

Belleville Marine Carries On Tradition Of Corps In Korea

Pfc. Glenn Galtere Wounded At Chosin Reservoir, Returns Home On Leave

This week Belleville welcomed home the first local man to return from the Korean battlefield. He is Marine Private First Class Glenn Galtere, possessor of four battle stars, two presidential unit citations, and the Purple Heart. A veteran of four and a half years' service, he has been in Korea since September, 1950.

Part of the famous Baker Company of the Seventh Marine Division which was cut off and trapped during the battle for Chosin Reservoir, Private Galtere valiantly carried on Marine tradition when he continued to fight for seven days after being severely wounded by shrapnel.

Suffering from frostbite of the hands and feet plus his previous leg wounds, he was flown out of Korea to a Japanese Hospital on December 5. Private Galtere arrived in California last week and is now home on a 30-day leave. He

Bellboys, Aiming For State Title Meet Bayonne

Penultimate Round Friday Night at Elizabeth Armory. With Oilers Favored to Defeat Golden Boys

Having smashed practically every record on the Belleville basketball books, the jaunty Golden Boys move into the semifinals of the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association tournament tomorrow night at the Elizabeth Armory, facing the biggest obstacle on the path to a Group 4 championship. The tourney favorite, Bayonne's Hudson County titlists, 'stack up against the Bellboys in the feature game of a twin bill which will start at the completion of the lid-raiser between Thomas Jefferson and Camden, who will be battling for the other finalist's berth. The opener is slated for 7:45 o'clock and the second game is carded for 75 minutes later.

Pressure-ridden for most of the season, due to riding on the crest of the longest win streak in the school's history, then getting top-seeding in the Essex County tournament, the Bellboys are rated behind the Oil City crew Friday, thus draping the favorite's mantle on the Hudson Countyites. Both teams should be well rested for the important go, having been idle all week except for practice sessions. Benefiting most will be Coach Jitty Wische's crew. Well played out by the strenuous tourney schedule, they should be in perfect condition by game time tomorrow.

Records have fallen like ten-pins before this finest of Belleville cage machines. They've put together the longest winning streak, 16 games; best record on the regular season, 15 victories and one defeat, the latter on the final day of the year; topped the first North Jersey Sectional crown ever won by Belleville and became the initial Bell-boy aggregation to enter the semifinals of the state tournament.

A tremendous crowd of faithful followers, who have trailed the team all through the recent tourney, will probably hit the road for Elizabeth tomorrow night and tax the seating capacity of the Armory. Principal Hugh Kittle, a rabid fan himself, issued the following statement yesterday to The Times-News:

Urges Support Of Fans
"We are proud of our basketball team, its coaches, and their loyal supporters—our students and you."

"Your loyalty was demonstrated at Seton Hall two weeks ago when we almost won the Essex County title. With your support, the Belleville team, band, twirlers, and dancers put on a show that, I believe, will be long remembered. "Now we are the Group IV, Section 2 champions and we are again asking your support. "The team and the students need you at the Elizabeth Armory on Friday night at 9 o'clock to help them win the semi-finals of the state championship. (Continued On Page Two)

TWO CONTESTS IN APRIL PRIMARY

One In Each Party Looms As GOP, Democrats File County Committee Lists

Only two contests, one Republican and one Democrat, will mark the election for County Committee posts here in the April 17 primary. The party lists were filed recently with Town Clerk Mrs. Florence Morey. All wards and districts are represented by the GOP candidates while the Democrats filed no committeemen for the Third District in the Fourth Ward.

The GOP contest takes place in the Valley section with Andrew Scala of 145 Main Street running against the incumbent and Clean Government designee, Harold Brand of 19 Stephens Street. Scala has been active in the Republican Forum.

The Democratic battle is scheduled for the Third District of the Second Ward. Incumbent Peter Torre, Sr. who has held the County Committee post for many years, will face an onslaught by Philip A. Newsome of 3 Parkside Drive. Torre, active in the Belleville Political and Social Club, is expected to retain his seat but only after a spirited contest from his younger rival.

February Building Report Has $93,800 Of Construction

Construction for February totaled $93,800, according to a report filed this week by building inspector Thomas Greco. Fee receipts totaled $370.75. An anticipated pickup in building was noted in the issuing of 20 permits during the month, however.

In February, five one-family homes totaling $59,500 and a single two-family structure at $13,000 made up the major portion of the report.

Construction for February will return to San Diego next month to become an instructor.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Galtere of 8 Carpenter Terrace, Private Galtere is a graduate of Belleville High School.

Police Charge Clifton Man With Drunken Driving

The second drunken driving case this month was slated to go before Magistrate Smith last night at the weekly session of police court. Michael Danczak, 35, 18 Russell Street, Clifton, was released in $250 bail after being arrested early Sunday morning on Main Street by Officers Russo and Vreeland.

According to police, Danczak was driving north on Main Street when he nearly hit a parked police patrol car. Caught in Nutley, he was brought to headquarters here and examined by Doctors Meehan and Underwood. They pronounced him unfit to drive and police charged Danczak with drunken driving.

Golden Boys Go For the Marbles Friday Night

Gunning for the Group 4 state championship tomorrow night will be the best Belleville team in the history of the school and that's based on all the records they've shattered. The talented Bellboys, sectional titlists, will meet Bayonne at the Elizabeth Armory. Left to right, sitting: Dick Godfrey, Vince Vitelli, Johnny Massarano and Charlie Travers; second row: Pete Benz, Butch Kittle, Jim McConnell and George Plosia; rear: Dean Hatcher, Bob Dilworth, Fred Engel and Paul Weinstein.

CITES OBJECTIONS TO SALARY SWITCH

Town Treasurer Sargeant Points To Increased Labor and Material Costs

Objections to transferring municipal employees from the present semi-monthly salary basis to weekly payments were made known this week by Mayor and Finance Director Tully. The objections to the move were filed with Tully by Town Treasurer T. Russell Sargeant who cited the additional work and expense involved.

Two weeks ago, town employees petitioned the board to change the salary payment setup, claiming it would be easier to budget on a weekly basis. Tully referred the matter to his department and revealed Sargeant's reaction at the commission meeting Tuesday. He will discuss the move further with town attorney Keenan and report back March 27.

Sargeant cited the increase in pay checks to each employee, pointing out it would necessitate issuing 52 checks instead of 24. Over the course of a year, 10,920 checks would be issued as compared to 5,040 on the twice-monthly basis.

Churches Hail Palm Sunday With A Festival Of Music

Traditional Easter Season Program To Be Held Sunday In Old Reformed Church

The traditional and beautiful Palm Sunday Music Festival sponsored by the Belleville Ministers Association will be held this Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Old Reformed Church. Choirs of all local churches will raise their voices in tribute to the triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem, and the Resurrection.

Climaxing the Lent period and heralding Easter Sunday, the Festival will feature most of the finest sacred music ever written for the Easter season.

Opening the program will be "Come Restful Peace" by Bach, followed by the Grace Baptist Church choir's presentation of the hymn "All Glory, Land and Honor," the Invocation, and the Lord's Prayer.

The Wesley Methodist Church choir group will sing "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name" by Galsworthy, and "Open the Gates of the Temple" by Knapp.

The choir of Reformed Church will present "Lift Up Your (Continued On Page Two)

Air-Raid Test Signals At Saturday Noon To Continue

The Civil Defense Council announced yesterday that air-raid signals would continue to be tested each Saturday at noon. Some inquiries were made by citizens this week regarding the length of the siren sounding on Saturday, prompting the CD officials to point out the necessity for testing and keeping the sirens in working order.

Subsidized Athletics?

Sharply Reduced Income Poses Big Problem as Attendance Takes Nose-Dive in Football, Basketball, Only Revenue Sports

A sharp drop in athletic income, predicated by marked decreases in attendance and attributed to the effects of television, has been revealed in a release of figures from Ruel E. Daniels, secretary-treasurer of the Athletic Council and district school clerk. If the present trend continues, ultimate subsidization of at least a portion of the athletic expense will have to be undertaken by the Board of Education, informed sources believe.

Substantiating the subsidization trend are round figures, cold and glaring. Football, top-drawer sport and freight-payer for the majority of the others, took a terrific laceration. In the fall of 1949, $11,942 poured into the till. Last year, the grid sport took a veritable nose-dive, and the receipts amounted to $5,635.

Attendance Stay Home
The attendance statistics point up the differential. There were 9,506 adults and 7,831 students who paid to see Belleville '49. The recent season looks sad by comparison. Only 3,504 adults and 4,940 students witnessed the games at Municipal Stadium this year. It was the first time in many seasons that adult attendance dropped below the student turnout.

Basketball was hit, too. Despite the best team in the history of the school, fewer patrons paid to see the games. There were 986 adult admissions and 3,944 students a year ago and 573 adults, 3,329 students this season. However, much of the blame must fall on the school gymnasium for the cage sport. With only limited seating facilities and one side of the court partially barred by pillars, obscuring vision, the older devotees of the sport won't turn out. It's necessary to get to the gym before 7 o'clock if you want a place to sit. There is little doubt in the minds of many that Belleville, with its excellent teams year in and year out and the collection of rabid fans following its fortunes, could pull from 1,000 to 1,500 spectators each game if the seating facilities were (Continued On Page Two)

BOARD TO CONFER ON POST OFFICE

Dissatisfied With Proposed Building, Will Attempt To Affect Change

Expressing dissatisfaction with plans submitted for the building that will house the new headquarters for the Belleville Post Office, the Town Commission will meet in special session this afternoon to discuss the project. The question over the type structure contemplated arose Tuesday at the regular meeting of the town governing body.

