ATHLETIC COUNCIL ELECTS ZIEGLER TO PRESIDENCY

Kittle Is Vice President; Reserved Season Tickets For Adults This Fall

At the organization meeting of the Belleville Athletic Council Monday, Harry Ziegler was elected president for the ensuing year. High school principal Hugh D. Kittle was named to the vice presidency.

It was the initial meeting of the Council following a recent shake-up, when the entire appointive personnel changed. Ziegler was nominated by school board president Eugene Kelly to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Roy Dickinson. Other new Council members are Frank Spotts, Victor Pomponio and Werner Tietze. The latter three replaced Thomas Delaney, former president of the Council; Henry Watters and Henry Minasian.

Pigskin Problem

Discussed at some length by the Council was the high school football situation. Several members advanced the theory that the town may not be completely football-conscious as are some of the neighboring communities. A drop in attendance last fall prompted the query into the pigskin picture. One of the solutions offered was the establishment of a reserved seat section for adults, on a seasonal ticket basis. The recommendation would set up about 1,000 seats in the Municipal Stadium.

A report on rowing by coach Bill Bennett was received favorably by the Council. Bennett outlined the season's prospects and cited the schedule, the best in the school's history.

Lights Way In Darkness

Every day, people in all walks of life, "those who have eyes to see, but see not," have trouble in adjusting to minor difficulties, but Theresa Torcivia, who cannot see, yet sees many things, has had the courage to surmount of the greatest of obstacles.

Blind since she was a child, Miss Torcivia, has resided in Belleville for eight years. She lives alone in a two room apartment, does all her own cooking, washing, and house-keeping. Her favorite recipes—chicken, dumplings, and layer cakes. When asked how she manages to do her own cooking, Theresa said that she measures everything by touch and taste, times things with her Braille wrist watch and lights the stove with a match. "Of course," she explained, "I have to put the match under the faucet when I'm through to make certain that it's out."

Miss Torcivia also revealed that she does her own ironing by feel.

Appointed to Annapolis

Smiling young man in the middle is high school senior Jack McNish, being congratulated by Public Works Director Patrick Waters on the left and Congressman Peter W. Rodino Jr. on the right. Rodino announced that McNish had won an appointment to the United States Naval Academy, finishing first in a competitive examination.

Congressman Peter W. Rodino, Jr., 10th Congressional District, today announced the appointment of John McNish of 31 Malone Avenue of this town to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. McNish finished first in competitive examination for the appointment. Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, who will presently be acting Mayor of Belleville, was instrumental in having McNish take the examination for this appointment.

Congressman Rodino stated that he was very pleased to make the appointment in the Town of Belleville and especially of a young man of the high character and intelligence of young McNish.

The future admiral has been prominent in school life and compiled an outstanding record. Last week, he was chosen as the outstanding boy in Belleville by the Belleville Lodge of Elks. Previously, he had won a Naval scholarship in the NROTC through a competitive examination.

DESCRIBES CANCER AS A CHALLENGE

Chairman Wadsworth Cites Statistics Showing Dread Disease Gaining

The rallying cry of the current Cancer Crusade in Belleville is a triple slogan which Douglas Wadsworth, local chairman of the drive to raise $7,500 during April, describes as "a challenge to everyone."

"Guard your family . . . strike back! Give to conquer cancer," has been adopted as the American Cancer Society's official appeal, appearing on literature and posters being distributed as a key activity in the local campaign. "In a residential community such as ours, we are particularly

ENGINEERS' GROUP HOLDS SEMINAR ON CIVIL DEFENSE

Professional Organization In New York Outlines Technical Details

A seminar on civil defense training and techniques was held last week at the Engineers' Society Building in New York City, sponsored by the Civilian Protection group of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. Max N. Schwartz, director of the local civil defense section on public education, attended the meeting, which was marked by a series of lectures and demonstrations by experts in various fields of CD work.

Representatives from branches of military service together with security and plant protection officers from many leading industries attended the seminar. General Motors, Du Pont and others were among the larger firms with delegations on hand while the entire Defense Council committee from New York City was present.

Valuable Tips

Schwartz announced yesterday that technical instruction on air raid shelters and biological warfare, revealed at the seminar, have been transmitted to Thomas Greco and Edwin Weill, directors of these two branches of the local CD Council. Future meetings of the Society, according to Defense Coordinator Kenneth Smith, will be attended by chairmen from the CD

Community Chest Gives $150 Emergency Aid To USO

An emergency allocation of $150 to the USO was approved this week by Community Chest officials. The action was taken at the regular monthly meeting, according to President Evan Thomas.

The $150 is in addition to the $200 allotted the USO from the regular distribution of chest funds. Thomas explained that steady expansion of the armed forces had forced the USO to increase its services and it was in recognition of this fact that the Community Chest was making the appropriation.

Little League Baseball To Start Here

Recreation Department Will Sponsor Four-Team League For Younger Boys

Little League baseball, providing youngsters in the 8 to 12-year-old age bracket an opportunity to play the national pastime under supervised guidance, will make its debut in Belleville this year. Sponsored by the town recreation department under the supervision of Parks and Property Director Elmer S. Hyde, the program that has been sweeping the country in many areas is slated to get under way here next month, when tryouts will be held at Clearman Field.

A film, "This Is Little League," is being shown in all Belleville schools within the next two weeks, through the co-operation of schools supervisor Wayne Farmer and general schools principal Evan Thomas. The Board of Education has already approved the use of Clearman Field for a cut-down, reduced-size diamond. There will be four teams in the league, playing under rules and regulations

Narcotic Addicts Becoming No.1 Criminal Menace

Rotarians Hear Assistant Prosecutor Giuliano Tell Of Vicious Practice

Narcotic violators have become the No. 1 headache for law enforcement agencies and the menace must be stamped out. This was the theme of an address by Assistant Essex County Prosecutor James Giuliano to the Belleville Rotary Club yesterday at the regular meeting of the club. Giuliano said the narcotic question has broken wide open and marked by sharp increases cited in cold, glaring figures, poses a real threat to Federal, State, County and law-abiding levels.

A forceful speaker, Giuliano spoke frankly in pointing to the root of the trouble. Easy entry into New York, lack of sufficient Treasury agents to keep the distribution under control and the existence of many slum areas in the metropolitan area were cited by the assistant prosecutor. He told the service club that cases in Newark court have revealed women mortgaging homes to obtain money to buy dope while others have turned to prostitution and robbery when they're unable to buy the "junk."

Not Enough Inspectors

Giuliano asserted there were 800 ports of entry on the New York waterfront alone, permitting smugglers to bring dope into the States from Greece, Italy, Turkey and South America. To meet this large avenue of admittance, there are only 600 wharf and dock inspectors in the entire country.

One of the prime concerns among agencies here is to check the sharp upturn in juvenile dope addicts. According to the assistant prosecutor, Judge Lindeman in Juvenile Court claims a 400 per cent increase in narcotic bases that appear before him. Giuliano told the Rotarians that it would surprise no one if the percentage rate indicated an even greater increase. Although no evidence has turned up indicating it has taken hold in high schools in this area, Giuliano issued a warning that diligent care must be exercised to prevent the influx in schools. He charged parents with a responsibility to report any noticeable change in appearance or actions of children.

Expensive Habit

Fabulous sums of money change hands among the "junk" peddlers, said Giuliano. Heroin, most commonly used by dope addicts, is bought for about $30 an ounce in the pure stage. Cut and recut as it goes through various hands, milk sugar is used to dilute the mixture. Often, addicts will buy what is reputedly a "shot", but turns out to be "phony" due to the many cuts. Some peddlers have been known to sell milk sugar without any heroin in the mixture. The cutting process will enable a peddler to realize several hundred dollars profit from the original ounce of heroin.

Hardest hit by the narcotic trade has been Negro populations in slum

Pennies In Parking Meters May Pay For Off-Street Lots

Litvany Bill Now Before Assembly Would Make Such Use Mandatory

The pennies that you drop in the town's parking meters may buy off-street parking plazas to solve all our traffic congestion problems if a bill now before the State Assembly is ever voted.

Endorsement of the bill was sounded yesterday by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce. The organization met this week and agreed to contact the Essex County Assembly delegation and urge passage of the bill.

