

So What?

If you are in the habit of sleeping late on Saturday morning be prepared for the worst. Bloomfield is staging its first Air Raid Drill, sometime between 9 and 10 o'clock. There will be sirens, noise and smoke bombs and screening fire engines and police cars. But it will be in Bloomfield, it won't be a Belleville fire. Perhaps you were awakened at 6:15 Sunday morning when Glen Ridge staged its air raid drill, (postponed from Saturday because of inclement weather). If there is anything we hate on Sunday morning, it is to be awakened by a noise bomb, at such an early hour. But be prepared. Saturday's blasts should awaken you in plenty of time to get ready for Belleville High's football game with Passaic at the Stadium, that afternoon. Or, perhaps, in time to take down the screens and wash the windows, now that winter's blasts have hit this area.

We're glad we don't have to tell this one on a Belleville attorney, but the chap from Bloomfield who sought a writ of mandamus to force Building Inspector Thomas Greco to issue a building permit for house on Division Avenue, made a mistake in the street number in his complaint to the court. It turned out that he was asking the court to force the Building Inspector to issue a permit to erect a house on the town-owned skating rink, across the street. He has been given ten days to amend his application to the court, the very thing local attorneys, representing the town and board wanted in the first place.

Santy Josol, son of Mr. and Mrs. Santy Josol of 185 Passaic Avenue, will play the part of Paul in Geoffrey Keane's play "Flight to Freedom," which will be presented to the television audiences on Sunday evening by the Goodyear Rubber Company.

Santy played in stock at the Westport, Conn., playhouse during the past summer. In June he made his debut in Carnegie Hall where he sang an aria from "Rigoletto." Santy is a member of the seventh grade of Passaic Avenue School.

We wish we were kids again. Because of the Teacher's Convention at Atlantic City, the schools will be closed today and tomorrow. Then comes Saturday and Sunday and then joy heaped upon joy, the schools will celebrate Armistice Day on Monday by remaining closed. We only hope that the five day vacation is not spoiled by too much homework.

Your scribe was the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Belleville Rotary Club yesterday. What did he talk about? About 20 minutes.

Confidentially, he outlined a community newspaper's responsibility to the town and the town's responsibility to support the newspaper in its efforts to promote the betterment of the town.

Ed Verg presided and Larry introduced and thanked the speaker, with side comments from the membership.

We don't know whether it comes under the head of Halloween pranks or just plain thievery, but some knave stole a brand new bath tub from in front of a new house being erected at 204 Forest Street by Rocco Landolfi.

The matter was reported to the police on Thursday morning.

WATER MAIN BREAK AT RESERVOIR IS IN TOWN'S SYSTEM

At Least 18 Newark Pipes Cross Joramemon Street, Belleville Has Only One

A broken water main at the crest of Joramemon Street, at about the spot where about 20 mains run into the City of Newark's balancing reservoir, had workmen of the water departments of Newark and Belleville on the job Sunday afternoon and night and Monday morning. With all the mains crossing Joramemon Street, only one belonged to the Belleville water supply system.

Monday, shortly before noon, when the broken main was reached, it was found that the six-inch Belleville main had split in half. At this point Newark's workmen stopped their activities, and Belleville carried on. A few houses in the neighborhood were affected when the water was shut off while the pipe was replaced.

Million Gallons Lost
Hugh Welsh of the Public Works Department estimated that a million gallons of water were lost in the break. In dollars and cents the water loss was negligible, for it costs the town $90 per million gallons.

Granite Bench To be Memorial For Korean Hero

Seat, Boulder, Plaque, Shrubbery Paid For by Donations to Fund Began by M. A. Weinstein; Exercises Nov. 16

A memorial in the form of a granite bench at the No. 28 Bus stop in front of No. 7 School in Joramemon Street will be dedicated next Friday to Corporal Rene Flory, Jr., first casualty in the Korean War. A bronze plaque on a granite boulder and a planting of shrubbery will complete the memorial.

When word reached here shortly after Corporal Flory's death in action, June 9th, Moses A. Weinstein, who operates a pharmacy across from No. 7 school, and who knew Rene since he was a tot, put a coin box in his store, with a sign saying that donations would go toward a memorial for Corporal Flory. The one box was replaced by four, and other boxes were put at four other locations. Eventually $127 in coins were taken from the boxes. Another $40 in coins came from the Holy Family Church.

Add to Committee
By this time, Mr. Weinstein had asked Deputy Police Chief Kenneth Smith, and Eugene Kelly and Raymond McCann of the Board of Education to serve on the memorial committee with him. With the coins counted and deposited in a special account, Mr. Weinstein engaged Nicholas Palasciano of 446 Belleville Avenue, who operates a monument works in Led, to construct a stone bench of the same design as the bench in front of the famous Lincoln statue in front of the Court House in Newark.

Letters were written to industrial firms in the town, telling of the committee's plans and surprisingly generous contributions were made by National Yeast, Jergens, Federal Leather, Walter Kidde and Wallace & Tiernan.

Boulder From Garret Mountain
Mr. Weinstein and Mr. Palasciano made a tour of several places before they found the granite boulder which fulfilled their ideas as a fitting place upon which to fasten the plaque. Finally they located a boulder in Garret Mountain Park and obtained permission of the Passaic County Park Commission to remove it from the park premises.

The inscription on the bronze plate being cast by the United States Bronze Sign Company of New York, says the bench is dedicated to Corporal Rene Flory, Jr. and other Belleville boys who have made the supreme sacrifice in Korea. Although Corporal Flory is the only one listed as killed in action, Private First Class J. F. Gorman, had been listed as missing in action. So far there is no word of how many prisoners the Communists have taken, if any.

Ceremony Guests
Members of the Board of Education, on whose property the memorial will be erected, members of the Board of Commissioners and the Priests of Holy Family Church where Corporal Flory served as an altar-boy will take part in the dedication ceremony. It is possible that School No. 7, where he attended, will have a half session of classroom work that day, and the children will join in the dedication program.