Public Affairs Director King broached the subject and presented blueprints to the board. King alleged the building will be a plain, brick front and have nothing but four walls in the way of appearance.

"We've waited a long time for a new Post Office," remarked King, "and here they're offering the town nothing but a plain (Continued On Page Two)

WADSWORTH GIVEN CANCER POST

Active Figure In Civic Matters Will Be The Chairman Of Campaign In April

F. Douglas Wadsworth

Appointment of F. Douglas Wadsworth of 74 Rossmore Place as chairman of the 1951 Cancer Crusade in Belleville was announced by Alfred J. Peer, president of the Essex County Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Volunteers on the local committee will work toward a goal of $7,500 in contributions for cancer control. Committees for the local campaign are now being organized for the campaign kickoff on April 1.

The new chairman announced yesterday that the annual kickoff dinner for Essex County will be held Wednesday, March 21 at the Hotel Suburban in East Orange.

The local effort is part of the campaign of the Essex County Chapter, which has a total quota of $166,500. The drive will continue throughout April, which has been designated "Cancer Control (Continued On Page Two)

SALARY REVISIONS GET FINAL O. K. FROM BOARD

Commission Passes Ordinance On Final Reading Over One Citizen's Objections

Only one citizen appeared Tuesday to protest against a revised salary ordinance that hikes maximum wages for municipal employees and the measure passed unanimously on final reading. Sole objector was Fred Ochs, who suggested the commission initiate a wage evaluation survey by an outside authority to peg rates at equitable levels based on comparable positions in other communities and industry.

After some discussion with Public Works Director Wheters and Mayor Tully, in which the commissioners pointed to laborers and other employees with low take-home pay checks, Mr. Ochs sat down, confused but still muttering his protestations.

King's Amendment

The measure was marked by an amendment effecting Public Affairs Director King's department. According to Town Attorney Keenan, an error was made in presenting the salary guide for King's department and the upgrading revision, in keeping with the three other departments, was passed. King's ordinance will be up for second and final reading at the next meeting, March 27.

Only department not included in the blanket ordinance was Director Hyde's Parks and Public Property. Hyde declared it will be necessary to survey his department for no guide had ever been established previously for his employees. Each commissioner, according to Finance Director Tully, submits his own requirements and fixes the minimum and maximums. These are subject to Civil Service approval, but as Town Attorney Keenan pointed out, Civil Service doesn't usually interfere with the town pay scales.

JURYLA NAMED IN PATERSON THEFT

Federal Jury Indicts Nutley Man Accused Of DeWitt Robbery In Belleville

A Federal Grand Jury this week indicted Paul Juryla, Nutley man accused of swiping $21,993 from the De Witt Savings and Loan Association, for the robbery of a Paterson savings and loan. Juryla, along with Miss Marian Goodford of Linden Avenue, are awaiting trial for the local theft.

The second indictment against the 25-year-old GI opens the way for maximum sentences up to 55 years if he is convicted of both charges. The trial, according to Acting U. S. Attorney Grover C. Richman Jr. will get under way March 26 before U. S. District Judge Thomas F. Meaney.

Flashes Gun, Gets $5,000
Victim of Juryla in Paterson was the Lakeview Savings and Loan Association at 1117 Main Street. Employees there identified Juryla when he appeared in court recently. They named him as the young man who, at gunpoint, yanked three Lakeview employees into the safe and escaped with $3,000 on October 19, 1950.

Juryla befriended Miss Goodford while she was employed at De Witt. The FBI says Miss Goodford is alleged to have given Juryla a key to the De Witt office and the safe's combination. He is accused of stealing the $21,993 and after giving Miss Goodford $2,300, hopped a plane and fled to Florida. He was apprehended in Daytona Beach by FBI agents, who found $16,000 in his room.

Miss Goodford is presently on bail.

Will Take First Aid

Director Leonard further advises that he is now completing arrangements with Edwin J. Lambrecht, Director of Red Cross Liaison, to have the entire personnel of Air Red Warden Services take the required First Aid course. Those who have previously taken this course will take a refresher course.

Director Leonard emphasizes the great need for women workers. He points out that they are in the town a greater part of the day and there are many duties which can be satisfactorily discharged by them. The Director further advises that when his department is fully manned it will require a complement of seven hundred fifty men and women.

A general meeting of the Defense Council will take place at the Town Hall on Monday at 8:30 p. m.

Bellboys

"We believe they can win with your help." The game itself shapes up like the proverbial "dream" encounter. Evenly matched in nearly all departments, the rivals have nearly identical records, Bayonne 20-2 and the locals 21-2. The Oilers like the fast break, are prone to use pressing tactics on defense and are strong physically. Their starting five, Captain Jim "Red" Connors, Warren Buehler, Ed Chakey, Ed Glenbocki and Warren Knotje is called by Coach Billy Lee "the best team I've had in 27 years of coaching here." Two reserves, Bob Neesing and Billy Johns have played prominent roles in the team's success and are slated for action.

Strong Defensively

Belleville matches the Oilers in the height department, are as good if not better on ball handling and probably will put up a toughest defense Bayonne has seen all year. Coach Jitty Wische is noted for his zone alignments. Jim McConnell will get the task of sitting on top of Connors and the Bayonne headhead will see a lot of the wiry McConnell before the night is through.

Spearheading the Bellboy attack will be Charlie Travers, playmaker and set shot artist. Dick Godfrey, Bob Dilworth and Dean Hatcher will rate the other starting berths. Dilworth, despite a virus bug infection, has been playing sensationally in recent games. Fred Engel will be in and out and his entry invariably acts as a stimulus to the team. He's a scrapper and can hit with those buckets when needed the most. Johnny Massarano and Pete Benz are others likely to get into the fracas.

Month" by act of Congress.

Confident of Support

"In the past four years, great progress has been made in the fight against cancer in New Jersey," Mr. Wadsworth said. "This has been made possible through the generous contributions of our citizens. We still face a great challenge—the saving of lives—and we are confident that our program will receive continued support."

Explaining what happens to the contributed dollar, the local chairman declared that sixty percent of the funds contributed in Essex County remain available at state and county levels for purchase of clinic equipment, providing of nursing care and medications for indigent patients, and the education of the public that cancer can be cured, if caught in time. The remaining 40 percent goes to the American Cancer Society for research, education and administration programs.

Through this national program, outstanding scientists are working to find the cause and cure of cancer.

Mr. Wadsworth, a native of Belleville and a graduate of local schools, has long been active in community affairs. He is a member of the planning committee for the Lutheran Memorial Hospital building fund campaign, which raised more than $100,000 in Belleville.

Scout Commissioner

He is district commissioner for Belleville of Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts of America, a past president of the Belleville Lions Club and of Roll Camp, Inc., which is operated by the Belleville Foundation. Educated in New York University and a graduate of the Dr. Roland Flanders School of Mortuary Science in New York City, Mr. Wadsworth is manager of the Sayre Funeral Service at 221 Broadway, Newark. He is married and the father of James D. Wadsworth.

As Belleville chairman, Mr. Wadsworth will work closely with Dr. Lloyd Ellis Foster, minister of historic Old First Church of Newark and general chairman of the Essex County Cancer drive. Details of the local committees and plans for the campaign here will be announced shortly.

No Check in Sight

No one will predict that the downward trend will check itself. Only consistently good teams will pull the fans and many will shun a day outdoors if the weather is inclement, choosing to stay at home, in the warmth and comfort of the living room to watch the top collegiate boys perform on TV. Baseball, golf, bowling, rowing, cross-country, tennis and soccer are all popular sports in the curriculum. Not a single one produces income. If they are to survive, subsidization is as certain as the proverbial death and taxes.

Germaine Barre, her teacher, recognizing the unusual talent of her pupil, arranged for her to sing for Paul Althouse, noted former leading Metropolitan Opera Company tenor and now prominent New York vocal teacher. One audition and Althouse accepted her as a pupil. To finance herself in New York, she took the job as billing clerk with the Quigley Company. By happy coincidence, some one overheard her practicing one day and invited her to audition for a solo part in NBC's "Music for the New World" series.

Instant Success

Miss Phillips' radio debut—singing "Una voce poco fa" from "The Barber of Seville"—was an instantaneous triumph success. She was engaged for a second broadcast, and it was these appearances that led to an invitation to audition for Toscanini.

The Maestro was presenting the second act of Gluck's "Orfeo" as his Easter Sunday broadcast and was seeking a new voice for the important role of the Happy Spirit. Miss Phillips arrived at the studio frightened and with a touch of laryngitis. She had learned the difficult part in less than a week. But the Maestro himself accompanied her at the piano, and when she had finished singing, he was heard to murmur, "Bene." Edna Phillips knew that she had arrived.

Since her appearance under the Toscanini baton that memorable Easter Sunday in 1945, Edna Phillips has had a busy and brilliant career. Her numerous radio appearances have included the "Ford Hour," the International Harvester program, "Music for Tonight" and a second engagement under Toscanini—his "Midsummer Night's Dream" broadcast on November 1, 1947, commemorating the centenary of Mendelssohn's death. She has been featured soloist at many of the nation's important music festivals—Grant Park, Cleveland and Brevard. She has sung with many major symphony orchestras including the Toronto Symphony under the baton of Sir Ernest MacMillan. During one season she filled 60 transcontinental tour dates as the soprano of the Columbia Grand Opera Quartet. Her recitals and solo engagements have won her a large following throughout the United States and Canada where she is a particular favorite.