Support Parking Lots

The Chamber has been a strong supporter of off-street parking. At the inception of the body, one of its primary platforms was the establishment of town-owned parking areas to relieve congestion in shopping areas.

The bill has been introduced by Assemblyman William Litvany, of Bloomfield and has been endorsed by the Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce and business groups.

Commission To Act On Five Ordinances Tuesday

Five ordinances will come up for second and third reading Tuesday before the Town Commission. They include the expenditure of $5,600 for a new business machine; $21,000 for street repairs and water mains; $1,200 for new pressure gauges at the town garage; and $1,500 for paving the parking lot in the rear of the Town Hall. The business machine will be installed in the revenue and finance department. Its principal function is to handle the change-over from a twice-monthly payroll for municipal employees to a weekly basis.

Among the guest speakers will be Assembly candidates William Barnes, Neil Duffy and Thomas Tompkins. Richard Bonomo, selected to succeed Clayton Freeman on the Board of Freeholders by the Republicans, will also be present.

LEONARD RESIGNS FROM ZONE BOARD

Will Devote Time To Post In Civilian Defense; Had Served Six Years

Announcement of the resignation of James Leonard from the Board of Adjustment was made this week. Public Affairs Director King said he will probably appoint a successor within a week or ten days.

Leonard, active in civic affairs, said yesterday he resigned to devote more time to civilian defense. He is director of Air Raid Warden Services and has been instrumental in devising a comprehensive plan for his section.

A life-long resident of town, Leonard was named to the Zoning Board six years ago by former Commissioner Raymond E. Mertz. For the past year, he has been president of the board. Leonard is employed at Tiffany and Company in North Newark, and resides with his family at 25 Bridge Street.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board tonight, Morgan D. Sammis is expected to act as president. Other members of the board are Fred Fischer, Alexander Ross and Vincent Del Guercio.

Extend Red Cross Drive

With less than 50 per cent of the $26,402 goal realized, the Red Cross, through general chairman Paul M. Kelley, announced yesterday that the fund campaign has been extended for two weeks. Drive authorities, at a meeting this week, revealed that sickness had delayed many workers from carrying out volunteer assignments and that numerous residents had not been approached as yet for contributions. A concerted, all-out drive to reach every home will take place within the next 10 days, said Kelley.

Reporting on the drive's progress, the chairman said $12,842 had been raised. Not only has the campaign fallen far short of the goal, but it is still behind last year.

Committee reports were given by house-to-house chairman Harry J. Sullivan, director of public safety; Edwin Lambrecht, disaster and relief service leader; and Evan Thomas, in charge of advanced gifts. All urged co-operation with the drive and cited the important role Red Cross plays in community life, particularly in time of disaster.

Alexander A. Ross has been appointed chairman of the Belleville Division of the 1951 United Jewish Appeal of Essex County. It was announced this week by Gustav P. Heller, UJA chairman of the suburbs.

Ross announced that the annual community breakfast would be held at Congregation A.A.A., 317 Washington Avenue on Sunday, April 8th. The documentary will be shown.

In accepting appointment, Ross stated:

DENIES REFERENCE TO SECRETARY IN SALARY PROTEST

Spokesman Refutes Story In Times-News But Citizens' Group Maintains Stand

Stephen F. Martin, spokesman for a citizens' group who criticized the revised salary guide before the Town Commission last week, told The Times-News that references made to the secretary of the mayor were not included in the statement he made to the board. The Times-News had printed the statement in its original form, but a late deletion, according to Martin, had stricken all references to the mayor's secretary from his remarks.

Says Remarks Stand

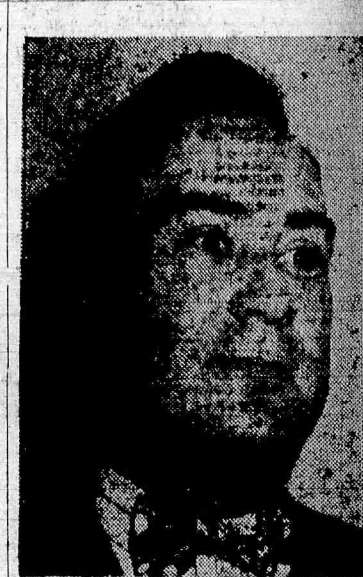

Yesterday, Ben Rabin of 10 Melwex Street, who claims to have been instrumental in forming the group, said the citizens' organization had agreed to remove the part in question from the statement in order to avoid a controversy. However, Rabin said that at a meeting Monday, the group unanimously agreed that the story in The Times-News reflected the true opinions of the group who objected to certain maximum salaries in the ordinance, that is now a law on the town books. He also said that Martin was not present at the Monday meeting.

Two weeks ago, in The Times-News, the same organization sponsored a paid advertisement that made specific reference to a secretary's position. It was Rabin who gave the original statement to The Times-News and it included the remarks referring to the mayor's secretary.

The remarks, in their original form, said: "There is a serious question in our minds as to whether it is necessary to have such a position as secretary to the mayor. This is based on the fact that such positions were abolished when economy was adhered to." In the closing section of the statement, it said: "There was considerable doubt in our minds that the position of secretary to the mayor is necessary one and there is grave suspicion now in our minds that

Fidelity Officer

William J. Goodair

Fidelity Union Trust Company took over the banking services at its new Belleville branch Monday morning, when the former First National Bank began operations under the management of the Newark fiduciary institution.

Bank executives who became Fidelity Union officers at the same time Frank J. McFadden, formerly executive vice-president and William J. Goodair, former cashier, who were given the post of second vice-presidents as assistant cashiers J. Howard M. Master and Joseph Howley, who became assistant managers. All have served with the local bank for a number of years.

15th County Bank

Horace K. Corbin, president of Fidelity Union, announced formally the changeover, at the close of business last Friday for operations which since 1906 have been conducted by The First National Bank of Belleville. The Belleville office of Fidelity Union continues in the premises of the First National at 144 Washington Avenue, which became the 15th unit in Essex County for New Jersey's largest banking institution.

As a sequel to negotiations of more than a month ago, stockholders of the Belleville bank at a special meeting Tuesday, March 27, approved the sale of the bank to Fidelity Union. In the transfer Fidelity Union assumed all deposits and similar liabilities of the Belleville institution. The Newark bank also takes on various officers and all active personnel, with full credit for service under Fidelity Union's employee pension plan.

Acquisition of the Belleville bank increased Fidelity Union's deposits about $12,000,000. Fidelity Union now has ten Newark offices, three in East Orange, one in Irvington and one in Belleville.

Bride-Elect

Miss Claire Winfield

Mrs. Catherine Winfield of 238 Ralph Street has announced the betrothal of her daughter, Claire, to Edward Klimovich, son of Karl Klimovich of Montville and the late Mrs. Klimovich.

The bride-elect, an alumna of Belleville High School, is with the Federal Leather Co. of Belleville. A graduate of Boonton High School, Mr. Klimovich is employed by E. F. Drew and Co., Boonton. He served with the Navy during World War II.

The bride wore a gown of white organdy with an applied collar of daisies. Her French illusion veil fell from a white organdy cap and she carried lilies of the valley on a white prayer book. Pennies toward reducing traffic and parking problems. Literature contends the revenue, paid by shoppers and motorists, should be diverted for their benefit and not be construed as another town tax for general expenditures.

In 1949, Belleville realized $11,814 from the meters which extend along Washington Avenue. According to Town Treasurer Sargeant, an amount of $11,500 has been anticipated in the 1951 budget by Mayor Tully, finance director, as revenue from the meters. Prior to the meters part of 1949, the meters were established in a two-block area, between Williams Street and Rutgers Street. At that time, 400 additional meters were installed along the Avenue, at a cost of $24,426.

Back of Town Hall

One of the sites suggested for an off-street parking area is a strip of land behind the Town Hall that runs from Belleville Avenue to Rutgers Street. The Chamber of Commerce proposed this but no action was ever taken by the town commission.

Only one facility has been made available for parking. The Belleville branch of Fidelity Union, formerly the First National Bank, constructed a parking lot in the rear of the bank. It is used by bank patrons only during business hours but open to the public after banking hours and on weekends.

