

LIFE AT B. H. S.

By RITA CARISSIMO

Friday, he would have heard the clamors and cheers of all of the students in the school. That was the first pep rally and the cheerleaders did a good job. Dotty Sholty is captain of the cheerleaders and Audrey Arnold is co-captain. Phyllis Frisbie, Mary Basile, Vera Miller, Julia Bianchi, Jean Dufford and Marilyn Teuscher compose the rest of that peppy group.

The Junior Class

The officers for the junior class have been elected. Warren Kimball is president, Paul Weinstein is vice-president, Vera Miller is secretary and Marie De Falco is the treasurer. In order to raise money for the junior prom, the junior senators are selling balloons and other items to other class students. They will give school dances in the future which need our backing if we expect a good junior prom. That is really one occasion every one looks forward to with great anxiety.

Italian Club

Arriverderchi! When you hear someone say that, you know he belongs to the Italian Club. Miss Maffio is the adviser and Jean Clarizio is the president of this modern language club. Both have been to Italy on a trip and when one sits down to listen to them tell of their wonderful adventures and sights, our realistic everyday life is forgotten. We've seen the pictures they took and listened to records they purchased in Italy. Last year we went to New York to see an Italian film and to eat in an Italian restaurant. As everyone had a wonderful time, we hope to do the same this year.

Church Group To Present Film

The St. Lucy Philippine Sodality will present a film "The Last Days of Pompeii," Saturday and Sunday, October 27 and 28 at 8:30 p.m. in Holy Family School auditorium, Brookline Avenue, Nutley. The show will be for the benefit of the new convent.

Brownie Troop Meets

The newly reorganized brownie troop of School No. 10 held its first meeting yesterday afternoon and will continue to meet each Wednesday after school. The brownie troop is open to girls between the ages of 7 and 9. Mrs. Edward Austin, troop leader, is being assisted by Mrs. M. C. Ciesla. Committee women are: Mrs. Harry Minasian, Mrs. Herbert Morrison and Mrs. T. Rudy.

Singers are needed for the chorus. Friday, 8 p.m.—The consistory will meet in the chapel. All members are urged to be present. Sunday, 9:45 a.m.—Church School, a class for every age; 10:50—World Communion celebration.

Church Women to Meet

The Belleville Council of Church Women will discuss plans for World Community Day at a meeting to be held Friday at 2 p.m. in the home of the club president, Mrs. R. C. Whitfield, 85 Rossmore Place.

Students Prepare Reading Material for Classroom Libraries

With the addition of 325 books to its stocks of really worthwhile reading materials this year, the Language Arts Department of Belleville High School is continuing to expand its reading program—a project which has been carried on for a period of three years.

Last year English teachers received 240 books six sets of 40 books of each title) which to begin their supplementary program. With the addition of 200 more volumes this year, they now have 440 copies of novels, short story collections, essay collections, and plays. Each set of books is used at a designated grade level by all students in the class and there is a great deal of discussion and writing based on these reading materials. The books were selected on the basis of their appeal to the students at various grade levels. It is felt they will contribute to the development of an appreciation for better types of literature.

During the past two years all sophomores, juniors and seniors have taken the Nelson Denny Reading Test. Freshmen are scheduled to take the test early this month. By measuring each student's reading vocabulary and his ability to comprehend paragraphs, this test indicates the grade level at which he is reading. Teachers are thus aware of the student's ability, and in assigning reading in his subject, they try to obtain material which can be read with understanding. If the student is a "poor" reader, an attempt is made to give him materials which will improve his skill. If he is a "good" or "above average" reader, the teacher tries to rise the student's skill to an even higher level.

An innovation this year was the purchase of 125 additional books—one or several copies of each title—some of which are especially written for "slow" readers, and others to challenge the ability of even the most capable readers. The books will be used to form four classroom "libraries" of about 30 mixed copies in each. These classroom units will be moved from room to room, but will not supplant the high school library. Their purpose is to give the student a "crutch" of the art of reading.