When the composer wrote that very popular tune of a few years ago, he never knew that Belleville's First National would associate it with the ease of banking by mail. But it's a rather appropriate theme song for this banking service because you DO "take it easy" when you bank by mail. Easy-to-follow forms have been prepared for both checking and savings accounts. Get yours by stopping at the Bank, sending us a card, or phoning BELLEVILLE 2-3300. Night or day, seven days a week, you can bank by mail when you have First National's forms handy.

Local Women See Creations Of Top Drawer Designers

By Betty Rivola

"June was busting out all over," Spring was in the air, and approximately 150 women gasped with delight Tuesday afternoon in the Masonic Temple, when the Botany Woolen Mills, sponsored by the Belleville Chapter of the Eastern Star, presented 60 fashions created by America's leading designers for spring and summer wardrobes.

While housewives cooed, the reaction of typical husbands was probably a very of dismal groans and a general clutching of limp wallets in hot trembling hands when Mama decided that the beautiful new trends were a "must" on her shopping list. The styles shown will indeed be a temptation for any fashionable woman, for the new lines are both streamlined and chic.

Feature Graceful Lines
Suits, favorite of all, and practical for every age group, will again be featured this season, from the Champs Elysee to Fifth Avenue. Jackets are shorter in length, reaching just below the waistline and covering the upper hip. Designers are depending on graceful diagonal lines and simplicity to create an expensive look, and flat slash pockets extending to the back of all jackets and skirts are an entirely new note. Pencil-slim skirts will probably send half of the female population scurrying for their diet sheets, and the three-quarter length sleeve is sure to meet with feminine approval.

Dresses and coats will be fuller this season and the pyramid silhouette has been abandoned in favor of a dropped sleeve with convertible cuffs. However, this sleeve must be worn with caution since it tends to give a round shouldered appearance to the wearer. Here again diagonal lines are the keynote.

Fabulous and Funny
Hats are either incredibly large or fantastically small, and this season will welcome the return of the old fashioned picture hat. Although beautiful, the large hats can be a hazard in a stiff wind or a low roofed car, and the wearer must of course be sure of her ability to carry the height illusion that the hat creates.

Knitted suits for casual and dress wear have won the approval of women everywhere and will be worn right through the summer. In the same category are the very new pastel flannel skirts with pullover sweaters and cardigans dyed to match.

Starred this season will be navy blue and black, all time favorites. For women who prefer variety, there is a new marine shade flattering to all ages, along with Torch Lily and Tawny Tulip.

Members of the Eastern Star and the Rainbow Girls' group modeled all clothing. Taking part were Mrs. Doris Irvine, Mrs. Dorothy Brown, the Misses Arline Bjorkner, Cynthia Thomas, Betty Bryon, Mary Anne Wysocki, Maurine Sime, Helen Boyd, Carol Wendel, Martha Worthington, Nancy Sprague, Virginia Scholes, Wilma Cantwell, Mrs. Doreen Giroward, Mrs. Romanie Bray, Mrs. Dorothy Goodrich Way, Mrs.

Shawger School

The executive committee of the PTA from the James J. Shawger school held a meeting recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sal Sprella, at 96 Heckel Street. Among the topics of discussion at the time were plans for the 1st annual Barn dance to be held at the Friendly House, sometime in April. The actual date of the dance is to be announced at a later time. The other topic was the formation of a membership drive to get all the possible potential members to join the organization.

Boy Scouts Ready Drive To Collect Clothes For Needy

Second Annual Project Aimed At Aiding Stricken Nations;
Collection March 31

Working in their own neighborhoods, each of the 29 Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Units of the Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts of America are sharing in a nationwide "good turn" by collecting clothing that can be spared by citizens to meet an urgent need in many countries around the world.

In response to a special radio broadcast by the late President Roosevelt in 1934 for a "National Good Turn" in relief work during the depression, Boy Scouts in a few weeks collected 1,812,284 items of clothing, household furnishings, foodstuffs and other supplies for the needy and distressed. Then there were 904,240 Scouts and leaders. Today's Scouting has 2,750,000 boys and men active in its ranks. Scout officials believe that more than fifteen million pounds of clothing will result from this drive.

The Treat Council of the Boy

Scouts which administers the Scouting program in Belleville, Irvington and Newark, has assumed the responsibility for shipping useful clothing to the warehouses of 17 cooperating member agencies of the American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Service.

Boy Scouts will be glad to call for the following articles of clothing which should be in good, clean wearable condition:

Men's and boys' shirts, suits, jackets, trousers, underwear and socks.

Men's, women's, and children's coats, sweaters, gloves, mittens, caps and scarfs.

Women's and girls' dresses, suits, jackets, aprons, skirts, blouses, underwear, stockings and socks.

Blankets, robes, quilts, sheets, pillow cases, towels and wash cloths.

Shoes with good linings and with wearable soles and heels, women's low-heeled shoes only. Wearable rubbers and golf shoes.

It is suggested that donors tie shoes together in mated pairs and

Athletic Program Good But Many Improvements Needed

State Report Cites Lack Of Certain Physical Facilities In School

Belleville's athletic program was labeled "well organized and conducted" in a report made late last year by Everett L. Hebel, assistant in physical education at the State Department of Education. Hebel said the large number of boys participating and the variation of activities was a credit to the organization ability of the director of athletics.

The report said the physical education program in general was good, considering certain handicaps under which it operates. Hebel said it was noteworthy that the teachers had written courses of study that have been approved by the state board of education. For the purpose of improvement, he recommended they be evaluated from time to time. Physical education instructors should give consideration, among other elements, of the question of diversification. Continuing, Hebel said:

Gym Inadequate

"I am aware that your facilities at the present time are being studied. The following facts may be of value in the consideration of this question:

"Your gymnasium for girls is inadequate in size for the size classes that are scheduled. This is a matter of safety. In fact at times the gymnasium holds twice as many girls as should be in an area of its size. This is a safety hazard, and because of the ventilation it is also a health hazard. This unit of the school plant should radiate healthfulness.

"The gymnasium for boys is newer in construction and better planned; however, the maximum floor space at present is not being utilized. Were the permanent seats removed, and replaced with folding bleachers, approximately 25 per cent more floor space would be available. Added protective measures should be exercised in the boys' gymnasium, because it is also used for interscholastic basketball games. There are many sharp corners that should be protected as well as the use of wall mats on the ends of the gymnasium.

Showers Neglected

"Your locker rooms for both boys and girls are inadequate in area and unventilated. Rather than reflecting wholesomeness and desirable standard of living, they are crowded, odoriferous, and depressing. The showers are inadequate in number for the size classes using them, and the girls' shower room certainly is not conducive to an invitation of its use. It is unfortunate that such an important part of the physical education program, the taking of showers, is neglected because of inadequacies in construction.

"Your intramural programs for both boys and girls is handicapped because of the lack of out-door facilities. The small space now available would be inadequate and very expensive to prepare for use. A future plans, play area should be given primary consideration when new construction is being planned.

Coordinator Needed

"If athletic program is well planned and conducted. The number of boys participating and the variation of activities is a credit to the organization ability of your director of athletics.

"I would recommend that a coordinator-director of physical education be used for your physical education programs. Belleville with its many elementary schools has a large enough to warrant such a person. There should be a definite relationship between the elementary and secondary physical education programs. This coordinator could organize and supervise the programs in your elementary schools and high school so all activities may be on the progressive basis from elementary through the secondary levels.

"Your health education work is being revised and I have asked Miss Lulu P. Dilworth, assistant in health education, to pay a visit to your high school to assist in any work necessary.

"It is my hope that you will find way to solve the problems with which this report deals. This division will be glad to serve you in any way possible."

Looking Back at SPORTS

Five Years Ago

The intermediate CYO Basketball team of St. Peter's Parish made a gallant bid for honors in the CYO League. The local boys qualified for the Newark Championship with Blessed Sacrament of Newark, and lost by a heart-breaking difference of two points. Final score after a see-saw battle found the Blessed Sacrament boys ahead 31-29.

In a play-off for first place in the Town Senior Recreation League, the Craftsman batters the Belleville Rosary five by a 42-33 score. Paced by Maginness, who tallied 10 in the first half and 8 more in the next, for a total of 18 points, the winners moved to victory. Calichio and Pat Tortorella were best for the Rosary, ringing up 10 and 9 markers, respectively.

Any hope for a repetition of the success in bowling had by the team the year before, was lost by St. Peter's CYO when both boys and girls went down in defeat. St. Stephen's defeated the boys, and St. Francis Xavier of Newark took two straight games from the girls.

Ten Years Ago

While the Grace Baptist five were having a tough time subduing the Italian Baptist team in a low scoring tilt, 17-12, the Fewsmiths breezed by the hapless Congregation A. A. team 44-20. St. Peter's clung to their third place position by trouncing Christ Church 60-33 and the Wesley Methodist basketballers went into a sixth place tie with the Bethany boys by beating them 36-20. Bowden's sixteen tallies and Hagerman's eleven were good enough for the Fewsmiths to trim Congregation A. A., and it remained for Rhodes of St. Peter's and Meade of Christ Church to turn in the week's high-scoring performances. Each rimmed the basket for a total of eleven two-pointers.

