

So What?

Belleville was represented at the meetings of the New Jersey League of Municipalities Convention at Atlantic City this week by a member of its officials. Commissioner Joseph A. King, Welfare Director John Hewett and Reverend Peter A. Deckerbach made it a family affair by taking along their wives. Others who attended one or more sessions included Public Safety Director Harry J. Sullivan, Treasurer Russell Sargeant, Town Clerk Florence Morey, Tax Collector William Friel, Deputy Commissioner William Tully, Tax Assessor Arthur Clark, Building Inspector Thomas Greco and Health Officer Eugene Berry.

A meeting of all active radio amateurs in the Belleville Civilian Defense and Red Cross communications network will be held at the Belleville Recreation House on Sunday at 10 a. m. This meeting will be in charge of Frank Rogell, Belleville Civilian Defense communications chairman, and Norman H. Thompson, emergency coordinator of the American Relay League for Belleville. Any person interested in joining this communications group is invited to attend this meeting.

John J. Goff, president of the Essex County Civil Service Association, addressed a letter to the Mayor and Board of Commissioners recently asking them to consider raises of $600 for each Civil Service employee of the town. Coming so soon after the public demonstration by referendum that it did not favor increases of $390 for the members of the police force, the letter stands little chance of being considered when the commissioners get around to drafting the 1952 budget.

Mrs. Lenore B. Willette of 137 Stephens Street has been elected to the board of directors of the Auxiliary of Kessler Institute for Rehabilitation. The Institute was dedicated in January, 1949, to rehabilitate handicapped men, women and children, regardless of race, creed or ability to pay. It is located in Pleasant Valley Way, West Orange.

Sal Nicoletti, of the Nicoletti Body Works, 177 Passaic Avenue, reported to the police on Monday that some time between Wednesday and Monday, while he was off hunting, his garage was broken into and two spray guns and a buffer, with a total value of $180, were stolen. Entrance was gained through a rear window and a side door was unlocked from the inside apparently as a means of exit.

FEWSMITH SERVICE WILL MARK 27TH ANNIVERSARY

"The Word Becomes Flesh" Is Topic Of Dr. Morse's Sermon At Special Worship

Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church will celebrate its 27th Anniversary Sunday. At a special morning worship service new members will be received and Dr. James K. Morse, pastor, will preach on "The Word Becomes Flesh." A message will be read from Rev. O. Bell Close, Pastor Emeritus, who organized the church in the Masonic Temple on the first Sunday of December, 1924. There were 250 charter members of whom about 20 are still active in the present church program. Dr. Winfield H. Stone has been treasurer for the entire history of the church.

In 1926 the church building was dedicated and the name Fewsmith assumed from the old Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church of Newark. Since the present pastor, Dr. Morse, came in May, 1946, the church sanctuary has been remodeled and redecorated and over 600 new members received. The debt on the church has been completely paid off and an expanding youth program with a paid director has been instituted. The church school has increased in the past two years to an all-time high registration and a full staff of trained teachers.

Mark Siebert, minister of music, will play "Toccata" for the organ prelude and "Trumpet Voluntary" for the postlude. Miss Ruth Lurie of South Orange will be the soloist. Charter members will be recognized in the program.

Frederick Scott Ship Will Collect Papers On Sunday

The regular monthly paper collection conducted by the Frederick Scott Ship, No. 8453, VFW, will be held Sunday, starting at 9 a. m. Trucks manned by volunteers will canvass the town and Belleville residents are asked to place newspapers and rags on the curbs in front of their homes as early as possible to expedite the pick-up.

BELLWOOD PARK DELEGATES BACK REZONING PLAN

Agree That "Business Zone" Is Better Than No Zone; Table Parking Ordinance

The possibility that the County Court's decision that the area between Smallwood Avenue and Pleasant Avenue, along Belleville Avenue to the Bloomfield line is improperly zoned as residential means that another court might grant manufacturing privileges in the area, was explained by Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan and members of the Board of Commissioners, to a delegation of citizens from the adjacent neighborhood, Tuesday night.

Following the discussion the six delegates from the Bellwood Park section agreed that the best course would be to rezone the section, already built up with gas stations and a lumber yard, as "business." The ordinance changing the zone will be brought up at the next meeting of the Board of Commissioners.

Do Not Want Trucks

The Bellwood Park folks however do not want the trucks back on the Westmont Service Station property and hope that Mr. Keenan can get an agreement with the Westmont owners that if the entire property is placed in the business zone they will not take the trucks back.

The trucks which caused the most recent furor moved just before the County Court decided that they were a proper part of the business activities of the service station. They moved to the Rices Brothers Coal Company yard, and more recently have gone into a garage in the Valley, in an industrial zone.

Protect Plant Parking

Another delegation of eight people with Sylvester Stewart of 225 Stephens Street as spokesman asked the commissioners to find another remedy for parking on that street instead of the one side parking proposed in an ordinance passed last second reading. Mr. Stewart says the parking of employees cars from the industrial zone in the neighborhood from time to time has caused a traffic jam of two street right on that street, making it impossible for their friends to park within blocks of their homes if they come for a visit.

Mr. Stewart suggested several vacant lots, which he thought were owned by the town, as possible parking lots. Mayor Waters and Deputy Mayor William Tully informed Mr. Stewart that the town does not own the lots. The Mayor also pointed out that one large lot near the building occupied by the Federal Telephone and the Eveready Label, was the subject of some spirited bidding by both companies a few years ago, as a possible parking lot, but the owners set a price that was too high for either firm.

At Mr. Stewart's suggestion the ordinance was tabled and Public Safety Director Harry J. Sullivan promised to give the matter some study to see if some relief cannot be provided, beyond the present.

A woman who was hanging clothes in the rear of her home in the Branch Brook Drive apartment development, told police that she was surprised in her yard about 7 o'clock. About 8 o'clock another woman on her way to a PTA meeting at School No. 8 was grabbed near the school.