FEWSMITH CHURCH HAS RALLY DAY

Werner Tietze Installed As General Superintendent At Sunday Ceremonies

At a special Rally Day program held last Sunday to mark a new session of the Fewsmith Memorial Church School, Werner Tietze was officially installed as General Superintendent. He will replace William Sanford, who vacated the post because of a transfer in business. Also included in the ceremonies were the presentation of graduation certificates and the assignment of new teachers to classes. All primary students received Bibles.

The theme for this year's study "The Lord of Christian Faith and Life," will emphasize Christ's life, teachings and significance. Many new teachers have been secured and trained for instruction and Dr. James K. Morse, pastor, has announced the start of a new teachers' training class for older young people who are interested.

Consecrated at the special morning worship were Mr. Tietze, Harry Estelle, secretary; Betty Leyble, assistant secretary; Andrew Salkeld, treasurer; Frederick Midlage, assistant treasurer; Paul Birrell, sergeant at arms; Mrs. Werner Tietze, superintendent of cradle roll; Mrs. Walter Van Nosttrand, superintendent of nursery class; Mrs. Fred Holland, superintendent of primary department; Mrs. Paul Birrell, secretary.

Primary teachers: Ruth Moore, Janet Taylor, Grace Smillie, Marilyn Everett, Janice Greenwood, Marie Lampman, Mildred Crawford, Mrs. Horace Goodenough, Barbara Hart, Dolores Bucco, Donna Armfelt, Janet Koehler, Gail McCumber, Jean Thompson.

Junior department superintendent Harold Ross, Jr., will direct junior teachers Ruth Watt, Mrs. Robert Zander, Robert Peppel, Mrs. Alberta Hill, Elsie Aierstok, Mrs. Elaine Brownish, Mrs. Arlene Taylor, Lee Grunin, Mrs. Gladys Cockcroft and Richard Babbitt.

Junior high school department superintendent will be Arthur Lentham, assisted by teachers Mrs. Horace Miller, Mrs. Leonora Keeney, Mrs. William Kelly, Richard Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Sherman, David Daniels, Mrs. Ronald Baker, Jr., Harry Bennett, Mrs. Lloyd R. Reeves, Alexander Thomas and Mrs. Danetta Lamb.

Arthur Denzler will be in charge of the senior-high school class, and Fred Holland will direct the adult class.

CHEM TEACHERS, STUDENTS TO BE DINNER GUESTS

North Jersey Section of American Chemical Society Marking 75 Anniversary

High school chemistry teachers of Northern New Jersey and their most deserving students will be guests of the North Jersey Section of the American Chemical Society next March 21 at a dinner meeting at the Essex House in Newark.

The dinner with teachers and students will form part of the Society's 75th Anniversary celebration. Professor Hubert N. Alaya of Princeton University will speak on "Atomic Energy, Weapon for Peace," and will supplement his talk with a lecture table demonstration. Watson Davis, editor of Science Service, will be the toastmaster.

A letter of invitation has been sent to 136 chemistry teachers by Dr. Per K. Frolich, chairman of the North Jersey Section's Anniversary Committee and vice-president for Research and Development of Merck & Co., Inc., manufacturing chemists of Rahway, N. J. In the letter Dr. Frolich indicated the dinner was the product of "an intense interest on the part of North Jersey's chemical industry in high school chemistry." Among a group of leading New Jersey chemists who met to consider plans for the Diamond Jubilee program, "many of those present," continued the letter, "gave unconditional credit to their high school teachers for having laid the foundation for their future careers in science and industry."

The North Jersey Section of the American Chemical Society, with a membership of about 5,000 chemists, is one of the largest units of the American Chemical Society. Its area of activity covers roughly the portion of New Jersey west of the Hackensack River through New Brunswick. The dinner invitation is being extended to include all high school chemistry teachers within the area. The local dinner is a part of the nationwide celebration honoring the American Chemical Society. President Truman has proclaimed the week of September 2 through September 8 as National Chemistry Week, and the Post Office Department will place a 3-cent American Chemical Society Commemorative Stamp on sale at the New York post office on September 4, 1961.

