

So What?

We are reminded that February 23, 1952 will be observed here as History Day. A committee is planning observances in the town's schools. It was on February 23, 1839 that Belleville, then including Nutley, separated from the township of Bloomfield. More about the anniversary will be included in the Belleville Times-News as History Day approaches.

Dr. John R. de Groat has been admitted to membership in the New Jersey Optometric Association, the American Optometric Association and their respective local societies. The privilege of membership is extended to those practitioners who meet and maintain the rigorous standards of the association's codes of ethics and practice.

The police had a safe on their hands over the weekend, when someone dumped the empty strong box in a lot near the Newark line. The safe had been stolen from Union Township the night before. Belleville police stood guard until Union's fingerprint man could examine it for clues.

Tony Steffanelli, former Belleville High grader, now a sophomore at Yale, stands a good chance of starting against Princeton in that traditional game Saturday at Palmer Stadium. Steffanelli, who has seen some action this year for Herman Hickman's team will be bidding for a 60-minute berth on the 1952 eleven in his next appearance.

According to three complaints filed with the police here on Tuesday morning, some one is starting up an auto business somewhere. E. W. Hill of Broadway Automotive, 66 Washington Avenue, reported that a crated Plymouth motor had been taken out of its box and carted away from its storage place in an alley alongside the store. The motor is valued at $150.

Noah Mines of 67 William Street reported a short time later that sometime during the night someone had stolen a set of license plates off a truck he had parked in his back yard.

Still within the hour Ernest Steffanelli, who operates a gas station at 149 Franklin Street, told police that someone had stolen a Delco heavy-duty battery from one of his coal trucks parked in the rear of his gas station at Franklin Street and North Belmont Avenue. The battery was valued at $33. The break was the third in that neighborhood over the weekend.

ELKS WILL GIVE PARTY FOR TOWN'S NEEDY CHILDREN

Annual Christmas Affair Is Scheduled For December 22; Bubble Banks Placed

The Underprivileged Children's Christmas Fund Committee of B.P.O.E. No. 1123 will hold its second annual Christmas party for the needy children of Belleville on December 22 at 2 p. m.

The committee has been active within the club for the past year and to date has built up a fund of approximately $800. The entire fund will be expended by the committee for the benefit of the needy children of our town. Assistance of the citizens of Belleville will be appreciated in this worthy charity.

The tavern owners of Belleville are co-operating by allowing the placing of "Bubble Banks" in their places of business, which have been the means of obtaining to date approximately $175. These merchants will be happy to accept contributions.

The committee solicits the public's co-operation in sending us the names and addresses of children who in their opinion are in need of assistance at Christmas time. All needy cases will be investigated to ascertain the exact needs of each individual child, in order that they may receive not only toys, candy, etc., but warm clothing where necessary.

Communications should be addressed to B.P.O.E. Underprivileged Children's Christmas Fund, c/o B.P.O.E. No. 1123, Washington Avenue.

Evan Thomas Is Speaker At Education Convention

Superintendent of Schools Evan H. Thomas spoke on teacher workshop organization and administration Saturday at the New Jersey Education Association convention in Atlantic City. Mr. Thomas was a member of a panel considering the general topic of in-service training of teachers. Speaking from his experience in organizing the Belleville Teachers' Workshop, whose membership grew in five years from 20 to 75, Mr. Thomas outlined procedures for getting such training under way and stressed its contribution to general staff growth. The talk was well received and provoked much favorable comment among convention-goers.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT BATTERY CAMPS IN PARK HERE

B-Battery From Fort Hancock Moves In For Indefinite Encampment

A complete Anti-Aircraft Battery has set up house-keeping for an indefinite stay in Belleville Park opposite Garden Avenue. Battery B of the 369th Anti-Aircraft Battalion, stationed at Fort Hancock, moved in Tuesday afternoon. The outfit is a former National Guard unit from New York City, Federalized 14 months ago, and trained at Camp Edwards, Massachusetts.

The Army has taken a lease on 7.2 acres of Belleville Park for an undisclosed term, which indicates that B Battery may be followed by other units. The battery is under the command of Capt. Vernon N. Potter.

Tents Near Belleville Avenue

The battery has set up tents near Belleville Avenue with its gun placements, radar, and other apparatus on the crest of the hill, just before it dips into what is now the Branch Brook Park extension. The unit brought along its own field kitchen. Although the park field house is not included in the government lease, Captain Potter is endeavoring to have the building turned over to his outfit for sanitary purposes during their stay here.

The Belleville Chapter of the American Red Cross, upon learning of the encampment here, has started the wheels moving in an effort to set up some sort of canteen for the boys.

DIES OF HEART ATTACK SWIMMING AT DAYTONA BEACH

John Lukowiak, Veteran Jewellery-maker Was On First Florida Vacation

Word was received here yesterday that John Lukowiak, 67, of 59, Baldwin Place had suffered a heart attack while swimming at Daytona Beach, Florida, on Tuesday. His son, Raymond, of 83 Orchard Street, Bloomfield, had to be rescued from the ocean by Volusia County lifeguards, after he became exhausted in his efforts to bring his father ashore. The two men and their wives were nearing the end of a month's vacation in Florida.

Mr. Lukowiak was born and raised in Belleville. He recently completed 51 years of service with Tiffany and Company, jewelry makers in Newark, and had taken a month off for his first real vacation in his life.

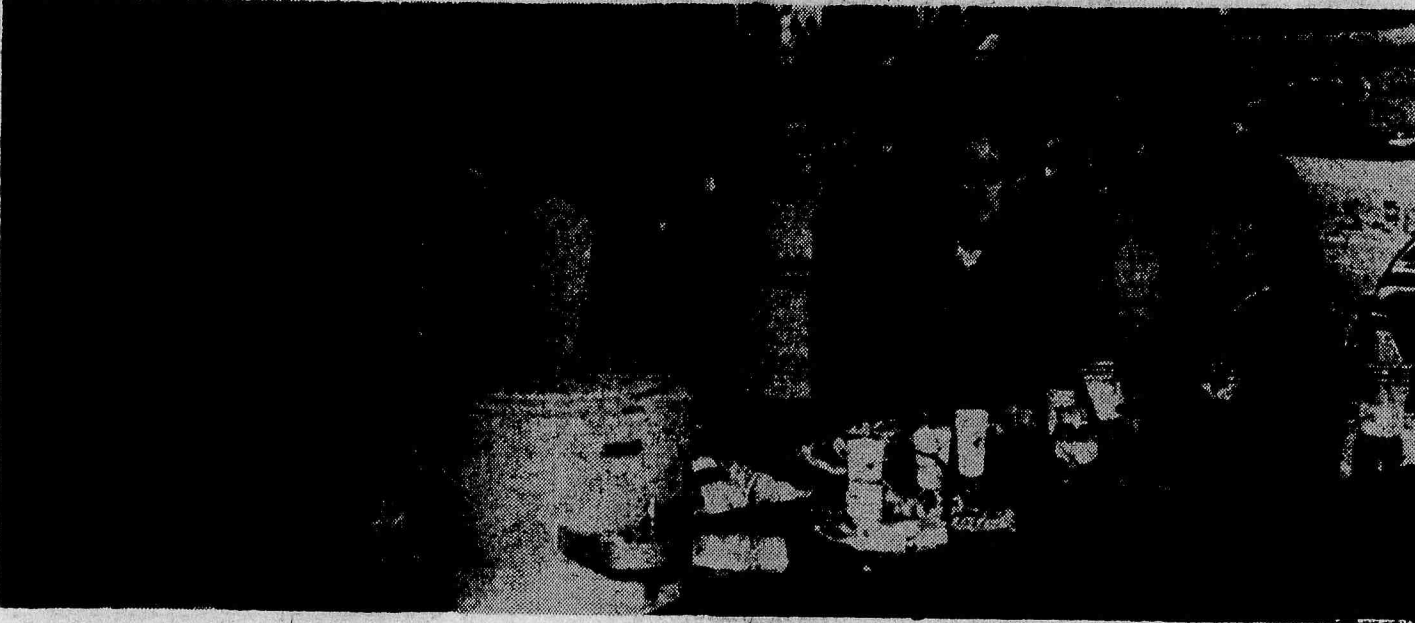

Besides his wife Sophie, and son Raymond, he is survived by two other sons, Stephen of Passaic and John of Belleville and two daughters, Mrs. Helen Cook and Mrs. Clara Austin, both of Belleville.