THREE TROOP 388 SCOUTS RECEIVE EAGLE RANKING

Fred Cox, Robert Geulich and Fred Midlege Earn Scout-ing's Top Award

Three scouts were awarded the highest rank in scouting, the Eagle Scout Rank, Wednesday, at Christ Episcopal Church. In order to achieve Eagle Scout rank a scout must, in addition to becoming Second, First, Star and Life Scout, earn 21 Merit Badges, show proficiency as a leader, and before a board of review show that he is living the Scout Oath and Law. Since this is the highest rank in scouting very few scouts achieve it. However, in Troop 388, under the leadership of Robert Bartholomew, scoutmaster for the past 8 years, the troop has awarded 11 scouts this high rank or better than one per year.

The three scouts who received the Eagle rank are Fred Cox, son

The Belleville Community Chest has received $12,449, it was announced by William H. Glover, Jr., Campaign Chairman. This represents 37.6% of the total goal of $33,108. The first captain to go over 100% of quota is Mrs. Edna Trommel of 563 Washington Avenue, who is serving in the Residential division. Mrs. Trommel's team was given a quota of $925, as compared with $262.50 raised in the same area last year. Her team has already reported $330 and has not quite completed solicitation. Those on her team are: Jack Alpaugh, Mrs. H. E. Cook, Mrs. L. E. Muench, Mrs. Jean Muller, Mrs. Ruth Reynolds, Mrs. George Spatz and Mrs. Harry Wagner.

The various divisions reported the following percentages of goal achieved: Special Gifts, $795, or 37.8 per cent; Industry, $9,248, or 57.4 per cent; Professional, $428, or 47.5 per cent; Churches, $231, or 77 per cent; Civic, $315, or 72.1 per cent; Purveyors, $365, or 24 per cent; Residential, $442, or 6.3 per cent; Commercial, $279, or 10.3 per cent; Schools, $389, or 26.5 per cent.

The Chest is contemplating extending the campaign, and will notify all campaigners immediately in case of such extension. It also urged all campaigners to make their returns as soon as is conveniently possible, in order that they may be tabulated before the Thanksgiving holidays.

Hospital Setup Beyond Fondest Dreams Outlined

John Kidde Cites Dr. Buerki's Report On Plan for General Hospital Here At Belleville Foundation Meeting

A hospital setup in Belleville which will go far beyond the fondest dreams of those who pledged or contributed to the Lutheran Memorial Hospital's plan for the "Hospital in the Park" was described in an off-the-record report by John Kidde, president of Walter Kidde & Company, Inc., and chairman of the hospital building fund, at the annual meeting of the Belleville Foundation, Monday night at the For Hills Restaurant, Mt. Prospect Avenue, Newark.

Mr. Kidde told how the Foundation had initiated the building fund campaign with a pledge of $50,000. On the strength of that kick-off to the campaign for $2,800,000 Doctors of Lutheran Memorial Hospital purchased the property next to the Jergens plant. When the campaign stood at $800,000 a preliminary study of the feasibility of a General Hospital plan was undertaken by Dr. Robin Buerki, then head of the University of Pennsylvania Medical School and now director of the Ford Medical Foundation.

Foundation Financed Study
The preliminary report was approved by the directors of the Lutheran Memorial Hospital, Hospital of St. Barnabas, Newark Eye and Ear Infirmary, Babies Hospital and the Hospital for Crippled Children, and when a more complete study and report was called for Dr. Buerki's work.

It was from this report that Mr. Kidde quoted, but because the trustees of the five hospitals have not had time to act on this study, he wished certain portions of the report kept confidential for the time being.

Much At Stake
A great deal is at stake in the proposals outlined by Dr. Buerki and a premature announcement of the entire plan might undo months and months of work on the part of Mr. Kidde and those associated with him in the undertaking.

Mr. Kidde's report to the Foundation is an assurance to those who have made pledges and contributions that something good will come of the generosity. The general hospital planned would mean a lot to Belleville and to Essex County as a whole. When the full announcement is made, the wide scope of Mr. Kidde's endeavors will be revealed as a tremendous undertaking.

Officers Re-elected
Mr. Kidde's report followed the election of officers, a finance committee, and reports on the Dental Clinic, Camp Ro-Li and the Scholarship Fund. Trustees of the foundation, six from industry, three from the clergy and six from the public at large, were re-elected last month. The officers re-elected are: Harry G. Specht, president; Martin T. Tiernan, vice president; Elwood P. Russell, secretary and G. Crosby Hiss, treasurer.

In addition to the officers the nominating committee headed by Magistrate Everett B. Smith recommended the election of Rev. Thomas Ellis, Frank McFadden, Norman Lauterette and Phillip Thayer as additional charter members.

Dental Clinic Report
Dr. Lepinsky, in charge of the dental clinic conducted at the Town Hall, reported on the second year of operation of the clinic. It was pointed out that children of parents who fall in certain income brackets, in accordance with the number of children in the family are eligible to receive this free dental care. Dr. Lepinsky pointed out that during the first year the clinic was for pre-school children. This year the oldest children are about eight. In the future it will include the high school grades. She pointed out that the program is one of preventive dentistry. If the program had started out to cover all age groups, it never could have done anything but patchwork.

90 Children In Second Year
In the first year of operation 90 children were treated. In the second year there were 90, 55 new and 35 old cases. In the first year 30 percent of the number dropped their treatments for one reason or another before the dental work was completed. In the second year only 15 percent fell away. The clinic is just starting its third year of operation.

The clinic is open a day and one half per week. The initial cost to the foundation for equipment was $5,000 and the annual cost of operation is about $4,000. For the first 10 months of this year the Foundation has expended $3,000 on the clinic.

Scholarship Report
Magistrate Smith reported on the Scholarship Fund, which in reality is a Student Loan fund. The Foundation set aside $20,000 for scholarship loans. So far $13,350 has been allotted and $9,800 actually paid out. The first installment repayment was received this month. Deserving students may borrow up to $400 per year or $1,600 for a four year course, without interest. One year after leaving school they promise to repay the money in installments over a three year period. So far 23 students have been helped.

