PURCHASE OF NEW MACHINE ASSURES PAYROLL CHANGE

An Accounting Unit Costing $5,600 Approved By Board On First Reading

Passage of an ordinance on first reading last night for the purchase of a new business machine costing $5,600 set in motion plans for the eventual change-over from a semi-monthly payroll system to a weekly pay basis for all municipal employees. The machine, a National Cash Register accounting type, complete with attachments, will be delivered in several months and the change is expected to go into effect in June, it was announced by Mayor Tully.

The commission acted upon the matter after town employees petitioned the board for the switch. Mayor Tully's revenue and finance department studied the move and although Town Treasurer Sargeant cited objections, the Mayor decided to affect the change.

No additional employees will be required at this time to handle the increased volume of work, said Mayor Tully. It is hoped the machine will be able to absorb the extra load and also provide relief for other mechanical units now used by the department, most of which are more than ten years old. The new accounting machine will handle all payroll transactions and also post and bill water department bills.

FIDELITY GRANTED SHAREHOLDER OK ON BANK SALE

First National, In Business Here Since 1906, Becomes Branch Institution

At a shareholders meeting Tuesday afternoon, approval was registered for the sale of the First National Bank assets to the Fidelity Union Trust Company of Newark. The First National will become the Belleville Branch of the Fidelity.

Fidelity's offer was approved by the bank's board of directors on February 15, according to an announcement at that time by President Peter Igoe. Shareholders are scheduled to receive approximately $80 per share for the outstanding stock, the majority of which, it is understood, being held by the Igoe interests.

The Newark bank, one of the largest fiduciary institutions in New Jersey, will operate the new branch with the same personnel, according to Horace K. Corbin, president. It will also give Fidelity 15 branch offices in Essex County.

MRS. WILLETTE AT YOUTH CONFERENCE

Named Panel Delegate To Conclude At Rutgers University This Saturday

Mrs. Lenora Willette of Cortlandt Street, active member of the New Jersey State Migrant Labor Board, will be one of the panel delegates at the statewide Conference on Children and Youth to be held Saturday at Rutgers University. The Committee on Youth, formed by Governor Driscoll, is sponsoring the Conference and Rutgers School of Education is host to the delegates.

Mrs. Willette said this week that the purpose of the Conference is to consider the applicability to New Jersey of the findings of the 1950 Mid-Century White House Conference on Children and Youth. This was held in Washington last December at the call of President Truman.

The Belleville woman will represent the Consumers' League of New Jersey on the panel discussion.

County Civilian Defense Chairman To Speak Here

Graham Huntington, director of civilian defense for Essex County, will be the guest speaker at a joint meeting of the Belleville Auxiliary Police and Firemen April 9 at the Veterans' Hall on Stephens Street. Huntington is a past County Commander of the American Legion and active in veteran's affairs.

Max Schwartz, director of public education under the local CD program, announced that showings of the film, "You Can Beat The A-Bomb" continue to be shown to various civic groups. Monday, at No. 1 School, the film will be exhibited to the PTA. Schwartz and CD Coordinator Kenneth Smith will address the group. The Tafti Post of the VFW will sponsor a showing of the film April at the Veterans' Hall.

Red Cross Faces Curtailed Service Unless Drive Ups

Barely One-third Of Goal Is Attained As Campaign Draws To Close

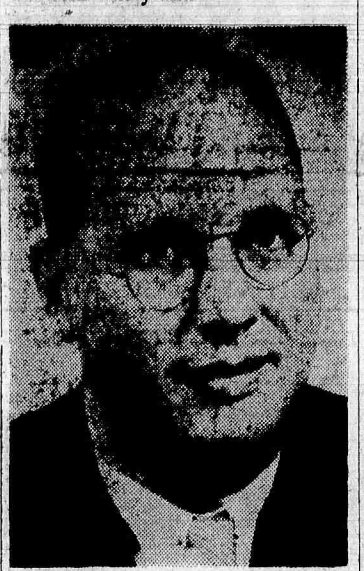

Increased responsibilities at home and abroad, raised by the war situation and the added duties of civilian defense, may have to be curtailed unless a sharp turn upward is achieved in the current Red Cross campaign for funds. This was the sentiment expressed yesterday by Belleville's chairman Paul M. Kelley, who sounded a warning that came from national chairman David Sarnoff.

The local drive has lagged badly, said Red Cross leaders and the poorest response in the organization's history here has been noted. Not a single division has been able to reach its quota, with the exception of the minor miscellaneous benefits, which has raised $173 of a $75 quota.

Residential Way Off
Falling off to an alarming degree is the house-to-house, or residential, canvass. Public Safety Director Sullivan, chairman of this section, reports only $3,901 collected in his latest report this week. Last year, at this time, the residential group had received cash and pledges totaling $6,179. The present quota is $9,205 and with only a short time left in the campaign, seems destined to fall far

BETHANY PASTOR IN FIRST SERMON

Rev. Hanson Will Assume Pulpit Sunday; Transfer From Maryland

Rev. T. P. Hanson

Rev. T. P. Hanson, recently assigned to the Bethany Evangelical Lutheran Church on Joramelon Street, will preach his opening sermon here on Sunday. Called from the Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church in Easton, Md., where he has been pastor for the past four years, Rev. Hanson succeeds Rev. Guy Brown, who resigned from Bethany last year. Interim and temporary pastors have been carrying on pending the permanent appointment of Rev. Hanson.

Reverend Hanson graduated from Gettysburg College in 1934 and after taking graduate work in English at the University of Virginia, taught English at Rensselaer Polytechnic in Troy, N. Y., and Newberry College in South Carolina. From 1941 to 1944 he attended Gettysburg Seminary and since his graduation has had the pastorate at the St. Stephen's Church in Baltimore, Md., and Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church in Easton, Md.

Puerto Rican Seniorita Is Senior At High School

Marvellia Colon Gives Her Impression Of Life In The United States

By Betty Rivola

Given a casual glance, Marvellia Colon appears no different from any other American teen-ager, but on close inspection her dark eyes reflect centuries of proud Spanish ancestry, and her accent brings to mind the softness of fine lace mantillas, serene tropical nights, and the gentle sighing of stately palm trees.

Marvey, as she has been nicknamed by her pals at Belleville High School where she is a senior, comes from the town of Utuado on the island of Puerto Rico. She arrived in the United States last July and is a guest in the home of her sister, Mrs. Radice, 265 Branch Brook Drive. She plans to complete her high school education here and then return to her native land. Her ambition—to teach the language of her people to Americans after she graduates from college. Seventeen-year-old Marvey is short of realization. Sullivan has urged his workers to greater effort and complete the calls assigned to each person.

Industry, at this stage, is less than 50 per cent of the quota of $7,100. At the last report, $2,911 had been received.

All told, $9,356 has been raised, less than 40 per cent of the $26,402 quota.

"With three weeks of intensive activity having passed, only one-third of the quota has been attained," said Mr. Kelly. "It is my sincere hope that the industries, business, people, residents and workers realize the seriousness of the situation. It is time we began to think how important the Belleville Chapter of the Red Cross and its 300 active workers is to our community."

Averts Death In Fast Trip

An 11-mile trip in less than ten minutes by town firemen manning the ambulance was credited with saving the life of 7-year-old Carla Ahting on Monday. The Times-News learned of the incident yesterday and this is the story.

Carla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ahting of 298 Union Avenue, superintendent of the Philmore Apartments, had her tonsils removed Monday at the Hackensack Hospital. That evening, an artery in her throat broke, causing severe hemorrhaging. The town ambulance was summoned, with Firemen Spillane and Cafone in charge.