A few minutes later the two policemen saw a youth answering the general description, in Hornblower Avenue. Detective James Mallack, who handles the juvenile cases coming before the police, questioned the boy and got an admission that he was turned over to the juvenile court. The identity had disposition of cases involving boys and girls under 18 years of age is never revealed by police unless homicide is involved.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE PROGRESSES

Free Community X-Rays At Belleville High May 10; Other Visit Dates Open

The initial response from Belleville and Nutley residents who were sent Christmas Seals by the Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association in their annual appeal has been satisfactory, according to Eugene T. Berry, local Seal Sale Chairman. Receipts are running much the same as last year, Berry said, and his hopes are high that the total this year will exceed those of 1950.

One of the items among others that is expected to cost more to operate is the Free Community X-ray which is held every year. Joseph Day, chairman of this X-ray project has announced that all arrangements have been made for the X-ray at Belleville High School on May 10 and at Nutley Junior School on May 17. The date for Soho and Silver Lake is still not set, but will be in May, he believes.

Seal Sale Chairman Berry urges that everyone read the appeal letter which accompanied the Christmas Seals this year and buy as many seals as they can afford to help in the fight against tuberculosis.

In the center with his hat in hand is Mr. Flory flanked on his left by Mrs. Flory and on his right by his daughter Therea. The dedication originally postponed because of rain was held despite a biting cold wind which blew down Jorammon Street. Talks were made by Congressman Peter Rodino, Deputy Mayor William Tully and George Plosa, representing the high school. A squad of Marines from Dover fired a volley and a bugler sounded taps. M. A. Operation "Turkey Dinner," sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Shannon of 23 Bremond Street, was such a success that the Bomber Squadron then stationed at Camp Kilmer was not able to send enough men to fill the invitations. This situation is attributable to the "tremendous upsurge" of the disease during the last four years which including a close estimate for 1951 brings the total to 132,000 cases of infantile paralysis, or about 33,000 cases a year... the worst polio years in history.

TOWN POSTMASTER SUGGESTS WAYS TO AVOID YULE RUSH

Expects Greatest Flood Of H. Day Mail; Post Office Is Ready, How About You?

Postmaster Louis A. Reilly opened the Yuletide Season officially today. He issued his annual appeal for early mailing of Christmas greeting cards and gift packages.

"It's later than you think!" the Postmaster warned. "Most people wait until December rolls around before they give the increasingly heavy Christmas mails a second thought."

The Postmaster expects the greatest flood of Yuletide mail in local history. He predicted it would exceed "by a considerable margin" the record-breaking 1950 holiday season, when 39,714,240 pieces of mail were cancelled.

"This year's deluge of Christmas mail will strain post office facilities severely," he stated. "But we'll get everything delivered by Christmas, if the public cooperates wholeheartedly."

Parcel Post Deadline

Christmas packages for distant States should be mailed by December 5th, he declared. All Yuletide parcel post should be on its way by December 10th.

Christmas cards to friends and loved ones in other States should be deposited by December 15th. Greetings for local delivery should be mailed before Christmas.

Preparations to handle this Yuletide rush have already begun. The post office is training extra mail clerks and carriers, setting up new sorting tables, hauling out reserve mail sacks, and overhauling delivery trucks. Thousands of bright new postage stamps are on hand, and the post office pens are all getting new points.

Mailing Hints

To keep Christmas mail on schedule, the Postmaster asks that you:

Stop at the post office soon to purchase the extra stamps you're going to need, thus avoiding last-minute crowds. When buying stamps for Christmas cards, bear in mind the desirability of sending the cards by first-class mail. The rate for unsealed cards is 2c and cards mailed in this way do not rate forwarding or return services.

Check and revise your Christmas card address list this weekend. Purchase your Christmas cards early and address and stamp them at once. Then put them in a convenient place for mailing at the proper time.

Lay in adequate supplies of heavy cardboard, sturdy outer paper, strong cord, and printed Fourth Class labels for wrapping parcel post. Packages are limited to 70 pounds in weight, and must not measure more than 100 inches in length and girth combined. Repeat the address inside the outer wrappings, in case they are damaged in transit.

Use Return Address

"Above all," the Postmaster said, "please address plainly and completely. Give the full name, house number, street, name of city, zone and state. And don't forget to write your address on Christmas card envelopes. Authorities on etiquette say it's perfectly proper, because it helps people bring their address book up-to-date. But a return address is frequently even more helpful to us!"

From a November Journal

Wild geese
Lay curved wings on distance
And fade softly
To the south.

The crickets
Fold away their fiddles
And bow to silence.

Sparrows adjust ruffled feathers
To the first snow flake,
And take for granted
The charitable crumb.

The kettle on the kitchen stove
Sings a little steaming song
In a domestic key,
And the kitten in the corner
Purrs a rumpled accompaniment.

The wind
Rattles the windows
And tries the doors
And, finding no welcome here,
Prowls on
Whistling a northern tune.

A chill loneliness creeps in;
I must open a bundle of memories
And find a thought of you
To make me warm.

The Value of an Authority Proven

The achievement of the New Jersey Turnpike Authority in transforming the 118-mile expressway from dream to reality in less than three years, despite a war in Korea that complicated deliveries of materials, proves the effectiveness of the principle of authority independent of the "stick-in-the-mud" administrative departments.

The very creation of this Authority was a confession by New Jersey state officials that it was politically impossible to finance such necessary road-building projects out of public taxes.

If a proof is needed that an Authority is the answer to most extensive building projects, compare the successful three-year job on the turnpike with the botched up job the State Highway Department is doing on the Garden State Parkway. Both jobs were on the engineers' drawing boards at the same time. One was financed from without by the Authority, the other was financed from the state treasury. The Turnpike was opened this week; the Parkway is still on the drawing board as far as Belleville is concerned. The authorities responsible have not even been able to tell the Town Commission exactly where the Parkway will cut through here after it jumps from the old Morris Canal bed. At the present rate of progress, it will take ten years or more to complete the Parkway.

We already had the lesson of the Port of New York Authority which built tunnels, bridges and port facilities and operates them without political influence or public tax monies. Since the principle of the Authority has been established and proven, why not adopt it for all major interstate and intrastate projects in the future and even scale it down to the town level?