Camp Ro-Li Report
Charles E. Genne, director of Camp Ro-Li, gave the report on the operation of the camp. A statistical report in typewritten form was passed out to those in attendance. It showed a total of 293 boys and girls at camp this summer, 187 campers passing the Red Cross waterfront test, 84 receiving camping emblems, 406 craft projects made, 384 instructional periods, 15,764 meals served and 4,370 quarts of milk used.

Foundation Invested $20,000
Mr. Specht gave a brief history of the camp into which the Foundation has put $20,000 in capital expenditures and rent. Last year it built 10 new stone cabins at a cost of $5,000, but this year the Rotary and Lions financed waterfront improvements and the camp was operated without a deficit for the first time. Mr. Specht said we have killed the idea that the camp is for the underprivileged. In fact any child who goes there is a privileged child.

Urgent Action On Planning Board
The final report of the meeting was by Frank McFadden on the ill-fated Planning Report, financed by the Foundation, and which was submitted to the Town Commissioners just about a year ago and which has apparently been pigeon-holed.

Mr. McFadden pointed out that the preparation of the report was the result of the greatest mass action of the people of Belleville that has ever been accomplished. Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde declared, "I want to go on record as in favor of the establishment of a planning board for Belleville, and I suggest that a committee from the Foundation come to a commission meeting and press for action on the report."

26 GROUPS WILL MARCH IN TOWN'S ARMISTICE PARADE

Floats To Be Entered By PAL, Knights of Columbus, Legion and Rec Department

Belleville's Armistice Day Parade, Saturday night at 8 o'clock should be a colorful event. The Belleville Armistice Day Committee headed by Gaspar Siciliano has gone all out to arrange for a spirited competition among drum and bugle corps and has posted $250 in prize money. So far 11 such organizations have been assigned places in the line of march. In addition to these groups the Belleville High School and the Belleville Grammar School bands will furnish music for the marching units, which will be outnumbered by the musicians.

There will also be a competition for a prize of $25 for the best float in the parade. St. Peter's Knights of Columbus, the American Legion, the Police Athletic League and the Recreation Department have announced their intentions of decorating trucks for the occasion. There is another $25 prize for the organization having the largest marching group.

Professional Judges
Professional judges have been engaged to pass on the drum and bugle corps in the parade. A set of local judges will pass on the floats and another set of judges will count the representatives of local organizations marching in the parade.

An invitation has been issued to all Gold Star Mothers to review

Republicans Sweep Election For First Time Since 1932

Alfred C. Clapp for State Senator Has Majority of 1,574 Over John A. Pindar, Democratic Rival; Berlinski Runs 300 Ahead of Assembly Ticket

Belleville's Republican organization was in high spirits Tuesday night when returns flowing in to Town Clerk Florence Morey showed that their candidates had polled a substantial majority over their Democratic rivals. The only consolation for the Democrats was the fine showing of Belleville's football coach, Edward T. Berlinski, who ran a good 300 votes ahead of his ticket, and only 600 votes short of the low Assembly candidate on the Republican slate.

The Republican slate, headed by Alfred C. Clapp for State Senator, ran 1,574 votes ahead of John A. Pindar, Democratic standard bearer. Clapp's majority in the county was more than 46,000.

Good Vote For Berlinski
Voting on the Assembly slate appeared to be straight down the line, except for the good vote for Berlinski. In the compilation of the election returns, Berlinski's vote is compared with that of Anthony P. Bianco, who was high on the Republican ticket.

The vote on the County Supervisor and Freeholders was practically identical with that for State Senator.

42 Percent Vote
A surprisingly heavy vote for an off year election brought out 42 percent of the registered voters. The difference between that figure and the expected 30 percent represented the economy minded voters who defeated the Police and County Park referendums. The $15,000,000 bond issue for the state normal schools, which won with ease in the statewide voting just barely got by here with 131 more in favor than were opposed.

The Park Maintenance question got scant attention here with 2,800 voters failing to pull either the "yes" or "no" lever.

Incidentally, Belleville, which had most to gain by the passage of the park maintenance referendum, and Montclair, were the only two communities in the county who went overboard in opposition. The voting on this question throughout the rest of the county was fairly even, but the majorities in opposition in these two communities plus 500 in Newark defeated the proposal.

HALLOWEEN EVENTS SO SUCCESSFUL, PLAN MARDI GRAS

Recreation Department Did Well; Accident To Horse Holds Up Parade

Belleville's first Halloween Parade and parties, sponsored by Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde's recreation department, with F. Douglas Wadsworth as chairman, was such a grand success that the committee hopes to make next year's event a mardi-gras and invite anyone wearing a costume to join in the march.

The parade was a little late in starting, because of an accident which nearly cost "Tex" White and his horse Stranger their lives. While on the way to the parade Stranger slipped and fell on wet leaves in Greyluck Parkway. The horse sprained its rear legs, but after it got up, became frightened, and several of the riders put on a real wild west performance. Unfortunately from the spectators' (Continued on Page Four)

Belleville Police Bid For Salary Increase Defeated

Of Dozen Towns Where Question Was on Slate, Belleville Was Only One to Vote It Down; Mayor Waters' Threat of Other Increases Major Factor

The bid of the Belleville police for an across-the-board pay raise of $390 had tough sledding in the election Tuesday. The referendum lost by a margin of 514 votes. The Police won in only one ward, the First, down in the Valley where their margin was 282 to 252. In Wards 2 and 4 the pay question was beaten by narrow margins in comparison with the number of votes cast, 14 in the Second and 96 in the Fourth. But in the Third Ward the property owners came out with blood in their eyes and knocked the referendum out with a majority of 456 in the "No" column.

One in a Dozen
Belleville was the only community among a dozen in North Jersey which voted down the police salary referendum. Pay increases were voted in Bloomfield, Hillsdale, Westwood, Bayonne, Weehawken, Roselle, Hoboken, Fort Lee, Closter, Deal and Bound Brook.