Week-long Meeting A major part of the week's program will consist of a gigantic week-long chemical meeting in New York City, which will be attended by 18,000 chemists representing 43 countries. Governor Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey will give the Keynote Address. The American Chemical Society, which was begun by a handful of chemists in New York City in the year 1876, has become one of the world's largest professional societies with over 66,000 members. When the society was founded, the chemical industry in the United States accounted for a small fraction of the national production. Today it is America's No. 1 industry—its fastest growing, most dynamic, and most creative. In the present stage of our scientific and technological development, the key to better living is in the hands of the chemical profession.

Educational Efforts

While the most apparent contributions of chemistry appear to be of a material nature, those to the educational side of life are also important. In the field of education, for example, the American Chemical Society has actively promoted the dissemination of basic chemical information among the general public, since an appreciation by the intelligent layman of the part chemistry plays in the betterment of contemporary living is quite as important as the education of the specialist for a professional career.

Belleville's Brief Period as City Followed Taunts to Mayor Hugh Holmes and his Friends

City Councilmen Frightened By Threats Refused To Vote Funds For Improvements

Hugh Holmes, author of a "Brief History of Belleville" glossed over his own activities in the obtaining of a City Charter for the community in 1871 and the fact that he served the city as its first and only mayor, in his recital of the civic affairs of Belleville in this series of stories dating back to about 1825.
"Our town has been mostly, since it has been a township separate from Bloomfield, controlled by a town committee. But wishing to have more power to make improvements, a charter was obtained in 1871, with full power to make all such improvements that were needed. Under that charter some good work was done, such as getting pipes laid through the streets for water, and having grades fixed for certain streets. These commissioners were well informed men, and each one had his own opinion and could not yield it for others with the spirit of Jackson. If they had taken the responsibility the work would have progressed, but some were doubtful as to the power granted, and thus things continued and the people became dissatisfied.

Chartering The City
"At a public meeting it was decided to charter Belleville as a city, with full power to make all improvements. A bill was drawn to this effect, but it was so late in the legislative season, that its friends did not think it possible could pass. Then the opponents began to taunt the writer's friends by saying 'we have picked your flints, you can't get it passed.' 'We bet you fifty dollars you can't get it passed.'

"When his friends, beginning to get tired of these taunts, determined to make the effort to push it through. Four men went to Trenton with that long dry city charter and with only three days in which to accomplish it, had men working night and day half that time, to get it printed. But the four in charge knew all the ropes and were vain enough to believe it could be done. It was introduced at an evening session, got out of the hands of the committee, taken to the printer and on the members' desk by Thursday noon. When it came up in the House for its second reading its opponents were there, but they could do nothing. That evening its friends got to the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate so that the next day the rules of the House were suspended and the bill passed that body; it was carried immediately to the Senate, where again all rules were suspended and the bill was passed five minutes before both Houses adjourned.

Met The Challenge
"All this time in the eyes of its friends rang these words, 'we have picked your flint, you can't get it passed,' and had these words never been spoken, Belleville would not have had its city charter, at that session of the Legislature for it could not have been introduced.
"The city organized under it, all the officers needed were elected and proceeded to business, but it being new business for some of the councilmen and some of the leading men opposed to the charter threatening them if they passed any ordinances to raise money, they became weak-kneed, and although the mayor kept urging them on to work, and made arrangements for improvements a majority could not be obtained to take the responsibility. Thus matters remained until some waited on the mayor and friends of the charter, saying if they would consent to have it repealed the Commissioners Bill would be again re-instated, and as this was all they wanted to have work done, it was not opposed. So in 1876 the charter was repealed. But it was not done what had been promised and the town again fell back under the old law in the hands of the town committee.

Back Under Old Law
"Had the friends of the city charter been disposed, it could never have been repealed to the day of this writing, and in the opinion of the writer, had all the councilmen been men the work would have proceeded and the improvements we have today would have been made then, and much more, our town would have been worth $1,000,000 more, and the population double what it is today.

