DEFERS NAMING OF NEW REC DIRECTOR UNTIL SEPTEMBER

Hyde Promises Careful Screening Of All Candidates For Fall Appointment

In a statement issued yesterday, Public Parks and Property Director Elmer S. Hyde announced he would defer appointing a successor to recreation director Edward J. Lister until the Fall of the year. Lister retired recently and is now on a leave of absence until the effective date of his retirement, May 15.

Commissioner Hyde, who directs the town recreation department, said the summer program was now in the planning stage and he believed it would be wiser to bring in a new man after a period of orientation. Hyde said he has received several applications for the post.

In filling the position, Hyde said he has established specific qualifications which must be met. Special training, plus a college education and degree, will be basic requisites, he said.

"The growth of the recreation program and its important function in the community call for obtaining the best-trained individuals we can procure," declared Hyde. "I feel the town's and the children's interests would best be served by a young man whose education and career has been aimed toward the goal all recreation programs attempt to achieve. We want a director who will give Belleville the finest recreation department possible and the ultimate selection will be based on that premise."

According to Rhodes, Daniels was recommended by Thomas Clift, president of the International Association, which embraces school businessmen in the United States, Canada, Mexico and Hawaii.

Daniels has been instrumental in establishing school custodial training schools in various municipalities throughout the State. The topic of the discussion group at the October convention in Toronto will be on maintenance and operation of a school plant.

Citizens' Group Begins Poll On Government Change

Vexed Over Salary Ordinance, Home Owners Query Residents With Circular Letter

Circulars polling local residents on whether they favor a change in the form of municipal government here hit a number of homes in Belleville this week. Sponsored by the Belleville Citizens Committee, which is headed by Ben Rabin of 10 Melwex Street, the form letter, attached to a reprint of a news story and editorial in The Times-News, was dispatched to approximately 500 homes in spot areas, according to Rabin. It advocates, principally, the Council-City Manager form of government.

The circular poses three questions to be answered by the respondent. The first—"I think it is time for a change in Belleville's type of government," second—"I would like to assist actively in the organization of such a change," and third—"I am satisfied with Belleville's type of government."

Distressed Over Taxes

Rabin declares his group, comprised of approximately fifty home-owners, have become distressed over callous disregard for the taxpayers' welfare and the increased tax rate. He said that recently the Citizens Committee had appeared at a town commission meeting to protest passage of a revised salary guide, boosting maximum pay scales for municipal employees. He contended some of the maximums were excessive for the position.

Building Report Puts March Construction At $84,685

Construction totaling $84,685 for the month of March was reported by building inspector Thomas Greco this week. The report, filed with the town commission, disclosed permits issued for five, one-family homes valued at $50,000 as the largest single item. Two additions to industrial plants, valued at $21,000, were also cited.

Fee receipts amounting to $354 were received during the month.

Eight Ordinances Approved, Call For Spending $46,800

Six Passed On Final Reading, Involve Expenditures On Bond Anticipation Notes

Eight ordinances, two on first reading and the balance on second and third, calling for a total expenditure of $46,800, were approved by the Town Commission Tuesday. Appointment of Public Affairs Director Waters to assume the duties of the revenue and finance department in the absence of Mayor James J. Tully, called to active duty with the Marines, passed, while the other new measure calls for the vacation of town-owned property on Princeton Terrace and Yale Terrace. Director Waters will also act as mayor during Tully's absence.

Other measures passed on final reading include construction, alteration and maintenance of public buildings, calling for an expenditure of approximately $7,500; resurfacing of High Street from Rossmore Place to and work involved.

In the circular, the commission is charged with "callous disregard of the wishes of the home owners." It points out that the committee requested the matter be held in abeyance until a study of the matter could be made, but the commissioners refused to discuss the situation directly or put it to a vote.

The committee appeared at the meeting after the ordinance had been passed on second and final reading and the ten-day time limit expired.

Rabin announced that if sufficient interest is evidenced by a majority return of the circulars, his group will move for referendum action to bring about a change in the form of government now ruling the town.

URGENT CALL FOR CD VOLUNTEERS

Looking Forward To County Drill, Added Workers Needed, Says Smith

A call for volunteers in various branches of Civilian Defense was sounded yesterday by Defense Coordinator Kenneth Smith. Warning that the deepening international situation calls for preparedness in the event of a surprise attack, Smith said the Council must have more volunteers to carry out the basic requirements of a program affording as much safety to citizens as possible.

Within a short time, declared the coordinator, a County-wide test drill will be held. The town is expected to have all personnel ready for emergencies and all posts manned by trained workers. Many more workers are required if Belleville is to discharge its responsibilities, added Smith.

At a joint meeting of the Auxiliary and Fire groups Monday, Graham Huntington, Essex County Civilian Defense Director, explained the integration of the CD program throughout the area.

Last week, CD Director Norman Lauterbach Smith and Education Director Max Schwartz spoke to members of the Taft Post, VFW. The film "You Can Beat The A-Bomb" was exhibited.

Eight Ordinances Approved, Call For Spending $46,800

LITTLE CHANCE OF ACHIEVING GOAL BY RED CROSS

Little More Than Halfway Mark Reached, Campaign Ends Friday Night

A final report from division chairmen and residential captains on the current Red Cross drive will be held tomorrow night at headquarters, general chairman Paul M. Kelley announced last night. It will mark the close of the campaign that to date has raised only $14,738 of a $p6,402 goal. This represented 56 per cent of the town's quota.

Kelley said that every possible effort is being made to reach all residents, industry and every business house before tomorrow night.

Hits Apathy
"If we are unable to complete our solicitation of all these groups, we have not fulfilled our job completely," stated the chairman.

"However, if we have made every possible contact by the close of the campaign and still fail to attain our goal, the volunteer workers

Discord On School Board May Flare Into The Open

Clash on Food Subsidies May Arise Between District Clerk Daniels And Board Member McCann

A feud that has been smoldering beneath Board of Education affairs for several months, with district school clerk Ruel E. Daniels the target of board member and finance chairman Raymond McCann, may break into the open Monday night at the regular meeting of the board. It is believed McCann may attack Daniels on the handling of federal food subsidies within the past four years.

Board members will not discuss McCann or his numerous resolutions and policy changes which he has been advocating. Last Friday, at a closed conference of the board, several bitter arguments ensued and according to a reliable source, McCann was on the short end of a 4-1 alignment.

Subsidies Again

Considerable correspondence on different matters has circulated among members of the board. The most recent developments revolve around an investigation by McCann of Daniel's office and home telephone charges and the disposition of the federal food subsidies. McCann has requested from Daniels a complete record of all foods received and distributed since the Board of Education started acquiring the subsidies four years ago.

However, it isn't likely McCann's request will be complied with. Daniels, it is believed, has already advised the board members that the food acquired originally came to Belleville without benefit of a contract and with the full knowledge of the then existing board of the entire setup.

Unknown Quantity
Daniels has told members of the present board that since Belleville did not function under the Federal Lunch program when the food was first acquired, the school was not eligible to obtain it on a contract basis. However, with so much surplus foods available, federal authorities were willing to allow

CONGREGATION AAA HAS FESTIVITIES

This Sunday at 11 a.m., students of the Congregation's Daily and Sunday School will participate in a model seder prepared for them. This is the order of the festival observance on the first two nights of the holiday home celebrations.