While Mayor Patrick A. Waters did no electioneering against the referendum, his statement which forecast a 22-point raise in the tax rate through a threat of increases to all town employees, is credited with turning the tide. Most of the opposition came from the Hill where the greatest concentration of owner occupied homes is located.

A political follower of Mayor Waters predicted the defeat of the referendum several weeks ago when he told a Time-News reporter that "Pat Waters has never backed a losing cause. In this case he will not have to do any campaigning."

On the other hand the police themselves didn't put the same effort into their campaign as was expended in some other towns. In Bloomfield, where the referendum was won by a large majority, the police sought and received endorsements from practically every civic organization in the town. Some people even had a hunch that a number of organizations were created just to broadcast the endorsement and will never be heard of again.

Even the Normal School bond issue, which had powerful backing down the line, with little or no opposition just barely won out in Belleville by 181 votes

The parade from the reviewing stand on the steps of the Town Hall, Chairs will be provided.

The parade will start at Greylock Parkway and proceed down Washington Avenue to William Street where it will turn right and disperse. Washington Avenue will be decorated with flags along the line of march. PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, November 11 is the date annually set aside to commemorate the ending of the first of the two great World Wars which have been fought during this century; and

WHEREAS, in commemorating the ending of the first World War, we also remember the ending of the second World War, and even while the struggle against Communist aggression in Korea, in behalf of the United Nations, is severe and costly in the lives of our youth, we give thanks to our Creator that the first two of these conflagrations have ended without destroying the civilization He has so graciously bestowed on us; and

WHEREAS, as many citizens of Belleville faithfully served their country in both of the great World Wars in which it has recently been involved, as well as the many who today are doing their national duty in Korea, or in army camps, it therefore behooves us as citizens of Belleville and of the United States of America to express our gratitude to those who have given their lives for their country and to those who have faithfully served their country by a solemn recognition of this Armistice Day as a day set aside from our lives to honor all the men and women who have served in all our military forces, and to give thanks to Almighty God for the benefits He has conferred upon us through their services.

LIFE at BHS

As Our Teen-Agers

by

Rita Carisimo-Audrey Meise

Mr. Seymour Crossman, from ambitious home room 110, reigned over Friday's assembly. Mr. Lou Zuckerman, from cafeteria A, rated next in line for succession to the throne. They were given this noble privilege because their home rooms had been tops for the week and for the day respectively in the magazine campaign.

Unfortunately for the home room representatives, not all home rooms showed as much effort and their funds were below $50. If this occurred the student was presented with a dunce cap to be worn during home room period every day until the required goal is reached.

The surprise which had everyone in suspense was unveiled by Mr. Ralph Correll and proved to be an 18-pound turkey for some lucky family. To qualify for the drawing of which the turkey is to be the prize, the students must sell $10 worth of subscriptions.

At the same program the highest salesgirl was presented with a pretty corsage of roses, and the highest salesboy got a flower also with which he could surprise his mother.

Mr. Miller from the Crowell Colliers Publishing Company, who offered $5 to the person who brought in the most subscriptions to Collier's magazine, paid Mr. Correll a well-deserved compliment which we second. Anyone who has passed room 307 during the past week can vouch for all the hard work done by Mr. Correll and his staff.

The assembly was concluded with a cheer for our hard-working football players.

Welcome Rain

Aren't you glad it rained Saturday? How else could we have gotten off Tuesday at 12:30? Hope everyone took advantage of it to go to the game at Kearny.

New-Old Librarian

Although Mrs. Pointer is our new librarian, she is certainly not a stranger to any of Belleville High's students. She has been substituting here for the past few years and we're happy to have her as a regular member of our faculty.

Talent Show

The year's most popular and enjoyable assembly program is now in the making. Auditions will take place on November 26. The judging will be conducted by Mr. Brown and the assembly committee. The talent show will be on December 14. Later on in the year there will be another talent show which will consist of only instrumentalists. It is very interesting to be reminded on this occasion of the talent (much of it is hidden until then) that many of the students from B. H. S. possess.

CONGREGATION AAA DISCUSSION TOPIC

Friday Night Services Well Attended Despite Storm; Forum Follows Service

Congregation A.A.A. will continue its second Friday night service this Friday evening at 8:30 p.m. It was announced by Rabbi Leo Schwartz and Edward J. Abrohomson, president. Despite the heavy rain last Friday night there was a record turnout for the services.

Following the services there will be a social hour and round-table discussion on the topic "How Can We Combat Thought-Control in America?"

The subject will be discussed by Seymour Grossman, teacher in Belleville High School, and Charles Rosenberg, member of Congregation A.A.A. and president of New Jersey Postal Workers' Union.

Mrs. Jack Orinsky will be chairman. Mrs. Arthur Kobrin, Mrs. Lena Biebelberg and Mrs. Michael Roach will be hostesses. The guests of honor will be Mr. and Mrs. Harold Zimet, parents of Robert Zimet who will become Bar Mitzvah this Saturday morning. Everyone is invited!

About 600 children and some 200 parents had been entertained at an afternoon party at the Elks Club which from all reports got completely out of control.

The evening parade wound up at the Elks Club, where in addition to the judging of the costumes, the Belleville Choral Society under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Trico and an all star show presented by the Kimbel School of Dancing, was presented. All the doughnuts and cider they could dispose of was given to the costumed children and as they were dismissed each took home a bag containing an apple, Halloween pops and peanuts.

The prettiest costume award went to Leonora Colon, the funniest to Bruce Lukowiak and the most original and best costumes in the entire parade to Robert B. and Diane S. Yudin.

Tex, Stranger and several of the "Night Riders" who were scheduled to march at the head of the parade returned to the Bloomfield stable. In the meantime the parade was held up for about an hour and a half. This caused restlessness among the 1,000 costumed children and in the estimated thousands of people who lined Washington Avenue from Greylock Parkway to William Street.