Santo Josol, a member of the seventh grade at No. 7 school and a radio, stage and T.V. performer, will sing "My Buddy." Rabbi Leo Schwartz of Congregation A.A.A. will offer a prayer. Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan will introduce Acting Mayor Patrick A. Waters who will make the dedication address. A talk will be made by George Plosa, president of the Belleville High School Student Council, a position which Rene Flory held when he was in high school.

The presentation of the memorial to the Board of Education will be made by M. A. Weinstein, whose efforts brought about the memorial fund. Eugene J. Kelly, president of the Board of Education, will make the formal acceptance. Benediction will be pronounced by Rev. O. W. Chapin of the Montgomery Presbyterian Church. A volley will be fired by the visiting Marines and one of their number will sound taps with his bugle.

In listing the names of those who made generous contributions to the memorial fund last week the name of the Evergreen Automotive Service of East Orange, of which Al Benz of Belleville is proprietor, was inadvertently omitted.

THREE MOTORISTS PAY STIFF FINES

Truck Driver Pays $37 For Reckless Driving While Parade Formed

Three stiff fines were imposed by Magistrate Everett B. Smith in traffic court last week when five motorists who faced him paid a total of $137. Carlos Ferrera of 3 Adams Street, Newark, involved in a minor accident was fined a total of $40 for failure to have a registration card in this possession and driving without a license. He at one time held a Connecticut license but failed to renew it or to take out one in New Jersey. Louis G. Bands Galore, Few Marchers In Armistice Day Parade

Garfield Post, First In Drum Corps Competition; K. of C. Float Judged Best

Several thousand citizens of the town watched the Armistice Day Parade here on Saturday night from vantage points between Academy Street and the Town Hall, where all the musical organizations were doing their best to impress the judges. The parade vied with the balloon vendors for the attention of the younger folks. The vendors seemed to be doing a rushing business. At the end of the parade, however, they had their hands full, protecting their merchandise.

The Holy Name Cadets of Garfield, who placed fourth in the Legion Convention at Miami this year, won the drum corps competition and the $25 prize by a small point spread over the Morristown Drum and Bugle Corps, a favorite in state Legion circles. The Morristown outfit collected $75 in prize money. Another three points behind were the Barringer-Walker Drum and Bugle Corps of North Arlington, who won $50 in prize money.

Out of Money St. Mary's Cadets of Nutley tied with the Dover Senior Bugle and Drum Corps for fourth place, followed by Blessed Sacrament

Gives Up On Hobby

Mrs. Canfield Bloom of 15 Dow Street, has decided to retire from the pigeon raising hobby. Another of frequent raids by boys who either steal or release the pigeons from the coop in the rear of her home occurred last week. She told the police that it won't happen again because she is disposing of the rest of her birds.

Recommended Change

Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan argued that storage of trucks was not a necessary part of the business.

At Tuesday's Commission meeting, Mr. Keenan recommended that the area in question be rezoned for business purposes, because in its present status it is not zoned at all. The court last week ruled that it is not residential zone, but did not say it is a business zone. This leaves the question in Mr. Keenan's mind, "Could this open the way for a manufacturing use."

On instructions from Mayor Patrick A. Waters, Mr. Keenan will contact the neighbors who protested against Westmont to ascertain their sentiments before any action is taken.

A resolution was passed to permit the town treasurer to remit the $100 fine.

Will Face Magistrate On Wife's Complaint

Paul Zoppi, 20, of 41 Garden Avenue was scheduled to be arraigned before Magistrate Everett B. Smith this morning on charges of atrocious assault and battery. Zoppi has been in the local jail since Monday when he was arrested on a complaint of his wife, Crisafio, 19, signed at St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, where she is still confined for treatment of injuries suffered at the hands of her husband on Sunday. Police say Mrs. Zoppi's features were so battered that she could not be recognized.

JUDGE DECIDES FOR WESTMONT IN ZONE FINE APPEAL

Says Courts Fixed Status Of Property and Storage Of Trucks Was Legal Use

Belleville suffered another setback in the courts in its consistent refusal to rezone the section from Smallwood Avenue west to the Bloomfield line as business, on Friday when County Judge Conlon acquitted the Westmont Service Center, Inc. of Belleville in an appeal on 5 charges of violating the town's zoning ordinance for parking commercial trucks on the gas station property. The trucks moved from the property some time ago and are now stored at the Roca Brothers Coal Yard, which is in an industrial zone. As a result the town must rebate the $100 fine.

The corporation, represented by Newton H. Porter Jr. of Montclair, appealed fines of $20 on each truck, levied by Magistrate Everett B. Smith on August 23. The convictions were based on a zoning ordinance which retains the corner property in a residential zone, although higher courts had twice before ruled it a business property.

Proper Usage

Judge Conlon ruled that since the Supreme Court in two former opinions held that the corner and adjoining pieces of property were not properly zoned as residential, the Westmont firm had not violated the ordinance by putting it to commercial use in the storing of trucks. The previous opinions in 1942 and 1948 held that a residential restriction on the properties in that part of the block was not consistent with the "general character of the immediate neighborhood."

Mr. Porter argued that the parking of trucks overnight at the station was consistent with the type of business operating there under its original permit.

Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan argued that storage of trucks was not a necessary part of the business.

At Tuesday's Commission meeting, Mr. Keenan recommended that the area in question be rezoned for business purposes, because in its present status it is not zoned at all. Arrest of Nutley Man Ends Search For Sex Shocker

Girl Recognizes Voice of Man Who Asked Directions in Car; Belleville Police Spot Stolen License

Prompt response to a telephone call from Silver Lake by Sergeant Frank Bride and Patrolman Joseph Tortorello, on Friday night resulted in the capture of a man wanted in at least nine municipalities on many charges of lewdness, covering most of the summer and fall months. The man, Gus N. Cristos, 28, of 211 High Street, Nutley, was picked up before he could change a stolen license plate "EX 18 J" on the rear of his car, to his rightful plate to match on the front. The driver of the car with the "EX 18 J" plate is accused of approaching women early in the evening and asking for directions to a nearby street. As they came up to the car they found that he was fully dressed from the waist up but sans clothing below.

Narcotics Agents Called In After Drug Robbery

Belleville police called in the Federal narcotics agents after someone jimmied open the front door of Nicholas Caprio's Rex Pharmacy at Franklin Street and North Belmont Avenue sometime between closing time on Friday night and 9 o'clock Saturday morning. About $10 in change was taken from the cash register, but morphine and its derivatives were taken by someone who knew what he was looking for. Another break in the same locality was at Joe's Market, 17 Franklin Street, Sunday night. This was the third narcotics robbery in Franklin Street recently. There were two breaks in Bloomfield.

Three Complaints Were Filed

Three complaints were filed with Belleville police in recent weeks, one by two 17-year-old girls who were stopped at Mill and Harrison Streets and two others in the Silver Lake section. Friday night he made a repeat request of one of the girls, who recognized his voice from across the street. Without showing any signs of recognition, she walked to her home and had her mother call the police.

Bloomfield Had a Dozen

Bloomfield, which was the first of five neighboring towns to file a detainer with Belleville has had at least ten complaints. Other departments who sought Cristos included Montclair, Newark, Verona, Hillside, East Orange, Maplewood and Cedar Grove.

Cristos was given a preliminary hearing before Acting Magistrate Charles Tedesco on Tuesday morning and held without bail for Grand Jury action. He was turned over to the county prosecutor who will check him out for action in the other municipalities.

According to Captain Charles McGinnis, Cristos admitted to having been fined for private lewdness in East Orange in 1946 and in Nutley in 1946. In Nutley he happened on a window of his home to attract the attention of a woman passing the house and then stepped into an open doorway completely in the nude. There he was fined $100.

A new state law on sex crimes makes it mandatory for those accused to spend some time in a mental sanatorium for examination and study, with the court being guided by the findings, in passing sentence.