The adults will also take part in a model seder, Tuesday at 9 p.m. in the synagogue. The observance will be sponsored by the Mr. and Mrs. Club for the entire Jewish community.

The Sisterhood of Congregation AAA, the first group to innovate the program this year, include a simplified model seder and demonstration of the holiday procedure at their meeting held last Tuesday evening. This was conducted by Mrs. Leo Schwartz.

A view of the Hagedah, under the direction of Rabbi Leo Schwartz, will be presented at the Bible Class tomorrow evening at 9 p.m. Hagedah means relating. It is the special Service Book utilized at the home celebration, which related in detail the early history of the Jewish people.

Flood Of Letters Planned By Chamber On Meter Bill

Revenue From Meters Should Be Used For Parking Areas, Support Litany Measure

Stepping up activity in support of a bill establishing off-street parking areas from parking meter funds, the Belleville Chamber of Commerce plans to have form letters available in business places and will seek the assistance of shoppers in bombarding the Legislature with pleas for passage of the bill. Robert Von Nessi, president of the Chamber, said the organization expects to adopt a resolution with the endorsement of the entire membership, calling favorable action on the bill.

the outside schools some of the many items that were actually left over from World War II. Thus, Belleville was notified at various times to report at a specified warehouse and pick up the surplus, never knowing what the shipment contained.

It was this practice that built up an inventory here and eventually resulted in waste and destruction of the food, in some instances. The cafeteria could not absorb all the food sent to Belleville, as it was allotted on the basis of 625 hot meals daily when the cafeteria was actually disposing of 65.

Curtail Aid

Later, when the Federal Lunch program was instituted here, The Times-News uncovered the destruction of federal surplus. The story provoked federal officials into an investigation of Belleville's requirements and resulted in sharp curtailment of assistance in the form of subsidies.

Daniels has asked the board to discontinue use of the freshening unit in one of the school buildings. At one time, many food items were stored there, but now only three bags of potatoes make up the inventory.

TWO VARIANCES GET BOARD OK

Permission For Garages Approved; Hearing Set For Gas Station

Two variances recommended by the Board of Adjustment were approved by the Town Commission Tuesday. The board granted permission to erect garages to James Del Guercio and Onofrio Natale. Del Guercio will build two, 2-car garages at 166-170 Union Avenue and Natale a 3-car garage at 12 Linden Avenue.

Another recommendation by the zoning board was deferred. The commission declared it wished to study the matter of permitting Smith Brothers Coal Company of 74 Academy Street to install two 25,000 gallon fuel oil storage tanks. Present town ordinances limit tanks to 20,000 gallons.

The board will also hold a hearing on an application for a gas station on property at Belleville Avenue and Dow Street. Max Schwartz appeared before the commission representing the proposed buyer, who would build a service station on the property owned by the Mallow family.

The hearing is set for April 24. Mayor Tully told the board he would disqualify himself from the hearing, inasmuch as he is acting as one of the realty brokers in the transaction.

Old Timers Honor Flynn At Testimonial Tonight

Retired Police Lieutenant James "Sugar" Flynn will be feted tonight by the Belleville Old Timers' Association at Parillo's Restaurant. Michael Hanly is chairman of the affair.

This week, the Town Commission passed a resolution commending Flynn for his many years of service on the force and made him a special officer. His badge will be retired.

Von Nessi said the Chamber is in agreement with the theory that parking meters were installed to alleviate a parking problem, not to provide general municipal revenue. Although the meters have resulted in some relief on the acute parking problem, the ultimate answer in Belleville, stated Von Nessi, is off-street parking areas, operated by the town and constructed with meter money.

TOWN GIRDS FOR ASSESSMENT TIFT WITH NEWARK

Appropriate $6,000, Join Other Municipalities Before Tax Board

Girding for a fight with Newark on assessment procedure, the Town Commission passed an emergency resolution Tuesday appropriating $6,000 to join with other Essex County municipalities in hiring outside counsel and appraisers. Newark has filed a complaint before the State Tax Board charging that suburban communities are assessing at a far lower percentage rate than the county's largest city. A hearing has been set for April 30 in Trenton.

The commission's action followed a recommendation by Town Attorney Keenan. Keenan reported that 18 of the county's municipalities had indicated a willingness to contest the protest. He disclosed a breakdown of the cost to different towns in additional county taxes if Newark won its case. Belleville, according to Keenan, would have to pay an additional $74,033.

Special Counsel Fees

It is estimated by different town attorneys, said Keenan, that the hiring of specialized legal talent and appraisers would cost $100,000. Belleville's share of the outside attorney's fees was placed at $5,600, based on its proportionate share of assessed valuations. Keenan told the board that before the town is committed to a fight on the matter, he will ascertain that towns holding at least a fifty percent total of the assessments involved join in the battle against Newark.

GOODFORD GIRL MAY GO ON STAND AT TRIAL TODAY

DeWitt Savings Case Goes Into Third Day As Jury Enters Guilty Plea

Miss Marian Goodford, 22-year-old local girl accused of being involved in the $21,093 robbery of the De Witt Savings and Loan Association on Washington Avenue, may go on the witness stand this morning before Federal Judge Thomas Meaney in Newark. The defense is expected to plead its case today.

Paul Jurylla, alias Ralph Borrelli, 25-year-old former boy friend of Miss Goodford who pleaded guilty to the robbery, may turn evidence for the government, trying the girl on the basis of her not guilty plea. She is being defended by Alexander Sommer.

Former Employee

Miss Goodford, a former employee of De Witt, is accused of giving Jurylla a key to the Savings and Loan office and the combination to the safe. The robbery took place January 8 after the institution closed following a busy Monday night. Receipts for the day were removed from the safe by Jurylla who fled to Florida after giving Miss Goodford $2,300 at her Linden Avenue home.

Less than 24 hours after the robbery, Miss Goodford broke down and confessed to local police and the FBI, revealing Jurylla's whereabouts and resulting in his apprehension in Daytona Beach, Florida. In his room was found $19,000.

Among those testifying at the trial, which opened Tuesday, were Deputy Police Chief McGinnis, head of the detective bureau; Edward Cantwell, secretary of De Witt; Mrs. Ruth Walker, assistant secretary, and Miss Lydia Marchesini, an employee at De Witt and discoverer of the robbery.

Jurylla has also been charged with an armed holdup of the Lakeview Savings and Loan Association of Paterson and is expected to waive trial on this indictment.

Town Settles Suit Against Local Football Promoter

Settlement of a judgment for $250 against Patsy Fratella of Belleville was announced this week by Town Attorney Keenan. Keenan told the town commission that suit instituted against Fratella, owner of the Belleville-Nutley Iron Dukes football team, resulted in a $700 judgment award to the town.

Fratella had been charged with breach of contract by the Department of Parks and Property, under Commissioner Hyde. He did not reimburse the town for use of Municipal Stadium on two occasions, where the Iron Dukes team played. Keenan recommended the board accept the $250 settlement and the matter was approved.