NEW MUSIC SONG BY NEW VOICES AT PAPER MILL

"Finian's Rainbow" Features
Mary O'Fallon, Who Played
Lead in Original Musical

Sprightly new music sung by new voices gives a gay new tone to the recent Broadway hit, "Finian's Rainbow," which begins its third week at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn Monday, November 12.

"How Are Things in Glocca Morra?" will always be associated as the number one song of the score created by Burton Lane with lyrics by E. Y. Harburg. It is sung twice by Mary O'Fallon, who played the lead in the original production during the Chicago engagement. Miss O'Fallon also sings "Look to the Rainbow" with the singing ensemble.

New Leading Man

Edward Chappel, new leading man of the Paper Mill company, joins with Miss O'Fallon in duets of "Old Devil Moon," "If This Isn't Love," "Great Come and Get It Day" and a reprise of "Look to the Rainbow." Miss O'Fallon also sings with David Timmar, "Something Sort of Grandish."

"Necessity," another outstanding number in the score of "Finian's Rainbow" is sung by Arthur Roussin and a group of girls including Sara Ontell and Terry Marone. One of the most rousing numbers, "The Begat," is done by Robert Eckles, Fred Thomas, Kenneth Hibbert and Rodester Timmons.

Dancing Star

The dancing chores of the operetta are in the hands of Timmar and Janice Cioffi, who perform "When I'm Not Near the Girl I Love." Miss Cioffi also dances the "Dance of the Golden Crock" and "If This Isn't Love." In another dancing number, Miss Cioffi is seen with Clarence Nordstrom and the ensemble.

Anthony Nello whose staging of the musical numbers made an outstanding success of this season's production of "Annie Get Your Gun" has once again performed his specialty with great success working in co-operation with John Charles Sacco, musical director, and Frank Carrington and Agnes Morgan, directors of the production.

Wins Harvard Scholarship Award For Graduate Study

Nelson Shaw of 144 Joralemon Street, was among 98 men from 33 states and foreign countries who were announced this week as winners of the Regional Financial Aid Awards at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. Applicants are judged on their intellectual capacity, character, maturity and ability to work with other people. The amount of the award covers all of a student's expenses for an academic year—travel, medical fees, room and board, as well as tuition and books. Shaw, a new student, is a graduate of Rutgers University. He is taking a two-year course which leads to the degree of Master in Business Administration.

Fall Farewell

Like falling leaves, the small brown birds of fall drop from the trees and move across the lawn pause and move on and suddenly and all at once whirl upward, a blowing cloud of brown, maple-leaf color flashing as they fly, (a russet throat, a yellow under-wing) and moving on the wind they leave, off-blown in a fall-colored cloud and fall is gone.

Louise Owen.

The Handwriting on the Wall

If we're not mistaken, we read some handwriting on the wall after Tuesday's votes were added up. It spelled out doom for the national administration, for the privilege peddlers, the mink coat collectors, the deep freezer devotees and all the Vaughans from top to bottom of a rotten regime.

There can be no other explanation for the powerful Republican vote across the land in an off-year poll. The Republicans were going to the polls for 1952 this November. By the size of their majority in secondary elections, they protested all the federal government's wastefulness and sordid bartering which was symbolized in the truly unnecessary tax raise less than a week before the election.

By the same reasoning, the extremely light Democratic vote can only be interpreted as a demonstration of disgust on the town and county level with the national administration. Here in Belleville, for example, more Republicans bothered to get out and vote on Tuesday than last November when a seat in Congress was at stake, and yet the Democratic vote was barely half that of a year ago.

The contrast between the Clean Government victory in Essex and the Kenny display of strength in Hudson can only confirm the split between the Kelly and the Egan clans in the Democratic party in this county. That split may account for the small Democratic vote here, and, inversely, it may account for the fact that on a county level State Senator Alfred C. Clapp led the whole Clean Government ticket. The voters, apparently, liked his two-fisted slambang attack on Egan, and particularly the "Longie" Zwillman angle. It could well be a precedent and in 1952 the Republicans can score heavily if they swing with both fists against corruption in government and administration on a national level.

By the GOP victories in Essex and Bergen counties, the party retains control of the New Jersey legislature for the 14th year. That victory is a mandate for good government. It is a mandate for economy in government. It is a mandate to refuse the establishment of a state sales tax and a state income tax, to the defeat of which the Republican party is pledged.

Egan's failure to bring his ticket out of Newark with the anticipated 30,000 majority it would have needed to break into the scoring column on county and state levels can be blamed on hard feelings of the Kelly wing, because whether Egan will admit it or not, he now faces exactly the same kind of feuding that Kenny faces in Hudson county with the Hague-Eggers wing. The Democratic margin of victory in Newark was only 10,000 which was wiped out completely by the tremendous 10,000 plurality of Clean Government in Montclair.

The whole thing augurs badly for Democracy in 1952. On top of the schism in the county leadership will come the intense disgust of the taxpaying public with corruption and extravagance on a national level. There is a lasting lesson in the rise and fall of the Roman Empire, and twenty years is a long time for any party to stay continuously in power. That handwriting we could read on the wall this week seemed to answer the question:

Have you had enough? R.E.H.

"Ike's" Still Our Man

In flying back to Paris without answering the one question that every American would like to have answered, General Dwight D. Eisenhower did only what any good soldier would do in any democratic country. A soldier on duty, he cannot take part in partisan politics. But there surely can be little doubt in his own mind now that if he wants to run, either as an avowed or as a "drafted" candidate, he can win hands down.

The Gallup poll for this week shows that in all four geographical sections of the country, "Ike" runs far ahead of the field. Truman was second to him in popularity in the East and the South, Taft in the Mid-West and Warren in the Far-West. In a nationwide level, the Gallup poll shows him carrying 28 per cent of the popular favor to 13 per cent each for Truman and MacArthur, 12 per cent for Taft and 8 per cent for Warren.

One thing is certain, Eisenhower did not close the door to his chances. It may be a negative way of handling such a vital problem, but the fact remains that he did not say "No." Enunciating an "open door" policy, he gave new hope to those Republicans, particularly of the younger wing, who seek his candidacy—the Duffs, the Deweys and the Darbys.