Credit Where Due
"Yes, give credit to those to whom it is due. The writer remembers how things were some time back. He wipes his glasses and scans the present and is happy to see that our town had grown.

COUNTY CYO WILL SPONSOR LEAGUES

Basketball Program Includes Teams For Boys and Girls; Season Opens Nov. 19

The Essex County CYO will sponsor basketball leagues in seven different age and sex classifications this year. Joseph Smith, director of the CYO's court program, announced that rosters must be filed by October 29 and that the season will open on November 13. Nutley is expected to enter several teams.

Boys will compete in senior, intermediate, junior and grammar school leagues. There will be leagues for girls in the senior, junior and grammar school classes. Due to the large number of entries expected—last year 133 teams competed under the CYO banner—the leagues will be divided into Newark and suburban divisions, which will be split further into sections. Sectional winners will play each other for the area championship at the end of the season with the victor moving on to the county finals. Archdiocesan competition will follow.

Fifteen players, all of whom must be registered CYO members and must live within the parish they represent, will be allowed on each roster. High school and college varsity players will not be permitted to play in any of the leagues although last season they could compete in the senior loops. Teams will be allowed to make no more than five changes in the roster at half-time.

Two halves will be played in all sections with the winners of the first and second rounds meeting for the sectional crown.

Legion Gets Lift on Its Clubhouse Construction

Dwarfed by the shovel are Arthur Sharrock, past commander, William Conrad, chairman of the building committee and Commander Peter Torre of Belleville Post American Legion at the ground breaking ceremonies for their new clubhouse opposite the Liquid Carbonic Corporation plant in Washington Avenue, last week. The Legion leaders broke ground in a hurry when they had a chance to get the cellar of their building dug free, so the dirt could be used for the new turnpike fill. The Post has raised $15,000 toward the construction of its new home, but the cost is expected to reach more than $20,000. If they can figure out a few more angles the building should be taking shape in the near future. It will be two stories high of cement block, with the auditorium 25 by 40 feet on the second floor. The basement floor will have meeting and recreation rooms.

Fellowship Circle To Meet

The Fellowship Circle of the Fewsmith Memorial Church will hold the regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Wortman of 271 DeWitt Avenue on Tuesday evening, October 9, at 8 p.m. Rev. Charles T. Leber, Jr., of Newark, will be guest speaker. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Arthur Wickham, Mrs. Joseph Mergner and Mrs. Charles Jaeger.

The Navy announced recently that the sixth nation-wide competitive examination for its College Training Program has been scheduled for December 8, 1951, and will be open to high school seniors or graduates within the age requirements. Successful candidates will be given a four-year college education at government expense and will be commissioned as officers of the Navy or Marine Corps upon graduation.

The program is open to male citizens of the United States between the ages of 17 and 21, and quotas have been assigned to each state and territory on the basis of its high school population. Those who are successful in passing the aptitude test will be interviewed and given physical examinations; then, if they are found in all respects qualified, their names will be submitted to state and territorial Selection Committees composed of prominent citizens and naval officers. The Navy expects to enter about 2,000 students into the program commencing with the fall term of college, 1952.

The students selected by these competitive examinations will be assigned to the 52 Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps units which are located in various universities and colleges in the United States. If accepted by the college, they will be appointed Midshipmen, U.S.N.R., and will have their tuition, books, and normal fees paid for by the Government. In addition they will receive pay at the rate of $50 a month for the four-year period. Upon graduation they may be commissioned as officers in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and required to serve on active duty for two years. At the end of this time they may apply for retention in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps, or transfer to the Reserve and, depending upon the needs of the Service, return to civilian life.