With siren-screaming and tearing through traffic at high speed, the ambulance covered the 11 miles under ten minutes. An immediate transfusion was ordered and the girl is now out of danger. Doctors at the hospital commended the firemen for the rapid trip and credited them with averting a serious mishap.

TOWN WILL SPEND $21,000 TO FIX STREETS, MAINS

Road Repairs, New Water Lines Cited In Two Ordinances That Pass

Two ordinances, passed on first reading last night by the Town Commission, call for the expenditure of $21,000 for street repairs and the installation of a water main and appurtenances.

The street repairs, estimated to cost $12,000, provide for the resurfacing of High Street to Rossmore Place to Van Houten Place, Lloyd Street from De Witt Avenue to Hornblower Avenue, Rossmore Place from De Witt Avenue to Hornblower Avenue and portions of Terrace Place to Schuyler Street and Stephens Street. An amount of $600 under "capital improvements" was provided in the town budget and the balance of the funds will be raised through bond anticipation notes.

Installation of two water mains and appurtenances will cost approximately $19,000, according to the public works department, sponsors of the ordinance. There exists in the "capital improvement" account of the budget an amount of $5,000 for the project, leaving $14,000 to be raised by bond anticipation notes. The ordinance provides for one 10 inch water main in Mill Street from Franklin Avenue to Harrison Street and a 6 inch main in Maple Avenue from dead end to Acme Street.

"Guard Your Family" Is 1951 Cancer Slogan

Unveiling of the 1951 Cancer campaign slogan, "Guard Your Family," took place last week at the kickoff dinner held for Essex County Cancer Society workers. Left to right are William J. Goodsir, special gifts chairman for the local drive; Dr. Lloyd Ellis Foster, Essex County chairman, and Douglas Wadsworth, chairman for the Belleville effort. The goal here has been established at $7,500.

The first appeals for contributions to the 1951 Cancer Crusade were being made this week. Douglas Wadsworth, chairman of the local committee, said today. Goal for the drive in Belleville is $7,500.

While the public phase of the local cancer campaign is not scheduled to get under way until after April 1—when Cancer Control Month" begins—a team of solicitors has started canvassing an advance list of selected donors.

"Those asked to give this week include long-time supporters of the American Cancer Society's work, people who are in a position to make generous contributions to the vital project of cancer control," the chairman said.

Everyone to Know
"In addition to this preliminary canvass, our committee is busy arranging for distribution of collection canisters, posters and informative literature," the chairman said. "We are sure that, after this groundwork has been laid, everyone in town not only will know of the campaign and the work of the Cancer Society, but how to go about making his contribution."

"It is our hope that initial special gifts will get the local campaign off to a flying start, with a sizeable portion of our goal reached before the public (Continued On Page Two)

Clothes For Needy Sought In Scout Drive Saturday

Nation-Wide Project Slated For March 31; Seven Trucks To Aid Here

Belleville's contingent of Boy Scouts, including Cubs, Scouts and Explorers, will embark upon an all-day clothing drive Saturday, starting at 9 o'clock and continuing to 4 p. m. The drive is part of a nation-wide undertaking to collect clothing for poverty-stricken families and abandoned children roaming the streets of war-torn countries overseas.

Seven trucks, Belleville's share of a vast motor pool contributed by the Salvation Army and the New Jersey Truck Owners' Association, have been assigned here and will assist the Scouts. Placed in strategic spots, the trucks will be fed by the doorbell-ringing youths picking up the clothing.

Included among the items sought are men's and boy's suits, jackets, trousers, underwear and socks. Men's and women's and children's coats, sweaters, gloves, mittens, caps and scarfs are needed as are women's and girl's dresses, suits, jackets, aprons, skirts, blouses, underwear, stockings and socks. Shoes should be tied together in pairs and those residents not home the day of the drive may leave clothing at any of the town's firehouses.

Town Parking Lot Will Get New Coating Of Pavement

An appropriation of $1,500 was approved by ordinance by the town commission last night, providing for asphalt pavement for the parking lot in the rear of the Town Hall. The measure passed on first reading.

Bond anticipation notes in the amount of $1,425 will finance the project. The balance of $75 is included in the budget's capital improvement account.

Named Outstanding By Elks

Ann Lillian Pritchard

John McNish

Two senior high school students, John McNish and Ann Lillian Pritchard, were named winners of the Belleville Lodge of Elks outstanding boy and girl awards by Exalted Ruler Thomas McMahon. It was announced yesterday. Presentation of $25 savings bonds will take place tomorrow morning at a general assembly, with Esteemed Leading Knight Raymond Smith of the Elks, also a faculty member, giving the prizes.

Runners-up in the contest were Marilyn Scheie and Rhoda Loyola. The award was based on leadership, organizational ability, citizenship, personality, perseverance and sourcefulness and general worthiness. The judges were McMahon, Past Exalted Ruler Ken Miller and Secretary Joseph De Palma.

Miss Pritchard has been a four-year honor roll student, delegate to the New Jersey Citizenship Institute, Senior Senator and editor-in-chief of the Monard.

McNish has been active in school affairs and recently was acclaimed the winner of a Naval Reserve scholarship. He is president of the local chapter of the National Honor Society and the Student Council and was elected mayor and a freeholder at the Jersey Boys' State annual conference.

Citizens' Group Attacks Revised Salary Guide

Ask For Evaluation Of Town's Pay Scale and Job Classifications; Mayor's Secretary Draws Fire

Protesting against the revised salary ordinance that was passed recently on final reading, a citizens' group ran into a blank wall of town commissioners last night, who refused to entertain a three-pronged motion by the aggrieved taxpayers. The taxpayers, hitting at alleged inconsistencies in maximum salaries in certain classifications by comparison with other communities, asked the board to (1) withdraw sections of the ordinance establishing new maximums (2) that a job evaluation be made by a competent, experienced outside concern and (3) set up equitable minimum and maximum ranges for all jobs after the survey is completed, consistent with those paid in other towns.

Spokesman for the group was Stewart Martin, who cited various jobs and salaries set up in other communities. Drawing criticism was the position of secretary to Mayor Tully. The group's statement said there was considerable doubt that such a post was necessary and went on to say a "grave suspicion existed that other jobs may not be necessary."

Both Mayor Tully and Public Works Director Waters defended the ordinance. Waters said he would not consider a motion that would stop $300 increases to employees in his department. The mayor contended that opposition and objections to the new tax rate should not be placed in entirety at the door of the commission.

The statement said: "There was a public notice in the Belleville Times advertising an amendment to our existing ordinances pertaining to Civil Service titles and salary ranges. This amendment extends the maximum ranges on many titles. These extensions are unrealistic when related to the financial standing of our community and also when compared to surrounding towns. Particular emphasis is placed upon our very high tax rate, compared to other communities. When expenses are high, and we realize that much of the high tax rate was caused by the (Continued On Page Two)

HYDE CHAIRMAN OF BENEFIT CONCERT

Recreation Choral Society Plans Show For Lutheran Hospital Campaign

Elmer Hyde, head of Belleville's Recreation Department, and director of Parks and Public Property, has accepted the general chairmanship of the Belleville Choral Society's annual concert, to be held at 8:15 Friday, April 20, in Belleville High School for the benefit of the Lutheran Hospital building fund. Announcement of Mr. Hyde's appointment was made today by Mrs. Georgeanna Bourdon Tirico, director of the society.

At the same time, it was announced that the Youth Division of the hospital building fund has been reactivated to help sell tickets for the concert. The Youth Division, earlier in the campaign, raised $7,000 in a one-day "blitz" house-to-house canvass, which put Belleville over the top in its $100,000 drive for the hospital.