The Times-News is still convinced that a change of regime is vital, because the spreading corruption in administrative circles can be cut out only by drastic surgery. Only a Democratic defeat can unseat a Vaughan and, alas, our national government is cursed with a growing army of Vaughans. Since a change is desirable, the Times-News still considers General Eisenhower its choice for President because of his non-partisan background, his clean approach to national government, his freedom from political ties, his tremendous vitality and exceptional administrative abilities proven under fire in the greatest post of responsibility in the whole history of civilization.

"Ike" is our man, and if we have to draft him, that's all right, too. R.E.H.

Blood Means Life

Blood means Life. Your blood may mean life to some wounded American fighting men. If you give your blood, he will live to return to his family and to his community.

If you are too "bushed," or too lazy or too thoughtless to give your blood, he may die. There will be one more white cross in some cemetery that would not have been there had you done your part.

Blood is life to wounded men on the fields of battle. In World War I, eight to eleven out of every hundred wounded soldiers, reaching hospitals behind the lines died of their wounds. In World War II, less than five out of every hundred died. During the present Korean conflict, less than three out of every hundred have died.

This impressive decrease in casualty mortality is attributed almost entirely to the prompt use of blood plasma and whole blood to prevent shock. The desperate need of our wounded in Korea has almost exhausted the small reserve of blood plasma which the Armed Forces had at the outbreak of the Korean conflict. In addition, fresh blood—some 8,000 pints a month during the last year—has been flown to Korea.

It would be a great crime against America's sons, who bear the brunt of battle, if the American people—if we in Belleville failed them in their hour of need. Give your blood to them. The life of some soldier or sailor or marine or airman may lie in your hands. What are you going to do about it?

You can answer this question by calling Belleville Red Cross, Belleville 2-4610, and register as a blood donor in the November 20th Blood Donor Assembly under the Armed Forces Blood Program, at the Belleville Elks Club from 12 to 5:30 in the afternoon.

ONE MAN'S OPINION . . .

Paris UN General Assembly Should Provoke Some Smart Strategy by World's Smartest Diplomats, with Odds on Our Side

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

As the general assembly of the United Nations meet in Paris this week, the world situation might well be compared to one of those Australian tag wrestling matches we see too often on our television sets—two men to a side, one the hard-boiled bluffer, full of dirty tactics who buffs his opponent around, and the other the strategist, the one who clamps the hammerlock or lifts the groggy opponent in an airplane spin after the bruiser has softened him for the finish.

In this world crisis, each tag team is made up of militarists and diplomats. The Communist military had their round in Korea and although they puffed and they heaved, they couldn't end the match. So now, in Paris, the diplomats step in and will try to accomplish by honeyed words or by Vishinsky vituperation what the military men failed to do.

Russia has set her sights in Paris on three major goals: To stop the war in the Far East which has become such a drain, economically and militarily on China; to slow down the rearmament of the Atlantic Powers and particularly to stymie General Eisenhower's task in Europe, and, finally, to try to prevent the rearming of Western Germany and its inclusion in the defense front of the Atlantic Powers.

Our own policy in Paris is to move in fast and take the diplomatic initiative away from Russia. It will be hard for Vishinsky to make an issue of German rearmament if we propose the formation of a UN commission to inspect conditions in Moscow-controlled East Germany. It will be hard for Vishinsky to demand, once again, the seating of Red China in Chiang-Kai-shek's place in the Assembly and the Security Council if a truce has not been completed in Korea where China is very definitely out of her own territory. As the Paris assembly began we definitely enjoyed a position of strength.

Watch for Propaganda

This is perhaps the last time that the UN general assembly will meet in Europe. The permanent home along the East River should be ready within another year. Since Paris is closer home than New York and does provide a more neutral background, Russia moved into the conference this week with an eye cocked towards the propaganda value of every move. That is one of the major facets of the new Russian "peace offensive." When it comes to propaganda, Stalin never misses.

A major Soviet move in Paris was all the more obvious because of the Communist military defeat in Korea and the tremendously important diplomatic defeat in San Francisco in September when Gromyko puffed and he heaved but he could not prevent the signing of the Japanese peace treaty. With the world's diplomatic "first team" present in Paris, a capital ideally suited for corridor conversations, it is likely that more progress will be made towards ironing out differences behind locked hotel doors than on the floor of the temporary structure which the French built for this assembly in the old Trocadero gardens, on the Eiffel Tower side of the Chaillet palace.

Eden's Opportunity

In this one man's opinion, the most important corridor conversations will be those which Anthony Eden will hold. There is no more able diplomat in striped pants, today, than Anthony Eden. In my quarter century attending international conferences and the old League of Nations sessions in Geneva, I never saw a more accomplished diplomat unless it was Pierre Laval, the Auvergne peasant in a diplomat's black coat, or an ascetic little Papal Nuncio named Monsignor Valerio Valeri who fitted from capital to capital and always was on hand when a crisis arose. Weighing barely 90 pounds in his black vestments, he was the ablest of the Vatican's corps of excellent diplomats and a real pleasure to watch in action—difficult because he always worked behind locked doors.

In Paris, Eden will have plenty of time to talk over Britain's many diplomatic troubles—in Egypt, in Iran, particularly—although the Foreign Office has been careful to insist that no negotiations as such will be undertaken in Paris. We learn, however, that first contacts already have been made between Eden and Egyptian Foreign Minister Mohamed Salah el Din in Paris. Eden is working at a big advantage. He has been out of power for a long time. The present crisis is none of his doing. He can approach it with detachment, and, in the end, Britain must make some concession, he can make it more gracefully than could anyone from the retiring Labour government.