Applications are available at high schools, colleges, and Navy Recruiting Stations. Samuel Slifkin, guidance director of Belleville High School, who is acting as the Navy's local civilian representative, will be pleased to provide specific information about the program, including the time and place of the competitive examination, the method of making application,

Belleville's

He takes a southern look and finds what was then farming land now is a part of the eighth ward of Newark, becoming thickly populated with buildings and manufacturers on every side. He cannot begin to estimate the difference in valuation, it would be guess work, but it is millions more than then. Who can say there would have been any such place as Woodside, had it not been for Parker and Keasby, with determination to push Washington Avenue through and with the aid of T. Sandford in obtaining the consent of property owners and the firm of Briggs and Morrison, and larger scale, we should today have had no railroads, nor even canals, some others with the same spirit, had not displayed it as they did. Although some did laugh and jeer because the latter were financially unsuccessful, yet the first blow they struck on their first building, was the graft from which the tree has grown and from which from year to year the Newark collector gathers fruit.

Contributed To Town

"And just so within our town limits, had it not been for some who were willing to take some risks, open streets, flag and curb sidewalks, put up dwellings, even though some of these persons became bankrupt in helping to build up the town, they have richly invested the benefits of their efforts. Without such men, only on a larger scale, we should today have had no railroads, nor even canals, or any improvements. Although some of them are compelled financially to succumb, yet one such, although he fails every ten years, is worth to the country, state and town more than one dozen drones, who are never willing to risk a dollar to help the town in which they live."

September

These are the days of in-between, of not quite brown, yet well-past green when fields cannot much longer hold bright floods of swiftly rising gold from breaking through and surging down the dusty road which leads to town.

These are the days of not quite Fall, of Summer just beyond recall when gray haze dulls the sky's blue blade and blunts the edge of sun and shade, while crickets pipe a thin new air that's neither wholly here nor there!

Elizabeth-Ellen Long.

A Salutary Lesson in Business Morals

It is particularly fitting that Robert B. Anderson, of Nutley, in his capacity as a small business man, should give the Corps of Army Engineers a sorely needed lesson in business morals and honesty. The air of Washington is filled with the stench of five-cent centers and grafters who grow rich on the blood of our soldiers in Korea. It took the persistence of an honest man to force Washington, in this case, to correct itself. Alas, the dubious ethics do and will persist and it is President Truman's own light-hearted and casual attitude towards the blunted ethics practiced all around him by high officials in the armed forces and national administration which stamp his régime as foul, perhaps the foulest in the nation's history.

Mr. Anderson's Nutley company, Triangle Equipment, bid on supplying infra-red quick-drying ovens as part of a contract for an equipment processing building at Connelly Army Depot, near Atlanta, Ga., ordered by the Corps of Army Engineers. His bid was $4,000 below that of any competitor, and he has a wire recording of a conversation in which an agent of the Corps admitted that the Nutley equipment was cheaper and more efficient.

Investigation disclosed that the Corps had given the contract for the ovens to the Fostoria Pressed Steel Company, of Fostoria, Ohio, and to insure that the Ohio firm did get the contract, the Corps allowed the Fostoria firm to write the specifications. Naturally, they were written in such a way that only the Fostoria firm could get the contract.

His sense of business decency shocked by the discovery, Mr. Anderson began his fight. He persuaded Rep. Kean, the Republican Congressman from the 12th District of New Jersey, to help him in his fight. Together they called on Major General T. K. Christmas, commanding general of Army procurement. The name seems to cover the tactics of those who do the buying for the armed forces. It's always Christmas, with a Santa Claus somewhere along the line in every contract.

When General Christmas read the specification and found out who wrote them, he acted swiftly. Mr. Anderson moved swiftly, too, between Nutley and Washington, Savannah and Atlanta. The order was held up. The phony specifications were thrown out. The job may be submitted to new bids. It took the determination of an honest industrialist to thaw that "freeze-out."

That, alas, is but one case. Think of the thousands and thousands of contracts that are let every month—many of them with just such phony specifications, written by a sure-winner who often pays hard cash to be certain that he wins.

Towards such foul practices, President Truman has taken a lighthearted view. He could even joke it off when Frank Prince, former head of RFC loan operations, admitted frankly that he had taken numerous "gifts" from the American Lithofold Corporation and facetiously argued that taking anything up to a 12-pound gift ham is ethical, anything in excess of 12 pounds unethical. Alas, most of the hams around Washington have been over 12 pounds.