The Youth Division will sell concert tickets to their schoolmates at a special rate of 60 cents, and will also sell advertising space for the concert program. Marilyn Scheie is chairman, with John McNish, Ron Krause, Ann Pritchard and Mary Gerard as co-chairmen.

In addition to the student tickets, sponsors tickets at $10 per couple, patrons tickets at $5 each, general admission at $1.50, and booster tickets at $1 are available. Entire proceeds of the concert, a yearly high spot in Belleville's social life, will be donated to the Lutheran Memorial fund which will be used to erect a modern hospital overlooking Branch Brook Park at the Belleville-Newark line.

Evan H. Thomas, chairman of the Belleville phase of the hospital drive, and Mayor Tully have agreed to serve as honorary co-chairmen for the concert.

Hold Organizational Meeting At Rec House Tonight To Outline Benefits

An organizational meeting for all war veterans wounded or disabled while in service is being sponsored tonight by the Disabled American Veterans, Department of New Jersey. The Recreation House on Joramelon Street will be the site of the meeting and Mayor James J. Tully, a Purple Heart World War II vet who has recently been called back into the Marine Corps, is expected to attend.

National Service Officer Leon Sanchez will be the speaker and he will outline benefits which disabled and wounded veterans are entitled to.

Pat's Dream Comes True

It took a quarter of a century, but venerable Patrick "Uncle Pat" Waters, has finally seen the realization of a life-long political ambition. When the announcement came from Mayor Tully last week that he had been recalled into active duty by the Marine Corps, it left open the top post in the town commission.

For seven municipal campaigns, Pat Waters, head of the public works department, has sought the mayoralty. Fate seems to have turned a chilly shoulder to the aging veteran, even to the point where he finished high in a town election, but political maneuvering deprived him of the title that usually goes to the biggest vote-getter.

So it was without hesitation that his remaining fellow commissioners quickly moved to enable Pat to achieve what his brother, the late Frank S. Waters, had several decades ago. Pat was (Continued On Page Two)

POLICE SEARCHING FOR SUSPECTS IN NO. 8 VANDALISM

Wrecking Spree Indulged In As Principal's Office Damaged

Police are still searching for the culprit who ran amuck at No. 8 School last week and embarked upon a wave of destruction in the school building. Although the damage has the appearance of juvenile vandalism, police have noted the efficiency used in ransacking several offices in the building. Two stop watches were stolen from the office of school clerk Daniels, while school supervisor Farmer's office was searched but nothing turned up missing there. Detective Mallack, in charge of the juvenile division, is investigating.

Most severely damaged was the office of Miss Viola Broadbent, principal of No. 8. No estimate of the damage has been made yet, according to Daniels. Film used in visual education and rented by the school was slashed and strewn all over the office, along with books and papers. Daniels said the perpetrator of the damage apparently was familiar with the building, using candles which were stored some distance from the scene of the havoc.

The district clerk said yesterday that up to six years ago it was customary to have a night watchman at the school. At that time, he declared, it was the opinion of authorities that inasmuch as the Board of Education records and principal administrative offices were at No. 8, extra precautions should be taken to forestall any vandalism. In addition, Daniels pointed out, all the school athletic equipment is stored at the Union Avenue school. When the watchman, who served as school custodian, too, died some years ago, the position was abandoned. The board presently employs a watchman at the high school, said the clerk.

Virus Lays Congressman Low

Congressman Peter W. Rodino, stricken with virus last week, is confined to his home at 205 Grafton Avenue, Newark. His doctors expect he will be able to return to Washington for the resumption of sessions of Congress next Monday, at the conclusion of the week's rest.

HOPE FOR RECORD BLOOD ASSEMBLY

Citing the need for increased participation in blood bank assemblies sponsored by the Essex County Mobile Bank unit, Miss Dorothy Nell Darby, executive director of the Red Cross, pointed out yesterday that the next scheduled visit by the unit here will take place next Thursday, April 5 at the high school. Donors may register for contributions between the hours of 3:30 and 6:30 p.m., said Miss Darby.

schools are more advanced in her country and she feels that the attitude of the Puerto Rican teenagers is a bit more mature. For example, she said, "We are given a course in sex, but the boys and girls, they do not laugh and make fun like the children here; they are more serious."

Women Sheltered

Marvey also revealed that the relationship between men and women is quite different in the tropics. Women are much less independent and the woman who pursues a lifetime career instead of marriage, is thought unusual. Young girls are also sheltered to a considerable degree. They do not date until around the age of seventeen and then only in the company of a chaperone. According to Marvey, a girl does not go out alone with a man unless their engagement has been announced. Marriage without the consent of parents is rare.

When asked about Puerto Rican standards of living, Miss Colon explained that although salaries are lower, the dollar has a higher value than in the United States. The poor, instead of turning to relief, are given a house and land to cultivate. Shrugging her shoulders, Marvey said, "If they do not work, they do not eat. The land is their, they must put it to use."

Impression of America

When asked what her impression of America is, Miss Colon told us that ever since she was a little girl, people returning from America have told her what a wonderful country this is. She dreamed about it, building castles in her mind, and then was elated when she landed at LaGuardia Airport and saw the lower section of New York City. "I felt better when I saw Times Square," she added. "That was wonderful." Her first reaction to the teenagers was one of complete bewilderment. She was astonished to hear boys and girls, whistle, sing and laugh in the halls of the high school, and at first she thought they were disrespectful to their elders. "But now that I am better acquainted with them," she added cheerfully, "I think they are nice. They are so friendly that I do not feel strange with them at all."

Tully reports for duty with his country, the second time within ten years, Commissioner Waters will assume the lofty seat on the rostrum, rap his gavel, and call the meeting to order. Citizens' sudden heavy expenditures for the school system, we should tighten up our belts and see that there is no waste in our administration. It should be run on a fair and thrifty basis. When a town's expenses rise there should be no unusual expenditures that are not common with other towns. Is This Post Necessary? With the limited facilities available to it, the Belleville Citizens' Group, for whom I speak, has made a study in connection with the ranges of pay in surrounding towns. An analysis of the title and range for the position of Secretary to the Mayor in the ordinance for the department of revenue and finance sets the maximum to $5,800. East Orange with a population of 75,000 pays $3,420 for this position. Bloomfield with a population of 48,000 pays $3,000. Garfield with a population of 30,000 also pays $3,000 per year, and in addition, the secretary to the mayor is the purchasing agent. Our next door neighbor Nutley, with approximately the same population as ours pays $2,600 as compared to Belleville's $5,800. There is a serious question in our minds as to whether it is even necessary to have such a position as secretary to the mayor. This is based on the fact that such positions were abolished when economy was adhered to. Clifton with a population of 65,000 has no secretary to the mayor. Orange with a population of 30,000 has no secretary to the mayor. Kearny with a population of 40,000 has no secretary to the mayor.

Belleville Highest

"On the amendment there appears a title of Administrative Clerk in several departments. The maximum on this job in Belleville's ordinance is $6,000. East Orange pays $4,080. Bloomfield pays $2,700. Garfield $2,200. Clifton $3,700. Orange $3,800. Our next door neighbor Nutley pays $3,050. The wealthy town of Montclair with its population of 45,000, whose ranges of pay are among the highest in the state, pays a maximum of $4,377 to its administrative clerks — compared to Belleville's $6,000 maximum. "The classification and range of assessor came up with some interesting information. There can be no question but that an assessor in one town does exactly the same type of work as an assessor in another town, and it is reasonable to assume that the only variation might be that he would have more work to do in a town if it were larger than Belleville. Even then we imagine that if a town is larger they probably have more assessors. Belleville sets the maximum for its assessor at $5,600. East Orange with twice its population pays $4,300. Garfield with 30,000 population has its assessor working on a part-time basis and pays him $1,000 per year. Clifton with 65,000 population pays a maximum of $4,400. West Orange with its population of 36,000, which population is somewhere in the same area as Belleville, pays its assessor $4,600. Kearny with a population of 40,000 pays its assessor $1,000, and he seems to be doing the job even though Kearny's population is 40,000.