Red Hand in Cairo

Eden already has found the red hand of the Kremlin stirring around in the Middle East stew. The Russian and satellite press have been giving Egypt fervent support in Cairo's efforts to oust the British from the Suez Canal. The Kremlin's intense interest in that ousting can only solidify our own determination to prevent it. Despatches from Cairo told us only a few days ago that Egyptian Minister of Interior Fued Serag el Din had already waved the red flag by hinting at Communist participation in a possible revolution if the Egyptian government does not accomplish its dual purposes in the Sudan and Suez Canal zone.

Threat by Moscow

We also have seen Red Russia immerse in the affairs of the Levant, fine states to the extent of telling the various Arab governments that Moscow will consider it an "unfriendly and even hostile act" if they join the Middle East Defense Company which the United States, Britain and France have offered them. Moscow explained its action by saying that politically, racially and geographically, the Arab nations are "Eastern" and not "Western."

It is timely, therefore, that while the diplomats are meeting in Paris, there should be parallel action in Madrid and Rome, pointed towards smoothing the way of the Western powers in the Moslem lands. Despite the loss of her African empire, both east and west of Suez, Italy always has kept good relations with the Arab nations and there are large Italian emigre colonies in Egypt as well as up and down the Levantine coast. As a Mediterranean power, always anxious to pick up her lost markets along the waterways, Italy has much to gain from the role of a mediator—too much, perhaps, for Britain to accept the offer.

The role of Franco is different. In recent months he has emerged from diplomatic obscurity and now more than ever the Western Powers need his knowledge of Islam in Africa and his ability to keep on good terms with the Arab nations despite the fact that Spain, like France, shares a protectorate over Morocco. It is significant that the Arab League, Pan-Islam's direct-action wing, in Cairo, is waging a white-hot propaganda war on France, and, in particular, has pronounced for Moroccan independence, but at no time has the Arab League mentioned Spain or the freeing of Spanish Morocco. We saw, too, in the UN, that every time the Spanish question has arisen the Arab bloc has taken a stand favorable to Spain.

French Make Up

France has recognized Franco's enviable good relations with the Arab capitals and since Islamic nationalism is rampant in Tunisia, Algeria as well as in Morocco, Paris, playing practical politics, has made a gesture of friendship towards Franco. On October 12, which we keep as Columbus Day but which the Spanish nations observe as "Day of the Race," meaning Spanish race, the French

So, watch the Paris despatches for reports of Arab activities. They will be the most important. If the Middle East nations, now represented in Paris, do get together and confirm a united Arab sand, then the Arab League will become a reality. If that happens it will far overshadow any other likely consequence of the whole Paris diplomatic bazaar.

Plucked from the Wires

News that Louis Basile of New York is trying to move the New York Giant's franchise from Ottawa, Canada, so Newark can have another International League team, is good news to real sports fans. All the New York contractor has to do is buy the Giant franchise for a good price and then make a deal with the New York Yankees for the rental of Ruppert Stadium. The latter threatens to be quite a job. Dealing with the Yankees may be a problem, because there is no doubt that Ed Otto pays a sizeable rental for Ruppert Stadium for his stock car racing programs.

But for the good of baseball and for other real sports, the Yankees had better make a change before they have to rebuild the entire park. At the risk of offending a large number of our readers we have long been of the opinion that midget racing, stock car racing and hot rod racing, is not sport. We have been in on the inside and know whereof we speak. When 40 to 60 drivers have to divide a purse which is announced as $1,000, but might be nearer $600, it becomes fantastic. Not only have drivers been killed, but everything else in racing's wake.

For instance, in Paterson, the Mayor thought he made a good deal by renting out the Hinchliffe Stadium one year for $40,000. The next year he got $45,000, but Paterson, which was once represented by a professional football team of high calibre, lost the team because of prohibitive rental. Things have gone from bad to worse. Eventually, the Paterson High Schools were kicked out of the stadium, which originally was built as the site of their football, baseball and track events. TV had nothing to do with killing football in Paterson. Eastside, which has been a grid power in recent years, plays its games alongside the school, where stands do well if they accommodate more than 1,500 people.

And Hinchliffe Stadium itself! It's a mess! Every blade of grass has been killed on the field by the gasoline and oil from the cars. Grass will not grow again unless six inches of the dirt is scraped off and replaced by new top soil. When Paterson Central runs through its practice on an afternoon, clouds of dust are stirred up and choke the players. The track has been widened, so that it no longer encroaches upon the end zone, but now encroaches upon the playing field on sides and ends. Central and Eastside must play there on Thanksgiving in this mess. We hope for the good of high school sports that a change of administration was voted on Tuesday and the stocks and the rascals will be thrown out of that Stadium.

Belleville has been fortunate that officials have not seen it to try to make money out of our Municipal Stadium. Instead of going down hill, Belleville's stadium is being improved through the loving care of Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde, whose latest efforts are grading and planting the area formerly overgrown by weeds, alongside the stadium and the north-west corner of the field. Plans call for the creation of two new baseball diamonds, a long way away from the football field, and the elimination of the present diamond which all but encroaches on the running track.

The improvements at the stadium have been a long time coming, but they will be appreciated. Just so that no one forgets who is responsible, the commissioner has erected a number of signs which identify the stadium, and the fact that he is responsible for its present condition. More power to him!

It was interesting to note that attendance figures for college grid games have increased since the NCAA put in its plan for televising football games. In the east the attendance is 14 per cent better than that of last year. These figures do not show the result on High School games, but we have been around and are impressed with the better crowds at good games. It has been years since a crowd of nearly 4,000 (Memorial-St. Peter's) and 12,000 (Montclair and Columbia) have been reported for mid-season games. Real sporting events, such as the Cornell-Princeton game and these outstanding high school games, are bound to play before packed audiences. A poor game couldn't draw if there wasn't any television at all.

While on the subject of football, Bill Chapman, chairman of the Varsity Club's Win-Lose-or-Draw banquet for the Bellboy gridders reports that the dinner scene has been shifted from the Towers on Route 23, Cedar Grove to Donahues, on Route 23, Mountain View. The date remains the same, December 10th, and Herman Hickman of Yale and TV quiz program fame will have an opportunity to talk about Character Building. Ed Lewis, coach of East Orange High, who came up with a tough ball club this year, but also had some of the same kind of tough luck that hit here, will be the visiting coach.