YOU may be the indirect means of saving many lives. 200,000 Americans died of cancer last year. 70,000 might have been saved had they known the danger signals and sought treatment before it was too late. A widespread work of education must be carried on.

By contributing to the cancer fund you help to spread valuable information. You help to provide more training for scientists and physicians. You help to purchase more laboratory equipment. You help make available more and better treatment for those already stricken by the disease. To fight cancer costs money. Will you give?

Sudden Spring

Spring comes upon us slowly, leaf by leaf. The tendrils of the grass press, one by one into the light, while softly as a thief each daffodil unfolds a petalled sun. The violets lift up their purple heads so shyly that they take us by surprise; There is a stirring in the pansy beds, And wings again have diagrammed the skies.

While flake by flake the winter has withdrawn, Gathering her accoutrements of snow, Yet no one heard her leave. Now she has gone.

Leaving no trace. We did not see her go Nor see the spring arrive, while, all along it burgeoned, leaf by leaf, and song by song.

—Moe Winkler Goodman.

Two Generals in His Life

In Harry Truman's Presidential life there have been two generals who have caused him no little disturbance. One is Harry Vaughn, his Missouri crony, and the other is General Douglas MacArthur, the commander of victory in the Pacific.

Harry Vaughn was caught with his hand in a deep freezer—or rather a whole carload of deep freezers. He peddled whatever influence he has around the White House to the highest bidder and took his "cut" in deep freezers. Harry Vaughn still inhabits the temporary White House, fat and flabby in the uniform of a general of the United States Army which he wears without benefit of training or dignity.

Douglas MacArthur, the major part of whose career was spent in the Pacific as a professional soldier and who knows the problems of Asia better than any other man, wrote to the Republican leader of Congress an outline of proposed action in the Pacific. For daring to have an idea which conflicts with that of the British Foreign Office, he was sacked by Harry Truman.

Two generals, two methods. What's that they always say about Harry Truman? Oh yes: "He's loyal to his friends." Isn't it time to be loyal to America?

Dubious Honor

To Belleville this week went the dubious honor of showing the largest increase in the tax rate for 1951 among 22 municipalities located in Essex County. A 101-point boost, pushing the tax rate to $6.58, an unprecedented figure, places the town third from the top of the list. Only Newark, with a $6.92 rate, and Irvington, with $6.63, surpasses Belleville in governmental upkeep.

Trends several years ago, pointed out by The Times-News, forecast a $6 tax rate, but an apathetic public ignored the storm warnings. Now we not only have the grim figure to contend with, but the future portrays no relief for the homeowner and taxpayer. There are two reasons for that. First, Newark has petitioned the State Board of Taxation to examine all suburban assessments on the grounds most properties in the urban areas are under-assessed. The metropolis adjoining us claims to be assessing on a 60 per cent basis while towns like Belleville levy assessments on a much lower percentage basis. That's Newark's complaint and April 30, a hearing has been set to give them a chance to prove it. If the assertion is correct, or even partly so, the state could feasibly order municipal officials to rectify the books and boost assessments to more equitable proportions.

That all comes under the rank of possibility. However, what is certain, regarding the tax rate, is increased expenditures, which are already evident as the town fathers start churning through the trials and tribulations of another fiscal year. Adding to the financial turmoil is the likelihood of increased school expenditures, always an important and apparently an almost uncontrollable phase of the overall budget.

One day, when the $7 tax rate comes, someone is going to find the well-running dry. With the federal, state, county and local governments dipping ever deeper into the taxpayers' jeans, something has to give. From the load he's carrying, the taxpayer seems destined to wilt first. There's no sign of a letup from the collecting end, that's for sure.

Moscow Tells Another

Russian propagandists are once more boasting of the superiority of their economic system. The point of comparison in this case has been commodity prices. In the U.S.S.R. the prices of certain goods in government-controlled stores were recently reduced. In capitalist countries, notable the United States, prices have been rising. Therefore, say the propagandists, the Russian worker is getting all the best of it.

The falsity of this may be judged from a few established facts: The average Soviet worker earns somewhat less than $40 a week for 48 hours work. After the new price reductions he must pay about $2 a pound for beef, almost $4 a pound for butter and 60 cents for a quart of milk. A single-breasted wool suit will cost him almost $300 and a pair of shoes $85.

In Russia the state runs all the factories, and owns or controls all of the farms. It decides what will be produced, and how much the price will be. Competition does not exist on the production level, and, of equal importance, competition does not exist on the retail level either. Consumers must patronize designated state stores, and pay a designated price for a designated ration. And Russia has made it a policy to charge exorbitant retail prices in order to drain off consumer income.

Compare that with the United States, where all kinds and sizes of stores are competing vigorously for trade and, inflation or no inflation, each is doing its best to undersell the other fellow. That's one big reason why our living standards are so far ahead of Communism's as to make comparison difficult.

L'Affaire Petain

Philippe Petain, Marshal of France, 94 years old, is suffering from a lung congestion in the damp fortress cell on the Island of Yeu, off the French coast, in the Atlantic ocean, where he is serving out a life sentence imposed upon him in the hysteria of liberation when French Communists dominated the setting of French law courts even more than they do today.

I was one of only a score of Americans, diplomats, Red Cross and foreign correspondents, who sat on the sidelines of Vichy and watched the Petain regime function in the darkest days of German occupation. I watched every move the hero of Verdun made for 2½ years, the crucial years when, the French Communists charge, Petain was a "collaborator". It is my opinion that Marshal Petain is a victim of political persecution and that if the old soldier is allowed to die in the dampness of his island prison, it will be a black stain on the Tricolor of France.

When Petain became Chief of State in July, 1940, it was not by usurpation. I sat in the press gallery of the Vichy Opera and watched a plenary session of the French Senate and Assembly invest full powers in him to reorganize a government shattered and scattered by the swift defeat of the French armies. Vincent Auriol, who visited this country just a few days ago as its President, sat in that general assembly as a Socialist Deputy and voted the full powers to Petain. The only voice I heard raised in opposition was that of the Marquis de Chambrun, a descendant of Lafayette and a Senator, who protested that such an investment of power was contrary to the traditions of the French Republic.

Those were hectic days; France was stunned by defeat and the conquering Germans could have occupied the whole of the land. Instead, France was split almost evenly into a zone of occupation and a "free France". Within his half, Petain tried to restore law and order, feed 15,000,000 people and yet never abandon the other half of the French population in Paris and the occupied zone.

Petaim was 84 years old that day when I saw the French Parliament duck its own responsibilities and pile them on the shoulders of a tired old man who had just been recalled from a sinecure post as Ambassador in Madrid. In 2½ years that I remained in Vichy before I was arrested by Pierre Laval, Petaim's Premier, and handed over to Hitler for imprisonment in a Gestapo prison camp, I saw plenty of acts of collaboration, but never once did I see Petain personally collaborate. It was in his name that the De Brimons and the Deats collaborated, but there always is the excuse of inexperience and senility. Who was to define "full powers" for a man who had been born under an emperor, the last Napoleon?

The Nuremberg trials were models of justice, even though international law had to be concocted for the purpose when not even jurisprudence existed as a basis of trial of war criminals in a civilian court instead of at the drumhead of a court-martial.