Names, Please, Harry!

Apparently it all depends upon how the shoe fits whether it is a "dinger" or not.

A sermon, delivered last Sunday at the Naval base in Key West, won that appellation along with the President's approbation when a Naval Chaplain, Lieut. Commander Harold F. Menges scolded those who engage in unjustified criticism. In the same breath, the President stated blandly that "special interests" poured big money into Ohio in 1950 to re-elect Senator Robert A. Taft to the U. S. Senate.

It was no secret that, during the Ohio campaign, organized labor poured hundreds of thousands of dollars into the fight against Taft, the man who gave his name to a law which is anathema to labor leaders. It was no secret, either, that the Democratic Party did everything in its power to beat Taft—and failed by more than 430,000 votes. Taft's victory was a real "dinger."

It is strange that Truman, with a hair-trigger temper of his own when criticism is levelled at him, at his crony Harry Vaughan or at his daughter's vocal cords, should resort to anything as cheap and crumbly as the generality "special interests." If he is sure of his facts, why doesn't he name the "special interests"? If he has no facts, why doesn't he shut up?

The Basis of an Election

In attempting to deny the Republican party the right to inject foreign policy into the 1952 election for a President of the United States, President Truman overlooks the basic fact that next year's election will be decided, not by the candidates themselves but by the 50,000,000 Americans, taxpayers all, who bother to vote. And to those fifty millions, the criterion is honesty and economy in federal government.

Harry Truman would like to confine the pre-election campaign to a debate of the Fair Deal. He said in a challenge to the Ohio Senator that if the campaign was waged on the Fair Deal, the people would rise and smite its Republican detractors.

For what it's worth, Harry, the people up this way intend to vote on a basis of the Administration's whole record. The government's venture into state socialism, which the White House calls the Fair Deal, may influence some voters in the Middle West and South. Here in the industrial East, where too many dollars are subtracted from the pay envelope every week to pay for that experiment in state socialism, we are far more interested in the Administration's record on national spending. Taxes and the index of living costs will be the basis of more votes, up this way, than will any Deal, New, Fair or Raw.

For what it's worth, too, Harry, it is our belief that you will have to debate the corruption and graft that exists at almost every level of national government, either during the campaign or in the voters' minds once they reach for the levers on the voting machines. You cannot hide the corruption behind any mumbo jumbo about the Fair Deal.

Foreign Policy is a positive issue in the 1952 campaign, not for its moral but for its financial aspects. Since taxes are a basic issue, anything affecting those taxes is an issue and nothing affects them more than the overhead of our foreign commitments.

For too long, in our mind, Foreign Policy has been politically sacrosanct. Our national legislators were timid about debating it when it bore a "bi-partisan" label. But who can honestly pretend today that our Foreign Policy is truly bi-partisan? The voters have the right to know how every candidate for national office, in the White House as in Congress, stands on the many facets of our Foreign Policy. We would like to see a full-dress debate on China, and on the errors which led to the debacle. We hope than Senator Taft will provoke a debate, too, on Korea. With General MacArthur refusing to follow the formula and "just fade away", it is comprehensible that Harry Truman would not want to debate Korea and China policies with the Republicans. R.E.H.

ONE MAN'S OPINION . . .

Truce in Korea Should Give Us Opportunity for Sorely Needed Reexamination of Red China

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

It took a year and a half of all-out war, with more than 100,000 casualties on our side, to reach an agreed stalemate because call it whatever you want to, the truce which appeared today to be likely in a matter of hours is a consecration of a stalemate.

For that reason, the Korean truce should call for some very serious reexamination of policy. Whereas a year ago we might have been inclined to classify the Chinese Communist army in the category of comic opera soldiers, we know now from horrible experience that China's Red Army is a force to be reckoned with in the Far East, and in the hands of Stalin is a constant menace on the far-flung front of Communist intrigue.

Freed of a severe war in Korea, where will China strike next? India, Indochina, Formosa? Or will Mao Tse-tung take time out to put his regime on a sound economic basis and to build up his own war potential? Finally, will the 30-day truce last, or will Stalin order Mao to break loose again around Christmas time so that we dare not change the direction of our flow of arms and ammunition from Korea to General Eisenhower's NATO armies in Europe?

If we misjudged so badly the Chinese Communist armies, have we also misjudged the extent of Kremlin control of Mao and his Red Regime?

Happily, there are ways of peering behind the Iron Curtain in China. Since the British held onto Hong Kong in the debacle of Nationalist China, the Western allies have, there, an extremely valuable observation post. Since India maintains cordial relations with Red China despite the invasion of Tibet, we can see China through Hindu eyes, although, admittedly, that is a prejudiced process.

In this "One Man's Opinion," Mao is not ready to break with his domineering "big brother" and, for that reason, we must not consider Peiping other than it is—a Kremlin satellite, and a more powerful one than we had believed.

Mao No Agrarian

For too long, our own State Department was convinced that Mao was an agrarian reformer at heart, a Chinese peasant who simply wanted to correct the ills of centuries and not a true Communist at heart. It was such false reasoning, part of it at least dictated by the euphoria of some pro-Communists in key positions and part of it a consequence of stupidity, that led us to the abandonment of Chiang Kai-shek on the grounds that if Chinese Communism did come it would merely be an agrarian form of it.

That is, alas, also the Indian government's viewpoint and since India sits in the councils of the United Nations such a viewpoint is dangerous. Sardar K. M. Panikkar, a career diplomat who is India's Ambassador to Peiping, was back on leave in New Delhi when the UN met in Paris and he hastened there to tell his story. Because he is recognized as a non-Communist, his ideas did carry much weight in Paris among the delegates.

Through Hindu Eyes

which he painted in Paris looked like this:

1. The Communist Chinese government is not a purely Communist government. It is a coalition government in which the Communist Party is predominant.

2. China is not a satellite of Soviet Russia. The present Chinese policy is entirely governed "by her own historical and national considerations."