The Fewsmith Miners continued to show their right to the Newark Y. M. C. A. League crown by trimming the fourth place Tonras 38-21. Handley's fourteen points virtually provided the victory margin for the winners, who were leading the league with thirteen victories and one defeat. Trailing one game behind them were the Roseville five who had lost only two games out of fifteen.

Fifteen Years Ago

With Bruegman setting the pace with eight points, the North Belleville boys coasted to a 30-27 victory over the West Ends in the West Belleville senior circuit. Pacle's ten points led the losers' scoring. In the other game, the Pirates got the better of the King Association by an 18-16 score.

Coach Albert K. McBride's Bellboys, with Ray Meehan and Captain "Junie" Carragher featuring a high-powered scoring bombardment, disposed of East Side High School of Paterson, 39 to 28, in a state tournament clash. Approximately 1,500 spectators were packed into Hawthorne High School's model gymnasium to see the battle. Meehan garnered twenty-two points to help subdue the champions of the Paterson schools. The fine passing of Carragher, Tony Zuzzio and the rest of the Zebras enabled the speedy forward to hang up his record total. Meehan literally ran the East Siders ragged as he turned in a great exhibition of dribbling, passing and shooting.

With Frank Gripp and Zazzali setting the pace, the league-leading Esposito Association easily subdued the Williams-Taverners in three straight games at Ferrara's Tavern. As the second place Lee's Tavern were clipped for one out of three games by the Knights of Columbus, the Espositos were practically assured of the Belleville American Legion bowling flag with a lead of seven games and only five more meetings in the circuit. The Speedsters were officially crowned champions of the Belleville Lions Club bowling league at the Elks' attics when the activities of the circuit came to a close. Though losing a pair of games to the Comets, the Speedsters copped the title by a nine-game-winning margin. Fred Wellhofer, 171 New Street, gained the ambition of every bowler, when he stepped on the lanes at Ferrara's and nonchalantly peeled off a perfect 300 game. He placed twelve consecutive strikes in the right hand pocket to achieve the feat. The basketball team of the Younginger Naval Patrol defeated the Belleville Red Wings, 31 to 29, at Veterans' Hall. Edgar Bloemeke and Gary Vanderbuilt starred for the winners. George McGuinness was high scorer for the Wings. Bloemeke sank a basket in the last ten seconds of play to send the game into an overtime period, then Fred McKay of the patrol duplicated his feat to win the close contest.

Twenty Years Ago
The Belleville Elks' pinners went into a tie with Rutherford for first place in the final standings of the strong Bergen County Elks' League, following a one out of three win over the Bergen crew, at the local alleys. Belleville and Rutherford planned to meet in a roll-off for the championship of the circuit at Hackensack's neutral alleys. The Hackensack defeats seemed but a natural let-down after the locals' twelve straight wins. Belleville High's close win over Lyndhurst in the final closing game of the 1931 season, stamped them as one of the best court teams to ever wear the Blue and Gold. Sixteen victories in nineteen games at least one victory over every team on their schedule and undefeated on their home court. Certainly a record to be proud of and a tribute to the zeal and untiring efforts of Lamb, Goodrich, Nick and Jerry Bonavita, Smith, Westra and Co. The Belleville Moose bowling team engineered a clean sweep at Jersey City, against the Moose of that metropolis in a three game match. Bill Reed, ace anchor man of the Bellevilleites, did the best rolling of the night, keeling over the maples for counts of 200 and 214 in the first and third games respectively. The Fewsmith Presbyterian pin-knights took two out of three games from the rival Men's Club, in the local Church league, and thereby increased their advantage in that circuit to three games. Christ Reformed also contributed some fine bowling in taking all three from Christ Episcopal and hurling the Fewsmith Men's Club to jump to second place. Before one of the largest crowds to pack the local high school gym that year, the Belleville Knights of Columbus court five turned back the Tiffany store team of New York, 40-31. The local Casesys, led into battle by the irrepresible Jackie Huhn, who accounted for twenty points or just half of the total tally, were in the van right from the start. They piled up a huge early lead that easily withstood the onslaught of a belated Tiffany rally in the final quarter.

Winter Song

Snow is a pilgrim cold and chaste,
A runner not to be outraced—
However nimbly you may travel,
Snow has a skein he must unravel,
A pattern of his own design,
With phantom footsteps quick and fine,
With bright agility to spend,
He will elude you in the end.
Better to think you may outrun
Tempest and cloud and rain and sun
Than dream with fleetness to surprise
The ghostly runner of the skies.

Changing the Scenery

Now that Roy Dickinson has submitted his resignation from the Athletic Council, the wholesale shake-up is complete. School board president Eugene Kelly last week dropped three members from the Council out of four. Dickinson, outwardly disturbed at the manner in which his former colleagues were ousted, expressed his feelings in no uncertain terms and got off the athletic body in a hurry.

What possessed Mr. Kelly to move so hastily and wield the brush so heavily is not quite clear. He always being close to Mayor Tully and having been appointed to the Board of Education by the Mayor, some opinion contends the move was instituted by Mr. Kelly as a form of political reprisal. This has been denied by Mr. Kelly. It is no secret, though, that the three ousted members, Thomas Delaney, Henry Minasian and Henry Watters, have opposed the Mayor on several important issues. Mr. Kelly still contends, however, that he stands on his own feet and the action was not instigated by anyone else.

Belleville's athletic fortunes have prospered and grown under the administration of the four deposed members. Until the advent of television, the program was self-sustaining and embraced just about every sport possible to fit into the curriculum. Last year, however, TV made drastic inroads on attendance at football, which carries the weight of the entire athletic picture. Careful, experienced administration is more a requisite now than ever before. A sharp change in previous policies seems destined for the immediate future, and will probably mean the subsidization of the athletic structure by the Board of Education, or more accurately, the taxpayer.

Under these circumstances, it might have been wiser to have moved cautiously before tearing down the entire personnel and putting four new men into posts without the benefit of an experienced leader. A policy of gradual replacement, carefully weighed, would certainly have been conducive to better relations and good will. Sudden, drastic changes will invariably arouse suspicion as to the motive and there is nothing to cloak this incident as an exception rather than the rule.

A Shocking Abuse of Police Power

Is this Red Russia, Blackshirt Italy, Nazi Germany or Free America?
Who but an embryo Himmler or Beria could give an order to New Jersey State Police to "investigate" the candidates of a rival ticket to that of the machine Republican slate? What bird-brain in the Republican party gave such an order? Has he been punished from above?

That order to investigate candidates for the April Primary is not an American gesture. It smells of a police state. In its unhappy happening, it explained better than a million words what's wrong with the Republican party in New Jersey. There is no doubt in our opinion that the order emanated from a candidate who is also one of the highest in the GOP state hierarchy. He should be denounced from above for his mentality and his action. So long as the Republican machine tolerates such methods, it cannot have the confidence of those voters who favor the Republican party and its principles but abhor machine methods.

This was a shocking abuse of police power and until it has been denounced as such and proper punishment meted out, thousands of Republicans will consider that the top level of the party in New Jersey has once again been derelict in its duty.

By 1952, the Democrats will have held the White House 20 years. Some gloomy Republicans even declare that if the Democrats win the 1952 election, the GOP is doomed. The Times-News goes a step farther and predicts that if the GOP does not choose General "Ike" Eisenhower as its candidate, it is doomed.

Since his pronouncement on the A-bomb, before the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees sitting in secret session last month, we all know where Eisenhower stands. He believes Russia's leaders would be "really fools" to start a war with us; but if they are that foolish he would use the A-bomb "instantly" if it would mean sufficient strategic destruction. No stuff and nonsense, no false sentiment, no defeatist morale. "Ike" is a man's man, a soldier's soldier.

If the selection of a candidate was submitted to the people in a direct vote, Eisenhower would be the almost universal choice for President. Alas, we have the game of party politics. Candidates are picked by packed conventions. They will not meet until June, 1952, a scant five months before the November election.

The time to pick a candidate, to know exactly where we are going in this world crisis, is now.

There is not the slightest doubt that if the Republican party approached Eisenhower now and asked him to be its candidate, he would run. He has no other commitments. His job as president of Columbia University was not important enough to prevent him taking the job as commander of the Atlantic Powers forces in Paris. He will be a soldier for the rest of his life, because he is a five-star general, but he is not on active duty.

It is not too early to act; in fact it is later than we think.

If the United States knew that Dwight D. Eisenhower was to be the Republican candidate for President in November, 1952, it could write off all the unhappy facets of the great game of politics. Washington could buckle down to its normal effort at legislation without losing a year in partisan skirmishing. Russia would know, too, where we were going for the next four years at least and would have no reason to guess wrong in presuming on our weakness or Stalin's ability to bluff us. Stalin and Russia know that if "Ike" was in the White House he would not hesitate to use the A-bomb "instantly" if it would mean sufficient strategic destruction.

There are some pertinent questions about 1952. Chief among them are these:

Will President Truman run again?

Will the right wing or the left wing of the Democratic party get control over domestic policies?

Will the internationalists or the nationalists, the Deweys, the Tafts, the Stassens, the Hoovers, get control of the GOP on foreign affairs?

Can foreign policy be truly bi-partisan?

These major imponderables could be answered if partisan politics could be scrapped and if Eisenhower was invited now to stand for the presidency next year.

Take the case of Harry Truman. No one can doubt his courage, as wrongly placed as it too often is. No one can doubt his pride; no one can doubt his loyalty to his unworthy friends. Would he run again and risk possible defeat if General Eisenhower was to oppose him. The new two-term constitutional limit makes an exception of Mr. Truman, but the GOP is certain to make a great fuss about the "ethics" if he decides to take advantage of the exception.