Many of the Nazis convicted at Nuremberg of crimes far worse than so-called collaboration have been released. Philippe Petain, who served France well at Verdun where his victory in a long and butchering battle won World War I for the Allies, is still a prisoner, persecuted by the very politicians who are ashamed now of their weakness and their haste in voting him full powers that hot July afternoon in Vichy. If there is a justice, Petain will not die in his fortress prison but will be allowed to return to France, to the mainland which he defended so magnificently at Verdun. If there is justice in France, that is.

ONE MAN'S OPINION . . .

General MacArthur's Relief of Command Is a Victory for the British Labour Party Which Is Backing Red China Against Our Policy

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

President Truman's action yesterday in relieving General Douglas MacArthur of all his commands in the Far East must be written into contemporary history as another act of appeasement—appeasement of Britain in this instance. By one hasty presidential decision, the United States stands to lose its control of Pacific affairs won by the blood of our dead in the long drive up the Pacific from Guadalcanal to Tokyo.

General MacArthur stood as a bulwark to oppose the treachery of Communist Russia, and the machinations of Great Britain in Tokyo. The United States ran affairs in Japan while MacArthur was in command. It was our peace to dictate because it was our victory, and ours alone, over Japan. With MacArthur thrown to the wolves, the British Labour Party and the Kremlin are the winners. They must have run up the red flag over the Kremlin to celebrate the victory.

While MacArthur's name was being hissed in political rallies staged by the British Labour Party this week, the British Labour Government showed its hand: A note to Washington, published yesterday, demanded, in the name of the British Government, that a copy of the treaty draft with Japan be sent to the Chinese Communist government in Peiping for its consideration and that the treaty provide for the ultimate if not the immediate return of Formosa to "China".

General MacArthur was sacked because he dared to suggest in a letter to the Republican leader in Congress, Rep. Joseph Martin, Attleboro editor, that Nationalist China's troops be used to supplement our own in the war against Communist China. What, then, will be President Truman's attitude towards the British Labour Government which takes a position diametrically opposed to our own declaration of policy on Formosa and Korea? Will he answer London's demand that we hand Formosa over to Mao Tse-tung's red regime with a demand that Britain hand over Hong Kong to Red China? That would be the only sensible answer.

Differ With British

The difference between the British Labour Party's policy and the Kremlin's policy on Red China is much less than the wide variance between Washington and Moscow policies. It is our pronounced policy that we will continue to recognize the Chiang Kai-shek regime of Republican China as the established government and Formosa was specifically named within the area which we are determined to defend across the Pacific from Indonesia to Japan to prevent them falling into Communist hands.

Britain, while trying to hold on to the Crown colony of Hong Kong tells us that Formosa should go back to "China", according to the agreement reached by President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill, with Chiang Kai-shek at Cairo. Hong Kong was Chinese long before it became a British Crown enclave. Formosa has been disputed through the centuries by the Portuguese, the Spaniards, the Dutch and French as well as by China and Japan until in 1895 China finally ceded the island to Japan in the Treaty of Shimonoseki. There could be a dispute as to China's legal claim to Formosa, but who could dispute China's claim to Hong Kong?

British Ultimatum

London went out of its way, yesterday, to deny that it had served any ultimatums on Washington, but a phone call to political correspondents in the capital disclosed a prevalent view that there were two British ultimatums: 1. That MacArthur must go, and, 2. that Britain would not sign a Japanese Peace Treaty unless Communist China had a look at it and was given a chance to accept or reject it.

Difference Over China

MacArthur had opposite views. He wanted to make China the main front and take on Russia there—at the far end of long lines of communication across Siberia. He argued, in the final clash which brought his sacking, that we should use the Chinese Nationalist army for a diversionary attack on the Chinese mainland.

Except for the fact that Britain wants nothing to interfere with her own defense, what was so wrong with the MacArthur proposal? This very week the United States, out at Lake Success, has been prodding other UN members to increase their troop participation in the UN's war in Korea. Except for the Americans, who are fighting in Korea? The Turks, the Greeks, the Indonesians, a battalion of French, some South Koreans. Where are the British; how many British divisions are in that fight?

If we want other UN states to send more troops, what is so wrong with MacArthur's proposal to use the Chinese Nationalists? After all, we insist that Nationalist China holds its seat in the UN Security Council. MacArthur's last act, when he met President Truman's envoy, Army Secretary Frank Pace Jr., in Tokyo, on Tuesday of this week, was to ask for more troops and greater latitude in waging war against Communism. In particular, he wanted the withdrawal of the directive forbidding him from using his air power to attack Red bases in Manchuria.

In heading the British Labour Party's hares and in sacking MacArthur, President Truman gave a quick answer to the general's requests. There will be no withdrawal of the directive which would break up the Red concentrations before the Yalu River is reached. China will continue to be the second front, and, just as Britain wants, our major effort will be made in Europe.

Pennies FOR TELEVISION

TOM: Golly, this is a good show. It seems that television is improving every day.

DICK: Yes, but that's only half the story. Did you know that we watch television for an hour for only about a penny? That's all the electricity costs.

HARRIET: That's right, Dick. And it's good to know that while the cost of everything is going up, you can still buy electricity for only pennies a day.

REDDY: Most people don't know it but my charges as your electric servant are now the lowest they've ever been. For instance, my hourly charge for running a vacuum cleaner is only one penny . . . a sewing machine three tenths of a penny . . . a washing machine for one penny. Yes, my services are high in value, but my charges are low.

CHAIRMAN CITES INCREASE IN COST CANCER RESEARCH

Wadsworth Urges Public To Keep Contributions In Step With Prices

"The cost of fighting cancer, along with everything else, is going up while funds for cancer control are not keeping pace with mounting prices."

This statement was made by Douglas Wadsworth, chairman of the 1951 Belleville Cancer Crusade, in explaining the use of funds given the American Cancer Society.

"The use of American Cancer Society funds ranges from such widely divergent items as a penny pamphlet to a $250,000 research grant — and both might save lives," Wadsworth said.

Cite Danger Signals
The chairman explained that there are cases on record of a person reading about cancer's danger signals in a pamphlet that was produced by the American Cancer Society at a cost of less than a half cent. The reader had one of the symptoms, rushed to his doctor and was treated in time to spare his life.

"Annually the American Cancer Society prints and gives away millions of pieces of literature to teach the public how to guard against the disease," Mr. Wadsworth said. "This is a worthwhile project but it costs money, the same as the many other activities aimed at cancer control."

Buy Little Things
"We hope everyone will realize that his or her gift is worthwhile," the chairman explained. "A single dollar will buy ten test tubes that are a necessary tool in cancer research or that same dollar might feed one mouse, used for experimental work in the laboratory, for more than eight months."

"These are the little things that your dollar buys directly. But it takes 65 thousand of those same dollars to buy a one-million volt x-ray machine used to cure some cases of cancer."

Douglas Wadsworth said that the Crusade quota of $7,500 here is an estimate of this community's share in the national goal of $14,665,000, adding that "I am sure that when the total is counted here, we will exceed our quota."