3. China's present foreign policy in Korea, Formosa, Tibet, and elsewhere is exactly the same as the foreign policy it had before under Chiang Kai-shek—with the important difference that Mao Tse-tung has the strength to enforce that policy.

4. Private capital and peasant ownership are being definitely encouraged by the present government, which is popular with all classes in China and is "the people's government in the true sense of the word."

"Totally Allied"

For all that, Mr. Panikkar points out, the Communist Party is all powerful in China; its ultimate aim is a complete Communist state, and China is "totally allied" with Soviet Russia because of common ideals, geography, and the compelling hostility of the western world.

Reuters, the British news agency which was my "opposition" during the quarter of a century that I covered the world as a foreign correspondent for United Press, tells a different story. Reuters, naturally, tells a prejudiced story, too, because it is the official British government agency, but it is interesting that Reuters reported from Shanghai and Hong Kong this week that travelers from China report that although Communist China is a full-fledged Soviet satellite today, it probably will, given certain favorable circumstances, make an attempt to shake off the Russian yoke.

The travelers believe that the new China will attempt to break its tie, preferably in a friendly fashion, with Moscow and pursue an independent policy. Belief in such a development is said by its proponents to be based on hard facts.

Foremost among these is the alleged growing dissatisfaction among high native Communists, whose basic policy is "China for the Chinese" and nondependence on any foreign power. They are reportedly displeased with the manner in which the Sino-Soviet link has worked to the detriment of the Chinese nation and people.

These "native" Communists headed by the party chairman, Mao Tse-tung, and including such well-known figures as the Prime Minister and Foreign Minister, Chou En-lai, and the army commander-in-chief, Chu Teh, have been subservient to the so-called "international" Communists ever since the signature of the Sino-Soviet Treaty. But public support has recently tended to harden in their favor.

The "internationals" are headed by Liu Shao-chi, one of the six vice-chairmen of the People's Government, but widely recognized as the "strong man" of new China, and Li Li-san, the Moscow-trained Labor Minister.

Travelers declare that a major factor responsible for the swing in public sentiment which up till about a year ago was almost solidly behind the Liu-Li clique whose creed is unreserved reliance on and subservience to Moscow, has been the Chinese intervention in the Korean war, with its attendant heavy losses in men and material and adverse effect on the nation's internal economy.

The average Chinese feels that this intervention was undertaken at Moscow's behest, say the travelers, despite a flood of official propaganda attempting to give the impression that the decision was China's alone and due to the "necessity" to safeguard the country against American "aggression."

Many Chinese in Shanghai consider that Communist China is more subservient to Moscow today than China has ever been to any western nation.

It is estimated that about seven out of every ten Chinese in Shanghai are at present opposed—of necessity in silence at the moment—to a continuation of the Soviet link.

A significant pointer in this connection is the considerable decline in the study of Russian, which became a veritable "craze" shortly after the "liberation" of Shanghai.

Numerous officially sponsored Russian classes have recently closed in Shanghai because of the big drop in the number of students, the travelers report. Practically the only people now studying the language are officials and the higher government employees.

It is admitted that Mao Tse-tung has many stiff hurdles to overcome before he can hope to shake the Russians off.

The Chinese Communist chairman, it is said, is not unduly worried about the presence of the thousands of Russian advisers in this country. He is reported to be confident that he can get rid of them much in the same manner as Chiang Kai-shek did with the Russian adviser Borodin in the mid-1920's, but on a larger scale.

The Chinese "international" Communists, however, present a more formidable problem, and some Chinese think that nothing short of an armed revolution can shake them from their pedestal in the councils of the nation.

In the meantime, the travelers state, the "internationals" are firmly entrenched in all key areas in China.

Behind a facade of co-operation in all such areas, the "natives" take orders from the "internationals," it is reported.

Shanghai, industrial and financial hub of the nation, is a typical example of this. Mao's long-time friend and supporter, Gen. Chen Yi, is major and head of the Military Control Commission. But he is subordinate to Jao Shu-shih, "international" chairman of the East China Military and Administrative Committee, the supreme policy-making organ for East China.

Many Privileges Enjoyed

Therefore, chubby-faced Chen Yi is no more than a figurehead. Under the direct orders of the East China Military and Administrative Committee are an army of Soviet advisers and technicians, who are said to enjoy many privileges denied even to the highest Chinese party leaders.

These advisers are reported to have been mainly responsible for converting the vast country into a police state within the brief span of two years.

The travelers conclude with the statement that, according to conservative estimates, there is in Shanghai alone today one policeman to every 20 residents, in addition to an army of political commissars to direct indoctrination of the population, and thousands of informers to spy on suspect "counter-revolutionaries."

New Jersey is Foremost IN RESEARCH FACILITIES

Did you know that New Jersey is a center of scientific research unmatched by any area of the country?

Did you know that New Jersey is so well known for its outstanding research facilities that some industrialists call it "The Scientific State"?

Almost everything used in day-by-day living has been improved by New Jersey research. A few of the products developed at the Crossroads of the East include the electric light, the radio, television, the typewriter, the telephone, the telegraph, motion pictures, better flavors for foods, drugs, patent leather, high-octane gasoline, and improved lubricating oils.

Also, many drugs and pharmaceuticals have been developed here following long periods of research.

There are two main reasons for this gigantic concentration of research in so small an area: (1) New Jersey is close to home offices in New York City; and (2) it is near a wide variety of industrial plants which can put innovations and improvements into pilot production under the close scrutiny of the men who developed them.

Public Service is proud to serve New Jersey with dependable gas and electricity and to aid in the continuing development of the state.

Swan Song

Fourteen Bellboys have played their last football game for Belleville High. A dozen of them saw their last service in the contest against Orange on Thanksgiving Day while two others who were injured during the season were finished when they were hurt. The two are Ronnie Thompson and Carmine Earl, both hurt the same day and both with concussions.

The dozen are Co-Captains Pete Spera and Bob Haight; Al Riffin, Charlie Antrim, Tom Hedgepoch, Jim Kelly, Ralph Chimento, Gerald Skidmore, Fred Westpy, John Carpel, Tom Appicella and Vince Nardiello.