It is no secret that Mrs. Truman would prefer to have her husband quit. He undoubtedly would have many years of usefulness as a past president ahead of him, although he seems too immature to be an elder statesman of the Hoover type. He could run for the Senate again, since he always has maintained that he never has been as happy in the White House as he was in the Senate. In fact, there is a Senatorial election in Missouri in November 1952 when GOP Senator James P. Kem's term expires.

And if Harry Truman should choose not to run again?

Mr. Truman favors the selection of Fred Vinson of Ashland, Ky., now Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. The Dixiecrats favor Governor James Byrnes of South Carolina, who was a hard-driving Secretary of State in the last months of the war until he disagreed with Truman on any appeasement of Russia. A poll conducted by United Press last week showed that the rank-and-file of the party across the land favors Senator Paul H. Douglas of Illinois.

At best that three-cornered fight within the Democratic party bodes ill for Democratic survival beyond 1952. If Truman runs, he will have two strikes against him—the Constitutional amendment. If Vinson is the presidential choice and gets the Convention's nod, he will have the South against him. Byrnes cannot get the nomination without Northern support. As a compromise candidate, what chance would a Douglas have against "Ike" Eisenhower.

For the good of America, for peace with Russia, for a clearing of the skies so that we may better see where we are going, for the revival of the Republican party as a stabilizing influence on national economy, for the quick ending of this slide towards state socialism, for a rational operation of the two-party system with alternative control of national affairs, nominate Dwight D. Eisenhower now as Republican candidate for the Presidency.

ONE MAN'S OPINION...

Stalin's Communism Has Strayed Far From Lenin's Interpretation of Marx on Which the Bolshevik Regime Was Built

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

We know from the very revealing Ciano diaries and from the caves full of Nazi documents which were transported to this country for cataloguing and study that dictatorships are brittle structures, ever dependent upon conquest for their very existence. They are born of force, live by force and collapse when that force collapses. And that was the story of the Roman Empire of the Caesars, as it was the story of Hitler and Mussolini and must, inevitably, be the story of Stalin and Russian Communism.

In years, the Soviet Empire is young, just 14 years old. In years, Russian Communism is young—the revolution of 1917 saw a handful of cautious Social Democrats grab control of a proletarian movement in which Communism was a consequence and not a cause. In the 33 years of its existence, the Russian Revolution has undergone a series of mutilations until there is nothing left of the theoretical classless society of free individuals which Lenin proclaimed, in the power machine which today apex the worst of the patterns of aggression and exploitation which brought down the recent dictatorships of Rome and of Berlin.

There can be no sound understanding of today's Russian problem or menace if we continue to look upon Red Russia as the culmination of Lenin's Marxian socialist revolution. That revolution has lost all semblance of greatness; Russia is today an imperialist, an aggressive, a ruthless empire, adding ever to its lands with no respect for other peoples, other countries.

Communism is contemporary, a subject of front page news treatment and not an object of research by historians. Most of us have lived the transition of the Russian revolution from Lenin's Marxian Socialist dream world to Stalin's materialistic power machine. Where Lenin dreamed of world revolution by a revolt of the masses, stimulated by internal subversion, Stalin dreams of world conquest by aggression. The Red Army, not the hungry masses, is the tool.

In Our Lifetime

The front page headlines since 1917 tell the story of the metamorphosis of a revolution. Its birth must be traced to the writings a century ago of Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels which inspired Lenin, Trotsky, Stalin and a majority group of the Russian Social Democratic party. Words which today strike awe, "Bolshevik" and "Menshevik," were simple enough Slavic words meaning "majority" and "minority" within the party.

Although 60% of New Jersey's telephones are now "dial", it requires 10,000 telephone operators like Barbara J. Ashley, of Princeton, to give you the kind of telephone service you want—and we want you to have! And it takes another 12,000 telephone men and women to help them do it!

We're Handling 7 Million Calls a Day!

... that's 2½ million more calls a day than were going through 5 years ago at this time. And, as New Jersey's defense industries expand and the Armed Forces grow larger, there will be more and more calls—with more and more of them "urgent".

Operators like Barbara Ashley are doing their best to handle these calls and handle them promptly—for to telephone people every call is urgent. To help them do it, they have nearly twice as many telephone facilities to work with today as they did just 5 years ago—thanks to our $241,000,000 construction program. That construction program is continuing, too, as rapidly as scarce materials permit.

and social exploitation.

Stepping in to grab control in a leaderless revolution, in 1917, Lenin's "bolsheviks" had consolidated their leadership by 1920. That was the year Lenin created the Communist or Third International, the Comintern, which was pledged to world revolution.

Abandoning Lenin

Almost immediately, Lenin's Communist state was beset by economic problems and he was obliged to compromise with the capitalist system by scrapping his purely Communist principles. The "NEP" or New Economic Policy of 1921 was born. It still was the guiding formula when Lenin died in 1928.

The struggle for power between Stalin and Trotsky was bitter. In the end, when Trotsky was exiled to France and later to Mexico where a Stalinist agent murdered him by stabbing, Stalin abandoned Lenin and scrapped the "NEP". Overnight, he proclaimed a new order: Russia, an agrarian state throughout its history, was henceforth an industrial state. One five-year plan followed another, but in a poor, maladjusted country like Russia, the speed of the planners outdistanced the absorbing capacity or the actions of the masses.

In the foreign field, Stalin also abandoned Lenin. Where Lenin had conceived world revolution by subversive forces undermining capitalist authority, Stalin mobilized a huge army. Lenin depended upon stealth, Stalin on a force of arms to spread awe and fear.

Stalin the Warmaker

In the 22 years of his rule, Stalin has fought five foreign wars: Manchuria (1929), which ended in a Russian defeat; Poland (1939) after Stalin's agreement with Hitler to carve up Poland between them; Finland (1939-1940); Germany (1941-1945), a war forced upon Stalin by Hitler's subterfuge.

TV, Radio, Movies Never To Replace Days Of Drama

So Says Old Time Devotee Of Theatre, Recalling Stars Of Yesteryear

By M. C. Albey

In talking over old times, we veterans are very much inclined to think that they were better than those of the present day, and in some respects they certainly were, in spite of all our advancement in many ways. When it comes to the drama I don't believe that any one who knows what they are talking about will dispute the idea that the stage of 50 years or more ago was producing more and better dramas than it is today.

Newark was once considered to be a good theatre city, but today there are few if any plays presented there. At the times that I refer to, around 1900, or earlier, the very best dramas were staged each week at the old Newark Theatre on Market Street, starring the greatest actors and actresses of those days.

Peanut Gallery

Do any readers remember the "old top" gallery, or the "peanut" gallery, as it was called in the old Newark Theatre? The admission to this "peanut" gallery was 25 cents, and for that price all the leading stage stars could be seen from week to week. Two or three of us fellows would get in line at the Beaver Street entrance, where the doors opened at 7:30. Frequently there would be two hundred or more lined up there by 7:00 o'clock, or earlier. One of us would stand in the line while the others got near the door. Then, the one in line would get the admission tickets, at 25 cents, and when the door was opened we would run up the seemingly endless stairs, two or three steps at a time, and often we would get a front row seat.

I have in one of my scrap books programs of many of these shows dating back to 45 or 50 years ago. Oh, what recollections these programs recall as I look them over. Here are some of the dramas and actors that I saw there for the price of 25 cents: Denman Thompson, in "The Old Homestead," (I saw it five times); John Dew, in "Richard Carvel"; Richard Mansfield, in "Beau Brummel"; The beautiful Grace George, in "Under Southern Skies"; Claude Adams, in "The Little Minister"; Edna Rehan, in "Sweet Nell of Old Drury"; Otis Skinner, a great actor and father of Cornelius Otis Skinner; Nat Goodwin and his wife, (at that time) Maxine Elliott, another beautiful actress; Viola Allen, in "The Eternal City"; Ethel Barrymore, in "Captain Jinks"; Francis Wilson, James K. Hackett, Amelia Bingham, Henry Miller, in "D'Arcy of the Guards"; Mary Manning, in "Janice Meredith"; in which she introduced the Mary Manning curl, that every girl in the land tried to imitate; Anna Held, with her French accent, (and her milk baths) no one can forget her. She had several songs that were considered rather "risque" in that day, (whatever that means). One song was called "Sadie" and had lines in it that went like this:

Boxer On Stage

I saw Bob Fitzsimmons in a melodrama at Blauens in which he punched the bag, made a horseshoe and knocked out his rival for the girl's hand in a stage bout.

Proctor's Park Place Theatre was opened early in 1902, and put on good vaudeville at times I recall seeing Nat Wills, the tramp comedian there, also Jim Corbett, in a monologue, (I shook hands with him); 'Sis' Hopkins, the Rays, Johnny and Emma, whose specialty was making grotesque faces; Georgette Cohan, of the famous Cohan family; McIntyre and Heath, blackface comedians of the first water; Lou Dockstader, and many other stars of the vaudeville world. The minstrel shows were on the way out then, and many of the leading burnt cork performers had gone over to vaudeville.

Good Advertising

That gave Newark four regular theatres and a vaudeville house, so that theatre goers could select whatever kind of a performance they preferred. These shows had large colored posters up in many places throughout the city, showing scenes from the plays and some of them were gorgeous, as was also the parade on Broad Street every time a minstrel troupe came to town. All the members of the company would march along in their full stage regalia and it drew tremendous crowds.