Narcotics

areas. Recently two reportedly big-time operators were sent to the clink for long terms, thus smashing a vicious ring in the Newark area. Eliza Coleman is now pondering his misdeeds over a five to seven year stretch while J. C. Barnes went up for 6-10 years for peddling dope.

Female Peddlers

Giuliano said police records uncovered some amazing facts about Coleman. In one instance, he set up a girl as a distributor, starting on a small scale. In a comparatively short time, she was selling $1,000 worth of drugs each week and received a salary of $100. One Federal agent estimated it cost $30,000 in man-hours before Coleman was apprehended.

Many narcotic cases have all the effects of a weird mystery story. Police, more often than not, will assume the role of a "hophead" and consort with the known "junkies" in order to procure evidence. Picking up the addicts isn't too difficult, because they can be spotted almost instantaneously by the experienced eye. But the police are more anxious to lay hands on the seller and that isn't easy. Many of the peddlers in this area pick up the "stuff" in New York from virtually unknown characters, who are met in bars, hallways and street corners and are known only as "Mr. Brown" and just plain "Joe," stated the prosecutor's assistant.

Head T-Men

Giuliano inferred that much more effective work in checking the menace could be made if there were more T-men, or Treasury Department officers. Only two men are assigned to the entire state, said Giuliano. In Newark, the narcotic squad has been reactivated, with seven men working full time where only three had been assigned. In addition, 48 plainclothesmen, all of the vice squad, spent considerable time chasing down the dope-finders.

Convictions in Newark have risen sharply the last nine months, said the guest speaker. One-year sentences have been meted out to 48 addicts; one got nine months; 45, six months; 16, three months; 48 went on probation and seven were granted suspended sentences. One woman went to Clinton Reformatory.

There are snipers, snifters and another group called 'main liners' said Giuliano. "The 'main-liners' are the most serious, actually eating the skin to inject the dope into the blood stream and thus get high, anything can happen. We must extend every effort to catch one of the most heinous crimes on the books."

Mr. and Mrs. John Carlough Return From New Orleans

Past Presidents Club Attends Theatre Party; Trommels and Daughter Guests at Dinner; Rev. T. Hanson Honored at Supper

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Carlough of 143 Forest Street have just returned from a two-week motor trip to New Orleans. The couple drove down the east coast via Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia. While in this area they visited Monticello and Oak Ridge, Tenn. Reaching Florida they went across the Gulf to New Orleans and while in the Gulf region toured the Beringarth Gardens. Arriving in Mississippi, the Carloughs went on the Natchez Pilgrimage and visited the anti-bellum homes. They also stopped at Norris Dam.

For recreation Theresa goes to the movies. She prefers a picture with a good story to it, and thinks that the "Seventh Veil" was one of the best movies for people who are blind. Accompanied by friends, she even attended the Easter show at Radio City Music Hall. Like most people Miss Torevia goes to the shore on her vacation. She has a subscription to the Reader's Digest which is printed in Braille, and has read "Gone With the Wind." "I should read more," she added.

Interested in Styles

Extremely interested in the latest styles, Theresa shops with friends. She tells them what color and model she prefers, then they tell her whether it is becoming. Her gray gauding suit was in excellent taste.

When asked what she remembers seeing from childhood, before losing her sight, Theresa replied, "The gardens. Even now I love flowers, especially roses."

FOR THOUSANDS OF G. I.'S EVERY DAY

Captain Fred M. Goshen, U.S.A., is Post Signal Officer at Camp Kilmer, and a veteran of World War II. His fine cooperation with Joseph R. Chouk of Plainfield, New Jersey Bell's special Representative at Camp Kilmer, makes smooth operation of the "Telephone Center" possible.

• Have you ever known a Service man or woman who didn't want to talk to the "home folks" by Long Distance? One of New Jersey Bell's most urgent jobs is to provide facilities for making these morale-building calls. This requires manpower and equipment. For instance, the Telephone Center at Camp Kilmer alone has as many switchboard positions as would be needed to serve a housing development of 1500 homes.

• Hundreds of Defense plants also require additional Telephone service. New Jersey Bell is glad to report that the construction program started in 1945 makes it possible to meet these emergency needs promptly, while continuing to give you good service. Much more, of course, remains to be done to serve those waiting for service and the thousands who apply each month. It is being done as fast as scarce materials are available.

TO HELP SPEED YOUR LONG DISTANCE CALLS—and those of service men—please give the operator the out-of-town number.

Wood Smoke

The smell of wood smoke in the air means Spring is here!
In towns it is a sign of Fall,
But not at all here in the country. Leaves keep warm
The nooks and crannies—safe from harm the flower beds.
Wind sweeps the lawn.
But when the young shoots start we rake and burn—
Fields too—unthrifty—so they say;
But anyway it's a grand sight at dusk to see
The fire-lines creeping up the hill along the rock-walls
Where the brush will give more fodder to the flame.
That's when you smell the wood smoke most—
That's Spring again!

—C. M. Schmid.

Putting Our Meters to Work

Long-standing reticence toward off-street, town-owned parking lots, an attitude that has dominated the municipal governing body for too many years, may be splintered by a bill presently in the State Assembly, if the bill ever gets out of committee and on the floor for a vote. Introduced by Assemblyman Litvany from Bloomfield and Essex's GOP delegation, the measure would divert pennies and nickels from parking meters directly to a fund that would pay for off-street parking areas.

The bill's sponsor offers a logical argument. His contention is that meters should not be considered a means of revenue for the town, but be expended to relieve traffic problems.

Whether Belleville is worse off than some of its neighbors on the parking question is debatable, but the situation here remains serious. Police on traffic duty during rush hours and weekend shopping periods have their hands full in the congested area from the Post Office to Mill Street. Merchants are fully aware that some business goes to other towns that do have parking facilities. How much no one knows, but if it could be measured, might reveal some startling figures.

Only drastic action could meet the local problem. There is little land available within a reasonable distance of the business center. If off-street parking were instituted, it would mean condemnation of existing properties that eventually must fall before the inevitable march of progress. That is, if progress is to continue to march in Belleville.

April Showers Bring Spring Flowers ... and Smashups!

April showers may appeal to poets who see only that they bring Spring flowers, but they constitute a definite traffic peril about which every highway user should be concerned. It is a matter of record that there were 1,440 accidents and seven fatalities last April in New Jersey during rainstorms.

Some motorists drive in the rain in the same manner as in dry, clear weather although in wet weather they should make allowances for slippery pavements and blurred vision. Rainy weather is important to the pedestrian as well. In using an umbrella they can shield themselves from the rain but block their own visibility and walk into an injury or death. The problem of traffic safety, with its useless casualties, will not be solved until the driver understands his responsibility as the operator of a high-powered, high-speed vehicle and the pedestrian his responsibility for obeying all the rules enacted for his protection.

trian his responsibility for obeying all the rules enacted for his protection.

Nobody Can Beat the Republicans But the Republicans

Next year in Presidential Election year, it is our conclusion, nobody can beat the Republicans but the Republicans.

The Administration is on the defensive; the Democratic Party is split three ways on questions of policies and of official morals. The whole "Fair Deal" political pattern has been ripped to pieces by the scandals of the past few weeks and already there are signs of political disintegration of the party which has been in power too long.

Washington is aghast at the political scandals that the Kefauver and the Fulbright investigations have uncovered. Everyone realizes that this is but a beginning and that before the Senate is finished with its self-appointed job of looking into things and publishes its conclusions it will take more than a little whitewash to hide the unsavory mess.

Washington is aghast, too, at the Administration's inaction as the ink clouds of the inflationary storm accumulate. Can we get through the next six months of inflation without financial bankruptcy? Will Congress do what the Truman Administration is unwilling or unable to do and curb domestic spending to help pay for our mobilization?

We must distinguish, always, between the Administration's domestic policies and Congress' bi-partisan position on mobilization and foreign policy. The Truman gang dictates the former; Congress dictates the latter.

The defense mobilization agencies have performed a miracle. For the first time since the too-swift demobilization at the end of World War II we are gaining in strength and influence faster than in Red Russia. By 1953, we will attain a parity; after that, if war holds off, we will have won our $50,000,000,000-a-year project of saving the peace.