Remember When

Five Years Ago

Forbes W. Kelly, director of Veterans' Program for Junior Achievement, announced that Belleville was selected as the town to inaugurate a proposed nation-wide series of lectures and discussion meetings for the purpose of training veterans in the organization and operation of small business. The program which was to be sponsored locally by the First National Bank of Belleville, consisted of a series of four or five evening meetings. One half of the meeting would be devoted to a lecture by a qualified speaker and the other half would be given over to a question-and-answer period. Topics to be covered included organization, capital, legal requirements, and merchandising.

A group of residents appeared at the Town Commission meeting to protest conditions in their neighborhood. The complaint came from citizens in the vicinity of Liberty Avenue and Grove Street, who claimed that town-owned property in the rear of their land was being used for a dumping ground. Public Works Director Waters stated that a barricade would be erected to keep trespassers out, and signs from the police department would also be posted.

After forty-four years of tireless services as Librarian of the Belleville Public Library, the Board of Trustees granted retirement with pension to Mrs. Elizabeth A. Shattuck, effective as of April 15, 1946. Mrs. Shattuck saw the Belleville Public Library grow from the small quarters on William Street, between Cortlandt and Stephen Streets, where the library was set up in a store, to its present site.

A pony track, operating on Franklin Street, failed to comply with a commission order that the owners of the track move back 200 feet from their location, spokesmen for the residents said at a Town Commission meeting. It was bought out by Parks and Property Director Noll that there had never been a permit issued for the track to operate. Noll stated the track had been going on for two years and they should not be allowed to continue. Public Affairs Director Mertz said he would look into the matter.

Ten Years Ago

A carnival held the attention of the town commissioners at one of their meetings. The commissioners unanimously rejected an application from the County American Legion organization to hold a carnival at Edison Field, on the grounds that a carnival would attract undesirable, be unsanitary and damage the field. The matter had been under consideration for several weeks and it was the reports, one from Chief Spatz and another from Health Officer Berry, which prompted the rejection.

The County Isolation Hospital in Belleville set two records in 1940. More patients were admitted than in any other year and the death rate was lower than ever. This was pointed out to the Essex County Freeholders in the thirty-third annual report of the institution by Dr. Ellis L. Smith, superintendent and medical director.

Belleville and more than 200 other municipalities figuratively clapped their hands and did a jig when by unanimous vote the Court of Errors and Appeals upheld two 1940 laws which gave State Tax Commissioner Thayer Martin the right to set the formula for the distribution of public utilities gross receipts and franchise taxes. This meant that within a month or so $10,000,000 in 1940 taxes were poured into the coffers of the municipalities which had received nothing from this source during the previous year.

About 250 parents and friends of the pupils and faculty of School No. 10 browsed through the classrooms to inspect the students' work. Teachers were in their classroom for an hour to greet the parents. Each person received a bulletin directing them to the classrooms, giving the teachers' names, pertinent facts about the school and explaining the program for the evening. There was a patriotic theme and signs of spring throughout the exhibit.

In keeping with a national program dedicating April as the month for stressing the early diagnosis of tuberculosis, an interesting exhibit was opened in the Public Library. The display, consisting of some informative material on the diagnosis of the disease and a series of X-rays of the chest were arranged by the Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association under the guidance of Dr. William Taffet, chairman of the committee.

Fifteen Years Ago

The Belleville Merchants' Association planned a meeting at the town hall to discuss the problem of parking space for cars in the principal business section, with special reference to Washington Avenue. According to Bar-net Yudin, treasurer of the association, business was being driven out of town by difficulty experienced by shoppers in finding a place to park on business streets. Mr. Yudin claimed that many people had attempted to park on the double line and were given "tickets" by the police for this practice.

Mayor William H. Williams, Belleville's director of revenue and finance, was elected president of the Municipal Finance Officers' Association of New Jersey, at a meeting of over 150 municipal finance heads at Trenton. Mayor Williams stated that the objects of the association were the study of the problems of municipal finance and improvement through organized cooperation of municipal administrations, and the holding of conferences for the discussion of questions concerning municipal finance and similar subjects.

More than 5,000 children were expected to take part in the annual Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Belleville Recreation Commission. Edward J. Lister, recreation director, announced that 2,000 candy eggs, as well as 100 dried eggs which could be exchanged for larger awards would be placed in the park. Finders of the large silver and gold eggs would receive baskets of candy eggs, plush bunnies and chocolate bunnies donated by local merchants.

Twenty Years Ago

The town was experimenting with a new police patrol system designed to baffle and closely check movements of criminals. Announcement of the innovation, called the progressive patrol system, was made after a Town Commission meeting by Deputy Director William F. Entekin, Jr., of the department of Public Safety, originator of the idea. William D. Clark, director of the department said he would introduce the system soon. Experimental tours of the town had been tried successfully. Mr. Entekin said. The greatest change, he explained, was to get away from the one-man post system. Whereas a criminal could by observation of a patrolman on his beat gauge his plans, he could not by the new system know when or where a patrolling sergeant would be. Yet the desk sergeant at headquarters would be in much closer touch with the patrolman than before. This was brought about by keeping the night force always on the move, each patrolman walking a scheduled eight-hour tour, a different one each night. The tours crossed and criss-crossed throughout the town and no one knew except headquarters when one patrolman would follow another or intersect his route, at a given point.

A Callmen's Association of the Belleville Fire Department was organized at Fire Headquarters, Washington Avenue, with thirty-nine members present. Commissioner W. D. Clark, director of public safety; Deputy Director William F. Entekin; Chief W. T. Hirdes, Assistant Chief A. Reid and captains of the various companies as well as all the paid men were enrolled as honorary members. This was the first and only association formed in the state of fire department callmen.

ANOTHER REASON WHY...

YOU CAN BE SURE..IF IT'S Westinghouse

JERSEY CITY MAN LIKES COMPANY'S PROGRESS. Walter E. Vogel, a boring mill operator at our Jersey City plant, joined Westinghouse in 1923. Impressed by the Company's steady growth, he invests in Westinghouse through the Employee Stock Purchase Plan. More than a third of our Jersey City employees are part owners of Westinghouse.

Nearly 19,000 of the Company's Owners Work at Westinghouse

About one out of five Westinghouse employees has become a part owner of the Company. They have bought, and are buying many thousand shares of the Company's stock, through a payroll deduction plan.

These people believe in the present and the future of Westinghouse. They know Westinghouse products—what they are made of and how they are built. They know the Westinghouse reputation and position in the highly competitive electrical goods industry. They consider Westinghouse not only a good place to work, but they have also invested in its future.

Their desire to become partners in Westinghouse is additional proof that you can be sure... if it's Westinghouse.

DIVIDENDS WILL GO TOWARD TRIP. Enoch H. Southall, a group leader in the press room at the Mansfield, Ohio plant, is taking the maximum deduction for stock purchase. He is saving his dividends to help finance a trip to England.

SHE SIGNED UP EARLY. Gladys Brown, who assembles magnets and armatures for linestarters at the Westinghouse, Beaver, Pa., plant, has been putting aside $5 a week, during the 1948 and 1950 payroll plans, to buy Company stock.