The Chief Executive's position is (1) nobody has done anything wrong, (2) that any evidence to the contrary is either "smear" or "misrepresentation," and (3) that the issue of whether Washington is exhibiting an exceedingly low moral climate will be like so much carbonated water in the wind when the election campaign begins next fall.

Mr. Truman's attitude is expressed in this exchange with Blair House reporters:

Question: Mr. President, do you think it is all right for the chairman of the Democratic National Committee (William M. Boyle, Jr., who figures in a Senate investigation of RFC loans) to contact agencies in behalf of Democratic friends?

Answer: Mr. Truman replied by asking another question. He wanted to know what the chairman of the Democratic National Committee was for.

Question: A reporter answered the President's rhetorical question by saying: "To run the campaign."

Answer: The President ignored the reporter's answer and offered his own. He said the job of the Democratic national chairman was to be kind to people who come to town and want such introductions. He added that he felt that committee officials ought not to take fees for such helpful services.

Remember the 12-pound hams, the mink coats, the deep freezers, the Vaughn medals when November, 1952, rolls around. They are the hall-marks of an administration with an indecently warped moral code. It's time to clean house. Have you had enough?

ONE MAN'S OPINION . . .

Signs Point To Russia Taking Big Diplomatic Step Soon Perhaps Seeking United Germany, Unabashed By Defeat on Japanese Treaty

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

The tempo of diplomacy has been speeded up as the West moves swiftly and surely to bolster the peace only a year ago appeared doomed. We now have a peace compact with Japan; we are negotiating a contract with Germany. NATO has invited Greece and Turkey into the pact of North Atlantic powers and at Rome, shortly, that deal should be completed. Italy is to be freed of some of the bonds which bind her the worst in her peace treaty and in all of this, Moscow has had no hand.

Look at the front pages this week and you will be convinced that the Kremlin's power to absorb the thoughts of the world is fading fast. The world's series, the ethics or the lack of ethics of Mr. Boyle and of Mr. Gabrielson, the King's lung condition and Peron's phony plot all take up more space than does the war in Korea. Just for the contrast, look up the front pages of last October. Everyone expected Russia to get into the Korean war as our troops were hard-pressed in their retreat to the Pusan bridgehead.

Soviet Russia continues the one imperialist and potential aggressor power in the world. It is spread across Eurasia, and the strength of the Red Army, the Red Air Force and Russia's new potential based on the rich loot of raw materials in Red China does still dominate our own economy, our strategic planning and our foreign policies. But fear of Russia is no longer a dominant element in our thinking.

The French Foreign Office, which knows the Kremlin better than we do and which always has been more realistic in its approach to world diplomacy, looks for Moscow to take a major political and diplomatic step in the near future. Paris believes that it will concern the unification of Germany in an effort to forestall the rearming of Western Germany. Already we have seen a Russian effort to open private trade talks with Western Europe. It is most unlikely that Russia will sit back and brood over her defeat at San Francisco.

Community Chest Drive

Starts This Month

Some afternoon or evening your doorbell will ring and a volunteer worker will ask you to make a contribution to the Chest. Your gift may help someone right in your own community. Hospitals—clinics—youth services—family welfare—visiting nurses—none of them can operate without money. That is why the Red Feather Services must ask for contributions. That is why they conduct an annual drive. When asked for a gift, will you stop and think of what a community would be like, if no one cared what happened to others, if no one bothered about the sick, the handicapped or the aged? Then give as generously as you can.

COMMUNITY CHEST

Spera - less Grid Team Bobbles One To Bengals 21 - 7

By AL OUTCALT

A spiritless and Spera-less Belleville football team fumbled away their traditional clash with Bloomfield High School at Municipal Stadium last Saturday by a 21-7 score. Out of the shambles of their first defeat came only one consolation, the fact that the Bellboys have a fiery heretofore-unknown seatback, William Rock, who may make Blue and Gold fans forget the injured Pete Spera.