ECA, the Marshall Plan Agency, is clean and efficient. The Defense Department, led by two Republicans and a professional soldier, Robert A. Lovett, Thomas K. Finletter and General George Marshall, is doing a grand job. The management of our mobilization effort is non-partisan, with the reins held by two Republicans, Eric Johnston and Charles E. Wilson.

So much for the non-political agencies.

Alas it is not the same for the purely political services of the Administration, wallowing in the muck of influence peddling—the R. F. C., the State Department, the White House staff. The return of William O'Dwyer to the U. S. Embassy in Mexico City sets the political tone, alas, of our State Department. Why could he not take "sick leave" until the question of that $10,000 "gift", which Crane says he gave him in a red envelope on the porch of Gracie Mansion, is cleared up.

The full impact of all the investigations is felt by the Democratic Party because it is the responsibility. Right now the party is split three ways: the Truman wing personified by the Dawson-Graham-Vaughan coalition; the Dixiecrat wing led by ex-Secretary of State Governor Jimmy Byrnes, and the Reform wing personified by Douglas-Kefauver-Fulbright.

Six months ago, Truman could have been his party's candidate if he had wanted to, or, if he preferred to step out, he could have named and nominated his Kentucky pal, Chief Justice Fred A. Vinson. Today, Senator Douglas of Illinois stands an excellent chance as power within the party shifts to the reform wing. We have not heard the last of the mink coats in the White House closet.

With the Democratic party split three ways, nothing, normally, could prevent the Republicans from recapturing the White House this time. But, alas, the Republicans, too, are split right down the middle on foreign affairs and on mobilization. The feuding between the Hoovers, the Tafts, the Deweys and the Stassens is bound to hurt in '52.

Nobody can beat the Republicans but the Republicans themselves. R. E. H.

ONE MAN'S OPINION ...

Russia Showed in Paris This Week That She
Fears the Atlantic Pact, the Marshall Plan
And the Schumann Coal-Steel Pool

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

In Paris this week, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko demanded that the Western deputies agree to add to the agenda of a future Foreign Ministers "cold-war" conference items of discussion concerning, 1, the Atlantic Pact, and, 2, the creation of American military bases in England, Norway, Iceland and in other countries of Europe and the Near East. Russia, thereby, tipped her hand.

At Lake Success this week the United Nations moved another step ahead with plans for setting up sanctions machinery for use against a defined aggressor in any future war. The sanctions would be military, economic and financial, as well as moral. Foreseen as possible sanctions are trade boycotts, severance of financial relations, arms embargoes and military action against an aggressor. The idea is to isolate any future aggressor from the rest of the community of nations. Russia did not even bother to object.

It is obvious that Russia fears the realism of the Atlantic Pact and the menace of American naval and air bases on the European continent, more than it fears a possible threat of trade boycotts, financial severance or arms embargoes. Russia and her satellites are nearly self-sufficient economically. We trade next to nothing with the lands behind the Iron Curtain; they get no dollars now, hence financial sanctions or a trade boycott would change nothing. Planes carrying A-bombs from bases one or two hours flight of the Iron Curtain are a far more material menace. Russia is worried on that score.

Moscow must be worried, too, by the trend in Western Europe towards a European Payments Union. It will be a corollary to the integrated European army which is coming into being under the supreme command of General Eisenhower and to the Schuman Plan, initiated a few days ago by Western Germany, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg, pooling the coal and steel industries of the six nations without regard for national boundaries.

It is another real threat which the Russians can understand.

Victim List Grows
"Even more significant are the statistics which show cancer deaths gaining every year. If the present rates continue, one out of every five residents of our community eventually will be a cancer victim. Over the years, cancer will develop in every other home in our town."

"Thus, we should realize the validity of the Cancer Society's warnings. Guard your family. Half of those who develop cancer could and should be cured by early diagnosis and prompt treatment. For the other half, cancer research is a race for life itself. Thus, by contributing to the current Cancer Crusade... which finances the educational and research projects needed to cover these two categories... local residents will be actively protecting their own families from this scourge."

GOP Women State Mock Session In Legislature

Mrs. Ruth Fredericks, Local County Committee Figure, Will Present Bill

A "Mock Session" of the New Jersey State Legislature, sponsored by the Women's State Republican Club of New Jersey, will be staged today in the Assembly Chamber in Trenton. Hundreds of women from all parts of the state will descend on the Capitol to participate in the program.

One of the "mock bills" to be introduced at the session is being sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Fredericks, local resident and vice-chairman of the Belleville GOP County Committee. Acting in the capacity of an Assemblyman for the day, Mrs. Fredericks will submit a bill on veterans' affairs. It calls for enacting a measure whereby Mothers of deceased veterans, when mothers are the closest surviving next-of-kin, be entitled to the same tax exemption as now given to widows of deceased veterans.

Would Aid Mothers
Mrs. Fredericks' bill refers to the $500 tax exemption on real and personal property now given widows of deceased veterans. In explaining the bill, Mrs. Fredericks said many servicemen never married and on the contention they would have been aiding in the support of their mothers had they survived, the exemption should be extended to surviving mothers. According to Mrs. Fredericks, the bill has received the backing of veterans', civic and patriotic organizations throughout the state.

The session, open to the public, will permit representatives on the floor and visitors in the gallery to participate in discussions of proposed "mock bills."

Mrs. Alfred R. Driscoll, wife of the Governor, will open the meeting.

The foregoing comprised the portion that Martin said was deleted at the meeting.
Rabin said his group was not discouraged by the rebuff given their requests by the commission. He asserted there seemed little point in citizens who elect public officials protesting actions on municipal matters when the same elected officials ignore recommendations or suggestions. Despite this, he claims his group will continue to fight for economical government.

Not the least of the Great Weapons of War is electricity.

America's enemy knows that beyond the atom bomb, there are forces against him that bear watching. Among them is electricity and the know-how to put it to work.

Public Service is concerned with making electricity even a stronger force than it is now. The company has always been in front of New Jersey's needs for electric energy and it means to stay ahead even though faced with greater demands arising from the country's defense effort.

It takes great sums of money to do this. For instance, additions to our electric system—generators, transmission lines, etc.—cost us more than $22,000,000 in 1950. During 1951 we will spend about $41,000,000 for our program of expansion and improvement.

Public Service, although concentrating on the needs of the immediate future, is also conscious of its responsibilities in making New Jersey a better place in which to live, to work, and to play—conscious that we are a citizen of a great state.

Looking Back at SPORTS

Five Years Ago

The 1945-46 basketball season for the teams of St. Peter's Parish came to an end and St. Peter's Hall was the scene of a triple header. The girls team playing in the first game bowed in defeat to the team of Belleville Girls under the leadership of Mary Daily. The score for this game was 21 to 14 in favor of the visitors. The St. Peter's Girls took the lead in the first quarter but they lost it in the second and were unable to regain it.

Intermediate team kept its undefeated home game record by taking the measure of St. Francis Xavier of Newark 52 to 31. The combination of Byrnes, Kennedy and McConnell pried up a lead for the home team in the first quarter and the visiting five were unable to make a serious threat. In the last quarter Joseph Lister went on a scoring spree and piled them in. Playing in the second half of the game Lister made 15 points. Durand of St. Francis was high scorer for the game with 16 points.

The Petrean Club won a nip and tuck ball game with the Belleville Knights of Columbus. In a game that was tightly fought all the way the Petrean aggregation triumphed by a score of 37 to 36. The Casey's were in the lead at the end of the first quarter 7 to 6 but halftime found the Petreans ahead 19 to 17. After that the K of C drew close but never surpassed the Petreans. Neil Finn accounted for 15 points for the Petreans. Grosch with 9 points was high scorer for the Knights.