Cristos told police that he was married but has been separated from his wife.

BLOOD FOR KOREA IS PROGRAM FOR NOV. 20 ASSEMBLY

Red Cross Must Register 165 For Visit From New Defense Program Unit

The first Blood Donor Assembly of the Defense Blood Bank will be held in Belleville Tuesday, November 20. From 12:00 to 5:30 in the afternoon, the Mobile Unit from the new ly-established Defense Program Blood Center at Plainfield will be at the Belleville Elks Club, 251 Washington Avenue. Blood from this assembly is earmarked for our boys in Korea.

Under the sponsorship of the Belleville chapter, American Red Cross, Belleville is the second community in Essex County to have a visit from the unit. Organized to provide a collection center to serve the residents of 13 northernly counties in the state, as a unit in the Armed Forces Blood Donor Program, the Red Cross in cooperation with the Department of Defense, is coordinating the collection of blood primarily from local citizens and employees of Belleville industry.

165 Donors Needed

Eugene Barnett, director of Blood Recruitment, says that only 40 town donors have registered so far. At least 165 are needed. Belleville industries have indicated that they will send a number of donors. Several of them are appointing blood donor recruitment chairmen. Prior to final arrangements for this visit of the Defense Blood Bank, the Ever Ready Label Corporation contacted the Red Cross to inquire where a group of 20 donors from their plant could donate to the defense program—they wanted to give at once—even willing to go to New York if necessary.

When it was revealed that the Defense Blood Bank would be here in November, these donors agreed to wait. If other industries will follow this example it should not be hard for Belleville to fulfill its quota of 165 donors.

POSITION TO VATICAN ENVOY

New Jersey Senior Senator Sees Need Of "Effective Liaison" But On Lesser Scale

Senator H. Alexander
Smith took a strong position in opposition to President Truman's announced intention to appoint General Mark Clark as U. S. Ambassador to the Vatican State in Rome in a prepared statement of position which he released to The Times-News yesterday with the explanation that he drafted the expression of position in answer to many inquiries. At the same time, he stressed the importance of a union of all Christian forces in a "life-and-death struggle against atheistic Communism."

Alternative Proposal

The senior Senator from New Jersey said that he sees the value of "some effective liaison" between the U. S. Government and the Vatican and suggested as alternative proposals to the naming of an ambassador either the sending of a personal representative of the President on a special mission or the designation of a distinct minister serving in a special category.

In his statement, Senator Smith said:
"I am glad to be able to make my position clear, since there seems to be an impression from some newspaper reports that I am in accord with the President's action in this matter."

"I do not believe we should be represented at the Vatican by an Ambassador as that would imply our recognition of the Vatican as a sovereign state in the category of other states to which Ambassadors are accredited from us."

"On the other hand, I believe that some effective liaison will be of value between the United States and the Vatican, but such official liaison with the Vatican central office of the Holy See Church there might be which would command the allegiance of the great majority of that faith.

I would also favor effective contacts with the various sectarian groups of the Protestant faiths."

"There are varying degrees of representation open to choice in such a matter, from ministers serving in a special category, to personal representatives of the President on special missions."

"As to the value of such liaison
I have no doubt. We are engaged in a life-and-death struggle against atheistic Communism. It is of the most vital importance for all the Christian forces to pull together for our mutual defense, and still more to take the ideological offensive in the world war of ideas. I would include the energies of all religions in this effort upon which the future of the free world may depend."

"The United States, by the gifts that God has showered upon us, is in a position of leadership. It is therefore of urgent importance that we work closely with all the moral and spiritual agencies that are available to meet the danger that threatens us. We must seek the unity of all men of faith and vision in these critical times."

Reports Slow Coming In

Glover pointed out that while reports have been slow coming in,
they have been very promising,
and in view of this, an extension of the campaign was definitely warranted. All division chairmen expect to make heavy returns by the end of the week, and anticipate making their final report be-

The various divisions have reported the following percentages

Who First Saw Curlew Nest

Dr. Arthur Allen To Speak At Joint Dinner Of Belleville,
Nutley Clubs, Nov. 29

A man who has spent his entire life patiently stalking
the wild birds of North America, from Alaska to Panama, from California to Maine, photographing them
as John James Audubon, a French artist who died just a century ago, painted 435 species of American birds, will be the speaker at the annual joint dinner of Belleville, Nutley and North Arlington Rotary at the Federal clubhouse on Thursday, November 29.

Saw Curlew Nest

Dr. Arthur A. Allen, of the faculty of Cornell University where he heads the department of Ornithology, will show to the Rotarians and their wives his photographs of his recent successful search in Alaska for the nesting place of the bristle-thighed curlew, a pullet-sized perennial commuter between the North Pole and the South Sea Islands.

Dr. Allen who began his bird photography as a Cornell undergraduate in 1904 and in 1925 became the first full professor of ornithology in the United States, found the curlew's nest three years ago after a long and patient hunt. Until Dr. Allen's successful trek to Alaska, the curlew had been the only bird out of the 815 known North American bird species that had managed to hide its nesting place from the eyes of man.

Symonds His Pupil

G. R. B. Symonds, Nutley businessman who has been a president of Belleville Rotary, studied under

READY FOR MAILING INTO TOWN'S HOMES

Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association Launches Its Appeal For Funds

Volunteer workers from both Belleville and Nutley have been busy at Nutley Town Hall lately preparing nearly 20,000 pieces of mail which will carry the Christmas Seals and their message to so many homes next Monday when the Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association launches its annual appeal for contributions to carry on its tuberculosis control program.

Seal Sale Chairman Eugene T. Berry said today that he has high hopes that the Seal Sale this year will provide the necessary funds to overcome the increased operating costs and allow for expanded activities. The free community X-ray, Berry pointed out, is growing in patronage each year and that is how it should be, but the cost to the Association increases also. This is only one instance, but many more could be cited when the need for increasing funds is evident, he said.

Once a Year

Like Santa Claus, whose likeness appears on this year's seals, the appeal for funds comes but once a year and the many appreciative people who use this little sticker on their Christmas mail and packages, Berry said, make it possible for the Tuberculosis Association to carry on a well-rounded program of prevention for the whole 12 months.

Four TB Deaths Here

In reviewing the over-all picture, Eugene J. Kelly, the Association president, pointed out the need for the work being done by his organization. About 1,200 persons are dying each year from tuberculosis in New Jersey. Last year there were four such deaths in Belleville and five in Nutley. There was a total of 23 new cases reported from both towns during 1950. We should need no further proof, says Kelly, that tuberculosis is still with us.

For the present, Kelly urges that all get into the holiday spirit and widely use the jolly Christmas Seals, knowing at the same time that we are preventing and alleviating much unnecessary suffering and expense.

HIBERNIANS MAKE GOOD ON PLEDGE TO NEW CHURCH

Present $2,300 Check For St. Patrick's Window At St. Mary's Church

A check for $2,300, full payment for a window in honor of St. Patrick, patron saint of Ireland, to be installed in the new St. Mary's R. C. Church now under construction, gift of Division I, Ancient Order of Hibernians of Belleville and Nutley, was presented to Rt. Rev. Msgr. James J. Owens, pastor, at a dinner given by the organization November 8 in St. Mary's hall. Commissioner John H. Lucy and Mrs. Marion Flannery made the presentation.

In his acceptance speech to the full gathering of members of the A. O. H., Monsignor Owens said it is his desire that the new church be completed and the first Holy mass celebrated on Christmas morning, December 25, the same day on which the first mass was celebrated in the original St. Mary's Church by Father J. Deburgh, the first pastor, on Christmas Day, 1878.

Drive Started Year Ago
Presentation of the check to Monsignor Owens was the climax of a drive started over a year ago by the Ancient Order of Hibernians and, through the untiring efforts of the entire membership who served as a committee to raise funds, a total fund goal of $2,300 was reached to meet the full cost of the window.

Monsignor Owens declared that the window in honor of St. Patrick would be a perpetual memory of the A. O. H. He added that he was extremely happy to receive the donation from the A. O. H., which is the only Irish-Catholic organization in Nutley whose primary objects are always friendship, unity and Christian charity. He said the window in honor of St. Patrick would be placed in the Transept of the church alongside a window in honor of St. Bridget—because his mother's name was Bridget—and both windows will be cherished forever in his memory.