Rock, a 16-year-old junior who carries a mere 153 pounds on his five-foot seven-inch frame, gave the Belleville backers one of the two things they had to cheer about all afternoon. In seven carries, the Rock scooted for 46 yards, an average of 6.6 yards per try. His spurts early in the second half racked up four of the six first downs the Bellboys gathered in the whole game.

The only other time the home forces could muster a cheer was when Ralph Vara, the starting right guard on Coach Eddie Berlinki's eleven, scooped up a Bengal fumble with three and one-half minutes remaining and raced 70 yards for the only BHS touchdown. Outside of Rock and Vara's moment of glory, it was a dismal day for Belleville.

Right from the opening whistle the Bloomfielders, under their new coach, Warren Lowans, made it evident that the Bellboys were in for a rough contest. The Bengals kicked off and after three attempts to hit the line, Belleville was forced to kick. Harry Modestino blocked Gerry Skidmore's punt and Tony Russo fell on it on the Blue and Gold 13. With Bob Pascal, Dave Kolodin and Joe Rosania—three first-class running backs—lugging the ball, the Red and Gray needed only three plays for their touchdown, Kolodin piling over from the 5. John Ruby's placement was good and Bloomfield had an early 7-0 lead.

The second Bengal touchdown came at the start of the second period when the Bellboys gave up the second of three costly fumbles. Tom Powell recovering on the Blue and Gold 20. Rosania hit left to for 5 and Pascal racked up a first down with a 6-yard spring to the 9. Bob Rubin carted it over left tackle for 3 and Rosania breezed around right end for the last 7 yards and the score. Ruby missed the conversion.

Three quick Belleville punts and they were forced to punt. Rosania returned to the Belleville 48 and the Bengals were off on a 48-yard drive to their third touchdown. Mostly on end runs and off-tackle slants, Rosania, Kolodin and Pascal toted to the 13. Pascal ran wide to his right on an optional pass-run play and flipped to Herbie Miller in the end zone to make it 19-0. The try for the extra point was no good and the half soon ended.

Berlinki must have made quite a campaign speech at halftime because Belleville came out with a little more fire and a lot of Rock. The little speedster almost singlehanded moved the ball to the Bloomfield 38, the closest Belleville got to the Belgal goal with the exception of Vara's jaunt. At that point Fred Westby dropped Rocco Cafone's pass and Miller grabbed it before it hit bottom. That halted the first Bell-boy threat.

Twice more in the third period Belleville put on drives that were closer to their potential, but each time the machine was stopped by a Bengal monkey wrench. Early in the fourth quarter Bloomfield added insult to injury by tackling Tom Hedgespath in his end zone after Tom had dropped Cafone's pitchout. That made up for the two missed extra points and moved the scoreboard to 21-0.

With four minutes remaining, Lowans beckoned to his bench for a flock of substitutes after Pascal had slashed to the Belleville 20. On the first plays the Bengals fumbled, and the alert Vara gob-

CHARLIE BENFIELD WINS ALL THREE BUT BELLBOYS BOW

Teammates Fail To Back Him With Places In First Cross Country Encounters

By GEORGE PLOSO

Charlie Benfield, Belleville probable all-state runner, is living up to and bettering all pre-season expectations. The undefeated Bell-boy captain, in the cross-country teams first three matches, has yet to reveal anything but his heels to his opponents when coming across the finish line. In fact, the total distance by which he has won the first three races comes quite near the 200-yard mark. His times are nothing one would pass up without a second glance either, averaging 13:26. His best time of 13 minutes flat was achieved against South Side at West Side Park last Friday.

However, since his running mates haven't given him any support, the team has come out on the short end of the score three times in a row. Friday they bowed to South Side, 34-21, and this Tuesday Orange took their measure 34-21 over at Brank Brook Park again.

If the Bellboys had one strong runner to back up Benfield, they would prove to be a difficult obstacle to any team on their schedule. However, they have yet to place anyone second, third or fourth behind Benfield in any one of their first three races. In fact, they've managed only one fifth place, and that was by Jimmy Morse in the race against Kearny. There is some hope, however, in the person of George Miller, one of last year's better runners, who just came out this week, and after only one practice ran sixth against Orange.