After a meeting, the Belleville Cardinals officially announced that they would once again be represented on the baseball diamond. Among the returning vets at the initial meeting were Howie Byles, Bob Gilber, Bob Jackson, Bill Smith, Fred McKay, Norm Cortese, Bob Martin, Don Richards, and Frank Van Dyke. Van Dyke was again elected to his

The Grammar School orchestra is made up of: Raymond Kean, Bruce McCumber, Raymond Fischer, Margie Giles, Lillian Wheeler, Maureen Sayre, Lillian Gettler, Elsa Leighton, John Wilson, Ronald Kapot, Norman Foster, Carol Travers and Dolores Skakum of School No. 3; Dominic Vazzano, Nancy Rossi, and Richard DeVona of School No. 4; and Stanley Orlinsky, Joan Staebler, George Korn, John Karrar and Robert Morse of School No. 5. School No. 7 will be represented by Barbara Roskowitz, David Olson, Kathleen Botsford, Vincent Frunzi, Victor Albaggi, and Sandy Josol; School No. 8 by Peter Costa, John Riordan, Joanne Coulther, Violet Napoliello, Ronald Reilly, Sandra Truscoe, Raymond Mitschke, Marie Marinaro, Robert Godleski, Robert Petoia, Ralph Yannee, and Edward Nichols; and School No. 10 by Louise Love, Edward Austin, Kenrie Love, Alice Fitzpatrick and Frances Vigilanti.

In conjunction with the evening's program there will be an art exhibit in the halls, under the direction of Mrs. Marie Lombardy and Miss Mae Alvallone. The aim of the art program is to have the children enjoy their art work, for while they do so, they make progress, gain an appreciation of it, and develop their own individual styles. The mediums used in the exhibition will include crayola, ink charcoal, tempera paint, water color, chalk, and oils.

The Fewsmith Miners won the Newark YMCA League championship by defeating the Calvary team 36-22 and the following services which featured Congressman Fred A. Hartley as the speaker. On the team were Norman Cortese, Teddy Close, Leo Culkin, Victor Bruegman, Johnny Walter, William Handley, George McNally, Robert Plenge, and Donald Richards.

A ping pong tournament was begun at the Synagogue Center of Congregation A. A. A. The tournament was open to all and was part of the activity of the weekly all-youth game night. The program was under the guidance of Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin in charge of activities, and was directed by Solomon Dobrin. Prizes were to be awarded to the winners at the Lag B'Omer festival of the Congregation, May 18.

Two local men, William Anders and Jack Hogan were named to serve on the Western Electric Kearny Works men's golf club committee. The selection was made because of the playing ability of these men who had been playing a top game for the past several years. Hogan was the present Wekearnyan gold champion.

The R. C. A. pinners added the Isolantites to their list of victims for three games at Ferrara's as the path toward the Belleville Manufacturers' League title appeared to be a straight clear road without any serious obstacles. The only real sign of trouble, the Tiffany & Co. five full games behind the leaders, were successful in beating the Viking Tool for three games.

Bill Buttons and Al Kitchell, a pair of Belleville pinners, rolled well in the Class A doubles division of the Essex County bowling championships at Ferrara's. Though the local duo chalked up a total of 1,132 for three games each, the total wasn't just high enough as Charlie Wehrle and Charlie Huff of Springfield topped this mark with a 1,264 total. Buttons was the steady bowler of the Belleville combination rolling scores of 205, 212, and 195, while Kitchell banged out a high of 238.

The click of sabers, epees and foils rang out at Veterans' Hall after the basketball season ended. A fencing team was being formed by the boys of the Younginger Naval Patrol. Officers of the patrol, which is sponsored by George A. Younginger Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, had secured the services of James Saurless, a fencer of reputation, as coach.

The Fewsmith Men's Club, though there were still two more meetings of the loop, were named champions of the Belleville Church League for the second successive season. "Red" Littlewood, a member of the championship combine, registered high individual score of the evening with a 225 marker. The struggle for second place and fourth place honors were the only undecided positions in the circuit. The Christ Episcopalians, resting in second place by a game margin, had to battle the Montgomery Presbyterians for the runner-up post, while the Bethany Lutherans, the Forest Hill Presbyterians and the Grace Baptist, all squared up forty wins and thirty-five setbacks each, and had to settle the dispute for fourth place.

The Nereids were getting into full swing preparing for the rapidly approaching rowing season, with daily work-outs on the Passaic river. Joe Degelo, Bill Bennett, Ray McConachie, and Percy Karrer had already been line up as a "squad" and could be seen daily in practice session with the oars. Stan Goodrich, one of the best oarsmen in the club and winner of several important races the year before, teamed up with Bud Worthington in an intermediate doubles shell. Gerard Rhoades and Art Dalphonid comprised the junior doubles representatives. Frank Menne, coach of the Nereids and a veteran with the blade took care of the single shell assignment.

Bruegman, anchor man of the pennant-winning Fewsmith Presbyterian bowlers, in the local Church League copped the individual high average prize in that circuit with a final mark of 174.54. This winning fifty-nine game average just nosed out the 174.45 compilation of Bill Buttons of Christ Reformed who had to satisfy himself with the runner-up honors. Woodruff representing the Fewsmith Men's Club, made the prize-winning an all-

LIFE at BHS
As Our Teen-Agers
See It
by
SYLVIA and RHODA

Enjoy your short (!) week of vacation? We did—it was certainly wonderful to lie in bed till 10 a. m. or there about drowsily reading or catching up on lost sleep—with no monstrous thoughts of school inducing nightmares. What a relief!

But we're only kidding. It was nice to have a vacation, but it's good to be back. We'll just have to straighten up and start in all over again. And while we take those cruel tests and exams, we still have thoughts of last week to give us courage. Easter vacation struck its peak and glittering highlight Wednesday night—yes, the Junior Prom. And it looked like every freshman turned out for this year's spectacular event. Table after table was filled with the bright-eyed, flower-bedecked girls and the tux-ed boys with the white carnations. Ray Anthony (who looks like a younger version of Cary Grant) brought to mind a memory of the Ralph Planagan band of last year's Prom. The music was fine, the food as usual, but the experience of Prom Night was another one "not-to-be-forgotten" and topped off with coming home to the twittering of the little birds and awakening sensation of dew through open-toed sandals.

Thanks, juniors, the 1951 Junior Prom will be remembered for a long time.

Seniors Strut
The seniors (of that famous senior play) have at last had their chance to show their stuff. Tuesday afternoon the high school auditorium was overflowing with a bevy of fugitives from the grade schools, here to view the dress rehearsal of "Ramshackle Inn."

To hear Bev Garson tell it (she's property committee co-chairman with Norma Barone) one would think that the play was destined to be performed without benefit of props. All was saved, however. Seems like Bev tagged Bob Smith and together with his car they managed to round up the chairs, buckets and what-have-you. Jim Lampman has his cigars, but Ron Kraus is still wandering around without his pants.

Speaking of the play, don't forget to procure your tickets. The student performance is this Friday night, followed by the adult night on Saturday. Your last chance is now.

Party Planned
After the last performance on Saturday, a Miss Di Biase (Irene, that is) is planning a party for the cast — we'll let you know of the results next week. Keep posted!

The little girls in white (namely the Leader's Club) will leave their Alma Mater at 1:00 p.m. Friday afternoon. The grand occasion is what is known as a play-day, to be held in Rutherford this time. If you are around school after "closing hours" and happen to be by Miss Nelson's room, you'll notice a few stalwart and hard-working citizens of B.H.S. trying to soak facts about the UN into their heads. The annual UN test will be taken by these brain-children (we hope) on Thursday morning. Good luck! "Now, who are the permanent members on the Security Council?"

April Fool

"Watch out, there's a spider on your shirt!" said a million and a half kids on Sunday, followed by a blurted out "April Fool!" We guess you got your share of it, too. But this year April didn't make a fool out of us. The weather was perfect, and we hope you took advantage of it. And, as the saying goes, "In spring, a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love!" But, may we add this, "... love —and baseball." Our team's getting into fine shape and it won't be long until another one of our favorite sports seasons will be here. "Kill the umpire!"

One of the real oldtimers on the baseball panorama will be feted next Thursday night at Parillo's, when the Belleville Oldtimers Association honor James "Sugar" Flynn. A popular ball player who was just as well-liked as a cop on the local force, "Sugar" retired recently and is taking life in leisurely and philosophical fashion. Baseball has been eat, meat and drink to "Sugar" since he was old enough to swing a bat and many a tale will be told when the clan gathers April 12.

Having passed beyond the active playing stage, the veteran diamond star, who covered first base like a blanket and sprayed many a base hit over the semipro fields of North Jersey, is now content to sit and watch the big leaguers from a spot in the stands or via television. A couple of years ago, "Sugar" tried to inject a little life in the dying diamond game around here, through an American Legion junior team. It turned out to be a bitter experience, for the kids showed little interest, except in forgetting to turn in their own equipment.