On Display in Dublin
Monsignor Owens announced that the window had been on display in an art exposition in Dublin, Ireland, where it was made for the past three months, and that its artistry and workmanship had been acclaimed by many of Europe's most noted artists and church decorators. The window is now on the docks at Baltimore, Md., held up by recent longshoremen's strike, and will be delivered to Nutley for installation in the new church within two weeks.

The original Church of St. Mary's, of Gothic structure, which still stands nearby the location of the new church, is symbolic of the growth of the Roman Catholic Church and of the A. O. H., Monsignor Owens said. He stated the A. O. H. was organized over 150 years ago by loyal Catholic Irishmen in Ireland whose only mission was to fight and preserve the doctrines of Christ during the days of the persecution of Catholics. They fought valiantly, he declared, to protect priests and nuns from bodily harm while teaching the principles of the Lord himself, and the teachings of the Catholic Church.

Dance Followed

Concluding his speech by offering his blessing to the A. O. H., Monsignor Owens said of all organizations within his parish the A. O. H., and the principles for which it stands, has been, and will always be, the closest to his heart. After brief messages of appreciation by Rev. Gerard Walsh and Rev. John Golding, a dance and social affair was held. Monsignor Owens became pastor of St. Mary's Church in 1922. After Father Deburgh, the first pastor, Father John Morris, Father William Cunningham and Msgr. Edward Quirk served successively as pastors until Monsignor Owens was assigned.

CHARGE NEWARKER WITH TIPSY DRIVING

James C. Bridges Was In Car Which Crashed Into Railroad Warning Sign In William St.

James C. Bridges of 695 Broadway, Newark, was released in $250 bail by Acting Magistrate Charles Tedesco, Thursday when arraigned on a charge of "Operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor." Bridges was arrested by Patrolman Thomas Fitzgerald, who had been sent to William Street and the Erie Railroad after a phone call was received at headquarters from Ralph Vara, of the water department, calling from the town garage. Vara reported that a car had hit the railroad warning sign and that the driver appeared to be drunk.

Bridges was examined by Town Physician Martin Mehan, M. D., and by Robert J. Citrino, M. D., of Nutley, both of whom informed of Nutley that Bridges was under the influence of liquor. Police also have statements from several witnesses who said Bridges climbed out of the car after the crash and that no one else got out of the vehicle.

Acting Magistrate Tedesco put the case on the calendar to be heard by Magistrate Everett B. Smith on November 21.

Assign Leaders For Men's, Women's Gym Classes

The Recreation Department will sponsor the Housewives and Business Women's gymnasium classes again this year. Miss Marie Pettillo, who was in charge of the class last year, has agreed to handle it again this year. She is a Belleville girl, and a senior at Panzer College where she is preparing for her degree in physical education. The class will feature slenderizing exercises and a multitude of weight shedding games. Here is a chance for the women in town, who have been eyeing their scales as the poundage mounts, to streamline their figures while enjoying themselves.

State Cutaway Chassis Demonstrated To Class In Driver's Education

All high school students who are enrolled in the driver education course under the direction of Herman Knuppel, have gone through a series of lessons planned to give them an understanding of the basic principles of auto mechanics in relation to skillful operation of a car. In their first lesson, a lecture and demonstration of the systems of the car, four stroke cycle and the power train were given. Recently a cutaway chassis was brought into school and the film, "Where Mileage Begins" was shown. This film shows the actual construction of the gasoline engine and how it operates.

The cutaway chassis, which is owned by the Division of Motor Vehicles of New Jersey is insured for $40,000, and is transported from school to school in a specially constructed truck that can load and unload it automatically.

There will also be a class for the men in town. Herman Knuppel, a teacher at the high school, will be in charge. The class will run along the general lines of the women's group with a few exceptions. Volley ball, a very popular game with the men, will be featured along with many others. According to Raymond Ward, superintendent of recreation, the classes will be held on Thursday nights from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock in the high school gymnasium. Classes are free of charge and the Recreation Department welcomes all those interested to enroll.

LETTERS

Thanks Those Who Voted "Yes"

To the Editor, Belleville Times: We of the Belleville Patrolmen's Benevolent Association would like to express our sincere thanks to all of the local people who voted in our behalf at the General Election on November 6, 1951.

We would like very much to thank each person individually, but not having either the time or the knowledge as to just who voted in our favor we feel that the only way we can reach all of our friends is through the medium of the press.

We only regret that there are so many people in our municipality who do not fully understand our situation in reference to our salaries. However, regardless of the fact that we were not granted the salary increase which we sought, we want the townspeople to know that we are still as close to them as their telephones in any emergency or problem which they may encounter.

Twirp Dance

Turn-about is fair play and B.H.S. believes in good sportsmanship, so, naturally, the boys give the girls the opportunity to pay the bill once in a while. Our annual observance of Twirp Week began on Tuesday, and it ends tomorrow night with the Twirp Dance.

For the sake of those who aren't acquainted with the term "Twirp," it means that "The Woman Is Requested to Pay." Not only does she pay for everything, but is obligated to observe all the common courtesies that "Gentlemen" show.

To live up to the true spirit of "Twirp Week," girls follow these rules and regulations:

1. Get off public vehicle first.
2. Open doors for boys.
3. Rise when a boy enters the room.
4. Offer a boy her seat on the bus.
5. Carry boy's books.
6. Carry matches to light boy's cigarettes.

In addition to all these, the girls have to invite the boys to the dance and buy the tickets. Nevertheless this isn't all—she must call for the boy and also provide transportation. After the dance the "perfect date" will treat her beau to at least a soda.

It would be nice if the boys took notice of the girls' techniques so that, as a result, the girls will receive some of these same courtesies, hereafter.

Just a last minute warning to the girls who still haven't gotten up their courage, the dance is tomorrow night, and there are still a few unattached guys around. Hope we see you at the dance.

Ramsey Rates High

Everyone is probably wondering about the results of the evaluation surveys by a special committee of surrounding high schools. Two teachers served on this committee and we asked Mr. Knuppel to give us an idea of what he observed.

First of all, there are five possible ratings ranging from "poor" to "very superior." Using this scale, Mr. Knuppel rated Ramsey High School as Superior.

Ramsey has nine hundred students from a seven and one half mile area, and seventy-four per cent are bus students. The faculty consists of 44 teachers.

While Mr. Knuppel was there, the students put on an enjoyable talent show. An interesting note is that the Junior Prom is held at the High School in the gym until 12 o'clock, and then, from 12 to 4 in the cafeteria, which is set up like a night club. This seemed to be a good idea as it means less worry for the parents.

There were excellent outdoor facilities including an athletic field adjacent the school. The boys' locker room is very well ventilated and there is a shelf for gym clothes which is in charge of either a football or basketball player.

It was pointed out that 34 per cent of the students attend college every year, and 32 per cent continue their education at a trade school, or some other school of higher learning. In 1950, only 14 students quit school.

As for the building itself, it is very modern, with fluorescent lighting, special reading and guidance rooms and pastel painted walls, providing ease on the eyes. These rooms are furnished with a colonial effect.

Although the student council isn't too good, every pupil, with the exception of 25, belongs to one of the 30 clubs. Forty-five minutes, every Friday, are reserved for club meetings.

Who's Prejudiced?

After the remarks concerning this year's freshman class in the Spotlight, they must have decided to prove their worth to the upper classmen. You're shown us that you are a real asset to the school by coming out tops in the magazine campaign.

There were some varied answers to the question of what the upper classmen think of these newest additions to the student body. Well, all we can say is that they're our future seniors.

Future Rembrandt

Although his work of art is now just a memory, Larry Dunn deserves a lot of credit for winning first prize in the Halloween window painting contest. (Satisfied, Larry?)

New Discovery

Did you know that, according to one of Miss Weidman's freshmen, the earth is populated by "human beans?"

Roll Call

No, we don't mean sound off in gym class. We're talking about the annual Junior Red Cross enrollment drive that got underway on Wednesday.