Returning to the fold for the 1952 campaign will be Ralph Vara, Rocco Cafone, Ronald Worthington, Donald Miller, William Dunleavy, William Madera and Bill Rock, who saw enough service to be called regulars, plus Frank Scarpelli, Mike DeFilippo and Joe Sorrentino, who played enough to earn their letters. Barring moving and unforeseen accidents, Coach Eddie Berlinski should start next season with some experience on the first eleven. The biggest need next year will be at the tackles and the ends.

The Belleville High Jayvee football team had a successful season, winning four games and losing only two. The Jayvees beat East Orange 12 to 6, Hillside 14 to 6, Nutley 25 to 0 and Irvington 19 to 6. They bowed to Bloomfield 6 to 0, at the start of the season when Rocky Cafone was taken out of the lineup for varsity duty and the team had no signal caller. They also lost to Passaic in a game that was so rough that Coach Ray Smith considered the possibility of taking his team off the field. The final score was 19 to 6.

Wallace and Tiernan Manufacturing Company furnished the High School lettermen and coaches with tickets for Saturday's game between Princeton and Dartmouth at Palmer stadium. Altogether 30 made the trip. It was an enjoyable trip but the game itself was spoiled by rough tactics on the part of the Dartmouth players who were determined to upset Princeton's long winning streak.

Keeping Up With the Boat

The Varsity Shell Fund, being raised by members of the Belleville Varsity Club is $14 nearer its goal this week as a result of contributions reaching Mac Lamb, chairman. Kaden's Drug Store gave $10, and dollars were collected from the Washington Liquor Store, Reilly's Real Estate, John Price and George Price, both of the Price Real Estate office.

Changing Sports Scene

Believe it or not but Belleville High's basketball team which has been meeting twice a week since early in November with Coach Jitty Wische and daily since the close of football practice on Thursday, opens its season at Belleville High on December 7th. That's next week my friends. Once upon a time there was a breathing period between football and basketball. That was when seasons started after January 1st and ended the first of March. Now schools try to get in 16 games before the start of the Essex County Tournament on February 15th.

The Bellboys open with Montclair Academy and inasmuch as Mr. W has only two members of last year's team back it's just a co-incidence that Ed Van Brunt's team will be here. Someday Ed is going to come up with a sleeper and it will fail to be a coincidence.

We can report that Belleville High plans something different, so different that the practice may spread to other schools. Right now we are leaving that for next week's column. While the idea is new here it is something that is practiced in other states.

Following next week's opener, the Bellboys play two more games in December, one on the 11th with Passaic at the local gym and the other with Garfield on the 19th at Garfield. If Passaic and Garfield are no better than they have been in the last few years, Belleville should enter the tough part of the season with at least a few victories under their belt.

Just so that it will be given prominence, here is Belleville's basketball Schedule for 1951-1952.

Bellboys Unable To Halt Guerrieri In Thanksgiving Game

Pass Interceptions and Fumbles Set Up Tornado Touchdowns and Another Halts Belleville Score

By AL OUTCALT

Inspired by Thanksgiving Day turkey awaiting them at home, Belleville High School's football eleven recovered an Orange fumble on the first play of the game and drove for an early touchdown. However Coach Ed Berlinski's charges failed to ward off the ground power of the Tornadoes and lost their closing game of a not-too-successful season at Municipal Stadium last Thursday by a 20-to-12 score.

A hearty Homecoming crowd braved chilling winds to watch the Bellboys fight Orange's overpowering weight advantage in the football finale. They saw Tony Guerrieri, the stocky Tornado fullback, run 23 yards for the first TD, pile over from the 2 for the second, and romp 35 yards with an intercepted pass for his third score of the morning.

Belleville's line, playing an outstanding but frustrating game against the heavier visitors, managed to pin down Tom Henderson, the Orange right halfback who has been the Tornadoes' scoring star all year. But they couldn't contain Guerrieri and Carl Roberts, a driving left halfback who chewed up yardage like it was cranberry sauce.

Allen Riffin kicked off for the Bellboys to the Orange 15 where Roberts ran it back to the 33. Henderson promptly fumbled on the first play and Mike DeFilippo recovered for Belleville. Rocco Cafone pitched a 21-yard pass to Bill Madera and Belleville moved to the 6.

After Bill Rock hit left guard for no gain, Berlinski sent Co-Captain Pete Spera into the fray. Spera, who hadn't played for the locals since his broken ankle in the East Orange opening game, handed off to Tom Hedgepoch who drove to the 4. Spera then tried a pass which went incomplete and on fourth down gave Hedgepoch another handoff. The Bellboy fullback piled over his right tackle for the touchdown.

Riffin's placement for the extra point was wide but Orange was offside. Another Riffin conversion went wide of the uprights and Belleville had a 6-0 lead.

The visitors wasted little time in coming back. Taking the kickoff on their 30, an intercepted pass held them up temporarily but a fumble started them rolling again. Five cracks at the line and Orange moved past midfield to the Belleville 40. The Bellboy line broke through on the next two plays and threw Orange back to the 50. Dom Spagnoli's aerial was intercepted by John Carpel on the 32. Two plays later Cafone's pitchout was dropped by Hedgepoch on the 24 and Bill Nyg pounced on the ball. Three plays later Guerrieri charged over left guard through a huge hole and went all the way for the tying touchdown. Emanuel Gomez converted and Orange led, 7-6.

Early in the second period the Tornadoes scored again when Jesse Miles intercepted Spera's pass on the 20 and ran it back to his 43. Fifty-five yards and four first downs and the ball was resting on the 2 where Guerrieri again drove over to make it 13-6. Gomez again split the uprights and Belleville was behind, 14-6, at halftime.

Guerrieri must have gotten his second wind between the halves because he came back after only three plays to snatch Cafone's pass on Belleville's 35 yard line and trot down for the third Orange tally. This time Gomez' kick was blocked and Orange led, 20-6.