Ed O'Neil is the program chairman. He reports that in addition to the usual program the management of Donahues is furnishing an orchestra to play music for dancing after the dinner. Tickets will be placed on sale in about a week in kin business places to be named in another issue of this paper.

The Towers is now a bowling alley.

The trouble with picking grid results is that once started has to continue. With Belleville it gets tougher every week. Passaic, here Saturday, has improved as the season progressed, while the Bellboys, thin on reserve material to start the season has reached the bottom of the barrel, as far as upth is concerned. Whether the signs in the locker room reminding the Belleville players of what happened last year will whip them into a fighting frenzy, we don't know. But, at least a few of the boys remember how Passaic's coach kept a first team in the game to pile up the score after Belleville had inserted for a second team and then a third team in order to save what was left for the Thanksgiving game at Orange. Such an attitude is never forgiven by the offended coach. Passaic can be beaten, because it is not near tough as some of its scores indicate.

Come on, Belleville, let's win Saturday!

Belleville High School nearly came up to its expectations, Tuesday afternoon over at Kearny High's stadium, but each time opportunity knocked, they fell just short of being capable of accomplishment. As it was the Cardinals were extremely fortunate to have walked off the field 7 to 2 victors. Saturday, a better than average Passaic eleven comes to the Municipal Stadium, and it had better be on its toes, because the Bellboys are ready.

The Cardinals proved to be the better team in the first quarter only. During this stanza they virtually manhandled the Bellboys. They ran up approximately one-half of their total yardage and completed three passes and scored the game's only touchdown. On the other hand the Belleville forces went to the other extreme. They gained only eight yards, had two incomplete passes and never got past their own 43.

Different Picture

The rest of the game presented an entirely different picture, because the Bellboys became the whole offensive show. In the second half Kearny never moved past the midfield stripe and managed to grind out only 29 yards. Kearny received Al Riggins' opening kickoff on its 10-yard line and ran it out to the 23. The Cardinals were penalized 15 yards for clipping on their first play. This put them back on the 15-yard line. Unable to advance, they were forced to kick. Belleville could do no better and they kicked back, Kearny taking over on its own 35. From here the Kards launched their game-winning drive which culminated in three straight passes went wide. Kearny was forced to kick after taking the kickoff. Belleville took over at midfield and drove down to the enemy 16, where they ran out of gas. Kearny, by now rendered practically harmless, was forced to punt. It was a poor kick, going out of bounds on the 23-yard line. However the Bellboys couldn't capitalize on the break and Worthington's return ball went out on the seven. Kearny once more rolled over and played dead and was forced to punt. This time Ralph Chimento broke through and blocked the kick into and out of the end zone for an automatic safety.

Late in the game Belleville took over on the Cardinal 23. Rock, Carpel and Cafone went to the one and a first down. With four downs to put it across, Belleville slammed into the heavy Cardinal line and lost possession six inches away from pay dirt.

It has a Way with Women

SOMETIMES we think that too little attention is given to the fair sex in automobile advertising.

After all, it's the woman of the house who has to do most of the shopping, which involves getting into tight places at the curb. And it's surprising what tight spots a Buick can fit into at a turn of the wheel.

It's the woman who likes complete freedom from things that it takes an engineer to operate—and a complete and utter freedom from mechanical complications is exactly what makes Dynaflo Drive* such a joy.

It's the woman who has an eye for style and fine fabrics—and a nose for economy. On both counts, a Buick is tops.

But we suspect something else. We suspect that a woman gets just as great a lift as a man from commanding this great-powered and trigger-quick bundle of vitality to bow to her will.

Here's a car to win any woman's heart—by its level-gaited stride—its willing response to her hand on the wheel—its smart style and its smart performance—its spaciousness and comfort—and its thrift.

How about taking time off, some afternoon, to boss around a Buick? It's a date that's bound to thrill you.

INEXPERIENCE IS COSTLY TO BOTH SOCCER TEAMS

All-Stars Beat Juveniles 2 To 0; Erie A. C. Scores Late To Beat Junior Eleven

The Belleville PAL juvenile and junior soccer teams dropped two games last Sunday at Belleville Park to their more experienced rivals from across the river. The Belleville Juveniles who were scheduled to meet St. Cecilia's from Kearny were forced to play an exhibition game against an all-star juvenile team from Harrison and Kearny because St. Cecilia's dropped out of the league.

The All-Stars took the measure of our boys by a score of 2 to 0, scoring both goals in the first half and coasting for the second. The juveniles are steadily improving and should prove troublesome in the cup tournament to be held next month. Playing for the juveniles last Sunday were: J. Cetti, Bergamini, Bucciarrelli, Kirk, P. Cetti, Schaefer, Hughes, Jervis, Costa, Munford, McAllister, McCabe, Hilla and Mellenzo.

The Belleville PAL juniors played against the Erie A. C. and lost their game by a score of 3 to 0. It was a real battle for the first half with both teams threatening but neither could score. The second half saw some rough action on the part of the boys from Harrison, disabling some regulars on our PAL's and with only ten minutes of the game remaining the Eries scored three quick goals, one a penalty kick.

PAL Soccer Teams Will Play

Belleville PAL soccer teams will play at Riverside Park, Harrison, on Sunday. The juvenile team will meet the Harrison Davidson's while the juniors will meet the East Newark A. C. Both are league games, and Belleville's teams will do well to keep the score down against their more experienced rivals.

ST. CECILIA BEATS BELLBOYS AGAIN

Kearny Soccer Team Is 1 to 0 Winner In Tilt At Clearman Field, Monday

Belleville High soccer team's record dropped to four victories and four defeats on Monday when they bowed to St. Cecilia of Kearny for the second time this season in a match at Clearman Field. The final score was 1 to 0 with Frank Coogan of the Kearny club scoring the goal in the third period when he kicked past half-back Frank Williams and goalie Bob Curvin was unable to block the ball.