High By Comparison

"Another title we surveyed was Senior Clerk. Belleville sets a maximum of $3,500. East Orange $2,580. Bloomfield $2,100. Garfield $2,200. Clifton $2,400. Nutley $2,800. Kearny $2,850. "The few titles we surveyed certainly gave us discouraging information. Why should Belleville be so out of line? It is obvious that there should be an immediate study made of the entire salary structure for Belleville. The figures that the Board of Commissioners have set seem to have been plucked from the sky. For example, the public health nurse has a starting salary of $2,340 with a maximum of $3,000. The nurse can look forward to a $80 increment in salary from her starting rate and then she stops. This certainly has an unreasonable spread in the range of pay. "There was considerable doubt in our minds that the post of secretary to the mayor is a necessary one, and there is grave suspicion now in our minds that there may be other jobs for which there is no necessity. Several members of our committee suggest that even before a wage classification is made, an entire re-evaluation be made with respect to the job necessity of each and every classification on the ordinance. When it is then established that a position is required, the wage classification could be undertaken. "We ask that three things be done (1) the sections of the ordinances establishing new maximums that have already passed their third reading be withdrawn at this time; (2) that a job evaluation be made by a competent, experienced outside of Belleville concern and (3) that after the job necessity is established the same and maximum ranges consistent with those paid by other municipalities for like work."

Dr. Harold Murray, Well Known In Field, Guest At Meeting Monday

The next regular meeting of the School No. 8 Parent-Teacher Association, Belleville, will be held Monday evening, at 8:15 o'clock, in the school auditorium, 183 Union Avenue.

His training and experience in child health and welfare provide an excellent background for his discussions.

Louis Fournier, program chairman, points out that this is a wonderful opportunity for the parents of Belleville to hear a specialist in Child Health, and participate in the discussion to follow.

Northern New Jersey Featured In Holiday Magazine

Northern New Jersey is featured in the April issue of Holiday as "a quick-change artist defying quick analysis."

The eleven-county area which makes up "The North of Jersey" is presented under that title to the magazine's nationwide audience in a nineteen-page profile containing thirty-five illustrations. A pen-and-ink drawing of the Hudson River ferry on the cover of the magazine calls attention to the article.

Written by Carl L. Biemiller, Holiday's story follows the theme "there's more to North Jersey than meets the eye." Pointing out that many who travel through the region only by rail think of it as a montage of marshes and crowded cities, Mr. Biemiller disproves that impression with a detailed account of the physical, historical, economic and cultural aspects of each of the upper Jersey counties.

Hunterdon, Somerset, Morris, Warren and Sussex counties are the author pictures as "a sweet bit of country." Bergen, Essex, Union, Passaic, Hudson and Middlesex counties are described as containing "one of the greatest industrial concentrations in the world."

The Summons

Come, Spring, come—
Come with a rolling blowing;
Linger no more
With the winter's snowing.
Reckon with fingers of rain
To the delicate shoots
That wrestle with burrowing roots.
Loosen the muted tongues that lie
In the heads of many hills.
Come with ambidexter hands—
Start the flame of yellow
Sweeping across the meadow lands.

—William Bradford.

His House Is Clean, He Says

The Times-News, in an editorial last week, begged to differ with Harry Truman's glib assertion that, "My house is clean" and warned: "In our opinion, he should compare his troubles with those of Warren Harding. They both stem from the same unflagging presidential loyalty to unworthy old cronies."

Apparently others feel as we do that the President must clean house. In its issue of last Saturday, the Christian Science Monitor paralleled our opinion by saying, editorially: "Unless Mr. Truman cleans house very soon, history is likely to link his name with that of Warren G. Harding."

And if the President is looking around for dirty corners in his house, let him investigate the O'Dwyer $10,000 affair and few other allegations before Congress gets around to them:

1. That administration insiders sold tips on sales by alien property custodian's office and the location in South Carolina of the new AEC hydrogen bomb plant which enabled a Utah "investigator" to tie up some Savannah River farmland for $4,000 in options and then sell it to the AEC for $76,000.

2. That Federal Power Commission appointments and licensing decisions are improperly influenced by certain utility interests.

3. That government officials are "trading" anti-trust suits for personal and party profit.

4. That Oscar Chapman, whom Mr. Truman made Secretary of the Interior for stage managing his 1948 presidential campaign, is deceiving Congress about the synthetic liquid fuels program which is costing the taxpayer millions.

Largely as a result of the RFC scandal, the President's prestige has dropped lower than any time in his administration. Coincidentally with his return to the White House this week from Key West, cutting short his vacation, the Gallup Poll found only 26 per cent of the voters polled gave him their support. In July, 1945, the poll showed 87 per cent approved him.

Fair Deal Costs More Than New Deal

Memories are short, and facts and figures are easily forgotten. The chances are that most Americans have only a hazy idea of just how much the cost of their government has risen in the past 10 years. So some figures compiled by the National Small Business Association should come as a high-voltage shock.

In 1940, it cost $75,000,000 to run the Department of Commerce—in 1950 the bill was $863,000,000.

In 1940, the Department of the Interior lived on a budget of $1,385,000. Last year's bill was close to $568,500,000.

In 1940, the State Department worried along on less than $21,000,000. In 1950 it managed to get rid of more than $361,000,000.

In 1940, the Department of Labor cost $18,500,000. Last year the assessment was $257,000,000.

In 1940, it must be remembered, the late President Roosevelt had been in office for two terms, and the government had been greatly expanded. Yet today's cost of running the major departments makes the 1940 budgets look like peanuts!

If the American people have any political intelligence or any sense of their own self-interest, they will demand an end to the colossal extravagance of the Federal Government that is threatening to bankrupt this country. They will have their opportunity a year from next November.

$9,000,000,000

How much is nine billion dollars?

Military technicians estimate that nine billion dollars would equip 48 armored divisions or 113 infantry divisions, buy 3,600 medium bombers or 45,000 medium tanks or 225 destroyers.

In terms of taxes, nine billion dollars equals a burden of $240 for every American family or it equals the total tax revenues of the 48 states in 1950. For New Jersey it represents 298 million tax dollars.

The question is timely because nationally recognized fiscal authorities estimate that the Truman budget could be trimmed by nine billion dollars without wrecking our government or reducing our armament effort. It would involve only abandoning peacetime frills and concentrating on legitimate expenditures.

The Truman government is now taxing "until it hurts." Congress should impose its way and demand that the administration save "until it hurts."

Watchful Waiting

More than one pair of eyes are cast in the direction of Montclair these days as that progressive community wrestles with the preliminary steps in determining the best type of government its citizens prefer. The urban area, awarded recognition as one of the ten leading American towns, is well along the way toward living up to the provisions of the Faulkner Bill, contrived by one of its former mayors. There is probably apprehension in some of the gleams directed toward the mountainside town and with good cause, too.

It is apparent from the start that the commission form of government faces a fight for its existence. Obvious shortcomings in the Walsh Act, which establishes the rules and regulations for the commission form, recently prompted the State League of Municipalities to recommend a series of amendments. But this dissatisfaction may be deeper rooted and beyond the reach of Walsh Act changes.

Belleville, sooner or later, will have to begin consideration of its particular selection of government. Ever-rising tax rates, political shenanigans and general dissatisfaction have put many voters in a surly, outraged mood. It is going to require a lot of good public relations and what is more important, good government, to overcome that "let's have a change" reaction.