A fumble on the Orange 7 after a 72-yard sustained drive jinxed Belleville's third-quarter chances of scoring. Late in the last period, however, Belleville recovered a Roberts fumble on the 48 and move 52 yards to their final touchdown. Ron Worthington hit right guard for 12 yards and Rock added 8 more. Carpel, playing one of the finest games of his career, ran 23 yards to the 1 where he was forced out of bounds. It was only fitting that he should carry it over and he did on a skirt around left end. Riffin again missed the point and the final score stood at 20-12.

EXTRA POINTERS... Although Spera didn't play his best game against Orange, the fans admired the boy's courage after his severe injury. They gave him a good round of applause when he ran onto the field. Belleville's seasonal record for 1951 is three wins (over West Side, Irvington and Passaic), five losses (to Bloomfield, Nutley, Hillside, Kearny and Orange), and one tie (East Orange). Bill Rock and Terry Gahr promise to be the stars of next season with every prospect of improving on this year's record.

Double-Header Wrestling Card At Laurel Garden

A double-header program involving matches between the Zebra Kid and Abe Stein and Ilo Di Paolo and Faro Rinaldo will be offered for fans when the first un-censored program in several years will be held at Laurel Garden, Newark, Friday night. Only special cards staged on another night have gone without the tee-vee lenses in the past.

Too, it is the first twin-top show for a regular program in many weeks. The spectacular showings in recent weeks by the Zebra Kid and Di Paolo prompted Promoter Babe Culnan to give the fans two mains for the price of one admission. Both are finish goes.

The usually popular Australian tag team match will have Tony Martinelli and Mike Clancey against Aldo Bogri and Jim Austeri, best of three falls.

SPORTS Reflections

By AL OUTCALT

The Gil McDougald story is one of modest beginning, hard work, and great success. It's the Horatio Alger type of tale that Hollywood likes to put into four-star production. Yet the hero of the story is still an unassuming, quiet kid of 23 who loves baseball and wouldn't trade his job for any other.

The story starts back in San Francisco in 1928 when Gil was born. His early years, like any one else's, were routine. At Commerce High School he played a good second base but really shined in basketball where he won All-City recognition in 1946.

Gil worked at the San Francisco Post Office and took some business courses at San Francisco City College before breaking into pro baseball. He was scouted by the late Yankee scout Joe Devine and played his first year of organized ball with Twin Falls in the Class C Pioneer League.

He hit .340 with Twin Falls in

Headliners Wrestle For Crippled Children

Tickets for the big all-star wrestling program featuring Rocky Marciano as guest referee at the Newark Armory, Sussex Avenue and Jay Streets, December 11, have been placed on sale.

The Crippled Children Camp Association, aiming to purchase an $2-acre tract for a campsite for crippled children at Warren Township, will share in the receipts of the banner program. Mat stars who will see action on the gala grappling program include such luminaries as unbeaten Antonio "Argentina" Rocca, the Italian idol, and Chief Don Eagle, the Canadian Indian, as well as colorful Gene "Mr. America" Stanley, the favorite of the feminine fans and bobby soxers.

John S. Hirschhoff of Montclair, president of the Crippled Children Camp Association, himself a polio victim, advises sports fans and all others interested in aiding the worthy cause to secure choice tickets immediately to avoid disappointment.

PAL Soccer Team Bows To Clifton Colts 5-2

The Belleville PAL soccer team lost a 5 to 2 decision to the Clifton Colts Sunday at Al-bion Memorial Field, Clifton. The winless Belleville team is showing improvement, but has been pitted against more experienced combinations in the league competition. Frank Casar, a member of the team and a star for Belleville High's first team, recently was given an honorable mention on the All North-Jersey soccer team.

48 and moved up to Victoria in the Class B Western League in 1949. A .344 average had the Yankee front office watching him and they boosted him to double A ball in 1950. He proceeded to hit .336 with Beaumont in the Texas League and earned himself a try-out with the Yanks in '51.

Gil met his wife, Lucille, at Commerce High and they were married soon after graduation. Today he has three fine children: Christine, 3; Gil Jr., 2; and Tod Raymond, 1—and is mighty proud of them. Although he lives in Belleville at the moment—we won't mention the address because enough people pester the poor guy now, including this reporter—he is moving to Nutley on January 15.

Talking to Gil, you get the impression that he's a boy who has fought for the breaks and earned the "good luck" that has come to him. To the average person, being a starting infielder on the best team in the best league is a great honor. It is, but talking to Gil you wouldn't know the guy had ever read one of his own press clippings. Modesty could be his middle name.

Lou Gehrig was always his hero, but today if you ask him who his favorite ball player is, he'll tell you it's the whole Yankee team. His greatest thrill was the grand slam home run in the World Series and his most memorable baseball experience—well, it's a pip.

Seems that Gil was down in Beaumont where Roger Hornsby was managing the club. Gil was watching the Roi give batting tips in a cage and he asked him how he could hit outside pitches with the type of stance Hornsby used. "Imagine," Gil says, "me with my stance and I'm asking him how he can hit with his stance! So he proceeds to step up to the plate and show me. After he dented the fence with a few, I shut up."

A muscular 180 pounds, Gil stands six-foot-one and has short, curly hair. He wouldn't stand out in a crowd, but on a ball field you couldn't miss him. Rangy, fast, he scoops up grounders that would get past most fielders. And he can hit, too. His .306 for his first year in the majors will testify to that.

"I'd rather hit than anything else," Gil maintains. "Good fielders are a dime a dozen and so are good baserunners. But a good hitter can name his own ticket. Yet Gil lists his greatest play as a fielding gem, which it might fully was. The bases were loaded and Gil snagged a hot liner for one out. He tagged the runner on first base and could have walked to second for an unassisted triple play. No grandstand player, Gil played it safe and threw to second for the third out.

He's that kind of guy.

PAPER MILL OFFERS NEW PRODUCTION OF "DESERT SONG"

Gail Manners Of Belleville Has Feminine Lead In Show Opening Monday Night

Riffs, the French Foreign Legion and Harlem Maidens will parade across the stage of the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn in support of David Atkinson and Gail Manners in the new production of "The Desert Song" which opens Monday. Miss Manners resides in Belleville.