Chairman Gail Campbell worked hard to plan it. Surely you can do your part also, by contributing according to your means to a very worthwhile cause.

COUNCIL URGES CHEST SUPPORT

Tells A. F. of L. Members To Redouble Efforts In Red Feather Drive

The Essex Trades Council, AFL, urges all AFL members in this county to redouble their efforts "to make this year's red feather campaign something to try to equal for years to come." This stand may help Belleville reach its campaign goal. The group's president, John J. Vohden, says early reports are gratifying and indicate splendid cooperation by AFL people, "but there must be no resting on the laurels until this drive is finished and has set an all-time high in contributions and pledges."

According to his statement, Vohden believes labor leaders "perhaps more than any others except public officials and social workers" appreciate the importance of the campaign's success to a small legion of incurables, chronically ill, others with some chance of eventual recovery, or some hope of improvement however slight and tedious and costly.

"Few realize as well just how many wonderful people are devoting their lives, or a great part of their time and energies to helping those others. Perhaps it is because of labor's reputation for openhandedness that we receive a far greater number of direct appeals from such groups than would be generally believed. In any event it is in this way that we get to learn about them, how many there are of them and what they are trying to do."

"On occasion we are able to accept their 'Come and see for yourselves what we are trying to do,' and I sincerely wish every man and woman in the country could be persuaded to make such a tour of inspection. They would certainly come away poorer in pocket but richer otherwise, and the resulting deluge of contributions would probably begin to make a dent in the vast mountain of need that cries for attention. I know we come away ourselves more often than not speechless with admiration for the efforts we witness but dumb with the misery of being unable to do a fraction of what we wish we might do."

"It is with many such experiences, and many such scenes still vivid in our minds that we officers and delegates of the Essex Trades Council urge all AFL members to redouble their previous best efforts to make this red feather campaign something to remember. In that way and in that way only can we be sure that in the coming months if there be one unfortunate anywhere in our midst who may be suffering because of neglect, that neglect may be chargeable to somebody else rather than ourselves."

A group of Belleville High School senior girls attended an open house at the Katharine Gibbs School in Montclair recently. The group included Joan Bauer, Wilma Cantwell, Jean Clarinsio, Joan Gonteaume, Joan Grant, Alice Mendez, Connie Moreno, Mary Ann Wysocki, and their counselor, Miss Gregoria M. Condon.

Alice Poppel and Ruth Smith, graduates of Belleville High School, received them graciously and served tea in the very attractive student's lounge. Later, Sally Hirdes, also a Belleville graduate, escorted them on a tour of the school.

They met and talked to some of the teachers who gave them a few pointers. The girls were not surprised to learn from one of the English teachers that grammar is stressed.

Interesting to note was the definite change they saw in the three girls who received them. In the short time of one year they have gained poise and self-confidence.

Other visitations are being planned by the guidance department for seniors who plan to continue with their education.

Funeral Services Held Sunday Afternoon For Charles Smith

Funeral services for Charles L. Smith of 48 Oak Street were held Sunday afternoon in the Irvine & Son Funeral Home, 276 Washington Avenue. Rev. Dr. James K. Forde of New Smith Presbyterian Church officiated. Burial took place Monday in Evergreen Cemetery, Plainfield.

Mr. Smith died Thursday in his home after a long illness. Born 22 years ago in Hibernia, he had resided in Belleville since 1926. He was employed as an accountant with the Indian Motor Cycle company, New Jersey, for 35 years, and formerly was a member of St. Albans Lodge, F. and M., Newark.

High Requiem Mass Offered Wednesday For Louis Oremus

A high requiem mass was offered Wednesday morning in St. Mary's Church, Nutley, for Louis Oremus of 130 Academy Street, who died Sunday in Mount Sinai hospital after a brief illness. The funeral was from his residence. Born in Hungary 76 years ago, Mr. Oremus had lived in Newark before moving to Belleville in 1921. He was a retired baker. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Julius Kwik of Belleville, Mrs. Louis Liland of Newark and Mrs. Rosa Stadler of Hungary; a son, Joseph, also of Hungary, and 11 grandchildren.

The fall luncheon bridge of the Kempis of New Jersey will be held Monday at 1 p.m. in the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark. Arrangements have been made for a cake table, and a gift table, with display of dolls costumed by the members of the club. Proceeds will be used for Christmas charities.

Belleville Chapter American Red Cross places its Motor Service at the disposal of all who have no other means of transportation, as part of its service to the community. Regular drivers and alternates are assigned time each day, and at present the number of drivers should be adequate to carry a full schedule, unforeseen events make it advisable to seek a few more drivers.

Men and women, over 21 years of age, having good driving ability and in possession of the required state driver's license, willingness to sign the application and agree to adhere to the regulations of Motor Service, able to give a whole or half day each week to driving, or unspecified time in an emergency, should contact Red Cross headquarters.

The Motor Service is the most active of all Red Cross volunteer services. It is on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week. All branches of the Red Cross Chapter are covered by the service.

At present the drivers have pledged their support to the Armed Forces Blood Bank program. This is a strenuous assignment for the driver, as their time starts several hours prior to the registration of donors. They help set up the bank, and after the bank is completed, they aid in dismantling and transport personnel home, all the while maintaining their regular schedule of appointments during the day.

In September twelve members served a total of 205 hours and drove 2,165 miles.

A typical day of Motor Service activity was September 17 when two children were driven to special classes in Bloomfield; a patient was taken to the Orange Orthopedic Hospital; two children were taken to a special class for cerebral palsy; a polo case was taken to the Crippled Children's Hospital and a blood donor was transported to Presbyterian Hospital.

HOLDUP BULLET NARROWLY MISSES MARKET MANAGER

Thomas LaFrano Was In Car With Murdered Special Cop When Two Bandits Struck

Thomas LaFrano of 141 Joralemon Street, Belleville is a lucky man. A bullet from a gun wielded by a trigger happy holdup man whizzed past his chest a fraction of a second before a special policeman sitting next to him in a car, was shot and killed by another bandit, Friday night in Newark. Mr. LaFrano is manager of the Universal Food Market in Newark. James Law, a special officer was to accompany Mr. LaFrano to the bank with the day's receipts when the shooting occurred. The murder and several stickups set off an intensive man-hunt by Newark Police. As the only witness to the actual shooting Mr. LaFrano told the police that Law was waiting for him in Law's car in front of the store to take LaFrano to the Merchants and Newark office of the National State Bank at Bank and Broad streets, Newark, to make a night deposit of the day's receipts. LaFrano came out of the market with the deposit bag containing $8,000, got into the car and placed the bag on the seat between himself and Law. Shot Without Warning Before Law could start the car, LaFrano said, an armed man jerked open the door on the sidewalk side, snatched "This is a stickup," and without warning fired off his gun. Almost simultaneously another armed man whipped open the door on the driver's side and also fired with-out warning. It apparently was the second shot which struck Law in the chest. He slumped over the wheel. LaFrano said one of the bandits then reached across him and grabbed the deposit bag from the car seat and both men fled across Broad street and into Military Park. The shooting failed to attract attention from passersby in Broad Street, but was heard by John M. Jackson of Newark, who was waiting in front of the store for his wife to finish her shopping. He heard LaFrano's call for help. He helped move Law's body from behind the wheel and while LaFrano went in the store to call police, Jackson drove Law to St. Michael's Hospital. LaFrano was unable to describe the bandits to police beyond recalling that both men appeared to be about 30 years old. Finds Suspect Car Here Saturday morning Patrolmen Sullivan and Russoman, while on their way home from work, spotted a 1946 Blue Chrysler convertible, parked at DeWitt Avenue and Joralemon Street, which was listed in a Newark teletype alarm as one of the cars which took part in a series of holdups in Newark on Friday night. The car had a bullet hole in the rear fender. The car is believed to be the one which Sergeant Teufel of Newark chased into Belleville the night before. Teufel was alerted to look for the car after it had been stopped in Frelinghuysen

The Leaves Have Gone

They have gone—the leaves—sinking and sighing down the breeze and down to the spattered gold and red that make a glory of the ground. The world has widened out, now the road and the river curve to the south and bend back to the east again, and where there were leaves the sky has dropped down to the trees.

Catharine Cates.