I came near forgetting Waldmann's, a burlesque house on the S. E. corner of Market and

Now It's Tame

"Sadie doesn't think it shocking," she shows it of stock "ing." That was thought quite "risque" then, but today it would be considered tame at even a Sunday School entertainment. Then there were the singing comedians, Chauncey Olcott and Andrew Mack, who starred in Irish dramas and had a great following; Jimmy Powers, a fine comedian who wrote a splendid book about the stage, called, "Twinkle Little Star"; Kyrle Belov, with his famous sword play in "A Gentleman of France"; DeWolf Hopper, with a stentorian voice and a good story teller; Edna Wallace Hopper, a dainty comedienne; Eddie Foy, an A-1 comedian; Marie Cahill, in "Sally in Our Alley"; Thomas Wise, and Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. in "Gentleman From Mississippi"; David Warfield, in "The Auctioneer and The Music Master"; Wilton Lackaye, in "The Pit"; Herbert Kelsey and Effie Shannon, in "Sherlock Holmes"; Louis Mann and Clara Lipman, in "All on Account of Eliza"; also Corse Peyton and his company, with his 10, 20 and 30 cent seats; also "The Roger Brothers"; Robert Mantell in "Hamlet"; and the incomparable Lulu Glazer, in "Dolly Varden."

In addition to the plays I have mentioned there were many fine dramas with good companies but too star. Some of these were: "Way Down East"; "You Are A Mason?"; "Charlie's Aunt"; "Up York State; Hearts are Trumps; and others. There were also musical comedies and minstrel troupes. I recall seeing Primrose and Dockstader's minstrels with "Honey Boy" Evans and Julian Eltinge who impersonated a woman.

Not a Burlesque

There was also the Empire Theatre on Washington Street on a site now covered by Bamberger's store. This was a 2nd class house with lower prices than the Newark Theatre, but some of their shows were really good. I remember seeing the Williams and Walker Colored Company there. (Bert Williams was considered by many critics the leading comedian of his day.) I also saw J. H. Stoddard in "Bonnie Brier Bush"; Neil Burgess in "The County Fair", in which he impersonated an elderly woman; Nat Wills, in a musical comedy, "The Volunteer Organist"; a play as "The hills even then"; "The Heart of Maryland"; and the great war play, "Shenandoah".

There were two other theatres on Washington Street in those days, "Blauens" just south of Market Street and the Columbia further down the street. These two theatres played mostly cheap melodrama and there was usually at least one murder in each play. I saw Black Patti one night at the Columbia, and she was splendid both as an actress and a singer.

Chases Villain

John L. Sullivan played there once in Uncle Tom's Cabin. John L. was Uncle Tom, and in one act Simon Legree had to give him a severe beating with a heavy lash. Sullivan was protected by some kind of a vest or belt so that he would not feel the blows, but one night Legree was not very accurate and began beating Sullivan below the belt so to speak. Finally John L. could not take it any longer so he started for Legree with blood in his eyes and chased him off the stage, down the stairs and out to the street, while the play came to an abrupt halt.

There is one feature that is missing from the theatre today, which in the old days was really a part of the show. I have heard many old time theatre goers refer to this "missing link" namely; the absence of the orchestra. How we used to watch for the musicians to come out from

Halsey Streets. In those days

there was quite a demand for female performers of a fleshy type, instead of slender ones like is insisted upon today. I recall one show at Waldmann's called Billy Watson's Beef Trust and every girl in it cast a fairly good sized shadow.

Another annual visitor there was Dave Marion, in "Snuffy the Cabman". Some of the specialties at Waldmann's were good, but the general tone was of a rather coarse nature, with many of the jokes having a double meaning, (which was usually too deep for me.) In fact, many a respectable married man who went there would try to keep it a secret from his family. (Ed. note—Some still do.)

Westminster Group Plans Game Night At Fewsmith

A game night will be held this Saturday 7:30 o'clock in the Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church for all members of the Senior High School Westminster Youth Fellowship and their friends. Under the supervision of the Youth Director, Douglas Bartlett, the program will include basketball, variety games, dancing and refreshments.

ACADEMY STARTS FALL REGISTRATION

Headmaster Urges Prompt Enrollments At Montclair, Brookside Schools

A two-month registration period for the Fall term at Montclair Academy is now under way, according to an announcement by Frederick W. Hackett, headmaster of the school. Brookside Academy, a co-educational institution beginning at the pre-school, three-year-old level and continuing up to and including the fifth grade, will accept registrations during the same period. The lower school merged with the Academy last June and is under the direction of associate headmaster Fred N. Munro.

The demand for admittance to Brookside has exceeded the limited class sizes and physical facilities, prompting Mr. Hackett to urge early registrations. Based on inquiries and early registrations, the Academy anticipates an enrollment exceeding the 350 students now enrolled, Mr. Hackett said. He pointed out that transportation to and from the school is available for those desiring it.

Entrance examinations are required, the headmaster said. The first was held Saturday, March 10 with one each month until the current school year concludes in June.

Campus

Five Belleville residents registered for the Upsala College Evening Sessions are Margaret Ann Peterson of 286 Union Avenue, Alfonso Quaresimo of 24 Heckel Street, Russell R. Stout of 143 Academy Street, Bernice Margaret Miller of 131 Carpenter Street and Francis William Broo Jr. of 132 Fairway Avenue. The evening college program was instituted in 1949 and its present enrollment is 250 students.

Elizabeth Bohsen of Bloomfield, now teaching at Belleville High School, is one of 56 liberal arts students of New Jersey College for Women, Rutgers University, teaching subjects ranging from biology to Latin in New Jersey secondary schools from March 5 through May 4.

Miss Doris Cohen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris W. Cohen of 14 Malone Avenue, will sing with the 185-voice Rutgers University Choir when they present "The St. Matthew Passion" on Friday, March 23, in the Rutgers Gymnasium. Miss Cohen, a sophomore at the university, is majoring in music.

George A. Banta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Banta of 47 Campbell Avenue, has been elected to Phi Zeta Kappa at Fairleigh Dickinson College. Appointment to the honor society is made on the basis of high scholarship, service, and character.

on SPORTS

by Warren Knight

They may bruise easily but they sure heal quick. That must be the impression Bloomfield has of the Belleville cage machine, which tied a nice, fat knot in the Bengal tail last week at Seton Hall in the Section 2 North Jersey final. Practically everyone agreed on one point—the Bellboys were "beat" from the strenuous and hectic county tournament. They finished two games prior to the Bengal affair on the top side, but you never saw such a collection of tongues hanging out. And when Coach Jitty Wische got through talking to the scribes, the least that could happen was to see five boys wearing Blue and Gold uniforms in a complete state of collapse somewhere around the first or second periods.

That never came off, of course, and the Bengals will be the first to attest to it. Contrary-wise, those Blue and Gold boys showed amazing bounce and resiliency, completely lacking in signs of weariness and staged a very fine performance of the peach-basket game.

Bayonne, Belleville's opponent tomorrow night, is rated the team to beat for the championship. That takes the pressure off the Bellboys who have been carrying a load of that favorite's rating ever since they were seeded first in the county affair. Friday's semifinal game, it's the feature at 9 o'clock following the Thomas Jefferson-Camden contest, has all the ingredients for a terrific battle. Coach Wische, along with Lefty Kintzing, Les Armour and the schoolboy stars, Travers and McConnell, sat in on the proceedings Saturday when Bayonne unraveled Emerson. No question about it, the Oil City boys are good.

Both teams will take the floor evenly matched. The Hudson County champs have won 22 and lost 2, and are looked upon as one of the best productions ever put out by veteran coach Billy Lee. They'll match the Bellboys in height, have exceptionally hard drivers and the ball handling is good. How the driving tactics will work against the tight Blue and Gold zone is one of the questions. Under the boards, the Golden Boys will have a real assignment. Bayonne scraps vigorously for possession and when the team gains possession, unleashes a very fast break. Defensively, the Oilmen like to press but the Bellboys made Bloomfield look silly on that strategy and could do the same to the Oil City team.

When a coach is high on his team, they must be good. Lee, veteran of 27 years at the basketball helm, thinks this aggregation is his best. If true, it's a crack club for the Others have produced some sparkling teams over the years. Hudson County scribes are touting Jim "Red" Connors, pivot man, as All State timber. Big and strong, Connors is the team captain and playmaker. He's the fulcrum on the fast break, is clever on hand-offs on drives to the board and is a good shooter himself. Top scorer is Warren Buehler, forward boasting a variety of shots that made him the bad of Hudson County guards. Another offensive threat is Ed Glenbocki, with Ed Chakey and Warren Kontje rounding out the versatile first five. Coach Lee believes the team's success can be attributed to the lack of individualism. He claims the boys work together as a unit and its effectiveness is reflected in the fine record put out by the Oilers.

The issue may boil down to the bench. Word out of the Hudson stronghold is that the team has depth. We hear they have seven players, two good reserves, Bob Nesney and Billy John. The Bellboys, having played seven games on Seton Hall's lengthy boards, will be used to the spacious Armory floor and conditioned to running. If Belleville doesn't fade, there's every good chance the Oilers will be soaked, but good. Bayonne will have to be on its toes to outsmart the Golden Boys and we frankly don't think they can. It takes a lot of doing to out-manuever Travers, McConnell, Bob Dilworth, Dick Godfrey, Dean Hatcher, Fred Engel, Johnny Massarano and Pete Benz. And with Jitty Wische on the bench, armed with a defensive-minded piece of chalk, Bayonne will find itself banging against one of the finest defenses in Essex County.