ONE MAN'S OPINION . . .

Watch Events in Oil-Rich, Oil-Troubled Iran
Where Stalin Is Trying to Cut the West Off
From a Flow of 700,000 Barrels Daily

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

Joe Stalin has his fingers in hot oil, troubled oil, Iranian oil.

There's a strange impression of seeing the same show all over again. In fact the principals in this new drama in Iran's strategic oil fields are the same—Stalin and Hussein Ala. The plot is the same, too: Grab Iran's oil to feed the Russian war machine while depriving the Atlantic Powers of 700,000 barrels of oil a day.

I had a ringside seat at the first bout between Joe, a heavyweight, and Hussein Ala, a physical flyweight but a mental giant, in the UN arena up at Hunter College in May, 1946. Hussein Ala won by kayo. It was the new United Nations Security Council's first job and saw Gromyko stage the first Russian walkout.

This week, Communist agitators who were sent across the dangerous northern border of Iran fomented a general strike in the oil-rich province of Khuzistan. The strike, theoretically, is intended to force the Iranian government to confiscate and nationalize the oil wells of the Anglo-Persian Oil Company. All the old tricks were used by Stalin, and the strikers roamed the streets shouting: "Throw the British pirates into the sea! Death to the Imperialists! Give us back our oil!"

Hussein Ala, who in 1946 was Iranian Ambassador to Washington and its delegate to the UN who fought and whipped Soviet Russia before the Security Council, is now Premier of Iran. He countered the Russian-inspired general strike by proclaiming martial law. It's the same set-up as five years ago, except that this far Iran has not been able to carry its case to the UN because Stalin has been operating through Iranian stooges.

You have to go back to the war years to pick up the thread of this story. Russia was hard pressed for war supplies, including oil. The United States agreed to furnish what it could deliver. The Murmansk route was too costly; Hitler's subs controlled the icy waters around the North Cape. The United States pressured Teheran and won Iran's consent to allow us to ship to ports on the Persian gulf and then by rail across Iran into Russia, her northern neighbor.

It was agreed by a treaty which Russia, Britain and the United States signed with Iran that immediately the war ended the traffic would halt and each nation would withdraw all its troops installed on Iranian soil to run and police the ports and railroads and keep the supplies moving.

The Iranian railroads saved Russia, but when the war ended, Stalin was reluctant to withdraw his troops from the country. The United States and Britain fulfilled their parts of the compact, but still Stalin kept the Red Army in the oil-rich northern provinces.

Eye-Witness Of Events

Iran took her case to the UN. The Security Council had just been created, and since there was nothing ready at Flushing Meadows, it met in Hunter College. I reported that session for United Press and lived in the same New York hotel as Hussein Ala whom I saw every day. He won his case hands down, despite Gromyko's dramatic walk-out when Russia would not agree to allow the Iranian delegate to state his nation's defense. Gromyko wanted to present only Stalin's side of the case. Hussein Ala, a fervent pro-American, is a brilliant diplomat and remarkable linguist. Gromyko was a clumsy clown in comparison.

Earlier this month, on March 7, Iran's reform-seeking American-backed Premier Ala Razmara, a former general, was assassinated by Abdullah Movassad Rastad, a Communist carpenter, as the Premier was entering a Mosque in Teheran's bazaar district. Within a week the 90-year-old Hussein Ala was recalled from Washington by Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi and named Premier.

That's the background of the principal figure in this week's newest Communist coup. No one doubts the hand of Stalin in the murder of Ali Razmara. Hussein Ala knows that he too is a marked man and Stalin with all the native guile of the Georgian—his native province lying just off the Iranian border—will not show his hand by using his own killers. Iran is filled with Moslem religious fanatics who always have resorted to mur-

Mrs. Richard W. Howe of 26 Essex Street, president of the Schumann Heink Choral Club, announced that plans for the club's twenty-first Annual Concert have been completed. The affair will be held Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in the Mutual Benefit Insurance Company auditorium, Broadway and Second Avenue, Newark. As a special feature Howard Kasschau, director of the club, Carl Tollefsen and Boris Leitzky will play the Bach Concerto for two violins and piano.

The first half of the program will consist of selections by the club. They will be assisted by a chorus during the second half of the show.

Bethany Lutheran Guild To Sponsor Square Dance

The Ladies' Guild of Bethany Lutheran Church will hold its third square dance, Friday, April 6, at 8 p.m. in the church basement. Fans turned out in real style Tuesday night at the Robin Hood Inn for the feasting of the high school basketball team. The affair was sponsored by the Belleville Varsity Club. Guest speakers included Jerry Bannigan, well known official; Gary Anderson, coach of Montclair High and Joe McLaughlin of the Newark News sports staff. Everett B. Smith was toastmaster.

Trophies were presented to varsity members of the team on behalf of the Varsity Club.

Charles Travers, Jim McConnell and Bob Dilworth also received trophies from the Memorial Post of the Anvets, with Commander Michael Maretti making the presentation. der as a medium of political expression. A religious sect to watch is the Fadayan Islam, an arch-nationalist, anti-American, anti-British Islamic band.

That group and other Islamic nationalist sects are behind an emotional landslide in favor of nationalizing the oil industry. Who but Stalin could profit from such action? Iran has no technicians to operate its own oil production. If it drives out the Americans, British and French, it could get help only from Russian technicians. And Stalin has already generously offered to buy the entire Iranian oil production—at a price to be negotiated, of course.

Poor Rich Iran

There is such a thing as being too rich to be secure or comfortable. Iran is in that paradoxical situation. The Middle East's proved reserves of oil have been calculated at 4,500,000,000 metric tons and further explorations may up that figure. In the Middle East, Iran today leads all the rest in production.

You often hear about the Iraq oil reserves in the Euphrates valley at Mesopotamia, but Iraq production is only 49,600,000 barrels annually. Iran's production last year was 242,700,000. Saudi Arabia, where American oil companies have most of their rights, produces only 199,700,000 barrels. Of the Middle East's 1950 total production of 640,600,000 barrels, 258,000,000 barrels went to Western Europe and 79,000,000 barrels to Great Britain. Imagine the drought in the Atlantic Treaty nations if Stalin can stem that flow and turn it to his own uses.

Why Stalin Maneuvers

Why should Stalin worry about Iran or Middle East oil since he already has the Baku and Batum oilfields in his own land and controls the whole production of the Gallician oilfields in Poland and the Ploesti fields in Rumania?

The answer is simple. Of the world's known oil reserves of 80.5 billion barrels, Russia and her satellites, Poland and Rumania, control only 10 per cent. The United States possesses 30.6 per cent, Latin America 13.1 per cent, the Middle East 42.1 per cent and all the rest of the world only 4.2 per cent.

Armies, it was Napoleon's boast, fight on their stomachs. He meant that they needed food above all else. Today armies fight on oil. Planes would be grounded without high octane gasoline; tanks would be stalled. Motor transport of troops, supplies, munitions would cease. An army would grind to a cumbersome halt without oil.

Do you see now why Stalin has his fingers in Iran's hot oil?

In a survey made among the teachers in the Belleville school system relative to becoming members of the A.P.T. Teachers Federation, the response was overwhelmingly in favor of the movement, a spokesman for the teachers revealed. A statement released by the teachers said the majority of them would become members of the union, and a meeting would be held within a few days. The teachers stated that the affiliation with the union would not mean discontinuance of the existing Belleville teachers association. The two groups would work together.

A dinner and house warming in their recently rebuilt and renovated club house marked the 71st anniversary of the Nereid Boat Club. The club house was destroyed by fire in August 1944, but final painting was scheduled to make the club look like new.