Heading the supporting cast will be Clarence Nordstrom, playing the role of Benjamin Kidd, newspaper correspondent, who is captured by the Red Shadow's band. Opposite him will be a new Susan, portrayed by Sara Ontell of Newark in her debut as a feature player at the Paper Mill after beginning as a member of the ensemble and appearing in minor roles.

Is Dancing Girl
Lidija Franklin, dancing star of the Broadway production of "Brigadoon" will be seen as Auri, the half-breed dancing girl whose machinations almost bring about the destruction of the Red Shadow. With her will be Melton Moore, making his first Paper Mill appearance, in the role of Captain Paul Fontaine.

A group of performers familiar to Paper Mill audiences will fill the remaining supporting roles. Jim Hawthorne, who was seen in "Song of Norway" earlier this season, will play Sid-M-Kar, friend of the Red Shadow, while Robert Feldes will once again be Ali-Ben-Ali. Daniel O'Brien will be in the part of General Bira-leau.

Understudy's Reward
Clifford Pearl who won new glory when he replaced Clarence Nordstrom for eight performances of "Finian's Rainbow" during the latter's illness has won an understudy's reward. He will be seen as Hassi. Terry Marone has been assigned the role of Clementina, the Spanish lady, and Lillian Holland will play Edith.

The various players, new and old, will be portraying the characters which have turned out to be the all-time favorites of Paper Mill audiences. Past performances of "The Desert Song" number 200 at Millburn.

WINTERIZE CAR AND DRIVING IS CHIEF'S WARNING

Chief George R. Spatz Lists Three Musts For Cars; Gives Driving Advice

Chief of Police George R. Spatz warned motorists today that Winter, with its increasing accident rate, is just around the corner, and coupled his warning with an admonition that now is the time to get cars ready for winter driving.

"Sometime this Winter," he said, "the millionth person will be killed as the result of a traffic accident, according to the National Safety Council. A little care now may keep you from being one in a million. There are definite things you can do right now, before Winter comes, to prevent injury to yourself or others."

Your Car Care
He listed them as follows:
1. Be sure your windshield wiper blades and defroster are in good working order. You can't drive safely if you can't see clearly.

2. Check your brakes to be sure they are equalized. Faulty brakes breed skids.

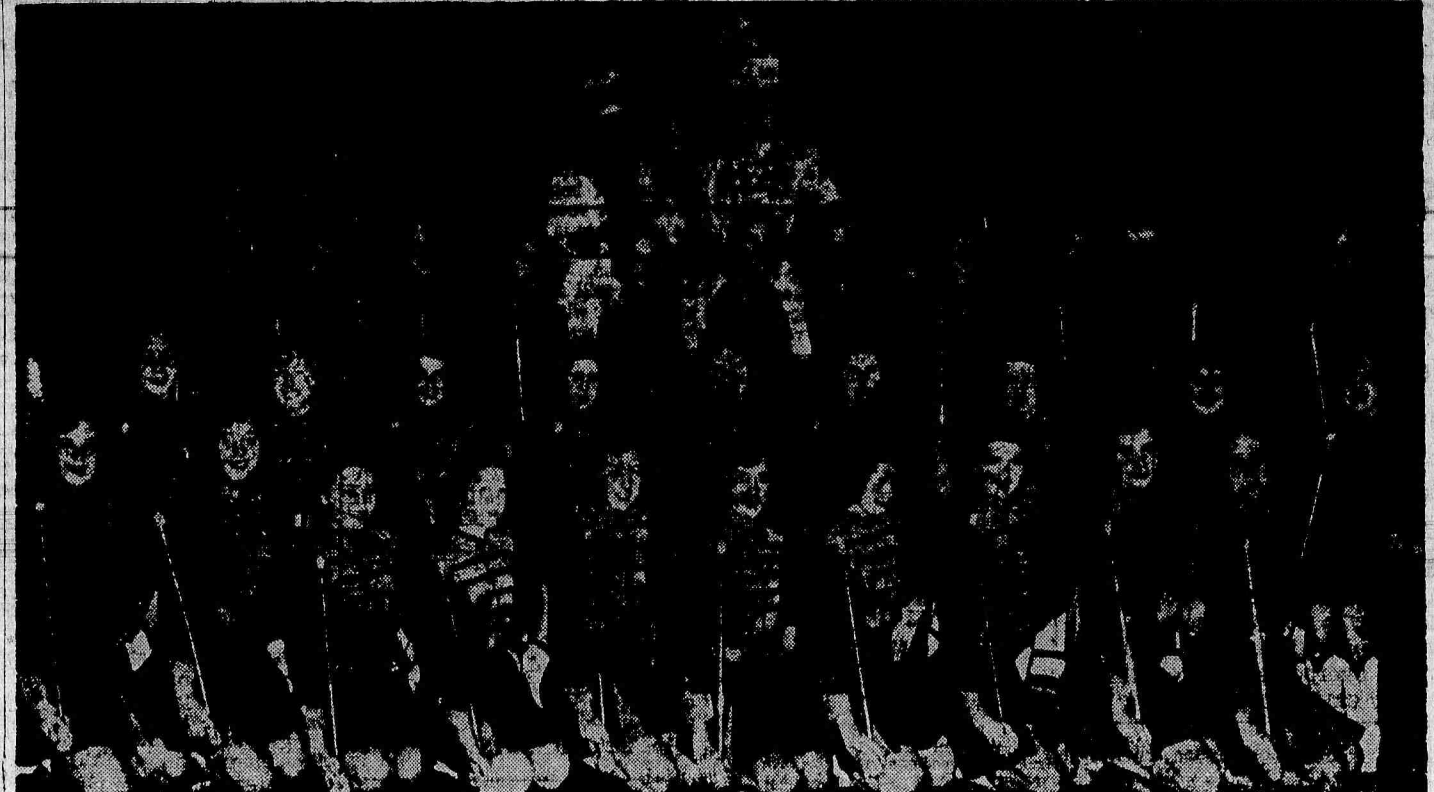

3. See that your tire chains are in good condition, or get them if you have none. Chainless vehicles on ice or snow often result in skid-wrecks and traffic tie-ups, not to mention cases of heart attacks from pushing stalled cars.