Now that baseball is going to get a real shot in the arm, with Little League and PAL groups reactivating interest, "Sugar" may yet see the day when Clearman Field resounds to the tune of horseshoe meeting leather and clouds of dust rising as a base runner hits the dirt.

Nutley's new and beautiful eight-oared shell was exposed to the hazards of the Passaic River flotsam and jetsam last week and came off second best in a tangle with a man-sized hunk of submerged rock. The pretty creature with flowing lines and gleaming shellacked body suffered a torn bottom. In fact, the shell was slashed in two places, the rents being about 10 inches long and not quite half as wide. However, the irrepressible crew coach, Bill Bennett, who never seems shaken by any exigency, has the boat in drydock and gave out the good news to this scribe yesterday that the slender craft will be in shape for the opening meet against Columbia in April.

It was one of those freak accidents that happen in the best of crew families. There was no water disturbance to indicate the presence of the chunk of rock, which coxswains are taught to watch during any session at the helm. Belleville's varsity oarsmen, in the shell at the time, were heart-broken over the incident. On vacation, they had taken the boat out early in the afternoon to ready it for the Nutleyites, who were slated to report later in the day, after school dismissed. Columbia University's expert on boat repairs has the craft under his wing and the temporary repairs slated will make it seaworthy for the season, and then a permanent bottom will be installed.

Sir Anthony Galento, better known in wrestling and pugilistic circles as Two-Ton, Beer Barrel and other cognomens dealing with uncomplimentary barbs aimed at the Orange Fat Man's torso, has returned from England. What Galento's appearance on Picadilly Square did to the Marshall Plan and Anglo-American relations is problematical, but the tea-sippers must have suddenly realized that you don't get to look like Galento from eating crumpets. In retrospect, it will be interesting to see if London's precise, clipped language has made an indentation on Two-Ton's habit of slaughtering the King's English.

Thus, when Fat Boy hoists his sloppy figure into Laurel Garden's ring Friday night against that beautiful creature of the TV waves, Gene (Mr. America) Stanlee, Galento will probably doff his monacle, bow politely at The Body, kick him in the belly, spit in his eye and say "let's go, ya bum, I'll molder ya."

DREYFUSS ASKS TOWN WATCH FOR SABOTAGE, SPIES

State Civil Defense Director Warns Biological Attacks Possible In Area

In a directive relayed through the Belleville Civil Defense Council, State Civil Defense Director Leonard Dreyfuss appealed to the town population to be especially watchful for acts of sabotage, espionage and subversiveness. Without encouraging a "witch hunt," Dreyfuss ordered a FBI warning against "fifth columnists" to be posted in Town Hall, inviting Belleville citizens to communicate immediately with the regional FBI offices in Newark or New York any well-founded suspicions.

Dreyfuss' biological warfare study points out that attacks against people, animals and food crops are possible through the use of sprays carried in airplanes, through bomb explosions, or through sabotage of factory food and water or of city water mains. The state director pointed out that while biological warfare could be effective and damaging, it is not a secret super-weapon and there are defenses against it. He advised the public not to heed scare talk about new mystery germs and poisons that could wipe out whole cities.

Survival Secrets

Dreyfuss also published six "Survival Secrets" for biological warfare:

1. Keep yourself and your home clean. (Don't help germs by making things easy for them. Germs have trouble living in clean places, and people who keep clean are less likely to get sick.)
2. Report sickness promptly.

(If you or your family get sick, never fail to tell your doctor. If you live on a farm, report all sickness or deaths among your poultry or livestock. Report plant diseases or unusual insects you find in your garden or crops.)

3. Give all possible help to authorities. (If you are asked for a blood sample, give it. If you're told a "Shot in the arm" or vaccination is needed by all, don't hold back. Keep your neighborhood clean, starting now.)

4. Don't rush outside right after a bombing. (Unless you have a civil defense job to do, stay inside until the all clear signal is given. Cover broken windows to keep out possible contamination.)

5. Don't take chances with food and water in open containers. (Bottled or canned foods would be safe after a BW attack, if the containers weren't broken. But foods in the open might be contaminated. If in doubt, boil for 10 minutes. That will kill most germs.)

6. Don't start rumors—don't believe wild stories. (Start a rumor and you may start a panic. A panic could cost your own life. So disregard wild talk about biological warfare and don't pass it on to your friends.)

PICATINNY ARSENAL LABOR SHORTAGE

Army Ordnance Cites Need For Laborers, Skilled Technicians In Dover

The civilian personnel office of Picatinny Arsenal, Dover, announced recently that it is faced with a critical shortage of male laborers. Applicants are requested to appear at the arsenal's employment office any weekday before noon. Wages range from $1.17 to $1.30 an hour.

The arsenal, a research and development center for the Army Ordnance Corps, has turned out much of the most modern warfare equipment being used to advantage in the Korean campaign. Located in the heart of Morris County, the arsenal is less than an hour's drive from New York City.

Infield, Pitching, Weather Plague Baseball Team

Practice Games Will Give Coach Berlinski Line on Team Under Fire; Open With Passaic

With the team bedecked in uniforms, which were issued Tuesday in lieu of practice when the downpour that has inundated North Jersey washed out the scheduled workout, the high school baseball squad was scheduled to engage in a practice joust with North Arlington yesterday. Coach Ed Berlinski, seeking to fill a big hole in the infield, from first to third base, is anxious to see the team in action under game conditions. Only simulated contests, intra-squad affairs, have marked the agenda so far and even that has been hampered by lack of a suitable playing field.

Municipal Stadium, undergoing a face-lifting by virtue of the installation of the running track, is not in the best of condition for the diamond game. The weather hasn't helped the bog and until a good dry spell sets in, the going will continue sloppy.

Outfield Set

The Bellboy outfield is well set, with experienced hands in the three spots. Roger Hansen and Mike Del Tufo, a couple of porters throwing and swinging from the southpaw side, will fill left and center, respectively. Del Tufo is a steady performer, swings a bat with authority and could be the best ball player on the squad. Hansen fields well but will have to correct a hitch in his swing before smacking the ball the way he really should. The other spot will be filled by a weighty young man named Tom Nisovocchia. He hits a long ball, when he connects.

Pitching will pose a problem for Berlinski, after his No. 1 man, Tim top flinger will be Bob Dilworth and if his control holds up, Bobo could be one of the best in the county. When he unwinds his 6'3" and fires the horseshoe, there is plenty of smoke uncurled. Last year, he knocked off the rugged Montclair Mounties with a neat five-hitter. With experience under his belt, and support afield and at bat from his mates, the lanky youth can win more than a couple of ball games.

Infield Unsettled

Eying the approaching opener in two weeks against a rough Passaic team, Berlinski is hoping to come up with more power on the hill. His next best prospect at this stage is Jim Scutti, a right-hander with stuff. He's green but may come through.

Problem child is the infield. There are two men battling for every position, with the exception of second base. Here Bob Cuomo, brother of Tommy who filled the same spot a couple of years ago, seems to have a definite edge. One of the surprises so far is the fine showing made by Charlie Travers, taking a whirl at shortstop. Last season, Travers was the varsity backstop but has moved into the shortfield and looked impressive. Little Sam Graziano is still in there trying but he can't hit with Travers although playing a sprightly game in the field.

On the initial sack, it's a battle between Bob Smith and Tom Nardiello. Whoever shows up best at the plate in the next week will get the call. Across the diamond, at the hot corner, Vince Vitelli has the edge on John Long.

The catching department is being handled by Pete Benz and Bill Raymond. Both are able defensive receivers and the first spot will go to the guy with the most hits in his bat.

Husky Crew Gives Bellboys Promising Outlook This Year

Varsity Eight Stocked With Veterans, Belleville Is Strong In Singles

A husky band of heavyweights, dominated by veterans, will man the Belleville varsity eight that takes to the Passaic River April 14 against the Columbia University lightweight representatives. Coach Bill Bennett remarked this week that the boat right now is stronger than last year's fine crew.

Five of the nine oar pullers boast varsity experience. Frank Thompson is in the bow, Harry Breckenridge strokes the shell, Pete Salerno is No. 7, Norm Gross No. 6 and Art Denzler, coxswain of the schools national champion four-shell, will be at his favorite post pulling the rig lines. Rounding out the first-team personnel are John Willis, No. 5; Ron Worthington, No. 4; Gerald Belinsky, No. 3 and Joe Scribner, No. 2.