Bench the Whipping Boys

One cannot read the daily despatches from Paris, where the General Assembly is meeting, without a feeling of deep regret that the relations of the world are beclouded by intolerance in the hands of whipping boys. Every time Andrei Vishinsky goes to the rostrum, a cataract of abuse pours from him. One after another, the spokesmen of other nations feel that from the same podium they must answer him in kind. The result is only confusion, increased misunderstanding and hatred.

Bench the whipping boys! There is no diplomacy in a Vishinsky boast that he laughed so hard he could not sleep over an arms and atomic limitations plan advanced by the Western Powers, especially not at the time that a thousand of our sons fall wounded or dead every week in a senseless war which has no moral reason for continuing when the armies are stalemated in the rugged mountains of Korea.

Bench the whipping boys! There is no decency in a diplomacy which consists of shouting slander and abuse which can only whip up even more the hatreds until, some day, the atmosphere is ripe for the ghastly step from a cold war to a hot war.

Bench the whipping boys! They have failed to make one inch of progress in nearly five years of antagonistic haggling. Bring on the Principals, the Big Three. The time is ripe for their meeting and even though our own president has not proven himself to be an able bargainer, there is Winston Churchill. It should be remembered that it was Churchill who stirred the United States to rise against the Soviet challenge in his speech at Fulton, Mo., in 1947. Until then, Washington was not inclined to take seriously the growth of Communist imperialism. It is a matter of historical record that our own president tried to dispose of the first exposure of Communist penetration to the highest levels of our national government by calling them "red herrings." With Churchill back in power, even more brilliant than ever in his interpretations of events, it is decidedly time for a meeting of the Big Three. R.E.H.

Ike Slams the Door Open

About the only way you can dispose of General Dwight Eisenhower's political intentions, as he resumes his task in Paris, is to say: "He slammed the door open." For political astuteness, coyness, dignity and good nature, it would be hard to beat his recent performance in Washington. The most controversial national figure we have, he was continually in the spotlight, a very hot spot, and yet, as he left to rejoin his post, he was the No. 1 choice of both Republicans and Democrats for the Presidency.

Significant of his new status is the situation in Oregon where petitions have been filed, bearing thousands of names, for his nomination in both the Republican and Democratic Primaries in Oregon next May. Senator Robert A. Taft, smart as a whip in political strategy, has announced that he will not file in Oregon. Thus, in one state at least, Taft avoids a show-down which might be embarrassing. Monroe Sweetland, Democratic national committeeman, has promised that President Truman's name will be on the Oregon Primary ballot, but that may be "wishful thinking."

There is an interesting historical precedent which emphasizes the importance of the Oregon vote. Stassen was going along very strong, in 1948, and was proving himself an able Primary vote getter until Governor Dewey decided to oppose him in the Oregon Primary as a test of strength. Dewey won that Primary and went on from there to the nomination; Stassen's hopes folded that day and never bloomed again.

Our own inquiry leads us now to doubt that there is any serious basis of fact for Arthur Krock's sensational scoop in The New York Times. We have known Krock in our profession for decades, and we had and still have the greatest respect for his ability and his honesty. In fact, we still rate him as the best informed and ablest political correspondent in Washington. But that does not prevent us from reaching the conclusion, regretfully, that his inside story on what Truman told Ike was a "plant." Only time can prove that it was a true tip, or dispose of it as a "plant."

It is indeed unfortunate that Eisenhower is not still the active president of Columbia University. Nothing, then, would prevent him stating his position and with Eisenhower as their nominee, the Republicans could hope to wield a broom in the federal offices of Washington where there is a great need for a long-overdue house-cleaning. A soldier to the core, Eisenhower disposed of the Oregon problem by asking, with regret, whether the state's Republican and Democratic leaders wanted a "partisan" in Ike's job as NATO commander-in-chief.

If his eligibility is not yet decided, Ike's electability is undoubted. The nation needs, more than ever before in its history, a firm, honest hand at its controls. It would be a dis-service to this country to give priority to a post of international responsibility. America first, is our contention, and Ike first, too. R.E.H.

ONE MAN'S OPINION . . .

Past Experience Has Proven That Unless There Is Honesty Among Nations, Another Disarmament Pact Can Only Be a Trap

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

On one day last week, the Western powers offered Soviet Russia a plan for atomic disarmament and arms limitation. Vishinsky laughed it down, making the absurd statement from the rostrum of the United Nations General Assembly in Paris that he laughed so hard all night that he was sleepless. There may come a night when Vishinsky will again be sleepless, an insomnia born of war.

As far as the United States is concerned, it may be just as well that Russia is not interested in disarmament. We have had more than one sorry example in our past. Our most unhappy experience dates back 30 years when, after months of diplomatic negotiation, the Washington Conference ended and the Naval Armaments Treaty was signed on February 6, 1922. By that pact we wrecked the naval power of America, blindly, deliberately, and it was still wrecked when Japan struck at Pearl Harbor. Honest in our intentions, we had proceeded to sink or scrap hundreds of thousands of tons of serviceable warships. Japan sank nothing and was allowed by the treaty to build up to a ratio of 5-3-1.67—5 for the United States and Britain, 3 for Japan and 1.67 each for France and Italy.

Our military weakness in 1940, and Japan's naval strength, both stemmed from that treaty which we signed in the belief that all nations were honest. We learned, alas, that there is dishonesty among nations as there is dishonesty among men, and there is no reason to believe that Red Russia would be any more honest than was Imperial Japan.

Military cemeteries are filled with the victims of our good intentions, as the steel vaults of our State Department are filled with the pacts and treaties that were signed in the interests of peace. I recall particularly the Versailles Treaty, the Treaty of Locarno, the various Pacts of Stresa, Rapallo, Genoa, the Kellogg-Briand Anti-War pact, all milestones of diplomatic blundering—because I was an eye-witness to their signing.

Broken Hopes
The essence of futility always will remain, in this one man's opinion, the document that was signed with considerable flourish in the magnificent clock room of the historic Quai d'Orsay, the Paris place which houses the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs. I remember it particularly because as I sat in the clock room that hot summer afternoon, on August 27, 1928, the foreign secretaries or the ambassadors, parading up to the table of the great Vergennes, signed the Kellogg-Briand pact in the names of Britain, Germany, Italy and Japan, binding them with ourselves and the French to renounce aggressive war. Nobody bothered to invite Russia because the Communists had no army, no navy, no air force anyhow.

By the time that ceremony took place, I had behind me a decade of reporting such international conferences. I had been an ardent believer in the Versailles Treaty, which I had watched Woodrow Wilson, Georges Clemenceau, David Lloyd George and the agents of 50 other nations—excluding Russia, of course, sign. By the time President Coolidge's Secretary of State came to Paris and drafted the anti-war pact with Aristide Briand, I had grown skeptical. The worm-holes were beginning to show in the structure of world diplomacy.

No Sanctions
To the one-time Governor of Minnesota, who was far over his head in such international waters, every one of the signing nations meant, as he undoubtedly did himself, every word in the agreement each had signed. He had overlooked any clause providing sanctions. So convinced was he that ing document. Not a one of the scores of such pacts that I personally watched hundreds of diplomats sign in the quarter of a century that I reported wars and peace conferences stands today. They are all caducated, gathering dust in some musty government file while international rivalry is more keen today than anytime in the troubled history of this world. No treaty prevented Japan from invading half of Asia to fulfill an Emperor's dream of empire. No treaty halted Mussolini, nor did the pact of friendship which Ribbentrop and Molotov signed in haste in Moscow four months before Hitler began World War II by striking at Poland prevent the Mad-Man of Berlin from attacking Russia when he was ready. No treaty, not even the presence of two negotiators in Washington, prevented Japan from starting a war with us by her sneak attack at Pearl Harbor.

Basis of Proposal
What we offered Russia in Paris last week was not disarmament, but carefully controlled arms limitation. We suggested the establishment of standards by which:

1. The size of all armed forces would be limited.
2. The portion of national production which could be used for military purposes would be restricted.
3. Mutually agreed national military programs "would be arrived at within the prescribed limits and restrictions."