Once again the school publication, the "Voice of No. Three" received the highest rating in the annual Columbia Scholastic Press Association contest which held its convention in the McMillan Theatre and the Hotel Astor in New York City. The paper was awarded "Medalist" for the sixth time. The competition included 864 publications representing 45 states, Alaska and Hawaii.

The highest position in the Belleville Lodge of Elks was conferred on William J. Friel, who was elected Exalted Ruler. A former Chief Petty Officer in the Navy, Friel was the Esteemed

Representatives of the Essex County Board of Freeholders disclosed the appointment of Public Safety Director Joseph King as chairman of the County Highway Right of Way Commission for the eighth consecutive year.

Ten Years Ago

Families were divided and brother ranged against brother in Belleville over the issues of the Revolutionary War, according to a history of Belleville written by the New Jersey WPA Writer's Project, in the hands of the town commission, for publication. Then known as Second River, Belleville witnessed much of the guerrilla warfare that accompanied the Revolution. American and British troops faced each other's territory. Sniping became a fine art with both sides and was such a general thing that some families could not draw water from their wells without dodging bullets fired by British marksmen.

The police crusade against street mashers, intelligently carried on for several months by a woman in the department's employ, resulted in an almost thorough abatement of Lothario tactics heretofore practiced along the town's main thoroughfare, Washington Avenue, according to Commissioner of Public Safety William D. Clark. The crusade, however, would not be allowed to falter, he added, with the coming of spring.

Lieutenant Ken Smith, the Voice of Safety, was the victim of auto thieves, when his parked car was broken into while he was attending a meeting in Veterans Hall. The thieves broke the door lock and one of the windows.

On the subject of cars, a twenty-two-year-old young lady in town, driving on a permit, in company of a licensed driver, put her foot on the brake and the car precipitately ran over the embankment at the end of Birchwood Drive. By mistake she had placed her foot on the gas.

Fifteen Years Ago

Mrs. Carol Sawyer Ott of Ralph Street was listening to the radio in her modest home with breathless interest when the winners of the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, England, were announced, for earlier that week she had been notified that she had drawn Hillsbrook, one of the favorites, in the Irish Sweepstakes at Dublin. Mrs. Ott was to receive $3,570, even if her horse did not run, but if Hillsbrook won the English classic, she would be awarded $150,000.

Belleville High School had just secured a new sound moving picture projector for the presentation of talking moving pictures for visual instruction. Although many schools already had movie projectors, this one was the first installation of sound equipment in New Jersey. The machine was purchased through sales of magazine subscriptions by the pupils and was a gift of the senior class to the school.

Irwin G. Ross, executive vice-president of the Peoples National Bank and Trust Co. of Belleville, was appointed a member of the reception committee for the annual convention of the New Jersey Bankers' Association at the Hotel Ambassador, Atlantic City.

Born in Belleville and a lifelong resident of the town, Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, director of public works, saw the town grow from the small country village of his boyhood to a modern community of paved streets, large factories, and pleasant residences with efficient police and fire departments and all essential services. Director Waters pointed out that the Valley section contained many ideal factory sites, convenient both to the railroad and the river. It was his belief that new industries would be located there in the future, providing employment for local residents.

Strange as it may seem there was a shortage of good homes for rent in Belleville even fifteen years ago. Whenever a vacancy occurred there was a rush for the apartment or house which had been improved. In keeping with the improvements, rents were maintained at the proper levels. Included in the shortage also were structures which had not been improved and which were giving owners considerable concern because rents fell short of tax payments, interest, amortization, insurance and other expenses incidental to property owning.

Speaking of tough breaks—when a schoolboy's pajamas break—that is tough. Johnny—we'll call him that—a public school pupil detested the cold weather. He hated to rise and shine with the sun Tuesday morning, but with an effort did so, pajamas and all. He just put his clothes over top and hiked off to school. All went well until school assembly. Something broke as Johnny was called to the platform to recite and down around his shoe tops showed the tell-tale marks of what a well dressed school boy will wear if he feels cold.

Anne Santiglia Meehan, Local Soprano, To Sing At Concert

Anne Santiglia Meehan of 42 Parkview Avenue, will sing at a concert sponsored by L. Bamberger and Company, Saturday afternoon from 3:30 to 5 p.m., on the tenth floor of the store. Appearing on the program with her are several other pupils of Madame Anna Tripputi, Newark vocal teacher. Anne is a graduate of Belleville High School and the Juilliard School of Music in New York. She has been employed with the Prudential Life Insurance Company, Newark, for the past three years, and has also made television, radio and concert appearances. The winner of four plaques presented by the Griffith Music Foundation, she has been studying music for the past seven years.

ANOTHER REASON WHY...

YOU CAN BE SURE..IF IT'S Westinghouse

We close a refrigerator door 200,000 times just to test the door latch!

One of the reasons Westinghouse builds good appliances is because we know so much about the things that will tear them apart and wear them out.

In 10 years of average home use, our door latch would not have to stand nearly as much wear as it does in our 200,000-slam test, which takes only a few hours. Yet in the development and production stages, Westinghouse appliances go through many such tests. Some are far more severe than slamming.

Appliances that can pass such severe testing are bound to be good. Every test is another reason why you can be SURE... if it's Westinghouse.

TEST WITH A TWIST. Porcelain on ranges has to be tough, especially in corners of oven doors which are continually in use. To make sure the porcelain on Westinghouse electric ranges will last, we use this torsion tester. It twists a porcelain sample in a test far more severe than normal use.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE! Westinghouse engineers and home economists washed clothes for 30,000 hours during development of the Laundromat. Precise instruments tested every phase of mechanical performance.

LONG RAINY SPELL. How long can a Westinghouse electric clothes dryer operate continuously? These were working fine after tumbling clothes for 3,000 hours, equal to 10 years of normal operation, while hoses wet the garments as fast as they dried.

on SPORTS

by Warren Knight

There are three times each year that this reporter is always guaranteed a lousy chuckle and this year, after scrutinizing our source of merriment, a good belly laugh. We refer to the annual All County and All State selections for football, basketball and baseball conjured up by a member of a morning newspaper in Newark. As far as we know, the scribe we refer to doesn't see a single game all year, no less the schoolboys he names in action. Of course, it's impossible to see all the players and much of the selecting, for geographical and physical reasons, must be based on reports of correspondents. But it would seem feasible to take in a couple of games in the county and see how the game is being played and then compare the reports on players from other parts of the state with those you see around here.

The latest combines whipped up by the Newark stay-at-home reporter omit Charlie Travers from all its selections in the All State category, except in Group 4. How or why we don't know. Everyone recognized Travers as the key man on this great Bellboy team that barely missed a clean sweep of two titles. Another Newark newspaper nominated Charlie for its first team, one of the five best cagers in the state. The dooped-up version picker doesn't give the Bellboy ace a tumble. Inconsistent but under the circumstances, understandable. It's like a radio announcer describing a fight blindfolded.

Joe Grosso, former high school star athlete who excelled on the diamond and court, is one of the Montclair State Teachers College hurling hopes that make up what is fondly described as "the best team at MST in baseball history." Right now, the squad is on the road, and plays five games in the south this week. Grosso, a soph, is a big right-hander with speed. He's bucking a passel of veterans for a mound opportunity, but if he can control his hard one, might get into some real action, especially since the Teachers have a top-heavy slate this year. Joe twirled for Ed Berlinski here a couple of years back and was one of Jitty Wische's mainstays on the cage team.

When the hot rods smolder into action this Sunday at Ruppert Stadium, for the first time in Eastern stock car racing history the traditional green-colored flag will not be used to start the races. As a stimulant to the forthcoming American Cancer Society campaign, the official banner of the county chapter will be used. Special permission from the racing governing body was required before the white flag with blue letters, "Fight Cancer" and bearing the traditional red sword, could be used.