Trailing right behind the varsity members are candidates Bill Dunleavy, George Plosa, Charlie Crane, Ray Abriola, Jim Lampman, Hank Watters and coxswains Jim Kant and Gus Formato.

Bennett expects to be strong in singles this year. Jack McNish, good enough to rate a phase in the eight-oar shell, is being tutored for singles duty. On the strength of his form so far, it will take a capable opponent to beat the Bellboy across the finish line. Big and intelligent, McNish has the power and will become a top performer, according to Bennett.

When man advances to that age which everyone calls "middle age," it won't be long before he'll see he's not the man he used to be. If he accepts that fact as truth and doesn't mourn his vanished youth, he'll settle down and just relax and thereby ward off heart attacks.

Cathedral To Be Completed

The Cathedral of the Sacred Heart, begun 50 years ago as one of the great cathedrals of the world, will be completed after having stood empty and unused through the years. Most Rev. Thomas Joseph Walsh, Archbishop of Newark, announced in a personal message through the 231 parishes of his Archdiocese this week that he calls for raising a fund of $5,000,000 to complete the construction. He hopes the main altar and eight chapel altars will be in place and stained glass memorial windows erected to permit him to dedicate the cathedral during the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Newark Archdiocese in the Autumn of 1953.

The great hollow shell of the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart, standing in splendid isolation at the edge of Branch Brook Park in Newark, will be completed in time for its consecration and dedication during the ceremonies, in 1953, marking the 100th anniversary of the creation of the Archdiocese.

Vacant for 23 Years

Ground was broken for the vast edifice in January, 1898, and its cornerstone was laid June 11, 1899, but although work continued intermittently, its construction was wholly interrupted in May, 1928. At that time its walls and roof were finished, but only a part of the floor was laid and none of the altars or fittings was put in place.

Most Rev. Thomas J. Walsh, S.T.D., J.C.D., Archbishop of the

Newark Archdiocese, announced this week in a personal message to the 231 parishes in his diocese that he is determined to complete the Cathedral. He estimated that it will cost $5,000,000 to terminate the building and prepare it for consecration.

Medieval Gothic in its design, the Newark cathedral bears many resemblances to Notre Dame de Paris and Notre Dame de Chartres, two of the most famous Gothic churches in Europe. The front portal, a succession of dwindling arches, the rose windows on the west side facing the park and the thin, pointed spire rising over the nave are greatly like the same features of the magnificent Paris cathedral.

Asking Memorial Gifts

In completing the structure, the Archbishop announced that a great main altar and eight chapel altars on the sides, to be constructed of marble, will permit many small groups to hear mass simultaneously. Catholic families and corporate groups were invited by the Archbishop to make memorial gifts of the altars; stained glass windows, a great organ and stations of the Cross.

The Archbishop announced that membership in a Memorial Gift Commission is being created on a scale graduated upwards from a minimum of $300. The memorial gift cost of the main altar has been set at $50,000, the pulpit and steps with marble railing, $20,000; side altars at from $5,000 to $16,000; the great organ at $75,000; the Archbishop's throne, with marble steps, at $15,000, and a carved oak screen between the sanctuary and the side altars, $20,750. The 14 Stations of the Cross, in mosaic, will each cost $5,000.

Stained Glass Windows

The great rose window in the nave, put together by hand of hundreds of thousands of pieces of colored glass, will cost $57,400 as a memorial gift and each of the two circular transept rose windows will cost $52,800. There will be 218 memorial windows of smaller size, costing from $500 each to $12,000. Pews, as memorial contributions, will cost $500 each for 200.

Archbishop Walsh reported in his message that the Cathedral Builders' Associations has already sold memberships and has raised $2,000,000 towards the $5,000,000 cost of completion. A Memorial Division, to solicit memorial gifts towards fitting the cathedral, has set a goal of $1,000,000. The Memorial Division Committee, presided by James J. McMahon of Montclair, has 200 lay members.

Ready in Two Years

Announcing that he hopes to open the finished cathedral formally in Autumn, 1953, as part of the centennial year observance,

Mrs. Frederick Idenden will preside at the 10 a.m. trustees meeting, and the board of directors will convene at 10:30.

Miss Esther H. Adams, publicity

The Most Rev. Thomas Walsh said in his message to the parishes:

It is a felicitous expression to call the Cathedral the crown of the Archdiocese. The superlative achievements of the Archdiocese of Newark in the works of religion, education and charity deserve a glorious crown worthy of a diocese now in excess of one million souls.

"The Cathedral of the Sacred Heart is a magnificent example of ecclesiastical architecture. It is fitting and proper, therefore, that all the decorative details, and all necessary furnishings be in keeping with the outstanding beauty of the Cathedral itself. The advice of leading artists and experts in the field of church decoration will guide us, so that, from the smallest to the largest, the structure will be a work of art, worthy of the holy purpose for which it is used.

"It is my fervent prayer, that we may celebrate the Centenary of the Diocese of Newark in our completed consecrated Cathedral of the Sacred Heart."

CANCER

Strike Back!

Your Gift Helps Guard Your Family

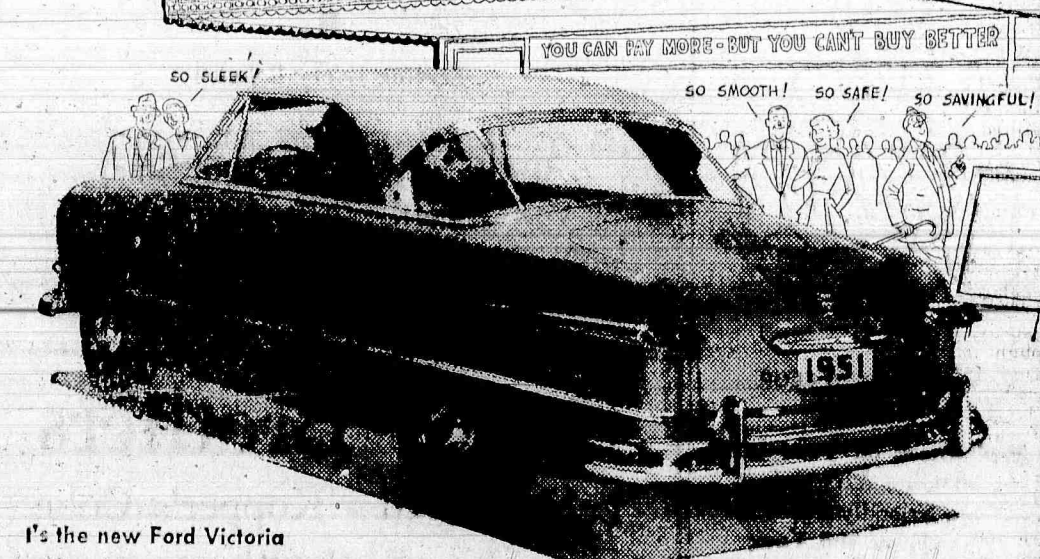

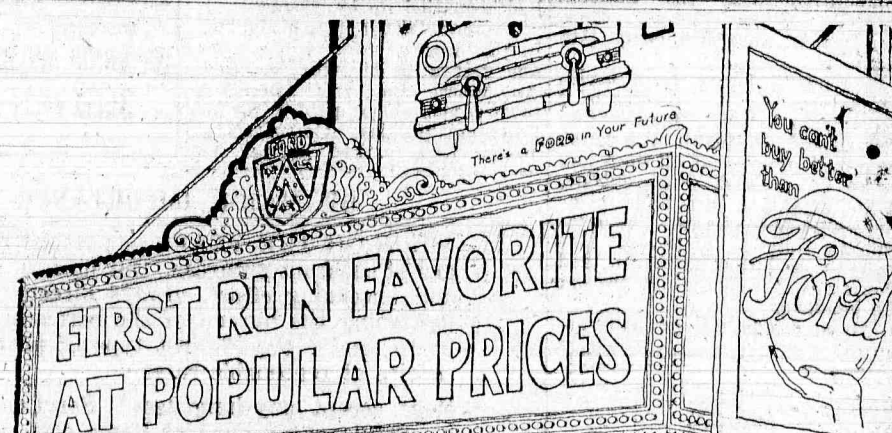

WE ALL KNOW about the tragedies of cancer and we all want to do something to stamp out this terrible disease. But many do not know of the crusade against this powerful enemy. Thousands of volunteers for the American Cancer Society — some of them in your town — are spreading information about cancer. They are helping to raise funds for education, for treatment and for research.