Experts are saying the winner of the Belleville-Bayonne battle will take the title. Could be, but it isn't beyond the realm of possibility that the Bellboys and Oilers, locked in a tight tussle, might tire themselves out and be easy prey for the winner of the Jefferson-Camden game. That's looking ahead, though. First task at hand is to top the Oilers and we'll pick the Bellboys to do it.

Sectional Final Crown To Not-So-Tired Golden Boys

Belleville Confounds All Experts With Smooth Job On Tough Bengals

Just when a lot of the cage fans were sure that Belleville had reached the limit of its endurance, the courageous Bellboys dug deep into whatever they are using for strength and came up with as sharp a performance as anyone could want. It came at a good time, and last Friday at Seton Hall, the Golden Boys turned back Bloomfield 47-37 to win the North Jersey Section 2 crown. The victory gives the locals a good shot at the state title, putting them into the semifinals against Bayonne tomorrow night at the Elizabeth Armory.

Ever since the county finals, the Bellboys have barely managed to stagger through the late stages of games to defeat Orange and Kearny. Against the Bengals though, they had to turn on the heat in the final period and to everyone's surprise, came through in better physical shape than the losers.

Dilworth Good

This was Belleville's best game in weeks. They moved the ball well, took an early lead as Bob Dilworth turned in a brilliant stint and then withstood a couple of Bengal challenges along the rest of the route.

Behind by six points at the half, 28-22, the Bengals narrowed the gap when Bob Pascal made a nice driving layup and Joe Nardone hit with a jump shot and a charity toss. The threat stimulated the Bellboys to the point where Charley Travers firmed a bucket and Fred

St. Peter's Keglers Drop Three, Loss Streak At Nine

St. Peter's Intermediate CYO bowling team fell deeper into the league cellar last Sunday at the Star Recreation Alleys in Newark when it lost three games to suffer its ninth straight loss. The Petreans were victimized by St. Casimir's 1, the loop leaders who have practically sewed up the second half title.

The locals came up with their poorest effort of the campaign in the initial game and were chopped up, 742-547. Tom Daly rolled 173 and Jim Gilchrist hit 169 in the second contest, but the Petreans were again outpinned, 710-685.

Daly's 154 was high in the final tilt, which also went to the Newark quintet, 691-653.

Engel looped in a right-handed hook. Except for one point in the final period, when the gap closed to 36-33, the Bengals couldn't keep up with the pressure-free Golden Boys. With only two minutes of the quarter gone, Barry Prince, Bengal ace, exited via the foul route and Travers dipped in two free tosses on the play to complete the rout.

Jim McConnell had another fine night, sinking a variety of shots from the bucket, mostly the one-handed jump kind and hitting on seven charity heaves, getting a total of 19 markers. Dilworth's play under the boards and his nine points also played a prominent role in the victory.

Pal Drops 2-1 Soccer Tilt

After taking a 1-0 lead and dominating the play in the first half, the PAL soccer team bowed to Harrison at Clearman Field last Saturday by a close 2-1 score. This Saturday, the winners entertain the locals at Reynolds Field in Harrison.

The game was the first in several weeks for the PAL, bad weather having made the field on Union Avenue unplayable. With the wind at their back, the PAL booters put on a nice exhibition against their more experienced rivals the first half. Fortino climaxed a neat passing offense in the opening half to give Belleville a goal and a 1-0 edge.

Switching goals the second half, Harrison used the strong breeze to advantage and featuring short, accurate passes, moved into a tie when Poplosky sent the leather past Anderson in the Belleville net. Anderson played brilliantly and made numerous saves but the visitors were not to be denied and the clincher came five minutes before the end, when Brown sent a screamer past the goalie.

WISCHE'S WEARY CAGERS TOO GOOD FOR KARDINALS

Early Lead Plus Stiffing Of Kard Star By Jimmy McConnell Pays Off

Still showing the effects of the rugged play in the Essex County tournament, Belleville outlasted Kearny last Wednesday at Seton Hall to chalk up its second triumph in quest of the NJSIAA state championship 4 title. The Bellboys, after taking an early lead, went into an early weave and freeze the last period and although outscored by the Cardinals, had built up a big enough margin to win comfortably, 46-37.

It wasn't as close as the score indicates. At one time in the first half, the Golden Boys, far superior to the Kards in all departments, raced to an 18-4 huge, with Charley Travers and Jim McConnell pacing the shot-making. At half-time, Belleville led 26-14.

Croll Is Creamed

Most of the year, Kearny has been a one-man team. As big Walt Croll, Kard's star pivot man, went, so did the team. But they said McConnell, on Croll last week and the shorter Bellboy ace did a real job on Mr. Croll. In fact, he was limited to three points and most of the time couldn't even get his hands on the ball for a shot. Coach Wische used his four-man zone with McConnell chasing Croll around the keyhole and it worked beautifully.

In the final stanza, fatigue caught up with the winners and they did little shooting, content to play as much possession basketball as possible. Bob De Genova of the Kards hit a couple of one-handers to haul the Hudson Countyites to the realm of respectability, but it wasn't near enough.

SCHOOLBOY STARS GET AMVET HONOR

Veterans Post Will Award Individual Athletes On All-Star Teams

High school athletes earning places on mythical All County and All State aggregations will be honored annually by the Memorial Amvets Post 26, it was announced this week by Post Commander Michael Marotti. Individual trophies will comprise the awards.

The Amvets, at a recent meeting, appointed the following committee to select the athletes and present the prizes: Marotti, chairman; George McNally, James Risoli and George Stango.

Despite the official action of the Post, it will not be a new innovation for the Amvets. In past years, awards have been made to former schoolboy stars, including Stewart White, Frank Cocozza, Henry Petrin, Joe Cancliere, Lou Vitelli, Roger Hancock, Tony Stefanelli and Will Fitzgerald.

Team awards have also been made to the 1949 gridiron team and the 1949-50 Essex County Basketball Tournament winners.

Watch That Figure

Mothers, housewives and business women eyeing the scales with apprehension as the poundage mounts, are being offered a good opportunity to streamline the figures before the bathing season arrives. Parks and Public Property Director Elmer S. Hyde, in charge of town recreation, announced this week that the regular classes for women in the high school gymnasium, featuring slenderizing exercises and a multitude of weight-shedding games, is now open for further enrollment.

According to Commissioner Hyde, the classes are held every Thursday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock, under the supervision of Miss Marie Pettito. Miss Pettito, presently attending Panzer College for her physical education degree, is a member of the recreation staff. A busy young miss, she is also employed part-time in a well-known New York beauty and slenderizing salon. On Saturday, she referees recreation basketball in Livingston.

Under the sponsorship of the town recreation department, the activity is offered free-of-charge, said Commissioner Hyde. Those desiring to participate may register at the Recreation House on Joralemon Street, calling Belleville 2-3142 or going directly to the high school gymnasium on Thursday nights.

REV. SHERER HEADS CANA COMMITTEE

Archdiocesan CYO Group To Conduct Marriage Forums On County-Wide Basis

Rev. Harry C. Sherer of Sacred Heart, Bloomfield, has been appointed chairman of the Newark archdiocesan Cana committee. The committee, sponsored by the archdiocesan CYO, consists of specially trained priests, doctors and lay people who are to set forth the true principles of Christian marriage and family life.

The committee's job will be to organize marriage forums, pre-Cana conferences and Cana conferences. Marriage forums will be conducted on a county basis with separate discussions for single men and women. They will be similar to the one now in process at the Douglas Hotel under the auspices of the CYO.

Pre-Cana conferences (The name "Cana" comes from the Biblical story of the Marriage Feast of Cana) will be held on the parish level for engaged couples. Cana conferences, also on the parish level where each couple may receive personal attention, will be for married couples.

Advisors to the committee include the Revs. Gerard Murphy, S. J. and Joseph Cantillon, S. J. of St. Peter's College, and Rev. Walter Curtis, professor of moral theology at Immaculate Conception Seminary. Rev. Robert Garner of Blessed Sacrament, Newark, is the assisting delegate in Essex County.

According to Father Sherer the conferences are not intended as repair shops for broken homes. Instead, they are to be centers where guidance and information will be given to make marriages happier and holier through proper training and planning.

Mrs. Georgeanna Bourdon Tirico, director of the Society, said that funds raised by the concert—a yearly high spot in the city's social life—will go into purchase of equipment for the new "Hospital in the Park." The proposed 200-bed institution will be erected on a site overlooking Branch Brook Park at the Belleville-Newark boundary.

Thomas is Belleville chairman of the $2,800,000 hospital campaign. To date, well over $100,000—Belleville's original quota has been raised in the community under his direction. Mayor Tully was asked to serve as co-chairman. Mrs. Tirico explained, as a gesture of appreciation for his work in founding the Choral Society several years ago under auspices of the city Recreation Department.

ANOTHER REASON WHY...

YOU CAN BE SURE..IF IT'S Westinghouse

FATHER OF RADIO. Westinghouse's Dr. Frank Conrad became a "wireless" enthusiast in 1915, built his own station 8XK in 1916. Success of his 1919 disc jockey programs, the world's first, led Westinghouse to pioneer in commercial radio. In 1939, Dr. Conrad still tinkered at the workbench in his garage.

WORLD'S FIRST RADIO STATION. This transmitter sent out the first scheduled radio broadcasts. It was in a makeshift shack on top of a manufacturing building at the Westinghouse East Pittsburgh plant. This single room also housed a turntable for records, and the first broadcasting staff—all there was to radio station KDKA in 1920.