THESE LAMPS GET SPECIAL ATTENTION. Martha Sanok says: "Developing that extra quality in our products is the best way to make sure we'll make a profit and pay a dividend." Martha conducts life tests on lamps in the engineering department at Bloomfield, N. J.

SUNBURY UNION PRESIDENT BUYS WESTINGHOUSE STOCK. James A. Fisher, design draftsman at our Sunbury plant, recently became president of the local salaried employe union, affiliated with the Federation of Westinghouse Independent Salaried Unions. He says the steady growth of Westinghouse is the best indication, to him, that his Westinghouse stock purchases through the Employee Stock Purchase Plan are a good investment.

REPAIRS MACHINES, OWNS STOCK. With 15 years' service at the Westinghouse plant in East Springfield, Mass., Thomas J. McDonough is now acquiring a financial stake in the Company as a stockholder. As an employe he repairs motor winding machines—the devices used in building the coils he is inspecting here.

SPOTLIGHT

on SPORTS

by Warren Knight

There's plenty afoot starting this afternoon when the school's spring sport schedule gets under way with a vengeance. For the baseball fan, Eddie Berlinski will unwrap his diamond aggregation at the Municipal Stadium, with Passaic's Indians the attraction: Saturday afternoon, down at the Passaic River, the blade and paddle boys making up the crew will engage in a tussle for supremacy against the Columbia University lightweight oarsmen.

The diamond boys will go into the game carrying a question mark. They're stacking up against a tough band of Indians who were surprise victims at the hands of Nutley last week and the Passaic County visitors will probably be padded for bear. Boasting a good hitting team, but without a standout pitcher, the Indians are certain to be troublesome. If Bob Dilworth is in form, though, the Indians will be looking at better hurling than they've stacked up against so far at this early stage of the season. Belleville's infield is inexperienced and the hitting department is of the questionable variety, but Berlinski has put together a hustling club that won't stop trying.

On a more optimistic note is Bill Bennett's band of crewmen. Columbia will have no pushover against the schoolboys, who are a husky boatload with plenty of savvy in sending the slender shell skimming down river. We watched them work out the other afternoon and it looks like a well-conditioned collection of athletes.

There are four races Saturday. Belleville and Nutley eight-oared crews will each square off against the Light Blue collegians, who are sending two boats over for the regatta. The other matches will pit Jack McNish of the Bellboys against Ernie Utnehnant of Newtown High School in Elmhurst, Long Island, while Bill Pfahler of the Maroon matches strokes with Frank White of Jamaica High School. Both singles scullers have shown a lot of promise. McNish is big and strong with plenty of latent power. Pfahler, although only 119 pounds soaking wet, is a wiry youngster with tremendous drive and according to Bennett, a good test for anyone up to 140 pounds.

With both Nutley and Belleville baseball teams idle Saturday, a substantial turnout of fans should line the banks of the river to watch the high school and university teams vie for honors. The starting line is slightly south of the Walter Kidde plant entrance on Main Street and the finish is a couple of hundred feet north of the Rutgers Street bridge. The first race is slated for 2 o'clock.

Invasion of the fair sex into recognized fields of masculine endeavor has hit the high school. Two of the feminine gender are taking a whirl at the varsity golf team and one or both may make it. Coach Jitty Wische is giving Barbara O'Connor and Jean Logan a thorough tryout and even though they aren't quite ready to compete against the boys at this stage, will probably be carried to vie with gals on other school teams. Barbara is the daughter of Branch Brook pro Maurice O'Connor.

Wische hasn't made a final selection of his team yet, but has to make up his mind this week for the season opens Monday against Bloomfield. No. 1 man looks like Jim Di Piro, runnerup in the state tournament last year who tours the 18 holes around 76 and 78. Another likely prospect is Charley Tatz, a junior and winner of the Metropolitan Junior championships sponsored by the New York Journal-American. Tatz has been looking sharp and in the 70's. Another junior, Bob Schweiher, has been belting the ball and came in the other day with a shot total in the 70's. Five other candidates will be chosen to round out the squad.

There will be about 10 matches in all, highlighted by a trip to Blair Academy for an all-day outing. The State Tournament will close the season. Last year, the Bellboys notched a third place in the tourney. Winner was Madison, and with the four players still around that copped the cup a year ago, the Colonels should prove tough to handle.

Charlie Travers, honored by being selected on New Jersey's All State basketball team, may be in for more glory. The stocky, crew-cut youngster who did a magnificent job on the crack Bellboy cage team this year has been picked as a possible player on the All Northern High School squad that meets an All Southern group June 16 at Murray State College in Kentucky. Travers received a questionnaire this week on his accomplishments over the past season and the chances are pretty good he might be picked to make the trip in the battle of Mason and Dixon line rivals. The contest is the third annual affair staged by the North-South Cage Commission. The players convene at Murray a week before the game, and with all expenses paid, enjoy a wonderful holiday. If Charlie does make it, the feat will be notable, inasmuch as the cream from all the northern states, including New England, is given consideration.

The weekend of the 21st, Charley, Jim McConnell and Bob Dilworth leave for a weekend at the University of Maryland. The Terrapins are interested in the three star cagers, and so is Washington and Jefferson.

It could only happen at a "hacker's heaven" and we saw it take place up at the Elmbrook golf course in Montclair last Sunday. The third stop on this tricky, popular nine-hole layout is a water shot. You shoot from a hill, across a small pond. About 18 out of 20 shots land in the water or are hooked and sliced out of bounds for there are few Sammy Sneads or Ben Hogans touring Elmbrook. It makes for some funny situations, but this one is for the books.

Up to the tee stepped a confident young man. His swing would have made no pro jealous and the lusty swipe he took at the ball produced a trickier that rolled down the hill to about 20 feet from the edge of water. Pulling an iron from his bag, he lined up a pitch shot across the aqua to the green, which is high on another hill. But something went awry and the ball plopped smack into the middle of the pond. However, the club sailed out of his hands, went 15 feet past the splash when the ball dropped and wound up in mud and water 15 feet from the opposite shore. Undaunted, the brave young hacker doffed shoes and socks, waded into the frigid stream and retrieved the club. It was the shot of the day.

Bellboy Crew That Will Face Columbia Saturday

Ready to shove off for a trial spin is the 1951 Belleville crew manning the varsity eight. The oarsmen entertain the Columbia University lightweights Saturday afternoon on the Passaic River as the season's first regatta is presented. Nutley High meets another Columbia crew with two singles races rounding out the card. The Bellboys will go to the starting post with the crew shown above, who read, left to right: Frank Thompson, bow; Joe Scribner, No. 2; Gerald Bilensky, No. 3; Ron Worthington, No. 4; John Willis, No. 5; Norm Gross, No. 6; Pete Salerno, No. 7; Harry Breckenridge, stroke, and Art Denzler, coxswain.

Crewmen In Debut Against Columbia On Saturday

Four-Race Regatta On Passaic Opens Season; Collegians Will Test Locals

Before a crowd that will line the banks of the Passaic River, the Belleville and Nutley crews will be unveiled Saturday afternoon in a four-race regatta featuring the appearance of two Columbia University lightweight crews. Both scholastic units will stack eight-oared shells against the highly-regarded Light Blue collegians, with a pair of singles matches rounding out the opening card.