The "farm system" that goes a long way toward producing those Grade A high school cage combines closed another season recently. Presentation of prizes by the town recreation department, which comes under Commissioner Hyde's jurisdiction, marked the finish of another year in this beneficial program. Elementary schoolboys make up one section of the setup while junior youths in the 14-16 age bracket play in another. It's no hit-or-miss, haphazard affair, either. No less a personage than head basketball coach Jitty Wische supervises the Saturday morning turnout that numbers more than 100 enthusiastic youngsters. Jitty has the very able assistance of Ray Smith and Eddie Berlinski, a couple of courtmen who know their way around the hard-boards with the sphere in their mitts.

With this array of coaching talent, the graders learn fundamentals the right way. Spirited games are played under league rules and when the schedule is over, a champion is determined in each loop. The Bruins conduct the bunting in the junior circuit this year while No. 7 School picked up the marbles in the younger division. Gold basketballs were presented the juniors while No. 7 received a plaque emblematic of the title, both contributed by the recreation department.

Just so long as these loops continue to thrive, the Bellboys will continue to sport good records on the court. The old "farm" is sure paying dividends.

Dr. Gens To Address Parents' Group On Retarded Children

Dr. George W. Gens, speech pathologist at the Vineland Training School, will address the Essex Unit of the New Jersey Parents' Group for Retarded Children on Thursday, April 5th, at 8:15 p.m. Dr. Gens will talk on "Speech and the Mentally Retarded Child" and will present several of the recordings of speech rehabilitation. Parents and friends of retarded children are invited to the meeting which will be held in the West Side High School auditorium in Newark.

A graduate of the University of Michigan Dr. Gens has been chief language therapist at the Cushing General Hospital in Farmington, Mass. He is a member of the American Association on Mental Deficiency, the American Psychological Association and the American Speech and Hearing Association.

Biggest Squad In Years Out For Baseball Team

Plenty of Volumn. Says Berlinski In Describing Enthusiastic Candidates, Willing But Lacking In Experience

With the largest and most enthusiastic turnout of baseball candidates in many years, 70 in all, Coach Ed Berlinski, although not promising any titles, has a big diamond smile these days. The likable Bellboy tutor describes his prospects as having "plenty of volume" but the material aspects of the situation still remain to be seen.

Although lacking in veterans, only four lettermen are back, the Berl has hopes of putting a young, hustling team on the field. Even if they are a bit remiss on finesse, Berlinski is willing to lose a couple of games, as long as his team hustles. Never a lazy athlete himself, the coach likes to keep the boys on their collective toes.

Break On Weather

The weather hasn't been strictly conducive to baseball, but nevertheless it has been sunny, so outdoor workouts have been the order. Splitting the squad three ways, Berlinski has 25 varsity hopefuls under his wing, while Nelson McArthur, who replaced Naval Lieut. Joe Grosch as assistant coach, has the sophs and frosh drilling in another section of the field.

For the varsity, a couple of practice games are looming. Bloomfield Tech is down for a session with the Bellboys at Memorial Field, if the weatherman doesn't become too frivolous in this month of blustery winds. The Berl has worried the issuance of uniforms to date. With a limited number available, he is anxious for every aspirant to have a thorough trial.

May Juggle

Before the opening game comes up April 19, Berlinski may do some position juggling. For instance, Charlie Travers, No. 1 man on the basketball brigade and a good defensive backstop, may find himself coveting around second base. Big Bob "Bobo" Dilworth, slated to be the kingpin of the mound corps, has aspirations for full-time duty when not pitching and is casting covetous eyes at first base. His rival there will be another long guy by the name of Bob Smith, better known for his feats on the gridiron.

Over at shortstop, a pint-sized character traveling under the cognomen of Sam Graziano (no relation to that fisticuff man), is covering a lot of territory in the area assigned to the short fielder. Just about five feet high, young Sam the shortstop man may be a bit light with the willow in his hands, but it isn't beyond conception that the opposing hurlers would find it difficult getting the ball across the plate for Sam. That makes him a prominent candidate for the lead-off spot.

Experienced Outfield

For the hot corner, Vince Vitelli seems to have taken the edge and if he can deliver at the plate, could have a steady job at the three-quarter station.

Two veterans in the outer garden and a third fly-chaser with some varsity experience will be tough to oust. Mike Del Tufo, a good all-round performer, is set in center and Roger Hansen, portside, will find a berth in left or right. Tom Nisoviccia, husky youngster with the educated toe, looms as the third man in the outer vicinity of the diamond.

Cannonballs Boom To First In Grace Baptist Loop

Dropping two games from the first place Cannonballs, the Gutterballs broke up the three-way tie for second place. In the other matches, both the Spitballs and the Snowballs won two games to maintain the deadlock in second place. The Spitballs narrowly missed moving into undisputed second place when they were nosed out in their final game by one pin.

High individual game for the week was Bud Hageman's 202. The standings of the teams are as follows:

KLEMZ HAS BIG SERIES TO PACE WATCO PINNERS

Anchors Team With 650; Pru, Behind Canfield's 637, Wins a Pair

The last meeting of the Belleville Manufacturing "A" League was featured by the individual rolling of Bill Klemz of Wallace & Tierman with a series of 650 topped by a game of 257 and Ray Canfield of the Prudential A. A. with a series of 637 topped by a game of 246. The bigger series by Klemz enabled Watco to salvage the last game from Dodge, Inc., who were anchored by Bill Curran with a 580 set.

Canfield's series aided the Pru to take the odd game from runner-up Federal Leather. The leathermen took the last game by rolling 1010 to the insurance men's 988. Nipper topped by Jim Emody with 517 took two games from Hanlon & Goodman who were paced by Jim Murphy with 536. In the other match of the night Heinze took two games from Standard Arc-turus.

Nick Bonavita To Roll In Detroit Pin Classic

Nik Bonavita, former well-known athlete who performed for Belleville High a number of years ago, will be one of the Railway Express Company of Newark bowlers leaving for Detroit Friday night to participate in the national Railway Express pin tournament.

Travers Makes All State Team, McConnell On Second

Floor General, Sharpshooter Named One Of Best Five Players In State

Charley Travers, guiding light of the Belleville High cage team that wrote history this year, although failing to win a county or state title, was selected one of the five outstanding basketball players in the state last week by a leading Newark newspaper. The clever, five-foot-nine-inch senior's achievement added another chapter to the glorious feats written by the Bellboys, for Travers is the first Blue and Gold performer to make the coveted team.

Honors didn't stop here for Belleville. Right on Charley's heels came lanky Jim McConnell, whose excellent defensive play was overlooked by fans who are inclined to peruse only the scoring column. McConnell was a brilliant sharpshooter and teamed with Travers, formed what is probably the best 1-2 punch seen in many a year on a Belleville court.

Dilworth - a Prospect

Travers didn't have a host of assets. Besides being a smooth floor general, he could drive with the best when an opening presented itself. Enhancing his value was a sharp eye from outside and the majority of his 251 points compiled over the season came on sensational pop shots from beyond the foul circle.

Lost in the shuffle but an outstanding college prospect is Bob Dilworth. This worthy had few superiors under the boards and his six-foot-three-inches was utilized to its fullest advantage. Bobo made the third All County team, but had to take a back seat to the shiner duo of Travers and McConnell. However, in this age of big men dominating the collegiate cage scene, Dilworth looks like a real find for one of the better schools. Rumor has it several offers have come his way.