Driving Tips
In addition, Chief Spatz advised motorists when starting out on slippery streets to get the "feel" of the road surface, and to reduce speed when roads are snowy or icy. "Winterize your driving habits as well as your car," he said.

"When stopping, a pumping action on the brake pedal will stop you straighter, with less risk of a skid, than steady pressure which may lock your wheels. With locked wheels, a car which has started to slide is completely out of control. Synthetic rubber tires, once again being widely used, do wear better and perform normally on wet or dry pavements. They skid farther and have considerably less attractive ability, however, on snow or ice than natural rubber tires."

Twirlers Participated in Combined Formations at Big Game

No. Jersey Lafayette Alumni Club Announces $2,700 Scholarship Award

Lafayette College will award a full-tuition four-year scholarship with a value of $2,700 to an outstanding student in an Essex County secondary school, William H. Servis, president of the North Jersey Lafayette Alumni Club, announced today.

The award will be made to a member of the class being graduated in June, 1952. Candidates must be in the upper fourth of their class or obtain a score of 850 on the college board general aptitude test and be active in at least two extra-curricular activities.

Servis announced an alumni selection committee, is being formed to select the winner. The committee will give weight to qualities of character, leadership and personality that make for a well-rounded college man.

Committee members will be named to visit each school to consult with students interested in applying for the scholarship or for admittance to Lafayette College. Servis explained that all candidates must take the college board aptitude test at either the December or January examination date. School principals and guidance directors have received information about the scholarship.

At least four Belleville High students have expressed interest in trying for the scholarship. The Essex scholarship is one of the regional awards set up by the Lafayette College board of trustees. Outstanding students in Union, Monmouth and Mercer County have received similar grants.

Because of its location in Easton, Pa., just across the Delaware River from New Jersey, Lafayette has always attracted a

ISRAEL BOND DRIVE TO USE DIFFERENT SALES APPROACH

"Vote Of Confidence" Is Theme Of House To House Effort Here On Sunday

The Jewish community of Belleville will participate in the county-wide "Vote Israel Bonds" Day Sunday when every Jewish home in Essex County will be asked to "vote their confidence in Israel's economic future" with the purchase of an Israel Independence Bond. The $500,000,000 State of Israel Bond Drive is now on throughout the country for the financial and agricultural development of the State.

The Belleville chairman for "Vote Israel Bonds" Day is Rabbi Leo Schwartz, with headquarters at Congregation A. A. A., 317 Washington Avenue, Belleville. "Vote Israel Bonds" Day will follow the pattern of a typical election day, Rabbi Schwartz announced. "Polling stations" are being set up throughout the county where bonds may be purchased. There will also be "voting in absentia" by buying bonds from volunteer workers who will solicit from house to house. "Sample ballots," in the form of bond subscription cards, have been sent out to the entire community, Rabbi Schwartz stated. In appealing to the Jewry of Miss Maffeo can stop borrowing fountain pens now that she has won her Parker 51. For that matter so can Mr. Grossman, Mr. Zuckerman, and Mr. Brennan, the four teachers, whose classes brought in the most money during the magazine campaign.

Joan Kuszyon will be waking up to sweet music in the morning since she won the clock radio which was the first prize. There will be no excuse for Bill Luzzi not getting to class on time. He was the lucky winner of a Bulova wristwatch. We wonder what Carl Denzler will buy with that gift certificate.

The class of '54 already has a bulging bank account with a $150 start as the top class in the drive. George Prezioso thinks that was a pretty easy way to earn $25, as a result of his name being drawn out of the hat. Barbara Bennett's family didn't have to worry about where their Thanksgiving turkey was coming from. She also won out of the hat.

Science Club
Well, Mr. Perkins can't be sure that he'll discover any Lavalisier's, but nevertheless, he has hopes. Therefore he designed the Science Club to give students a more intimate knowledge of science. He can only accept 40 members, so that their plans can be carried out successfully.

This Club will observe the stars and learn the "whys and wherefores" of home appliances. This will begin on Thursday when their demonstration of plastics will introduce the first year's program. At a preliminary meeting officers elected were John Riordan, president; Nicholas LaPara, veep, Joan Corbett, secretary and Eugene Serpentelli, treasurer.

Freshman Pilots
The Freshmen have at last become well enough acquainted with one another to determine who should pilot them through their first year's flight. Seated in the pilot's seat is Joe Dente, president, assisted by co-pilot and vice-president Frank Csaszar. As treasurer, Howie Irving will collect the

BOARD STUDYING SUPERINTENDENT'S PLAN FOR CLASSES
Urges Removal Of School Ad-ministrative Offices From No. 8; No. 3 Fireproofing

Members of the Board of Education are studying a plan outlined by Supervising Principal Evan H. Thomas for providing additional class rooms at Schools No. 3 and No. 8 to relieve expected en-rollment increases at Schools No. 7 and 8. Mr. Thomas in-formed the Board last week that unless additional classroom facilities are provided, classes of from 30 to 45 pupils may be necessary next fall. The Board is considering the matter from a standpoint of including the costs in next year's budget.

Mr. Thomas suggested that two rooms could be obtained in School No. 8 by purchasing a house or other building in the town to be used for the admin-istrative offices now housed in No.

8. At School No. 3 he suggested that the third floor be renovated and fireproofed to provide four work proposed by Mr. Thomas would remove the cause for the condemnation.

Meet With Land Owners
A meeting of the Board with owners of land near the Municipal Stadium, which the Board hopes to obtain as a site for a new school, was held last night at School No. 8. Negotiations for the purchase of four lots on Divi-sion Avenue in the proposed school area have been discon-tinued because of an excessive price asked by the owners. A short time ago the Board was offered the lots for $6,400, but when action was not taken im-mediately they were sold to de-velopers, who now ask $12,000.