The first race is slated to get off at 2 o'clock and will pit a good Nutley eight against the New York visitors. Coach Bill Bennett is confident his charges will make a good showing and has high hopes for a string of victories. The Maroon will go to the starting line near the Walter Kidde plant with either Joe Jalleneaga or William Smith as coxswain; Walt Hatch, stroke; Jim McGill, No. 7; W. C. Smith, No. 6; Allan Kammerer, No. 5; Walt Krynickie, No. 4; Robert Dawson, No. 3; Bob Watts, No. 2, and Bill Hanson, bow. The race will conclude just north of the Rutgers Street bridge.

AWARD TROPHIES TO FRIENDLY FIVE

Recreation Basketball Title Winners Receive Gold Baubles From Town

Presentation of gold basketballs, emblematic of the Friendly House basketball championship, was made last week to the winning team, the Friendly Five. The league was sponsored by the town recreation department under the jurisdiction of Parks and Property Director Elmer S. Hyde.

Deputy Director James Lampman made the awards in the absence of Commissioner Hyde. Michael Marotti, director of the loop, commended the Friendly team for its fine showing. Receiving the baubles were Dom Scuffi, the league's high scorer; Jim Gibson, whose work off the backboards played a vital role in the team's success; Mike and Bill D'Amboia, Neil Cerrato, Tony Gallito, Joe Morano, Jerry Vitello and Bob O'Keefe.

The league was comprised of six teams. The newly crowned champs won two playoffs from the West Ends before sewing up the title.

PAL ADVANCES IN SOCCER TOURNNEY

Defeat Holy Cross CYO To Gain Semi-final Berth At Harrison Field

Winning a close decision by the margin of a corner-kick, the Belleville PAL soccer team moved into the semi-finals of the Harrison seven-a-side tournament last Saturday. This Saturday, the PAL tackles the Jackson A. C. at the Carban Field in Harrison at 1 o'clock. Victim of the PAL was the Holy Cross CYO booters.

Sunday, the locals traveled to Haverstraw, N. Y. and won their fourth straight victory, defeating the Ledgewood Institute, 3-2.

Belleville took a lead in the first half against Holy Cross but the CYO knotted the score and held a slim lead by virtue of a corner-kick. The PAL bounced back and keeping the ball in CYO territory, chalked up two corner kicks to earn the margin of victory.

The lineup:

Hole-in-One At Valley View

Three Belleville golfers were in a fivesome playing at Valley View in Hanover Monday when a member of the cast dropped in the dream of all golfers, a hole-in-one.

Playing a No. 8 iron on the 118-yard 17th hole, Victor Tesone of MacArthur Avenue in Bloomfield fired a shot that rolled into the cup. Witnessing the feat were Ben Ferraro of 20 Magnolia Street; Mike Nardiello of North 8th Street and Canoe Nardiello. The fifth member of the group was John Facchi of Bloomfield.

OVERTIME GAME WON BY AMVETS IN TOURNAMENT

School Stars Pace Locals To Victory In Annual Newark Affair

After blowing what appeared to be a safe lead, allowing the opposition to tie the score and send the contest into overtime, the Belleville Amvets squeezed out a 61-60 victory over a strong St. Adelbert five of Elizabeth last week. The game was a quarter-final in the annual Greater Newark Tournament.

Last night, the Amvets were slated to tangle with the National Turners in a semi-final engagement. The Turners were favored to win, being led by the Seton Hall freshman star, Jim Ahearne.

Toss Lead Away

Bolstered by the addition of Charlie Travers, Bob Dilworth and Jim McConnell from the high school team, the Amvets managed to stay in front most of the way and with two minutes left in regulation time, held a seven-point spread. But the Saints fought back and climaxed a great rally when Bill Swinnicki stole the ball, dove in for a layup and was fouled on the play as the game ended. He made the play a three-pointer by sinking the foul and the game went to the extra session. The Amvets fell behind by four points in the overtime, but Dilworth tipped in a shot to slice the edge. The Saints made a foul try with 40 seconds left, Nick Lalanga of the Belleville five hit for a bucket to chop the difference to a single point. At the 23-second mark, George Moyes came through with a sensational basket to wrest the lead and wrap up the decision. Travers and Lalanga combined for 18 points each to pace the winners while Swinnicki had 21 for the game's honors.

Ever solve a puzzle with 4800 pieces?

George Hackney lives in Absecon, N. J., and is attached to the Atlantic City office. A real veteran, George has been a New Jersey telephone man since 1912. He is one of the 22,000 of your friends and neighbors who are constantly striving to give you better and better telephone service.

- George Hackney solves such problems all the time! Telephone cable such as he's working on—no larger than a man's wrist—contains up to 2400 tiny wires. The two ends of each must be matched and spliced together. He does it so deftly that the eye can hardly follow the swift movement of his hands. And when he's done, the completed cable can serve up to 1200 telephones at the same time.
- George and his fellow Splicers are mighty busy these days, working on the big construction program we started in 1945. This program furnishes additional telephone facilities to hundreds of busy Defense plants and to our State's many military establishments. New Jersey's civilian requirements have doubled in the past 10 years, and these, too, are being taken care of as rapidly as scarce materials are available.

Junior Amvets In State Cage Play In Irvington Friday

A junior Amvets cage team, comprised of youths born in 1935 and later, is scheduled to tangle with Irvington's Amvets tomorrow night at the Campagna court. It will be the first game in the annual State tournament sponsored by the Amvet organization.

Mike Marotti, commander of the local post and the Amvet's State Athletic Officer, is collecting the talent for tomorrow. His lineup was unavailable at this writing but a team will appear for the game.

Three years ago, the Belleville entry won the state title and went on to the finals of the national jamboree in Washington, D. C., losing to New York by one point.

Looking Back at SPORTS

Ten Years Ago

The town recreation basketball championship was decided when the Roserys, Belleville, Roserys, ran away with the North Belleville quintet 40-20 in a clash at the high school gym. The Roserys, winners of the Senior League crown by virtue of triumphs over the Haffner five, worked their way into the final clash by taking over Grace Baptist, the Church league champs, 28-26.

In an Intermediate League tilt, the Pirates defeated the Starlings 37-29 for the loop championship. Bowden looping in fifteen points and Oschner's eleven points for the Pirates proved too much for the Starlings to overcome.

The Roserys, who in their final spurt for the Senior League crown displayed a scoring punch that seemed unbeatable, had their hands full in halting the Grace Baptist boys. The Church leaguers just refused to be counted out and the outcome was in doubt until the final whistle. McNally led the winners' scoring attack with eleven points while Brown registered the same number for the losing cause.

In the game with the North Belleville lads, winners of the Belleville Senior League championship, the Roserys boys showed their superiority from the outset. They were just too fast and too experienced. While Harry Stratton's ten points for the North Belleville team matched that of Handley of the winners, Calchieo and Handley gave their teammate better support than Stratton received from any of his cohorts.