This is the way we can all strike back. By supporting the Cancer Drive, by contributing to the fund. The triumph over cancer can come only through continuing research. Scientists must go on working. Expensive laboratory equipment must be maintained. And money is essential for this program. Your gift may be of help to someone you know. Will you give? And give generously?

Town Raises $5,726 With 18 Communities In Essex County Involved In Campaign

Belleville, with $5,726.73 raised in the recent March of Dimes, campaign finished ninth in Essex County, it was revealed in the annual report made by Essex County chairman James J. McMahon. Eighteen communities raised a total of $156,460 and with expenses of $16,267, resulting in a net of $140,193.

Mayor James J. Tully was chairman of the local drive, which fell short of the amount raised here a year ago. In 1950, $6,890 was collected, but virtually every town showed a drop over the previous campaign.

Expenses in the local drive amounted to $594.42, according to the report.

Revolutionary Exhibit Open To Public At Academy

An exhibition on The American Revolution, prepared by the editors of Life, will be on view at Montclair Academy's school library beginning April 2 through the 15th, it was announced today by Frederick W. Hackett, headmaster. Recounting events which marked the most vital years in our national history, the exhibition attempts to show their interrelation with the changing scene in 18th Century Europe. In chronological sequence, the story is depicted by portraits, cartoons, handbills, engraving and a map. All major Revolutionary incidents are covered.

Parents of students and the general public are invited to view the exhibit.

Frederick W. Landes Retires After Forty Years' Service

Frederick W. Landes of 86 Adelaide Street, retired this month from the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., Arlington Works, after 40 years service. He was employed in the mechanical department.

Remember When

Five Years Ago
In the first political meeting for veterans at the Elks club James J. Tully warned the vets that he had received reports of the election campaign developing into a "spending campaign." Tully emphasized that he was not in a position to compete with this type of campaigning. He urged the Veterans to unite in their efforts if they wished to have a World War II veteran elected. Those present were asked to support Tully and go out and canvass for him, get their friends to vote for him and help make his election a certainty.

The 1946 Red Cross drive for $30,200 closed and Belleville failed to make their quota. W. Douglas Clark, general chairman of the campaign, stated that the drive would be extended for an additional two weeks. Clark said this was necessary, due to many of the team captains being unable to complete their house-to-house canvass, because of people not being at home when they called. More than 8,000 cars traveled through Belleville Park in the annual pilgrimage of the citizenry to view New Jersey's claim to competition with the national capitol's cherry blossom trees. The plants were out early that year.

Eugene T. Berry, local health officer, revealed the receipt of a letter from the New Jersey State Department of Health. The letter contained notice that all dogs had to be on a leash when outside, unless kept in a pen, building or some kind of enclosure. The order was the outcome of several persons being bitten in town, and took steps to remedy and prevent the condition.

Walter Kidde and company announced that the firm had purchased from the War Assets Corporation a B-26 bomber. Company officials stated the plane would be used in experimental and development research on aircraft fire detecting and extinguishing. Pioneers in the field of aircraft fire extinguishing, the Kidde concern installed the first fire extinguisher ever used in a plane.

Ten Years Ago
Through the efforts and confidence-inspiring outlook of its Mr. X, the Belleville Rotary Club continued to make satisfactory contacts between employers and young people seeking employment. The most noteworthy feature of the successful placement service, was Mr. X's ability to make placements with such attention to the fitness and adaptability of the employee that he was, in practically all cases, an asset to his employer. Although detailed records were not kept, it was estimated that at least six persons were employed through this medium during the year. Due to the draft and the defense activities which absorbed many young people, Mr. X found himself with desirable positions for which he could not find applicants. Mr. X also reported that he had placed individuals up to sixty-two years of age.

A capacity attendance marked the opening service at Fawcett Memorial Church of the defense programs which were scheduled to be held at that church periodically. Guests of honor were Senator Zink, Mayor Williams, the commissioners, and the Board of Education. Mayor Williams introduced Congressman Hartley who spoke on defense.

Tucked away in the nooks and crannies of the annual school board budget, which itself was designed like a windowless house, was a sum of about $1,000 for broken windows. The reason why? Sixteen windows and two plate glassed windows were broken in School No. 7 over one weekend. Now to folks in this section, but well known in the South, Peola, was taking its place as one of the favorite drinks. For more than thirty years Peola was sold and manufactured at Morgan-town, W. Va., but in 1940 the company came north and since then the drink was manufactured and bottled at a plant located at 12 Lawrence Street.

Three unidentified men leaped from a car, slugged a truck driver's helper and put the driver to flight in a battle, blamed by police on labor troubles at a Newark concern, at 499 Washington Avenue. The men drove the truck to William and Dow Streets, where they smashed the engine with a sledge hammer. The helper, who told police that he was struck by an iron bar in the altercation, was John Fisher of Newark. The truck was driven by Nathan Jacks of Newark. Police traced ownership of the car containing the three assailants to the Newark Truck Drivers' and Chauffeurs' Local, they stated.

Advertisements telling of the advantage of Belleville as a home site and industrial location, resulted in an increase of business for local real estate brokers, Mayor William H. Williams reported. As a result of the municipal advertising, five persons sought advice on Belleville properties from Emanuele De Nola and five from Henry Jacobs of the Jacobs Realty Co. Other local firms reported a spurt in new business since the appearance of the special Better Housing supplement which appeared in the News earlier.

The addition to Belleville High School, under construction, was scheduled to be completed by October 6, according to the latest estimate of the contractor. This was not in time for the opening of school in the fall, but allowed elimination of the two-session system of classes by the Middle of October. Work on the building was delayed by delay in the shipment of steel from the Pittsburgh area, where the railroads had been tied up by floods. Diogenes could place his lantern in the nearest storage warehouse and return to his tub, satisfied. An honest man was found. A town commissioner paid a fine for improper parking. Commissioner Joseph King parked his car beside another in Washington Avenue, planning to make only a brief halt to inspect a new sign. Returning to his machine, he stopped to speak to a friend and then was interviewed by another man. Engrossed in the conversation, he forgot all about his car and walked to his home, where he spent the afternoon caring for his rose garden. Several hours later, reminded of his car by an acquaintance, he found that the surrounding machines had been driven away, leaving his auto in the middle of the street. What's more it bore an ignoble ticket, placed there by motorcycle Patrol Donald Smith. But the Commissioner, setting an example to the citizenry, did not attempt to have the ticket "squashed." He visited the police station and paid the court clerk for the offense. In addition, he praised Smith for having the moral courage to put a ticket on a commissioner's car.

Twenty Years Ago
The Town Commission, acting on a petition of seventy-six residents, passed on first reading an ordinance rezoning parts of five streets in the valley section from industrial to residential. The change was requested on the expectancy that the beautification of the banks of the Passaic River with a park and driveway would re-establish the residential character of the section. Parts of the following streets north of Joralemon Street, were subject to the change: Davidson and Ralph Streets, each a west side west side of Stephen Street, east side of Cortlandt Street and north and south sides of Little Street.

The Town Commission adopted a resolution recommending that the State Highway Commission adopt the Verona Avenue route for the proposed new State Highway 10. The commission took the action after Mayor Kenworthy said he has been assured by County Engineer Stickle that there was no chance of having Joralemon Street taken over for the new highway.

A sure sign of spring is a robin, and one was seen in the rear of the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Armstrong, 16 Agnes Street. The Armstrongs, great bird lovers, had also noted orioles singing in their yard that spring.

Four sectional directories following county lines replaced the bulky, one volume North New Jersey book. In this way the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company planned to divide the big book which had become too large for convenient handling and which about reached the manufacturing limits of a single binder. One of the new directories would list the telephone numbers in Essex County, another those in Hudson, a third, Bergen, and Passaic County, and a fourth, telephone numbers in Middlesex, Morris, Somerset and Union counties.