Modern Radio and TV were born at Westinghouse

No one ever heard an officially scheduled broadcast until Westinghouse radioed the Harding-Cox election returns in 1920. No one ever saw all-electronic television until Westinghouse staged a five-mile telecast in the late 20's.

It's hard to believe that only thirty-one years have passed since Westinghouse set the stage for a radio industry in which 1,600 stations in this country broadcast to 66,000,000 receivers. And that even fewer years have passed since Westinghouse electronic developments made it possible for television to mushroom into an industry with 107 stations telecasting to 10,170,000 sets.

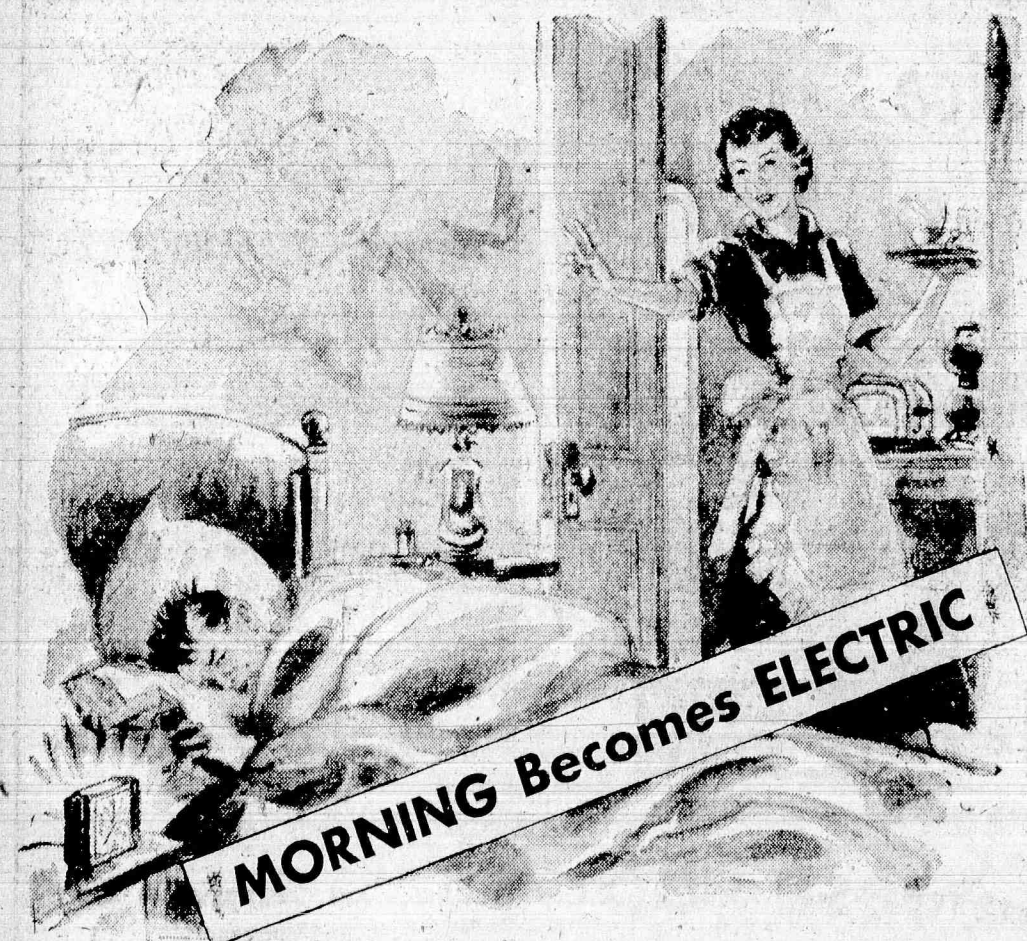

Westinghouse was the first manufacturer to mass-produce radios, too. The first model, Aeriola, Jr., was a direct ancestor of the 1951 Westinghouse radios and television receivers. So in radio and television, too, you can be sure... if it's Westinghouse.

GAY TIMES IN 1923—REMEMBER? Westinghouse introduced the Aeriola, Jr., world's first mass-produced radio, in 1921. By 1923, as you can plainly see, a somewhat improved version of this famous radio had become mighty popular for informal entertainment.

CIRCLE W STARRED IN FIRST TELECASTS. Television became all-electronic with the development at Westinghouse Research Laboratories of an electronic-beam pickup in 1923 and the Kinescope for receivers in 1929. For the first demonstration of all-electronic television, the camera was focused on the Circle W of a Westinghouse sign near East Pittsburgh.

TWO WESTINGHOUSE STARS OF 1951. Betty Furness is the lovely star of the commercials on the Westinghouse television show, "Studio One." Beside her is the lovely star of the 1951 Westinghouse television line. In one beautifully-styled creation, it combines television, AM and FM radio, and speed clean electric.

FREDDY: "Gosh, Nancy, are you bragging again—so early in the morning. Yesterday you woke me up by saying that I can use my electric razor 17 hours for only a penny. Heck, that's no way to say good morning—even if you are enthusiastic about how little electricity costs!"

REDDY: "While the cost of everything is going up and up, my wages remain the same. I'll clean the house, bring you entertainment—do everything to make your life more pleasant... for only a few pennies a day!"

Remember When

Five Years Ago

As a point of emphasis at a Board of Education meeting, a resolution was passed that a school window a few moments before the school closed, school clerk, reported on the window situation to the members of the board. According to Daniels, an average of 30 were broken in different schools each week by neophyte Ditz Deans trying out their throwing arms. Ten windows were broken in School No. 8 in one weekend.

Committee appointments for the 1946-7 Board of Education term were announced by Herbert C. Schmitt, board president, at a regular monthly meeting. Heading the important teachers' committee was Ralph M. Allaire, newest member of the board, who replaced Walter Gilby in February. Building and Grounds, the other important post went to Charles Gebhardt. Joseph Arnold was appointed Finance and Transportation Chairman, and Mrs. Homer Zink was given the Health committee.

Plans were being made and rehearsals had already begun for the Petrean Club's sixth annual show to be presented in St. Peter's Hall. Title of the play was "Hol-i-daze." Edward Dowling directed, while William Brady was general chairman of the affair. William Brickell supervised the scenery, Michael O'Toole was ticket committee chairman, and reserved seat tickets were handled by Miss Florence Rhoades.

There were a lot of empty seats in Belleville High School because the mighty walls of B. H. S. were not able to keep out the little measles bug. Students were still looking at school nurse Miss McKenzie, with rashes and flaming faces. In one month over 100 cases were reported in the high school alone.

Five new school teachers, hired and approved by the board, were John J. Scully, Mrs. Geneva E. McCumber, William R. Correll, Michael Leone, and Arthur Benson.

Ten Years Ago

It was thought that orders from Washington to State WPA Administrator Robert W. Allen to discharge 19,000 WPA workers in New Jersey by March 31 would have the staggering, unprecedented effect of adding 200 overnight to the town's relief rolls at a monthly cost of $2,500, according to minimum estimates projected by Welfare Department Director John J. Hewitt and Commissioner of Public Affairs Joseph King.

Where were the crutches born of love? Nine pairs of crutches were bought from funds in the police charity fund, many months before. The fund was mostly made up of money received by Fred B. Handlon, court clerk, from marriages performed by recorder Everett B. Smith, and was used to buy crutches for people in need of them. Handlon loaned them out and they were not returned so in behalf of the Police

Charity Fund he asked that people no longer in need of them bring them back so that they could be used for others.

One of Sheldon Henry's best students in his wood turning and metal turning classes in the high school was a petite young lady, Miss Adrienne Adler of Forest Street, who could saw and hammer, operate a lathe, and do the dozen and one other things that set the accomplished carpenter-mechanic apart from the ordinary run of thumb-hitting amateurs. Proof of this was seen at the annual industrial arts exhibit held on the main floor of the high school auditorium where, among tables, skis, lamps, bowls, and furniture, were two lamps made by Miss Adler from ten-pins.

For the third time in its history the "Voice of No. Three" elementary mimeographed magazine published by the pupils of School No. 3, had been awarded the Medalist, or highest rating in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association contest. Editor-in-chief that year was Alfred Jennings, eighth grade honor student.

Fifteen Years Ago

Never again would the mellow tones of the old fire bell in the rear of the William Street fire house boom out the hour of 9 o'clock each evening or summon callmen to a blaze. Its doom was sealed by the board of commissioners, who ordered its removal, and demolition of its tower, after Battalion Chief William Dunleavy, head of the signal department, declared that the whole structure was unsafe. Commissioners planned to replace the bell by a melodious air whistle, tuned to D-bass.

The police force yielded honors to Mrs. Florence Morey, town clerk, who quelled a disturbance at the town hall. When commissioners in the conference room could not hear the request of a citizen due to the noise of spectators outside in the hall, Court Clerk, Richard Nourse rushed into the hall and told the offending parties to "Pipe down!" The sound did not abate. Then Mrs. Morey went to the door, quietly requested that the noise be stopped, and a solemn hush descended upon the corridor. "The female of the species" remarked Commissioner Clark.

Belleville residents who had spent many years in town contributed old photographs, newspapers and other material of historic interest for the Belleville historical album sponsored by Mayor William H. Williams. Outstanding contributions were received from Gladys Reyle of Stephens Street, Andrew A. Alexander of Belleville Avenue, and Albert Newschwander of Hewitt Avenue.