Fifteen Years Ago

The Bell-boys, a court combine composed of the high school's recent basketball team, took up their toes again, dividing a series with the Lyndhurst Collegiate at Lyndhurst High School's gym. The local quintet, after taking it on the chin to the tune of 30-37, successfully squared the rivalry with the former Lyndhurst High School court performers in the second tilt, winning the score of 48-37. Janie Carragher and Tony Zuzzio were the scoring aces as the Belleville club staged a clever fourth period rally to snare the tight contest. The pair tallied a total of twenty-nine points, while Kimpleton and Liley chalked up twelve and eleven markers, respectively, for the homesters.

The Public Service Hilton No. 1 team jumped into the lead in the Essex County bowling championships at Ferrara's alleys by registering a total of 3,083 for three team scores. The Newarkers, bowling against the Irvington Moose, were able to better the previous high team tally chalked up by the Roseville A.A. the week before by exploding their power in the final two games to register counters of 1,081 and 1,048. Mattia was outstanding for the Public Service five.

With the pace setting R. C. A. combine on the sidelines, the Soneborn pinsmiths proved the action in the Belleville Manufacturers' loop at Ferrara's alleys by upsetting the second place Tiffany and Co. for two out of three games. The Oilmakers stormed through the last two games to conquer the second place team.

The Cardinals A. C. baseball team annexed their first victory of the season by defeating St. Mary's of Nutley, 15-10. McKay limited the visitors to five hits, while Sammis and Van Dyke featured with their heavy hitting. O'Neil was the outstanding player for the losers.

Twenty Years Ago

The Bachelors, for the third consecutive season, planned to appear on the diamond that year as members of the strong eight-man Belleville American Legion Baseball League. Manager "Mac" McCarthy was again at the helm of the Bachelor craft, with most of the last season's contenders returning to the fold. Johnny McGuire, Lou Belinski, Johnnie Wengel, Johnnie Johnston, Jim Clark, Jim McCabe, Hick Loesner, Jim Kinneally, Paul Beliose, R. Hagopian, Gero Derrico, Jack McHugh, "Lefty" Barry, Mike Bartley, Dave Connelly and Jake Jackson all signified their intention of performing in Bachelor regalia that summer.

The Belleville Knights of Columbus basketball warriors waged one of their stiffest and best come-backs of the local season at the high school gym, before finally succumbing to the five Morristown Casey gang, 28-27. Trailing at the end of the third quarter by a seemingly overwhelming margin of 26-15, the local boys in blue, led by the irrepressible Jackie Huhn, went at

PARISH YOUTHS AID MARCH OF DIMES

School Students and C. Y. O. Members Raise $447.26 For County Campaign

Grammar School students and CYO members from St. Peter's, Belleville, raised $447.26 in the Essex County CYO's campaign for the March of Dimes it was revealed last week when official figures for the drive were released. Of that total $293.47 was raised by the CYO and $153.79 by the school children.

The local parish's contribution helped the county organization raise $9,767.49, its highest total ever, during the drive. The CYO's contribution, which was more than that raised by any other organization except the labor union, brought its seven-year donation to $40,546.48. Funds turned over by the CYO topped the collection in every Essex municipality except Newark.

St. Peter's contribution brought its seven-year total to $1,700.31, one of the highest in the county. Its total for the year was the third highest reported to the CYO.

It hammer and tong, just falling short of their goal in the final reckoning. This brilliant fourth quarter comeback enabled them to out-score their opponents by a tremendous 12-2 margin.

The Fewsmith Presbyterian bowling team copped the championship diadem of the local Church League with a two out of three victory over Grace Baptist in the concluding games of the season. The new champions, Fewsmith, as altogether filling and proper, had the aces of the evening in the persons of Smith, Rodenbeck and Lyons. The latter was the most consistent of the trio, though Rodenbeck's 225 in the opener was the high individual mark.

Well, well, well! It's all over now. After the various interruptions, the senior play has finally presented itself as one of the best the school and town has seen in a while. The cast as a whole did a fine job—the roles of their players to a T (or vice versa). But undoubtedly Bette Robinson stole the hearts of the audience with her sincere, infectious interpretation of "Belinda Pryde." If one could keep her mind off Bette for a moment, she would have realized (and many did) that Bob Smith did as good a job. His rendition of the cruel, biased, and "Patton" was excellent. Not to mention the rest of the cast—Barbara Marks, Irene Di Biase, Sid Lawton, Walt Haslam, Jim Lampman, Ed Anderson, Gino Manno, Tony Della Valle, Mitzi Mayers, Don Davis, Marilyn Scheie, Claire Nes and Ron Kraus—who individually and collectively did a fine job in bringing us "Ram-sackle Inn."

After the Saturday adult performance, Mr. Brown was shown the appreciation of the cast and the student directors. Louise Del Manno, one of the directors, presented him with a very lovely check set.

Good Party Follows

Speaking of the student directors we'd like everyone to know that their hard work has not gone unappreciated. And neither is that of Miss Maffeo and all her little prodigies of the make-up committee; of the publicity committee; and the prop-ecies, sales, personnel, stage, costumes committees—and the others.

Imbedding the play even deeper in the memories of the cast, that party we told you about last week "came off"—at Irene's. It was wonderful—how also could it be after the cast was so elated at the close of their very successful run! And Bill Anderson evolved as a very proficient "pop" singer. He's always been known as a better-than-average "home-town-frolic" type of singer, but now there's something better. The boy is talented. The only misfortune that occurred was the loss of one of Mitzi's ear rings and what might be called the "hoax of the evening" for details approach Bob

Smith (or Bette Robinson) for information concerning a mysterious phone call . . .

Food Was Good

Miss Thompson and her "girls in white" hiked themselves off to Rutherford as we told you last week. From what we gathered those Rutherford girls gave these Belleville girls quite a workout. Seems like they played a round of games with squares and then a square of "round games." Sounds like a merry-go-round, but it wasn't quite so merry. Our Leader's Club was disappointed to have missed a chance to show their proficiency as basketball and volleyball opponents. However, food was served—need we say more? By that time Mal Zedigian was so hungry and so thirsty she stacked away three bottles of milk and felt quite "burdened" en route back to Belleville.

Not much has been said anywhere about the men with mounting muscles. Though unseen—for they do their stuff about four blocks away—they are hard at work in their "shells." Naturally, we speak of the Rowing team. Their galley slave debut is on April 14th in the afternoon when they row against the Columbia University lightweight. Why don't you go down and see them sometimes? Rowing may not be as recognized a sport as basketball, football, and baseball; but we certainly think that the boys deserve a few cheers from the sidelines. See you there?

If you look around our fair school these days, you'll be sure to notice a horde of wide-eyed eighth graders, who've come to inspect, view, and gain a working knowledge of the B. H. S. layout so no ingenious senior will sell them tickets on the elevator next year! Take a good look, kids, we know you'll like it here once you're in.

John Vaughan Jr. in Denver

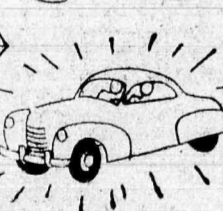

John A. Vaughan Jr., of 82 Washington Avenue is now with the State Highway Commission in Denver, Colorado. A graduate of Belleville High School and Drew University, Mr. Vaughan was a Flight Instructor at Keeler Air Field during World War II.