The boys have their work cut out for them tomorrow when they take on St. Benedict's at Branch Brook Park.

Midget Race Planned For Ruppert Stadium

A program of midget auto racing will be presented at Ruppert Stadium Saturday night, the first time the midgets will compete at the former Newark Bears' baseball park. The only stock car race on the program will be a special non-Ford event with anyone invited to enter.

The midget drivers will be from the American Racing Drivers Club and will match some of the top midget competitors in the East. The first race will start at 8:30 p. m. with Sunday night as a postponement date in case of rain.

Montclair Tops Belleville In Touch Football Game

Montclair defeated Belleville 19-13 in the opening game of the Essex County Touch Football League at Memorial Field on Sunday. It was a hard-fought and interesting game all the way and unfortunately an official's decision on an interference claim put the ball on Belleville's four-yard stripe and led to the winning touchdown.

Montclair's outstanding players were Metzler, Testa and McGurk; Metzler besides being the passer did an outstanding job on defense and saved the game for Montclair with an interception with less than a minute to go. Testa scored two touchdowns and an extra point and McGurk got the other six. Papsadiero and Martoti scored for Belleville on passes from Don Smith. On defense Simpson and Pelair were outstanding for the home club.

Sunday at Memorial Field at 10:30 a. m., Belleville will meet Newark, conquerors of the strong Nutley club. The Newarkers came up with an unexpected 26-7 victory in their opener and may be tough.

PAL SEEKS 16-18 YEAR OLD YOUTHS FOR BOXING TEAM

Former Professionals Will Train Belleville Entries For County-Wide Tourney

The Belleville P. A. L. will enter boxers in the Essex County P. A. L. boxing tournament, which is in its formative stage. Boxers will be entered from East Orange, Irvington, Newark and Belleville, and must be from 16 to 18 years of age, inclusive. Former boxing stars Jack Mariano, Mickey Greb, Rocco Capanear, Johnny Nelson and Ernie Ratner will teach and train all entries from Belleville.

Because of the inability to obtain training quarters in Belleville, our P. A. L. fighters will train at the Newark and East Orange police gymnasiums, which those towns have opened to Irvington and Belleville youths. Plans are under way to include boys of all ages in the P. A. L. boxing program after this initial tournament. Boys in the above age bracket who desire to enter can do so by filling out the application found below and sending it to Belleville Police Athletic League, Belleville Police Headquarters, Belleville, N. J.

The P. A. L. soccer team is entered in the New Jersey State Junior Soccer League. Leading teams from Hudson, Passaic, Bergen and Essex counties are entered, and the Belleville team under the able coaching of brothers Joe and Johnny Hughes, former professionals, is rated among the top teams of the loop. There will be a practice game against the Harrison Juniors at Belleville Park Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m.

How does it feel to drive a Buick?

If you think perhaps we're hinting that it would be a good idea for you to try out a Buick—mister, you've never been so right.

It does a lot of things for you and to you that will be something new in your driving experience.

Take the way it feels beneath your hands on the wheel—eager and willing and anxious to please.

It spurts when you want to spurt—rolls with effortless momentum when you want to cruise.

When you take a curve, it snugs down to the road with sure-footed confidence.

After you make a turn, the front wheels instinctively seek a straight course. This car seems to guide itself.

When you come to a bumpy stretch, each separate wheel on its own coil spring steps you smoothly along on a level keel.

Then there's power that surges into action at a nudge of your toe—sends your speedometer needle soaring up to any speed the law allows, in a matter of seconds.

And there is also thrift—the saving thrift that comes from a high-compression valve-in-head Fireball Engine found in no other car.

To top all this, there is Dynaflo Drive*—that feeds power in a steady, falterless flow—lets you ride relaxed in busy traffic or on a day-long cross-country drive.

We're willing to stand on the statement that no other car rides, performs or drives like a Buick.

But why take our word for it? Come in—take over one of these lively lovelies—and see for yourself.

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS!