Our disarmament proposal calls for the regulation, limitation, and balanced reduction of all armed forces and all armaments, including atomic weapons. The key to it is agreement on "a continuing inventory of all armed forces and armaments," by a mixed group of nationals under United Nations direction.

What happens after this formal, thorough, and total inventory is taken, the Big Three do not attempt to outline in detail. But they do have suggestions as to procedure.

They suggest that as the world learns the exact amounts and kind of armaments and armed forces that countries have, they work out arrangements for actual reduction of armed strength.

This could be done, for example, by allowing armed forces proportionate to population; or by limiting the proportion of national production that could be used for military purposes.

The whole proposal would be carried out by stages—each dependent on the success of the previous one. It would be surrounded with safeguards to assure against bad faith and breaches. It includes in its framework the present UN majority plan for the control of atomic energy and eventual elimination of atomic weapons.

The Western three powers, in making it, emphasize they are not proposing this new and realistic approach to disarmament either from fear or a sudden spirit of optimism.

Rather, they are impelled to propose this new approach to disarmament by a sense of responsibility, by a recognition that if the world could disarm even partially, it could step up its more basic war against hunger, disease, and injustice throughout the world.

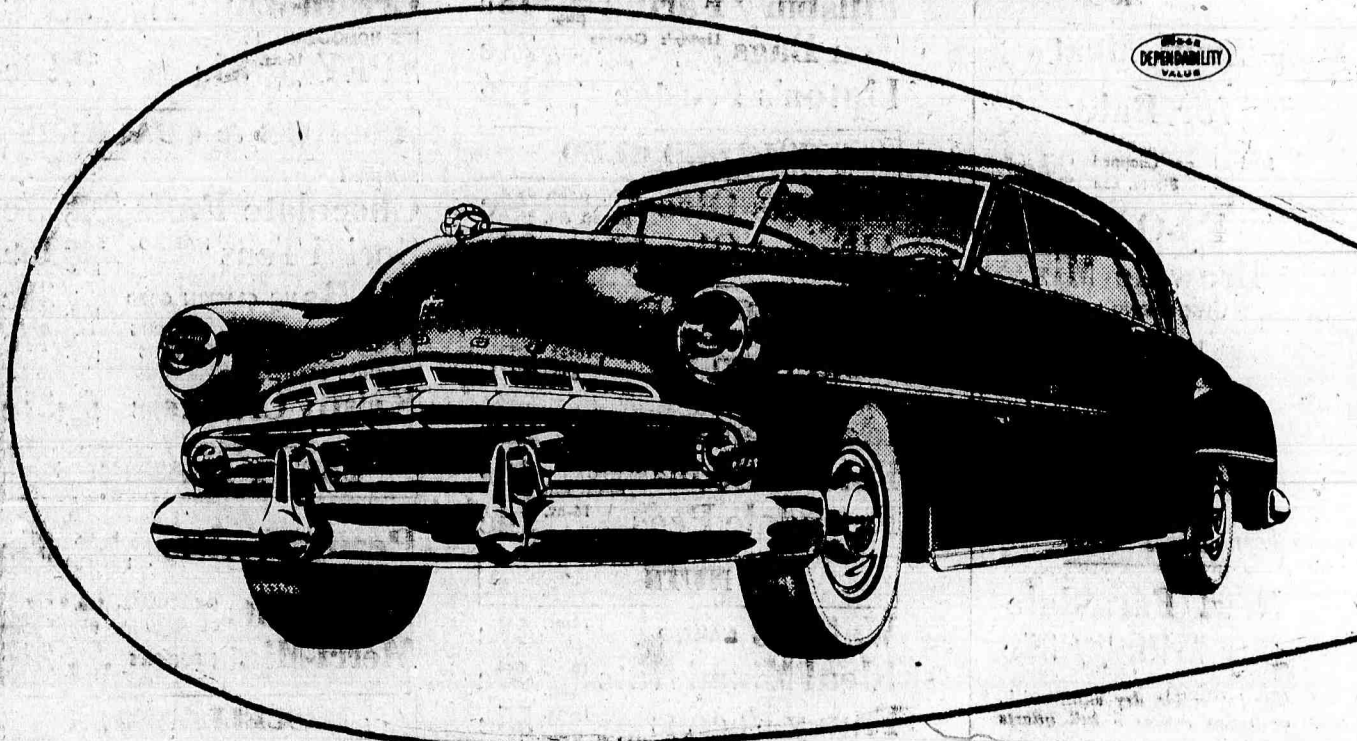

And the only effect of all that was to give Vishinsky the biggest laugh of his lifetime, causing the poor fellow to have a sleepless night. If Russia was to accept our offer and such an agreement was negotiated, if as a consequence we scrapped our ships and our planes, if we tore down our atomic piles and destroyed our stockpile of A-bombs, if, on a basis of comparative population, we conceded to the larger country, Russia, a bigger army, bigger navy, bigger air force then—in this one man's opinion—Vishinsky could really roar with laughter, a real belly-laugh, and the sleepless nights would be ours.

You'd saved a dime!

Bellboys Gain Sweet Revenge On Passaic 11

Worthington's Safety, Rock's TD, Biggin's Conversion Overcome Indians' First Period Score

By GEORGE PLOSA

Victory is sweet, but revenge is even sweeter and Belleville High's football team must have had that in mind on Saturday at the Stadium when they came from behind to beat Passaic High 9 to 7, to revenge last year's embarrassment. The Bellboys are open on Saturday and play their final game on Thanksgiving Day as hosts to the Orange Tornadoes. It should be an interesting game for all to see.

Saturday John Carpel took the opening kickoff from the two-yard stripe to the 35 from where Belleville put on a drive which carried to the Passaic 21. There a 15-yard holding penalty forced Belleville to kick. Passaic was stopped cold and returned the boot. Belleville took over at mid-field and again moved deep into Passaic territory, only to be stalled by another penalty.

First Downs	Passaic	Belle
Running	9	8
Passing	5	7
Attempted Passes	15	12
Passes Completed	4	4
Interceptions	1	1
Punts	8	5
Punting Average	28.1	31.6
Fumbles Lost	1	2
Penalties	45	50

Long Passaic Pass

This time the Indians wasted little time in gaining. On the first play, Dick Zurichin passed to Ron Hoffman for a 48 yard gain to Belleville's 32-yard line. Eight plays later, Duke Vincelli thundered across the goal line for Passaic's score. Zurichin's placement was good and the Bellboys were trailing, 7 to 0.

About midway in the second period, Tom Apicella recovered a Vincelli fumble on the Passaic 44. The Bellboys were stopped one yard short of a first down, but Passaic was put in a hole when Don Miller grabbed Ron Worthington's kick just before it went into the end zone and downed it on the three-yard line. Passaic was unable to get clear and Zurichin went back to kick out of danger.

Ron Worthington had different ideas and managed to bat the ball out of the end zone for an automatic safety, the fourth the Bellboys have figured in this season. The half ended soon afterward with Belleville in possession as a result of an interception and the score standing at 7 to 2.

Belleville Goes Ahead

Al Riggin kicked off to begin the third period and his boot carried to the 18-yard line where it bounced off the chest of Dick Zurichin. Ralph Chimento muscled his way into the pile-up and was on the ball when the officials unscrambled the heap. This gave the Bellboys the ball on the 34. Passaic's line gave up but two yards in the first three downs, but on the fourth, Worthington went back into kick formation, but instead of kicking passed to Bill Rock, who grabbed the ball on the 10 and sprinted past two defensive backs to the goal line. Riggin's conversion added to the winning margin and Belleville was ahead to stay 9 to 7.

Have Another Chance

For the remainder of the third quarter and into the final period the game developed into a kicking duel between Worthington and Zurichin. In the closing minutes of the game the Bellboys found themselves on Passaic's 5-yard stripe, where Ralph Chimento recovered another Passaic fumble. Rocky Cafone lost a yard, Bill Rock went around right end to the three-yard mark. Cafone on a quarterback sneak reached the two and then with another touchdown in the offering, Cafone fumbled and Duke Fascimo recovered for Passaic. The game ended on the next play with Bill Dunleavy intercepting a desperation aerial, too far from the goal line to make the distance.