Says GEORGE GILL, Taxicab Fleet Operator, Red Bank, New Jersey

"When five standard Dodge sedans cover a million miles you begin to realize what Dodge dependability means. Four of our Dodges are still going strong. One, after 100,000 miles, was finally retired from service. All these miles were safe, dependable, comfortable miles for our passengers—amazingly economical and trouble-free miles for us."

Depend on it! This great new Dodge will see you thru the long pull ahead!

IN TIMES like these, it pays to own a car you know is engineered through and through to stand up better, serve you longer at lower cost.

That's why we suggest you drive the car whose reputation for dependability... for long life, ruggedness and stamina is recognized the world over.

Styled to the minute, extra roomy with wonderful new "watchtower" visibility, more comfortable to ride in, easy to park and handle—this year's great new Dodge is the car to see you through the long pull ahead.

Spend 5 Minutes With Us

Come in today. Five minutes is all it takes to check and compare... to learn how much more Dodge dependability can mean to you. We'll be glad to show how you could pay up to $1,000 more for a car and still not get all the extra room, ease of handling and rugged dependability of today's big Dodge.

Looking Back at SPORTS

Five Years Ago

A belated spurt carried Team 6 into the lead in the Fewsmith Men's Club bowling league. The leaders had 37 wins and 23 losses, and were trailed by Team 2, 10 who had 37 and 26. The race was close and any of the first six teams were in a position to capture the bunting for the season. High scores for the month March were recorded by Team 6, 10, who had high single game, 1,081; Team No. 2, high three-game series, 2,865; and individual game went to Sam Taylor Sr., with a 236 score.

The Wood Choppers trimmed the Holy Rollers in a two out of three series to maintain their lead in the Grace Church Men's Club bowling league. The Atomic Bombers, by virtue of a game sweep over the Mudiggers, went into undisputed possession of second place.

The Amvets baseball team, entered in the Essex County Baseball league, planned to hold their first practice session at the municipal stadium. Under the management of Jack McHugh and Tommy Dunn, semi-pro baseball made a welcome return.

Ten Years Ago

The Recreation Department basketball quintets were in the midst of a play-off whirl which could decide the town championship. The week was replete with thrilling tilts, principally in the Junior League where the Haffner boys in an exciting first round play-off game edged by the strong Belleville Rosary lads 2-1. The tussle between the Haffners and the Rosary boys was the third game of the year. The candy kids hopped off to an early lead, holding a 13-4 edge at the end of the first period. But the Rosary lads showed that they were made of stern stuff, coming back in the second period to out-score the Haffner quintet 1-1. The lead see-sawed in the final two periods with the Rosary boys apparently having the game sewed up with forty seconds to go when they led 38-34. Like a bolt out of the blue, the Haffners' high scoring guard, "Luke" Plenge came out of no place to tie the game into overtime. Johnny Calicchio fouled Plenge in the extra period and the Rosary-eyed guard dropped in his last shot to break the deadlock and send the Haffners into the lead 39-38.

The North boys breezed into the championship spotlight when they defeated the Wallace and German five, winners of the Industrial League campaign, 36-25, at the Friendly House. The triumph of the North Belleville boys surprised many since they were not reckoned to be strong enough to take the measure of the factory circuit kings.

The Pirates were the winners over the Starlings in an Intermediate League second round tilt, winning 33-32. Joiner's even dozen points set the pace for the winners.

Fifteen Years Ago

The high stepping Esposito Association marched on to the Belleville American Legion bowling league title at Ferrara's alleys by defeating the Derbyshire Association for two out of three games. As the Lawlor's

Proudly displaying the plaque emblematic of the elementary school basketball championship for all and sundry to see is the team from School No. 7, who will hang the trophy contributed by the town recreation department in the halls of the Passaic Avenue school of learning. The champs compiled a record of 13 victories and only one loss in their march to the crown. In the first row, left to right: Ray Amato, Captain Perry "Canute" Mayers, Mario Grafo and Bob Arata. In the rear: Charles Cerami, Bob Costelli and Joseph Mignone. Mrs. Catherine Hardwick, principal of School No. 7, accepted the plaque recently at a school assembly from Deputy Director of Parks Lampman, who pinch-hit for Commissioner Hyde.

Tavern won the odd game in their grudge match with the second place Lee's Tavern, the Esposito increased their lead to an eight-game margin and firmly glued themselves to top place honors. Frank Gripp of the leaders chalked up the scoring spotlight of the evening, tallying a 266 marker in his second game.

Lead-off man Gill clouted the pins for a new record to permit the Montgomery Presbyterians to clip the Belleville Church Bowling League leaders, the Fewsmith Men's Club, for two out of three games. The Montgomery star roller set up a new high scoring mark in the second game then he tallied a 258 marker and hit a 221 score in his initial game to enable his team to annex the first two games.

Walloping their rivals, the Elmers' Tavern, for three straight games, the Lee's Tavern virtually sewed the lid on the Belleville Tavern loop race at Ferrara's. The Lee's were conceded to win the crown by a walk as there were only four more meetings of the circuit and the pace setters had a wide ten-game margin. Johnny Lamb of the Home stretch Tavern stepped into the limelight when he blasted the woods for a 290 tally to post up a new high individual score mark of the league.

The second team of the Youngster Naval Patrol defeated the basketball team of Sea Scout Ship 588, George Fried, 23 to 21, at Veteran's Hall, but lost to the DeMolay Jayvees, 23 to 19.

The Tee's Tavern and the Lawlor's Tavern, teams represented in the American Legion bowling league, continued their pin rivalry into the twelfth annual Essex County bowling championships at Ferrara's. The Lee's leading the Class A five-man team division with a total of

CYO TO SPONSOR ESSAY CONTEST

Archbishop Will Present The Awards To Winners At June Radio Program

Entries in the fourth annual essay contest being sponsored by the Essex County CYO are due at the county office by March 31. It has been revealed by Rev. John J. Kiley, county moderator. The contest is open to boys and girls in the eighth grade of Catholic grammar schools and to all students in Catholic high schools. Each grammar school and each high school will submit two entries—the best boys' and the best girls' essays from those turned in.

Topic chosen for this year's contest is "The Child: Citizen of Two Worlds." The subject matter was the theme for the annual letter issued by the American Bishops and contestants may base their articles on material contained in the letter. Copies of the letter may be procured from the CYO.

Four winners—a boy and a girl in both the grammar and high school divisions—will be chosen by a trio of judges. The Most Rev. Thomas J. Walsh, Archbishop of Newark, will award medals to the winners at ceremonies during the CYO's final radio broadcast in June. Runners-up will receive honorable mention certificates.

Cub Pack 375 Celebrates

St. Peter's Cub Pack No. 375 honored St. Patrick in poem, song and story at a monthly meeting held last Friday night. Parents and committee members were present. Emmett Malloy, cubmas-

Smith, Hank Bohrer and Carl Wittish. Riccio played best for the Tigers. Much played a nice passing game for the Hawks.

The strong Republican Club bowling quintet, which took first honors by seven games in the completed American Legion campaign, won the lion's share of the individual and team honors as well. Charley Tate, the captain of their team, was returned victor in the battle for individual high average with a brilliant season average of 195.33. His closest rival, a fellow Republican roller, Willie Hammacher, had 190.12 as his net. Bill Buttons of the El Club with 188.4 took third honors away from another G. O. P. man, Maginness. The latter copped fourth place with his 187.49 seasonal record. Mike DeCarlo of the Moose was the final representative in the Big Five with a 187.29 count.

The Belleville Elks' pinners wound up their activities in the Morris and Essex League, at the local alleys with a championship gesture. With double century scores abounding they scored a notable two out of three triumph over the Community Club of Englewood as their parting flourish.