Belleville Youth Gets 90 Day Jail Sentence

Francis O'Keefe, 22, of 89 Magnolia Street, Belleville, driver of a reportedly stolen car involved in a reported crash October 28, injuring two, was sentenced to 90 days in the county penitentiary by Magistrate Arthur Tahmagne of Bloomfield, last week. He was given 45 days for driving without license, 30 for leaving the scene of an accident and 15 for careless driving. The accident in Bloomfield involved a car stolen from Belleville.

O'Keefe and Joseph Buttacovi, 20, of Newark, formerly of Belleville, were held for the Grand Jury without bail, by Magistrate Everett B. Smith, here recently, when arraigned on the auto larceny charge.

Charlie Benfield Is Fifth In State Meet

Belleville's Charlie Benfield, unbeaten in dual competition, finished fifth in the State Cross Country Championships at the Immaculate Conception, on Saturday. The Belleville youth, who placed in the same spot in the county meet, did wait at the head of the parade, but lost out to the leader, Don Philpot of Montclair, over the two-mile course. As a team Belleville finished 14th.

Dodge Inc. Increases Lead Over Prudential

The last session of the Belleville Manufacturing "A" Bowling League saw Dodge Inc. increase its lead to three games by scoring a sweep over the Prudential A.A. and dropping the insurance men into third place. The trophy makers were led by Joe Slavovits with 556 and Frank Spera with 552, while Bill Provost anchored the Pru pinners with a 585 series.

After dropping their first 24 games the Standard Areturus team came to life and took two games from Hanlon & Goodman. The team from Hanlon & Goodman, the best man for the tubemakers was John Melillo with a 472 set while Howard Vehslage anchored the brushmakers with 535. Another streak came to an end as Federal Leather after winning 13 games dropped the last game to J. Wiss & Son. The leathermen were paced by Bill Cullen with 515 while Hugh McAtter topped the shearmakers with 519. The double win for Federal Leather moved them into second place one game in front of the Prudential A.A. Wallace & Tiernan by winning two games from 'Premier Tool' moved into a tie for third place with J. Wiss & Son. Augie Malt with 536 led Watco while Bill Greenwich, switching from anchor to lead off man topped the tool-makers with 549.

31 CYO COURT GAMES SUNDAY

Local Parishes Have Entered Seven Teams In County's Basketball Loops

Peak activity in the Essex County CYO basketball leagues, which inaugurated the 1951-52 season on scattered fronts on Tuesday and Wednesday, will come this Sunday when 31 games involving 62 teams will be played. In all, the CYO court program has attracted 119 clubs in seven different age and sex classifications — Senior, Intermediate, Junior and Grammar School for boys and Senior, Junior and Grammar School for girls.

All Essex County champions, with the exception of St. Michael's, Newark, junior girls, have returned to defend their titles. Our Lady of Lourdes, West Orange, will command the most attention as it tries for a repeat in four classifications, a trick it turned for the first time in CYO history last year.

Each of the seven classifications have been broken up into suburban and city sections and further divided into 18 divisions. A total of 56 games will be played each week on 12 different courts in Newark, Nutley, Irvington, East Orange, South Orange, Orange, Bloomfield and Montclair. Teams will be aiming first for divisional titles and if successful will battle for area, county, archdiocesan and then metropolitan crowns.

Belleville parishes, St. Peter's and St. Anthony's, will be represented by seven clubs. Both local CYO units have entered teams in the junior and grammar school boys' divisions. St. Peter's, which won the suburban grammar school title last year, also has teams in the intermediate boys' and junior and grammar school girls' classifications.

Will Open New Rifle and Pistol Range At Stadium

The Belleville Recreation Department announces the opening of a new and larger pistol and rifle range on December 15 at the Belleville Municipal Stadium. The new range will be open to all larger than the present one with all new up to the minute lighting, it will be heated for winter use, and equipped with exhaust fans to carry off all powder odors. The new wrangle will be open to all rifle and pistol teams, which must be registered with the N.R.A. and the Belleville Recreation Department, 407 Joralemon Street.

Sports Reflections

By AL OUTCALT

The traditional college football story is about the second-string quarterback who becomes the hero by running 95 yards for a touchdown in the last few seconds to win the game. But we heard a story recently about a college football hero who was a fourth-string tackle, never played more than two minutes a season, and never won a football game in his life.

It happened at an eastern university. The star of the team was a triple-threat halfback who was just about the whole team—he was captain, called signals, threw the passes, did most of the running, punted and kicked the extra points. His name—we'll call him Bill Young—was spread over all the sports pages a few years back and he boosted his team to national prominence almost single-handed for three years in a row.

On the same club was his hero, the tackle who loved football but was never very good. He was slow, not perfectly co-ordinated, and never hit hard enough but he couldn't stay away from the game. He came from a poor Italian family—we'll call him Tony Frisco—and his father was working at two jobs to keep his son in school. Tony himself had a part-time job working nights in a drugstore.

One night, as Tony was leaving the drugstore to go back to his dormitory room, two men sitting in a car nearby called him over. They asked him for directions to the dormitory and then he told them he was going there too, they offered him a lift.

While they rode, one of the two men made Tony a proposition. They were gamblers, they said, and they would pay Tony $5,000 for less than a minute's work.

Tony was dumfounded for a moment, but then asked what the minute of work involved. "It's like this," the man explained. "We got quite a stack of money bet on this Saturday's game. We're betting your team to lose. We want you to see that you do lose."

"You must have the wrong boy," Tony said. "I won't play Saturday unless we're winning 60-0 or losing 60-0. I couldn't fix a game if I wanted to, and I don't think I'd want to anyway so you'd better stop this car and let me go."

"Now wait a minute, kid. We got the right boy. It's 5,000 bucks, kid. More than you'll ever make jerkin' sodas. All you got to do is this. Next Thursday, when you have your scrimmage, you take care of Young. The first time you get near him in a pile-up, he comes up with a broken ankle or leg or arm or something and nobody knows how he got it. He don't play Saturday and you guys couldn't win without him. So you get 5,000 bucks and we get our bet insured. Whatta ya say?"

Tony knew what he could do with the $5,000. It would mean his father could quit working nights and he could tell Mr. Foster at the drug store where he could go. But the thought of hurting Young and betraying the team was more than Tony could stomach. He was about to tell them off when a thought came to him.

Two Wrestling Shows At Laurel Garden

The busiest wrestling schedule in the history of Laurel Garden, 457 Springfield Avenue, Newark, will be at hand this week when promoter Babe Culnan stages a special untelevised show on Thursday night, November 15, and the regular weekly bill the following night.

The show with no tee-vee cameras will mark the first showing in a Newark ring of the Sumo Japanese grapplers who since arriving in this country several weeks ago have injected new life at the box offices. They have sold out virtually every arena in which they have appeared.

A quartet of Nippon grapplers will vie in round robin style. They are Maedayama, the champ; Azamafuji, Fujitayama and Onoumi. All but the champ will be in the preliminary action.

IT'S A FIREBALL ENGINE

Low-Down on a high-powered Performer

Let us tell you this:

The Buick pictured here packs more power than you find in any other car of its size and room and price.

That's the power of Buick's newest high-compression valve-in-head eight—the R-263 Fireball Engine, that really gets miles from a gallon of gas.

Add to this the fact that it tips the scales at 3817 pounds curb—weight—and you begin to see why this big-powered beauty is such a nimble-footed number out on the road.

But that's only Chapter I of the performance story.

There's a big-car feel to the way this trim traveler covers the ground—hugs the curves—holds its course on the straightaway—smoothes the bumps with its big soft coil springs on all four wheels.

There's a big-car room inside—six-passenger room—headroom, hiproom, shoulderroom, kneeroom, front and back.

Come in, look it over, and we think you'll agree—it's big in everything but price.

And that's where it really shines. If you've shopped around you'll know what we mean when you read the price tags, and what they include in the way of standard equipment that shows up as "extras" on so many others. Such things as an oil filter, air cleaner, vacuum booster, built-in summer ventilation are all yours at no extra charge.

It's hard to believe but it's true. If you can afford a new car, you can afford this Buick at the prices we're quoting today.

Better come in and look this smart buy over.
